

MABRY TELLS AD CLUB OF GROWTH OF INSURANCE CO.

WICHITA GREAT WESTERN LARGE EST COMPANY OF KIND IN THE WORLD.

AD-AGE SELECTED AS NAME FOR BULLETIN

Representatives On Business Council Selected At Monday's Luncheon Of Club.

Describing how the Wichita Great Western Underwriters has grown in two years and four months from a one-man institution to "decidedly the largest fire insurance company of its kind in the world," John S. Mabry, manager of the company, presented facts and figures this noon that surprised many members of the Wichita Ad club.

There are few people in Wichita Falls, Mabry told the club members, who realize that the Wichita Great Western Underwriters is one of the greatest institutions of this city; that it should be classified with the motor factory and the flour mill as business leaders.

Since our start two years ago we have gone into 10 states, and yet few of our home folks know that we are bringing into Wichita Falls $500,000 in premiums, or that we sold over $1,000,000 of insurance on the coast and approximately the same amount in Denver. In St. Louis two men alone gave us $200,000 of insurance, after making a searching investigation of our business.

Going into New York. "Our average saving to the policy holders has been 40 per cent. We are going into New York also. We know what that means; it means a deposit of $200,000 to get into New York state, but we are going in just the same. And I venture to state, unless we are burned out, in five years this Wichita Falls institution will be the biggest fire insurance company of any kind on the western continent."

Mabry also called attention to the tremendous advertising of Wichita Falls done by his company through hundreds of outside newspapers, through magazines and billboards carrying the name of this city throughout the United States.

Justice Rogers Speaks. Guy Rogers, judge of the county court at law, discussed the advertising value of professional men, and showed how the doctor, the surgeon, the lawyer and every other professional man advertises the community in which he lives and practices his profession.

Those who live in the little towns and cities adjacent to Wichita Falls, he said, "come here from hundreds of miles distant to seek professional advice. And if the professional man does his duty he spends to them well and happily of this city they are going to. They leave their offices and go out to invoice the city. They find great office buildings that would grace a city of 100,000; they find this wonderful hotel, stores with merchandise as good as any to be found in the state; churches that would add dignity to the residence district of any city; a court house magnificently equipped in Texas—all these and more, our visitors find. And they came to Wichita Falls because of the position and high standing of our professional men."

This is our city. Let us all advertise it. Knock the knocker. Make this city a hotter place for him. Get this 30 per cent out of Wichita Falls. The representative citizen is the man who feels always in his heart that this city is his home."

A. C. Eastley of the Wichita State bank spoke briefly and humorously about—well, as he himself said, "about three minutes." He called attention to the "advertisement" which reads: "Spent Last 15 Miles Per Hour," and declared this contains the five points of good advertising elucidated at the study division of the club by John Gould. His speech kept his hearers in a rare good humor, and was welcomed warmly.

The Ad club acted today on the suggestion made by John Davenport, county attorney, a week ago, and voted to appoint B. F. Johnson and Davenport a committee of two to draft a bill against false and fraudulent advertising, to be known as the "Johnson bill" and to be presented to the state legislature for enactment into law.

Accepting the invitation of the business council of the chamber of commerce, the Ad club elected C. F. Carter and Sydney Gaines representatives on the business council for 1921. The said Carter also had the good luck for was in on the frame-up to win the contest for a title for the club's weekly bulletin, which will be known hereafter as "The Ad-Age." Two prizes were offered: a box of cigars from C. A. Kleinman and $5 worth of merchandise from the Perkins Timberlake store. Carter volunteered to split the cigars with John Gould, editor of the Ad-Age and co-ordinator.

Harry Katz furnished a two-man violin-piano orchestra that helped greatly to round out a pleasing club program.

LAW VIOLATORS WILL BE KEPT ON THE RUN

Ranger M. T. Gonzales Returns To Wichita County To Help Clean Up.

Under orders from the adjutant general's department at Austin, Texas, Ranger M. T. Gonzales returned to Wichita Falls to assist in conducting another clean up on the oil fields in the county.

Ranger Gonzales, who was here before and left a month ago for Breckenridge, Monday morning that the oil fields around Breckenridge have been pretty well cleaned up. However, reliable information was received that a large number of those who left this county under pressure and went to Breckenridge have again returned here.

"The idea is," stated the left-handed law enforcer, "to keep them on the jump all the time so that they will have no time to settle down and make plans. Although we made a large number of arrests in the oil fields, a majority of them took to their heels and are right back here again from where we originally chased them."

Gonzales will work with Rangers McCormick and Lay, who have been here continually on duty in conjunction with the sheriff's department. Before going to the fields for duty Monday afternoon, several conferences were had with the county and district attorneys and with the sheriff.

H. S. Brady, commonly known as "Red," who was in charge of the Breckenridge here before being called to Breckenridge, is still on duty at the oil fields. Ranger Gonzales stated Monday that he had returned to this county to remain until released by the officials here through the department at Austin.

Rangers McCormick and Lay were also in the city Monday, having come in from the oil fields Sunday night.

PRELIMINARY HEARING IN MURDER CASE HAS BEEN SET. District Attorney Fletcher S. Jones announced Monday morning that a preliminary hearing for Sewell Fields, charged with the murder of John Reagan, will be held next Saturday morning. Fields is out under a $2,500 appearance bond, which he made a few hours after he was placed under arrest before the district attorney Monday morning.

Several witnesses to the affair which took place in front of the Hearn hotel on Eighth street Friday night at 12:20 o'clock appeared before the district attorney Monday morning.

The Wichita County Bar association presented the three deputies of the district clerk's office with a handsome Christmas present in appreciation for the work that they have done during the past year. Each of the three deputies, the Misses Bonnie Zetzsche, Eunice Jackson and Winifred Pickens, received a check. All of them take this time in thanking the members of the bar for the gift.

