ment of public authority are used, the feeling of every white man will recoil and the allies will get no coal. Immigration of workmen into the Ruhr would suffer and the building of dwellings would stop for want of materials.

"If the allies insist on their demands, the European coal situation, which otherwise is most practical, in three years will become permanently disorganized and Europe will be permanently exhausted.

"Future security due to the military decision yesterday may be expected. Riots and revolution may occur and the allies would suffer as well as everybody else. The German coal owners have discussed a reasonable solution. In view of what they are doing, and right being on their side, we cannot accept and work under the allied decisions."

Hue Speaks.

Herr Hue, a large rugged miner with his face as long as his nose, with a mustache, then spoke. He said:

"Increasing coal digging in Germany cannot be done over a green cloth. It depends upon the most practical arrangement of miners' hours and upon stimulating their interest in their work and also forming within them the purpose to do the best. Miners in Germany can do better work and increase their production by working six hours a day rather than by long hours.

"The question of coal production is not for Germany alone. It is an international question and the miners, in a perfectly proper way, feel solidarity upon that question. The miners of England, I feel sure, feel just as the miners of Germany do. I will not appeal to the miners of England, but I am sure they could be appealed to successfully by the German miners."

Premier Lloyd-George laughed at what was described as the effective, demonstrative, parliamentary laugh which is designed to be in itself a full reply to any point to which a minister does not agree. Premier Millerand, who has in France a labor question of his own, reddened and stirred uneasily.

"The miners of Germany," Herr Hue continued, "are perfectly willing to do their part in increasing coal production and in fulfilling the obligation of the state. We only want to be treated fairly and we do not believe that for the allies simply to give an order without any assurance concerning food or other necessities is the right way in which to treat the great body of miners who must do the work."

Herr Hue apparently made a very favorable impression. After a short discussion the conference declared that all allied and German experts should consider deliveries.

Wanderer, was the only member of the family present. Neither looked at the other and no sign of recognition was passed.

Mrs. Vanoz said that while her husband was serving with the Canadian forces in France, she lived at the home of her step-father in Folkestone, England.

"It was in Folkestone I first met Watson, who came frequently to visit us," she said. "He told us he originally came from New York, where his father was a wealthy turfman and that he had everything money could buy or heart desire.

"I know he received money orders from the states. I think it possible he met Wanderer in England and more recently in Chicago."

According to Dr. W. J. Hickson, head of the municipal psychopathic laboratory, Wanderer represents a case of dementia praecox.

"I have discovered scores of such cases in the army," he said. "Wanderer has a mind geometrically moral, but emotionally abnormal. He is preoccupied with ideas of right and wrong."

Dr. Hickson said that the running away from responsibility was one of the commonest symptoms of praecox.

Dr. William O. Krohn, alienist, who has examined many murderers, called Wanderer "just a cold blooded killer, with an abnormal twist to his brain, whose sense of prudence was pushed aside by egotism, selfishness and self-admiration."

LONDON, July 10.—Leonide Kraasin, Russian bolshevik minister of trade and commerce, who left for Moscow after having consulted Premier Lloyd-George and allied representatives concerning commercial relations between soviet Russia and the allies, will return here immediately, says a wireless from Moscow.

Conditions which the British government is declared to have stipulated before trade could be resumed and which the Russians have accepted are given in the message as follows:

"That each government agree to refrain from the emission of official propaganda against institutions of the other government; that the soviet government shall not assist the eastern people in hostilities against Great Britain.

"That British subjects in Russia and Russians in Great Britain be permitted to return home.

"That the soviet government agree to recognize its obligations and to refund to private British subjects losses suffered through sale of goods or persons or other property.

"That Great Britain agree to the conditions of the soviet regarding trade on a mutual basis but retain the right to suspend the appointment of an official soviet agent."

ENEMY ALIEN PRISONERS WILL BE RELEASED

ST. LOUIS, July 10.—The United States district attorney's office here today received orders from Attorney General Palmer to release from parole next Thursday all enemy aliens, except in cases where such action might be considered a menace to public safety. On the same day all bonds furnished by enemy aliens are to be terminated and all securities deposited with the government returned, the order stated.

Washington Report.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Enemy aliens interned during the war and since released on parole will be given their unrestricted liberty July 15, except in cases of those under suspicion, who will be released on parole two or three days ago by Acting Attorney General Frierson.

Several other men connected with the war, on their release were compelled to give bond and subject themselves to the restrictions of a parole.

Mr. Frierson said, and inasmuch as sufficient time has elapsed all except those still considered a menace to public safety are to be given their full release.

Determination as to those to be held under parole will be left to United States district attorneys, he said.

Chas. B. Goddard of St. Louis, district representative for Community Service, Inc., in the south central states spent Friday and Saturday in the city going over plans for a permanent community service program in Wichita Falls with F. H. Haughton, local director, and members of the Civic Bureau committee of the Chamber of Commerce upon whose initiative the work was started here.

STOLE EIGHT WAGON LOADS OF PIPE CHARGE AGAINST THREE ARRESTED SATURDAY

Three men charged with the wholesale theft of oil field supplies from all leases in the northwest extension field were arrested at noon Saturday by Deputy Sheriffs Charlie Bebout and Frank Watkins and are now in the county jail here pending further investigation. The men had stolen eight wagon loads of oil field piping, officers say. The materials were discovered on a lease northwest of Burk Burnett and three miles beyond producing wells, where it had been piled by the suspects after a night of pillage, officers say. The materials included 100 feet of pipe, 100 feet of iron pipe, 100 feet of iron bandits cut all telephone connections leading from the scene of their operations to Burk Burnett, officers say. Transportation of the oil field piping at night time aroused the suspicion of oil field workers and officers on duty in the vicinity, which later resulted in the arrest of the thieves. County Attorney John Davenport put the suspects through a rigid examination Saturday night and it is announced that felony theft complaints will be filed against the trio.

ALLEGED HIGHWAYMAN ARRESTED SATURDAY

A suspect charged with the "stick-up" of several oil field workers at Kemp City Friday night was lodged in the county jail Saturday and is being held pending further investigation. According to a story told by Deputy Sheriff Lee McDonald, on duty in the K. M. A. oil field, the man charged with highway robbery, was discharged on Thursday by an oil well driller and on Friday night held up three or four men with whom he had formerly worked, taking more than $100 from them. The terrified oil field workers searched Kemp City and environs for their assailant and early Saturday found the man who is now held in the county jail. The oil field workers attacked their alleged assailant, beating him severely, officers say. No charge has been filed against the suspect but a complaint alleging highway robbery will be filed against him Monday if investigation merits that action. Sheriff Bob McFall announced Saturday night.

BLAZING GASOLINE CAUSES FIRE ALARM

The entire downtown fire department, including every sick and shining piece of new motor equipment, roared wildly out of fire headquarters Saturday evening at 8:15 o'clock, and ten minutes later came roaring wildly back again. An alarm had been turned in from 614 Ohio avenue, where a few quarts of gasoline in a bucket were blazing. Fire Chief McClure doused the flames with a hand extinguisher, leaped into his "strawberry wagon" and led a wild race to the headquarters. The reason for the blaring burst of speed on the return trip became public later, when it was learned that "Mac" McClure had just hooped a generous serving of meat and potatoes on the chief's supper plate when the alarm sounded. "And I usually like to eat my meals hot when it's possible," the chief said, grinning.

MORTUARY

James T. Cooper, 48 years, who was shot and fatally injured in a quarrel at Burk Burnett late Friday afternoon died at the General Hospital at 3 a. m. Saturday morning. The attending physicians held out little hope for his recovery from the first and they realized that death was only a question of time. The deceased is survived by his wife and two small children. The body was removed to the Hines Undertaking Parlor and prepared for burial and later was shipped to Wrentham. The funeral services will be held in that city some time Sunday.

Frank Cushman, aged 48 years, died at his residence, 709 Travis street at 2:30 a. m. Saturday. The immediate cause of his death was hemorrhage of the brain which came after an illness of over three weeks. Mr. Cushman is survived by his wife, who suffered a nervous breakdown following her husband's death and who is now in a critical condition, and by his parents and several brothers and sisters, all of whom reside in Lansing, Michigan. The body was removed to the Merkle and Lutz Undertaking Parlor and is being held there pending the arrival of a brother from his home. Funeral arrangements will be made at that time.

CANDIDATES BEGIN SPEAKING TOUR

First Of a Series of Joint Meetings Held at Iowa Park Saturday Evening.

Iowa Park Saturday afternoon was the scene of the beginning of a series of joint debates between various candidates for district and county offices which is scheduled to continue until the democratic primaries next Saturday week. Various candidates went out from Wichita Falls in automobiles and the series of joint debates occupied about three hours. Several hundred citizens of Iowa Park and vicinity were present and much enthusiasm was displayed in various questions discussed by the opposing office-seekers. The candidates spoke from the rear of an automobile truck packed at an important street intersection. Various speakers were introduced by Mayor Arnold of Iowa Park. The open shop movement, the question that has long agitated Wichita Falls, is the paramount issue in the race between R. F. Johnson, Wichita Falls real estate dealer, and E. G. Swanson, local attorney, for representative in this state legislature from the first legislative district which comprises Wichita and Wilbarger counties. Johnson is an avowed open shop advocate while Swanson is a close shop enthusiast. Johnson and Swanson were the first to meet in the political arena at Iowa Park Saturday and both declared that the open shop question is the paramount issue in the race for member of the lower house. Swanson spoke first. "The highjack-plumber is not worse than the capitalist banker," the legislative aspirant declared. "Organized labor is a legitimate organization and will not be crushed by the open shop organization." The speaker reviewed the recent history of labor strife in Wichita and Wilbarger county declaring that the present difficulty is largely the fault of profiteering landlords and "other persons who profit in the necessities of life," asserting that while some actions of labor elements were to be condemned yet those actions were no worse than movements instigated by organized capital. E. F. Johnson took direct issue with Swanson on the open shop question. He referred to the open shop movement as "the 100 per cent American plan" declaring that the open shop had been forced upon Wichita county through the radicalism of organized labor in this section. Johnson asserted in vigorous phrases that the open shop is the only remedy for the present industrial crisis that threatens the American republic and vehemently attacked local labor leaders in perpetrating various strikes and walk-outs which the speaker declared has seriously retarded the commercial and industrial development of Wichita Falls. Johnson was interrupted two or three times by persons evidently in sympathy with the labor movement but was given liberal applause at the close of his address. B. D. Sartin, local attorney and candidate for county judge, vigorously attacked the administration of County Judge J. P. Jones, a candidate for reelection. "I hold the present county judge responsible for the delay in road construction and he cannot deny responsibility for the condition of our public institutions that a special grand jury declared were appalling," Sartin declared. "Wichita county is one of the richest counties of the great state of Texas, yet it has one of the poorest highway systems in the entire state. We have voted bonds time and again to build roads for the county and the only roads ever built were washed into the gutters and still the county has no roads, and the money of the people has been spent and squandered. The people of Wichita county are more than liberal in their public spirit and do not refuse to go the limit in making a great county but it is unfair to put extra tax burdens on the people and not give them good roads in return." County Judge J. P. Jones replied to Sartin's criticism of his administration by inviting voters to make a complete investigation of the county records. "The records of Wichita county are open to all and I invite the voters of this county to examine my official acts as well as the official acts of the county commissioners with whom I have labored," Judge Jones said. The county judge upheld the road building contract entered into with Potts & Prentice and characterized the recent criticism of the instrument as simple "campaign blunder." The judge declared that the attack upon the road contract was launched by his political enemies who desired to charge him with fraud "merely for political ends." Judge Edgar Scurry of the 7th district court and a candidate for reelection divided time with Ed Napier, local attorney and candidate for judge of the 18th judicial district, Fred K. Smith, candidate for sheriff, was among the crowd but did not deliver an address. Other candidates were County Clerk W. T. Harris, who is making the race without opposition for reelection, and Judge Guy Roberts, recently appointed judge of the county court-at-law, and who has no opponent in the approaching primaries. According to present schedule various district and county candidates will divide time at Electra, Burk Burnett and other smaller towns of the county during the next two weeks. It is understood that several candidates will go to Electra next Tuesday and several joint-discussions will be staged there upon that date.

GEORGE ROSS HELD UP BY ROBBERS LAST NIGHT

George Ross, 104 North Ninth street, Scotland addition, was held up by three highwaymen at 11 o'clock Saturday night while crossing the Burnett street bridge and robbed of $10 in money and a gold watch and chain. Ross was struck across the forehead by one of his assailants suffering a deep cut. A piece of iron is believed to have been the weapon used by Ross' assailant. Ross was unable to furnish the police with a complete description of his assailants but an investigation is being made of the robbery.

