The discourtesy to the president is... an affair of political intrigue. History... will make it odious. As well might it... be directed at a wounded soldier of... the war. One fell in the trench; the... strength of the other was broken in... the enormous labors of his office. But... others were ignored—the men and... women who labored at home with... industry and a skill that words cannot... recount! What of the hands that moved... the lathe by day and the needle by... night? What of the organizations... supply effective, that conserved food... and fed the world—that carried nour-... ishment to the very front trench in... the face of hell's fires—that nursed... the wounded back to life—that buried... the dead in the dark shelter of the... night—that inspired business men and... artisans of all parties to work in... harmony? What of the millions of... men, women and children of all creeds... religious and otherwise, who stood in... the ranks as firm as soldiers overseas... undivided by things they once over-... looked about? What of the government... itself—confirming the faith of our... fathers as sufficient to meet the storms... of time? Why the sneer at labor with... the veiled charge that they were... slackers? The spectacle is sufficient to... convince any unprejudiced man that... the Republican leaders who have taken... charge of their party no more possess... of the spirit of the hour than they... were in 1912 when they precipitated a... revolution within the rank and file of... a great organization. If further pro-... were needed, the action of the pre-... sent congress supplies it. Not a con-... structive law can be cited. Money and... time were wasted in seeking to make... a military triumph an odious chapter... in history—and yet is it not signifi-... cant that after two years of sleighful... inquiry, there is nothing revealed in... that vast enterprise, carrying billions... of dollars in expense, upon which they... could base even a whisper of dis-... honesty.

Many elements have made our re-... public enduring; not the least of which... is a sustained gratitude. The richest... traditions that tell the bravery of... our soldiers of every war. They... make the first impressions of history... upon the minds of our children and... bind the hearts of generations to-... gether. Never in all time will the... performance of our soldiers in the... late war be surpassed. From farm... forest and factory they gathered to-... gether in the training camps—from... countryside and city—men whose... hands were calloused by labor, others... whose shoulders showed the stoop of... office task—the blood of many nations... flowing in their veins—and the same... impulse ran from the front trench in... Europe back to the first day in train-... ing. We must not forget that the... breaks into the plans of young men... and their first chart of life is in a... sense more important than any cal-... culation later on. In college and shop... in every calling, they were building... the base for their careers. Thousands... of them by the circumstance of in-... jury or the disturbance of domestic... conditions which war always brings... were compelled to change their whole... course of life. We owe a debt to those... who died, and to those the honored... course of life. We owe a debt to those... the wounded; but we must realize that... considerable compensation is due those... also who lost much by the break in... their material hopes and aspirations... The genius of the nation's mind and... the sympathy of its heart, must in-... spire intensive thoughtful effort, to... assist those who saved our all. I feel... deeply that the rehabilitation of the... disabled soldiers of the recent war is... one of the most vital issues before... the people and I, as a candidate, pledge... myself and those young... Americans to do all in my power to... secure, for them without unnecessary... delay, the immediate training which is... so necessary to fit them to compete in... their struggle to overcome the social... handicap incurred while in the... service of their government. I believe... also that the Federal Board of Voc-... ational Rehabilitation far as pos-... sible should employ disabled soldiers... themselves to supervise the rehabili-... tation of disabled soldiers because of... their known sympathy and under-... standing. The board itself and all... agencies under it should be burdened... with the care of securing for the dis-... abled soldier who has finished his... training, adequate development. These... men will inspire future generation no... less than they have themselves been... inspired by the heroes of the past. No... greater force for patriotic effort was... found when we were drawn into the... late conflict than the example and... activity of our veterans of previous... wars. Under the colors they loved... gathered the soldiers of the past... bringing quickly to their support the...

new army of the republic. Response... in the southland by veterans who wore... the gray inspired the youth with a... zeal which aided greatly in the quick... mobilization of our forces.

The women of America, in emotion... land constructive service, measured up... during the war to every requirement... and emergency assisted much of them... even attempt to portage. They dem-... onstrated not only willingness but... capacity. They helped win the war... and they are entitled to a voice in the... readjustment now at hand. Their in-... tention, their sense of the humanitar-... ian in government, their unquestioned... progressive spirit will be helpful in... problems that require public judg-... ment. Therefore they are entitled to... the privilege of voting as a matter of... right and because they will be help-... ful, in maintaining wholesome and... just policy. It requires but one... more state to ratify the national... amendment and thus bring a long de-... layed justice. I have the same earnest... hope as our platform expresses, that... some one of the remaining states will... promptly take favorable action.

Senator Harding's theory of the... great office to which he aspires, put-... ting a thoroughly fair interpretation... on his own words, is that the govern-... ment of this country, so far as it is... embodied in the executive, should be... what he is pleased to call "government... by party," as in contrast with the... exercise by the president of his own... least final judgment under the respon-... sibility assumed by his solemn oath... of office, taking into consideration the... views of others, of course, in arriv-... ing at that final judgment, but recogniz-... ing no group of any kind, not sworn... as he is, to the faithful performance... of the particular duties in question... and not subject to impeachment, as he... is. In case of serious malfeasance in... the performance of those duties, the... latter is the conception of the presi-... dency held by Washington, John... Adams and Thomas Jefferson in in-... stituting our great experiment in pol-... itical and personal freedom under the... constitution. It is the conception held... by Lincoln and Roosevelt, by Cleve-... land and Wilson, and all other great... presidents of the past to whom history... has assigned a significant place in the... normal growth of our free in-... stitutions. It is the conception of the... process of the Democratic party in the... coming election, my own best efforts... shall be dedicated, with a solemn sense... of responsibility to the power above, to... the people of the United States as a... whole, and to the sacred oath of al-... legiance to the constitution and the... laws. There is, and will always be... a useful place for parties in the con-... duct of a free government; but any... theory of a "government by party,"... which must weaken this solemn sense... of personal responsibility, or alter its... traditional direction and turn it toward... party or faction, can only accentuate... the possible evils of party, and thwart... its possible advantages. I am sincere-... ly grateful to the Democratic party for... the opportunities of public service... which it has brought to me in the... past, and for the willingness which it... has shown to extend those opportuni-... ties to a still greater field; but I am... glad to say that it has always re-... cognized that my official duties were... to the people as a whole, and has in... no case attempted to interfere, under... pretext of party responsibility, with... my right of personal judgment, under... oath, in the performance of those... duties.

There must be an awakened interest... in education. The assumption that... things are all right is an error. There... is more or less of a general idea that... because our school system generally is... satisfactory, and in most instances ex-... cellent, that sufficient progress is be-... ing made. The plain fact reveals two... startling things, one, a growing decli-... nation in the ranks of teachers and... the other, the existence of five and... one-half million illiterates. It is true... that 1,600,000 of these are foreign... born. The army of illiterates has... been more or less demoralized through... financial temptation from other activi-... ties which pay much better. We owe... too much to the next generation to be... remiss in this matter. Very satisfac-... tory progress is being made in several... states in the teaching of native born... illiterates. The moonlight school in... Kentucky has, in fact, become a his-... toric institution. The practice has... spread into other commonwealths, and... hands of noble men and women are... rendering great service. There should... be no encroachment by the federal... government of local control. It is the... beautiful, reasonable individualism of... America that has made her the envy... of the world. The central government... should be a mere agency to put the... citizens of this republic to think for... themselves, and besides, state and... community initiative would be im-... proved by anything approaching de-... mocracy. The central government, how-... ever, can inventory the possibili-... ties of progressive education, and in... helpful manner create an enlarged... public interest in the subject.

There will be no attempt in this... campaign to compete by dollars with... our opposition. So many people have... been in the money-gathering business... for the reactionary cause that the mil-... lions already in hand are more or less... a matter of general intention. All... that we ask is that both parties deal... in the utmost good faith with the... electorate and tell the plain truth as to... the amounts received, the contribu-... tions, and the items of disbursement. The... public judgment in elections should be... rendered after the fullest hearing pos-... sible. Each side has the right to prop-... erly present its case. This is a legiti-... mate expense. There is no narrow... dividing line between the legitimate... and illegitimate in political campaigns. One... contemplates the organization and... maintenance of such facilities as are... necessary to the conduct of the cam-... paign. The facts bearing upon the issues; the... other carries the deliberate purpose to... interfere with the honest rendering of... a verdict. How misguided some of our... people are. Recognizing that read-... justment must be made, they believe... that they will be better if they cast... their fortunes with those with whom... they dealt on the base of campaign... contributions in days gone by. They... do not sense the dangers that threaten... the sort of readjustment which will... result from our present course. Ulti-... mately to our general prosperity, is... the honest readjustment. Any unfair... adjustment simply delays the ultimate... process and we should remember the... lesson of history that one extreme... usually leads to another. We desire... industrial peace. We want our people... to have an abiding confidence in gov-... ernment, but no readjustment made... under reactionary auspices, will carry... with it the confidence of the coun-... try. If I were asked to name in these... trying days the first essential over-... shading every other consideration, the... response would be confidence in... government. It would be nothing less... than a calamity if the next adminis-... tration were elected under corrupt... auspices. There is unrest in the coun-... try; our people have passed through... a trying experience. The European... war before it engulfed us, aroused ex-... treme racial throbs in a nation of com-... posite citizenship. The conflict in... which we participated carried anxieties... into every community and thousands... upon thousands of homes were touch-... ed by tragedy. The inconveniences in-... cident to the war have been disquiet-... ing; the failure of the Republican Con-... gress to repeal annoying taxes has ad-... ded to our troubles. The natural im-... pulse is to forget the past, to develop... new interests, to create a refreshed... and refreshing atmosphere in life. We... want to forge war and be free from... the troubling thought of its possibility... in the future. We want the dawn and... the dawn of a new morning. We want... happiness in the land; the feeling that... the square deal among men and be-... tween men and government is not to... be interfered with by a purchased pre-... ference. We want a change from the... old world of yesterday where inter-... national intrigue, made the inter-... mers pawns on the chessboard of war. We... want a change from the old in-... dustrial world where the man who... toiled was assured "a full dinner pail"... as his only lot and portion. But how... are we to make the change? Which... way shall we go? We stand at the... forks of the road and must choose... which to follow. One leads to a higher... citizenship, a freer expression of the... individual and a fuller life for all. The... other leads to reaction, the rule of the... few over the many and the restriction... of the average man's chances to grow... up. Cunning devices backed by... unlimited prodigal expenditures will... be used to confuse and to lure. But I... have an abiding faith that the pitfalls... will be avoided and the right road... chosen. The leaders opposed to dem-... ocracy promise to put the country... "back to normal." This can only mean... the so-called normal of former reac-... tionary administrations, the outstand-... ing features of which was a pittance... for farm produce and a small wage... for a long day of labor. My vision... does not turn backward to the "nor-... mal" desired by the senatorial oligar-... chy, but to a future in which all shall... have a normal opportunity to cultivate... a higher stature amidst better environ-... ment than that of the past. Our view... is toward the sunrise of tomorrow with... its progress and its eternal promise of... better things. The opposition stands... in the skyline of the setting sun, look-... ing backward to the old days of reac-... tion.

I accept the nomination of our party... obedient to the Divine Sovereign of... the universe and hopeful that our trial... in Him the way will be shown for... hopeful service.

CHIROPRACTIC
Relieves Epileptic Convulsions
Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 22, 1919.
Dear Doctor:
I have thought for some time of writing and expressing to you how much myself, father and mother appreciate what you have done for me by the Chiropractic Adjustments. You remember that I told you I had been having epileptic convulsions for 14 years. I will soon be 31 years old. I would have from one to two spells a month. For the last three years they have been so severe that I have been unable to work.
I began taking Chiropractic Adjustments from you on the 8th day of May, last. I have only had one light attack since and that was brought about by an imprudent act of myself; otherwise I don't think I would have had it. I am feeling fine and gaining weight and strength every day.
I am still taking the adjustments and will continue to do so for a while yet. You may make this letter public, if you wish, in order that it might be of some benefit to others who are similarly affected by the wonderful power of the Chiropractic Adjustments. I remain, very truly yours,

GRANT REQUEST FOR SOUTH SIDE SCHOOL

Attorney General Refuses Permission for Sale of Issue of the School Bonds.

The question of the school bonds, which have caused much discussion of late, was definitely settled for the time being by the announcement that attorney general Curren had refused permission for the sale of the bonds. It is understood that a legal technicality was the direct cause of the refusal and that it would have been an easy matter to remedy the defect, but inasmuch as no satisfactory bids had been received for the bonds it was decided to let the matter drop for the time being. The only bid received by the board was for $84,987, and this applied on the $100,000 issue would have entailed a loss of over $15,000. No definite action was taken in regard to the matter and the final disposition of the case will not be made until a later date.

The vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge P. A. Martin was filled when the board elected W. R. Ferguson of this city as vice-president. Action was also taken in regard to the question of supplying instructors for the lower grades of a school in the Holiday creek district. Petition was made to the board of residents of that part of the city and it was voted to grant the request. A church is to be utilized as a school house and the board agreed to furnish equipment for one room with the understanding that the residents of this community furnish the equipment and supplies for the other teacher. Classes in the first, second, third and fourth grades will be held and a survey of the property will be made by the board of education to determine the advisability of adding a fifth grade to those already established.

CHICKENS PROVOKE ROW THAT ENDS IN COURT

The police court entertained another "neighborhood tea party" Saturday morning and the same old story of "your kids threw rocks at my chickens and I'm gonna have the law on you" was thoroughly hashed over. The principals in this morning's conflict came from the vicinity of Thirteenth and Grand streets and a flock of chickens caused the whole affair, by being utilized as targets by the defendants' youngsters. In this case, however, the daily of the juvenile rock heavers and the owner of the chickens attempted to settle the matter out of court, and staged a lively one-round fist fight Friday evening. Both men were brought into court and after presenting their difficulties each was fined $10 by Judge Ogil for fighting and disturbing the peace. Aside from this the court had nothing unusual Saturday.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 7.—General Juan Barragan, former chief of staff to President Carranza, who was imprisoned here in connection with the death of Carranza and who later escaped, was sheltered by the Italian legation and given a passport by the Spanish legation or consulate here, according to a statement made today by Dr. Hidalgo, under-secretary in charge of the foreign office. He declared he had received this information from Ramon P. De Negril, Mexican consul in New York.

Stefano Carrera, Italian minister here, denied the charge that the Italian legation sheltered the fugitive, and the Mexican minister asserted he had heard the Spanish legation likewise denied any connection with the escape of General Barragan.

atic cabals, but by untrammelled judgment of the San Francisco convention. Senator Robinson appeared to be heard plainly in the most distant part of the grounds through the aid of the sound amplifying device installed.

Long of the American Senator Robinson's denunciation of republican senators for their "nagging" attack on President Wilson and the senator's charge that they had blocked peace. "That's the stuff," was shouted.

When he declared that the treaty of Versailles "must be ratified" to secure peace, another wave of applause burst forth. More cheers followed his opposition to a "reactionary" president. The crowd laughed and cheered when he predicted Governor Cox would carry the fight to the republicans and not have a front porch campaign.

Given Ovation. Governor Cox was given an ovation at 4:40 o'clock. The amphitheatre crowd rose and cheered for nearly a minute. "The Cox is the first officer" was given his decision to that he took up the democratic standard "a free man." Applause greeted his statement that there was "no time for wailing" but for straight talking and acting.

Governor Cox's praise of the clarity of the democratic platform brought another cheer.

Governor James M. Cox today received and accepted formally the democratic presidential nomination.

On the program issue and generally the democratic cause, he declared he presented to the American people a choice between democratic progress and reactionary republicanism.

Prohibition was mentioned only by the inference of a strong declaration for law enforcement. The governor urged ratification of the woman suffrage amendment and pledged many reforms, including tax reduction and economy in government.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas who delivered the notification speech, hailed the candidate as an "experienced and progressive minded leader, with a long record of achievements during his three terms as Ohio's governor."

The amphitheater was crowded long before the parade arrived and the sun awarded the receipts of the soft drink vendors.

Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Roosevelt, the governor's daughter, Mrs. D. J. Mahoney, with other relatives and friends of the candidates, occupied a large box directly across the press section from the speakers' stand.

Other boxes held democratic notables galore. To one side of the speakers' stand was seated the notification committee and to the rear the democratic national committee.

Sleeping upon the speakers' stand, the governor and Mr. Roosevelt received the marchers, waving their hands and shouting occasionally to friends they recognized. Also on the reviewing stand were Chairman White of the national committee and Gilbert Cox, Sr., father of the presidential candidate.

A salute of applause was given the marchers from Marion, Senator Harding's home. They were led by 150 women and carried a banner declaring, "We're here Jimmy, all from Marion."

Another said, "No Cox never played a horn and he won't play second fiddle to a senate bunch."

The governor got several laughs out of the banners, which included the statement, "A little too warm on the front porch."

Innumerable legends were on banners carried by the marchers.

A Milwaukee contingent said: "The vote that will make Milwaukee famous—Cox 55 1/2 per cent, Harding 44 1/2 per cent."

About a hundred miners from the Cambridge, Ohio, coal district drew a wave of applause when they appeared in working clothes and safety head lamps. "Jimmy Cox, the friends of the miners," was on their banners.

SUFFRAGISTS INVOKE AID OF REPUBLICANS

Hays Assures Connecticut Delegation Everything Will Be Done to Assist Cause.

NEW YORK, August 7.—The republican national organization and Senator Harding are doing everything that they can "consistently" do to bring about ratification of the woman suffrage amendment to the constitution, Chairman Will H. Hays told a committee of Connecticut women who visited him here today at republican headquarters. Chairman Hays told the suffragists that he believed it would be wrong for Senator Harding or any other party leader to attempt to coerce the governor or legislature of any of the states which have not acted upon the amendment.

Miss Ludington told Chairman Hays that Connecticut republican leaders closed to Governor Holcomb had declared that the governor never received a request from the national republican organizations to call a special session of the legislature.

"We submit," said Miss Ludington, "that so long as the official leaders of the party in the state are in entire harmony with the governor opposing us and the national party keeps hands off, they are accomplices in his opposition and must be held responsible accordingly."

Chairman Hays in the course of his reply declared the suffrage issue is one that "can properly be settled soon" and expressed the opinion that the demand for a speedy settlement was due to many other questions awaiting solution.

GRANT REQUEST FOR SOUTH SIDE SCHOOL

Attorney General Refuses Permission for Sale of Issue of the School Bonds.

The question of the school bonds, which have caused much discussion of late, was definitely settled for the time being by the announcement that Attorney General Cretton had refused permission for the sale of the bonds. It is understood that a legal technicality was the direct cause of the refusal and that it would have been an easy matter to remedy the defect, but inasmuch as no satisfactory bids had been received for the bonds it was decided to let the matter drop for the time being. The only bid received by the board was for $4,000, and this applied to the $10,000 issue would have entailed a loss of over $15,000. No definite action was taken in regard to the matter and the final disposition of the case will not be made until a later date.

CHICKENS PROVOKE ROW THAT ENDS IN COURT

The police court entertained another "neighborhood tea party" Saturday morning and the same old story of "your kids threw rocks at my chickens and I'm gonna have the law on you" was thoroughly hashed over. The principals in this morning's conflict came from the vicinity of Thirteenth and Riggs streets, and a flock of chickens caused the whole affair, by being utilized as targets by the defendants' youngsters. In this case, however, the daddy of the juvenile rock heaver and the owner of the chickens attempted to settle the matter out of court, and staged a lively one-round fist fight Friday evening.

Governor Cox was given an ovation at 4:40 o'clock. The amphitheatre crowd rose and cheered for nearly a minute. The governor's first cheer came when he declared that the treaty of Versailles is the democratic standard "a free man." Applause greeted his statement that there was "no time for wobbling" but for straight talking and acting.

Governor Cox's praise of the clarity of the democratic platform brought another cheer.

Governor James M. Cox today received and acknowledged the democratic presidential nomination.

On the issue of the woman suffrage amendment, he declared his preference for the American people's choice between democratic progress and reactionary republicanism.

Prohibition was mentioned only by the inference of a strong denunciation for law enforcement. The governor urged ratification of the woman suffrage amendment and pledged many reforms, including tax reduction and economy in government.

Other boxes held democratic notables galore. To one side of the speaker's stand was seated the notification committee and to the rear the democratic national committee.

Stepping upon the speakers' stand, the governor and Mr. Roosevelt received the marchers, waving their hands and shouting affectionately to friends they recognized. Also on the reviewing stand were Chairman White of the national committee and Gilbert Cox, Sr., father of the presidential candidate.

A salvo of applause was given the marchers from Marion. Senator Harding's home. They were led by a young woman who carried a banner declaring, "We're here Jimmy, all from Marion."

Another said, "No, Cox never played a horn and he won't play a second fiddle to any senate bunch."

The governor got several laughs out of the banners, which included the statement, "A little too warm on the front porch."

Innumerable legends were on banners carried by the marchers. A Milwaukee contingent's said: "The vote that will make Milwaukee famous—Cox 99 1/2 per cent. Harding 1/2 of one per cent."

The home was first proposed and favored by Anthony J. Drexel, a banker of Philadelphia, and George W. Childs, publisher of Philadelphia, and in its beginning was called the Childs-Drexel Home for Union Printers. As a foundation for the institution Messrs. Drexel and Childs offered the International Typographical Union $25,000 with which to build the home, provided the union would raise an equal amount. The offer was accepted, making possible a start toward the acquisition of the magnificent property shown above.

The building, several in number, are provided with every possible convenience and provision for the comfort of the printers therein, who also have the very best of medical attention.

The International Typographical Union has lived for nearly 70 years and it now has more than 100,000 members. Some 22 years ago the members of the organization took stock of the ravages of disease in its ranks, especially tuberculosis, and determined to do something practical to check the enemy. It was then that the generosity of the men mentioned above came in good time and made possible the undertaking.

In this connection it may be well to mention something of the history of the Wichita Falls local of this organization. The union at this place was organized December 2, 1905 with the following charter members: W. S. Miller, John W. Dobbs, Frank B. Faunt Le Roy, Chas. B. Gouger, C. E. Lindsey, D. M. Perkins, E. B. Woodward and W. A. Bachman. The first officers of the local were: John W. Dobbs, president; E. B. Woodward, vice president; W. S. Miller, secretary-treasurer.

The progress of the local has kept pace with the growth of the city and the present membership totals around 75.

SUFFRAGISTS INVOKE AID OF REPUBLICANS

Hays Assures Connecticut Delegation Everything Will Be Done to Assist Cause.

NEW YORK, August 7.—The republican national organization and Senator Harding are doing everything that they can "consistently" do to bring about ratification of the woman suffrage amendment to the constitution, Chairman Will H. Hays told a committee of Connecticut women who visited him here today at republican headquarters. Chairman Hays told the suffragists that he believed it would be wrong for Senator Harding or any other party leader to attempt to coerce the governor or legislature of any of the states which have not acted upon the amendment.

Miss Ludington told Chairman Hays that Connecticut republican leaders close to Governor Holcomb had declared that the governor never received a request from the national republican organizations to call a special session of the legislature.

"We submit," said Miss Ludington, "that so long as the official leaders of the party in the state are in entire harmony with the governor opposing us and the national party keeps haughty off, they are accomplices in his opposition and must be held responsible accordingly."

Chairman Hays in the course of his

MOHAMMEDAN'S AND REDS CANNOT WORK TOGETHER

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 7.—The Mohammedan cannot co-operate with the bolshevik without abandoning their religion, says a proclamation issued by Damad Ferid Pasha, grand vizier and acting minister of war. While offering amnesty to all nationalists, except the leaders, if they stop fighting immediately, the proclamation states that continued resistance by the nationalists may force dismemberment of the country.

SAN DOMINGO POET ON TRIAL BY NAVAL COURT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—A request that President Wilson intervene in the trial by American naval authorities in San Domingo of the patriot poet Fabio Fatio, has been received by the state department from the Havana (Cuba) Press club. This was the first information that the department had that such a trial was in progress and officials said today that they had called to San Domingo asking for a full report. No reply has yet been received.

COMFORT TO THE ENEMY.

If this were simply a Texas factional fight among democrats over Texas issues, the effort to make it appear that there should be no concern over the outcome as it affects the party nationally would succeed because it would deserve to succeed.

So great is the feeling of the East that the New York Times, which certainly cannot be accused of any direct concern in the matter except as a supporter of the present and coming democratic administration, feels impelled to tell its readers the facts in the case.

There is much chuckling among the Wilson-phobes because former Senator Joseph W. Bailey got some 5,000 votes (it later fell to less than 2,000) more than his nearest competitor as a candidate for Governor in the Texas, 1918, election.

Nothing that it does one good to get away from home once in a while to see what the rest of the world is doing. The Dallas News brings up the statement of Texans who have been visiting the growing cities of the West that those cities have distanced Texas cities and, for that matter, Southern cities in general in the way of providing parks.

TEY DOLLAR FINE AND TEN DAYS IN JAIL

John McClain was fined $10 and sentenced to 10 days in the county jail Saturday afternoon on a charge of stealing a pair of $15 shoes from his employer, Billy Bodeo.

The nomination by both democrats and republicans in Missouri of candidates for governor who made their race on the proposition of law enforcement, specifically the prohibition law, proves the revolution that has come about in Missouri since prohibition was put into effect and abolishes the contention that there are more prohibitionists now than there ever were before simply because more open-minded men have had the opportunity to see and appreciate the benefits accruing from the elimination of the saloon.

