REDS HAND PEACE TERMS TO POLISH PEACE DELEGATION

NO INTIMATION AS TO TERMS HAS BEEN MADE PUBLIC.

COUNTER PROPOSALS WILL BE SUBMITTED BY POLES

Fall Of Warsaw Depends Upon Amount Of Ammunition Reds Are Able To Commandeer.

By CARL D. GLOAT.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—Polish peace delegates have returned to Warsaw from Minsk bearing terms of peace, according to news received here today. Nothing could be learned of the alleged terms.

After consulting with the Polish military regarding the Russian terms and receiving counter proposals, it was reported the Polish representatives will return to Minsk in time to take up final negotiations with the bolshevik before the end of the week.

The British minister in Warsaw was said to have instructed the Polish government not to accept the new terms submitted by the Russians, as infringing upon Poland's sovereignty, and promised that the entente would furnish the Polish army with all necessary supplies.

Warshaw was said to have three weeks provisions, while other foodstuffs are being brought in. The city was being carefully guarded against air raids.

Advices from members of the American mission in Warsaw, relayed by way of Poznan and Lodz, stated that the Reds had back about ten kilometers (6.2 miles) in the vicinity of the capital, recapturing Radom (ten miles north-east of Warsaw). The situation in the Lublin sector was described as improved.

The Polish legation here claimed that Cierchanof has been taken from the Russians. This was said to give the Poles an opportunity to cut off Red forces west and southwest of that city.

A general strike in protest against the Polish-Russian war was progressing in Upper Silesia, was reported to have broken out in several places. At Katowitz, the crowds were reported to have attacked a French cavalry, killing one trooper and a machine gunner.

Nine of the attacking civilians were killed and 24 wounded. The French were withdrawn.

WARSAW, Aug. 17.—General Pilsudski's counter-offensive in the direction of Silesia and Breslau (directly east of Warsaw), has made good progress since yesterday, resulting in the capture of Iwona. It apparently is aiming to split the Russian center at this point and roll the bolshevik back to the north and south.

The Russians have opened bombardment of the railway between Garwoli and Zoloch (south of Warsaw). Polish officers returning from the northern front report the Polish resistance stiffening there.

Premier Wladyslaw Wislinski, Jozefski, Grabincki and Silivinski completed a tour of the various fighting sectors today. They reported finding the Polish morale "excellent."

Russian soviet authorities have forwarded authorization for foreign journalists to visit Minsk. Many of the latter reported in the Russian center at tonight. No news had been received of the peace negotiations there.

RUSSIANS DEMORALIZED BY THE POLISH FORCES

French And British Labor Parties Reach Agreement On Measures To Prevent War.

By United Press.

The Polish armistice negotiator, who went to Minsk almost in the role of a beggar for the crumbs of peace from the Russians, are rapidly approaching a basis of equality through the unexpected and spectacular victories of their armies.

Officer and directed by the best of the French military strategists, the Poles have assumed the offensive along practically the entire 500-mile front from the Baltic to the Rumanian frontier. Although the bolshevik claim minor successes in isolated sectors, dispatches from neutral as well as Polish sources today showed the soviet forces had been forced backward from 10 to 15 miles in many places. At some points the Russian retreat was said to have bordered upon a rout.

The Russians were still far within the eastern Polish boundary proposed by the treaty of Versailles—except for a small frontage between Brody and Cholm—but the moral advantage in the military situation was believed to be veering definitely toward the Poles. This was due to several factors, such as reported depletion of Russian artillery supplies and munitions, the ebbing of the bolshevik moral, and the final ejection of the Russians from the Danzig corridor and the east-west Warsaw.

French military experts saw in the present battle a resumption of the old duel of French and German strategy. The Polish offensive directed the Poles and General Ludendorff the Russians.

The latest information today indicated the line ran approximately as follows:

From the Baltic sea of Danzig southward to a point east of Grudziadz, the line ran approximately between Straszburg and Soldau, southward to a point midway between Thorn and Cierchanof; eastward to a point west of Cierchanof; southward to a point west of Lodz; southward to a point west of Warsaw; southward to a point west of Lublin; southward to a point west of Radom.

All unofficial advices from Warsaw declare the "red danger" is temporarily over and that the city's imperiled defenses have been restored.

The attack on Nowogrodzki was stopped at the outer fort.

A shrapnel barrage tore great gaps in the ranks of the advancing reds. They came doggedly on until within machine-gun range, when a hailstorm of bullets moved them down in great windows. As they crumpled and began to give way the Polish infantry charged, bayonetting the retreating Russians.

North of Lublin (100 miles south of Warsaw) the bolshevik were reported to have been completely routed by a surprise attack. The latest communique from Moscow, however, declared the Poles had been flung back at the point of bayonet northeast of Nowogrodzki, an important fortification at the junction of the river Vistula. But fifteen miles northeast of Warsaw following fierce fighting.

According to the communique, several villages were occupied by the bolshevik on the west bank of the Vistula (a river flowing southeastward from the old Russian-German frontier, twelve miles west of Cierchanof) which the Poles claimed to have recaptured.

A dispatch to the Times from Danzig said the British commissioner was reported to have ruled that munitions ships in route to Poland could not be allowed to enter the harbor. Several were said to be approaching at the time the ruling was made.

The British labor delegates—William Adams, member of parliament, and Harry Gosling, leader of the British transport workers—were expected to arrive in Paris today. They have succeeded in reaching an agreement with French workers on a joint policy toward the Russo-Polish situation. Their proposed object was to organize in France a "council of action," similar to that in England, which has the authority to call a general strike if necessary to prevent war being declared on Russia.

Expulsion of Adams and Gosling from Paris caused a sensation in British labor circles. Leaders declared that the action of the French government was "stupid and stupid."

MISS. ELECTION IS BIG WILSON VICTORY

Anti-Administration Forces Defeated In Four Out Of Five Congressional Elections.

JACKSON, MISS., August 18.—Ross Collins, former state attorney general and candidate for the democratic nomination for congress in the fifth Mississippi district, apparently has defeated Representative W. W. Venable, candidate for renomination in yesterday's primary, according to unofficial returns compiled by the Jackson News.

Although there were three candidates in this district, it is not believed a run-off will be necessary.

Wide interest in the race was occasioned by the fact that former Senator James K. Vardaman and Governor Lee M. Russell took a hand in the race. In the first district J. E. Rankin had a good lead over Representative Zekes Sandler in a five-cornered race.

In the fourth district Representative T. U. Sison had a slight lead over Jeff Rusby.

Returns from the second district indicate a second primary is necessary between Prof. R. G. Lowrey of Blue Mountain and Judge H. K. Mahon of Holly Springs. Representative Stephens in this district was not a candidate for renomination.

In the seventh district Representative Percy Quin defeated Hugh V. Wall, anti-administration candidate.

Four of the five democratic congressmen were renominated. Venable was yesterday's primary, according to returns compiled by the Jackson Daily News. Congressman Candler in the first district, Lowrey in the second, Sison in the fourth and Quin in the seventh, apparently had safe majorities, while the defeat of Venable in the fifth was indicated.

A shrapnel barrage tore great gaps in the ranks of the advancing reds. They came doggedly on until within machine-gun range, when a hailstorm of bullets moved them down in great windows. As they crumpled and began to give way the Polish infantry charged, bayonetting the retreating Russians.

OPERATORS ARE SPLIT OVER WAGE SCALE

Differences Between Operators May Retard Settlement Of Wage Problem.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18.—A division of the bituminous coal operators of the central competitive field—Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and western Pennsylvania—with separate bargaining with the miners of each state, is probable, it was learned after today's meeting of the two subcommittees appointed by the joint scale committee who reported a disagreement to the joint committee in the existing deadlock on the miners' request for an adjustment of alleged inequalities existing in the recent award of President Wilson's bituminous coal commission.

A report of a street in the local matter of the four states, said William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, which may result in the disruption of the joint wage agreement now in force in the central competitive field.

It was learned from an authoritative source that operators of Illinois and Indiana are in favor of settling the controversy, existing over the inequalities in the wage award, but that the operators of Ohio and western Pennsylvania are opposed to the adjustment.

A feature of the day was a call on the senator by a group of members of the Ohio legislature.

COCHRANE, TEXAS, HAS ONLY 67 PEOPLE

WASHINGTON, August 18.—Census of the least populous county in the country, Cochrane, Texas, was announced today by the census bureau. It has just 67 people. That is 100 more than enumerated ten years ago, making its growth slightly more than 3.6 per cent.

ONCE NEGLECTED LAND MAKES BIG CORN CROP

DELSON, TEXAS, August 18.—Nine acres of long uncultivated land just east of town, purchased last fall by Dick Henderson and planted to corn, will make around 500 bushels, according to reports from the West Texas chamber of commerce. At $1.25 a bushel the corn will pay for the land three times over, as it originally cost him $25 an acre. Some of the stalks taken from this patch were ten feet high with two large, well-formed ears. The possibility of farming in this section are many.