COOPER DIES FROM GUNSHOT WOUNDS

James Cooper, a blacksmith residing in the Texhoma oil field, a short distance south of Burk Burnett, died Saturday in the Wichita general hospital from gunshot wounds received in a shooting affair staged late Friday in the Texhoma field. Steve Humphrey, proprietor of a restaurant located near Cooper's shop, was arrested following the shooting and is being held in the Wichita county jail pending further investigation. No charges has been filed against Humphrey. Witnesses say the shooting resulted from a quarrel between Cooper and Humphrey which arose over the ownership of a stake to which milk cows were staked while grazing in the vicinity of Cooper's blacksmith shop. Cooper was shot in the abdomen. He was rushed in an automobile to the Wichita general hospital but died soon after reaching that institution.

ANTI-BAILEY LEGISLATURE IS FORECASTED—CANDIDATES STATE OFFICES NOT NUMEROUS

MALLAS, TEX., July 10.—State offices, congressional places and judicial places in the courts of civil appeals apparently are not greatly in demand among candidates for democratic nominations in the primaries July 24, this year, while places in the senate and the house of representatives of the Texas legislature are the occasion of many more contests, in proportion to number of places open. Reports to the Texas election bureau indicate there are fewer candidates for state offices than usual, and there are only six contests out of eighteen congressional places and only two contests out of eleven places to be filled in the nine courts of civil appeals of the state.

In the congressional races the only contests are in the districts: District 2, from which Congressman James Young of Kaufman is retiring, five candidates; District 4, in which State Senator Ed Westbrook of Wolfe City is again opposing Sam Rayburn, the incumbent; District 8, from which Congressman Joe Eagle of Houston is retiring, sought by D. E. Garrett and Harry V. Fisher of Houston; District 10, in which the incumbent, J. P. Buchanan of Brenham, is being opposed by A. T. McKean and Victor Mascher, both of Austin; District 14, in which the incumbent, Carlos Bee, is being opposed by the former incumbent, James L. Slayden, whom Bee defeated two years ago, and District 17, in which Thomas L. Blanton, the incumbent, is being opposed by R. N. Grisham of Eastland.

The only contests for places on the courts of civil appeals are in the fourth supreme judicial district, San Antonio, where Judge T. D. Cobbs is being opposed by J. F. Sluder of San Antonio, and the fifth supreme judicial district, at Dallas, where Judge J. M. Talbot is being opposed by H. B. Davis of Corsicana.

Replies from correspondents as to the attitude of legislative candidates for and against Bailey indicate that a majority of both houses will surely be anti-Bailey. In only a few districts are pro-Bailey legislative candidates unopposed, and in many districts there are no pro-Bailey candidates. In some districts, however, no indications could be obtained as to candidates' stands on the Bailey question.

Besides the question of the re-submission of the "home ownership amendment," the following candidates for state offices will appear on the ballots of the democratic primary Saturday, July 24 (run-off or second primaries in races in which no candidates receive majority votes will be held Saturday, Aug. 28):

For Governor—Joseph Weldon Bailey of Cooke county, B. F. Looney of Hunt county, Pat M. Neff of McLennan county and R. E. Thomson of El Paso county.

For Lieutenant Governor—I. W. Culp of Bell county, Lynch Davidson of Harris county, E. B. Humphreys of Dallas county, W. A. Johnson of Hall county, J. C. McNealus of Dallas county.

BRITISH STEAMER SEIZED FOR LIBEL DAMAGE

GALVESTON, TEX., July 10.—Fire on board the British steamship Cardigan while in New York harbor several months ago laden with sugar for St. Nazaire resulted in the seizure here today of the British steamship Anglesca by the United States marshal under a libel for $100,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by the owners of the cargo of the steamship Cardigan.

The case is set for hearing in admiralty court on September 29. The action was filed against the Anglesca under the provisions of the admiralty laws permitting the filing of a libel against any vessel of a defendant company within the jurisdiction of the American admiralty courts in case the vessel actually involved is without such jurisdiction.

IMMIGRATION RECORDS SINCE WAR BROKEN YESTERDAY
NEW YORK, July 10.—All weekly immigration records at Ellis Island since the war were broken this week. It was announced today that 12,161 aliens had been inspected, including 11,181 steered passengers. From six hundred to a thousand foreigners still await inspection. Nearly all ships brought a larger percentage of men than of women and children. The steamship Mexico brought only 14 women out of 66 steerage passengers from Portugal.

AIRTIGHT PITCHING ENABLES DALLAS TO WIN BOTH ENDS OF TWIN BILL AND CLEAN UP SPUDDER SERIES

DALLAS, June 10.—The Spudders ran into another bunch of airtight pitching here today and the Marines passed them in the pennant chase by coping both ends of a doubleheader, the first by a score of 4 to 3 and the last 6 to 0.

Dale opposed Sewell in the first frame and outpitched him all the way. At that, Sewell might have gotten away with a win were it not for Kitchens' error in the opening out.

Dale made his strikeout record four straight, by fanning Sewell and Tom Miller. Tanager doubled to left, but Snedecor left him there when he grounded out, Dale to Shires. Dale singled to right after Sewell threw out Robertson. Coombs doubled him on third and he scored on Faulk's single to left.

"Japan will enter two great stars in the United States tennis championship this season in Kumage and Shimidzu, who went to the final round with Tilden."—News Note.

Although our tennis stars may seem to play like experts in a dream, O, do not fall to keep an eye on Shimidzu and Kumage.

Although our Tilden may be there, O, Johnson's forehead sweep the air, Beware the rally that is due From Kumage and Shimidzu.

Yes, I know Williams has the game if he is in the proper frame; But can he crush the bold defy Of Shimidzu and Kumage?

We have the wallop and the speed; We have the stars in time of need; But can we rush our banner through This Kumage and Shimidzu?

Quite appalling the time is not yet ripe for Uncle Sam to go after John Bull's golfing scalp on British shores.

McDermott failed to qualify his first start and later on finished fifth. Hagen finished sixth in the fogs.

It is only in this instance that America will have the slightest chance. The dire results that overtook McDermott and Hagen are proof enough of this.

Anyhow, Hagen in taking an 85 his last round, cheered the heart of many a duffer. They like to know that the fluffed shot can be produced by the champions as well.

SPUDDERS OPEN CRUCIAL SERIES WITH GASSERS AT ATHLETIC PARK

SPUDDERS MUST COME THROUGH IN PINCHES IF THEY EXPECT TO PLAY AFTERMATH WITH PANTHERS

It's getting rather monotonous stating that the Spudders are home once again after a disastrous road trip, but such is the case nevertheless. The best they could do this time was win two out of seven and the strange part of it is, they copped their two from the Panthers. They can never expect to play a post season series with the Panthers if they keep up that clip and they are going to keep up that clip just as long as they fall down in the pinches.

Out of the five games lost, three were lost by one run and the same three games were won by their opponents in the final canto, the opposing twirler breaking the game up in each case. No less than 25 men were left stranded on the sacks in these three games, an average of eight men per game. It's that's not falling down in a pinch, making it.

The club is hitting well but is not hitting opportunely. The big majority of their hits are wasted and the men cannot deliver the blow when it is needed most. No fault can be found with their fielding as no one game can be traced directly to the defense. The pitchers, with the exception of Wetzel, are going well, and if the men behind them would come to their assistance, they would not be credited with so many losses.

They have simply got to get over the winning punch and they've got to do it right away or they might as well throw up the sponge. If the Gassers and Panthers win the majority of the games this week, the jig is practically up.

Gleason resigned supreme in the Spudder camp last week when it was learned that Watson, the hurler from Pittsburgh, upon whom Skipper Salim had counted to pull him through the coming crucial series, would not be able to come. Pittsburgh asked for waivers on him, but the Boston Braves thought he was too good to let get away and they copped him.

Salim now has five twirlers, any one of whom ought to win the majority of games. The old quartet, Eberhard, Burck, Sewell and Zinn, never went better than they are going at present and although the first two lost a couple of hard games last week, it was not due to poor pitching. Buzz Wetzel's debut was not very startling, but he is capable of pitching far better ball than he did in his two chances against the Marines.

After a long layoff, Jake Miller got into the game again when the team hit the road and his work has easily been the feature of the team's play. Jake has been what the old apple in big league style and was instrumental in their two victories. His fielding has been on a par with his batting and Salim's outfield is easily without a peer in the circuit at the present writing.

Tom Miller has been threatening to quit the game for some time, but Salim is loath to let him go. Tom Miller has a utility outfielder that is far better than the majority of regular outfield gardeners and if Tom decides to go, it will not be with Salim's sanction.

The addition of Danny Clark has completed his infield and filled the hole that has been open all year. Nothing that Salim was too wise to let Benny Brownlow go, and Benny is always ready to jump into the fray when a man is needed. He gets a chance every now and then and will continue to do so until Buddy Tanner ceases to be the umpire's frames. Buddy fights every play tooth and nail, but he lets his temper get the best of him occasionally. After seeing some of the decisions that have been rendered against the Spudders and reading about others, we fear that we would do the same thing if we were in his shoes.

Buddy has been busting the pill on the nose better than he did all year, but he has nothing on Johnson and Snedecor. The times when Jo falls to get on base nowadays are few and far between. There isn't a man in the league who has a thing on him when it comes to laying the ball down and beating it out and his natural ability to pole out a hit keeps opposing infield gussers all the time.

"Pete" Snedecor has shaken the jinx that has camped on his trail all year, but he has nothing on Johnson and Snedecor couldn't drive Tanner in from second in the ninth.

Salim could have used a pinch hitter to good advantage in the ninth inning of the first game in place of Sewell. Both Zinn and White are better hitters than Sewell, but they played the bench.

Old man Hughes had the boys on his hip in the second bill. He had a good chance to tie Dale for the day's strike-out record if the game had gone nine innings, as he was growing better as the game progressed. Wetzel, on the other hand, had nothing but a prayer and a glove. The Marines got a man on in every inning except the second.

Buddy Napier pitched one swell game against the Panthers. Buddy had hard luck at the beginning of the season. He was pitching then just as well as he is now, but he received no help from his mates.

It's seldom that Frank Kitchens has such an off day as he did yesterday. The Spudder backstop was responsible for the first three tallies in the first game and he hit the oozes three times.

Yep, "Babe" did it again. He got his 24th yesterday. Hereafter we'll call attention to the days when he fails to pole's circuit about. It's more of a surprise now when he doesn't than when he does.

There will be a dark house at the Camel A. C. this week. Joe Smith is going to try a comeback with Jack Reeves a week from Monday and both men will start training at the club tomorrow.

Sport Shots

By Paul W. Larkin

If some person will only bring back the Spudders' horse they may break their losing streak and, incidentally, he or she will receive a season pass. The latest storm to hit Wichita Falls played havoc with Athletic Park and during the grand mixup, the horse used to drag the field wandered away.

There isn't a club in the circuit that has a better looking outfit than Salim's on paper, but paper clubs don't always win games. The most pessimistic did not look for four straight losses to the Marines.

"Red" Josefine is reported to have hurt himself going after Palmer's triple in the first game. We hope it's nothing serious as the Spudder's fence will be shot to pieces while Jo is on the bench.

The Spudders had several opportunities to break up the first game, but fell down in the pinch. Mokaan fanned in the first inning with two men on base; Grubb fanned with two on in the third while Sewell did the same thing with three on in the same canto; Kitchens fanned with men on second and third in the fifth; and Snedecor couldn't drive Tanner in from second in the ninth.

SPECTACULAR AIR RACES WILL FEATURE BIG SPORTS CARNIVAL

Colorado Springs Will Be Mecca For Sport Enthusiasts Second Week In September.

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO., July 10.—Automobile races from the base of Pikes Peak to the summit, airplane races from Denver to Colorado Springs, touring Pikes Peak, and a tournament with dozens of teams of national fame, are some of the big features of the mammoth Colorado Sports Carnival to be held in the Pikes Peak region at Colorado Springs and Broadmeor during the second week of September. The Pikes Peak races for the $5,000 silver and gold trophies are presented by the Pikes Peak Automobile Club and will be held on Monday, September 6. The airplane and polo events will cover several days. The airplane races will be the most spectacular ever staged in the United States.

Lovers of outdoor sports from all parts of the country are coming and among the distinguished special car parties already arranged is one from the Biltmore Hotel in New York to the Broadmeor Hotel in Colorado Springs. The Pikes Peak automobile race for the Penrose cup was instituted in 1916 when such famous drivers as Ralph Mulford, Barney Oldfield and Hughie Hughes (killed at Uniontown, Pa.) were entered. Owing to the war the races were discontinued in the succeeding three years but this year the automobile world hails their return with deep interest. The races are under the rules and sanction of the continental board of the American Automobile Association over a 13-mile course from Crystal Creek to the summit. In addition to the Penrose cup, cash prizes aggregating $5,000 are offered.

