LEAGUE OF NATIONS AND LABOR PROBLEM

PARAMOUNT ISSUES

COX ADVOCATES SETTLEMENT OF INDUSTRIAL CONTROVERSIES BY PUBLIC OPINION.

LABOR AND CAPITAL SHOULD USE REASON

Republican Campaign Fund Is Again Assailed by Governor Cox.

CANTON, O., Aug. 21.—Labor friends of the league of nations and republican campaign contributions were featured by Governor Cox in an address here tonight and also at an afternoon meeting at Columbus.

Settlement of industrial controversies by force of public opinion instead of the bayonet, while order is maintained and relations between labor and capital are improved, was urged by the democratic presidential candidate here tonight at the auditorium.

"Large interests are contributing to the republican campaign fund," Governor Cox declared, "and they want to buy an administration under which soldiers and bayonets will be used to settle difficulties."

"The republican campaign fund," he said, "is a fund which is being used to buy an administration under which soldiers and bayonets will be used to settle difficulties."

On the league issue, Governor Cox declared that "the republican campaign fund" is a fund which is being used to buy an administration under which soldiers and bayonets will be used to settle difficulties.

Reply also was made by Governor Cox in his Greenville speech to a street crowd from an automobile. He addressed the address of Senator Harding, his republican opponent, in which Mr. Harding defended the senate.

"Both labor and capital should understand that force must surrender its place to calm reason," he said, "and the country demands it, in fact, and the future of the world as well."

"There is no symptom of present tendencies more dangerous than the eagerness of some industrial captains to entrench themselves in the favor and attitude of public officers, with the very definite idea that force will be invoked, if occasion arises to compel settlements. Such a policy is the mere manufacturing plan of bolshevism."

Governor Cox emphasized the fact that during his six years as governor he had never been fired in an industrial controversy.

Turning to the republican campaign fund, the democratic nominee said that it was "apparent that those who believe in force are represented in the list of contributors."

"Camp followers are gathering by hundreds," the governor declared, "and the republican campaign fund is being used to buy an administration under which soldiers and bayonets will be used to settle difficulties."

"The plan of the league," he said, "is to apply the calm process of reason and discussion and arbitration for nine months."

"The democratic position is one of definite action, to legally conclude the war with the allies, and to start giving to the treaty such additions as may be deemed necessary to protect every American interest and reminding our associates in the league that under no circumstances will we enter into war or send our soldiers away from our shores until the terms of the peace are such as to satisfy the people through their representatives in congress."

POLES CONTINUE TO ADVANCE IN DIRECTION OF DREST-LITOVSK

18,000 PRISONERS HAVE BEEN TAKEN IN LAST FEW DAYS BY THE POLES.

REDS ARE DOOMED ON 100-MILE FRONT

Chief Operations Are Under Way Between The Bug and Narew Rivers.

By Associated Press. PARIS, Aug. 21.—In the principal theater of operations on the Polish front the Poles are leaving from Demblin and advancing in the direction of Drest-Litovsk. They have reached the valley of the middle Bug. The prisoners taken by the Poles in the last few days aggregate 18,000. The largest amount of material has not been estimated. Many guns with their carriages have been abandoned in the forests.

The chief operations are now going on at the fork of the Narew and Bug rivers, from which the bolshevik troops retreated in a hasty retreat. The Polish army is advancing in the direction of Ostrolenka.

It has its objective the cutting of communications between the bolsheviks and the right. Thus it is between Ostrolenka and Lomza, on the marshy land south of the Narew, that the most important operations are being conducted.

The situation of the red army is extremely grave, it is declared. The bolsheviks are being driven back from their single road of retreat, in the north.

Scattered over nearly 100 miles along the frontier of East Prussia, between Strashburg and Ostrolenka, these red forces seem condemned to annihilation unless they take refuge on Russian territory. In order to diminish the pressure in the main theater of operations between the Narew and Bug, the bolsheviks have undertaken a demonstration on the Galician front, attacking the Polish and Ukrainian positions on the Strypa.

The high Polish command is reported to be anxious to see the bolsheviks to prevent a surprise.

MEXICO AND OIL MEN ARE AT LOGGERHEADS

Unless Special Tax of $1.00 Barrel Is Paid An Embargo May Be Declared.

By RALPH H. TURNER. UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT. MEXICO CITY, Aug. 21.—The controversy between the Mexican government and American oil companies over the latter's failure to pay export taxes has reached a delicate stage today.

Manuel Adraes, acting secretary of the treasury, issued a statement declaring unless certain companies pay export taxes on oil, the government will be obliged to employ legal measures to collect the payments.

The statement intimated an embargo against oil shipments was one step that should be taken but it was added there was no desire to do this if it could be avoided. It was declared the companies were unjust in refusing to pay the taxes, on the basis of $1 a barrel. Receipts in Mexican ports show the companies had sold oil for as high as $2.50 a barrel, he said.

In addition to Adraes' hints at possible measures of reprisal General Trevino, minister of commerce and industry, expressed doubts that "if the money is not forthcoming then there is oil."

Mr. Kemper said that he would at once act about a plan of financing, under which money will be obtained to complete the railroad from Kansas City to the Pacific coast and to Mexico. LOYD GEORGE AND IRISH TO DISCUSS ISLAND'S PROBLEMS

SOLUTION OF IRISH PROBLEMS WILL BE DISCUSSED IN DUBLIN.

MEETING WILL PROBABLY SETTLE GREAT DIFFERENCES

Sinn Fein Organization Opposed To Any Move Other Than Complete Independence.

DUBLIN, Aug. 21.—All people of moderate opinions are greatly interested in next Thursday a conference called to enable every shade of honorable sentiment to unite in a statement to Premier Lloyd George relative to future government of the islands. The statement will, in particular, detail what measures, short of a republic, will keep Ireland within the empire and which, though possibly opposed by the Sinn Fein, may satisfy the general body of Irish opinion.

The main discussion whether a demand should be made for a complete withdrawal of the Irish bill from the house of commons or whether an attempt should be made to graft onto it a wide extension of powers, especially regarding finance, which would make it accomplishable and workable.

The party headed by Sir George Plunkett favors complete withdrawal favorable and the establishment of a convention elected on proportional representation from all Ireland to put forward a joint Irish plan. Stephen Gwynn, former member of the house of commons, and his group believe the government should continue to support the Carson, the Ulster leader, would make this impracticable.

They suggest detailed amendments to the present bill which would strengthen the power of the central council by assigning to it such departments as agriculture, railways and post-offices, which concern all Ireland.

An attempt has been made to associate with the meeting leading Irishmen, who, though not declared Sinn Feiners, are in the confidence of that organization. Among them is Lawrence O'Neill, lord mayor of Dublin, but it is known he intends to hold aloof.

It is regarded as certain that Premier Lloyd George will receive a deputation from the conference, no matter what its decision may be. The Sinn Fein attitude toward the conference is put in a few words by Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein organization, in the leading article of this week's Young Ireland.

"England's policy toward Ireland," he says, "was disclosed this week. The republic is to be ranged with dupes and regarded as a question of the home rule in order that the attention of the world may be attracted and the minds of other nations confused."

SPENCER PLANS RESIGN FROM SENATE COMMITTEE

ST. LOUIS, AUG. 21.—United States Senator Nelson P. Spencer announced this afternoon that he would resign as a member of the special senate committee appointed to investigate presidential campaign expenditures.

MCSWEENEY'S WIFE CONCURS IN SENTENCE

Self-Imposed Death Sentence Is Agreeable To Irish Sympathizer's Wife.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Having love of country above love of her husband, the young wife of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, today concurred in his self-imposed sentence of death for sedition, today bought his liberty direct from Edward Stewart, secretary of state for home affairs.

The distracted young woman then went to the prison to beseech her husband, to give up his hunger strike. The lord mayor, pale and emaciated, remained firm in his determination not to yield. In a tense scene, during which Mrs. MacSwiney wept brokenly, her husband finally won her consent not to oppose his resolve to go without food, until "released by death."

INJUNCTION FORBIDS RATIFICATION OF

ANTIS SECURE ORDER TO PREVENT OFFICIAL NOTICE TO BE DISPOSED OF.

MEMBERS IN ALABAMA TO EVADE LEGAL SERVICE

Snarl Of Legal and Legislative Technicalities Remain To Be Disposed Of.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Aug. 21.—Altogether Tennessee's ratification of the federal woman's suffrage amendment stood on the legislative record of the lower house of the legislature tonight as finally confirmed, a snarl of legal and legislative technicalities remained to be disposed of before the action can be certified.

Suffrage supporters, who had ridden through the state in the home-going, the day after the vote, were disappointed in their way, claimed full legislative triumph. They declared that only a temporary injunction issued by the anti-protectionists would prevent the amendment from being certified to the states.

On the other hand, Speaker Walker, leader of the opposition and scores of his lieutenants, said the anti-protectionists' cause and that even should the courts eventually hold ratification of the amendment would delay a final decision on the state in a body which would not figure in the November election unless some other state ratified it.

Meanwhile twenty-five members of the house opposed to suffrage were in the house for the second purpose of preventing any legislative action in the state until a new legislature shall have been elected in November. They have blocked across the state in a body early today before the house convenes.

The restraining order granted by Judge Langford in the chancery court is returnable in five days. It was issued on an application contending that under the state constitution this legislative body has no power to pass on the suffrage amendment. Governor Roberts and other officials were forbidden to certify to the state ratification of the amendment and house restrained from taking any action toward ratification until the matter is heard by the court.

When the house met this morning all the suffragists and a sprinkling of the opposition members were present. A roll call showed 59 members present. Speaker Walker declared a recess and ordered the sergeant-at-large to call a roll of the members and house restrained from taking any action toward ratification until the matter is heard by the court.

Walker ruled the motion out of order for lack of a quorum and added that the suffragists were not to be present in the meantime the injunction prohibiting certification was served on the members.

Walker finally offered the motion amended as to provide that the house reconsider its ratification of the suffrage matter. He declared the motion a federal matter the state constitutional question was not necessary and that the members present had a right to act.

Walker ruled the motion out of order for lack of a quorum and added that the suffragists were not to be present in the meantime the injunction prohibiting certification was served on the members.

Increase of 33-1-3 Per Cent On Freight Rates To Be Effective August 26.

AUSTIN, August 21.—The advance of 33-1-3 per cent on intrastate freight rates and 20 per cent on excess baggage charges allowed by the Texas railroad commission today took effect on railroads in Texas to begin 8 per cent annually upon a fair valuation of their properties, said Commissioner Clarence E. Gilmore and state officials today. The rates were fixed on the basis of the railroads had requested increases of 35 per cent in intrastate freight rates, 20 per cent in excess baggage charges, 15 per cent in passenger fares, and 50 per cent increase on intrastate Pullman fares, to correspond to a 20 per cent increase in intrastate passenger rates. Because these rates are fixed by the legislature.

Combined interstate and intrastate freight advances allowed to become effective August 26. Increases Texas freight bills approximately $450,000 annually, computations from figures from railroad reports to the commission here show.

AUSTIN, August 21.—The Texas railroad commission today granted an increase in 44 intrastate freight rates, 20 per cent. A 20 per cent increase in intrastate passenger rates was also granted. The new tariffs are made effective August 26. Application by the railroads for a 20 per cent increase in intrastate passenger rates was dismissed for want of jurisdiction.

The advanced intrastate freight rates add $22,400 annually to the Texas freight bill, according to a compilation of figures obtained from the Texas railroad commission.

COLORED RACE MAN MADE EDUCATIONAL GAINS

TOPEKA, KANS., Aug. 21.—Topeka and educational progress of the colored race, especially in the south, has been more marked in the past five years than in any other period of its emancipation, Matthew C. Clair, new bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, declared here today.

for the next week. This filibuster failed of its purpose, under the holding of the supreme court.

When the Fifty-seventh general assembly met on Jan. 2, 1911, thirty-seven members, "regular" democrats, refused to take the oath and stood up the legislative hall on January 11, 1911, when an agreement was reached providing for the withdrawal of all contestants over seats.

On April 12, 1911, the same session, "independent" democrats and republicans of the house broke a quorum, going to Decatur, Ala., as a result of the capture of the "liberal" by "regular" democrats and the jeopardizing of the election laws and the prohibition laws.

This "walkout" lasted a month, the absentees returning to their homes on May 11, were not molested. Deliberations finally were resumed June 22.

In 1913, republicans and independent democrats of the house on April 11 filibustered, twenty going to Middleboro, Ky., and half a dozen others to Florence, Ala., the cause being to prevent a change in the election laws.

Boy Scout News

Change Made in Plans.

A change has been made in the plans for the Boy Scout encampment which was to be held at Lake Worth. The grounds at that place have been chartered for other purposes and will not be available for the scout camp, so local officials have arranged to locate their camp on the Clear Fork branch of the Brazos river, near New-Castle. A fine camping ground has been found there and an enjoyable time is anticipated by all who are planning to go. Any scouts desiring to be included on this trip are requested to hand in their applications to Scout Executive Taylor at once.

