

STATUS WATER COMPANY DEAL IS DISCUSSED

Attempt May Be Made to Sell City's Water Bond in East.

CONTRACT SIGNED FOR MONROE STREET PAVING

Ordinance May Be Adopted Regulating Electric Signs on Business Streets.

able" in order to consummate the deal. It is apparent that both the water company and the city are anxious for the sale to go through.

"If the net amount realized from the sale of the bonds is not sufficient to buy the plant," Calder told the members of the council, "we would be willing to accept city warrants for any difference, payable from the receipts of the water department and running over a reasonably long term period."

Not all the members of the council were present at this morning's session, and it was intimated by Mayor Cline that another meeting will be held for particular discussion of the water deal before any positive action is taken. He added, however, that the city will appreciate any effort Calder and his associate may make in the meantime to find a market for the bond issue.

It is possible, judging from sentiment shown this morning, that the city council will soon take action to complete the placing of large advertising signs in the business section. A letter was read from the North Texas Furniture Co. requesting permission for the erection of a large electric sign over the sidewalk in front of the company's store. Hubert M. Harrison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, however, expressed the opinion that such signs not only constitute a menace to citizens but are unsightly and injure the city's appearance—a contention that received the endorsement of Alderman Curlee. As no ordinance covers the subject, thoroughly, it was decided to let the matter go over to the next regular meeting of the council.

Monroe Street Paving.
Mayora Cline signed a contract for the city with the Plaster Paving Co. for the paving of Monroe street, between Tenth street and Avenue I. The work is to start within 30 days. The council also ordered City Engineer Thoburn to pay the bill presented by George E. Kessler, landscape architect, for his work in drafting a city plan for Wichita Falls, and close the account that received the endorsement of Alderman Curlee. As no ordinance covers the subject, thoroughly, it was decided to let the matter go over to the next regular meeting of the council.

Monday night attended by Police Commissioner Bralley and Alderman Curlee that the police department would be placed on a merit system, and that increases in pay may hereafter be granted to members of the force who display more than ordinary ability in the performance of their duties. It was also announced by Police Commissioner Bralley that an effort will be made to suppress petty crimes and misdemeanors through the medium of warnings wherever possible, rather than through immediate arrest and the imposition of fines.

SPECIAL CHARGES ON LIQUOR LAW VIOLATIONS AND IMMORAL RESORTS

Investigation of alleged violation of the state liquor laws and probing of alleged operations of immoral resorts were ordered by Judge H. F. Welton in his instructions to the grand jury, empaneled at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in the 9th district courtroom.

G. D. Anderson was chosen as foreman. Other members are: C. H. Clark, J. D. Cooper, William Daniel, T. J. Waggoner, B. A. Statton, B. C. Hall, Lester Jones, Leon Deaton, E. V. Friberg, J. B. Stokes and R. E. Nixon.

The grand jury is expected to complete its work by the end of the present week.

Now is the time to think of some better way of keeping warm next winter. It's certain there will be a shortage of gas just when we will need it worst. For this reason we have provided for the public by receiving the full line of the celebrated "Round Oak" ranges and heaters and the part of this announcement probably most interesting to you is the R-O pipeless furnace. We have these in stock now and will be pleased to have you inquire about this new and simple way of heating the entire house from the basement. Wichita Hardware Co. 804-6 Ohio Ave. 21-31c.

EMBEZZLEMENT COMPLAINT AGAINST CECIL JAMES

Cecil James, former bank employe here, was arraigned on Tuesday before United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz, on a charge of embezzling funds of the First National bank here. The complaint alleges that on Feb. 26, 1920, James made a false entry upon the books of the First National bank with intent to defraud. A deposit slip for $250.70 was recorded for $125 the complaint charges.

James waived examining trial and was remanded to jail in default of bond to the extent of $1,000. James was represented by Wallace Nelson, local attorney, who pleads for a low bond due to the youth of the defendant and the fact that James is now under bond in state court on a charge of burglary.

Cecil James was indicted on two

FUNERAL SERVICES OF ED FUNSTON WEDNESDAY

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at 1307 Eleventh street for E. W. Funston, who died Sunday morning at his home, following an attack of heart failure. The funeral has been delayed pending the arrival of a brother, who reached Wichita Falls Tuesday morning. Mr. Funston who was 36 years of age, is survived by his wife, mother, two sisters and two brothers.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ENJOYED PRACTICE SPIN

The members of the fire department "enjoyed a practice spin" to 1213 Monroe street at 11 o'clock last night, but found the owner of the property awaiting them on his front steps with the information that he had "doused the fire." "I didn't even lose a pound," said George Osterson, this morning, which proves conclusively that the firemen found no work to do.

VIOLATION HARRISON NARCOTIC ACT ALLEGED

R. H. Brown was arraigned before United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz on Monday afternoon charged with violating the Harrison anti-narcotic act. He waived examining hearing and was bound over to the grand jury under $750 bond which has not been furnished. Brown sold a small quantity of morphine sulphate, the complaint says.

Amusements

At the Plaza. The versatility of Olive Thomas, charming Belnick star, is something at which to marvel. Probably no other actress of the screen has essayed so varied an assortment of roles as has Miss Thomas. And in each new characterization she displays some new ability which makes it compare more than favorably with its predecessor.

Never has her art been displayed to greater advantage than in "Out Yonder," her new Seiznick picture, which began a two day engagement at the Plaza theater last night, before a most appreciative audience. In the role of "Fotsum," whose father tended the lighthouse on Great Reef, she painted, with deft, sure strokes, as perfect a portrait as followsers of the silent drama have ever witnessed. Vertically, she lived the role, carrying her audience, thrilled and enraptured, through the long series of mishaps that befell her ere she won love and happiness.

Miss Thomas has an exceptionally strong supporting cast and the scenic effects, a great many of which show the rugged New England coastline in all its stern grandeur, are as beautiful as have ever been filmed. Ralph Ince directed the picture and the story was written by Pauline Phelps and Marion Short.

"Riders of the Dawn," which will be seen for the last times at the Empress today, is a picture that touches every motion in the heart's register. Love runs through it like a golden thread; we feel the hot flush that mounts to men's cheeks when they are in the presence of defiant wrongdoers; we yield now to pity and now to joy. The time passes rapidly as we watch the action on the screen; impressions crowd upon us as the plot develops; we know that we are being entertained. Many friendly and familiar faces from among the feasts of screen stars look down upon us.

There is Roy Stewart, manly, fearless, and withal gentle and tender; Claire Adams, a lovable type of American girlhood, richly endowed with good looks, but possessing something better than mere beauty—a charm of manner that is born of natural modesty; Joseph J. Dowling, the man who won fame by his impersonation of the "Miracle man;" Robert McKim, the most popular villain and "cheater" of the screen. He keeps hunting for it. That is the spirit of this wonderful production. Mary Pickford has done a wonderful piece of art in this characterization of universal appeal.

When you need a plumber call 1712. Geo. W. Winburne Jr., 2400 Eighth St. Stamps for sale at Times office.

At the Majestic. "Pollyanna," the delightful character of book and stage, came to the screen of the Majestic theater, last evening with Mary Pickford in the title role, and from both a humorous and sentimental viewpoint, it was an absolute triumph, for it carried with it a really cheerful philosophy of sunshine and gladness.

The production recently scored unprecedented success in all of the large cities in the United States and will be seen at the Majestic theater during the next two days.

HON. B. F. LOONEY WILL SPEAK HERE THURSDAY NIGHT

Friends of former Atty. Gen. B. F. Looney of Greenville, Tex., candidates for governor, are in receipt of a message from him, to the effect that he will address the voters of Wichita county in the interest of his candidacy for governor at the courthouse, Thursday night next, June 17.

General Looney was a member of the senate and lower house of the legislature three terms, during which time he secured the passage of a number of important laws. He served the state as attorney general six years. His record as attorney general is familiar with most every one in the state.

As a candidate, Mr. Looney advocates (1) the rescue of our common school system from collapse as now threatened; (2) economy in the administration of the state's business; (3) such reforms in the tax laws as will bring to the rolls all property subject to taxation and equalize tax values throughout the state; (4) a practical plan for the homeless man to pay out a home on long time and low interest without involving the credit of the state or indulging in socialism; (5) the establishment of an impartial public land tax scheme; (6) the ballot for the citizens only and not for un-naturalized foreigners only; (7) the establishment of an impartial public tribunal to settle or prevent industrial and labor disputes; (8) the encouragement of the cotton and woolen manufacturing industries by liberal tax exemption; (9) the complete overhauling and reformation of the business and accounting methods of the penitentiary system and subjecting the same to rigid, periodical audits, with closer supervision of its affairs; and (9) is against the abuse of the pardoning power by the executive department.

