COUNTY DEMOCRATS ELECT DELEGATES

GO TO STATE, CONGRESSIONAL, JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE CONVENTIONS

ENDORSE ADMINISTRATION AND NATIONAL DELEGATES

Express Appreciation for Work of County Chairman R. E. Huff—Canvass Primary Returns

Delegates to the democratic county convention, and members of the county executive committee, met at the county courthouse Saturday afternoon, canvassed the returns of the recent primary elections, elected delegates to the state convention and passed resolutions endorsing the national administration and the action of the Texas delegation at San Francisco.

That we unreservedly endorse the national democratic platform adopted at San Francisco as a statement of democratic principles and aspirations and as a chart by which, if the ship of state is sailed the port of good government and the haven of peace and prosperity for the country will be reached.

That we heartily endorse the nomination of Governor James M. Coffey for president and Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt for vice president and see in them broadminded, liberal statesmen who will ably carry forward the work begun and in part accomplished by the democratic administration under the matchless leadership of Woodrow Wilson.

BILLION DOLLAR RATE INCREASE IS GRANTED

ture and equipment, to earn an aggregate annual railway operating income equal, as nearly as may be, to a return of 5 1/2 per cent upon the aggregate value for the purposes of this proceeding, of the railway property of such carriers held for and used in the service of transportation and such other service of one per cent in addition.

Decision Upheld.

The decision of the commission which was unanimous, summed up as follows: "Most of the factors with which we are dealing are constantly changing. It is impossible to forecast with any degree of certainty the volume of traffic will be. The general price level is changing from month to month and from day to day. It is not practicable at this time to adjust all rates on individual commodities. The rates to be established on the basis hereinbefore approved must necessarily be subject to such readjustments as the facts may warrant. It is concluded by the carriers that readjustments will be necessary. It is expected that shippers will take necessary steps to meet the situation with the carriers, and the latter will be expected to act promptly and effectively therewith to the end that necessary readjustments may be made in such instances as practicable without appeal to us."

Government operation of the roads was brought into the case by Commissioner Eastman, who in an opinion in which Commissioner Veley concurred, disapproved the method used by the commission in arriving at its conclusion. Commissioner Veley and criticized Commissioner Eastman's position, declaring "that he injected into this case large political questions of government policy which are matters in issue here."

Commissioner Eastman expressed regret that federal control of the roads was not permitted to continue until after the readjustment period.

Hope Control Continues.

"It was my hope," he said, "that federal control might be continued because it was evident that the transition back to private operation would create additional disturbance in the time of unquietness and unrest to existing railroad facilities could be made to do more work and meet more nearly the transportation needs of the country under unified control than under the control of many separate companies, that the additional facilities, which are so greatly needed, could not be provided more easily and more economically by public than by private capital and that disturbances resulting from both rate increases and labor difficulties could be reduced to a minimum if the government retained direct responsibility for the roads."

Commissioner McCord in his reply said: "The congress has, for the time being, settled the question of government operation of the roads by restoring them to private operation, judged around by comprehensive laws, setting broad powers in this commission to regulate them. It is the duty of this commission to enforce the law as congress has written it. The questions involved in this case are so grave and so vital to the American people that no such suggestions as are here made should be injected to complicate the extremely delicate and vital situation that now confronts this commission, the public and the railroads."

Details of the increase were discussed by the commission at length. Discussing provisions for rate between the various groups of roads, the commission said that joint or single line through rates between two or more groups and points in other groups should be increased 3 1/2 to 3 per cent. The commission also said that the increases should apply to individual commodity rates now in effect.

As to grain rates the commission said it found that such rates into and out of important grain markets in the middle west might be increased by the general percentages with the understanding that the carriers would, within 30 days after the service of this report, file tariffs restoring an equalization of the rates from important consuming centers.

As to eastern carriers, the commission ruled that these rates might be increased, but that rate differentials must be maintained.

WASHINGTON, July 31—Increases in freight, passenger, pullman and other railroad rates approximating $1,000,000,000 an official estimate of $1,400,000,000 were approved today by the interstate commerce commission, effective upon five days notice by the carriers to the commission and the public.

This total is about $200,000,000 less than the amount for which the railroads asked to absorb the $400,000,000 wages awarded by the railroad labor board and to bring their net income to the six per cent provided for in the transportation act.

The freight increase total is estimated at $1,124,000,000 on the basis of six per cent on the $18,900,000,000 valuation placed by the commission on the property of all the roads. The increase of 40 per cent in the east is estimated to yield approximately $750,000,000. The 25 per cent granted southern roads is estimated to yield about $100,000,000 while the western and mountain Pacific roads will get an increased return of about $254,000,000 on freight rates.

To the increase of $1,124,000,000 to the nation's freight bill will be added an increase in passenger rates aggregating $222,222,222, and an increase in pullman rates aggregating $40,555,555, an advance in excess baggage rates approximately $1,470,555, and an advance in milk rates of about $1,000,000.

The increases granted are designed to give the roads a net income of 5 1/2 per cent on their valuation and an additional one-half of one per cent to make what the commission described as "approximate provision for additional improvements, betterments or equipment of a character chargeable to capital account."

Advances of 40 per cent on railroad freight rates in the east, 25 per cent in the south, 15 per cent in the west and 25 per cent in the mountain Pacific territory were granted today by the interstate commerce commission.

Passenger fares were increased 20 per cent the amount asked by the railroads to help in absorbing the $500,000,000 wage increase granted by the railroad labor board.

A sur-charge of fifty per cent on fares for sleeping and parlor cars was granted together with a 20 per cent increase in the rates on excess baggage and 20 per cent in the rates on milk.

The commission also gave electric railway lines permission to increase their freight rates by the same percentage as the rates on other lines in the same territory. The commission added that this was not to be construed as an expression of disapproval or increase, made or proposed in the regular manner, in the passenger fares of electric lines.

Five Days Notice.

The increase may become effective upon five days notice given by the carriers to the commission and the public and they must be put into effect before January 1, 1921. Since the government guarantees to the roads expected that the advances will be put into force before that date.

In arriving at the increase, the commission placed the valuation of the railroad properties at $18,900,000,000 as against the $15,000,000,000 estimate of the railroad executives.

The increases granted by the commission are estimated by it as sufficient to absorb the wage increase of the railroad labor board, which the commission placed at $518,000,000 and to bring the net income of the carriers to the five and a half per cent permitted under the transportation act.

The commission authorized the application of the general increase to the rates on commodities. Special rates have heretofore prevailed on the charges, therefore will be increased according to the percentage ordered in the various groups.

Coastwise steamship lines were authorized to increase their freight rates "to the same extent as herein granted the railroad operating between the same points on the same territory."

The commission stated that in construction of rail and lake roads, the present parity between Chicago and Duluth should be maintained.

Grant Is Acceptable.

CHICAGO, July 31.—The increase seems to us to be very acceptable," W. L. Park, a member of the United States railway labor board, said today.

tended that roads were not returned to them in the same condition as they were when taken over and because of unworked labor difficulties.

Clifford Thorne of Chicago, representing shippers, recommended to the commission that the roads be unified for operation as they were in 1917, declaring that only in this way could the roads solve the existing transportation problem.

Mr. Thorne also argued that the rate advances asked were excessive as the carriers had not made any provision for more efficient operation or for decrease in the cost of materials. He also argued that the companies set too high a value on their properties and that they were capitalizing land granted them by federal and state governments without cost and asking the people to forever pay a tax on these free gifts.

LOSKEVICH ARMIES MENACE POLISH TOWN OF WARSAW

WASHINGTON, July 31.—With bolshevik armies menacing Warsaw, evacuation of warehouses where the American red cross supplies are stored, is under way, according to cables today to national headquarters of the red cross. The supplies are being moved to Krakow.

All red cross workers have been sent to interior cities, according to advice. Thousands of refugees are fleeing into the interior without food or clothing.

Recovers From Wound.

E. W. Shelton, formerly employed as a night clerk in one of the local hotels, has completely recovered from a revolver shot wound and has left the city.

Last Tuesday morning officials of the hotel were aroused by the discharge of a gun. Upon examination it was found that the young man was suffering from what is believed to have been a self-inflicted bullet wound directly above the heart.

He was rushed to a local hospital where examination showed that the wound was not deep or serious and the following afternoon he was discharged from the institution.

NEW YORK DENTIST DEAD, TWO OTHERS ARE WOUNDED

NEW YORK, July 31.—Dr. Jones Arenas, 26, a dentist, recently arrived from Bogota, Colombia, was found tonight shot to death in his home in West 70th street. Ruth Jackson, a chorus girl, who police say, had been in Arenas' apartment, was found in a taxicab nearby with a bullet wound in her chest.

Ignacio Marti, 22, who went to a hospital with a wound in the chest, returned from the hospital, was shot at the dentist's home and that at Arenas then shot the girl and turned the revolver upon himself.

Marti asserted the dentist was jealous of him because of his attentions to the girl.

Marti, who is a Puerto Rican, told the police he went to the dentist's apartment with Miss Jackson to call for some of her belongings which she had

MISS BLANTON COMPLAINS ACTION COUNTY OFFICIALS

AUSTIN, July 31.—Formal complaint is to be made by Miss Annie Wood Blanton, state superintendent of public instruction, against the county chairman of a certain west Texas county for the alleged failure to place her name on the official ballot in the primary election on July 27, announced Miss Blanton today.

Miss Blanton had a conference with the attorney general relative to the filing of the proposed complaint. Miss Blanton added that she proposes to bring to the attention of the state democratic executive committee a communication which she described as "certain" from the chairman of a large north Texas county who placed the name of her opponent on the official ballot.

BEFORE IT'S OLD

Before I'm old, too old to talk, the roughest trails where few intrude By rock-bound ways and tangled brake That bar the way is solitary, I'd like to turn on a dime page From life where no adventure call, Some things to dream of in old age When I am held within four walls.

THE BETTER FIELD

A tennis enthusiast brings up an interesting point: "The Wimbledon championship which Tilden won has been called the world's championship in tennis. Taking no credit away from Tilden, which field is the strongest—the one that played at Wimbledon or the one that will play at Forest Hills in August for the championship of the United States?"

AFTERWARD

In their time they knew the cheers and applause of the multitude, the acclaim that belongs with the olive wreath. Jeffries is a respected California farmer—but a forgotten ghost of glory, willard is out of the limelight—beaten with practically no one to mourn his passing.

DRIFTING TOWARD THE STRETCH

The homestretch in the two pennant races isn't yet in sight, but it isn't so very far away after all. The National League has settled down to a two-club dash, and unless some bizarre turn comes Brooklyn and Cincinnati are going to fight it out—Brooklyn with the stronger pitching staff and Cincinnati with a trifle better club outside the box.

The Tilling Strata

There will be at least $5,000 apiece for the winning club in the next world series. The chance to walk under this shower of gold isn't getting on the nerves of the Athletics, the Tigers, the Phillies, the Braves, or some of the others.

BOTH WAYS

A reader wants to know why it is that Borsari, leading the National League in lower average than Sam Rice, stands fifth among American League hitters.

Revised proverb—"Go to the Ruth, thou sinner; consider his way and get wise."

While panning the intentional pass, consider his way and get wise.

While panning the intentional pass, consider also the feelings of the pitcher who stands with his mouth open and catches one of his fast ones sailing gracefully out of the park.

CHILDREN'S HOME. AGENT FINDS RAINBOW POT OF GOLD FOR THREE LITTLE BURKBURNETT CHILDREN

The pot of gold at the rainbow's end would look like a miser's hoard in the hands of three little kiddies who were recently rescued from a miserable existence in Burk Burnett by the Children's Home Society.

A CHARMING FROCK FOR EARLY FALL

This attractive frock is of plaid fabric, crepe built up of plaid flounces.

HOMER IS "NOT HAPPY IN FRENCH HEELS," NEVER WEARS THEM OFF-STAGE

Louise Homer, famous operatic star, is "not happy in French heels." "When I was a girl," Homer said, in answer to a query concerning the prevalent style of French heels, "because I was made to do so by my good mother, and since I have grown up, because I really do not like to wear high heels—nothing higher than what they call 'cuban' or 'military' heels, excepting when on the stage. Then I feel compelled and worn French heels. But I am not happy, and take them off as soon as I possibly can."

"AS TO CLOTHING"—THE LESS THE BETTER, MOSTLY

"Why Wear Clothes?" asks Ernest Thompson Seton in Hearst's August issue. "As to Moria—Turkey is the most clothed nation of the world—consider its morals. The 19th century was the most clothed period in the history of our own race—nuff said. Among the Indians, the Arapahoes were without moral standard and the Cheyennes of spotted virtue—both dressed alike. The Kaviroons of British East Africa go stark naked and are of a much higher order than others who hide their nakedness. For a Victorian virtue have their origin in other things."

PICTURE BRIDES ARRIVING AT FRISCO

Types of the 40 Japanese "Picture Brides," who are being questioned by a United States congressional immigration committee. The committee learned that hardly any of the girls had seen the men they came here to marry. They had only seen photographs of them. The United States has protested against the practice of the Japanese government in issuing passports to "picture brides," and if it said this is the last shipment that will arrive here.

PERSONAL BREVITIES

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Deatherage have returned from Hot Sulphur Springs, Colo., where they spent six weeks. Mrs. Maggie Deatherage left this week for San Angelo and other south Texas points. Miss Quinn, local Red Cross nurse, left Saturday for a month's vacation in Colorado. Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Bacon leave Tuesday for an extended trip to the Great Lakes, via Chicago, and expect to visit in Buffalo, Philadelphia and New York. They may go from New York to Canada for a few weeks, and expect to return to Wichita Falls about October 1.

SPLENDID WORK DONE BY RED CROSS NURSES IN WICHITA FALLS IN JULY

A total of 486 visits made by Miss Quinn, local Red Cross nurse, and her assistant, Miss Allison, was reported by Miss Quinn at the regular meeting of the Red Cross nursing committee Friday evening at the child welfare center of the courthouse. Miss M. H. Claver, chairman, and other members of the committee, were very much pleased with Miss Quinn's report, which indicates a splendid work done in Wichita Falls during June. Three hundred and forty-three of the visits reported comprised follow-up work in that many homes in the city, with frequent visits to five and six children in each home. Many individual cases of special interest were included in these visits, and suggestions were made and advice given in a great many instances where serious trouble existed. The school follow-up work is about completed, with the exception of Washington school, a few stragglers cases in Junior high, and the colored school work.

AN UNUSUAL DESIGN FROM PARIS

Whip-poor-will brocade has been adapted as the plaid apron and draped skirt for this unusual frock. The bodice is of plain whip-poor-will striped in chain stitching. With it a hat of black tulle with white satin, the under-brim being embroidered in blue and gold.

The condition of the three children—Mary, aged eleven, John, eight, and Dot, seven, was reported to Miss Hendrickle, Wichita Falls district agent for the Children's Home Society and Aid Society. Miss Hendrickle went to Burk Burnett and found the children. The wretchedness of their surroundings was indescribable. The results were patent and pitiable. All three children were suffering from malnutrition, adenoids, and diseased joints, and the eight-year-old from hookworm contamination in the filth of his only playground—Burk Burnett mud and oil and refuse. In the shack they called home, where they spent an occasional night (alone), spoiled and worm-infested food from a restaurant, left by their mother the day before, was found. The children had been left to starve and their only real food an occasional ice cream bought at the gold drink stands with pennies begged by the oldest girl.

