

AMALGAMATION OF LABOR AND THIRD PARTY IS PROBABLE

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE BOTH PARTIES FOR UNITED EFFORT IN POLITICAL MOVES.

LA FOLLETTE CONSIDERED LEADING CANDIDATE

Cheers for Soviet Russia and Ireland Whenever Reference Made To Them.

CHICAGO, July 12.—Amalgamation of the labor party of the United States and the committee of forty-eight in a new political movement with a single party name, one platform and one presidential ticket, are included in the recommendations submitted to the labor and forty-eight conventions when they reconvened today.

Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin remained the most talked of candidate in the presidential race. The terms of the proposed combine are understood by the party leaders to meet his views as expressed last week to Amos Pinchot and George L. Record, leading "forty-eighters," who called on the senator to ask if he would accept the nomination should it be tendered him.

Confidence committees appointed yesterday by the labor convention and Saturday by the "forty-eighters" smoothed out objection to amalgamation in a protracted session last night and adopted a series of recommendations to be offered to the two conventions today.

The recommendations, if approved today as the leaders confidently expect, mean that the two conventions will preserve their separate identity and continue to function in separate sessions, with sub-committees reporting identical measures to each for discussion and action.

What reception amalgamation proposal will receive from other liberal and radical groups now meeting here, only time can show. The single tax party, also in national convention assembled, is divided, according to expressions of various leaders, on the availability of Senator LaFollette as presidential nominee.

LaFollette can have nomination. The three party nomination he can have it, both forty-eighters and laborites agree.

Frank P. Walsh, Kansas City; Charles H. Ingraham, which manufacturer, and Henry Ford have been mentioned for the nomination, but there is no apparent concerted action to further the prospects of any one of them. Walsh is also being discussed for vice-president.

Yesterday was given over to the opening session of the labor convention, with delegates from sixty trade union groups and other organizations represented. The "forty-eighters" and single taxers, whose conventions opened Saturday, had recessed for the day, and practically all members who attended the labor convention, many participated as active delegates.

Prominent among those assuming a dual delegate role was James Duncan, one of the minority in the forty-eight convention Saturday, who on Saturday was elected chairman of the Washington delegation to the convention of the committee of "forty-eighters" and three chairs for Soviet Russia and Ireland.

The radical groups, who, according to Swinburne Hall, one of their leaders, were in the minority in the forty-eight convention Saturday, were in the ascendancy yesterday, and vigorously applauded when their leaders prayed for the day when the workers of America would follow the example set by the workers of Russia.

Every reference to Russia, and Ireland, too, was applauded with a will and when John Fitzpatrick, the labor keynote, praised the Russian revolution, three cheers for Soviet Russia were called and given.

The applause for Ireland and the Sinn Fein appeared to be more a tribute to the Irish themselves than an expression of favor for an Irish freedom plank, which friends of Ireland here are advocating, for there is a strong undercurrent of opinion in both conventions that the people of Ireland are going to do the people of Ireland a long time of working out their own destiny and at the present time they are very capable of doing that.

The committee of forty-eight platform committee granted a hearing to the Friends of Irish Freedom today.

FOCH INSTRUCTED TO BE READY POLES TO RED INTERVENTION

In Event Moscow Government Refuses Armistice Allies May Intervene, Is Report.

GRABSKI'S APPEAL FOR AID GETS ARMISTICE PROPOSAL

Poles Admit Resistance on Three Fronts Has Been Broken By Reds.

By CARL D. GROUT, United Press Staff Correspondent. SPA, BELGIUM, July 12.—Marshal Foch has been instructed to mobilize available allied forces for possible intervention between the Poles and bolsheviks in event the Moscow government refuses to accept the proposal of the conference here for an armistice. It was learned on good authority today that the "red" forces continue their advance into Poland, the allies will give every aid to the Polish troops behind the armistice line, fixed by the treaty.

Polish Premier Grabski, who made a strong appeal to the allies for such action, admitted that Polish resistance on the left, center and right had broken down and that it was a question of but a short time before the soviet armies might take Warsaw.

The allied armistice proposal was the result of Grabski's appeal for aid. The conference here will take no further action in the Polish situation until a reply has been received from the Moscow government.

The coal and reparations questions were to be discussed at today's meeting. The German delegation was to submit at 11 o'clock this morning. Lloyd George was confined to his bed with a chill.

It was stated that the allied and German experts had reached an agreement on most issues relative to coal deliveries, but that they could not agree on the total tonnage. The allies required 23,000,000 tons annually.

The German reparations note protested that Germany had already paid more than the 20,000,000 gold marks required by May, 1921. The Germans proposed that the total amount of reparations be spread over a 20-year period.

Favor Lump Sum. It was understood the allies now favor a reparations plan called for a lump sum, without interest. The German proposal will require considerable time for study by the allied experts and this will furnish the delay which the Germans sought before being forced to the people with the result of the reparations discussions.

The allied premiers approved the draft of the Turkish peace treaty, with slight modifications, which will be presented to the Constantinople government with an ultimatum demanding that the document be signed within 10 days of presentation. No important changes were made in the Turkish treaty.

The premiers also discussed the Danzig question. It was decided that transportation arrangements should be managed by a joint commission of Poles and representatives of the city of Danzig with a chairman selected by and representing the league of nations.

STATE PENITENTIARY SHOWS DECREASE IN POPULATION

AUSTIN, TEX., July 12.—Population of the state penitentiary decreased 47 during the month of June, according to the monthly report of the prison commission received today by the governor. On June 1, the total number of convicts was 2,220, now reduced to 2,173, returned 9, returned by sheriffs one, pardoned 49, escaped 20, died 2, delivered to sheriffs 3, paroled 13, on leave July 1, 2, 3, 1.

These, distributed as follows: Huntsville prison, 273; asylums, 24; on state owned farms, 2,208; on leased farms, 262.

BURKBURNETT THEATER MAN FINED FIFTY DOLLARS

BURKBURNETT, July 10.—In the trial today the jury upheld the mayor's action in the case against the Lyric theater and sustained him in the fine for $50 and costs for the manager for operating on Sunday. The operator, as an employee, was released. There are twelve other cases to come before the city court next week, and more, if the picture shows undertake to open tomorrow.

RAINBOW DIVISION HOLDS REUNION

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., July 12.—Visitors from all parts of the country are here for the reunion of the Rainbow (Forty-second) division, world war veterans, which was formally opened today with welcoming addresses, by state and city officials and the unveiling of two bronze tablets in memory of those who last their lives in the service.

The convention was called to order by Col. Benson Hough, national commander of the division.

MINE MEN RENEW ARGUMENT BEFORE COAL COMMISSION

CHARGE MONOPOLISTIC CONTROL AND PROFITEERING IN HARD COAL INDUSTRY.

OPERATORS OBJECT TO SUBMITTING SEVEN POINTS

Miners Say J. P. Morgan and Company Control Coal Industry of Nation.

SCRANTON, PA., July 12.—Representatives of the mine workers today renewed their argument before the anthracite coal commission for the admission in evidence of seven of their exhibits, which deal chiefly with alleged monopolistic control and profiteering in the hard coal industry.

The charges were included in a statement containing eighteen points or exhibits to the commission last week by W. Lett Lauck, but the operators objected to the submission of the seven points dealing with profiteering and monopolistic control, and the commission still has the question of their admission under consideration.

In their arguments today the mine workers admitted that the power and authority of the commission extends only to such companies as are formally submitted to it by the operators and miners, but declared it has an additional "implied jurisdiction," which is only limited by the public interest.

"Under this implied jurisdiction," the miners declared, "the commission may not be able to act directly, but it can nevertheless exert its power indirectly by advice or recommendation to specific agencies having direct power or jurisdiction."

No Direct Jurisdiction. "Obviously the commission has no direct jurisdiction over profits and prices of coal companies, or of rates and profits of transportation companies. There is one very important point in our evidence, however, which directly in line with the specific jurisdiction of the commission. One of the eighteen issues directly submitted to adjudication is the question of union recognition."

The predominant influence back of the steel corporation is the banking house of J. P. Morgan and Company. This same banking house is the predominant influence in the anthracite coal monopoly. The mine workers feel that if the matter of union recognition had been left to the local managers and officials, and independent operators with whom their representatives have come in contact in the anthracite field, the recognition of their union would have been an accomplished fact.