Mr. Looney is a staunch prohibitionist, a life-long advocate of woman suffrage, and withal, a very entertaining and forceful speaker. He speaks at the courthouse Thursday night next in the 7th district courtroom. Come out and hear him. Ladies are especially invited.

B. A. M. NO. 2 KEMP AND KEMPNER MILE SOUTH OF K. M. A. IN

Swabbing at the rate of 800 to 800 barrels Monday afternoon, and estimated as likely to make 500 barrels per day on the pump, the Borer-Ard-Maer No. 2 Kemp and Kempner in Block 41 is the first real completion in this new section, being next to the south of the Kemp-Munger-Allen discovery well, although the credit of the discovery will go to the No. 1 well of the same firm. Heads and being made in intervals of about six hours by the B. A. M. and Dillard No. 1 Kemp and Kempner, also in Block 41, which is being standardized, and which is expected to be equally as good as was the No. 2 of the Borer-Ard-Maer. This well, as well as the Ed Harrison et al in Block 21, which has bailed oil from the hole, and the No. 1 Logan of the Logan P. M. syndicate are rigging up standard tools for completion. The rotary is being moved off the Borer-Ard-Maer No. 2 and standard tools may be rigged over the test later. The No. 1 of Borer-Ard-Maer, which is technically entitled to the distinction of being the discovery well, is resetting casing.

CLIMAX REACHED AUDITORS REFUSAL TO AUDIT BILLS

The wrangle between the county commissioners and County Auditor W. Murphy reached a climax Tuesday with the announcement by County Judge J. P. Jones that the county auditor would leave his office or that Wichita county would be faced with the resignation of its four commissioners. Judge Jones declared that construction work on Wichita county's proposed highway system is being held at a standstill due to Murphy's refusal to audit certain bills presented first to the county commissioners by the county engineer and originally presented to County Engineer Isbell by Potts & Prentice, road-building contractors. Murphy declares that he believes the contract entered into between Potts & Prentice and the county commissioners is illegal and is withholding final audit of more than $20,000 of bills presented by Potts and Prentice. No road work can be done until the auditor approves these bills, County Judge Jones announced.

A joint meeting of District Judges Scurry and Weldon had been scheduled for 2 o'clock this afternoon to consider a request for the dismissal of Mr. Murphy, but Judge Weldon was called to Bowie and the meeting was postponed. The district judges under the statutes make the appointment of the auditor and they alone have the authority to discharge him. It is probable that the matter will be presented to them later in the week.

It was reported at the courthouse Tuesday afternoon that at least two members of the commissioners court would resign unless the tangle caused by the auditor's refusal to approve the bill of expense items was straightened out.

LOUISIANA DEFEATS FEDERAL SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

BATON ROUGE, La., June 15.—The lower house of the Louisiana legislature by a vote of 67 to 44 today rejected a resolution calling for ratification of the federal suffrage amendment. The senate last week defeated the ratification resolution.

After the defeat today of the Shattuck resolution providing for the ratification of the federal suffrage amendment, the house by a vote of 60 to 39 adopted the Jordan resolution, which puts the house of representatives on record as opposing federal suffrage. Prior to the vote on suffrage the house declined to hear Congressman R. A. Kerr of California, who wanted to speak in support of federal suffrage.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAS NEW PANORAMIC VIEW OF WICHITA FALLS

A huge panoramic view of Wichita Falls has been received by the Chamber of Commerce, and will be hung in the office of the organization. The picture, which is more than 10 feet long, is the first yet taken that shows all the new buildings that have been completed in the downtown section of the city in the past year.

The photograph was taken by Duffey Mapes with a panoramic camera operated from the roof of the Wichita theater.

CITIZENS ADVISED BY CITY CHEMIST TO BOIL WATER

In answer to many complaints received regarding the turbid condition of the city water, Dr. A. H. Douglas, city chemist, today advised Wichita Falls citizens to boil all drinking water.

"The muddy condition," he said, "is due simply to the fact that the water plants are working over its capacity. The sedimentation beds were built to handle 1,600,000 gallons of water per day, but the demand has been so heavy that the water has to be rushed through these beds without proper time for a complete settling process. But there will be no danger from the use of the water if it is boiled when in this condition, as it is permitted to rest long enough for all precipitates to settle and the top is then poured off for use."

Dr. Douglas stated further that daily tests are being made for pollution signs, and that when any are found the water company is notified and the water is treated with liquid chlorine used in purifying the city water. At the present time conditions, as regards pollution, are extremely good—some water shows far more pollution than the city water.

Renovating Leather Furniture.

When the polished leather seats and back of chairs have become worn with use they can be renovated at home in the following way: Dissolve 90 grams of yellow beeswax in 200 grams of turpentine, in a double boiler, using just enough heat to melt the wax; when thoroughly dissolved add little by little, stirring constantly, 10 grams of caustic soap dissolved in 200 grams of rain water. Apply to the leather with a swab.

If the leather is rubbed or scratched, add to the above cream before it cools some suitable coloring matter, depending upon the color of the leather.

If the leather be torn, mend it first with a cement made by placing 50 grams of fish-gel in 50 grams of cold water; let this stand for 24 hours, then dissolve by heating in a double boiler and add one gram of bichromate of potash and 5 grams of glycerine. This glue when dry and exposed to the light is insoluble and unaffected by humidity.

Now is the time to think of some better way of keeping warm next winter. It's certain there will be a shortage of gas just when we will need it worse. For this reason we have provided for the public by receiving the full line of the celebrated "Round Oak" ranges and heaters and the part of this announcement probably most interesting to you is the R-O pipeless furnace. We have these in stock now and will be pleased to have you inquire about this new and simple way of heating the entire house from the basement. Wichita Hardware Co., 804 1/2 Ohio Ave. 31-St.

CONCERT BY SHRINE BAND LAMAR PARK WEDNESDAY EVENING

The Kemp Library Park, on Lamar, has been chosen for the shrine band concert to be given Wednesday evening. It was announced Tuesday afternoon, and the public is cordially invited to attend this last concert of the band before going to Portland to the Shrine convention.

The band and the Chamber of Commerce have arranged for a series of evening concerts at the various parks of the city during the summer. Hubert Harrison stated Tuesday afternoon. It is the plan of the secretary, and of the band director, L. V. Lawler, to alternate in various sections of the city, so that all the residents may enjoy the concerts, and the next concert will be held following the return of the band from Portland.

REV. BINGMAN AND COL. BILLY BOTH MAKE STATEMENTS

Emphatic denial of statements attributed in the press to the party of cooks and waiters recently brought to Wichita Falls from Kansas City by the Wichita Falls Open Shop association and to the effect that they were informed as to conditions in Wichita Falls was made Tuesday morning by Rev. P. E. Bingman, who acted for the Open Shop association in organizing this party.

"There is absolutely no truth to the statement that members of the party did not know the labor conditions existing in Wichita Falls, as great care was taken to explain to them, and to the employment agencies through whom I worked, that Wichita Falls was in process of changing to open shop conditions, and that they were being brought here to work under open shop conditions," Rev. Bingman stated. "There is plenty of work here at the highest scale in the United States for competent help, and we have the out-published statement of the union that there is no intimidation or threatening of non-union workers."

"These men accepted the transportation of the Open Shop association, knowing exactly what the conditions were, and although there were good jobs waiting for them, according to promises, they elected to violate their pledge and join forces with the cooks and waiters union. On the part of some of them it amounted to obtaining money under false pretenses, for there were in this party agents of the union, who were responsible for this action."

"Now, finding that the union either cannot, or will not, carry out the fair promises made, and which caused their defecting, they are coming back to the Open Shop association, crying that they have been mistreated, and wanting the Open Shop association to pay their return fare back to Kansas City. I do not blame the Open Shop association, under the circumstances in feeling that they are not obligated further to these people.

Col. Kelly's Statement.

"Had these people come to us instead of going off with the walking delegates of the union, and declared that they had not understood conditions here, the association, even though it knew to the contrary, would without question have sent them back to where they came," said Col. E. E. Kelly, secretary manager of the Open Shop association, in commenting on Rev. Mr. Bingman's statement.

"Inasmuch as they did not play fair with the association, but went trouping off with the representatives of the unions, the association feels that they have forfeited all claim to any further consideration from the Open Shop association."

