WOOD CROWD UNDER GUIDANCE OF HITCHECOCK

Coliseum Takes on Convention Aspect. Delegates Begin Arriving

JOHNSON MARSHALS OWN FORCES

Nine-Year-Old Youngster Will Direct 1,000 Piece Band at Convention

CHICAGO, June 4.—Lines of action among the republican presidential candidates are beginning for the first time today to come out of the nebulous atmosphere of the preliminary period and move toward definite form.

The arrival of Senator Johnson of California to take personal charge of his candidacy and the agreement among Wood leaders to have Frank H. Hitchcock act as their field marshal are the two outstanding developments.

The Wood forces profess to be well satisfied with the arrangements for their own ranks and lay emphasis on the statement that the hopes of their opponents for a contest of leadership between William C. Clegg and Mr. Hitchcock have gone glimmering. Mr. Clegg, however, will continue in his present capacity with the Wood forces and the present agreement to have Mr. Clegg act as generalissimo of the forces on the convention floor was unanimous and agreeable all around.

Things Active
After five days of sporadic activity and jockeying, things are beginning to take on a real convention atmosphere. By the time the delegates begin pouring in and with the coming of political leaders from Washington, things are expected to be going full blast.

The first cheers and the first songs of the boosters are beginning to be heard in the hotel lobbies and on the streets. Plans are tinkering in many campaign headquarters and the campaign leaders and cheer leaders are on the job beginning to drill the choruses of willing workers that always gather to participate in the noisy demonstrations which accompany a convention.

Publicity plans have had an impetus too, and beginning today Wood, Lowden and Johnson are giving their daily interviews to newspapermen. Other candidates will join the clan as they arrive. Senator Poinsette of Washington arrived in Chicago today and will be here Saturday in his special train of boosters and delegates are due in from the west.

Many Booms
There are some little booms not so well defined or being supported with such enthusiasm as the principal ones. There are candidates for president and vice president who have arrived with nominating speeches already prepared and now they are busy canvassing the various delegations trying to induce acceptance at the convention. Vice-President Marshall is going to have a look at the republican contest and possibly some of the convention on his way west. He is due to arrive today.

By all comparison of previous conventions, all the scenery and props are on hand for this year's big show. There are miles of banners, flapping and fluttering in the late spring breezes of Lake Michigan; there are buttons, badges and souvenirs by the thousands; there are bands who have the score all ready to begin blaring the campaign anthems.

While all these preparations are going on, the republican nations are conferring in the meeting room at the Coliseum to decide upon a platform for the coming year. It is expected that the republican party will have a decision in the Florida case with somewhat similar aspects—might furnish the solution.

James Harris, chairman of the Oklahoma state republican committee, said today the solution of the present problem of the high cost of living is to go "back to the farm."

"What we need now is more young men raising corn and wheat and fewer going to the cities," Mr. Harris declared.

Two women delegates from Oklahoma, members of the strong suffrage delegation from that state, were to arrive today.

With the arrival today of Ogden L. Mills, chairman of the republican executive committee on policies and platform, final conference on the articles of the republican platform to be submitted to the convention are expected to begin. The result of the work of Mr. Mills' committee is to be presented to the resolutions committee chosen at the convention. Will H. Hays, chairman of the national committee, said as the function of the Mills committee is purely advisory.

Young Band Leader
John Rand, 2nd, aged 9, grandson of the noted Chicago band director, will direct the band of nearly 1,000 musicians at the opening of the republican convention when a march "The Republican" composed by his father and dedicated to the convention will be played. He will use a baton presented to his father by the late President Theodore Roosevelt, made of wood brought back from his tour to Brazil along the "River of Doubt."

Governor Allen of Kansas, who is to nominate General Wood, arrived today and announced that he will play a platform for judicial settlement of industrial disputes as the paramount issue before the nation.

"We had thought that international questions would be the chief issue," said Governor Allen, "but now industrial problems are our principal concern. I will appear before the plank committee to ask a plank establishing a federal tribunal to decide industrial controversies, after conciliations and all other efforts have failed. I have great hopes that such a plank will be adopted—a clear declaration for protection of the public against economic pressure of industrial strife. I believe economic pressure is the best test, but it means (Continued on Page 6 Column 1.)

OPPOSITES KEEP EAGLE EYE ON JOHNSON'S MOVEMENTS IN WINDY CITY PENDING BIG CONVENTION

By DON CHAMBERLAIN (United Press Staff Correspondent.)
CHICAGO, June 4.—"Enemy propaganda without an atom of truth in it," was General Leonard Wood's comment today on reports originating here that he had "fired" the lionel William Cooper Procter as chairman of his campaign committee, and had put Frank H. Hitchcock in sole charge of his campaign.

"A change in the management of the campaign has not even been considered," continued Wood. "The whole business is enemy propaganda intended to cause the resignation of Colonel Procter as chairman of the campaign committee and will continue right through. This public opinion is not to be taken advantage of. He declared when the source of the 'propaganda' became apparent, it would help, not harm him. Hitchcock declined to fix responsibility for the propaganda."

Senator Hiram Johnson told callers at his headquarters today that he is "tickled to pieces with the situation." Johnson said the reception he got on his arrival here yesterday was typical of the "reaction" all over the country, not to an individual, but to a year.

"Wherever you go and attack what the present administration has tried to do in our international affairs you will find an overwhelming response," said Johnson. "This public sentiment makes me feel very hopeful."

CHICAGO, June 4.—It was the gain of Senator Johnson in the republican pre-convention presidential race today. The Californian, coming into the arena at a time when the booms of Wood and Johnson were drifting somewhat unsteadily for the moment, gave him at least a psychological advantage. In the headquarters of General Wood and Governor Lowden there was a distinct tendency to begin a counter attack on the senator.

Lowden, who has been much more under the weather than has been generally supposed, will inaugurate conferences with newspaper men, councilors and other interested parties within the next few days. General Wood is understood to be planning to get out a newspaper daily in Chicago. The same paper (the Chicago Tribune) is also being considered by Herbert Hoover.

Announcement was made that Congressman Lodenberg of Texas is to nominate Lowden. At Hoover's headquarters it was stated he might not be nominated at the outset but will participate in the hold of the move until a deadlock was reached in the convention.

Everybody is watching Johnson's movements. He is expected to be in the vicinity of all those in the United States who back his stand on the League of Nations. There will have to be a change in the program before the resolutions committee and will not go personally before the committee unless he deems it necessary.

"I believe there is no doubt that we will win our way in demanding a clear-cut resolution opposed to the League of Nations and that is now drawn," Johnson said today. "There may be a fight, however, and if so we will be ready."

Just how the money probe at Washington has reacted against the two leading candidates—Wood and Johnson—will not be determined for several days, when the delegates from the different states begin to arrive in large numbers.

At Lowden headquarters every confidant has expressed the belief that the storm had been terminated with the governor's statement repudiating the Missouri delegates who received the endorsement of Governor Lowden's campaign directors, said today that "if Lowden cannot win the nomination squarely he does not want it. He has renounced this in his action laying all his cards face up on the table at Washington."

Out of the confused situation, one thing is certain, and that is that the nomination will come only after a record number of ballots. In the past the republican nominee usually comes out in the first ballot. In 1916 it required three ballots before Hughes received a sufficient number to win. This year few pre-views of the contest are being made. The final vote will be taken at the close of the third ballot and then the final swing, they think, will not come for some ballots later.

Talk of a compromise has grown with the coming of Johnson. Many political leaders feel that if Johnson succeeds in eliminating Wood and Lowden, the republican party will turn against the Californian and demand some other man instead of the one who has developed the strongest pressure against their respective booms.

Conventionality
Motion picture of Chairman Will Hays, with accent on the motion picture, will be the first order of business at the convention. West Carolina district.

Hays cocks eyes and one ear in his fight against the motion picture, but he is not to be overruled when he steels up on him from behind and wants to know whether to drive a certain nail north or south-west. This momentous question disposed of, he lends undivided attention to committee for 15 minutes—undivided, save for 327 interruptions by various interrogators, singly and in battalion formation.

Hays Busy
Suddenly turns gavel over to a committee man and makes a flying leap, landing in a room of assembled reporters in a room on another side of the coliseum. Makes statement of 25,000 words and answers 4,827 questions. Only 48 interruptions.

