

POSTCARD WARNING OF ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP CUSTOMS HOUSE

IS RECEIVED IN MONDAY MAIL BY THE COLLECTOR OF INTERNAL REVENUE.

GRAND JURY CONVENES TO INVESTIGATE EXPLOSION

Detectives Arrive From Hamilton, Ontario, With Edward Fischer, Of New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—A postcard warning that an attempt would be made tomorrow to blow up the customs house, after the Wall street explosion last Thursday, was received in the mail today by William H. Zimmerman, collector of internal revenue for this district.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The September grand jury was convened today to investigate the explosion that shook the financial district last Thursday and exacted a toll of thirty-four lives and injury to nearly 200 others. Subpoenas were issued for the appearance of scores of eye witnesses of the blast.

Included among those to be examined was Edward P. Fischer, arrested in Canada who was expected here this forenoon in custody of detectives Fischer has testified to have seen warnings to a number of his friends, but authorities attach little significance to his story because of his recognized eccentricities.

Interest was attached to the further examination of Alexander Bralovsky, a Russian journalist, the only man in New York who has been detained by the authorities, who has already testified to having been in the vicinity of the disaster in conversation with companions shortly after the explosion occurred. He is held without bail as an undesirable alien.

Attorney General Palmer was expected to return here during the day and resume personal charge of the investigation by the department of justice.

Search Warrant of Horse. Efforts to identify the owner of the horse which drew the wagon supposed to carry the infernal machine were continued. Though John Johnson, farmer, identified the horse of the dead hero, as those he has attached two weeks ago, faint hope was expressed of being able to trace the owner of the animal, since Johnson could recall no unmistakable identifying features of the owner. He identified the horse simply because they bore a certain mark common to all his handiwork and not distinguished by this particular job.

Federal agents today were investigating a report that the fire department had been checking up all stores of explosives lawfully held in the city, that they had distinct shortages in one of the explosive magazines. Fire department officials gave no hint as to the location of the reported shortage, but claimed this new clue might have an important bearing on the discovery of the supposed plotters of the disaster.

Edwin P. Fischer, who was detained in Hamilton, Ontario, in connection with his postcard warnings of the explosion, arrived here this morning in custody of New York and Hamilton detectives. He had the names of police headquarters at once.

This postcard, taken "A Citizen" was turned over to the custody of the building by Edwards, who also notified Thomas G. Nutting, the detective in charge, who was informed of receipt of the postcard.

The warrant said that the customs house, already under heavy guard, would be blown up at 11 a. m. Mr. Edwards said that a preliminary investigation had shown no evidence of a plot and he was inclined to regard the warning as a hoax.

A few minutes before the warning postcard had been received by "Big Bill" Edwards, who is a former Princeton football star. Edwin P. Fischer, ex-convict, who admitted writing of the first explosion on the strength of an alleged telephatic "tip" had declared at police headquarters on his arrival here from Canada that "more will happen in the future."

"I seen posters had communicated that to me," he said.

The detectives who brought him here from Hamilton explained that Fischer invariably had made the same assertions in reply to their questions throughout the trip, adding that he was a "friend of the under dog."

Officials of the department of justice regarded the warning as the work of a crank. They said that a person interested in the explosion of the customs house, which was destroyed by a bomb, was a person who had been arrested in connection with the explosion of the customs house, which was destroyed by a bomb.

Further north they took the town of Dubno after heavy fighting and are advancing in the direction of the fortress of Rovno, the capture of which is expected shortly.

Russian Plans Offensive. WARSAW, Sept. 19.—The Russians are concentrating heavy forces along the Niemen river beyond the Polish port-liners front, preparatory to an offensive which is expected to be begun within a few days, according to military attaches who have just returned from the front.

The soviet commanders have brought up all the available artillery, airplanes, tanks and other apparatus of warfare, and according to reports reaching allied officers, Leon Trotsky, the soviet minister of war, has arrived at Lida, to the south of Vinnik, to direct the operations.

The reports declare the concentrations under way include parts of the Russian warplanes, which have been well supplied with arms and ammunition for a push designed to shove the Poles back before the beginning of cold weather from the ground they recently gained.

The war office report today announced that local fighting has taken place on the Lithuanian front.

Edwin P. Fischer, who was detained in Hamilton, Ontario, in connection with his postcard warnings of the explosion, arrived here this morning in custody of New York and Hamilton detectives. He had the names of police headquarters at once.

This postcard, taken "A Citizen" was turned over to the custody of the building by Edwards, who also notified Thomas G. Nutting, the detective in charge, who was informed of receipt of the postcard.

ITALY IS PREPARING TO GRANT LABOR A SHARE IN CONTROL

TECHNICAL EXPERTS TO DRAFT A CONTROL OF INDUSTRIES MEASURE.

CONFERENCES RESULT IN REACHING AGREEMENTS

Representatives Of Working Men Urge That Parliament Be Convened At Once.

By CAMILLO CIAMFERRO (United Press Staff Correspondent). ROME, Sept. 20.—Italy prepared herself further today for an experiment in economic life by granting labor an extensive share in the management of factories.

With a decree issued for a commission of working men, employers and technical experts to draft a control of industries bill, a movement to evacuate factories seized by employees was under way.

Conferees between employers and employees in cities where plants were taken were reported today to have resulted in agreement except on the punishment of workers for crimes committed while within the plants.

That was regarded as a major matter, and in Naples, Genoa and Turin, the plants were hauled down from factory walls. Owners again took possession of their property.

Representatives of working men called on Premier Giolitti to urge that parliament be convened at once to enact the control bill. The request was refused on the ground that the commission first should meet and prepare the measure.

EMPLOYERS OBJECT TO PROGRESS OF PREMIER. ROME, Sept. 19.—Delegates of Italian employers informed Premier Giolitti today they were unable to approve his formula for reaching a settlement of the controversy with their workers, but would submit to it.

The premier replied that he would assume full responsibility for imposing his plan and later issued a decree making formal announcement of this action.

Efforts were made earlier in the day to reconcile opposing points of view, regarding the premier's plan. This meeting adjourned and then delegates of the employers and workers held separate conferences. Most of the time the joint conference was taken up with consideration of the question of dismissing workers.

Declared By Labor Leaders To Be As Draconic As The Kansas Industrial Court Bill.

AUSTIN, Sept. 20.—A bill aimed against strikes in Texas ports, regarded by labor leaders as being draconic if not more so than the Kansas industrial court bill, will be presented at the special legislative session which begins tomorrow, said Governor Hobby. It was learned today when copies of the proposed bill were declared to have been given numbers.

The bill would prohibit initiation of work stoppages by "word of mouth" and provides as a penalty from one to five years in the penitentiary, it was declared.

COUP OF MAJOR GENERAL MACREADY ON SUNDAY SO CONSIDERED

BRITISH KILL ONE MAN AND CAPTURE FORTY IN MOUNTAINS FIFTEEN MILES FROM DUBLIN.

