FORTY-EIGHTERS AND LABOR PARTIES UNITE

MINERS INSIST ON RIGHT COLLECTIVE BARGAINING PLAN

PRINCIPLES AS LAID DOWN BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IN 1912 INSISTED ON.

UNALTERABLY OPPOSED TO OPEN SHOP PLAN

Operators Deny Minimum Rate of Unskilled Labor is $6.00 Day.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 12.—Adherence to the fundamental principles of collective bargaining as laid down by President Roosevelt's anthracite strike commission of 1902 and re-affirmation of every man's right to work without reference to membership or non-membership in a labor organization, were insisted upon here today by the anthracite operators before the anthracite coal commission appointed by President Wilson to arbitrate the differences between the operators and mine workers.

Unalterable opposition to the principle of the closed shop and its proposed accompaniment, the check off, was also placed in the record and figures were presented to show that under the present wage scale the annual earnings of anthracite mine workers have more than kept pace with the increase in the cost of living.

These points were collected in the first formal reply presented to the commission in answer to the 18 demands of the mine workers for readjustment of wages and working conditions.

This is believed to be a record between the harvest field and the stomach.

MINSK CAPTURED BY BOLSHEVIKI FORCES

All Night Battle Force Poles to Retire From the Town of Minsk.

SPA, July 12.—The Russian Soviet government had not replied up to this afternoon to the request of the allies that an armistice be arranged with Poland. The message was sent by wireless to the Soviet authorities through the British government, because of the relations already existing between Premier Lloyd George and the Russian Bolshevik minister of trade and commerce.

Ludmila Grabski, the Polish premier, is due to arrive in Warsaw today from his headquarters in Berdiansk. The Polish military authorities have informed the allies that they can put into the field an army of 1,000,000 men, but that they need 400,000 rifles, 5,000 machine guns, 1,000 field guns and armored cars and tanks, together with a great variety of munitions.

WANDERER'S MOTIVE PUZZLE THE POLICE

CHICAGO, July 13.—Further efforts to the police to establish definitely the motive which caused Lieutenant Carl Wanderer to slay his wife and an unidentified stranger, attempts to identify the stranger and to find a woman in the case, if there be one, led to further questioning of Wanderer today.

To this end two true bills charging Wanderer with the murder of his wife and the stranger will not be returned until later in the week, they said, so that the state's attorney's office will have more to clear up the case. The true bills were voted by a jury yesterday.

It was believed today that a mental test taken of Wanderer soon after the murders will be used in court in the event that he gets a change of heart at the trial and makes a plea that he committed the crime at the time of the murder, the police said.

The physicians who examined him said they had not fully concluded their test, however, but they had decided so far that Wanderer is sane and that his motive for the crime is still a mystery.

Police Sergeant John Norton said that throughout the inquiry into the murders at every turn they were confronted by Wanderer's love for money and his desire to return to the army.

Wanderer's letters, from those of the ex-lieutenant's letters. From those and from his friends, police say, they learned that he had many friendships with girls, some of which ran concurrently with his married life.

ATHENS, TEXAS, BANK ROBBED OF $100,000

ATHENS, TEX., July 13.—Two men held up the Athens National Bank at 1:00 o'clock this afternoon, obtaining from $5,000 to $10,000 in cash and Liberty bonds estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000.

The men drove up to the bank in an automobile and herded the office and employes into a vault. Two citizens who entered while the robbers were at work were also locked in the vault.

After helping themselves to the cash and Liberty bonds the men drove away. A posse immediately was formed and at last reports were in pursuit of the robbers.

The dawn of a new era, said the senator, has brought out changes which have confused the march of progress and obscured the principles upon which the nation was founded.

COLUMBUS, O., July 13.—A vigorous stump campaign to be waged in all sections of the country until the eve of the elections will be started by James M. Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt shortly after August 15, the two candidates have decided.

Thurston, New Yorker and his Chicago friend, McBride, was planned by Pedro Gonzales the Comanche Indian and "Slick" McBride the Indian right-hand man, both of whom have since drawn long prison terms.

During its separate session the committee of 48 voted to recommend a platform plank for "public ownership and democratic control of transportation, including stockyards, large abattoirs, grain elevators, terminal warehouses, pipe lines and tanks." The "democratic control" by workers and their representatives was a labor party demand.

Harry Neuberger of New York, discussing this plank in the 48 session, said: "We may not be able to grab the entire earth at this time, but we can take a step in that direction."

BOLIVIA IN THROES OF BIG REVOLUTION; PRES. GUERRA AND CABINET ARE PRISONERS

By Associated Press. LIMA, PERU, July 12.—A revolution has broken out in Bolivia, according to dispatches received here today from La Paz. The government, headed by President Jose Gutierrez Guerra, has been overthrown and the president and members of his cabinet have been made prisoners.

Newspapers here, in commenting on the news, say the revolution is a "crushing defeat of the pro-Chilean policy pursued by the Bolivian government, and vindicates the community of interest existing between Peru and Bolivia."

Jose Gutierrez Guerra was elected president of Bolivia, May 7, 1917, the government which has been overthrown was formed on March 15, 1920. Bautista Saccedra was formerly minister of Public Instruction, having been appointed to that office Aug. 13, 1920.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY IS END OF JOY RIDE

NEW LONDON, July 12.—Bernard Geisler, chauffeur, who authorized his wife to drive a car, shot and killed Mrs. Arthur De Cordova, wife of his employer, on a lonely road near Stonington, Conn., then shot himself last night, died in a hospital here early today.

