UNITED STATES SHOWS A GREAT TRADE BALANCE

Figures Over 1914 Show Spectacular Increase in Foreign Trade Business SEVENTEEN BILLION DOLLARS AHEAD OF THE WORLD

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 22.—Since the beginning of the world war in 1914, the United States has rolled up a trade balance of approximately $17,000,000,000 against the world. This exceeds by several billions of dollars the total balance in favor of the United States from 1876 to 1914.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 22.—The department of commerce figures today show that the trade balance made in favor of the United States in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916, it was $2,135,899,375. During the succeeding year the total was $3,530,693,209.

LONDONDERRY CITIZENS ARE TERRORIZED BY CONTINUED FIRING FROM HIDING PLACES

By Associated Press. LONDONDERRY, IRELAND, June 22.—Citizens were terrorized today with one more death, bringing the total list to eight. Troops were protecting some of the principal streets this afternoon, but enough firing was going on to terrify the citizens and keep them indoors, resulting in a stoppage of all usual activities.

By Associated Press. LONDON, June 22.—Official announcement that Konstantin Fehrenbach has been appointed chancellor definitely presages to construction of a bourgeois cabinet in the next 48 hours, and in government circles it is stated there will be a sufficiently emphasized vote of confidence to enable the ministry to present an undisputed mandate at the Spa conference next month.

By Associated Press. LONDON, June 22.—Andrew Bonar Law, the government spokesman, in reply to a question in the house of commons today, declared he considered the sending of a military force in Londonderry to deal with the situation. This view was also held by the chief secretary for Ireland, he said.

SUFFRAGISTS TELL HARDING THEY MAY BACK THIRD PARTY

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Senators Harding, the republican president-elect, told a deputation of suffragists today that while he could not with propriety attempt to force any state legislature to expedite action on the woman suffrage amendment, he would recommend ratification if any state authority sought his opinion.

WOMEN TO ASSUME PART PEACEMAKER PROHI QUESTION

By L. C. MARTIN.
(By United Press Staff Correspondent.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Women will try to assume the role of peacemakers between the contending wet and dry factions of the democratic party at the national convention here.

The women will urge "common sense" treatment of the wet and dry question. Mrs. George Bass of Chicago, chairman of the women's democratic national committee, said today. The women, Mrs. Bass said, saw no reason why a wet or dry plank should appear in the democratic platform. They regard the issue as settled. Their view was echoed by men delegates arriving today for the convention.

There is a prospect that what threatened to be one of the most troublesome questions of the convention will be ironed out. Women leaders intend to lay their views frankly before W. J. Bryan, dry leader, and the wet forces headed by Governor Edwards of New Jersey.

What Do They Want?

"I am unable to understand either Mr. Bryan or Governor Edwards," said Mrs. Bass today. "What more does Mr. Bryan want? The Eighteenth amendment is the law of the land and the Volstead act has been upheld by the supreme court. At the same time there are several women in the committee and some women who wish the Eighteenth amendment had not been adopted. Does Mr. Bryan want them to say 'Yes, we are glad the Eighteenth amendment became law?'"

"What does Governor Edwards want? He says he is for personal liberty. But does he want this convention to go on record as against the observance of law. The liquor question has been settled; there is no issue. It is not a case of sidestepping it because there is nothing to sidestep."

Men delegates expressing about the same views, pointed out that the platform of the United States which is to serve as a model for the national platform is silent on the prohibition law.

Party leaders here are so intent on keeping the convention harmonious that they will bring great pressure to bear on both wets and dries not to make a fuss. Bryan leaders said, present the only difficulty. Some professed to believe he would not be hard to appease.

Conferences on the platform are scheduled to begin Thursday, following arrival of Senator Glass, who comes fresh from a talk with President Wilson about platforms, planks and other matters relating to the convention.

NEWTOWN BANKER GIVES HIMSELF UP SHERIFF'S OFFICE

C. F. Christian, former official of the Thrift-Wagoner bank of Newtown and the First Bank of Bridgetown, walked into the sheriff's department early Tuesday and gave himself up to Charlie Bedout, county jailer. A complaint alleging felony embezzlement is now pending against Christian and his associate, C. A. Seale, having been filed against the two following the alleged failure of the Newtown and Bridgetown banks to open early last week.

"I understand that officers are searching for me so here I am," Christian said as he entered the sheriff's office. Christian vigorously asserted his innocence of the embezzlement charge declaring that the banking institutions founded by himself and Seale proved a financial failure through no dishonesty on the part of he or his associates.

Christian declared that Seale is now staying at the home of his parents in Dallas. "Seale will be here perhaps this afternoon," Christian declared. He is coming to give up just like I have done."

Four or five court proceedings are now pending against Seale and Christian having been filed since the alleged failure of the oil towns banks. Christian says that he has been in San Antonio since leaving Newtown last week.

WILSON'S FORMER MANAGER TO WAGE WAR AT FRISCO

CHICAGO, June 22.—William F. McCoombs, former chairman of the democratic national committee and manager of President Wilson's first campaign, prepared today to go to the San Francisco convention to war against President Wilson.

"It is futile to create a smoke screen in Europe by saying what this country wants, and on the other hand it is futile to try to create a smoke screen here by saying what in honor we must do," McCoombs declared in attacking Wilson's plan for a League of Nations plank in the democratic platform.

"At San Francisco we again turn to true democracy regardless of place holders and pot hunters," McCoombs said. "We have finished with the fine phrase. The indignities of autocracy will never again be accepted by this nation."

LLOYD-GEORGE AND KRASSIN AT LOGGERS OVER THE RUSSIAN TRADE SITUATION

LONDON, June 22.—A crisis has arisen in the negotiations going on between Premier Lloyd-George and M. Krassin, Russian Bolshevik minister for trade and commerce, which may result in the definite breaking off of conversations and the department of M. Krassin from London, according to the Herald, organ of labor.

The newspaper adds the crisis was precipitated by the premier insisting that before negotiations go any further the Soviet must propose compensation to British financiers who have vested interests in Russia.

M. Krassin, it is said, offered to discuss this matter at a peace conference, but was met by what is declared to have been a virtual ultimatum. Premier Lloyd-George is charged by the Herald as acting at the dictation of a group of British capitalists.

