

GALVESTON STRIKE PAY BILL BEFORE THE LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN, TEX., June 11.—Another effort is to be made in the lower house of the legislature today to pass the bill carrying an appropriation of $100,000 to defray the expenses of the national guardmen on duty at Galveston by the necessary two-thirds vote. The last attempt failed by seven votes. Unless the bill is passed by ninety-five affirmative votes in the house, the militiamen will not get their pay for thirty days after adjournment of the legislature.

BURKBURNETT OFFICERS RAID BREWERY IN TENT

BURKBURNETT, June 10.—Chief of the Police Allen and two deputies, Layne and Harcliel, reported a raid today on a tent in northwest limit of the city boundary where they found a large receptacle of mash in process of fermentation for alcoholic brewing. One young man was arrested but claimed to have no connection with the property, merely a waiting visitor. It is believed that his story is true. No other arrests have yet been made in the case.

IDEAL WEATHER FOR WHEAT HARVEST PREVAILS

CROWELL, TEX., June 11.—A stream of harvest hands is flowing into Crowell daily through the efforts of the United States employment service department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The harvest is now looming up and Foard county's million bushel crop will be conserved. Weather ideal with no rain for more than a week.

REVIEW LAST NIGHT BEFORE BIG BATTLE

CHICAGO, June 11.—The last night on candidates row before the real fight begins on the convention floor, looked like this: Johnson's boosters were making the most racket, as usual. They blocked the sidewalks, yelling for Hiram. "You can win with Hiram," said the banners that bristled from the assemblage.

COTTON CHOPPERS BADLY NEEDED IN JONES COUNTY

ANSON, June 11.—Farmers in the cotton belt of Jones county in seeking cotton choppers declare that they cannot at present pay more than $2 and board a day. They point to the fact that they have thousands of bales of cotton on their hands from last year's crop, which they can barely dispose of at very unsatisfactory prices.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce's employment service reports a call for several hundred hands south of Anson at $2 and board a day. As the wheat harvest is on and brings good wages, as do the oil fields, it appears that the farmers of West Texas will be up against a hard proposition to get men at the wages that they are offering now.

UNCLE SAM IS GIVEN $120,000 WORTH LIQUOR

KANSAS CITY, KANS., June 11.—One hundred and twenty thousand dollars worth of liquor, held by state authorities at Parsons, Kans., today had been ordered turned over to the government "for medicinal purposes."

FARMERS NOT ACCEDING TO DEMANDS OF LABOR

ANSON, TEX., June 11.—While there is some suffering for rain in other sections, there is no apparent need of moisture here at this time. Laborers are determined to hold up farmers on the price of cotton chopping, demanding $6 per day and board. The farmers, however, are too wise to concede to such unreasonable demands and will let that that cannot be chopped by themselves go without chopping.

SPECIAL SERVICE FOR WOMEN

In planning their new banking home the officers of the City National Bank of Commerce appreciated the importance of maintaining a special service that would appeal to its large number of women depositors.

As a result of that foresight a special Ladies' Teller's window has been set apart to the left of the main entrance on the main floor. This is for the exclusive use of our women patrons. Convenience and service with due regard for safety of money has always been paramount with the officials of this bank. That policy has been carried out to the most minute detail in arranging for the equipment of our new home.

Protection begins with the huge, modern vault, the door of which weighs 15 tons. The vault itself embodies all of the latest safety features, including an intricate system of alarms insuring absolute safety of our depositor's money.

KEMP-MUNGER-ALLEN RUNS AGAIN FEATURING CLIMB OF PRODUCTION BACK TO 100,000 BARREL MARK

The climb of production back above the 100,000-barrel daily mark, and the completion of a well in the Iowa Park section, that marks the discovery of a new sand constitute the features of the completion and production reports for the Wichita Falls districts this week.