The shooting came as a climax to what authorities said was apparently a joy ride.

The body of Mrs. De Cordova was found lying beside an automobile in which the couple had been riding several hours. Geisler's body was across a barbed wire fence nearby with a bullet wound in the temple. Between the two was an army revolver.

Farmers who had seen the two during the afternoon said the auto was being driven at a high rate of speed. Examination disclosed a half filled bottle of whiskey and many cigarette stubs in the machine.

Valuable jewelry and cash were found on Mrs. De Cordova's body. She was spending the summer at the Hotel Griswold with her two children, a boy and a girl 15. Her husband brought the family here early in July.

The chauffeur came here with his family. He is married and has three children. He had been driving the De Cordova family for two years. The couple left the hotel early in the afternoon.

The first known of the affair was when a party of autoists passed along the road.

Geisler did not recover consciousness before he struck Mrs. De Cordova. Mrs. De Cordova was struck by two bullets, one going through her heart and coming out her shoulder blade and the second striking a corset stay, glancing and lodging in her left side.

Geisler's Wife Frostrated.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Arthur De Cordova, member of New York broker firm, whose wife was slain near New London, Conn., last night, left here today for the scene of the shooting.

Detectives say De Cordova had expressed great faith in his chauffeur, Bernard D. Geisler, who was found in a dying condition a short distance from Mrs. De Cordova's body.

Mrs. Geisler was prostrated when she heard of the shooting. She said she had received a letter from her husband since he went to the summer resort with the De Cordova family. This was a short note written Sunday, she said.

After shooting Joyce, Rice fired at Mrs. Margaret Ribest, 27, and missed. He also fired at Smith but his aim was wild. A policeman hearing the shots rushed toward the automobile. A surprise for the bride-elect was a miscellaneous shower included in the entertainment, first intimation of which was given in a reading by Mrs. Ora Carlton Dickey, "Just Her Way," which was very much enjoyed. The conclusion of the reading was the tendering of congratulations to Miss Robertson, and the information that her "washing" was in the hall. After the shower, refreshment punch was served, and later in the evening the guests were invited to partake of ice cream and cake. FEW APPEAR BEFORE BOARD TO PROTEST

Few property owners harassed the members of the board of equalization today. Apparently the board has been more than reasonable in its review of the 1920 tax renditions, judging by the small number of complaints made.

ABOUT 75 CITIZENS APPEARED BEFORE THE BOARD YESTERDAY, BUT ONLY 12 COMPLAINTS WERE MADE, THE BIG MAJORITY BEING MERELY SATISFIED WITH THE RENDITIONS. TAX REDUCTIONS WERE MADE IN A FEW CASES, WHEREIN PROPERTY OWNERS WERE ABLE TO SHOW A LACK OF MODERN IMPROVEMENTS IN DWELLINGS—THIS INFORMATION NOT BEING AVAILABLE TO THE EQUALIZATION BOARD AT THE TIME THE REVIEW WAS MADE.

A GENEROUS PERCENTAGE OF THE BOARD'S VISITORS STATED THEY WERE THOROUGHLY SATISFIED WITH THE RENDITIONS AS MADE—AND EACH MEMBER OF THE BOARD DECLARED TODAY HE HAS NOW LOST ALL FEAR OF BEING LYNCHED!

FOOD AND SANITARY DEPARTMENTS BUSY

Nearly Four Hundred Inspections Made During June—900 Pounds of Meat Condemned.

Nine hundred pounds of meat were condemned during the month of June by the city food department, according to a report submitted today to M. O. McDowell, commissioner of public health. The report, which covers the work done last month by both the food and sanitary departments of the city, shows that officials of these two departments were very busy "on the job" in protecting Wichita Falls from any possible spread of insanitary conditions.

Citizens have shown a commendable spirit in meeting the requests of the sanitary and food departments, Dr. Douglas, city chemist, stated this morning. Practically 90 percent of the requests for improvements were complied with, and the cases were comparatively few where arrest and punishment became necessary.

The report follows: Sanitary Department Inspections in answer to complaints, 98. Voluntary inspections, 354. Quarantines and fumigations, 75. Written orders for correction of conditions, 132.

Food Department Inspections of food establishments, 224. Inspections of dairies, 22. Cattle tested, 6. Food products condemned (meat), 900 pounds.

Laboratory Bacteriological tests, 121. Chemical tests, 71.

SANITARY INSPECTION OF FACTORY DISTRICT

A thorough inspection of the factory district was ordered by the city sanitary department this morning, following the development of two new cases of typhoid fever in that section. Dr. J. C. A. Guest and Inspector W. A. Miles were ordered to investigate the district, and to issue orders for the construction of the pit type of dry toilets wherever a sewerage system is lacking.

At the Empress. Douglas MacLean and Doris May are said to keep up the high quality of their screen offerings in "Let's Be Fashionable," which will be the attraction at the Empress theater today. Beginning with Mary Roberts Rinehart's "Twenty-Three and a Half Hours Leave," this youthful pair have set a pace for clean, careful comedy that it would be hard to equal.

"Let's Be Fashionable" is the story of an attractive young married pair of limited means who try, with laughable results, to keep up with a fast society crowd at a summer resort. In the end, they agree that it is better to be happy than fashionable. But before they are disillusioned, they furnish lots of fun in their comical efforts to keep up the pace.