They believe that their failure to secure formal recognition has been due to absentee landlordism and the sinister influence of these extreme reactionary and irresponsible operators who have a real control of the labor policies of the anthracite monopoly. They wish to submit this fact to the commission and also make it known to the public."

ROOSEVELT AND COX HOLD CONFERENCE

COLUMBUS, OHIO, July 12.—Governor James M. Cox, Democratic presidential nominee, addressed several thousand men and women, most of them from Columbus, who gathered at the state capitol at noon today to greet him upon his first return to his office since his nomination at San Francisco.

It had been planned to hold the informal reception in the rotunda of the state house, but the crowd was so large that the speech was delivered from the steps of the capitol.

Reviewing his three terms as chief executive of Ohio, Cox declared he had "never broken confidence with the people of this commonwealth."

The governor said that it would be his purpose to "look to the sunrise rather than to the sunset."

"I have the deepest conviction that the guarantee of continued progressive government will be adopted by the people of the nation in the election of Mr. Roosevelt and myself and that it will be but an expression of the nation's confidence in the man who will lead the nation to the dawn of tomorrow rather than the twilight zone of yesterday."

After his brief address Governor Cox went to the station to personally meet his running mate, who planned to spend a few hours here while en route from San Francisco to Washington.

Governor Cox, the Democratic presidential nominee, arrived here from his home at Dayton this morning, prepared to resume his duties at the executive office. This afternoon he is to confer with Franklin D. Roosevelt, his running mate, who expects to stop off for a few hours en route to Washington from San Francisco.

The governor was accompanied from Dayton by former Congressman T. T. Anshery of Ohio, who yesterday arrived from San Francisco and gave the nominee his first hand information of the convulsion.

En route to Columbus this morning, the governor rode in a day coach and a number of passengers recognized and congratulated him. At the railroad station here the governor shook hands with a number of railroad men.

Returns to Capital. Dayton, OHIO, July 12.—Governor Cox, Democratic nominee for president, returned to the state executive office at Columbus this morning, where a reception awaits him. During the day he will have his first meeting with Franklin D. Roosevelt, the vice-presidential nominee.

RIVER MEN SEARCH FOR STEPHEN'S BODY

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 12.—River men were patrolling the Niagara gorge below the falls today in the hope of recovering the body of Charles J. Stephens of Bristol, England, who lost his life yesterday in an attempt to duplicate the feat of Mrs. Annie Edson Taylor and Bobby Leach by going over the cataract in a barrel.

Pieces of the barrel, which Stephens went to his death continued to float ashore in the eddy on the Canadian side, above the "Maid of the Mist" landing, until nearly midnight, but Stephens' body failed to appear. Experienced river men said it might be several days before it was released from the cross currents at the foot of the falls.

One of the barrels bobbed up through the spume, one by one, and were picked up as they floated toward the shore. The head with its sealing was intact, and the water had been told which part of the cask gave way first under the force of the 158 foot drop and the pounding of the water, but Bobby Leach declared it was too light.

Leach warned Stephens before the start that he was doomed to failure, but the Englishman was confident his cask was strong enough and refused to listen to Leach's advice. Efforts to start, but appeared very nervous afterward and refused to go down into the gorge where the barrel was expected to reappear.

"The steel body is the only kind," said Leach. "If I can have one made by July 25, the anniversary of my last trip, I'll duplicate it."

The cause of the accident is accounted for Stephens' failure is that the rampart of rocks at the foot of the falls blocked the passage and against it the barrel was pounded to pieces. It might have ridden out if the water had been high as it was when Leach made his trip.

Erosion at the crest of the falls has been comparatively rapid in recent years, the horseshoe shape which gave the cataract on the Canadian side its name, having slowly changed until it now is more the form of a triangle with the apex at the very center of the horseshoe.

This wearing away process has caused huge slides of rock. No observations have been taken to determine their location at the base of the falls, but a similar process on the American side indicates that the tendency is to throw up a ridge of rock just below the crest of the falls.

Stephens' barrel went over inside of the triangle nearest Canadian shore not far from which Leach made the plunge.

RUNNELS COUNTY FARMERS PLAN WAR ON JACK RABBITS

BALLINGER, TEX., July 12.—Runnels county farmers have suspended work to join in a wholesale war on jackrabbits. Drives against the pest have been going on for several years of the county. The rabbits were never known to be so numerous and estimated damages to farms growing cotton run from $5,000 to $10,000 daily, or $500,000 a year.

Local merchants are supplying ammunition at actual cost, while the townspeople are turning out to aid in checking ravages on the cotton crop.

PERRY IS EXPECTED TO RECEIVE PARDON

AUSTIN, TEX., July 12.—Confession of James Brown, alias Green Hunter, negro, hanged at Dallas last Friday in which he admitted having committed the crime for which Ben Perry, another negro, is now serving a life term in the penitentiary, was received today by the board of pardon from J. C. Minhert, district attorney of Brazos county, who took the confession in the presence of witnesses in the Dallas county jail.

District Attorney Minhert wrote that he was "quite sure that in making this confession the negro was telling the truth and that you will not require a formal petition from Brazos county before you recommend exclusive clemency."

The board of pardons will make a report to Governor Hobby shortly after his return to Austin and from present indications will be favorable.

CLEMENT REFUSE TO MAKE SUFFRAGE CALL

RITLAND, VT., July 12.—Governor Percival W. Clement today issued a proclamation refusing to call the legislature in special session to make possible ratification of the federal amendment for woman suffrage.

The governor's proclamation follows a conference recently held at Washington with Senator Harding at which it was understood the republican nominee for president discussed with him the possibility of having ratification completed by the republican legislature of Vermont.

In giving his reasons for refusing again to call a special session, Governor Clement said the proposed amendment clearly invades the constitution of Vermont, that the present legislature was elected before the question of ratifying the federal amendment had arisen, and that the people of the state have had no opportunity to express themselves on the issue.

The governor's proclamation asserted that "as it stands and is interpreted by the supreme court today, the federal constitution threatens the institution of free popular government."

The seventeenth amendment to the constitution, he said, had been lobbied through congress and state legislatures by unscrupulous and dishonest means and had been forced through by "powerful and irresponsible organizations, operating through paid agents."

"It is now proposed to force through the nineteenth amendment for woman suffrage in the same manner and also without the sanction of the freemen," Governor Clement said.

"I have been asked to overlook these considerations as a matter of party expediency, but this is a matter of principle, not expediency, and the party that invades a well established principle of popular government will suffer in the end."

LYLLOD FACES TRIAL CONSPIRACY CHARGE

Millionaire Communist, Charged With Plot to Overthrow the U. S. Government.

CHICAGO, July 12.—Lloyd D. Heth, making the opening statement for the state today in the trial of William Eross Lloyd, millionaire member of the communist labor party, declared he would prove that Lloyd and his assistants "advocated the overthrow of the government by force and the blowing open of bank and armories in order to secure money and ammunition to further the revolution."

Lloyd, who with 27 other members of the communist labor party, is charged with conspiracy to overthrow the government, advocated these things in speeches in Milwaukee and Chicago and at the convention in New York in June, 1919, where the left wing of the socialist party organized, Mr. Heth declared.

Mr. Heth declared Lloyd had publicly stated that he had more respect for the red flag than for the United States flag and that it was hopeless for the proletariat to gain power by the ballot. He further quoted Lloyd as saying that "only by revolution could the state be destroyed and it must be absolutely destroyed."

"The communist labor party has furthered movements to destroy the power of the state and government by mass movement, as was shown in the Seattle and Winnipeg strikes," Lloyd, who repeatedly urged that the state or present form of government be not captured but completely destroyed.

POLES DISPLEASED WITH ALLIED NOTE TO RUSSIAN REDS

PROPOSED ARMISTICE NOT FAVORABLE, HOWEVER, THEY WILL ACCEPT TERMS.

POLES TO WITHDRAW TO THEIR FRONTIER

Russians Continue Advance Against Poles on Southern Front Is Reported.

SPA, July 12.—The Polish delegation at the conference here is understood to be very dissatisfied with the terms of the allied note to the Russian soviet government proposing an armistice between the bolshevik and Polish armies. They feel, however, that they will be obliged to accept it.