SIAM FEIN TROOPS ARE SURPRISED WHILE DRILLING

DUBLIN, Sept. 20.—Major General Sir Nevill Macready's coup yesterday which he surprised a body of Sinn Fein troops at drill and killed one and captured forty men, was regarded here today as the first step in a new campaign to smash the "Irish republican army."

The "republican" soldiers were at rifle and bombing drill in the mountains 15 miles from Dublin when they were surprised by "auxiliary police." The Sinn Fein gave battle, using rifles and bombs. Macready's men charged into the valley from all directions, more or less automatically joining in the fray, and the "republican" soldiers laid their arms.

Authorities plainly were jubilant at the result of the first offensive against the "Irish republican" army. Macready's troops in this skirmish were recruited largely from former imperial soldiers.

While government forces were accomplishing the victory, 400 Sinn Fein communists were joining in the fray, left Dublin for Sunday drives. This equipped they raided over 500 homes of Tyrone county unionists, searching them for arms.

At Galbarrade, Constable Mahoney was ambushed and shot to death. Two companions were injured.

COAL MINES TO HAVE FIRST CALL ON CARS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Coal mines will today have first call on empty railroad cars to insure a supply of winter fuel under an order of the interstate commerce commission which went into effect today.

Extension of the priority list was made necessary by the strike of anthracite coal miners which reduced the output of that fuel and decreased the supply of bituminous coal.

INTEREST CENTERS IN ACTION OF ASSEMBLY TOWARD SOCIALISTS

OPPOSITION CONTINUES TO ADMITTING THE MEN

Executive Committee Of Socialists Will Meet Tonight To Decide On Plan Of Action.

ALLIANCE, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Interest in the housing shortage throughout the state, which the legislature has been called to consider in special session tonight, was subordinated at the capitol today to a general discussion of what action, if any, the assembly would take regarding the five expelled socialists, re-elected at special elections last week to fill their own vacancies. The socialists—Louis Waldman and August V. Clessens of New York, Samuel A. Leicht and Samuel Orr of the Bronx, and Charles Solomon of Kings—were found guilty of charges of disloyalty after trial last April.

Speaker generally regarded as the prime mover in the ouster proceedings last January, was expected to have a conference with legislative leaders today.

Some members of the assembly who voted to unseat the socialists have left it to be known that they have not changed their views notwithstanding the re-election of the quintette. Some of them, it is said, are prepared to offer resolutions tonight to again deny the socialists their seats in the next session of the legislature.

These assemblymen held that the legislature is a continuous body throughout the legislative year and the term of the present assembly which expelled the socialists does not expire until January 1. They insist that notwithstanding the special elections these socialists are not entitled to take their seats now any more than they were the day after they were expelled.

Attorney General Newton said today that the special sessions of the assembly were a matter entirely for assembly leaders to decide.

"These men were expelled from the assembly," he said, "because they were members of a party which, during the trial, was found to be disloyal and opposed to our form of government. Hence the special sessions of the assembly have eliminated or amended the un-American clauses of their constitutions."

Action of Convention.

The attorney general mentioned the action of the socialist national convention, which amended its constitution so that only American citizens would be eligible for membership on the governing committee of the party and had eliminated the clause that provided for the submission of the resolutions of members elected to public office, to become effective by vote of the dues-paying members when the conduct of the officers would be unsatisfactory to the majority of the party, which he said he understood had been amended so that which prohibited socialists in legislative bodies from voting for appropriations for military purposes.

The executive committee of the socialist state organization will meet tonight to discuss plans for a possible course of action in the event of the assembly again refusing to seat the socialist members.

REPORT ON PROGRESS OF OKLAHOMA LABOR

President of Federation Speaks At Annual Meeting in Session At Okmulgee.

OKMULGEE, OKLA., Sept. 22.—Edgar Penton, president of the Oklahoma State Federation of Labor, reporting that body's progress during the past year at the seventeenth annual convention here today, capped the so-called "open shop" campaign, which was launched by various employers associations throughout the state after the close of the war. Upwards of 100 delegates attended the meeting.

"At our last convention it was apparent that all organizations of labor would be called upon to put forth more efforts to resist the campaign which was then under way, and which was designed to weaken, and wherever possible, destroy organizations," Penton said. "The natural result of the success of such a movement would be decreased wages and a lowering of labor standards, both organized and unorganized."

"The close of the war and the change from a war to a peace basis brought many economic problems."

"As a first step toward bringing about normal conditions, the highly organized employers demanded that wages be decreased. Organized labor made answer that high wages were not the cause, but were the effect of high prices and all attempts to lower wage standards would be resisted on this basis. It was then that the movement, the so-called open shop, was launched. This campaign is still in progress and its purpose is to destroy the right of effective organizations to force the workers to deal with the employing interests on an individual basis and thereby permit those employers to dictate without question the standard of wages, working conditions and every phase of the relations between those that employ and the wage earners."

"Practically all of the strikes, lock-outs and similar industrial controversies of the past year are the direct result of this anti-union campaign which emanates from the national chamber of commerce and the various associations of employers in the different states."

"Despite the methods employed and the organizations affected this anti-union campaign has failed. Organized labor in this state is in better condition today than when the campaign began."

WANT RE-EMPLOYMENT OF SYMPATHY STRIKERS

HALETON, PA., Sept. 22.—End of "sympathy" strike in the anthracite coal region today depends upon the attitude of the mine operators toward reinstating the monthly men who quit in sympathy with the miners. This was indicated by reports received here by officials of the United Mine Workers, which showed that "sympathists" were returning in all districts except the Schuylkill field, where the hard coal miners have voted to remain out until the operators have reemployed the "sympathy" strikers.

Chris J. Golden, president of district No. 2, estimated that more than 10,000 workers would remain away from work until all the monthly men were reinstated.

FOOD AND FEED CROPS CONSIDERABLY SHORT OF LAST YEAR

DALLAS, Sept. 22.—Food and feed crops of Texas will fall considerably below those of 1919 if the government estimates are to be used as a basis of comparison, according to data gathered by the research department of the Texas chamber of commerce. The 1919 phenomenal production of grain crops will be repeated this year with a yield of more than 25,000,000 bushels and the corn crop will not fall short of last year's production, while the rice crop shows a large increase over last year's poor crop. Most food and feed crops show a decided decrease, however, particularly oats. In view of the fact that last year's production was the heaviest in the history of the state, this year's estimates leaves little room for pessimism.

This year's wool and cotton production will be above the figures of last year; however, the government figures upon cotton given below are based upon the estimates of September 1, when conditions were more favorable than at present.

Below are the comparative figures:

PACK MACSWINEY IN HOT WATER BOTTLES

Scientists State Life Can Be Prolonged If Bodily Heat Is Maintained.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Terence MacSwiney, hunger striking lord mayor of Cork was reported packed in hot water bottles today. Prominent scientists called by the government, said life could be prolonged if his bodily heat could be maintained.