HOLIDAY'S AVERAGE AS INTERPRETER TAKES SLUMP

That "college Spanish" is not the lingo of the peon who's sometimes arraigned before the bar of justice here, was disclosed Tuesday when a fiery Latin from south of the Rio Grande failed to "comprehend" the "highbrow Castilian" as used by Sam Holiday, assistant district attorney, who acted as official interpreter in county criminal court. Holiday learned his Spanish down at the University of Texas and is able to carry on a conversation with the de la Huerta type of Mexican but the Chihuahua lingo is "something entirely different," according to the assistant district attorney.

A Mexican laborer, whose dialect is a cross between Yaqui, Aztec, Maya and a few other forgotten languages of the Southwest, appeared before Judge Guy Rogers of the county court at law for the purpose of pleading guilty to a charge of petty theft, officers thought. After about forty minutes of gestures, fiery declamations and other terrific rhetorical onslaughts the Mexican "conveyed" to Holiday that he did not want to plead guilty to the crime but instead was entirely innocent of all charges. Holiday's average as an official interpreter suffered a loss of several points as a result of the affair, while Pedro went back to the county bastle to "think the matter over."

DETECTIVES FOIL ATTEMPT TO STEAL AUTOMOBILE AND ARREST SUSPECT

Dr. J. C. A. Guest still owns an automobile today—thanks to the prompt action early this morning of Capt. Fox, night chief of detectives, and Detective W. S. Johnson. Also John Joplin is occupying a one-room furnished apartment in the city hall, rent free, and has confessed that he "almost stole the car."

Dr. Guest was awakened at 2:00 o'clock this morning in his home at 1801 Eleventh street, and saw two men pushing his machine out of the garage. He promptly telephoned police headquarters. Capt. Fox and Detective Johnson reached the neighborhood a few minutes later, and found the car a block from the physician's home, with two men working over the lock.

One of the men escaped, but Joplin was "nabbed" by the detectives. Half an hour later another automobile was stolen in the same block. From the car was found in a ditch near Graham, Texas. It is believed that Joplin's companion stole the second car to make his get-away from Wichita Falls. Joplin gave the name and description of his confederate to the police, and officers in near-by cities have been notified. Stamps for sale at the Times office.

ONE MAY LEARN TECHNIQUE FROM MASTERS, BUT GENIUS IS INBORN, SAYS JASCHA HEIFETZ

HE IS REGARDED AS VIBRANT PROOF SOME ARE BORN TO HIGH POWERS.

HEIGHTS ONLY FOR ELECT

Unless Gift is Implied Result Will Be Failure, Heifetz Contends.

BY JANE DIXON
Master of the violin, and a boy, Jascha Heifetz, nineteen as the clock swings, is acknowledged by critics in the world's four and far corners to be the marvel fiddler of his day.

More than any other current artist, he is a vibrant proof of the fact that genius is born, and born again in the making. The violin is a fairly difficult instrument as those who have flirted with its sensitive organism will attest. It may be a hideous howling thing to insult our ears and unravel our nerves, but it is a symphony of the spheres singing their exultant song to all creation.

Jascha Heifetz, nineteen, draws his magic bow across the breast of his fiddle, and from the heart of it draws such pulsings as smiles and sobs are made of.

What would this youthful artist, who has met already firmly planted on the peaks of fame, have to say of the nativity of genius?

"I went to M. Heifetz on the eve of his departure for England, where an elaborate and exhaustive concert tour, such as would daunt the courage of many an artist of equal note, has been prepared for him, and as eager and as unaffected as an ordinary healthy young animal on the eve of a great adventure."

"To play the violin!" he exclaimed. "Ah, that is a gift, to be sure. What else? One plays it or one does not. One who does not, but insists on trying—he is an abomination."

"Exactly," he echoed enthusiastically (one of the amusingest things he has done is to play directly across from my window). "He ought to be etherized."

"Perhaps," M. Heifetz compromised. But his smile said as plainly as words that he believed in playing while you work. The musical grind becomes a musical mechanic. A violin must reflect our emotions, and we cannot reflect joy, happiness, sunshine, unless we have known it.

Some one close to M. Heifetz confided to me a few personalities regarding the Soviet fiddler. "He plays as intensely as he fiddles. He is devoted to the modern dance. He enjoys parties, theaters, sport."

Recently in San Francisco his manager failed to persuade him against taking a flight over the Golden Gate in an airplane, though his grip occurred only an hour before his concert. The manager thought his star might be unstrung by the experience. "No, no, no," exclaimed M. Heifetz. "I will feel better after a sail through the bay. I will go. There is no time like the present."

He went, and he gave one of the best concerts of his tour.

A proof of the largeness of his born genius is its total lack of follies of temperament. M. Heifetz practices an hour or two hours a day, as he deems fit. He is painstaking about his practice. Nothing short of perfection will satisfy him. He is his own most severe critic, and next to himself in this direction is his father.

He is likewise a splendid sample of the fruit of concentration, for during a record of twenty concerts in New York city, covering a period of three years, he has not once repeated a single number except by request. His memory, through musical medium, otherwise it is as good as lost. But the gift itself—that is fused into his very being at birth.

JASCHA HEIFETZ.

At the age of six I played practically everything in violin literature. My work now was to perfect, to deepen, to broaden, to grow.

"I was born a fiddler. So in every violinist who has achieved any lasting degree of fame. With the violin, as with every musical instrument, this native ability must be harnessed. The possessor must learn to express his soul of music through the written notes, through technique, through musical medium. Otherwise it is as good as lost. But the gift itself—that is fused into his very being at birth."