Greets six newly arrived senators, four governors and a lady who wants to rent her front parlor to two or three hundred out of town delegates.

Dinner made into committee room, takes half a dozen arguments simultaneously, conducts contest hearings for half an hour, dashes into office dictating 5,476 letters, reads 432,598 others, grabs sandwich, cup of coffee and piece of pie which he devours on a sprint through the lobby, then poses, smiling sweetly for eight flashlights.

Resumes business of presiding at committee sessions, but at this juncture the chronicler collapses from fatigue.

Asks Authority to Drill Wells Actually Necessary for Protection Property

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The treaty of peace with Hungary was signed in the Grand Trianon Palace here at 4:35 o'clock this afternoon.

BUDAPEST, June 3.—The public is much excited because of the imminent signing of the peace treaty and some disorders have occurred. There were a few attacks tonight on peaceful citizens by rowdies who cried "Down with the Jews."

Mr. Albert Apponyi, former head of the Hungarian peace delegation, today took an optimistic view, however. He said: "I am sure conditions will improve and necessary precautions have been taken to prevent the hot heads from revolting and disrupting the signing of peace."

The signing of the peace treaty was the first of the treaties framed by the peace conference to be signed ahead of time. Premier Millerand of France was one of the earliest arrivals at the palace, being followed shortly afterwards by Hugh C. Wallace, the American ambassador.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN HELD READY FOR IMMEDIATE DISPATCH TO HANDLE GALVESTON STRIKE

Signed by Powers at Versailles

SENATE COMMITTEE QUIZZES STEBBINS ON SLUSH FUND

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Horace S. Stebbins of New York, eastern treasurer for the Wood national campaign committee, explained to the senate committee today why the committee had been unable to locate him to serve a subpoena for his appearance at the hearing.

"Nothing could be more false than the implication that I have been evading an appearance here," he said. "I have been on a trip in the Canadian woods which was intended long ago, which took me more than 60 miles from a telephone or telegraph line."

"My family and my business associates here absolutely persistently subpoena servers. They could not tell where I was. I didn't always know myself."

Asked to explain the eastern financing of the Wood campaign, Mr. Stebbins said he had "received money from the campaign through William Loeb and his associates."

"I paid it out by authority to Colonel Procter and Mr. Loeb from New York to Chicago," Chairman Kenyon interposed, "does that appear in your accounts?"

"I want to get my duplicate," the witness replied. "That $225,000 was included in both of my accounts and those at Chicago."

"Loeb sent me through February 20 and May 17, $30,000 from Mr. Loeb," he continued. "At the same time a memorandum of that amount was sent to me by Mr. Sprague, though the money itself never got there."

"Then I received $77,190 from Chicago," he said, "and about $40,000 from the treasury means committee in New York City."

"That committee is composed of rather prominent men in New York," asked Chairman Kenyon.

"Yes," returned the witness, adding that Herbert Satterlee was chairman and that the committee "had about 12 members."

"We had a luncheon every week in the endeavor to raise funds," he continued. "We considered New York too good a field for contributions to send to a committee financing a local campaign only."

There was final figure on his books of $21,900, which came from 1,800 subscribers through the National Leonard Wood League, he said.

Other members of the ways and means committee named by Mr. Stebbins were John R. Sprague, Harry M. Goodrich, Harold M. Clark and Ambrose Monell. He named a further final figure of $15,000, which was given by Mr. Monell, accounting for a total of approximately $263,000.

One check for $1,000 from Ogden Reed, he said, was returned for an endorsement this week.

The Leonard Wood league, the auxiliary campaign organization in the totals shown on Mr. Stebbins' books up to June 2 had received $158,554 and expended $156,271.

The Wood campaign committee had received $280,413 and spent $279,357. "That shows a total of around $436,000," Chairman Kenyon commented.

"Yes," returned the witness, "but I wish to make it perfectly clear that these are amounts Mr. Sprague covered in his statement as well."

There was a general discussion between the committee and the witness in an effort to determine the total Wood national fund.

Chairman Kenyon suggested that an addition of $74,350 to the total given by the witness, Sprague would give the total. Senator Pomerene, by another calculation, said that an addition of $228,000 to the Sprague total would be required to make up the difference he could not absolutely settle the point until the books were audited. The total as given by Mr. Sprague is $1,180,000.

Asked if independent Wood funds were not raised for state use in New Jersey, Mr. Stebbins said there were some local expenditures, but that they were not raised for state use.

The witness said that in general "75 per cent of the money spent from my accounts went for publicity."

POLK RESIGNS AS ASST. SEC'TY. OF STATE TODAY

Forced to Take Step Due to Ill Health. Resignation Not Made Public

LEAVES POST MIDDLE OF THIS MONTH

Norman H. Davis, Tennessee Man Mentioned as Successor to Polk

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Frank L. Polk today resigned as under-secretary of state and his resignation was accepted by President Wilson.

Mr. Polk's resignation will take effect June 15 when he will leave Washington to take a rest before returning to the practice of law in New York City. His successor has not yet been selected, but the name of Norman H. Davis of Tullahoma, Tenn., now an assistant secretary of the treasury, has been prominently mentioned in connection with the office.

"The under-secretary's letter of resignation was not made public, but the president's reply was given out at the White House," it said.

"My dear Polk:
"The argument of necessity on account of your health in the matter of your resignation is one which I am stopped from answering or combing. I feel that I have in conscience and warm friendship no choice but to accept your resignation, though I do so with the utmost reluctance and wish again to express the admiration I have felt for the devoted and intelligent way in which you have performed your duties in the department. We shall all miss you very badly and the public service will be poorer on account of your loss. With the warmest good wishes."
"Cordially and faithfully yours,
"Woodrow Wilson."

Mr. Polk is the third high official of the state department to resign this year. Secretary Lansing quit after being rebuked by the president for calling cabinet meetings during the president's absence. Later he resigned as first assistant secretary to become American minister to the Netherlands. Asst. Sec. Breckinridge Long is expected to resign in August to make the race for senator from Missouri.

Because of the condition of his health, Mr. Polk has declined to resign public life some months ago, but after the resignation of Secretary Lansing, he felt it his duty to remain in the department. He is a former congressman and has been in the state department since 1915, when he was made an assistant secretary of state and last year was elevated to the post of under-secretary when that office was created by special act of congress.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS HANG AROUND 'WILLIE'S' DUTCH BUNGALOW

LONDON, June 4.—Some days ago Dutch newspapers reported that the former empress of Germany was under the medical care of Professor Dr. Schell of Utrecht.

It being said she was run down in health as a result of moving from Amerongen to Doorn. There has as yet been no confirmation of this report, says an Amsterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

The day after this report was made police officers placed in the vicinity of the Dutch bungalow, who were arrested inside the gateway leading to the new home of Count and Countess Hohenzollern. Dutch police officers, however, are keeping strictly silent about this happening, but a close watch is being kept.

A large number of Dutch police, both in uniforms and plain clothes, has been stationed at all corners of the vast estate, while a few detectives have been placed in the village of Doorn. Count Hohenzollern is not authorized to leave his residence without having first informed the commander of the constabulary, who generally accompanies the former emperor on his motor trips.

BERGOLD REPORTED ON WAY TO MEXICAN BORDER

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., June 4.—Grover Cleveland Bergold, millionaire draft evader, who escaped from the custody of two non-commissioned officers at Philadelphia, Pa., is reported on his way to the Mexican border and federal agents along the line have been notified to keep a sharp lookout. It was announced at division headquarters of the bureau of investigation here today.

The report came from Louisville and said that Bergold and a chauffeur were at the border and had decided the boundary line. The fugitive was identified by his pictures by parties in Louisville after he had left that city. Another report that Bergold is on his way to Canada is believed by officials here to be false and circulated by his friends to enable his escape.

All police officers in seven counties in Arizona were at once furnished with description of the car and its occupants and instructed to watch for them.

The Mexican dispatch indicated the party had passed there and was heading toward Arizona, presumably with the intention of crossing the international border and management dragged into a possible war between China and Japan, and newspapers there are insisting upon the right to control domestic legislation.