WHEAT CUTTING NEARLY OVER IN OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., June 22.—Wheat cutting in Oklahoma will be practically finished by Saturday and threshing will begin next week, according to M. I. Jordan, grain inspector. Mills, he said, probably will store the new wheat, and continue grinding of the old, because of the quantity of the latter on hand.

Surplus harvest hands will all be put to work within a few days provided there are no hard rains to delay the harvest, Jordan stated. Most of the stranded workers here won't take other jobs while waiting to go to the wheat, according to G. P. Lashbrook, of the employment office here.

REPUBLICAN TREASURER IS ON 'UNBECOMING CONDUCT'

ST. JOSEPH, MO., June 22.—The Buchanan county republican central committee has ousted Treasurer John Albus on charges of "unbecoming conduct" in accepting $2,000 of the Lowden campaign funds, late yesterday. Resolutions were adopted asking that National Committeeman Jacob L. Babler and State Chairman W. L. Cole be removed from office as soon as possible.

What Others Say About COLGATE'S RIBBON DENTAL CREAM

I HAVE always had very little patience with, or confidence in, testimonials. But I must render you the credit due you.

"About five years ago I began using Colgate's Ribbon Dental Cream exclusively. In all that time I have had no formation of tartar on my teeth.

"During that time I have visited a dentist about three times a year, always asking him at each visit if my teeth ought not to be cleaned. Always the answer 'It is not necessary.' I think this is wholly due to your Ribbon Dental Cream which I use twice daily."

ENCLOSED please find names of recent patients. I think they would appreciate samples as they remarked on the pleasantness and effectiveness of your product at the time of cleaning.

"In my fifteen years practice," a specialist in Denver writes, "I have tried nearly every known dentifrice, and have finally selected yours as the one that best suits my personal taste. I use no other in my own mouth."

"EVERY dentist in America can honestly, truthfully and cheerfully recommend Colgate's."

I CONSIDER your cream to be the best I know of and I like the way you folks tell, often folks about it."

THESE are extracts from various letters written voluntarily. Upon request we will furnish the names of the writers.

HARRISON CONGRATULATED BY BOARD DIRECTORS ON RECORD OF THE PAST SIX MONTHS

The board of directors of the chamber of commerce this morning unanimously endorsed 12 ballots on a referendum regarding open shop conditions—a referendum submitted by the United States chamber of commerce, which is sounding national sentiment in order to be guided in drafting later legislation on the question. The local chamber also endorsed the recommendations of a national committee that strikes by all employees of public service corporations, strikes that might be injurious to the welfare and comfort of the public, should be prohibited by law, and that a legal tribunal should be established to adjudicate all differences that may arise between such corporations and their employees.

The open shop recommendations submitted by the national chamber cannot be construed as extremely radical. While declaring in favor of the principles of the open shop, the ballots do not attack the right of organization. Assistance, however, is laid upon the recommendation that "outside parties" shall not be permitted to influence dealings between employers and representatives of such organizations.

Hubert M. Harrison, secretary of the local body, reported to the board the results of six months' work by the chamber as it was reorganized last winter. Attention was called to the success of the project launched by the business council to obtain an ornamental street lighting system for the downtown section of the city; the good work done by the welfare council in eliminating begging on the streets and caring for deserving charity cases; the results obtained by the civic betterment and beautification bureau in bringing George E. Kessler to Wichita Falls to draft a city plan; the organization of neighborhood life under the block party idea; the relief of traffic congestion and improvement of train service; the bringing of many new industries to Wichita Falls, including some 200 new concerns, wholesale, retail and small manufacturers; the splendid organization work accomplished by the mercantile bureau; the development of the irrigation project, and the work done at Austin along legislative lines.

At the conclusion of the report, the board passed a vote of congratulations to Secretary Harrison.

It was decided by the directors to refuse an invitation from the Texas chamber of commerce to become a member of that organization, in view of the fact that the Dallas organization has been supported financially with great generosity by many Wichita Falls citizens. Work done by the Texas chamber, however, received the hearty endorsement of the local commercial club.

At the suggestion of J. B. Marlow, the directors unanimously voted that a letter of thanks should be written to Tom Burnett for his work in making the second annual Round-Up a success. The chamber also voted to pay $10,000 for the Kessler plan of city beautification, the business council being instructed to reimburse the chamber later through subscription.

The meeting closed with the passage of a motion to give moral support to all other West Texas cities where an open shop campaign is under way, or is being considered.

CITY NOW HAS REAL MOTORCYCLE SQUAD

The motorcycle squad of the local police department is a fact today; yesterday it was merely twine, but today it numbers four men and has risen, thereby, to the dignity of a squad.

Chief of Police Goddard has transferred H. R. Berry and Dewey Allen, former patrolmen, to motorcycle duty. The older men on the squad are Ralph Rohack and John Lowry.

Judge and Mrs. S. H. Hodges will leave Wednesday for Los Angeles, where they will remain a month or so.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL PLAYGROUND WILL BE OPENED WEDNESDAY

That the playground movement launched by community service through the block and neighborhood organizations has strong support in the colored section of the city is manifested by the program of activities now under way in that section.

On Wednesday evening of this week the formal opening of the Washington school playground will take place with a specially prepared program under the auspices of the colored women. Several new pieces of apparatus have been secured and will be used for the first time that evening. Preceding the games in which the entire community will participate, a special program will be rendered beginning at 8:30.

On Monday evening a district meeting of the block organizations was held. The installation of additional playground equipment and the enrollment of volunteers for the training course to be conducted by community service during July were discussed and heartily approved. N. Haushteln of the city block and neighborhood organization headquarters was present and outlined the program proposed for Wichita Falls.

Another meeting has been called for next evening. All block officers are urged to be present.

Amusements

At The Majestic. With his picturization of Augustus Thomas' drama, "Rio Grande," Edwin Carewe falls in line with the best producer directors of the screen. "Rio Grande" is on view at the Majestic Theatre now and until tomorrow and so fascinating and gripping is its story that the seven reels unfold with no knowledge of the passing of time.

Rosemary Theby is to be complimented for handling with charm and delicacy a role that might easily have been overdone. She is Maria Inez Lopez, born of an American mother and a Mexican father, but raised on the Southern side of the Rio Grande by her father, who taught her to hate the American.

She finds an easy thing to do until Danny O'Neil enters her life. Danny, audaciously played by Allan Sears, is six feet three of masculine masterfulness. More than that—he's part Irish and hasn't forgotten it, and he's a member of the famous Texas Rangers. He wins so much of the Senator's admiration when he captures her, then sets her free to prove the Americans want to be friends with the Mexicans, that she gives him, a kiss and invites him come to her dance and claim another.