ANDERSON NO. 1 MAKING SMALL SHOWING OF OIL

Charles B. Anderson et al's No. 1 test on the Mattie Parker lands was reported as making a small showing of oil today. The sand was struck at a lower depth than the original 1,320-foot sand.

Present indications are that the well will be good for about 10 barrels. It has not been placed on the pump yet and it was said today that a deeper test might be made out of the well. Casing has been set at the Kansas and Garrett test in block 21 and the well is expected to be drilled in immediately.

The Cline Oil company spudded in on its fifth test in this territory today. The Nos. 3 and 4 tests are drilling around the 1,100-foot mark. Banosky and Barkley's No. 1 well in block 18 was reported as drilling around 500 feet.

As the hole was cleaned out the flow increased and according to the latest reports the well was making about 35,000,000 cubic feet. This is said to be the largest gasser brought in in this territory. The sand was struck at a depth of 1,475 feet.

FIRE SET TO SCHOOL BUILDING AT PITTSBURG

PITTSBURG, PA., Dec. 27.—Every school building in Pittsburgh was under heavy guard today as the result of the burning of a public school in Wilkinsburg, a suburb. School and police officials feared further operations by the "arson ring," which caused nearly a million dollars loss through incendiary fires in Fayette and Westmoreland counties.

Albert Smith, held in the Greensburg barracks of the constabulary, is alleged to have confessed responsibility for at least a score of fires in Fayette county. The authorities believed his arrest would prove a deterrent to the remaining members of the "arson ring." The Wilkinsburg fire dispelled this idea.

Floors of the two story building were saturated with oil before the fire was set. A policeman discovered the blaze and saw a man running from the building. He fired several shots at him, but abandoned pursuit to turn in an alarm. The damage was estimated at $10,000.

ROOMING HOUSE QUARREL RESULTS IN KILLING. HOUSTON, TEXAS, Dec. 27.—One man is dead, another faces a charge of murder and a third is being detained by police today as the result of a shooting following a rooming house quarrel here last night.

John A. Mosley was shot and fatally wounded during the altercation. Officers say that their investigation shows that the quarrel started over a discussion of the presence of Mosley and his wife in the house.

Mrs. Mosley was confined to her room in a critical nervous condition as the result of an accident several weeks ago, her physician stated. The charge of murder is against Everett Atwood, said to be a painter and a resident at the rooming house.

The police said they were unable to connect Hansen with the slaying of Paul J. Loring, a jeweler, shot last week during a hold-up.

Hansen's sister was taken seriously ill when Hansen was arrested 10 days ago on a charge of complicity in a robbery. His second arrest caused a fatal relapse. His mother has not yet been told of her daughter's death.

NEGRO KILLS TWO AND WOUNDS SEVERAL OTHERS. WILSON, ARK., Dec. 27.—Armed with an automatic shotgun and a sub-machine pistol, Charley Giles, 49 years old, is believed to be hiding somewhere near the Mississippi river after killing O. T. Craig, a Mississippi county planter, his daughter, Mrs. Maybelle Williamson and seriously wounding Craig's two sons, Dick and Hugh Craig. Giles also fired upon and slightly wounded three deputy sheriffs who were among those who went in pursuit of him. It is believed the negro, who has a share crop on the Craig farm, is attempting to make his escape into Mississippi, from which state he came to Arkansas several months ago. Bloodhounds which were put on the trail were unable to follow the negro because of the heavy rains.

Many shots were exchanged between the posse and the fugitives. So far as known, no one was hurt.

SUTHERLAND SURE TO HAVE PLACE IN ADMINISTRATION

SUCH IS OPINION OF MEN WHO HAVE STUDIED THE SITUATION.

MAY BE ATTORNEY GENERAL OR SECRETARY OF INTERIOR

British By Birth He First Practiced Law in Little Mining Camps of West.

By MARK SULLIVAN (Copyright, 1920, by New York Evening Post.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Within a very short time or within a few months at most, the country will have a good deal about the man that every one speaks and writes about as "Senator Sutherland."

Because every one speaks of him this way it is necessary to distinguish between two men who are colloquially, by the same title. The one who is not treated in this article is Senator Howard Sutherland of the West Virginia. He has his place in the state and is secure until 1923.

The "Senator Sutherland" who will shortly be much in the public eye is not really a senator at all. He is George Sutherland who represented Utah in the senate for 12 years until he was swept out in the landslide of 1918. Since then he has been practicing law in Washington and in Salt Lake City. Let it be emphasized as the first point in any adequate sketch of ex-Senator Sutherland that he has been practicing law and he has not been practicing personal relations.

Don't Really Practice.

Many, probably most, of the ex-senators and other ex-official holders who enter law offices or set up law offices after they have left public office don't really practice law at all. They rarely appear in court, and the call-bound books are rarely disturbed on their dusty shelves. What most of these ex-official lawyers do is to capitalize their old personal relations with men still in public life. They do the most important of their practicing, not with the judge in a court room but in long distance telephone talks with the heads of government departments. They get clients who value their services, not because they know the law but because they know the ropes.

Even those ex-official holders who, by training and natural bent are good lawyers, often find the temptation of the quicker short cut to a competence offered by clients who want things that can be accomplished through personal acquaintance. At Washington, rather than the slower profits and greater drudgery of practicing law in the true sense.

Senator Sutherland could not do this even if the temptation of a quickly earned competence presented itself to him. He is so truly a lawyer in the old-fashioned sense and his mind has so long moved in the groove that it could hardly get out of it if he would. Furthermore, he is temperamentally one of those men whose sense of taste would always prevent them from successfully trading upon personal relations.