Sunday's dispatches announced the sending of a proposal by the allies to the Moscow government for an armistice with Poland on condition that the Poles retire within the natural Polish frontier. It was set forth that the armistice would be followed by a conference of representatives of all the countries on the Russian border, and that if the bolsheviks attacked the Poles within these frontiers, the allies would come to the aid of Poland.

Polish Retreat. LONDON, July 12.—The following official wireless communication was received from Warsaw today: "The Poles, fighting bravely, retreated from the Berezina line, bolshevik forces were repulsed at Jena, but they occupied Smolowicz. Fighting continues in the neighborhood of Minsk. Southward on the Pripyet front, bolshevik detachments at Rovno momentarily re-occupying the city. All Polish war material was removed from Rovno."

In giving his reasons for refusing again to call a special session, Governor Clement said the proposed amendment clearly invades the constitution of Vermont, that the present legislature was elected before the question of ratifying the federal amendment had arisen, and that the people of the state have had no opportunity to express themselves on the issue.

"I have been asked to overlook these considerations as a matter of party expediency, but this is a matter of principle, not expediency, and the party that invades a well established principle of popular government will suffer in the end."

Further south the soviet forces are north of the Dnieper river and have occupied Novaya Ushakova, northward of Kamenets-Podolsk, the statement declares.

COAL OPERATORS PLAN TO CO-OPERATE WITH ROADS

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Leading bituminous coal operators of the country meet here today to consider means of co-operating with railroads to get the maximum open top car supply to the mines.

Coal can be mined, operators explained, only so fast as they get cars to haul the coal. The maximum open top car supply to the mines.

While proposals have been put forward here for revival of the United States fuel administration, operators believe that the interstate commerce commission with its present powers and with the help of the operators can handle the coal situation.

LEGISLATION PLANNED TO MAKE MEXICO BONE-DRY

MEXICO CITY, July 11.—Legislation making all Mexican "dry" is being prepared for presentation to the next congress at the office of Provisional President de la Huerta, says the newspaper El Universal.

"The provisional president has decided on this step," says the newspaper, "as a means of accomplishing the regeneration of the Indian and half-breed races, which are great consumers of alcohol."

TWO PERISH EFFORT TO RESCUE WORKMAN

MALLEN, TEX., July 12.—Two men lost their lives here today in an heroic attempt to rescue the other from a sewage disposal tank he had entered to make repairs. Domingo Sanchez was overcome at the bottom of the tank and fellow workers brought him nearly to the top when they lost their hold, and he dropped back. Romaldo Garcia, seeing his friend in danger of suffocation, thrust aside the other workers and descended to the rescue only to be suffocated. Both bodies were recovered with grasping hooks.

REPARATION PLAN OUTLINED BEFORE ALLIED PREMIERS

GERMANS SUBMIT PLAN TO MEET DEMANDS AND STABILIZE NATION'S RESOURCES.

PLANS ANNUITY TO COVER THIRTY YEARS

Germany Avert They Are Ready to Aid in Restoring Devastated Sections.

By Associated Press. SPA, July 12.—Prolongation of the Allies-German conference here for another day or two and possibly longer, seemed probable today because of the inability of the conference to reach an agreement over the question of coal deliveries by the Germans and the reparations plan in general.

The allied premiers following the meeting, countermanded the special trains they had ordered and it appeared that the conference would likely continue until Thursday at least.

The morning meeting of the premiers took the place of what had been expected to be a session for the conference. The Germans were at first informed that the full meeting had been postponed until afternoon, but later the allied ministers decided to invite the German premier, Foreign Minister Simons to meet them this afternoon in a restricted conference without the presence of the other delegates.

SPA, BELGIUM, July 11.—Germany can fulfill future engagements only if they are based on her financial capacity, said a statement outlining the conditions governing German reparations submitted to the allied premiers here tonight. The German budget must balance, the statement insisted, there could be no paper money in the floating credit system, and inflation that would neutralize her capacity to pay. There must also, it was asserted, be no diminution in the fundamental laws of German political economy, which are already much weakened.

Assuming that Germany's ability to pay is used as a basis, the statement said, the reparations plan should be expressed in annuities, the minimum of which would be fixed and the obligation to pay such annuities limited to thirty years. Stipulation was made that the minimum of the annuities be fixed, and therefore, comprise all obligations in money and kind, according to the value of the German political economy, which are already much weakened.

DR. KNICKERBOCKER ON SOCIAL EVIL

Pastor Urges Support of Commissioner Bralley in Effort to Clean Up City.

Dr. Knickerbocker's subject for the union services Sunday night centered around "The Midnight Morals of Wichita Falls." His sermon was but a part of an attempt to awaken public sentiment against local vice conditions and to rid the city of those sections known as red light districts.

The chief of police when asked by some one some time ago why he did not clean up the flats and rid the city of its professionally immoral women, replied, "It is too hard to get evidence. I protested that that shall be too thin. It does not take a world-wide person to detect the houses of sin in Wichita Falls. All one needs to do to get in-convicted is to walk through that section of our town where the women of the underworld are generally known to do business. The signs on the houses, the clothing of the women sitting on the porches and the marks of sin upon their faces are signs that are unmistakable."

"There are many who say that social immorality is a necessary evil and the maintenance of these segregated districts is the best way to handle the situation. To have that social immorality is a necessary evil is in the first place false philosophy. Nothing that is necessary is evil. If it is necessary, it cannot be evil. The Bible teaches us to abhor that which is evil and cling to that which is good. To talk of licensing immorality and the going into the business of immorality in the city of Wichita Falls is unexcusable and preposterous."

"The espousal of a red light district is a social blasphemy and an insult to every true hearted man in our city. If we license this business, someone must give up their daughters to fill the houses of ill-repute. Who will furnish them? This is the average life of a woman of this kind. That means it will take, in one generation, 100 of Wichita's girls to supply one beauty parlor. Multiply that by the number of houses that have been here and the result is appalling. It is a slander on God to say that as long as the world has been he had this evil. We will always have it, and the best way to handle it is to regulate it."

"That contention is false. How about the saloons? In spite of the unwholesome combination of numbers, more good fortune than bad was probably dispensed by Dr. West and his assistants. The summer peak of infant mortality begins the middle of July—now when the majority of infant deaths are due to gastro-intestinal diseases, and traceable to improper feeding. Miss Quinn is glad to help the mothers with the milk modification and other such problems."

"Cases of Two Young Girls. Dr. Knickerbocker cited two or three stories of young girls who have been arrested here in the last few days on vice charges. A fourteen-year-old girl who came here from Oklahoma City last week was arrested after a few nights of sin when put in jail and cross-examined by a kind-hearted officer she told her whole story. She had gone wrong a few weeks before and had come back because she felt there was "good pickings" in Wichita Falls. Her mother was wired and her answer came back "Hold baby, I am coming on my train." The pictures of this helpless child pursued by evil men is enough to rouse every good citizen of the community to intense purpose to clean the whole tribe of evil women and evil men. Dr. Knickerbocker asserted that a man who will get on the trail of a 14-year-old girl and rob her virtue ought to be hung. Imagine the grief of that mother when she learned the truth. "And the most grievous thing about the matter is," Dr. Knickerbocker said, "that the parents would prosecute the guilty man for fear of publicity. The parents did wrong for they should have put the man where he would have done no further harm, even though they themselves had to pay the price by having the public know of their disgrace."

"Another case was that of a 16-year-old girl who came to Wichita for the same reason, because she heard business was good here. Hell hounds were on her trail as soon as she reached the depot. She was arrested and gave in her profession the name of several prominent and respected business men of Wichita Falls—among those with whom she had had shameful relations. He said she was a prostitute."

Dr. Knickerbocker pleaded for a single standard of morality. "That alone will insure the safety of our women and our children. California has been giving a man who 'contributes to the delinquency' of a woman less than 21 years old, a penalty of six months in jail. God forbid that the day when we shall come to the place where we love purity enough to enact similar laws in our state."

Dr. Knickerbocker did not lay the blame for local vice conditions entirely upon the police. He commended some for the work they were doing. He pleaded, however, for an increased sense of loyalty and duty among any of the force who were lacking in zeal as they should be. "The safety of our very lives as well as property depends upon the loyalty of the police. This may be proved simply by calling to mind the recent police strike in Boston."