We hate to think of the corking entertainment we would have missed if Danny had braved all the dangers and gone after that kiss. It was responsible for a great deal of excitement, but the details we refuse to divulge. The best place to find out is at the Majestic Theatre, and we'd advise you to satisfy your curiosity early.

for her exact counterpart, the belle of the underworld band and their leaders sweetheart. Thrilling adventures follow, which finally reach a happy end.

Miss Dalton's performance in the two roles of Priscilla and the gangster's girl is remarkable for the skillful and natural manner in which she differentiates the characters. Huntley Gordon does good work as Doctor Poedick. The story was adapted from Louis Joseph Vance's well known novel by the same name. It is a Paramount-Artcraft release.

LEE STREET CITIZENS WILL MEET TONIGHT TO DISCUSS PAVING

If the enthusiasm manifested by the residents of Lee street is any criterion of the results to be obtained, that street will take its place alongside the other well improved sections of the city during the present summer.

The families living on that street are practically unanimous in their desire for paving as a relief from the dust and mud occasioned by the heavy traffic on that thoroughfare and have called a mass meeting for this evening to discuss the much-needed improvement.

The meeting has been called for 8:00 o'clock at the Travis school. A speaker thoroughly familiar with the paving situation in the city will attend the meeting and present figures on cost and the proper procedure for securing this improvement. It is expected that a petition requesting paving will be filed within a few days.

Open Shop News

Items of Interest on the Open and Closed Shop Question.

The open shop employment bureau is placing a call average of 15 or more skilled workmen on jobs. The hotel building will be started this week with open shop men in every craft that violated contracts and will be rushed to completion. This building has been held up now more than two months by strikes and sympathetic strikes.

The following statement of the heads of farming organizations in this country indicate the complete and ruinous hold labor organizations have obtained over the very sources of production and the need for curbing this menace to our national welfare:

So much has been said in justification of the organized strike that we deem it advisable to outline the position of the farmers of the country upon this all-important question at this time. We desire to discuss the question more particularly as applied to the railroads for the reason that farmers are more directly affected by railroad strikes than strikes in other lines of industry or commerce.

The statement has been made so often and kept to the front so continuously that the public generally accepted the statement as being true, as a result, strikes have in times past received to some extent the support of public opinion. Recent events and happenings, however, indicate that the country generally is giving this question serious consideration and, as a result, there is a growing demand that some other method be employed to bring about the settlement of controversies between employer and employee. This demand is more pronounced on the part of the farmers of the United States than of many other classes, for the reason that they are affected more directly than most classes. The farmers develop a section of country adapted to the production of perishable products. They spend vast sums of money in building houses and barns, digging drainage or irrigation ditches and in bringing the land up to a high state of productivity. Such land could not have been developed if the transportation facilities had not been such as to insure that the farmers could get their products to the markets of the country with the least possible delay and before they become unfit for consumption. What applies to the production of perishable products applies in varying degrees to the production of all other products and in no case could the farmers undertake to produce extensively or beyond their own needs, if there were no facilities for transporting their products to the consuming center.

On the other hand, no great city could be built up if it were not for the fact that those who live in them may depend, first on the farmers of the country to produce a ample supply of food for all and, second, on the railroads, or other transportation facilities to function properly at all times and deliver farm products to city consumers with regularity and as needed.

If the above is true, and no sane man will say otherwise, then it naturally follows that those who believe that labor has an inherent right to organize a strike, believe that such organizations have a right to starve the people of the cities to death, on the one hand, and to destroy the prosperity of the farmers on the other. No such right has ever existed and no such right exists now. It is economically unsound and the American people can and will work out some other method for the settlement of such controversies. No set of men has ever had the moral or legal right to destroy property or cause suffering by conspiring together, and the welfare of all the people must ever remain superior to that of any class or group of people.

A farmer produces a crop after months of toil and heavy expense, only to find, when it is ready to move to the market, that he is confronted with a strike and he sees the result of his work utterly destroyed while he stands helplessly by and witnesses the destruction. He is in good faith in the production of his crop and he had every reason to believe that he would have no trouble in getting his product to the consuming centers and receive a reward commensurate with the labor and expense required to produce it, but the inherent right (?) to strike has robbed him of all, and where is his remedy? He has none.

What would be the verdict of the people if the farmers of the United States should suddenly decide to go on strike and refuse to supply the wants and needs of those who are not in a position to produce food and clothing for themselves? They would be condemned, from one end of the country to the other, and the fact would be pointed out that they, as the owners and tillers of the land, had no such moral or legal right. Openly should it be conceded by anyone that those who handle the farmers' products have a right to block the transportation or industrial facilities of the country and thus jeopardize the food and clothing supply of the nation? If the farmers have no such rights, those who handle his products have no such rights.

The farmers must look to congress to solve this great question in the light of its duties to the people for the benefit of the few, at the expense and perhaps misery and suffering for all.

T. C. ATKESON, Washington Representative of the National Grange. GRAY SILVER, Washington Representative American Farm Bureau Federation. JOHN A. SIMPSON, President Association State Farmers' Union, President.

Mr. Harding and His Home in Marion, Ohio.

FAVORED SISTER LAUDS HARDING

By JANE DIXON.
MARION, O., June 22.—"I believe Brother Warren was born to be a statesman. There is nothing accidental about the great honor which has come to him. It was written thus in the book of fate."
Sitting in the shadowy front parlor of the home which Warren Harding knew in his young manhood, his favorite sister answered my question concerning how the Ohio senator was moulded into presidential timber. I wish I could visualize for you the true picture of that quiet small town parlor—the bowl of June roses fresh from the garden breathing their fragrance from the mantel piece, the cluster of pungent white peonies standing white-erect in father's study, the settee of a past generation, its brocade velvet contour dotted with pillows embroidered by home hands, the oaken bookcase, with here and there a law book thumbed by the fingers of the boy Warren before he took passage on the storm-tossed ship of state, the rockers of the early seventies and a table or two of a more remote generation.

Copyright by Underwood & Underwood. Republican Presidential nominee is photographed on his arrival at Washington from Chicago greeting his admirers.

