FIVE HELD FOR CHARLIE MURDER

HAVE NO VOUCHERS FOR TWO BILLIONS SHIP BOARD FUNDS

NEARLY HALF OF TOTAL DISBURSEMENTS ARE UNSUP-PORTED.

AUDIT IS MADE OF THE CORPORATION'S ACCOUNTS

At Least 25 Per Cent Of All Vouchers
Have No Papers To Justify Payment.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Nearly one-half of the total disbursements of the United States shipping board emergency fleet corporation over a period of 17 months, amounting to more than two billion dollars, were unsupported by proper vouchers, according to the audit of the corporation's accounts submitted to Secretary Houston today by the comptroller of the treasury in his annual report.

The audit was made by direction of congress for the period October 1918, to February 1920, and showed that total disbursements of the fleet corporation were $2,732,915,525, of which exception to the payment of $1,184,326,245 was taken by the comptroller, because of the "lack of supporting papers."

Auditors of the corporation, however, the controller said, resulted in a credit to the corporation of $70,625,598, leaving a balance as of February of $1,112,706,345, disapproved by the auditors.

The comptroller presented figures up to February 1, 1920, to Merle Gillan, former special assistant to the chairman of the shipping board. Under-Secretary Payne declared before the congressional select committee on shipping board operations in New York last week that up to March 1, $2,700,000,000 had been submitted for audit, and $1,500,000,000 had been disapproved because the vouchers were not supported by the unnecessary data.

Un-supported by Documents.

Comptroller Warwick declared that "at least 25 per cent of all vouchers received were unsupported by documents or other papers explaining or justifying them." He added:

"It would appear," he added, "as if the emergency fleet corporation considered the approval of the resident or district auditor as sufficient authority or justification for a voucher, especially in reference to 'Imperial funds.'

"Interest funds are explained in funds received from the corporation and set up in banks adjacent to the plants of the ship contractors and expenditures were made from them under general orders of the corporation.

Effective October 1, 1918, the comptroller continued, the corporation's accounts were to be rendered in accordance with the regulations promulgated by the treasury, but "the audit of the accounts to February, 1920, would indicate that strict adherence thereto has not been made. Little improvement if any is noted in the February, 1920, account over the previous period."

Despite the fleet corporation's original desire to obtain an audit of its accounts by the treasury, Comptroller Warwick asserted, "the corporation apparently found it well nigh hopeless to bring together the scattered supporting papers necessary to be a complete understanding of its accounts."

"At least," he continued, "no accounts were submitted in response to the request of the department until the interchange of correspondence on the subject promised to reach an acute stage."

The audit was originally asked by Chairman Hurley, Comptroller Warwick explained, but was declined because of the limitations imposed upon the treasury by law until July 1, 1918, when congress directed the secretary of the treasury to make the audit.

"With this was no reason to impose other motives for the delay than those always afforded by the difficulties of bringing order out of conditions not hitherto required to be orderly in accordance with given standards," the comptroller continued. "The situation presented to me to look like a disgrace to the law, however, was insurmountable. Consequently, I viewed it as my duty devolving upon my office to recommend to the secretary of the treasury that some action be taken to exact compliance with the law."

BIG FOUR WANT PERMITS TO ISSUE NOTES AND BONDS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The Big Four railroad applied today to the commission for permission to issue more than $17,000,000 worth of promissory notes and to fund and improve mortgage bonds. The notes, totaling $8,517,000, would be made payable to the New York Central railroad in ten years with interest at six per cent. The bonds would mature in 1929 and 1935 and also would bear interest at six per cent.

MEXIA ALL EXCITED OVER PROSPECT FOR AN OIL BOOM THERE

MEXIA, TEXAS, Nov. 20.—Mexia was in the throes of an oil boom today. Property values went skyward and leases were almost unobtainable. The new, prominent oil field, the Pecos, which lies to the west of Mexia, was the Saragossa. Mexican gunboats here for repairs. The only vessel damaged was the Pecos.

If reports of the big showing in the new hole are borne out, the discovery marks the inauguration of a new Texas field.

DESTROY BONDS AND SECURITIES TO THE VALUE OF 5 MILLION

BURNED BY THE BANDITS WHO

LAST SATURDAY.

FORMER LIEUTENANT IN AIR SERVICE IS WANTED

Said To Have Been The "Master Mind" Who Got Away With Much Plunder.

OMAHA, NEB., Nov. 20.—Keith Collier, 23, former Lieutenant in the air service in the great war and decorated several times for bravery, is being sought by the police as the "master mind" in the Burlington mail robbery in Council Bluffs last Saturday. Collins, a Union Pacific fireman, is believed to have escaped with much plunder.

BONDS AND SECURITIES TO VALUE OF $5,000,000 BURNED

OMAHA, NEB., Nov. 20.—Bonds and securities burned by the bandits who robbed Burlington train No. 8 in Council Bluffs last Saturday night totalled more than $5,000,000, according to an announcement here today by Postal Inspector Glenn.

At the same time he announced that the loss would fall heavily on two insurance companies, which insure the bonds.

This is the first intimation since the robbery of the amount involved. This figure places the robbery as the greatest ever staged in the history of the American postoffice department.

DRAFTS FOR LARGE SUMS BURNED WITH OTHER PAPERS

COUNCIL BLUFFS, IOWA, Nov. 20.—W. Noel, postoffice inspector from St. Louis, is authority for the statement late this afternoon that Merle Phillips, one of his number, scattered a pile of bonds three drafts, one for forty thousand dollars, one for twenty-five thousand dollars and one for fifteen thousand dollars. He said they were burned with other securities.

Formal charges were filed in federal court this afternoon against the five men and one woman in custody. The charges are:

Merle Phillips, Orville Phillips and Fred E. Poffenberger, with breaking, entering and robbing United States mail trains of registered mail.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Dall and Hugh H. Thompson, with aiding and abetting the bandits in their acts of robbery.

Preliminary hearing will probably be held in one week.

PLOT TO UNLOAD RADICALS IN PORT OF NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A plot to unload criminals and dangerous radicals in the port of New York has been unearthed by Immigration authorities here. Frederick Wallis, United States commissioner of immigration, told the commissioners of the court here that he declared the plot had been entered into by corrupt officials of European governments and the police authorities of at least two European nations. He urged stricter immigration laws.

Despite the fleet corporation's original desire to obtain an audit of its accounts by the treasury, Comptroller Warwick asserted, "the corporation apparently found it well nigh hopeless to bring together the scattered supporting papers necessary to be a complete understanding of its accounts."

"At least," he continued, "no accounts were submitted in response to the request of the department until the interchange of correspondence on the subject promised to reach an acute stage."

The audit was originally asked by Chairman Hurley, Comptroller Warwick explained, but was declined because of the limitations imposed upon the treasury by law until July 1, 1918, when congress directed the secretary of the treasury to make the audit.

"With this was no reason to impose other motives for the delay than those always afforded by the difficulties of bringing order out of conditions not hitherto required to be orderly in accordance with given standards," the comptroller continued. "The situation presented to me to look like a disgrace to the law, however, was insurmountable. Consequently, I viewed it as my duty devolving upon my office to recommend to the secretary of the treasury that some action be taken to exact compliance with the law."

NEW ORLEANS FIRE DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT TWO MILLIONS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20.—Fire, believed to have been started by sparks from a switch engine, early today leveled the new freight wharf of the Guyana Steamship Company, sweeping the water front for a distance of approximately 2,000 feet between Decatur and Independence streets, in the "downtown" section of the river front, causing property damage estimated in excess of $2,000,000.

The fire started at the Desire street wharf and fanned by a strong but changing wind, spread rapidly both up and down stream.

Considerable damage was done to the steamship Pecos, an oil burning vessel recently completed by the Foundation company for the French oil field, but not formally turned over to its owners.

HUSTLED TO MIDSTREAM.

The Pecos, with a large load of oil, was moored directly in front of the path of the flames as they were racing along the wharf at Marigny street, Eliza, and the steamship oil tank, the Pecos, with the old laden barge in tow was hustled by two fire boats to midstream.

The Truxillo, leased by the United Fruit company for the banana trade, an old concrete bottomed vessel, laid up under the pier, was saved safely from the wharf as was the Saragossa. Mexican gunboats here for repairs. The only vessel damaged was the Pecos.

Besides a vast amount of freight stored in the sheds six freight cars loaded with lumber for export, and a $10,000 crane owned by the United States government, were destroyed.

If reports of the big showing in the new hole are borne out, the discovery marks the inauguration of a new Texas field.

VIRTUAL DE FACTO SOVIET RECOGNITION BY GREAT BRITAIN

SUCH IS VIEW HELD BY STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS AT WASHINGTON.

THE PROPOSED AGREEMENT CONSISTS OF TEN ARTICLES

Will Be Ready For Submission To Soviet Government Within A Few Days.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—In the view of state department officials virtual de facto recognition of the Russian Soviet government is held by Great Britain in the proposed trade agreement between the two countries. A copy of the agreement has been received at the state department.

The proposed agreement, which consists of ten articles, provides for the appointment of one or more official agents to reside and exercise their functions in the territories of the other with immunity from arrest, but also provides that such agents shall have the rights accorded to diplomatic representatives of the vice of peace and war, and the liberty of communicating by code and cipher. A provision also is made that the "official agents shall be at liberty to receive and dispatch couriers with sealed bags which shall be exempt from examination."

WILL SOON BE READY.

Premier Lloyd-George stated in the British house of commons Thursday that the draft of the agreement would be ready for submission to the state government while this week. He added, however, that the agreement would not be entered into until satisfactory assurances had been received from the soviet authorities regarding the release of British prisoners and that the bolsheviks would be prevented from employing propaganda and communistic methods in Asia Minor.

In the preamble to the agreement it is stated that "whereas it is desirable in the interest both of Russia and of the United Kingdom that peace, trade and commerce should be resumed forthwith between these countries, and where there is a desire for the conclusion of a formal treaty between the governments of these countries, by which their permanent economic and political relations shall be regulated, that preliminary agreement should be arrived at between the government of the United Kingdom and the Russian soviet government, the aforesaid parties have accordingly entered into the following agreement."

The ten articles of agreement then follow.

SOME FIRST HAND INFORMATION AS TO BELGIAN SITUATION

A letter giving some first-hand information in regard to the present situation in war stricken Belgium has been received in this city by Captain Eihlers, member of the Belgian delegation from his brother, Rudolph, who is a resident of Antwerp. Captain Eihlers himself is a native Belgian, having been born in Antwerp and living there until he attained maturity.

The Eihlers family is one of the oldest in the country. Rudolph was one of the wealthy families of Belgium, organized before the war a great steel rolling mill on the outskirts of Antwerp, an industry which enriched the owners by a million dollars per year.

According to the laws of the country the plant descended to the generation to succeed to the sidestreet. It was founded centuries ago as a crude iron foundry and has been built by successive stages until previous to the war it was a concern employing 5,000 men. During the great conflict parts of the works were destroyed with the loss of 1,000 men. The only wealthier brother of the local man has reduced to comparative poverty. Now, however, he is rebuilding the plant piece by piece, and in so doing has come in contact with the socialism and economic unrest which are explained in the letter.