My father the most diligent practitioner of the violin, was he! He seemed never to weary of the mousing.

VACATIONISTS SWARM RESORTS ON LAKES, DESPITE HIGHER RATES

BY United Press.

CLEVELAND, O., July 12.—Travel on the Great Lakes this summer is surpassing all previous records. Dozens of steamers, jammed to the gunwales with tourists, ply their way up and down across the lakes to scores of islands, beaches and summer resorts, most of them already awarming with cottagers and those on vacation bent.

By the end of the rather brief lake travel season, close to 500,000 persons will have answered the lure of the lake, according to H. A. Semler, manager of the Akers, Folkman, Lawrence & Co. water travel agents here. His figures are based on the number of lake steamers available, their capacity and the reservations made.

Semler reported a ceaseless stream of men, women and children flowing in on the offices of all lake navigation companies. They come from all parts of the country and from many parts of the world. The confirmed globe-trotter, he reports, has turned from European travel to exploring the more summer resorts dotting and bordering the lakes. Persons who heretofore spent their moments of leisure and recreation in the mountains or at the seashore, are clamoring at the various lake ports for steamer accommodations.

Special lake trips are widely popular. Trips of from one to two weeks in length are attracting the greatest number. The cost of travel has gone up about 25 per cent over last year. A week's trip can be made at a trifle over an average of $10 per day per person.

Several companies offer a week's tour of the lakes for $72.50 per person. Their boats touch a dozen ports, with brief stopovers at points notable for their historical or recreational attractions. One Canadian line offers a trip 1,000 miles in length, with stops at the principal Canadian cities on the lakes. Another specializes in trips of 1,600 miles.

Semler attributes the present great popularity of the lakes to the increased earning of the average person, the overcrowding of ocean liners, deferred vacations, a natural swing from land to lake resorts and the attractiveness, comforts and reasonable cost of lake tours.

is motherhood. But many women face the ordeal of maternity without sufficient preparation. At such times and later—the mother should take a vegetable tonic, sold by druggists and known in almost every home as Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Thousands of women have testified as to its efficacy as does the following:

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.—"After becoming a mother I had displacement from getting around too soon. I suffered for three years and was bedfast part of the time. I was so nervous I could not sleep and what little food I could eat did not nourish me. I doctored and took every medicine my friends recommended to me but did not get any better. Finally, the doctor himself advised me to try Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and three bottles restored me to perfect health."—MRS. FANNIE GOINS, 1307 Hays Street.

COX AND ROOSEVELT WILL VISIT WILSON

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Gov. James M. Cox and Frank D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidates for president and vice president, will confer with President Wilson Sunday at the White House. Arrangements for the conference were made over the long distance telephone today by direction of the president.

President Wilson, it was said, took the initiative in arranging for an early meeting with Governor Cox and Mr. Roosevelt and today directed Secretary Tumulty to talk with the governor on the telephone and find what day would best suit his convenience. Democratic leaders had not expected Governor Cox to visit the president before August.

Reports that the president and the nominee were apart on the league of nations question was said by leaders to have influenced the president in arranging for a speedy meeting. It was said that the president had kept in close touch with early campaign developments and was "anxious to do his part." Some administration leaders indicated that he would throw his weight into the fight and might make a statement from time to time.

On the other hand White House officials declared the president's course would be determined by the advice of the national committee.

Meets Sunday.—Gov. James M. Cox, Democratic presidential nominee, announced today that he will hold a conference with President Wilson at the White House at 12 o'clock next Sunday morning. The announcement was made following a telephone conversation between Governor Cox and Secretary Tumulty.

The Future of Metal Furniture.—An expert on fireproofing processes recently said that he believes the steel furniture industry, now in its infancy, offers an unlimited field for development. "In some lines such as desks, safes and shelving the potential market is enormous and the surface has hardly been scratched. There is no question that steel equipment will eventually be cheaper than wood. Quarter-sawn oak a little over a year ago sold freely at about $18 per foot, and the price today is about $22, which is forcing the wood people to use substitutes, which tend to make their product of poorer quality. Lumber is not a product that can be taken out of the ground, as is evidenced by the fact that 38,000,000,000 feet was cut last year, and the estimated growth only 10 per cent of that. It will unquestionably become more scarce as years go on, while steel will become cheaper. I consider our business, therefore, as an industry business sound."

To Reorganize Bank.—TOPEKA, Kan., July 13.—A plan is under way to reorganize the Hanover State Bank. It was stated by Walter E. Wilson, state bank commissioner, today, when informed of the statement made at a board meeting by August Jandicke, Jr. He said that bankers outside the state are back of it. Information has reached the banking department that friends of Jandicke are prepared to furnish any amount of bond which may be demanded for his release pending trial.

VERNON MAN CHARGED VIOLATION VOLSTEAD ACT.—Nathan Youngkin of Vernon was arraigned before United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz on a charge of violating the Volstead act. He is charged with selling Jamaica ginger for distilling purposes. Youngkin waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the November grand jury in bond to the extent of $250 which he made.

Thank God, It Isn't Twist!—CHICAGO, July 13.—Emerging from a committee room, where leaders of the committee of 48 and the American labor party had just effected an apparent agreement to form a new political party, after a seemingly certain division into two groups, James Magill chortled: "The baby is born! "I would go to bed at night and would sleep, but apparently it did not rest me for I would get up just as tired as when I went to bed. I got so I could scarcely go a block but what I would have to stop and rest."