To Instruct Troops.

On Tuesday night of this week Mr. Hamilton, the civic service director of the Chamber of Commerce, will meet with all scout troops of the city and instruct them in some new games and plays. The meeting will be held in the basement of the First Methodist Church, South, and all scouts are urged to be present.

Examinations Are Given.

Regular examinations were given by the scout examining board last Tuesday night. Aubrey Henoway and Milton Fekler of troop 7 passed their first class tests while George Nolan of troop 1 passed the test entitling him to a merit badge in electricity. Wallace Bright of troop 1 also passed a merit badge test in public health, making a total of six merit badge scouts in this city. Another examination will be given by the board on Wednesday, August 20, and the night following the court of honor will award merit badges to those scouts who have successfully passed the test.

Scoutmaster Returns.

Scoutmaster H. R. White has returned from the National Guard encampment at Camp Mabury and taken charge of his troop once more.

Interest in Scout Band.

A great deal of interest has been aroused among the boys of the city in regard to the scout band which is to be organized in the near future. Regular practices will be held at various times each week as soon as school opens, and from the enthusiasm shown by the various troops it appears that the local scouts will be able to boast of one of the best boy's bands in the southwest.

Change Conference Location.

The scout executive conference for this section which was to have been held at Carterville Dam near Lawton, Okla., has been changed to Fort Hill Mills, near Lawton, Okla. The conference will be held at that place for three days, August 27, 28 and 29. A number of the local scout officials have signified their intention of attending.

Scout Executives To Meet.

The scout executive convention of America will be held at Tulsa, Okla., New York, which is located on the west bank of the Hudson river about 40 miles north of New York City. This convention, which is attended by scout executives from all over the country, is to be held from September 15 to 21, inclusive. A number of prominent speakers will be present to address the executives and it is thought that President Wilson, William Howard Taft, Charles M. Schwab and other noted men will be present.

ARREST MAN WITH AN ALLEGED "PHONY" BADGE AND TWO SIX-SHOOTERS

An alleged phony detective badge No. 23, and two six-shooters with the safety lock thrown off, combined with suspicion on the part of Deputy Sheriff John Canada of Newtown, landed a man in the county jail Friday night.

The man is booked on the "cross-bar hotel" register, George Spencer, alias George Block, alias Guy Bradley. Just which he is, has not been determined as yet.

It is charged that the man was exhibiting his brightly shined badge in various and sundry places when the deputy sheriff called upon him to show his credentials. Immediately thereupon he produced a credential from a Wichita Falls detective agency but the credential was written on the stationery of a hotel of Burk Burnett.

Upon searching the man the deputy found two pistols, each loaded to the brim and each one all ready to use. He was placed under arrest and brought to the county jail for safe keeping.

COMMISSIONER HERE TO TAKE TESTIMONY

Further Hearings in Boundary Dispute Will Begin On Monday Morning.

Commissioner Tyler, Assistant Attorney General W. A. Keeling and R. V. Nichols, special agent for the State of Texas, J. A. Fain, special agent for the United States attorney general, Judge Freeling, attorney general for Oklahoma, Judge Durant, commissioner for the Oklahoma school lands, and J. W. Gregory, former attorney general for the United States, and at present representing Texas in the boundary dispute, arrived in Wichita Falls Saturday afternoon to begin taking testimony in the boundary case.

The court worked up the river from Gainesville Friday, taking testimony in the various towns, and arrived in Henrietta late Friday night. Saturday morning was spent in Henrietta where about 12 witnesses were heard. The court had planned to come to Wichita Falls by auto, with the idea of hearing some testimony here Saturday afternoon, but on account of the condition of the roads the auto trip had to be abandoned, and as a result the officials did not arrive here until well into the afternoon, too late to hear any witnesses.

At Henrietta some very valuable testimony was had for the Texas case, including statements by county officials as to how far into the bed of the river they had exercised jurisdiction, and also as to the assessment and collection of taxes on the bridges spanning the river between the two States.

Commissioner Tyler will sit to hear testimony from Wichita county people Monday, beginning at 9:00 o'clock, at the court house, and those witnesses who have been asked previously to testify will be expected to appear at that time.

From here the commission will go to Vernon and Quannah, where it is expected to finish the testimony Tuesday. From Quannah the commission will go to Austin to go over the state laws and complete the case for the State.

KATY RIVER BRIDGE IS STILL IMPASSABLE

Northwestern Trains Being Detoured By Way of Vernon—Little Damage Locally.

Due to damages inflicted by the recent high waters the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad bridge over Red river is still impassable and service will not be continued until Sunday afternoon, according to information given out at the chief dispatcher's office late Saturday night. Through courtesy of the Fort Worth & Denver lines all trains on this branch of the road are detoured by way of Vernon. The piling of the new bridge across the Wichita river of the Fort Worth & Denver roads was damaged to a certain extent by the high waters drift and the swift current swept a portion of the structure against the old iron bridge. It is estimated that it was moved at least six feet. Late Saturday night the waters had receded to a great extent and unless more rain falls all danger of further damage has passed. A report that Wichita Falls might experience another flood as of the spring of 1913 was regarded as absurd by many of the older citizens. Nevertheless this report brought much anxiety to property holders and tenants along the river banks, and in low territories.

We welcome small checking accounts, knowing that the small accounts of today may be the big accounts of the future. Security National Bank. Notice Share members! REPORT EXCITEMENT OVER HASKELL WELL

Well at 3390 Feet With What is Considered Splendid Showing of Oil and Gas.

Special to The Times. Aug 21.—(Continued) Excitement is reported at Haskell over the prospects of the Kouri No. 1 well becoming a good producer, according to reports received. A Texas Company geologist says that he believes the Kouri No. 1 is a well. The well is at 3390 feet with what is considered a splendid showing of oil and gas. The well is about fifteen miles north and east of Stamford.

The Kouri No. 1 at 1430 feet has a showing of gas and oil, according to reports here.

The Texas Venture company's West-Port No. 1 well and one-half mile northwest of Stamford, has received a supply of 8-inch casing and will begin setting it shortly. The well is at 1750 feet. At 1510 feet the well is considered to make good production, because, as it is pointed out, the old Colbert well drilled nearly several years ago was a good producer when the well was cased and the field was abandoned due to the war. Several prominent Stamford and Haskell business men will attend to the fact that the former well was a splendid one. The Texas Venture company has spent over $100,000 at this well and is confident that it will be a producer. Should it come in, immediate production is expected. Drilling will be started in this city as the money for it was subscribed some time ago.

The Texas Cushing No. 3, fifteen miles east on the line of Haskell and Haskell counties, has the derrick up and some of machinery at the well and will be ready to start in shortly. Sufficient funds lie in a local bank to insure its drilling. It was stated.

The Texas Cushing No. 2, 14 1/2 miles from Stamford, which was on special terms, will resume drilling in a few days.

SECOND STRIKE OF GAS REPORTED IN EMPIRE WELL IN MONTAGUE

NOCENA, TEX., Aug. 21.—A second strike of gas is reported in the Empire Gas and Fuel company well on the Seay land, the location being in the southwest corner of the southwest quarter of section 3-7a-4w, the depth being around 1200 feet or below. A four-cylinder, 4-horsepower C. I. A. & K. drilling gas engine has been installed. It is expected that better time will be made, not so much hauling of fuel will be required. This well is to be a very good prospect for a well, and the Empire people are well backed with acreage on both sides of the river.

The standard oil company test on the Budd Head farm in section 14-7a-6a was working in blue shale with a dry hole at 1300 feet, or possibly deeper, at last report. Conditions were reported quite favorable for some kind of a strike.

Crenshaw, Asher and others are reported preparing to start a test on the Wallace survey, about two miles northwest of Belcherville. An acreage agreement is up on this deal.

At last work, the Munster well was drilling at 2510 feet, and still in the black lime, having picked it up at 2352 feet. The hole is dry and in good condition. This well has had a number of oil showings, but not in commercial quantities.

The last scout report credited the Illinois Bend well with having reached a depth of 1000 feet and waiting for fuel. The well was in good condition and is drilling for a deep test with prospects considered favorable.

The big six test on the Inn farm, about six miles southwest of Nocena, has not started yet, but it is believed it will be working early in September. This is one of the most important tests in the Red River region and attracts wide attention.

Montague county is watching the good wells being drilled in the Hewitt and Fox fields in Carter county, across the river to the northeast, and wondering why development work will not put Montague in the class with Carter county. Good geological dips is to the effect that it should and will. The next big noise is likely to be in Montague county.

WEST COLUMBIA WELL IS MAKING BETTER THAN 26,000 BARRELS DAILY

Continuing to spout forth oil in enormous quantities, Abrams well No. 1, located in the West Columbia district south of Houston, produced 28,182 barrels of oil in the 24 hours ending at 7:00 p. m. July 26, according to officials of the Texas Company of this city.

The well was brought in at 7:00 a. m. on July 26 and since that time saved 237 barrels of oil have been saved. This is an average of slightly more than 26,000 barrels per day. When the well came in it was reported to produce 25,000 barrel gusher but according to this report it has outstripped the first estimate.

HIGHTOWER NO. 2 IS REPORTED GOOD WELL

Hightower Oil Company reports a good well in their No. 2, in the north-west extension. The well is said to be good for 250 to 300 barrels on the swab. The company drilled No. 1 last summer, which was lost and for a time the lease was not thought to be productive, but recent developments in the country have made it look very encouraging and drilling will be continued until the lease is drilled out.

ROYAL AMERICAN CO. REPORTS GOOD SAND ON THE COLEMAN RANCH

The Royal American Oil Company reports a good looking sand on the Coleman ranch, 16 miles south of Wichita Falls. The sand was found at 1874, and was good enough to justify setting casing in a rotary hole to test. The company also has a spudder at work to drill for a shallow sand passed by the rotary at 180 feet. Both tests will be watched with much interest, as they are in purely wildcat territory.

ORAL JONES URGED AS POPULAR NOVICE

Friends Boost His Record in Presenting Candidate For The Coveted Honor.

"Say it Oral-ly"—half of the Masonic folks are chanting these days. Whether the response will be to their satisfaction depends. They do say that Mr. Oral Alphonso Jones certainly evidently tried to cover up the climax with a brilliant beginning in secretary and treasurer of the board of stewards of the South Methodist church, which may offset the fact that he is a bomb Republican when the Masons start voting in the Shrine diamond ring popularity contest. And may not. Church folks have even been known to make silver applications from the collection basket.

But aside from his being a Republican, Mr. Jones' life appears to be regular and normal. He was born; he came to Wichita Falls; he went to school, and once he joined the Masonic order, starting at the foot of the ladder. It got to be a habit, and he recently received his Scottish Rite degree. He isn't married, but his supporters state that he is a great ladies' man, which ought to give his candidacy a real impetus, as all men love a ladies' man. Mr. Jones' announcement as a candidate for the Shrine diamond ring has caused a widespread interest in Masonic circles. It is stated on perfectly good authority.

To return to definite data, as a respectable sketch will have to be ready for the 1921 "Who's Who in America" when the publishers are notified of Mr. Jones' successful candidacy for the ring. Mr. Jones is a native of Tennessee, where he made his premier appearance on June 18, 1884—or rather, June 13, 1886. Later in the same year, he removed to Wichita Falls, where he was for a short time connected with the Oil Prophet, a semi-weekly newspaper. The wanderlust spirit was strong within him, however, and in 1892 he became identified with the Peary-Harrison expedition to the North Polar regions. At the conclusion of this successful expedition, which was accompanied partly by means of air and hydroplanes, Mr. Jones returned to Wichita Falls. Realizing that his education had been somewhat neglected, he entered the Wichita Falls high school, braving the jibes of younger students in the upper classes throughout seven years of high school. He graduated in the class of 1914, and a short time following graduation, chance employment as bricklayer for one of the local skyscrapers gave him the inspiration to go in largely for Masonry. From that time, beginning with the A. F. and A. M. of Wichita Falls, he was steadily progressed through the York Rite degree, finishing the Knight Templar in 1919, at an early age. In April of this year Mr. Jones received the Scottish Rite degree in Dallas in one of the largest classes assembled at one time in the history of the world, which is now known as the Eagle Class.

Mr. Jones has been connected with the City National bank since three years before its establishment, at which time he served a short term as mascot of the institution. Later, as he grew older, he was promoted to the occupation of janitor and on his 15th birthday, after several years of application and study under his superiors, he was elected to the honor position of assistant cashier by the board of directors of the bank. On May 29, the consolidation of the City National bank and the Wichita County Laundry and Sausage Commission having been consummated, he was elected senior assistant cashier.

Besides his honored position in the bank, Mr. Jones, as has been previously mentioned, is secretary and treasurer of the board of stewards of the M. E. Church, South; treasurer of the Wichita county republican council; and second vice-president of the Aiding Oil Corporation, capitalized at $5,000,000.