Unpublished letters, it appears, are not peculiar to America for the many Belgian employees have "gone out" on numerous occasions and in spite of reports that the Belgians have set to work with a will the experience of steel magnate has been of continual strain with him now. The work of socialist leaders and factions akin to the I. W. W.'s and radicals in this country are blamed by Mr. Eihlers for the trouble. Reference is also made to the many strikes of the coal miners for higher wages and mine owners have thrown all of their resources into the war are unable to pay.

In speaking of the city of Antwerp the Belgian says: "The great European conflict upset everything here so that I believe that it will be years before Antwerp becomes the same flourishing port again. It will before. Furthermore I fear that the 'good old times' in this country will never come back as socialism is becoming stronger than ever on the continent."

The letter is closed with a reference to the Texas oil fields and gives the information that the oil regions are known even in far off Belgium as "fields of wealth and happiness."

CONSORTIUM FOR THE ASSISTANCE OF CHINA HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The consortium for the assistance of China, organized by banking groups in the United States, Great Britain, France, and Japan, has been formed "with the full support of the four governments," said a formal statement issued today by the state department.

These governments believe, the statement said, that "the interest of the Chinese people can best be served by the co-operative action of their several banking communities to insure that the Chinese government may be able to procure through loan agreements involving the issue for subscription by the public of loans to the Chinese government or other agencies involving a guarantee by the Chinese government or Chinese provinces concerned." The cash is intended for the construction of improved means of communication and transportation.

"It is thus hoped," the statement continued, "to assist the Chinese people in their efforts toward a greater unity and stability, and offer to individual enterprise and foreign trade the opportunity and a wider field of activity in the economic development of China. It is further believed that through such co-operative action a greater degree of understanding and harmony with reference to far eastern matters may be reached among all five of the nations."

A number of Kansas City detectives accompanied him.

Before being placed in jail here Chester had been in liberty for three days following his escape from a jail-break train while being taken from Montana to Kansas City. He was recaptured yesterday near Oconto and brought here for safe-keeping.

LEAGUE CANNOT BE LEAGUE OF NATIONS TILL ALL INCLUDED

GENEVA, Nov. 20.—Hope that "without too much delay" a way will be found for the entry of the United States into the League of Nations is given by the League's secretary general, Count Jules Hardouin, who declared in an address to the Assembly of the League of Nations today by Tommaso Titoni, former minister of Italy.

DIFFERENCES HAVE NOT PREJUDICED THE ALLIANCE

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Differences between Great Britain and France do not amount to a quarrel and the views of these two nations have in no way prejudiced the alliance which held them together during the war, said Premier Lloyd-George of Great Britain in an interview at London yesterday. The government of the Petit Parisien, Mr. Lloyd-George, declared, the gadding reparations, England would stand "elbow to elbow" with France, but he insisted that the amount Germany will be called upon to pay should be fixed.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—The French government will co-operate with the League of Nations in supplying a quota of troops to be sent to the Vilna district for the preservation of order during the plebiscite to be taken there for determination of the political fate of the district. It was stated yesterday at the foreign office. The opinion was expressed that 15,000 men probably would be sufficient. Great Britain, France, Spain and Czechoslovakia have named to contribute forces for the duty.

PARTY IS ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH ROBBERY OF STORE

CHESTER, Nov. 20.—Chester, aged 21, was arrested in Fort Worth Saturday afternoon and brought back to this city by detective John Boone in connection with the robbery of the La Petit Maison store last Friday. West was arrested in a Fort Worth jail where he was held while attempting to procure a trunk in which he is alleged to have shipped the stolen goods from this city.

Detective Boone, who was assigned to the case, learned that a trunk had been shipped from the local express office to Fort Worth and that it was sent by a man whom Boone had reason to believe was the one responsible for the robbery. The detective obtained the check number which had been placed on the trunk and ordered the Fort Worth agents to hold the trunk with the corresponding orders until further orders. He then went to Fort Worth and found West as he was attempting to get the property.

All of the furs and other articles stolen from the La Petit Maison concern are believed to have been recovered and Chester is being held in the city jail.

Boy Scout News

The ghost of the boy scout hand refuses to be buried and has come back again. Scout Executive H. E. Taylor, Major D. M. Perkins and L. B. Lawler visited all of the local scout troops Friday evening and secured the names of boys who have shown a willingness to join the hand if it is organized on a sound footing. It is believed that, barring the unforeseen, the hand will be started again in the near future.

WICHITA DAILY TIMES SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1920.

AIRCRAFT CORPORATION WILL START MONDAY HAS MODERN FLEET OF LINCOLN BIPLANES

The Wichita Aircraft corporation fleet now numbers three modern Lincoln Standard biplanes, two more of the big machines having been flown to this city from the factory in Lincoln. Next week the two will be joined by Messers. Johnson, Burrows, Neal and Biffell, all of whom are connected with the company, drove to Wichita Falls from the Nebraska city in a flying time of eight hours and 20 minutes with far more ease and comfort than they would have experienced in a Pullman coach.

The new biplanes are now at the Goss Field hangar and are ready for the service of the transient public. The managers of the company are at work on the new schedule which they are to maintain between this city and various points of northern and central Texas, and expect to have definite announcements ready in a short time.

At the plant of the Lincoln factory, the local men made exhaustive experiments with a new five-passenger airplane which the Lincoln company is building and which is designed for use in winter weather. This latest type has an enclosed cabin which comfortably seats four adults and which insures safety in the coldest temperatures. With the thermometer hovering below zero, Bronson and Barrows ascended to a height of well over a mile and sailed around on warmth and comfort, returning to the ground with no more thrill than if they had taken a trip in a luxurious limousine.

It is the plan of the men to purchase one of these planes and use it in their flights between here and Fort Worth and Dallas during the cold months of the winter. The windows of the cabin may be lowered at will when the weather permits, thereby converting the machine into an ordinary open blimp.

With the safe arrival of these two Lincoln standards the local flying company as taking on business like proportions, and present indications are that they are soon to become an important factor in the transportation circuit of the state. One of the local men has already made use of the Wichita Aircraft company's service and made use of it in an emergency. His faith in the ability of the company to produce the service he demanded was vindicated, for he was carried cheaply and safely with great saving of time to his destination.

Exhibition flights in which passengers will be carried for a nominal charge will be made from the auxiliary flying field south of the city this afternoon.

I would like to meet representatives of all the church choirs of the city who will help in the musical program of the union Thanksgiving service in the basement of the new First Baptist church, Sunday 2 p.m., Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., R. Vaughan Day, Director Music First Baptist Church.

RECRUITS FOR ARTILLERY SERVICE ARE NOW SOUGHT

"There's a chance to shoot shrapnel out in the bush."

In highbrow military vernacular that sentence means "target practice" and service men are authority for the fact that it is the most welcome word which ever reaches the ears of the artilleryman. Word has been received at the local recruiting station that 1,500 old timers are wanted for the two regiments, the 13th and 14th, now in training at Camp Travis near San Antonio, and orders have been issued to the various recruiting stations of the country to make an extensive drive to secure this number of enlistments.

MRS. LANK THORNBERRY IS HOSTESS TO EPWORTH LEAGUE

A letter goes on to explain some of the attractions of the field artillery service and gives an outline of what recruits in this branch of the service may expect. A brand new target range has been built at Leon Springs, near San Antonio, a range which is considered to be the finest and most complete of any in the country. And when the two regiments are recruited to their full strength they will be sent to Leon Springs and given the task of shooting away some of the surplus ammunition left over from the late war.

The new range has been built by military experts. Targets of every description, simulated and real, match the artilleryman's binoculars; machine gun nests, mine fields, gun batteries, pastebord soldiers marching up and down, and prone sharpshooters drawing a bead from concrete redoubts. In shooting every man is taught to master his "75," the gun that won the war, so artfully used by General Pershing.

Each soldier will receive a certain number of sandwiches for the consumption of his comrade lobes and at a late hour refreshments consisting of these sandwiches and hot cocoas were served the guests.

'DOC' SNOW CASE TO JURY MONDAY; TESTIMONY CLOSED

ATTORNEYS WILL ARGUE CASE, EACH SIDE TAKING TWO AND A HALF HOURS.

JUDGE MARTIN WILL READ CHARGE TO THE JURY

Defendant Testified He Shot Twice But Did Not Know If Shots Took Effect.

All the testimony in the case against Doc Snow, charged with the murder of Marvin Caple, is before the jury. The great trial came to an end Saturday afternoon five minutes after court had reconvened after the lunch hour.

An unusually large crowd had assembled in the belief that there would be other accusations brought out by the attorney for the state putting on another witness, the defense rested and the state closed its case.

It was the closing of Doc Snow's first murder case. The court announced that the jury would be charged Monday morning at 9 o'clock and would be given time to deliberate. It was stated Saturday afternoon that it had been agreed to take two hours and a half for each side for arguments.

Defendant Takes Stand.

The defendant at 10:17 o'clock Saturday morning walked to the witness stand, while the courtroom was silent. No one moved and all nerves were held tense and ears were strained as Judge Martin administered the oath in reverberating tones.

Snow said that he shot at the two men, Meyer and Caple, because he thought they were picking up the place and because he thought they were going to kill somebody.

He fired twice, he said, but that neither one of them fell until he heard a shot from the other side of the house, which he noticed one of the men topple and fall to the floor.

Being carefully led by the questions of his counsel, he told in even and low tones the story of his life. He said he is 37 years of age and that he had practiced as a licensed veterinarian in Oklahoma since 1914, until two years ago when he came to Emporia.

"Stick 'em Up."

The defendant said that the first thing he noticed was two men standing at the rear of the building, one of them pointing a revolver at the table where he was seated playing poker. He stated that he had been in the habit of doing so in accord. "Stick 'em up; faces to the wall, and get up damn quick."

At this point in his story the accused grew very excited and illustrated his story by gestures, half arising in his chair. "I looked over there. I saw the gun pointed at me." I crouched up and jerked my gun forward. I leveled it and shot twice. I heard no announcement that they were the law. I saw no badges or insignia to denote that they were officers."

He said that he had been noticing about three hours the law until about two-thirds of the men in the building had rushed down the hall-way when Smithy, he said, came back and said, "For God's sake, Doc, throw down that gun; it's the law, it's the law." In answer to this he said he told Smithy, "Don't — me," stating that he meant that Smith shouldn't try to fool him. He threw his gun to the floor then, he told the jury, being half convinced that it was the law. He stated that he looked around then and saw some men crawling out of the back window and that he hurriedly made his exit there also and went to his house.

At the time of the raid, he said, that he had $65 on his person. Upon arriving at his house he stated that he did not know what to do but finally decided that he would go out to some tents along the river where he knew some of the boys who lived there had come up town that night and thought that he would get some information there.

There he remained until Friday night when he went across the river to another camp. There he said he saw a newspaper and read the account of the killing. He said that he saw in this article that the blame for the killing had been put on him and that a posse was out looking for him. He said he was afraid and that on Saturday morning he asked a boy to go to him and come to his house. The boy did not return, he said, so on Saturday evening about 7:30 o'clock he went to Kemp City, thinking that he might see his wife, who at the time of the shooting was in Memphis, Texas.