"I have taken a full course of six bottles now and am just feeling real good again. LINERS REPORT BIG HORDE OF SHARKS

WASHINGTON, July 13.—As the "open season" for sharks approaches, South American liners arriving in New York report the sighting of these sea monsters, a fact which lends interest to the following communication to the National Geographical Society by Dr. Hugh M. Smith, a world-famous authority on fish.

"When giant fishes are mentioned most people will at once think of the shark, among which, indeed, are found the largest fish now existing," writes Dr. Smith. "Of the many species of sharks noteworthy on account of their size there are about half a dozen which are pre-eminent. These differ much in their disposition, some being as harmless as doves and others the incarnation of ferocity."

"The sleeper shark (Somnolus microcephalus), whose scientific name fits it so admirably, appears to have developed its body at the expense of its brain, for it is a sluggish, stupid creature, about six times as long as an average man. At home in the Arctic regions, it sometimes makes visits as far south as Cape Cod, the British Isles and Oregon. It is most often observed lying quietly on the surface, apparently dozing and easily approached, but at times, when hungry, it rouses itself and fiercely attacks whales, biting huge pieces out of their sides and tails, and when feeding on the carcass of a whale which has been killed by hunters it is so voracious that it permits spears and knives to be thrust into it without seeming to take any notice."

"One of the most prodigious and perhaps the most formidable of sharks is the 'man-eater' (Carcharodon carcharias). It roams through all temperate and tropical seas and everywhere is an object of dread. Its maximum length is 40 feet and its teeth are three inches long. While there are few authentic instances of sharks attacking human beings (prior to the recent tragedies), there have undoubtedly been many cases where sharks simply swallowed people who had fallen overboard, just as they would swallow any other food. How easy it would be for a man-eater to devour a person whole may be judged from the finding of an entire hundred-pound sealion in the stomach of a 20-foot shark on the California coast. A certain man-eater 26 1/2 feet long had jaws 20 inches wide, inside measure, and teeth 3 1/2 inches long. This may be the 'great' fish of the scripture narrative, and it is possible that at that time much larger man-eaters existed than are now known as shark teeth with cutting edges five inches long have been found on the sea-bottom, and these are believed by naturalists to have belonged to sharks not long dead. The phosphate beds of South Carolina yield very large fossil teeth of a shark which was related to the man-eater of the present day; judging from the comparative size of these teeth Professor Goode thought that sharks 70 or 80 feet long must have been common.

"Many years ago a Norwegian bishop in a leased paper brought to the attention of the scientific and theological worlds to shark which he attempted to prove must have been the 'great fish' that swallowed Jonah. This was the basking shark (Cetorhinus maximus) known also as the elephant or bone shark, which is an inhabitant of the polar seas but occasionally strays as far south as Virginia and California, and in former years was not rare on the United States and British coasts. The species has the habit at times of collecting in schools at the surface and basking in the sun with its back partly out of water. It reaches a maximum length of 50 feet and is exceeded in size by only three or four animals extant. Provided with small teeth, it feeds on fishes and floating crustaceans, and is not of a ferocious disposition. It is dangerous only by virtue of its great bulk and when attacked its powerful tail easily demolishes boats. In former years the basking shark was hunted for its oil on the coast of Norway and Ireland; it was also harpooned on the shore of Massachusetts in the early part of the last century and was hunted for its blubber and oil were sometimes obtained from the liver of one shark. There are many records of basking sharks 25 to 28 feet long from the coast of New York, Massachusetts, and Maine, but the species has not been common in our waters in recent years."

"The largest of all fishes, the largest of all cold-blooded animals and the largest of all existing animals, with the exception of a few species of whales, is the whale shark (Rhincodon typicus), originally described from Good Hope, but now from India, Japan, South America, Panama, California, and various other places. A small specimen having been obtained on the Florida coast a few years ago. This shark has a very broad and oblique snout and an exceedingly wide mouth armed with numerous minute teeth; the dark-colored body is marked with many small whitish spots. The species is stated to attain a length of 70 feet. Notwithstanding its immense size, however, it is harmless to man unless attacked, and feeds on the small creatures for which its teeth are adapted. Its huge bulk makes it dangerous in the same way that a whale is dangerous. Years ago it was reported that the sperm-whale fishermen at the island of Saint Denis, in the Indian Ocean, dreaded to harpoon a whale shark by mistake, and stories are told of a harpooned fish, having by a lightning-like dive exhausted the supply of rope which had been accidentally fastened to the boat, dived deeper still, and so pulled a pirogue and crew to the bottom."

Shimmy Shocks Judge.—OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., July 13.—George Grindell, stellar shimmy shaker at a vaudeville house here, stood in front of the theater and shimmyed for female passers-by. He spoke to two young women who exhibited no little interest in his quivers. Police Sergeant Montgomery arrested Grindell at this juncture. In police court Montgomery told the judge the modern mash-eral methods. "Here's how he did it," Montgomery explained and standing with arms outstretched before the judge, threw his whole heart and every muscle into the business of shimmying. "Enough," cried the judge in a trembling voice. "Forty dollars." Grindell shuddered and paid.