A number of West Texas county conventions have adopted resolutions demanding a West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college and that the Fort Worth platform include a plank to that effect. West Texas is entitled to an A. & M. college, and if the forward-looking democrats of Texas control at Fort Worth, such a plank probably will be included.

Nominee Harding tells the world that he prefers peace and tranquility at home to peace and tranquility abroad. The statement arouses applause among republicans, and perhaps sympathy among others who forget that the United States is a very important part of the world and that it is inevitably concerned in the peace and tranquility of the world both because of its effect on the welfare of the United States and because the American people are big enough and unselfish enough to be concerned with the welfare of the whole world.

WHY?

Are Peacock Feathers Considered Unlucky?

(Copyright, 1920, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

Probably on account of the "eyes" which appear in the tail of the peacock, the feathers of this bird have been considered unlucky ever since the days of the early Egyptians.

Mohammedan folk-lore accounts for the peacock's unluckiness. The feet of the peacock will ha story to the effect that it was this bird which opened the gates of Paradise to Satan and as a punishment the fowl was sentenced to lose its beautiful voice and dainty feet.

SPUDDERS AND BRUINS BATTLE FOR 12 INNINGS BEFORE VISITORS GET FINAL DECISION BY 4 TO 3 COUNT

Table with columns: SAN ANTONIO, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Lists statistics for various players like Nee, Brown, Groves, etc.

The Spudders battled bravely with the Bears yesterday afternoon at Athletic Park for 12 innings, but were forced to bow to the fast traveling Bruins 4 to 3.

One of Salm's new charges again broke into the limelight as was the case Friday and carried off the honorarium for the first time.

With one down in the first, Nee doubled just inside third and out of Mollwee's hands.

Things progressed smoothly until the 12th when Jim Sewell cracked. Coereham started to win his own game by striking out the Spudders' left fielder with a single to left.

The Bruins continued to get the breaks in the last half of the season. Tanager drew a pass and was forced out at second when Miller's drive toward Coereham's mitt into Fuller's hands.

Heinie's success. His style of batting is all wrong and yet he's one of the best hitters in the league. His batting pose is one that your old maid aunt might assume as she came to the plate at the old home picnic game.

LOCAL MAN OBTAINS TEXAS AGENCY FOR STAR BALL PLAYER

Texas fans will have an opportunity to see the world's series in their own back yard this fall, at least the fans in and around Wichita Falls will have that privilege.

Albert R. McComb who has been interested in the Star Ball Player that has been operated at the local air-drome this season, was granted the agency for the Star Ball Player Company in the Lone Star state last week.

The board has made a great hit with local fans this season and every game has been well attended. Applications to operate the game in Wichita Falls, Galveston, Breckenridge, San Marcos and Abilene have been received by him and previous contracts call for the setting up of boards in Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Galveston and Houston.

The number of boards is limited this year as the company did not expect the output to approach the figure that has already been set, but a few more are available and may be had in Texas by applying to Mr. McComb at the St. James hotel.

According to the official averages just released by the league statistician, which include games played July 31, the Spudders' fielding averages are as follows:

TRIS SPEAKER BOOSTS AVERAGE AND IS WELL ABOVE 400 MARK

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—The three leading batters in the American League fattened up their averages during the past week but "Babe" Ruth, the home run champion who is in fourth place, suffered a slump before Dick Kerr in the last game of the series between Chicago and New York. He was at bat 186 times but connected for only one hit. Tris Speaker, the Cleveland manager who tops the batters, gathered 11 hits in 17 games and boosted his mark from .411 to .417, which is 15 points better than that of George Sisler, the St. Louis star, who is the runner-up with an average of .402. Joe Jackson, the slugging outfielder of the Chicago White Sox, is third with a mark of .395, while Ruth is hitting .391. The averages are of players who have participated in 50 or more contests and include games of Wednesday.

Ruth continues to be the sensation of the league. This was evidenced again in the series just played in Chicago between the Yankees and the White Sox. For the four days a crowd officially estimated at 126,000 came out to witness the games with a hope of seeing the big southern slinger crack the ball out of the field. Only once during the series was Ruth able to "deliver" on his specialty. That was on the second day when he drove the ball on a line into right field bleachers for four bases. Claude Williams was pitching and it was the third homer Ruth had collected at his expense. This smash marked Ruth's 25th home run. Against Faber the following day he was unable to hit, because the game was close and he was ordered to pass. In the opening game with Clouton on the mound Ruth was helpless.

Rice of Washington is far out in front among the base stealers, showing the way with a total of 43 thefts.

LEADING GOLFERS OF WORLD ENTERED IN OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 7.—All the leading professional golfers of the United States and a number of amateurs will try this week to keep the national open championship in America despite the efforts of three Europeans to carry the title across the Atlantic. Harry Vardon, five times champion of Great Britain, Edward Ray, a mighty driver of England, and Arnaud Massy of France are listed to contest the meet with some 150 native golfers.

This is the first time since 1913 that the national open golf championship has assumed an international character. In that year, before the war stopped competition, Vardon and Ray all but swept the field at Boston, but ended in a triple tie with the youthful Francis Ouimet at the end of 72 holes. In the playoff, Ouimet, by bold and uncanny golf, including a putt through a pool of water, won the title.

Last year the championship went to Walter Hagen of Detroit, who overtook Mike Brady, then of Boston, and won the playoff of the tie. Hagen will defend his honors, and his play recently in winning the Metropolitan championship indicated he was in good golf form, despite the poor showing he made in England some weeks ago. James Barnes of St. Louis, runner-up to Hagen in the Metropolitan and western open champion, and many other professionals will participate.

It is expected that Ouimet and Chick Evans, former title holder, will play, as well as Bobby Jones, southern champion, who has been breaking course records frequently of late.

Elimination rounds will be played Tuesday and Wednesday, and the 61 contestants who have low scores for those days will compete for the championship at 72 holes on Thursday and Friday.

Inverness just now presents a testing problem in golf. Each of the 38 holes has been lengthened and traps have been placed around the greens to catch improperly played shots. The railways have also been heavily buggered to penalize the man who strays from the straight and narrow path.

Wynant C. Vanderpool, secretary of the United States Golf Association, and Hugh Wilson, another official, inspected Inverness recently and pronounced themselves well pleased with the work of the Inverness committee.

Charles Lorenz, Inverness professional, gave the golfers something to shoot at recently when he played the course in 67, which is three under par.

One of the largest crowds of the season should turn out to see the Bears and Spudgers clash at Athletic Park this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Both teams are playing in top form and if yesterday's outcome can be used as a criterion of the series, there is going to be SOME baseball staged locally the next three days.

Buzz Wetzel tried to stop his former mates again, but it wasn't his day. The Bears slugged everything he had to offer in the sixth round.

Just how fast yesterday's game was can be seen from the fact that no less than five double killings were made.

Every player took a crack at the ball. McElwee was the only man to fan on either side during the 12 cantos.

Johnny Nee handled a bunch of fast drives around the hot corner. Wetzel, in particular, slammed one at him that made him blow on his hands.

There may be a better third sacker in the league than our own McElwee, but we haven't seen him perform this year. Mac grabbed everything in sight yesterday and in winning the Metropolitan championship indicated he was in good golf form, despite the poor showing he made in England some weeks ago. James Barnes of St. Louis, runner-up to Hagen in the Metropolitan and western open champion, and many other professionals will participate.

It is expected that Ouimet and Chick Evans, former title holder, will play, as well as Bobby Jones, southern champion, who has been breaking course records frequently of late.

THE REAL REFORM.

One writer writes of the dress of western Europe in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries as "characterized by beautiful reasonableness and adaptation to use and artistic effect" and deplores the "present day exaggeration" which has "led to absurdities." However, other fashion critics are more generous to the twentieth century trend, especially for women, and ascribe their greater reasonableness to the adoption of the normal waist, for instance, and the abolishment of the lacing; the general adoption of tailor made for the street, and the discard of heavy, unhealthful underwear in favor of removable outer wraps for winter—to the better educational facilities, get into the habit of studying ways and means of increasing your income and surplus. JACK LONDON'S GREAT NOVEL ON THE SCREEN

The screen version of Jack London's great novel, "Burning Daylight," is to be the attraction at the Majestic theatre on Monday and Tuesday of this week. It will be played by an all-star cast, including Mitchell Lewis, Helen Ferguson, Lewis Morrison, William V. Moon, Arthur Carey and Aaron Edwards. Those who are familiar with the works of Jack London need no introduction to this play, but a brief synopsis of the screen version is given.

"Burning Daylight," known as "Burning Daylight" is known the Yukon over as a crude, powerful, big hearted prospector, with a lust for adventure and a devil may care spirit that carries him gaily through the hardships and joys of the mining towns. He strikes it rich—the gold that thousands have tried to find and a stampede started in the little mining town of Jarguck. Burning Daylight becomes a primitive king, amassing millions and having a place as in the end, he is led into wild speculations, losing fortunes but gaining two for every one that is lost. His entanglement with a band of crooked lawyers and a thrilling chapter to the story and it is through the daughter of one of these men that he is led to suffer his greatest loss, but as in the end, he wins his last and greatest fight and retires in comfort and security.

GRIFFITH TURNS HIS ATTENTION TO COMEDY

If W. Griffith has turned to comedy. From the time when his noted creator of "The Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance," "Hearts of the World," "Broken Blossoms," and other special productions started the motion picture world by his gigantic spectacles and tragic tales, he has been petitioned to produce a comedy. And it is of more than passing interest to note that the play in which he allowed comedy to predominate, was produced in the very midst of a tragedy. "The Idol Dancer" is the name of this play, and it will be remembered that it was while journeying to the Bahama Islands to secure scenes for this story that the entire Griffith party was nearly shipwrecked off the coast of Florida.

But all the tragic happenings that overcame Mr. Griffith and his players did not prevent the producer from injecting a wealth of delightful humor into "The Idol Dancer," which will be shown at the Olympic Monday and Tuesday of this week. It is a well known fact that Mr. Griffith is very fond of children, and this devotion to the youngster prompted him to let them romp and play throughout the entire story of the south seas. One of these scenes in particular concerns a fight between the twelve year old son of a missionary and a juvenile heathen on the islands over the question of pants. The dusky native refused to don clothing of any kind, so his self-appointed tutor undertook to settle the matter in a manner peculiar to small boys. The ensuing argument was fraught with personal injury to both parties but civilization triumphed in the end and the native son donned a gentleman's attire.

"THE LADDER OF LIES" IS COMING TO THE EMPRESS

Ethel Clayton has another of those attractive domestic roles which have characterized her last pictures in "The Ladder of Lies," which comes to the Empress Monday for a two day run. This popular star has steadily gained in public favor since her first appearance on the screen and those who delight in domestic scenes and stories of home life will find this picture an ideal one. The theme of the story centers around a magazine illustrator who attempts to save a friend of hers from the disgrace of a public scandal by diverting suspicion to herself. This, however, soon threatens to cause the self-appointed martyr serious trouble and it is not until an unexpected element in the shape of an unknown speak of righteousness in the principled villain develops that the "Ladder of Lies" is broken, down and the whole affair straightened out in a satisfactory manner.

WICHITA THEATRE WILL REOPEN WITH VAUDEVILLE

Announcement has been made by the management of the Wichita theatre that the popular theatre will be reopened Tuesday night, August 10, after having been closed through the summer months. Painters and decorators have been busy for the past few weeks and the big theatre is now ready in gala attire for another season of high class vaudeville.

An all-star bill has been provided for the opening night but two of the acts are especially worthy of note. Kitty Doner, one of the best classic dancers that the American stage has produced, is now giving interstate vaudeville time and has been provided as a headliner for Tuesday night. Miss Doner is well known in the larger theatrical centers as a peerless star in musical comedy and although it is the larger productions that her greatest fame was reached, she has proved to be a splendid entertainer on the vaudeville stage.

Several seasons Miss Doner appeared as leading lady for Al Jolson in his famous Winter Garden productions in New York. She scored notable successes in "Sinbad" and "Robinson Crusoe," two of the famous comedians greatest stage hits, and she is now considered by many critics as being the best typical American dancer before the spotlight. Supporting Miss Doner is her sister Rose, who is an artist in her own right, although as yet she is not as well known as the famous Kitty.

On the same bill is a sparkling musical revue entitled "Last Night," which is being featured in this and is supported by Anna Francis and Earl Miller. The plot and superstructure of this revue is full of fun, music and dance, and it is a highly original step appearing at every point.

The other three acts are fully up to the standard set by the headliner and the comedy and music supplied by these insure a full bill of entertainment and joy.

An Initial Showing of the New Wraps, Suits, and Dresses For Fall

Word comes from Paris that almost everything is embroidered, especially among Frocks.

Suits promise to give unusual prominence to various shades of Brown. Blue is also considered good.

Fur on some of the most attractive coats is used in chic band effects instead of solidly.