MacSwiney was reported exceedingly weak after a night of fitful sleeping but the beginning of his 39th day of fasting was marked by no perceptible change.

The physiological effect of MacSwiney's strike appeared increased interest among scientists. British leaders reiterated their belief today in MacSwiney's spiritual faith and his intense political convictions were upholding him.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, had a bad night and was very weak this morning according to a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League.

The bulletin stated that Angus MacSwiney, sister of the lord mayor, had just left British prison, where he today began his thirty-ninth day of hunger striking, and declared his condition was unchanged, except for the weakness.

The report to the home office of the physician at British prison said the lord mayor's condition was virtually unchanged.

Lord Mayor MacSwiney last night wrote a message to his family throughout the world on behalf of himself and the hunger strikers in Cork Jail. After thanking them for their prayers, the lord mayor said, according to the Times:

"If this cold-blooded murder is pushed through it will have a stain on the name of England which has no parallel even in her history and which nothing else will ever efface. It will rise before the English people whenever they offer another private privilege which offers another privilege to being made instigator of God for evoking such worldwide expressions of admiration and support for the cause of Irish independence and recognition of the Irish republic. If we are to die, we are called to die even greater privilege and happiness of entering the company of those who died for Ireland."

"We forgive all those who are opposing our death. This battle is being fought with clean hearts purely for our country. We have made our peace with God and bear His will toward the man."

After invoking God's blessing upon all who prayed for the prisoners, MacSwiney concluded by saying:

"I believe God is watching over our country and by His Divine decree, the resurrection is at hand. I believe this is her last battle for liberty and that God will crown it with complete victory."

DAY OF ATONEMENT TO BE OBSERVED BY THE JEWISH CONGREGATION

The Day of Atonement or "Yom Kippur" begins at sunset Tuesday, September 21. It is a day of reconciliation of man with God and with his fellow men.

The day is the most solemn of all the days in the Jewish calendar. The whole day is spent in the synagogue in fasting and prayer. According to Jewish tradition, expressed in an ancient law book, the Day of Atonement will bring pardon to the penitent for sins committed between him and God, but the sins committed by him against his fellowmen will not be pardoned until he has made restitution to the wronged party.

As on Rosh Hashanah, Temple Israel, corner Eleventh and Burnett, will be appropriately decorated with services carried out in keeping with the solemnity of the occasion. The choir will render special sacred music, among others, the ancient Kol-Nidre melody, which is the melody of the prayer for atonement.

The schedule of services follows: Kol-Nidre service, Tuesday, September 21, at 7:30 p. m. sharp. Morning service, Wednesday, September 22, at 10:30 o'clock sharp. Afternoon service, Wednesday, September 22, at 3:30 o'clock sharp. Memorial service, Wednesday, September 22, at 4:30 p. m. sharp. Concluding service, Wednesday, September 22, at 5:30 p. m. sharp.

POLICE COURT FURNISHES AN INTERESTING SESSION

A case which appeared to be of grave consequences at first, but which later turned out to be a comedy, featured the Monday morning session of the local police court.

The plaintiff in the case was the restaurant proprietor. It appears that he had purchased some meat from a local market, but did not use it because it would not make good stew.

When placed on the witness stand the Greek changed his story and denied having told the officer that the meat was spoiled.

The case was finally dismissed and the market proprietors found not guilty.

REPORTED IMPROVING AFTER AN OPERATION

"HOMESPUN FOLKS" AT THE WICHITA THEATRE

"Homespun Folks," the Thomas H. Ince special production, is being offered at the Wichita theatre on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

The story is that of the simple farmer folk of the New England coast and is patterned in much the same fashion as was "Shore Acres," the famous picture featuring Alice Lake that was shown at a local theatre a few weeks past.

Mr. Ince himself directed the play and selected the all-star cast which is credited with doing some fine work in the production.

DOUBLE ATTRACTION IS OFFERED AT THE OLYMPIC

Louise Glau in "Love's Madness" is offered as the main attraction at the Olympic for Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Glau, who is well known for her emotional roles, is seen to splendid advantage in this spotless production.

The plot of the story is an absorbing one and furnishes material for thought, but the acting and scenery are the most interesting attributes of the film.

In "High and Dizzy," Harold Lloyd has attained to heights of comedy never before reached.

Mary Miles Minter and Fatty Arbuckle today are dividing attention at the Empress for the first two days of the week's amusement bill.

Best 2 eggs, add 2 cups Libby's Evaporated Milk, 2 cups corn (canned or fresh), 1 teaspoonful sugar, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, and either 1 tablespoonful minced green pepper or 1 teaspoonful minced onion. Pour into buttered casserole and bake in a slow oven till custard is set.

HOMESPUN FOLKS

All Star Cast with Lloyd Hughes

Homespun Folks is not a cocktail drama. It has romance and tenderness; it has pathos and robust comedy; it has tenderness and the rush of melodramatic action—but it never loses that deft, magnetic, masterful something that makes it a pastoral epic.

STRICTLY ENTRE VOUS.

The Years of Youth. "What have you done with the years?" He asked. And out past the hills of blue I gazed away from his steady eyes. As the years passed in review.

The years—the long, sweet, sunny year— I'd known, earth-dragged and fanned And spent, passed by; a sudden train! "I've played!"

"By the time we need our next pair of winter shoes, perhaps we can get them cheaper, if the forecast of F. C. Hand proves correct. He says shoes are to come down in price, but that at that they will be fifty per cent higher than they were prior to the year the Kaiser started in to subdue the world."

"Amarillo Tribune, which recuse the medical profession had attempted in vain for several months; third, the personal gratitude to E. A. Black, chiropractor, who three years ago freed me from an affliction of my throat that was greatly annoying to me and to my audience, and which a throat specialist in 1916 had declared absolutely incurable and fourth, the danger that threatens me personally to be deprived of a cure which alone I possess, and which I have not the means to obtain."

"I have stated that I was ready to prove that neither the public welfare nor the constitutionality of the law were constitutionally wrong, but that the motives in the present prosecution and that in the face of these proves if the prosecution would continue the only grounds for the members must be amended, and then I think I can vouch that every decent chiropractor will appear before me who know something about the practice of the law, and then for the benefit of true chiropractors the general welfare will be promoted and the sanctity of the law truly guarded. If this is not done then I must charge the medical profession with having done the law to protect their struggle for existence."

"Now let the medical profession instead of squandering the country's money in misadventures of justice enlist in the true patriotic work in seeing that the constitution is upheld, let them of their own accord give up positions which are constitutionally wrong, but that the motives in the present prosecution, even if the action of the medical act prescribing the number of members must be amended, and then I think I can vouch that every decent chiropractor will appear before me who know something about the practice of the law, and then for the benefit of true chiropractors the general welfare will be promoted and the sanctity of the law truly guarded. If this is not done then I must charge the medical profession with having done the law to protect their struggle for existence."

