SHOOTING ALSO AT NEWTOWN WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON; COOK SHOTS WAITER THREE TIMES

J. D. Bridwell, an aged man employed in the Watson store at Bridgetown, was shot and instantly killed Wednesday night by a highjacker. Three shots were also fired at the owner of the store, but these failed of their mark.

According to information received over the telephone from Bridgetown this morning, the highjacker opened the door and at once began shooting, the first shot striking Bridwell who was seated near the entrance. It was thought that his shooting so early was due to the fact that the proprietor had started for his gun when the door was opened. Bridwell was shot in the head and his brains oozed from the gaping wound inflicted.

Another shooting scrape took place at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon in a restaurant at Newtown when a man whose name could not be learned was shot three times. Meager details of the affair which were available in this city gave the information that the victim was seriously wounded but would probably recover. His assailant is said to be lodged in the Burkburnett jail at the present time.

It was said that a cook in a Newtown cafe had quarreled with a waiter in the same establishment and that the former pulled a gun and fired three times, all shots taking effect. The cook fled but was captured shortly after.

ARMED CONFLICT IS NARROWLY AVERTED

WARSAW, Nov. 24.—Armed conflict between Polish forces and bolshevik troops which have reached the Polish frontier along the Zebroca river was narrowly averted yesterday when the bolsheviks began a bombardment of the town of Podolowocyska, about 25 miles east of Tarnopol. Polish military authorities protested against the bombardment, which caused the deaths of five persons and serious injury of sixteen others.

ARMED CONFLICT IS NARROWLY AVERTED

The Poles were preparing to attack the bolshevik when the bombardment stopped and the soviet commander sent a delegation to the town, explaining the place was fired upon because of a misunderstanding. The bolsheviks, however, refused to accept the explanation and the fighting resumed. Reports also indicate that Pettura's army, commanded by General Pavlenko, has been wiped out. More than 25,000 fugitives from these armies have recently crossed the Polish frontier and have been disbanded by the Poles and sent to various internment camps.

KELL IS OPTIMISTIC REGARDING FINANCIAL OUTLOOK OF COUNTRY

Frank Kell, whose view of the business world is probably as broad as that of any man in the State of Texas, is very optimistic concerning the financial outlook over the country, and especially in the South and West.

"The uncertainty which prevails concerning financial conditions, owing to the decline in prices," he says, "is due largely to the imagination. While it is the duty of all to liquidate their indebtedness to the utmost limit, and aid in restoring conditions to the normal, at the same time, with the large crops that have been grown in the southern and western part of the country, and the fact that the Southwest will come safely through the present depression, and next spring, by which time conditions ought to be normal, we shall be back on a sound commercial basis."

RETIRING LEADER OF CIRCLE THREE ENTERTAINED MONDAY

Mrs. T. R. Boone, retiring member of Circle Three Mission society of the First Methodist church, south, was hostess to the circle members Monday at her home. Mrs. Boone was assisted by Mesdames Nathan B. Chesault, L. Wheeler and Dobson, and her sisters, Mrs. Lillian Moore and Miss Guskie Kiel.

Mrs. A. M. Hartsook, known better to her friends as "Mother" Hartsook, led the devotional, assisted by Mrs. H. D. Knickerbocker and Mrs. C. B. Haney. Mrs. Hartsook opened the devotional of the first circle meeting of the year, and it was felt particularly appropriate that she should close the year's devotional service this time.

Other enjoyable features of the meeting were the inspirational talk by Rev. Dr. Knickerbocker and the reading by Miss Elvia Altman of St. Mary's academy. Miss Altman is an advanced student of Mrs. E. L. Fulton's expression class. She gave a very beautiful cutting from "The Coming Out of Hannah" which she followed with a lyric, "The Petrified Fern," read with a keen appreciation of the epic spirit that dominates the poem. There were several encores appropriate to the occasion also.

A very dainty refreshment course was served to the following members and guests: Mesdames W. A. Boone, J. M. Brown, C. E. Basham, C. H. Clark, N. B. Chesault, George Dolson, W. H. Downing, J. A. Deaton, O. H. Drake, W. O. Hollis, K. B. Haynie, Knickerbocker, H. G. King, C. M. McFarland, M. H. Moore, T. S. Moody, W. W. Mann, Ben G. O'Neal, W. L. Palmer, Francis Rahn, G. C. Raley, C. W. Snider, E. W. Shaw, Frank Timberlake, Saunders Walker, L. Wheeler, Hugh Weaver, Jim Young, J. A. Lory, C. H. Thompson, Duff, Martin, Lillian Moore, Brown and Randolph and Misses Altman and Kiel, the last seven named being visitors.

APPROXIMATELY $10,000 FOR ALBANY ORPHANAGE RAISED HERE THIS WEEK

Approximately $10,000 has been raised among the friends of the Reynolds' Presbyterian Orphanage at Albany in the past week by Mrs. Willie Addington, field secretary of the orphanage.

Mrs. Addington has been assisted in her work here by J. W. Culbertson, and it is stated that a number of those interested in the Albany orphanage will subscribe the first of the year. The $10,000 fund is to be added to $10,000 subscribed by Wichita Falls oil men last year for the erection and furnishing of a dining hall. Before the dining hall could be built, on account of the building situation here, the orphanage very nearly doubled in "population" and it became clear that a much larger and better equipped hall would be required.

Mother Says Ware's Baby Powder Saved Her Four Children

Has used this Remedy 14 years and believes it "best on earth" for stomach and bowel trouble.

When a mother writes that not one child, but FOUR, were saved from death by a simple, harmless stomach and bowel remedy, further evidence of its great power is unnecessary. This mother, Mrs. E. G. Ayres of Teale, Texas, says: "I have five children, and believe it was not for Ware's Baby Powder four of them would have died. I have used it for fourteen years, and found it one of the best remedies on earth for stomach and bowel trouble."