The preacher told the story of a Fort Worth policeman who killed a Dallas professional man for despoiling the policeman's motherless fifteen-year-old daughter. He commended the policeman and urged all officers to protect all homes as they would their own. Occasion was taken to commend Commissioner Bralley in his work and to stand behind and endorse him without reservation. "We should go after this situation and get in behind the men as hotly as we are after the women," he said. "When public sentiment grows strong enough against the male devils of vice, we will have a clean town, a town safe not only for Democracy, for which so many of us were willing to die, but also for our own homes and our children."

At the conclusion of the sermon the audience unanimously endorsed Commissioner Bralley and pledged him their qualified support.

JURORS FAIL TO APPEAR AND TRIAL POSTPONED

The trial of Ruby Taggart, charged by indictment with robbery by firearms, was again postponed Monday morning due to absence of jurors. An attempt is being made to secure alternate jurors and the trial will probably begin in the afternoon. The Taggart woman is charged with aiding in the robbery of two travelling salesmen here last February.

Two men, indicted in connection with the alleged robbery, have been tried and given penitentiary sentences.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

BUSINESS GIRLS CLUB TO OPEN Y. W. C. A. CAMP

The Business Girls' Club of Wichita Falls will open camp at the Y. W. C. A. Girls Summer Camp this week-end, and it is expected that there will be an attendance of twenty-five or thirty of the members. The club voted to open the camp at its last meeting before disbanding for the summer, and the young women are planning a big time for Saturday and Sunday, expecting to leave the city in autos about noon Saturday and return here late Sunday night.

Miss Davidson, the Y. W. Recreation Secretary, feels that the Y. W. has been especially fortunate in being tendered the Rod and Gun Club for the camp, as a more attractive spot, with better entertainment facilities, could not have been secured. There is a big swimming pool at the club, as well as a near-by lake, where the more ambitious swimmers may try their mettle. There are grapevine swings, too, and a large, open, and many beautiful shade spots for afternoon siestas.

HERE'S HOPING IT WON'T WASH OUT, MISS STENCIL

(Copyright by Underwood & Underwood)

Stenciled bathing costumes are said to be the latest fad from England. For real sport, it is probably that nothing will ever be found to replace the knit wool suits, but the satin and other out material suits are very attractive for "play" and parading. Stencil designs are very easily applied, and on such material would undoubtedly make attractive suits.

HOW SERVICE MEN CAN SECURE VICTORY MEDALS

The Victory Medal is a beautifully designed medal which is being issued to all soldiers and ex-soldiers as a mark of appreciation of their service in the World War. If you were in the army in any capacity between April 6, 1917 and November 11, 1918, and your service was honorable, you are entitled to it. To get it send your discharge certificate to the Army Recruiting Office, 1314 Main Street, Dallas, Texas. If you correspond with the recruiting office about the Victory Medal, mark your envelope Victory Medal. When you send in your discharge be sure to give your full and correct address so that your discharge certificate can be returned and your medal sent to you.

Amusements

At the Majestic. Comedy abounds at the Majestic (larger this week) and a rollicking good time is promised those who view the presentations. Viola Dana, in her latest picture, "Dangerous to Men" is the attraction for Monday and Tuesday of this week and, according to those who have seen the picture this opening feature is to be one of the best of the entire bill. The picture centers around an 18-year-old bachelor, who because of her ungainly and immature appearance has been termed an "ugly duckling." However, the bachelor himself from home on an extended hunting tour and during this time the ugly duckling essayed the role of queen swan of the pool, and succeeded beyond even her own expectations. When the lord and master of the household returned he found his ward in a mad whirl of social life, captivating the hearts of men with reckless abandon and threatening to wreck completely the dignity of the masculine of her acquaintance. The developments that follow as a result of her youthful audacity furnish comedy thrills by the yard and the unexpected ending gives a fitting climax to a fine picture.

At the Olympic. "The Forbidden Woman," featuring Clara Kimball Young, and which is the current attraction at the Olympic theater Monday and Tuesday of this week, is a story actually based on the life of a famous European prima donna whose name figured in the French and Italian newspapers for many months just previous to the outbreak of the great world war.

Xenore J. Coffey, authors of the story was at the time of the wide publication a resident of Naples, Italy. She was living at Bertolini Palace hotel, far up the side of a mountain just opposite Mount Vesuvius, and overlooking the bay of Naples. In an adjoining suite was a mysterious young lady, who was rarely seen at meals and who spent most of the days sobbing and crying on an iron balcony high up on the side of the building.

Miss Coffey, who was doing journalistic work inquired as to the identity of the young lady and was told that she was a noted prima donna principal in a case then occupying public attention over all the continent, that she had not been retired from public life but was sacrificing a most promising career in opera. Miss Coffey, through the usual reporter's method, secured an interview, won the confidence of the beautiful singer—and "The Forbidden Woman" was the result.

Even today, if one should pass along the Piazza Amodeo, far up toward Vomera, hundreds of yards above the lovely city of Naples, and pass the house opposite Pension Pinto overlooking the bay, this self same sad girl grown older and more beautiful, still hiding from an intolerant public. Clara Kimball Young, as the young release was given as fine a role as could be found for her talents, and the resulting picture is one of the finest that this popular star has ever produced.

No motion picture stars of the past generation have enjoyed such a popular rise into popularity as Thomas H. Ince's co-starring team of youthful prodigies, Douglas McLean and Boris May. The two established themselves firmly in the film firmament as the result of their very first picture, "Twenty-three and a Half Hours' Leave" and their later productions, "Mary's Ankle" and "Let's Be Fashionable" have only served to increase their universal popularity. This latest picture is appearing at the Empire theater Monday and Tuesday of this week.

It is a breezy comedy, with the scenes laid in a California summer resort and the stars figuring as a young married couple of limited means, who are trying to keep up with the fashion set by their more opulent neighbors. Their efforts land them in a laughable

BULLINGTON MENTIONED AS REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

The name of Orville Bullington, well known Wichita Falls attorney, is being mentioned by Republicans as their candidate for congress in the Thirtieth district. Mr. Bullington's nomination is favored by County Chairman O. P. Maricle, and other republican leaders here and it is probable that Wichita county Republicans will designate the district congressional convention.

There is much sentiment among Republicans in placing a county ticket for the coming election. It is said even, that some well known Republicans are willing to have their names go on the ticket as candidates.

County Chairman Maricle has called a district mass convention for the afternoon of Saturday, July 24, at which delegates will be named to the county convention to be held in Wichita Falls July 27. It will be definitely decided at the county convention whether a county ticket will be nominated.

MARSHALL TO HANG FOR MILLER MURDER

JACKSON, MISS., July 12.—The state supreme court today affirmed the sentence of death in the case of Charles Marshall, convicted of the killing of Bob Miller and three members of his family at Amory, Miss., and setting fire to their home. Marshall will be executed August 20. In reviewing the case the court characterized the crime as "one of fiendish brutality, unparalleled in the criminal history of the state."

The chief witness against Marshall was Pearl May Miller, 14 years old, only survivor of the Miller family. She testified she saw Marshall enter the house late at night when the victims were asleep. She hid behind a door and then crawled into the victim's room, she said, she saw Marshall kill her father, brother, sister and an infant of the last named, and said to be Marshall's own child. The first three were shot to death and the child was killed by a blow on the head as it crawled across the floor. Marshall, she said, then poured kerosene oil about the house and set fire to it.

EX-TAMMANY CHIEF CAPABLE OF HANDLING BIG ESTATE

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., July 12.—Richard Croker, 59, former Tammany chief, is not mentally incompetent to handle his own financial affairs, Circuit Judge E. B. Donnell ruled today in dissolving a temporary injunction granted March 29 to Croker's sons and grandsons.

The long drawn out contest followed suit by Howard Croker as "next of kin," alleging Beulah Croker, young wife of the aged politician, had gained immense gifts and deeds from Croker's estate through improper influence. Costs of the litigation must be borne by Howard Croker, the court ruled.

AMERICAN LEGION DENIES CHARGE MADE BY HAINES

HOUSTON, TEX., July 12.—The state executive committee of the American Legion in session here today repudiated charges of H. H. Haines, general manager of the Galveston Commercial Association, that Argonne post officers were the guests of the Children's Swine Breeders' Association. While there they visited the leading hog farms and heard lectures by leading swine breeders of this section. The Herring National Bank and the Waggoner National Bank have each contributed $100 to send Demonstration Agent Tidal on the trip of the Texas Farm Boy Special, to accompany the Wilbarger boy who wins the trip on the special. The expense of the boy will be defrayed by the Chamber of Commerce, and money for the trips have been sent in, and competition among the club members has been in anticipation of the trip, which will be 4,000 miles around the United States, visiting the important cities.