Moreover the persons who have been familiar with Senator Sutherland's career from its beginning in the mountain villages of Utah know that his ambition which has always pulled him is not a fortune, and not even a competence, but eminence in the law. This last he has. I have been told by one of those who are the words that Mr. Elihu Root once spoke of Senator Sutherland as one of the three greatest lawyers in America.

That is a position a man gets only through loving the law as a science and making it his mistress.

Makes Only Legal Problems.

Great corporations come to Senator Sutherland. Without any great turmoil of conscience, but simply as the expression of the natural law that governs his mind, he takes their cases only so far as those cases present through problems of law. To the degree that the clarifying processes of client and doubtless is adequately paid for the service.

I know, however, that occasionally these corporation clients feel a little disappointed. Their disappointment is due not to any lack of Senator Sutherland's knowledge of the law, nor to any defect in diligence on his part. The disappointment is due to the difference between what some corporation clients expect from an ex-senator in the way of personal persuasiveness with judges or with the heads of departments and what Senator Sutherland as a lawyer is willing to give and has it in his nature to give.

Even clients who do not expect from the lawyers that they retain anything even faintly improper may sometimes have a sense of disappointment in failing to get from Senator Sutherland that hearty and exclusive devotion to his clients side of the case that lawyers of a difference temperament can give.

Judicial Temperament.

Senator Sutherland is judicial both by temperament and by a lifetime of self-discipline. His mind is more intent on the abstract law in the case than on the persons involved, and his major purpose is that the legal problems involved shall be brought out to a true conclusion. Senator Sutherland will show emotion and glow with warmth and enthusiasm over the successful application of a legal principle to a different set of circumstances rather than over any personal victory advantage, to himself or to his clients.

Entire gossip about appointments Senator Sutherland is mentioned in connection with two cabinet officers and one other position.

He is frequently suggested as secretary of the interior, because he knows the west more particularly, because he is familiar through long personal experience with the conservation of the nation's mineral lands, forest and grazing lands.

He is even more frequently mentioned for attorney general. That mention rests on the sound basis of the ability and ability which he would bring to the highest purely legal office in the executive branch of the government.

Suggest Supreme Bench.

The third suggestion is that Senator Sutherland may not be in the cabinet, but will be appointed to one of the four vacancies in the supreme court that are sure to occur during Senator Harding's administration. All the friends of Senator Sutherland who know his career and the bent of his mind are confident that this last would be his personal choice.

A man who has known him since he first began practice before a justice of the peace in little mining villages in the Rocky Mountains expressed the belief that, consciously or unconsciously or both, Senator Sutherland has always been drawn by that goal which is attained by scholarship and thoroughness in the law rather than by great financial success. During the present week there has been more or less organized urging that even if Senator Sutherland is later to go on the supreme bench he should first be made attorney general at the outset of the new administration. The theory behind this urging is that this appointment would give the office of attorney general the color of character and legal ability that ought always be maintained for it—that such an appointment would be quickly appreciated by the public and would be a most valuable addition to the momentum of favorable recognition for the outset of the new president's administration.

Reputation Important.

So far as comparisons can be made, the attorney general is that one of the cabinet members in whom character and unimpeachable reputation are most important.

He has to do with the enforcement of the law, with advising congress as to the expediency of proposed statutes and with the appointment of federal judges. Every attorney general is constantly under assault for favor, leniency in enforcing the law, for pardons, for compromises. Also the attorney general possesses a power which there is always a temptation to use or political intimidation. He is of all the cabinet appointments that one who ought to be most free from subjection to political pressure, and from the suspicion of a political motive or any other motive than that of pure justice and clear reason.

Senator Sutherland is British by birth. When he was a few months old he was brought to Utah. His father was a mining man who later, by virtue of qualities of helpfulness toward his neighbors and common sense, came to be accepted in the irregular way of frontier communities, as the lawyer of the little towns where his occupation took him.

Raised on the Frontier.

Senator Sutherland himself was trained in the law at the University of Michigan and began his practice in the frontier communities, where law was accepted and obeyed, not because it was printed in the books but because it appealed to the common sense and instinct for justice and for the right of the strong men who made up those communities. In those courts a lawyer could not win his cases by merely quoting legal maxims—he had to go further and convince the rough common sense of the community that these maxims are merely the crystallization of fundamental justice in human relations. It is noteworthy that a number of the best lawyers in the senate have come up from this kind of training—democratic Senator Walsh of Montana and Senator Thomas of Idaho, as well as Sutherland. Later in his career Senator Sutherland became a leading lawyer of Salt Lake City, and as such was counsel for the Union Pacific and the Oregon Short Line. He participated in writing the constitution and the fundamental laws of his state at the time it was admitted to the Union; still later he served a term in congress and came to the senate in 1905.

The high spots of his career in the senate were the laborious work of a committee, of which he was the head which reviewed, condensed and brought up to date and codified the entire body of civil and criminal statutes passed by the national government since its beginning. Almost any lawyer would admit that other things being equal, this colossal work alone would make a unique fitness for the office of attorney general.

Wrote Compensation Law.

Senator Sutherland was also chairman of the committee that wrote the federal workmen's compensation law which has been a model for half the states of the Union. Finally, in a way probably not less important, the help Senator Sutherland gave to Senator LaFollette in the passing of the Seamen's act was one of the high spots in his career in the senate. The passage of the Seamen's act was one of the greatest victories of recent years for humanitarian principles of human freedom as against the convenience of property interests.

Senator Sutherland had always been thought of as belonging to the conservative rather than the progressive wing of the republican party, and when he was quick to see the application of fundamental principles of Anglo-Saxon law to the circumstances presented by the Seamen's act, the enactment of his advocacy made friends for the act among conservatives who had confidence in him and who could not otherwise have won.