Under the old-fashioned lamp Caroline Harding Votaw, the favorite sister, smiling. It was the smile of pride, benefit of all its elements of vanity or self. She was speaking of the brother who to her is the superman, the man of destiny, the shining lamp-light by the most high to show the nation to salvation.
None of us were surprised to know Brother Warren had been nominated by his party," continued Mrs. Votaw. "We have felt since he was a small boy that he was apart from the average being."
"Most boys have an early ambition," I suggested. "They want to grow up into first class firemen, or baseball players, or policemen. Did Senator Harding ever harbor any such worthy desires?"
"No," protested Mrs. Votaw. "He did show some aptitude for the slide trombone and father thought for time we might have a bandmaster in the family. In order to preserve the peace and quiet of the neighborhood he decided Warren had better become a lawyer. It was easier to hear him shout than to listen to him play."
"Warren consented, but his heart was not in the law. He was an inveterate reader. I suppose neighbors back in the little village where he first learned the joys of the old swimming hole looked upon him as a dreamer. He was always lying with his face to the sky drinking in the lore of books."
"By and by his literary turn took a definite direction. He became obsessed with the idea of newspaper work. When he realized this ambition and came into possession of his own paper he was happy. From that moment his success was assured. He was a man in love with his work. What does his father think about having a son for a President? I had spoken to Dr. G. Tryon Harding down in the offices of the Marion Daily Star. He is a fine looking gentleman of the old school, is the senior Harding. His features are chiseled clear by the hand of time, thought and service. His hair is drifted white as the snowbanks along January hills. His Palm Beach suit is as immaculate as his white linen tie, sartorial signal of the styles of another day."
"Fine boy, Warren," he said. "There was a mist across the deep blue of his eyes. They looked far away, down that vista of time where a barefoot boy trudged along a country lane to the little school house on the pike."
"Yes, fine lad. Ought to make a first class President. No better in the land. A good son. I'm proud of my boy."
Miss Abigail Harding, another favorite sister of the Presidential selection from that gifted group lately foregathered on the shores of Lake Michigan, came in from her duties in the Marion high school to join the group in the parlor.

"I don't know how I am going to keep my students in order if Warren is going to keep on getting himself famous," she sighed, dropping into a chair. There was a tone of exultation in her voice, a tone belying the complaint.

"You would think there never had been another President of the United States. None of my pupils consider such a minor detail as an election. They have Warren all installed in the White House. Isn't it splendid to think he has won what he so justly deserves?"
Dr. G. Tryon Harding, younger brother of the Senator and a prominent Columbus (Ohio) neurologist, was not present to join in the happiness chorus. Neither was another sister, Charity Malvina Rensberg, of Santa Anna, Cal.
"Absent only in thought," explained Mrs. Votaw. "All our minds and hearts are very close to home these days."
A word about this youngest sister, the "baby" of the Harding family. She was educated in a Baptist training school. There she met a young divinity student who, like herself, was interested in carrying the gospel into untrod paths. The sympathy of work ripened into the harmony of love. They were graduated, married and sailed away for India. There in and about Burmah, they spent ten years teaching the Gospel of Christ.
The fluffy brown hair of Caroline Harding Votaw turned powderly white. The labor was endless, grinding, heart-breaking, soul-searing. But the harvest grew. At length, raptured by the climate, the health of the young missionary, Votaw, broke. With his wife he returned "on leave." The two ardent workers in the vineyard were spending their vacation doing welfare work in Washington.
"Say for his sisters that Brother Warren is not a politician. He is a statesman. He was born a statesman. He is one of the great souls of the world. He is devoted to his family, a kind son, a thoughtful brother, a loving husband."
If Caroline Harding Votaw cared to take up the cudgels of politics for the women of her brother's party she might go quite as far as the senator himself. She is a force, a magnet, a personality—plus. What do the neighbors say? I asked the "Alley Gang," a sort of kitchen cabinet, which gathers in the alley off Centre street and tugs its chairs against the brick wall of Strayer's drug store. Here is the storm center of Marion county politics. It is here platforms are made and mared over the old briars. It is the county seat of the "I Knew Him When" Club.

"What do you boys think about this?"

nomination of your native son?" I inquired. There was a noticeable shifting of tobacco from one cheek to the other. "I say let 'er go, all hands for Harding," said Robert Fennell, playing end of the alley team. David Lloyd, otherwise known as "The Colonel," said: "I live across the street from the senator and I'm a democrat. That ought to be enough to kill him with any man, but I saw if you won't find me the first man at the polls slipping in a vote for Mr. Harding."
N. L. Gebhardt, a prominent Bull Moose, and the loudest talker in alley gang primaries, said: "You can count me in for Warren G. Sorry I only have one vote to give to my country."
David Clark, a worldly member, who runs the grand opera house, said: "I'm in the ring for the home town candidate."
It remained for a brilliant young attorney of Marion, who is beginning to write his name on the tables of state politics by "running" for county prosecuting attorney, to voice the sentiment of the town and place a rivet on the truth of that commendable coin-seam choice.
"If Senator Harding never does another thing—and we know here at home he has only begun to get ready to start—he has written a half page in American history."
A half page. Many have done less and written more. "The town is all swelled up like a poisoned pup," sniffed an old-timer who does odd jobs around the court house. "Can't get no sense outen nobody now. Consarned if a body mighten allow as how they be going to mosey that White House right down here into the square. City folks comin' into town and complainin' they ain't no good hotels. Good enough for Marion, reckon as how 'will her to be good enough for strangers."

VILLA ELUDES MEXICAN FEDERAL PERSUERS
SAN ANTONIO, June 22.—Francisco Villa has again eluded his pursuers, the troops under command of federal officers of Mexico, and is hiding in a mountain fastness of the Sierra Rica, Chihuahua, near the Texas border in the Big Bend district, according to reliable resources reaching here. The hiding place is just opposite one of the most obscure and roughest parts of the Texas border and it is thought a hunt there would be fruitless.

JAPS MAKE PROTEST AGAINST PROPOSED CAL. LEGISLATION
By A. L. BRADFORD (By United Press Staff Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, June 22.—Japan has lodged what amounts to an informal protest with the state department against proposed legislation in California providing for absolute prohibition of ownership or lease of land by Japanese. It was learned today. Serious complications may arise should the proposed measure be made a law. It was feared here in official and diplomatic circles. Kijuro Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador here, has brought the proposed California law to the attention of the state department in informal conversations with officials lately. The ambassador has been anxious to determine whether the state department is alive to the situation and his informal conversations have been construed as an informal protest. A more formal protest may come from Japan later, it was believed. It was contended that the Japanese government has done everything to meet objections of the United States in connection with Japanese in this country and only recently placed ban on the "picture bride" practice, in response to agitation in California. Supplementing the California alien land law which merely prohibited ownership of land by Japanese, the proposed law imposes sweeping prohibition of the enjoyment of virtually all land rights by Japanese, they contend.