The Iowa Park production shows a 33 1-3 per cent increase all from the Kemp-Munger-Allen pool, over the previous week, 4,000 barrels being the daily production compared with 3,000 for the previous week, and the completion of the Ryan Petroleum corporation's No. 1 Nance, making 150 barrels from a 1,230-foot sand, features the completions from this district, because of its discovery nature, though there are several important completions in the regular Kemp-Munger-Allen sand, as well as an important extension effected in territory that had been considered condemned, this latter being by the No. 1 of the Panhandle Refinery in Block 25, which started to flow when the sand was drilled, and which had not been properly prepared for by the erection of tanks.

Burkburnett Pools Gain.
The other pools in the district remain practically unchanged, with the exception of Burkburnett, which is up about 1,000 barrels a day. Burkburnett's production is now 85,500 barrels, with the Texas Oil and Gas Co. producing about 4,200 barrels daily of this total. Electra's production is around 10,300 barrels, Holliday 300 and Petrolia 450 barrels.

Good Waggoner Completions.
The Waggoner pool and extensions have several good sized completions, the George tract and the L. Morgan in Block 76, leading in the size of the producers. The Missouri Oil corporation's No. 2 Lillis Morgan is reported a 600-barrel well, and the Sammie Oil corporation's No. 3 W. F. George is also reported a 600-barrel well. The Sammie have another good new well in their No. 4, making 400 barrels. The Sioux Oil and Refining company is reported to have two new wells on their second lease on the W. F. George tract, their first lease having been fully developed early in the operations on the George. These wells are reported good for 200 and 400 barrels respectively. The Burk Sheffield Oil company's No. 3 George is reported a 400-barrel well.

Completions in Older Parts.
There have been few completions recently in the older parts of the pool, but a few are reported now, including: The Godley Weber Oil company, No. 3 Brannon, Block 83, 75 barrels, and the No. 11 Brannon, same block, 125 barrels. In Langford, Staley and Chenaunt are reported to have three wells in this section of the field, the No. 19 Schmeiser, Block 73, being good for 40 barrels; No. 11, same lease, 25 barrels; and their No. 9 Brannon, Block 89, 10 barrels. The Texas Ranger Oil company's No. 9 Brannon, Block 83, is reported good for 50 barrels. The Texas company's No. 44 Morgan is reported making between 25 and 50 barrels.

The Bowers' Test.
The Bowers' Oil company's No. 1 F. M. Myers, northwest of Clara, in the section where developments have just been begun, is reported swabbing at the rate of 150 to 175 barrels daily. This well is not counted as actually completed, since it has drilled very little sand. The Burk Cameron No. 2, a short distance from the discovery well, is reported making around 75 barrels, and with the water trouble, which has prevented the completion of the well.

The Texoma pool has for its feature the Texas Interstate Oil company's No. 1 Robertson, which is estimated good for 250 barrels, which got the sand around the usual 1,300-foot depth.

WILDCAT OPERATIONS IN STAMFORD DISTRICT

By W. H. WRIGHT
STAMFORD, TEX., June 11.—The Texas Cushing Company is setting 53-16 inch casing at 4435 feet in its Proctor well southeast of Stamford. The drill had just passed through a long stratum of blue shale and penetrated a lime sand. This is the deepest that 53-16 inch casing has been carried in Texas.

Texas Cushing's Colbert No. 2, east of town, is still shut down at 1215 for special tools lost in transit. This well has showing of gas and oil.

Texas Venture well of Weart and York is setting casing at 1650 feet after entering a sand. A rainbow showing is reported in the slough pit. Stamford is banking on this well being a good producer.

Texas Cushing announces drilling will start in the Proctor place in the southwest corner of Shackelford county. Leading geologists declare that this is the finest structure that they have ever found and were willing to drill a well here themselves if the Cushing company did not want to try it.

The National Workers and Production Co., Baldwin well, west of old Ranier in Stonewall county, is casing off salt water at 300 feet. A stratum of gypsum water was encountered at 87 feet.

The Republic Oil and Gas Co.'s White well in Stonewall county is drilling at 1420 feet with continuous drilling operation. Officials predict a gusher within 90 days.