"In spite of their conduct, however, the association still stands ready to make good on the promises of employment to these people, and have placed in employment some of the members of the party who have decided to go to work."

"The plain fact is, that these people obtained the equivalent of money upon the representation that they would go to work. They knew it was open shop work."

"There were in the party union men. These men knew that the rest of the party were non-union, proving conclusively that the jobs to which they were going could be nothing but under open shop conditions and consequently could not have the approval of the union."

"All of this furor has been created by the radical heads of the union, and these men are simply their dupes. When men refuse to work under American conditions, at the highest scale of wages offered anywhere in the country, they are not objects of charity, and any contribution to them under such circumstances would simply be throwing money away for the promotion of shiftlessness, deceit and dishonesty."

The business of making photographic enlargements has been greatly simplified by the construction of a vertical enlarging camera which is suspended over head and projects its light down upon a sensitized sheet which is placed on a table under it. The arrangement and manipulation of the paper is much more conveniently done in this position.

THE NEWS IN RHYME

By C. F. C.

"This lack of news," the editor said, "is most distressing, men; Go out and gather startling facts. And then come in again."

And so the scribe he hid him forth To dig up news, forsooth; And what he here writes down he swears Is nothing but the truth.

Two crooks who stole two pairs of pants Were caught at last. Art interested? They led police a merry dance. But had the goods on when arrested!

The day was hot, exceeding hot; (These are the simple facts.) But hotter still the men who had To pay their income tax.

Postoffice men have got a raise, And all are feeling sad. For there's a joker, and they'll get Less money than they had.

Chief McClure, the fire boss, Tried out his new equipment; It tossed a two-inch stream a mile; He's tickled with the shipment.

And Mayor Cline is back in town. 'Tis but the truth we state; Which means, of course, Curlee again Is selling real estate.

The open shop is open still, And labor's closed, or nearly; We dare not comment further, 'cause We value life too dearly.

The Spudders won another game, They won it by a hair; So why, if they win all these games, Why call the ump's unfair?

We've written all the startling facts, All that we had in store; We'll have to quiet, the editor cries: "Go out and get some more."

VETERANS WILL BE SENT TO HOUSTON BY DAUGHTERS CONFEDERACY

Wichita county Confederate Veterans are going to the (Confederate) reunion in Houston, in October of this year, as the guests of the Wichita Falls chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and already $400 of the $800 which it was agreed should be spent to do the affair up proper has been subscribed by the Wichita County Bar Association. Members of the bar association Tuesday morning agreed to be responsible for half the fund.

New uniforms will be bought for each Veteran, and the party will be carried off in the regular "Wichita Way." It is planned to make this reunion, the first held in Texas in many years, one of the most notable in the history of the institution.

Marver, what makes you so cross?

Poor mother, has backache, dizzy spells, headache and is nervous, which are all symptoms of woman's trouble.

Most women neglect their health, and for this neglect they pay the penalty. Any woman who suffers thus will find that she loses flesh faster than Nature can put it on. She will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life and make her worries fewer. If she asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses peculiar to women, but is an all-around vegetable tonic that braces the entire body, overcoming nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness and a run-down condition.

Dr. Pierce put his Favorite Prescription in the drug stores in 1870. For fifty years it has stood the test, and thousands upon thousands of women all over the United States can testify that this non-alcoholic tonic made them healthy and well. Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. for trial package of Favorite Prescription tablets.

TUESDAY, JUNE 15, 1920. GOVERNOR HOBBY'S RECORD.

Gov. Hobby's administration has been the object of more numerous and more bitter attacks than any Texas Governor in recent times. By becoming Governor when Governor Ferguson was impeached, he incurred the undying enmity of Ferguson and his followers, and the campaign against "little Hobby" they have waged has been unceasing. By being the logical candidate for the pros to follow in 1918 and so eliminating several others who wanted to run, he became persona non grata to a number of other candidates' supporters. By his efforts which ended in the dry zone law and later in constitutional prohibition, the Governor incurred the displeasure of most of the "wets"; he added to the sum total of this when he approved the primary woman suffrage law passed by the special session he convened. The McKinney Courier-Gazette, whom also the Governor has impressed himself by the achievements accomplished during his administration, says Governor Hobby thus deserved tribute:

The Hobby administration, in power now for more than three years, has a record of beneficent laws to its credit possibly not equaled by previous administrations in our state's history. When Governor Hobby took hold of the helm of state, the great University of Texas was on the verge of closing its doors; saloons were wide open; an army of inebriates was abroad in our state. The University was placed on a firm financial footing and, in fact, was saved from bankruptcy. There are only two of the many notable achievements. Also many just and badly needed laws were enacted. Governor Hobby inherited from the impeached Governor, Ferguson, a mass of bungled up executive troubles, but happily he has found a safe way out of every difficulty and has brought to the beneficiaries of a nobler rule under the guidance of Will Hobby.

His firmness in dealing with the situation at Galveston has commended the Governor further in the minds of most Texas people, even those who deplored the necessity for the action. The best feature of his whole administration, as we have viewed it, is that he has striven to do that which he believed to be right, even though it compelled the parting of ways politically between him and some of his best friends.

Senator Harding is a very good man and Governor Coolidge is also a very good man. But Senator Harding is of the political type whose greatest appeal will be to the stand-pat element of his party, who is "safe and sane" insofar as obeying the behests of his party leaders at all costs is concerned and who, in the nature of things, cannot make an impression upon the progressive republican elements of the west and middle west. With Eastern conservative republicans disappointed at League of Nations straddle; with Western progressive republicans indignant at the thoroughness of the stand-pat victory; and with "dry" republicans more or less "sore" because the plank endorsing prohibition not "lost," the Harding-Coolidge campaign starts off without real enthusiasm except among the stand-patters and old guard members. The democrats at San Francisco are going to have to make a tremendous lot of mistakes to keep the democracy from furnishing the next President, and the Harding nomination insures that the democratic nominee will be of the progressive type like McAdoo or Cox and on a platform that will "come clean" on issues that the republicans have "straddled."

Appropos of nothing but timeliness: It's a good time to cut those unsightly weeds which have grown up this wet spring and which now furnish a retreat for flies and mosquitoes and other things that contribute nothing to the comfort or convenience of the people. Cut the weeds!

With Other Editors

(J. Ogden Armour in Armour's Magazine.) Most people want to grow. They would like to advance in their work, earn more, have greater influence, do bigger things. Yet, strange to say, the world is full of people who do not "grow up." They have lost the secret of their youthful days. They come to a halt in self-development, and folks say they are getting "old." But a person is never old until he quits growing; and he need not quit growing until the end of his years. The most conspicuous fact about great men—men who do big things, and keep on doing them—is that they never cease growing. They are perpetually young. They have the real thing, of which Ponce de Leon's "Fountain of Youth" was only an imitation. If a man sets his heart upon growing, he has but three things to do: First, he must be a LEARNER all his life. I do not mean from books only. Almost any one can learn from books. Many have attained the heights of happiness from things, by observation. Few have acquired all there is to the art of learning from other people. Yet, almost every one you meet has something important to teach you, tell you, or show you, if you know how to ask intelligent questions, and if you are genuinely interested in learning. Some will give you information, some will teach you wisdom, some will show you the right manner of delivering a smile or handshake. The man who would grow must be a human interrogation point.

Then, he must be a THINKER—and must think hard. He may not be able to "add a cubit to his stature by taking thought," but he can surely add to his personality, his influence, his power and success. Many people never put a load on their brains, and their brains, like an unattached locomotive, always run "light." Unless a man revolves in his mind what he learns and observes, he never gets any use from it. He must make deductions.

Finally he must be a DOER. Some people are long on thinking, but short on doing. They are the dreamers. But Experience is, after all, the greatest of all teachers. When you have the courage to tackle the difficult thing which tests your utmost ability, then you are down to the business of growing in all its fine points. The bumps you will get, the discouragements you will encounter, and even the mistakes you will make in being zealous in your doing, will be among the best parts of your education.

When a man who shows that he has lost interest in his business, I feel sorry for him. I know that he has ceased to grow. For there is no better place to practice growing than in one's daily work. It is a field of unending possibilities for learning facts, meeting people, attaining new triumphs day after day that prove one's muscle and one's brain. Success and rewards always come to the person who continues to grow, but the greatest reward consists in having found the secret that makes life continuously interesting.