BUSINESS GIRLS COMPLETE FURNISHING OF CLASSROOM AT M. E. CHURCH, NOW OPEN

The Business Girls' class under the leadership of Mrs. C. R. Hartsook, at the M. E. Church, South, has just recently completed the furnishing in very attractive style of its classroom in the church. Features of the new furnishings include a sewing machine and a victrola. For the use and pleasure of young women of the class during the week, the room will be open at all times. It was stated Sunday, and members will be welcome at all times, including the evening.

BUSINESS GIRLS COMPLETE FURNISHING OF CLASSROOM AT M. E. CHURCH, NOW OPEN

The Business Girls' Class of this church is one of the best known Sunday school organizations in the city, and under the leadership of Mrs. Hartsook and Miss Florence Jackson, class president, a number of sound and progressive innovations have been introduced into the conduct of Bible study among business women. The class is concerned with welfare and benevolent work, and is at present supporting a French war orphan. The social activities have also been a source feature of the organization, and Miss Frances Brooks, well known young business woman of the city, has been a particularly efficient social assistant. The summer activities of the class have included picnics, camping-out trips, luncheons, etc., the regular monthly luncheons having been discontinued for the duration of the warm weather.

BUSINESS GIRLS COMPLETE FURNISHING OF CLASSROOM AT M. E. CHURCH, NOW OPEN

The Business Girls have been deeply appreciative of Mrs. Hartsook's leadership as teacher of the class, and contribute their success as an organization to her insight into their problems, and her application of the Bible lessons to their daily life in the business world. There are between 50 and 60 members in the class, with the general organization divided into four groups, each with a group leader. These leaders include Miss Alice Covey, Miss Grace Yarborough, Miss Ivy Little, and Miss Frances Brooks, Miss Kitty Putnam is treasurer of the class, and Miss Lola Smith is secretary.

WICHITA FALLS FOLKS DON'T CARE FOR EARTHQUAKES AS FORM OF ENTERTAINMENT

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Cravens, who have just returned from an extended visit along the western coast and in Canada, were glad to get back to Wichita Falls and "steady ground underfoot." The Cravens were in Los Angeles, Calif., during four of the earthquakes which shook up that section recently, and they have expressed a final and positive decision against earthquakes as a popular form of entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Cravens were in the Clark hotel, a structure which was reinforced concrete and considered one of the strongest and most substantially built buildings in Los Angeles, when the first earthquake came. At the moment of the first quake they, in company with hundreds of other guests of the hotel, were in the dining room.

It is the most terrifying thing in the world," Mrs. Cravens said, speaking of the experience. "I couldn't describe it, but beside the quake itself, and the shaking of that immense structure just as if you had shaken an immense box, there was a noise, a horrible noise, everywhere in the dining room screamed, some of the lights fell from the sockets, and there was a general clatter and crash of silverware and dishes as the frightened waiters dropped them and stared at each other. Then in a few seconds—it only lasted moments, but the moments seemed hours to me—the building was still, the horrible noise stopped, people straightened up, and before one could realize what had happened, everybody was laughing.

We asked what the noise was, and were told that it was a combination of the involuntary cries that came from every human throat in the city at the moment of the shock and the other general confusion incident to the quake. But whatever it was, it was eerie and terrifying."

Mr. and Mrs. Cravens were in their room when the second and third quakes came, soon after the first, and in the case when the fourth and last one of the same day. The husband was playing and people were laughing and chattering in the cafe, Mrs. Cravens said, but when the shock came the band stopped.

The Californians may be used to it, and after each one is over they shrug their shoulders and go on, but we decided against earthquakes as a form of amusement right there in Wichita Falls. Scores of other Wichitans were in Los Angeles the day of the first quake, Mrs. Cravens said, and several of them left as soon as they could get reservations for the city of the future, though in the general rush for such accommodations, hundreds of people seeking to leave the city for other parts were delayed a lengthy time. The Grishams and Freasers of Wichita left, and are now in Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Cravens went to San Francisco with the Shimmers in San Francisco several weeks in San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, and other western state points, going from there to British Columbia, the St. Charles lakes and other Canadian points, coming back through Los Angeles, Long Beach, the Grand Canyon and Denver. They have been away about two months.

WOMEN TAKING LITTLE PART IN RUN-OFF PRIMARY TALK, MANY "GOING TO BE AWAY"

From a score or more prominent Wichita Falls women interviewed, all of whom took a very interested part as supporters of Thomason or Looney in the first primary, and a score or more others who voted for one or the other of the defeated gubernatorial candidates in the recent election, the impression gained is that the women are taking much less interest than the men in the coming run-off gubernatorial primary.

The reason generally suggested is that the women are taking considerably less stock in the "open-shop" discussion than the men, locally, and those who are having to make a second choice of candidates are trying to separate the avalanche of "open shop" arguments from other principles involved in the race. A number of prominent local women stated frankly that they did not believe the open shop question should take precedence over other principles which have been involved from the first, and that they felt that nothing had been said or left unsaid that would indicate that either of the run-off candidates would fail to handle the open-shop situation fairly and justly.

"I couldn't vote for Bailey; his war record, his congressional record, his stand on every question involving child labor and the woman vote, and his anti-administration utterances at the most critical time in the history of the United States are enough for me," was the gist of several interviews.

Well, I am against Joe Bailey's principles, but I don't see how I can vote against the open-shop," came from one or two.

A number of women who were expected to take part in the second primary work are going to be "out of town" and are apparently as relieved as some of their husbands and brothers that they will not have to make a choice between the two candidates now running.

Y. W. C. A. CLOSES THIS WEEK, HUNDREDS OF GIRLS HAVE ENJOYED THE OUTING

The Girls' Camp maintained by the Y. W. C. A. at the Rod and Gun club for the past two weeks is to close Tuesday or Wednesday of this week, it was stated Saturday at Y. W. headquarters.

During the open house held by the Y. W. C. A. at the camp, several hundreds of girls and young women from the city have enjoyed the splendid outing provided by the association, and it was stated that the Girls' Camp would be made a permanent summer institution of the local organization.

Thirty-five or forty young women went out to the camp Saturday evening, most of them to spend the night, and a number to spend the day Sunday. Several parties were planned for Monday and Tuesday nights, one including thirty-five girls of the Epworth League of the M. E. Church, South, who expected to spend the night and return Tuesday morning. Thirty-six young women were at the camp for supper Thursday evening, and were fifteen or twenty more going out just for a swim in the pool. Twenty-five or thirty went out Friday evening.

DEVOTES HER LIFE TO WELFARE WORK AMONG DEAF MUTES

Born of parents both deaf and mute, although herself possessed of the full faculties of speech and hearing, Miss Nellie Gillespie of Cincinnati has made welfare work among deaf-mutes her chosen life vocation, and now has supervision of all welfare and educational work among the six hundred deaf-mute employees of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company of Akron, who comprise what is claimed to be the greatest individual deaf-mute colony in the world. She has not chosen this work through sympathy.

"I cannot explain it—but somehow I just feel that I am one of them, and that I'm out of place among the speaking people," quietly explains this young woman. "Perhaps it is due to the fact that I was reared in a home where I seldom heard a human voice except my own, for my father and mother were both deaf and dumb, and the silent language of the non-speaking camp for me almost instinctively."

Miss Gillespie is a quiet, unassuming girl, and is idolized by her deaf-mute colony. Only recently a heavy pall of gloom spread over the entire colony at Akron, with its somberness penetrating every deaf-mute's home, when it became known that "Little Nellie" soon was to be married, but the gloom was transformed into hearty and sincere rejoicing when she told them in the silent language of the fingers that she was to marry a deaf-mute and continue her work for her colony.

"Yes, it's true," blushing admitted this wonder-girl—"I'm happy only when I'm with them, and I want to keep up my work with them for the rest of my life."

According to Miss Gillespie, there is something singularly magnetic about the typical character of the deaf-mute; his fortitude, his indomitable spirit of "carry on," and his ability to make his physical handicaps, his finer degree of sensitiveness, and his rare mental alertness. The "Silent," she holds, is a better citizen, a better workman, yes, and even a better Christian, than many of his speaking brothers. There is no sham or hypocrisy about his life. There is no sullenness of disposition, no disgruntledness, no whining or complaining over trivial ills.

DANCE AT HOME OF J. F. LOUCK DIVERSION FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

A most enjoyable dance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Louck, 119 Brookside drive, provided diversion Friday evening for about 20 young couples. The dance complimented Jimmie Nixon, and a string orchestra furnished music. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Mr. and Mrs. David Black and two children, David and Helen, will leave this afternoon for Baltimore, Md., where they will spend the balance of the summer visiting relatives.

Mrs. Jessie Morley and little daughter, Ruth, of Dallas, are visiting friends in the city.

FRIENDS OF MRS. J. C. PRESLEY ENTERTAINED AT HER HOME

Friends of Mrs. J. C. Presley were delightfully entertained at her home, 414 Marshall street Tuesday afternoon, from 4 to 6 o'clock. As the guests arrived each was given a number of letter "R's" with pens attached, to be pinned on the waists of the other guests as often as they were heard to use the word "R." Mrs. Frank Johnson who succeeded using the expression the oftentimes and having the most letters pinned on, was awarded a prize, an egg beater with the inscription, "If you can't beat this game, beat eggs." Miss Vivian Bailey rendered several violin selections, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Presley, the music being very much enjoyed. Later, the lights were turned on in the dining room and an assortment of various sized bottles, scissors, pins, needles, thread, wool and cotton, and water colors, was discovered on the table, and each guest attempted to make and dress a doll. Mrs. H. E. Taylor and Miss Edmonston were named judges, and awarded the prize for the best dressed doll to Mrs. Wofford, and for the homeliest doll Mrs. Long. The finished dolls were placed in a box and sent to the Child's Welfare Home. Musical selections were then rendered by Mrs. Presley, during which little Miss Mildred Presley passed napsery for an unusually dainty refreshment course of strawberry and vanilla ice cream with cherries and wafers. The guests included the following: Madames Rembert, Henry Wilson, H. F. Robertson, D. B. Reed, Potter, Burk Taylor, George Fleming, C. F. Ralley, Scott, H. C. Taylor, Pritchard, J. P. Bryon, B. F. Long, P. E. Kerr, Frank Johnson, Guy Davis, Wofford, and A. F. Kerr and Clifford Stodghill, and Misses Edmonston and Ralley.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION FOR LITTLE MISS MARY C. BOONE

Mrs. T. R. Boone, assisted by Madames John Kiel, T. Duff, Leslie Humphrey, Luther Hoffman and W. M. Taylor of Austin and Misses King, Bullington, Boone and Kiel, entertained 20 little folks most delightfully at the Boone home, 2510 Ninth street from 3 to 7 o'clock Tuesday, with a lawn party, celebrating little Miss Mary C. Boone's fifth birthday. Miss Elizabeth Turner, whose birthday occurred two days before Mary's, was a special guest, and a feature of the party was a big birthday cake for both little girls, with five pretty pink caplets atop. The cake, with ice cream cones, was served to the children during the afternoon, and they were further complimented with dainty little favors, and with rides in the little kiddies' pony phaeton. Kodak pictures were taken during the afternoon and a print is to be mailed to each little guest. The children present included the following: Little Misses Mary Louise Clark, Hallie Broday, Retsey Lee, Nancy Lou Jamieson, Elizabeth Turner, Elizabeth Hanks, Katherine Smith, Katherine Virginia Catalano, Joan Hoffman, Alice Marr, Jesse Martin, Mary N. Naples, Phoebe Jane Pilgo, Camille Avis, Beas Perkins and Corinne Perkins, Jimmie and Weldon Guest, Edward Silk, Irving Humphrey, Oral Jones, James Lea Bert Broday Jr., C. D. Shawberger, Billy Fitzgerald, Allen Clark, Ralph Bullington and T. H. Boone Jr.

Starr PHONOGRAPH

You'd never suspect such beauty in any phonograph record as we can reveal to you in the first record you hear played on the Starr Phonograph.

Because it has a throat of silver grain spruce, the music wood of mellow old violins, the Starr imparts unusual richness and resonance to all its music.

You can make an outright comparison of the Starr's sweet tones with the playing of any other phonograph. Play the same record on both. You can come to but one fair conclusion—Starr betters all records. For utmost musical delight, put a Starr Phonograph and a Gennett Record together.

REPUBLICANS NAME COUNTY TICKET

HOLD ENTHUSIASTIC CONVENTION AND ENDORSE HARDING AND COOLIDGE

CONDEMN DEMOCRATS AND LAUD REPUBLICANS

Name Good Men for Forlorn Hope of Filling County Jobs—Send Delegates to Conventions

Marked with the same enthusiasm as the big Chicago convention with the exception of the turmoil of seating delegates the republicans of Wichita county met in session at the county courthouse Saturday afternoon.

Wilson and the democratic administration as a whole and the League of Nations were denounced, and Harding and Coolidge lauded. An appeal was made for every one present to get busy and send in the name of every republican in the county, as well as all possible republicans.

It was also pointed out by several speakers that the ticket elected by the democrats in the recent primary was not at all satisfactory to the people and especially to them. They will endeavor to elect the state to elect several men to office in this county and with this in view they nominated a man for every office.

The party will place the following ticket in the field at the election this fall: County Judge—Dr. A. N. Richardson, Electrical.

Commissioners Court—Precinct No. 1, J. M. Baber; Precinct No. 2, John Moore; Precinct No. 3, J. J. Cobby; Precinct No. 4, J. M. Baber; Precinct No. 5, J. M. Baber; Precinct No. 6, J. M. Baber; Precinct No. 7, J. M. Baber; Precinct No. 8, J. M. Baber; Precinct No. 9, J. M. Baber; Precinct No. 10, J. M. Baber.

While the committees were at work the chairman and many of those in the audience gave addresses which gave evidence of enthusiasm. Senator Harding was proclaimed to be the most capable man in the country to carry forth the interests of the United States.

One of the speakers confined his speech to denouncing the League of Nations and the federal reserve bank, which he said the democratic party had promised would be the means whereby no money panics should ever occur. He voiced his opinion that at the present time money was "died up."