The land on which the corn was grown was considered useless, but Mr. Henderson proved it to be otherwise.

MINE WORKERS STRIKE AS PROTEST AGAINST WAR

Twenty-Six Are Wounded In Fight; Constabulary Officers Refuse To Continue Duty.

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—Uninterrupted rifle fire and hand-grenade explosions were reported to be proceeding at 1 o'clock this morning at Katowitz, Upper Silesia, where serious fighting occurred last evening between French troops and civilians who struck in protest against the Russo-Polish war and demanded disarmament of the occupational troops.

In view of the seriousness of the situation, the French officer commanding at the office of the international commission was said to be negotiating direct with the crowd and it was suggested that the protest of the soldiers' arms being surrendered.

Another report said the occupational troops were prepared to deliver their arms to the custody of the security police. A trade union delegation at 8 o'clock—last night entered into direct negotiations with the international commission and demanded a cessation of the occupational forces. The delegates offered safe conduct for the troops on their departure. The French military commander, Colonel Brunet, according to reports, said he would rather die than agree to this.

BERLIN, Aug. 17.—French troops clashed with the inhabitants of the town of Katowitz, an important mining town in Upper Silesia, today, 11 persons being killed and 25 wounded. Polish troops attempted to break up a mass meeting at Katowitz, about 25 miles southwest of Katowitz, and in the resulting disorder one person was killed and four wounded.

Workers in all the towns in Upper Silesia struck at noon today, as a protest against the war between Poland and Poland. Meetings of trades unions were held everywhere in the interest of neutrality.

A crowd at Katowitz attacked a detachment of French cavalry, killing one trooper, whereupon the French opened fire with machine guns and killed seven and wounded 26. A local Polish leader threw a grenade from a window and was dragged from his house and killed.

Two soldiers, two of whom comrades were killed by the French fire, have refused to continue duty.

PONZI'S LIEUTENANT IS CHARGED WITH LARCENY

BOSTON, August 18.—The second important arrest in the Ponzi matter was made today when Henry Neilson of Cambridge, one of Ponzi's chief agents, surrendered to the police. A warrant charging him with the larceny of $100 was immediately served. Neilson's arrest was considered new in importance to that of Ponzi himself. It was reported that Neilson made huge profits by investing with Ponzi and by acting as Ponzi's agent for which it was said he received a substantial commission.

"In reply to your request for a report of proceedings in the justice of the peace court for precinct No. 2, I am sorry to say that it is three years since I had a civil suit, and a complaint filed in a criminal case in this precinct.

TENNESSEE'S ACTION PERMITS 17,000,000 WOMEN CAST BALLOT

POSSIBILITY OF REVISION OF ACTION SEEN IN WALKER'S SHIFT VOTE.

SUFFRAGISTS PLAN TO LAND ANOTHER STATE

Motion To Table Amendment Decried By A Tie Vote Of 48 to 48.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Aug. 18.—Tennessee today became the 36th state to ratify the Susan B. Anthony federal suffrage amendment. The constitutional change, which will become effective in time for 17,000,000 women of the country to vote in the presidential election in November, unless the lower house of the Tennessee assembly rescinds its action of today in adopting the ratification resolution, 49 to 47.

Speaker Walker, leader of the anti-suffragists, put opponents in a position to demand reconsideration by changing his vote from a yeas and moving to reconsider. The house adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow, when the speaker's motion will have the right to say whether the suffragists' forces tightened their lines for today's victory and expressed confidence that Speaker Walker's motion would be voted down tomorrow.

The next step in ratification would be certifying of the action of the Tennessee assembly to the secretary of state of the United States, who, upon August 17, notified the secretary of state of the Tennessee assembly that the Tennessee assembly had declared its ratification.

The Tennessee senate ratified the amendment last Friday by a vote of 55 to 4.

Suffrage leaders declare they will not slacken their efforts, as they desire to have at least one other state ratify before the November elections as they expect a fight to be made against Tennessee's action because of the change in the state constitution, which prohibits any assembly from acting on an amendment not submitted before the members were elected.

The suffragists won the preliminary victory by having a strong majority motion to table the ratification resolution was lost on a tie vote, 48 to 48. This would put over action until 1921. Some of those keeping the motion on the floor were reported to have voted as 49 to 47 in favor, and first reports were that suffrage had lost. The official tally, however, however, and to make assurance doubly sure, a second roll call was ordered. The vote again was recorded as 48 to 48 and the motion to table was declared lost.

The lineup of the democrats and ratification following the ratification of the amendment—Aye, 35; no, 24; absent, one.

Republicans—Aye, 15; no, 12; absent, one.

Ratification by the Tennessee legislature was the culmination of an intensive drive made by suffrage proponents to have at least one other state effective in time for the women of the country to vote in the presidential election in November. The drive was the result of the ratification of the 34th state to ratify early this year.

Thirty-Fifth.

Washington was the 35th state to ratify and on the same day it acted, March 22, Governor Townsend of Delaware called for the ratification of the 35th state to act on the amendment. The Delaware assembly met early in May and the senate quickly passed it. The amendment was then sent to the governor to be signed and to bear by the leaders of both great political parties and by President Wilson. Finally on June 20 the legislature adjourned and the ratification resolution still in the house committee.

Meanwhile, the Louisiana legislature met and efforts were made to have it ratify the amendment. An appeal was made to Governor Parker to recommend ratification, but the governor declined to do so.

The ratification resolution was taken up late in May and was debated at intervals through the month of June and into July. Governor Cox, the democratic presidential nominee, threw his influence on the side of the amendment, declaring that the democrats of the legislature owed it to their party to ratify the amendment. The legislature finally adjourned on July 2, however, without acting.

While the Louisiana legislature was considering the question, appeals for plans favorable to suffrage were made to both the republican and democratic conventions of the women's party. Suffrage planks were inserted in both platforms.

Could Not Interfere.

After the republican convention adjourned, the women turned their attention to Vermont, making an effort to have Governor Clement call a special session of the legislature. An appeal was made to Senator Harding to use his influence with the governor, but the senator declined, saying he could not interfere with the executive. Shortly afterward, President Wilson appealed to Governor Bickett of North Carolina and Governor Roberts of Tennessee to call special sessions of their state legislatures, and they consented. Governor Roberts acting after Solicitor General Frierson had ruled that the supreme court decision on the Ohio referendum case set at naught a provision in the Tennessee constitution that a legislature could not act on a federal amendment unless the members were elected after the amendment was submitted.

U. S. MUST RETAIN PHILIPPINE CONTROL

Twenty-Five Years Should Pass Before Independence Is Granted To Island People.

HONOLULU, August 17.—Independence for the Philippine Islands before the next 25 years was opposed as a "crime of the first magnitude" by Representative C. H. Randall of California, a member of the congressional party touring the Orient, who came here to board the army transport, Great Northern, on his way to the United States.

"You will find practically every member of the congressional party of the same mind," he said. "After seeing the Philippine Islands it was our almost unanimous verdict that they are not ready for independence."

"It would be a crime of the first magnitude to cast these people adrift. The better educated Philippine who are not politicians are practically unanimous in their opposition to independence."

"I am unalterably opposed to surrendering the Philippine Islands to other than American jurisdiction for these reasons and another reason, namely, with profound respect to the United States and the entire Orient. Thoughtful men are in semi-terror at the prospect of Japanese domination of Siberia, China, Korea and the Philippine Islands if the United States releases them later."

Randall said he had called Attorney General Palmer, urging that prohibition be extended to the Philippines.

UNIQUE WEDDING STAGED IN DALLAS KATY YARDS

DENISON, TEX., Aug. 18.—Because his co-workers and friends could not leave their work to attend his wedding, J. J. Sanders, an employee of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway shops brought the wedding to them.

On a temporary altar erected by shop workers, and surrounded by several hundred men in work clothes, Sanders was married to Miss Gertrude Smith of Purcell, Okla. The Rev. C. W. Hester of the Waples Memorial church performed the ceremony.

When the big shop whistle blew announcing the start of the shift, dozens of carpenters stepped to the electric transfer table between two of the shop buildings, erected an altar and draped it with bunting and flags. A car from the superintendent's office was paid for the bridal party to stand on.

News of the wedding spread to every department of the shop section and when the car shop whistle began a charivari, at the conclusion of the ceremony every engine and every shop whistle in the city took up the call. It was by far the noisiest greeting any Denison bride ever received.

QUANAH, TEXAS, August 17.—Quanah will entertain the Northwest Texas Press association August 20 and 21 and a splendid program has been arranged for the occasion. The chamber of commerce will entertain the editors and their families while in the city.

Quanah has found sufficient water north of the city to furnish a supply and will begin this week digging additional wells, which when completed are expected to furnish good water for the needs of the city for many years to come.

Crops in Hardeman county are the best in a number of years, and from present indication cotton will make more than half a bale to the acre. New gins are being erected at Medicine Mound and Chillicothe to take the expected yield. These gins are among the largest in the county.