"I am a fact that the county attorney, knowing from past experiences the impossibility of the successfully prosecuting a chiropractor, did not start the grand jury investigation of his own accord, but being impudently by someone to take action turned this case over to his deputy, saying that if they could not win, now who is this important somebody? Circumstantial evidence points to the city health officer, who immediately on the failure of the grand jury tried his personal charges in the county court against the chiropractors. He must be considered as the propelling power the grand jury investigation."

"Now, the manner in which the investigation was conducted reveals that the motive power was not the public welfare, but merely a desire to get a case against the chiropractors. An example will prove this to the lifetime."

"Mrs. G. Litten had the flu, following this she had tonsillitis and her tonsils were removed. She was greatly run down and was suffering excruciating pleurisy pains. All this time she was in the care of an M. D. Her fever could not be controlled and this sapped her vital powers to an extent that the M. D. declared there was no hope, that she was suffering from tuberculosis. She decided to call in another M. D. when I happened to be in the city, but she was asked another M. D. they might just as well take the measure for the coffin. They changed to Dr. Black, who in two days controlled the fever and in a few days brought her from her feet to do her own work. During her convalescence a man called on her asking whether she had been treated by a chiropractor. She replied that she had not, but was told that she and her husband were wanted at the court house. When Mr. Litten came home he betook himself to the appointed place but was not admitted to the jury room, but outside was asked: Did you make use of chiropractors? Affirming he was asked with what success. When he declared he had met with excellent success he was told that he was not wanted. In the same way Mr. G. W. Braddeck was questioned and on stating that he had received excellent results he was told that he was not wanted to the jury room. These cases might be multiplied but for our purpose they are sufficient. They prove to evidence that the public welfare was not the motive power in the investigation as I have declared."

"Now, if these men go about doing good to suffering humanity is it not short of Stenialis to try to block their way? I can testify to the simplicity and efficiency of chiropractic from my own experience. I am not a graduate from a chiropractic college but many instances could I relate where in acute cases by simple adjustment of the spine I have taken away the pain instantaneously in the cases of poor who could not pay for medical treatment, in such a way that the recipients of the chiropractic benefit considered it miraculous."

"But it will be stated that we have a law, and according to this law he must die, that the sanctity of the law must be protected. I have stated that I could prove that the law has no complaint against the chiropractors but that the chiropractors had a complaint against the illegal application of the law, and I am ready to substantiate my declaration."

"Section 21 of the Constitution of Texas reads: 'The legislature may pass laws prescribing the qualifications of practitioners of medicine in the state, and to punish persons for malpractice, but no preference shall ever be given by law to any school of medicine.' This is the fundamental law of this state. Now in the case of State vs. Team of Sherman, Texas, the higher court upheld and rightly by the constitutionality of Medical Act of this state, because it is in the power of the legislature to give legal definition of medicine and practice of medicine even though it be at variance with

"The reason why the Deaver trains are so often late and so badly crowded is the fact that, this condition arising from two causes: First—The great length and weight of the passenger trains, and Second—The handling of the express and parcel post material on these trains. As to the first cause, that is the length and weight of these trains, it is well known that it is the general policy of this system of railroads to run the longest and heaviest trains possible and as far as possible. This is not good for the passenger, and the numerous shocks that you have suffered in the stopping and starting of these trains are caused by the engineer letting the slack run out of the long train so he can accumulate enough slack to start the mighty weight once more. These trains are so long and heavy that the conductor has no time to look after the comfort of his passengers and that is the reason that they load and unload through one hole so that he can have the opportunity to see who gets on and off. SOMETHING RADICALLY WRONG.

Governor Cox will get a good response to his "practical, concrete and definite measures" aimed at checking the "conscienceless profiteering," which he says has been protected by the "republican senatorial oligarchy."

Governor Cox would have a permanent fund in the hands of the President for the purchase of sufficient sugar to prevent profiteering; he would advocate a law limiting the period that goods might be kept in cold storage; he would have the price of cold storage goods marked upon them at the time of their deposit; he would have all goods going into interstate commerce permanently stamped with the price at which they left the producer; and finally, he would have a law licensing and regulating those engaged in interstate commerce, to the end of preventing unconscionable profits.

There is no question but that there is something radically wrong in the discrepancy between what the producer gets and what the consumer pays for the finished product. With livestock—except hogs—cheaper than in many months, the ultimate consumer is paying just as much as ever for his meat products; with hides at bottom figures, he is paying just as high prices for his shoes; with wool virtually unobtainable at any price, he is paying just as much for the finished cloths and clothing; with cotton down $75 a bale, cotton goods are costing just as much as ever, so far as the consumer knows. Indeed, and if all harks back to this, one of the big economic problems confronting this country today—and we decrease it in the same problem in other countries—is to provide better marketing and commodity-transporting systems. As it is, the producer gets too little and the ultimate consumer pays too much—between producer and consumer occur a dozen or more transactions, some of them essential, some of them perhaps quite superfluous.

It is a bad system that lets producer rot in the fields in one section and exorbitant prices for the same stuff prevail in another section just a short distance away. It is a faulty system that leaves cotton and wool and hides and livestock depressed and the finished articles into whose manufacture they enter high.

Of the efficacy of the means put forward by Governor Cox one cannot say; but one can say that this problem, to which the democratic nominee adverted in his speech at San Francisco the other day, is one worthy of the best thought and effort of the business and political leadership of this country. If there is to be avoided an economic upheaval that will be an even more serious problem!

There seems to us something lacking in the make-up of Colonel Roosevelt, who is speaking for the republican nominee, and that it is a cry from his great father down to him in the amenities of a political campaign, hard hitter and straight fighter that the great Colonel was. The young Colonel not long ago arrogated to the republican party the entire credit of America's part in the world war—an attitude that is an unbecoming in him as it would be in a democratic campaigner, because, when all is said and done, the American part in the war was played heroically by republicans and democrats and by men and women holding dozens of other political beliefs.

They might be confounded by those who know his youth and inexperience and by the additional fact that a great man's son has a difficult part to play, especially if he lacks discretion. But a later faux pas of which the great Colonel would never have been guilty is his attack on the democratic vice-presidential nominee, a man of his own name and whether the young Colonel will have it or no, a member of his own family. "He is a maverick," said the young Colonel, "he does not have the brand of our family." The young Colonel may in the future demonstrate his right to be the son of his great father; but he is doing nothing these days to demonstrate it, and those of us who, holding good wishes for him because of admiration for the great American from whose loins he springs, cannot but hope that he might show a little more discretion, a little better judgment and a reasonable amount of courtesy.