The polo tournament will be entered by crack teams from Colorado Springs, Denver, Fort Riley, Fort D. A. Russell, Sheridan, Wyo., Kansas City, Chicago, Wichita Falls, Texas, and California. The games will be played on the Broadmeor grounds of the Cheyenne Mountain Country Club and among the many valuable trophies will be the Foxhall Keene cup. The polo championship title of the country west of the Mississippi will be decided at this tournament. The late war brought polo to the front and the polo championship contenders for championship honors.

A tax of $5 a year on each of the nearly 7,000,000 passenger automobiles in America would yield $245,000,000. Such a tax will be collected if the price of gasoline continues at 30 cents a gallon.

is unfortunate, however, that the burden of high prices falls not only upon them, but upon the consumer of necessities. He is paying the added fuel cost of motor trucks.

It is anticipated that the production of gasoline will increase materially during the 1920 season, through the increased installation of processes which will give higher yield of gasoline from crude oil.

Whether there is an acute shortage of gasoline will depend largely on the priority given this fuel in rail shipments. It seems to be necessary for the interstate commerce commission to discriminate between the needs of industry and non-essential use of gasoline.

The new transportation act seems to confer ample power on the interstate commerce commission to give priority to fuel for essential purposes. But supervision of distribution would be an expensive and difficult task.

THE NERVOUS SYSTEM And Its Relation to Disease

No other system in the body has as vital a bearing on every diseased condition as does the nervous system. It is through this nervous system that the elusive something travels which actuates the entire human organism.

DAY NURSERY WILL BE OPENED THIS WEEK BUT EQUIPMENT STILL NEEDED

Would you help a baby if you could? Well, here are the facts: The Wichita Falls home welfare day nursery, situated at 744 Lamar street, will open as early this week as it is possible to get the necessary papering and cleaning completed. The work has been slow on account of the labor shortage.

The nursery, planned and directed by Mrs. Owsley of the home welfare, will receive and take care of during the day, the babies and small children of the mothers in Wichita Falls who are compelled to work away from home.

Mrs. Owsley has received to date, in answer to several urgent requests for furnishings and necessities for the nursery, 10 beds, given by W. O. McDowell, and one lot of toys from a Wichita Falls mother.

For successful operation, the following will be required in the equipment of the nursery: Complete furnishing for a kitchen—stove, utensils, linoleum square, kitchen linen, etc.

Complete furnishing for a front or reception room, including floor covering, chairs, table, etc.

Furnishings for the double nursery rooms. In addition to the beds now on hand, which should include floor coverings, bed linen, half a dozen or more straight chairs, and toys for very small children.

Furnishings for a lunch room—dining table and chairs, table linen, linoleum square, dishes and tableware.

Furnishings for a woman's rest room—a small table, two or three rocking chairs, probably a set of shelves or library section, a floor covering, etc.

Furnishings for the babies' room—a little room at the northeast corner of the house to be specially fitted up for the tiniest babies, where they may sleep undisturbed by the older ones in the front rooms.

And a sink pile, a slide, swings, and other outdoor playthings in the back yard, where the older children will be free to run and romp and stay healthy, and where the littlest tots will be kept fresh and air, and to dig curling little pink fingers into the moist sand of the sandpile, maybe.

They need all these things so badly, and Wichita Falls has needed the nursery so badly—with the dozens and dozens of mothers who are not privileged to stay at home, and who are obliged during the long days, and the one with whom to leave them—that it seems as if immediate response must be forthcoming within the next few days of a few big-hearted mothers of babies, and the fathers who have something they are willing to spare from the feeding of their own little ones.

The nursery has been planned for a long time. Mrs. Owsley has spent many anxious hours and days on the work, and through the kindness and cooperation of a few big-hearted folks, the home welfare has been able to secure the six-room house and the two or three things already received for equipment. J. W. Culbertson, owner of the house at 704, asked the occupants for possession of the house recently, and is renting it to the home welfare for a very nominal sum; less than half of what he has received for it from private parties. Mr. McDowell learned of the need of the nursery for beds, and gave the whole lot, brand new and complete with mattresses. And a Wichita mother who remembered one of the newspaper notices asking for donations, brought a consignment of toys in good condition from her own children. But a great deal more is needed, and needed right at once.

One Plan Suggested. It has been suggested that the women clubs and the church societies in Wichita Falls, the Girls' Friendly society, or any other helpful or willing societies or organizations in the city, might settle among their memberships on some one or more parts of the furnishings to be donated by that club as a whole, and get a committee to work at once on the donation. And the Rotarians, or the Wichita club, or any of the men's clubs willing to help the kiddies and the mothers of the kiddies, might agree on some one thing to be bought and given as a donation from the club as a whole. For instance, the Baptist Women's Auxiliary (selected at random) might be glad to see that the kitchen linen or the linoleum or the half-dozen straight chairs for the nursery rooms be donated. The Rotarians might be willing to undertake to furnish a part of the tableware—knives and forks and spoons—a floor covering, or a rocking chair or two. It is not necessary that any of the things be new; it is only necessary for the use of vigorous little tots, that it be strong and in good condition. And the same welfare does not ask the donations as casual or easy-to-get gifts; it realizes that all the mothers and fathers and organizations in the city have their hands full with their own work, and their pocketbooks well looked after by their own expenses right now. But the day nursery is one of the biggest and finest and most helpful institutions the city can ever hope to have, and one that a city of the size of Wichita should have had long ago—and it is in extreme need, this very minute.

It is suggested that any officer of any organization which might contribute, wishing to know other particulars, or take the matter over, call Mrs. Owsley at 3029, or in her absence—call Miss Davidson at the Times office, 6711. Editors will be glad to make suggestions or tell what is needed at the nursery.

WICHITA FALLS GIRLS TO COMEBACK FOR WEDDING. Misses Guskie Kiel and Kathryn Mothers leave this week for Commerce, Texas, where they will act as bridesmaids in the Henderson-Owen wedding there Wednesday, July 21st.

Invitations to the wedding reading as follows have been received by Wichita Falls friends of the bride, Miss Della Owen, who was supervisor of public school music in the schools here this past year, making her home with her aunt, Mrs. Tom Stroud: "Mr. and Mrs. William Mason request the pleasure of your company at the marriage of their daughter, Della Owen, to George Thompson Henderson, on Wednesday, July twenty-first, nineteen-twenty, at high noon, at the residence in Commerce, Texas."

The at-home cards read, "At home, 1620 Eleventh street, Wichita Falls." Mrs. Harding, wife of the republican nominee, was made in the Harding home in Washington, D. C. June 16th.

JULY BRIDES AND WHITE HOUSE BRIDES. "Brides" are always an attractive subject, and there have been and will be quite a number in Wichita Falls in July, from the announcements received by The Times the past few days.

The present-day brides recall the brides of yesterday, and probably there are no more interesting ones than those who have been married from the First Home in the Land—the White House. In the hundred and ninety years since the first wedding there, that of Lucy Payne Washington, sister of Mrs. Madison, to Justice Todd of the Supreme Court, there have been 12 others, including the marriages of the two daughters of President Wilson, Jessie Woodrow and Eleanor.

The White House brides, in order, have been: Lucy Payne Washington to Justice Todd, 1811; Ann Todd to Representative John G. Jackson, 1812; Maria Monroe, daughter of the president, Samuel Lawrence Gouverneur, 1820; Helen Jackson to John Adams, son of the president, 1828; Della Lewis to Alphonse Yver Pagot, 1829; Mary Easton to Lucien B. Polk, 1832; Emily Martin to Lewis Randolph, 1837; Alice Roosevelt, daughter of the president, to William Waller, 1870; Nellie Gray, daughter of the president, to Algeron Sartoris, 1874; Emily Platt, niece of President Hayes, to Gen. Russell Hastings, 1875; Frances Polson to President Grover Cleveland, 1888; Alice Roosevelt, daughter of the president, to Representative Nicholas Longworth, 1896; Jessie Woodrow Wilson, daughter of the president, to Francis Bowes Sayre, 1913; Eleanor Wilson, daughter of the president, to William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, 1914.

To Study Music. Miss Mabel Winfrey left Wednesday morning for Fort Worth, where she will join her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Winfrey, for a tour of Colorado, Utah and California. Miss Winfrey expects to be in Long Beach, Cal. for an extended visit with her relatives, Dr. and Mrs. Adams, and while there will do some special work in music.

MAY BE MISTRESS OF THE WHITE HOUSE

HENNA OF ANCIENTS AT HEIGHT OF POPULARITY IN THESE MODERN DAYS

"All is vanity and vexation of spirit," mildly asserted one of the prophets in good standing some plenty hundreds of years ago, as he stroked his long gray beard.

If he had been that prophet in somewhat doubtful standing with the Christian following, Mohammed, the beard he stroked would have been the best possible proof of the first part of his remark. Because Mohammed dyed his beard with henna, and remarked in conjunction that the henna blossom, a little starry white thing, was "chief flower of this world and the next." He was probably still thinking of his fetching beard, and the source of its coloring, as he seemingly became a prophet.

But whether or not it was consistent in Mohammed to dye his beard with one hand and cling to the declaration that he was the only son of God with proper credentials, with the other, the henna plant has retained its claim to a place of honor among hair dyes. It is probably at the zenith of its popularity in America right now, and it would be hard to walk down the sidewalk in Wichita any afternoon without meeting the more or less effective evidence of its use. Of course, the use is confined to women mostly, as the retention of enough hair to bother about past the age of 20 among the men is a thing of the past since Mohammed's time—and beards are too "horribly passé" for words.

The dye has different results in different cases, the popular effect being a dark, bright red. It is not unattractive, and used on dark hair often brightens and livens the color very nicely. In a good many cases, however, a hard, metallic tint is given the hair—a dyed red effect which is anything but natural or becoming to most faces.

As a tonic, the henna plant has some merit, but probably not enough to recommend its use over other good tonics which do not dye. It is slightly astringent, and cooling, restraining perspiration to some extent. Whether or not this last is a point in favor is doubtful, however, as perspiration is natural and healthy for the scalp pores as for the body.

Henna, as in general use, is a powder of the leaves and young stems of the plant, which is mixed with hot water and applied as hot as can be used to the hair and head. Left on from one to several hours, the desired result is obtained—sometimes in neat beauty parlors a patent preparation is used—any one of a score or more now on the market, and any result from a brilliant red-yellow color to the darker shades and black are obtained by the addition to the powdered leaves of different chemicals.

In Mohammed's time indigo was added to the henna to produce black, the hair or beard being first dyed with the henna and then with the indigo; "mixed on" as it were. As to the merit of the hair-dyeing process, or the use of henna, there is little to say: Probably hair has as much right to be dyed as lips or cheeks, and probably the main consideration is whether or not the result of the dyeing will be what was expected. From some of the dyed hair observed, one might naturally conclude that the owner was not any happier over the result than the innocent bystander. For some rare hues are in evidence, which are even more noticeable when the dye has become bored or discolored with the re-touching process every few weeks, as the hair grows, and has decided to "let it grow out."

The henna plant is cultivated extensively in Egypt, and exported to Persia and Egypt and other countries. In the time of the ancients all Egyptians of proper standing used the dye on finger-nails, toe-nails and eyelids, as has been evidenced by Egyptian mummies now in museums, and it was also used on the manes and hoofs of horses. "Henna" is the Persian name of the plant, and such is the delicate fragrance of the little white blossom that it is called in Jamaica the "Jamaica Jasmine," and the oil is extracted for perfume.

WE MIGHT TRY A SAND BATH HERE.

Mud baths haven't arrived in Wichita Falls yet, but they may. They are said to be very popular with the young women in California, near Los Angeles. The girls emerge from the baths looking like bronze statues, but a hose and shower soon restores them to their natural color," states the correspondent. The mud baths are claimed to be very healthful, but the odds are that their charm is mostly entertainment and novelty.

Married Tuesday. A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Humphrey, 1200 Row avenue, Tuesday noon, when Miss Ruth Humphrey, of Canadian, sister of Mr. Humphrey, became the bride of E. E. Averitt of Fort Worth.

Rev. Mr. Kevitt of the First Christian church performed the ceremony, and only the relatives and a few immediate friends were present, including the bride's mother, Mrs. T. B. Humphrey of Canadian, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Boone, Miss Guskie Kiel, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stroud, Mr. and Mrs. John Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. Karstetter of Henrietta, relatives of the groom, Miss Winnie Cole of Hamburg, Okla., niece of the bride, and Misses Lily and Georgia Humphrey of Wichita Falls.

The bride wore a white silk suit with accessories, and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was unattended. A reception followed the wedding, during which a dainty plate luncheon in two courses was served, not bread sandwiches, pressed chicken, olives, almonds, cake and punch comprising the menu.