The Quanah, Texas, Drilling association is again drilling in their well south of the city, which has been closed down the past few weeks on account of a delay in the shipment of casing. The well is down around 1,000 feet and is on a second string, which will be drilled so far the formation has been about the same.

MEXICO MAY ASK FOR EXTRADITION OF PERSHING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Mexico may ask for the extradition of General Pershing, Colonel George T. Langhorne, and other officers for leading expeditions into Mexico without the consent of the Mexican government if the United States asks the extradition of Francisco Villa, retired bandit, according to a story appearing in La Tribuna, a Mexican newspaper published here.

The story appearing August 15 said notices have been received here that as soon as the state department demands the delivery of Villa, counter demands for the extradition of Pershing will be made. This is based on the consideration that if Villa acted outside the law in assaulting Columbus, N. M., it was an illegal act for Pershing to cross into Mexican territory without the government's consent.

WILL NOT MAKE PUBLIC THE LIST OF "SLACKERS"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Considerable antagonism is expressed here over Secretary Baker's statement that the war department will not publish a list of draft evaders who have refused to serve the country and do their duty to the flag in the world war. It is reported there are 171,000 of these men who failed to report to the colors when the republic called in the hour of need.

Previously Secretary Baker, with some vigor of language, threatened to make public the list. Now he refuses to do so on the ground that among the 171,000 delinquents may be a few "innocent" evaders of the selective service law. Mr. Baker also says that there may be men in the slacker list who enlisted voluntarily in other services, such as the marine corps and the navy, or even in the army, and who consequently could not answer the call.

"TICKLE ME" TICKLERS GET A BIG OVATION

NEW YORK, August 18.—James Shevlin, federal prohibition enforcement agent, today started an investigation to ascertain whether there was really a "tickle" in the little souvenir bottles passed out last night at the opening performance of "Tickle Me" at a local theater.

While singing an encore to one number entitled "We've Got Something," the chorus girls passed down the aisles carrying baskets filled with tiny bottles labeled "Whiskey." Overcoming a wholesome timidity, a few in the audience opened their souvenirs, sniffed, statted, smacked their lips and gave exclamations and applause that left no doubt as to their opinion of the refreshment.

AUDIENCE IS PLEASED WITH VAUDEVILLE BILL

The second week of vaudeville at the Wichita theater opened Tuesday evening with a rather abbreviated but at the same time, thoroughly enjoyable program. A wreck on the Katy a few miles west of Dallas prevented two of the scheduled acts from reaching here in time for the opening performance.

Madam Herrman, featured as the headliner of this week's bill, concluded the program and although her act was not lengthy it was pleasing and drew much favorable comment. Her stage settings and scenery were elaborate and decidedly oriental in character. While the costumes and other equipment of the troupe lent an air of mystery to the act, the successful completion of the mystery problems. The climax of this act came at the very last when a small replica of Noah's ark was brought onto the stage, opened for inspection so that the audience could be assured that it was entirely empty, and then after closing the sides a small door in one end was opened and a complete bandyard menagerie, including about a dozen chickens, several turkeys, ducks, geese, two or three dogs and a cat, were seen to the center of the stage. Then the sides of the "ark" were again thrown open and where there at first was complete emptiness was a quiet, petite and thoroughly alive young lady.

Both of the other acts drew rounds of applause and scored decided hits. Hobson and Beatty, two female minstrels of no mean ability, opened the bill with vocal duets, and piano numbers. Miss Beatty was especially captivating, possessing a clear soprano voice that aided young lady for Miss Hobson, with her deep contralto and drolle recital of the way in which she spent her vacation "down on the farm" elicited a number of laughs from the audience. The two responded to an insistent encore with a rousing piano duet.

Swore & Westbrook were the third pair of entertainers and they also put their act across forcibly. Westbrook appeared in the role of a black-faced comedian who found it difficult to travel around the stage in a natural, upright fashion. He had a catchy little step that carried him through his motions in a weird manner. His jokes were new and original and the support of his partner put the act over in big shape.

EMPRESS IS OFFERING A DOUBLE-ATTRACTION

The Empress is offering a double attraction to its patrons for Wednesday and Thursday of this week in the shape of two feature films. Dorothy Gish in "Remodeling Her Husband" will be the main attraction, while "Fatty Arbuckle" supported by Mabel Normand, will doubtless run a close second in his comedy "He Did and He Didn't."

Miss Gish has the role of a young bride whose husband is quite proficient in the art known as flitting. He walks the straight and narrow path for the first few weeks of their married life, but falls by the wayside with such regularity thereafter that his bride goes home in haste and tears. She tries to forget her marital difficulties by plunging into business. Meantime, Friend Hubby is very repentant, and after he and his forsaken spouse are brought together they effect a reconciliation which is strengthened by the determination of the lady to boss the domestic haven in her own way. The manner in which she does this furnishes many amusing scenes, but augurs ill for the safety of her erring husband's life and limb.

Fatty Arbuckle needs no introduction and it is safe to assume that his picture will be of the kind that has won for the pudgy comedian the name of dean of the laugh makers. The fact that a star of Mabel Normand's type is supporting him is more assurance of the high class of this presentation.

CANADIAN NORTHWEST SCENES AT THE MAJESTIC

James Oliver Curwood, who has written more stories of the great Canadian Northwest than any other author, has given to filmland one of the finest picture settings which could be produced in his famous story "The Courage of Marge O'Doon." This picture, which is being featured at the Majestic for Wednesday and Thursday is full of drama, romance, comedy and tragedy, comprising as a whole a masterpiece of the silver sheet.

An all-star cast headed by Pauline Stark and Niles Welch, appears in the presentation. The scenery and settings of the story were reproduced with unflinching realism and the great stretches of snow and the trackless wastes of ice give an impression of the north that is startling. A number of important animal scenes appear, notably a fight between two grizzly bears and another between a wolf hound and another grizzly.

"BURNT WINGS" SHOWING AT THE PLAZA THEATER

Frank Mayo in "Burnt Wings" is the feature attraction at the Plaza theater Wednesday. This is a picture of artistic life in Paris and of the great sacrifice which a beautiful young American bride of a struggling artist made to save him from death and starvation. A strong supporting cast, including Josephine Hill, Betty Bligh and Rudolph Christians appear in conjunction with Mr. Mayo. The film is a universal production and was directed by Christy Cabanne.

"THE SLIM PRINCESS" IS SHOWING AT OLYMPIC

The most absorbing question which the inhabitants of the little city of Morvania has to face is that of girls. Prohibition and big league baseball worry them not a bit, but when it comes to girls—it's different. The gallant swains of the town favor the roly-poly ladies who can boast an excessive amount of avoirdupois, and this type is the favorite in Morvania, but the ruler of the city is blessed, or afflicted, with a slim and beautifully modeled daughter, known among the inhabitants of the town and spoken of in awe as "The Slim Princess." Much is she hated and great and many are her troubles until deliverance comes in the shape of a husky young American who, in spite of the obstacles placed in his way by the despotic father and by the laws of marriage which govern all of noble birth, finally captures "The Slim Princess" and takes her home to the states.

Mabel Normand appears in the role of "The Slim Princess," from which the film attraction at the Olympic took its name.

OIL SCOUTS TO HONOR DEPARTING FRIEND WITH AN OLD-TIME BANQUET

To honor E. H. Aderton, of the Producers and Refiners Company, who is soon to leave Wichita Falls, to take a position at Casper, Wyoming, the League of Oil Scouts of Wichita county and vicinity will hold a session of the peace conference on Thursday evening.

The scene of the conference will be laid in a sylvan dell somewhere on the banks of the Big Wichita, and it is said the preparations call for a real banquet, served in the manner of the good old days before Morris Shepard was elected to the senate. And over the feast wells will be drilled and dry holes abandoned, and the drillers will be cursed—but most of all what will be said about the roads of Wichita county, and about the men who have charge of them, will be a great plenty, for no man knows these roads better than the oil scout, and no one has more reason to curse them.

Belle of Wichita FLOUR

Why your pie crust is tough

Are you one of the housewives who say, "Oh, I just cannot make good pie crust!" If you are, read this ad; you will be interested.

Many housewives do not realize the important part Flour plays in baking. And, if your pastry is tough, it may not be a lack of skill on your part at all, but the use of the wrong kind of flour.

The success of your baking depends on the fine grained texture and uniformity of the flour. Science insures the quality and purity of Belle of Wichita; expert chemists make daily laboratory and baking tests and guess work is eliminated. It is because of skillful milling that this superior flour makes flaky, tender pastry. Next time you order flour try a sack of Belle of Wichita.

GEORGIA CAMPAIGN

They must be having a "warm" campaign over in Georgia, too, where Thomas E. Watson and Senator Hoke Smith have discovered their unholy alliance brought about through a common hatred of President Wilson and common opposition to the League of Nations.