The result of the Illinois republican primary will be in doubt until the official count is made, because 248 of the election precincts have sealed up their returns without giving them to the newspapers and they cannot be opened, it seems, under the Illinois election law until the official canvass is made. Meanwhile, what appeared to be a tremendous victory for the Thompson faction in the republican party, is at least in doubt, and the probabilities are, indeed, that Congressman McKinstry, who previously had gone to the chief-safeguards we have in this country against major election frauds. That 248 fairly important boxes were not reached by Illinois newspaper men in time to get their unofficial results before being officially sealed is rather a discredit to Illinois newspapers or those precinct election officials were more concerned in getting their seals on the boxes than in helping to get the results of the election out to the newspapers and through them to the people of Illinois. Remote boxes, in isolated communities, are always difficult to get, even in Texas; but we venture that Texas newspaper men would never permit 248 important city boxes to be closed without at least being on the spot at closing time in the effort to get news of their votes for their papers.

We regretted at the time the ouster of the socialist assemblymen from New York, and said so—not that we had any regard for them or what they stood for or concern in their personal well-being, but because we believed the New York assemblymen who voted to eject them because they were socialists were committing a grievous error that would come back to plague them. And our forebodings have come to pass. At a special election held to name the successors of the five, all five were overwhelmingly elected again, despite the republican-democratic fusion against them. And now the five will go back to Albany as representatives of their districts, and the Assembly will have just as much reason and just as good grounds to oust them again as it had last February—which is to say, no tenable reasons and just ground for the action. Maybe they are unfit to serve, but they are, we think, entitled to serve because they are representatives of their constituencies. It is the constituencies that need better men and ousting those chosen representatives doesn't help to that end.

Some heckler interrupted Governor Cox at Portland, Ore., to inquire as to his stand on prohibition, which seems to be a leading issue in the Northwest and West. The interruption came just at the close of the democratic nominee's speech, and he had time to say merely that he considered the prohibition question "as dead as slavery," and that as governor of Ohio he had enforced the laws. Later the governor elaborated his position, that there might be no reasonable ground for understanding "as far as the President is concerned," he told his hearers, who gave enthusiastic applause to his statement, "the issue under the Eighteenth amendment is one of law enforcement. We must judge men by performance rather than promise and by comparison. As governor of Ohio I enforced the law." For the first time in the history of the state I closed not only the front door, but the back door, of the saloon on the Sabbath. I enforced all the laws. As President of the United States I shall continue to enforce all laws, regardless of what interests may be affected."

What a splendid man! I noticed a quiet smile on her face as she listened. After the first woman had gone I asked her what she was smiling at, and whether she had any inside information.

"Oh, my dear, what amused me was that every word Mrs. B. said was what I said to her a week ago at Mrs. K.'s tea. At that time she said to me, 'Daisy, you're really writing the book, but apparently you don't like my opinion better than her own. I certainly am flattered.'"

True Flattery. She had reason to be, didn't she? In one way these opinions so gracefully returned to me are like the Christmas cards that occasionally return to their original givers by devious routes. But in another way they are quite different—whereas you send a Christmas card present you don't like, you give away or pass on an opinion that you do like.

And it's nice to have our opinions liked, isn't it? It is said that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, and of course this is a kind of imitation.

But to be Galfly of It! But whereas it is a form of flattery that one doesn't mind receiving, one hardly likes to give it, does one? It's a mighty good thing to pick one's audience carefully when one is going to air some borrowed or second-hand plumes.

Not, of course, that anyone who reads this would need such a warning.

THE BIG SIGN. They've put a monstrous wooden sign where it obstructs my view upon the waters blue. The sign appeals to passing rubes, and asks them for their credits. It says, "Eat Bulger's Tires and Tubes—the Kind that Mother Made."

Before I lay aside the lyres whose strings I madly scratch, I s'pose I'll buy a thousand tires, with inner tubes to patch 'em. I'll take this statement from my hand, and paste it on your chest: In tires that bear the Bulger brand I never will invest. For Bulger's sign offends my eyes and makes my spirit sore, shuts out a section of the sky, degrades the blue sea's shore. I show that signboard to my friends, and they get mad with me, and say, "Our trade with Bulger ends, when crimes like this we see." Old Bulger's tires may be as fine as any castings made; but when he raised that beastly sign, he lost, for keeps, my trade. I'll toll along on weary limbs, or drive two claybank mares, or run my car upon its rims, before I'll buy his wares.

Just Folks

About Money and Things. Can you think of money when the sun shines on the high seas?

An' the little Topsy sail boats race the ocean of the sky? Does money really matter when you're out among the trees?

An' I'm like the song birds an' the dromie of the sea? An' long about October when the world is lookin' fine?

Are you blinded-as its beauty by the soiled dollar sign?

There's a heap more here than money! An' I'd like a bigger fortune an' would get it if I could;

There are times that I forget it—times I even cease to care. That my pocketbook is empty an' I've nothing fine to wear,

An' I let the race go by me while I look along at the splendor an' the beauty of the day.

It may be, as some have told me, that I waste a lot of time, But the fields are full o' gladness an' the air is full of rhyme,

An' the trees are all alive that I've got to stand an' look at.

An' I like to rest an' listen to the babble of a brook; Though I know it costs me money an' I'm thinkin' of the fact,

I just take my compensation in a day of happiness.

There are some who live for money, and by gold they rise or fall, But there's so much more to live for when you think about it all.

That the most of us, I fancy, often wander far astray. Seekin' gladness an' contentment in a different sort o' way;

We to tempt with the youngsters, trampin' any trail we choose, An' we never stop to reckon up the money we may lose.

Side Talks

By MUTH CAMERON

Bread on the Water. Isn't it a funny feeling when things one has said come back to one out of the mouths of those to whom one has said them in a way which shows the speakers have no idea where they got the opinions, or the facts, or whatever it is they are handing you?

Here is an example of what I mean: Two friends of mine dropped in for afternoon tea the other day, and as usual we talked of shoes and ships and sealing wax, of cabbages and kings—and, of course, of books. I noticed a

The immortal Daisy Ashford came up and one of my guests gave the opinion that her book was unquestionably written by Barrie or at least point up by him, because there were too many of the funny little "double entendres" to have merely happened. For the rest, she thought it might have been the work of a child but that settled it. The other friend said little but I noticed a quiet smile on her face as she listened.

After the first woman had gone I asked her what she was smiling at, and whether she had any inside information.

"Oh, my dear, what amused me was that every word Mrs. B. said was what I said to her a week ago at Mrs. K.'s tea. At that time she said to me, 'Daisy, you're really writing the book, but apparently you don't like my opinion better than her own. I certainly am flattered.'"

True Flattery. She had reason to be, didn't she? In one way these opinions so gracefully returned to me are like the Christmas cards that occasionally return to their original givers by devious routes. But in another way they are quite different—whereas you send a Christmas card present you don't like, you give away or pass on an opinion that you do like.