RIPLING RHYMES. BY WALT MASON. FAVOR. When I was sick, with chills and fever, Jones did my chores, day after day; he whacked up kindling with a cleaver, and fed the cows and hens their hay. I told him he was sure a treasure, a model neighbor, nothing less; he said it always gave him pleasure to help a comrade in distress. Recovering from my ills and sorrows, I changed my mind concerning Jones; for every day he comes and borrows a gun, or a pair of overalls, or a pair of shoes, or a pair of bones. He borrows till he makes me dizzy, and I am drooping o'er my lyre; he borrows gas for his tin Lizzie, and wood to feed his kitchen fire. He borrows rugs, he borrows bedding, and his basson, on which to toot, and if he would attend a wedding, he asks me for my Sunday suit. When you were sick, he kept on reminding, how cheerfully I did your chores! Your eight-day clock you saw me winding, you saw me chase the cat outdoors. And now, when I am sick, you borrow your aunt, your buckaw and your cow; I'll bring the blamed things back tomorrow, together with your sulky plow. It's doubtless due to moral blindness, but I detest the pilgrim bland who is resolved to do me kindness, who's bound to lend a helping hand.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK BY LEE PAPP. This afternoon while I was wawking home from school I saw Mary Watkins wawking in back of me, and I wawked slow and then pertended to be surprised wen she cawt up to me, saying, O, I didn't know you was there. And I didn't know you was there, when her thinking of sumthing to say, and after a while I sed, G, its warm today, its pritty near summur, ain't it? And I sed, you know? sed Mary Watkins. Sounding snippity as anything, me thinking, G, she must be made about sumthing. And I kepp on wawking alongside of her, and I sed, I sed, Will you be glad wen its vacation? What do you care? sed Mary Watkins. O, I don't know, I sed. Thinking, Gosh, I wonder wat she's mad at! And after we had wawked another little ways I thawt of a good thing to say, saying, G, thats certeny a pritty hab. Jest because you say it it dont prove it, sed Mary Watkins. Being a fearsome anser, and I thawt, Holey somb's gosh, And I couident think of anything else good to say, and after a while Mary Watkins sed, Dont you know a gentleman is supposid to wawk on the outside of a lady. Meaning on account of me wawking on the side next to the houses insted of near the curb, and I quick get eround on the outside of her, saying, G, thats rite, I must of bin thinking of sumthing else. Being wat she was' made at, and after that she ansered me all rite wen I tawked and wen we got to her house I tipped my hat all the way off of my head to her and kepp on going home.

Side Talks

HUNT FOR YOUR TONGUE. "When you want to whip a child," says an Italian proverb, "first hunt for a stick." It would also be a good thing for many of us if, when we want to forbid a child something, or threaten him with a punishment, we had first to hunt for our tongues. The most common fault in child discipline is the use of too many "don'ts" and too many unconsidered threats. Too many "don'ts" always spoil the child. "Roderick, stop that quickly," I heard a nervous, quick-speaking mother say to her six year old son, the other day, "or you'll have to go upstairs and stay in your room for an hour." An Unpardonable Sin. Roderick was engaged in pouring the water which he had been given him to blow soap bubbles with, through the cracks in the front steps. He did not stop. His mother did not seem to notice this fact until a few minutes later. "Roderick, didn't you hear me?" she exclaimed. "Yes, mother, but—" continuing in his play. She swooped down upon him and took the rest of the water away from him. "You don't know what all that is for," she declared. She said nothing further about that hour in his room.

Later she explained this to a grown-up companion who was rash enough to remind her of her threat. Her excuse was, "He'd probably get into mischief. And then he keeps begging to come out and it takes more energy to keep him there than it's worth. Besides, it's a nice day and he ought to be outdoors." Now it didn't do any harm for Roderick to pour out the soap bubble water. If his mother had been asked why she forbade him, she probably couldn't have told any reason except that she had given it to him to blow soap bubbles with. (We grown-ups are apt to be like that. We want children to do the conventional thing, the thing we have planned for them, whereas one of the essentials of a child's good time is that he shall be doing something he has thought up himself.) But it did do harm for her to make the threat and then not carry it out. It just spoiled the day.

Thoughtlessly forbidding children to do this or that is a habit many women, especially nervous women, acquire. If it means needless deprivation for the child, and unnecessary trouble in enforcing her discipline for the mother. The best governed state is that with the fewest laws. The best governed child is one who is not constantly harassed by unnecessary prohibitions. A very successful mother said it was her ideal never to utter a "don't" without first asking herself if she absolutely needed to interfere, and never to refuse a child's request without first trying to find a way to grant it. Children detect and take advantage of weakness just as surely as they recognize and respect firmness. Before you forbid, count 20—and before you threaten punishment, count 60—would be a good rule for most of us.

WHY?

Is Asbestos Fire-Proof? (Copyright, 1920, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.) In spite of the fact that it appears to be of a vegetable nature—somewhat resembling a heavy, rough cotton fabric—asbestos is a mineral which is particularly abundant in Sweden, Corsica, Cornwall and the Island of Angleses, near Wales. It is of a silky nature, with fine threads which may be woven together in the form in which we generally know it. The fact that, being a rock, it is impervious to fire renders it valuable in commerce and the ancients used it extensively for shrouds and other purposes. In preparing asbestos the stone is first soaked in warm water, then picked to pieces so that the earthy matter and other ingredients of the rock may be washed out. After this process has been repeated several times the filaments are collected and dried, before being woven into cloth, with the addition of a certain amount of wax to give it the necessary body. When the cloth has been woven it is treated with oil to make it pliable and then placed in a furnace which burns away the wax—leaving the asbestos white, pliable and ready for use. Tomorrow—WHY are the signs of the sodice connected with the almshouse?