Ware's Baby Powder is given to babies in liquid form, mixed with sugar and water, and they love it. Absolutely harmless. 60c and 1.25 the package of all drug stores. Send for Dr. Ware's booklet on the treatment of the stomach and bowels—free.

Mrs. Chalmers Taylor opened her handsome new home at 1104 Grant street Tuesday afternoon to the members of Mrs. O. L. Powers' Bible class of the First Baptist church. The informal program included a short business session, which was followed by a "get acquainted" contest. The contest provoked a great deal of merriment, and was followed by other entertainment and later by the serving of a delicious refreshment course.

YOUNGER BUSINESS GIRLS GUESTS AT SOCIAL MEETING OF BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB

Between thirty and thirty-five of the younger business and employed girls were special guests of the Business Women's club at their regular monthly social meeting Tuesday night at the Y. W. C. A.

Banquet tables were arranged for seventy-five, and a very dainty supper served in two courses by the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria director. Place cards suggested the Thanksgiving season, and the tables looked especially pretty with their chrysanthemum centerpieces.

Following the supper the members and guests were invited into the living room by Miss Josephine Mann, chairman of the "birthday social" program for the meeting, and an especially attractive musical and reading program was contributed to the enjoyment of the evening by talented friends of the club. Mrs. A. H. Britain played a very beautiful piano solo, Miss Gwendolyn Walters read "Whispering Will" and responded to an insistent encore with "The Patchwork Quilt." Mesdames Clifford, Fred Barron and R. A. Lyle sang "The Shoogy-Shoo," and Miss Jane Walters interpreted a very pretty dance from the Mikado, in costume.

Dr. Knickerbocker, who was among the special guests, made a short talk to the young women which was very appreciatively applauded, after which Miss Jackson, president of the club, very happily introduced Mrs. W. W. Silk, president of the Y. W. board and one of the most energetic and conscientious workers with that body in behalf of the girls. Mrs. Silk addressed the young women informally, congratulating them particularly on the growth and splendid spirit of the club.

CIVIC LEAGUE TEA GUESTS GIVE $300 TO DAY NURSE, "BABY" TO MRS. O. W. HARVEY

Guests at the beautifully appointed Civic League tea held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Culbertson Wednesday afternoon made up a purse of $300 for presentation to the Wichita Falls day nursery.

The tea was one of the prettiest and most successful club affairs ever held in the city, and the splendid co-operation of the local study clubs, all represented by assistant hostesses throughout the reception and dining room suite, was a considerable factor in making it so.

The Culbertson home was in its gladdest holiday array. Yellow, white and lavender plum chrysanthemums with their subtle oriental fragrance suggested the autumn season, and achieved, in the dining room, the height of their artistic success.

Still another feature was the drawing of the mysterious "baby" which caused so much discussion before the tea. Mrs. O. W. Harvey, 126 Taylor street, possessor of card 156, is also the possessor of a rosy, dimpled and beautifully dressed baby doll.

The picture donated to the Civic League by the committee, by Emil Hermann, local artist, was very much admired. The painting, "The Susquehanna Valley" is to be auctioned by the League at its regular meeting, December 6th, when a special social event is planned.

JOHN W. GILL OF GALVESTON WEDS MRS. PEARL A. DEW

A quiet wedding ceremony was solemnized at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. B. Hicks, 227 Eighth street, when John W. Gill of Galveston, Texas, and Mrs. Pearl A. Dew were united in the bonds of matrimony.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served and a box party at the Wichita opera house was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks left Wednesday evening for Dallas for a visit with the bride's mother, where an elaborate wedding dinner was served Thursday.

After December 1 Mr. and Mrs. Hicks will be at home to their friends at 1813 Broadway, Galveston, Texas, where Mr. Gill is connected with the Santa Fe railroad company. The bride is well known in this city and has a host of friends.

REVIVE INTEREST IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF RAILROADS IN TEXAS

DALLAS, TEXAS, Nov. 25.—Interest in railroad building in Texas is reviving, according to information gathered by the Texas chamber of commerce research department, and the next few years will probably see the blotting out of the last three big railroad-less areas from the face of the Texas map. The highest of these areas lies south of San Antonio, extending to the southern Pacific near the border, covering all or the greater part of twelve counties. Two projects are under way for crossing this area. One is to extend from San Angelo to Del Rio through Sonora. This line has long been contemplated and the right-of-way from San Angelo to Sonora has already been acquired. The second project would build a line from San Angelo to San Antonio through the counties of Sonora and El Dorado, or through Junction and Menard.

International Projects.
Two international railroad projects which vitally affect this section of the state are the Del Rio-Allende and Alpine-Chihuahua City lines. The line out of Del Rio to Allende, Coahuila, together with the Del Rio-San Angelo line, would open a direct line of traffic from Mexico City to Kansas City. The second international project would extend the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railroad beyond Alpine, Texas, to Chihuahua City, and a party of railroad officials is now in Mexico to survey the proposed route. The construction of this line and the building of a short gap in the K. C., M. & O. railroad in the mountainous country of the west-eastern points through Texas. At present only one line touches the west coast of Mexico, the Southern Pacific which crosses the border at Nogales, Arizona.