KIRBY MICHAEL WELL FLOWING 75 TO 100 BARRELS HOURLY

Flowing at a rate estimated at from 75 to 100 barrels per hour, the R. H. Kirby test in No. 15 of the McConnell section of the Michna, is definitely established as one of the largest oil wells in the large production field completed during the reclamation development on the western edge of the pool. The well is producing an extension of the production obtained in this development of the first importance.

Other recent completions in this section not hitherto reported include the latest one of the Danciger interests, a test on lot 10 of the McConnell, good for 600 to 700 barrels. Casing was also set in the Danciger-Southern States test well 20 feet deep of the Southern States hole, considered as dry until the opening up of the development of this section by the Danciger interest. The sand is declared to indicate as good a prospect as that of any of the tests drilled by the Danciger people.

FRYATT'S SHIP TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION

ZEEBRUGGE, BELGIUM, June 4.—Captain Charles Fryatt's historic ship Brussels will be sold at auction on June 23. It is expected that the bids will be accepted from any but British subjects. The Brussels, which was captured in June, 1916, by the Germans and brought to this port, was torpedoed by the British during a raid here on April 24, 1918.

When the Brussels was hauled by a German submarine early in 1916, Captain Fryatt ordered the ship to ram the U-boat. Later when Captain Fryatt was captured by the Germans he was tried for violation of the law of water and later executed at Bruges upon orders from Admiral Von Schroeder.

SECOND ARREST IN PA. KIDNAPING CASE

NORRISTOWN, PA., June 4.—A second arrest in connection with the kidnaping Wednesday morning of 13-month-old Blakeley Coughlin was made today in Philadelphia. The prisoner, James Malone, 27 years old, was taken into custody at his home in that city and locked up at the city hall for a hearing later in the day. No specific charge was lodged against Malone, according to the authorities, is a friend of Catherine Dundon, a former cook in the family of George H. Coughlin, father of the stolen child, who was arrested at her home in Conshohocken, near here, late last night, on charges of suspicion of having been implicated in the kidnaping. The woman was arrested at her home on last April and left of her own accord three days. She declares she is innocent of any connection with the case.

COSDEN'S STEWART WELL IN YOUNG COUNTY IS FLOWING

JERMYN, TEX., June 3.—The Cosden Stewart well in Young county is flowing by heads this afternoon. The well was given a 20-quart shot of nitro glycerine about 10 days ago causing a bridge 1800 feet from bottom. The bridge was immediately drilled out and tools let into hole were covered by casing necessitating shearing the line. The well has been shut down awaiting the arrival of fishing tools. When the tools were agitated this afternoon the well started flowing by heads throwing oil above rig. Fishing for the tools is being resumed between heads and it is believed this well is good for 2,000 barrels or more when the tools are removed.

CONSTIPATION
Had Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadowville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Pak Heck, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would cramp me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before. I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape. I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

Theodore's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it.

PELEAZ PLEDGE PROTECTION TO AMERICAN OIL INTERESTS

MEXICO CITY, June 4.—General Peleaz, following a conference last night with General Alvaro Obregon and Adolfo de la Huerta, provisional president of the republic, issued a statement supporting the revolutionary government. He said he would aid in the establishment of civil order and an authority in the Mexican oil fields. In expelling his action recently in collecting $1,500,000 in "taxes" from the American oil companies in the vicinity of Tampico, Peleaz declared it was absolutely necessary in order to pay his troops which have provided protection to foreign oil companies.

MISS SAMMONS ENTERTAINS PUPILS ON WEDNESDAY

Closing the year's work, Miss Sammons entertained her piano pupils informally at her home Wednesday afternoon. The first hour was devoted to examination of the work covered by the music classes, and when the answers were graded, Anna Belle Couper and Joe Bashara were found to receive the high grades, receiving a musical biography, and a book of operas as their respective prizes, both nicely bound.

An impromptu program was then enjoyed, Adaline McGregor, Clara Elizabeth Howell, Beulah Gardner and Anna Belle Couper giving selections. A donkey contest was then engaged in, and the prize, a box of candy went to Elizabeth Couper. Plans were discussed for organizing the class members into a club for study next year. At the close of the afternoon, delicious refreshments were served.

Just a Musical Tip

OUR PIANOS AND PLAYERS

Are lower than you would expect them to be. We contracted and got all the pianos we could before the prices went up. Now we have advice from the manufacturers of further advances on account of high wages, scarcity and high cost of materials. We are lucky and so are you, if you buy NOW. We have stored away about two cars of pianos not shown at our salesroom on account of our small space. These pianos can be bought at a great saving right now, while our selling expense is low, and while these pianos that cost us less, are available.

WOULD YOU HAVE THOUGHT IT?

That good well known standard makes could be sold at these prices:

PLAYER-PIANOS	PIANOS NEW	USED PIANOS
$590	$350	$150
$625	$375	$175
$650	$385	$250
$700	$450
	$485

We will give you easy terms on any of these

COME IN TOMORROW AND LOOK THEM OVER, don't wait a few days and expect to get these prices, because today we can sell at the prices mentioned, but in the next few days, we can not, on account of the advance to us. Just come in and look, you are not obligated to buy.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MAY OPEN OFFICE IN WICHITA FALLS

A Wichita Falls office, will probably be established by Attorney General C. M. Cureton for the purpose of facilitating the gathering of evidence to be used by the state in the boundary litigation between Texas and Oklahoma, it became known here Friday.

The attorney general, Wichitans who have recently talked with him declare, realizes the full gravity of the case, and is bending every effort of himself and his department to the defense of the territorial integrity of the state.

At present the attorney general has representatives searching out the old public archives in Madrid, Spain, in the capital of Mexico, in Washington and in Austin and has already in his office hundreds of original documents, copies of old Indian and Spanish treaties, and a mass of other documents bearing on the case. It will cost, it is estimated, $50,000 for the printing of the various documents filed with the court alone. In addition to the million dollars worth of Wichita county oil lands at stake in the fight, are the farm lands in the Red River valley from the western edge of Childress county, Texas, which after nearly a century of undisputed possession in the hands of Texans would be lost to the state should Oklahoma or the national government be successful in establishing their present pretensions.

The principal witness was Frank Coe, a county detective. He identified a statement which he testified, was made to him by Mrs. Ogles shortly after the child's birth. According to the statement placed in the evidence, the woman said she poured the contents of a small bottle of poison over the baby's face until "she was sure it was dead."

A LEOPARD CANNOT CHANGE ITS SPOTS

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man, Tells the Treachery of Calomel

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quick-silver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not silitate.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

TWO ARRAIGNED ON LIQUOR TRANSPORTING CHARGE

J. E. Murphey and Carl Hatzburg were arraigned before United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz on Friday charged with the illicit transportation of liquor. They were bound over under $500 bond each to await action of the federal grand jury.

Murphy and Hatzburg also face charges in the state court, Murphy being bound over to await action of the grand jury on a charge of having whiskey in his possession while Hatzburg was bound over on a charge of receiving intoxicating liquor.

Murphy waived preliminary hearing and his bond was fixed at $50 by Justice C. Arrington on Friday morning. Sam Holliday, assistant state's attorney, requested a $1,500 bond but the magistrate granted a minimum bond of $750 upon the plea of Tom Hunter, defense counsel. Hatzburg had previously waived examining trial and his bond was fixed at $50.

KEMP FINDS SENTIMENT AMONG FARMERS FOR IRRIGATION PROJECT

Sentiment in favor of the irrigation district is growing rapidly among the farmers, according to J. A. Kemp, who on Thursday visited a number of farm owners in the section south and west of Iowa Park and west of this city. Opposition that has been brought about by misunderstanding of the plans for the district, both the financing and operation, is overcome as soon as the irrigation project is fully explained. Mr. Kemp states, and he found in discussing the project with the landowners that they were much in favor of the project, when it was fully explained to them, and all that were visited Thursday signed the petition for District No. 2.

A mass meeting of the land owners of the Denny section will be held Friday night of next week at the Denny school house. Mr. Kemp states, for the purpose of a thorough discussion of the project, and he is anxious that all property owners in that section be present to go over the matter with him.

Amusements

At the Empress. The bill today and Saturday is one of the best of the season featuring Mary Miles Minter in the real-time "Jenny Be Good," together with a Mack Bennett comedy.