If the Atlanta Constitution and press dispatches which it quotes aren't mistaken, that sometime Populist and choleric pacifist, Mr. Thomas E. Watson, now a candidate for the democratic nomination for United States Senator from Georgia, is roaring and raging against the American composed entirely of officers, former army officers, he is reported to have said at a public meeting, "were responsible for the sentiment" against him, and his colleague in patriotism, limited, former Senator Hardwick who wants to be governor.

This was impudent. Mr. Watson is a historian. He is also essentially a poet. His touting fancy produces many little inaccuracies.

The lie is being "hurled" freely at the Watsonian-sons of rhetoric. The other day one of them proclaimed that the American Legion is controlled by and largely consists of officers, "a set of winebibbers and neglecters of duty while in France." Up gets a young man in the crowd, asks leave to say a word or two. He is a member of the legion, enlisted as a private; and I know and you know that what you have said is a lie.

Evidently Mr. Watson's campaign is on his usual high plane. So much the better for Governor Dorsey, the one loyal democrat who seeks to succeed Senator Hoke Smith.

ANOTHER REASON

We gave the other day our reason why we believed that discussion of Mr. Bailey's attitude on national party issues is pertinent to his present candidacy. The Dallas News gives another reason that will appeal when it says: "The idea that Mr. Bailey's relation to the national party is not a relevant question in this contest would be sound advice. Mr. Bailey was a candidate for governor. But what he is running for is the democratic party's nomination for governor. That fact renders the question of his loyalty to the national administration and the party's national platform altogether pertinent to those who will have the making of that nomination. The very first plank of the platform on which Governor Cox is running for the presidency sends greetings to the President of the United States, Woodrow Wilson, and hails with patriotic pride the great achievements for country and world wrought by the democratic administration, under his leadership. Mr. Bailey has denounced the President, Woodrow Wilson, as a socialist and declares that there is not a single act among the great achievements applauded by the democratic platform that he approves. In seeking the nomination for governor, Mr. Bailey is asking the democratic party of Texas to decorate him. Does not one who makes such a request give those to whom it is made a reason for considering whether it can be granted without being recreant to the democratic party of the nation?"

Mr. Bailey still has not replied to Mr. Neff's question if he approves of the national democratic platform, but some courageous person out at "Star" did get him to admit that the democratic platform utterance on suffrage was "wrong." As a matter of fact there isn't a plank in the San Francisco platform but is wrong from Mr. Bailey's viewpoint, and the only reason he has dodged his opponent's question on that point is that he is afraid now to give his real opinion on the national democracy's utterances because he fears the effect of that opinion on the democratic voters of Texas, to whom he is making an appeal on every ground except democracy as interpreted by democrats from every state and territory and colonial possession over which flies the American flag.

BAILEY'S PREFERENCE

Notes the McKinney Courier-Gazette: "Bailey cannot reconcile himself to woman suffrage. In a recent speech he said he had opposed suffrage to keep the good women out of politics. It was best for the nation that they stay at home. They are as well fit to run the government as the husband is to stay at home and sew buttons on the children's clothes."

Mr. Bailey prefers the saloons to women in politics, he has said. And if there were 4,000 saloons in Texas today instead of 100,000 women voters, who doubts that he would have a better chance to win this run-off than he has?

THE EFFORT OF THE WICHITA FALLS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO FORCE THE LONE STAR GAS COMPANY TO USE SOME OF THE NEW GAS WELLS IN THE WICHITA FIELD IS TO BE COMMENDED.

The public gets a new line on the gas business if the reports current are well-founded, and there should be something more than dissatisfaction with 10,000,000 feet of gas available within a few miles of this city the company permits Wichita citizens to shiver this winter as they did last on the ground that the supply available was not enough for the demand. Wichita's gas consumption during cold weather last winter was about 3,500,000 cubic feet a day. The Rexford tract well is registering 2,500,000 feet thirteen miles from the city and the well on the Dodson tract, brought in three months ago, is reported to be giving a daily output of 7,500,000 feet more—the two wells virtually supply as much gas as is available to Wichita citizens in the most extreme weather of last winter. The statement of Mr. Loggie of the Texoma Company that the Lone Star, whose distributing companies are demanding and getting from many cities 75c per thousand cubic feet, has refused to pay the company over $2 a well is another matter of weight locally. Another winter will soon be at hand, and with the conditions as reported it is not calmly to be contemplated that Wichita citizens should shiver another winter as they did last winter with a plentiful supply of fuel gas accessible. With consumers paying 75c gross to the distributing companies it would seem that the principle company should be willing to pay as much as 10c for gas that is seriously needed. And since relieving the situation at Wichita Falls would help to relieve the situation in all the other cities supplied by the Lone Star, all the other cities supplied by the company should also be interested to the extent of helping in any movement that would secure gas from every accessible source of supply.

We are very much concerned that Philip T. Dodge's prediction of suspension for many newspapers on account of newspaper shortage is unfounded. Mr. Dodge, who is head of the largest paper company in the world, says that unless immediate help is given, the papermakers in the way of allocation of cars and coal, suspension of many papers is inevitable because the mills cannot fill their contracts. There are announcements every once in a while that the print paper situation is easing up and that prices are about to come down. But the passionate sage of the East has been nothing like a recession in prices and the supply apparently gets constantly scarcer, if one is to judge from the difficulty with which one can get an order or a contract accepted. The international only the other day he said that the contract for the coming year would be 20 per cent less than in 1920, because of the company's inability to make the paper demanded of them, and this means that international customers must either cut down their consumption in some way, or face increasing demands upon them for space and circulation or they must go into the spot market, further to upset prices and conditions there. Pretty much every line of business has greater or less difficulty in getting the necessities, in none, we venture, are the difficulties more general than among the publishers of newspapers who for two years now have been hard put to it to know where tomorrow's supply was coming from and who have gone perforce to heavy extraordinary expense to get enough paper to get out on.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. QUEST. The Makin' of Friends. If nobody smiled and nobody cheered, and nobody helped us along, if each every minute looked after himself and the good things all went to the strong, if nobody cared just a little for you and nobody thought about me, and we stood all alone in the battle of life, what a dreary old world it would be!

If there weren't such a thing as a flag in the sky as a symbol of comradeship here.

If we lived as the animals live in the woods with nothing held sacred or dear, and selfishness ruled us from birth to the end, and never a neighbor had a hand out to us, what a dreary old world it would be!

And never we gave to another in need, what a dreary old world it would be!

Or, if we were rich as the richest on earth and strong as the strongest that lives, yet never we knew the delight and the gladness of the smile which the other man gives.

If kindness were never a part of ourselves, though we owned all the land and sea, what a dreary old world it would be!

Life is sweet just because of the friends we have made and the things which in common we share. We want to live on not because of ourselves, but because of the people who care.

It's giving and doing for somebody else—that all life's splendor depends on. And the joy of this world, when you've summed it all up, is found in the making of friends.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By LEE PAPE. Last Saturday I went down town to meet a new friend. I had a new coat, which he had me a peppy check suit with slanty pockets, saying, "Well, Benny, how do you feel now? So I'm as hungry as a bear, I think there's a restaurant in this neighborhood some-where."

Which we started to look, and after a while we came to a little white place with a sign on it saying, "The White Rabbit, Meats Served."

"Hungry, I see, and pop seed, and we went in and sat down at a little bit of a table, on account of all the tables being little bits of ones. And a waiter lady came over and pop seed, "What's good today?"

"Well, you can have a stuffed egg on lettuce, they're nice, or you can have a card of me with a slice of lemon, min, they're nice, and the waiter lady, "I suppose they are, but I'm hungry, seed, and the waiter lady said, "Well, you might try a tomato. Filled you chickin salad, they're very nice, or etts a lettuce sandwich with mayonnaise, they're extremely nice, and pop seed, "Lettuce, lettuce, lettuce, lettuce, this place is called the white rabbit, good idea, girl, when I said I was hungry I didn't mean I was a hungry rabbit."

It's none of your business, what you eat, seed, and the waiter lady, "You might try a tomato. Filled you chickin salad, they're very nice, or etts a lettuce sandwich with mayonnaise, they're extremely nice, and pop seed, "Lettuce, lettuce, lettuce, lettuce, this place is called the white rabbit, good idea, girl, when I said I was hungry I didn't mean I was a hungry rabbit."

WHY?

By EDGAR A. QUEST. In the Stars and Stripes the American Flag. Practically all American histories record the fact that, on August 11, 1777, the continental congress passed a resolution to the effect that "The flag of the thirteen United States (shall) be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, arranged in an arch, representing a new constellation."

So much is known, but the rest of the early history of the flag—the reason for the selection of the stars and stripes and the identity of the maker of the first flag of this kind is shrouded in mystery.

Some authorities declare that the stars-and-stripes idea was suggested by the continental congress because of the fact that Washington's coat of arms contained both of these insignia, but this is by no means certain. The only definite statement that we have on the subject is the resolution by congress, and the fact that the flag was first carried in battle at the Brandywine on Sept. 11, 1777. The rest is almost as vague as the Betty Ross legend, founded on the fact that Elizabeth Ross made flags for the navy previous to the act of congress.