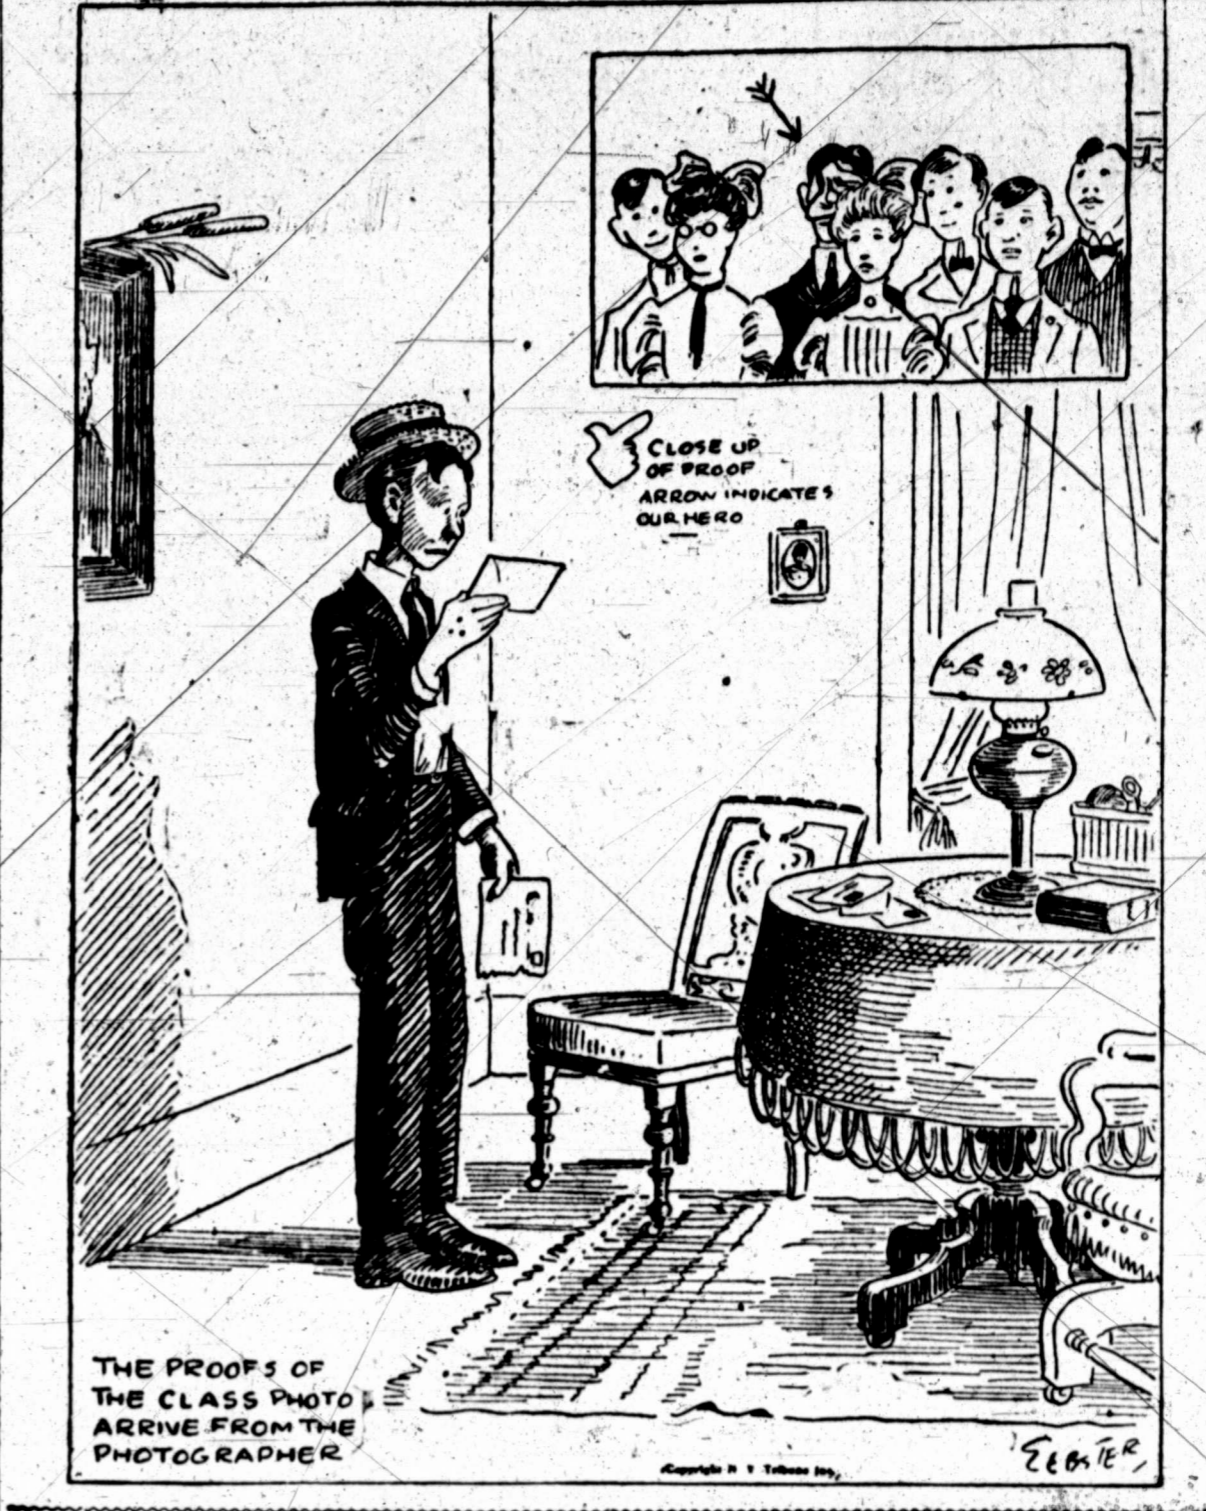

HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, JUNE 15, 1920 This is a lucky day, according to astrology, for Neptune and Jupiter rule strongly for good. It is a rule said to be fortunate for speculation or financial ventures that offer large rewards. Trade and commerce are well directed at this time, and rumors of possible panic or money stringency should be watched suspiciously, since tricky and treacherous are foreshadowed. There is an encouraging sign for travel on the water but many will journey across seas, only to meet many disappointments and large expenses. Clearer vision on the part of the people who look beneath the surface of things is predicted. Strong reactions of opinion are prognosticated. Early in the morning Saturn is in an evil place, making for some sort of trouble for farmers, who will be instrumental in making a startling result in the election returns of more than one State. Theaters should benefit at this time, even though the summer is at hand for the planetary direction seems to presage an extraordinary interest in all things dramatic. Danger of mining troubles and a coal strike again are foreseen. This should be a lucky wedding day in the sense that it seems to lead to material success. Growth of radical ideas and the spread of the most progressive ideas will be marked in the next few months. Repeatedly those who read the stars have warned the world that a new order of things must be recognized and they now declare that the United States is in a state of intellectual revolution that will be powerful in its effects. The leveling of all ranks and the readjustment of society is to be marked in this country as abroad, although manifested in other ways, astrologers prophesy. Persons whose birth date it is may expect changes in the coming year, especially if born in the morning.

Children born on this day may have many vicissitudes during life and should be carefully prepared for their struggle with human problems. They are likely to be talented and very sensitive. Smoke Peters' "Experience." For sale at all cigar stands. Stehlik & Baber, distributors. 348-41c.

Adcock Stated on Death Bed That He Shot Himself; Neighbors Claim Different.

LOUISVILLE, KY., June 15.—Arrest last night of Mrs. Rosa Adcock, charged with the murder of her husband, James Adcock, opens circumstances surrounding the shooting of Adcock here on May 31 last, after which the coroner's jury held that he had committed suicide.

Neighbors, however, said, according to the police, that Mrs. Adcock shot her husband during a quarrel. It also was said, the police declared, that Sloan struck Adcock with his fist and then threw stones at him after being shot.

BODY OF SOLDIER LAID TO REST WITH MILITARY HONORS

Special to The Times: ELECTRA, June 14.—The funeral of Robert P. Cato was held here yesterday afternoon, whose body was the first of the Wichita county soldiers to be returned to this country, was probably the most largely attended and most impressive ever held in Electra. The body was accompanied here from Wichita Falls by an escort of about thirty members of the Wichita Falls troop of the Fourth Cavalry, National Guard of Texas, who rendered military honors and fired the final salute over the grave, and by a representation from the Pat Carrigan Post of the American Legion, the joint delegation being led by Major D. M. Perkins, commanding officer of the cavalry regiment and commander of the post. Fletcher S. Jones, district attorney, also accompanied the party.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION PLANS FIGHT ON PROPOSED EMBARGO

AUSTIN, June 15.—The Texas State Highway Commission is preparing to make a fight upon the proposed embargo on road materials considered by the Interstate Commerce Commission in its efforts to relieve the car shortage, according to a statement made public by the highway body, as follows:

"Among the first measures proposed for relieving the car shortage and releasing train crews for other service was the placing of an embargo on the use of all cars and equipment in the transportation of road materials. The state highway department, co-operating with high departments of other states, immediately entered a protest against the issuance of so drastic an order.

"We have a large amount of data at hand to show that to put such an order into effect would bring road construction to a standstill, tying up millions of dollars in unfinished contracts with the loss of large sums of money to the state and counties. It is not desired by this department that road material be given preference but to put a stop to such shipments would mean a great loss."

IT USED TO BE HIDDEN GOLD; NOW IT'S A TEN GALLON CASK

PORTLAND, ORE., June 15.—Somewhere near Bonneville, Ore., in the vicinity of the state fish hatchery, there is said to have been hidden a 10-gallon cask of whiskey.

According to Indians, the liquor has been buried since the late '30's when Captain Bonneville was exploring the Oregon country. The Indian stories, said to be truths and not legends, state that Captain Bonneville had more liquor in his caravan than could be easily carried, so he is said to have buried a 10-gallon cask near the present site of Bonneville. The Indians have handed the story down for many years, and explain that none of the tribesmen have found the cask.

GENERAL MURGUA SCORES POINT ON MURDER CHARGE

MEXICO CITY, June 15.—General Francisco Murgua, who with four other Mexican generals, is imprisoned in connection with events that occurred prior to the death of former President Carranza, has won a point in connection with his trial on charges preferred against him.

He appealed to the first circuit federal court, complaining he was being tried by the military authorities, while federal officials had charge of the case. The court has ruled that he will remain subject to the disposition of the fourth district tribunal. The other generals have made similar appeals.

Manuel Aguirre, Berlanga, minister of the interior in President Carranza's cabinet, told his story of the death of Carranza today, according to the Excelsior. He is at present in the military prison and gave the details of the last hours of Carranza's life from his sick bed.

Quarters for the last president and his followers at Tlalcala were assigned by Gen. Rodolfo Herrero and all retired at 7:30 o'clock, Berlanga declared. Carranza said he could not sleep and at 2:30 o'clock read a report from General Mariel at Xicotepetl, saying there was no news and that his forces were ready for eventualities.

At 3 o'clock the candle was extinguished and all went to sleep for half an hour, when they were awakened by shots which were fired into the hut. Carranza called out that he could not rise because he was wounded in one of his legs.