On account of the esteem in which he is held, and his general popularity in Masonic circles, Mr. Jones is receiving the support of the majority of prominent members of the Masonic society, not only in his immediate locality, but throughout the United States. The following endorsements have been voluntarily attached to a statement urging his fitness as the logical candidate for the popularity ring:

REUBEN RUBOTTOM PLACED IN RUNNING

Ingenuity Of Publicity Manager Is Exercised In Suggesting Name For Distinction.

R. R. (REUBEN) RUBOTTOM

The local Shrine club is in receipt of a telegram from Governor Hobby requesting that a personal friend of his be run as a candidate for the Shrine ring, to be given the most popular novice at the ceremonial here August 21. The wire follows:

"I respectfully request that Novice R. R. (Reuben) Rubottom be a candidate for Shrine ring. Desire to have Nobles Dr. M. W. Hoover, R. C. Dunkelberg, Earl H. Breedlove, J. J. Bonner, J. S. Leach and Hy Robertson act with me as his campaign committee. Will arrange to be in Wichita Falls early to give campaign my active support."

Since the wire did not come "undisputed" it was taken seriously, the parties mentioned notified and all have agreed to act with Noble Hobby. The campaign will be launched and several have already withdrawn from the race, knowing that competition against one with so strong a financial backing would be in vain. Mr. Rubottom is one of the officers of the Security National Bank (adv.) and is supported by its entire resources.

That the public might become better acquainted with the candidate a brief sketch of his life is given below. It is flattering to say the least, in fact it should be, since it was written by himself.

"I was born at Greenville, (a wet town then) Mo., The Show Me State, April 22, 1886. My father said I should have been born April Fools day. Anyhow, I fooled him several times in my life and sometimes I did not fool him, if he slipped up behind me when I was not looking.

"I say I was born at Greenville, it was near there, three miles out in the sticks, but I am proud of myself for that, for look at the number of great men outside of myself that were born in the country, you can't always tell. I have lots of time yet. I lived there on the farm until I was 19 years of age, and during those 19 years I farmed, too, what I am telling you, I have done everything on the farm that was to be done, and lots of things that I should not have done.

"I entered high school at 16 at Greenville and I finished with high honors at 19, but during that time I had some dishonors. Then the high white light burned me, so I left the farm (old Heck included) and I hit for the gay lights, and when I hit, I landed at Stoketown, Mo., (also very wet). I done everybody and everything for a few weeks and I soon landed in a general mercantile store and I was there for a few months. One of the bankers started after me and the faster he ran the faster I ran, but after about three or four weeks he caught me and landed me in his bank, and so I started my present vocation in life. My observations are a different story and are accounted for in Jim Jam Jims. I stayed there for about two years or better when I was called to the wild and woolly west, Tucson, Ariz., and it was some wild too at that time, and the longer I was there, the wilder I got and it got. I landed a position in one of the banks the third day I was in the city and stayed with it until I heard the call to come to the great state of Texas. I landed in Corpus Christi, 1908, and immediately, with the aid of the law Kingsville, with one of the largest banks in south Texas, remaining with them until fired, when I came to Wichita Falls. Here I am, take a look at me and from now on you will find me at the Security National bank (adv.)."

Of course Reuben has not gone into details on some of the shadier points of his checkered career, but one look at his handsome face will convince even the most skeptical Noble that he has lead nothing but a life of disipation. His campaign committee challenge anyone to produce an opponent more qualified for such honors.

It is rumored that several other candidates are preparing to unite in their efforts to undermine Mr. Rubottom, even going so far as to assail his character. Two of the most prominent of these being Novice Frank R. Reid of the Texas company and (Doc) O. A. Jones, an employe at another one of the banks of the city. The writer could mention a few things about both of these candidates that would create short of scandal, but will refrain from doing so, until they force him to act. To remove any doubt of this last statement, one instance of each will be given. A tender heart forbids more.

The writer attempted to interview Novice Beasley and obtain his opinion of Reuben Rubottom's platform. The lack of intelligence of both parties will be evident from the following conversation:

"Mr. Reid, are you fond of jazz music?" inquired the writer with note-book and pencil ready to record any answer.

"My wife does not permit me to indulge in soft drinks," replied Frank (continued on Page 7)

AMERICA HAS LEAD OF MORE THAN 100 POINTS IN OLYMPICS; BELGIAN COMMITTEE FACES HUGE DEFICIT

ANTWERP, Aug. 21.—Faced with a deficit by lack of attendance, the Olympic committee today announced that the stadium open to the public without charge. As a result, the structure was almost packed to the full capacity of 30,000 this afternoon.

This action was taken, it was stated, because it was realized the Belgian people simply could not afford to pay even the equivalent of 30 cents in American money to see the Olympic contests. The Belgian government has agreed to meet the deficit.

America scored 21 points in the contest today. Sweden was next highest with 18 points, Finland scored 8, Italy 5, Australia 5, Canada 3, South Africa 2 and England 1. These scores do not include the decathlon.

The total scores made by the various countries to date:

United States	175
England	67
Finland	63
Sweden	61
Italy	61
France	59
Canada	49
Australia	49
Denmark	47
Norway	47
Czechoslovakia	3
Holland	2
Belgium	2

Prize of Italy won the 2,000-metre walk at the Olympic games today in 13 minutes 14-1/2 seconds. R. Romer, American Walker's club, was third, and T. Maroney, St. Anselmo, C. America, fifth. This is a new event.

Six American runners and an immense field of athletes of other nations are entered in the classic Marathon to be run tomorrow, the feature of the seventh Olympiad. The Americans are Arthur V. Ross of Dorchester, Mass.; Carl W. A. Lyder, Quincy, Mass.; J. L. Organ, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Charles L. Mellor, Logan Square, A. C. Chicago; Frank Cypa, Newark, N. J.; and J. P. Weber, Pittsburgh, Pa.

F. J. McDonald, N. Y. A. C. won the final of the 55-pound weight put today with a lift of 11.25 metres. P. Ryan, Loughlin, Livorno, New York, was second with a lift of 10.95 metres.

The American team, consisting of H. H. Brown, Boston, A. A.; Ivan C. Sponner, New York, A. A.; A. S. Shardt, Chicago, A. A.; Michael A. Devany, Millrose A. A.; and M. Shields, Meadowbrook club, Philadelphia, qualified for the finals in the 2,000-metre team race.

The title of the world's best all-around athlete, first tonight between Erutus K. Hamilton of the University of Missouri and Capt. Helge Loveland of the Norwegian army, who were well ahead of the other competitors in the Olympic decathlon. So few points separated the young American from the 27-year-old officer that a recount of the points allotted by the complicated system will be necessary before the world officially knows which is the better man, but it appears that the Norwegian had a slight advantage in the contest, which consisted of ten events designed to show best the measure of an athlete.

Whichever of the two is awarded the cup donated by the late Russian emperor for the decathlon, and which Jim Thorpe had to forfeit at Stockholm to Welander of Sweden in 1912 because of the charge of professionalism, there is so little difference that both Hamilton and Loveland may be justly proud of their laurels.

Although Loveland failed to score a single first, he made equally good time with several others in the dashes and his performances in the high jump, pole vault, the 1,000 metres and the shot put and discus were so consistent that he obtained second, third and fourth. He thus apparently outpointed Hamilton, who won first in the shot put and the 100 metres and did well in the broad jump, the javelin and discus, but got only seventh in the 1,000 metres and eleventh in the high jump.

At the finish of the 1,000 metres, the tenth event in the two days, Hamilton fairly staggered into the arms of friends and was assisted off the field.

It was the same story with the other ten competitors who survived the preliminaries.

In addition to Hamilton's bitter two days' battle to defeat Loveland, the other American athletes made an excellent showing during the cold raw eight-hour competition in the other events: Six places for a total of 51 points were captured out of a possible 15 in the three finals today. The decathlon consisted of first and second in the 50-pound weight; third and fifth in the 2,000-metre walk and fifth and sixth in the hop, step and jump.

By Paul W. Larkin

Now that Paul Santell has picked his all-Texas league team, we suppose every mail will bring in a few letters wondering why "such and such a man" wasn't picked, and isn't "so-and-so" a better man than "who's this?"

We could ask 100 different people to pick an all-star team for us and we'll guarantee that there would be 100 different teams. You can't satisfy everybody.

Personally, we disagree with Paul in a couple of positions, but we'd hate to attempt to put a team on the field against his selection and then lay a bet on it. He has been in the league long enough to watch them all come and go and he ought to know just a little bit more about each player than the average fan.

He selected the entire Panther infield and well he might as it's a tough one to beat. Not only are they great individual players, but their team work is unexcelled in the league. Still, we think that our own Dutch Schliebner would look just as well at the initial corner and Leslie is no slouch.

The one position that we think Paul missed is in right field. If "Red" Josephson hasn't got Camp beaten a city block we miss our guess. There isn't a lead-off man in the league that can be compared with Jo while his batting average speaks for itself. His greatest weakness is his throwing arm, but his good qualities offset that.

Of course, we have only seen Jo work at Athletic Park, but the Spudder right garden is the worst sun field in the

The Indians' evidently need Tris Speaker on the job every second. They couldn't find home plate with a microscope in their double bill with the Red Sox yesterday. As a result of their double defeat, they lost their leadership to the White Sox. Yek be, tis a merry race.

ST. LOUIS IS AGAIN CAPITOL OF SWAT IN MAJOR LEAGUES

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Players in the National League who last week were leaders in their specialties continued to set the pace, according to averages released today, which include games of Wednesday.

Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis star, who topped the list of batters participating in 50 or more games a week ago with an average of .372, retained the same mark although he played in eight games during the week. However he increased his lead in total bases to 243, on 142 hits which include 22 doubles, 15 triples and seven homers. Eays of Boston, although dropping three points, continued to be the runner-up with 232, while Nicholson of Pittsburgh stepped in front of Roush of Cincinnati for third place, with a mark of 241. The Cincinnati outfielder slumped five points for an average of .227 which ties him with J. Smith of St. Louis for fourth place.

C. Williams, the Philadelphia outfielder, failed to swell his home run total to 15. Max Carey of Pittsburgh negotiated a quartet of stolen bases and is showing the way with 42.

Other leading batters: Stock, St. Louis, .229; Williams, Philadelphia, .222; Young, New York, .221; Konechny, Brooklyn, .221; Hollcher, Chicago, .218; King, New York, .217; Greb, Cincinnati, .216; Myers, Brooklyn, .215; Z. Wheat, Brooklyn, .209; Duncan, Cincinnati, .205; Flack, Chicago, .203.

NOTHING WRONG WITH BABE'S HOME RUNS ACCORDING TO U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Babe Ruth and his home runs have been "investigated" by Uncle Sam and both have been given an official O. K.

Friends of the champion home runner decided some time ago that it might be that Ruth's home runs were due in some part to the different baseball used this year in the major leagues so they sent a number of the home run balls to the bureau of standards here for investigation.

These balls were put through a "third degree." Scientists pounded, beat and dismembered them and reported that there was nothing in them that would cause them to "ride" farther when hit than the baseballs heretofore used. They said it was "Babe's" mighty blows that produced the home runs.

Ruth made only one home run on Wednesday a week ago to last Wednesday when the averages were compiled. He had up to this time gathered 42 circuit drives. His total base record has been increased to 203 bases, and as a run getter has counted 127 times. Riser of Washington continued to set the pace among the base getters with a total of 45 thefts, two of them which were added during the week.

Tris Cobb, Detroit's star, who showed signs of climbing among the leading batters, has not kept up the pace he set a couple of weeks ago. He is hitting .212 compared with .241 a week ago.

Here ended the interview, the writer being afraid to continue, lest he should mumble something about the legal expression "non compes mentis," and injure said pride to the extent of a damage suit.

The writer is sure later to tell this one on Doc Jones, but such is the painful duty of a campaign manager. Even at the expense of giving our opponents a chance to ask the embarrassing question as to just what the writer was doing out as late as 10 o'clock at night, the writer will state that on several occasions he has seen Doc Jones' wife waiting for him out in front of the city National bank building to come and take her home, waiting there until late at night, sometimes 9 and 10 o'clock. Two Different Codes of Ethics

For the benefit of the voters of this district who are seeking the truth regarding the two candidates in the Democratic primary, we are outlining below the code of ethics of each and citing for the benefit of such voters facts which illustrate the cardinal differences between these two candidates. We believe that an impartial reading of the following will convince any open-minded man that Joe Weldon Bailey is the one to which we should turn in this hour of need.

We Dont Blame the Neff Adherents for their futile attempt to refute facts in the Watson Case. We would be ashamed of it too.

BUT LISTEN

There lives in our city Mr. E. G. Hill, a resident of many years—one of our most successful young business men and a man whose integrity has never been questioned. Personally we believe that the word of this straightforward young man should carry more weight than an affidavit of all the politicians in the state of Texas. Read what he says below in a letter to Mr. V. H. Shepherd, of our city:

August 19, 1920.