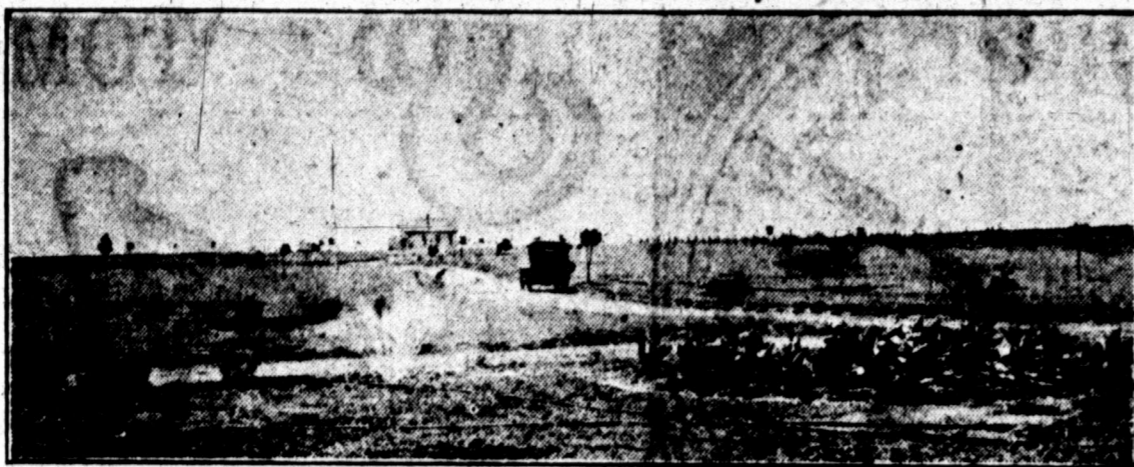

Judge Robert J. Lytle addressed the assembly at some length and proved very entertaining in conducting his address he said, in part: "Individually the democrats are the finest men in the world but collectively they cannot run a peanut stand."

The committee on resolutions presented the following, which were unanimously adopted: We, the republicans of Wichita county, in convention assembled, heartily endorse the platform as promulgated by the republicans in convention at Chicago.

Believing heartily in the necessity of two parties in each and every county in every state in the Union we strongly recommend that a full republican ticket be put in the field with a candidate for each and every office, and we hereby call on all republicans and all dissatisfied voters of whatever former affiliation to rally to the support of the republican ticket—National, state and county—who believe that this is a period in the history of our country

VIEW OF ROSEMONT BURIAL PARK

Rosemont Burial Park, lying just south of Call Field, is privately owned by Messrs. W. W. Silk, P. P. Langford, N. H. Martin, R. E. Shepherd and E. E. Widner. Though the institution has been established but four months, many of the prominent citizens of Wichita Falls have purchased burial lots in this peaceful cemetery where graceful trees and fragrant shrubs have succeeded last year's waving wheat crop. A huge irrigation tank which is kept supplied with water pumped from Lake Wichita, a mile and a half away, provides the necessary moisture to keep the place green and beautiful.

When the best talent available should be used to further the welfare of our county and we are firmly resolved to place men in office who can and will accomplish results.

We hereby endorse the work done for the republican party by H. F. McGregor, our national committeeman, and Phil E. Baer, state chairman, and we most heartily recommend that the convention instruct the delegates to vote for Phil E. Baer for reelection.

We most strongly condemn the inefficiency with which our county roads system has been handled and strongly recommend all voters to carefully consider the republican nominee for county judge and commissioner's court, who we promise will remedy this incomprehensible situation.

We further denounce the action of our assessor and county court of imposing an exorbitant value on the real estate, causing the taxpayers of this county to pay more than their pro-rata share of the state tax.

We feel confident of the support of a large majority of the thinking voters of Wichita county and know that these intelligent voters will render us the support necessary to put the right kind of men in office.

The following delegates to the state convention were named: Robert A. Lytle, O. Bullington, M. E. Peters, E. R. Brown, T. B. Smoek, C. H. Van Horn, John Moore, O. P. Maricle, J. R. Abernathy. Alternates: A. W. Burnside, J. E. Lee, J. Graves, J. J. Cobb, J. M. Baber, C. C. Willard, J. M. Barkley and W. H. Conn.

Members who are to go to the congressional district convention which will probably be held in Wichita Falls Aug. 28, are: E. J. Townley, A. N. Richardson, Miss Joella Terrell, Miss S. C. Pope, O. A. Jones, H. E. Brice, W. D. Ogden and K. E. Hatch Jr.

The alternates are: J. H. Spelman, S. H. McKee, H. Wolf, Roscoe Stayton, R. Stayton, L. W. Callender, J. E. Johnson, M. L. Hirsch.

The following will go to the legislative convention: O. Bullington, R. A. Lytle, J. R. Abernathy, T. B. Smoek, M. E. Peters, John Moore, R. C. Huling, R. H. Collier, J. H. Spelman, J. Graves.

Just before the motion for adjournment O. T. Bacon was unanimously elected county chairman.

Seasue Hayakawa, the greatest actor of his race, and a screen star whose admirers are legion, is to be presented in his latest picture Wednesday of this week when "The Illustrious Prince" comes to the Plaza. The picture is a Robertson-Cole release and is a dramatization of the book by El Phillips Oppenheim. The action of the story revolves around the mysterious murder of a Japanese count, who was killed under cover of a heavy fog. The scenes were laid in London and practically all of the action takes place there. The photoplay, settings and lighting effects are superb, the well-known London fog coming into its own in a sequence of striking night scenes, showing London streets shrouded in a vapory mantle. It is during this fog that the murderer of the Japanese nobleman is seen jumping from a cab after committing the crime, colliding with a bicyclist and escaping into the darkness. The supporting company in "The Illustrious Prince" lend excellent support to the star and the combination of an absorbing story and perfect photography give a production of unusual merit.

Constance Talmadge has the leading role in "The Love Expert," which is to be the feature picture at the Olympic Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The picture is a rollicking combination of comedy and romance and the magnetic personality of the distinctive little star fairly climbs over the footlights.

The story centers around the affairs of a lighthouse, lightfooted school girl, who persists in carrying on fanciful love researches instead of studying her lessons at a fashionable boarding school. She is finally "canoned," but this does not prevent a continuance of these experiments in her Boston home. Her wealthy daddy punishes her by refusing to take her to Palm Beach, and she is sent to live with an aunt, who, through various channels has become engaged to a handsome youngster named Jim Winthrop, many years her junior. The "love expert" gets busy and after using some fake telegrams and other handy appliances, she lures the willing Jim off to Palm Beach with her. Aunt Cornelia is heart broken and in order to secure revenge on the two conspirators she marries a college professor, Jim and Baba, the love expert, then proceed to paint their faces red and the picture ends in a wild array of comedy.

Taylor Holmes in "Nothing But the Truth" is to be the Majestic attraction for Monday and Tuesday of this week and the picture, which was adapted from Frederick J. Isham's novel of the same name, is said to be one long gale of laughter. The plot of this farce is the hilarious one of a man who makes a wager with three friends that he will go a whole week telling nothing but the truth to all he meets. Bob Bennett, a young society man, makes a bet of $10,000 with each of three friends that he will go anywhere week without being to anyone, and his first test is a house party, wherein are gathered the wives of his three friends, who promptly begin to dump Bob for the participants of a little cabaret party at which all four men were present. Bob lives up to his agreement and tells the ladies just how each of their husbands looked with a "chicken" perched on his nose, which gets Bob and the other three into rather hot water. This is merely the beginning of a succession of situations that improve as the play grows older and in the end a perfect riot of comedy develops. Taylor Holmes is acknowledged as one of the screen's highest types of comedians and his presentation here in demand at all times. "Nothing But the Truth" is the last and by far his best picture, so it will no doubt draw record breaking crowds.

An appealing story of artist life is unfolded in the latest Paramount-Argo release, entitled "The Prince Chap," which is appearing at the Empress on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

MIDNIGHT MATINEE AT OLYMPIC TONIGHT OPENS CONSTANCE TALMADGE COMEDY

CONSTANCE TALMADGE IN 'THE LOVE EXPERT'

One of the biggest novelty events of the season is a midnight matinee which will be given at the Olympic theater tonight which will mark the premier of Constance Talmadge's new comedy "The Love Expert."

week. An all-star cast, headed by Thomas Meighan, Charles Ogle, Kathryn Williams, Lila Lee and Theodore Kosloff give to the production some of the finest acting that has ever appeared on the silver sheet, and with a splendid story as the vehicle for their talents these artists give an absorbing presentation from beginning to end. The story centers around a California sculptor who is forced to sell his holdings in America and go to England for study. In the same studio with him is an American woman who is the mother of a four-year-old girl, and soon after the artist's arrival this lady is taken sick. On her death bed she intrusts to the new comer the custody of her daughter who soon becomes a favorite. The artist tells the girl at various times of the friends he left in America and in the guise of a fairy tale he tells of his most tender memories, those relating to his love for an American heiress, who has promised to await his return. His little ward names the hero of this story "The Prince Chap." This is merely the beginning of the theme and later on a number of other elements enter that provide dramatic and a starting nature. The first of the little four year old American girl is traced through the years and finally the things that befall her are revealed in gripping intensity.

MIDNIGHT MATINEE FEATURE AT OLYMPIC TONIGHT A unique feature in local amusement circles is to be given by the Olympic Sunday night when they present their "Midnight Matinee." All possibilities of colliding with the law has been eliminated by withholding the start until 12:01 a. m. thereby escaping the rule that no theatricals are to be presented on Sunday. A regular unit program is to be presented, lasting from midnight until 2:00 o'clock. The management is making a special campaign for a large attendance and they promise that the entertainment will be thoroughly worth while. Constance Talmadge in "The Love Expert" is to be featured in the main picture and in addition to this a full bill of comedy, topical reviews and music is also to be presented. This midnight matinee feature is gaining great favor in theatrical circles of the larger cities of the country and the local management intends to experiment with it in this city. If the interest shown in the past performance warrants their continuance more shows of the same nature will follow in the near future.

Screen Siftings

Jack Pickford, having finished his second Goldwyn picture, "Double Dyed Deceiver," expects to start work within a few days on "The Man Who Had Everything," under the direction of Al Green. Olive Thomas, Schenck star, is expected on the West Coast in a few days, where her next production will be made. It will also be the reunion of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pickford, having been separated for several months by motion picture contracts, which kept Miss Thomas in New York and Jack Pickford on the coast. Ann May has been selected by Clarys Bay as leading woman for "Successful Valley," his first National production. Robert Gordon, Blackton star, has been loaned to Vitagraph for the production of "Dollars and the Woman," with Alice Joyce.

Now that the Pacific League ball season has opened, the west coast studios found it difficult to locate their stars on the days the Los Angeles team played home, until one of the "big chiefs" himself happened to visit the ball park recently, on the sly as he thought, but to his great dismay found three of his own stars sitting in the grandstand with numerous others from the various studios. Now the cat is out of the bag. Par Tinscher, after enjoying a three month's vacation from screen work, is toiling once more in a Curstie comedy directed by Bill Beaudine and called "Belinda's Bait."

Wanda Hawley, a full-fledged Realart star, now fully realizes her advancement, as she has been given the star's dressing room at the Realart studio in Los Angeles.

Ralph Bushman, son of Francis X. Bushman, is to make his debut soon in Goldwyn pictures in Mary Roberts Rinehart's "Empire Builders," under the direction of E. Mason Hopper. It is said young Bushman is a "chip off the old block."

Shirley Mason and her sister, Viola Juana, are planning to vacation together in Arizona, where Miss Mason has mining interests.

Governor William D. Stephens of California spent Monday visiting the Goldwyn studios at Culver City. The governor and his party were escorted through the studio by Abraham Lehr, vice-president. The governor is a great movie fan.

Hert Lytell is the recipient of a hand-made horsehair and silver belt, which was a gift to him from the convicts of the Arizona state prison.

Miss Helen Tait, youngest college president in the world and daughter of former president Win. H. Tait, was a recent visitor at the Metro studio in Los Angeles.

Major Bob Warwick and Norman Kelly (Kid McCoy) have been enjoying a vacation ever since completing the major's last picture at Lasky's. Bob tried to induce the kid to take up golfing, but Norman declared that it would interfere too seriously with his polo.

First Methodist Church, South.
The First Methodist Church, South, on Tenth and Lamar, is going to have a big day Sunday. Her choir is just back from Junaluska and is full of new enthusiasm. He will put new "zip" into the Sunday school next Sunday morning. The League has arranged good programs and are planning for a big day. The male chorus will render excellent music at both the morning and evening services. Mr. Paul Von Allman will sing at the morning hour. Rev. J. D. Pinkston will preach a short sermon on "The Syn-cope of Christ." The singing hour is a union service of the First Methodist Church, South, and the First Christian Church, South. During the month of July these Sunday evening services were held at the Christian church, but during the month of August they will be held at the Methodist church on Tenth and Lamar. A contest is on between these two churches. If you want the Christian church to win in this contest, come and be counted and help them to win. If you want the Methodist church to win, come and be counted and help them to win. Dr. J. Lem Kevvil, who is a very able minister, will preach at this hour on a portion of the first verse in the Bible. He will bring a helpful and inspiring message. The Test of the Two Violins Violins differ subtly in tone! Test the New Edison Realism by that fact.

We have an "Ave Maria" RE-CREATION played by Albert Spalding with his Guarnerius. This famous violin has a brilliant, singing tone. We have a second "Ave Maria" RE-CREATION played by Carl Fleisch with his genuine Stradivarius. This violin has a rich, mellow tone.
Come in and compare these two RE-CREATIONS—tone for tone. If the New Edison makes clear the distinction between the singing Guarnerius and the mellow Stradivarius, you know it has perfect realism for you.

The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Albert Spalding himself recently took part in a test of the New Edison's Realism, at New York City. He played in direct comparison with the RE-CREATION of his performance by the New Edison, Mr. Henry Hadley, one of the jury of the three distinguished musicians who listened from behind a screen, said: "The RE-CREATION matched Mr. Spalding's performance tone for tone."
The New Edison is the only phonograph which has given this conclusive proof of its perfect realism. It has triumphed in 4,000 such comparison-tests.

MORE HEAT UNITS FROM LESS COAL

Prof. Henry Kreislinger, Known As Combustion Engineer Has Process Doubling Coal Value as Fuel

Henry Kreislinger, who is recognized as a genius for making one lump of coal give the heat of two did before, has left the Bureau of Mines to go into larger activities with a private corporation. It is another example of that peculiar criticism to be made of government employment, that certain men of unusual ability can find better expression for their activities in commercial organizations than in federal service. The top roll of army and naval officers was recently threatened with depletion through just such a condition. The individual answers which certain officers made were that they were not primarily seeking larger salaries, but rather that they had better opportunities for the harvesting of their mental energies with private concerns than they could have in laboring for the government.

Kreislinger has built up his own work as he went along. He has largely assumed his own title. He designed fuel testing apparatus with which to make his tests, both in the old Arsenal building of the Bureau of Mines in Pittsburgh and while he was with the Clinchfield Fuel Company, where his distinctive work practically began. Now we are going to call him the Engineer of Research of the Combustion Engineering Corporation, which is considerable to say, but which has the virtue of being self-explanatory. Arrangements have been made by which he will have the advantage of all the laboratories that he created at the Bureau of Mines Station at Pittsburgh, even though he has received the withdrawal for his own living from a private concern.

Mr. Kreislinger's career brings out the fact that while he has been handling a great deal about the more picturesque details of aerial navigation and the sending of messages that have no visible means of support through the firmament (and here we listen to say that such is not the task of a vagrant), there has been developing an equally important profession that has come on as a heritage of the carboniferous age, and been suddenly thrust into prominence by the present scarcity of labor.

It is all very well to compute when coal came into existence and that it will be several hundred years before it can be exhausted, but this does not account for moving it in sufficient quantities to keep the present generation of men warm and the wheels of industry going around. Just now we are confronted with an era of painful insufficiency of coal here on the railroads and a large percentage of useless coal wagons at terminal points, the net result accruing to the discomfort of the ultimate consumer, whether it be the individual who would avoid cold or the plant that wishes to develop heat and power.