"Jenny Be Good" is the story of romance and youth which has its beginning in a tree-house. Jenny (Mary Miles Minter) and the hero Royal Ranshaw, were secretly married. When Royal's parents learn of this they send him off on a cruise and induce Jenny to have the marriage annulled. The heartick girl goes to New York to forget Royal and diligently applies herself to the art of playing the violin. At the home of Mrs. Royster, her patroness, where she is to give a private concert, she meets Royal and his wife, chosen for him by his parents.

The story is full of pathos and intense situations, relieved by a vein of humor, which is very entertaining. All ends very happily, but Jenny at the apex of her musical career gives up at the command of love.

of the book by the same name, written by Wilbur Finley Fauley, well-known in the literary world as a contributor to various magazines and as the principal editor of one of New York's principal dailies. The novel is one of the season's best sellers and the photo-drama follows the story very closely.

At the Majestic. The Royal Hawaiians are offering a new bill at the Majestic theater today which features selections from the "Bird of Paradise."

The picture program is headed by Tom Moore in "Duds," a screen adaptation of Henry C. Rowland's Saturday Evening Post story. It is a novel that is swept along on the current of the strongest and most unfathomable mystery ever penned. It is packed to the guards with the meat of romance, adventure and fierce man-to-man battles. The basis of the story is the struggle for the possession of the great Sultana diamond, a priceless gem.

A two reel Sunshine comedy, "Should Dummies Weep?" is an added attraction.

That a clever gang of counterfeiters are operating in the oil regions of Northwest Texas is indicated by several "phony" $20 bills recently ought to be slow in use of epithets

"If the 15 'ex-service' men, whom I see in the Times went before the council Thursday to protest against being termed 'bolsheviks' object to the term being applied to them, it might be in order to ask them to refrain from applying the epithet of 'scabs' toward the workmen who are opposed to them and who are working other than under the auspices of their organization," said T. B. Noble, president of the Open Shop association Friday morning.

SHRINE CLUB SHOW DELIGHTS CAPACITY HOUSE IN FIRST OF FOUR PERFORMANCES

The first of four performances of "Round the Clock with the Debutantes" was successfully presented in the Wichita theater last night by the Wichita Shrine, under the personal direction of Miss Frankie Terrell, for the benefit of the local Shrine band. While there is practically no plot to the production, there is music galore and the various numbers were well rendered by the soloists. Among the soloists were Mrs. Truman Mytinger, Mrs. Walter Robertson, Misses Lillian Evans, Pauline Lee Carthers, Mrs. C. E. Morris, and Messrs. George Taylor, John Z. Martin, Vaughan Ray, Ralph Benson, Paul Von Allman, R. E. Shepherd and C. A. Kleinman.

J. J. Wilkie Taibert, portraying the character of Will Bill Williams and Adelle Marcus in the role of Suzette-Jangle a French maid, drew several rounds of applause from the audience for their efforts and their work was second to none on the bill. Cullen Masie, who will be remembered for his work in the last Rotary club show, made a hit with his rendition of "When My Baby Smiles."

Little Rose Marion Art made a pretty picture with her toe dances and the several dancing solos by Miss Gertrude Friedly were especially pleasing. The feature of the entire production last night was the jazz special. The music for the number was furnished by three pianos and the Shrine jazz orchestra, while specialty numbers were introduced by Cullen Masie, Adelle Marcus and Perdita Greenwood. A chorus of young jazz babies "shimmied" and "balled the jack" on top of the pianos in a manner that had the audience howling with laughter. A quartet number, sung by Vaughan Ray, Paul Von Allman, Ralph Penneville, also scored a hit. C. A. Kleinman rendered Al Johnson's latest hit "Swanee," and received several encores. The following choruses were introduced in the various numbers:

- Ushers—Audrey Ferguson, Virginia Miller, Ella Merie Mathis, Leona Maricle, Naomi Knight, Fay Boyd, Anna May Easley, Helen Snyder, Lucille Benson, Anna Bell Robinson, Georgia B. WHEAT YIELD THIS SECTION AS LARGE AS WAS IN 1919

With the wheat harvest getting well under way, not only in Wichita county but in the sections adjacent, particularly in the territory lying in the direction of Olney, reported by the Wichita Mill and Elevator Company as to the effect that a crop equally as big as last year's crop with an immense improvement in quality over the low grade crop of 1919 will be produced in this section. The crop, which was late in getting planted, and late in getting under way in the face of the adverse weather conditions, has come out wonderfully in the last few weeks, according to the mill's reports.

No threshing is reported as yet in this section, although threshing in some sections is expected to begin during the coming week. No complaints of a labor shortage have been heard, although it is expected that the labor will be high, equally as much so as was the labor which harvested last year's crop.

The market is expected to be a rather slow one, according to J. C. Myttinger, manager of the mill. "In the first place," said Mr. Myttinger, "it will be extremely difficult to get the face of the present crop shortage to get cars to move the crop very promptly."

"In the second place the uncertain condition of the market will probably deter grain dealers from buying wheat as fast this season as has been the case in the past, the withdrawal of the government supervision and the absence of a hedging market putting the market in such a state that the grain dealers will have to feel their way. At present, the market is anybody's guess. At any rate, it is a very safe prediction that the mills and elevators will not buy wheat this year and hold it in storage on the scale that they have done in the past few years, at least until they know just where they are."

Asked if the closing of the port of Galveston, should efforts to reopen the port not be successful, would have an effect on the local wheat market, Mr. Myttinger declared that he believed it would have a very serious one.

SPANISH LAW STORY ON TEXAS OIL RIGHTS NOT SERIOUSLY REGARDED

Wichita Falls oil operators and their attorneys are inclined to regard as something on the order of a joke a story carried in a recent edition of one of the Fort Worth papers by the Hearst news service to the effect that the department of justice had recently come into the possession of documents through which title to millions of acres of Texas oil lands were jeopardized, and might be rendered subject to filing under the government's general leasing act by the payment of 20 per cent of the first year's production and a one-eighth royalty to the government.

According to the effusion in question, it is declared that the mineral rights of the Texas lands in Texas were, under the old Spanish laws, independent of the surface rights; that the Spanish laws obtained under the republic of Texas; and that as the mineral rights to these lands were not specifically reserved in the treaty of annexation of Texas to the union these rights belong to the government and are subject to the government's legislation as to the oil leasing on public lands, among which are the new oil leasing act.

The weak points in this chain of reasoning, it is pointed out by attorneys, lie in the fact that the common law and not Spanish law was the law of the republic of Texas; that the common law, like the Spanish law, made a distinction in the ownership of mineral and surface rights, but under the laws of the United States and of Texas these rights were all one and the same; that Texas came into the union under the same terms as those of the other states of the union, and that the mineral rights in all other states under the law have gone with the surface rights; and that inasmuch as the federal government has never owned a foot of land in Texas save what was purchased by them for postoffice sites and for other public purposes, it could not by any conceivable manner of reason have any claim to either mineral or surface rights of any land in Texas; and finally that the public lands, which were retained by the state on her admission to the union have been conveyed to individuals under patents which conveyed not only the surface rights, but the mineral rights as well, which under the Spanish and common laws would have been reserved to the state.

Some operators declare that they taking the public by the throat and shaking it down by a strike." Governor Allen's determination presages a debate before the resolutions committee, the American Federation of Labor having plans to send representatives here to present organized labor's views. Governor Allen said he would not propose anti-strike legislation like the Cummins railroad law, but would urge laws to create a federal tribunal to decide industrial controversies.

He said he would not demand adoption of the Kansas plan nor any special form, but would deal with compromises between men to suspend an industry needed by the public and also curb union leaders' powers to call strikes.

Governor Allen had an engagement today with General Wood to discuss plans for presenting the general's name and other affairs of the Wood movement.

In the South Carolina contests where the factions led by National Committeeman Tolbert of Greenwood was opposed by a delegation led by J. Duncan Adams, of Spartanburg, the committee voted to seat the delegates at large of the Tolbert delegation, which is counted in the Lowden column.

In the contest from the first South Carolina district the national committee voted to seat the Tolbert delegates also.

Similar action in regard to other districts was indicated.

The committee wound up the South Carolina contest by voting to seat all the delegates of the Tolbert faction counted for Lowden, both at large and in all seven districts.