He returned to the camp about 11:30 Saturday night. In the morning he said he was awakened from sleep by the sheriff. He said, in answer to the question of his counsel, that if it had not been for the newspaper that he had carried in and given himself up before that time. He said all that he stated was protection.

On cross examination conducted by Attorney MacDonald, the defendant said that he didn't kill Marvin Caple that he knew of. He said that he had shot with a .32-20 gun that night and that at the time of his arrest he was armed with a .45 caliber Colt's automatic.

The witness told the defense that most of the $65 he had on him person at the time in the game.

At this point the state in its cross examination skipped over a bit on different subjects. The questions were clear cut and very cleverly put.

Would Have Given Up.

The assistant prosecutor asked him if he would have given himself over to officers before his arrest had he known that they were picking up the place and because he thought they were going to kill somebody?

"You say when you left the building that night you ran to your home?"

"Yes."

"Why did you run?"

"Because I was scared."

"Why were you scared?"

"Well, because I thought that the high jackers were still coming in to get us."

"Did you see Deputy Sheriff Atchley that night?"

"No."

"You didn't know then that it was the officers of the law that were pushing the crowd back into the house, did you?"

"No. I thought they were coming back and would catch us yet."

The state's attorney then inquired of the defendant whether he had operated the poker table since the house had been raided. The other subject referring to the gambling that was going on in the house for five or six days prior to the shooting.

The line of cross examination was then shifted. The state then asked, "You dropped your gun when Smithy told you it was the law?"

"Yes."

"The reason you dropped your gun was because you thought it was the law then?"

At this point both of the defendant's counsel were on their feet with an objection to the question on the grounds that it was repetition. The court overruled the objection.

The defendant waited to make sure that he should answer. Then he said,

"Well, I had an idea that it was the law when I dropped the gun."

Upon further cross examination the defendant stated that he did not attempt to give himself over to the law that evening in answer to the question which had as its predicate "although you did have an idea that it was the law that was raiding the house."

Friday afternoon the defense called in a long list of witnesses, all of whom had but few exceptions, testified that it was their own personal opinion that the place was being held up by the men who had their guns turned on the crowd at the rear of the room.

H. V. Griffin, M. F. Deen, G. F. Humphreys, S. C. Smith and C. J. Smith all told that they were in the house at the time of the shooting. Two of them told that they hid some money they had on them at the time, believing that they were being hijacked. The testimony of these witnesses varied in regards to the words that were spoken by May and Caple, as well as from the direction from which the shots were fired.

A. S. Griffin testified that to the best of his recollection it sounded as though two guns of different sizes were fired that night. He did not know who fired any of the shots.

The defense attempted to introduce some testimony from Margaret Pickle, who was a maid at the Hotel in Kemp City, relative to Joe Hancock, known as "Pug," who, as brought out in the evidence, tipped the officers off to the place, and assisted in the raid. The state objected and the court ruled that this testimony for that particular time.

Miss Elizabeth Hall, deputy county clerk, was called to the stand and the defense started to show by records that W. W. Belcher's commission as a deputy constable had been lifted before the raid was made. The court, however, ruled out this testimony as having been introduced by the defense.

On cross examination the doctor stated that it was his belief that the bullet that struck Marvin Caple in the forehead and which caused his death was practically the same size as the one that was taken from the leg of Tom Grubb.

The defense, on cross examination, resumed his seat at the table, the nervous disposition that he had displayed on the first day in the court room seemed to have returned and he continuously kept running his slender fingers through his black hair. His wife left the court room immediately after her husband had concluded his testimony.

At this point both of the defendant's counsel were on their feet with an objection to the question on the grounds that it was repetition. The court overruled the objection.

The defendant waited to make sure that he should answer. Then he said, "Well, I had an idea that it was the law when I dropped the gun."

Upon further cross examination the defendant stated that he did not attempt to give himself over to the law that evening in answer to the question which had as its predicate "although you did have an idea that it was the law that was raiding the house."

The new filling station of the Texhoma company at the corner of Tenth and Broad streets, mentioned in these columns recently, is not yet completed, though in commercial operation. Its roof, while at present is of black material, is to be covered with green tiles of the same shade as the mural decorations.

The ground in the center of which the structure is built is one hundred feet square and at the rear of the building are two pits for facilitating the storage of oil, crude and refined.

The two double driveways make it possible to fill four cars simultaneously and besides having gasoline dispensers in which the gasoline is visible, the containers of lubricating oils are similarly equipped at the rear of the building in the woman's rest room with all needed accessories.

OHIO WINS WESTERN CONFERENCE TITLE BY DEFEATING ILLINOIS

URBANA, ILL., Nov. 20.—Ohio State carried football championship of the western conference back to the president's suite tonight.

In the most spectacular finish seen on the historic Illinois field in years, the Ohioans triumphed over Illinois, 7 to 0, today, when Myers in the last ten seconds of play, snatched a 37-yard forward pass from Workman, who dashed down the field. Ohio Blue line was the only touchdown of the game. Pete Stinchcombe, brilliant Ohio left halfback, kicked the goal.

By winning today's game, Ohio remained undefeated this session and has undisputed claim to the title. Both teams were keyed to a high fighting pitch and fought virtually on even terms until the final moments.

Although the loss of Captain John Capers, all-western center, and further crippled by injuries to Carney, brilliant receiving end of the spectacular Walquist-Carney aerial combination, and Ralph Fletcher, star kicked and held back, fought steadily to check the amazing attack of Ohio's superb backfield. The Ohioans carried the fight into Illinois territory during most of the game, although each eleven marched the half to within inches of the opposing goal, but lacked the drive to push the oval across.

The crowd that packed Illinois field was the biggest that ever witnessed a football game in this town. 23,000 persons panned within the gates. Thousands were turned away. George Huff, director of athletics, said that 40,000 applications for seats had been received.

There were sent 5,000 spectators to the game, there was the special train of 25 cars running in three sections from the Ohio capital and hundreds of Ohio students motored the 365 miles to see the contest. The line up:

The publicity committee of the chamber of commerce Saturday made their annual visit to the printing plants in connection with their plan to visit the representative firms of the various industries of the city, this being the third week since such a program was inaugurated.

Saturday's visit included an inspection of the printing plant of the Mayberry-Sternberg company, the Illinois Printing company and the Midwest Printing company, all of which were reported by the committee to have been found in excellent condition and institutions creditable to the city. It was reported that among the plants was equal to doing any kind of intricate book work, and that all the firms visited were enjoying a very satisfactory business. The extent to which the printing industry was very gratifying to members of the committee.

HARVARD BEATS YALE IN THRILLING GAME BY SCORE OF 9 TO 0

Crimson Unable To Cross Blue Goal But Kicks Three Field Goals:

YALE BOWL, NEW HAVEN, Nov. 20.—Harvard's varsity football team, undefeated this season, won its expected victory over Yale in the annual meeting of the Harvard Crimson in the Yale bowl today. The ball did not cross the blue line was almost himself today, bending before the Crimson attack only enough to make field goals possible but refusing to break before the Crimson rushing attack. Three field goals won Harvard's 9 to 0 victory. Two of the goals were credited to Quarterback Billie, the third to Captain Horweth, but the spontaneous army of nearly 30,000 could not be sure of identifying Harvard's heroes of the day because they were unnumbered.

The game was an exposition of latter day football, opened wide by forward passes and kicks made necessary by failure of the defense to carry advantage for considerable distances by rushing against lines well knit. The treachery of the modern weapon contained in the forward pass was shown by the frequent interceptions by opposing players which caused transition of plays almost in a twinkling from Harvard to Yale and back to Harvard again.

Line-up—
HARVARD POS. YALE
 Crocker lg. Cutler
 Sedgwick lg. Walker

INTERCOLLEGiate CROSS COUNTRY WIN BY CORNELL

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 20.—Cornell won the intercollegiate cross-country run here today with 55 points. Princeton was second with 56 points and Massachusetts Tech third with 50 points.

FEDERAL PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT OFFICER OF OKLAHOMA KILLED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 20.—Kirby Franks, federal prohibition enforcement officer in the district, died in a hospital here early today. Dr. Kirby Franks, who lives here, said that he had been officially advised an invitation would be extended to have the Princeton team play in Pasadena. He has not been in Princeton for several days, he said, and does not know whether the official invitation has been issued. Dr. Roper added that nothing would be done toward accepting the invitation without consulting with him.

From what can be learned here the prospects at this time are dim for the trial unless great pressure should be brought to bear. A graduate in touch with football at Princeton said it would be a big undertaking to keep the squad in training and condition for more than six weeks until New Year's Day and would also result in seriously cutting into the studies of the students because of their long absence from the university.

The two teams will play again Sunday and the Dallas club will go to Wichita Falls on a date to be announced for a return game.

Lineup: Wichita Falls, Nixon 1, Jennings 2, Robbins 3, Wilfong 4, Dahl-Richards 1, Lester 2, Davidson 3, Dibogno 4. Substitutions, Hemphill for Nixon, Fletcher for Wilfong, Robison for Richards, Freeman for Lester.

BADGERS TAKE SECOND PLACE IN CONFERENCE BY BEATING CHICAGO

Goal From Field By Davey Gives Wisconsin 3 to 0 Victory Over Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Alien Davey Stearns dropped a drop kick spinning through the air in the final quarter and gave Wisconsin three points to none for Chicago in a game in which Chicago gained honors for its valiant fighting.

Every Maroon player was characterized by daring and determination which brought cheers from the 30,000 spectators in appreciation of the efforts of Coach Stagg's men to close the gap with the undefeated team which would have been unparalleled in recent western conference annals.

The latent superiority of Wisconsin began to show in the second half, however. Forward passes which Chicago previously had broken up easily began to nestle safely in the same hands of experienced athletes and the checkmate which would have been unparalleled in recent western conference annals.

The Maroons uncovered a group of ancient tricks which brought Coach Stagg a reputation for foxiness a decade ago, working on side kicks off and several end around criss-crosses.

The victory placed Wisconsin in second place in the conference race, which ended with today's games, with a record of four victories and one defeat.

Of those men, the one most likely to stay is Zinn. The Spudder hero was big with Barnes, Dresen and Stearns, but he has not worked. He will never have a better chance to make good in the big show than he will next year as everything is in his favor.

May Not Have Kitchens.

Salmon could not use a couple of good players after the season was over. Hause and Kitchens may be back, but he may not. It has been rumored that Frank is holding out for more money than the Spudder management feels justified in paying him. Frank is a valuable man. There is no doubt about that. There isn't a boy on the team who knows more about the league than Kitchens does.

He is the best backfielder in the league, and he has probably come to terms before the season opens. Still, Frank won't be able to do it all and a new replacement will be welcomed.

Just before the season closed, Salmon unlocked his safe and took out the boxes of box work that were dis-coved all year. Darrough and Hudspeth had to take their hats off to none of the other slab artists in the league, young or old. Birmingham drafted Darrough, but he may be back in the Spudder uniform just the same. Salmon has a couple of other promising looking twirlers and there'll be some new faces in the box next year.

Buddy Tanner and McElwee will be with us once again, and in place of

Grubb there'll be Montegut. Harry

Grubb went back to Atlanta towards the latter part of last year, and could not seem to get going right. A change of atmosphere may do him good as he is capable of playing a far better game than he showed here. Montegut was also shifted about quite a bit last year, but should fit in nicely with the Spud-der crew.