Known to His Client.

It is probably because of this incident that the Seamen's union is now one of Senator Sutherland's clients. Probably it accounts for the fact that

"Ware's Black Powder Brings Sure Relief from Stomach Trouble"

So writes a Clinton, N. C. woman who was relieved of a bad case of Catarrh of the Stomach.

"The doctors said I had catarrh of the stomach in a very bad stage. I suffered greatly and lived on raw eggs and butter-milk for weeks, but it did not relieve me. I heard of Ware's Black Powder and commenced taking it, and a decided change for the better commenced at once. Now I can eat anything I want and suffer no pain from it. Consider Ware's Black Powder a sure cure for all stomach troubles."

Thus writes Mrs. Mary McMurry of Clinton, N. C., on May 15, 1920, and her experience is similar to that of hundreds of others. Ware's Black Powder is sold at all drug stores, for 60c per 1 1/2 oz. package. Contains no harmful drugs. Does not purge. Good for over 40 years.

Noted French Surgeon Here to Rebuild Noses

Dr. Julien Bourquet has arrived in New York on the steamer France. He has been summoned here by wealthy clients to perform six operations for rebuilding noses. Dr. Bourquet is here shown examining a patient.

among the men you occasionally meet in the ante-room of Senator Sutherland's law offices is that venerable mariner, Andrew Furuseth, one of the unique of his generation, who went to sea before he went to school, came of leadership of his guild by virtue of his paternal gifts, learned to read after he was thirty, and is today one of the most interesting commentators of the philosophy of history that it is profitable to listen to.

Senator Sutherland's acquaintance with Senator Harding began when the former was a veteran in the senate and the latter a novice. From 1913 until 1917 both were members of a little friendly group of twelve who always had the same lunch table in the senate restaurant. Last summer Senator Sutherland spent a good deal of time at Marion and probably he was as close as any other man to Senator Harding's decision in the field of principle and policy.

But it is the permanent qualities of Senator Sutherland's mind rather than the accident of his acquaintance that has given rise to the speculation about Senator Sutherland as attorney general or as a justice of the supreme court.

BLOW FROM A FRIEND: "Many good causes, as many good men," pertinently remarks the Houston Post.

Prohibition has suffered notably from its fool friends. The latest blow the dry forces have had to sustain comes from Representative Uphaw of Georgia.

No one who knows Mr. Uphaw's record believes that he would willfully injure the cause of prohibition. He has fought for it many years, and fought with the dry movement was unpopular.

But such proposals as Mr. Uphaw now makes discredit the prohibition movement, by putting it in a false light before the public.

The $14,000,000 cut in current pension appropriations is a considerable figure of itself, but it doesn't bulk largely alongside the long-term government bond paid out in pensions since 1790.

It is to be hoped that with the surrender of Miss Smith, the public may be spared for a time further details of the Ardmore situation, of which there already has been more than a surfeit.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

The Children: I never see them in a throng, glad little feet that race and run.

Oh, glorious children, God alone knows what is held in store for you!

Little you know, but I know, yet Caesar and the heroes dead were like you in the long ago.

Tutor, be careful as you teach, parents, be watchful night and day.

I never see them at their play, the children clear of cheek and eye.

But what I wonder who is there and what shall be when youth is done.

And they shall stand where we have stood and bear what we have had to bear.

Tomorrow—WHY does hair turn grey?

WHY?

Is the Center of a Flame Blue?

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

The color of a heated object depends largely upon the temperature to which it is subjected.

When, for example, a poker is placed in a fire, it will first turn a dull red, then a bright glowing red, and finally a glaring white.

The same principle applies to a flame, the outside of which is far hotter than the inside, and gives off a brighter light in consequence.

This difference in temperature is due to the fact that the outer portion of the flame only comes in contact with the oxygen of the air, while the inner part has to be content with the small amount of this inflammable gas, which reaches it, still unconsumed.

Where combustion is fastest and most complete, there the heat is greatest, and it is for this reason that the outer part of a flame is a bright yellow while the interior is a dull blue.

By proving the material difference in temperature between the two parts of what we consider as "fire."

Side Talks

By RUTH CAMERON

An After Christmas Pick-Me-Up: Yes, I know just how you feel today.

I got a good idea how to get out of it, I got my penne with me, lets us sneak back up in the room, store recess lab over and sharp Miss Kittys pencils and wen she sees the small points on them and finds out who did it she wont make us stay in.

Sounding like a pretty good of a deer, and we quick went up and there was a pencils on Miss Kittys desk including a red one, and Puds quick started to sharpen them, and the points all keep on breaking off again on account of him trying to be in such a hurry, and then I started to sharpen them and the points will keep on breaking, me saying, Aw this is a hecky penne.

Theyre hecky pencils you mean, sed Puds. Wich by the time we got them shaped they looked more like stumps than what they did like pencils and the shavings was all over the desk, wich jet then the bell rang for the end of recess and we had to run out agin so we could come back at the rest of the class as if we had bin out all the time, and the first thing Miss Kitty saw was wat was left of her 4 pencils, including the red one, making a foarse face and saying, Who did this, whose bin at my penne.

Wich me and Puds didnt raise our hands for, wich to see if anybody elts wanted to take the credit, wich they didnt, so about the 4th time Miss Kitty asked we waived our hands, Puds saying, We wanted to serprise you.

How nice, well then ill serprise you, sed

HOROSCOPE

The stars teell us but do not compel. Copyright, 1919, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Monday, December 27, 1920. This is read as an unpropitious day by astrologers, Mars, Jupiter, Mercury and Saturn are all adverse.