The attractions of other methods of less laborious labor have brought down the handling of coal to the point where remedy in the matter of available supply seems to be beyond hope. What the group, of which Mr. Kreislinger is a leader, is doing is to find a way to make every lump of coal twice or even three or four times as potential as it was in the "shovel-in and water-torn" age which came immediately before the "combustion" age that is now on. We cannot quadruple the crop, but Mr. Kreislinger believes that he can make every grain three or four times as nourishing, to use a metaphor that does not fit.

Hence, we find Mr. Kreislinger as a leader of what is known as the profession of combustion engineering. The combustion engineer, as far as dates are concerned, came into existence some time after the accomplishment of successful aerial navigation and make before prohibition. It was very natural that he should not have claimed public attention with rapidity. Primarily, he was associated in the public mind with beamratched miners, coal cars and the ash heap. He was about as attractive to the person who plays golf as is the stoker on a steamship to a trans-Atlantic tourist.

He could probably have kept up his immensely valuable work of stretching fuel, as one would India rubber, under the shadow of this oblivion indefinitely, but the war came along and graduated a large portion of the unskilled labor of the world into master mechanics, and immigration stopped because it was necessary to till the battle fields of Europe. Then suddenly the man who was engaged in finding out how to change the last atom of fuel into wheel-driving power became supremely valuable and visible to the naked eye. It was at this time that Henry Kreislinger's head showed up above the crowd, and one realized that while the bacteriologist is worthy of his crown and the radio man his medals, the individuals who could find a way to keep us warm and our power plants going during the fuel depression that appears to have an everlasting engagement with us was worthy of all the honors that could be heaped upon him.

The bureau of mines deserves all the credit that can be given it for meeting the situation as far as it has, but apparently the amount of money that congress has given it comes too slowly and is too meager for the heroic man who gained his engineering degree in the United States and who developed his particular prominence out of an emergency plus his own brain.

It would appear that the experiments which Mr. Kreislinger carries on could not have been hidden in the cozy corner of a bungalow laboratory. He works with automatic stokers and powdered fuel apparatus and oil atomizers and gas tanks that in the aggregate are likely to fill several acres. He needs an automobile and a moving staircase to reach the various parts of his experimental workshop. One of his latest-tubes weighs a few tons and he calculates in hundreds of horsepower and B. T. U. the latter meaning British thermal units, which is a relic of the dark ages that have survived in the day of the metric system. In his new work the Combustion Engineering Corporation has given Mr. Kreislinger 15 regular assistants besides a corps of student engineers and a gang of boiler movers to arrange his testing instruments for him.

The time will probably come when the director of a combustion laboratory will cease to be a rarity, but just now he is not a familiar figure on our streets and very few realize his importance. Already he has outgrown the limited attention which the government could accord, and Mr. Kreislinger admits that he is thankful for the opportunity that has been given him to go on with the experiments that have as their object giving the world from the embarrassment that is felt when the exposed bottom of a coal bin meets the eye.

ina to provide cotton warehouses in which cotton may be stored at nominal cost. The whole purpose of the plan is to obviate the necessity of the South Carolina farmers' dumping their entire cotton crop on the market within three or four months—to permit them conveniently and without loss to market their crop gradually and over the whole year that the law of supply and demand may govern its sale price instead of the law of necessity on one side and cupidity on the other. Mr. Lever wants his farm friends to make a reasonable profit, because upon their prosperity hinges much of the national welfare. There are three things he urges farmers to do with their profits—first, educate their children; second, improve their homes and buy up-to-date machinery and good livestock; and then, if there is any money left, the best investment is to buy an automobile. It enables people to enjoy themselves and remain satisfied."

Some of the American party leaders are intimating that the smallness of the vote in the recent democratic primary is due to the American party members staying out of the primary so they may vote for Mr. Gregory, American party nominee by the grace of the executive committee, next fall. Some republicans assert that it was the urgings of republicans to Texas democrats to come over and join them to give Texas a dyed-in-the-wool republican administration. The fact that with a million qualified voters, apparently less than 450,000 of them voted in the democratic primary has given both Americans and republicans an opportunity of pointing with pride and demagogues of some viewing with alarm. The simple fact seems to us to be that the democrats of Texas were worn to a frazzle in the one-sided May primary convention and that they were unable to get up enough "pep" and steam in the July balloting to bring out anything like as many votes as were cast in May. The Americans and republicans may jubilate a bit now; but when November comes around, Texas will roll up her usual brutal democratic majority over anybody either the Americans or the republicans can put up.

Cheaper wool means higher cost for woolens. Cheaper hides means higher leather and shoes. And now, to add to the anomalousness of the situation, a drop in wheat is followed by an announcement of Fort Worth bakers of an advance of bread to 14 cents a loaf—the highest ever known. The reason? Echo answers:

Texas College-Made Dairymaids.
 (From the Baltimore American)

In songs, in romance and in legends that have come down even to us as far back as the Aesop time, the milkmaid—the dairymaid—has featured prominently. That fable about the milkmaid who was waywardly marking with a full pail which, in her musings, she obtained her eggs, and from the eggs she was planning to hatch chickens and rear them to fry on side, are from the money obtained for the chickens she would purchase a new gown that would make the scales at the Aesop, but investigators believe that Aesop "lifted it"—that is, belongs to a much earlier folkloric.

But the college-bred dairymaid, the art school dairymaid—Aesop never guessed her, the song writers of colloquial times never conceived her, but she has arrived. What is your fortune, my pretty fair maid? "My fate is my fortune, kind sir," she said. An ancient rhymed legend about a beautiful milkmaid and the subject of a famous picture, but no longer in the (age of the milkmaid her only fortune, for these days she has, in addition to her facial charm and other personal charms, a college education. Making butter, getting best possible results from the milk is a science, an art and a business problem, all in combination, and the college-bred dairymaid knows the combination.

The Texas State College of Industrial Arts has a dairymaid course—turn out educated dairymaids that are just as pretty as they were in Aesop's time or back in the 14th century, and who also can take charge of a big 100-cow creamery and put the milk on a sure profit-making foundation.

 sage is joyful it makes me mortal's joy,
 I produce a pen and pad, and scribble
 a human dirge. One day the waters run like wine, in front and back and round about, as though they would out-drink me. One day they're green, and everywhere the note of mirth pervades the next they're dark, and deep despair, and every wave is wallowing. Old Neptune has a wondrous lyre, that touches all emotions, and on it, like a housewife he plays, among his notes, no sweeter than the lullaby of mothers, in the gloaming, and how the notes like thunder rise, along the rocky shores, "Old Neptune, in his solitude, his mighty harp is tuning;
 he has a song for all our moods,
 a note for every passion.

It Can't Be Done

A number of papers are calling on the five-cornered senatorial race in Texas in 1916 for a parallel to the present gubernatorial situation. Colquitt led the first primary by a plurality of 35,000 over Culbertson with Brooks, Campbell and R. L. Henry trailing behind. In the second primary Culbertson beat Campbell by a majority of around 70,000. Bailey's in the present primary will be comparatively small, he having polled just about one-third of the vote. Thompson and Looney have done toward Neff just what Brooks and Campbell did toward Culbertson, with the important difference that the Henry vote was attempted to be thrown to Colquitt. The prohibition vote, which had been divided between Campbell and Brooks, went solidly to Culbertson—also an anti—as being preferable to Colquitt. Just as the pro-administration vote went to Culbertson on mass, Colquitt in 1916 having denounced the national democratic administration almost as bitterly as Bailey has done in 1920. Men who supported Thompson on personal grounds and whose personal predilections with him out for Bailey naturally will go to Bailey in the second primary. But the bulk of the Looney and Thompson support was almost as much as Bailey as it was pro-Looney or pro-Thompson, and it will go to Neff just as the vote went to Culbertson in 1916, possibly not that they loved Culbertson more but that they loved Colquitt infinitely less.

When Mother's Sewing Buttons On.
 When mother's sewing buttons on their little garments, one by one, I settle down contented there, and watch her in her rocking chair. She's at the task she likes the best—each little waist and undervest. She fondles in a mother's way, and notes each sign of sturdy play, and shakes her head and says to me: "I wonder how this came to be?"

There's something in her patient eyes, as in and out her needle flies, which seems to tell the boy she takes in every little stitch she makes; An hour of peace has settled down, hushed is the hum of the town, and even I am different then. For I forsake the ways of men and see about the garments there bright visions of a happy pair.

Buttons are closely linked to joy, Each little girl and little boy Who dare to climb the garden fence boys that dash at their capers; Buttons are childhood's rattle tales, Swiftly to telegrams or mails They fly to tell of moments glad. That little boys and girls have had, And mother reads the stories there From every vacant space and tear.

She sweetly smiles and says to me: "How sturdy they have grown to be! It keeps me busy to repair The shirts and things they have to wear."
 I chuckle as I watch her sew,
 For joy has set the room aglow,
 And in the picture I can see
 The strength which means so much to me.

The scene is good to look upon
 When mother's sewing buttons on.

Sunday, August 1, 1920.

Astrologers read this as an unimportant day. The stars rule have but a faint influence, the Sun and Jupiter being in benefic aspect. It is a day in which to ponder long over plans that affect the future, for there is culminating a planetary government that indicates surprising changes.

Mercury is in a place denoting many public meetings in which much feeling is engendered that may have far-reaching power to affect the government.

There is a sign read as warning to writers and newspaper owners, for libel suits may be more easily incurred during this configuration than at other times.

Neptune is in a place encouraging to all who hope to gain through misrepresentation and double-dealing.

Uranus is said to be practiced most successfully during this way than at other times.

Women are urged to a direction of the stars making for high purpose that is likely to be readily diverged. They should cultivate logical and analytical habits of mind.

Foreign trade now comes under a most fortunate government, for the forecast growth of interest in the Orient.

Foreign fires in the west are prognosticated to prevent a serious disaster.

Education now should be aided by some most important high promises, an great advance in national ideals.

Interest in the theater will increase constantly and great improvement in motion picture plays is prognosticated.

Persons whose birthday it is have the augury of a quiet year, but especial attention to financial affairs is enjoined.

Children born on this day will be vigorous and active.

WHY?
 ARE THERE NO WOMEN CLOWNS WITH THE CIRCUS?

(Copyright, 1920, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

Al Misco, who recently celebrated his first birthday and is the oldest clown in the circus business, is authority for the statement that women do not make good clowns and that for this reason the profession is one in which men predominate.

"I have known some women clowns," he says, "and none of them are good. As a general rule, women won't make fools of themselves as men will and they don't want to make themselves ridiculous. A male clown doesn't mind how foolishly he dresses him nor how funny you make him look. He hasn't much natural vanity, but give a woman a ridiculous costume, make her paint her face in red and white checks, put on a false pair of feet seven sizes too large for her and what have you? A woman clown? No—a resigned and melancholic person who gets but little joy out of life and less out of her work."

"Women seldom have a sense of humor when the joke is directed against themselves. They hate to be laughed at, while men like a joke and can enjoy the ones that hit them as well as the ones which are aimed at others. My 60 years of experience has proven that up but give a woman a ridiculous costume, make her paint her face in red and white checks, put on a false pair of feet seven sizes too large for her and what have you? A woman clown? No—a resigned and melancholic person who gets but little joy out of life and less out of her work."

"I thought at the time that sounded like a rather dangerous state of affairs."

Yesterday I heard that the devoted daughter had broken down and her mother, who is barely up from her own illness is trying to take care of her, and she is doing it in a most extravagant manner, and she has a certain beauty about it. But when you come right down to it, isn't the beauty of spending oneself carefully and then come home to be nursed and can in order to make oneself last longer and be more efficient, beautiful with a saner, more balanced behavior?

I knew another woman who had an invalid husband to care for. She was both the wage-earner and the homemaker, she worked hard at her office and then came home to be nursed and housekeeper. She was devoted to her husband and the burden of anxiety about him was added to her other burdens.

"The hardest thing I had to learn," she told me once when we were talking about her situation, "was that I must save myself. I had to learn not to waste myself in worrying over things that were not my business. I had to learn not to wake up in the night and wonder what kind of a night he was having and go look at him—just to see how he was getting on. I know. And if I got up with him I had to learn to go right back to sleep."

Then, of course, I was to save myself. I was to go on with my life, and I had to learn to go back to sleep.

"I think the hardest thing though was to teach myself to be absolutely regular about my meals and eat properly. I had to learn to go back to sleep when I was so worried, but I taught myself to eat it by saying to myself, 'It isn't just food I'm eating—it's strength to do things for him.'"

"That's the worst kind of a heroine—for she showed her endurance and courage not just once in a crisis, but day in and day out for years."

I speak of her experience in the past not because she is dead but because, as you may like to know, her trial is over and she has her reward. Her husband ultimately recovered, and she is a fine position, and she is enjoying the rest and comfort she so nobly earned.

Side Talks
 By RUTH CAMERON

"She is the most devoted daughter," a neighbor said to me some weeks ago about a mutual friend of ours whose mother was sick. "She simply never thinks of herself. She is just wearing herself to a bone waiting on her mother. She runs up and down stairs a hundred times a day, she gets up half a dozen times a night to see if her mother wants anything, and half the time I think she forgets to eat her own meals she is so anxious to have everything for her mother just so."

I thought at the time that sounded like a rather dangerous state of affairs.

Yesterday I heard that the devoted daughter had broken down and her mother, who is barely up from her own illness is trying to take care of her, and she is doing it in a most extravagant manner, and she has a certain beauty about it. But when you come right down to it, isn't the beauty of spending oneself carefully and then come home to be nursed and can in order to make oneself last longer and be more efficient, beautiful with a saner, more balanced behavior?

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Will Support Bailey.

In Friday's issue of the Record-News my attention was called to a large advertisement authored by the aged Fat Neff club. Apparently they would have you look down Cooke county way and see what the gubernatorial programs are in electing Thompson's home county. I guess they are the same county as Mr. Thompson, and am pretty well acquainted with the situation. In spite of the fact that they are calling for the election of Thompson, I feel sure that they will not be able to give us all the information that might interest us. Since they have been so kind as to attract our attention to their own county, let us look further into the situation. It is glad that they selected Cooke county because it is a good average county, composed of pure red-blooded Democratic Texas people.