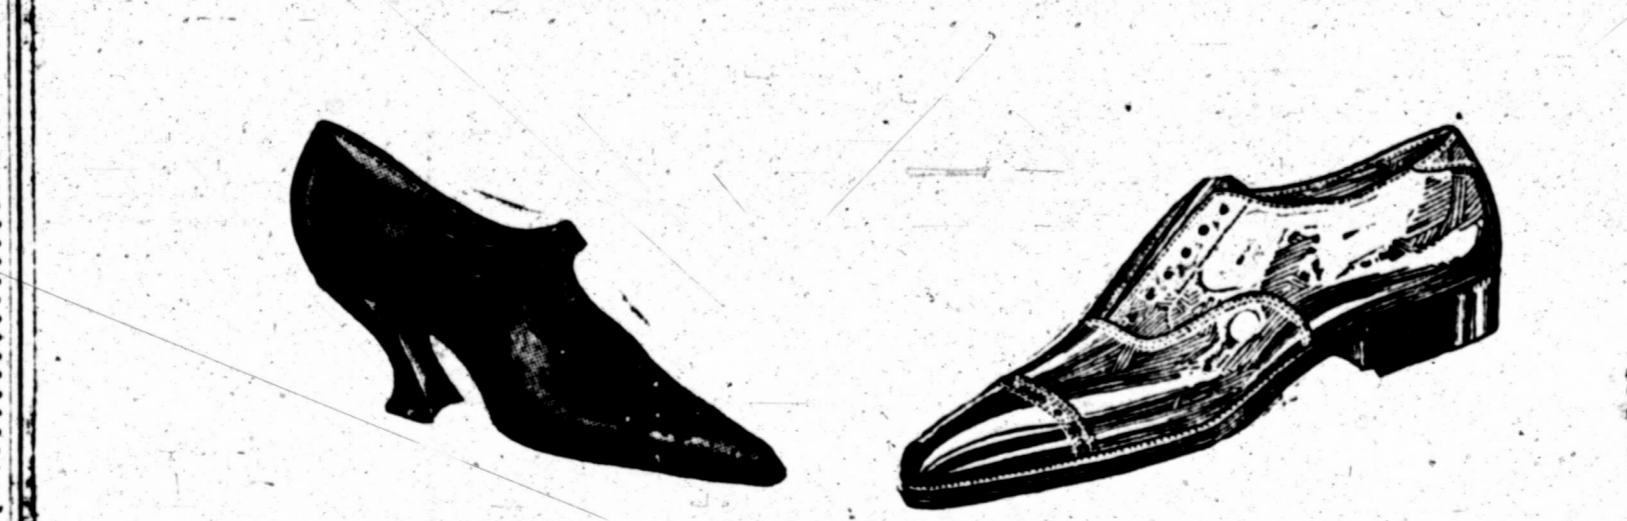

Thin, Nervous People—NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE.—Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks, they conclusively prove that thinness, weakness, debility, and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear. Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing. By strengthening the nerves, weak, thin people regain energy and vigor, thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves, sleep returns to the sleepless, confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health. It is sold by Miller Drug Co., and all good druggists. CAUTION—Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. Those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

Uelce Nam as a Baker.—At the ending of the war the United States took rank as the operator of the largest bread baking plant in the world. There has been developed a system of mechanical bakeries based on entirely new lines and when speeded up have great capacity. Sixty-five "field companies" produced 2,950,000 pounds of bread per day, and seven companies of mechanical bakers had a daily output of 800,000 pounds. Milk made a drop Monday but I did not know it until today. Modern Dairy. If it is right Olopton did it. 715 Ohio Ave.

STRUCTURE EXTENDS ACROSS RED RIVER

Much Interest in Sims Test On Oklahoma Side Big Bend in River.

NOCONA, TEX., July 12.—The Sims Oil Company test on the Budd Reed farm in section 14-7a-6w on the west, or Oklahoma side in turn big bend in Red River north, is still delayed at last report by a fishing job a little below 1,100 feet. Under-reamer lugs are in the hole. This well was beginning to reach an interesting stage, having had gas at 960 feet. The Marion Oil and Gas Co. well in section 10, about two miles to the northwest, had gas at 1,165 feet and gas estimated at eight to ten million feet in 35 feet of sand found at 1,525 feet. The attractive features of the Marion well together with the excellent geological reports on the structure which includes the Sims location directs especial attention to this locality which includes a lot of territory on the Texas side. Six to eight miles of the Red River bed has thus become attractive, and has been practically all skinned in anticipation of the lease scramble that is sure to follow when the first well on either side of the river picks up the first pay sand. According to geologists, the strata will stack up right out in the river bed here. The receiver may expect a permanent job. Several wells are being planned on this side of the river, though deep tests will hardly be under steam out north before September. Plans are reported shaping for a deep test north of Bowie and southeast of Quincey Peak. This block of leases is said to have had a favorable geological report. It is expected that work will soon start on the Big Six well located on the Dunn farm, about six miles southwest of Nocona. The derrick is ready with considerable material on the ground. This is an unusually attractive location. Geological reports examining several large companies have examined this locality, and it is said all their reports were favorable. The companies they represented hold acreage in that locality. And why would not such territory as Montague county possess be attractive when there is likely to be a shortage of oil, as is shown in an able article written by David White, chief geologist of the United States Geological Survey. Seven hundred barrel wells are being found at Hewitt and Duncan on the Oklahoma side which is being produced from sands. Oil should be found here in paying quantities at less than 2,500 feet, and in sand for matrons.