Mr. V. H. Shepherd
Wichita Falls, Texas.

Dear Friend Shep:

Replying to your inquiry of recent date in regard to the much talked-of Patterson-Watson case, in which the Hon. Pat Neff played such an important part, will say that Mrs. John S. Patterson is an own cousin of mine, and that I have known Pat Neff for fifteen or twenty years. I was raised in McLennan County and our whole family have always been friendly toward Neff.

I know that the statement of Mrs. Patterson in regard to Mr. Neff's conduct at the death-bed and funeral of Mr. Patterson is absolutely true, and that Mr. Neff cried as much as if he had been a member of the family at the time of the death, and that he was one of the pall-bearers at the funeral.

We were all very much shocked to think that after the active part that he had taken in all of the arrangements, that he could be induced for the sake of a few paltry dollars, to defend the man charged with killing not only his friend, but a public official of the state who was at Teague in the discharge of a sacred duty.

Yours very sincerely,
E. G. HILL.

(Signed)

Hill Says These Statements Made by Mrs. Patterson Are Facts and Nothing But Facts

Pat Neff's attempt to deny these facts not only make the friends and associates of E. G. Hill know that these politicians will resort to any method to get votes and mislead the voters. This fact was also proven in their attempt to refute the origin of the "Red Circular," which proved to be a boomerang instead of a vote getter for them.

Joe Bailey refused an enormous fee to prosecute Beal Sneed, in the famous Sneed-Boyce case because he was a friend of Sneed's father.

Another Code of Ethics

Joe Bailey told Oklahoma that they did not have enough money on deposit in the state to get him to take the Red River Boundary case when they laid $50,000 on the "barrel head" and urged him to take the case.

Do you think for one minute that Joe Bailey would betray a dead friend and then follow up the betrayal by disclaiming his friendship?

How does Pat Neff explain the fact that bawdy houses were allowed to run during his administration as County Attorney of McLennan County and does his election to the governorship mean that these houses will thrive all over the state and that he will virtually license these unfortunate women to ply their unholy vocation.

Lastly, if Joe Bailey did receive a fee from the Waters-Pierce Oil Co. for Texas legislation was not this money a million times cleaner than a fee received by Neff in the famous "Chicken Salad Case" for defending Jas E. Ferguson, paid illegally from the funds of the treasury of the State of Texas?

PATRIOTISM

Mr. Neff and the machine politicians of the state have denounced Senator Bailey as being unpatriotic during the war and for the enlightenment of those who might be misled, we wish to state that the Bailey Campaign Headquarters at Dallas have on file affidavit signed by O. L. Stribling, Dr. J. W. Hale, G. M. Barclay, and S. H. Clayton, who composed the exemption board from McLennan County, which affidavit shows that Mr. Neff did not register as required by law for all persons subject to the draft, between the ages of 18 to 45, inclusive, and up to 46.

Mr. Neff was subject to the draft and not only patriotism, but obedience to existing law demanded that he register, as all American citizens and true patriots were obligated to do. Who was the more patriotic? Senator Bailey, whose two sons volunteered before the registration law went into effect, or Mr. Neff, who shirked his duty and did not register at all, though subject to do so?

Before the war, in a speech to a German audience in McLennan county, Mr. Neff boasted that he traced his ancestry to the banks of the Rhine, and likewise signified that the family name was originally Nief, it has been modernized into Neff. We do not know where he got the name "Pat," unless he was trying to blend the patriotism of the Irish with the hypocrisy of the German. This may throw some light on the failure to Mr. Neff to register in obedience to the law.

We have in our possession also a copy of a letter sent by the McLennan County Medical Association to the doctors of the state to do all they can to defeat Mr. Neff, assigning as a reason that he has proved an obstructionist to beneficial health legislation.

A statement recently appearing that Bailey had shipped his household goods to Arizona shows the nature of the Neff campaign. The facts are that Weldon Bailey, son of the senator, after being discharged from the army is moving to Arizona for a portion of his time and some few household goods were shipped to his son there. The other goods will be shipped to Austin about September 1st.

JUDGE McCULLOUGH OF WACO ADDRESSES THE WOMAN'S NEFF CLUB

SPEAKER INTRODUCED BY MRS. F. C. BARRON, CHAIRMAN OF ORGANIZATION.

RECORD OF BAILEY IS DISCUSSED AT LENGTH

Praises Political And Home Life Of The Candidate From McLennan County.

"They say he is a 'sissy' Well, I'm glad that the young men and young women of this state are going to have the chance to seat in the governor's chair at Austin a man who has never found it necessary to sow his 'wild oats.' We admit it, without any of the shame that it seems they would have to feel. And I want to say to you that I have never known a man with a higher, nobler or purer personal character than Pat M. Neff."

Judge Tom McCullough, county judge of McLennan county at the time Pat Neff served as county attorney, delivered one of the best and most forceful addresses in behalf of Neff's candidacy Saturday afternoon at the Women's Neff club rally that has been heard in Wichita Falls since the campaign began. Judge McCullough came to Wichita Falls at the urgent request of a former citizen of Waco and acquaintance, Mrs. F. C. Barron, chairman of the Wichita County Women's Neff club, and addressed that club and an audience of other men and women at the rally held at the First Methodist church, South, Saturday afternoon. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Barron in a short address and his two-hour talk following was punctuated by frequent and enthusiastic applause. He dealt strictly with the facts relating to the records of both candidates for governor, indulging in very few remarks of a personal or humorous character.

Attacks Bailey's Record.
Judge McCullough touched briefly on Bailey's record as a democrat and a supporter of the democratic party, recalling his (Bailey's) denomination of Cleveland, who represented the first democratic national success since the civil war at the time of his election, as a "mugwump"; his unqualified criticism of William Jennings Bryan, the great commoner, at the time when Bryan threw down the gauntlet to the big interests at the Chicago convention and won a notable victory for the people; his bitter denunciation of President Wilson and the whole democratic program of achievements in the past seven years, and his statement that "if Wilson is a democrat, I am not one"; his declaration that, the then junior state senator, Morris Sheppard, would shake about in his senatorial chair like a mustard seed in a gourd" when he left him in Washington City, and his abortive attempts to form a new party in the West for whose platform six planks, written by the liquor interests in the East, had been lifted bodily from their records.

"Morris Sheppard has accomplished more in the nine years of his service for the state than Bailey accomplished in his whole twenty-four years," he declared, citing Bailey's congressional record as compared to Sheppard's. "The Bailey people get peeved when we say that," he said, "but they can't find anything in the archives of the government nor in the Congressional Record to dispute it. Morris Sheppard has written his service into the organic laws of the country; he wrote the federal prohibition amendment with his own hand, and it is the greatest, most humanitarian document ever conceived. And he put it through to adoption with an expediency that surprised not only the members of congress and the people of the United States but the press as well. Joe Bailey had the brains, and the magnetic personality, and the golden possibility for service that no man in America has ever surpassed, but he has never left the impression of that personality or service or brains on any constructive measure ever taken up in our march of progress."

Measures Opposed.
He took up briefly Bailey's fight against the rural free delivery, the farm land bill, the agricultural appropriation, the federal reserve bank, against which, the speaker stated, the republicans under the leadership of Senator Aldrich and other administration enemies have present designs, the federal prohibition amendment; the sulphur match provision; the child labor law, which fight he characterized as a black blot on the Bailey record, and the federal woman suffrage amendment. The speaker then took up the efforts of certain disgruntled party leaders to organize a new party in the West, and of how Governor Edwards of New Jersey (who boasts that he would keep New Jersey as wet as the Atlantic ocean) and other liquor leaders fell down on the party organization.

Judge McCullough's argument in behalf of his candidate lost none of its force from the fact that it began well in the middle of his speech. He outlined Neff's political record, first as county attorney of McLennan county, and later in the state legislature, speaking from the point of vantage of a member of the house who felt his responsibility to the extent that he never missed a roll call; who did not feel it necessary to take unto himself any of the personal vices or corruptions espoused by other young men of the time, and whose personal record was as clean as that of the cleanest man in the state or country. He told of Neff's war record, and in answering a question, stated that Neff was beyond military age at the time of the draft, but offered his services for the Liberty loan campaign, the Y. M. C. A. and other big war organization activities at the office. He stated that Neff purchased $2,000 worth of Liberty bonds, which he personally considered rather a heavy load for a man in his (Neff's) position to carry.

Questions Invited.
At the close of Judge McCullough's address he indicated his willingness to answer questions, and a number were asked. He discussed the "Patterson case," and roundly scored the deliberate misrepresentations that had been made in that case, with which he was personally familiar, as a life-long friend of the Patterson family. He touched on the charge, which he mentioned as brought out in a political advertisement in a local paper which had been "straggled from the mire of a speech which R. L. Henry had disgusted and disappointed even the Bailey crowd at Dallas some time ago and which, he stated, could never have been introduced into a speech in Waco, where the whole city and county knew the "shameful facts of the false accusation." Judge McCullough stated that the advertising publicity was based on a case which resulted in a case of bribery and corruption being made on several clear counts against a man who had been put up by gambling hall and liquor opposition to Neff in his second or third race for the county attorneyship. The man in the employ of the gambling hall people promised to get out of Waco and McLennan county quietly if he would be allowed to go. Judge McCullough stated, and he was "turned loose."

"The Bailey crowd would never dare to bring up that slimy thing in McLennan county," he declared, "because the whole county is ashamed of it." He mentioned incidentally that after the exposure of the bribery Neff was re-elected to the attorneyship by about 4 to 1 votes over all opponents.

"Bailey came down here last year to save Texas and the rest of the United States by the organization of a new party," the speaker said. "Now he has come back to the state to save us by running the state government under the democratic banner. It is his intention at present to return to Washington City after the election. The best advice we could offer him would be to leave Texas on or before the 25th, when the reduced rates for summer tourist rates to the East are off. He can save money that way."

Judge McCullough remained after the close of the rally and met a number of the leaders in the Women's Neff club, during which informal meeting was read in which Mr. Neff expressed his sincere appreciation of the women's efforts in his behalf.

Time to Call a Halt

Speaking of radicals, when a man of "prominence" goes about the country making charges against organized labor that are so far from the truth as to cause many of the larger daily papers over the United States to hold him up in ridicule, we believe it about time for those opposing organized labor to deport a few of their imminent leaders to the American colony in Russia, instead of branding every man who organizes for honest improvements in working conditions as a Bolshevik.

The following editorial appeared in the Dallas News on Tuesday, Aug. 17th:

MR. BLANTON FONDLAS A PHANTOM.
Congressman Blanton has done the country a service in advertising the injustices, malpractices and evil tendencies of organized labor. The newspapers of the country have shown their appreciation of that service by giving Mr. Blanton vastly more publicity than he could probably have gained or extracted from them by an equal endeavor in any other pursuit than that of exploiting the vice of organized labor. The fame of the notoriety, which has thus come to Mr. Blanton has made him intelligently dizzy. When Mr. Blanton fixes his excited gaze on organized labor he "sees things" which are untrue to an extent that is almost incredible.

In introducing Mr. Bailey at Albany, Mr. Blanton said, among other things:

It is regrettable when the chapel foreman, not the editor, determines what shall go into the columns of the paper, and it is time the people woke up since July 1, 1917, the American Federation of Labor has exempted every Typographical Union from the four-cent tax exacted from all other unions as a consideration for endorsing and keeping out of the newspapers all matters injurious to unions.

If it were true that the "chapel foreman" of the News exercised the censorial authority which Mr. Blanton attributes to all of them, he undoubtedly would have allowed the statement of Mr. Blanton to have space in his columns, to say nothing of that gentleman's comminatory appearing the same day amplifying that idea. For assuredly the promulgation of such grotesque nonsense as Mr. Blanton emitted both in his introductory speech at Albany and in his communication to the News, does much damage to the power of Mr. Blanton and none whatever to that of organized labor, which indeed has been somewhat enhanced when its foe makes himself ridiculous. Also, perhaps, it does some damage to the newspapers among those who are ignorant enough to be susceptible to such absurdities. This is the only reason the News has for taking cognizance of Mr. Blanton's statement.

It may be that the Federation of Labor has exempted the International Typographical Union from the obligation to pay dues. The News knows nothing about that, and knowing nothing about it, it knows nothing about the motives which prompted it to make that decision, although it ventures to express the opinion that both the Federation of Labor and the Typographical Union have more sense than the charge of Mr. Blanton credits them with. But the News knows that if the American Federation of Labor relieved the International Typographical Union of the duty of paying dues, for the reason stated by Mr. Blanton, it was done unconsciously.