Rosenfield et al of the Stonewall Development Co. in Stonewall county is reported inactive pending alleged reversion action. This well has been drilling for two years.

It is reported here that another company has secured 7,000 acres in proximity to the National Workers and Production Co.'s Baldwin well in Stonewall county, and will begin to drill as soon as rig and derrick are put up.

The great depth of the Proctor No. 1 of the Texas Cushing and the likelihood of picking up a deep oil sand at around 4700 to 5000 feet has caused a mild sensation here. The state geologic department is now having samples of the core sent it daily and is preparing to send a special representative to remain at the well during the remainder of the drilling in order to get correct analysis of the formation at this great depth.

FOUR MORE WELLS ON SAND K. M. A. DISTRICT FRIDAY

Four additional tests were reported Thursday night on the sand in the territory of the Boger-Ard-Maer in block 41, Kemp's Wichita valley farm lands, the Boger-Ard-Maer No. 2 Kemp & Kemper, Boger-Ard-Maer et al No. 1 Logan (block 36) Bass & Dillard No. 1 Kemp & Kemper (block 41) and Harrison et al No. 1 Kemp & Kemper (block 21). The Harrison and Bass & Dillard tests were setting casing Friday, and preparations were being made to set casing in the other tests right away. The Harrison and Bass & Dillard tests were being set around 1775.

The parted casing was being taken out of the No. 1 hole of the Boger-Ard-Maer Thursday night, and no further trouble is anticipated in getting it out and resetting in order to shut off the water. The test made two flows Thursday while fishing for the part of the casing dropped back into the hole, it is reported. One run has already been made from this test, entitling the owners to the benefit of the discovery exemption. The Boger-Ard-Maer No. 1, around which these tests radiate, is about a mile south of the Kemp-Munger-Allen discovery well. Until these last tests got the sand, its sand depth remained undisclosed.

COMPLAINT CHARGING WHITE-CAPPING IS FILED THURSDAY

A complaint charging "white-capping" was filed in Justice R. V. Gwin's court late Thursday against Slim Anderson, said by the complaining parties to be connected with the cooks and waiters' strike here. It is charged that Anderson has been connected with violent outbreaks here that have recently followed in the wake of the open shop movement. Tob Pappas is named as complainant.

Police Chief Bob Goodfellow announced on Friday that the alleged assailants of Melby McDowell, non-union waiter employed at the Westland hotel cafe, have not been apprehended. The police chief seemed inclined to doubt some reports of alleged "white-capping" declaring "at least some of the reports of 'flogging' and 'white-capping' are without foundation."

The police department is exerting all efforts to exterminate disorder, said Police Commissioner Bralley.

"FORTY HOME RUNS OR BUST," IS "BABE" RUTH'S 1920 AIM

Idol of Baseball Fans Tells Jane Dixon That Smashing Tactics of "Hit Big or Miss Big" is the Only Way to Victory