The Tolbert-Adams contest furnished the committee meeting with a half hour of vaudeville, in which Tolbert drew roars of laughter, cheers and applause. Former Governor Hooper of Tennessee, presenting the case for the Adams faction, counted for Wood, denounced the Tolbert organization as an "oligarchy" of long standing, so repudiated by the republican voters of South Carolina, that only 500 ballots were cast for Huhle, the entire state in the presidential election of 1916. The Adams faction was supported by Frank Hitchcock's organizers, and aside from putting questions of party loyalty on which the Tolbert delegates in its case, made an appeal to the organization in the state which they contended would bring out the republican vote and uphold the party.

Attacking the evidence presented by the Tolbert faction, much of which he charged was "cooked up," former Governor Hooper told the committee "there is something rotten closer to this committee than Denmark."

The committee showed its support of the Tolbert faction by frequent bursts of applause and closed the case before Hooper had finished his argument. It was the first defeat of importance that the Wood forces had met in the committee deliberations.

The second district contest, it was charged that National Committeeman Bean of Florida and former National Committeeman Bieber of the District of Columbia, acting as Hitchcock organizers, were among those who attended the convention and organized the contest.

In reply to the charge of a rump convention, the Adams faction argued that its supporters were prevented by physical force from leaving the hall by the doors and went out the windows.

"Did Mr. Bean and Mr. Bieber go out the windows?" asked a committeeman. The answer was drowned in a roar of laughter and ayes as the committee voted to seat the Tolbert delegate.

Some of the negro delegates charged that the Tolbert faction had threatened them with death if they attended the regularly called convention.

Seventeen delegates counted in the Lowden column were seated.

The fight from the Tenth Tennessee district (Memphis) came up at the afternoon session of the committee. Two conventions were held there marked by fist fighting and riot calling in which negroes and whites were involved. The contesting delegation of whites is instructed for General Wood.

"Ted" Roosevelt, who went through Cantigny as lieutenant colonel in the American army, felt right at home the minute he reported at republican headquarters. More powder is burned there in half an hour than was used on the whole western front in the war—flashlight powder.

Senator Johnson assumed complete charge of his nomination campaign today. He went into executive session with his managers and supporters following his arrival. Complete plans for the last lap were arranged at the conference.

Richard C. Adams of Lawton, Okla., claims to be one of the few original Americans around convention headquarters. He is a Delaware Indian.

Miss Mary Hay, chairman of the woman's national committee, was on hand today to complete her work for women. She was appointed temporarily and unless reappointed, her term expires with the convention here.

Hiram Johnson Jr. was pushed back with the rest of the crowd yesterday, when he attempted to greet his father at the railroad station. Young Johnson was forced to wait until Senator Johnson was leaving the station before he was able to reach his side.

TEXAS CONCERNS WAGING GASOLINE PRICE WAR

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., June 4.—Gasoline is selling at two prices in San Antonio. It is 30 cents per gallon at the drive-in filling stations of the big producers, while independent dealers are retailing it at 28 cents in their fight to keep the price down. One producing company raised its price to 31 cents Monday.

HOUSTON, TEX., June 4.—The Pierce Oil corporation has advanced the price of gasoline at filling stations to 31 cents and is selling to dealers at 29 cents. The Humble, Gulf, Texas and Magnolia companies' filling stations are still selling at 30 cents and have no advices of any advance.

FORT WORTH, June 4.—Gasoline went up a cent at some filling stations in Fort Worth Thursday, while others refused to advance. The prevailing price has been 30 cents, but yesterday two of the filling station owners raised it to 31 cents. Some of the big companies kept their price at 30 cents. The reason given for the advance is that it was necessitated by the advance in the east.

AUSTIN, June 4.—The local branch of the Pierce Oil Company today announced an advance in the price of gasoline to 31 cents per gallon. Other filling stations are selling the product at 30 cents with no orders for an advance, according to managers.

OUR MYSTERIOUS SELVES

George Barr McCutchen Has New Theory That Psychic Visitor Dictates Best Work

How Could Farmer Boy Write Of Castles, Courts And Kings.

Farmer Boy Who Writes of Kings and Courts

NO GOOD WORK FROM LABOR

When Inspiration Is Not There, Work Must Be Done Over Again.

By JANE DIXON

Out in Indiana, round about the old college town of Lafayette, there is a very unusual soil deposit.

Aside from growing lush fields of rustling Indian corn and billowing wheat and melons that have a way of keeping the colored population just one jump ahead of the constable, this Indiana town has within its breast a fount of literature.

Sons of the soil come to quaff there from the cup of grace has flown some of the most interesting, certainly the most beautiful compositions in the library of American writings.

James Whitcomb Riley, Booth Tarkenton, George Barr McCutchen—these are only three of the high lights. The list might easily be run up into the two or three dozen.

Many a time did young George McCutchen walk along the country pike to his father's farm, kicking up the dusty subsoil from his bare brown feet.

And it was this plain lad from the fields who gave us "Graustark," one of the most fascinating romances ever written.

No one with enough imagination to keep their brains from atrophy has ever started to read "Graustark" and put it down again voluntarily until they had finished the story.

What does a farmer's boy know of castles and courts and the uneasy heads for crowns to ride upon?

I can only refer you to that mysterious fountain of rousing George must have quaffed, and to that strange visitor he believes drops in on the artist to light the lamp of creation for a spell.

"I always had a sort of a hunch for writing," admits Mr. McCutchen. We were sitting in his book-lined library here in New York discussing the subject of birthright. The melting pot leather volumes were a rich background for the ripeness of the novelist's smile, the genial sparkle of his keen gray eyes the flush of health in his rugged, round face.

First impulse to draw. "At first I thought I might draw," he continued. "Mother had two brothers who were artists. My brother John took to drawing early, and Ben followed his lead. I tried for a while. I soon decided this route would carry me nowhere. My execution was not so bad, but I had absolutely no initiative. I was lacking in the one essential, without which art is sure-fire failure—originality.

"Father was a stock drover. His farm was an assembly ground for cattle on their way to the west to Buffalo and Eastern cities. I have seen as many as 60,000 head of cattle on the ranch, milking and stretching their muscles after the long ride.

This stock raising interested me, but I never considered taking it up permanently. I was graduated from Purdue College right there in Lafayette and went to work on the local newspaper.

"About this time my first short story was accepted by the old Waverly Magazine, published in Boston. I received the magnificent sum of five dollars for the manuscript. The offers of a king could have offered no happier prospect to my stomach.

"I liked my work on the newspaper. In fact, I like it to this day. The young man or woman who desires to take up writing as a profession can be graduated from no better school than the university of reportorial agility. Nothing quickens the perception, sharpens the wit, brightens up the bump of observation like reporting. More than this, it teaches the writer that most valuable of all literary accomplishments—brevity. He learns to pick out at a glance the trades of life and visualize them. He develops a keen scent for the dramatic, and he knows how to keep a sharp eye for comedy.

"All the time I was working on the home paper I was writing in spare hours. Many of these early stories were accepted. More were rejected. I have a whole trunkful of rejected manuscripts in my storeroom. When my brothers come on from Chicago for a good old time visit we drag out the sarcophagus of ideas and have many a laugh going over the chaff. There is a play I once attempted in the callow days. This play was my pet piece of comedy, although it was meant to be a most serious vehicle.

"Eventually I came to be city editor of the home paper. To me it seemed a pretty important job, but it did not make any extra impression upon magazine editors. They went on rejecting or accepting just the same as when I was a mere cub reporter.

"And 'Graustark'?" I asked. "When did that happen along?"

"About the time I was thirty," was the reply.

I asked Mr. McCutchen if, when he

LEAVE HEADACHE AT DRUG STORE

Money Back While You Wait at Counter if Aspirinal Does Not Relieve in Two Minutes. Absolutely Safe.

Save half an hour or more of headache pain by taking the new Aspirinal Effrit instead of the slow acting tablets that have to wait so long to be digested and absorbed. Aspirinal acts right now and without the slightest danger to your heart or annoyance to your stomach.

Your physician recommends Aspirinal because he knows it removes the cause of bilious and sick headache by gently acting on the liver, correcting biliousness and constipation and preventing the return of your headache next day.