And it's nice to have our opinions liked, isn't it? It is said that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, and of course this is a kind of imitation.

But to be Galfly of It! But whereas it is a form of flattery that one doesn't mind receiving, one hardly likes to give it, does one? It's a mighty good thing to pick one's audience carefully when one is going to air some borrowed or second-hand plumes.

Not, of course, that anyone who reads this would need such a warning.

WHY?

Is the Marseillaise the French National Air?

Copyright, 1920, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

It was in 1792, that Rouget de Lisle, a young officer of engineers, was billeted at Strasbourg, where he became a frequent visitor at the home of the Baron de Dietrich, mayor of the city. His host, who had formerly been rich, had become poor during the calamities of the revolution, and one night, there was nothing for supper but some old ham and camp-bread.

"Never mind," said Dietrich, "food may be wanting, but enthusiasm is plentiful. We have one more bottle of Rhine wine in the cellar. Let us drink it to liberty and to the country—that de Lisle must draw from the last drops of those hymns of his that will carry his own ardent feelings to the soul of the people." But apparently all the young officer's efforts were in vain. Inspiration was lacking, and it was not until he had returned to his lodgings that he felt the first flush of real pride in the music which flowed from his fingers. Slowly at first and then more rapidly the melody came, fairly sweeping him off his feet with its intensity.

After a night spent before the piano, DeLisle called at the Dietrich home and it was there that he played for the first time the music which was destined to be known around the world. Only a few months later the Baron de Dietrich heard it for the last time as he was being marched to the guillotine.

Meanwhile, however, the new song had spread through Strasbourg like wild-fire. Marseilles ruled that it should be sung at all public and social gatherings, and it was for this reason that it took the name of the Marseillaise hymn. Its own author heard it echo from the spires of the Jura, as, with a price upon his head, he fled from his enemies. Before the year was out, the Marseillaise had swept through France, and, despite numerous efforts of the royalists to forbid it, it remains the national air.

HOROSCOPE

The stars indicate but do not compel. Copyright, 1920, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Monday, September 20, 1920. Uranus and Jupiter rule strongly for good this day, according to astrology. The Sun is adverse early in the morning.

The planetary forces favor the use of the higher powers of the mind. They stimulate logic and careful argument, while at the same time they are supposed to encourage receptiveness.

There is a most fortunate sign for public speakers who solicit the confidence of the people. They should push all their interests while this away prevails, but they will be more successful with the humble than with the haughty.

While Jupiter gives power to reason, Uranus quickens intuition under this direction of the stars and the day is most auspicious for co-operation between men and women.

A coalition between great organizations of the people engaged in industry, and those devoted to the arts is prognosticated.

An uncovering of long-hidden secrets seems to be presaged by the stars. There may be an increase of gossip, scandal and "wrong thinking" at this time.

This should be a fairly favorable sway under which to meet romance. Love affairs, especially those that concern men of letters or the learned professions, are believed to culminate during this planetary government.

Early today it will be wise not to seek positions or favors of any sort.

Although many sinister signs appear at this time, the stars declare that the world is growing rapidly better.

An unusually dry autumn is foreshadowed for the East and South. Stockmen in the West should prepare for a severe winter in which a strange disease may affect cattle.

The early part of the autumn and winter will bring large returns to theatrical managers. New artists will be developed among American players, men being more numerous than women.

There is today the most promising rule for the negro-race, which will enjoy many benefits, but riots may cause serious trouble in a Western city as well as in the South.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the forecast of a most successful and profitable year. Women will be especially fortunate.

Children born on this day have the augury of progress and prosperity, but their desire for change must be curbed.

WHITTAKER AND HALEY TOO MUCH FOR LITTLE ROCK AND CATS WIN

Crowd of 11,000 sees Panthers Down Travelers in First Game of Series.

The Panthers drew first blood in their championship series with the Arkansas Travelers at Panther park yesterday before a crowd of more than 11,000, the largest outpouring of fans that ever attended a game in the Panther City.

Bill Whittaker and Babe Robinson hooked up in a great pitcher's duel, but the Texas hurler outpitched his opponent all the way and would have gotten by with a shutout, probably, had his support been up to snuff. The infield was overcome with stagfright in the third and could not pick the ball up, a trio of boos, following close upon the heels of a brace of singles including a scratch, netting the Southern champs two runs.

It was Frank Hiley's big bat that turned the tide in the home club's favor. Frank knocked in the first score with a scratchy double and later sent the tying run across with a clean hard double.

The apportioned crowd brought ground rules into play and both clubs in the second inning. Chicago apparently had tossed the game away in the early innings but launched a drive in the sixth inning which drove Rommel off the mound.

A wild home by "Scrappy" Moore put the Panthers in position to score the first run in the second chapter. Bill Kraft beat out a single along the third-base line and Hiley, at second when Moore threw, bled one into the hands of Robinson, who hit Hoffman's number and Dutch took three swings.

When the Travelers came to bat in the third they were all peevish and proceeded to make the game a matter of other for good measure. Hunter had his tap to Hoffman, beaten, but Dutch pegged anyway and Hunter went to second while Hiley bled beyond the fence.

McGinnis dumped one down in front of the plate that Whittaker threw wild to first while Hunter tallied and McGinnis went to second. He saved the wild pitch. The squeeze play was then worked successfully with Gleason at the bat after Robinson had fanned.

Gleason popped one to Hiley and Hiley, safe when Kraft dropped the throw. McGinnis scoring. Williams made a great one-handed stab on Moore's drive that was batted for the crowd and Gleason died stealing.

The Panthers won the game in the eighth. Williams pasted a clean single to right-center to score on Kraft's sacrifice. Hoffman fanned again. With the count two strikes and nothing on him, Hiley drew the next ball between Harper and Miller for ten bases, scoring Williams. O'Brien tanned slow roller between first and second that Robinson and Gleason both fanned while Hiley romped home with the winning tally.

Harper threw away a fine chance to score in the final round. He wallowed the first ball down the leftfield line for two bags and then to third when Poasum Moore later tried to catch him napping. Miller flew out to reach him and a quick return kept Harper at third.

Harper and Wane then crossed Gleason on an attempted squeeze play and Harper was caught flatfooted when Wane made no attempt to hit the ball. Whittaker was intentionally passing Wane and the latter could not have hit the ball had he tried. He then flew out to deep center for the final out.

OF INTEREST TO SPORT FANS

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19.—Cleveland defeated Boston in the first game of the series here today in a pitchers' battle between Pennock and Bagby. It was Bagby's 29th victory for the season.

Bagby held Boston to four hits, two of which were made by Sloop, the first man up in the first and third innings. The score:

After watching both the Panthers and the Travelers in action yesterday, there seems to be little to choose between the two clubs. Neither team showed anything startling yesterday, except some good pitching.

Rube Robinson is about one of the sweetest looking left-handers that has ever shined in this neck of the woods. He twirled great ball and it was a tough game to lose. However, it would have been even tougher had Bill Whittaker lost.