Mr. and Mrs. Averitt left immediately following the reception for Dallas, where they will be at the Adolphus a week before going to Fort Worth, where they will be at home to their friends on Washington street. Mr. Averitt is a branch house manager for the Waples-Platter company.

The Cheney Orchestral Chambers. An acoustic principle of the resonating chambers of the pipe organ adapted to the reproduction of music in The Cheney. Vibrant, imparting richness and quality to tones, The Cheney Orchestral Chambers respond to and develop every range of pitch. Tones are held under perfect control and in perfect balance. Protected by basic patents. THE virtuoso finds beauties in a score of music overlooked by those with lesser talent. Under his hand every note is played perfectly—kept in proper relation to the whole. The Cheney reproduces his music with equal skill. In a series of Orchestral Chambers, high, medium and low tones are developed in volume, sweetened in quality, and given back to the world just as they were played. It is the highest achievement in the art of musical reproduction, and the period cabinets rival in beauty the masterpiece of the most expert craftsmen in furniture creation. SURVEY OF TRADE TERRITORY WILL BE MADE BY WICHITA FALLS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

To determine whether Wichita Falls is overlooking any bits in the development of her rightful trade territory, the Chamber of Commerce is now working on a survey of that territory, and will submit the information to local wholesalers and jobbers as soon as compiled.

The survey is planned to determine, first, if this city's present wholesale and jobbing concerns can be assisted in any way in strengthening their position in the territory, and second, whether there are any opportunities of which advantage is not being taken.

Although the survey was started only a few days ago, preliminary figures and data indicate that there are some sections that this city should be serving as a wholesale center where little has been done; this applies in particular to the territory reached by the Gulf, Texas & Western, and to that opened up by the Rock Island's recent extension from Chattanooga to Grandfield. The former road connects with the Southern at Olney and with the Valley at Seymour; the latter gives direct connection with a well-to-do section of Southeast Oklahoma.

The greatest part of this city's wholesale business comes from points north, west and northwest; to the eastward, the competition of Fort Worth and Dallas prevents it extending very far, although this city's houses are constantly reaching out in that direction. To the southeast and east, the wholesale trade territory cannot be considered as extending further than 75 miles; in other directions, many houses are selling at points 200 miles distant. Data on value of farm products, volume of retail business and such matters are being assembled for the trade territory as a whole.

One golden opportunity that is being overlooked in the wholesale line is that of drugs. Scores of towns that depend on Wichita Falls for groceries, hardware, building material, automobile supplies and other commodities, are buying drugs from Dallas, Oklahoma City or Fort Worth because there is no wholesale drug house here. It is true that local wholesale grocers sell many thousands of dollars worth of tobacco, fountain supplies and sugar to the drug stores, but the strictly drug business goes elsewhere. The Chamber of Commerce hopes to be able to show the need of a wholesale drug house here so forcibly that it will be supplied in the near future.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE 30TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT OF TEXAS

It is with regret that I cannot get to see all the voters of this district in person, owing to the fact that the 30th district court convened the 14th day of June at Wichita Falls, Texas. There are a large number of criminal cases now pending on the docket of this district that will have to be tried and a large number that will have to be investigated which will require most of my time and attention.

It will be almost impossible for me to see every voter in person and I wish to say to the people of this district that I am now making my race for my second term for the office of district attorney for the 30th judicial district of Texas. During my last term which is the present term I have tried to make the people of this district an efficient district attorney. I have tried to be fair and fearless in all my prosecutions. I have tried to be conscientious and have kept my mind open at all times. I have done my very best to perform the duties of my office to the best of my ability.

I now leave it to the people of this district to be my judge. Under all the principles of the democratic party, where a man has done his best to perform the duties of his office to the very best of his ability he is entitled to a second term of office.

This is all I ask of the people of this district:

If you feel that I have made you an efficient officer under the conditions that I have had to work against, then I respectfully request your support in the general democratic primary election to be held upon the 24th day of July, 1920.

I now submit to you my candidacy.

Messrs. Walsley and Goonbaum, lately of Kansas City, Mo., have opened the Wichita Beverage Co. here and are distributing "Good Old Blatz" made in Milwaukee.

Blatz is made by the same people and in the same brewery that made the name "Blatz" a favorite with connoisseurs everywhere and since its introduction in Wichita Falls many have found that the present day product is an exceptional in quality as the Blatz of other days.

Since opening its storage house here, the Wichita Beverage Co. has done a thriving business. The company is equipped to make deliveries to private residences as well as to stores and restaurants.

The company is appointing agents at other points throughout this section and expects through the merit of Blatz and their expert service to make it the most popular beverage in this territory.

bring bad tempers and bad health. Why? Because most mankind are shut-up in the house, or factory all winter and do not have the opportunity to breathe in good oxygen, the system is filled with toxins (poisons), and in consequence one feels blue, tired and miserable, perhaps "aches all over." The very best way to get rid of the poisons and to build up for another and better day is to obtain a vegetable tonic, made without alcohol, and known favorably for over fifty years as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This will put vim, vigor, vitality, into your blood. You will feel young and buoyant instead of old and "seedy."

At this time of the year people feel weak, tired, listless, their blood is thin, they have lived indoors and perhaps expended all their mental and bodily energy, and they want to know how to renew their energy and stamina, overcome headaches and backaches, have clear eyes, smooth, ruddy skin, and feel the exhilaration of real good health tingling thru their bodies. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against all of this. You are apt to suffer from an attack of "Grip" if your health is run down. Purify the blood and you can defy Grip or "Flu." This is the time to clean house and freshen up a bit. Get the "Discovery" TO-DAY, in tablet or liquid form. Send Doctor Pierce's Invaluable Remedy, Buffalo, N. Y., 10 cents for trial package.

THREE BIG SPECIAL PICTURES AT OLYMPIC

"The Forbidden Woman," "The Butterfly Man," and "Romance" Features of Coming Week.

The coming week promises to be a record breaker for Wichita Falls' new photoplay palace, the Olympic. Three big special productions will be offered besides the many magnificent short subjects and extra attractions. Monday and Tuesday Clara Kimball Young appears in "The Forbidden Woman," a photoplay that is said to be one of the most brilliant creations that has reached the screen in many months.

Conway Tearle, who has appeared in support of more screen stars than any other leading man, appears opposite Miss Young in "The Forbidden Woman." Katherine Adams and Winter Hall are other players who have prominent parts.

When "The Forbidden Woman" was given its grand premiere recently at the Capitol theater in New York city over 40,000 people paid admission to witness it the first two days of the showing. It deals with the life of a famous Parisian actress at the height of her fame with wealth, position and luxuries as her playthings.

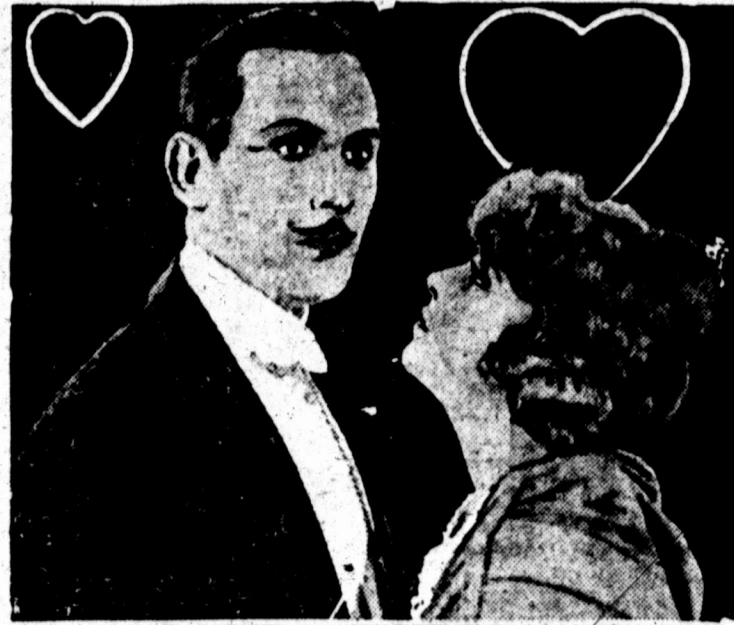

Manager Ford announces that on Monday his newly acquired organist, Grace Mohler of Indianapolis, Ind., will make her appearance at the console of the big orchestral organ, playing for an overture, Zampa. Miss Mohler is a graduate of the Illinois Conservatory of Music, spending several years in the study of the pipe organ. She was for some time with the Circle theater in Indianapolis and has also played in two of Chicago's largest houses. Manager Ford is to be complimented upon securing an artist of Miss Mohler's ability and it is safe to say that his newly acquired talent will be given an enthusiastic reception by Wichita music lovers.

PUBLIC DELIGHTED WITH PROGRESSIVE POLICY OF NEW OLYMPIC THEATER

Local movie fans who have attended the new Olympic theater are loud in their praise of the house and of the attractions which it has to offer. It is very seldom that in a town of the size of Wichita Falls a theater is to be found that can afford to offer feature programs at all of their performances. As a rule these houses have one good picture, a comedy, and perhaps one other really but for the other added attractions, they are not to be found outside of the large city playhouses. The Olympic, however, differs radically from the general run in that it offers to local theater lovers a program that would be a credit to any moving picture house anywhere. And better yet, these features are offered at a price that is within easy reach of the pocketbooks of all.

Take for example the bill which closed Saturday night. A review of this reveals the fact that no fewer than seven distinct features were presented to the public at all of the regular shows. Opening each performance was an organ overture, and following that came the Olympic Topical Review, which was a reel of clever quips and sayings dealing with topics of the day. These were selected from the leading newspapers of the land. A two reel comedy came next and was succeeded by a Herbert Kaufman Weekly. At the conclusion of this the audience was accorded a real treat with Hampstead Bentley was presented and gave a delightful song recital consisting of classical and popular airs. Mr. Bentley is probably the best known and most well liked of any vocalist in the south, and his clear, tenor voice and forceful personality captivated his hearers. The feature picture, Douglas Fairbanks in "The Milkyoeddie," appeared next and the program was concluded with an exit march on the organ.

"THE BUTTERFLY MAN" BOOKED FOR THE OLYMPIC

A picture which promises to be a pleasing novelty in screen entertainment will be presented at the Olympic Wednesday and Thursday of the coming week: "The Butterfly Man" starring Law Cody.

To secure and maintain a bill such as that is a costly proposition, but it is a paying one, and the crowds of satisfied patrons that visit the Olympic daily more than justify the work and expense entailed in preparing it. The public in general appreciates an hon-

INCE PICTURE AT EMPRESS THEATER

"Let's Be Fashionable," Starring Doris May and Douglas McLean Monday and Tuesday.

The attraction at the Empress theater on Monday and Tuesday of this week is "Let's Be Fashionable," the latest Thomas H. Ince picture starring Douglas McLean and Doris May and fully up to the standards for merriment which these youthful players have set in their previous vehicles.

They have the roles of a newly-wed pair, who rent a fashionable bungalow in a fashionable summer colony and make strenuous efforts to break into the swift society set. Being novices at the game, their attempts result in some humorous complications that persist until the two decide that it is better to be happy than to be fashionable. They then settle down to a life mere in keeping with their pocket-book.

"Let's Be Fashionable" is the work of Mildred Conside and was directed by Lloyd Ingraham. Wade Botler, George Webb and Norris Johnson are included in the supporting cast. This is a Paramount-Artcraft picture.

HAMPSTEAD BENTLEY HERE FOR ANOTHER WEEK

Hampstead Bentley, rightly heralded as "southland's sweetest tenor," has been engaged by the management of the Olympic for another week. The success which has greeted Mr. Bentley's appearance here during the past week and the insistent appeals by Olympic patrons has led to his being held over the coming week.

He will offer an entirely new selection of ballads and jazz numbers with each change of pictures. Mr. Bentley is offering a distinct novelty in his movie melodies, a creation that met with instant success when presented here last week. It is entertainment of the highest class and fits in perfectly with the Olympic's unit program policy.

FIRST OF SCREEN CLASSICS AT MAJESTIC THIS WEEK

The Majestic will show the first of its Screen Classic productions on Monday and Tuesday of this week when it will present Viola Dana in "Dangerous to Men," a comedy taken from H. V. Esmond's play, "Eliza Comes to Stay." This is the first appearance of Miss Dana at Wichita theaters for some time and her return will no doubt be greeted by capacity houses as she has a tremendous following of pictorial goers.

"Dangerous to Men" is a story of a bachelor's ward, a sort of "ugly duckling" who dressed and acted in a manner calculated to insure her safety from men. While her guardian is away on an exploring expedition to India Eliza grows up and his return finds her a flower of youth, with many ideas that such a flower shouldn't have and one which was quite dangerous to the heart of every man she met.