As for the News' exemption, the News has never known so much as a request that any article, picture or the interest of organized labor be excluded either from its editorial or news columns. It has printed many communications written in the interest of organized labor, but probably ten times as many written in opposition to it. This and the fact that during the last four or five years it has more often supported the proposition and the editorial columns has given the News the reputation among labor leaders—though unjustified—of being a foe to organized labor. Mr. Blanton, to afford Mr. Blanton a fighting facility a chance to give himself a needed exercise, the News has left to ask Mr. Blanton how he reconciles the fact that it urged the sending of troops to Galveston with his notion that its editorial expressions are endorsed by its "chapel foreman." And if it might ask him but one other question, does he not think said "chapel foreman" has been exceedingly remiss during all the long time that it has been advocating the enactment of laws which would restrict labor organizations in the exercise of their rights?

As to the other newspapers of the country, the News can only say that it has never heard of an authenticated case of one of them having encountered any interference, or even protest, from its employees in the exercise of its right to say what it pleased. The News doubts very much if Mr. Blanton knows of such an instance, notwithstanding he speaks as if such instances were common. The rule, in saying this, it does not question Mr. Blanton's sincerity, of course. It finds it easy knowing how much this subject of organized labor has become an obsession with his mind, to entertain a more charitable view. The News has no doubt Mr. Blanton has heard of such cases. But also it suspects they have been reported to him through the agents of organized labor, who more than once have taken Mr. Blanton snipe-hunting.

REPUBLICAN NOMINEE DISCUSSES TAXATION

Suggests retirement of Ten Billion Dollars Worth of Liberty Bonds.

J. G. Culbertson, president of the Wichita Motor Company, and republican nominee for governor of Texas, discussing income and excess profit taxes, has given his views as to what he considers a practical start toward a solution of this matter, in which he suggests that the retirement of $10,000,000,000 worth of Liberty bonds would go a long way towards bringing about an intelligent revision of our revenue tax schedules. In this connection Mr. Culbertson says:

"One of the important questions confronting the nation at this time is the subject of income and excess profit taxes. There has been a lot of talk about the needed remedies, but few concrete suggestions have been offered. The republican nominee for the presidency has stated in his acceptance speech that he believes the tax burdens imposed for the war emergency must be revised for the needs of peace. The democratic nominee in his acceptance speech stated that 'federal taxation must be heavily reduced and it will be done at once. Annoying consumption taxes, once willingly borne, now unjustified, should be repealed.' And then he proceeds to suggest a new tax on the total business of every going concern, clearly another consumption tax."

"When the federal reserve banks attempted to curb speculation by the restriction on credits a further unfavorable reaction in Liberty bonds took place. Large quantities of Liberty bonds were dumped on the market with the result that the prices of the various Liberty bond issues reached new low levels. In some cases, large corporations dumped their entire holdings of Liberty bonds on the market. Other bond holders finding themselves in need of immediate financing unloaded their Liberty bonds as collateral against loans from their banks. It is a well known fact that large quantities of these bonds were not sold when they were originally issued. People who were not in the position to finance the purchase of bonds were urged to borrow money and obligate themselves for large subscriptions. All of these factors combined have seriously depressed Liberty bonds and the investing public feels rather sore about the whole proposition.

"Intrinsically these Liberty bonds are absolutely sound, no one questions their real value. It is simply a case of the supply being larger than the existing demand. It has been well said that if our government were to issue an enormous quantity of gold dollars and urge people to take those gold dollars and hold them a short time these dollars would be selling below par. A free supply of any commodity will cause a break in the market value.

"At the present time our national debt is approximately $25,000,000,000. Fully $10,000,000,000 is represented by our loans to the nations of Europe, principally England and France. These loans are now secured by promissory demand notes or, as they are sometimes called, ambassador's notes. At the present time these temporary obligations are not drawing interest for the benefit of this country. It has been suggested that a conference should be arranged with our debtors in Europe and a plan worked out so that these temporary obligations could be replaced by long time fixed obligations of the respective governments concerned. These obligations to be issued in suitable denominations bearing a fair rate of interest. These obligations could then be offered to the American investors. The recent over-subscriptions of the Swiss government loan and the over-subscription of some of our corporation note issues gives assurance that these foreign obligations would find a ready market. The proceeds resulting from the sale of these obligations should be applied by our government to the purchase of Liberty bonds. The retirement of $10,000,000,000 par value of our Liberty bonds would strengthen the market and bring all issues to par or possibly a slight premium; the banks would be relieved of the present congestion due to excess Liberty bonds and all the remaining bond holders would feel more kindly to these bonds as an investment proposition.

"The average interest rate on Liberty bonds is about four per cent. The retirement of $10,000,000,000 worth would mean a reduction of $400,000,000 annually in interest payments which would mean just that much saving to the public in taxes now necessary for the account of Liberty bond interest. This simple plan would have the effect of reducing our national debt from approximately $25,000,000,000 to approximately $15,000,000,000. It would relieve the banks of the burden of carrying these excess bonds now in their possession as collateral. It would immediately strengthen the market for Liberty bonds, creating better feeling among the bond holders and insuring a steadier bond market. Finally it would mean a big reduction in our annual interest payments making it possible to bring about real intelligent revision of our revenue tax schedule.

"This is not a new idea that has not been previously discussed. It was suggested during the war that these foreign obligations be converted into fixed obligations and sold to the American public in place of some of our Liberty bond issues. If the suggestion had been acted on at that time some of our present financial difficulties might have been avoided."

NEW CITY DIRECTORY COMPLETE IN DETAIL; IS MUCH IN DEMAND

Many 1920 city directories of Wichita Falls are being distributed here, and more were ordered Saturday from Dallas by the Chamber of Commerce. The new book met with immediate favor among the business men of the city, as it provides a really comprehensive and reliable directory of Wichita Falls since the population of the city became stabilized.

"The directory contains 584 pages, and embodies several distinct departments. Pages 11-26 include data concerning federal, state, city and county officials, public and private institutions, hospitals and homes, libraries, miscellaneous schools and colleges, societies, newspapers, parks, public buildings, halls, postoffice data, railroads, secret and benevolent societies and information covering in a general way every phase of industry and activity in the territory that the directory includes.

Another department is given over to a street guide and a directory of householders; a third handles the alphabetical list of names of citizens, business firms and corporations, and a fourth comprises a classified business directory, showing the various manufacturing, mercantile and professional occupations compiled under headings appropriate to the class of business pursued.

B. F. JOHNSON HOME FROM TRIP TO PALACIOS

B. F. Johnson, democratic candidate for the state legislature from the 101st district returned to Wichita Falls Saturday after spending a month at Palacios with his wife and family. He declined to discuss politics, when questioned over the telephone by a reporter for The Times.

"We returned by automobile," he said, "and had a long, hard trip over some mighty rough roads. I'm really too tired, and too out of touch with local affairs at this moment to discuss any political matters."

CITY ATTORNEY MANN EXPLAINS PROVISIONS OF THE PAYING LAW

With a special election falling due on August 23 to determine the question of adoption or rejection by the city of the benefits of the general paying law of the state, City Attorney E. M. Mann made public Saturday a statement explaining in detail many of the provisions of the law.

"According to the provisions of this law," he said, "the governing body of the city will be authorized to order the payment of any street and may require the abutting property owners on said street to pay any portion of the cost of the pavement not to exceed three-fourths of same; but the whole cost of the construction of sidewalks and curbs in front of any property may be assessed against the owner thereof or his property. The entire cost of the cross-intersections is to be paid by the city.

"Before any assessment liens can be fixed against any property, the property owner must be given a public hearing and no property shall ever be assessed in excess of the benefits that may be derived from the pavement. The paving certificates issued by the city, after a full hearing of the property owners, are to be secured by a lien on the property. The city is further authorized to give terms to the property owners, which usually vary according to the ability of the contractor to either carry or negotiate the certificates. Ordinarily the terms run one, two and three years after date, and bear interest not to exceed eight per cent. There will be no difficulty in giving terms to the property owners, and this is one of the best features of the law.

"Undoubtedly this is a very fair and equitable way to pro rate the cost of the improvement of a street, the city paying for the entire cost of the cross-intersections and one-fourth of the pavement. Heretofore the property owner has had to pay cash for the improvement, which frequently works a hardship.

"If this law is adopted the city will be able to make extensive street improvements and give such terms that any property owner will be able to meet and pay. A vote for this law means a vote for the improvement and betterment of your streets, and everyone having the best interests of the city at heart should not hesitate to favor the adoption of this law."

Depositing your surplus funds in a savings account with the City National Bank of Commerce assures you interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, compounded semi-annually, every possible degree of safety and ready cash in an emergency. 101-112

VALUE OF COURTESY.

In some towns the telephone companies are putting forward what seems to us to be a very valuable suggestion. Under the heading "Courtesy is Reciprocal" the advertisements preach a little sermon on being courteous and kindly to telephone girls, and the betterment of service that such action will give.

Telephone service is bad at times, no denying that. New operators, unaccustomed to local conditions, are easily "flustered," or made nervous and nervousness not only tends toward snappishness, but materially impairs the service the nervous operator normally could give.

And this suggestion didn't come from the telephone girls or companies, either, but from a desire to emphasize a real fact that is of importance to all telephone users.

STATEMENTS COMPARED.

The Dallas Journal very aptly compares the statements of Nominees Cox and Harding on ratification of the suffrage amendment by Tennessee. Said Governor Cox:

"The civilization of the world is saved. The mothers of America will stay the hand of war and repudiate those who trifle with great principles. The action of the Tennessee legislature has another significance. It is an earnest desire of the democratic party to pay its platform obligations."

Said Senator Harding: "All along I have wished for the completion of ratification and have said so, and I am glad to have all the citizenship of the United States take part in the presidential election. The republican party will welcome the response of American womanhood to its appeal to the confidence of the people."

Obets generally went down 2.9 per cent. The fact that there has been a horizontal decline at all is encouraging to the belief that the peak in most commodities has been reached and that prices approaching normal will come back slowly.

The McGlinchey Courier-Gazette says that while Mr. Bailey and his supporters say his war record and prohibition record have no place in this campaign, it is a significant fact that the two wet German boxes in Cooke county gave Bailey more than 90 per cent of their total vote in the July 24 primary.

Governor Harding, it is announced, cannot be induced to abandon his dignified plan for a front porch campaign and nothing more. Governor Cox is "going for the mountains" and starts early next month on a tour that will carry him into every state west of the Mississippi river.

Hoover No Longer a Factor (Houston Post)
The silence of Mr. Hoover since the nomination of Senator Harding has led to the belief among some students of political affairs that the former food administrator is contemplating desertion from the republican camp.

Whatever may be Mr. Hoover's intentions, however, it would seem that his capacity for sliding any great policy of influence for the democratic ticket has passed. That he enjoyed the admiration and political friendship of the league of nations, having played so important a part in the humanitarian work in Europe, it is difficult to believe that he does not endorse the league.

By the use of a reading or burning glass the rays of the sun can be concentrated upon a very small area and produce heat sufficient to melt even the most refractory of metals and other solids.

The reason for this lies in the fact that the shape of the radiant body itself—the original source of the heat—must be such that it be brought to a very small round point at the focus of the lens.

The Age of Color.
Whenever one declares that anything is different how that it used to be, someone rises up to tell one that history is only repeating itself.

I have never heard people try to claim that the old Roman civilization had as many marvelous inventions and conveniences as our own has attained today.

Take, for example, the sweater of today. Can you not remember when sweaters first came to be made it seemed possible to you, reader friend, the possession of from one to a dozen sweaters of varying design, that there was a time when sweaters did not exist, except the over-head kind for males and very few for females?

I know of no prettier picture than three or four young girls strutting down a village street on their summer frocks with linked arms, each the possessor of some glorious or exquisite blue. And by a miracle, like the flowers that flourish in the garden, these colors never seem to fade.

The Blues of the Olden Days.

Overworked Words.
"Meticians!" That weary word pops up before me everywhere; the blamed thing may have been a bird before they wore it all thrashbare. Galas-worthy sprang it years ago, and it was worthy of his gal and it's been divided to and fro till it roars, the bier and pall. It flavors everything I read, its plattered up with printer's ink, its down at heel and gone to seed, and it would drive strong men to drink. And "iruling" should take its place upon the list of deadly crimes; whenever there's an auto race we see it used a thousand times. When fatheads battle in the ring, what time they should be plowing corn, the scrap's described as "grueling," regardless of the spurs' scorch. And how I hate the "gripping" talk that figure in cheap magazines, turned out in large and endless lines by sweating backs for pork and beans. "Compelling" is another word that nearly breaks my grand old heart, used in connection most absurd—"compelling" songs, "compelling" art. I need the chestnuts every hour; and all words I often burst; and of all words that make life sour, "meticians" I hate the worst.

OLYMPIC THEATER TO SHOW WORLD'S SERIES ON ELECTRIC BOARD

Announcement is made by the management of the Olympic theater that they have secured the use of one of the six electric score boards controlled by the Southern Enterprises for use in this city during the world's series baseball games this fall. These boards are considered to be the largest and most complete of their kind and are capable of showing every move and play made on the diamond where the big games are in progress. They are 14 by 28 feet and require 10 men for their successful operation. These operators are furnished by the company who built the boards. Leased wires are to run from the ball parks directly to the local theater, assuring the announcement of the plays a few moments after they are made. The board will be set up on the stage of the theater here and patrons will be able to sit in comfortable seats and enjoy the games almost as well as those in box seats at the ball park.