We've seen some perved players, but never saw one that was any more "hot" up than Harry Harper when he was caught flat-footed in the ninth on an attempted squeeze. When he said to Wane for not hitting the ball would not look well in print, but the Injun merely stood there, and took it all in.

Harper should have known better than to try to score, as it was evident that Whittaker was going to pass Wane. But even so, he was in the lead the place, "You aren't going to hit, you're going to walk."

It would be a hard job to pick a Panther favorite, as every time one of the Astmen toes the slab, the din is deafening. Frank Hiley had the key to the city after yesterday's contest.

A goodly number of Wichita Falls fans made the trip and they were much in evidence on the Panther streets last night. The majority remained for the other two games.

The Travelers filled the fans' hearts with fear in batting practice. Every member of the club slammed the ball into the overflow crowd either in right or left field. They led the Southern league in hitting, but were last in fielding. Almost the opposite is true of the Panthers.

Today is circus day in Port Worth and the players will take things easy. According to last night's plans the men were to report for light practice this forenoon and watch the elephants and buy peanuts later in the day.

The Browns came mighty nigh onto putting the finishing touch on the Yankee yesterday, but the White Sox are still up there. It's anybody's race yet, but there doesn't seem to be a chance of ousting the Indians.

Only four victories are needed by the Dodgers to make the Giants and Reds win all their games in order to win the pennant. It can't be done, say the Giants and Reds are cutting one another's throats now, and one of them is bound to be eliminated soon.

Artha is finally making little ones out of big ones and is on the inside looking out. That's where he belongs. There's some talk of a scrap between him and Dempsey when he is freed, but we hope it's all talk. If Jack doesn't care to draw the color line, that's his business, but he ought to draw the Johnson line. He can find plenty of worthy opponents without taking him on. The big negro would jump at the chance to take one on the jaw for a few thousand.

Babe Ruth is now making short speeches in restaurants and public meetings at night for which he receives a few hundred nightly. The owner is more than willing to slip him a couple of hundred for wiggling his chin for a few moments. He can't keep the crowd out of his joint.

It's pretty near time Irving Berlin wrote a popular song about him.

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—Detroit took two games from Washington today. The first game was a tossup played affair, featured by Cobb's steal of home in the second game. Detroit hunched hits on Shaw in the first inning for three runs. Score:

Joe Jackson led a White Sox rally in the sixth which netted four runs and downed the Athletics, 5 to 4.

Nels, Brooklyn find, won a game from the Pirates in the ninth, 4 to 2, by doubling, stealing third and changing home when Cooper threw wild.

Bagby, Indian pitcher, chalked up his 29th victory of the season, holding the Red Sox to four hits and winning, 2 to 0.

Dixie Davis held the Tanks to two hits and the Browns took a 5 to 1 victory. Cobb made a clean steal of home in the first game of the Detroit-Washington double header. The Tigers took both games 5 to 1 and 3 to 2.

We've seen some perved players, but never saw one that was any more "hot" up than Harry Harper when he was caught flat-footed in the ninth on an attempted squeeze.

Harper should have known better than to try to score, as it was evident that Whittaker was going to pass Wane.

It would be a hard job to pick a Panther favorite, as every time one of the Astmen toes the slab, the din is deafening.

A goodly number of Wichita Falls fans made the trip and they were much in evidence on the Panther streets last night.

Today is circus day in Port Worth and the players will take things easy. According to last night's plans the men were to report for light practice this forenoon.

The Browns came mighty nigh onto putting the finishing touch on the Yankee yesterday, but the White Sox are still up there.

Only four victories are needed by the Dodgers to make the Giants and Reds win all their games in order to win the pennant.

Artha is finally making little ones out of big ones and is on the inside looking out. That's where he belongs.

Babe Ruth is now making short speeches in restaurants and public meetings at night for which he receives a few hundred nightly.

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—Detroit took two games from Washington today. The first game was a tossup played affair.

Joe Jackson led a White Sox rally in the sixth which netted four runs and downed the Athletics, 5 to 4.

Nels, Brooklyn find, won a game from the Pirates in the ninth, 4 to 2, by doubling, stealing third and changing home when Cooper threw wild.

Bagby, Indian pitcher, chalked up his 29th victory of the season, holding the Red Sox to four hits and winning, 2 to 0.

Dixie Davis held the Tanks to two hits and the Browns took a 5 to 1 victory.

Cobb made a clean steal of home in the first game of the Detroit-Washington double header. The Tigers took both games 5 to 1 and 3 to 2.

MAILS EXPECTED TO KEEP INDIANS IN FRONT TODAY

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Sept. 19.—Walter Miles, the southpaw recently acquired from Sacramento of the Pacific Coast league, was Manager Speaker's pitching selection for the second game of the series between Boston and Cleveland today.

Miles, who has won the four games he has pitched for the Indians and Manager Speaker was confident the leaders would make it two straight from the Red Sox. Either Hoyt or Bush was expected to pitch for Boston. The weather was very chilly.

DOGGERS AND INDIANS LOOK LIKE SAFE BETS FOR WORLD'S SERIES

By L. R. BLANCHARD, United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The Brooklyn Dodgers today were on that ragged edge where they are almost certain captors of the pennant, but still must continue to win until no other club has a chance.

By winning yesterday from the Pirates the Dodgers were helped somewhat. They reached a place where, by taking four of their remaining games they can compel the Giants to win all 12 of their remaining games and Cincinnati all of 15 of theirs to win out.

Since the Giants and Reds are to meet again today, one of the other will have his chances reduced before dusk.

In the American league Cleveland's pennant hopes were in full flame again. The Indians moved along with all other victory followed only by the dogged Chicago White Sox who remained in second place, one and one half games behind. The Tanks blew another game and were well back in third place.

If the Indians can pry off seven of their remaining 13 games they will finish with a percentage of .625. Under these circumstances it would require eight out of ten for Chicago to top the nine straight for the Yankees.

JOHNSON RECEIVES HEARTY 'WELCOME' IN LEAVENWORTH PEN

LEAVENWORTH, Sept. 20.—With Jack Johnson inking up work as a stone cutter in the federal penitentiary here today, prison officials and inmates were talking of the chance for a Johnson-Willard exhibition bout for Thanksgiving or Christmas. Jesse lives up the Kaw valley less than 50 miles from here.

While "Lefty" Arthur was dressed in yesterday and assigned to stone cutting, officials intimated the former heavyweight champion will also be assigned to teaching prisoners boxing this winter.

Jack has one year and one day to serve for violation of the Mann act but will be eligible to parole within four months. He got a hearty "welcome" when he arrived Sunday.