The next time you have a headache go to your nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two tea-spoonsful in a little water. With your watch in your hand count off two minutes and call for your money back, as per manufacturer's guarantee. If you can't feel your headache fading away within the time limit, don't be thankful for your druggist invites you and expects you to try it. Everybody is doing it, some guarantee applies to colds, coughs and neuralgia. (adv.)

was writing it, he had any idea the story was so big—was destined to be one of the greatest successes in novelism.

"No, no," he hastened to assure me. "To me it was just like any story I wrote, full of promise while it was in the making and more or less forgotten in the glow of a formative one, once it had been sent along to print."

"You never suspected then that 'Graustark' was to bring you fame and fortune?" I insisted.

"It didn't," was the smiling confession. "A degree of fame, yes. But as for fortune, she is a mighty skittish damsel. I sold all rights to 'Graustark' for five hundred dollars and thought I had all the best of the bargain."

Five hundred dollars for a book which ran into the hundreds of thousands? One fact is beyond cavil—the strange psychic visitor who drops in on authors to light the flames of creation did not linger long enough to give her host a decent tip on the race. She confines her inspirational assistance strictly to art, leaving her subject to flounder helplessly about in the uncharted bogs of business.

"One Wallop Was Enough. "I hope you did not repeat the folly," was suggested. "Beverly of Graustark," for example, and 'Brewster's Millions'?"

"No," smilingly, "one wallop was enough. Even a novelist can't go on being a business blank forever."

Mr. McCutchen believes the lamp-lighter who trims the candles for plays has missed him entirely. "Playwrighting and novel writing are two entirely different institutions," he says. "Now and then they co-ordinate, but rarely."

"I try to do a novel a year. None of my late books meet with my approval. 'Sherry' (Dodd, Mead & Co.) has had a tremendous sale. The public seems to like it very much. I do not know why, but neither did I know why they were going to like 'Graustark'."

"I have never had any results by forcing myself to write. Work I have done under such pressure invariably must be done over again. It is flat, colorless, a lot of technically arranged words with no breath of life in them. When I feel myself growing dull and drag—when the flare begins to die down—I go out—get away, and no matter what I am doing when the mood for writing is on me I drop it and follow my mood. Production at such times increases a hundred percent is not this concrete evidence enough to convince the skeptic that ability, multiplied by inspiration, is birthright?"

In a remote corner of a book shelf at home a finger-worn copy of 'Castle Craneyrow' invited the dust of days to settle itself into a shadow blanket. I lifted the volume out and leaved the yellowing pages.

The farmer boy from the fields of Indiana was born to write.

PRESCOTT PHOENIX DRILLS OIL SAND NEAR ORIGINAL K. M. A.

The Prescott-Phoenix No. 1 Mungler, 600 feet northeast of the Kemp Mungler Allen discovery well, drilled the oil sand at 1,768 feet with a heavy gas pressure, according to reports from the field this morning. The test was drilled with an eight-inch hole and eight-inch casing is set to the bottom of the hole, the only test in this section to be so drilled, it is said, and it is believed that in setting the second string of casing after several feet more hole has been drilled that the water, which is giving some trouble can be readily cut off. The water trouble is said to be identical with that in the first K. M. A. well, and the little trouble in shutting it off is anticipated.

The No. 2 of the Kemp-Mungler-Allen company is still trying to drill up the iron plug, a procedure which has been under way for several days. Every confidence is expressed by those working on the well that as soon as the plug is drilled out and casing reset a good well will be brought in.

A special lead packer is being awaited by the No. 4 of this company to shut off the water. No. 3 is standardizing, and will be drilled in with cable tools.

No. 6 a short distance northwest of the No. 2, has started drilling. It will be drilled down a short distance below 1,700 feet and then standardized, it is stated. It is now down around 300 feet.

Reports today from the test of the Ryan Petroleum corporation's No. 2 Nance, on the Fowler survey, across the river from the producers in the K. M. A. district, were to the effect that oil is running over the top of the casing and preparations are being made to clean the hole out and drill in. Estimates on the size of the well range from 60 to 100 barrels. This is the 1,240-foot sand.

Yesterday's hero: Ping Bodie. He smote one out of the yard with the bases full in the seventh inning, beating the Athletics 5 to 4.

Sport Comment By Paul W. Larkin

The bigger they are, the harder they fall. Ask Davenport, he knows.

It's a good thing Fincher's drive over the fence did not come in the fourth frame when he came up with the bases loaded.

Manager Salm sent his men to bat in their customary order against Davenport's right handed pitching.

Fuller made a corking stop on Tanner's drive in back of second and prevented a sure tally in the second.

Kitchens' wild throw in the third after he had snared Booe's pop in front of the plate, came near being disastrous.

Snedecor tried to emulate Helnie Zimmerman's famous world series base when he chased Wetzel to first in the fourth round.

The Bears' defeat cost them third place yesterday. The Gassers are now at the heels of the Spudders as a result of their win over Beaumont.

The Spudders leave for Dallas tonight and start another long road trip, though not as long as the last. The schedule calls for 17 games this time. Manager Salm is counting on annexing at least a dozen games while away, and if he does so, beware, ye Panthers!

The Plaza air dome will now be the mecca for baseball fans. Every game played by the Spudders on the road will be played in detail on the mechanical scoreboard as was done on their last road trip.

In the senate, the Cox gas bill, which proposes to place gas pipe lines under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission, may be considered if it is placed before the body.

The SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

Two Pals. Inspiration started out upon the beaten track. With Perspiration for a mate to lead the big attack.

And so together, side by side, they dashed into the fray. With laurels heaped upon each brow along the open way.

When Inspiration said at last with craft set in his eyes, "Since I have done the most of it, why should I split the prize?"

"Since it has been my finished art that divvied the open bag. Why should I be a foolish boob and carry up the swag?"

So Inspiration walked alone to play the winning game. With Perspiration teased aside upon the road to fame.

But six months later, wan and worn, with bruised and bleeding feet, Poor Inspiration walked in rags, a beggar down the street.

Ten years ago the leading attractions in baseball were Ty Cobb, Hans Wagner, Christy Matthewson, Johnny Evers, Ed Walsh and Chief Bender.

One of them is left. Ten years from now it may be George Sisler or Rogers Hornsby or "Babe" Ruth. Or even they may be forgotten.

Cy Young's pitching record of twenty-two seasons in the big league still stands—and will for many a decade.

Pop Anson's record of lasting in the major leagues until he was forty-seven may never be beaten.

Hans Wagner's ability to bat .300 or better for seventeen consecutive seasons remains a classic.

But there are two men today who will stand at the top in the record book when the present generation of fans are consigned to "dust, to daisies and to dreams."

These two are Cobb and Ruth. Cobb's ability to lead his league in twelve out of thirteen years is the most remarkable individual achievement in baseball. For at the same time he was leading both leagues.

Ruth's twenty-nine home runs of 1919 and the crop he will harvest this season will be another target beyond reach for many seasons.

Such men as Cy Young, Wagner, Anson, Cobb and Ruth are rare contributions to the game.

Two are left and one of these two is beginning to show signs of wear and tear.

BULK AND STAMINA. Of these five men, Cobb was the slightest in build—and Cobb is six feet, weighing 180 stripped.

Young, Wagner and Anson were all powerfully built. But Ruth is the physical leader of the lot, carrying the mightiest frame now in baseball.

Providing, again, that a good big man still has something on a good little man when it comes to the combative games of sport.

ANOTHER MARVEL. In the meanwhile another temporal marvel goes into action next week. Thirty years ago, back in 1888, John Ball won his first amateur golf championship of Great Britain.

CONTRACT JUMPING IS NEW SERIOUS MENACE TO ORGANIZED BALL

Deserters Have 30 Days to Return to Club or Will Be Permanently Barred

HENRY L. FARRELL United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, June 4.—William C. Smith, owner of the Indianapolis American Association team, is here looking for players. His club has almost been wrecked by desertions.

"One of my best players left the field in the middle of a game a few days ago. Others have jumped and I'm against it," he told Colonel Hudson, part owner of the Yanks.

It seems contract jumping this season has grown to be a serious menace to baseball. The magnates are beginning to fear conditions that have not existed since the days of the Federal league.

The jumping became so frequent in the minor leagues that John H. Farrell, secretary of the association, gave the deserters thirty days to return to their clubs or be permanently barred from organized baseball. When several major league stars deserted their clubs for independent teams, the national commission became interested.