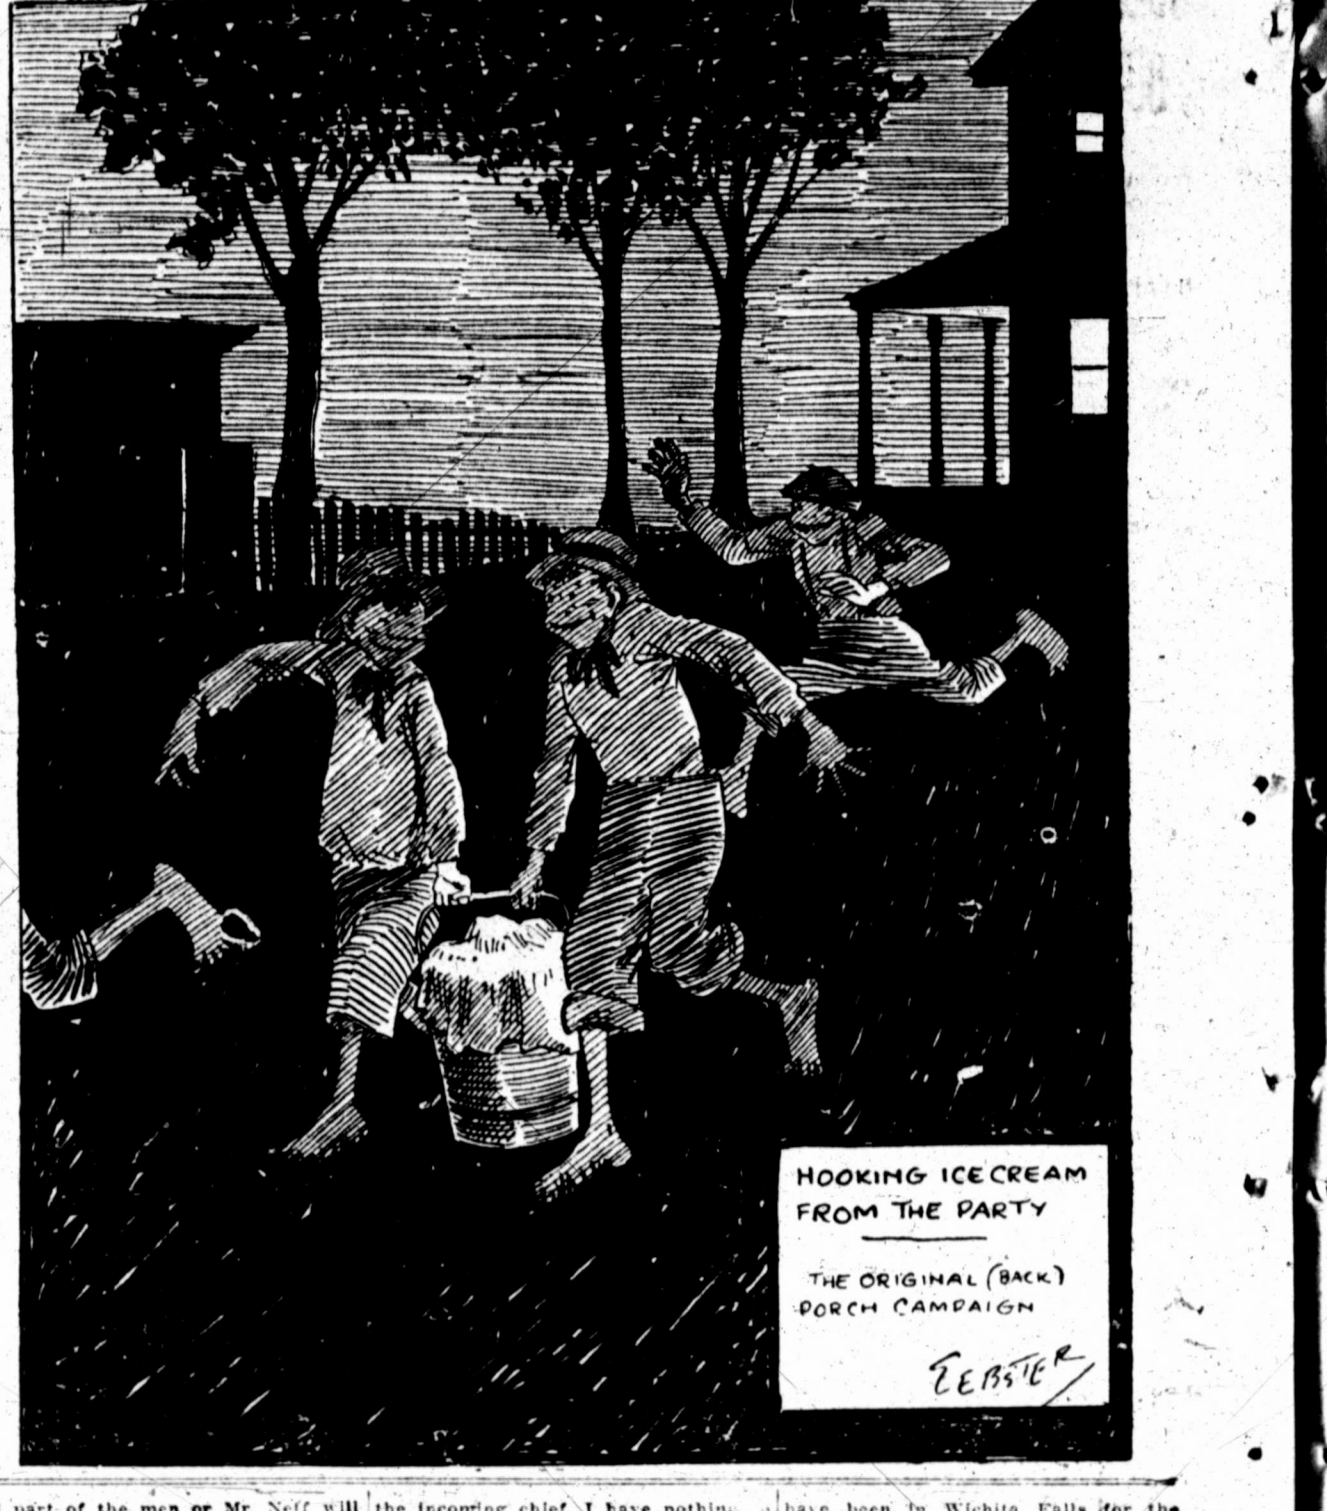

The Neff crowd emphasized the fact that Thompson had lined up with them and was going to support Mr. Neff, also. Mrs. Thompson was among her home folks regarding the women voters. That all sounds pretty good. Makes good campaign fodder. To me this seems a return of good for evil. For in Mr. Neff's speeches he stated that he would not support Mr. Thompson should the Cooke county candidate be the winner of the primary. Yet now Mrs. Neff's speeches he stated that he would support Mr. Thompson.

Many of the citizens of this state are what a broad minded square deal for all men Mr. Neff is. There are many things in the political game that they cannot comprehend. I guess this is one of them. I can cite many Cooke county women as good as you will find anywhere who have known and admired Senator Neff since they were babies. Who will do as much to support Mr. Neff as any other lady will do to help elect his opponent.

There is a great many transient citizens in Cooke county. A population is made up of folks engaged in farming and the stock raising industry. Many of them have lived in Cooke county all their lives. I can cite Senator Bailey well enough and will cling closer to him during the coming election than his opponents expect.

Let us look at the outcome of the primary election. Mr. Bailey received nearly six votes to each of Mr. Neff's one. It is very evident that some one had better organize the women voters part of the men or Mr. Neff will not poll a very large vote in Mr. Thompson's home county. It seems that both of the Cooke county candidates did better in McClain county than the candidate who hails from that county did in Cooke county. I wonder how they account for this.

I voted for Mr. Thompson in the primary election, but practically every Thompson supporter among my Galena friends with whom I have talked since the election state that they have lined up strong for Bailey. I do not assume that because there are only two men left in the run-off that all the Thompson voters will not vote for Bailey for you will be disappointed in the outcome of the Cooke county vote. I predict that Bailey will carry Cooke county by two to one.

Your article in Thursday night's issue describing the general of Dominic Keller, first Wichita Falls boy to have returned to rest in the sacred soil of his home, was no doubt dictated by your desire to give the people a portrait of a true hero. I am proud to see you would always do the proper thing. Yesterday it failed however most lamentably. Your article as it stands in the face of the facts cannot be interpreted otherwise by the bereaved family than a trait of their most sacred feelings. I am a candid and public admission.

"We have done your soldier boy wrong in the way we paid him the honor that was his due." In an important way that was done. That was the family of Dominic Keller. No, there was no military salute fired. No, there was no detachment of the Fourth Texas cavalry. No, there was no cavalry officer in evidence. These are the facts and the relatives of Dominic Keller, which have done their part and more than their part, if the citizenship of Wichita Falls failed to do its part it is not in their interest to hide this fact. But see Dominic Keller, not buried with military honors O yes, taps were sounded over his grave and if there was no home comrade of his to perform this evidence of respect, the military escort of his remains complied with this requisite of military etiquette, but how much more would those solemn notes have affected the hearts of those present if a home boy would have rendered them. The only military touch given by home folks was the solitary uniformed representative of Post Garrison. Dominic Keller's funeral was a shame to the patriotism of Wichita Falls.

COUNTY TAX RATE IS 80 CTS. ON HUNDRED

TOTAL ASSESSED VALUE OF PROPERTY REACHES MAGNIFICENT SUM OF $86,000,000

UNREDEEMED LIST WILL PROBABLY REACH $20,000

Assessor States County Values Have Increased $28,000,000 in Year—High Tax Due to Bonds

Based on the valuation of the total property rendered, which totaled $86,000,000, W. W. Murphy, the county auditor will recommend that the tax rate this year shall be placed at 80 cents on the dollar, a reduction of twenty cents over the rate of last year.

T. E. Magdale, the tax assessor, reported Saturday afternoon that the total valuation of property rendered amounted to approximately $86,000,000 and in his estimation the valuation on unredeemed leases and royalties would amount to $20,000,000 more, which will place the total valuation of the entire county at over $106,000,000.

The valuation this year shows a gain of $25,000,000 over that of last year. Mr. Magdale further states that in the first year of his term, four years ago, the valuation of the property at that time amounted to $25,000,000 which shows a gain of 300 per cent in three years time.

The county auditor states that based on the valuation given by the tax assessor and on the tax rate which he will recommend that the total amount of revenue derived will amount to more than $680,000.

The high rate the auditor declares is due to the heavy bonded indebtedness of the county which at the present time amounts to $2,500,000. In order to pay the interest on this indebtedness and to create the sinking fund which has been ordered to liquidate this debt it will require 41 cents of every eighty cents collected. This will leave 39 cents out of every eighty collected to conduct the business of the county, which according to the auditor will be ample.

POLICE DEPARTMENT WITHOUT CHIEF TODAY

Resignation of Goodfellow—went into Effect at Midnight—No Successor Has Been Chosen

The Wichita Falls police department today is without a chief. Robert Goodfellow's resignation went into effect at midnight Saturday at which time the city council was still undecided who would succeed to the office. Although several men have been under consideration, there is a general impression that members of the council have given their most serious thought to the possible appointment of George Hodgins, prominent grain man and former federal grain inspector in this district.

Hodgins is a business man of more than ordinary ability, a shrewd, capable executive and a man unafraid to "speak his mind" when the occasion warrants. When his name was mentioned he might make a mere matter of conjecture, but it is known that the question of his appointment is receiving more than passing consideration. Police Commissioner Bralley, who has been quietly weeding out the department since Goodfellow's resignation, stated Saturday that he had no choice to recommend to the council.

"Several men have applied for the position, I understand," he said, "but we are seeking the man regardless of whether the man is seeking the office."

According to the old saying "you can not serve two masters," the City National Bank of Commerce has made its enviable record for growth because it considered the requirements of its patrons first. That this policy spells success is proven by the bank's large resources and deposits.

IMPERIAL POTENATE COMING TO WICHITA

ELLIS GARRETSON, RANKING OFFICER OF SHRINERS WILL ATTEND CEREMONIES

DATES FOR CEREMONY NOW SET FOR SEPT. 1

Splendid Showing Made by Local Shriners at Portland Convention Induced Mr. Garretson to Come

The date for the installation of Maskat Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., has again been changed, being set forward to September 1st—and thereby hangs another and more important tale, to-wit:

Ellis Lewis Garretson, Imperial Potentate and by virtue of that position the ranking executive officer of the Shriners throughout North America, will have complete charge of the institutional ceremonies of the new Wichita Falls Temple. Customarily the Imperial Potentate appoints a representative to handle matters of this nature, and it is considered a rare honor when the Imperial Potentate himself condescends to officiate at the opening ceremonies of an "infant" temple. But the enthusiasm of the local Shriners and the splendid impression the Wichita Falls delegation made at the Portland convention turned the trick and persuaded Mr. Garretson to agree to be "on deck" for the big event here. His home is in Tacoma, Wash., where he is affiliated with Arifi Temple.

It was impossible, however, for the Imperial Potentate to reach Wichita Falls on August 23rd, the date originally set for the institutional ceremonies—and that is the very good reason why the date was advanced one day.

A meeting of the officers of Maskat Temple has been called for Wednesday evening, August 4, at 8 o'clock on the second floor of the Masonic Temple building. All officers and members of committees are urged to attend. Wichita Falls also will be represented at the institutional ceremonies.

Wichita Falls Salesman Is More Than Pleased

A. E. Williams Says Orgatone Put Him Right Back on His Feet Again After He Had Been in Bad Health for Over a Year.

"For the past year or more I have not been right physically; I just didn't feel good at all, my stomach was all out of whack and everything I ate seemed to disagree with me instead of doing me good."

"About the best way I can describe the way I felt is to say I was just run-down and all in. I really did not have strength to keep going and gave up all idea of trying to work hard. For a long time I had practically no appetite, but would eat anyhow, though my food never seemed to do me any good and often times cause me such distress."

"I would go to bed at night and would sleep, but apparently it did not rest me for I would get up just as tired as when I went to bed. I got so I could scarcely go to bed but what I would have to stop and rest."

"Well, I read about Orgatone one day and that reminded me that a friend had spoken about the same treatment, so I got some and began to take it. I had been taking it but two weeks when I first noticed such a good improvement in my condition. Then I realized I had found the right thing at last."

"I have taken a full course of six bottles now and am just feeling real good again. I am able to go after my work with as much energy and vigor as I ever could. I got up refreshed in the morning now and I have a real appetite which makes me enjoy three good square meals every day. Any one who needs a real good straightening-out will certainly be satisfied with Orgatone Treatment and I am glad to recommend it to my many friends."

The above statement was made recently by A. E. Williams who resides at the Westland Hotel, Wichita Falls, Texas. Mr. Williams is one of the best known salesmen in this section and is known to hundreds of people for his honesty and integrity.

Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Wichita Falls by the Miller Drug Store exclusively, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. Adv.

NEW MANAGER HUFF MOTOR CO. NOW IN CHARGE

Company Will Handle Jordan, McFarland and Oakland Cars in Five Counties

The Marshall Huff Motor Co. has been reorganized and the new management is now in active control of the business. Mr. D. H. Rubeam, who for some years past has been engaged in the automobile business in Waco, has been secured as general manager of the company and has assumed his new duties. He announces that the company has just closed contracts for the agency of Jordan, McFarland and Oakland cars in the territory included in the counties of Wichita, Wagoner, Montague, Clay and Archer, and in addition to carrying a complete line of cars, will also deal in parts and accessories for the same cars. The new parts department has been added as a part of the company's service, and a complete line of Jordan and Oakland equipment is now on hand. Mr. A. Kennedy, formerly with the Fort Worth Truck and Tractor Co., has been secured as manager of this department. In addition to his duties as cashier for the company, a new addition has also been made to the retail sales department. Mr. Lane Roseberry, having accepted a position as salesman. He was formerly with the Gibson, Owens Motor Co. of Waco, distributors for the Jordan machines in that territory. Jack Williams continues to act as salesman in the retail department. The company intends to specialize in the future in the repairing of machines and a new force of mechanics has been added to the repair department. All new parts and accessories for the Jordan, McFarland and Oakland cars will be given special attention. Oiling, greasing and washing service will also be available to local patrons and it is the intention of the company to provide for car owners the best service possible.