WICHITA FALLS QUALITY STORE

Bion F. Reynolds and Banister
Shoes Sold Exclusively Here

Less than three years ago this was one of the smaller stores in Wichita Falls. Now we are operating one of the largest stores in Wichita Falls or North Texas. LOWER PRICES, BETTER QUALITY AND NEWER STYLES have been our merchandising principles.

We are now completing plans that we have been working on for the past eight months to make this men's store the largest and best in this or any other city in this part of Texas, by specializing on popular priced major lines. Men are more interested in what we call the major lines: Suits, Hats, Shoes, Shirts and underwear. We are now specializing on these major lines by selecting a standard quality at a popular price by buying these one priced lines in quantities that will enable us to get price concessions and sell at a closer margin of profit on account of the quantity we will sell at these special prices.

We Want You To See These Feature Suits We Are Selling for $50.00

We would like to have the opportunity of showing every man in Wichita Falls what kind of suit he can buy from this store for $50. We have done everything possible to assemble 200 of the best values obtainable in men's suits at this price. Compared lines after lines as to quality, bid for them on a cash basis at the lowest price and cut down our regular profit to the lowest level to make these $50.00 suits trade winners.

Every Suit is a new style, perfectly tailored and of the most desirable colors, for the season of 1920-21.

When a person or firm is determined to do a certain thing they will succeed. The first part of this year we were determined to assemble a real line of Men's Suits for this fall season to sell at one price. We have succeeded and now offer every man in Wichita Falls the opportunity to buy a real Suit of Clothes for $50.00.

KUPPENHEIMER CLOTHES FOR MEN WHO WANT THE BEST

Season after season we have been selling this great line of men's clothing and constantly increasing the number of our satisfied customers. Kuppenheimer makes only all wool, hand tailored suits of the better quality of workmanship. New Fall and Winter Styles now in. Stocks priced $60.00 to $90.00. Langham High for a fellow's first long pant suit.

FOR THE YOUNG FELLOW WHO WANTS A SUIT DIFFERENT FROM HIS DAD'S LANGHAM AND LANGHAM HIGH SUITS

Langham High for the fellow who is just between the kid brother and his dad. They don't make any other clothes except these kid and young fellow suits. We have them, priced $50.00 to $75.00

Splendid Values in Men's Mallory Hats $7.50

If you want a good Hat this season you will necessarily have to pay more than this price unless you buy here, for the price range this season in all stores will be $7.50 to $25.00; therefore you could not expect much for the lowest price unless for some reason a store sold a line underpriced.

We are doing this in our $7.50 feature Hat. We bought them before prices went so high and we are selling this feature line on a closer margin of profit.

We are going to maintain this line of $7.50 feature hats but we believe that when these are sold and replaced the value will not be so good. Plenty of styles, all sizes and best colors to select from in the feature line. Choice $7.50

ALL THE NEW STETSON AND MALLORY HATS ARE NOW IN STOCK

This is a great Hat Department for men, who appreciate style, quality and reasonable prices, also convenience in buying. Located in the front of our men's department with all new and modern fixtures it is a pleasure to buy and sell hats here.

Stetson agreed to increase our allowance of men's hats this season, therefore we are in a better position to offer you the style in a Stetson hat that you are wanting this season. Stetson Hats priced $12.50 to $25.00 $25.00
Mallory Hats are priced $7.50 to $15.00 $20.00
Rothschild's Hats are Priced $5.00
Do not overlook our feature Mallory line of Felt Hats for Fall $7.50

Our Feature Silk Shirts $8.50

We can best describe these silk shirts by telling you they are the same quality and material that was sold this past spring for $15.00. Our New York office found a manufacturer who wanted cash, therefore made a sacrifice of his crepe de chine, broadcloth, La Jerse and other desirable silk shirts that placed us in a position to offer these wonderful values in plain white and striped silk shirts for $8.50

Remington No-Fade Shirts are Better Shirts

From a small beginning our shirt business has increased by leaps and bounds until this store is one of the largest distributors of shirts in this section of the state.

Every Remington No Fade shirt that fades is replaced with a new shirt, and these manufacturers are recognized as leaders in makers of perfect fitting, quality shirts.

Every Mother Should See These Boys' Suits for $16.00

Keeping the quality up and the price down has been a problem in boys' suits to every merchant. Visit any store and see the boys' suits priced $20.00 and $25.00 and these represent the best most any merchant can do. We were determined to find real quality in boys' suits at a reasonable price, therefore shopped the New York markets to find a manufacturer that needed cash. We secured 100 of his regular $20.00 and $25.00 boys' suits at a price that we could retail for $16.00. When these are sold we do not know where we can secure such quality at as low a price, therefore advise every mother to select the boys' suit now at $16.00

VISIT OUR BOYS' DEPARTMENT
Our exclusive Boys' Department offers splendid values as well as quality in Boys' Knickerbockers, Blouses, Caps, Underwear, etc. Visit this department. You will be well pleased.

We Certainly Want You to See These Reynolds Shoes For $15.00

As shoes advanced men paid the bill without grumbling until they hit the $20.00 mark. Some dealers backed up to $19.00 by sacrificing $1.00 of their profit to keep their customers better satisfied and leave them a little change out of a $20.00 bill.

We are doing now what it seems the impossible: selling Bion F. Reynolds and Torrel Shoes for $5.00 less than the $20.00 mark. Just as well off as if you bought the $19.00 ones and $4.00 to the good. Every style and leather in all widths and lasts in Bion F. Reynolds and Torrey shoes $15.00

Vernon Budget

Increased Revenue.
VERNON, TEX., Sept. 20.—According to the tax rolls of Wilbarger county, just completed, the total taxable property valuation of Wilbarger county for 1920 is $16,228,641 as compared with $12,879,630 for the year previous. Tax as will bring to the county a revenue of $190,882 for this year, against $147,412 for the year previous. The increased revenue this year was brought about by a general increase in property values, caused by oil activities and the general growth of the county, and a 15-cent increase in the tax rate on the $100 property valuation. The tax rate in 1919 was 26¢ on the $100 taxable property valuation, while this year the rate will be 66¢. The fifteen-cent increase is levied as road tax, and the general increase approximate about 25 per cent.

The city tax rolls show that assessable property values in the city of Vernon for 1920 amount to $6,901,141, being almost double that of the preceding year, which was $3,671,848. Revenues from taxes will be correspondingly doubled, totalling $164,143.63 for this year. Taxes in 1919 brought approximately $84,000 in revenue to the city. The tax rate this year is $1.50 on the $100 property valuation, while last year it was $1.44, the increase being attributed to the increased tax rate and general increase in property values.

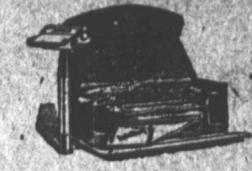

When the county was organized in 1852 the valuation of property in Wilbarger county was $10,000, increasing and decreasing year by year, during prosperous and drouth years, until in 1919 it reached $10,000,000 and this year it has gone to over $16,000,000.