Style authorities say that the fashionable wardrobe will have to include a coat of the Brief Sports Type.

Fashion Announce the Approach of a New Season

Truly Women of Fashion are going to have abundant cause for rejoicing this coming Autumn

Even the most fleeting glance at these authentic apparel originations will assure you of that.

We assembled these particular Wraps, Suits and Frocks because, of all the styles that the foremost fashion creators have designed, they were the most indicative of the trend of the new modes.

In them beautiful soft fabrics and lovely color tones find the best expression and their lines reflect the gracefulness of idealized youth. Come and see them. You'll get a lot of enjoyment and many new ideas about your Autumn wardrobe out of a visit to these advance showings.

The New Wraps

Have an air of simple elegance about them that makes an enthusiastic admirer out of every woman who sees them.

The New Suits

Are everything but monotonous. Slender, long lines, clever panels, scallops and fur trimming lend them individuality and charm.

NEW FROCKS

Long sleeves for woolen street frocks; elbow length sleeves for afternoon modes. Such is Fashion's verdict regarding frocks for Autumn. Effective motifs of soutache braiding and chemise lines are outstanding features. Colors vary, with navy blue and black well in the lead.

AUGUST A MONTH OF OPPORTUNITY FOR THE ECONOMICALLY INCLINED

In this day of the high cost of living the minds of the economically inclined are turned towards the problems that make possible a saving in the purchase of the necessities of life. It is a situation that confronts every family, and every individual as well, for even those who have a surplus of money are not as a rule disposed to spend without some regard for securing the greatest values for the amount invested. The problem has been rendered even more acute by virtue of the length of time over which the period of high prices has extended, and there is small hope for relief at an early date if we may accept the forecast of men who are in touch with market conditions.

To the advantage of those who are compelled to buy at this time of year, even though it may be to the disadvantage of the merchant, reductions are being offered that represent a discount greater than is usually the case near the close of the season. This is possibly due to the fact that some of the business men are compelled, on account of financial conditions, to convert their goods into cash, while there is that customary desire to unload before the end of the season in order that the change may find the stocks at a minimum.

If you have been reading the advertising columns of the papers recently you have noted this condition reflected most forcibly, and no doubt many have taken advantage of the opportunities offered to effect a saving on their earlier purchases. These opportunities are still being offered, some at an even greater reduction in prices and in such a way as to further add to the total savings made possible by careful and timely buying.

August promises to be a busy month in the merchandise establishments of Wichita Falls, and elsewhere, and the consensus of opinion, as expressed by local merchants, is that the month will afford the greatest advantages of the season. Many articles are yet required in the homes and the discount make possible their purchase at a lower price than for some time to come. Again, there are many articles that may be bought at saving prices and at the same time be serviceable for another season, articles that are expected to advance in price, and which can be added to the wardrobe now for future use. Expressions from a number of the local merchants will be round below, emphasizing the importance of shopping during the next week or two.

SPECIAL PURCHASE OF LATEST MODEL SUITS

A special purchase of late model summer suits have just arrived at this store, the proprietor states. They are a special purchase at much less than the market. They will be put on sale at correspondingly low prices the coming week.

This store will offer an unusual cut in prices on all its men's and women's wear and in its drug department are even greater reductions than has heretofore been given will be made all this week at Mack Taylor's department store.

LOCAL DEALER DISCUSSES SHOE PRICES FOR FALL

"The question, 'Will shoes be cheaper this fall?' is asked many times daily in the various retail stores in every town," suggests Mr. Sanderford of Miller's Walk over Boot Shop. "Many have believed that the big price cutting wave which struck the entire country was an indication that the crisis had been reached and that the break in the shoe market had come. This was a mistaken idea. The manufacturers had accumulated a surplus stock of shoes due to many cancellations by retailers and took the opportunity to clean out these numbers before the styles became obsolete. The retailer who had heavy stocks, due to late deliveries which was the result of strikes and embargoes, was forced to put on sales to get rid of his surplus. Most of these conditions have been changed. The manufacturers are working at full capacity and the merchants are buying fall goods as usual.

"The prices are not going down as a whole—some cheaper leathers can be bought at more reasonable prices, but the scarcity of quality leathers will force the prices to hold and even advance in some cases.

"So long as labor continues to advance there can be no great reductions in shoes for that is the big problem facing the manufacturer today."

In view of the present market conditions, Mr. Sanderford suggests that judicious shoppers should avail themselves of the reductions in shoes during this month.

NO IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITION OF MARKET

Z. Kimberlin of the Kimberlin's ready-to-wear store, has just returned from a five weeks' trip to New York and the eastern markets. Mr. Kimberlin studied the markets very close while on the trip and to his disappointment he found conditions in the east no better. In his opinion the month of August is the best time to buy from the economical standpoint as it is the month when great reductions are given, and if taken advantage of will mean a savings to all.

BELIEVES AUGUST BEST MONTH FOR PURCHASES

To show that the month of August is the best month in which to buy merchandise at a saving, the Upsairs Germant Shop is offering all of their summer goods at a reduction of from 25 to 50 per cent. This is indeed an offering that should not be passed up by one. As there still remains many days of summer, much wear can be obtained from summer garments within the next few weeks, then besides they will be in good condition for next season.

SUMMER MERCHANDISE GOING AT HALF PRICE

The Parisian is selling all summer merchandise at half price for the month of August. Mrs. Augusta South stated that she thought that the month of August was the proper time in which to purchase summer goods, in that the public would be buying at a saving.

NEW MERCHANDISE AT A SPECIAL REDUCTION

For some weeks McClurkan & Co. has made unusual reductions on almost all of their merchandise for summer, and according to their buyers much new and attractive merchandise has been received recently, all of which they are determined to move before the opening of the fall season. Much of this stock they are offering at prices lower than they could buy them for in the market now. Special reductions are being made on men's spring and summer clothing, men's furnishings and shoes.

The special attraction for the women of Wichita Falls for the coming week, will be dresses, suits and evening gowns, away below their value, and silk and muslin underwear at equally attractive prices. Many notions and novelties are also included in the special offerings.

REDUCTION IN ALL DEPARTMENTS OF STORE

Elaborate party gowns, new and attractive street costumes, and a big assortment of silk underwear, will be among the items offered at a big discount for this week by Baum & Gardner. The millinery department will also have a very special offering, according to the head of that department.

In men's wear the greatest cut is being made on Mohair and Palm Beach suits. These garments are being sold at a discount of almost half. The reduction extends also to men's three-

FAVORABLE TIME TO MAKE PURCHASES

This store is strictly a men's shop, handling men's clothing and furnishings. Vern Wright, owner, stated that the month of August is the best time for the purchaser to get merchandise, as it was near the close of the season and that there are always reductions on all merchandise and even paying the regular price would mean a saving for one on summer clothing and furnishings, as the fall clothing will not be cheaper.

There still remains about six weeks of summer weather and one would be wise to buy summer merchandise, get the benefit for the remainder of the season and then have it ready for the opening of next summer.

FIFTY PER CENT CUT ON MEN'S MOHAIR SUITS

Mohair suits for men at a discount of 50 per cent from the regular selling price silk shirts and silk underwear at a similar reduction, and discounts of 25 per cent to 33 1/3 per cent on men's high class shoes, three-piece suits, suits and underwear, are a few of the attractions offered by the men's department at Freeman-Black & Co.

In the women's ready-to-wear department new and attractive organdies, dresses, smart summer suits, lingerie, hosiery and a high class line of women's oxfords and pumps, will be offered at surprising reductions, regardless of cost, all this week.

The management states that many of these items are below actual cost, but must be sold to make room for fall goods.

SUMMER GONE—FALL COME SALE

Still the weather is hot, but the selling season for summer goods is practically gone. While there are many more small items of summer garments that will be needed to finish the hot days, these can be purchased at 75 to 80 per cent of the regular price. On Thursday at a price far less than manufacturing cost, as the Richardson store will close out all summer goods that day. In addition to all summer goods that must go, Mr. Richardson has stated that he expects to include new fall merchandise in this great "Summer Gone, Fall Come Sale."

WOULD BUY FALL SHOES DURING THIS MONTH

That August is the month to buy your shoes is the opinion of Mr. Wood of the Wood's Shoe Store.

Some of the styles, oxfords with Cuban heels, with wool hose, will be largely in demand, also high heel oxfords and spats. Medium heel and Cuban heel shoes will be worn for street wear. Russian calf skin and golden brown will be the leading colors worn with those to match your coat suit.

Mr. Wood states that the above is correct in style and believes that every one should buy their shoes for fall in the month of August.

SHOULD MAKE THE DOLLAR PERFORM ITS FULL DUTY

"People who wish to make the dollar do its full duty should buy summer goods in August, states Mr. Huey of the T. R. M. Co., because they can get them at greatly reduced prices, and as the summer is not yet over they can wear them the balance of the season and also get good service out of them next summer. It is in August that the merchant clears out the odds and ends of his summer stock to make room for fall goods.

EXCELLENT REASON FOR PURCHASING IN AUGUST

"There are excellent reasons, from the consumer's view-point, for buying in August, says the Perkins-Timberlake Co. "In August the merchants hold their clean-up sales of summer goods to make room for fall goods and also to get ready for stock-taking, which follows the August reductions. "These reasons apply to the month of August, one year with another, but there are special reasons for buying in August this year for prices are advancing and in September prices will be from 5 to 25 per cent higher than they are now, on many commodities, ranging from clothing to blankets. Prudent buyers will take advantage of the August sales."

REAL HARVEST DAYS FOR KNOWING SHOPPERS

Mr. Bartell of Anderson's declares that August days are the real harvest days for the knowing shopper because then it is that the good business man clears out his summer stock, often at a sacrifice. New goods will undoubtedly be higher this fall in many lines for materials and labor are higher than they were, and this causes production to decrease in quantity and to increase in cost. There is no surplus stock and next year's prices promise to be higher than this year's.

Oxfords, low shoes and summer garments can be worn with comfort for several months yet and the wise buyer will take advantage of the opportunities offered at the August clearing sales of the reliable stores.

CAN'T REPLACE EXCEPT AT A HIGHER PRICE

Mr. Kitchen of Howell's: "People should buy this month because Wichita Falls buyers have been in the eastern markets for a month and they cannot replace our present merchandise in kind and class except at higher prices than those paid last spring. Indications are toward still higher prices. Though cotton has recently declined in price it is still much higher than the cotton that went into the goods that are now on the shelves of the merchants, and the advancing cost of labor and freight necessarily advances the cost of merchandise. Prices will probably go to a higher point and stay up for a long time before they start downward."

ADVISES BUYING DURING THE MONTH OF AUGUST

Richardson-Haberdashery, in speaking to a reporter of The Times, advised him to buy during the month of August all of the merchandise that he could use during the fall. "Winter out of the spring lines as the new fall merchandise would with few exceptions be higher."

They stated they were selling Clapp shoes cheaper than any city nearby. Their lines are not so badly broken but what a person can find the special hat or suit or shirt that they desire and at a saving they will appreciate in a month or two when they have to buy their fall clothes at the new prices.

COST NOT CONSIDERED IN SALE OF CLOTHING

"We are going to move summer clothing, regardless of cost," said Mr. Leopold of the firm of Loeb-Leopold Company. "We know that we could not replace it at the price we are making to our customers, but the fall season is almost upon us and we will soon be crowded for room. Do you know that the suits we are sacrificing can be worn until late in the fall and be ready for several months of wear in the spring? There never was a time when a dollar had such purchasing power in the clothing line.

PREPARE FOR COMING OF SHRINE MEMBERS

We are offering some rare bargains for the coming week and are expecting a strong demand."

SHOULD TAKE ADVANTAGE OF AUGUST BARGAINS

Mr. Richardson of the Richardson Bargain Basement says: "It is truly to the best interests of the public that they take an advantage of these bargains. Such materials will not be purchased again for the prices we are now offering. Eastern jobbers and manufacturers are unanimous in the opinion that prices of merchandise will go up instead of down."

"New fall goods are arriving daily and we have already received shipment of the latest creations in suits, coats and dresses for fall. It will be a pleasure to show these new models."

SHOES SELLING BELOW THE WHOLESALE PRICE

"We are specialists on low prices in shoes," said Mr. Dutton of the Upstairs Shoe Store. "We are selling shoes at less than we can buy them, and economical people should be awake to their opportunity. We will have many choice bargains in an assortment of women's, miss' and children's shoes for this week's buyers."

GREATEST REDUCTION IN WOMEN'S GARMENTS

Probably the greatest reduction made in the prices of any lines of summer merchandise in Wichita Falls has been made in women's garments. The limit has been taken off, according to Joe Colonna of the Colonna Toggery. "Why I am offering for this week $75 dresses and suits for less than $35, and they are as fresh and new as can be bought in the eastern market today—high class stuff that is really worth every cent formerly asked for it. But, what can I do? Fall goods are arriving, we need room and we can't carry these garments over, so we are slaughtering the prices."