They evidently felt that here, for once, they were really getting something for nothing and even the pleasure of going to the circus was greatly enhanced by that feeling.

A week or two ago I met these same friends again and invited them for a week-end in the country. "Well, how do you like it here?" they asked me. "I like it very much, but we have an engagement we simply can't break. You know that newspaper men tell you of who gave us those tickets to the circus last week-end? Well, they evidently felt that here, for once, they were really getting something for nothing and even the pleasure of going to the circus was greatly enhanced by that feeling."

It is also human nature. When we accept favors we think of them as being favors of our friends, and when we perceive that we must either be thought poor or make some return, and it is so apt to be an ingratitude time, either for our engagements or our purses.

I once knew a young couple who, when they were first married, did light housekeeping, getting up their own breakfasts and lunches and taking their dinners at restaurants. They allowed so much a week for their dining, and at first when they were invited to dinner (as they were a good deal) they spent the extra money on grander meals for the rest of the week. But they soon began to face the necessity of returning these invitations in one way or another, and that hit their budget so that they rearranged. Instead of spending the money released by being entertained at dinner, they put it into an entertaining fund.

Maybe this will strike you as a trifle and maybe it will strike you as cold-blooded. Anyway, it is a manifestation of the fact that one does not get something for nothing, and that in the long run, it is only to wish or expect it.

I have known people who were afraid of accepting favors of any kind, lest they be called upon to pay at an inconvenient time or in some coin that they did not like to part with.

I do not know if that is the right way to look at things. That is altogether too cold-blooded. But I do think one ought to realize the fact that favors have another face, and that the name of that face is obligations.

Maybe this will strike you as a trifle and maybe it will strike you as cold-blooded. Anyway, it is a manifestation of the fact that one does not get something for nothing, and that in the long run, it is only to wish or expect it.

I have known people who were afraid of accepting favors of any kind, lest they be called upon to pay at an inconvenient time or in some coin that they did not like to part with.

I do not know if that is the right way to look at things. That is altogether too cold-blooded. But I do think one ought to realize the fact that favors have another face, and that the name of that face is obligations.

It is also human nature. When we accept favors we think of them as being favors of our friends, and when we perceive that we must either be thought poor or make some return, and it is so apt to be an ingratitude time, either for our engagements or our purses.

I once knew a young couple who, when they were first married, did light housekeeping, getting up their own breakfasts and lunches and taking their dinners at restaurants. They allowed so much a week for their dining, and at first when they were invited to dinner (as they were a good deal) they spent the extra money on grander meals for the rest of the week. But they soon began to face the necessity of returning these invitations in one way or another, and that hit their budget so that they rearranged. Instead of spending the money released by being entertained at dinner, they put it into an entertaining fund.

Maybe this will strike you as a trifle and maybe it will strike you as cold-blooded. Anyway, it is a manifestation of the fact that one does not get something for nothing, and that in the long run, it is only to wish or expect it.

JACK DEMPSEY LOOKS AS GOOD AS EVER, SAYS JANE DIXON

Giant Killer Packs Same Wallop as He Did Against Willard in Toledo a Year Ago, Woman Writer Declares—Physical Classic of Human Figures

By JANE DIXON

Mr. Jack Dempsey, fisticuffs monarch of the U. S. A., in particular and the world in general, remains the physical classic of human figures.

JACK DEMPSEY

Without ambition, which would be deadly. Another silence. The mood was gone. The fighter broke into his winning smile.

"I ain't New York a great deal place," he enthused, "I ain't on earth. Makes all other cities look like mining camps. Maybe you don't have so many friends here, but those you have are friends. I get mighty tired of having people make a big fuss over me to my face and the next day knife me in the back. They tell me that is a part of the price of success, but it is a pretty rotten part. Everything worth doing is going right here in New York. I'm for this town all the way through."

Oldest Pitcher in the Big Leagues

BABE ADAMS

BABE HAS BEEN PITCHING IN THE BIG LEAGUE SINCE 1908

If you can't recollect the time that Babe Adams pitched his first game in the big leagues, just ask one of the early settlers or your grand-dad. For Babe is one of the old-timers—the oldest in point of years of any of the big time pitchers in the game today.

Kiddie Plank was one pitcher that lasted past the 40-year mark, and Old 'Cy Young was pretty well along in years before Pop Time cut him down. Babe's ambition to last past that '40 post, and if he keeps up to his last season's record his ambition should be realized.

Babe's case is interesting. Never having played half a dozen games of baseball until he was 22, he must have had a mighty lot of natural ability to

BOTH INDIANS AND YANKS CRIPPLED BY LOSS OF CHAPMAN

By L. R. BLANCHARD

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—The Brooklyn Robins were ousted from first place, yesterday.

While Brooklyn rested, Cincinnati munched and maltreated the Chicago Cubs 2 to 2. Aside from the fact that the Reds stepped into first place with the victory, the game was important as marking a return of the old driving power of Moran's outfit. His athletes apparently had recovered from their complacency and were ready to go forth on the trail of a pennant.

IN MEMORIAM

"HE WAS A MAN" By Norval Chapman was the king of short-stops. This high honor none deny. With the bat he was a winner. And his average ranked him high. But there is another tribute. The best there is in this life's space. And to him we gladly pay it. Merely this: He was a man. In his business, on the diamond. On the street, no matter where. Sometimes winning, sometimes losing. Chapman always played it square. And so today we do him honor. The very highest that we can. No matter how the breaks were coming. Remember this: He was a man.

The SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

(Copyright, 1920, New York Tribune Inc.) AT THE FINISH. At dusk time how serene things are. Just as yonder the first red star. How calm life grows when all its rush. Has settled to a twilight hush. Of whispering trees and winds that creep. As they too, were half asleep. At dusk time in the greater game. Perhaps it may be just the same. As one by one with trouble past. We face the battle's end at last. Content to know that, lost or won. The fight is through, the game is done.

MAYS EXONERATED BY N. Y. AUTHORITIES IN CASE OF CHAPMAN

Organized Ball Officials Will Try To Prevent Threatened "Strikes" By Some Clubs. NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Officials of organized baseball today were planning to prevent carrying out the reported threat of Boston and Detroit players to take action in reprisal against Carl Mays, Yankee pitcher, as a result of death of Ray Chapman, Cleveland shortstop, whose skull was fractured by a pitched ball. Members of the Washington and St. Louis teams of the American League were also reported to be considering a "strike" in protest against Mays' pitching. It was believed the four protesting teams might appeal to other American League clubs to join them in the "strike."

DEATH TO ROUGH SPOT ON BALL, SAYS MAYS

BOSTON, Aug. 18.—The explanation of Carl Mays of the New York Yankees, that the killing of Ray Chapman, star shortstop of the Cleveland club, was due to a rough spot on the ball Mays pitched which caused it to take an unexpected twist, was the subject of a statement today by Umpires Evans and William Dineen of the American League. "No pitcher in the American League pitched a ball rougher than Carl Mays in attempting to rough a ball in order to get a break on it which would make it more difficult to hit," the statement said. "Until the new pitching rules came into force which put a severe penalty on a pitcher roughing the ball, Mays constantly used to rough the ball across the pitching rubber in order to roughen the surface. Hundreds of batsmen were thrown out every year because of this act."

Sport Shots

By Paul W. Larkin The national outdoor pastime gave way in favor of numerous indoor sports yesterday. Some of the "bros" probably wish there had been a ball game. The Buffalo's rather knotted the Panther's tail the past few days. It's a statement that has been made. If some other crew had been able to take a few games now and then Jake and his crowd, there would have been a different story. After staying at the top of the heap for several weeks the Little Rock club was finally passed by the Cardinals in the Southern League. Kid Elberfeld's crew was so confident of coping that negotiations had already been started for a championship series with the Panthers.

Are You Sinking Into the Rut of Ill-Health Because Your Blood Is Starving For Iron?