TURNER REFUSE TO ANSWER ANSWER ENUMERATORS

Bob Turner, a farmer residing in Hardeman county, was arraigned before United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz on Tuesday charged with refusing to furnish a federal census enumerator with certain information required by an enumerator to complete his report. Turner is alleged to have told the enumerator, "I did not answer those questions in 1910 and don't intend to answer them in 1920." Turner waived preliminary hearing and was committed to the November grand jury in bond to the extent of $200. The Turner case is the first of its kind filed before a federal commissioner here. Commissioner Lantz declared that numerous complaints had been made to him by federal enumerators and he indicated that more cases would likely be filed. Turner was brought to Wichita Falls by night by Jim Allen, deputy United States marshal, here. When you need a plumber, you want the best. Call Sanitary Plumbing Co. phone 2290. 51-141P

JURY IN DOUP CASE HAS NOT REACHED VERDICT

The jury in the case of H. O. Doup, charged with felony theft, was still out at 2:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, having had the case under consideration for several hours. The jury shortly before noon informed Judge H. F. Weldon of the 26th district court that it was unable to reach a verdict and asked to be excused. Judge Weldon, however, urged that the jury continue consideration of the case. Doup's second trial was featured by a heated argument between John Devenport, state's counsel, and Shirlis Haysler, counsel for the defense. The defendant attempted to ask for a suspended sentence but was denied the privilege by Judge Weldon due to alleged irregularities in procedure on the part of Haysler, the defense counsel. Haysler immediately entered a bill of exceptions to the use of the name ruling and in the argument that followed attacked alleged tactics of state's attorneys. He was ruled out of order by the court. The jury's long deliberation on the case added speculation as to the final outcome. Doup, who is charged with stealing oil field equipment valued at over $50, was tried last week but the jury failed to reach an agreement. Schlick Irving, alleged accomplice of Doup, entered a plea of guilty last week and drew a two-year penitentiary sentence. The larceny is alleged to have been staged in the northwest extension oil field near Newtown last January. When you need a plumber, you want the best. Call Sanitary Plumbing Co. phone 2290. 51-141P

AMALGAMATION OF PARTIES

At the height of the vitriolic arraignment of the rival party, Chairman John H. Walker, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, took the floor to voice a "deep-seated distrust" of "plutocratic philanthropists, lawyers and professional men who endeavor to solve the problems of the working people without themselves being members of that class." He said he did not really believe it was worth while to try to go any further with the forty-eighters and that the labor delegates, already restive under prolonged oratory, might be kept here for three weeks waiting for the lawyer-leaders of the other party to "prepare something legal and technical and with phraseology which covered up its real meaning." Unabated Expenses. The labor delegates, Walker declared, were unable to stand the expense of staying here to wait for an agreement at the present rate of progress. Opposition of the conference committee of forty-eighters to the use of the name farmer-labor as the party designation proved the first big stumbling block in the way of amalgamation but they are understood to day to be in a conciliatory mood on this question. Differences on the definition of "democratic management" of railroads and essential industries, government operation of which both parties favor, were not so easily compromised. The views of the 48 leadership on the one hand and the trade union attitude on the other, were at wide variance and may ultimately be the direct cause of a break. The labor party plan of operation of the roads by officials chosen from the ranks of employees proved, in the conferences already held, an insurmountable obstacle.

Appeals for Unity. Meanwhile in a third hall the single tax party was framing an appeal to Premier Lloyd-George of Great Britain urging that his government adopt a single tax policy for Palestine. Evidence of the labor convention's conciliatory mood was given by several motions to "give the conference committee a free hand" and to "bend every effort" in the direction of agreement. Labor spokesmen argued it could do their cause no harm since the forty-eighters had shown a "genuine disposition and desire to get together." A movement to instruct the conference committee on the three planks still in dispute was blocked, leaving the way open for compromise. The convention was thrown into an uproar when Robert M. Buck, Chicago, chairman of the labor resolutions committee, made a motion that credentials of the forty-eighters be honored and the hall prepared for a joint convention. The motion carried amid cheers and on its heels a half hundred farmer delegates from the forty-eight convention arrived and were seated after a tumultuous demonstration. The farmer delegates raised a Non-

Partisan League standard above their seats. William Remer, a Non-Partisan Leaguer from South Dakota, announced the farmers after spending five days looking over the conventions in session here, had decided their interests were "identical with labor." "We have decided to come over and stand with labor, fight with labor and organize with labor," said Remer amidst cheers.

ENGINEER LEAVES ALL OF PROPERTY TO HIS WIFE

CINCINNATI, O., July 12.—"I leave all I have to my wife," Frank Meyers, 41, railroad engineer of Covington, Ky., wrote this will, while reamers were trying to extricate him from wreckage of his engine which dropped through a bridge on a siding here. Recalling his danger, the engineer asked for paper and pencil and scribbled his will while pinned under the wreckage. He was rushed to a hospital, but died within two hours. Attorneys say the will is valid. PROVO, UTAH, SHOWS INCREASE OF 18.4 PER CENT. WASHINGTON, July 12.—North Adams, Mass., 22,252, increase 261 or 1.2 per cent. Detects Water in the Milk. It has been found a difficult thing to set a standard for pure milk. Watered milk has a blue tint, but the pure milk from indifferent stock has the same color. Then again cases are known where the milk is actually freed of the last vestige of fat content in the separator and enough then restored to make it meet the standard set by the law, so then it be seen that any of the tests or standards which have been made are not infallible. It seems that the problem has been solved in the invention of the cryoscope by Julius Horroft, of the Minnesota Food and Dairy Commission. This instrument takes advantage of the freezing point between water and milk; and it will determine infallibly whether the consumer is receiving pure milk or watered milk, or pure water to which a little milk has been added.