By JANE DIXON.
 Hit big, miss big.
 Nothing new about this philosophy of life.
 Yet it is just as vital, just as vibrant as if it had not been used constantly these many hundred years by every outstanding figure in world history.
 Today it is the philosophy of George Ruth.
 What, you do not know George Ruth?
 Glad you do! Perhaps then you are familiar with one "Babe" Ruth, "that tower of strength and stamina who 'knocks 'em for goal' in the great American game of baseball."
 "I'd rather smash at a ball and miss it a mile than tap it lightly and trundle it into an uncertain field," declares the home run king. "Because," smilingly, "now and then I connect. And when I do there's nothing to it. That mile goes down to winners."
 This from the hardest, most consistent and most spectacular "sucker" who ever left spike prints in the dirt of the diamond.
 We were up at the Polo ground, between Decoration Day games.
 Babe had just done his bit to drag down another victory for his outfit, the Yankees, in the American League. He was browsing in the semi-retirement of the club house, talking it over with his team mates and trying to figure how he might connect with at least one of his celebrated homers for the edification of afternoon fans.
 The better part of 28,000 people had already assembled within the gates. Without at least 3,000 more clamored for admittance, begging, pleading, threatening, demanding their right to witness the contest of brains and brawn soon to be staged in the great arena.
 Ever since I had boarded a train for the Polo ground the name of Ruth had reached me from all sides. "What did Babe do this morning?" "How does Babe look today?" "Four to one Babe scores a home run."
 It came hurrying across the high board fence now, this name of Ruth. When the owner appeared, ambling slowly from cover like an embarrassed schoolboy called upon to speak a piece in the Memorial Day exercises, crowds on the bridge above broke into a roar of delight.
 Babe Ruth is one of the great idols of the day in the fields of sport. Yet he is as simple, as unaffected, as free from pose or self-importance as he was in those less hectic days when he first began to loom large on the horizon of the Orioles down Baltimore way.
 Incidentally when the Buster picks up a bat and plants himself at the plate there is considerable bulk in the way of the catcher. As they would say along the Chesapeake, "Babe is a right hefty citizen." He has the build of a young Hercules. But that is only the lesser half of the reason for those home runs. Babe has the brains to go with the brawn. Athletics are no longer exhibited of brute strength. They are scientific demonstrations, with only one flyball in the power house. And along with brains and brawn this excellent specimen of young American manhood has a pair of eyes so speedy they make a streak of lightning look like a local on the Mexican Central.
 In appearance he is tall and broad and bulky, with the round face of an overgrown boy and the awkwardness of one. These instantaneous eyes are dark and deep set, with a seriousness which betrays the boyish smile. His heart, they say, is as deep as the wells of his eyes.
 We sat in Ruth's motor while he told me about the home run business. Oh, so then baseball players own motors, do they? Why a baseball player of the present who could not boast at least one automobile would crawl back into the bush league somewhere and hide. And he would belong there at that.

 Smashing Tactics Are Best.
 "Do you believe your smashing tactics can be applied to other lines of endeavor, to the work of life in general?" I asked.
 "Certainly," came the quick reply. "Why not? I've used the principle ever since I was a kid and it hasn't hurt me any. In fact, it has landed me where I am today. If you are going after a thing give it everything you've got. Don't temporize. Get it good or don't get it at all. A halfhearted victory is no way to win. If you do get over you have done it so poorly the world isn't sure whether you are a winner or a loser."
 "I suppose I strike out as often as the average player. I pull just as many 'bones.' But they don't worry me a lot. Why? Because I know I'm trying for big game, and when I do land on that little old pill it will go where the woodbine twined. By the time my opponents get back with the remains there will be another homer jotted down for us on the tally sheet. All over but the shouting."
 At the end of the season," I inquired, "is your score as high as that of the boys who try to sneak up on a ball instead of taking a chance on a big smash?"
 A smile broke over the considerable face of Ruth. It caught back the corners of his generous mouth. It lit a twinkle in the depths of his solemn brown eyes.

 "I guess my average measures up pretty well with the rest of them," he admitted. "He actually suspected himself of boasting, this shy young slugger. The crimson flag of embarrassment floated up to his eyebrows, lost itself under the peak of his cap.
 "Twenty-nine home runs last season."
 "Twelve this season and the Babe has scarcely ironed the kinks of winter out of his system!"
 "How many homers do you figure you will drive over the fence this year?" I inquired.
 "I questioned.
 "Meditation for a moment. The twinkle was gone from the dark eyes. They were serious again.
 "Oh—I'd say, rough guess, about forty."
 Babe made the announcement in the same matter-of-fact tone used by the farmer when he estimates his autumn crop of wheat.
 Forty home runs a season! Forty times thousands of feverish baseball fans howling their joy to the high heavens, smashing each other's straws "kelly" in spasms of delight, throwing their voices to the four winds in a valiant effort to tell the world fair Babe Ruth is the greatest guy who ever embalmed a field of battle, except, perhaps, Pershing.
 I remarked to Mr. Ruth that it must be fairly difficult to keep the hero-worshippers at bay. Public adulation such as is accorded the Babe, has "gotten" many a good man, hurled him from the rosy pinnacle of success to the sodden depths of dire disaster.
 "The fans never bother me," was the frank rejoinder. "We have to stand for their gaff, whichever way the wind blows. Sometimes they chide us, and sometimes they cheer us, but it's up to us to grin and hold on to the ropes. When I leave the ball park