Physician Explains Why Modern Methods of Living Sap The Iron From The Blood and Why So Many Men and Women Are Benefited By The Strength-Giving, Up-Building Effect of Organic Iron like NUXATED IRON. Many a man or woman is wearily treading along the road of life steadily becoming more weakened and run-down simply because their blood is getting thin, pale and watery—starving for a want of strength-giving iron. At any moment they run the risk of sinking into the Rut of Ill-Health, and by not building up their physical condition in time they often sentence themselves to a lifetime of misery and regrets. "Without iron there can be no strong, sturdy men or healthy, beautiful women," says Dr. Ferdinand Kutz, New York City, American Medical Author, in commenting upon how the strain of modern methods of living sap the iron from the blood and break down the health and strength. "Children do you find a weakness in a place of real power. The men who reach the top in business are those who do not neglect their physical or mental development. The women who come to the front in social life, and the ones who are most successful in the home are those who realize the value of iron. You can look around and see any number of such people and you can tell that every one of them is possessed of rich, red blood—the kind which plays of iron in it to build strength and energy. There are thousands of people who are weak, nervous and run-down for the lack of iron and do not know what to take. In cases of this kind, I always prescribe organic iron like Nuxated Iron for men and for women. It helps strengthen the nerves, rebuild the weakened tissues and give renewed energy to the whole body. Through my own study of Nuxated Iron I am convinced it is one of the best strength and blood builders any physician can prescribe. Among other physicians to comment on the effect of rich, red blood to increase the power and endurance of weakened, run-down men and women, is Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Columbia Dept.), N. Y., and the Westchester County Hospital, who says: "There is little doubt, in my opinion, that many men and women would be stronger, more energetic and vigorous in body and mind, and therefore more successful in life, if they would only enrich their blood with organic iron and thus fortify and invigorate their whole system. There can be no success or happiness without the rich, red blood—full of iron—that always goes with health. Wherever you go you can tell the fellows with iron in their bloods they are the strong, vigorous, dominant, successful ones because ever with life and energy. In my opinion, the best way to build up the strength and endurance is to take organic iron—Nuxated Iron. I have prescribed it with remarkable results and in many instances it has done more for me than any other strength and endurance. In two weeks' time, I can recommend it to the men of the world who are weak, nervous and run-down. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. You will find that you can work longer and longer. Each tablet of genuine Nuxated Iron is stamped as follows: 'Nuxated Iron' and contains exactly five grains of iron. The manufacturer guarantees successful and entirely satisfactory results on every purchase if they will send you money. It is dispensed in tablet form only by all druggists.

Truth About Patterson-Watson Case

Complete Refutation of Slanderous Statements Made for Political Purposes

Pat Neff Tells of His Connection With Patterson and Watson

(COPY OF LETTER WRITTEN BY MR. NEFF)

June 8, 1920

W. H. Cullen, Chairman,
Travis County Neff Club,
Austin, Texas.

My Dear Sir:—Replying to your letter of inquiry as to my connection with the funeral of Mr. John S. Patterson, and my later employment as an attorney to represent Mr. T. R. Watson, the man who killed Mr. Patterson, I desire to state the facts, as follows:

Never with the living or dead have I pretended to be what I was not. Mr. Patterson and I were only acquaintances. I knew him as I know people generally in my country. He practiced law for some time at Moody, twenty-five miles from Waco. We had never had at any time together or in common, one single transaction. I had never extended to him a favor nor had he ever in any way favored me. We had never even been associated in any way with the trial of a case, either as associate or opposing counsel. The only time I ever seriously needed political help Mr. Patterson supported my opponent. Later, when Mr. Patterson sought political preferment he understood that I did not even pretend to be his supporter. I would at all times have been glad to have named Mr. Patterson as my friend. He was worthy of any man's friendship, but circumstances and conditions never brought us together as such. Mr. Patterson moved out of the county several years prior to his death.

On the morning of August 29, 1916, the day Mr. Patterson was brought to Waco after the shooting at Teague, I received a telephone call from Cullen F. Thomas of Dallas, who gave me my first information that Mr. Patterson had been brought wounded to Waco. Mr. Thomas stated to me that he had arranged to leave Dallas that morning for a summer outing and desired to know Mr. Patterson's condition and requested that I ascertain immediately just what his condition was. Not being able to get phone connection with the sanitarium, I went in person for the desired information. When I reached the hospital I found Mrs. Patterson alone with her husband, none of their friends having yet arrived. I expressed my honest sympathy and proffered my services to her. She thanked me, but said there was nothing I could do. After about half an hour some of Mrs. Patterson's friends came. I then phoned Mr. Thomas the information desired, and returned to my office.

The next morning I read in the paper that I had been named as a pall-bearer. I served, of course, and I would be untrue to my feelings at this time if I did not say that Mrs. Patterson had my sincerest sympathy.

Some three days after Mr. Patterson's funeral, the friends of Mr. Watson called at my office to employ me. Never sailing under false colors, I explained to them my connection with Mr. Patterson's funeral. I did not accept employment at that time, but told them I would consider the matter. I then conferred with a number of lawyer friends in Waco as to the propriety of my accepting employment, and they were of the unanimous opinion that there was no impropriety or breach of legal ethics at all in my doing so. Before determining whether or not I would accept employment, however, I went to Moody and had a conference with Mrs. Patterson, her brother and her friend, Mr. John Reynolds, in regard to accepting employment as an attorney to represent Mr. Watson in the trial of his case. I stated to them that I had been offered employment by the Watson family, but that I had not accepted and did not desire to do so until I had advised with them in regard to the matter. We talked the matter over together and I then stated that I did not desire an expression from them at that time as to whether or not there was any objection to my representing Mr. Watson, but that I preferred that they talk the matter over among themselves and with other friends of theirs, if desired, during my absence and that I would call Mr. Reynolds over the phone from Waco the next morning and if there was any objection to my accepting employment, as above stated, for him to so report to me and that I would govern myself accordingly. In keeping with this understanding, I did call Mr. Reynolds the next morning, and he stated to me, in substance, that they had talked the matter over during my absence the preceding night, and knowing that the Watson family would employ some attorney in Waco, they decided that they would just as leave have me as anyone else represent Mr. Watson, feeling that with me representing him they would get at least fair treatment from the other side, and that as far as they were concerned there was no objection to my accepting the employment.

Neither Mrs. Patterson nor anyone else ever at any time mentioned or suggested in any way that they desired to employ me to assist in the prosecution.

These constitute the facts representing my connection with the case. The practice of law is my profession. I have no apology to make for having accepted employment as an attorney to represent Mr. Watson. I rendered to him my best professional service. I have been so grossly misrepresented, however, for political purposes, by muck-rakers who are opposing my candidacy for Governor, that I feel that my friends are entitled to this explanation. I appreciate very much the spirit of fair-mindedness and justice to me as your fellow-man that prompted your letter of inquiry as to the truth of my connection with both the funeral of Mr. Patterson and the trial of Mr. Watson.

Yours for the truth in politics,
PMN—ES (Signed) PAT M. NEFF.

Mrs. Waller S. Baker, Under Oath, Believes in Doing Justice to the Living As Well As the Dead

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
COUNTY OF McLENNAN.

Before me, the undersigned authority, on this day personally appeared Mrs. Waller S. Baker of Waco, and on oath makes the following statement in regard to the injustice being done Pat M. Neff as a candidate for Governor because he acted as a pall-bearer at John S. Patterson's funeral and later defended Mr. Watson, who killed Mr. Patterson.

I was well acquainted with John S. Patterson. For many years prior to his death he was an intimate friend of my husband. Mr. Patterson, who lived at Moody, in McLennan county, frequently visited Waco on legal and business matters and when in Waco he always made our house his home. We regarded him as a member of our family, and felt as much interested in him as if he had been our own son. I state of my own personal knowledge that Mr. Patterson and Mr. Neff were not friends, but only acquaintances. There was never any intimacy of any kind, business, social or otherwise between the two. In all my intimate association with Mr. Patterson in our home, I never heard one single expression of personal appreciation for Pat Neff, but heard him frequently criticize him politically and otherwise, and I know of my own personal knowledge that when Mr. Neff was a candidate for prosecuting attorney of McLennan County, that Mr. Patterson was not a supporter of his, but voted for his opponent. Not only was Mr. Patterson opposed to Mr. Neff in his candidacy for office, but Charles Howard of Moody, Mr. Patterson's brother-in-law, joined Mr. Patterson in fighting Mr. Neff and wrote letters and newspaper articles in opposition to Mr. Neff's candidacy, all of which I know from statements made by Mr. Patterson met with his hearty endorsement. I have heard my husband remonstrate with Mr. Patterson about the Charley Howard letter and criticize Mr. Patterson in our home in a friendly way, of course, about his opposition to Mr.

Neff, both personal and political. Mr. Patterson did not represent or pretend to be at any time either a political supporter or a friend to Mr. Neff.

I went to meet the train which brought Mr. Patterson wounded to Waco, but when I arrived at the depot the ambulance had just left for the sanitarium. When I arrived at the sanitarium they had just put Mr. Patterson on the bed. There was no one present except the attending physician, Dr. Crosthwait, and his assistants. I was informed by Dr. Crosthwait that Mrs. Patterson and her sister had gone to his home for breakfast and a short rest. In some time, perhaps less than an hour, Mrs. Patterson returned to the sanitarium. Immediately after her return I went across the street to phone to some of Mr. and Mrs. Patterson's friends in town as to his condition. When I returned to the sanitarium I saw Mr. Neff for the first time. He advised me that he came to the sanitarium to ascertain Mr. Patterson's condition, as he had been requested to do so by Mr. Cullen Thomas of Dallas. Mr. Neff remained at the sanitarium only a short time. I stayed at the sanitarium all day, and was in the sick room practically all of the time. Mr. Neff was not there any more during the day and not for some time after Mr. Patterson's death early at night. After Mr. Patterson died, Mrs. Patterson asked me to locate her brother, Arthur Carnes, who had left the sanitarium and gone to town. Failing to find him myself, I phoned to a friend of mine who was located in Mr. Neff's office. Mr. Neff answered the phone and told me that the friend of whom I inquired was not there. I asked Mr. Neff if he would not go to some of the cafeterias in town and locate him and advise him that Mr. Patterson had passed away. Mr. Neff agreed to do so. In about an hour Mr. Neff came to the sanitarium, Mrs. Patterson's brother having arrived at the sanitarium in the meantime. I was sitting by the bedside when Mr. Patterson died. Mr. Neff was not there and had not been there since early in the morning, neither did Mr. Thomas of Dallas arrive at the sanitarium until after Mr. Patterson's death. When I first saw Mr. Neff after Mr. Patterson's death, Mr. Neff said: "Mrs. Baker, I came to tell you that I could not find Mrs. Patterson's brother."