In Eddie McDonald, Salmon has not got the worst first baseman in the world.

Eddie held down the initial corner all last season in the Steel league and played a whale of a game.

WASHINGTON AND LEE ENDS SEASON WITH 16 TO 7 WIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Washington and Lee co-circled its football season here today with a 16 to 7 victory over Georgetown. The score is about as expected, especially in view of the strength of the two teams today for the Generals outplayed Georgetown in open field work and especially in the passing game. Cosby fumbles marked Georgetown's playing throughout and always one of Coach Rafferty's pupils was there to grab the loose ball.

The Lexington team scored a touchdown early in the game after Georgetown had worked the ball practically the full length of the field on line

CITY IS NOW THE SOLE OWNER OF THE WATER WORKS PLANT AND ALL PHYSICAL EFFECTS

After 11 months of "boss tradin'", bonds referred to and described in the debate, argument, compromise and the splitting of countless legal hairs, the city of Wichita Falls today owns Lake Wichita and the plant, water works system and good will of the Wichita Falls Water company. The deal was finally closed at 1:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the deed of sale was presented to the city and representatives of the water company received in exchange municipal bonds in the amount of $300,000 which were used for the improvements this year.

A special called meeting of the city council Saturday determined the details of the big transaction. The meeting was attended by all the members of the city council, except Mayor Cline and M. O. McDowell, both of whom are out of the city. W. A. Rogers, vice-president and general manager of the water company; Joseph C. Thompson, secretary of the company; C. E. Calder and John Beall, representing the Strickland Interests of Dallas, and F. N. Lawton recently appointed to serve as manager of the system under municipal ownership, were in attendance. W. W. Gurtis presided in the absence of Mayor Cline.

After briefly reviewing some of the details of the trade, the council passed a resolution approving and accepting the instruments of conveyance and authorizing the city officials to do the business of Calder. The actual consummation of the deal then followed at the City National Bank of Commerce, where the bonds have been in keeping. The question of the interest that has accrued on the bonds since last February will be settled at a later council meeting when Mayor Cline returns.

The resolution that closed the deal, and made it binding upon both the city and the company's representatives, follows:

"Whereas, heretofore, to-wit: on July 15, 1920, C. E. Calder made an offer to the city of Wichita Falls to cause to be conveyed to the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, certain property of the Wichita Falls Water company, and certain property of the Wichita Falls Electric company, and all rights in an exhibit attached thereto, in an exhibit attached to said offer. In consideration of the delivery to him of $300,000, 10 40-year five per cent coupon gold bonds of the city of Wichita Falls, bearing date February 10, 1920, and bearing interest from that date, and in consideration of the said C. E. Calder having entered into two contracts by the Wichita Falls Water company contained in two certain contracts by the Wichita Falls Water company, and the Wichita Falls Electric company, and the Wichita Falls accepted said offer, upon such conditions as expressed in resolutions duly passed by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls, and

"Whereas, said conditions have been fully met and complied with, and the said C. E. Calder has tendered good and sufficient deeds for the conveyance of the aforesaid property to the city of Wichita Falls.

"Now therefore, he is resolved by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls, that said instruments of conveyance from Wichita Falls Electric company and Wichita Falls Water company, and the aforesaid contracts by the aforesaid Wichita Falls, in accordance with the terms thereof, and the property described by the said conveyance is hereby received by the city of Wichita Falls at the value in cash expressed in said conveyances, and the officers of the city of Wichita Falls are hereby authorized and directed to deliver to the said C. E. Calder the

TEXAS Gusher COMPANY CLAIMS WELL IN NEW FIELD NEAR WICHITA FALLS

According to information received from the owners of the Texas Gusher well on the Livermore farm in the Texoma field, casing was being set last week at 4,720 feet when the sand was encountered. The sand was drilled into with a small bit more than 40 feet and will be tested at once according to their report. The well is to be finished in such a manner that it can be given a shot later if necessary.

Should this well produce in a manner that the owners expect it to, the Texoma field will be extended considerably to the south. W. E. Johnson, president of the company, arrived from Waco yesterday to see the well completed. If the production from this well is satisfactory the company plans to develop other acreage which they own on the Livermore farm as rapidly as possible.

The well is being watched with no little interest by local operators as it is only seven miles from Wichita Falls. The result is expected to be known within a few days.

Vernon Budget

Moves Family to Vernon.
VERNON, TEXAS, Nov. 20.—Elder Fox E. Wallin, who has been called by the membership of the Church of Christ here, moved his family to Vernon this week but will not take charge of the work here until the third Sunday in December. He left Thursday night for Killeen, where he will hold a ten days' meeting. He will then go to Abilene for another meeting. When he has filled these engagements he will devote his time to the church in Vernon.

Thieves Enter Four Places.
VERNON, TEXAS, Nov. 20.—Thieves have been frequent visitors to local establishments but their efforts met with little success at any of the places. Three of the concerns were lumber companies and the fourth was a fuel and grain company. The work is thought to have been done by amateurs.

Pioneer Citizen Dies.
VERNON, TEXAS, Nov. 20.—R. S. Kelly, pioneer resident of Vernon, died Wednesday at his home here following a long illness. Mr. Kelly was 71 years old and had lived in Vernon thirty-two years. He came to this city in 1888 from Fort Worth, to which place he had earlier removed from Harrison county. He was born in Aniston, Ala., October 4, 1849. Mr. Kelly was well known in Vernon and Wilbarger county and had many friends throughout this section of the state. He was especially prominent in church circles and served as deacon in the First Baptist church almost from the time he came to Vernon. He was also a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge.

Mr. Kelly was in the grain business, hardware business, and at one time owned the light plant. He also served as mayor of Vernon from April, 1890, to October, 1892.

Health turns the Clock Backward

Sunday Health Talk No. 12

By P. L. MYERS, B. C.

It is a common saying that the time to begin building the health foundations of life is before birth. It is a fact that many are born with defective health conditions, but this need not cause apprehension or force any one to give up in despair of attaining good health.

Prince Don Jaime of Spain was born deaf and his mind was affected, all as a result of a prenatal injury to the Queen mother. He suffered from this injury for twelve years before as a last resort he was taken to a chiropractor. Today the Prince can hear and is rapidly making up for lost time in acquiring an education. The spinal condition that caused his deafness was corrected by spinal adjustment.

Epilepsy Overcome

"My epileptic seizures increased in frequency until I was having four a week. I began taking chiropractic adjustments as a last resort. In all I took 147. I am now well and strong and have not had a seizure in more than eighteen months."—Orval Fry, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 1281R.

DENVER & RIO GRANDE RAILROAD IS SOLD BY ORDER OF U. S. COURT

DENVER, COLO., Nov. 20.—Representatives of the Western Pacific railroad bought the properties of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad at foreclosure sale here today. The sale price was $5,000,000 cash.

The purchasers also agreed to assume $141,175,000 obligations of the Rio Grande.

The amount for which the road was sold was the minimum amount set by the United States district court in its order for the sale.

Attorneys for P. Clegg of Denver, representing the D. and R. G. stockholders' protective committee, read a formal protest against the sale.

The sale of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad to the highest bidder by order of the United States circuit court of appeals marked the close of tumultuous chapter in the history of the road, started by General William J. Palmer, in 1871.

Millions of dollars a year in wages were paid annually in the prosperous period of the road's history and other millions were used in maintenance efforts of various financial interests to gain control of the railroad. From the time the Jay Gould interests caused the retirement of General Palmer from the road in 1882, it was the object of financial campaigns of rival interests until the receivership caused by default of the bondholders of Western Pacific railroad bonds in 1918, bond payments having been guaranteed by the Denver & Rio Grande.

Receiver is Named.

The bond issue was for $50,000,000 and when the Equitable Trust company of New York bought suit and obtained judgment in 1918, this had been reduced to a little more than $26,000,000—the amount of the judgment. On January 26, of that year Edward L. Brown, president of the road, and Alexander R. Baldwin, vice-president of the Western Pacific, were named bondholders by Judge Walter L. Sanborn, of the United States circuit court of appeals. A month later Brown was named sole receiver to comply with regulations of the United States railroad administration during the war. He was deposed as agent of the administration.

Hearings were held before United States master in chancery and on September 25, 1920, an order was signed by Judge Sanborn for the sale of the road, over the protest of a stockholders' committee who asked postponement for a month. The road was advertised for sale on November 10, November 20 set as the date of sale.

The road was built originally as part of Palmer's dream of a line running from Denver to El Paso. Development of the mining enterprises in the western part of the state required a road in the direction of the mountains, development and extension of branch lines westward into the mining communities became a part of the contest between the road and the Union Pacific for control of the Rocky Mountain territory, the latter road already having an advantage in the northern Rocky Mountains.

Among the prominent railroad men connected with the road in various capacities were George Gould, Benjamin F. Bush and H. U. Mudge.

STATE UNIVERSITY GETS $600,000 BY LITTLEFIELD WILL

AUSTIN, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Alice P. Littlefield, widow of the late Major George W. Littlefield, acquires practically the entire Littlefield estate, according to the terms of the will filed here today. The University of Texas received three bequests as follows: $100,000 for the preparation of an American history, $250,000 for the construction of a confederate memorial arch on the university campus and $250,000 for the construction of a dormitory for freshman girls.

Although the value of the Littlefield estate is not set out in the will, it is variously estimated at totals ranging from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000.

SAYS UNEMPLOYMENT DUE TO AN ATTEMPT TO KEEP UP PRICES

By RALPH F. COUCH,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Unemployment throughout the country resulting in part-time operation of mills and factories, is directly due to attempts to keep up prices, Ethelbert Stewart, government price expert, charged today.

"Price is the only bar to full-time production," said Stewart, whose title is commissioner of the bureau of statistics of the labor department.

"Every mill in the country could operate full time if prices were down."

"The depression will disappear as soon as the producers and sellers of foodstuffs and other commodities give up the idea of profiteering in war times. When that happens the public will find it possible to end the big buyers' or consumers' strike."

"It must be remembered that it takes from six months to a year for reduced wholesale quotations to be reflected in retail prices."

REPORT ON CONDITION OF THE CLEARING BANKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that they hold $12,476,350 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is a decrease of $19,725,500 from last week.

Systematic spending is the first step in the direction of systematic saving. A checking account with the City National Bank of Commerce aids in this private as well as business work. The opening of accounts is check is evident of system. The bank welcomes small checking accounts as well as large.

SAYS SOVIET GOVERNMENT COMPELLED TO CARRY WAR INTO THE NEUTRAL ZONE

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Russian soviet government declares in a wireless message from Moscow that it is compelled to carry the war into the neutral zone between Poland and Russia because of the attacks being made on soviet forces in Poland. Gen. Kostylevitch, in command of Polish volunteer forces which refused to cease fighting when the Russian-Polish peace was made, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Berlin today.

Reports from Warsaw, adds the dispatch, suggest that Poland is in a state of civil insurrection, as fifteen Russian divisions are concentrated on the Polish line.