Miss Dana is supported by a cast of favorites, including Milton Sills, who appears as the guardian and incidentally—the hero.

Wednesday and Thursday will bring Harry Carey to the Majestic in "Overland Red," while Friday and Saturday Owen Moore is the shining light in the production, "Sooner or Later," making a full week of comedy films for the Majestic.

Savings depositors admire the courtesy which characterizes the efforts of the clerks and officers of the City National Bank of Commerce to render satisfactory service. The City National Bank of Commerce enjoys the generous patronage of the people of Wichita and surrounding counties because the same careful attention to the business of customers is paid regardless of the size of the account. 59-11c

MANY NEW WHOLESALE AND RETAIL CONCERNS LOCATED HERE SINCE FIRST OF YEAR

"Ample evidence of Wichita Falls' steady and continued growth during recent months is furnished by a compilation of new industries that have located here since the first day of 1920," says The Better City, official monthly publication of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce. The article continues:

"In addition to a large number of purely retail concerns, there are some score of wholesale, jobbing and manufacturing houses that bear emphatic witness to the increasing importance of Wichita Falls as a distributing center.

"The advantages that this city offers as a distribution point are being recognized generally by concerns serving this section, and it might be profitable to undertake a systematic campaign to add still others to the list. The early assurance of two more railroad outlets will greatly increase this city's trade territory, and that fact should be impressed upon those who sell in this territory.

"Including various retail establishments a total of about 150 new concerns have begun business in Wichita Falls since the first of the year. The list includes:

"Twenty-two automobile agencies, repair stations and other concerns directly connected with the automobile business.

"Seventy-one retail concerns of various kinds; three drug stores, 35 groceries and meat markets, six tailoring establishments, nine cold drink stands, eight clothing stores and 29 miscellaneous.

"Twelve manufacturing plants; these are mostly small plants engaged in manufacture of oil field and refinery equipment.

"Five lumber and building companies.

"Fourteen and jobbing plants; the list includes two produce companies, three feed and fuel companies, a wholesale leather company, a wholesale hardware supply company, and several other lines.

"Two new refining companies.

"Eight oil field supply companies, drilling companies, etc.

"Four miscellaneous enterprises, including a wireless telegraph company, a pure water company and others.

"Among the new retail firms are some important establishments, including three drug stores that are up-to-date in every particular, several well-appointed clothing and shoes stores and a metropolitan gift shop of more than ordinary significance. In the location here of a store by the Bush & Gerts Piano Co., which will make this the distribution point for this section. This concern has stores only in the larger cities.

"Among the 22 new automobile concerns are several that will make Wichita Falls a distributing point for cars and trucks.

"The most important of the new manufacturing concerns is the General Reduction and Chemical Co., which is to have a plant in North Wichita for the manufacture of paint and other materials, bringing a distinctly new industry to Wichita Falls. Four new plants to manufacture tanks have located here, a new bottling company, a tent and awning company, another laundry and several oil field equipment plants are also on the list.

"Among the wholesale and jobbing concerns are two additional produce companies, adding further to Wichita Falls' importance as a produce center. The S-M-P Co., composed of local people, will wholesale hardware supplies throughout this section. K. E. Bauch Jr. heads a wholesale leather com-

HOBBY PROTESTS THE ACTION MALLORY CO.

AUSTIN, July 10.—Acting under instructions from Governor W. P. Hobby, Ralph Soape, his private secretary, today wired a strong protest to the Mallory Steamship Company, New York, against the contemplated action of your company in suspending operations insofar as the port of Galveston is concerned.

"The governor also urges the Mallory to continue the service that the port of Galveston may be kept open and the uninterrupted movement of commerce through that port may be continued, at the same time assuring you of the continued protection by the state to all workers engaged in the loading, unloading, transfer and transportation of freight and other lawful occupations."

"Under the protection afforded by the state the uninterrupted movement of freight at that port has continued and conditions there are practically normal," continued the governor in the wire. The governor, who also expresses surprise at this action of the Mallory, is apparently keeping in close touch with the Galveston situation.

"The large number of suburban grocery stores and markets established since January 1—a total of 35—is evidence of the city's consistent growth; such stores do not exist unless there are people to buy from them."

The City National Bank of Commerce has one of the finest safe deposit vault systems in the United States for the protection of valuables of all kinds. The vault is protected by an elaborate electric system insuring the safety of property. Box rents are nominal.

CLINT WOOD HEADS OIL CORPORATION

CLINT WOOD OIL CORPORATION WITH CAPITAL OF TEN MILLION ORGANIZED.

LEADING OIL MEN ON BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Production And Acreage at Burkburnett And Other Acreage Owned By Corporation.

One of the most important items of interest to the local oil fraternity is the announcement of the formation of the Clint Wood Oil Corporation with $10,000,000 capitalization.

G. Clint Wood, the president and general manager, is one of the most widely known and most successful independent operators in the southwest and has been interested in practically every Texas oil field of note from Spindle Top to the northwest field.

While interested in the south Texas fields he helped organize the Humble company and at one time owned one-third interest in this company. Since coming to Wichita Falls eight or nine years ago he has continued to be extremely successful and has been one of the leading individuals to place Wichita county in the forefront as an oil producing county. Until the present company he had been connected with but two other companies, the Humble and the Marine, the latter paid its stockholders $1750 for each $100 invested. He is vice president and director of the Wichita State Bank and Trust Co., the second largest state bank in Texas, and has been identified in every local movement tending to build this city.

Associated with him in the management of the company are C. T. Clark, president of the Shamrock Oil Co., and one of the most successful independent operators in the north Texas fields; Frank Kell, a member of the federal reserve board for the 11th district, railroad builder and officer, extensive mill owner and operator, and who has been most closely identified with practically every big undertaking in this section of the country; is also another director. The firm of Lyons & Kleinman has filled a number of the largest commissions in this field. It furnished all the production and leases for the Old Dominion Petroleum Corporation, a million and a half dollar corporation; the American Petroleum and Drilling Co. of Mississippi, the Progressive Lease Syndicate, and other large commissions for individuals.

The City National Bank of Commerce has one of the finest safe deposit vault systems in the United States for the protection of valuables of all kinds. The vault is protected by an elaborate electric system insuring the safety of property. Box rents are nominal.

Mr. Wood and his associates have taken their entire pay for their holdings in stock and plan a permanent growing company, which for the immediate present will confine its operations to the production end of the oil industry. The announcement of the formation

BELCHER RETURNS FROM PORTLAND, ORE.

Tells Why Wichita Shriners Won While Thirteen Other Applications Were Denied.

Crooning a little song of victory, E. M. Belcher, secretary of the Wichita Falls Shrine club, returned to this city Saturday noon after attending the recent convention of Shriners in Portland, Ore. Delighted with the granting by the Imperial Council of a dispensation for the establishment of a Shrine temple in Wichita Falls, Belcher was full of "pep" when seen by a representative of The Times. "Sixteen applications were heard by the council for the establishment of temples throughout North America, and because, I believe, we convinced the Imperial Council that this is a live, progressive city with an energetic, hustling, active citizenship. We are very grateful, also, to Sam T. Cochran and Mike H. Thomas, both of Dallas, for their help and encouragement."

at the guest of the Shrine club, Imperial Potentate Ellis Lewis Garrison, of April Temple, Tacoma, Wash., some deputy appointed by him, will inaugurate the temple here, and the first ceremonial will be held some time in the early fall. No attempt will be made for more than a year, probably, to build on the two lots owned by the Shrine club at Ninth and Travis streets. According to Belcher, the temple will wait until building conditions are normal again, and in the meantime will remodel and make use of the pavilion at Lake Wichita as a monthly meeting place.

The ninth other temples in Texas will be represented here on the occasion of the institution of the local temple, and it is probable that several will send full bands and patrols. Following the Portland convention, 12 of the Wichita Falls party chartered a private drawing room car, and made a holiday trip to Seattle, Vancouver and Victoria, thence back to Portland and south to San Francisco and Los Angeles. In the party were Mayor W. D. Cline and Mrs. Cline, Mayor W. B. Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Shepherd, Dr. and Mrs. F. P. Bass, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McCutchen, W. W. Gardner and E. M. Belcher.

Makes Sick Babies Smile

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 4, 1918.
Dear Doctor:
Words cannot express my gratitude to you for the wonderful results my little girl, Margaret, received by taking Chiropractic Adjustments in your office. Margaret is now 4 months old. About six weeks ago she fell out of her bed on her head and ever since then she has been having from two to five convulsions a day. I called the doctor and he drew a specimen of fluid from her spine which had blood in it. They stated that perhaps she would have those spells all of her life and very likely they would get so bad they would kill her.
I came to you November 24, and after she took the first adjustment she only had two light spells and after the second visit to your office she only had one, and since she took the third adjustment she has not had a convulsion. At first she could not sit up and was in a stupor and paid very little attention to anything. Now she sits up and laughs and plays and seems to be in every respect as normal and well as she ever was. I will stay here until Sunday and have her take the adjustments, and then I will go home, a proud and happy mother. My neighbors laughed and made fun of me when I told them I was coming to you, as I think the laugh will be on them.
With best wishes for your success, and hoping that other mothers afflicted with this letter and come to you, and get relief from their fits and troubles of their loved ones.

SANITARY ENGINEER STATE BOARD OF HEALTH FILES REPORT ON TYPHOID FEVER

L. C. Bernhagen, sanitary engineer of the Texas board of health, has completed his survey of the typhoid fever situation in Wichita Falls, Burkburnett and at Newtown and Bridgetown in the oil fields and has submitted a written report to Dr. C. W. Goddard, state health officer.

The report deals with the water supply and sanitary conditions and makes a number of recommendations. It follows:

Typhoid Fever Situation.
The initial step in the investigation of the typhoid epidemic consisted in getting the history of all cases that were obtainable. It is unavoidable that many of the early cases had not been reported promptly and that their histories were incomplete. It is apparent that even the early cases were distributed over the entire city and that nearly all of them used city water in their homes. They do not seem to have a common milk supply.

This wide distribution of cases eliminated the personal contact theory and shallow wells as the cause of the primary cases. A number of them originated out of town in the oil field district and were brought to town sick.

After a considerable number of cases had developed quite a few others could later be ascribed to personal contact, because of the fact that in some homes two or three cases now exist.

Doctors attending were somewhat lax in instructing attendants as to proper bed-side disinfection to be followed.

At the present time more than 45 active cases have been reported to the city health officer. A study of their history now leads to confusing deductions as to the possible foci of infection.

Wichita Falls Water Supply.
The source of the supply is Lake Wichita, this lake is approximately 12 miles long and of varying width, the shore line being quite irregular. The lake is fed by a number of small creeks and branches. The drainage area, or water shed, is therefore considerable. The quantity of water available is sufficient for Wichita Falls for many years. It accommodates quite a number of farm-steads and several communities in which are located schools and churches, are situated on the water shed. From the lake the water is conducted through an irrigation canal for a distance of approximately six miles to the city of Wichita Falls in a number of places this canal is subject to contamination by flood water from the district through which it flows. One point on the canal subject to periodical overflow is located within the city limits of Wichita Falls. In this particular location there are at present four cases of typhoid fever, and these patients use either a pit or surface toilet. An infection of cases on the water shed brought out the fact that several cases had also existed in the communities draining into the lake.

The water after it reaches the city is quite turbid and is discharged from the canal into a large settling basin. From this basin it is normally conducted into a flume and is treated with hydrated lime and alum; after being thus treated it passes into the coagulation basin and is then conducted out on to the filters. After the water is discharged into the effluent basin from the filters it is dosed with chlorine gas. The effluent pipe discharges the chlorinated water into a settling basin immediately adjoining the plant. From this first settling basin the water passes into a second one and from this latter basin it is pumped into the city system.

Some of the water filtered is first used to cool the condensers in the electric light plant. The filtering plant consists of four units with a total filter supply of 500 square feet. The present rate of filtration is about 2,500,000 gallons per day; this is about 65 per cent overload.

The construction and location of both the coagulation and clear water basins are such that they are subject to bacterial contamination due to water entering them after severe rains. There is a connecting flume between the coagulation and settling basins, and at the time of my visit considerable unchlorinated water found its way directly from the coagulation basin into the settling basin. Specimens of water were collected at various points in the basins, both before the water was treated and after it was sterilized. The report of the analyses is attached hereto.

The entire system has been recently purchased by the city and considerable improvements and extensions have been planned. At present there are approximately 2,000 connections and the system covers about one-half of the city.

Dairies.
A very close check is kept on all dairy products and deliveries of milk to the citizens of Wichita Falls. All herds are periodically inspected, and bacteriological and chemical tests are made on the milk products delivered by the various establishments.