To the Public
You have no doubt noticed through the papers that there are a number of typhoid fever cases in our city. After an extended meeting of the City Board of Health, the exact causes for this fever is unknown. However, in order that all possibilities for a spread of this malady may be avoided, the Health Department now gives notice that all sanitary regulations will be enforced to the letter and without fear or favor.

It will be considered a courtesy by this Department if the citizens of our City will cooperate by reporting to telephone number 15 any condition that now prevails which is questionable from a sanitary standpoint. The name of the party reporting these conditions will be held confidential by the Health Department.

Arrangements have been made by the City to place oil on any mud holes within the City Limits or remove other dangerous conditions. The cooperation of the public in general is earnestly requested.

ELECTRA ALSO HAS SERIOUS PROBLEM IN HER SCHOOLS

By HARRY A. STROUD.

Special to The Times. ELECTRA, TEX., June 22.—Keen disappointment was felt here this week when it was learned that the committee that went to Austin to dispose of the recently voted school bonds met with failure. B. M. Dinsmore, superintendent of schools with T. M. Weather, of the First State bank, who comprised the committee, stated that they went before the appropriation board, consisting of Governor Hobby and others and set forth the needs of the Electra school. After hearing the plea of the local men, the board ruled that in view of the fact that the administration would soon be changed they did not feel disposed to purchase the bonds. However, they agreed to purchase the bonds in the event that a fund was secured from sinking funds now due on bonds previously purchased over the state.

The local school is having a problem in securing teachers, and with the failure to install a perfect sewerage system, it is anticipated that the fall term will see more crowded conditions than ever before in the history of the school. City to Enforce Sewer Ordinance. A warning has been issued by the city manager and the city health officer to all those not connected with the sewer lines, that they must do so, as the ordinance will be strictly enforced. This city went to great expense to install a perfect sewerage system, and at this date only about 20 per cent of the places available to the lines have put in the connections. This warning is in line with a move to clean up the city and start a campaign against a typhoid epidemic. Paving of the streets is progressing very rapidly and the business district is now complete. District No. 2, which comprises the residence section on the north of the railroad, is now being completed and will be finished within a month if material continues to arrive.

I. O. O. F. to Entertain. The local order of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs announce that Electra will entertain the lower Panhandle association here the latter part of July. At this convention a grand lodge team will be present to confer with new teams will put on the subordinate, the encampment and Rebekah degrees also. Work has been started on the new I. O. O. F. hall on Waggoner street just north of the Smith Furniture company and they hope to have it in readiness in time for the meeting.

The Knights of Pythias are also making arrangements to have a ceremonial of the D. O. K. K. in the early part of September and have committees out making arrangements for the event.

Ice Famine Felt. There has been a prevailing shortage of ice here during the past week which has reached an acute stage, resultant in much suffering. Another ice company has been formed and it is hoped that this will result in the supply being increased. Last week people suffered for lack of ice. The Electra Ice and Milling company is rushing work on its plant, which will greatly increase the output. It hopes to have the full plant in operation by the first of next month.

Local merchants and business men are planning a celebration to be held here on the fifth of July. It is planned to have bronc busting, baseball, air plane rides, the opening of the Chautauqua and many other events.

Chamber of Commerce Organized. The chamber of commerce is being re-organized and a number of new directors have been appointed. At a directors' meeting a budget for sufficient funds was outlined and a campaign will be started in a few days to raise the funds needed. It is planned to employ a secretary who will devote his entire time to chamber affairs and start a number of moves for publicity. A banquet has been arranged to stir up interest.

Funds for the building of a fire station and purchase of another La France fire engine have been raised and the contracts will be let in the near future. The First Methodist church is now in course of construction and the foundation has about been completed.

The records of the government show that the island of Manhattan pays a greater income tax than that of the 28 states who happen to be on the bottom of the list.

CHAUTAUQUA WILL OPEN PROGRAM ON WEDNESDAY 3 A. M.

The stage is all set for the opening of the Chautauqua at Bellevue park, Broad and Ninth, Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The initial attraction will be the Baldy Strang Company, entertainers and musicians, who will present a varied program of readings and instrumental music, including saxophone, piano and violin. Among the vocal numbers will be soprano and baritone solos together with duets. Mr. Baldy Strang himself will appear in the role of a Scotch impersonator, giving several readings and Scotch stories. He will supplement these with bag pipe numbers, cornet and vocal solos and humorous monologues. In addition to this headliner will be a strong supporting cast, Miss Beatrice Baughman, reader, saxophone soloist, and pianist, Miss Lona Hoover, violinist and pianist, and Miss Lois Leonard, entertainer, pianist and vocalist, are all artists who will contribute a program of a varied and highly interesting nature. In the evening, beginning at 8:00 o'clock the Strang company will appear again in conjunction with Dr. Hilton I. Jones, lecturer, scientist and entertainer. Dr. Jones will present a scientific lecture and laboratory demonstration. Season tickets for the entire series of 12 numbers are on sale at the Y. W. C. A., Tipton's drug store, the Rexall store and at the Chautauqua grounds. Single admission seats may be obtained at the park.

OPEN HOUSE SATURDAY NIGHT AT COUNTRY CLUB. The open house scheduled for last Saturday night at the Country Club was postponed until next Saturday owing to the inclement weather. The business will be Mrs. C. W. Snyder, Mrs. Newton Maer, Mrs. O. E. Lillard, Mrs. W. M. Fridy and Mrs. Van Woermer.

BLOCK PARTY FRIDAY NIGHT AT HOME MRS. FAIN. A block meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. G. Fain, 1704 Buchanan street, Friday night at 8:30.