Berlanga said he inquired as to the seriousness of the wound, but before a reply came there was another volley, the shots being fired directly at the spot where Carranza lay. The rest of those in the hut left when the shooting stopped and were captured.

SOAPE ARRIVES GALVESTON TO INVESTIGATE CONDITIONS

GALVESTON, June 15.—Ralph Soape, secretary to Governor Hobby, arrived in Galveston this morning to investigate the seacoast strike situation with a view to advising the governor in regard to the continuance of martial law.

"I have nothing to give out at the present time," Mr. Soape said on his arrival. He was accompanied by Mrs. Soape and went to a hotel shortly after alighting from his train.

Brigadier General Wolters, in command of the troops here, met Mr. Soape. General Wolters has said he would not recommend the removal of troops at present.

OKLA. STATE DEPARTMENT TAKE NO ACTION ON PERSIA TO HARVEST WHEAT CROP

ENID, OKLA., June 15.—Harvesting will begin with a bang in Garfield county Wednesday with the aid of 1,000 harvest hands, the best lot of men who have ever come to the county for the season's rush.

More than one-third of the men to be employed in the wheat fields here are college boys from Tennessee, Virginia and Oklahoma agricultural colleges.

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., June 15.—Plenty of harvest hands in Oklahoma was the report made today by the state department of labor after receiving reports from various counties in the state where harvest is well under way. Wheat cutting is half done in many of the counties.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS COUNCIL TAKE NO ACTION ON PERSIA

LONDON, June 15.—No action was taken by the League of Nations council meeting in St. James Palace, on the request of Persia for arbitration of that country's dispute with the Russian soviet government over seizure of ships and destruction of Persian property.

The council will hold a public meeting tomorrow to give further consideration to Persia's request.

In view of the fact that the Russian soviet government is not a member of the League of Nations, it is expected Moscow would ignore any demands by the council for cessation of activities against Persia.

APPLETON AND BURCH INEFFECTIVE AS PIRATES TURN TABLES ON SPUDDERS AND EASILY WIN 7 TO 2

Neither Big Ed Appleton nor Fagan were able to stand the effort in Galveston yesterday and the Pirates turned the tables on the Spudders, winning 7 to 2. Appleton started on the mound for the Spudders, but he hit opportunely and was wild. Burch relieved him in the fourth with a couple of runners on base and none out, but was not more effective. Lee twirled good ball in the pinches and was not forced to extend himself after the fourth inning. He was backed up by sterling support, a couple of fast double plays, started by Currie, featuring the game, started by Hunter Hill and Umpire Heulin clashed on the field of battle once again and Manager Hill has drawn an indefinite suspension for his tactics in Sunday's game, but was out at the park before yesterday's game. He swung on Heulin's jaw and was escorted from the field by the police. Appleton was wild from the start of the game but managed to escape unscathed until the fifth inning. He passed two men in the opening session, but two men were out at the time and the third man went out before there was any advance. Scoggins started the second with a double and after going to second on a sacrifice was out when he left third too soon trying to score on Riggs sacrifice fly to Jefferson. The Pirates' Mogan's single, Grubb's sacrifice and Kitchens' safety gave the Spudders a tally in this inning. The fleet-footed Miller lead on one of the bases in the next round and poked it between Callahan and Scoggins for a circuit clout. The Pirates registered once in the third but were held short and was forced at second by Carey. Currie patted one through Grubb and Carey took second on Callahan's drive through Snedecor scored. Carey, Clark drew a pass, filling the bags. Currie, again Schliebner tried to squeeze but Kitchens was out at the plate. Currie and Schliebner tried to squeeze but Kitchens was out at the plate. The SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

Outside my window there's a cabbird singing Where the June winds whisper through the bending trees; And down from the hills there's a lost wind bringing A thousand dreams, on the vagabond breeze.

Did you ever take time to note the number of ball-dorm headlines this season who have been sold or traded from one team to another? Cobb and Johnson have stuck to the old homestead through their long careers. Hornsby has never shifted from St. Louis. The same holds for George Sisler. But most of the others have been wandering troubadours of swat.

Some discussion has arisen as to which is the harder loser—Great Britain or the United States. One might just as well ask which has the greater percentage of blondes or brunettes. In sport an Anglo-Saxon is an Anglo-Saxon.

For any true adventuring soul Who wanders from his lair, The thrill is never in the goal, But in the getting there.

One of the greatest assets in sport is the value of accumulated experience. Especially the experience derived from actual competition. Football players get only a light share through a shortened season. At best, few of them ever play in more than twenty-five games during their entire careers. "German" Schuis played five years at Michigan. Not once said he was only a fair football player at the end of three years. The experience derived at that date, plus his other qualities, made him a star.

But how about the heavyweight boxer? When he wins a championship he practically retires from the ring. He draws $6 value from experience, for he gets but little added experience.

Willard boxed one ten-round bout in more than four years of title holding. He was a natural mark in his first real test.

Dempsey was giving his entire attention to other matters long before the government took up his case. He had no intention of any early battle. They are all supposed to keep in training—training of some sort. But training minus competition doesn't amount to very much. It's the test under fire that counts.

His rank within the world was high; His brain was far from small; Yet he could rarely keep his eye Upon a little ball.

"It has been eleven years since Hughie Jennings won a pennant," observes a commentator. "And that, not spoiling Hughie in the slightest, isn't all."

A duffer who swings with a will, With a lunge and a lurch and a thrill, Was amazed to observe At the end of his swerve That he's not even pestered the pill.

In the meanwhile, with the elephantine jockey named the democratic donkey hasn't yet been able to fopps an eye upon a Tod Sloan, a Kummer or a Robinson for the big derby just ahead. Steeple chasers might also write.

"Babe," "Babe" the Son of Swat, Pokes the pellet out of the lot; And the only time that he can play Is "Over the fence and far away."

Claude Williams is a wonder at lifting his mates into a world series, but after that he doesn't care to be annoyed by any post-season affairs, even where the winner's end is $5,000. The season for him closes with the last scheduled game, world series or no world series.

of the runs that enabled Cleveland to win 7 to 1 and helped hold them in first place. Tobin hit a homer, a triple, a double and scored three runs, giving the Browns a 10 to 5 victory over the Red Sox.

Ayers gave Detroit its first shut out victory of the season by defeating the Athletics 5 to 0. Hornsby and Fournier hit homers off Neft and the Giants were beaten by the Cardinals 7 to 4.

Young Carter let the Braves down with four hits and the Cubs won 7 to 1. Wheat's homer with two on and a single by Grimes in the eighth with the bases full gave Brooklyn a 9 to 7 victory over Cincinnati and put them back in first place.

"Rawlings" double following a pass gave the Phillies a lone counter off Cooper, the Pirates winning 6 to 1.

SPUDDERS HAVE NOT CALLED FOR SPLIT SEASON THUS FAR

Beaumont Scribe Claims to Have a Piece of Inside Dope. Yea Bo!

By PAUL W. LARKIN. A certain Beaumont writer is all "het up" over a recent squab of ours which stated that "Beaumont and Houston were already holed for a split season."

It is doing the loudest of the squaking for the split. He claims his inside information comes from an authentic source. We wonder what it is.

We have been trying for a week to get Wichita baseball heads to express themselves with regard to a split, but they refuse to commit themselves.

The Spudders series are bound to have one of the most successful financial seasons of any club on the circuit. There isn't a club that has a paid attendance that can compare with Wichita Falls.

Let it be stated here that Wichita fans are NOT "hiding" their own clubs' dollar by accusing Beaumont and Houston of yelling for a split season.

Now is the time to think of some better way of keeping warm winter. It's certain there will be a shortage of gas just when we will need it worse.

BATTING STRENGTH OF MODERN SLABMAN DETERMINING FACTOR

Pitchers of Old Batted Because They Had To; Far Different Nowadays.

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent). NEW YORK, June 15.—"Pitchers ain't paid for hittin'." A Giant bug chirted in the tenth inning of a recent game when Rub Benton hit a weak roller in a pinch.

His logic came down from the past. Pitchers of old batted mostly because the rules prescribed nine men in the batting order. The worth of a modern pitcher, however, is measured a great deal by his power with the stick.

Eleven games have been broken up so far by the timely clout of a pitcher. Big Jim Vaughn of the Cubs has won two of his own games with the stick. Although his longest clout last season was a double, he tripled in the ninth with the bases full in a game with the Cardinals in another game he singled in the ninth and got the decision.