Undeveloped Section.
The second great undeveloped territory of the southwest lies in the vicinity of Yoakum and Cochran counties of Texas and the eastern part of the big counties of Eddy and Chaves in New Mexico. This area is bounded on the northeast by the Pecos and North Texas, on the northwest by the Texas and Pacific, and on the west by the segment of the Pecos and Northwestern, which circles from Pecos, Texas, through New Mexico to the Texas-New Mexico line at Farwell. Already the iron horse has driven three salients into this sector, extending to Lamesa, and Sagrasta from the north and to Seminole from the south. However, an east and west line is needed for the development of this country; and it is now proposed in the form of a line from Rotan west through Lamesa and Seminole westward to Roswell, N. M.

Third Area Suggested.
Still a third area in need of railroad development, somewhat smaller than the other two, is that part of the state lying directly south of Jourdan and extending to the Rio Grande. This is traversed at one point by an east-west railroad, but it is now proposed to build a north-south line out of San Antonio into the Rio Grande valley. Several routes have been proposed. Another railroad in this area is the so-called "Down the River" railroad from Laredo to San Fordyce. These two cities are only about 100 miles apart, but a circuitous route of nearly 250 miles is now necessary for railroad travel between the two points. Such a line would connect two rich irrigation

Vaudeville Bill Is Well Received by Wichita Patrons

A bill that was noticeable for its absence of women actresses was presented at the Wichita theater Wednesday night and although well received was very plainly below the standard of excellence set by the entertainment of last week.

But four acts were offered at the initial performance, one of the scheduled five having failed to arrive in the city in time for the opening presentations, and in the four, but one woman appeared.

Everests novelty circus composed entirely of monkeys, made the big hit of the evening in spite of some noticeable mechanical failures. A monkey jazz band which emitted some fearful music from a bass drum, cymbals and bells was the feature of the performance and drew prolonged applause from the audience.

Paul and Lew Murock in their song and dance highball gave some clever dance steps that denoted more than ordinary ability. Both of these performers were hard workers and succeeded in putting their act across in forceful fashion.

In their "Chinese Circus" Jerome Newell presented a unique musical and acrobatic program. Opening duets by the two men, played with a flute and a nameless one-stringed violin affair were followed by some

ONE TON OF PRODUCE FOR EACH OF 107,000,000 INHABITANTS IS THE FOOD RESPONSE OF THE FARMER

By RALPH F. COUCH, U. P. Staff Correspondent.
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—One ton of grain, vegetables and fruits for each of the 107,000,000 inhabitants of the United States is the response of farmers to the popular appeal of the country for more and cheaper food, reports to the agricultural department indicated appropriately today—Thanksgiving day.
 Farmers are now harvesting the last of this bumper yield, almost unprecedented in the nation's history.
 City dwellers, sitting down today to their holiday fare, might reflect that the nation's harvest is bountiful enough to feed every inhabitant, his own weight once each month, during the coming twelve, if the average American resident (including children and infants) is rated at 100 pounds, and there still remains enough food to fatten the starving millions in central and southern Europe at the same rate for eight more months.
 Farmers complain that the very bounty of their harvest has brought many of their number to the very verge of ruin because of reduced prices. These, they charge, are absorbed by speculators and middlemen and not passed along to the consumer. Farmers have made some gains, though, in land values, which have jumped 100 per cent in some localities and in smaller though substantial percentages throughout the entire United States, according to agriculture department reports. Even a ten per cent jump in land values and machinery would give the farmers an aggregate profit of something more than $5,000,000,000, it is estimated.
 Other government reports are plentiful, showing that the entire nation has enjoyed prosperity of a kind.
 Approximately five million persons who paid income taxes to the federal government received an average income of $3,000, or an aggregate of $15,000,000,000 in salaries, rents and dividends. This is more than half of the gigantic sum spent by the nation during the great war. These figures are based on reports of the internal revenue bureau.
 In the records of the labor department are reports showing that millions of workers enjoyed wages highest in history.
 In addition to earnings that apply provide food, shelter and clothing, hundreds of thousands found themselves with remaining funds sufficient to satisfy the need for recreation and luxuries. According to one estimate, based on government reports, the nation is buying entertainment at theaters, clubs, dance halls, parks and other places of amusement at the rate of nearly $1,000,000,000 a year. A total of approximately $2,600,000,000 was spent for articles legally classed as luxuries, because of a buyers' or war tax which must be paid on them at the time of purchase.

DALLAS WOMAN IS KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Jesse Hassell, Part Owner Dallas Ball Team Faces Charge Of Negligent Homicide.
 DALLAS, TEXAS, Nov. 25.—Jesse Hassell, president and part owner of the Dallas baseball club of the Texas league, faced charges of negligent homicide here today following death of Mrs. P. C. Ham, Dallas, under the wheels of his automobile.
 The victim of the accident was identified today by her husband following an all night search by Hassell and police for friends or relatives.
 The woman was dressed in plain black serge. She carried no handbag, and clothing was devoid of marks that might be used for identification. Hassell and Tom Erwin, Texas league umpire, also in the car, said she darted in front of the machine as they drove into a safety zone.

THE PERENNIAL IRISH QUESTION GROWS WORSE.

The rioting in Dublin, with twenty-five killed and a hundred wounded, was the worst since the Easter riots of three years ago.

The Irish problem is already virtually open rebellion; it cannot continue much longer without breaking into civil warfare.

There is right on both sides, and there is wrong on both sides. A compromise regarding the rights of both Irish and British certainly is possible if responsibly placed persons on both sides would agree to necessary concessions.

proceeding between the state department at Washington and the foreign office at Tokio, and—the bill passing, as we believe it will—will join California, Oregon, Washington and other states in opposition to any treaty which attempts to open the way for putting Japanese immigration on a parity with that of other nations.

Senator Curtis, republican senate whip, would dispose of the income end of the government by a tariff bill which would produce a billion dollars a year. It is very much simpler to raise a billion dollars from the tariff on paper than in actual currency, as others have found who sought to increase public revenues by the simple expedient of raising import duties, and increased rates do not mean increased revenues beyond a certain limit.