Notes. To the voters Precinct Number 1, Wichita County. Owing to the great amount of work of the constable's office, I doubt being able to see each of you personally in regard to my candidacy for re-election to the office of constable of said precinct for my second term. Hence I take this means of respectfully soliciting your vote and influence and fair consideration at your hands. CITY BOARD EQUALIZATION WILL COMPLETE WORK DURING PRESENT WEEK

The board of equalization, sitting in review of the Wichita Falls 1920 tax reductions, will probably complete its work this week. No date as yet has been definitely fixed for the hearing of complaints from property owners, but the hearings will probably begin around June 12, according to a statement made by one of the board members today.

CHICAGO WOMAN KILLED BY HIDDEN ASSAILANT

CHICAGO, June 2.—Carl Wanderer today scoffed at the idea that his 21 year old wife, bride of eight months, and expectant mother, might have been the victim of a former sweetheart. Wanderer and the assailant of his wife blazed at each other with 45 caliber army revolvers in a toe to toe battle following the murder of Mrs. Wanderer here last night. The slayer died with four bullet wounds in his body. Police today were attempting to identify the man who attacked the couple as they entered the home of Mrs. Wanderer's mother here. The assailant was hidden in the doorway of the house and opened fire on Mrs. Wanderer when she reached for a light preparatory to opening the door.

bring bad tempers and bad health. Why? Because most mankind are shut-up in the house, or factory all winter and do not have the opportunity to breathe in good oxygen, the system is filled with toxins (poisons), and in consequence one feels blue, tired and miserable, perhaps "aches all over." The very best way to get rid of the poisons and to build up for another and better day is to obtain a vegetable tonic, made without alcohol, and known favorably for over fifty years as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This will put vim, vigor, vitality, into your blood. You will feel young and buoyant instead of old and "seedy."

At this time of the year people feel weak, tired, listless, their blood is thin, they have lived indoors and perhaps expended all their mental and bodily energy, and they want to know how to renew their energy and stamina, overcome headaches and back-aches, have clear eyes, smooth, ruddy skin, and feel the exhilaration of real good health tingling thru their bodies. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against life of all kinds. You are apt to suffer from an attack of "Grip" if your health is run down. Purify the blood and you can defy Grip or "Flu." This is the time to clean house and freshen up a bit. Get the "Discovery" TO-DAY, in tablet or liquid form. For the third time in as many days, the Spudders ran up against a bunch of airtight twirling in Shreveport and dropped the third and final game of the series to the Gassers 5 to 0. Mr. Bono was the offender today and with no apparent effort he kept the Spudders away from the plate. He held them to five hits and was in real danger only twice in the game. The Gassers gave the Gassers a firmer grip on the second rung.

TEXAS TATE'S SUPERIOR WEIGHT

ENABLES HIM TO SHADE GERSH THOUGH LATTER FIGHT'S GAMELY

Martin Gersh, Wichita's favorite heavyweight, gave an exhibition of gameness in his 12-round tilt with Texas Tate at the Camel A. C. last night.

The scrapper entered the ring at catchweights, and Tate had fully 15 pounds on Gersh. It was his superior weight that enabled him to shade Gersh. Had Gersh's hand been in condition, he would at least have got a draw nothing from Tate but smiles, draw nothing from Tate but smiles.

Tate also damaged a mit early in the contest. His right hand has been bothering him for a couple of weeks, but was in fairly good condition at the start of the bout last night. He landed hard on Gersh's head in the second, and knocked the injured member out again. From then on, his right was powerless and he used his left alone throughout the scrap. If he had been able to use his right, Gersh would undoubtedly have hit the floor, as Tate was forced to pass up a couple of perfect setups, owing to the damaged mit.

Gersh played a tattoo on Tate's kidneys all night, but did not hurt Tate in the least. The visitor wore a perpetual smile and the blows passed off his body the same as the perspiration which was flowing freely. He stood up and took everything Martin had to offer with a grin. He did his best fighting in the seventh, eighth and twelfth rounds and preferred to let Gersh take the initiative in the others.

Tate landed on Gersh's nose early in the second round and kept pecking away at it during the entire mill. He landed on it cleanly only a couple of times, but slipped it with his left, clinch out of practically every clinch Gersh's face was covered with blood at the end of every round.

Fans, there is a tough egg. Cool! Look at him right in the eye. Ain't he got a nice kind face? And he fights just like he looks—ask Al Reich, and if Al has recovered sufficiently to comprehend your question, he will tell you that this baby handed him about as neat a trouncing as he ever received, and Al has taken a good many.

Martin Burke, the fighter we are referring to, hails from New Orleans. He is a light heavyweight, of 170 pounds, tall, well over six feet, and tawny, and looks like Old Bob Fitzsimmons. Red-headed and freckled, knock-kneed and spindlegged, long armed and broad shouldered, a second edition of Old Fitz—

Marty has a good left and he is fast. He has the art of countering down to perfection. No fighter can hit Burke without getting hit himself. He evidently has the goods. The tip has gone around the works that this Burke person is bad medicine, and already the second-raters are beginning to sidestep when his name is mentioned.

The SPORTLIGHT

by Grantland Rice

(Copyright, 1920, New York Tribune Inc.)

As Always.
When Larry and Wagner and Matty passed out, each fanatic remarked with a sigh: "We shall never see wonders like these three again. All monarchs of arm and of eye."

At first they were right, and the game slumped a bit. But to get the records of truth. Don't you figure the gaps now are pretty well filled with Hornsby and Sisler and Ruth.

With Hornsby and Sisler and Ruth on the job, and of course, there's the same immemorial Cobb!

Nation vs. Nation:

International rivalry between the United States and Great Britain along the broad domains of sport has grown far keener than early indications ever suggested. In justice to Great Britain it must be said that her sudden return to strength after losing over 900,000 men killed in action, with almost that many crippled, has been an astonishing and admirable turn. She is still able to hold her own, and when the final checking up is made at the end of the year it is still a matter of some doubt as to which country will predominate.

The United States has a big margin in boxing. It is very likely also that the United States has the edge in tennis, but when the combined forces of England and Australia are thrown together it will be no light battle. Great Britain still has the advantage in golf. We have our Hagen and one or two others almost as good. But we have no such string as Vardon, Taylor, Braid, Mitchell, Duncan, Ray and Herd.

In amateur golf we have risen now to equal rank. In fact, it is quite doubtful that Great Britain could collect a team strong enough to overthrow Evans, Outmet, Herron, Jones, Gardner and five others that might be picked.

England's success in the relay races at Philadelphia proved comparative values when Princeton's fine team made the Oxford-Cambridge combination at an early date.

The odds still favor America in the coming Olympic games, but it is still too early to take anything for granted.