It is a way under which the mind naturally takes on a somber mood, Mars is in a place that is believed to encourage hypersensitiveness and to cause dissensions.

Warning is given that mental depression will be especially pronounced among the aged who should avoid restlessness and should assume a positively hopeful point of view.

Mercury is in a place supposed to cause forebodings and apprehensions, Messages of an alarming nature may be received by the government, but the stars prease a year of national prosperity that may be disturbed but not seriously affected.

Women continue subject to a rule that preases continued high pay and general advancement in all industrial matters.

All the signs forecast improved conditions for workers everywhere and a generally prosperous outlook even though the process of after-war deflation will be steady.

Reforms are to be many in the coming year when it is prophesied that the world will begin to realize that it is still far from real civilization.

Painters are to receive much recognition in the United States where a better appreciation of art is to be general.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have a strenuous year that brings many problems which may be satisfactorily solved. Care in money matters is enjoined.

Children born on this day have the augury of serene and happy lives. The degree of success they attain depends on the hour of birth.

RIPLING RHYMES

A Siless World: Reformers are not satisfied with merely moderate success; if any triumph is denied, they wring their hands in black distress.

The victory of yesterday forgotten, as soon as won, while they plan out some drastic way to make another evil run.

The brimming flagon they see scrapped, and now they say the pipe must go; an earnest campaign has been mapped, to fill Dame Nicotine with woe.

The Sunday train must cease to run before we've scored another year, or some reformer with a gun will rise and shoot the engineer.

The Sunday paper must be banned, on Sundays autos must not chug, or sheriffs, with their writs in hand, will put offenders in the Jug.

They'll censor songs, they'll censor plays, they'll censor everything in sight, and strive, in forty-seven ways, to draple us all in snowy white. They will not interfere with me, for I'm so moral, anyhow: a shingling halo you may see at any time about my brow. But much I fear some worried guys, by laws galley, jaded and oppressed, in revolution yet will rise, and knock some statutes galley west.

Reformers now are going wrong, they look as though they'll never stop; but when Reaction comes along, just pause and hear the fireworks pop.

OPPOSING CENTERS IN T. C. U.-CENTRE CLASH WILL BEAR WATCHING

Captain Douglas of Horned Frogs Should Give Weaver a Merry Battle.

FORT WORTH, Dec. 27.—One of the first questions asked by Bo McMillin, field general and main spring of the wonder team of Centre college, when he arrived here Tuesday was: "What kind of condition is this Horned Frog team in?" When assured that the acting captain of the Horned Frogs was in the shape of his young life, Bo shook his head and observed: "He's a good man."

Bo knows. He played against Douglas when the latter was on Central III team. Bo at that time was the star at North Side III. But Bo's main remembrance of Douglas dates from a game played here last year during the holidays between two teams of stars who were spending their holidays at home. McMillin, Montgomery, James and Red Weaver, who was the 1919 all-American center on Camp's team, were on the North Side all-star team, while Douglas, Meyers and other T. C. U. men played with the opposition.

Chiefly because of Douglas and his powerful defense, as ranging center, Bo's outfit was hard put to it to win by two touchdowns. According to most football critics who saw the game Douglas outplayed Weaver on the defense.

For these reasons, local football fans and those who are on the inside, look for a great battle between Weaver and Douglas in the New Year's clash here between Centre and T. C. U. This one feature of the game should furnish many thrills.

McMillin has great interest when he arrived here last Tuesday, after his inquiry about Douglas, was what sort of a defense the Horned Frogs had against the big center. He was told that he expected to rely upon the aerial attack to win. When assured that the local machine had been particularly effective against passes, the Centre quarterback smiled and said: "Well, if they can break up this game they can do something no other team has done, and that is to stop the pass."

Very few of the nine teams defeated by T. C. U. this year have resorted to passing. The tall, rangy backfield with its four fast bats has been effective in breaking up the overhead attack. Nig Dotson of Baylor, who is regarded as a great passer, can testify to this strength of the Frogs, as he failed to complete a single pass in fourteen trials. Arkansas was equally helpless, as were Phillips, the Missouri Ostapshins, and other teams.

Part of this success is due to the fast shifting line, which rushes the passer. Dutch Meyer, the Waco boy, is one of the best shifting defensive ends in the state, though not as fast as others.

McMillin says he will put the Praying Colonels to work Tuesday afternoon at North Side. He has been in the independent club composed of Northside III alumni. They will practice and scrimmage every afternoon including Friday, the day before the big game. Tickets for the contest have been selling at such a rate that practically all of the choice seats have been taken. Every seat in the reserved section between the twenty-yard line is sold.

OHIO STATE GRIDIRON TEAM IS SLIGHTLY HEAVIER THAN U. OF C.

Buckeyes Will Average 182 Pounds While Coast Eleven Has 176 Pound Average.

PASADENA, CAL., Dec. 27.—When the Ohio State football players, undefeated champions of the Western conference, dig their toes in the gridiron here New Year's day against the University of California, the big question of the West, Ohio will have a slight advantage in the weight problem.

The team average of the Buckeyes is 182 pounds as against a 176-pound average for the Californians. In the line, the average weight of the Ohioans is 322 pounds while the average of the Californians forward was 313 pounds. The backfield of the Buckeyes also is the heavier, the combined weight totaling 527 pounds. The total weight of the California backfield trio is an even 500 pounds.

California will not have a player in the game weighing above the 150 mark, while Ohio will start two players weighing above that figure, two others tipping the beam at exactly 150 pounds. Williams, the plunging fullback of the Buckeyes, scales 205 pounds, and Nemecek, at center, weighs 203 pounds. Spot and Niers, two linemen, are 190-pounders. "Pete" Stinchcomb, the sensational halfback, is the lightest player on the Ohio squad, scaling only 152 pounds.