BETTER SERVICE IN SHIPMENT OF STONE

Expect Enough Rock By September First to Begin Paving The Roads.

The incessant rains of the past week have retarded the work on the county roads to a great extent, was the announcement made Saturday by County Superintendent of Roads J. M. Labell. To date, Wichita county has received fifty-three carloads of crushed stone for the paving of the Lake road. The county superintendent states that they are getting better service in this respect and that at present there are twenty-one additional cars in transit. He is of the opinion that enough rock will be on hand to start paving by the first of September. The county bridge and culvert gang which began work on the Iowa Park road the first of this month has installed five culverts and will probably finish two more before the end of the month. Announcement was made Friday night that the state highway commission had donated $50,000 more to be used in the construction of the Lake road known as State Highway No. 22. The state thus far has donated 48 percent out of a possible 50 percent towards the construction of roads in Wichita county.

HAVE SUFFICIENT CARS FOR TWENTY LOADS DAILY

G. D. Anderson, general manager of the Lone Star Stone Company, returned to Wichita Falls Saturday bearing the good news that the company's plant at Chico, Texas, not only is ready to "hit the ball" but that enough cars have been obtained to guarantee Wichita county and Wichita Falls 20 carloads of crushed stone daily.

The plant at Chico, Anderson reported, is completed throughout and is organized to produce not less than 3,000 tons of crushed stone per each 10-hour day. Many inquiries and many orders already have been received from other cities and counties, but the officials of the company, for the most part local men, are anxious to see their home county and home city paved. Wichita county already has a contract with the company for 2,500,000 tons of stone, and it will be easily possible for the city also to obtain a generous quantity.

C. L. Fontaine, general manager of the Wichita Falls & Southern railroad, has perfected arrangements with the Gulf, Texas & Western and the Rock Island roads, according to Anderson, to give Wichita county and Wichita Falls at least 20 cars daily. Each car will hold 50 tons of crushed stone.

The order of the federal car service commission giving priority to coal shipments in allocating cars expired Saturday, and Fontaine lost no time in obtaining cars for the use of this county and city in getting rock from the Chico plant. The readiness of the plant to handle orders, and the ability to obtain cars, may mean a great deal in the city's paving program. A general election already has been ordered by the city to decide the question of amending the city charter as to provide for adoption of the benefits of the general state paving law. If this election is carried favorably, the city will then be able to let paving contracts by the mile, instead of by the block as at present, and many big contractors will be in position to ship in materials and handle the work on a big scale, under a long-term note system of payment. Anderson expressed the further opinion Saturday that, with the work of removing the unsightly wooden blocks and starting hard surface paving in the business section of Wichita Falls might be well under way 60 days after a favorable vote on the charter amendment.

The Lone Star Stone Co. is a local corporation, with J. A. Kemp president, J. W. Barnett of Chico, vice-president, and Anderson, secretary, treasurer and general manager. On the directorate are, in addition to Kemp and Anderson, R. E. Huff and A. H. Brittain, of this city. The only directors not residents of Wichita Falls are Arthur S. Goetz, of Fort Worth, and S. E. Womack, of Sherman.

Both Fort Worth and Dallas are also anxious to obtain large quantities of Chico stone, as the Lone Star plant has the only quarry of good surface rock in north Texas. If Wichita county and Wichita Falls take 20 carloads of stone daily, or 1,000 tons, the plant, Anderson figures, should be able to supply Fort Worth and Dallas with almost an equal amount each.

The safety of savings deposits with the City National Bank of Commerce is assured by capital, surplus and profits of $1,500,000, stringent rules and regulations of the federal reserve system, and the business ability, integrity and experience of representative business men who form the board of directors of this substantial institution. 101-110

PERKINS TIMBERLAKE CO. IS CLOSED FOR REMOVAL TO THE NEW BUILDING

With the departure of the last customer from the store of the Perkins-Timberlake department store at the close of business Saturday night, a chapter in the mercantile history of Wichita Falls has ended, for no more will the buying find that firm transacting business within the same enclosure as formerly. Indeed, for the space of several days the Perkins-Timberlake company will offer nothing whatever for sale to the citizens of Wichita Falls and when those several days shall have elapsed, the doors of the big new store at the corner of Indiana and Ninth will be thrown open and the public will be welcomed to the firm's new home and a new chapter will have been commenced.

The new store will be one of the show places of the city for it will be the largest and best appointed mercantile establishment here. Its two floors and basement, each 100 by 100 feet, with a mezzanine floor in addition, give it a combined floor space of 50,000 square feet. All space except that on the mezzanine floor will be devoted to the display and sale of merchandise and all administrative offices will be on the mezzanine floor. The departments heretofore maintained will be improved and enlarged, and several new ones will be added. Notable among these will be the department for the sale of infants wear, where in cozy seclusion on the second floor, all things needful for the wardrobe of the little one may be obtained. Another new feature departure is to be the millinery department, where the very latest styles in hats for women will be on display and where experts in the decoration of feminine headwear will be employed. It will be one of the largest and most taking departments of its kind in the south. Still another new feature is the beauty department, where every known appliance and cosmetic for making women appear beautiful will be kept and where attendants adept in the art of using and applying such will be employed.

The display windows will occupy 100 feet on Indiana avenue and 150 feet of Ninth street, and will be equipped with fixtures of the colonial period. The window displays will be a constant index to the goods on sale in the establishment and to the prevailing fashions. The firm's corps of buyers has been in the east for about six weeks and the cases of goods they have shipped have been stored, unopened, in the new building. These goods will be on display and sale at the opening of the new store.

The inconvenience, to the public, of having the Perkins-Timberlake store closed for the several days required for the moving should be more than compensated by the enlarged buying opportunities that will be afforded at the end of that period.

One of the notable features of the new store is to be a rest room for women, which will be equipped with comfortable chairs, couches and writing tables.

The time of the opening is not yet decided upon, but it will be set at as early a date as possible, and notice will be given through the press. A formal opening reception will be held on the evening preceding the resumption of regular business.

A savings account in the City National Bank of Commerce is an investment. It earns interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, compounded semi-annually and has back of it the enormous resources of this institution assuring its safety. 101-110

OLIVE THOMAS AT MAJESTIC ON MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Olive Thomas in and as "The Flapper" is the attraction at the Majestic for Monday and Tuesday of this week and it would be difficult to find a more suitable role for this delightful star, or a funnier theme for which to display her talents.

"The Flapper" is a young person, feminine gender, at "M.C." school, where she is to be seen when she imagines that the knowledge of the ages is concentrated in her personality. This particular "flapper" is the daughter of a small town senator who has been rather strict in his child's upbringing, so consequently the young lady aspires to a knowledge of the world and endeavors to impress her sophistication on her classmates. A youth from a nearby military academy enters at this juncture and attracts the attention of the young lady by the love torn offspring of the political genius. The two become rapidly interested in each other and finally run away to a nearby city where a fashionable dance that was being given by a friend of the military person.

However their joy is short lived, for the dean of the school, who the "flapper" is attending happens on the scene and takes her back to the school. During her absence the school has been robbed and a great deal of jewelry and fine clothing taken by a girl who had always been suspected of being one that would bear watching. "The Flapper" is one of the best actresses of the day and she didn't mind much, and as events turned out it was well that she didn't. During a visit to New York a few weeks later she found the thief, who was a professional crook and who was being sought by the police. The crook graciously "loaned" the "flapper" a large quantity of fine clothes and jewels and the adventurous lady attired herself in all this finery and returned to her old home where she posed as a wild, wild woman.

The complications that ensue are most hilarious, but they result in the young lady learning a lesson of real life as it is, and not as she had fondly imagined it.

ANOTHER STRONG BILL OF PICTURES AND VAUDEVILLE

The Plaza has announced another strong bill of moving pictures and vaudeville for the coming week, the list including Elaine Hammerstein, Shirley Mason, Edith Roberts, and a picture featuring an all-star cast. Miss Hammerstein is to be presented in her latest picture, "Greater Than Fame," which will be shown on Monday. This popular star has had a meteoric career in the film world, having risen to a place in the front ranks of the silver screen stars in a shorter period of time than any of the present favorites. "Greater Than Fame" is one of her finest pictures and has been a big drawing card at its presentation in other cities.

Shirley Mason needs no introduction since she has always held a high place in the esteem of theatrical fans. Her many presentations have invariably been in demand the country over, which is indication that she is a universal favorite and appeals to all instead of a limited clique. Her picture is entitled "Molly and I" and offers her a splendid vehicle for the display of her vivacity and humor. Edith Roberts in "The Trifler" is the third of the trio of film celebrities to appear before Plaza patrons. Miss Roberts is not so well known as the first two, but her work is nevertheless of a high order, and while not humorous or light, the dramatic ability which she possesses makes her pictures exceedingly interesting. "Sauce for the Gander" is the film featuring the all-star cast which will be shown on Friday.

OLIVE THOMAS' LATEST COMEDY "THE FLAPPER" AT THE MAJESTIC ON MONDAY AND TUESDAY

comedy and musical acts together with pictures and orchestral entertainment. This week's headliner will be Eric Zardo, a new comer to the vaudeville stage, but who has already made an enviable reputation on his concert tours as a pianist of exceptional ability. The coterie of musical geniuses is so small that those who compose it are known to music lovers every where and Mr. Zardo is a concert artist of this type. He is one of the younger of the contemporary musicians and has just finished a highly successful lyceum tour of the northern states, coming directly from this to Interstate vaudeville. The program which he offers will include classical and popular numbers, together with some novelty compositions of his own. The act comes with a fine recommendation and is expected to find an appreciative following in this city.

Of the remaining acts, Myrtle Fisk and George Lloyd offer "A Twentieth Century Honey-moon," which, according to their conception, is a matter of bright lines and songs, neatly and effectively rendered. "Comedy and Humor" is the basis on which this act is built and the two performers make the best of the many situations offering an opportunity to please the audience.

The Lovenberg sisters, assisted by an individual who boasts Sime Neary as his official handle, are scheduled to present the latest musical revue of dance and song. Their act is replete with comedy, melody, and "pep" and has been scoring heavily in other theatres.

The bill will be concluded by a trio of Japs, known as the Nikko Company. They have a wide assortment of athletic and trapeze feats which are the last thing in acrobatics and physical stunts.

THERE'S GOING TO BE A BIT OF COMEDY IN OPERAS AT TEXAS COTTON PALACE

Jack Pickford will soon begin work on "Just Out of College," by George Bryant Washburn has a new leading lady in "Wanted, a Biennial." She is Ann May, who played opposite Charles Ray in "Paris Green" and "Farewell to the Valley."

Patric Binney, has the leading feminine role in "The Frontier of the Stars," in which Thomas Meighan is starred.
Madge Kennedy is making arrangements for the organization of her own company.
Wallace Reid and Lila Lee are at work on a screen version of "The Charm School."

"THE DEVIL'S PASS KEY" TO BE FEATURED AT EMPRESS

A photoplay of intense power and unusual dramatic action is to be the feature at the Empress for three days this week. The great Universal-Jewel production, filmed under the direction of Eric von Stroheim entitled "The Devil's Pass Key" is the picture in question and the unprecedented runs which it has made in the large theatric centers bear out the belief that upon this film is one of the finest placed upon the movie market during the year 1920.

The action of the play centers around the extravagant wife of an American author and the scenes are laid in the fashion center of the world, Paris. The reckless Parisian maid who captivates the young American and lifted him to the highest planes of happiness, now threatens to engulf him by her insatiable demand for fashionable gowns and the fact that the owner of the shop wherein she is most heavily in debt is an unscrupulous villain lends dramatic possibilities to the plot.

An American army officer of high rank and great wealth enters the scene, after the opening of the play and from there on the military power of the United States government is involved in the intrigue, deception and crimes which follows. At first the entrance of the American is regarded by all the parties concerned as a calamity, for they know full well that to tamper with the power which the officer represents would be to court calamity, but as events turn out this is the best thing that could have happened for Franchina's sake and the Americans.

The plot of the story is rather complicated and hard to narrate, but the many situations which arise that afford an opportunity for the display of the dramatic talents of the actors make the story one of the most absorbing that has ever been written.

So Val helped her out and disposed of the villain, only to come under the suspicions of the husband of the lady he was befriending. This got accused Val of flirting with his wife and another complication develops. How it all comes out and the final distangling of the affairs furnishes some of the best humor of the entire film. Helen Chadwick plays the part of the lady with the itchy back and she is supported by an all star cast.