Thomas Lipton is conceded his chance to win the Cup races, but this also belongs to the future.

Uncle Sam in Tennis.

It has been taken for granted over here that William Johnston would emerge as the individual victor in the coming tennis clash.

Yet it must not be forgotten that Gerald Patterson gave Johnson a terrific argument last August at Forest Hills.

The great Californian needed five sets to reach the decision, and all the way through it was a case of Nip vs. Tuck.

Patterson is said to have improved, and this time he will be battling under more favorable conditions with a friendly gallery at hand. He also is a fine match player — one pretty sure to be at his best in the big test.

Another meeting between Johnson and Patterson should be a tennis classic, approaching in some respects the great duel between McLoughlin and Brooks in 1914. But Johnson to win will need the best tennis he has if Patterson, as reported, is at the top of his stride.

For the Kids.

Baseball clubowners are now reaping a golden harvest. But for all that they are making a serious mistake. In appealing to the present day grown ups they are overlooking the grown ups of the future. So far very few of them have paid any attention to the financial barriers which confront the kids — the youngsters between the ages of twelve and sixteen — who seldom have anything approaching the price now required to see a game.

The old knothole has been eliminated by the concrete barricade. And where a kid might dig up a quarter to obtain a bleacher seat, the present charge has him barred.

Leaving out the sentimental side of the case, it is a serious business mistake to leave any such barrier confronting those upon whom the turnstiles of the future depend.

Kid's Day.

There should be a "Kid's Day" at each ball park at least twice a week, if no other arrangements can be made in the way of an every day reduction.

Thousands of youngsters are reading about Ruth, Hornsby, Sisler, Alexander, etc., who have never yet had the chance to see these men play. It isn't a life and death matter, but it is a matter of increased pleasure.

"The wealth of a nation," writes Adam Smith, "is measured by its happiness."

Don't forget that the happiness of the kids figures largely in this matter of national wealth.

The National League has been striving for some years to get a headliner who might match Ty Cobb. It begins to look as if a Mr. Hornsby, of Texas and St. Louis, is on the verge of filling all needed requirements.

In the way of stars the American League has Ruth, Cobb, Sisler and Speaker to match against Hornsby, Alexander, Roush and Groh. The younger league still holds the advantage, the way of Ruth more than making up the balance.

A New Rival.

Babe Ruth has been rated as the super-star in an age of stars. But how about Man o'War? The Babe's rival doesn't happen to be a human being, but should that bar him when it comes to the broad field of competitive sports?

Here is a horse that outclasses all competition so far that when he is entered there is no contest. Ruth's list of home runs are double that of any other rival. But is Ruth as far beyond all human competitors as Man o'War is beyond all equine rivals? Who has a mystic measuring scale within easy reach?

One run in three games

The Spudders ran into the best brand of pitching in Shreveport that they have encountered all year.

The Gassers now have a lead of 1 1/2 games and they are going to be mighty hard to pass.

A club should win at least half of its road games to be a pleasant contender. We won seven and lost nine.

The Pirates will now be entertained at Athletic park for three days. Hunter Hill's aggression was in bad shape when they were here last. Practically all his good men were on the injured list. They are a different looking club now and the Spudders won't have the walkaway they did before.

Martin Gersh did not lose any friends after his showing last night. He was glorious in defeat and will make the best of them travel at his weight. Tate looked like a giant side of him.

How that boy Lanier can travel! Dykes must have thought he had run into a cyclone. Manager Edwards' prodigy sets a terrible pace.

Last night's card at the Camel A. C. was about the best that has been staged here this year. Edwards states that a better one is in store for the fans next week. Jack Reeves and Joe Smith are bound to make the fur fly. Smith has been working out at the club for some time and Reeves is due here today. Members of the club have been invited to attend the day workouts at the club.

CLEVELAND WANTS TO GET HOLD OF HANPER OF RED SOX; OFFERS GUY MORTON

BOSTON, June 21.—An offer to trade Guy Morton for Harry Harper, both pitchers, was made to the Boston Americans, my Manager. Speaker of the Cleveland club today. The Red Sox management announced the offer was taken under consideration.

The Boston club released Outfielder Arnold Stutz, formerly of New York Giants and Holy Cross College, to the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast League, and signed Outfielder Gene Bailey, who was released unconditionally by the Boston Nationals Saturday.

NATIONAL TRIALS FOR OLYMPIC TEAM TO BE HELD SATURDAY

By HENRY FARREL (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, June 22.—With Babe Ruth, Men o' Wars, Johnstons and Tidens, Gardner and Hagens and Dempseys and Carpentiers fighting for top lines, the prospective American Olympic team has been lost in the uncommon rush of sports.

The aspirants for Uncle Sam's team however, will come out of the dust this week, where they have been hidden, and take a place in the first file. The national trials for the team scheduled Saturday in Philadelphia, Chicago, New Orleans and Pasadena will put through the first sorting out process of what perhaps will be the largest number of candidates in history.

From the results from intercollegiate track meets it seems probable that the team will be constituted largely of college stars.

Pennsylvania, winning the intercollegiate championship, probably will have the largest representation with a good chance for landing six stars on the team. Notre Dame looks good for a delegation of four and California and Stanford may land three on the team.

The New York Athletic club most likely will have the largest club representation on the team.

With an army transport at its disposal the American committee will not be restricted in the selection of the team. With facilities for taking a team of from 250 to 300 to Antwerp.

the chances of "dark horses" are usually good. Selection of a coach and trainer for the team is a duty the committee is setting aside until a later day.

SPUDDERS BACK AT ATHLETIC PARK UNTIL FOURTH OF JULY; TEAM HAD LITTLE SUCCESS IN SOUTH

Back home again! The Spudders are back in their own stamping ground and they are not a bit sorry. The going for the past 17 days was anything but smooth and their three successive defeats handed them by the Gassers, has put them in a very unpleasant frame of mind.

Their journey through the south was anything but success. They won seven, lost nine and tied one. After trouncing Dallas 17 to 5 in their first game on foreign ground, they ran into a snag in Beaumont and the Exporters handed them four defeats in a row. They jumped from Beaumont to San Antonio and showed a complete reversal of form against the Bears, copying the entire series. They were not so fortunate in Galveston, as the Pirates played them to a standstill. The Pirates won the first, lost the second and tied the third.