The Fort Worth Record explains why Cass county went republican: "Cass county is an anti-suffrage county, an anti-nationwide county, an anti-Wilson county," and asks, "Is it true that there are moonshiners and many illicit stills in the Sulphur bottoms?"

Right Mental Attitude. (From the Cincinnati Enquirer.)

The majority of people, at times, discover—or think they have discovered—that the times are out of joint.

The result of the election doesn't suit us; business is not up to standard; the furnace becomes asthmatic, coughs, chills, and otherwise misbehaves promptly with the arrival of the first cold wave; the street cars are packed; the breakfast coffee is insipid and cold; things at the office or factory have succumbed to the deviltry of some linax or other.

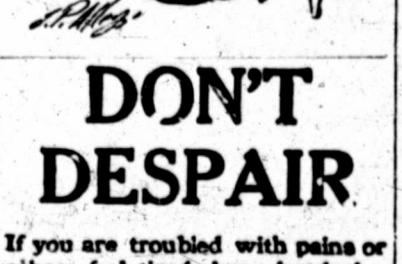

But the right mental attitude is easy of attainment. It simply, in most instances, is a case of "go to it," and make the best of it.

Get out of doors early these mornings. Fill your lungs with unvitrated oxygen, consider the skies and the trees, the drifting leaves, and hear the clear, merry notes of the late-remaining birds.

Grouchiness and gloom can not withstand the necromancy of a bright November morning.

IS IT ALSO ACCEPTABLE TO THE UNITED STATES? News from Tokio is that a new treaty has been proposed between Japan and the United States that is "acceptable" to Japan.

There is a growing suspicion on this side of the Pacific that the "to-do" in Japan over American exclusion laws is camouflage, intended to stir up a smoke-screen behind which Japan may secure advantages in the Orient.

Japan wants an adaptation of the Monroe doctrine for the Pacific, has efficacy, but with the difference that it would make it give Japan hegemony over eastern nations whereas the American application of the doctrine is merely to give nations on this continent freedom of action from European domination.

Thanksgiving. For strength which has sustained us through the day.

Dear Lord, our thanks we give! For every star that lights life's friendly way.

And makes it good to live, Once more, with grateful hearts and reverent prayer.

Our gratitude we offer for Thy care. For fruit of field and vine and orchard tree.

The sunshine and the rain, The tempests weathered on the land and sea.

Accept our thanks again, Almighty God from whom all blessings come.

Hear now our prayers, though long our lips were dumb.

For freedom and our country, clean of hate, Our children at their play.

Our homes where peace and love and joy await, Accept our thanks today.

Oh God, in all we do and yet may dare, Make us, we pray, more worthy of Thy care.

Side Talks

By RUTH CAMERON

On Being Positive. Don't you hate positiveness in matters of opinions?

Don't you hate it in others and aren't you ashamed of it when you find it in yourself?

Almost always when I've been positive, I have to regret it afterwards.

I never hear anyone who has not tried auction bridge declare that he prefers bid whist without remembering how positive he was, before I learned, that I too could never like auction as well as bid. And I promise myself I will never be so positive again.

And then there's Christian Science. How virulently positive I used to be against that! Not that I have become Scientific, but I mean, but I have come to see that there may be more things in heaven and earth than are dreamed of in my philosophy.

Positives always defeat its own ends because it never convinces.

We are apt to smile a quiet inward smile at the man or woman who is always about things—if we are too polite to smile outside.

Of course it is a splendid thing to know what you know. But that isn't being positive, being sure.

We like to meet people who are sure about things that they have reason to be sure of. They give you a feeling of dependability. For instance, what a joy is the one man-in-ten who, when I asked the time, will not say, "Well, my watch says thus-and-so, but it may be a few minutes slow. I'm not sure," but will hand out his watch, tell you the time, and say that he knows it is right within 30 seconds.

The same man will give a date or a figure with quiet surety—if he knows it. And if he doesn't know it, he will not try to give it.

But one cannot be sure over things that are matters of opinion. One can only be positive about them.

It doesn't cost any more to qualify statements of opinion, or of facts which you don't absolutely know, with an "I think."

It doesn't cost any more to present them quietly instead of with violence. After all, it is only a matter of time to differ from you in opinion; you do not need to grow hot under the collar about it.

And when you are sure about anything you will receive a great deal more attention and confidence.

You remember the old Persian proverb: "He who knows not and knows not that he knows not, is a fool, shun him; he who knows not and knows that he knows not, is simple, teach him; he who knows and knows not that he knows is asleep, wake him; he who knows and knows that he knows is wise, follow him."

At the other is the man who is sure, the wise man who knows and knows that he knows.

If I have a grave suspicion, also, that the positive man will acclaim himself as the "knowing" man, and the really wise man will pause to wonder if he is ever positive.

WHY?

Does % Mean Per Cent? (Copyright, 1920, by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

While practically all works on mathematics and the history of the shorthand symbols which have come to represent "plus," "minus," "divided by" and the like are distinctly hazy with reference to the derivation of the percentage mark, the following theory had been advanced by several experts and appears to be well founded:

Granted that the figures "100" represent the hundred, or the Latin centum—the figures 1, 2 or 3 placed in front of them signifying only the number of hundreds—and remembering that one of the meanings of per is "through," then the diagonal line drawn through or between the two ciphers, for he uses the exact meaning of the symbol %—a line drawn through per centum.

It is also reasonable to suppose that the connecting link between the first "0" and the cross-line came into being through the rapid writing of the symbol, as the hand would naturally follow through upwards, but would not be likely to connect the final "0."

Tomorrow—WHY do we speak of "making" a bed?