Ban Johnson and John H. Heydler, presidents of the two major leagues, met here this week and laid out a plan of action, against the contract jumpers.

"We are going to give them a reasonable time to live up to their written agreement," Heydler said. "Then if they refuse we will bar them from organized baseball. There will be no claims of blacklisting either. These men have violated a contract and they will not get employment with any other club until they live up to that contract."

FOARD COUNTY NEEDS CARS FOR GRAIN SHIPMENT

CROWELL, TEX., June 4.—With a wheat production of probably little more than a million bushels in sight and ready to harvest Foard county is already crying for cars. The owner of one of the large elevators there informed a West Texas Chamber of Commerce representative today that Crowell alone needs 20 cars a day to handle last year's wheat held in elevators and barns so that the elevators can begin to take care of the new anted.

wheat. Production in this section is expected to be between 25 and 30 bushels to the acre, with some few fields making as high as 40 bushels. The oats crop will also be heavy.

SEEKS CO-OPERATION OTHER COUNTIES IN BUILDING BRIDGE

CROWELL, TEX., June 4.—Foard county is rapidly completing the western half of the state highway running from Crowell to Fort Worth and will complete the eastern half before the year ends.

The new highway to the western boundary of the county is now one of the finest stretches of roadway in this section of the state. Foard county is ready to co-operate with Knox county in building a steel bridge over the North Wichita River, which is at many seasons of the year unfordable. Each county would bear one-quarter of the expense and the state the remainder, it was said. The county is also eager to have a bridge built across the treacherous Peasee River north of the city, and needs the co-operation of Hardeman county.

BURKELEIGH CREST—BILLIE BURKE'S COUNTRY HOME AT HASTINGS-ON-HUDSON

THEODORE ROBERTS' HOME IN HOLLYWOOD

WALLACE REID'S HOLLYWOOD RESIDENCE

Motion Picture Stars Modest in the Choice of Homes

THE popular belief in the fabulous salaries paid to motion picture stars would warrant their living in homes as lavish in proportions and as ornate in decoration as the storied palace of some potentate of the Arabian Nights. The glamour which surrounds them makes the wonderful estates of the screen their own in real life. The stables, the kennels, the motors, yachts and airplanes of the pictures, in the public mind must be theirs. Yet—strangely enough if they do receive the pay the multitude loves to think is theirs—by far the greater part of the leading stars of the films lead quiet, regular lives in comparatively modest homes.

There are a few players who do own elaborate estates—California hilltops with terraced slopes and endless gardens, geometrically laid-out paths and splashing fountains—but they can be counted on the fingers of one hand. To the majority of screen actors the smaller, more hospitable dwelling, in which a real home may be made, appeals far more than the manor on the hill. In California it often takes the form of a low-lying bungalow nesting at the foot of the Hollywood Hills. In New York it is often an apartment in one of the great buildings on some quiet street near Central Park. But invariably it is a home, a haven of rest after the wearying hours at the studio.

Wallace Reid's "Little" Bungalow.
Prominent among the bungalow owners of Hollywood is Wallace Reid, whose house, on a palm-lined street not far from the studio where the star's pictures are made, is one of the most unpretentious dwellings in all the west coast film colony. Set back from the road, its spacious verandas invite restful repose. The little garden in the back boasts several orange trees and one of those ever present garages which, in Hollywood, are an integral part of every family's possessions. Inside, perfectly illustrating Wally's passion for music of all sorts, is a large room—in fact, the largest room in the house—devoted entirely to the housing of a collection of every sort of musical instrument. Here one finds a tremendous variety of string-instruments; an amazing assortment of wood-wind and brass; drums varying from the kettle to the snare size. And the film star plays them all for the pleasure of himself, his wife and his young son, whose nursery is the second most interesting room in the bungalow. The house is furnished in simple but excellent taste throughout and is the pride of Mrs. Reid, well remembered as Dorothy Davenport, a popular film player before her marriage.

Ethel Clayton's Idea of a Real Home.
Another bungalow owner is Ethel Clayton, who finds her greatest interest in acquiring odd bits of bric-a-brac, which she spends many happy hours under a giant pepper tree, reading her favorite books. Her large living room is decorated with many rare Chinese porcelains, acquired on her trip to the Orient last year, while books, her favorite hobby, fill every corner. Without exception the paintings which line the walls are landscapes and water scenes, almost giving the impression of additional windows through which one glimpses delightful bits of nature.

Another film favorite who has settled permanently in Hollywood is Theodore Roberts, whose English, half-timbered house commands a sweeping view of the film city from the crest of a nearby hill. Here Mr. Roberts spends his leisure time with his pets, and a large aviary, in which he keeps all kinds of birds, fills a big corner of his property. His greatest interest is centered in two young seagulls which he captured soon after they were hatched while he was at Catalina with Cecil B. De Mille and the company which appeared in "Male and Female."

Miss Murray's apartment, where she and her husband, Robert Leonard, the motion picture director, spend their time while working at the eastern studios, is most unusual in decoration. The huge studio room, rising through two stories, with a balcony along one side, which leads to the sleeping rooms, and a towering window at the other, which overlooks the city's chimney-posts to the distant Hudson, is finished in old rose and silver gray. All of the hangings are the soft pink tone, while the woodwork and the furniture is a dull ivory which is almost metallic in appearance. In the dining room, in place of the customary round or square table, Miss Murray uses a long, narrow refectory table sold from an old French monastery at the time the monks were expelled.

Miss Dalton's room, also centered around a high-ceilinged Italian, is decorated principally with old Italian furniture and sombrehued tapestries. Venetian lanterns give a soft light which carries out the peaceful atmosphere the decorator sought in his selection of the furnishings.

The fact that the necessity of frequent trips to distant locations causes the players to be away for long stretches makes them all the more fond of their homes. When they are privileged to stay at home they usually have a household of guests, for they are all proud of their places and want their friends to enjoy them, too. But their entertainment is as modest as their dwellings. If they do receive enormous salaries they do not squander them on living.

Miss Burke is a connoisseur and collector of art. The nursery, Patricia, however, is the best loved room in the house. Decorated with the same delicacy which is characteristic of everything to which Miss Burke turns her hand, it is a model for children's rooms. In the Summer Miss Patricia's presence is always emphasized by a table and tiny chairs, all covered by a huge parasol, which is kept on the broad lawn for her daily afternoon tea parties.

Among the players who spend most of their time in New York City are Mae Murray and Dorothy Dalton, both of whom live in the Hotel Des Artistes, a large co-operative apartment owned and inhabited by the leading figures of the metropolitan art world.

But their entertainment is as modest as their dwellings. If they do receive enormous salaries they do not squander them on living.

WHAT KIND OF A MAN IS THE LAUGH KING?

LOOK over the sorrowful faces of any crowd, in any street car, of any gathering, and it would seem to be a precarious job to try to make a living selling laughs; for the faces of an American crowd are not merry faces.

Mack Sennett has probably succeeded in bringing more grins and snickers to these faces than any other man living or dead. After all, the famous wits and jesters of the past only had to make one king laugh; Sennett has a billion that must be tickled. His task is to make high brows and low brows, giggly girls and college professors all laugh at the same joke. No small task!

No doubt every one has wondered what sort of man it must be to turn out laughs for the public in wholesale quantities as he did in his recent five-reel sensation, "Down on the Farm," United Artists released. What sort of a man who can send out laughs in one glittering, never-ending stream, week after week, year after year. Is he funny to talk to? Is he a cut-up or a grouch in private life?

So here is a close-up of Mack Sennett, the laugh king.

Mr. Sennett is still a young man on the right side of forty. He is a successful actor, but he never acts any more. The growth of the business of making laughs has turned him into a big executive. The Sennett studio in Los Angeles is like a young city.

Built Like a City.

Among other things it includes a planing mill, a zoo that any city park would be glad to have, a big art department, a wardrobe department that employs more dressmakers than the average famous modiste, counting rooms, lumber yards, not to mention a young forest and a big automobile repair garage.

The management of this big institution requires executive ability; and, first of all, Mr. Sennett is an executive. Every department knows his personal touch. One minute you will see him discussing the climax of a new comedy with a scenario writer; the next minute he will be instructing the superintendent of construction about building a bowling alley for a comedy set.