"UNDER CRIMSON SKIES" AT WICHITA THIS MONDAY

The latest Universal-Jewel production, "Under Crimson Skies," is to be the attraction at the opera house on Monday. This picture will feature Elmo Lincoln, the Cobson of the film world and from advance reports, gives a display of dramatic talent that compares favorably with any of the film stars of the world. He appears as the captain and owner of a large schooner, the "Southern Cross," plying her way to a southern port with a cargo of contraband munitions for a rebel leader. The captain is under the impression that he has a load of planes and when the discovery of the true nature of his goods is made things begin to happen. The treacherous mate and his mutinous crew attempt to murder the captain, but find themselves no match for him and after an exciting battle the captain disappears.

Did you ever have that terrible sensation of having an itchy spot on your back, just out of all possible reach of your hands no matter how many different angles you tried to get at it? Do you remember when you would have given any thing to get off by yourself and have someone scratch where no one else stop you? Apparently

ELECTRA-ENTERTAINS
ODD FELLOWS MEET

Lower Panhandle Association in Session in That City on Friday and Saturday.

ELECTRA, Aug. 21.—The Lower Panhandle Association of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs met in annual convention at Electra Friday and Saturday.

The new Odd Fellows hall, though not entirely completed, was used for the meeting. The decoration of the hall being a prominent feature of the convention program. Delegates were in attendance from points east of Wichita Falls and west of Childress.

On Saturday the visiting Odd Fellows took an automobile trip over the oil fields as guests of the Electra chamber of Commerce.

Much Produce Raised. The local produce growers have done well this year. The local consumption this year than in any year since Electra became an oil town.

The business of raising vegetables, eggs and poultry proved more alluring each year and a larger and larger acreage is devoted to these pursuits.

Contract for Building. The E. F. Riley Furniture Co. of Wichita Falls has let contracts for the erection of a two-story brick building which will be occupied by its owner in the retail furniture business.

Each story will be 22 feet in height and will contain a balcony. There will also be elevator and other modern conveniences. The building, exclusive of the lot will cost upwards of $20,000, and will be located on Main street, between Roosevelt and Bryan.

Yield Above Average. The crops here have exceeded expectations on account of the seasonable rains and although grasshoppers have infested some of the land that was planted in the spring, the yield on wheat remains in good shape, the average, considering the acreage that was planted, is above that of ordinary years.

New Theater Started. Saturday night, August 14, the new Grand Theater was opened to the public by an entertainment for which no admission fee was charged. The house was filled and many were turned away owing to lack of room. Addresses were made by former pastor John D. White, of the Christian church and by its present pastor, Rev. A. E. Dubler.

A stock company has been showing at the big new playhouse this week and the attendance was all that could be desired.

The new theater is equipped with modern appliances both on and off stage, noticeable among which is an adequate ventilating system which renders the building comfortable even on these August evenings. It can be used to supply heated air when desired.

The old Crown Theater, which belongs to the same company, is to be repaired and reopened as a picture theater.

Speak at Bailey Rally. Judge H. F. Weldon and V. H. Shepherd of Wichita Falls, spoke here Thursday night at a Bailey rally, presided over by S. J. Dotson of Electra. Over 500 people were in attendance.

In the course of his remarks Judge Weldon said that the women voting for Bailey were influenced by their husbands and the audience laughed when he added, "Well, who should influence them?"

Bailey and "Lenny" Clay, he said, are the only men who have held seats first in the house and later in the senate, and who have led their party in every body.

Personal Mention. Mayor E. McDonald has gone to Colorado and New Mexico on a month's vacation.

J. Howerton has just returned from a trip to Abilene and reports good crop prospects in that region.

J. D. Fox has gone on a combined business and pleasure trip to Chicago. He expects to return the latter part of August.

START CAMPAIGN TO
"DRESS UP" CITY FOR
SHRINE CEREMONIAL

The decoration committee of the Wichita Falls Shrine club started a campaign Saturday to "dress up" the city in preparation for the gala day, August 31, when Maskat Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., will be formally instituted here. Plans for the decorations include the stringing of banners across city streets, the dressing of show windows in local stores and the decoration of automobiles with banners and bunting.

The Art Jewels company is the first Wichita Falls business house to decorate its windows in honor of the Shrine event. One complete show window has been used; the floor of the window space has been covered with the "hot spots of the desert"; a large pyramid bearing the Shrine emblem is the central feature, and beside the pyramid is a picture of a camel, the picture bearing also the inscription, "Maskat Welcomes You." Judging by the crowds that stop to study the display, the Jewels company's efforts are being appreciated fully.

The decoration committee is depending to a large extent upon the initiative and civic pride of merchants and other citizens to do everything possible to give the city a gala appearance, and a real Shrine atmosphere. It is hoped that every store window and automobile will be dressed in some manner, if only with flags and bunting.

The chamber of commerce is making an effort to make Wichita Falls a real convention city in the future and the coming Shrine event will be the first test of the city's hospitality since Wichita Falls "dressed up" several years ago on the occasion of the W. C. T. U. convention.

Mr. Scott has been over his entire territory recently and he states that business is on the boom and that it is his opinion that the fall and winter will have a wonderful lot of business in store for everyone.

FREQUENT RAINS PROVE A BIG HANDICAP TO AUTO INDUSTRY; LITTLE ACTIVITY PAST WEEK

The frequent rains of the past ten days, while causing much relief from the majority of Wichitans, have put a decided crimp in the automobile business and dealers all over the city have stated that there is very little activity in auto-motive circles. The heavy rains have made many of the roads leading from Wichita Falls practically impassable and only those who are compelled by business to use their machines on the country highways have ventured forth from the city's pavements.

August has proven to be a dull month in all lines of business, but in none more so than in the auto industry. Locally, the weather has had much to do with the condition, but it has been helped by the transportation difficulties and other economic troubles throughout the country.

Dealers have complained that it is next to impossible to secure deliveries of cars from the eastern factories and that the only way whereby cars may be obtained is to drive them through. Those living close to the producing centers are using this method to advantage, but the expense of paying a competent driver to bring a machine from the factory to Wichita Falls just about neutralizes the profit on the car when it is sold.

The manufacturing companies lay the blame of the traffic tie-up on the railway companies and they in turn accuse the government administration of muddling up the railroads to such an extent that the private owners have not as yet had time to straighten out the tangle and restore things to normal. Wherever the fault lies, the fact remains that cars for the transportation of automobiles are not available and the dealers of the country are suffering accordingly.

RECORD FOR PASSENGER CARS IS AGAIN BROKEN

The transcontinental record for passenger cars has again been broken. A few days ago an Essex four-door equipped car reached New York from San Francisco in four days, 14 hours and 44 minutes, having by 12 hours and 18 minutes the former record set by Ralph Mulford, famous race driver, in a Hudson.

A new west-bound record was being up by the second Essex, which arrived in San Francisco in four days, 19 hours and 17 minutes after covering 2517 miles of all kinds of roads, being between the Pacific coast city and New York.

Both record-breaking cars were driven exclusively by men within the Hudson and Essex's international organization. Instead of by some single famous race driver, as has been the custom.

Car No. 1 left San Francisco at 12:01 a. m. and arrived in New York at 2:41 p. m. four days later. All kinds of weather conditions were encountered, but despite this, a new record was established by international driving. Car No. 2 left New York simultaneously and made almost as fast time.

Travelers report that car and the per-

WITH THE AUTO DEALERS

The Gaines Motor company reports the sale of two Republic trucks and one F. W. D. truck during the past week. They are expecting shipments of Republics in the near future.

Mr. Neil Clark, who has been connected with the Gaines company for some time, left Thursday for El Paso where he will go into business for himself.

The sale of two Hubmobiles during the past week is reported by Eckman & Von Altman, local agents for the Hubmobile and Peerless cars.

Three carloads of Oldsmobiles were received by the Victory Motor company last week. Several deliveries were made of Oldsmobiles and Premiers. The jobbing business in springs which the Victory people are handling is proving to be very heavy at the present time. The local congru is supplying springs to many subdealers in the vicinity of Wichita Falls and the demand for these articles is constantly increasing.

Reports from the Dixon Automobile company, local agents for the Buick machines, are to the effect that fifty-three new cars were received and delivered to buyers during the month of July. Transportation difficulties have curtailed the shipments from the factory during the past two weeks and the local agency has no assurance as to when they can expect another shipment.

The Marshall Huff Motor company expects to receive a Jordan Playboy within the next few days. The cars are gaining great favor in auto circles of the north and the arrival of this machine is expected to be of some interest to automobile enthusiasts in this section.

Kent Bros. & Co., general auto repairing and supplies, have taken over the agency for the Racine auto tires and tubes. This agency was formerly held by the Republic Auto Tire company, but a change in the company personnel necessitated a change in the local agency. The local concern is carrying a full line of casings and tubes and is prepared to render efficient service to all local users of the Racine tire. They also are agents for the Goodyear and Elak tires, handling a complete line of these makes.

Certain cars have no way of draining the crankcase from underneath, and the problem of getting out the oil is difficult under some conditions. The best plan, however, is to disconnect the feed pipe to the gauge and place it in a bucket. Start the motor and run slowly. In this way the oil is drawn out of the crankcase into the bucket or other receptacle.

MOTORISTS THINKING IN TERMS OF FIVE TIRES AS COMPLETE EQUIPMENT

How many tires are required on an automobile? A few years ago this question would have invoked the sarcastic retort: "Four, of course, you boob," but not so nowadays.

Today motorists are thinking in terms of five tires as complete equipment for a car, according to a well-known manufacturing concern. The day of "four-tire" equipment has passed for good. Motorists have learned that the purchase of a spare is a sound investment which is sure to pay big dividends.

Notice the cars that pass on the road these days. Practically every one has at least one spare strapped in the holder at the rear, ready to be slipped on a wheel without a moment's delay in case one of the "working" tires collapses.

This almost universal acceptance of the spare tire as a part of a car's necessary equipment is not due to belief that tires are not as good as they used to be. Motorists know that the tires they buy at present are superior in every way to the tires they used to buy. They are built from more carefully selected material by improved methods which give them many extra miles of life.

Purchase of spares is due to the growing observation of the old adage that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Motorists have learned that accidents may happen to the best of tires, and they want to be on the safe side.

If they have a spare tire handy, they are spared lots of time and work in repairing the old casing and tube, spared lots of cause for cursing, and spared lots of annoying delays. The old tire can be taken off and the spare put on in half the time it used to take to begin the repairing process.

In the long run, the motorist is saved money by buying spares, even if the original investment is considerable. With a good spare handy which he can put on without much trouble, the car owner is not likely to delay having tire injuries repaired, or to ruin a tire by running it back to town "flat." He repairs the spare, has the old tire repaired, and no serious damage is done.

Provision for carrying spare tires is now being made by the designers of practically all cars. The spare tire holder is being considered as necessary a part of the car as the headlights, fenders, upholstered seats or top. The spare tires are being recognized as an institution which cannot be dispensed with.

EXPECT SHORTAGE OF CLOSED CARS RESULT OF INCREASING DEMAND

That there is to be an acute shortage of closed cars and roadsters next winter seems to be the consensus of opinion among prominent automobile dealers, both in this locality and other. The shortage is not limited to the closed cars in particular, for automobile production in all lines will be far behind the demand, but the fact that the closed car is becoming more and more popular each year, together with the unprecedented demand for autos of all types is expected to make the demand much greater than the supply. Women, in particular, are strong in their demand for cars which shield them from the bitter winds of the fall and winter, so with the market steadily increasing and with production far behind, it looks as though an acute shortage will develop this fall.

The department of agriculture plans to use reindeer meat to cut down the H. C. L., but the profiteers will slip in, and the reindeer will be reindiar.—Atlanta Journal.

KNOWLEDGE FOR CAR OWNERS

Interesting and Important Facts That Every Motorist Should Know.

Running a car with a worn knuckle often causes breakage and a serious accident may follow.

Either imperfections in the metal or misalignment due to improper installation will cause timing gears to break.

Care should be taken that the storage battery is secured tightly in place as the vibration from an ordinary travel will likely break the jars.

Motorists should familiarize themselves with new traffic ordinances and make every effort to obey them to the letter, thereby saving much trouble, as well as danger of accident.

A common cause of poor magneto action is dirt on the interrupter points. When the points are suspected of being dirty a few drops of kerosene will remedy the trouble and restore the parts to good working order.

In case of emergency, when the electric lights fail from lack of storage battery power, disconnect all but one headlight bulb and by giving the current to this one bulb you will get enough illumination to get home by.

A piece of one inch round stock, heated and bent in the shape of the letter K with the final loop not quite completed, makes an admirable bench vice riveting stake. This stake is very handy in many riveting and bending jobs around the home garage, reining brack bands, bending pipe over, etc.