Why do we speak of "making" a bed? The painter, a stalwart man, gave evidence that he was flush, for he rode in a fine sedan upholstered in the richest plush.

The painter came, as he agreed, a man of rather haughty mien; he used to drive an old bay steed, but now he drove a limousine. The limousine came, an able cuss, who labored through a six-hour day, and I admired his handsome bus, a model '21 coupe.

And there was one who came to delve a ditch where concrete would be poured; his wagon was a super-twelve whose powerful chugged and roared. They parked their cars around my shack until the street, both ways, was blocked; and of the oiler's business, back throughout the day they warmly talked.

They spoke of Capital that sat in gilded cases and wore a grin, and on ill gotten gains grew fat, while honest folk grew lank and thin. They talked all day of tying cans to plutocrats and men of means, then drove away in rich and touring cars and limousines.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By LEE PAPP

The monthly reports was given out in school yesterday, mine being so bad it was pretty near the worst one I ever got, but not quite. And after supper I started to get ready to give it to pop for him to sign, thinking, G. I. I better not be too sudden about it, its no use making him feel first than necessary.

And I sed, Pop, I bet after this Im going to be so wonderfull in school I'll my reports will be the best in the room.

That's an intriaging bet, I hope you win it, stranger things than that have happened, tho personally I never herd of anything like that.

Maybe they'll be the best reports in the hole school, I sed, and pop sed, The age of miracles is still with us. Meen-whiles, I sed, while I know I'm not aint going to happen that dont say its impossible, and I sed, I bet ill get such good reports youll think it must be somebody else's.

Ill know darn well it is, sed pop. And he kept on smoking and I kept on wondering weather to hand him my report yet, thinking, Heck, I might as well prepare him for it. And I sed, As long as I know Im going to get such grate reports from now on, it dont make no difference wat kind I used to get, does it pop?

Have you by any shadow of a possibility of a doubt got a report to show me?

Sir? Yes sir, I sed, And I handed it to him, pop saying, Ah, hab, I thought there was an Ethiopian in the wood-pile, and he told me at the report and thais way I had to go to bed rite after supper and also wy I didnt have any recess money today and wy I dont expect any tomorrow.

INDICTED WHITE SOX PLAYERS NOT INCLUDED IN SELECTION OF ALL-AMERICAN BASEBALL CLUB

The current issue of the Baseball Magazine contains the All-American Baseball Club of 1920 selected by F. C. Lane, editor. Mr. Lane first selected an all-star aggregation from the National league, then an all-star club from the American league and finally his All-American club, selected from both leagues.

As he states himself, "The All-American Club for 1920 is one of the most powerful aggregations of talent ever assembled on the diamond." In several instances one player was selected in preference to another by the margin of an eye lash and his reasons for his selections are most interesting. It is worthy of note that none of the indicted White Sox players are given a berth on any of his teams, although in some instances their playing ability was superior to those chosen.

In leaving one such player out he says, "At third base there was a player who was one of the greatest stars that ever filled that position. We say there was such a player. What his future status may be we do not know, but he is at present involved in one of the deepest disgraces that have ever blotted the record of this national game. Until he can clear his name of that blot, we believe that all right-thinking fans will agree with us that George Weaver can have no proper place on an all-star team."

National League.

His all-star National league baseball club follows:

According to Lane, for Konetchy was Jake Daubert's closest rival for the initial corner, but he was too slow to rank with him. While almost every club on the circuit had a fairly capable and hard hitting first baseman, Daubert is still the fastest and cleverest fielder.

At the keystone sack Hornsbey's margin of superiority over his closest rivals was too great to allow any marked comparison. He says, "place Rogers Hornsbey on one side of the fence and on the other place all his competitors." There were a number of creditable performers at second in the National league, but it was his misfortune that one star like Hornsbey was so far overshadowed them.

The position of shortstop was one of the hardest to fill as there was a three cornered fight for the position. Hollister of the Cubs and Aberneth of the Giants gave Rabbit Maranville a run for his money, but the latter was given the preference because in Lane's estimation "he is the greatest natural shortstop that has appeared since Hans Wagner." While Hollister and Aberneth may be better hitters, he thinks that shortstop is one position where a batting average counts the least. The Rabbit is sure death on fly balls and no one in the league covers more ground than he. "The greatest shortstop on the diamond today" is the way he terms him.

Groh at Third.

Hollis Groh was also given a battle for his position at third by Frank Frisch of the Giants and Milton Stock. While Frisch may outclass the others in sheer talent, he lacks experience. Stock outdid Groh, but he claims that Groh is a true star, something more than a capable performer.

In the outfield the claims of Roush are too well substantiated to leave room for argument. No more competent performers to act as his partners can be found than Pop Young of the Giants and Zach Wheat. Young is one of the fastest men in the game and Wheat, although aging a little, is still one of the greatest outfielders in

OHIO ELEVEN ASKED TO MEET A WESTERN TEAM IN CALIFORNIA

PASADENA, CALIF., Nov. 25.—For the first time a middle western team has been invited to represent the eastern half of the United States in the annual east-west football game as Pasadena, under auspices of the Tournament of Roses association, Ohio's eleven has been asked to come to California to meet a western team as yet not definitely chosen, according to announcement published today.

However, the expectation in California sport circles is that the University of California eleven, which won the coast championship in a one-sided, but hard contest, with Stanford last Saturday, will be the football committee's western selection, only possibility that another team may be selected lies in the University of Southern California's hope for a decisive victory over University of Oregon in Los Angeles today.

If University of Southern California defeats Oregon by a wide margin, according to Henry Bruce, a graduate manager at the southern school, a request will be made that the state university and Southern California meet in a "play-off" to determine which shall meet Ohio. If Oregon wins it is regarded as certain that the state university team will be chosen.