Jack Quinn of the Yankees broke into the hall of fame by hitting a home run off Coveleskie with one on, beating the Indians 2 to 0. Alexander the Great confined his slugging to one double last season, but he hit a homer and put a game on ice against the Yankees with a triple.

Gallia of the Phils beat the Cubs with a single in the eleventh inning, and Mays of the Yanks beat the "Tigers by tripping with the bases full. Fred Toney of the Giants also tripped with two on and beat the Reds.

Coveleskie drove in three runs yesterday against the Yankees, winning his game.

To Our Friends and Patrons

The lease on our present building expires August 1 and we have as yet been unable to obtain suitable quarters to continue our business after that date. It being necessary for us to have all our accounts closed at that time in the event we are unable to continue our business in a desirable location we have decided to place our business on a strictly CASH BASIS AFTER JULY 1.

We regret the situation that has made this step necessary at this time and we assure our patrons that the change in no way will affect the service and satisfaction that has been our aim in the past. Our present stock of FEDERAL TIRES and TUBES with a complete line of AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES assures an adequate supply to meet the demands of all until August 1.

KENYON EXPRESSES KEEN REGRET OVER G. O. P. NOMINEE

People Disgusted With Wilson Administration and Believe Harding Will Win.

FORT DODGE, IA., June 15.—Senator W. S. Kenyon, who has returned to his home here for a rest, declared today that he was disappointed that the republicans failed to nominate a progressive for president, but said that he was willing to take the stump to help insure a republican victory in November. Prior to the convention Senator Kenyon campaigned for Johnson.

"The people are so disgusted with the Wilson administration," said Senator Kenyon, "that they will elect Harding. The republicans, however, may as well get over the idea that the election is a cinch and it behooves every republican to buckle down to hard work for the ticket."

Governor Covey's nomination for vice president strengthens the ticket in the east and undoubtedly throughout the whole country. As usual the country west of the Mississippi is forgotten, but that part of the country will not be forgotten by the democrats. Either McAdoo, Marshall or Cox will be named by the democrats.

Sick Boss.
"The most disappointing part of the republican convention was to see the delegates unable to act until they received word from a sick boss in Pennsylvania. There will be a chance parallel at San Francisco when the democratic delegates will await word from a sick boss at Washington."

Johnson Free.
"There never was a chance in this boss controlled convention for a man of Hiram Johnson's type. The convention was strong for Roosevelt—he being dead. If Roosevelt had been alive he would have had about as much chance in the convention as Johnson. If Johnson had been dead, he probably would have had as much chance as Roosevelt."

"The kind of men the people want are the kind of men the bosses are determined the people shall not have. The men who supported Johnson will be found working for the ticket and working in the next congress as they have in this for legislation in the interest of all the people and will be found fighting against domination of congress by those seeking special favors and special privileges in legislation."

Senator Kenyon had words of praise for the republican nominee.
"Senator Harding is a man of charming personality, a splendid orator, clean and honorable in private and public life, 100 per cent American and will make a good president."

MEETING BUILDING TRADES AT 5 P. M. TO HEAR PROPOSALS

An important meeting of the Wichita Falls building trades council will be held at the Labor Temple at 5:00 o'clock this afternoon when proposals from sources not disclosed by labor leaders, will be heard and a definite plan for the settlement of the present labor trouble among building crafts, it was announced at the Labor Temple at 3:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Frank Swor of Dallas, organizer of the Electrical Workers' Union, and J. S. Vance, of Fort Worth, organizer of the painters' union, are in Wichita Falls and will be present at the meeting. It is understood:

"We have received a proposal from a source that will no doubt greatly relieve the present labor situation," said Jack Prather of the painters' union. "If this proposal comes from authentic sources I believe that a serious labor crisis might be averted." Prather continued.

Just what the proposal was and from what source it came was not disclosed by labor leaders but it appears that the proposed adjustment of present difficulties will be reached between representatives of both builders and workers.

DEMPESEY FREED OF ATTEMPT TO EVADE SELECTIVE DRAFT

Jury Out Thirty Minutes in Reaching Decision Absolving Fighter.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—"Jack Dempsey will start training at once and be ready to meet any one within two weeks," Jack Kearns stated following the acquittal of Dempsey today. Kearns announced that he would issue a formal statement tonight.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, was found not guilty of evading the draft laws shortly after his case was submitted to a federal judge here today.

Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns, were indicted on conspiracy charges after Dempsey's former wife, Maxine, claimed she had been influenced to falsify his questionnaire.

Maxine Dempsey was a witness against her ex-husband and contributed some salacious bits to the hearing. She testified that her earnings had aided Jack over some difficult periods. The government attempted to prove that while Dempsey claimed to be supporting his parents in war time, members of the family actually were paying their own way. Much was made of the fact that Dempsey was a shipyard worker with none too laborious duties.

$300,000 Benefit.
Dempsey, taking the stand in his own defense, claimed he supported his parents, his wife and a sister. He told of boxing benefits in which he said he earned over $300,000 for the soldiers.

Arguments were waived by both sides. The jury spent less than 30 minutes in reaching a verdict.
The case of Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, who faces a similar charge, will be called tomorrow, attorneys announced, following Dempsey's acquittal.

"I'm the happiest kid on earth," Dempsey said when the verdict was announced.
Dempsey and Kearns and their attorneys believed accompanying charges will be dropped.

WOMEN'S CLUB PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION ATTRACTS NOTICE

DES MOINES, IOWA, June 15.—The campaign of Mrs. John Winters of Minneapolis and Miss Georgia Bacon of Massachusetts, candidates for president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, were attracting more attention today than the preliminary board meetings to the general biennial convention which opens tomorrow.

There has been some discussion of proposed re-organization of the federation so that no individual groups shall be affiliated with the general federation direct but must belong through state organizations.

Opponents to the plan say they believe many clubs would refuse to conform to the state federation rules.

OBJECT TO ENFORCEMENT OF MERCHANT MARINE BILL

WASHINGTON, June 15.—British objections to the enforcement of the new American merchant marine bill which Premier Lloyd-George indicated in parliament as likely to be the subject of formal representations to the state department, are understood to be based principally upon two sections of the measure.

The first of these prohibits the carrying of merchandise in other than American ships between American ports via a foreign port. This would stop the carriage of freight between points in the United States and Alaska over the Canadian railroad lines or in Canadian ships, which has grown into a business of magnitude.

Where You Can Find Anything From a Needle to a Stuffed Pelican—and It's All Useful Material.
By Adam Hull Shirk.

THERE are two institutions which for their infinite variety are almost on a par: One is the lost property office of some great railway system, the other is the "prop" room of a motion picture studio. One is a testimonial to the catholicity of forgetfulness, the other to the patience and ingenuity of the property master.

I recently toured the prop room at Famous Players-Lasky studio in Hollywood, Cal., as representative of the art of accumulating useful articles, being one of the biggest and most complete departments of its kind in the world. An entire concrete structure is devoted to the purpose—a building of great expanse and with two floors occupied by the most heterogeneous collection of articles I have ever seen assembled anywhere.

The average country department store is the nearest thing to it in actual business life, yet this contains only a tithe of what may be found in the prop room. For there, anything may be of use. The problem would be, not what to throw away, but what not to throw away.

Quite a Task for the Prop Man.

It must be remembered that when a set is being dressed for a photoplay, scene, it may be of any kind, of any period, of any character or degree of wealth or poverty, in any country. What makes up, for example, the contents of your living room. Try and recall offhand what it contains and then reflect that the propertyman has to be provided against.

Your table has on it perhaps, books, papers, letters, an ink well and pens, writing paper, paperweight, a stand lamp, odds and ends of every sort. The mantle possibly has vases, a clock, bric-a-brac, and so on; there is possibly a stand with a goldfish globe, or a birdcage may hang against the wall. The same obtains in each room of the house—gathered into one pile—as you have doubtless discovered on moving day, this would make a formidable array of odds and ends, exclusive of the actual furniture, which is not to be considered in this article.

Howard Wells, in charge of the property department at the Lasky studio, kindly escorted me through his "quirky shop" and pointed out, with pride, which was justifiable, the vast accumulation of things all of which have been properly indexed and classified, so that not so much as a penholder can go astray without being accounted for.

Have Use for Champagne Buckets.

Each company making a picture has its own prop man or boy. He is responsible for the properties used—the hand props, meaning the small articles; and the ordinary properties, which are more bulky in character. He has his special locker in the prop room containing his "carrier" bearing the name of the director, and which is wheeled out to the set when work begins and replaced at night in the locker.