Sensitive? Are Your Teeth

Does it hurt to bite into an apple or something hard? Some teeth are so unusually tender, they are so sensitive to heat or cold. Some are even affected by the acidic juice of a lemon or grape fruit, or peculiar, deep-seated sensation. That's serious, dangerous, the very symptoms of pyorrhea. 85 per cent of all adults become victims of this insidious disease.

Use Pyrox, at once. You should have done it long ago—when the gums just started bleeding—but it isn't too late. No ordinary remedy will eradicate the poisonous, germ-laden pus which washes down at the tooth-roots. Pyrox can't penetrate. Pyrox destroys the germs—restores the gums—preserves the teeth—disintegrates tartar. Harmless to healthy tissues, dentine or enamel. Endorsed by leading dental authorities. Dispensed and guaranteed by Rexall Drug Store.

DE LUXE PLANT BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

Damage amounting to several thousand dollars was caused by an explosion of gasoline at the De Luxe cleaning plant, 214 Scott street about 2:45 Monday afternoon. The accident occurred in the cleaning room located at the rear of the plant and fire which followed the explosion practically destroyed the building and equipment of the cleaning department. The cause of the explosion has not been determined and officials of the concern are at a loss to explain the cause of the trouble. Quick work by the local fire department doubtless saved the remainder of the buildings near the scene of the fire from destruction, for within a few minutes after the explosion the interior of the cleaning room was a mass of flames that threatened to spread to surrounding structures.

Several men were in the room at the time of the explosion, but fortunately none were seriously hurt. One man was reported to be burned about the face and arms but this was not confirmed and it was stated that his burns would not prove serious. The loss of the plant and equipment is entirely covered by insurance.

BOBBY JONES LEADS IN GOLF TOURNEY

MEMPHIS, TENN., July 12.—Bobby Jones of Atlanta, southern champion, set a new record for the Memphis Country Club today by completing the opening 18-hole round of the qualification test of the amateur championship tournament of the Western Golf Association in 59 strokes.

Condon made the 18 holes today in 75 and up to the time the Atlanta player finished was setting the pace for early starters in the tournament qualification round.

Jones paired with James Ward of Kansas City, took 37 to negotiate the first nine holes. After the turn, however, his playing was sensational, par golf for the entire nine, giving him the score that set the new low mark for the course.

Ward took 38 for the 18 holes.

The former turned in early this afternoon including Clarence Wolff, St. Louis, 75; Ed Limberg, St. Louis, 78; George McConnell, Chicago, 80; H. G. Reiner, Chicago, 80; Frank C. RUBY TAGGART GETS FIVE YEARS IN PEN Woman Pleads Guilty to Highway Robbery Charge in District Court.

Ruby Taggart, a young woman apparently less than 25 years old, drew a five year penitentiary term Monday afternoon following her plea of guilty to a charge of robbery with firearms. The young woman is alleged to have aided Pete Gonzales and a third companion named McBride in the hold-up of two traveling salesmen here last February. Gonzales drew a seven year penitentiary term when tried here a few days ago while McBride was tried at Sherman and given a ten year sentence and later tried at Fort Worth and given a ten year sentence there.

Ruby Taggart entered a plea of guilty and asked for the minimum penalty. She wept when the jury retired from the room to discuss its verdict. The young woman made a full confession to the crime which was presented to the jury.

TRUE BILLS VOTED AGAINST WANDERER

CHICAGO, July 12.—Two true bills charging Lieutenant Carl Wanderer with the murder of his wife and a stranger whom he used as a dupe, were voted today by a grand jury.

The bills will be returned before Chief Justice Crow later in the week.

It was decided not to return the bills immediately, police said, so as to give the state attorney's office more time to clear up certain details of the case. Chief of these are identification of the murdered stranger and the police theory that Wanderer's alleged infatuation for a 12-year-old girl may have been the motive for the crime.

The girl, Julia Schmitt, and Wanderer both maintained today that they were "merely friends" and that no love affair had existed between them. Miss Schmitt, after being questioned by the police, was released.

Wichita Falls' Plumber Now Praises Orgatone

A. H. McClellan Feels That He Has Taken a Load off His Back—Suffered Six Months.

A. H. McClellan, one of the best known plumbers, who resides at 364 Fifth street, Wichita Falls, Texas, comes forward with his unqualified endorsement of Orgatone.

"Not in years," said Mr. McClellan, while in Young's Drug Store at Wichita Falls recently, "have I enjoyed such good health or felt so well generally as I do since I began taking Orgatone. Four bottles of this treatment have done me more good than all the other treatments and medicines I have taken combined."

"At the time I began Orgatone my stomach had been in a bad shape for at least six months. My food would invariably sour and I would suffer from gas and indigestion. I was also in a badly 'down condition,' suffering from constipation and my nerves were up-set so I could not get sufficient sleep or rest."

"Well, I just tried everything, but nothing helped me until I got Orgatone upon the advice of my friends who were very enthusiastic. Before it had done in their cases. Before I took Orgatone myself I didn't believe half of what they were saying about it, but I had n't been taking it but a few days until I was convinced of its value. I can eat just anything I want without the slightest trouble from it. Orgatone has not only set my stomach right but my entire system is in fine shape. In fact, I just feel like I had been given a new lease on life and I feel that I owe it to the public to tell what it is that brought about such a wonderful change in my condition. I am no longer surprised that so many people are praising Orgatone for it certainly is a great treatment."

Orgatone is "not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Wichita Falls by the Miller Drug Store exclusively, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative."

SENATE COMMITTEE TO QUESTION GOLTRA

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—When the Senate Committee investigating presidential campaign expenditures reconvenes in St. Louis within the next few weeks, Edward F. Goltra, democratic national committeeman from Missouri will be closely questioned concerning the part he played in having an alleged $150,000 fine assessed against the Hostetter Bitters company of Pittsburgh, re-mitted.

The committee, according to a member of the investigating staff, is anxious to know whether the interest Goltra displayed in the campaign to nominate Attorney General Palmer for president at the democratic convention can be traced in any way to the fact that the attorney general's office at the time the fine was remitted sustained an opinion to the effect that should the case be re-opened it was doubtful if the government would win.

FURTHER KEY RATE REDUCTION SOUGHT

FIRE MARSHAL M'CLURE THINKS SAVING OF $18,000 ANNUALLY MAY BE OBTAINED.

3-CENT REDUCTION IS ALREADY OBTAINED

This Will Save Insurance Payers in City at Rate of About $6,000 Annually.

Within sixty days there is a strong probability that Wichita Falls will be given an annual saving of approximately $18,000 from fire insurance credits received as a result of fire department improvements here. Fire Marshal Woodruff this morning, J. L. McClure, fire chief of the city, states that as soon as all the new equipment is in service, and all structural improvements are completed, he will ask for a re-inspection of the city and the granting of a credit of 10 cents on the key rate of fire insurance.

The state fire insurance commission on Saturday granted a reduction of three cents in the key rate. This reduction means, in every-day English, that the average citizen unfamiliar with the intricacies of computing insurance will understand that the insurance premium on all mercantile property will be reduced three cents on every one hundred dollars; and one and one-half cents on all dwellings, churches, schools and public buildings. The average rate on all Wichita Falls property is estimated to be about 11 per cent. Insurance premiums on all property here will approximate $400,000 in 1920. The reduction in the key rate, as a result, will make an average credit of 31 per cent, or a saving of about $6,000 annually.

If total credits of 10 per cent are obtained, an additional $12,000 per annum will be saved, making a total of $18,000 saved to the citizens of Wichita Falls through the medium of a modern fire department, and an approved fire marshal ordinance.

Especially approved. An estimate of the amount spent by the city in providing the proper protection against fire loss will show figures approximately as follows: Fire alarm system $21,600 New motor equipment 26,000 New hose 8,000 New fire stations 25,000 Total $80,600 With a saving through credits of $18,000 yearly, the expense of the city's up-to-date fire protection system can be wiped off the books in less than five years, while a possible estimate can be made of the value of the system from the standpoint of human safety and property protection. Chief McClure's letter to the state fire marshal follows: "With great pleasure I note by the newspaper articles today your comments on the key rate reduction for the city of Wichita Falls, of which I am city fire marshal.