THANKSGIVING HAS SCHEDULE OF GAMES FOR ALL SECTIONS

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Thanksgiving football games offered a schedule in the west, ranging from local to inter-sectional interest.

Nebraska received the husky invaders from Washington state at Lincoln, in an inter-sectional battle which presented but little basis for comparative prognostication in the light of isolation of season contestants of middle and far west eleven.

The Cornhuskers gave Notre Dame a hard fight and Coach Schultz's team was considered on a par with the average middle western eleven. Chances of victory was regarded as about even for either side.

The Michigan Aggies meet the strong Notre Dame team at Lansing, Mich., the latter eleven being picked by "Dopesters" to win by comparative merit.

The Missouri Valley conference championship will be decided in the outcome of the Drake-Oklahoma and Missouri-Kansas games. Oklahoma has not been defeated this season.

Western Reserve crosses the river to fight Ohio in Cleveland's annual championship. Rutgers and Detroit play an inter-sectional game at Detroit with the eastern team the favorite.

VAUGHN'S PITCHING WILL NOT BE AFFECTED

KENOSHA, WIS., Nov. 25.—The pitching of "Hippo" Vaughn will not suffer from the effects of the stab wound, alleged to have been inflicted by the father-in-law of the Cubs' twirling star, physicians here stated today Vaughn was reported improved at the city hospital.

Harry DeBolt, the father-in-law, who disappeared following the stabbing, has not been arrested and no warrant has been issued.

FOOTBALL SEASON IN EAST VIRTUALLY ENDS WITH GAMES TODAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The football season of the eastern intercollegiate gridiron virtually closes today, the outstanding games being the clashes between Penn State and Pittsburgh, Cornell and University of Pennsylvania, and Washington and Jefferson versus West Virginia.

The contest at Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, between Glen Warner's Panthers and Roselock's formidable Penn State eleven attracted widespread interest. Neither eleven has been defeated in a season marked by hard schedules. Penn State, which won last year's championship, has a record of 20 to 0, a slight favorite.

Cornell was favored in the wagering to down the red and blue at Franklin Field, Philadelphia. Penn won last year 21 to 0.

Neither West Virginia nor Washington and Jefferson had been up to the standard of past years. The West Virginians were slight favorites, although the Presidents had the advantage of playing on home grounds.

The strong Holy Cross eleven was again favorite to tame Fordham at Worcester, Mass.

PITTSBURGH PANTHERS AND PENN. STATE IN AN IMPORTANT GAME

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 25.—Glenn Warner's Pittsburgh Panthers and the Penn state eleven meet here on Forbes field this afternoon in one of the most important games of the season.

A long time rivalry between the two universities will be accelerated by the fact that a legitimate claim for the eastern championship will fall upon the winner of the battle.

It is bound to be a spectacular battle, the importance only to the game, he rated by experts as among the very best of the season.

In addition, the crowd which will pack the park to its capacity will see two potential all-American halfbacks—Tom Davies of Pittsburgh and Charles Way of Penn state, a pair of the best runners in the game.

Way has won practically every game for Penn state, while the brilliant Davies has acted in the same capacity for Pittsburgh.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

The American all-star team follows:

Player	G.	A.	B.	H.	S.B.	Av.
Speaker, 1b.	150	555	127	212	9	334
Collins, 2b.	153	601	116	222	21	369
Scott, 3b.	154	544	41	128	8	269
Gardner, cf.	150	555	127	212	9	334
Rice, of.	153	627	82	213	64	340
O'Neill, c.	149	489	63	187	3	321
Alexander, p.	42	111	3	24	2	104
Coveleskie, p.	41	111	3	24	2	104
Shocker, p.	38	80	7	18	2	125

There was no chance for an argument of first base in the American league. George Sisler was in a class by himself and as Lane says "not since the days when Ty Cobb was in his prime, has a player excelled in every department of the game as did George Sisler in 1920. His merits were not solely those of the offense as he is one of the greatest fielding first basemen of recent years. Other men of stellar merit were McInnis and Pipp.

There was no chance for an argument of second base either as Eddie Collins is still the undisputed king of the keystone guardians. Eddie had a wonderful year at the bat and was the greatest fielding second baseman of them all.

Lane states that "had Ray Chapman lived he might well have claimed the chief honors at shortstop. Without him, the honor was a tossup between Scott of the Red Sox and Peckinpaugh of the Yankees. In view of the fact that Scott could be depended upon every day and boasted of the marvelous record of having played in 615 consecutive games without a break—he was given the preference "though the margin in his favor be only the width of an eyelash."

Gardner was given the call at third as his batting average was ahead of any other candidate's and his fielding was way above par.

Ty Cobb Outlined.

After many years of supreme rule, Ty Cobb was left out of the outfield. While Ty is still great, he was surpassed by at least three others last year. His ancient rival, Tris Speaker, had one of the greatest years of his career and was without equal. Ruth could not possibly be left off an all-star aggregation as "a man who hit 34 home runs in one year, scored 138 runs and compiled a batting average of .355, mostly on extra base hits, is too tremendous a slugger to be kept off any team, if he never did anything else." Rice was given the third position in preference to Hooper because his uncanny speed enabled him to cover more territory and his 213 points and six walks at the pill could not be overlooked.

Schalk and O'Neill stood out prominently behind the bat, but the Cleveland backstop outdid his rival by 50 points and in view of the fact that all other things were considered equal O'Neill drew the honor. Others mentioned for the position are Perkins in

THE ATHLETIC AND SEVERED OF THE BROWNS

Bagby was easily the premier pitcher of the American league, but was closely seconded by his club mate, Stanley Coveleskie. Third choice went to Urban Shocker of the Browns who had an enviable record with a second rate club. It is worthy of note that Walter Johnson is not considered a top notcher this year while the only other hurler who received favorable consideration was Carl Mays.