Two cases of typhoid fever were reported as existing at one of the dairies located several miles from the city from which milk was delivered to consumers within the city. Both of these cases were recently reported and none of those cases of which a history could be obtained had purchased milk from this particular dairy. It may be possible that some of the cases that develop in the near future may have been infected by contaminated milk from this dairy.

On hearing of these active cases at this farm the health officer immediately took steps to have delivery of milk from this place discontinued.

Housing and Sanitary Conditions.
The housing proposition in Wichita Falls is a very serious one. It is quite often necessary that two or three families live in a small house having not more than four or five rooms. Many others live in tents and shacks, both within and outside of the city limits. This situation was brought about because of the rapid oil development in the immediate neighborhood of the city.

The insanitary conditions are very much in evidence in Wichita Falls. This is especially true of those premises occupied by tents and temporary shacks. The open back privy is used almost exclusively. To remedy these conditions an ordinance has recently been passed by the city council of Wichita Falls compelling the construction of the pit type privy in place of the surface toilet. The pit type is an improvement over the other because it can be made fly proof and does not so early become a nuisance.

Garbage and Rubbish.
The city maintains a regular garbage collection system and recently the ordinance compelling the systematic collection of garbage had been rigidly enforced. This also applies to refuse and other waste. All collected material is burned in an incinerator.

Sewerage System.
The sewerage system covers less than one-half of the city. There is a compulsory connecting ordinance and this act is now being enforced to the letter. All premises adjacent to sewer lines must be connected to the system. The sewerage is discharged into the Wichita river without any further treatment.

Swimming Pools.
Your representative, in company with Dr. A. W. West, whole time health officer, visited the public swimming pools at Lake Wichita and also Downing's swimming pool, near the city.

At Lake Wichita swimming pool sanitary accommodations such as the public-toilet and dressing rooms were found to be in a deplorable condition. Specimens of water from this pool showed positive contamination in 10 per cent of the samples.

Dr. West immediately issued orders to have the swimming pool with the toilets and to have the place put in a clean and respectable condition. Specimens of water were also taken at Downing's swimming pool, and these showed the water to be in a safe and wholesome condition. The water for this pool is taken from a well near by. At this establishment, however, no toilet facilities were available. Orders were issued that such accommodations must be provided for immediately, and arrangements were made at once to build necessary toilets to accommodate the patrons. Both swimming pools have an attendance of some 200 or 300 persons per day.

After a study of the records and history of the early causes of the present epidemic, the writer has come to the conclusion that the original cases were caused by polluted water. Those cases occurred in all parts of the city practically simultaneously. The patients were from all walks in life and of various ages. Nearly all used city water in their homes and have likely used it at school or at their various places of business. No particular dairy could be charged with causing any of these cases, as practically all of the patients took milk from different sources. Milk contamination would not be reasonably expected to cause typhoid fever in such widely scattered parts of the city. Infection by contact would have to be ruled out for the same reason.

At a meeting of the city board of health, to which your representative was invited, several physicians argued that in their opinion the original cases were caused by carriers; as typhoid fever had existed in families of two or three of the patients. It seems to the writer that this theory does not appear tenable for intermittent infection by carriers is rare. A great number of cases in Wichita Falls had had no typhoid fever in their families for years. At the meeting, several contended that the infection was produced by flies; this is, of course, a theoretical and practical impossibility as it is necessary to have cases from which the infection might be carried. It was, however, generally believed that at the present time flies are a potent factor in spreading the disease.

The danger from the open back surmountable privy was pointed out as a serious focus from which flies might carry the infection. Inquiry among physicians elicited the facts that many patients had not used proper precautions in disinfecting stools and excreta; this was especially true with the earlier cases before the situation had been given publicity.

At the request of the city health officer that the writer offer suggestions that might tend to remedy the situation as it now exists, the following recommendations were made and accepted by the board, with the promise that they would be put into execution:

1st. All physicians attending such cases shall order a bedside disinfection throughout the course of the disease. Keep flies away from the patient. Disinfect stools and keep sick room clean generally.

2nd. Appoint a sufficient number of nurses to call on all typhoid fever patients not able to employ private nurses and see if all the instructions of the attending physicians are carried out. If they are not obeyed, the facts should be reported to the city health officer.

3rd. All patients refusing to obey instructions considered necessary to cope with the emergency should be isolated in a special hospital for proper treatment.

4th. Analyze the water in all surface wells on or near premises occupied by typhoid fever patients, and if found contaminated, prohibit the use of the water from these wells.

5th. Rigidly enforce the ordinance compelling screening vegetables and fruits while offered for sale in stores and from wagons.

Dr. M. M. Walker, recently appointed city health officer of Wichita Falls and his able board of health are to be highly commended for the energetic measures they have adopted to cope with this most serious problem.

Dr. J. M. F. Gill is city health officer of this city and reported five cases of typhoid fever existing in his town.

The general sanitary conditions of the city are extremely bad; no system is made to collect garbage and other waste.

The water for the city is supplied by an infiltration system. The water is collected in a bricked-up well forty feet in diameter and fifteen feet deep.

The water is conducted into this well by four-six inch lines of tile, these are composed of open farm tile.

The point of application of chlorine is such that the water is not thoroughly mixed with the sterilizing agent.

Suggestions were made to the superintendent, Mr. Clarence Leckie, that the radial pipes carrying the water into the well be extended so as to deliver the water to a central point and that the chlorine be added at this place.

water entering the well would be subject to the action of the chlorine. The average consumption of water at Burkburnett is 1,000,000 gallons per day.

Two water bottling plants operating in the city were also inspected and specimens of water taken before and after the water had been treated.

The treatment consists of passing an electric current through a cell into which the water passes. All samples of water, both city water, well water and treated and bottled water were found to be contaminated by E. coli in 1000 volumes.

The bottling plants were not conducted in a sanitary manner, there were many flies in the building and proper precautions were not exercised in cleaning and sterilizing the bottles before re-filling.

At Newtown ten cases of typhoid fever were reported by the two practicing physicians at this place. Three of these cases are in one family.

Water used by this family is from the American Refining Company's supply; the other cases used city water and occasionally bottled water known as electrified water, treated and bottled at Burkburnett.

Dr. A. W. West has recently inaugurated a clean-up campaign which is bringing good results. This of course, is necessarily carried on under the most trying conditions and circumstances.

Dr. O'Leary reported two active cases and three others that have recovered. The first case took sick about May 1st. The second physician, Dr. Purdie, reported no cases. He had one suspicious case some time ago, but decided that it was not typhoid fever.

The city water for Bradley's Corner is pumped from the old Red river bed. The well is simply a surface well that collects seepage water from the neighboring sand. The well is eighteen feet deep.

The physicians of Bridgetown reported that there were no cases of typhoid fever in the city at the time of my visit.

The city water in this community is also taken from the old Red river bed.

The water for the city is supplied by an infiltration system. The water is collected in a bricked-up well forty feet in diameter and fifteen feet deep.

The water is conducted into this well by four-six inch lines of tile, these are composed of open farm tile.

The point of application of chlorine is such that the water is not thoroughly mixed with the sterilizing agent.

Suggestions were made to the superintendent, Mr. Clarence Leckie, that the radial pipes carrying the water into the well be extended so as to deliver the water to a central point and that the chlorine be added at this place.

The well is seventeen feet deep and is located at the foot of a draw where surface water from the Texas side is collected. Mr. Cook, the manager of the city plant stated that the water taken from the deeper sands at the Red river bed is too saline for domestic use.

Analysis of the city water used at Newtown and Bradley's Corner showed that these waters were badly polluted, as were also samples of electrified water taken at Newtown. This electrified water is quite generally used in both Newtown and Bradley's Corner.

The city water at Bridgetown proved to be free from E. coli in 1000 volumes.

General sanitary conditions in the three last named communities are deplorable. Toilet facilities in many cases are absolutely lacking.

Garbage and other waste is left to decay and forms breeding places for flies.

No attempt is made at mosquito eradication or malaria control.

Dr. A. W. West has recently inaugurated a clean-up campaign which is bringing good results. This of course, is necessarily carried on under the most trying conditions and circumstances.

stances. All of the sanitary improvements that have been started are due to Dr. West's energetic crusade.

Respectfully submitted, LEWIS O. BERNHAGEN, Sanitary Engineer.

Included with the report is a statement of the analysis of twenty-two samples of water, included in the samples is city water, bottled water, water from swimming pools and other sources.

A copy of this report is on file in the office of County Health Officer West and also at the office of Dr. M. M. Walker, city health officer.

AUTOMOBILE MEN HAVE BUSY WEEK; BUSINESS IS BRISK AS THE SUMMER SEASON BEGINS

After a six weeks vacation during which he visited Cincinnati, Cleveland and Toledo looking after the business interests of the cars his firm handles, Mr. Daugherty, of the Overland Motors Co. is back at his desk again.

Of the many interesting sights the trip included, the one impressing Mr. Daugherty most was the Speedway races at Indianapolis one of the reasons being that a boyhood friend was the mechanic in the Duesenberg car driven by Tommy Milton which took third place in the race, losing the grand prize by a scant margin of twenty-five seconds.

The traffic regulations and arrangements for the handling and parking of the cars were perfect, according to Mr. Daugherty. Paid admissions amounted to one hundred and twenty-five thousand and fifty thousand cars admitted to the Speedway. With this tremendous volume of traffic there was no accident of any kind and not even a fender scratched.

Holt Tractors Solve Problem
Mr. Delano, receiver for the disputed area in the Red river valley district, recently saw one of the Holt Caterpillar tractors in operation and was so impressed with it that he immediately ordered another from the McFall Tractor Supply Co. It is believed these tractors will solve the heavy transportation problems met with in this district.

Dodge Coming in Fast
A record of receiving four carloads of Dodge cars was made by McFall Bros. this week. Mr. Julian McFall stated this is the largest number of cars they have received for some time on their old contract but even with these on hand they have not as yet received their full quota of Dodge cars. The new contract calls for a still larger number. The shipment this week included Sedans and Coupes, some of which are ready for immediate delivery.

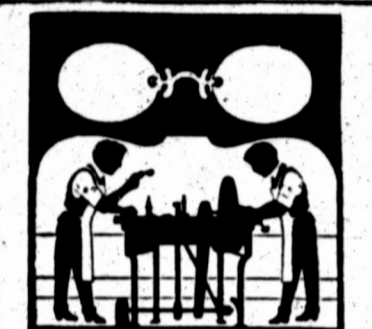

New Haynes Pleases
Mr. Stringer of Nolen & Stringer is very much pleased with the way the new series Haynes 7-passenger is selling. Numerous sales of this car have been reported to T. E. Allday and Louis

Pink. The 4-passenger Sport model is expected to arrive shortly and it is anticipated that it will be greatly in demand.

Overland Pays Bonus
The Overland Motors Company has just paid a substantial bonus to all employees who have been in the service of the company continuously for six months.

Lesley a Busy Man
One of the busiest places in town these days is the Auto Tire Company. Although the shop space is large, the business has grown so great as to begin to crowd it. Mr. Lesley, the general manager, says that the hot days together with recent rains have been exceptionally hard on tires. This rush added to the steady flow of his business has compelled him to re-equip his shop in order to handle the vulcanizing work with dispatch.

thought they were as extinct as the Dodo. One of them remarked the other day on being approached for an ad that "Advertising was like pouring water into a rat hole."

On the other hand, H. E. Bradley, of the Spring Wheel & Body Co., believes in it. He does it regularly and intelligently, but lately resorted to be doubtful. "It's this way," said Mr. Bradley quizzically. "I've too much work now. Look here and there," indicating various cars awaiting their turn to be repaired. "I figure if I quit advertising for awhile the cars will not come in so fast and I'll have a chance to catch up."

Nevertheless, Mr. Bradley gave us his ad. "It might be interesting to note that the first mentioned gentleman who believed "advertising was like pouring money into a rat hole," doesn't have to catch up with his work but has plenty of time to tilt his chair against the wall and take a nap without danger of being disturbed by the honk of a sick auto.

Is Pleased With City
That he has a legitimate reason for being a Wichita Falls booster is the opinion of F. D. Stout, of the Stout Storage & Tire Company. Mr. Stout has been in the city but a very short time and is more than pleased at the manner in which his affairs are going.

"My particular branch of auto business is apparently far from being overcrowded to judge by its growth," is the way he puts it.