HOMELY VIRTUES OF THRIFT AND SELF HELP ESPoused

CINCINNATI, OHIO, Nov. 20.—The homey virtues of thrift and self help were espoused as the American vehicle of attaining "industrial democracy" by Samuel O. Dunn, editor of the Railway Age, in an address here today.

"Railway employees by the practice of a very reasonable amount of thrift could, in a period of three to five years, become the chief owners of the railroads," Dunn said.

"The employees of railways and other large industrial concerns should seek to acquire the virtue of self help, not through governmental action or by strikes, but by becoming part owners or even the controlling owners of industries," Dunn said, claiming that the only road open in America to "industrial democracy."

BREAD PRICES ARE SLICED IN THIS CITY OF CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Bread prices were being sliced here today, announcements of cuts of one and two cents a loaf because of recent declines in grain being announced. Reduction in price of men's collars and leather belts also were announced today.

In the opinion of the City National Bank of Commerce the best service is the most courteous, and every member of the bank's organization works with this principle in mind. Being pleasant is a distinct part of the service of this institution.

Gov. Hobby Issues Proclamation for Thanksgiving Day

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Nov. 20.—William P. Hobby, governor of Texas, has joined President Wilson in proclaiming Thursday, November 25, a "Day of Thanksgiving." The governor's proclamation follows:

"The custom of annually setting apart the fourth Thursday in November as a day of Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the innumerable blessings bestowed upon our country was established by preceding generations, and has been handed down from one generation to another until its observance is honored alike by the young and the old, by the rich and the poor, by the mighty and the humble, and by the simple and the learned. As the day approaches, let us consult with ourselves that we may be prepared to give thanks to God in keeping with His manifold kindness to us. Indeed, the setting aside of one day in the year in which to give special praise to Him for His merciful generosity to us is a small offering which we consider. His protecting care has been the anchor of our safety during all the past.

Renewed Cause for Gratitude.
"In recalling those blessings we have received there is renewed cause for acknowledging the infinite gratitude we owe as a nation; not because others are weaker, but because ours is stronger; not because others are less fortunate, but because ours is more fortunate; not because others are less united in the struggles of common citizenship, but because ours is more united. Not only is it proper to repeat the thanks of a grateful nation for a victorious war, but it is proper to convey a like expression because time is healing the wounds inflicted by a world-wide clash of arms. And because the fight of another year is arriving, let us strengthen and mellowing the hatred which conflict engendered. And in turning our hearts within, we have just cause for a grateful offering since our country has not only been engaged in the settlement of differences on the outside but also in the trials and sufferings of our darlings. No higher evidence of our country's power to endure and no better assurance of the realization of our national destiny could be given than the spirit of all sections and all citizens in accepting the expressed will of the American people at the ballot box and rising to one man and one woman to make our country great, whatever that expression may be.

Blessings in Disguise.

"And in rendering thanks to Almighty God for those big things we have been bestowed upon us, we should at the same time praise Him for the blessings too small for us to remember. Yet, not too small for us to receive. And, then there were those things which in our judgment may have seemed to be adversities, but let us render thanks to God for them too, with the full realization that in later years we shall come to recognize the blessings He sent in disguise.

"And, not only ask each person in Texas to render thanks individually, but I ask the people to assemble together in places in keeping with their religious usages of the day and join one another in expression of gratitude for His divine mercies; and to give additional reason for such assemblies as a proper recognition of that day.

"I. W. P. Hobby, governor of Texas, thankful for the official privilege of so doing, do hereby declare this day, November the twenty-fifth, 1920, as a 'Day of Thanksgiving' and take this means of urging that each and all join in making it a day in keeping with His goodness, and in keeping with the reverence which is due from a Christian citizenship to the Divinity of the all powerful yet merciful God who rules over us.

"In testimony whereof I have hereunto signed by name and caused the seal of the state to be affixed hereon, in the city of Austin, this the fifteenth day of November A. D. 1920.
"W. P. HOBBY,
"Governor of Texas."

DIAZ AND CARRANZA BOTH HEROES IN MEXICO NOW

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.—Mexico has no hall of fame in which to display her heroes—heroes who are never dead, and when they are dead, there are half a dozen varieties of plaster of Paris statutes, men who went their way through the capital's streets displaying their wares on the sidewalks. Not only do they set the style in heroes, as they place a new bust on the market from time to time, but they provide an interesting insight into the fickle reactions of a revolutionary public. A year or so ago there appeared the plaster likeness of Dr. Porfirio Diaz, the president whose overthrow raised the nation-wide cry of revolutionary liberty. Don Porfirio's bust found a ready sale. He is a hero now. There have been many revolutions since Don Porfirio's time. The other day the statue vendors placed a new bust on the sidewalk. The face was familiar, as the original had been one of the best hated men in Mexico. There were whiskers, finally moulded in the plaster. It was Venustiano Carranza.

SUBMITTED TO THE POSTMASTER GENERAL

JIM LOWRY CHAGRINED.

A native and loyal son of Tennessee, and a democrat always, Jim Lowry of the Honey Grove Signal is chagrined at the defection of the volunteer state from the solid south and, panegyrizing the state on its multifold attractions and its part in the history of the south, he yet expresses his regret at its political turn-over, saying:

"The solid south is no more. For more than half a century the old southern states stood as true to democracy as the big dipper to the north star. For many years no one was warmer in his admiration and kinder to the southern heroes save ear to ear the vaporings of the wicked republicans and evening would have blushed to own a star sooner than a member of this noble confederation would have turned her back upon the democratic party. But the solid south is broken and it was broken by the great revolution of Andrew Jackson, James K. Polk and David Crockett. It was in Tennessee that this writer first saw the light of day. All tender memories of childhood's happy days cluster around the hills and hollows, the forests and meadows of Old Tennessee, and the very name of the old confederate will be music to our ears. But Tennessee has fallen from her estate and not only has she departed from the house of her fathers, but she has shattered the solid south. What must be her punishment? Surely the wrath of the Lord must fall heavily upon poor old Tennessee. Every chestnut crop will be wormy, the people will lose their golden glow and honed taste, the crystal waters of the Watauga will turn to mud and slush, and the luster of the muscadine and the grape will fade. For Tennessee thee will be no southern zephyr bearing the breath of the magnolia and the jasmine and for Tennessee thee will be no bird of paradise will not sing. The glory of the south has departed from the old Volunteer state and never again will the rapture that wells up from the democratic soul light the faces of her sons and daughters. Dear old state of legend, song and hallowed memory, though we nurtured at your breast, we do say you ought to be ashamed of yourself."

FUSED OUT.

Says the Hannibal Independent:

"We have it from a local American party man that at the next state election the Americans, republicans, black and tans and the socialists are going to fuse and put out a man to beat Neff. They may fuse all right, but as to defeating Neff, that is an entirely different matter."

Cursory examination of the detailed election returns might lead one to infer that the Americans pretty nearly "fused" out on November 2. And when the full vote is known, we venture that it will be found that if all the four factions had fused this time, the democratic no-nos would still have had a majority of more than 100,000.

Texans generally will regret that the fine weather that greeted President-elect Harding and party could not have continued throughout their stay. Ourselves mired in the vicissitudes of Texas weather and accepting the disagreeable because there is so very much more of the pleasant kind, we shall fear that Senator Harding and those who came with him to run into the most unseasonable weather for so early in the winter that we have had in many, many years, will acquire the quite erroneous idea that Texas is not a delightful place wherein to visit or stay at any season of the year. And Point Isabel and Brownsville, which would have secured a precious lot of advertising as a winter resort had the weather continued balmy as it started, have our condolences.

Employees of the war and navy departments hereafter will be penalized for every infraction of a recently promulgated rule which forbids them from talking to anybody during working hours on any subject except department business. In each case the conversation must be proved to be actually departmental business, or the penalty of one day's loss of pay will be invoked, with "such punishment as the circumstances warrant" in subsequent cases. The democratic executives in those departments must be trying to make the work there such that it won't appeal to the expected horde of office-seekers. What's the use of having a government job, anyway, if you have to work in it?

Payment of the bill for cigars smoked at the Spa conference remains unpaid. Belgium refused to pay it—it is for $6,000 francs—France refused to pay it, and so did England. The tobaccoconist, aching for his money that had literally gone up in smoke, sought Belgium to present the bill to the league of nations assembly. Belgium did so, but the bill is still unpaid, the secretariat of the league announcing that not only is it short of funds, but that it does not purpose to take over the indebtedness of the supreme council, at one of whose conferences the bill was created. No body seems to be out anything but the tobaccoconist, and he also seems to be the only body concerned over his bill.

The league of nation assembly's attention is politely called to Secretary Daniels' pronouncement that "America's program is to make her navy the greatest that has ever been floated by any nation in any times." Josephus is apparently of a mind to "trust in the league, but keep his navy fit." Disarmament seems a long way off!

Every republican paper in the United States and many democratic papers since the election have been pleased to give the blank for the defense of the democratic party at the president's door. Probably it is not flattering to say that he is the most neglected man in America today.

And yet there can be no doubt that the verdict of history on President Wilson will affirm his greatness. In great moments of crisis during the last eight years, President Wilson has risen to great heights and made his mark. Texas Judge Fired the First Big Gun at Fort Sumpter

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Nov. 19.—Celebration of Armistice day here recently renewed memories of a war, the conclusion or which is not celebrated in the south, and brought to light the fact that the man who fired the first shot of that war at Fort Sumpter was a member of the faculty of the University of Texas. The man is Judge W. S. Simpkins, and in discussing the incident, he said that by mere chance he happened to start actual hostilities of the civil war.

"In December of 1860, South Carolina had just seceded from the Union," he said, "and Colonel Anderson of the United States army was in charge of the federal troops at the government post of Fort Moultrie. Governor Pickens of South Carolina made a demand on him for the surrender of the fort to the state. The fort was in the Charleston harbor on Sullivan Island, and was easily accessible from the land side. Colonel Anderson, fearing the fort would be taken from the land side, secretly transferred his entire force to Fort Sumpter. This was a move for greater safety, for Fort Sumpter was situated in a good way from the mainland and was entirely surrounded by water.

Had Collected Army.

"In the meantime, South Carolina had collected her army with the view of driving out Colonel Anderson and driving him into the Union. In February, 1861, the Union forces government had sent men and provisions to reinforce Anderson so that he could withstand a siege. These were sent his troops. About the first of Feb., from New York harbor by the steamer 'Star of the West.' On February 10, 1861, the 'Star of the West' attempted to enter the harbor and make the channel to the fort.

"I was eighteen years of age at the time and a member of the cadet corps of the military academy of South Carolina. The men of this cadet corps were the officers of the school and the officers commanding the harbor. We were sent down to Murray's Island on the south side of Fort Sumpter in order to protect the channel into the port of Charleston and prevent aid being brought to Fort Sumpter. We built up strong fortifications and mounted a battery of four big guns which commanded the channel.

"On the morning of February 10, 1861, I was on post as sentry, pacing back and forth along the fortifications we had thrown up. In the early dawn I spied the masts of the 'Star of the West' as she made her way toward the fort. She was silhouetted against the red sky of the early dawn. I called the sergeant of the guard. I was relieved of my sentry duty and placed as gunner on the number one gun of the battery. The 'Star of the West' steamed up to the channel and got across my gun I opened fire. Soon the others joined and the 'Star of the West' turned back and made for the open sea."