All-American Club.

Following is his All-American baseball club:

Player	G.	A.	B.	H.	S.B.	Av.
Speaker, 1b.	150	555	127	212	9	334
Collins, 2b.	153	601	116	222	21	369
Scott, 3b.	154	544	41	128	8	269
Gardner, cf.	150	555	127	212	9	334
Rice, of.	153	627	82	213	64	340
O'Neill, c.	149	489	63	187	3	321
Alexander, p.	42	111	3	24	2	104
Coveleskie, p.	41	111	3	24	2	104
Shocker, p.	38	80	7	18	2	125

In the selection of the above club he figures that there can be no possible argument over the first base position. Sisler leads Daubert by over 100 batting points and nearly as many base hits. In fact, he says "nobody can do better than run a poor second to Sisler at first base."

Collins finds a forerunner worthy of his steel in Rogers Hornsbey at second, but the former has the edge on the latter in experience and all around baseball knowledge.

There is little to choose between the two Boston shortstops but for apparently no specific reason at all, Lane prefers Maranville.

Gardner must yield to Groh at third base. In fact, he says "the agility and all around fielding talent is given as the reason for his selection."

No National league performer in his estimation can challenge the claims of Speaker and Ruth to the mythical nine. For the third place he prefers Roush to Rice, claiming that he is a better fielder and hitter, though not quite so fast.

O'Neill drew the backstop honors because "he is in every way as good as Schmidt, and possibly a shade better, while his hitting is markedly superior."

No pitcher in either league can quite equal Grover Alexander and Grimes is also selected because "he is a smart ball player in every department and one of the best fielding pitchers in the business." Bagby drew the other vacancy as a challenge to the claims of Coveleskie because on season's records he was a more valuable man.

Club May Be Criticized.

In summing up his selection he says, "This club can undoubtedly be criticized at some positions. Personally, however, we doubt if it could be improved, and we think it rather doubtful if any club was ever gathered that could give this club a real battle. The impregnable defense of such an infield and outfield, combined with such battery selections, coupled with the smashing attack of brilliant hitters like Sisler and Collins, and sluggers like Speaker and Ruth, should insure for this club a rather easy victory over any other team that could be sent against it. It must be a source of regret to true fans that such a club could not some time be assembled and play a series against any possible competitor for a world's championship."

GEORGIA TECH HAS HARD CONTEST FOR THANKSGIVING

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 25.—Of the four southern football teams that have come through the 1920 season without defeat by another Dixie eleven, Georgia Tech has the hardest contest today in an effort to keep its record clear.

The Auburn eleven which meets Tech here has gone down to but one defeat this year, a 7-0 game with Georgia university. Georgia university, Georgia Tech, Tulane and Virginia Military institute compose the eleven that have not been defeated in the south. Georgia and V. M. I. lost a game, while Tech dropped its contest to Pittsburgh and Tulane was defeated by Michigan.

Georgia takes on Clemson at Athens and the Georgians' defeat of Auburn and Alabama makes them easy favorites. Tulane has a harder fight in prospect against Louisiana state at Baton Rouge. V. M. I. is expected to win handily from V. P. I. at Roanoke.

FRENCH CELEBRATION IS ONE OF SPECIAL SALES

PARIS, Nov. 25.—France does not know about America's Thanksgiving day, but this republic had a celebration of its own today which probably caused a lot of shoppers as well as the finance ministers of the country to give thanks.

All the stores of Paris staged special sales with the announcement that the proceeds of all sales would go to the national fund. There was an unprecedented rush of shoppers.

TWENTY-ONE BOUTS ON CARD FOR PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.—Twenty-one boxing bouts were scheduled today for Thanksgiving matinees at four local athletic clubs. Among the wind-ups were eight round fights between Lew Tull, Philadelphia, and Johnny Tillman, Minneapolis, and Willie Jackson, New York, lightweight, and Matt Brock of Cleveland.

JANGLES AND TURNER TO GO TWELVE ROUNDS

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 25.—Billy Jangles of Little Rock, and Terry Turner of Cincinnati, have been matched for a twelve round no-decision boxing contest to be held here December 2. They are bantamweights.

JACK JOHNSON TO APPEAR IN TWO FIVE-ROUND BOUTS

LEAVENWORTH, KANS., Nov. 25.—Jack Johnson, former heavy weight boxing champion, will appear in two five round bouts at the federal prison here this afternoon as the principal attraction of a Thanksgiving day boxing program. Four other bouts are on the card. Besides the inmates of the prison, newspapermen and others will witness the afternoon entertainment, an special invitation of the prison warden, A. V. Anderson.

Johnson will box 16 rounds, his opponents being "Topkac" Jack Johnson and Frank Owens of Chicago, each boxing five rounds with the former champion.

ARKANSAS U. NEEDS RICE GAME BADLY TO STAY UP WITH CONFERENCE LEADERS

HOUSTON, Nov. 25.—Holding a percentage of 1.000 in the southwestern conference, Arkansas university clashed with Rice institute here today in a southwestern contest second in importance only to the game between Texas university and Texas A. & M. at Austin. Should Arkansas win today the Fayetteville eleven will stand at par with the winner of the Austin contest, in that event a post-season game would be necessary to settle the southwestern championship.

EITHER TEAM HAS CHANCE TO TIE FOR VALLEY HONORS

COLUMBIA, MO., Nov. 25.—Missouri State and the University of Kansas were ready for their annual gridiron struggle here today, with victory for either meaning a chance to go into a tie for the Missouri valley conference title. A defeat by Drake today will force Oklahoma university to share first place with the winner of the Missouri-Kansas contest.