PLEASURE RESORT PLANNED FOR CITY

Wooded Dell Near Lake Will be Transformed Into Pleasure Park with Special Social Attractions

Plans are under way for the provision of a pleasure resort for the people of Wichita Falls. Candlish Field and C. W. Payne with offices in the basement of the Wagoner building, are promoting the idea in hopes of bringing it to realization. A tract of 17 acres of wooded land has been secured as a site for this pleasure park. It is located 400 feet north of the bank of Lake Wichita and about 20 minutes ride from the heart of the city. The street railway terminal loop lies between the lake and the location of the park. It is the plan of the promoters to erect a large building suitable for catering to the public, entertaining big dinner parties, functions, and dancing, with a large tea garden adjoining. The plan also includes a swimming pool with dressing rooms, shower baths and a sand beach. There are several other attractive features planned. Another feature which is pointed out as making this tract an ideal location for a resort of this nature is the fact that the concrete "Lake Road Drive" is near. The promoters believe that a pleasure resort here would be a valuable addition and an added attractiveness to the city as well as a place where the tired working man, business man and all could enjoy their leisure moments. The City National Bank of Commerce is the largest bank in Wichita county and is rated as one of the most substantial banking institutions in the south. This record has been made because the safe, conservative and progressive service given alike to large and small depositors meets the exacting needs of the public of this section of Texas. 80-11c

WITH THE MOTOR DEALERS

A Case four-passenger sport model machine was delivered to Fred S. Simes by the Milton Motor Car Company last week. Mr. Simes is driving the car through to Fort Worth, Texas, where he is to make his home. He was formerly connected with the Milton company. Two Case sport model machines are being driven through to the local company from Dallas and are expected the latter part of the week.

A load of Gardner machines was unloaded by the Gaines Motor Co. early last week. They report that the latest style roadster manufactured by the Gardner factory has been promised them in the near future. The local dealers have also received word from the Republic truck factory that trucks will be available for immediate shipment and that the local firm may obtain several carloads.

Mr. N. R. Derby, who was at one time connected with the service department of the Wichita Truck Co. and who has later been engaged in the automobile business in Dallas has accepted a position as service manager with the Gaines Motor Co.

An official of the Premier factory visited the Victory Automobile Co. local dealers for the Premier and Oldsmobile cars, last week. He was investigating the work of Premier cars in this territory. The Victory company received a shipment of Oldsmobiles from the factory in Lansing, Michigan. The car came through in eight days from the northern city. Another carload is on the way and is expected within a few days. An entire carload of Tommie springs was also received by this company last week.

The United States Torpedo Co. has purchased five Oldsmobile trucks and are having them equipped especially for the transportation of high explosives and other material used in their work. The first car to be completed.

R. R. COMMISSION POSTPONES HEARING OF RATE CASES

AUSTIN, July 31.—An order was issued today by the railroad commission postponing from August 4 to August 11, all the general advance rate cases which are to be considered by that body. The session on August 4 will be held at Austin, although it may be decided to change the hearing to Galveston.

The action of the commission in resetting these advance rate cases is because the interstate commerce commission has not as yet announced its decision on the petition of the common carriers for a general advance in rates. This apparently indicates that the Texas commission means to make the same ratio of increases as those made by the interstate commerce commission.

DID YOU KNOW that we are selling lumber from $20.00 to $45.00 per thousand cheaper than you paid for it last winter? NOW IS THE TIME TO BUILD. We have large stock of the very best grade of material and every indication points to higher prices this fall. Let's talk this over.

Are you sure you have enough ice?

Remember—chipping it from the block to make iced drinks and ice cream and the other cool things you rely on to keep you comfortable, soon eats into the chunk that looked so big when the driver brought it to you.

Take all this "chipping off" into consideration when you buy your ice in the morning and then you'll be sure to avoid the vexing occurrence of finding that you are out of ice.

We offer these few suggestions to make it most convenient and pleasant to get your ice promptly and regularly:

- HANG OUT YOUR CARD EARLY.
- TAKE IT DOWN WHEN YOU'VE BEEN SERVED.
- HAVE YOUR COUPON OR THE EXACT CHANGE READY.
- GET THE BREAKABLE CHINA OUT OF THE DRIVER'S WAY.

Just little things, in themselves—but my what a world of time they save and in thus saving enable the driver to get to everybody early in the day.

THE GENERAL OIL COMPANY WELCOMES YOU TO BIG SPRING, TEXAS, AUGUST 7 AND 8

The Barbecue will be held Saturday, August 7th. A visit to the wells will be made on Sunday, August 8th.

Will Celebrate the Discovery and Opening of the World's Newest Oil Field by a Two-Day "Open House" Picnic and Public Barbecue

The General Oil Company will celebrate the opening of what many believe is the most significant oil discovery in Texas, and will result in the building of another Wichita Falls or Tulsa here in the heart of the West. Being nearly three hundred miles distant from El Paso and practically the same distance from Fort Worth and with certain railroad lines contemplating extensions in this direction and directly through the new Big Spring oil fields, this would seem the logical location. Many predict that a new city will arise in West Texas within the next six months, due to the pioneer work of the General Oil Company in the famous McDowell well, 21 miles south of the town of Big Spring.

For two days Big Spring will keep "Open House" and all visitors will be comfortably cared for at no expense during the two days' stay. A great barbecue, such as only West Texas knows how to stage; free automobile rides to see the new wells in action, a real Western cowboy show, including bull-dogging, roping and riding contests, relay races, by Texas cowpunchers; airplane races and automobile races. OIL INVESTORS and OPERATORS will be particularly interested in this opportunity to see the new Big Spring Oil Field.

Special Pullman cars will run from New York, St. Louis, San Francisco, Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Houston direct to Big Spring.

If you want to see for yourself what will later be shown broadcast in movies wire Mr. Louis Emden or Mr. J. M. Delz, Westbrook Hotel, Fort Worth and reservations will be made for yourself and party.

HARDEMAN COUNTY BIG WHEAT CROP

Estimate of 20 Bushels to Acre Claimed—Chamber of Commerce Plan Campaign for Members

QUANAH, July 31.—Farmers in Hardeaman county are about through threshing wheat. The county will make over an average of 20 bushels per acre.

Oil drilling is again on the boom. In the next few days all the wells in Hardeaman county will be drilling. The Quanah, Texas Drilling Association will begin on their Texas river test as soon as the large casing arrives. This well is over 1,000 feet deep, and work will be rushed to completion as soon as all other wells will be going by first of next week.

The Quanah Chamber of Commerce is planning a large membership campaign beginning Monday, and will include every business firm in town as people in surrounding country.

The bridging of Red river with a toll bridge between Quanah and Eldorado, Okla., will be pushed to an early completion, as we have been almost assured of all the money necessary for the same.

POST OFFICE RECEIPTS SHOW MATERIAL INCREASE

Postoffice receipts for the local office for the month of July were not available last night, but the information was given out by Postmaster Ed Howard that there had been a considerable increase in receipts over the corresponding month of last year. It had not been anticipated that an increase could be shown over the tremendous volume of business done last year, but such is the fact nevertheless, showing that Wichita Falls continues to grow and expand.

WELL DRILL IN WELL BLOCK 822 MONDAY

The Kruger, Poir and associates well in block 822 has been standardized and will be drilled in either Monday or Tuesday. The well is directly west of the Bowers No. 1, and the sand shows every indication of making a good well. The report was given out Saturday that the hole was standing half full of fluid, which had come up during the time the standard rig was being built.

Boy Scout News

A detail of eight Boy Scouts acted as honorary pall bearers at the funeral of Dominick Kellar, U. S. A., who died in service at a base hospital in Great France, last fall. The detail was in charge of Scoutmaster Janko.

Major D. M. Perkins, chairman of the local scout council, will leave for Camp Mabry on Wednesday of this week. Major Perkins is commanding officer of the Fourth Regiment, Texas National Guard, with headquarters in this city.

A new idea in Boy Scout circles is being adopted in this country and is soon to be given a try in Wichita Falls. This is called a Patrol Leaders Association and is open only to patrol leaders of the various troops. It is designed to aid patrol leaders in the performance of their duties and has proven to be a great thing in places that have organized associations. The first meeting will be held at the First Methodist Church, South, Tenth and Lamar, at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, August 4.

Rapid progress is being made with the bicycle patrol that was recently formed among the boys of troop 7. The troop patrol is drilling three or four times each week and are becoming proficient in the handling and maneuvering of their wheels.

The jamboree which troop 6 gave Friday night was a huge success. A large crowd turned out to witness the efforts of the boys and at the close the boys were given a big hand by their enthusiastic admirers. The little playette which was coached by Mr. George Hodgins and presented by the entire troop, was heartily received and the juvenile theatrical stars covered themselves with glory. A large number of the parents of the boys in troop 6 were present, as were all of the scouts in troop 7, who were invited guests. A number of Camp Fire girls put in their appearance also. At the conclusion of the play short talks were made by Rev. Tittle, pastor of the church, and by Major Perkins and Scoutmaster Janko of troop 7. Scoutmaster White, who is retiring as leader of troop 6, then made a short talk and presented the troop with a large flag.

The boys of troop 7 will give a get-together party and exhibition for their parents on the night of August 6. First aid drills will be given and at the conclusion a grand materielon eating contest will be staged.

Scoutmaster Janko of troop 7 has announced that his entire troop will be taken to the Boy Scout camp at Lake Worth which will be held in the near future.

ELKS, NOTICE!
All local and visiting Elks are requested to attend our regular meeting Monday evening August 2nd. There will be initiation and social session. Lodge opens promptly at 8:00 o'clock.

H. C. ENGLISH
Secretary

In addition to all the boys of troop 7 two or three scouts from each of the other troops of the city will also be taken. They do not necessarily have to be first-class scouts as was previously announced.

Captain Homer Merrill, scoutmaster of troop 9, is giving a watermelon eating contest for the boys of his troop next Friday night at the North Methodist church. He especially requests that all the boys of this troop be present at the meeting.

Arrangements have been made by the officials of troop 6 for a lecture on signaling to be given to the boys of the troop on next Friday night. Colonel B. E. Kelly, a member of the local council, will deliver the lecture.

Mr. George Underwood of this city has been appointed assistant scoutmaster of troop 6. He has taken up his new duties immediately.

A number of scouts from troops 4 and 7 were sent to the Day Nursery Saturday morning to aid in some work that was being done there.

The new scout headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the basement of the Kemp & Kell building have been thoroughly settled and the scout officials may be found at this place any time during the day.

In keeping with the original intention at the time of the organization of the block and neighborhood groups which are being retained as the foundation of the new community service agency, the general executive committee is made up of one representative from each of the ten districts into which the city has been divided. This body will have general direction of the activities of Wichita Falls Community Service and will carry out the details of the program through a paid executive secretary and the assistance of a capable staff of volunteer workers as listed above.

As shown by the committees and sub-committees which have been appointed for the initial work of the community organization, it is the intention of the general executive committee to devote their efforts to both the inauguration of civic improvements and the establishment of a constructive schedule of social and recreational features. In this they are receiving the hearty co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce, the city authorities, the churches, the schools, various clubs and societies, as well as a number of individuals who are interested in the movement to "make Wichita Falls a better place to live." During the past few weeks particular attention has been devoted to the development of a social and recreational program through the training of volunteer leaders in these phases of the work. H. H. Tscholl of Community Service, Inc., a national agency which is operating throughout the entire country with a view to creating a sentiment for the better utilization of leisure or off-duty time, conducted a training course in Wichita Falls during the first three weeks in July. Approximately two hundred persons attended this course and are now qualified to direct playground work and to assist with entertainment at social gatherings. Those who attended this course were so well pleased with the results obtained that they have decided to continue the training. The first meeting has been scheduled for the basement of the First Presbyterian Church Monday evening, August 2nd, at eight o'clock. These meetings will open to all who care to attend. A special effort is being made to secure several representatives from each of the churches with a view to developing leaders for the social and recreational phases of church life. The training course will be in charge of P. N. Haughtell, community organizer from Community Service, Inc., and those who took the training under Mr. Tscholl.

Chairman C. N. Reed of the Activities Committee announces that several "get acquainted stunts" are being planned for the month of August, among them a "visit your neighbor" week and a series of picnics and community sing-songs.

The City National Bank of Commerce continues to show remarkable growth, due to the fact that the bank maintains facilities in keeping with the needs of a fast growing community. Its volume of deposits indicates that its dependable service is full appreciated by the people of Wichita and adjacent counties.

THE WICHITA STATE BANK WELCOMES THOUSANDS AT OPENING OF NEW HOME

Handsome Edifice is Pride and Admiration of All Who Enjoyed the Reception—Wonderful Growth of Institution Puts It Among Largest State Banks in Texas—Strong Board of Officers and Directors.

All Wichita Falls turned out Saturday afternoon and evening to visit the Wichita State Bank and Trust Company in its handsome and commodious home in the splendid Bob Waggoner building. Throughout the afternoon and until the doors were closed at night the beautiful banking room of this great institution was crowded with visitors.

The mechanic who deposits his savings in this bank was there, and the millionaire, and all who come between were there. All were proud of their bank in its new home, as were all other citizens in Wichita Falls. For the Wichita State Bank is a typical Wichita Falls institution. The broad and liberal spirit of the community—its recognition of merit and enterprise—permeate the atmosphere of this bank. The splendid building which is now a worthy home of this bank is not built more solidly upon the earth than is the Wichita State Bank and Trust Company into the commercial and industrial life of the community. And "built" is a proper term in this connection for the strength of this bank has been a thing of gradual and steady growth and the bank's material resources and prestige have been built up from month to month and from year to year, until it has become the second largest state bank in the State of Texas. Its depositors and patrons include men and women and children in every walk and in every business, and they have increased in number from year to year.

The bank began business in 1909 with a capital of $25,000. At the end of that year its deposits were less than $70,000. A recent statement shows deposits of $3,704,000 with resources of nearly five million dollars.

A comparative statement of deposits for the last 10 years illustrates with figures better than words can tell the steady growth of the institution. The figures that follow are for deposits on the last day of each year:

| Comparative Deposits: | |
|-----------------------|--------------|
| 1910 | 75,274.19 |
| 1911 | 96,850.26 |
| 1912 | 156,062.78 |
| 1913 | 162,232.71 |
| 1914 | 180,227.20 |
| 1915 | 293,450.37 |
| 1916 | 462,693.33 |
| 1917 | 626,924.12 |
| 1918 | 837,865.98 |
| 1919 | 2,412,396.33 |

For several years the need of larger quarters has been felt by the bank and the unprecedented developments of 1918 and 1919 resulting in a many fold increase of the bank's business made this need imperative and when G. Clint Wood, a director and vice president of the bank, began to plan the building which he later built and sold to R. M. Waggoner, another director and vice president of the bank, arrangements were made for a new home for this bank in this building. Yesterday after many months and even years of planning and work by its officers the bank occupied its new home. It was a proud and happy day for them and an event on which all of Wichita Falls was glad to congratulate them.