SOUTH BEND DISTRICT IS PRINCIPAL TOPIC AMONG LOCAL OIL MEN.

FIELD PROPERLY IN THE WICHITA FALLS DISTRICT

Many Operators From This City Are Buying Leases And Beginning Work; Will Benefit City.

The recent activities in Young county have made up the principal topic of conversation among local oil operators the past week. The development in the section of the county known as the South Bend McCluskey district has been particularly noteworthy and many acreage deals in that particular district have been transacted.

The new territory that has been opened up in Young county is rightly classified as in the Wichita Falls district as it is only about three hours' ride from here by automobile and has been made in less than three hours on numerous occasions. In all the weather conditions, traffic is now in the section of the country and for these reasons it is fairly safe to presume that many new operators will come to Wichita Falls for their headquarters in the near future.

At present there are about 18 wells drilling in this one section of the county and many of them are near the sand. The next two or three weeks will undoubtedly tell the tale as to whether there will be another boom in Young county similar to the one produced in the Breckinridge boom. From the present looks of things it would appear that the Breckinridge sand is extending northward into Young county and if such a thing should come to pass Wichita Falls will be a big gainer.

PRESIDENT IS PERMITTED TO WALK WITHOUT CANE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—President Wilson is now allowed to walk about the building without his cane. He uses his wheelchair only for the purpose of an occasional relaxation, it was said today at the white house. He uses his wheelchair only for the purpose of an occasional relaxation, it was said.

White house officers declared that the president's health had so far improved as to make it possible for him to attend congressional sessions if convenient next month, but that Mr. Wilson had as yet made no definite plans to do so.

DOKEYS TO STAGE A CEREMONIAL IN CITY ON DECEMBER NINTH

Festes, with all the "stunts" that are usually associated with them will be seen on the streets of Wichita Falls again on December 9. This time, however, the fez will be black instead of red and will be worn by a degree of the Knights of Pythias.

The drill team in full uniform, drum corps and number of members of Azotus Temple, D. O. K. K. of Fort Worth, will arrive here at 1:00 p. m. on that date and will put on the ceremonial "works" from Electra, Iowa Park, Burkhardt, Henrietta and Wichita Falls.

This is the second "Dokey" ceremonial to be held here this year, the first one having been held in April.

There will be the usual street stunts, with a parade at 4:00 p. m. and then a banquet will be given for members and candidates and after the banquet will come the ceremonial.

The local lodge Knights of Pythias is working hard to make this a large and successful affair and all Dokeys are asked to "Bring in a tyro."

THE TIMES WOMAN'S PAGE—A SUMMARY

News and Reviews"Day Nursery Tea" and League Meeting
Features for Week

The big social affair of the week, and one of the most interesting planned this season, will be the Day Nursery Benefit Tea which the ladies of the Civic League, assisted by hostesses from every local study club, are giving Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Culbertson.

Cards have been issued for 800 guests, and from the comment and enthusiasm of the past week, it is believed there will be an exceptionally small per cent of regrets. Several special entertainment features have been planned, at least one of which is being the subject of considerable speculation. The entertainment committee has permitted the fact to "leak" that a beautiful baby is to be given away to the guest who draws the lucky number at the tea, and has put a "muffler" on doubtful questioning by the emphatic statement that the person who wins the beautiful baby will want to keep it, regardless of any beautiful babies that may be in her possession at the time, or any other circumstances that might be argued as fair reasons against it—inclusion of a baby in the family. However, the entertainment committee has stated that the person who does not wish to accept a number for drawing will be excused with protest.

One feature of the tea will be the music, which is to be contributed by the best talents of the Musicians' Club. The program throughout the afternoon will be informative and attractive diversions. The five-dollar Thanksgiving offering which will be taken is to be turned over to the director of the day nursery, where between 35 and 40 children are cared for daily, for expenditures as the nursery committee sees fit. It is understood that a number of local clubs are arranging to make gifts from their treasures, in addition to the individual thank offerings. The tea will furnish the first general opportunity that all of the citizens and organizations of Wichita Falls have had to contribute to the nursery, which has been badly in need of funds and furnishings since its institution.

Hostesses from the local clubs for the entertainment will include Mrs. John Kay, from the Beta Delphians; Mrs. T. P. Adams, from the New Century; Mrs. C. E. Bailey, from the Standard; Mrs. H. L. LITTLE FOLKS THANKSGIVING RECITAL A BIG SUCCESS

The little folks Thanksgiving recital at the First Methodist church Friday evening was a success from the crowd of the first little Cranberry's curly head to the tip of the last little Pilgrim's cap. The program ran through twenty-four of the catchiest numbers it has ever been the special province of thirty-five youngsters of Miles Standish," in scenes, reader irresistible.

All of them were good. Some were singles, and some doubles, and some of them intrigued the interest of the audience through the voices of a dozen or more contestants, juveniles and adults. In fact only flaw in the whole atmosphere of the First Methodist auditorium Friday evening was the extemporaneous performances of a number of too-youthful and entirely untrained performers throughout the audience. A few babies who were not left at home accompanied their parents to the pleasure of the pretty children's affair for a score or more grown-ups in their immediate vicinity, if not all over the auditorium. This should hardly be mentioned, however, in the same breath with the little folks' recital.

The girls had better, and the costumes could not have been more attractive or appropriate. The church was crowded to the eaves and the audience enthusiastically appreciative.

Ushers who assisted Miss Knickerbocker, under whose direction the recital was given, were Loren Taylor, Ethel Young, and Eddie Johnson, and Master J. L. Staley Jr. and Master Nathan Chenault Jr., in full evening dress, distributed programs at the door. The decoration of the stage was particularly artistic, green banked palms and a green balsa setting off a beautiful ivory wicker chair.

The children who took part in the recital included: Margaret Josephine Bond, Elizabeth Langford, Jolline Wood, Mary Elisabeth Lee, Madeline

TIRIED CHILDREN.

Sometimes, when night time steals up with its shadows and its stars, And day slips past the Western Gate, through gold and crimson bars, And we are tired of earth a little bit—just tired of play, And work, and talk, and beds, and meals, and books—the things of day; And getting up and sitting down, and noise, and politics, And making things and marring things, and telephones, and bricks; The steady things and homely things, and all the things required To make our complex lives—At night time, when we are too tired To be grown up and dignified, and when the lights are dim, And we knew to straighten out the things of Day with Hilm— When stars wink down through spaces infinite, to where we kneel, And through the man-made windows God-made breezes softly steal, And touch our cheek, and lift our hair, and drive away the grown. Up things we meant to bring to him. When all our words are flown, And we are just tired children, how it rests our souls to say The simple, unaffected prayers that little children pray.

The country's tallest man is dead at Texarkana, which means the medium will have to enlarge their cabinets if they expect to talk to him.—San Angelo Standard.

Enlarge their feet! Mejdunes don't talk to spirits in cabinets; they simply go into temporary cabinet seclusion while the spirit is receiving the message. The spirit may be a mile away, or a couple of miles, or even further; in fact they might be across half a dozen counties and still get by with a message. And besides that, the country's tallest man doesn't necessarily make the country's tallest spirit. Souls aren't constituted like trees, with roots, branches, and thicknesses; they are formed entirely of the fourth dimension, and a fourth dimension could get into any cabinet. It could get into a thimble if the necessity presented itself. It could get through a keyhole and that's something that fifty cents worth of sirloin steak can just barely do.

"No Chance. We can't communicate with them. Such be the things that are. For gasoline went down two cents. And we don't have a car."

The trouble with Russia is that everybody knows how to run the government but nobody knows how to meet the payroll.—El Paso Herald.

The trouble isn't indigenous to nations. It spreads to individuals. We all know how to govern nations, but we don't know how to pay the bills. It is a material thought that seldom intrudes itself into our plans of progression or improvement. We are idealistic and impractical. We know what should be, to be right, and we loftily dismiss the earthly consideration of whether. What are like Bobo? "Bobo" is a name I have heard. "Bobo" is a boy who has new slacks and new shoes and gloves and coat and new. That old sled is tacky." "Well, where will you get the money?" "Oh, we can charge it."

Like Father, Probably. Wanted: a son who can tend a furnace and move the lawn and not complain.—Gainesville Daily Herald.

You are going agin Nature. All progress is accompanied by some complaint; even growing has its growing pains! Besides, why deny son the luxury of being a boy? He cantankerous about finding a furnace and moving his sled? You probably raised geewillikins when you had to do it paid."

Among other pieces of consoling wreckage to be gathered from the electric wrecks is the sad fact that Victor Berger has been sent into retirement.—Galveston Tribune.

The only trouble is that so many statesmen (?) of the day have been entombed in innocent desuetude by some foolishness or other. The world is not the season for pink buttercups. We can show him morning glories and roses and violets and pinkie pines now, but he will come back about the first of next year to eat strawberries and loll amid pink buttercups. Now we are going to tell you another story, and it is a good one to tell just what the farmer said when he saw the giraffe: "Hell, there ain't no such animal!"—Aug. 28, 1920, Scotch humorist.

We don't know anything about Doug being a Scotch humorist, and we do know that you made up the "hell" part of the giraffe quotation. As for the pink buttercups we have never entered that famous discussion in all these years of the genial and jolly Thanksgiving spirit which pervaded the atmosphere as of any other element.

They extend special thanks to the members who planned and executed the sale, and to those who assisted in the program, as well as all those who responded so liberally with donations.

Starting out with a good principle, and sticking to it, accounts for the downright goodness of the Humpmobile. 192-192.

MOTHER GOOSE'S BENEFIT PARTY AT SAM HOUSTON BIG SUCCESS

The "Mother Goose" sale and party at Sam Houston school Friday night for the piano benefit was a splendid success. Three times as many persons as could be seated thronged the auditorium, making every square inch of the school great need for a larger assembly hall.

A very interesting program was given. Prof. Lickley, instructor in piano and voice, and Madames Deathridge and Meyer, the latter the expression teacher, who gave some highly appreciated numbers to give a recital at a later date. All did a creditable job. Refreshments served near the Mother Goose booth and where the guests could look out the window and see Jack busily climbing the beanstalk.

Many beautiful gifts were given for the sale, and many good things to eat, including homemade chocolates, pickles, picnics, and pies. A butcher knife made and donated by Charles Russell was sold at once. The financial part of the affair was also very successful, a total of $130 being realized, with only a small sum to be devoted to expenses. The Sam Houston Mothers' club, however, were as greatly appreciative of the genial and jolly Thanksgiving spirit which pervaded the atmosphere as of any other element.

They extend special thanks to the members who planned and executed the sale, and to those who assisted in the program, as well as all those who responded so liberally with donations.

Starting out with a good principle, and sticking to it, accounts for the downright goodness of the Humpmobile.

Amusement Calendar for Coming Week

MOTION
PICTURES"Katcha-Koo" First of Week Attraction
at Wichita Theater

The final rehearsal of the oriental extravaganza "Katcha Koo," which is to be presented by the local high school senior class tomorrow and Tuesday was held at the Wichita theater Saturday morning. After the last rehearsal, the girls practiced without a hitch the directions of the production pronounced everything in readiness for the opening performance Monday night.