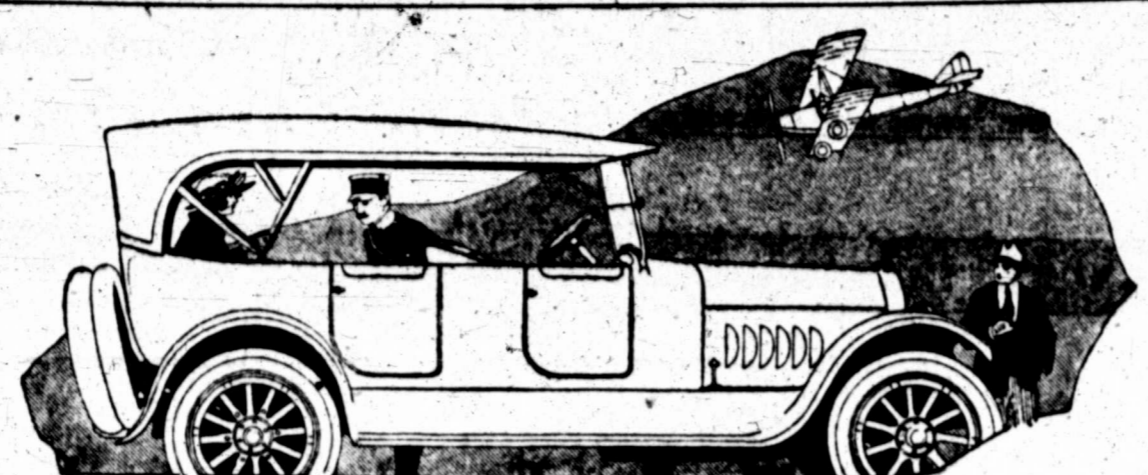

When a gasket has been in place for some time the material often adheres so firmly to its base that removal is practically impossible without tearing the gasket. The proper way to obviate the trouble is to give the gasket a generous coating of graphite, which prevents adherence and permits using the part time after time.

The color of the flame of combustion indicates the mixture of gasoline and air that is being used. To see this requires an open priming cock and one cylinder while the engine is running, and it can best be seen in the dark at any rate, dusk. An orange-colored flame indicates too lean a mixture. A pale blue flame is slow speed, merging into purple and then almost transparent shows that the mixture is right.

tion develops in connection with vibration coils, the condition will probably be found to be due to excessive tension on the vibrator springs. The spring adjustment should be loosened until missing develops in the motor and then tightened until the engine begins firing regularly again. When the tension is tightened beyond this point excessive consumption results.

In truing a slightly misaligned wire wheel a close-fitting wrench or parallel nippers should be used on the nipples, and the operation should be performed slowly and evenly. A wooden block serves to steady the hand in chalking the "out" and "in" places on the wheel. The general principle is that tightening nipples on the outer rows of spokes throws the rim in, while tightening those of the inner row moves the rim out. Nipples directly opposite those tightened should be loosened about half as much.

Stray pieces of copper wire have many uses but it is often necessary to straighten out wire that has already been used before it can be employed again. See that there are no sharp bends or kinks in the wire and straighten-out by hand any of those which are found. Fasten one end of the wire to some firm anchorage, grip it in the vise if necessary, loop the other end of the wire around a hammer handle or similar instrument and then pull out the length of the wire.

HOME BREWERS BUY MICHIGAN GRAPE CROP

LAWTON, MICH., Aug. 20.—The fluid to be pressed from the greatest grape yield in the history of Michigan's vast arbor acreage will lose its identity in nectars of home ingenuity.

Home brewers are demanding all the grape juice they can get for their favorite concoctions. And when William Jennings Bryan, as he spoke to Chautauqua audiences, prophesied the juice of the Concord would soon become the beverage of the nation, he was partly right—partly only—because he did not conceive of a nation countenancing home brew.

According to Mrs. Fern McPherson, manager of the Southern Michigan Fruit Growers' Association, almost all the 20,000 tons of grapes yielded by the arbor of the member-growers will find its way to stills of home brewers.

"We will harvest about 90 per cent of the grapes from arbor within an area of 50 square miles," said Mrs. McPherson. "Orders have been coming in for weeks from home brewers from as far west as Denver, and from several eastern cities such as New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

Michigan grapes go into new areas this year, notably sections hit by the 1918 amendment.

"Our clients tell us they must have grapes at any price. For instance, New York and New Jersey buyers want options on the whole output. We have analyzed this new demand. Invariably the danger comes back to us, confidentially, that home brewers have written grapes into their recipes."

Last year only 60 per cent of the yield was marketable, and in 1918, only 22 per cent.

Grapes wholesaled at $130 a ton last year. They may go to $150 a ton this year, says Mrs. McPherson.

Concerns here manufacturing grape-lades and jellies will run to capacity. A well-known manufacturer is opening a plant here to manufacture grape juice.

Grape growers are assured the highest price ever paid them for their largest crop. Weather has favored grape-growing—just enough rain and cool weather. The yield, according to the state agricultural department is 91 per cent and the highest on record.

FAMOUS GRAVEYARD TOWN MAY CENSOR EPITAPHS

LEIGHTON, RUZZARD, ENGLAND (By Mail).

"Here lies the body of Mary Ann Lowder, she burst while drinking a seltitz powder. Called from this world to her heavenly rest. She should have waited till it effervesced."

Tombstones in the tiny secluded church yards of this old-world place abound with epitaphs like the above, and it is felt that in bygone days the rollicking country yokels buried their best beloveds with far too much mirth and levity.

The town clerk of Leighton Ruzard has been asked to confer with the chairman of the burial board with a view to censoring epitaphs. Hitherto the stonemason has carved the tombstones faithfully according to copy, regardless of spelling and grammar, as evidenced by the following: "Sacred to the memory of John Wardle and his wife and five children, all of who passed away in their infancy."

Others, true, are philosophical without undue emotional display. The following masterpiece is traced on the tombstone of a long-deceased innkeeper:

"Our life is but a winter's day. Some only breakfast and away. Others to dinner stay and are full fed. The oldest man-but sups and goes to bed. Large is his debt who lingers out the day. Who goes the soonest has the least to pay."

It is difficult to find a tombstone in Leighton Ruzard with a scriptural epitaph. The old, old, gray stones, leaning against each other for support, depict the anguish of human emotions, from the sanctimonious to the baroque, but none of them have borrowed words of comfort from Matthew, Mark, Luke or John.

However, the town clerk has ordered a new office Bible, the chairman of the burial board is polishing up his scriptural quotations, and Leighton Ruzard will have to learn to be orthodox.

500 REFUGEES LINE UP IN RAILROAD YARDS

RIGA, LATVIA, (By Mail).—Over five hundred men, women and children are stranded here with no means of livelihood, as a result of the fighting in Poland.

They are former soldiers, with their wives and children, from the scattered ranks of General Yudenitch's white army. The refugees reached Riga, on the way to their homes in eastern Poland and the Ukraine, when word came that the frontiers of east Poland were closed.

The train in which the refugees arrived was held up in the Riga yards for several days, awaiting an opportunity to proceed, but was finally taken over by the Lettish army for military transport, while its destitute passengers were housed in nearby barracks.

Ever since the arrival of the train the American Red Cross has been operating a field kitchen in the railway yards and feeding the stranded Poles and Ukrainians, who reached Riga with neither money nor food.

In view of the situation along the east Polish frontier, it is feared that the Yudenitch veterans and their families may be forced to prolong their stay in Latvia for several weeks. The Red Cross is making arrangements to continue caring for them during the enforced stopover.

Don't envy good health

HEALTH, the basis of all joy, happiness and success. Everything we work for, everything we value—our very existence, all depends upon GOOD HEALTH. Don't envy good health—get it. There is only one way of combatting disease, and that is by learning its true cause. There is only one way to permanent health and that is by learning its true cause. There is only one way to permanent health and that is by having the CAUSE removed.

DR. D. D. PALMER AND CHIROPRACTIC

Keen and wise men have studied the problems of sickness and disease for generations past and the results of all their study and investigation has been along lines of Doctoring Effects.

It was left to Dr. D. D. Palmer to discover that the CAUSE of disease is due to impinged (punched) nerves. The function of the nerve is to convey impulses (life forces) to all parts of the body, and when 100 per cent of nerve force is going, to all parts of the body health is the result. Release the pressure from the nerves, allowing the full quota of Mental impulses to get to organs and again they resume their normal function and the result is health. Reason from CAUSE to EFFECT.

DO NOT RISK DELAY

This very day there may be some incipient trouble of which you are not aware; something wrong within you that can be corrected readily now, but which, neglected, may cause you serious suffering and subject you to heavy cost. Any competent doctor of Chiropractic can tell you if this be so. We, for example, offer such information free. We will be glad to make an analysis, for we have the skill and enjoy every day the science has devised.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY

This office offers you a wonderful chance to be well. We invite cases that others have given up. We have confidence in our ability, for we have proved both repeatedly on many a hard-fought field. People have come to us about to yield to despair; we have seen them go grateful and well. And this is what we offer you—the greatest chance of success. If well now (that is, if you think you are well now), let us help you remain well; if ill now, let us REMOVE THE CAUSE of your illness so that nature may make you well. Busy though we are, we are not too busy to see you, and we make no charge for examination or for recommending what you should do.

CHARLIE DODGEN IS A CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF ON INDEPENDENT TICKET

Urged by his host of friends and by a large number of acquaintances, Charley M. Dodgen has consented to enter his name as candidate for sheriff of Wichita county on the ballot this fall on the independent ticket.

Mr. Dodgen has been connected with the sheriff's department since last fall and has demonstrated his ability to serve the public there. He is widely known throughout the county, having come to this place with his parents when he was yet a very young boy.

The new candidate in the field only consented to entering his name on the ticket after repeated demands on the part of many of the voters of the county. The number grows so large that he felt that it had devolved into a duty and although he at first consented reluctantly, he will put forth all his efforts to secure the largest number of votes in the fall election.

He has spent practically all his life in this county and for many years followed the carpenter trade. Two years prior to the time he entered the sheriff's office he was employed by a local lodge of Masons.

NINE NEGROES ARRESTED ON GAMBLING CHARGES; PLEA OF GUILTY ENTERED

The city treasury was enriched by $120 and the financial resources of eight dusky Ethiopians depleted to a like extent when three city policemen conducted a raid on a lively "crap game" at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The colored sportsmen were located in what they considered a haven of safety, the rear of the Denver roundhouse to be exact, enjoying a lively game with the ivory cubes, when Officer Joe B. Lowery appeared on the scene. He watched hard earned bills change ownership at a bewildering rate of speed and then came to the conclusion that such wholesale banking business should not be tolerated. The aid of Officers Monroe and Calvin was enlisted and the nine negroes escorted to the city hall.

All pleaded guilty to charges of gambling and were assessed fines of $15 each. Eight of the men paid and were released, but the unfortunate ninth had contributed too generously to the pockets of his brethren and was unable to furnish the cash necessary for his freedom. He was lodged in a cell with instructions to "think the matter over."

Safe Burglary Insurance

Safe robberies are reported in the papers nearly every day in the year. Even with a so-called "burglar-proof" safe money and securities are not protected, as the professional burglar, with all his modern appliances, can in a very short time remove almost any safe in common use.

Protection is granted for money stolen from the safe, also for damage done to safe and premises in an attempted burglary.

The premium charge, being moderate, is of minor consideration. Obtain protection now before the crackman's visit.

Full particulars as to rates and coverage gladly given.

TO THE CITIZENSHIP OF WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS

I am offering myself as a candidate for sheriff of Wichita county as an independent candidate at the November election.

I do this at the solicitation of good citizens from every part of the county. I believe the voters, whatever their political creed may be, should have an equal right to select their county officers. Your county sheriff is a servant of all the people of the county, and no one sect, class or party should have the exclusive right to select this officer.

In placing my candidacy before you, I appeal to the good citizens of all parties, democrats and republicans alike, and to such others as may not be affiliated with any political party. And to the democrats who participated in the last primary, I ask your earnest consideration. I have been advised that the attorney general has held that the pledge on the ticket used in the last primary election was illegal. You certainly would owe no obligation to support a nominee whose nomination was secured upon an illegal pledge or ballot.

I have resided in Wichita county 35 years. My life here is an open book. I have never sought or held public office before, and if I am selected as your sheriff at the November election, I pledge you to enforce the law fairly and impartially to and against all persons alike, whatever be their standing, faith or political affiliations.

I earnestly request your careful consideration of my candidacy for sheriff at the November election.

Yours respectfully,
C. M. DODGEN.

MEET ON MONDAY TO DISCUSS APPOINTMENT OF TRAFFIC OFFICER

To discuss the advisability of selecting a county traffic officer, Judge Jones of the county court will meet with the county commissioners Monday. The sheriff of Wichita county will also be present. This meeting has been called following an interview with Judge Jones by N. K. Brown of the state highways department, who has been in the city the past few days.

A state statute passed on March 24, 1919, created this office and provided that this new officer should work under the direction of the county sheriff and should be paid out of the portion of automobile license fees which the county receives. The statute provides that five per cent of this amount can be set aside for the maintenance of this office.

The duties of the county traffic officer are to see that the state highway laws are obeyed and to assist in the capture of automobile thieves.