I wish to state for your information that for the past ten years my duties have always brought me in close touch with the state fire insurance office and in particular with Mr. Wallace English as well as most of the higher officials of the Austin office. It has always been a pleasure to work with these gentlemen and I am now desirous of working with and for you as the new state fire marshal in the same spirit and co-operation as I did with Mr. English, hence wish to have you know that within the past year, our city has made some very desirable and needed improvements and for which we will in the near future ask for further reduction in our key rate.

The following are the improvements and additions referred to: Addition of ten men to the fire fighting force, one 75-gallon pumper, one combination chemical and hose auto truck, one combination auto hose and turret nozzle truck, 7,700 feet additional fire hose (Eurek and Paxton), two additional fire stations, 22 additional fire hydrants, a complete Gamewell fire alarm system of 100 fire alarm boxes, six circuits with automatic 3-inch whistle, 3-inch automatic fire whistle for calling the "off duty" men or while going and coming from meals. Another special advantage in having this whistle is that while I am making inspections and carrying out fire prevention suggestions, I will always be aware of alarms no matter where I am at the time of the alarm.

"For a city of the size of Wichita Falls, I believe we are now 'up-to-date' in every respect and, thanks to the members of the present and last administration I am revising the most hearty co-operation and support in my efforts to have our fire department right up to the top notch in every respect.

"As soon as all the above apparatus and equipment is in service, (which I expect to be within a month to sixty days from date), I will ask that you have a re-inspection of our city made and that we be given the desired 10 cent reduction and credits for the improvements made which have cost the city a considerable amount of money to install."

MURDER COMPLAINT FILED AGAINST STEVE UNFRIED

Steve Unfried, a cook at the Midway cafe in the Texhoma oil field, is charged by complaint filed in Justice R. V. Gwin's court with murder. The complaint is in connection with the death of James Cooper, a blacksmith, who died in the Wichita General hospital Saturday following a gun fight in the oil fields late Friday.

Unfried waived preliminary hearing and his bond was fixed by Justice R. V. Gwin at $5,000. It is understood that Unfried claims that he shot Cooper in self-defense.

WESTERN UNION TO USE NEW SYSTEM IN PAY FOR ITS MESSENGERS

The local Western Union is perfecting an elaborate system of messenger wage. It pays for telegram delivery according to the zone of distance to which it is carried. The old system of $2c a message sent out or brought in worked an injustice in that the boy sent into nearer territory had the advantage. The boy who "stood in" with the branch manager or delivery clerk was too often given a "loaded" route. The zone system, by paying the boy perhaps 7 cents for a message to an outer zone and only 11 cents for each additional message in the same neighborhood, divides the day's spoils evenly among the staff.

The pay per message is raised successively at the end of three months, six months and a year. Pay for vacation week, or two weeks if there has been two years or more service, is figured on the average of the preceding months.

The commission wage plan, rouses a boy's ambition by registering and rewarding special effort. He is never less than $12.00 per week at the start. If he has personality and salesmanship he goes on bringing in new trade for his company and swelling his own salary until such time as he is either graduated to higher planes of authority and responsibility in the telegraph company or is appropriated by some other branch of the greedy business world.

It is a fact that business offices use them as a sort of employment bureau, snipping up our messengers sometimes before they have been in service a half day trusting to the telegraph company's investigation of their past record.

The company will furnish uniforms, raincoats and rubbers, besides keeping them mended, cleaned and pressed free. It provides shower baths, soap and towels, necessities. Since allowing typewriters are furnished and also telegraph apparatus to practice on, with which "bench time" can be utilized to advantage. Regular instructions during company time in telegraph and business English is under consideration as part of a future schedule.

Such intricate matters as when and where hats should be removed are dwelt on and drilled. "Being a messenger is an unenviable position in some of manner; constantly meeting new people breaks down the half-grown lad's awkward self-consciousness, the wide variety of his day's business contacts in broadening the outdoor exercises in builds up his physique" according to Mr. J. F. Nathan, general superintendent of the New York district of the Western Union, and he should know because he began his successful telegraphic career at the messenger level.

SPECIAL SESSION OF GRAND JURY PROBABLE

A special session of the grand jury will probably be convened the latter part of the present week to investigate a large amount of criminal business left unfinished by the last grand jury which adjourned the latter part of June, it was announced on Monday by County Attorney John Davenport.

It is understood that grand jurors who served on the regular panel last month will be called on to serve during the special session.

There was no criminal case on trial in the 20th district court Monday due to the fact that sufficient jurors to complete a panel were not present. The case of Ruby Taggart, charged with highway robbery, will probably be called Tuesday.

County criminal court will convene on Tuesday. More than fifteen cases are set for trial during the present week.

Case settings for Monday in the 20th district court were: Ruby Taggart, robbery with firearms; H. O. Doup, felony theft; J. H. Warren, felony theft; Willie Thomas, forgery; Cecil Japan, burglary; Anderson Lancaster, Cecil James, and George Brown, burglary.

Case settings for Tuesday, July 13: Ben Tucker, felony theft; Sylvester Crumblay, felony theft; Walter K. Sarna, felony theft; Pontagny, alias Peary, given name of defendant unknown to state's attorneys; felony theft.

Settings for Wednesday, July 14: Roy Lanier and Louis Newtown Carroll, felony theft; Ed C. Wilson, forgery.

Settings for Thursday, July 15: Don Sanders and Frank Smith, felony theft; Jim Leamon, H. F. Scott, and Jack Baker et al, robbery with firearms; G. L. Gilbert, felony theft.

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK AT ELECTRA TUESDAY

Three joint debates between district and county candidates are scheduled for Tuesday afternoon at Electra. B. D. Sartin, candidate for county judge, will divide time with Judge J. P. Jones, a candidate for re-election; Judge Edgar Scurry will debate with Ed Napier, his opponent for judge of the 75th judicial district while R. F. Johnson will meet F. G. Swanson, the latter two being candidates for the legislature from the 101st district, composed of Wichita and Wilbarger counties.

BUTTERNILK, STRONG DRINK, ACCORDING TO FEDERAL PROHIB. ACT

Buttermilk, that famous old drink long held up as a model along with deep well water and grape juice by ardent prohibitionists, Monday received a terrific blow. Chemical tests recently conducted by federal officials in the East have disclosed "ripe" buttermilk contains at least three per cent of alcohol and is prohibited under the Prohibition Enforcement act.

County and federal officials read with amusement the report of the New Jersey chemist who declared that buttermilk was "strong drink," according to Congressman Vesthead and Colonel Bryan of Nebraska but immediate action is expected. In fact John Davenport, county attorney, let it be known that no immediate campaign against "aged" buttermilk would be launched at the "present at least" and soda dispensers would not be "pinched" for selling the famous old daily beverage over the fountain.

LAST DAY CANDIDATES CAN PAY ASSESSMENTS

Today is the last day for county candidates to pay their assessments and get their names on the official ballot. Candidates or their representatives will draw for places on the ticket this afternoon.

THE ILLITERACY DIGEST.
 By C. F. C.
 Speaking of Cox's intention to appoint a "dirt farmer" as secretary of agriculture, if the democratic candidate is elected president, a local paper carries the headline: "Nominee to Appoint Real Agriculture as Secretary."
 And, we suppose, he will appoint a real treasury as secretary of state; a real state as secretary of state; a real interior as secretary of the interior, etc. "Poor old English language, you have to take a lot of punishment in these reconstruction days."
Death Was Nothing to Him.
 Major who went over the Horseshoe falls of Niagara in a barrel, and was killed, had eleven children. Which may account for his calm disregard of death.
 Eleven suits of clothes to buy.
 And food, "n everything."
 It can't be done on one man's pay—oh, Death, where is thy sting!

Just Folks
 By EDUAR A. QUEST
DUTY.
 I shall have done my duty here on earth.
 If I have lived up to the best I know, if I have tried at times to be of worth and gladly done the little I could do.
 I think I need not fear God's judgment then.
 If only I have kept my record clean. Have daily walked among my fellow men.
 And played the friend wherever I have been.
 I need not have great deeds of which to boast.
 Nor point to splendors gained by but the few.
 If I have kept the faith and held my peace.
 I shall have done what I was born to do.
 There is a deeper pride than strength or skill.
 A greater glory than earth's fleeting fame.
 This is the triumph of a steadfast will.
 An honest heart excels a blazoned name.
 If I shall live up the light I own.
 Shall keep the faith when tempted and assailed.
 I need not tremble at the Great White Throne.
 Though men on earth may say that I have failed.