At the Saturday morning rehearsal the full dress costumes were donned for the first time after many months of the girls had paraded about the stage for a short time and worn off all the feelings of "newness" they went through their various roles in a manner that was highly satisfactory to those who are working on the production.

The leading members of the cast have been drilled consistently in their parts and as a result have become thoroughly familiar with the things that will be expected of them. The supporting choruses have also been given their share of attention and can be relied upon to carry out their roles in a highly approved fashion.

The most difficult work of the directors was in the training of the many choruses of children that appear throughout the play. Over 150 little tots, ranging in age from three to six years, were on the stage at various times during the evening. Naturally the work of teaching this number to move, sing and act at the same time and in unison was no small task, but under the capable direction of those who have had the work in charge this difficult feat has been accomplished.

The play itself is of the kind that lends itself readily to the capacities of amateur actors, being a lively, humorous skit that has great entertaining possibilities without being complicated or having roles calling for a high degree of skill in the acting. The plot centers around "Katcha Koo," an oriental fakir who is really a distinguished Englishman wandering in the Orient.

The musical numbers of the play are comprised of many harmonious choruses, pleasing duets, quartets and solos, all of which are to be handled by capable voices.

having detected, him showing undue partiality for any particular person.

There are no very rigid court rules on the subject, but if the King, Queen, Duke and Duchess of Rumania are to be considered, the young prince would readily consent to a non-royal bride, and it is generally agreed that the King George and Queen Mary are desirous of marrying the young prince to choose for himself.

Equally with the Prince of Wales.

Princess Mary stands a fine chance of being permitted to take a non-royal husband, for there are no eligible Princesses of her own age left in Europe.

The younger Princesses of England may profit similarly.

One of the main qualifications for a non-royal Princess of Wales, or non-royal husband for Princess Mary, will be a substantial bank-roll, for the British Royal house is not wealthy.

But Four Princesses of Suitable Age for the Prince of WalesBy P. M. SAWL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON. (By Mail)—Who is going to be the next Queen of England?

This is the puzzle that certainly every woman and most of the newspapers and male folk in England are trying to solve.

For the first time since the matrimonial experiments of bluff King Henry the Eighth, there is an excellent chance for a woman to ascend the throne of England, to say nothing of hundreds of brilliant debutantes who six years ago would have admitted ruled out of the contest, realize that the Imperial Crown is well within their grasp, plus a very presentable Prince Charles whom they can manage to rope in the Prince of Wales.

Among the many social upheavals caused by the war not the least striking is the difference it has made to the Prince of Wales. Without a world war, he would certainly have been married—according to plan and probably before now—some German princess or other princess. He might have been given a choice of two or three, but his list for selection would have been strictly limited. But with the wiping out of the Russian royal family, and the total eclipse of the German and Austrian dynasties, he has been given a wide range of cards for himself and claims a fresh deal.

In fact there are only four princesses of suitable age left in Europe. They are the Italian Princess Yolanda, and the Spanish Princess Victoria, and the two daughters of King George V.

Hence the matchmakers have turned to the "Old Nobility" of England and right here the said Old Nobility must be kicked out of the race, for it hasn't produced any suitable daughters to offer. Taking the three highest ranks, twenty-eight dukes can only provide fourteen daughters of suitable age, forty-two marquises but fifteen and 225 earls, a paucity thirty-seven eligible candidates. Three-quarters of these would be acceptable, though lack of fortune, personal looks or on account of "entanglements," divorces, etc., of their parents or near relatives, for no scandal must be raised to against the future Queen of England nor can "dubious" relatives be tolerated.

Advocates of Anglo-American friend-ship are pointing for an American bride, and the prince has doubtless seen plenty of suitable candidates over here, but the wish of the man-in-the-street undoubtedly is for "Our Young Man" to make an English marriage. So far, however, no indication of his choice has been given by the Prince himself, nor even the most confirmed matchmaker.

BOB WAGGONER BUILDING

SAYS PROFITEER IS PARTLY RESPONSIBLE FOR WAVE OF CRIME

STATEMENT IS MADE BY SECRETARY OF COMMITTEE ON PRISONS.

FEWER PETTY OFFENSES MORE CRIMES OF VIOLENCE

Reconstruction Period After War Always Results In So-Called Crime Wave.

By L. R. BLANCHARD
United Press Staff Correspondent.
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Profiteers are partly responsible for the increased crime wave now affecting many sections of the country, Miss Julia K. Jaffray, secretary of the committee on prisons and prison labor, declared in an interview today.

As secretary of this body, which is a national organization, Miss Jaffray has done much research and found stories of the successful operations of profiteers led to a reckless belief among easily led men that they could "get away with smaller crimes and illegalities."

Prison surveys recently made show a great increase in gravity of crime with a sharp increase in crimes of violence. Post war relaxation, noticeable in all classes of society, freedom from military discipline, and reaction from spiritual exaltation of war-time contribute to the present wave of crime. Miss Jaffray declared, "The period of readjustment after prohibition with 'police not arresting men for drunkenness' played a part, she said.

Always Follows War.
The reconstruction period, after a great war always has resulted in a second crime wave. Miss Jaffray added, "The movement is accelerated by such contributing cause as the sensational exposures of profiteers, leading reckless spirits to think 'if the big fellow can get away with it why can't I make a haul.' High-salaried police boys during the war, following discharge, went to the streets authority changing conditions in industry, and the over pay of skilled workers.

One other cause of the increase in crime is rarely taken into consideration—the opportunity which a time of unrest affords for the criminal to "get even" with society, to wreak his vengeance. Four hundred and fifty thousand men and women are discharged annually from prisons and jails and workhouses throughout the country. A good sized army disgruntled, untrained, the outcome of our present military prison system.

"The one practical step toward the prevention or minimizing of similar crime waves in the future lies in the re-organization of prison systems along sane and constructive lines."

Special to The Times.
GRAHAM, TEXAS, Nov. 20.—Production and testing which has been rapidly shifting toward Graham in this section of the state took another big stride almost up to Graham's door this week, when the Roxana, one of the largest companies in the state of Texas, started work on its W. C. Burns well, only three and one-half miles southwest of here.

Business men and other interested in Young county oil fields are jubilant over the newest location in the county which is accepted as conclusive proof that the Roxana thinks the decision of her geologists concerning Young county should be put to a test.

MAKE PREPARATIONS TO CARE FOR TEACHERS AT COMING ANNUAL SESSION

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, Nov. 20.—Preparations practically have been completed to care for 6,000 public school teachers of Texas who will meet here in annual session on November 25, 26 and 27. The salary problem will be the center of interest at the meeting. Status of pay in Texas as well as in other states will be discussed at the convention.

The convention will open Thanksgiving evening at the First Baptist Church with the inauguration address by Dr. R. V. Wilson, president of the State Teachers' Association as well as the University of Texas. Other speakers on opening evening will be Miss Annie Webb Elanton, superintendent of public instruction in Texas and President Frank L. McWay of the University of Kentucky.

The technical sessions of the meeting will begin Friday morning with departmental meetings. Friday night another public session will be held with the following speakers: T. H. Harris, superintendent of the department of education of the University of Louisville; Paton Ronan and Dr. Bruce R. Payne, head of the George Peabody College for Teachers at Nashville, Tenn.

More technical meetings will be held all day Saturday and the closing exercises Saturday night will include addresses by Bishop Clinton S. Quinn of Houston and by James G. McNary, president of the First National Bank of El Paso.

Prior to the opening of the convention a Thanksgiving service will be held at 10:30 a. m. November 25 at the Baptist Church at which state officials and the teachers will be the principal speakers.

STERILIZED GLASSES

TRENCHING MACHINE FOR SEWER WORK IS MONSTER AFFAIR

The ordinance recently passed by the city council requiring the use of sterile containers for the dispensing of ice cream and soft drinks went into effect Saturday, and arrangements are being made by the city health department to enforce it. The following statement regarding the ordinance was issued Saturday by the department:

"The ordinance requires that when glassware or such permanent materials are used they shall be sterilized after each serving by steam, hot water, air or other approved method. When steam is used the article should be subjected to the action of live steam for several minutes. When hot water is used the temperature should be 212 degrees Fahrenheit and the articles should be subjected to this temperature for at least thirty minutes. When hot air is used the length of time will depend upon the temperature; thirty minutes at 212 degrees Fahrenheit, but the time of treatment may be reduced as the temperature is increased."

"The ordinance further provides that common and degradable material may be used, but requires that they be kept sterile and discarded after being served to one person."

"The department realized that the installation of sterilizing equipment is quite expensive and for that reason made the provision that cheap, degradable containers may be used."

"This regulation is strictly in accordance with the general trend of nation-wide progress in sanitation and is a forward step in the abolishment of means by which contagious diseases are transmitted."

"Please let you appreciate that anything which is of benefit to the community at large is in some degree beneficial to yourself and deserves your support, we are depending on you to co-operate with the health department in making the compliance with the provisions of this ordinance 100 per cent."

DAIRYMEN ORGANIZE TO PROMOTE INDUSTRY

Temporary organization of a dairy association was effected at a meeting of dairy men held at the city hall Sunday night. The members of the dairy men present favored the plan strongly, and pledged their support to an organization that would promote local interest in the dairy industry, bring together those interested in the industry for the general purpose of discussing subjects of interest and promoting cooperative efforts in the upbuilding of the dairy business.

Dr. A. H. Douglass, city sanitary officer, was elected temporary chairman; Walter McGrath, temporary secretary and treasurer, and a committee was appointed to draft and submit bylaws at the next meeting, which is to be held December 1. It is expected a larger attendance will be present at the next meeting and that permanent organization will be effected at that time. All who are interested in dairy products and the dairy business are asked to attend.

Church of Christ to Hold Services in Baptist Church

Sunday, for the first time, the Church of Christ will hold service in the building purchased from the First Baptist church at the corner of Tenth and Austin streets.

About ten years ago a handful of Christians erected the frame building at the corner of Eleventh and Bluff streets in which they have ever since held their services. During this interval C. A. Buchanan, C. D. Crouch and E. Christian have preached for them. The Rev. G. W. Denhaas, the present minister, came here from Houston the first of this year.

The church now has a membership of more than 225, and it expects to enter a larger field of usefulness and service and to launch a more active campaign for example New Testament Christians, adding new dimensions, following apostolic precedent and avoiding the traditions that men have added to the doctrines of Christ and innovations in the worship of God.

of the trenching machine which is to be used in the construction of the new sewer system arrived in Wichita Falls Friday and will be put to work immediately. One machine of somewhat similar design but of much smaller size is now in operation across the river and the new arrival will commence on this side and work out into the city.

The trenching presents an awe inspiring sight even when resting sedately on a flat car, so when it is running at full speed it gives promise of being a terrifying spectacle.

It stands fully 20 feet high and with all attachments will probably exceed 50 feet in length. The engine is a steam engine, complete power plant consisting of fire box, boiler and a compound engine which operates the endless series of buckets that dig into the ground. This engine also furnishes motive power by which the entire contraption may be moved along the ground. This is accomplished by means of a caterpillar tread, supported by two sets of heavy wheels at each end of the frame.

The machine will dig a trench six feet wide and any depth desired. The local system will require a trench depth of about twenty feet according to officers of the C. R. Nichols Company, who have the contract for the construction of the new system.