After getting away to a poor start in Houston, they came back and pulled the last two games out of the fire. The Shreveport series is still fresh in the minds of the fans. The Gassers outplayed them completely and took the series. The Spudders gave them a battle in the first game, but were not even contenders in the last two.

Carl Eberhardt and Fagan Burch were the only consistent winning pitchers on the trip. Both men pitched superb ball, especially Eberhardt. "Barney" hit his opponents in the head all the time and they could do nothing with his assortment of curves and change of pace. Barney has two changes of pace—a slow ball and a slower one. His fastest ball would hardly break a pane of glass, but he is one of the few who needs no speed. He's got everything else a pitcher should have—a good head, which he uses all the time.

Jim Sewell proved his worth as a relief hurler. Whenever the opposition gets dangerous, Jim is rushed to the mound and usually comes through. He pitched one full game and received a draw. He went 12 innings against the Pirates, but his mates could not push over the deciding tally.

Jimmy Zinn's winning streak receded a set back in the Exporter series and he also lost a matinee to Houston. He turned in one victory against the Bears.

Ed Appleton was the consistent loser of the squad. Ed has been trying his level best to come back all year, but simply is not there. Ed has seen his best days and the best of them have to quit some time. "Buck" Weaver was among the missing. He lost his only start and hopped a rattler homeward bound.

Roy Storey was pressed into service on the tail end of the trip, owing to an injury to Buddy Tanner. Buddy has a bad ankle and may be out of the game for some time to come. Storey has hit well in the few games he has played, but his fielding cannot begin to compare with Buddy's. The sooner Buddy returns to the game the better off the Spudders will be.

"Red" Josephson is back in the game after a brief rest. Jo was going like a house afire when the team left, but hit a slump after he had hit safely in 16 consecutive games. Manager Salm thought a little bench warming might bring him around. He is back in the game again, and should hit his regular stride soon.

One of the biggest disappointments of the team's work was Johnny Moran's batting. Like several of the rest, he started in batting. Like whiffwind, but fell off woefully soon after the team hit the road. His big spurt when the team hit the road carried him to the top of the league in batting, but his average has suffered lately. He had several opportunities to break up ball games and had he been able to come through in the pinchers the Spudders would have won the majority of their games. Johnny's fielding, however, has been phenomenal.

"Pet" Smedecor's batting was one of the sensations of the trip. Smed hit them far and often, and although he has failed to connect regularly in the last couple of games, his hitting was a big factor in the victories. The remainder of the team played fairly consistent ball and with one more winning pitcher the Spudders should breeze the trail for the rest of the circuit. The boys will be at home now until the Fourth of July. They will meet the Pirates, Bears, Buffs and Exporters in the order named and it is quite probable the Dallas game will be played here the Fourth.

DIRECTOR GENERAL ATTACKED WITH REVOLVERS AND BOMBS

DUBLIN, June 22.—An automobile carrying the assistant director general of the royal Irish constabulary and four constables was attacked with revolvers and bombs when en route from the Amiens street station to Dublin Castle today. Assistant Director General Roberts was severely wounded in the head by a revolver bullet, but is expected to live. The driver of the car was shot in both legs. No arrests have been made.

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTE

IT'S like this. Flavor is the thing that makes your cigarette enjoyable.

All right, then: Lucky Strike is the cigarette that gives you flavor. Because it's toasted.

Toasting! Flavor! Think of the appetizing flavor of a slice of fresh buttered toast.

And—it's wonderful how toasting improves Burley tobacco.

Isn't that all plain common sense? Of course. Get the Lucky Strike cigarette for flavor. It's toasted.

Are you a pipe smoker? Then try Lucky Strike pipe tobacco. Made from the finest Burley tobacco that money can buy. The toasting process seals in the Burley flavor and takes out every bit of bite. It's toasted.

Guaranteed by The American Tobacco Company

—which means that if you don't like LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes you can get your money back from the dealer.

RAILROADS ENLARGING FACILITIES AT VERNON

VERNON, TEX., June 22.—The two railroads at Vernon are co-operating in every way possible toward relieving the congestion at Vernon. While the congestion is being more marked each day, the railroads are taking steps to meet the emergency. The Denver road announces that an additional team track will be constructed at once at Vernon. Shipments of lumber and rig material have been abnormal since the Sigler well came in. It is said that the Denver passenger and freight depots will be enlarged if the passenger and freight traffic continues to increase. The Frisco is laying new steel on their line from Vernon to Red river and are preparing to co-operate in meeting the demands caused by their increased business.

The banks of Vernon are enlarging to take care of the increased business. The comptroller of the currency at Washington has notified the Herring National bank that their application to increase their capital from $50,000 to $125,000 had been granted. The Waggoner National bank is increasing their personnel and enlarging quarters.

The Sigler Oil company and the Victor Refining company have bought land near the railroads north of Vernon to build refineries, work to commence immediately.

A. C. McCONNELL, as well as numerous other oil well supply houses, are putting in stocks here to take care of the oil field trade.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF VERNON CHAMBER COMMERCE

By A. C. McCONNELL. VERNON, TEX., June 22.—Wednesday evening, June 23, at 7 o'clock, has been set the time for the annual banquet of the chamber of commerce, according to a decision of the directors. This occasion will be made one for a general get-together of the business men of Vernon, the directors announce, adding that a handsome dinner will be served to the invited guests without charge of any kind. Neither will any soliciting for money be made that night.

The occasion will be used to hear an address by James Z. George, vice president and general manager of the Texas chamber of commerce at Dallas, a talk by F. T. Watson, field manager of the state chamber, and Clois L. Green, wealthy oil operator of Vernon. Mr. George is an industrial engineer of wide experience, having spent 20 years of his life in big feats in America. He will speak on the subject of "Community Building," he announces. Mr. George left the engineering field to enter the chamber of commerce at New Orleans. Later he became general manager of the Houston chamber of commerce, then being elected the second time as manager of the state chamber. Mr. George has addressed the business men of the large cities of Texas, particularly Houston, Dallas, Waco, Fort Worth, Waxahatchie, Corsicana, San Antonio and a number of smaller places.

He will be followed by Mr. Watson, who is a chamber of commerce expert and arctic explorer of fame. He is said to be the most thoroughly informed chamber of commerce expert in this country. He has directed successful membership campaigns throughout Texas and will direct the Vernon campaign for $2,000 which will be put on beginning the next day after the annual banquet here.