The weight of the California backfield is more evenly distributed than that of the Ohioans. Morrison, the fullback, is the heaviest of the trio, weighing 175 pounds. Spry, at left half, weighs 167, and Tomney at right half balances the beam at 168 pounds. Erb, the quarterback, is the lightest player in the California eleven. He weighs only 145 pounds.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The premier tennis players of the world, represented by the United States and Australasia teams, will meet on the turf courts at Auckland, New Zealand, during the coming week in the 15th struggle for the Davis Cup. The trophy, emblematic of the world's team tennis championship, occupies the unique position of being the most frequently competed for international sport prize in the history of amateur contests. Donated in 1900 by Dwight F. Davis, at that time American doubles champion with Holcombe Ward, the trophy has been battled for 14 times in the past 20 years. During this period Australasia teams have won it six times, British Isles players five times and United States combinations three times.

In the coming matches, which will consist of four singles contests and one doubles match, the United States will appear in the role of challenger and the Australasians as defenders. Four Americans comprising the 1919 team arrived at Auckland December 15, the party consisting of William T. Tilden, of Philadelphia; William M. Johnston, of San Francisco; Watson H. Washburn, of New York; and Samuel Hardy, of Chicago. The defending quartet, so far as is known in this country, will probably be composed of Gerald Patterson, Norman Brookes, H. V. Thomas and H. O'Hara Wood. The actual alignment of players will not be announced until shortly before the matches. It is expected that Tilden and Johnston will bear the brunt of the American attack while Patterson and Brookes will be the Australasian "aces."

Tennis Followers Optimistic.

Close followers of tennis are inclined to be optimistic regarding the outcome of the matches believing that in Tilden, world's singles champion, and Johnston, former American champion, who is rated just a stroke or two below Tilden at the present time, the United States has an invincible pair. Watson is a formidable relief player in case either of the stars become indisposed while Hardy, who in reality is captain and manager of the team, and Douglas, a superlative game as occasion demands, Patterson is the power in the Australasian team playing a game somewhat similar to that of McMillin in the United States.

A study of the vast amount of data which has accumulated in connection with 14 years of play for the Davis Cup shows that not including the preliminary rounds of the 1920 matches, 68 players representing nine nations have participated in the play for the international tennis trophy. Of this number the British Isles has used 18 and the United States 17. Australasia is third with 16 and France, Belgium, South Africa, followed with five each. All told these players took part in 233 matches which went to a decision and one match resulted in a tie.

The schedule of the tournament, which is recovering from an operation, but his hospital experience will keep him out of the game a long time. It is hoped, however, that he may play before the season ends.

The stellar performers to return to the Hawkeye court are Aubrey Devine, the spectacular gridiron quarter; Captain Kaufman, another football star; and Shimek, an Iowa City baseball expert. Others of merit who are fighting for places are Frohwein, Klatt, Lohman, Newcomb, Ebberson, Olson, Tu Smith, Kadesky and Postman.

The schedule of big games, thus far announced, follows: January 15—Minnesota at Minneapolis. January 21—Michigan at Ann Arbor. January 22—Chicago at Chicago. January 27—Chicago at Iowa City. February 7—Minnesota at Iowa City. February 13—Ames at Ames. February 19—Purdue at Iowa City. February 21—Indiana at Iowa City. February 26—Indiana at Bloomington.

February 28—Northwestern at Evanston. March 5—Purdue at Lafayette. March 11—Ames at Iowa City. March 14—Northwestern at Iowa City.

CLEVELAND INDIANS TO START TRAINING WITH FEW CHANGES IN TEAM

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 27.—The Cleveland American league team, winners of the world's championship, will probably start the 1921 season with substantially the same lineup as they wound up the 1920 race.

They were strong enough to win the world's pennant and look good enough to me to be able to repeat," said President Dunn, "so why should I look for new material?"

"Our battery man showed themselves to be the best in either league last season," our outfielders, both in fielding and hitting, were the class of last season. Joe Sewell, who took Ray Chapman's place at shortstop, has all the necessary qualifications to fill that position, making our infield, both in defense and offense, as good as any in the game."

PROSPECTS FOR BASKETBALL SEASON IS NOT BRIGHT FOR THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

IOWA CITY, IA., Dec. 27.—Basketball practice at the University of Iowa is in full swing, but prospects for the approaching season are not bright. Finlayson, center on last year's team, is recovering from an operation, but his hospital experience will keep him out of the game a long time. It is hoped, however, that he may play before the season ends.

ONE OF LARGEST INDOOR TRACK MEETS OF YEAR AT ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY

URBANA, ILL., Dec. 27.—The University of Illinois relay carnival, which is to be held here March 5, is expected to be not only one of the largest indoor track meets of the year, but also, judging from the entries one of the fastest. The enormous size of the university armory has made it possible to construct one of the best indoor tracks in the country. It has been carefully worked over this fall, and the time trials indicate that the track is faster than ever.

CONFRONTED WITH TASK IN DEVELOPING A TEAM

LAFAYETTE, IND., Dec. 27.—Coach Ward Lambert, at Purdue university, is confronted with the task of developing two forwards and a center for the Bojmakers' basketball team. Captain White, who played floor guard, and Coffey, who filled the position of back guard, are the only veterans on the squad.

Since the close of the football season Coach Lambert has been studying the work of the seventy-five candidates for the varsity quintet, and he believes that before the season is well under way he will have found some men capable of taking care of the forwards and the important pivotal position.

Purdue's schedule includes games with six of the Western conference teams, with Notre Dame and several other Indiana colleges. The "Big Ten" teams to be played are Northwestern, Ohio State, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa and Illinois.