BUILDING BOOM ON AT IOWA PARK

TWELVE NEW MODERN BRICK BUILDINGS ERECTED PAST SEVEN MONTHS.

WALKER PETROLEUM CO. OFFICE SPLENDID EDIFICE

The Progressive City in Geographical Center of County is Reaping Harvest of Wealth.

IOWA PARK, Aug. 7.—Notwithstanding the general depression of business over the country, traceable, as all results are, to a number of causes, one of which is the curtailment of credits, and the fact that this is the year of the presidential election and another that we are in the annual mid-summer calm, business conditions in Iowa Park have held up remarkably; in fact, it is declared by a banking authority here, that in any other town in Wichita county.

Within the past seven months twelve brick business buildings and about 140 new residences have been constructed. The office building of the Walker Petroleum company, standing upon a prominent corner and facing the First National Bank, is such a structure as attracts the attention of the stranger at once. Architecturally attractive, it is built of dark ornamental brick, two stories in height, and has ten offices, occupied by its owner, on the ground floor, and eleven office rooms above. The building is modern throughout. The First National Bank is being re-modified and is installing a new vault, a burglar alarm system, and new and modern fixtures. Prior to last May, there were but three hotels, and these were filled to overflowing. Just about the first of May a new modern hotel was opened, and though often all four of the hotels are filled, the congestion is relieved. This hostelry is three stories high, and with its annex has 40 rooms, each of which has steam heat, hot and cold water and telephone. Of these rooms nine are equipped with private bath. There is a commodious cafe in the hotel but it is under separate management. The new hotel is on one corner of the old Cameron square, in the center of which formerly stood the once well-known Cameron House.

The Western Union Telegraph company and the American Railway Express company respectively, have recently installed offices in the business section of the town. Their only offices heretofore were in the railway station. The local telephone office has recently doubled its capacity and has installed a large amount of new equipment both in the office and outside. The handsome brick, arching building, which was recently wrecked by a wind storm, is being repaired and should be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the school year. The schools this year are to have an entirely new faculty, and are to be under Superintendent Bradford who comes from the schools of Bridgeport, Texas. Besides the superintendent there are eleven teachers. The pay of the teachers has recently been increased. The school building has ten rooms and is three stories high. The high school is on the state's list of accredited schools. There are between 400 and 500 children of school age in the district. Bonds have been issued by the city to cover the first $25,000 expense of a water system that is to cost altogether, about $45,000. City warrants will be issued to cover the remainder of this sum. A water tower is now being constructed, 100 feet high, to be surmounted by a tank of 100,000 gallons capacity. A six-inch main will run from the source of supply to the tank, eight-inch mains through the business district for fire protection, and four-inch mains for the supplying of the residences section.

The source of the water is in the valley, about one mile south of the town, and is thought to be inexhaustible, as in a recent-breaking drought, a few years ago, water was pumped from this source at the rate of 600 barrels a day for several months, during which time there was no appreciable diminution of the supply. Wells will be sunk into this water stratum, and a pumping station erected at their site. The water is from a gravel deposit and is pronounced excellent both as to taste and quality. At present the citizens use water from wells on their respective home premises.

Mayor W. A. Arnold states that after the water system has been installed, a sewer system will follow and that the business section is to be paved, a contract for the paving of Ash street having already been let. This paving, he says, it to be of concrete.

Two concrete county roads are to cross each other within the corporate limits of the town, which occupies the geographical center of Wichita county. In the past year about twenty blocks of modern sidewalk has been laid. There are three lumber yards carrying full lines of material, including rigging. There are also three gasoline fire stations, a well equipped machine shop, two refineries and two grain elevators.

The population is estimated by citizens at 3,800, but the official count has not yet been announced by the census bureau. The area of the town is two square miles. On April 25th, 1919, a new charter was adopted which materially enlarged the scope of the town's privileges and the authority of its officials. Under the present charter the city officials are a mayor, four councilmen, a city secretary, a marshal and a health officer.

A war upon disease is being waged by the health officer, and placards are posted at various places in the town warning the citizens against mosquitoes as being the propagators of malaria, and urging that all standing water be either drained or oiled, to prevent their hatching. Other placards carry advice concerning the combating of the typhoid fly, or house fly, and give general rules and suggestions for keeping well. This efficient and commendable work, on the part of the health department appears to be bearing good fruit for the sanitary condition of the town appears to be above the average.

Another evidence of the high character of citizenship in the place is the fact that during the entire time since the oil excitement began at Iowa Park, there has not been a single case of robbery here.

The shallow oil fields located within three miles, have about 50 producing wells. These range in depth from 600 feet to 840 in depth. Pipe line runs from here are said to have climbed from a few hundred barrels to 800 barrels a day in the last few months, and an average of fifteen car loads of oil to be shipped out each day by rail. The Sorren oil field and the Ramming field, which are often credited to Burk Burnett, are properly in the Iowa Park district. They are some ten or twelve miles from Burk Burnett and are but seven miles from Iowa Park, and the operators and laborers in the field, as well as the farmers in these fields, do their trading and get their mail at Iowa Park. The common misconception arises from the fact that when these fields were brought in, their discoverers were wild-cutting out from the Burk Burnett field.

There are thousands of acres of fertile valley land at Iowa Park, in the town that will be irrigated by the Wichita County irrigation project the success of which is assured. This will add greatly to the importance of the place as a farming center. Wheat growing is now the principal agricultural activity, and much live-stock is raised, both on farms and ranches. In the last few years great improvement has been made in live stock of all kinds in the region. Horses, cattle, hogs and poultry have been graded up until now even the scrub stock is such as to attract attention, and to bring good financial returns. In addition to this, or properly speaking, as a basis for it, there are numerous herds of thoroughbred cattle and hogs and flocks of fancy poultry. Prominent among the fine cattle are the Herefords of the ranch of Tom L. Burnett and the Red Polled Durhams of W. L. Hodges. It is from these herds that much of the stock has been obtained for the grading up of the other herds in the region.

There are extensive dairies here, and among the poultry should be mentioned the many flocks of turkeys as the climate and surroundings are especially adapted to the rearing of these birds. A decade or so ago, the turkey industry was carried on upon a much more extensive scale than at present, and large shipments of turkeys were made to distant markets but because of the lowering of prices the business gradually dwindled to its present proportions.

With these stable assets of agriculture and live stock the future of the region is assured, whether oil fields wax or wane, and, as Mayor Arnold remarked, with the fine farming land surrounding the town much of which will be brought under irrigation and intensively cultivated, and with the modern conveniences such as water and sewers, paved streets and macadamized roads, good schools and unsurpassed moral and sanitary conditions, Iowa Park will be an ideal home for business men of Wichita Falls who can come or go by train or motor car in a pleasant half-hour ride.

ITCH! A WAR-TIME ILL THAT'S SPREADING HUNT'S SALVE CURES IT! BREED in the war trenches of Europe, a wave of ordinary ITCH is spreading over the country. This skin disease, history shows, has always prevailed, following wars and the concentration of armies. It was common during the Civil War and that conflict. There was an epidemic of the Itch after the Spanish American War. Now history is repeating itself after the great European struggle. Returned soldiers and those with whom they come in contact will find a recognized remedy for the Itch in Hunt's Salve, commonly known as "Hunt's Itch Cure." Many a veteran of the late '90's will testify to its merits. If directions are followed HUNT'S SALVE will prove a never failing cure for all forms of the Itch, and your druggist will tell you so. He sells HUNT'S SALVE under a strict guarantee to refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied user. A Medford, Oklahoma man, among thousands who praise HUNT'S SALVE, says: "I had it badly. Your Hunt's Salve, however, cured me after many other remedies had totally failed. One box completed the cure—the first application afforded wonderful relief. My advice to those who have to scratch, is to use Hunt's Salve." Hunt's Salve is especially compounded for the treatment of Itch, Eczema, Ringworm, Tetter and other itching skin diseases and is sold on our guarantee by all reliable drug stores, or it will be sent direct by mail if your local druggist cannot supply. VERNON SECTION ENJOYS ERA OF COMMERCIAL ACTIVITY

HISTORY OF DEVELOPMENT OF CITY AND COUNTY BRIGHT PAGE IN RECORD OF WESTERN TEXAS

It must have been in a rainy season that the struggling hamlet on Pease river, which was destined to become the seat of government of the great agricultural county of Wilbarger, was first known as Eagle Eye, and received the name Vernon, so suggestive of things that are green and spring-like and beautiful. It must have been in a season like the present one, for Vernon just now is a mass of verdure. Green trees, green shrubs, green lawns, are every hand and straggling the town. All hills are fields; fields of corn and cotton and milo maize, and every leaf and blade of vegetation is green-green as the Emerald Isle. Just such a number it must have been in 1878, when C. F. Doan and his family, traveling through from Ohio, decided to establish themselves in the almost untenanted valley of the Pease. Green oceans of prairie grass on the uplands and green woodlands along the streams tempted the little family to halt and make a home in the spot but beautiful solitude. It was here that their daughter Bertha was born, the first white child to come into the world within the area of the future Wilbarger county. And she still lives within that area, Mrs. Alice Ross, of Vernon.

Over settlers came, and engaged in the raising of cattle, until the advent of A. T. Baker, about 1886, who began to cultivate the soil and raise corn and wheat.

These pioneers settled upon school lands, and they were thus gratified. The region was divided into school lands and railroad lands. All odd numbered sections belonged to the Houston & Texas Central Railroad Co. and all even numbered sections to the public schools of Texas, and in 1887 the legislature passed an act under which the settlers were enabled to buy the land.

Grain Principal Crop.
Following the example of Roger, the other settlers embarked in the business of raising wheat and corn, and raised uniformly good crops, believing that no other crops could be successfully grown. But in April, 1895, an unprecedented wind storm came. A dry wind it was, that blew the sand soil up into the atmosphere and blew the very grain out of the ground. It scooped out the sand in some places and piled it up in others. From some of the barbed-wire fences the settlers it completely removed the fences lying flat upon the lowered level of the ground. Other upstanding fences it buried from sight, drifting and piling the sand higher than their tallest posts!

For three days the wind blew a gale and a gale fraught with bits of driving sand that cut the face like sleet and that cut down every green thing in its path! When the storm subsided the face of the earth was but a desert and consideration was upon the settlers. Their Eden had become a Sahara! Their crops were ruined and it was too late to plant again, for wheat, with chinch, meant fall wheat, and corn, to mature, in their dry climate, must be planted early. But a rain came soon after the wind-storm, and hope sprang up once more. They conferred together in little groups and exchanged ideas. Someone suggested that the devastated fields be replanted with crops that could start late and yet perhaps mature despite the hot dry weather of West Texas.

Experiment With New Crops.
The seed for cotton and feed crops was available, and with heavy hearts and small hope they undertook the experiment. To their amazement and joy, the cotton and feed crops yielded abundantly as had the wheat and corn, and more that time they have diversified their crops, adding many other staples to the list, until now Wilbarger is known over the state as one of the best dry-farming counties for diversified products. And once again it has been demonstrated that apparent calamities are often blessings in disguise.

The town of Vernon was incorporated in April, 1889. The land upon which it was located was settled by J. W. Chowning, his three sons, H. Chowning, V. C. Chowning and Tim Chowning, T. Windsor Robinson, R. F. Jones and G. W. Darby. The land involved was one and one-half sections, or 960 acres. In this enterprise Robinson had a one-fourth interest, H. Chowning, Jones and Darby each a one-sixth interest, and the others each one-twelfth interest. Application was made to the legislature and a bill was passed by the body under which authority the governor granted a patent to the seven men, of the 960 acres for townsite purposes. The land was platted into lots, and after deeding to the county certain lots including those comprising the courthouse square, and the site of the county jail, the remainder of the lots were divided among the seven men in the proportion of their several interests. These said County Judge J. L. McHugh, after recounting the foregoing historical items to your scribe, "are the fact as I recall them to mind."

Agricultural Country.
Although situated in the fifth oil county in the state, Vernon is essentially an agricultural community. This is apparent from looking at the home-like dwellings of the citizens and the long lines of well-grown black locust trees that shade the streets, and the general appearance of substantial comfort and plenty everywhere in evidence, for agriculture is never in a hurry; farming is not made in a day nor do they disappear in a night. Farmers, real farmers, American farmers, are as the "salt of the earth," the mainstay and backbone of the country, and their communities are substantial and comfortable and wholesome, and of their kind, Vernon is typical.

From the little town incorporated in 1889 to the modest city of the present day, the growth has been slow and healthful. Like all communities, it has had its joys and its troubles, its ups and its downs, but the general movement has been forward and now, in its 31st year, Vernon enjoys the reputation of having more wealth per capita than any other community in the state of Texas. Practically all of this wealth has been produced by agriculture, cattle and land.