I invited Mrs. Patterson and her sister to spend the night with me at my apartment at the Raleigh hotel, which invitation both accepted. I asked a gentleman friend of mine who was at the sanitarium if he would not get me an automobile and take Mrs. Patterson, her sister and me to the hotel. My friend advised me in a short time that Mr. Neff had a car and that he had asked him to take us to the hotel. We therefore went with Mr. Neff from the sanitarium to the hotel, and when we arrived there Mr. Neff carried the ladies' grips upstairs to my apartment. We thanked him for his courtesies and he left.

I make the above statement in the interest of truth and in explanation of the circumstances which brought Mr. Neff twice to the sanitarium. I certainly would be the first person to resent any indignity or injustice in any way offered to John S. Patterson. My husband was his benefactor, and he was one of our most intimate family friends, but knowing that he and Mr. Neff were not friends but only acquaintances and they were never associated in any way, I feel that in view of the erroneous statements that are now being circulated over the state by Mr. Neff's political enemies that the truth should be known and that no injustice should be done to Mr. Neff, whose life, both as a private citizen and as an attorney, has always been above reproach.

Dr. W. L. Crosthwait, the Attending Surgeon, Believes in Truth and Justice and Exonerates Neff

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
COUNTY OF McLENNAN.

Before me, the undersigned authority, on this day personally appeared Dr. W. L. Crosthwait, of Waco, Texas, who after being by me duly sworn, deposes and says:

That he was a practicing physician and surgeon in Waco, Texas, on August 28th, 1916, and that at about 8:30 p. m. of that day he was called over the phone by Governor Ferguson from Austin and was requested to go immediately to Teague, Texas, to give surgical attention to Mr. John S. Patterson, Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, who had been seriously wounded in the latter afternoon of that day. I arrived at Teague at 12:30 a. m. I found Mr. Patterson in a very serious condition and after consulting with the local doctors and with Mrs. Patterson, who was present; it was agreed and thought best to take Mr. Patterson to Waco, where he could have the advantages of hospital facilities. A special train was arranged and Mr. Patterson was brought to Waco, reaching here about 7 a. m., and was carried immediately to the Providence Sanitarium, reaching there on August the 29th at about 8 a. m. About 8:30 a. m. Mr. Pat Neff came to the sanitarium and inquired of me concerning Mr. Patterson's condition, saying that he wished the information to convey to Mr. Cullen F. Thomas, who had requested him to do so by telephone. I told him of Mr. Patterson's condition. Mr. Neff then entered Mr. Patterson's room for a few minutes, extended his sympathy to Mrs. Patterson and left the sanitarium.

The serious condition of Mr. Patterson demanded my constant attention through the day of August the 29th until 7:40 p. m., at which time he died, and during the day I did not see Mr. Neff at the sanitarium until about 8:20, when I met him and Mr. Cullen F. Thomas on the walk in front of the sanitarium porch and informed them of Mr. Patterson's death. Mr. Neff was not present when Mr. Patterson died.

The only persons I recall being present were Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Waller S. Baker, the nurse and myself.

The above statement is made solely in the interest of truth and justice and of no political significance as far as concerns me.

The above is a complete refutation of the attempt by the Bailey committee to discredit Mr. Neff. But if every charge that they make were true, how does it compare with this:

NEFF FOR GOVERNOR CLUB, Wichita County, JOHN DAVENPORT, Chairman.

SUFFRAGE WINS BY VOTE OF 50 TO 48

Clement came to Washington to confer with Senator Harding and hope for high in suffrage quarters that after all a special session of the Vermont legislature would be called. Upon his return to his home state, however, Governor Clement announced that he would not call a special session and proponents of the amendment turned their attention to Tennessee and North Carolina as the last hope for ratification in time for the women to vote in November.

Senate Ratified Amendment. The Tennessee legislature met on August 9 and the North Carolina assembly convened on the following day. The Tennessee senate acted within less than a day.

Before either of the legislatures of the two southern states could act, Charles S. Fairchild, New York, president of the American Constitutional league, brought proceedings in the District of Columbia supreme court asking that Fairchild Colby, secretary of state, be enjoined from issuing a proclamation declaring the amendment ratified. The basis of the suit was the allegation that ratification by the West Virginia legislature was accomplished by fraud and that any action by Tennessee would be void, on the ground that the legislature lacked authority under the constitution to act.

Justice Bailey dismissed the proceedings on the ground that the court was without authority to inquire into the action of state legislatures in ratifying the amendment and that it had no authority to pass on the validity of such an amendment.

Further efforts of opponents through court action to prevent the amendment becoming effective are expected.

Civilization Saved.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 18.—The following statement commenting on Tennessee's ratification of the woman suffrage amendment was issued today by Governor Cox, democratic presidential nominee:

"The civilization of the world is saved. The mothers of America will play the hand of war and repudiate the man who trifle with a great principle. The action of the Tennessee legislature has another significance. It is an earnest endeavor of the democratic party to pay its platform obligations."

To Test Validity.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 18.—Mrs. Jerome Sturms, Cincinnati, anti-suffragist leader, announced today that suit would be filed to test the validity of the ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment by the Tennessee legislature.

Mrs. Sturms said that the suit already had been prepared and was in the hands of Nashville lawyers.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Aug. 18.—Possible moves of the opposition to delay action on the federal suffrage amendment was the principal topic of discussion among suffragists today when the Tennessee house met to resume debate on a motion to concur in the action of the senate in ratifying the amendment. The suffrage forces, however, expected a vote within a few hours.

Under the rules the house might adjourn the ratification issue might be taken on the table or consideration might be postponed indefinitely. Each of these moves required only a majority vote. To resume consideration after the resolution had been laid on the table, however, would require a two-thirds vote and it was expected if any delay or prolonging delay were decided upon this would be attempted by the senate. If consideration should be postponed indefinitely, it would require only a majority vote to call up the resolution for action.

If either faction failed to pull a total of 50 votes, the constitutional majority, if a vote on ratification was reached, it was said the situation would be tangled in such a manner that only the courts could unravel the skein. Until a few days ago 50 of the total of 99 votes in the house were regarded necessary for ratification or rejection. Then the state attorney general gave it as his opinion that a simple majority of the members present would be sufficient.

Possibilities involved in the question being discussed freely. It was said if an attempt was made by either faction to claim final action in the event such a situation arose in the minority undoubtedly would ask the courts to decide whether such a course would be legal.

Political Democracy. WASHINGTON, August 18.—The suffrage victory in Tennessee completes the political democracy of America and enfranchises half the people of a great nation. Miss Allen Paul, chairman of the national woman's party, declared today on receiving news of the Tennessee vote.

"Ratification must be protected in the courts against the attacks of its opponents," she said. "It must be safeguarded, if possible, by winning of a thirty-seventh."

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF AGGRAVATED ASSAULT

R. M. Fugett was placed in the county jail today charged with aggravated assault. It is charged that Fugett made remarks to a woman which were resented and that she in turn struck him over the head with a washing board. According to the woman who filed the complaint, Fugett then struck her a blow which was so terrific as to knock her to the floor.

THE ILLITERACY DIGEST.

By C. F. C.

Keeping Out of Trouble. Our idea of strict neutrality centered around the man who refuses to buy a sectional bookcase for fear of stirring up old Civil War prejudices.

One on Chief McClure.

Fire Chief J. L. McClure was approached recently by an elderly lady who asked the location of a certain street. "Mac" thought he knew all the streets but he couldn't place the one in question. He went to the engineer's office, and to every other city department, he asked questions and consulted city maps. He spent two hours or fruitless effort.

"Madam," he said at last, despairingly, "I think you must have made a mistake."

"No, sir," said the old lady, firmly. "It's right here in the paper."

And then she showed "Mac" a want advertisement and address in the Denton Herald!

Lyric to the Lone Cigar. There's a certain cigar with a chewed-up end. And the other untouched by flame. That I notice each day on the city clerk's desk. As I follow this newspaper game.

It is always there, this lone cigar. And it caused me mental bother. When I'd see it lying, pathetic sight. While the city clerk smoked another.