WHY?
 IS THE FRENCH FLAG RED, WHITE AND BLUE?
 (Copyright, 1920, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)
 It was during the early days of the French Revolution that a young leader of the people, named Desmoulins, popularized the fashion of wearing cockades as a distinguishing mark by plucking a twig from a nearby tree and sticking it into the front of his hat. It took but a few moments for his followers to do likewise, and when the lawless procession commenced its wild march through the streets, the trees had been stripped practically bare. A short time later when the citizens formed themselves into the National Guard they substituted ribbons of red and blue—the colors of the city of Paris—for the twigs which they had been wearing as marks of identification.
 It was La Fayette who added white, the Bourbon color, to the red and blue cockade in order to symbolize the union of the king and the people, saying as he did so: "Here is a cockade which will make a tour of the world." Later, when the present French flag was officially adopted, the same colors were retained.
 Tomorrow—WHY is the musical scale called "Do-re-mi?"
 Illusioned day, she suddenly realizes that she is getting too old to enjoy the color of the world. Of course one is never in all one's life as old as the year that one is a senior at high school or college. Saturday, since there is no one in one's little world older or more important than oneself and one's mates. Nor does one ever feel so much as if one had gotten to the end of the things as the ancients did, and leaping off into space. Getting married isn't half so final.
 Some Interesting Discoveries.
 Another interesting milestone is that which one reaches the day that one discovers that 25 isn't middle age after all. And then, a little later comes the day when one finds that one does not feel at 40 at all the way one supposed people felt when one's father and mother were 40.
 And then the time when one realizes that "50 is really the prime of life."
 When one is young one has a subconscious idea that there is to come a time when one will suddenly know that one is grown-up, and then a time when one will pass the boundary line into middle age, and finally a time when one will be conscious of being old. We hear a great deal about the bright hopes and dreams of youth—and yet I think there are some ways in which life is even better than youth visions.

SENATOR JOHNSON AND WEST TEXAS.
 The Times is in receipt of an article for publication from George W. Dixon, president of the Houston Press Association, evidently written in the interest of the candidacy of Lynch Davidson for lieutenant governor of Texas. The article directs attention to "A. Johnson's statement that he is 'running on his record' and that recalls that while in the state senate that Mr. Johnson introduced a bill to divide the state of Texas and to create a new state to be called the State of Jefferson out of the 25th, 26th, 28th and 29th senatorial districts. Mr. Dixon's article concludes:
 "Are the sons and daughters of Texas willing to divide our grand old commonwealth with her proud heritage of heroism, with her Alamo, her Goliad and her San Jacinto? Shall we take these from the pages of Texas history and transfer them to the history of the State of Jefferson? Shall we teach our children the history of Texas, or the history of Jefferson? These are questions that every Texan, proud of our history, should ponder well. The question is not to be looked upon lightly. The effort to divide has been made by Johnson, and may be made again by him."
 It is true that Senator Johnson did introduce a bill to divide the State of Texas and to create a new state out of West Texas to be called the State of Jefferson, but as the Times remembers it his bill was more of protest against the neglect of West Texas by the state government than it was a serious attempt to divide the state. West Texas reveres the traditions of the Lone Star state as greatly as any other section of this imperial state, but it wants to be a part of Texas in fact as well as in name and the people of this section are ready to protest in unmistakable fashion the neglectful manner in which the section has been treated by the remainder of the state. Senator Johnson's bill called attention to a situation that had too long endured. It resulted in some attention to this section but the state is still receding in its duty. This much, at least, can be said concerning Senator Johnson, he has worked year after year for recognition for West Texas.

GOOD WORK BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
 In the opinion of the Times one of the best pieces of work the Chamber of Commerce has ever done here has been the inauguration of the block party movement by which many thousands of Wichitians have become acquainted with each other. The lack of neighborhood in Wichita Falls has always been one criticism on the part of visitors and newcomers that could not be successfully contradicted. The block parties have gone a long way toward encouraging neighborhood and the movement has just started.
 Having fostered a movement to help Wichitians get acquainted with each other, the Times is glad to learn of the plan of the Chamber of Commerce for a survey to make Wichitians and others acquainted with Wichita Falls and its territory. There is much about Wichita Falls and its surrounding territory that will be interesting not only to the people of Wichita Falls but which will help get others interested.

BRYAN'S DISAPPOINTMENT.
 A Times' staff correspondent who is now on the Pacific coast after attending the democratic national convention says that the question most frequently heard is "What will Bryan do?" Bryan opposed the nomination of Cox. Bryan's several amendments to the report of the platform committee were voted down by overwhelming majorities. It is natural that Bryan should feel somewhat disappointed and even sore. But he is too good a democrat not to support the ticket. The platform adopted by the convention was progressive and as far as it went must have been thoroughly in accord with Bryan's views. The only trouble with it from Bryan's viewpoint was that it did not go far enough.

Third Party Committee Subside.
 The opening of the convention of the unnamed third party was featured by "three cheers for Soviet Russia." Even the Bull Moose party when it broke from the fold had more sense than to pull a bone like that.
He's Missed a Lot.
 From "the downy swamps of Texas there floats a gem from the lustrous throat of a yellow scribe, who opines that "skirts are shorter now than ever before."
 Brother Moulder of public opinion, have you just discovered the upward trend of events?
What is a Flank Anyway?
 "What has become of the home that used to have a flank upon the side board?" "The home is still there, but the flank is in a safety deposit vault."
What's in a Name?
 Strange how the accident of birth gives some folks names utterly un-suited to their later lives. "Princess" is a name that a man named Sumnerhouse, while only recently we read of one Goodrich being taken to a paupers' home.

Seeing Stars.
 Some bird says "it is written in the stars that Cox will be president." The only lesson gleaned from the stars by some people is through the medium of a piece of Irish confetti.
A Brief Biography.
 "Where is the boy whose mother used to stick a pin in his breeches to keep him awake in church?" queries a fellow paragon. "Don't know, unless he grew up; made a fortune as a profiteer; bought the lot on which the church stood, and tore down the church to make room for the erection of a motion picture theater."
Couldn't Face Their Friends.
 Negroes disappeared after voting the republican ticket in Georgia, testified a negro politician. It doesn't follow, however, that they were hanged; perhaps they were just ashamed of themselves.

Establishing Dangerous Precedent.
 Reverend Dr. Gwynne is seeking legislation against divorces re-marry. Such legislation, we believe, could be proven unconstitutional in this country; it is most un-American.
Golfers Only Will Get This.
 The caddies at a big country club were given a dinner by members of the club. Servings were generous and food was plentiful. The little boy stuck faithfully to the use of his knife throughout. At the conclusion of the meal, another caddy pointed to him and yelled:
 "Hey, fellows, look at Jimmie; he went all the way round with his iron!"

 Yesterday afternoon I was setting in the barber chair getting my hair cut and trying not to be around so much on account of the barber telling me not to and all of a sudden I saw the fellows run past out in the street yelling like the boys:
 "Gosh, G. holey smoke, there's going to be a fit, G. wiaz, Jimminy Kris-mas, I want to see it, aint my hair too long?"
 Not half, said the barber, and I said, "O well, that's enough, you don't have to cut any more off, do you?"
 There's no way to compel me to, said the barber. Meaning he didn't, and I said, "All right, here's the money, I don't want to miss any of the fit." And the barber took the thing from around my neck, saying, "Next time you can just pay me when you come in, so I won't have to bother about cutting any off at all."
 Being a workman, and I quick ran out in time to see the last end of the fit, being between Puds Simkins and Leroy Shooster and both claiming they won it, and I got home supper was half throo already, and I sat down, and pop sed, Well for the love of Peet and all the little Peets, yee gods, wat happened to my hair?
 Sir, I sed, and ma sed, Benny Potta, I never saw such a site in all my life, was it a cyclone or wat?