RICKARD MAY GET TWO NON-FIGHTING KINGS INTO ACTION

Kilbane and Wilson are reported to be stirring in their Bomp-proofs.

By HENRY L. FAIRRELL, United Press Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Tex Rickard, who has staged a parade of two championship fights in a row, may soon get the non-fighting kings into action.

The St. Paul Irishman threatens to claim the title if the Boston Italian continues to sit in the dugout fondling his regal robes, made continual efforts to get Wilson in a bout, but the champion's most recent excuse is that he is out of condition.

Outside of the Benny Leonard-Ricardo Mitchell fight, January 19, for devastated France, and a cool $60,000-bet between the boxing boys are still talking about the Dempsey-Brennan affair.

Many of the experts turned up their noses at the champion's showing against Brennan, but Tex O'Rourke is one who believes that Dempsey proved himself more of a champion than he was considered before.

"We never knew before that bout, that Dempsey could go over a distance, and we never knew that he could take a punch," O'Rourke said on his return from a tour of Europe seeking amateur talent.

"It seems to me that the main purpose of a fight is to get the better of your opponent, and Dempsey did that," O'Rourke observed in London that George Carpentier lost none of his prestige when Frank Moran finished Joe Beckett in two rounds.

"The British figure that it took Moran, considered just a year ago as Dempsey, twice as long to put out the English champion as it took Carpentier. Therefore the Frenchman is twice as good as the champion," he said.

In Paris the supporters of Carpentier are willing to wager two to one that he will beat Dempsey, and in England he is the favorite at five to four. "They have never seen Dempsey," he said. "They rate the entire American heavyweight class on a par with the new second string men they have seen. When they get their first look at the champion, the odds may fall off."

FEATHERWEIGHT OF PEKIN HAS AN UNUSUAL ALIBI

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Whenever a ring star is beaten, an alibi is offered in his defense. It remained for Stanley Everett, a featherweight of Pekin, Ill., to give an entirely new and distinctive alibi.

Everett, who in his fight with Harry Bamer of Kansas City, in Springfield, Ill., was knocked out in the first 20 seconds, declares that an admirer perched in a gallery seat, was responsible for his quick defeat.

CHRISTMAS ON THE OFF-TRAIL.
We thought we had forgotten all the years that lie behind us, and though the vision beckons through the years that wait ahead, the white and scarlet haze of the season still remind us that dream were merely sleeping which we thought forever dead.

For, vagabonds, it's Christmas, And the clans are congregating; O, vagabonds, it's Christmas, And we've come so far away; And in the lonesome shadows They are waiting, waiting, waiting For those who've lost the road that leads To Home on Christmas Day.

We met our mate, the tramping wind, and so we let it lead us From one with rose-blood in her veins and sunshine in her hair; It called us to a mother who we thought would never need us, Until the gray December winds brought in her silent prayer.

For Christmas on the Off-Trail Isn't what we used to think it; The little homes are calling With the roll-beat of the drum; And as we lift our mocking toast And suddenly we drink it, A kid calls "Mother, Mother!" And we know how far we've come.

Gray ghosts across the drifting years, they come upon our dreaming. The kids we used to know before we knew the rover's fate, The little homes, the hearts, the mother love, the streaming From weary eyes that look in vain beyond an old-time gate.

O, vagabonds, tomorrow We will start with rag and sack again; And leave a merry song behind Without a parting word, Just now we'd give our souls to know The "Christmas" highway back again, To whither "Mother, mother, mother," And to know that she had heard.

THE GREATEST THRILL.

What Christmas gift brought you the greatest thrill? Look back a year or two—maybe, ten or twenty or thirty years or two—we can't recall a much greater thrill than full and complete possession of our first rugby football—official size—regular piskin and all the accompanying ingredients.

And the same type of piskin between October and December has given us many a thrill since. For all that goes in the make-up of sport, the others are not even close—action, color, courage, speed, stamina, skill and the amateur soul.

COLLEGE STADIUMS.

The kicker we have with us to the uttermost ends of the universe. The latest complaint we have received concerns the erection of so many costly college stadiums and how.

"A pure waste"—complains the objector. The contrary, any nation that is liberally bedecked with these stadiums, which are all monuments to athletic endeavor, is building on the soundest sort of foundation for future health and recreation.

The idea that they are to be used for big football games alone is entirely wrong. They are nearly always the central structures of the big athletic area, and they also serve the purpose of promoting general interest in sport, their value is not to be calculated in dollars.

One factor that has lured many tourists to Florida has kept many big league clubs away from the unending spirit—the factor being Florida's nearness to the Hootch Stream that drifts between Florida and Cuba.

The athlete is supposed to get in the pink of condition, but not by absorbing the same color scheme in liquid form, which any number of them did last year.

What a Christmas this would have been if fate had dropped into John Bull's stocking a heavyweight who could last five rounds against just an ordinary cock. When Fitzsimmons left Cornwall he seems to have brought the model with him.

In the wake of what happens after his hit Brennan fight, Dempsey should have no vague ideas concerning what they'll hand him after some one knocks him out. If he has, he isn't a very fast thinker.

PLAY FOR THE DAVIS CUP WILL START ON TUESDAY

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Dec. 27.—Play for the Davis cup will start tomorrow with the American and Australasian teams playing off the challenge round.

The American team, consisting of William T. Tilden, British and American national champion, and William M. Johnston, is rated the favorite over the Australian "cup holders" reported by Gerald L. Patterson and Norman E. Brooks.

BONUS BILL WOULD COST $2,000,000

simpler and more certain tax upon corporate income or profits, and a "simple" system of specific sales or consumption tax.