But I've found the reason for this cigar. With its chewed-up, frazzled end. And I'm going to tell this weakness of George. At the risk of losing a friend.

George Thorburn smokes and puffs a cloud of good Havana mixture. When things are running "according to Hoyle."

But when there are matters of civic weight. And when he must ponder well. George says for that lone, unlighted "butt."

And just thinks and chews likeli! Getting an Eye Full. "Business Council Looks Into Near-by Gases," says a headline. And, considering the fact that one of those wells is spouting forth gas at the rate of 7,500,000 cubic feet daily, we dare assert that the members of the business council are men of rare bravery if they care nothing about their eyesight.

Two World Records Broken. Vague reports reach here from time to time regarding certain Olympic games being held in Belgium. No mention is made, however, of the success of the Russian rifle team, and the ease with which Poland has out-distanced its rivals in all the running races.

Published by Request. LOST—Address of R. F. Johnson, democratic candidate for representative from the 10th district. Anyone with information regarding Mr. Johnson's whereabouts is asked to communicate with Robert Dyer or J. W. Reaser. When last seen Mr. Johnson was leading the Rotarians in singing "Old Black Joe." This act seems to have given rise to a suspicion of foul play.

WICHITA CLUB TO BE "DRESSED UP" FOR THE NEXT WEEKLY LUNCHEON

The Wichita Club will be "dressed up" within a week, the house committee reported at today's luncheon. The draperies, rugs, electric light fixtures and furniture have arrived, and efforts will be made to get things in shape before the next meeting so that a real club-like appearance may be made.

With the president and secretary absent from the city, little business came before the club this noon. Visitors were introduced, the house committee made its weekly report and adjournment followed.

ARMY GRUB NO LONGER CLASSIFIED AS MONOTONOUS

GALVESTON, August 18.—Texas cavalrymen on martial law duty in Galveston have broken a lance with the grubs, H. C. L. and incidentally, "army grub" at Camp Hutchings no longer can be classified as monotonous. The succulent crab, flounder, redfish, speckled trout, mackerel and various others of the tinny tribe no longer grace the long dining tables of the enlisted personnel at camp, and the mess sergeant has become the most popular officer in Galveston.

The camp site, on the sea wall boulevard overlooking the gulf, evoked speculation regarding fishing possibilities. "Enterprising youths experiment with astonishing results."

Now regular "fishing details" are named by the "top cutter" and there are very few hooks registered by men picked for these details.

HEAVY RAINS IN THE STAMFORD SECTION

STAMFORD, August 18.—Phenomenal rains have fallen over many parts of west Texas in the last three days. In the Abilene-Stamford territory the rainfall has been about four inches. Trans-Pecos points report unprecedented heavy rains, averaging from three to four inches in some places. The entire western part of the territory has been receiving this fall. The plains and panhandle country have been also getting their shares.

The total rainfall this year in Stamford has been 19.4 inches and at Abilene 18.8 inches have fallen. Towns on the plains report more than the August average of 20 years.

TO BEGIN CONSTRUCTION OF HOME FOR CHILDREN

AUSTIN, August 18.—The board appointed by the legislature for the establishment of the Home for Dependent and Neglected Children, at a meeting held here, plans were accepted for the construction of the institution on a site covering 94 acres recently acquired by the state located at Waco. While the plans call for a series of a dozen buildings, it is the intention of the board to erect only two buildings at the present time with a heating plant. These two buildings and heating plant will consume the appropriation of $100,000 made for the home by the legislature.

The board also decided to immediately advertise for bids and these will be opened and the contract awarded at noon, August 30.

CITIES ARE FIGHTING FOR HEADQUARTERS OF LEGION

HOUSTON, TEX., Aug. 18.—With the stage set for the second annual convention of the Texas branch of the American Legion, lobbying for convention votes now is the general pastime. Local posts are circulating letters that continue to arrive at convention headquarters.

With Dallas, San Antonio, Galveston, Austin and Fort Worth as the contending cities for permanent headquarters, a lively fight is expected on the floor after all delegates have registered.

Reactions will be few but heated, according to members of the resolutions committee. Active committees will take the place of carefully phrased resolutions, it is predicted.

The American Legion has passed the stage of frenzied talk. Claude V. Birkhead, national executive committee man, declared today, and has formed into a compact organization that is going to demand just and equitable treatment of the maimed and disabled former service men. Committees will demand prompt action instead of doing a lot of resolving.

The present outlook indicates that Dr. Guy O. Shirley of Fort Worth will be unopposed candidate for state commander of the war veterans. Theodore Bering or Clark Wren, both of this city, are expected to oppose Frank A. Loftis of El Paso for vice state commander of the war veterans.

SUFFRAGE ADVOCATES IN JAPAN ARE ACTIVE

TOKIO, August 18.—The advocates of universal suffrage in Japan have not abandoned the struggle and are frequently holding mass meetings in behalf of the project. The speakers denounce the government for turning against the will of the people who, they assert, demand an immediate general franchise.

The house of representatives was dissolved early this year following an attempt of the opposition party to introduce a general franchise bill. At a subsequent election, the Seiyukai or government party obtained a clear majority.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES IN THE SUM OF $32,539.41 FILED IN DISTRICT COURT

On complaint of violation of promise and unlawful possession of property, a suit for judgment to the amount of $32,539.41 was filed in the Eighty-ninth district court Wednesday by Virgil D. Hardie against the Brooks Supply company.

The plaintiff recites that on June 9, 1919, a rig, tools and other implements were purchased from the defendant for a stated sum and that in consideration thereof a cash payment was made and two notes of sixty and ninety days, respectively, were given with the understanding that the defendant would ship the rig and keep it in good repair until it was entirely paid for.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant did not keep the rig in running condition and that an expenditure from time to time had to be made in order to keep it going, and that the amount expended thereupon was equal to the notes which the defendants held.

It is further alleged that the defendants instituted suit and wrongfully took possession of the rig and all implements and that at that time the outfit was worth $10,000.

The plaintiff prays for a judgment of $32,539.41, the amount expended in keeping the rig in repair, $10,000 for the value of the outfit when alleged to

COUNTY AUDITOR HAS SUBMITTED FURTHER ARGUMENT ON RATES

County Auditor W. W. Murphy has prepared and sent a brief to the railroad commission of Texas, supplementing his argument presented in person at a meeting held recently in Galveston regarding the raise in freight rates on road building material.

The brief follows:

"The object of this brief is to place before you in writing the contention of Wichita county that an increased freight rate of 25 per cent on road building material, where bonds have been voted and contracts entered into, would be a gross injustice to the taxpayers of the county.

"As stated to you by the writer on the 17th, Wichita county has voted two and a quarter million dollars road building bonds, this issue has been supplemented by an appropriation of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars by the federal aid and state highway department, and Wichita county has entered into project agreement with the state highway department for the construction of certain roads. Wichita county has also entered into a contract with Botta & Prentice to build roads set out in the original petition for bond election and being the same roads covered by project agreement entered into above mentioned.

"You can readily see that the commissioners' court of Wichita county is under obligation to the taxpayers to build those roads, and also under obligations to the state highway department and to the federal aid department.

"The county has to bear the burden of freight charges upon all road building material going into contracts above referred to. An increased freight rate of 25 per cent will reduce the mileage of roads contracted to be built several miles and we think it fair that an exception be made in this county until this road building material has been moved to the work. For more than a year we have been trying to get cars and transportation for this road building material and would not be asking for relief had cars and transportation been furnished us but we have been unable to get the railroads to move this road building material until right recently, so you can see that it is no fault of Wichita county that has caused the delay in construction of our roads since bonds were voted in 1918.

"Our crushed rock, sand and gravel is costing us $1.25 per ton f. o. b. quarry. Freight charges on same is 30 cents per ton or less than 100 miles haul. An increase of 25 per cent would make freight charges on this material almost equal to product itself.

There is no loss to the railroad company in handling road building material that it is handled in carloads and that if the railroad company will furnish us with other detailed information which it is expected will be presented to congress in connection with the next appropriation bill.

Postmaster Howard expects to supply such information as is requested, together with all details calculated to better advise the department of the crowded conditions resulting from the rapid growth of the city.

"We will be glad to furnish your honorable body and the railroad commission an estimate of the amount of material required to build our roads and when the tonnage is moved will be perfectly willing to go under the new freight increase."

INQUIRIES INDICATE NEW FEDERAL BUILDING IS BEING CONSIDERED

Inquiries from Washington to Postmaster Howard regarding local conditions would indicate that the matter of a new federal building was still under consideration and that some action might come at the next session of congress.

"The department has asked for a detailed report of the floor space available in the present quarters, together with the number of employees now compared with ten years ago, and an approximate estimate of the probable increase required within the next few years. Inquiry is also made as to the possible cost of a suitable location, together with other detailed information which it is expected will be presented to congress in connection with the next appropriation bill.

Postmaster Howard expects to supply such information as is requested, together with all details calculated to better advise the department of the crowded conditions resulting from the rapid growth of the city.