The city has a commission form of government, which superseded the aldermanic form four years ago, and is proving satisfactory. There is paving upon approximately 25 blocks of the streets and 42 additional blocks of paving to be laid, which work has already been commenced. This paving is of concrete.

A "white way" of about 18 blocks, including the business section and the street between said section and the two railway stations, is illuminated by artistic clusters of electric glow-lamps mounted upon graceful iron supports.

Courthouse Square.
The county courthouse, built in 1886, after its predecessor, frame structure, had been destroyed by fire, is of red brick and stands in the center of the courthouse square, on one corner of which is a monument in honor of those who volunteered for service in the armies of Lee. The federal building is also of brick, but being only two years old is of a more modern type of architecture. It houses the postoffice and the farms demonstration agent.

The city has four school buildings, each of which is two stories high, built of brick and modern. One of them houses the high school. In these buildings, eight new rooms have recently been completed to take care of the increased attendance and a contract has been let for their furnishing. The school system is under the management of Superintendent B. F. Skak, author of well-known school textbooks, who has been here three years and is under contract to remain during the coming scholastic year. When Mr. Skak took charge of the schools of Vernon, the high school had but 14 units affiliation with the state department of education. It now has 194 units affiliation. For the coming year, there will be 49 teachers, including High School Principal J. R. Stalcup, who was principal at Electra last year. There are about 1,400 children of school age, an increase of 200 over last year.

The French and Spanish languages have supplanted German in the High school. This change was determined immediately when our country became involved in war against the Hun, but as the class of that year had almost completed its course in German the school board sensibly decided to have the class complete its course and to postpone the change until the beginning of the next session. There were 29 graduates in the class of 1920. There are seven teachers in the high school, which occupies one large study hall, six recitation rooms, a physics laboratory and a chemical laboratory.

Provisions for Schools.
The schools last year cost $20,000 and the estimate for the coming year is placed at $55,000. Vernon's attitude toward education was expressed by Mr. E. M. Rogers, for many years a

ROSE WONDER
The Living X-Ray

The only person in the world today who can absolutely see the ailments inside your body.

When six months old she was taken by her parents, who at that time lived in Saline County, Illinois, to visit a great uncle who had been paralyzed for three years and had not moved a hand or foot during that time. The baby being asleep was laid on his chest but when she awoke she nearly rolled off and her uncle reached up and caught her. Thus in a few minutes he was able to move some and in a few months he was well.

Other sick people demanded the use of the child for healing purposes and obtained further great and wonderful results. Her work proved, without doubt, to be the most wonderful in the world.

At the age of 7 she was found to be also a remarkable diagnostician. She can find any ailment regardless of its location without you telling her anything. Don't worry over ailments you do not have but find out what really ails you. Many people of all classes have praised her work highly and you can be benefited as well. It costs you nothing to call and see her as she offers to help anyone.

of the school board, when he do not limit the amount to on the school. We pay out well as to make their post-graduate to the best talent, get whatever is needed. If more money we simply are the fact and the money is being for the community recognition of the coming generation as its first duty."

As to all development in Wilbar, Vernon has had unusual in the last six months and Mason estimates that more than 100 residences have been built that period at a cost of one million, about a dozen of these being of brick. Also about 10 brick business houses have been constructed, costing about $200,000. The plant of the Kell mills has been enlarged at an expenditure of $50,000. Hillcrest Country Club is building a building that is to cost $200,000 and is spending altogether about $500,000 on its four-acre site. When the completion of the club is completed by anything of the kind in the city. The city's taxable wealth has increased from four million to a million dollars, largely through the improvement of new improvements, water and sewer systems are extended to those parts of the city not now having such service.

The Vernon Chamber of Commerce is a live institution of which R. H. Nunn is president and J. E. Morrow, general manager. It is an integral part of the community and does "whatever the hand findeth to do." As an example of this during the oil excitement of a few months since, when the hotels were crowded to capacity, the stranger had but to apply to the Chamber of Commerce to be put at some into communication with people who had spare rooms in their homes and who were willing to supply to him the necessary accommodation. A large sign-board near the railway station so informed the public.

Vernon is distinctly an open shop town and the opportunity to work is extended to all who apply. The Chamber of Commerce has recently placed its workers in open shop situations. This city is the southern terminus of the Frisco's West Texas line and the main line connecting with Denver, and has through sleeping service to Oklahoma City on the former road and to Fort Worth on the latter.

The sanitary department is under Dr. Nunn, who, assisted by the police, makes regular inspections of all places that might menace the health of the community. The citizens are interested and there is a civic league which renders valuable aid. There are a few flies, for the public good, supplied the fly's notorious breeding place, the livery stable, and private stables have largely given way to private garages. The public is alert to the danger and the sources of typhoid, and the path that Brer Fly travels when he comes to Vernon is by no means a rosy one. The city water comes from deep and pure sources and the community is practically free from typhoid. Dr. Nunn reports that there is no malaria except cases that come from a distance and though there are not many mosquitoes, the health department keeps before the people the necessity for draining off all standing water, and allowing rain barrels, old cans or other containers to be about in which mosquitoes can be hatched.

Improving the Roads. Wilbar county keeps well up with metropolitan and the county commissioners have a road committee which works in harmony and in conjunction with the city government. Arrangements have been made for the construction of five miles of concrete road from Vernon. In the direction of Electra and Wichita Falls as soon as the city paving that is now being commenced shall be completed. The county commissioners have ordered two steel graders and eight steel drags, which will be kept at work in all suitable weather and which should keep the county roads in good condition.

There are 450,000 acres in cultivation in the county and 136,000 not cultivated. Of this uncultivated land 120,000 acres are capable of cultivation.

The Texas Agricultural and Mining college is authority for the statement that his county leads the state in the quality of the work done by the "Boys and Girls' Clubs."

More than three thousand barrels of oil are produced daily, making Wilbar the fifth oil producing county in the state. Forty-eight wells are in process of drilling and there are about 40 derricks on locations soon to be drilled. Most of these are prospect wells.

Judge McHugh remarked recently, "Yes, I have seen the town and the county grow to their present importance from comparatively small beginnings. This region was first a cow country and even yet it preserves the characteristics of such. We still have great cattle ranches, but now they are fenced, whereas formerly, it was the crops that were fenced. We have thousands of cattle, though not so many as formerly, but where we have lost in quantity we have gained in quality for instead of longhorns we now have Durhams and Herefords. Our cattlemen are not quite the same, for whereas they used to ride their horses into the stores and saloons, and sit in their saddles while they ordered what they wanted, they now ride up in orderly fashion, very often in automobiles, leave their conveyances in the street and walk into the stores as anyone else would do. The saloon, of course, like the rough riding, is but a memory now."

"The cowboy used to shoot up the town with occasional regularity, and it took a considerable percentage of the merchant's profits to replace the lamps that were shot out and pay the other incidental damage."

There used to be a German saloon-keeper here named Paul Hoefle. His barkeeper was his brother-in-law, and his name was John. When Hoefle would hear the first shots of the evening festivities, he would say, "Chen, I think it time to make de lights out! I hears vun shoot up-town!"

PROPOSE A SYSTEM OF POLICE SIGNALS

A system of police signalling boxes similar to that in use in many of the large cities of the country has been proposed for Wichita Falls. It was learned Saturday, Charles F. Maulen, southwestern representative of the company that installed the fire alarm system here, is making plans to present the matter to the city council on his return from San Antonio.

Many prominent business men and city officers, to whom the details of the signal box system have been explained, have expressed themselves strongly in favor of giving this mechanical aid to the local police department. Chief of Police Lee Huff is especially enthusiastic over the system.

"We had this system of Maulen's in Waco," the chief said, "and I can't speak too highly for it. It furnishes the quickest known means of sounding a general alarm to patrolmen to be on the watch for persons wanted in felon cases, and it enables the head of the police force to remain in constant touch with his men throughout the day and night."

The system provides for telephone boxes throughout the sections of the city where patrolmen are on duty, and flash lights anchored to every telephone pole. These telephones and lights are connected with a police central office desk in headquarters. At any time when the chief of police wishes to notify his men that a burglary has been committed, for example, he can flash every light on the system, call every patrolman to the telephone and furnish him with details of the burglary and frequently descriptions of the men being sought by the police. A complete police signal system of this type enables a force to work with the greatest effectual results, and furnishes means for increasing the power of a police officer.

The system has been in operation a number of years in Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston, with splendid results. Maulen's trip to San Antonio is for the purpose of installing 15 of these signalling boxes in the Bexar county city

J. A. KEMP TELLS WHY HE CAN'T GIVE SUPPORT TO BAILEY

DECLARES FORMER SENATOR OPPOSES EVERY GREAT IDEAL OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

REAFFIRMS BELIEF IN OPEN SHOP PRINCIPLES

Says However, This Question Should Not Be Accepted As Issue in the Campaign.

Reaffirming his belief in the principles of the open shop, but stating that he finds it impossible to support a man who is fighting "every great ideal of the national democratic party," J. A. Kemp, banker and business man of this city, made public a statement Saturday of the reasons for his opposition to Joseph W. Bailey's candidacy for governor. That Bailey and his campaign managers introduced the open shop issue into the gubernatorial race solely for the purpose of securing votes, and that Bailey's nomination in the August primaries will be a "direct affront to the democratic party," are two of Kemp's main contentions. "Since my return from Colorado a few days ago," the statement reads, "I have been asked by many of my friends to outline my stand in the August run-off primary. I would gladly withhold my personal views on this matter from publication, if it were possible to do so; but the insistence of many good citizens of Wichita Falls is of such a nature that I feel serious misunderstanding and harm might follow silence on my part. I am, therefore, making my position clear solely and simply because I have at heart the best interests of my city and my political party."

"I have no personal quarrel with any man who is giving his support to Mr. Bailey in the August primary. I cannot lend my support to Mr. Bailey, however, under any circumstances and remain true to my own convictions."

"Mr. Bailey has made the open shop an issue in this campaign, and has inserted an open shop plank in his personal platform. It is known that I hold as right the principles of the open shop, and that I am a director in the Wichita Falls Open Shop association— and for that reason many persons have failed to understand my opposition to Mr. Bailey's candidacy.

"It is my honest and sincere belief that Senator Bailey has introduced the open shop in the Texas gubernatorial race solely for the purpose of acquiring votes. If he had not done so, I am convinced he would have been hopelessly beaten in the opening primary election, July 21.

"I am opposed to Mr. Bailey because Mr. Bailey is opposed to every great principle defined by the national democratic party. Mr. Bailey has repudiated every act of the national administration; he has defiantly declared that our president has not done one good thing during the past seven years; he has stood out in the open against every principle of democracy advocated by the democratic party at its San Francisco convention, and incorporated as the platform of our party.

great good in this city. And I am sure no citizen of Wichita Falls will deny that I have consistently for 21 years done everything that a single individual could do toward the prosperity and growth of my home city.

Believes in Harmony.

"I have always been a consistent believer in harmony, and I do not wish to see anything prevail that would injure the splendid co-operation that has marked the steady growth of our city and the happiness of our citizens.

"I deplore the fact that Mr. Bailey and his friends have seen fit to make the open shop question a political issue. It is not a question that should have been injected into the gubernatorial race. But since it has been so injected my only course is to state frankly and honestly that my belief in the open shop will remain unshaken, while I must steadily refuse my support to a man who is bitterly opposed to the great ideals and principles of the national democratic party, and who would disrupt that party if by so doing he could selfishly gain the gubernatorial nomination of the state of Texas."

Connection with a strong bank is an asset of great value to either a business concern or an individual. It is the foundation upon which a substantial business can be built. Greater Principles.

"These things are greater than the single issue of the open shop, in my judgment, and that fact must be recognized by the good citizens and loyal democrats of Texas. To elect Senator Bailey governor of Texas would be a direct affront to the national democratic party. Such an action would seriously cripple the election chances of Mr. Cox in the greatest democratic state in the Union.

"I must reaffirm again my loyalty to the principles of the open shop, and especially my loyalty to the open shop association of Wichita Falls. That association has had my support, both moral and financial, since its organization. I believe it can accomplish a

How Much Pocket Money Do You Carry?

It is estimated that many people are carrying around in their pockets five to eight times as much money as before the World War.

WITH THE AUTO DEALERS

Car of Studebakers.
The Excelsior Motor company has announced that a car load of Studebaker automobiles was received and had been unloaded. Another shipment of the same machines is due to arrive within a short time.

Oldsmobiles Received.
A car of Oldsmobiles were unloaded by the Victory Motor company of this city last week. Heavy shipments of these machines have been coming lately and another carload is expected to arrive in the near future. The Victory company is also doing an extensive jobbing business in springs and reports that the demand for these articles has been very heavy during the past month.