I walked with keen interest through the long aisles of the building noting the innumerable articles; here are a few items taken at random: A suit of Japanese armor, a stuffed pelican, a stuffed mountain sheep, a life sized doll, snow shoes, crutches, cigar store Indian, (one of the few in captivity) a stuffed fish, a gigantic mail box, toys of every kind, satuary, books—whole libraries of them—vases, clocks from smallest to largest size, jewelry, dishes, match safes, combs, champagne buckets (not much used nowadays), etc.

The property construction department makes everything that is required, and which is not obtainable elsewhere. It can turn out a replica of the Venus de Milo overnight, and build a miniature of the Taj Mahal or the ruins of Pompeii without turning an eyelash. Recently a producer wanted some bats, not baseball, but the vampire variety. It took three days and a trip of thirty or forty miles to find a cave where these bats hung out—or in—literally. But they got them. Cobwebs are used frequently for scenes in old attics, etc. These are gathered with care from out of the way corners and transplanted, affixed with glue. Must Be Able to Quickly Produce any Article. Everything is fish that comes to the prop man's net. Even common ordinary dirt is needed sometimes—such an inappreciable thing as dust. But he doesn't have to keep this in stock—there is plenty of it to be found near diligently for the fotsam and jetsam of life than the property man. He pounces with joy on the thing you were about to consign to the trash heap. Maybe it is only an old broken-down baby buggy. But it will fit into some pictures admirably. It is hard to make things look as old as they should sometimes. So real antiquity is a great thing.

Animals and Birds—Ovens and Stoves.

Live props—such as the bats—are a great bother. Sometimes it is a cub lion or a young fox that is needed; again merely rabbits or pigeons. A bear is in frequent demand, and goats are always useful. Dogs and cats are at all times necessary. There are hundreds of felines at the movie plant. They are of all kinds and styles. In one picture the director required a family of newborn kittens to be discovered in a disused oven. They were there—the prop man had a lot of such families on his list and seized the amazed mother and her progeny before the latter had their eyes opened by the light of this strange world. They were indignant, but the results were satisfactory.

Foreign stamps and postmarks are frequently necessary, and these are gathered from the fan mail received by stars and leading players.

The graveyard of cast-offs is surely the prop room. But do not imagine there is no fine or valuable stuff stored away there—on the contrary, many thousands of dollars worth of splendid furniture, draperies, rugs, articles of virtue, etc., are listed and kept carefully under lock and key against possible loss by theft.

It's a great institution—the movie prop room!

THE SILVER SCREEN IMPRESARIO

ACCURACY, keen perceptive powers, intelligence, ability to read and analyze character, at least an elementary knowledge of psychology, unlimited patience, perseverance and good breeding are the prime essentials for the making of a real moving picture director.

I have seen and heard many directors direct. Each one marked the picture he produced with the stamp of his own personality. I have handled the scenarios and written stories from the screen productions of these various directors. It was not difficult to identify the work of each, even if the man's name had not been affixed to the script.

Shows Trend of Mind. There are men who consider that a picture has not reached dramatic heights and that no picture, not even a two-reel comedy, is worthy of production unless it contains some unpleasant and suggestive situation. Such a man unconsciously indicates the trend of his own mind, his viewpoint of the world, his social inclinations and, usually, his lineage, education and breeding—or its lack.

Fine persons are required for the accomplishment of the things. I have never yet seen a fine, exquisite built dramatic construction emanate from the hands, brain, and usually the tongue of a loud-mouthed, coarse-grained, egotistical director.

Coincident with the development of moving pictures to their present high standard there has come into being a new type of impresario—that of Moving Picture Director.

Public Demands Real Art.

The prophecy has already been made that at no distant date the release of any masterpiece of screen production will be the occasion for a first night audience to voice its appreciation of genius, and call for the personal appearance of the master mind that controlled, directed and developed the unspoken drama just enacted and exploited to the best advantage the individual talents of the players.

The fulfillment of this prophecy is, unquestionably, "a consummation devoutly to be hoped." The dawning of such a day will mark the beginning of a new era in motion pictures. It will mean that the public demands and applauds real art on the screen as much as it does on the stage, in the concert hall or in picture galleries.

As the sculptor takes his materials and models them into form, or as the painter assembles all the prismatic colors on his palette and transfers them into a harmonious creation on the canvas before him; so the moving picture director must blend, adapt and subordinate the people and materials at his disposal until the composite result is one that can withstand the most carping criticism.

The best talent, the most gifted player appears to disadvantage or falls miserably under unskillful direction. That a person is unable to see himself as others see him is peculiarly true when that person is before a camera. The fact becomes even more forceful when the person before the camera is called upon to portray in intensity the entire gamut of human emotions and exact scenes which demand absolute forgetfulness of self and a complete merging of the individual with the scene in which he is placed and the character he is representing.

No Actual Comparison.

There is no comparison between the old-time stage director and the director-general of a large screen production. The sphere of the former was limited to a few square feet of stage, several shifts of scenery and a small company of people. The moving picture director has a range of vision and action that stretches off to the horizon in all directions. A mentality incapable of grasping vast dimensions can never be capable of producing far-reaching results in the moving picture world. This, perhaps, accounts for so many of the poor and indifferent pictures which, from time to time, are showered on the public.

BAILEY'S NAME WILL GO ON PRIMARY TICKET COMMITTEE RULES

His friends have failed to make a political martyr of Joseph W. Bailey—that is the somewhat humorous interpretation placed by Judge R. E. Huff upon the action of the democratic state committee in putting Bailey's name on the ticket by a vote of 16 to 4. Judge Huff attended the state committee meeting in Fort Worth yesterday, and led the fight to place the former United States senator's name on the state ticket.

"There was considerable discussion of the proposition," Judge Huff said this morning, "and Judge Gaines of Bay City raised the question whether Bailey was disqualified by reason of not being a resident of the state of Texas. I made the motion that his name be placed on the ticket, if his application was regular—which the chairman stated it was. It was my contention that in the absence of any direct evidence to the contrary we should assume Bailey was qualified; and after some further discussion his name went to the vote by a vote, I believe, of 16 to 4.

"The sentiment of the committee from the start was strongly in favor of placing Bailey's name on the ticket. In fact, one of the members who raised the question of Bailey's qualification added that if Bailey's name went on the ticket he would vote for him."

There was a twinkle in Judge Huff's eye, as he added:

"There was a strong suspicion (mind you, I said suspicion only) that Senator Bailey's friends would be likely to have had him shut out; to have made a martyr of him."

The committee was unanimous in ordering the submission of the question of the home amendment placed on the ticket for July, numerous petitions having been presented favoring this action.

"The committee also ordered the electors certified as nominees without having to be voted on at the July primaries," Judge Huff said, "they having already been selected in May at the state convention called for that purpose."

Fort Worth was unanimously chosen as the place for the next convention.

Judge Huff added that none of the Texas democrats present made any comment on the subject of Bailey's name, except to agree that Harding undoubtedly would prove a satisfactory candidate to a big majority of republican leaders.

OVER 100 WOMEN JOIN LABEL LEAGUE HERE

Organization of a Woman's Label League was completed at the Labor Temple last night with an initial membership of 100. The purpose of the newly organized labor unit will be to encourage the use of union made articles and the patronage of business concerns known to be favorable to organized labor. Women from practically every organized craft in Wichita Falls are represented in the new organization. All larger cities of the southwest now have label leagues, labor leaders here announce.

J. A. Wray, president of the Central Trades and Labor Council, presided at last night's meeting until selection of permanent officers.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST TYPHOID INFECTION

AUSTIN, TEX., June 14.—Reports reaching the state board of health show that with the rise of barometer in Texas, the typhoid rate is increasing and Dr. C. W. Goddard, state health officer, issues warning against this dread disease.

"Typhoid in Texas appears to be a good combination to warm weather and flies," says Dr. Goddard, "and sanitary precaution and personal hygiene are vital in escaping its ravages."

"Infection," he continues, "comes from direct contact with typhoid germs, contaminated food and polluted water."

Here are ways to prevent the spread of this disease, according to Dr. Goddard:

1. Disinfect excreta from typhoid sufferers.
2. Secure safe disposal of all night soil.
3. Assure purity of drinking water.
4. Safeguard all food supplies.
5. Keep down fly production by eliminating breeding areas.
6. Vaccinate against typhoid.