Organized in 1909.
The bank was organized in August, 1909. Its growth was slow in the first several years and then it struck a steady progressive stride which is still being maintained. It continued as the Wichita State bank until 1919 when the trust department was added and the name changed to the Wichita State Bank and Trust company. Its capital stock is now $600,000 with surplus and undivided profits of $200,000.

The officers of the bank are: W. R. Ferguson, president; Pat H. Simmons, active vice president; W. W. Gardner, active vice president; R. M. Waggoner, vice president; G. C. Wood, vice president; Lester Jones, cashier; W. L. Stewart, assistant cashier; I. W. Karrenbrock, assistant cashier; J. E. Gill Jr., assistant cashier; A. E. Easley, manager trust department.

The directors include: G. C. Wood, J. L. McConkey, P. B. Cox, M. J. Gardner, W. R. Ferguson, T. J. Waggoner, W. Daniel, Pat H. Simmons, Martin Allday, R. M. Waggoner, W. T. Willis, W. R. Curlee, Lester Jones, J. W. Akin, W. W. Gardner, A. C. Parker, J. M. McFall, J. M. Kenny and B. J. Shaw.

For eight years W. R. Ferguson has been at the head of this institution and has guided its course with a steady hand. To him in no small degree is due the credit for the prestige of the bank today. When he assumed the presidency of the bank it was a small and comparatively unimportant institution. But instantly he added confidence that was a foundation for much of the bank's later success. Mr. Ferguson is a native of Texas. He is a son of B. N. Ferguson, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of the county. In the year 1860 he helped organize the First National bank of Iowa Park of which he was cashier for several years. Later he sold his interest in this bank and went to the North Texas state bank of Fort Worth of which he was also cashier until he came to Wichita Falls to become president of the Wichita State bank. Since coming to Wichita Falls, Mr. Ferguson has been a leader in the development of the civic interests of Wichita Falls. He has been a director of the Chamber of Commerce, a member of the school board and has had a part in promoting every civic interest. He became interested in the oil industry early in the development of this county and for eight years has been an oil producer. He has oil and land interests in this county and in the owner of a fine ranch in New Mexico. Pat H. Simmons, active vice president, although a comparatively young man, has had a long and successful banking experience. For two years he was connected with the Citizens National bank at Abilene, and four years with the Oklahoma City National bank after which he was president of the F. and M. State bank of Loveland, Okla., for three and a half years. He then organized and was president of the First State bank of Roby, Texas. He came to the Wichita State Bank and Trust Co. last March.

W. W. Gardner, active vice president, has been a resident of Wichita county for many years, coming to the county with his father, M. J. Gardner, a number of years ago. He grew up on the farm and was known as a successful farmer when he came to Wichita Falls and became associated with the bank of which he is now active vice president.

R. M. (Bob) Waggoner made Texas, Wichita county and Wichita Falls famous and himself immensely wealthy by the discovery of oil on his farm northwest of Burkburnett about two years ago. This discovery opened up the richest oil pool that has yet been developed in the United States and added many millions of dollars to the wealth of Wichita county. Mr. Waggoner enjoys a princely income in royalties. His name is known in the oil industry throughout the country. His operations extend over four states. He is the owner of some of the most valuable business property in Wichita Falls including the building which is the home of the bank.

No name is better nor more honorably known in the oil industry of the Southwest than that of G. Clint Wood, vice president and director. It may be said too that no name is more revered and honored in many orphanages and other philanthropic institutions than his, for his gifts have been princely both in amount and spirit. In business and in all his efforts in everything, Mr. Wood has been characterized by broad vision, unselfishness and liberality. The cockles of many hearts warm at the mention of his name. Mr. Wood is a veteran oil operator. He started in the oil business in the early days of the industry of South Texas and became one of the big men in the industry in that section. He came to Wichita Falls about ten years ago and has been a leader in business, civic and social life. His oil operations have been highly successful. He has not been content with the accumulation of wealth but has used his money freely for the public good. He saw the need of an office building and with characteristic enterprise built the splendid structure which is now the home of the bank, and which he recently sold to R. M. Waggoner. He has given to practically every public enterprise and to every philanthropic. No man in Wichita Falls has had a wider business experience and no man has a wider acquaintance among the business men of the state.

Lester J. Jones, cashier and director, has been with the bank almost since its organization. He has been with the bank longer than any other officer and employee. He began as teller and by successive promotions has been made cashier. He has grown up here in Wichita Falls and enjoys a very wide acquaintance. In his position with the bank he has shown executive ability of high order, and is being looked upon as one of the city's leaders of the future.

Miss W. L. Stewart, assistant cashier, came to the bank several years ago from the county clerk's office in a young woman of marked business talent.

I. W. Karrenbrock, assistant cashier, also came to the bank from the county clerk's office. He has always lived in Wichita county and his extensive acquaintance and business acumen have made him valuable to the bank.

J. E. Gill, assistant cashier and auditor, was formerly auditor of the City National bank. He was in military service from this bank and saw active service in France. Upon his discharge from service after the end of the war he was offered a place with the Wichita State Bank and Trust Co., which he accepted. Mr. Gill has had a number of years experience in the banking business.

A. E. Easley, manager of the trust department, came to the bank with years of ripe experience. For eight years he was business manager of the Texas Christian university and for eight years was paying teller and auditor in one of the most important banks in Waco. For two years he was president of the Waco National Farmers Loan association, a branch of the Federal Land Bank of Houston. He was also a colonel in the national guard organization.

T. J. Waggoner, director, is one of the pioneer citizens of northwest Texas. As a cowboy he came into this section ahead of the settlers, a number of years ago with his brother, John, he acquired the Waggoner Bros. ranch south of Electra and made a success in the cattle business, and became one of the county's most substantial citizens. His integrity is proverbial, oil developments on the ranch and other oil operations have added to his wealth. His ranching and cattle interests and his oil and real estate interests have made him one of the largest taxpayers in the county.

Martin Allday, director, is a Wichita Falls attorney, who in addition to his legal practice is interested in one of the most successful drilling companies operating in this district. He was city attorney at Burkburnett at the time of the oil discovery and became interested in oil developments. For several years he has been engaged in the practice of law here and has been identified with the progressive interests of the city and county.

W. T. Willis, director, is extensively interested in the oil business. He is owner of oil lands and is an independent operator in the Burkburnett and other pools in this section. He is also head of a drilling company that has been highly successful. He came to Wichita Falls from Burkburnett where he was one of the leaders in that busy progressive little city. He is one of our "big game" men with a fair stride here and his services have been sought in business and civic affairs. He is a member of the Wichita Club and of the business council of the Chamber of Commerce.

J. L. McConkey is an old timer in this section, who has also won success in business. For many years he was engaged in farming, owning a large farm south of Lake Wichita. For a number of years he has been a resident of Wichita Falls where he has been engaged in the mercantile, cotton seed oil mill, and flining business. For several years he has been engaged in the oil business. He is regarded as one of Wichita Falls substantial and most worthy business men.

W. Daniel, director, is prominently identified with the oil industry both in the producing and refining branches. He had been a resident of Burkburnett for a number of years and for several years had been interested in the oil business when the discovery of the Burkburnett pool made oil the absorbing business. He was also engaged in the banking business at Burkburnett. Mr. Daniels has large land, oil and banking interests.

P. B. Cox, director, for a number of years, has been one of the leading members of the Wichita county bar and one of the city's most stable financial institutions in Northwest Texas. Mr. Cox is also engaged in the oil producing business.

He is a valued member of the city council and is often mayor in the absence of Mayor Cline. He is largely interested in oil properties and real estate.

W. R. Curlee, director, is one of the younger business men of the city who has already won financial success and prominence. He is a member of the real estate firm of Curlee & Johnson. He is a valued member of the city council and is often mayor in the absence of Mayor Cline. He is largely interested in oil properties and real estate.

Ir. A. C. Parker, director, is a business man of large and varied interests. He is the owner of the famous Parker pool in the Northwest. Burkburnett pool and is interested in other fields in Texas and Louisiana. He is the owner of valuable business property in Dallas and has extensive bank interests. He is a member of the board of directors of the Texas Christian University. He has made many and large philanthropic gifts.

B. Shaw, director, is one of the best known oil men in the Wichita Falls district and his knowledge of the business has made him one of the leaders in the industry here. No one has a higher standing in the oil industry than Mr. Shaw. He is superintendent of production for the Farnham Refining Co.

The Bob Waggoner building, which, paradoxically, is a monument to the faith in Wichita Falls of G. Clint Wood, was formally dedicated and completed Saturday when the Wichita State bank moved into its new quarters on the ground floor. Although every office in the building has been occupied for several weeks, men interested in the structure have waited patiently for the banking rooms to be opened before writing "finis" to the chapter of construction.

The building, covering a frontage of 139,000 feet on Scott and Eighth streets, has been in course of construction since February, 1919. When Clint Wood first purchased the site and let the contract to Stanley Field as architect, he made it known that expense was not to be considered; that, as owner, he wanted an office building that should not be merely serviceable, but should also stand out as one of the most beautiful structures of its kind in the state. Rigid adherence to that idea followed. Throughout the seven stories, interior and exterior, only the finest building materials were used. Green colored brick and terra cotta form the walls up to the seventh floor, and from there to the roof a poly-chrome terra cotta of more than ordinary beauty was used. Wood's insistence upon careful work plus fine materials produced the results he sought. While other office buildings in Wichita Falls are larger, contain more office space and in many respects produce a more imposing effect, it is frankly admitted by their owners that the Bob Waggoner building is the city's real landmark from the standpoint of architectural beauty.

The building obtained its present name through its sale by Wood to Bob Waggoner, millionaire oil man.

The new quarters opened Saturday by the Wichita State bank possess to a certain extent, at least, the same relation to other banking quarters that the Bob Waggoner building holds in comparison with other office structures. Several of the city's banking institutions have greater facilities and larger space, but it is doubtful if any possess a more compact, snug and attractive home.

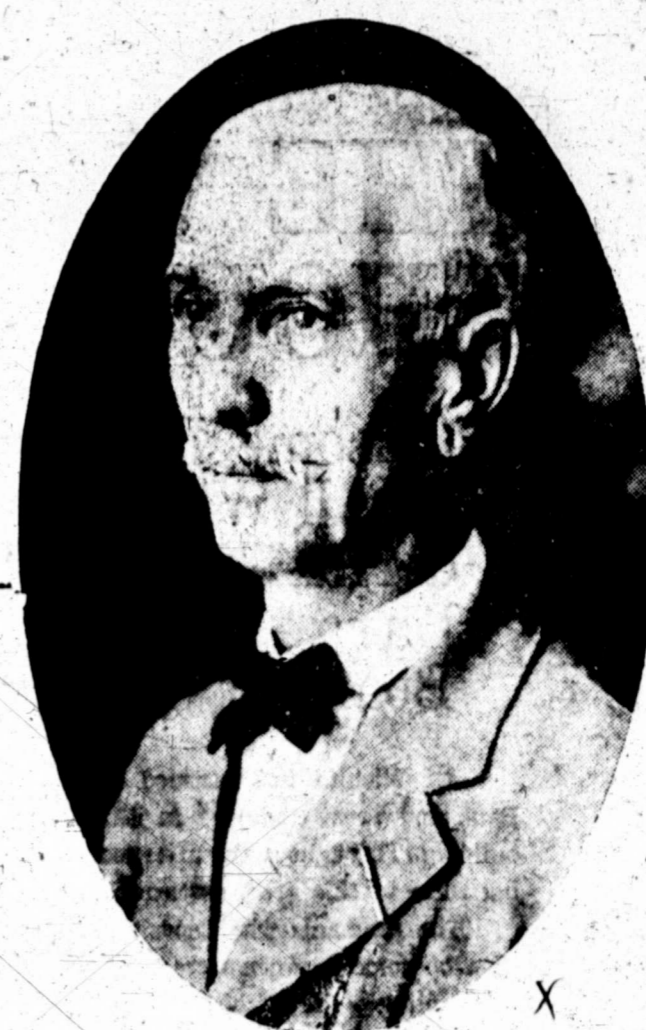

The lighting arrangements of the banking rooms are perhaps the most beautiful feature. An art ceiling with art glass panels, sheds a soft, orange colored light throughout the quarters. Another feature of more than ordinary interest and value is a mural painting allegorically depicting "Industry" and "Progress," a painting that stretches across the upper quarter of the north wall and which required months of patient work by one of the best mural decorators in the country.

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS'

By WILLIAM H. STEWART, JR.

Motor Department: I have a 1916 Studebaker, 7-passenger, 4-cylinder, fitted with the original Schieber carburetor of that date. Have had considerable trouble and can't seem to get proper adjustment for the present day gasoline. Will you please advise if a modern carburetor is necessary to get good results, if so, what make is best suited to this car? J. R.

The service manager states that no change should be necessary. In other words, no other make is being installed on this model. Why not take the matter up with the Schieber Company and perhaps they can advise your trouble with little if any expense. Would suggest your doing this first, before changing carburetors.

Motor Department: I am in trouble with my 1919 Ford Sedan. It runs all right while I run fast, but when I am on a hard pull or starting it seems like the valves stick and don't hardly pull. It jerks also. I tested all spark plugs and found them all right. I R.

Make sure that all your spark plugs are sound, clean and properly adjusted and the points clean. Don't forget to keep the timer clean inside and outside. Remove and inspect the plug just above the fly wheel when the engine is running, but, like most people, I have simply been running my car and trying to luck.

By all means get a hydrometer and have the dealer show you how to use it. When the float reads at 1.175, it shows battery is discharged, either because of excessive use of starter or lights. If it indicates 1.275 to 1.300, the battery is charged. If you have no hydrometer, the fact that the starter does not crank the engine readily, or that the lights do not burn with their usual brilliancy, would indicate a weak battery, but a loose wire could cause the same trouble. Having a hydrometer at hand, you can easily distinguish one trouble from the other.

Motor Department: I have a 1917 Ford, which has been run something like 15,000 miles and is still in good shape mechanically, but lately two or three times have found the pistons stuck. I have a hard time of getting them broke loose. I know it's not caused from overheating. I use the extra heavy grade of lubricating oil. Could that be the trouble? Thanking you in advance. I am the OWNER.

Overheating may be due to clogged radiator or failure of pump, etc. but it may be caused by the driver running the car on low gear. Blue smoke is due to oil, and black smoke is due to too much gasoline. If spark plugs are covered with oil, then the level of the oil in the crank case about every 1,000 miles.

Motor Department: Please let me know the firing order of the six cylinder Ford automobile of 1908, and if this model used a seven-bearing crankshaft.

The six-cylinder Ford car of 1908 employed an engine of seven-bearing design. The firing order of the engine is 1-2-3-6-5-4.

Motor Department: While grinding in the exhaust valve recently, I noticed that it opened on the downward stroke of the piston, kept open during the upstroke, but did not close until the next down stroke had commenced. Why doesn't it open at bottom center and close at top center?

On slow moving engines the valve will work as you say, but on high speed automobile engines there would not be time enough for the exhaust gas to escape. The valve opens before the end of the power stroke, losing so little power that it is not noticeable, but allowing a great deal of the gas to escape by its own expansion. The upstroke pushes out what remains

may be too high, or the oil too thin. Record cylinders or defective piston rings may also cause it.