Install Air Compressor.
The Galnes Motor company has recently installed what is said to be the largest air compressor in the city. Some minor adjustments are yet to be made on the big machine, but it is hoped to have it in active operation by Monday. Special electrical apparatus was needed for the operation of the big pump, the standard voltage supplied by the city wires being inadequate. This company also reports the sale of several cars during the past week. They are expecting shipments of Republic trucks to be delivered soon.

Much Repair Work.
A Case, four-passenger sport model machine was delivered to John Daley of this city last week. They report that a great deal of repair work is being done on various machines at the present time.

Have Paris Department.
The parts department of the Huff Motor company is now ready to supply all parts for the Oakland and Jordan motor cars. The local concern is the district agent for the Oakland and Jordan machines and is carrying a full line of parts and accessories as well as a complete line of stock models. They are now furnishing parts for all Oakland dealers located in the territory comprised of Wichita, Archer, Wilberger, Montague and Clay counties. The sales rooms of the company are being re-decorated and painted.

Rain Prevents Demonstration.
The dealers institute which met in this city last week as the guests of the Motor Supply company, local Ford dealers, was somewhat disrupted by the heavy rain of Wednesday and Thursday which made it impossible to stage the plowing demonstrations that had been planned. However, some interesting meetings were held at the thirty or more dealers that gathered here from surrounding territory were greatly pleased with the meetings.

Ford tractor experts from Detroit were present and addressed the local men in the care and use of the tractor while representatives from the various implement factories that are used in connection with the Ford tractor also attended and explained the operation of their products. The institute was held with the intention of permitting Ford dealers in this locality to familiarize themselves with the working of the Ford tractor, which they are now to handle, and practically all of the Ford dealers within a radius of ten miles of Wichita Falls availed themselves of the opportunity of attending.

Drives Buick from Dallas.
Six Buick machines were driven to Wichita Falls from Dallas by the Dixon Motor company of this city Thursday. This was a part of the shipment that the local agency has been receiving for the past two weeks.

TWO NEW MODELS ARE ADDED TO COLE LINE

Two new models, just added to the distinctive line of Cole-Aero-Eight motor cars, are the All-Season Tourster (model 870-A) and the All-Season Sportster (model 872-A). The former has a seating capacity of seven persons, and the latter, five.

In these two models the top is permanent, and is made of heavy weather-proof material to harmonize in color with the finish of the body of the car. They meet fully the requirements of motorists who desire a type of car that possesses the advantages of the enclosed equipage for inclement weather, without sacrificing the lightness of weight and general utility of the open car.

The Aero-Eight all-season top is free from all visible brackets or bows, but is strongly supported to withstand the hardest usage. Large plate glass panels enclose the tonneau seat at the rear and sides. The view is unobstructed, and when on the road, tonneau passengers are able to enjoy the cleanliness and comfort of the cool enclosure afforded, free from dust and protected against the sudden shower or unexpected gust of wind that so often arises.

In extremely cold or inclement weather the rear of the car may be enclosed with curtains. These are novel in design, being mounted on individual supports and are carried completely equipped and ready to be applied, in a convenient and almost invisible compartment in the top of the car. Full size panels of heavy transparent material give these curtains the same freedom of view associated with an enclosed car.

When in position, the perfect fit of the curtains, which open with the door, coupled with the glass panels about the rear of the tonneau, give the Aero-Eight All-Season Tourster and Sportster all of the refinement of permanently enclosed cars.

Likewise they permit the inside of the top to be finished with the same care and taste found in the appointments of cars of the sedan and limousine types. There are reading lights at the back and a dome light, operated by independent switches, within easy reach of the tonneau passengers. They are so installed, also, that they light automatically when the doors are opened. Silk roller curtains are fitted to the tonneau windows, both at the sides and the rear.

With a savings account to spur you on, you soon get into the habit of studying ways and means of increasing your income and surplus. Start a savings account with the Security National Bank.

Learn how to keep an appointment with your dollars by having them where you can find them. The Security National Bank is a proper place for their security.

DO NOT EXPECT THAT PRICES WILL DECLINE IN THE NEAR FUTURE

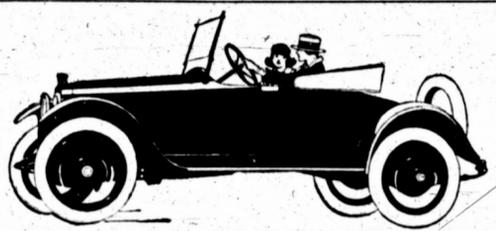

There has been for some time past a feeling in automobile circles that the price of machines was due for a big tumble in the near future on this account many prospective purchasers have refrained from buying a machine even when it was available. But according to a local dealer there is little likelihood of a reduction in prices in standard makes of machines at least before next spring and he bases this assertion on a survey made recently by the manufacturer of the car with which he deals.

He states that manufacturers as a whole are opposed to advancing the price of their products beyond the figure now maintained, but that because of the ever soaring cost of labor, raw materials and other items, there is a very definite tendency toward even higher prices, and although it is not probable that any great increases will be made in the cost of automobiles, it is also not probable that there will be any appreciable reductions.

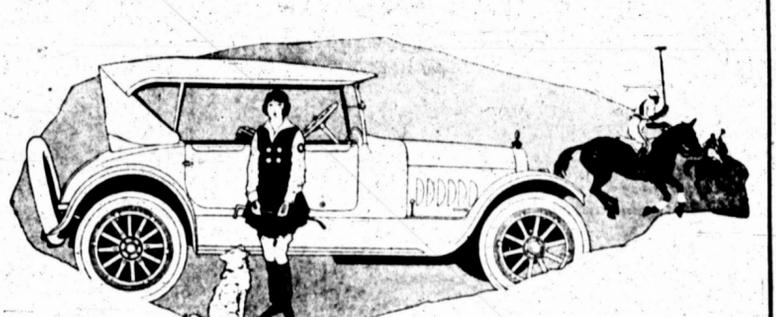

In addition to this, the demand for cars at the present time far exceeds the supply and in spite of the fact that practically every factory in the country is running night and day, there is still a shortage, especially of closed cars. The world car also about one million machines within the next twelve months, but the manufacturers are in no position to supply them and this is another blow to the belief that a price drop will be recorded.

The same situation will develop this fall that developed last spring. Those who wait, hoping for a decline in prices, will be caught short and will be unable to get a delivery on any car of any price. Stamps for sale at Times office.

The volume of deposits of the City National Bank of Commerce now approximately $19,000,000, which fact is indisputable evidence of the confidence which the residents and business men of Wichita and adjacent counties have in the bank. The City National Bank of Commerce makes it a point to give equally good service despite the size of the account.

KNOWLEDGE FOR CAR OWNERS

Interesting and Important Facts That Every Motorist Should Know.

It is good common sense to have storage batteries tested ever two weeks to summer, and to add distilled water if necessary.

When a nut is so placed that it is difficult to reach with a wrench, the trouble may be obviated by reversing the bolt whereby the nut is brought within easy reach.

It is possible to make a bushing give extra service by giving it a heavy lining with solder and then pressing it back into place. This compresses the bushing and gives it a fresh bearing surface. It is also well to ream the bushing out after it has been treated in this manner.

A crack in a windshield may be prevented from getting worse by drilling a hole at each end of the crack with an ordinary twist drill. It will be necessary to keep the drill wet with turpentine while drilling, and it is a good plan to hold a block of wood behind the glass to give support.

Never overload or under-inflate tires. The average size tire, properly inflated and carrying a normal load, reaches a temperature of 140 degrees Fahrenheit just under the tread when run at a 20-mile-an-hour speed. At 25 miles an hour the temperature is raised to 155 degrees.

To reinforce the handle of a hammer where it is weakest, that is to say, at the thin section of the wood, wind fine wire around this part. Not only will this tend to prevent breakage, but if the handle splinters the wire will hold it together for a considerable time.

It is well to watch the clearance of your valve lifters, as the steady tap, tap, tap of the lifters makes a noisy engine, and besides that, the engine is using power. To remedy this ill, adjust the inlet valve clearance to a thick piece of writing paper, or .003 inch. Then adjust the exhaust valve clearance to a thin business card .003 inch, unless otherwise advised by the manufacturer's notebook.

Any looseness in the main bearings is a serious matter which, as a rule, tends to grow worse and soon causes a serious knock which will eventually show a serious break. This should be remedied immediately by having new bushings which should be scraped to a perfect fit. This involves the use of a Prussian blue and a scraper and should be done by a skilled workman.

A backfire or slight popping back through the carburetor may be usually accepted as a sign of insufficient intake valve clearance. When the intake does not close, the burning escapes through the valve and ignites the incoming charge in the manifold. Loss of compression causes a loss of power and the gas blown back deranges the carburetor momentarily.

A radiator leak so located that it cannot conveniently be mended may be plugged temporarily by the use of a thick paste made of litharge and glycerine. The heat of the radiator will cause this paste to set in a few minutes, after which neither hot or cold water will affect it. Litharge may be obtained from any drug store in powder form.

Every motorist should first learn what is the right thing to do in handling the wheel, shifting gears and applying the brakes. He should study thoroughly the results desired and then adopt a method of getting the re-suits which best suit his own physical condition. Good driving keeps money in the automobile pocketbook.

Many motorists, were they to examine the wheels of their cars, would be surprised to notice that their rims are bent along the edges. These bent rim flanges are ordinarily not thought of, yet they cause a goodly percentage of tire trouble. When the wheel hits a frog or a switch of a street car track or a hole in the road there is a tendency to flatten the rim, especially if the tire is under-inflated. The rim's support, however, is essential to the life of the tire. If it is bent so that it does not fit the tire and allows the side walls to bulge, the motorist may know that trouble is to be expected unless he takes immediate precaution.

The gear ratio of a motor car is the relation of the number of engine revolutions to the number of tire revolutions made by the rear wheels when the car is traveling in high. When this is the case, the rear axle pinion, driven by the engine, rotates at engine speed. This pinion drives the bevel gear, which in turn drives the rear wheel at the same speed as the bevel gear. Hence it is obvious that the gear ratio is determined by dividing the number of teeth in the bevel gear by the number in the pinion. If the bevel gear has 21 teeth and the pinion has 18, the ratio is 47-16 to one—commonly called 4 to one. In other words when the car is going in high, the crankshaft makes about four and a half revolutions to every one of the rear wheels.

Motoring Dept.: I have six-cylinder car that I have run four years, and it has been satisfactory, except in the lighting system. In running at night it blows out the fuse when I change to second or first, does all right when running in high. I have had it in your city for adjustment, but the parties failed to find the trouble, therefore I appeal to you. Thanking you in advance for any information you may give.

There must be a short circuit on the line which is effective when you shift gears. Perhaps a loose strand of wire at one of the terminals of the insulation is worn and the added vibration causes the short circuit to take place. Would suggest a careful inspection of all the wires and arrange them in such a manner to avoid chafing. It should not be a difficult matter to trace the source of trouble.

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS

By WILLIAM H. STEWART, JR.

Motoring Dept.—Your assistance will be appreciated in locating an unusual sound which develops when I drive my car at speeds over 25 miles per hour. The car is a Buick six cylinder, 1916 model, and the sound, which is a dull thump, seems to come from the engine. The local agent who has been experimenting with the valves, believing the noise came from them, now says he can't find the fault. Knowing that this is a very limited description to go by, but trusting you may suggest a remedy. A. V.

Motoring Dept.—The dull thump that develops when you run your car at speeds of 25 miles an hour may be caused by end play in the cam-shaft. Remove cover from timing gears and take out any lateral motion of the shaft.

Motoring Dept.—I have a 1917 car. After running it about a year there was a knock in the engine which still persists. If the spark is advanced half way the engine knocks very badly. When the spark is retarded there is no knock. I had carbon taken out of the cylinders and it seems a little better. Please give me some remedy.

Evidently the knock is in the connecting rod or crank shaft bearings or in the fly wheel. The only way to find it is to have these parts carefully worked over by a man of experience. If neglected such a knock may develop serious trouble and may even wreck the engine.

Motoring Dept.—What is the best method to tell the weak cylinder on a Ford? When I look for weak compression I look for bubbles around the spark plug. A friend of mine takes out all the other plugs and then shifts the plug from one cylinder to the other. Is there a better method? A. N.

Motoring Dept.—I have a 1916 Ford car. When it is running slowly it works good, but when it gets to running about twenty miles an hour it begins to sputter, making it impossible to get any speed out of it. I had a new timer put on, also new coil points. The spark plugs are clean and adjusted, the carburetor has been set in all positions. I had the valves ground and carbon removed this spring. It has been doing this for a month now and the local garage men seem to be unable to find the trouble. My car has been run about 12,000 miles. W. K.

Look for trouble at the following points: Short circuit of timer or high tension wires, leaky inlet manifold, carburetor out of adjustment, air valve stuck, carbon in cylinder head, clogged gasoline pipe or strainer.