As is the case with most successful men, his memory is amazing. And, as with most extraordinary memories, his grasp of detail is due to an unusual power of instantly concentrating his attention. When the stage carpenter interrupts a discussion of a comedy gag to ask how many pictures should be hung in an artist's studio set, he gets the boss' instant and absolutely undivided attention.

Mr. Sennett personally follows every detail of every comedy and usually about four are constantly in the course of production. Out of a very fertile imagination, he builds most of the plots himself (and every Sennett comedy has an elaborate and logical plot). He closely follows the rehearsals which precede the scenes and often directs many of the difficult scenes himself. Lastly, he gets together with the scenario department in writing subtitles.

Comedies Hand-Picked.

Every Sennett comedy is literally hand-picked.

The real success of a comedy, of course, is in the cutting room. One of the great disadvantages of making film comedies is that you can't try them on the public. When a new spoken farce goes on in New York, the producer listens to the laughs the opening night, then cuts out the slow places. The picture producer has no such advantage. He has to guess when the laughs will come. The film once made and shipped is irrevocable.

This is the real genius of Mack Sennett. He seems to have a sixth sense which tells him what is funny. Every Sennett comedy is made about five to ten times as long as it is run in the theatre. Mr. Sennett has a little theater in the studio into which he takes the comedy, 18,000 to 50,000 feet long, and cuts it down to from 1,800 to 5,200 feet.

Every comedy is always shown to all the people on the "lot"—actors, carpenters, property men, bathing girls, etc. But Mr. Sennett doesn't always rely upon their laughs. Actors are too close to things to make good queer instinct for knowing what is funny. Very often he will ruthlessly chop out the film jokes which have earned the loudest laughs in the projecting theater.

Personally Mr. Sennett is not a "cut-up." He enjoys a good story and the companionship of good fellows. When it comes his turn for a story he tells it, of course with the art of the professional. But to meet him, one is impressed rather with the fact that he is like a successful, dignified man of big affairs.

Laugh Maker a Bachelor.

Like most such men, he is simple, unaffected and with a rather attractive shyness that almost approaches bashfulness. Strange to say, he has a horror of having his picture taken. Also, like most successful business men of the day, he gives very careful attention to his physical welfare. He rides every morning, his steed being a mean little wall-eyed broncho whom no one else can ride. He works out in his private gymnasium in the studio and takes a Turkish bath every day. He employs a famous prize fight trainer as his valet.

Probably in no other way could he stand the terrific strains to which he is sometimes subjected. There come times when he plows through most of the twenty-four hours without cessation.

Except for this unusual physical endurance he never could have won out for the Sennett Comedies started less than ten years ago on a shoe string on a rented vacant lot in Los Angeles with Sennett's watch pawned to meet the first payroll. In those days he was scenario writer, scene shifter, chief comedian, telephone girl and film cutter.

In private life, Mr. Sennett lives very quietly—he is a bachelor—in a big house at the beach near Los Angeles. He reads a great deal and, following the peculiarity of many men who live strenuous lives of intense effort, likes detective stories. It is a curious fact that nearly every prominent public man whose life is a storm of terrific effort turns to sleuth stories for relaxation.

BUSINESS COUNCIL TO DISCUSS COUNTY TAX ASSESSMENTS

Alleged inequalities in Wichita county tax assessments in comparison with other counties in the state will be discussed at the meeting of the business council of the Chamber of Commerce tonight. The effort will be made to bring assessments in this county down to equality with assessments in other counties.

DR. KNICKERBOCKER HOME AFTER TEN DAYS OF BUSY AND VARIED ACTIVITY

Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker has returned from his trip in which he was as versatile in his service as his "services" are in his church. Concerning his trip and other announcements the doctor says:

"I am just back from a 10 days' trip in which I hit the high spots in political, religious, democratic and educational life. I delivered the commencement address for the Texas Women's College at Fort Worth, and visited Dr. J. Frank Norris' great church and Sunday school while there. It is doubtless the greatest church in America."

"Knowing that Wichita Falls will play second fiddle to no town, Norris' leading worker said to me: 'Please do not build a greater church than ours in Wichita Falls, for we want to have the best.' However, I made them no promise."

"I then went to Dallas and took part in the great jubilee, democratic convention. There were enough preacher members of that convention to make a Baptist convention, Methodist conference, Presbyterian synod and Christian convocation. A fine religious spirit prevailed the whole affair."

"I then went to Cameron, Texas, and pulled off a little campaign to build a church on Sunday morning. We put it over by taking a $65,000 collection."

"Sunday at 11:00 a. m. I will preach. My subject is 'The Finality of Christ.' At this service Prof. Krumpel, the great organist, will play, and Mrs. Caroline Hall, concert singer, will sing."

"At night the exceedingly popular prelude concert will begin at 7:45 o'clock. The orchestra, Rev. E. C. Hackabee and chorus singing, Prof. Krumpel on the pipe organ, piano and violin and Mrs. Hall will furnish 30 minutes of splendid and inspiring music."

"I will preach a 29-minute sermon during the summer. Twenty-nine minutes is going to be my limit at the night services. We will have a question box also, and will answer extemporaneously all questions which the audience submits. My subject will be 'Forget-Me-Nots of God.'"

JOHNSON BRINGS FAVORABLE REPORT FROM AUSTIN
The outlook is favorable for all of the legislative matters in which Wichita Falls is interested, according to H. P. Johnson, who returned today from Austin. Mr. Johnson has been at the capital on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce.

One of the measures urged by this city has already passed, being the bill to create a county court at law. Mr. Johnson went to Austin in connection with the aviation matter and the plan to exempt municipal bonds from state taxation.

$997.70 PROCEEDS FROM SALE OF STRAWBERRIES THREE-QUARTER ACRE TRACT

The report, published in the Times several weeks ago, of the profits made by P. A. Berry from a three-quarter of an acre strawberry patch, has been questioned in some quarters.

Mr. Berry is ready to prove the report with a detailed statement and since the publication two weeks ago his profits have been swelled. He now reports that since May 4 he has received in actual cash $997.70 from this tract. And that is not all. In addition to the berries sold his family has used berries from this tract and he has given away a number of baskets so that the total value of the berries grown would easily exceed $1,000.

This might be considered a very fair profit for one season, but still this is not all. The plants are of the ever-bearing variety and Mr. Berry says they will produce throughout the summer and fall and will bear particularly well in October and November.

The tract is situated from Lake Wichita. Mr. Berry says this is only a fair example of what may be done by irrigation. He is growing grapes and other fruits and vegetables on his place one mile east of town and expects next year to open a fruit and vegetable market there.

"If anybody has any doubts as to what irrigation will do for this country, send them out to my place," Mr. Berry said this morning. "I will show them something better than oil."

LESS CRIME REPORTED IN WICHITA COUNTY OIL FIELDS

Crime is on the decrease in the oil regions, according to Deputy Sheriff Ab Willey, who says that Newtown, Bradley's Corner and other mushroom oil settlements are not so "wild" as formerly.

Officers are now paying special attention to "Hub City," the latest addition to the cluster of oil field settlements in the Wichita Falls section. Deputy Sheriff Willey, who is on duty in the northwest extension field, will also "work" Hub City, it is understood.

"Things are pretty quiet in the K. M. A. field," said Lee McDonald, deputy sheriff, assigned to duty at Kemp City. "There are no more gambling houses or immoral resorts and crime in general is on the decline," McDonald said.

Where Are Your Valuables

Unless they are tucked away snugly in a modern safe deposit vault you'll probably have to stop a moment and remember just where they are—or where they were the last time you saw them.

You've frequently looked in vain all through a trunk or a desk for a valuable paper that you especially wanted. Now, haven't you?

When the first occurs—we hope it never will—but if it should, won't you feel a lot better about it if all your valuables—including your fire insurance policy—are in our fireproof vault?

Among the Banking Centers of Texas

In the volume of deposits and the total daily clearings, Wichita Falls is now one of the first half dozen banking cities of this state. This means that your banking connection must be more than a local institution—that it must measure up to the broader and bigger demands that the city's prestige brings.

It means that you can say that yours is a big bank in a big town.

If you save a fifty-cent dollar now and deposit it in our savings department, how much better off will you be when things get back to normal than you would be if you should spend the dollar for fifty cents worth of something you do not need?