Helpful Hints.
On account of its dangerous qualities gasoline should be handled with extreme caution while filling tanks. One of the most important details is to stop the engine. There is danger of a flame from the exhaust setting fire to the vapor.

To prevent the vapor from spreading cars must be taken to avoid overflow. Any gasoline spilled over the tank or around the car forms a heavy vapor that may be ignited as soon as the engine is started.

In filling tanks after dark all open flame lights around the car should be extinguished. Kerosene and acetylene lights draw in the vapor and may easily set it on fire. There is no such danger from electric lights.

For storage there is nothing equal to an underground tank. The gasoline is kept cool, and any vapor given off is carried to the roof of the building and so is dissipated harmlessly.

With the cost of gasoline soaring to new heights it will be well to study ways of saving it. A frequent cause of waste is running the engine idle. A great deal more gasoline is used than time you have occasion to stop the car for a few minutes.

Hudson Super-Six Cabriolet
With Patent Leather Top

If a Roadster Is Your Desire Consider this Hudson

It Has Roadster Capacity But Also Serves In All Weather and Provides Finest Car Distinction

There is an air about the Hudson Super-Six Cabriolet unknown to any other car or model.

It's smartness commands attention everywhere. But it is not the attractiveness of its lines and finish alone which accounts for its distinction.

It is its alertness—its way of getting through traffic while cars less responsive to the throttle are unable to take advantage of every driving opportunity.

That however is a characteristic quality of the Super-Six. Without exceeding the speed limits, it travels faster and more and quickly varied range of its performance.

When required, maximum speed may be attained within a few car lengths. And then the speed can be checked to accommodate the pace of traffic ahead.

That is why the Hudson is the choice of men who count on car performance and reliability. And that is also why the Cabriolet is so popular with all who use their automobiles to meet the daily and necessary problem of quick, never-failing individual transportation.

In coach work detail we offer the Cabriolet as expression of the highest type of the art.

Orders placed now have reasonable promise of early fulfillment.

These Things
HOT SPOT & RAM'S-HORN accomplish for
CHALMERS

HOT SPOT and RAM'S-HORN, which have made Chalmers one of the few great cars of the world, accomplish such results as these:

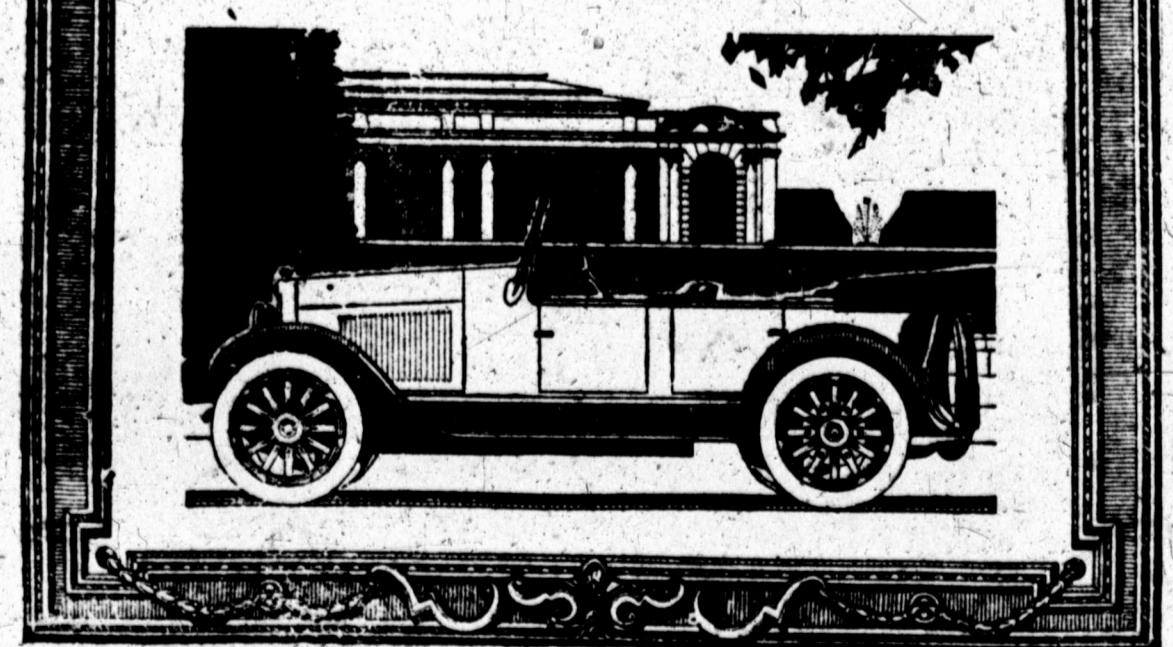

- A—Make an engine practically exempt.
- B—Prevent the chief cause of spark plug fouling.
- C—Eliminate the chief cause of burned bearings and scored cylinders.
- D—Give extended gasoline mileage.
- E—Reduce vibration.

They develop engine efficiency to a new peak and bring motor car up-keep to a new low level.

For Hot Spot and Ram's-horn convert the raw, inferior gasoline of the day into a fuel vapor, from which is extracted, without harm to the engine, the power that nature centuries ago stored away in gasoline.

Spend a few minutes with a Chalmers owner. Talk with him about his car. He will tell you Chalmers is one of the few great cars of the world.

ELECTION CALLED FOR BOND ISSUE AT BURKBURNETT

AUGUST 30 IS DATE SET AND EVERY EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO CARRY

CHARTER ELECTION ALSO CALLED FOR SEPTEMBER 7

Other Improvements in the Oil Metropolis—Picture Show Fined for Sunday Performance

BURKBURNETT, July 31.—On Aug. 23 the city of Burk Burnett is to hold an election to decide the question of a bond issue for the purpose of municipal improvement.

If this proposed bond issue carries, the city plans to expend $150,000 for general street improvements, such as grading, paving, sidewalks and lights, and $25,000 in extending the water system to those portions of the town not now reached by the city mains, and to areas which will probably soon be added to the corporation.

In addition to the foregoing items, $125,000 of the bonds are to be known as refunding bonds and are to be used to take up certain city warrants which were issued by a former administration to finance the present water system, which the town has now so far outgrown. These warrants will soon be due and payable. The bonds are to mature in 20 years. A contract, conditioned upon the election, has already been let to a reliable firm of bond brokers, for the marketing of the bonds and a forfeit has been put up by said firm of brokers, guaranteeing the sale.

Another important election is to be held Sept. 7, at which time the voters will decide for or against the charter which has been recommended by the charter commission. This is similar to the charter of Wichita Falls.

The change in city government is being made under the home rule act, which authorizes cities of more than 2,500 population to adopt special charters.

All preparations are made for the installation of a system of sanitary sewers but a delay has been occasioned by an injunction which blocks the proposed outlet. The new charter will be of material assistance in getting the necessary right of way.

The present form of city government is aldermanic, but if the new charter is adopted the aldermen will be succeeded by commissioners.

For the past month a force of Mexicans and prisoners has been busy cleaning up the alleys and by-ways and the sanitary condition of the city at present is excellent and despite the congested population there is practically no sickness. The condition both as to sanitation and law and order shows daily improvement.

On July 29th Mayor H. J. Laney was visited by a delegation which consisted of the representatives of eight of the large oil companies operating in the vicinity, with whom he discussed the probability of their holdings becoming incorporated into the city. The proposed boundary extensions were discussed, with such matters as the probable tax on the acreation and the benefit that should accrue to the oil companies by reason of city service. There was no disposition on the part of the oil companies to equip the acreation and they were informed that both fire and police protection would be extended over all territory added to the corporation.

The municipal government is favorable to the oil companies and places nothing in the way of oil development within the city, imposing no restrictions except such as are for the benefit of all concerned with reference to fire protection, sanitation and morality.

An $11,000 fire truck has been purchased and should arrive at Burk Burnett within the next few weeks. It is similar to the new trucks in use at Wichita Falls.

On July 25, H. H. Holman was fined $20 and costs for operating a moving picture show on Sunday and there are 24 other cases on the docket of the city judge at this time, against moving picture men in the city. Mayor Laney has instructed the police to close all picture shows next Sunday.

The mayor expresses himself as confident that the bond election and also the charter election will carry.

The City National Bank of Commerce has taken its place among the leading financial institutions of the U. S. because its conservative and progressive policies have attracted a large number of depositors who realize the importance of maintaining connections with a strong bank.

HEAVY LADEN TRUCKS DISPLAY SOCIETY CARS AS LORD OF HIGHWAYS

The passenger automobile, once the lord of the transcontinental highway, is rapidly losing caste. Today it is the heavily laden, rumbly motor truck with its load of several tons that is becoming the king-pin of these long highways, taking and holding the right of way.

A survey recently taken by the travel and transport bureau of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company at a point on the Lincoln highway, 12 miles from Pittsburgh showed that one out of every three vehicles which passed was a motor truck, loaded with goods of all description.

During the 24 hours when the check was taken, 475 motor trucks went by as compared with 924 passenger cars and 2 horse-drawn vehicles. Among the tonnage carried by the trucks was iron and steel products, building brick, grain produce, farm supplies, gasoline, hardware, chemicals, lumber, fruit, milk and a multitude of other things.

It was estimated that the trucks carried approximately 200 tons of freight, which average, if maintained throughout the year, would have the effect of releasing about 10,000 freight cars for the transportation of other goods.

The efficient operation of the trucks was indicated by the small percentage moving without load. Of the total number, only 137, or 29.3 were empty. The best showing in this respect was made by the larger sizes of trucks, only 21.2 per cent of the five-ton trucks moving without load.

An average of one vehicle passed the observation point every minute. The heaviest traffic was between 10 and 11 a. m., and 2 to 4 p. m., two vehicles passing every minute during these periods. During four hours in the morning the truck traffic exceeded the passenger traffic, 137 trucks passing in comparison with 165 passenger cars.

PADUCAH, TEXAS, LOOKS FOR NEAR 35,000 BALES OF COTTON THIS YEAR

PADUCAH, TEX., July 31.—Recent local showers have improved general conditions in this section, giving the roads an excellent surface, and with the cotton crop the best in several years it is conservatively estimated that the yield will be 35,000 bales this year.

Evangelist H. B. DeLay and Singer E. W. Pfaffengerger of Tyler, Texas, have just closed a revival meeting held here jointly by all churches. Two hundred and forty-five conversions were had. This meeting was held in the new community tabernacle, built at a cost of approximately $2,500.

Paducah is to have a new water-works system that will adequately serve the needs of the entire country surrounding for all times to come, according to plans being drawn by a committee for submission to the city. This will also enable Paducah to establish an ice plant which is badly needed here.

STALEY WELL, SOUTH OF CITY, IS NOW DOWN 1800 FEET

The Staley Oil and Gas Company well on the Perry Browning ranch, 16 miles south and east of Wichita Falls, is down 1800 feet. The test is being made with cable tools and the officers of the company report the formation looking good.

Is Your Skin Ablaze With Fiery Itchings?

Don't Continue to Suffer Because of Wrong Treatment.

Impurities in the blood cause millions of tiny disease germs to set up their attack on the surface of the skin, and in the form of pimples, boils, scaly eruptions and itchy, burning irritations, begin their disfiguring and destructive work.

These disease germs can be reached only through the blood, and local applications have no effect whatever. That is why salves, ointments, lotions, washes and other remedies applied to the skin can do no more than give mere temporary relief.

CASING SET AT 1833 IN BOWERS NO. 2, BLOCK 232

Messrs. Sanford and Dublin, contractors on the Bowers No. 2 well, in blocks 232, announce that they have found a rich sand at 1833, and have set casing. The well will be standardized and drilled with cable tools at once.

OVERLAND FOUR SETS NEW RECORD FOR LIGHT CARS

TRANSCONTINENTAL TRIP PROVES CONCLUSIVELY THE WONDERFUL ECONOMY AND THE POWERFUL ENDURANCE OF THE OVERLAND LIGHT FOUR

Overland The Overland Light Four Ranks High with the People Overland

This is the car that has proven to the Automobile world that the light car is the superior one both for country use and for city use. It has proven that a light car is both economical and has great powers of endurance, it has proven that it is a car of low gas consumption, and small upkeep, it has proven that with low fuel operation, more mileage can be gotten by far than from the heavier type of cars.

In this Transcontinental Trip the Overland Light Four has established for itself the remarkable record for economy, and endurance. Then, too, this is not the only record that the Overland Light Four has made, for since it has been on the market the achievements of this car have been many and in each instance it has been demonstrated that it is the zenith of the Automobile industry to the present time.

Local conditions of course have much to do in determining the kind of car to use, and in this case the Overland Light Fours stand out unparalleled. These cars have been put to test here in Wichita Falls, and have always come to the front. The famous three-point suspension of the Triplex Springs gives added comfort to the car famous for its economy. The entire appearance of these cars give to the public the idea of superiority, the beautiful design gives pleasure to the owner, the ease of handling, the power giving motor, all go to make the Overland Light Four the car of your choice. This car comes in Four Passenger Touring, Roadster, Sedan and Coupe.

There are 110,000 in use in the United States. You may have a demonstration for the asking.

The car that left New York on midnight July 18 for a seven day and seven night run to San Francisco, Cal., for the purpose of demonstrating to the world that the light car was the superior car for economy and for lasting qualities. The run was made under a variety of conditions, and with an assortment of drivers. It ended with an average of 27.2 miles per gallon of gasoline and many laps of the trip the average was higher, in one instance being 32.2 miles per gallon.

The Overland Light Four has thus given to the Automobile world further and more conclusive proof that it is the car for all purposes.

Many people are now using this car with the same satisfaction that was gained from this Transcontinental Trip.

Sand Found at 2280—Drilling in Now
Awaits Arrival of Company Officials—Drilling Report

WILBARGER, TENN., July 31.—Oil men of Wilbarger county are watching with interest the outcome of the S. & R. well, three miles east of Oklahoma Union on the Hancock farm in section 50, block 12, further delayed pending the arrival of the trustee of the syndicate from Seattle. No information is given out by the officials of the company regarding the status of the well, but it is reported upon reliable authority that oil is standing 1500 feet in the well with the sand only scratched, and the officials will not hazard a guess as to what is ahead of the drill. The sand was reached at a depth of 2,280 feet. Capt. Smiley of the British regular army, a well known oil man, is head of the syndicate and is supervising the test. All but two of the trustful present, and soon something definite concerning the well should be ascertained.

Following is a report of drilling operations in Wilbarger county:

The Crown of Womanhood

is motherhood. But many women face the ordeal of maternity without sufficient preparation. At such times and later—the mother should take a vegetable tonic, sold by druggists and known in almost every home as Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Thousands of women have testified as to its efficacy as does the following:

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.—
"After becoming a mother I had displacement from getting around too soon. I suffered for three years and was bedfast part of the time. I was so nervous I could not sleep and what little food I could eat did not nourish me. I doctored and took every medicine my friends recommended to me but did not get any better. Finally, the doctor himself advised me to try Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and three bottles restored me to perfect health."—MRS. FANNIE GOINS, 1307 Hays Street.