Motoring Dept.—I am not sure of the correct name of the coil used with an ignition system. Some call it a spark coil, some an induction coil and others a transformer coil. Which is right? Novice.

They are all correct but the name most frequently used is induction coil. This is because the battery current of low voltage induces another current of high voltage. As this transforms the voltage it is properly called a transformer coil or a step-up transformer. The name "spark coil" was formerly confined to a single wound coil used with the make and break system of ignition, but is now applied to any coil which will give a spark strong enough to jump an air gap.

Motoring Dept.—Please tell me what is meant by the word "ground" in connection with the electric system on a car. I understand that rubber and wood are insulators and cannot see how a current can pass from the engine to the ground, or why it would be advisable to have it do so. K. E.

This is a technical use of the word to mean that the current finds its way back to the battery through the engine or frame, one terminal of the battery being fastened to the frame near the battery. The term comes from the use of the earth by the telegraphers, who run the current into the ground and so let it find its way back to its source.

Motoring Dept.—Can you tell me the cause and remedy for my 1920 Maxwell touring car bucking when on a very slight down grade? I have tried everything but have found no remedy. If I drive up the same grade there is no trouble. It is not the spark and I doubt if the carburetor has anything to do with it. The car has done it ever since it left the factory and I know of several others of same model that give same trouble. Can it be due to faulty design? It seems to be lost motion or back lash in either the rear axle or transmission. It has been driven a little over 800 miles and runs O. K. except for this jerky motion when going down a slight grade. My 1916 Maxwell never did it unless it was going less than 5 miles an hour and spark was too far advanced. I would also like to know if one quart of oil to every 50 or 60 miles is not excessive? Is so, what is the probable cause? My 1916 model would use less than 2 gallons an entire season or 2,000 miles. It seems to be used up without any bad effects on spark plugs, or elsewhere. Thus far I have had no carbon trouble. If you can offer any suggestion as to a remedy for these troubles, I will greatly appreciate it.

cannot keep the spark plugs clean. The trouble seems to be in the No. 2 cylinder more than in any of the others. Oil oozes out of all the connections, and out of the valves of this cylinder, but the other valves of the cylinders do not seem to be affected. The oiling system is of the latest type. Can you explain what the trouble might be? S. W.

If the oil does not affect the other cylinders it is reasonable to believe that the oil is not at fault. The writer has known cases where a defective spark plug has caused just such trouble. If the No. 2 cylinder does not fire, the oil working into this cylinder is not burned, and of course is forced out through the valves and other places. Would suggest that you use new spark plugs or change them around in order to prove whether this is the real trouble or not. It is possible that the rings are not properly fitted in this cylinder and permit too much oil to pass. Would suggest however, that you try perfecting the ignition first, and also make sure that compression is good in the cylinders.

WHAT IS THERE LEFT FOR ESSEX TO PROVE

Note the Range of Its Nation-Wide Performances All Made in One Week

These performances show what to expect of the Essex you will get. They are not a surprise to the more than 40,000 Essex owners, although their equal in so many instances was never shown by any other car.

Some of the hardest tests were made by Essex cars that had already traveled over 35,000 miles—equivalent to 7 years of average driving.

Some were on original tires that had done from 15,000 to 20,000 miles.

Many were owner cars—owner driven—taken without special preparation from their ordinary day to day work, to break the speed, reliability and economy marks of their localities.

Women piloted some of the runs that showed up as high as 28 miles to the gallon of gasoline. They set new marks for fast time over long distance driving where men with many cars hesitate to venture.

Is there any important car quality left for Essex to prove?

ECONOMY

With 49 cars in every type of performance of from 5 to 75 miles per hour and over all kinds of roads, the average was 18.9 miles per gallon.

21 cars were sent on an average 216-mile economy run in Connecticut, some over mountains and others on a level course, averaging 18.7 miles per gallon. One car with 25,000 miles service averaged 21.2 miles per gallon. A Hastings, Noh, woman drove 109 miles to Lincoln, averaging 24 miles per gallon.

Four women drove from Los Angeles to San Francisco and return, averaging 23.3 miles per gallon and another Essex made the round trip between the two cities, 816 miles, with an average of 23 miles per gallon.

RELIABILITY

Reliability which is a larger factor in car economy than even gasoline mileage, was proven in every locality in non-stop motor performances in long distance inter-city runs.

An Essex which had seen 16,000 miles service was driven from Columbus, Ohio, to Washington, D. C., 402 miles, in 11 hours 49 minutes.

Another Essex that had set the best time between Boston and Fort Kent, on the Canadian border, made four round trips with a week's rest, 4,021 miles.

An Essex which had previously gone 28,000 miles made a round trip between San Francisco and Los Angeles over a route of grades and mountain passes, frequently far from water supply with its gear shift levers, hood and radiator all sealed. It averaged 22.8 miles per gallon.

Literally hundreds of tests like these were made in all parts of the country. What they reveal is exactly what you may expect from the Essex you buy. Can you place equal confidence in any car that has not so vividly established its performance?

SPEED

The inter-city records for time in nearly all localities are now held by Essex.

From Buffalo, N. Y. to Rochester, the distance is 88 miles. An Essex did it in 89 minutes.

The St. Louis to Kansas City record 243 miles, was taken by Essex in 19 hours, 12 minutes. Another Essex went from Yakima, Wash. to Seattle, 1801 miles over Cascade Mountains in 4 hours, 36 minutes, lowering the railroad time by 1 hour 11 minutes.

HILL-CLIMBS

In every section Essex set new performance marks on the most difficult hills.

The Hill of the World in California, a climb of nearly 4,000 feet in 8.3 miles over mountain roads was made in 17 minutes 25 seconds, beating all previous records.

The 31st street hill in Washington, D. C. was climbed by an Essex on high. No other car had done that. And on the Golden street hill an Essex went over the top at 21 miles per hour and the same car towed a 6-ton truck with load 14 blocks up hill.

NON-STOP MOTORS

At many points non-stop motor performances were made during which the car was for a greater time used in country and inter-city running. No attempt was made to speed him in no case was the motor stopped during the period of test. Scores of cities saw the Essex in constant operation for 24 hours. At one point a two week test—226 hours—was made of a motor in constant operation.

remove hub caps on a semi-floating type axle to lubricate wheel bearings. Reader.

In a semi-floating type axle the axle bearings are lubricated from the differential side. The hub caps are used simply to finish off the wheel and serve as an ornament. They also serve to protect the axle shaft and nut. It is not necessary to remove them for lubricating purposes.

HELPFUL HINTS.

When an engine knocks something is wrong. Whenever there is a rattle something is loose that ought to be tightened. It takes but a little skill to locate the different kinds of knocks, but practice makes perfect. By going over the engine carefully these may be eliminated one by one.

Spark knock is due to spark being advanced too far, particularly when going up a hill. The engine slows down and the explosion comes before the spark plug has fired. If spark is retarded the knock disappears.

Over-riding compression knock by firing the gas before the piston reaches upper dead center of the compression stroke. The exploding gas expanding pushes the piston going up and makes a knock. Over heating may be noted by steam at radiator.

Carbon knock is caused by red-hot carbon in cylinder head setting fire to the mixture when the gas has been compressed to a certain point. Remove a spark plug and look in cylinders for presence of carbon.

The last classification is a large one and includes wear or looseness of all moving parts of an engine. The principal knocks are main bearing, connecting rod, wrist pin, piston slip, loose fly-wheel, etc.

HOT SPOT & RAM'S HORN MAKE A
CHALMERS
PRACTICALLY CARBON EXEMPT

ANYONE who drives a Chalmers, among other delights which his car provides, finds it practically carbon exempt.

The usual troubles of frequent carbon deposits and frequently fouled spark plugs are absent in a Chalmers.

Engineers say that such troubles are due largely to the increased amount of heavy fuel fractions in the fuel you buy today.

The fuel in most cars is not sufficiently "broken up" before it reaches the cylinders and hence raw particles of gasoline coming in contact with the valves and spark plugs leave carbon deposits. Hot Spot and Ram's horn eliminate practically all of such troubles.

The action of the raw fuel upon striking Hot Spot is like a drop of water falling on the top of a hot stove. A little white cloud of vapor is formed.

Ram's horn rushes the "vapor cloud" at a speed of 100 miles an hour through "easy air bends" to the cylinders and the charge is converted into power.

Little comes out of the exhaust in waste. Little remains to foul the spark plugs and carbonize the valves.

This is but one of the many reasons why Chalmers is now so universally regarded as one of the few great cars of the world.

CHEMICAL TRUCK IS PROVEN A SUCCESS IN FIRE AT VERNON

VERNON, August 7.—Fire, which broke out by the White garage when a careless workman on East Wilbarger threw a cigarette or lighted match into a gasoline funnel into which a tank was being emptied, was confined exclusively to the truck containing the tank through the availability of new chemical fire fighting apparatus under consideration for purchase by the city. The gasoline truck is the property of A. H. Swartz and Clinton Rogers, local representatives for the Pierce Oil corporation. Damage was estimated between $300 and $400 and was not covered by insurance.

According to Teddy Farrell, 15 years old, and driver of the oil company's truck, the tank was practically empty when the fire started. The boy was sitting on the front seat and could only surmise concerning the origin of the fire. Cigarette ashes near the funnel, however, led to the conclusion that one of several workmen busy nearby tossed his "smoke" toward the empty tank, and the blaze immediately ensued.

City commissioners and members of the fire department were in session at the city hall when the alarm was turned in, considering the purchase of a new Dodge chemical truck brought here recently from Wichita Falls. The truck of the local department is in a garage undergoing repairs necessitated through the destruction of several parts in last Saturday's fire, so the "prospect" provided the only means to combat any flames that might break out. One of the tanks was charged, and preparations were being made at the time to change the other one in view of staging a demonstration for the benefit of the commissioners. Agents for the truck contemplated building a bon fire and using the chemical as a means of extinguishing it when the alarm sounded. H. C.

Sheetz, demonstrator from Wichita Falls, immediately jumped into the truck and drove to the fire and with the assistance of local fire fighters had the blaze under control in a few minutes. Gasoline burning in the gutters was quickly extinguished by the chemical. It is estimated that the truck paid for its possible purchase many times over as water from the mains would only have served to spread the flames.

Purchase Two Trucks.
City commissioners Thursday morning decided to purchase two new fire trucks for Vernon, one a Dodge 25 horse power truck costing $2,000, the other a six-cylinder, 195 horse power American in France model, costing $12,500. The Dodge truck is in the possession of the city at the present time, and the large machine will probably be delivered by December 1.

The volume of deposits of the City National Bank of Commerce now approximates $19,000,000, which fact is indisputable evidence of the confidence which the residents and business men of Wichita and adjacent counties have in the bank. The City National Bank of Commerce makes it a point to give equally good service despite the size of the account. 47-11c

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

BACK FOR GOVERNOR.

As a result of the recent primaries the gubernatorial race has been cut down to a run-off election on August 28 between J. W. Bailey and Pat Neff. It should be the object of each and every voter to thoroughly acquaint themselves with all the issues involved in this campaign. As it is important that we should select the best man for governor, no one should be guided by preconceived opinions or prejudice. Therefore we should all make a thorough comparison of the general fitness and personal qualifications of both candidates. If after that comparison has been conscientiously and honestly made the candidate who is found to be the most meritoriously qualified should most certainly receive the unqualified support of all reasonably thinking people.

In a question of such vital importance as the selection of the best man for governor most certainly every preconceived opinion and all prejudices should be eliminated. It should be the aim of each and every voter to select the man who is best qualified to advance the best interests of the state, government in general, as well as the personal interests of all the people in common. Such selection should be with the view of obtaining the man best acquainted with the needs of the state as well as the ability to administer such needs. This selection should be made relative to the real knowledge and ability of the man to accomplish results rather than to camouflaging arguments.

Again this selection should be made with the view of obtaining the man best suited to eliminate personal dissension and strife from among our people and creating in its stead a general state of good feeling with peace and harmony prevailing. No man who would teach class hatred among our people is suitable for governor of our great state. One other thought, we should select the man whose nomination will contribute to the greatest success of our national democratic ticket in November.

With these suggestions I leave the subject for your thought without saying for whom I think you should vote, but I think all good democrats will be guided by reason rather than any man's personal ambition.

It Offers So Much More For So Much Less

The Chandler Six was never in stronger position than right now, at the height of the 1920 season. Chandler price has always, regardless of the demand, been based on cost of production plus a fair profit, and nothing else. An over-sold condition of the trade has never moved the price up.

And today, the Chandler is, by long odds, the most closely-priced fine car in the American market.

Chandler holds its leadership among Sixes so distinctly because it offers so much more for so much less. It leads because of its endurance and great motor, unsurpassed for flexibility of power. It leads because of its sturdy construction throughout and the character of service it renders to more than eighty thousand owners.