I try to forget I ever played a game. My style of play happens to be spectacular. For that reason I have more than my share of the idol stuff. I don't mind it. It bucks a fellow up to know his public is with him. I'm glad the fans like me and I'm going to do my best to keep them liking me. When they stop, it's my cue to quit. I'm happier when I put over a home run than they are. I'll make it 40 this season or bust.
 Why Babe Ruth instead of the more dignified George?
 Because the first time the Baltimore youngster played on the professional field at home a coach wished the diminutive on him, claiming his antics resembled those of a playful baby elephant and his averdupois accentuated the resemblance. It did not take the wisecracker long to discover this weight was brawn, not bulk. But George Ruth has been "Babe" ever since.
 The Yankees paid the Boston Red Sox close to $50,000 for Ruth. How close the most astute of sport writers has never been able to definitely discover.
 Cheap enough, if batting Babe makes good on that 40 promise.
 The home run type of man is invaluable, be he player, poet or president.

OIL FIELD LABORERS GOING TO HARVEST FIELDS

STAMFORD, June 10.—Several hundred cotton choppers will be needed in Jones county in the next few weeks, according to the special agent of the United States Employment Service here.
 Much of the cotton of Jones county has just begun to protrude from the ground, having been delayed by the protracted dry weather of early spring and then by the long spell of rainy weather. In the Hawley section there has come a demand for several hundred hands for general farm work. In Fisher county much cotton has already been chopped, while a great amount has not yet been planted due to inundations and wet weather.
 A number of laborers familiar with harvesting but who have recently been employed in the oil fields are passing through Stamford daily en route to the wheat fields of North Central West Texas, particularly in the Crowell and Chillicothe sections, where the crops are reported as unusually good.
 While the labor situation will not be serious as it was last year, it will by no means be easily solved, declared the special agent of the U. S. Employment Service.
 All persons wishing hands for the fields and those wishing employment should apply by letter to the U. S. Em-

GOOD FISHING REPORTED ON CLEAR FORK OF BRAZOS

NUGENT, TEX., June 9.—Fishing parties from Stamford, Abilene, Albany, Sweetwater and a large number of tourists in a-tos are daily encountered on the Clear Fork of the Brazos in this neighborhood, where fishing is reported as better than usual. The ample spring rains have caused the river to be flush with clear water and a great school of fish have ascended the river to make angling worth while in this section. The large pecan trees afford ample shade along the river.

WELFARE COUNCIL'S CAR DAMAGED IN ACCIDENT

The Welfare Council's Dodge is retired from circulation for a time, and Mrs. C. E. Ousley, the executive secretary is somewhat "shook up," as the result of the roadster having been struck by another automobile, while Mrs. Ousley was stopped at the Tenth and Broad intersection, waiting for a street car to move on. The car was driven by an employe of the Excelsior Motor Company, who said that his brakes slid, when he tried to stop.

Australian Rabbits Selling Fast

Rabbits have been doing great damage in the grazing districts of Australia and strenuous efforts to eradicate them have resulted in the killing of a vast number of these animals. Some 100,000 bodies are now in cold storage awaiting shipment to England. The embargo on the export of rabbit skins was removed in December last, and the boom in rabbit-skin prices has produced remarkable competition in slaughtering the pest. The ruling average price paid to trappers for skins is now $1.52 per pound, and the demand for skins by the United States and European markets is so great that it can not be satisfied, and it is thought that prices will go still higher. Experienced trappers are making up to $75.00 per week for the skins alone.