Wich I got up and looked in the sideboard mirror and hear my hair was all cut on one side and not on all the other side, looking like a freck in a side show, and I had to go to the barbers agen before skool this mornin' and he charged me all over again, and I sed, I got home supper was first time and I haff to pay for it. Side Talks
 By RUTH CAMERON
DO YOU REMEMBER THESE MILESTONES?
 Isn't it a startling experience when for the first time you find yourself saying of something that happened within your memory, "Why, that must have been 25 years ago."
 There is something so authoritative and mouth-filling about 25 years when you first find yourself speaking of it as a part of your existence, you feel yourself in a class with the oldest inhabitant. It is a serious moment, and yet not altogether a sad one—for to compensate for the fight of years, there is a sense of added experience and importance.
 Life is full of such milestones, from the momentous day when one is five and ripe for scholastic experience, on.
 Sixteen is a Milestone.
 Sixteen seems to stand for something very definite and final in a girl's life. I do not know whether it seems so much to the male sex or not. All through one's childhood one visions oneself as a real young lady at 16. Then 16 to 20 seems to be the very climax of life, and one fancies that what will come after will be rather an anti-climax.
 Twenty-one, on the other hand, seems to mean more to a boy than to a girl. In the past, at least, a man's coming of age has meant so much more than a woman's. A girl's sixteenth or eighteenth birthday usually has more stress of celebration laid on it, and a man's twenty-first birthday is rather a State of Nipal Milestone.
 Another milestone in most young women's lives is one that is not marked by any birthday, but by a state of mind. It is the moment when, for the first time, a college student seems young and callow to her. For years the college student has seemed a sort of young demigod to her, a person of vast wisdom and experience, and she has unconsciously expected that he will always be like that. But as the age of the college student remains stationary while hers advances, a strange thing happens—she catches up with him, she passes him, and then, one dis-

 "The stars incline, but do not compel."
 (Copyright, 1919, by the McChure Newspaper Syndicate)
 Monday, July 12, 1920.
 Astrologers read this as a most unfortunate day. Uranus, Venus, and Saturn are all evil aspect.
 Men and women are subject to influences that incline them to misunderstandings and dissensions. Both the home and business associations are affected by this planetary away.
 Something like competition and rivalry between the sexes may develop during the coming weeks when sensational incidents are forehadowed.
 Romances of every sort have a sinister rule, for the stars today make for deception and treachery.
 The lure of sentiment may be felt by persons of advanced age as well as by the young. Many marriages of elderly persons are foretold.
 This is not a lucky day for making new friends. While flirtation is encouraged by the away of the stars there will be sad disappointments where possible lovers are involved.
 Tendencies leading toward popular uprisings appear to be emphasized by this positioning of the stars and riots are foretold.
 Stars supposed to rule the teeth may cause much pain during this configuration which is exceedingly bad for neuragic conditions.
 A new pastime as unusual as that supplied by a toy supposed to be the medium of prophesy will engage attention during the late summer.
 The seers declare that the gregarious instincts of Americans, which are responsible for a growing lack of originality in thought and action, will be changed by new conditions of life now foreseen.

WHY?
 IS THE FRENCH FLAG RED, WHITE AND BLUE?
 (Copyright, 1920, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)
 It was during the early days of the French Revolution that a young leader of the people, named Desmoulins, popularized the fashion of wearing cockades as a distinguishing mark by plucking a twig from a nearby tree and sticking it into the front of his hat. It took but a few moments for his followers to do likewise, and when the lawless procession commenced its wild march through the streets, the trees had been stripped practically bare. A short time later when the citizens formed themselves into the National Guard they substituted ribbons of red and blue—the colors of the city of Paris—for the twigs which they had been wearing as marks of identification.
 It was La Fayette who added white, the Bourbon color, to the red and blue cockade in order to symbolize the union of the king and the people, saying as he did so: "Here is a cockade which will make a tour of the world." Later, when the present French flag was officially adopted, the same colors were retained.
 Tomorrow—WHY is the musical scale called "Do-re-mi?"
 Illusioned day, she suddenly realizes that she is getting too old to enjoy the color of the world. Of course one is never in all one's life as old as the year that one is a senior at high school or college. Saturday, since there is no one in one's little world older or more important than oneself and one's mates. Nor does one ever feel so much as if one had gotten to the end of the things as the ancients did, and leaping off into space. Getting married isn't half so final.
 Some Interesting Discoveries.
 Another interesting milestone is that which one reaches the day that one discovers that 25 isn't middle age after all. And then, a little later comes the day when one finds that one does not feel at 40 at all the way one supposed people felt when one's father and mother were 40.
 And then the time when one realizes that "50 is really the prime of life."
 When one is young one has a subconscious idea that there is to come a time when one will suddenly know that one is grown-up, and then a time when one will pass the boundary line into middle age, and finally a time when one will be conscious of being old. We hear a great deal about the bright hopes and dreams of youth—and yet I think there are some ways in which life is even better than youth visions.

WHAT WILL BRYAN DO? IS QUESTION

Commoner Did Not Want Cox And Was Plainly Sore Over His Nomination.

By W. C. EDWARDS
Times Staff Correspondent.

PORTLAND, ORE., July 10.—After San Francisco the delegation scattered for their return trips, most of them going via Los Angeles and a few of the larger trips via Portland and Seattle. Coming this way are delegates from Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Iowa, Idaho, Washington, the Dakotas and other states. They have talked much politics as a matter of course and generally forecast success for the ticket in November, although there are some who confessed they cannot see it that way.

What is Bryan going to do? is a query on men's lips and one that so far remains unanswered except by surmises, which are about equally divided between "he will" and "he won't." There is no question but that the great Nebraska—his was given the greatest personal ovation of the convention just before his minority planks were overwhelmingly voted—was "sore." He has said nothing publicly one way or another regarding his future intentions, but in his pre-convention statements, he was very strong, not to say bitter in his exhortation of Governor Cox, and it remains to be seen if he changes that attitude.

Today's papers carry a story that Governor Cox will enforce all laws, which obviously is intended to convey the idea that he will enforce the Volstead act so long as it remains on the statute book—which means we think for a long time, and that statement seems to have been inspired by a desire to reassure the "dry" forces and head off any campaign against him among the independent "dry" votes. The statement seems to be well received among "dry" delegates, who realize that "dry" state delegations like Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Iowa, Nevada, Virginia, Florida and Georgia were as much responsible for Cox's nomination as the "wet" delegations from New Jersey, New York, Illinois, Rhode Island and Massachusetts. It was the defection of a very dry state, Georgia, indeed, that broke the back of the McAdoo forces on the forty-third ballot and resulted in the Cox landslide in the forty-fourth.

Cox Stronger in East.
Western delegates say that while McAdoo would have been much stronger west of the Mississippi, they believe Cox will be the stronger in the east, and it generally is admitted that the democracy must get its votes this year in the east and solid south. But confidence is expressed that it can do just that and that with New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Maryland, Rhode Island, Ohio and Indiana backing Cox, few more electoral votes outside the South will be needed to insure democratic occupancy of the White House for another few years.

Governor Cox is a genuine progressive democrat. He is for the League of Nations, for the Federal Reserve system, the Farm Loan Bank, for Federal Suffrage, and all the other planks in the progressive democracy's platform. His administration has been responsible for very many great progressive laws now on the statute books of Ohio. Those who know him best are those who supported him the strongest and while he did have the support of Tammany and the Edwards forces in New Jersey, his dry supporters assert, in agreement with truth, that he never supported him, not that they loved him more, but that they loved McAdoo less;

In a sentence, that they were out to beat McAdoo with the best material available and that the Ohio governor was that.

Portland is a beautiful city in a wonderful fertile valley—the Willamette. The valley is fifty miles wide and 200 miles long and it looks like the best black land in Texas. Visitors were given a ride over the city today and this afternoon on the famous Columbia vine driveway, which for scenic beauty is unsurpassed.

Good Roads on Coast.
One of the bright features out here is the good roads. One can drive from San Diego, Cal., to Seattle, Wash., a distance of probably 1400 miles, and be on the paved roadways 90 per cent of the distance. The remainder of the road is at least graded for the most part and this country is filled with automobile tourists from all parts of the country, drawn there by the scenery and the good roads. The state and counties co-operate in the construction and it is of semi-peonment type with the best location possible regardless of the initial expense. Grades, tunnels and trestles contribute to make trans-mountain construction very expensive, but these folks are so sure that they are worth all they cost, that they are still voting more bonds for the lateral roads leading into the main highways. They are all "boosters" for the Pacific northwest and they unquestionably have a lot of things upon which to base their enthusiasm.