SPUDDERS IN PHILANTHROPIC MOOD AND HAND GASSERS A WIERD 13 INNING BALL GAME; SCORE 7 TO 6

MERRY CHRISTMAS! Table with columns for players and statistics.

The Spudders tried for two and one-half hours yesterday afternoon to hand the Gassers a perfectly good ball game on a silver platter, but it was not until the 13th canto that the visitors saw that Salm's charges were really in earnest and decided to accept the donation.

It is too difficult a task to lay the blame at any one man's feet, but Grubb, Burch, Kitchens and Eberhard all had a finger in the pie. Burch's control was poor and three of his four passes resulted directly in runs. Still, were it not for Harkey, Grubb's poor throw in the third, Barney would have won his game.

Burch again lost control on Ewoldt in the fifth and passed him after two were down. A brace of doubles followed, netting another pair of tallies.

It was no fault of Mokan's. Sneeder's or Tanner's that the Spudders lost. This trio was in the game from start to finish and they gave all they had to keep the Spudders in the running.

Buddy Tanner's long double in the tenth came after two were out and while Sneeder was perched on first. The drive sent Pete over the plate and kept the fans who were homebound bound in the stands for three more innings.

Tommy cut loose with a wild pitch in the 10th inning and Heathcote scored from second with the run that gave the Cards a 4 to 3 victory over the Gassers.

The international pass proved a boomerang to Philpitt, the Braves' pitcher. He passed Nicholson, a pinch hitter, in the 11th, filling the bases, and then couldn't locate the plate for Sigbee, forcing in the run that gave

Sport Shots By Paul W. Larkin

Yesterday's matinee is ample proof of the fact that many a game of ball can be won after two men are out.

Tanner's two-try wallops in the tenth that drove in Sneeder from first game with two down. The fans were so sure that the Gassers had the game won,

After Kitchens drew a pass in the thirteenth, the fans did not dare leave the Park until Josephon had been retired for the final out.

As far as we could learn from the fans on the way home after the game, nobody was responsible for the loss of that game except Kitchens.

The air was filled with strategy in the tenth when Clark took the dish, Gleason and Wallace held a conference while Skipper Lark and Danny held a tete-a-tete.

We've seen many a dumb play in our young life, but Gleason pulled a prize yesterday in the twelfth. Mokan was on first with two down when Gleason became preyed at the ump and walked to the plate to argue.

Here's one Walter might look over: A sand lot twirler, who goes by the name of Shaakler, pitched a ball in the New Franklin (Mo.) nine yesterday without a hit or a run.

Worn Out In Mind and Body Your child is quick to observe disturbances in your mental attitude or physical condition. And when he asks: "What's the matter, Daddy?" there's a tone of solemn anxiety in his little voice. The depression stamped upon you reflects in his face because of his profound sympathy. He at once drops his playthings and rushes to your side, but his happy smile has disappeared and his buoyant spirits are gone—replaced by a countenance of worry and a bearing of hopelessness. LYKO The Great General Tonic will banish that "tired feeling" and dispel that worn-out look. It will renew your strength and vigor, overcome the ravishing effects of overwork and worry, revive a sagging spirit and increase your hold on life. Being a vegetable and mineral, a valuable gift to the human system, it is a powerful promoter of the general health, because of its power to vitalize and reconstructive value, its use is especially desirable in cases of subnormal conditions. It is one of the most powerful of vital force due to general weakness of wasting illness; you'll find "LYKO" particularly beneficial. It tones up the entire system and keeps you feeling fit. Ask your druggist for a bottle today. LYKO MEDICINE COMPANY New York Kansas City, Mo.

HOW ABSENT VOTERS CAN CAST BALLOTS IN DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY

The law providing for voters who will be absent from their voting precinct on election day to cast their ballots before leaving home will be in effect when the July primary is held and all such voters will have an opportunity to vote, notwithstanding their absence on the day of the election. The law provides that the voter who will be absent on the day of election can, not more than 10 days nor less than three days before the day of the election, go before the county clerk and show to the clerk his poll tax receipt or his exemption certificate and upon satisfying the county clerk that he is a qualified voter under the law in the county, shall be supplied by the clerk with a ballot to be voted in the election next preceding the appearance of the voter and shall mark the ballot without any assistance from any other person and shall fold said ballot after marking the same and hand it to the county clerk.

The law provides that the clerk shall send the ballot to the officer of election at the polling place where the voter is entitled to vote and instructs the election officer as to procedure in casting the ballot.

Prior to the enactment of this law, there was no provision for permitting a voter to cast his ballot except to appear at the polls in person, and in such cases the voter was deprived of the privilege of voting by the necessity of being absent on election day. This law meets the difficulty and under it no qualified voter need lose his vote for he can comply with the provisions of the "absent voters" law and have his ballot cast and counted the same as if he appeared at the polls.

Thomas or Naff in the coming primary and to vote against J. W. Bailey. The circular contains such phrases as "Let Labor Rule."

Mr. Bailey has made the circular the text of some of his recent speeches. On the other hand the circular has been denounced by a number of labor organizations and the charge has been made that it was issued by Bailey supporters in an endeavor to drive votes to him. Bailey's campaign manager has denied that the Bailey organization had anything to do with issuing the circular or distributing it.

Independent investigation, it is reported, has discovered that the circulars are being distributed by a Dallas distributing agency and that they were printed in Corsicana. So far there has been a failure to connect any labor organization with them.