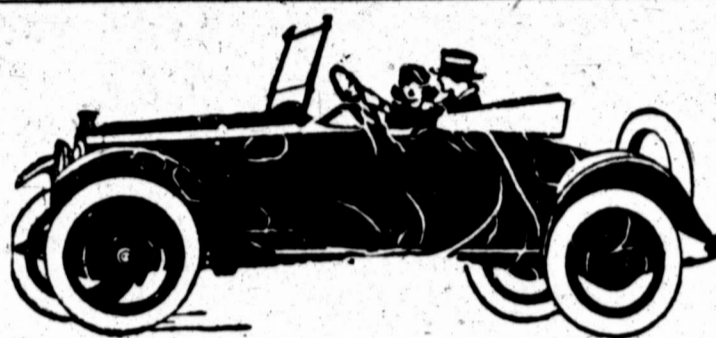

S. E. Balch, formerly associated with the Willys-Overland Company is now in charge of the service end of the Taylor Hudson Company. Mr. Balch is an experienced automobile man having done nothing but handle cars for the past twelve years.

Mr. Bruce Frazier, for two years an overseas man and a captain of infantry, has taken charge of the used car department for the same concern. Both of these gentlemen have been associated with Mr. Taylor before, and as all three are native Texans, Mr. Hudson is of the opinion he will make some of the other auto men here get out and hustle.

Columbia Six

Strength

The Columbia is "Good All the Way Through"

It is a fact that among the thousands of Columbia Six owners throughout the country you never hear anything except praise for the car.

There are few makes of cars of which this can be truthfully said. And the reason for this unanimous praise is simple.

From the beginning, we have made the Columbia Six "good all the way thru." We realized that a car is no stronger than its weakest part—that one weak spot would mar its good name and reputation as certain as would a poor major unit.

Trouble with the Columbia Six is a rarity. One of our distributors who has put over 1,200 Columbias into service, states that at no one time has he had over five Columbias in his service station for any reason whatsoever.

Truly, this is a remarkable record. For the normal centage of accidents would account for this number.

Accuracy

Accuracy is an outstanding characteristic of the modern business or professional man.

These men take particular delight in owning a Columbia Six, because of the accuracy of its construction.

The chassis is built to the most exact standards. And you will find that this same accuracy is maintained in the body construction.

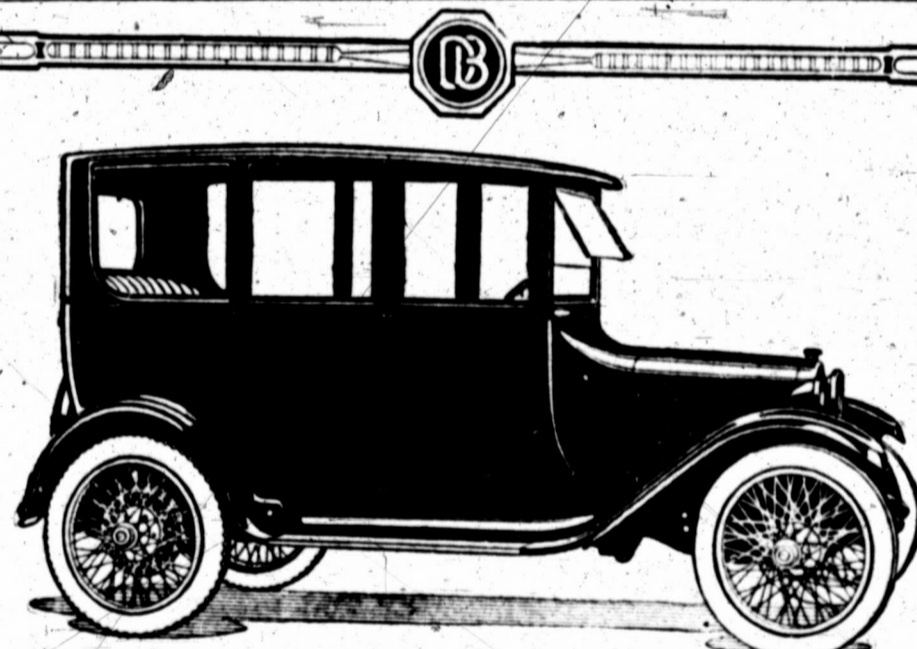

It is a real and lasting pleasure to find a car with every detail, such as hood, doors, top and windshield made and fitted so accurately that they look right and work right ALL the time.

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS'

By WILLIAM H. STEWART, JR.

Motor Department: Please help me out. I have a Buick Six. While I am running fast the motor runs all right, but when I throttle down the motor goes to bucking and sometimes seems to get choked up. When the latter trouble occurs I push out my clutch and race the engine and get rid of the accumulated gas and then it runs all right again. What is my trouble? J. L.

Water in the carburetor will cause the trouble you mention. Clean all the strainers in the fuel line and also open drain at the base of carburetor for a few seconds before starting the engine. Be sure that the distributor contacts are clean, the spark plugs clean as well as properly adjusted. With good compression in each cylinder, a good spark and correct carburetor mixture, you should have little if any such trouble as mentioned.

Motor Department: In overhauling my engine, I note there is a small amount of play in the main bearings. It is hardly noticeable to the feel, but it can be detected by using a jack. I know it is a difficult and laborious task to tighten these bearings, so I do not want to tackle it unless I know it is absolutely necessary. Can any harm result from this looseness? In installing new connecting rod bushings, do they have to be fitted or scraped if the crank shaft appears to be in good condition? A. C. Any looseness in main bearings is a serious matter which tends to grow worse. It will soon develop a knock and may cause a serious break. Have it remedied immediately. New bushings should be scraped to a perfect fit. This involves the use of Prussian blue and a scraper should be done by a skilled workman.

Motor Department: Please tell us why the connecting rods on automobile engines are allowed to slide on the wrist pins. This is not done on steam engines. M. P.

This is to allow the connecting rod to find its proper position in case of slight misalignment. After wear the crank shaft acquires a slight end play, due to wear on the bearings. This would be enough to cause the connecting rods to bind if they could not adjust themselves to it.

Motor Department: Will you kindly inform me as to how much horse power is consumed by a generator on a car rated at 35 horse power? Owner.

The amount of power consumed by the generator is not worth considering. It would not use much more than a magneto or water pump, and so would not make enough difference in the running of the engine to be noticeable.

Motor Department: I have a 1918 Model Ford. The engine has a knock in it and it seems to be in the first cylinder next to radiator. It seems like a hollow sound, when the head is raised and the distance sounds like the tapping of steel. Cylinder No. 4 also knocks the same way when the engine is running on three cylinders and No. 4 is running idle, but when it is firing the knock is not noticeable. Novice.

From what you have stated it is quite evident that some of the motor bearings are loose. Perhaps at some time the engine has been run without oil. A loose wrist pin or connecting rod bearing would cause the knock you mention. Under the circumstances it would seem most advisable to make a careful inspection of all the bearings.

Motor Department: What is meant by pre-ignition? I opened by switch recently and the engine continued to run. They told me it was pre-ignition, but no one could explain. T. S.

Pre-ignition means ignition before dead center—one of the causes of engine knocking. What happened in your case was that the carbon in the cylinder-head or the metal itself was red hot. This fired the charge, and so the engine continued to run.

Motor Department: Please inform me if you know of anything that will dissolve flaxseed that was put in radiator to stop a leak, which has plugged the radiator. Have tried washing soda and lye separately with no results. Thanking you for information, I remain, A. A. L.

After removing radiator from car, let it dry out thoroughly so that the flaxseed will become contracted. Then with radiator turned upside down, use steam pressure. Afterward flush with water.

Motor Department: One of the cylinders of my Ford car has developed weak compression. As there are no relief valves, is there any way to find the cylinder at fault by watching the valves? Reader.

Bear in mind that 1 and 4 pistons move together, as do 2 and 3. If No. 1 is on compression, No. 4 will be on exhaust and the exhaust valve will be open. Similarly with Nos. 2 and 3.

Motor Department: I would like to know the best method of testing condition of my storage battery. Also advise how often battery should be filled with water. Any further information will be appreciated. B. T.

The hydrometer test of the electrolyte of each cell is the best method. When fully charged the solution is strong. The battery should be inspected at frequent intervals and enough distilled water added to cover the plates. Testing the solution should be done before water is added to the cells, but the water should be added, if necessary, before charging. When a battery is fully charged the electrolyte should test between 1.275 and 1.300.

Studebaker, Series 17 four cylinder car. Sometime ago I had two very badly scored cylinders from loose wrist pins. Very little compression in these two cylinders. Smoke from breather tube was prolific, push in new cylinder block and two leak proof rings on each piston and now have fine compression, power and pep in the motor. I ran the car over six months with scored cylinders and used about one quart of oil for 75 miles. Now I am only getting about 35 to 40 miles to a quart of oil. Have looked over the crank case carefully and am convinced that there is no appreciable leak of oil, and have no trouble with spark plugs. Cannot figure out why I should use so much oil. If you have any suggestions to offer will appreciate same. F. L.

When the pistons and rings are tight, the oil will work up to the combustion chamber and be consumed in proper proportions. Furthermore the oil of the crank case will not be added to and thinned by gasoline passing the pistons. So long as your engine does not smoke, you will have a more healthy condition of operation which will improve as the parts wear in better. Perhaps a little heavier grade of oil during the warm weather would improve matters.

Watch the clearance of your valve lifters. The steady tap, tap, tap of the lifters makes a noisy engine, and besides that the engine is losing power. Adjust the inlet valve clearance to a thick piece of writing paper or .003 inch. Adjust the exhaust valve clearance to a thin business card, or about .003 inch, unless otherwise advised by the manufacturer's instruction book.

Quite often one of the valve push rods will stick in the guide and cause the motor to miss fire. A slightly warped valve stem will produce the same result. A push rod may be freed by rubbing down with emery, but it is best to replace a warped valve.

Some relief valves have handles set the wrong way, so that the valve shakes open. If such a valve becomes troublesome replace with one that will close itself instead of open. Or the hole may be plugged with a piece of brass rod and new hole drilled at right angles to the old one.

Do not think that valves do not need grinding until they begin to lose compression. They may be badly pitted and the longer this is allowed to run the greater will be the labor of grinding them. Valves should be rechecked every 1,500 miles to obtain the best results.

If emery or carborundum compound cannot be obtained for valve grinding the loose emery may be used. Flour emery should be used unless the valves are badly pitted, when coarse emery is necessary. This makes deep grooves which must afterward be ground out with the finer emery.

THE Buick Valve-In-Head motor car is internationally recognized as the "first choice car." It has gained this unusual distinction through twenty years of dependable service.

Motor car purchasers have watched the performance of the thousands of Buick cars in daily operation and they have witnessed their wonderful efficiency and endurance. Buick speed and power have proven to their satisfaction that "there is no substitute" for the Buick Valve-In-Head, and these buyers are demanding the Buick and patiently waiting for their local dealer's ability to deliver.

Each week and month this list of buyers steadily increases—those who delay in placing their orders early must expect a longer delay in ownership.

KNOWLEDGE FOR CAR OWNERS

Interesting and Important Facts That Every Motorist Should Know.

Blowouts can be avoided by using a little care and side-stepping severe jolts.

When stopping, always apply the brakes gradually, except in an emergency. By following this rule it will save many dollars in repair bills.

When the oil is changed it is well to flush out the oiling system with about a gallon of kerosene, poured into the crank case, and allowed to run out the drain plug from the oil reservoir.

Two parts of iron or steel that have become rusted firmly together may be separated by soaking them for several hours in a mixture of one-third lubricating oil and two-thirds kerosene.

If old springs are oiled or greased they become flexible and are liable to break, and it is far better to just remove the rust from between the leaves and not use grease or oil.

As oil is a deadly enemy to rubber it is a good plan to protect the inlet hose from the radiator to the pump from the effects of oil by giving it a coat of shellac. The shellac will prevent the oil from soaking through and getting at the rubber.

A new device has been invented for fuel feed. Instead of employing vacuum created by suction from the intake manifold, the new device uses a positive force generated in the combustion chamber and applied so as to pump fuel in direct proportion to the motor's need.

An excellent lubricant for doors and hinges is some linseed oil mixed with a small amount of graphite. Ordinary cylinder oil, which is more commonly used, has a tendency to run, which is not desirable at this location because the clothes of the passengers are likely to come in contact with it.

When the drive wheels of a car are locked through breakage in the differential or in the universal joint, the car can be placed in position to be towed home by removing the keys that hold the rear wheels to the axles allowing the wheels to turn freely.

After the dust has been removed, leather upholstery may be cleaned with a cloth soaked in a solution of ammonia and water. Castile soap and water are also used on leather, but gasoline should never be used because it tends to crack. The leather should be treated occasionally by giving it a light coat of linseed oil, thinned with vinegar. This solution should be applied with a cloth and be allowed to remain for a few hours, after which the upholstery should be wiped.

When a tire valve begins to give trouble it may be assumed in nearly every case as a practical certainty that dirt has worked into the valve and is the main cause for improper functioning. This being the case, the practical intention a motorist need give the valve, is to see that all dirt and dirt are excluded from the interior of the valve.