This trencher was built especially for the C. R. Nichols company by the

A few useful bits of knowledge for the shop where repairs are carried out is the fact that a weld can be stopped by placing a piece of paper between the metal parts to be welded just before they are brought to welding heat.

It is a curious fact that the metal will not run together at the place where the paper is located.

BERT BEAN COFFEE CO.

The Purina System of Feeding keeps the flock laying in the fall and the winter, because it supplies plenty of material for whites as well as for yolks. This enables the hen to make complete eggs of all the yolks that develop in her body.

When a grain ration is fed there is not enough protein for whites. Many yolks that form are not laid, but are eventually absorbed back into the system as fat.

More-Eggs Guarantee

Purina Chows, when fed according to directions, are guaranteed to make hens lay more eggs than any other feed, or the money paid for Purina Chows will be refunded.

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS'

By WILLIAM H. STEWART, JR.

Motor Department: Could you tell me through your paper if a small vacuum tank (one with a small four-cylinder engine) is large enough to properly feed a heavy four-cylinder car? After going wide open a little distance the engine begins to skip and soon stops entirely. I then find that the vacuum feed tank has been emptied of gasoline. Is this tank defective itself? —READER.

Undoubtedly the tank is too small. You should use a larger vacuum tank. Size 112-A tank is recommended.

Motor Department: What is meant by "the advance and retard of the spark"? Does advancing the spark increase its volume? I understand that the amount of spark depends on the advance.

Advancing and retarding do not effect the volume of the spark, but rather the time it takes to pass through the cylinder in relation to the piston position. If the spark occurs when piston is past dead center, it is then termed retarded; if before dead center, it is advanced. When cranking a motor very slowly, on battery system, the spark must be retarded or else an explosion may take place in the cylinder before piston has reached top center and reverses. This reversing is termed a kick, and is dangerous. The amount of advance to give the spark when driving depends upon the speed of the motor, as the motor is pulling hard and turning over slowly, then the spark cannot be so far advanced. If turning freely and fast, then the full advance is advisable.

Motor Department: What is meant by "clockwise" and "anti-clockwise" on a magneto? Can they be used on the same engine? —M. M.

These terms refer to the direction of rotation of the armature, seen from the driving end. This is usually indicated on the oil cover by the arrow. The magneto must be driven in this direction of the circuit breaker. If the arrow is to be driven in the opposite direction, the parts must be changed accordingly.

Motor Department: Kindly inform me if the motor will have spark plug inserted in the engine and not longer than three made of porcelain. —READER.

Consistent with the policy of this column, we cannot answer queries of preference in design. However, it might be said that the porcelain plug is more easily broken than a mica plug, but on the other hand it is not likely to become saturated with the products of combustion.

Motor Department: What is the meaning of a direct drive and an indirect drive and an internal drive gear?

Direct drive on a selective sliding gear set is where the clutch shaft and the spline shaft are locked together on third speed. This drives directly through the gears without using countershaft or gears. Indirect drive is when the power is transmitted in should be a slight bulge where the tire touches the ground; that is, when the car is filled with water. Otherwise, say that you should pump until the bulge just disappears and then claim to tell the pressure by knocking the tire. Are any of these methods reliable?

—E. S.
The only proper test is by means of a pressure gauge. Multiply the cross section diameter of tire by 28 pounds, if a rear tire, or by 12 pounds if a front tire. This will give you the pounds pressure required. Thus a 3x14 tire would need 80 pounds pressure, if used on rear wheels, or 72 pounds on front wheels. If pressure is stated on tire, go by that instead of above rule.

Motor Department: My trouble is that when I have the foot brake working right, the clutch and brake being on the same pedal, and one person sitting in the back seat, it works fine. When I get a load in the back seat the foot brake binds. I have had great men working on it and cannot find the trouble. I will look in the next issue of the paper for what you think is the trouble.

—A. L.
The trouble should be located by examining the brake mechanism when the car is loaded. Perhaps you have shortened too much the brake rod running from pedal back. Lengthen this rod and make necessary adjustments on the two short rods further back. This will also permit more throw to clutch pedal and effect a better clutch release action.

Motor Department: In descending a long hill should one use both the foot and emergency brake or just the foot brake?

—E. L.
In descending a hill the driver usually controls the speed of the car by the use of the brakes. It is good practice to equalize the wear on each set of brakes. The service brake is the one most used; therefore, when opportunity offers, it would seem advisable to use the emergency brake. The term "emergency" does not specially apply to cases of emergency, but is rather an extra set of brakes for use should the service brake fail to hold sufficiently at any time. The driver must exercise judgment in the use of his brakes, and should keep both in equally good condition.

Motor Department: What should one do with a cone clutch to prevent a car starting with a jerk?

—L. K.
Unless the clutch leather is badly worn the trouble can be remedied by softening the leather with an application of linseed oil and cotton seed oil. Then come to apply the oil is not right, or at some time when the car is not to be used for several hours. After removing the floor board hold the clutch out in some way and apply the oil liberally. As the clutch is held disengaged from the flywheel the oil will soak in and continue to soak into the pores of the leather. If you find the leather worn down it would be advisable to have a new leather installed. Some times a shoulder is worn in the clutch leather by contact with the edge of the flywheel, and in such a case the clutch face should be removed and relined or turned down in a lathe.

Motor Department: Please let me know what the best pressure in a tire is when the power is transmitted cooling system immediately. Pour in half a bucketful of water while engine is running and wait several minutes before adding any more. Cold water coming in contact with red hot cylinders will crack them.

If your engine has the thermo system of cooling be sure to keep the radiator filled with water. When the water falls below the inlet connection then circulation is seriously retarded. Even the water pump system needs to be full at all times in order to insure best results.

The blades of some fans have the habit of working loose on account of defective riveting at the hubs. For this reason a new fan should be carefully watched for a time. A loose blade can do a good deal of damage to the radiator when it breaks. Great many radiators are severely damaged from this cause.

Clogging of the cooling system may be prevented by cleaning it at least twice a year with a solution involving about 100 pounds of it in hot water and pour into radiator, running the car as usual. After a day's use drain the water.

The overheating must be due to a defective radiator. While you may not be able to detect anything wrong with it, nevertheless there may be a great amount of deposit upon the inner walls of the radiator. It is not to great detail to reduce the cooling efficiency. Would suggest that you have the radiator thoroughly cleaned and

WHY LET THEM LINGER?

To get rid of a cold quick—to keep it from lingering on, day after day—that's the thing!

—And there are thousands of people who can tell you that the best way to get rid of a cold quick is to use Hunt's Lightning Oil!

When you feel your chest or throat becoming congested, simply apply Hunt's Lightning Oil. Now the pleasant feeling of it is important. Feel the tingling of the stimulated circulation. And best of all, notice how quickly you are freed from the wretched discomfort so common in bad colds.

And for sore throat too, Hunt's Lightning Oil will greatly surprise you.

HUNT'S LIGHTNING OIL

An excellent method of remedying squeaky brakes consists in smearing a very light coating of ordinary washing soap on the surface of the brake drums. A few applications of the soap will quickly put an end to further squeaking.

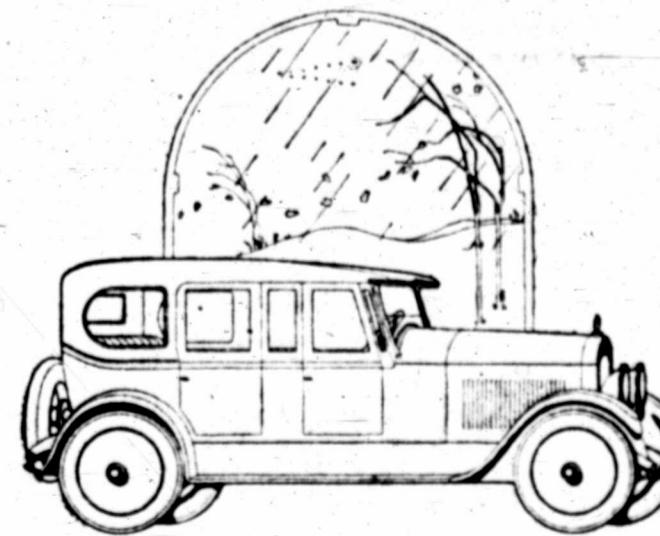

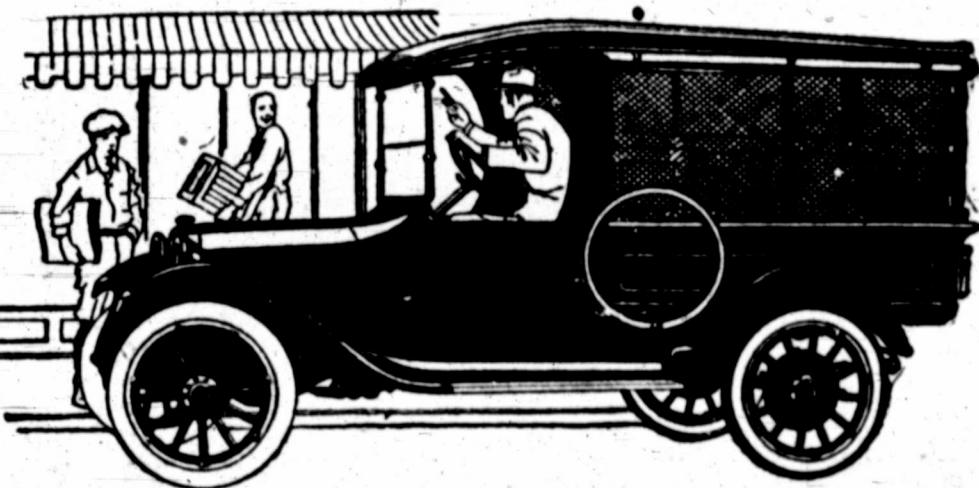

It might be thought that the soap would prevent the brake from taking hold effectively. Practical experience, however, has demonstrated that this is not the case and that while this squeak is eliminated, braking efficiency unimpaired.

Cole Aero-Eight

The Aero-Eight is so Designed That It Can Be Renewed and Restored With Little Effort or Expense

The reason why Aero-Eights can be restored to their original beauty and efficiency after long, hard service is because they have been especially designed so that renewal is both easy and inexpensive.

The same sand has been struck by other wells but it has never produced in commercial quantities up to date. The Panhandle well has not been fully tested yet but has been estimated at 100 barrels.

The Ryan Petroleum Co., No. 1, producer across the river from the K. M. A. field, bailed salt water last week and they were preparing to run a string of 5 1/2-16 casing in the well to shut off the water, according to in-

At a convention of Texas undertakers held at Dallas last Tuesday, preliminary steps were taken for the formation of a company for the manufacture of caskets, the corporation to be known as "The Undertakers' Cooperative Casket Manufacturing Company," with a capitalization of $100,000.

Dale W. Hines, of Wichita Falls, is an all candidate for the proposed factory and a committee is to be appointed to look over the several propositions and report to the prospective stockholders.

O. W. Hines, an undertaker here, who was present at the convention at Dallas, and who suggested this city as a suitable site for the factory, expects to lay the matter before the chamber of commerce and ask its co-operation.