FIVE STATE GOVERNORS ARE TO OCCUPY BOXES

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Five state governors are to occupy boxes next Saturday at the Polo grounds when the Army meets the Navy in their annual battle. They are: Governor Ritchie, Maryland; E. A. Tamm, New Jersey; Spruel, Pennsylvania; J. G. Townsend, Delaware, and Beckaman, Rhode Island.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—The marks established by the leaders in the early rounds were high today as the contestants in the thirtieth annual tournament of the Middle West Bowling association continued their struggle for supremacy.

RECORD CROWD WILL SEE GEORGIA TECH AND AUBURN

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 25.—Ideal weather and indications of a record crowd marked the annual contest today between Auburn and Georgia Tech, two of the greatest football machines of the south. Supporters of each were voicing their confidence, those of Auburn that the victory of last Thanksgiving Day would be repeated and Tech men declaring that the Plainsmen faced a hopeless task today. Auburn has won 17 to Tech's five in the annual gridiron games but four of the last five have gone to Tech.

Both elevens appeared in splendid physical shape.

Howdy from New Orleans, Pete!

Shorty gets an earfull!

Say, old clock, you've got the time—maybe you'd like to hear this one! As we were rolling into New Orleans yesterday one of the men in the club car was recounting his cigarette experiences; how he finally pulled a trick on his luck and got set right!

"Well—I've had my cigarette lesson," continued the traveller, "I went up and down the line on cigarettes until I got hold of Camels and got deep into their quality and wildness and delightful flavor! There never was a blend such as Camels' combination of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos! I'll say it—Camels taught me what a cigarette should be and they'll teach any man who smokes!"

Thanks I to myself—sic 'em, judge, every word you spill is a sentence!

Now, Pete, that's the kind of Camel thanks-giving stuff you get north, east, south, west and through the middle! That's all as true as that little sheep will wag their tails!

I did some tall thinking as I browsed through the quaint old French Quarter this evening—how universal the appeal of Camel Cigarettes really is! Figure the travelling I've done and the people I've met—each city different from the other—AND Camels have been the ONE cigarette to be found everywhere—and the cigarette most smoked at each point! Pete, old backstop, it's wonderful the way folks are sliding home to Camels!

Dallas, Texas, for me!

Yours Shorty.

TURKISH TAX COLLECTORS SPARE ONLY SCHOOL BOOKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Turkish tax collectors spare nothing from levies except school books, and the assessments run so high that 100 a pound is exacted on all sugar while a tax of $225 recently was demanded on an automobile that sells for $295 in the United States.

These unrelenting tax collectors have hoisted the rates to such an altitude that the Near East Relief injected a protest, its headquarters here was informed in a letter from one of their workers in Samsoun, Armenia, about 200 miles from Constantinople.

Liquor, blighted by prohibition since October 1, is taxed a certain sum per bottle, irrespective of quality, the letter said. The time limit for exporting all intoxicants from the country terminates December 1. After that the Kemal government will confiscate the balance of stocks.

For thirty years special taxation has been exercised to fill a swamp that has caused malaria to blossom and flourish constantly, but, the writer said, "these hundreds of thousands of Turkish pounds have filled official pockets while the marsh remains unfilled." The Near East Relief has a hospital only a mile away, and has persistently requested that this "plague-spot be removed."

Dr. K. J. Marden, head of the Near East Hospital at Marsovan, has "performed many minor operations to remove tattoos on the hands, forehead, cheeks, nose, chin and on the neck and breasts. Many girls are deeply ashamed of this mark of their slavehood."

"Some of these girls will vanish sooner or later from the protecting home, as some have done before them, to find their way back to the Turkish or Kurdish harem which contains their child. One cannot blame them. They are mothers first and Armenians afterwards. There is tragedy there for the Armenian men will never understand this thing. To them the child is a Turkish child. To the mother, it is her child."

NEW YORK SUB-TREASURY TO BE ABOLISHED JAN. 1

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Pursuant to an act of congress, which provides for the abolition of the various sub-treasuries scattered throughout the country, the United States sub-treasury in this city will cease to exist at the end of the year and its functions and powers will be added to those already delegated to the local Federal Reserve bank.

Many of the employees of the sub-treasury, now numbering less than 100, will be taken over by the Federal Reserve bank, which will occupy the treasury building until its own new home in this city is completed and other employees may go into the customs service.

The local sub-treasury, for generations an integral part of the financial history of the government, occupies a commanding position in the heart of the financial district and is on the site of the seat of the Federal congress where George Washington took the oath of office as first resident of the United States.

Its Grecian facade and broad approach have been the scenes of two most important and interesting events in the annals of this city and country. From its steps, standing in the shadow of the bronze statue of the father of his country, have spoken some of the most distinguished statesmen of this and foreign lands.

Many political demonstrations of deep significance have taken place there, including those held during the Blaine and Cleveland campaigns, and Theodore Roosevelt made his first open-air speech from its steps when he ran for governor of New York.

During the world war the sub-treasury was the center of numerous Liberty bond rallies and other similar gatherings. Only recently its steps were thronged while speakers representing various patriotic organizations voiced their protest against the mysterious explosion of September 16, which occurred within 50 feet of the Washington statue and caused serious damage to the new assay office building next door.

In its many years of service the sub-treasury has been the repository of well high countless billions of dollars in gold and silver and paper money and its chiefs have included some of the most notable figures among the financiers of the city.

Martin Vogel, now assistant treasurer, will return to the practice of law as soon as he is relieved of his duties. This will not be possible, however, until an official count has been taken of the vast sums of money still remaining in the underground vaults of the building.