With the pressure oil systems, it is not considered good practice to run the engine with kerosene in the oiling system, as it is likely to cut the oil out of the bearings, and before the oil works along through there is danger that the bearings may become hot and be cut to pieces. After the oil has been drained and the crank case washed, make certain that the drain plug is replaced and tightened so it will not leak.

Owners of motor cars should realize that a storage battery is gradually discharging itself whether the car is in use or idle. The reason for this is that the electricity from a charged storage battery is due to chemical action of dilute sulphuric acid on its lead plates. This electro-chemical action begins the moment at which the electrolyte, or solution is put in, and the battery is brought into operative condition by electrical charge.

BANKER DECLARES AUTO ESSENTIAL

E. C. Stokes, former governor of New Jersey, who is now president of the Mechanics' National bank of Trenton, N. J., a member of the federal reserve system, has written the following letter to the United and Globe Rubber Company, of Trenton, N. J., as to his views on the automobile industry.

"As a banker, interested in the prosperity of the country and the necessary maintenance and development of an industry that furnishes employment and wages and thus promotes the general welfare of the masses, I beg leave to call your attention to the reported action of some of the federal reserve banks in classifying automobiles as non-essentials in the extension of credit.

"It might be well to call the attention of the banking fraternity to the importance of the automobile, not only as a factor in the necessary transportation facilities of the country, but as a contributor to one of the largest of our industries and a promoter of the happiness and morals of our people.

"It is a mooted question whether the automobile industry stands second or third in the country. If all the parts in connection therewith are included, it ranks second. What individual banker has a right to say, therefore, that an industry which by the common judgment of the people of this country has attained such proportions in our industrial life is a non-essential? Burke said you cannot indict a whole people. No banking fraternity or government has a right to say an industry of such size as the automobile industry, based upon the needs and requirements of the public, is unnecessary and therefore unworthy of credit.

"The automobile is of immense value to the nation as a promoter of the spirit of contentment and as an effective suppressor of the spirit of unrest. No owner of an automobile even though it be a pleasure car, who is able to enjoy its use for his family or his friends, is likely to become a bolshevist or a communist. He favors the continuation of things as they are because he has a means of happiness in his own possession, and therefore is against any upheaval of the present social order.

The father had one avenue of recreation, the mother another, the children another. Today our roadsides are crowded with family picnic parties, who carry their lunches with them and who take their outing as a unit. Any device that brings the family together as a unit in their pursuit of pleasure, is a promoter of good morals and yields a beneficent influence that makes for the good of American civilization. If every family in the land possessed an automobile, family ties would be closer and many of the problems of social unrest would be happily solved. The banker who says that a device of this kind is a non-essential possesses a narrow vision and fails to see the far-reaching influence it has for good.

IS THE MOTOR CAR A NON-ESSENTIAL?

Compilation of Figures Shows Time Saving of $3,750 Days Per Week.

Is the motor car a "non-essential"? We are hearing a lot of talk along this line just now, but let's stop and consider a few pertinent facts.

There are 2,250,000 motor cars owned by farmers in the United States. Supposing that each car saved its owner but one hour's time a week, compared with the old horse and buggy.

That would mean 2,250,000 hours per week, or a grand total of $3,750 full days of 24 hours saved to the farmers of the United States in these days of scarce and high priced farm labor.

Railway passenger service cars for suburban service out of large cities, and street car equipment in these cities is so inadequate as to make travel highly uncomfortable, due to overcrowding. Think what it would mean if the motor cars were suddenly withdrawn from service and the streets were placed on the public carriers.

And the restricted activity of hundreds of thousands of doctors who are able to care for many times the number of patients by reason of the quick means of getting about afforded by automobiles.

Applying the test in your own territory. Just consider how many business and professional men and farmers use their motor cars largely for business. Suppose that every car was withdrawn from service for a week or a month—just how would it affect the local situation?

We have no quarrel with the financial interests of the country who are trying to bring about a return to normal, but we do consider that only willful blindness can deny the automobile an important place in our business and economic life. Likewise it seems to us that any man who lists a motor car as a non-essential is forgetting or overlooking positive achievements of immense value to this country.

Over and over again it has been pointed out, and is being pointed out, that the motor car has been an immense factor in increasing real estate values because, as a unit of transportation, it has made possible the opening of new subdivisions which otherwise would have been too inaccessible to be profitable to the operator or successful from the standpoint of the busy, hard-working home owner.

To a large degree it has been responsible for developing the suburban idea which enables people of modest means to avoid the discomforts and enjoy the wholesome pleasure of semi-country life.

But most of all it has demonstrated its practical utility and its invaluable daily service in saving time and labor for both the farmer and the city business or professional man. Statisticians have shown that the increased value of farm land brought about directly and indirectly by the advent of motor cars and motor trucks is many times the total amount invested in motor vehicles during the past 10 years.

To picture what would happen if all automobiles suddenly ceased to be a subject that would challenge the imagination of our best writers. Certainly, at least, there would be an appalling slow-up of business life and a marked decrease in productivity at a very time in our history when our greatest problem is lack of production in all lines.

BENT RIMS DIRECT CAUSE OF RIM CUTS

Bent rims are a direct cause of rim cuts, of tires blowing from the rim, and of the breaking of the wire cables at the base of the tire. Often times motorists cannot understand why tires should "blow" when they are driving along slowly. The facts of the case are that the over-strained carcass has reached the limit of its endurance from previous abuse and has given away.

Many motorists, were they to examine the wheels on their cars, would be surprised to notice that their rims are bent along the edges. These bent rim flanges are ordinarily little thought of, yet they cause a goodly percentage of the trouble.

When the wheel hits a frog or a switch of a street car track or a hole in the road, there is a tendency to flatten the rim especially if the tire is under-inflated. The rim's support, however, is essential to the life of a tire. If it is bent so that it does not fit the tire and allows the side walls to bulge, the motorist may know that trouble is to be expected unless he takes immediate precautions.

By truing-up their rims, motorists, according to Miller Rubber company rim experts, may prevent much tire trouble. And half the pleasure of motoring is freedom from tire trouble. A good rule to follow is to have both tires and rims inspected fortnightly. When rim trouble is found, it may usually be corrected by careful tapping with a ball hammer. To guard against such a condition, keep out of car tracks and holes where the depression allows the weight of the car to rest on the rims. It is also advisable to avoid quick, slanting jolts of the wheels against curbs. Especially is it important to carefully cross intersections of car tracks.

BIG EXPORT GAIN SHOWN FOR YEAR

Canada Largest Automobile Buyer—Trucks Go to South America.

Net gains of 8 1/2 per cent in car exports and 50 per cent in truck shipments over the year 1919 are revealed in the totals for the calendar year 1919 compiled by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce from the monthly statements of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

The curve of increase fell off slightly during the latter part of the year, due to the exchange situation.

Heaviest gains for the American products were registered in the non-car producing regions such as South America, the Far East and Africa. The least progress was to be noted in Europe and Great Britain, where home manufacturers compete.

South America increased its demand for motor trucks over 100 per cent, absorbing 196 in comparison with 354 of the year previous. Passenger car gains in this section were also healthy, totaling 90,016 in comparison with 6,782 of the year before.

Canada was the largest purchaser, taking 3,822 cars, only a slight gain over the 1918 figure of 3,542. The truck imports from the United States jumped to 2,164 as against 1,596.

England led the field in passenger car gain, buying 5,150 automobiles from the United States compared with 398 of the year before. England's truck purchases, however, decreased from 2,029 in 1918 to 890 in 1919. The sale of army equipment accounts for the slump.

France and Italy are both restricting the American product, so that exports to those countries are falling off, but Belgium, Norway, Sweden and Denmark whose total purchases from the United States in 1918 were 108 trucks and 296 automobiles, increased to 1,807 trucks and 7,528 passenger cars during the past year.

Exports to Mexico went up over 100 per cent. The Philippines more than tripled their demand for trucks, and the shipments to the non-contiguous territories of the United States were six times as great as the preceding year in the truck field and seven and a half times in the passenger car line.

ATTENTION SHOULD BE GIVEN BRAKES

Cleveland is Equipped With Special Lining That is Proving Great Success.

"Most people when buying an automobile demand appearance and power. There is another point, however, which should be given careful consideration. That point is safety," says Henry Hagelstein, president of the Standard Motor Sales Company, Cleveland distributors.

"An automobile has but one safety device—the brakes. Appearance and power are assuredly important, but do not overlook the brakes when selecting your car, because the brakes are highly important, too.

"The engineers in designing the Cleveland car bore in mind not only appearance and power, but remembered safety as well. They know that complete comfort and satisfaction for the motorist could be realized only through an ideal combination of these three important things.

"A vital part of the brakes on any car is the brake lining, which gives the brakes their gripping power. The brake lining is not only subjected to a heavy strain, but it must also withstand the heat which results from friction when the brakes are applied.

"After careful tests and analyses, a material known as multibestos was chosen for the brakes on the Cleveland. The high quality asbestos fabric used in making multibestos, and the interlocking weave of this material, make multibestos highly resistant to heat, give it the maximum of gripping power, and assure long and dependable service.

"The punishment which brake lining receives will, of course, cause even the best material to wear after a time. However, most garages and repair stations reline brakes and very little time is lost in having them do so. It is the best plan when brakes are relined, to see that the same material is used as that which originally came with the car.

"It is interesting to know that the majority of America's automobile engineers have selected multibestos brake lining as standard equipment for their cars. This fact would tend to prove the wisdom of the Cleveland engineers in choosing this material for the Cleveland brakes."

An excellent way to save gasoline on the road is to keep the spark well advanced. Carelessness in this respect reduces the mileage of the car from 25 to 30 per cent.

CUT DOWN MILES REDUCE GASOLINE

Remedy is Suggested to Prevent Famine in Motor Fuel.

Gasoline supplies are increasing. The latest bureau of mines report shows that reserve stocks on hand at the refineries in March totaled over 628,000,000 gallons, and serves to offset some of the startling statements that have been made regarding the gasoline supply.

In fact, this gasoline scare has been largely psychological, in the opinion of the federal trade commission. The failure in certain North Texas fields upset some of the oil men and made an immediate shortage seem possible.

The year 1920 has begun fortunately, however, and there are a good many factors which point to increased production.

Refiners can get twice the amount of gasoline from oil by using the new "cracking" processes. The big mid-west companies using the modern methods are getting a 35 per cent yield from crude; but refineries elsewhere are getting only 12 to 22 per cent.

cent. The cost of installing the new processes will make the change slow, but if any absolute shortage should confront the market oil men say this means can be taken to meet it. This would mean an increase of 60 per cent in our present supply.

Mexico is another source of future supply which has been almost doubling its shipments to the American market every year. In 1919 the Mexican market shipped 52,662,000 barrels of crude oil to the United States most of it to the Atlantic coast.

David White of the United States geological survey sees infinite possibilities in oil obtained from shale, although this supply will not be tapped in great quantities until more machinery has been developed.

Motorists should continue to save gasoline, since the use of 7,500,000 cars in the country means that the action of the separate units may have a great influence on the total consumption. Motor vehicles are the heaviest users of gasoline, automobile consumption in 1919 being 3,167,654,400 gallons out of the total consumption of 3,808,390,649. It is estimated that a passenger car uses 300 gallons of gasoline yearly and a motor truck 1,500 gallons. Other users of gasoline are airplanes, motor boats, railway motor cars, farm tractors, stationary and portable engines, paint and varnish manufacture, cleaning industry, gasoline stoves and rubber manufacture.

The oil leasing bill passed at the last session of congress promises additional sources of oil. It is too early to say how much this formerly locked-up territory will yield, but much is hoped for from Wyoming and some sections in California. Major producers are making plans for drilling activity in these districts.

The world's deposits of crude oil total 60,000,000,000 barrels, according to estimates from the United States geological survey.

HUDSON SUPER SIX

100,000 Satisfied Owners Hudson's Greatest Proof

WE count all Hudson's famous records but a little thing beside the common trust and reliance of its 100,000 owners. Even new owners, who have but short actual acquaintance, share it.

Not merely because they drive the greatest of all the Hudsons. Probably they do not think of that. More likely they bestow their faith on what they have seen of the earlier Super-Sixes.

For they have five years of Hudson history and the observation of 100,000 Super-Sixes in service to vouch that their confidence is well-placed.

Such a test must earn a car the exact place it merits and leadership, if deserved. But equally it must expose any shortcomings if they exist.

Yet today Hudson's position is even farther in advance, in relation to the rest of the field, than when it startled the world by winning all important stock car records for speed, acceleration, hill-climbing and endurance, nearly five years ago.