Houston opposed increased surtaxes and declared a total normal and surtax of 23.13 per cent is the highest that can be successfully collected.

He also opposed the soldiers' bonus bill, which he estimated would cost at least $2,000,000 a year and possibly more, and said he did not know how the government would raise this money.

Retail buying has been greatly stimulated by recent price reductions, Houston said.

Carpets and rugs brought taxes of $2,156,000 in November, 1920, as compared with $1,249,000 in November, 1919.

Near beer yielded $2,900,000 in taxes in November, 1920, and $1,716,000 in November, 1919.

Admission and club dues produced $1,902,000 in November, 1920, and $1,587,000 in the same month in 1919.

Candy taxes jumped from $6,222,000 in November, 1919, to $7,136,000 in November, 1920.

Houston recommended that the revenue from taxation be held until 1923 at a level of $1,900,000,000, compared with tax receipts of $2,000,000,000 for 1920, and $1,574,000,000 estimated for 1921.

The reduction of extreme income surtaxes would not exempt the rich, but would tax them, he continued. They now avoid taxation by investing in tax-free securities.

The excess profits tax is "losing its productivity and promise in the near future to become a statute of exemption rather than an effective tax," he said.

"I recommend that it be replaced with a simpler and more certain tax upon corporate income or profits."

He suggested "either a flat annual tax on corporate profits such as has recently been adopted in the United Kingdom, or a tax upon the undistributable profits of corporations."

Advocating a simple system of specific sales or consumption taxes designed to collect a moderate portion of the aggregate tax levy from a few highly productive taxpaying non-essentials, Houston said that miscellaneous sales taxes supplied about 20 per cent of the revenue during the last fiscal year.

This could be increased to 30 or 35 per cent, but "no radical increase, such as doubling, would be justified," he urged.

He urged a "fair balance" between consumption and wealth taxes and opposed the substitution of sales tax for corporation taxes.

Taxes Houston proposed revising would yield less than $700,000,000 per year, whereas substitutes would yield over $2,000,000,000, Houston said.

WAMPLER EXPECTED TO RETURN TONIGHT

Henry Wampler, division chief of the Wichita Falls division of the Internal Revenue department, is expected to return to this city tonight from Dallas, where he went last Friday to confer with Collector Scott Read.

All three will return to Wichita Falls the latter part of this week.

All were taken to the city hall where they entered pleas of guilty of paid fines of $15 each.

FORT WORTH, Dec. 27.—The mid-winter convention of the Texas Farmers Union will be held in Waco, January 25, according to the official call for the meeting issued here today by President D. E. Lyday. REFORM ASSOCIATION HAS NO OBJECTION TO FREE SUNDAY SHOWS

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Free moving picture shows and theatrical productions on Sunday would meet no objection from the National Reform association, according to the Rev. William S. Fleming, district manager, speaking here today.

"All this talk about blue Sunday is a sham. We are not trying to pass any blue laws. What we are after is commercial amusement that is making money out of the argument of personal liberty," the Rev. Fleming declared.

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton. NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The cotton market was very quiet during today's trading.

Traders evidently found nothing in over-holiday developments to create an aggressive sentiment. First prices were unchanged to 3 points higher and after some little irregularity the market slid about 12 to 15 points above last Friday's close.

The feature was the buying of January by houses with Liverpool connections, presumably to cover shorts. About fifteen January notices were reported in circulation but they brought out very little liquidation and that month sold up to 14.06, while March advanced to 14.74 during the early trading.

Trading remained very quiet later and fluctuations were narrow. The early advance carried January up to 15.00 and March to 14.75, or about 17 to 20 points net higher, but as soon as the demand from January shorts subsided, prices sagged off under local and Wall street liquidation. By midday active months were back to about Friday's closing with March selling around 14.41, or 11 points net lower.

The market was easier during the early hours under Wall street selling in the absence of any important support. January declined to 14.60 or 15 to 25 points lower, while March fell to 14.10.

Cotton closed barely steady.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 27.—On the first call in the cotton market today, the near months were pressed 5 to 12 points by uncertainty over January tenders, this being the first notice day for that month. When it was seen that only a few notices were circulated, over 3,500 bales, the tone strengthened and at 1:30 prices were 17 to 18 points higher than the close of last week.

Irregularity developed with the distant months stronger than the near, but the market closed with the near at any position. At 11 o'clock the list was 2 points down to 15 points up, compared with the closing quotations of last week.

The market turned weak under scattered selling which was not well absorbed by the ring. Considerable liquidation came from the long side and at 1:30 prices were 24 to 48 points under final prices of last week with January down to 12.14 and July down to 12.10.

FLYNN NEW REVENUE COLLECTOR AT SAN FRANCISCO

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Appointment of John L. Flynn as collector of internal revenue at San Francisco was announced today by the bureau of internal revenue. Mr. Flynn succeeds Justice S. Wardell, who resigned effective December 21.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

Chicago Grains. CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Wheat prices showed a downward tendency today, influenced by an apparent let-up in expert demand. Buyers in the pit were scarce and trade was small. Opening quotations, which ranged from 9c to 11c lower, with March $1.64 to $1.64 and May $1.66 to $1.66, were followed by a moderate rally and then by a new downturn.

Announcement of a good sized decrease in wheat in the visible supply failed to act as a stimulus. The market closed heavy, 1 1/2 to 2c net lower, with March $1.64 to $1.64 and May $1.66 to $1.66.

Enlarged receipts put the corn market on the down grade. After opening unchanged to 8c lower, including May at 74 to 74c prices sagged all around before beginning to recover.

Oats were weak with other cereals, starting 1/2c off to a shade advance and later declining a little more.

Provisions reflected an advance in the price of hogs, but business lacked volume.
