5 CHARGES CAN BE MADE AGAINST MAN

Heavy Bond of $5,000 Set in Case Against W. S. D. Smith Is Explained by Officers.

Setting of a heavy bond of $5,000 in the case against W. S. D. Smith, the man arrested in Seattle, in connection with the shipment of 20 barrels of whiskey into Wichita Falls is explained by officers here in that five different charges can be placed against him.

The leaving of a small box car seal in an overall pocket which led to his apprehension has placed the man liable to the following charges:

Violation of federal statute, section 7895, False billing resulting in depriving carriers less than published rates. Maximum penalty, two years and $5,000.

Violation of article 9829 relating to foreign and interstate commerce requiring that the packages containing whiskey be so labeled and stating the name of the shipper and consignee. Maximum penalty $5,000 fine.

Violation of the custom laws which is punishable by two years imprisonment and $5,000 fine.

Violation of a conspiracy law which is punishable by imprisonment for two years.

Violation of the Volstead prohibition act, punishable by a fine of $500 and imprisonment in the county jail for six months.

LEW SHANK NOMINATED FOR INDIANAPOLIS MAYOR

INDIANAPOLIS, May 5.—Lew Shank, vaudeville comedian of by-gone days, was dabbling in politics again today.

Lew's jokes must have been good, for the town he sprung them on gave him the republican nomination for mayor with 1,384 votes to spare.

He resigned as mayor four weeks before his term was up.

A street car strike had just been settled and a teamsters' strike was pending. His friends said he resigned to save the teamsters from defeat because the money interests were precipitating the strike to "break" him.

The City Health Department Contemplates Betterment of Garbage and Trash Collection Service and Desires to Place It Within the Reach of All

It is proposed to let this work out to private parties who will receive their pay from the individuals to whom the service is rendered. Only those licensed by the city will then be permitted to perform this kind of work and bonds will be required governing prices charged, faithfulness of work, etc.

The prices to be charged will be determined by the number of citizens desiring the service; the larger the number of applicants the cheaper will be the price.

It is requested that all who will want such service—whether or not they are now receiving it from any source—notify the Health Department, (phone 5015), giving the name, address and number of visits desired weekly. This information is necessary in order that a basis for establishing prices may be obtained.

COSTS $1.75 BARREL TO PRODUCE OIL NOW, ROTARIANS ARE TOLD

REFINERY CHIEF SPEAKS ON NEED FOR TARIFF TO BAR MEXICAN CRUDE.

MOTOR TRUCK TO REPLACE SACRED CATTLE IN INDIA

J. G. Culbertson Tells of Foreign Trade; Tariff Question Shown as Making Strange Bedfellows.

Rotarians emerged from the club's weekly luncheon Thursday looking rather befuddled; some of them were talking to themselves, and counting on their fingers, and mumbling, "Now if Jack Culbertson is a republican and opposes a protective tariff and if W. B. Hamilton is a democrat and wants one, how long would it take Orville Bullington to figure out the same tax when oil is $1.50 a barrel?" and such questions.

At the conclusion of a very interesting talk about motor trucks in foreign lands, J. G. Culbertson, reaffirming his republicanism, said that the present condition of foreign exchange could not be righted by a protective tariff that would bar imports. W. B. Hamilton, who also spoke at the luncheon, declaring himself a perfectly good democrat, urged very eloquently the need of a tariff to protect American oil producers in general, and Wichita county producers in particular, against Mexican imports that are demoralizing the oil business.

Oil in this county is produced at a dead loss when the price is $1.50 per barrel, Mr. Hamilton said. "It costs us from $1.50 to $1.75 per barrel, counting every proper expense, to produce oil in this district," Mr. Hamilton said. "In Mexico, oil can be produced for 25 cents a barrel, and can be shipped to refineries along the Gulf coast and refined, and the gasoline sold at a price that is impossible for us to compete with. You may have heard that Mexican oil was used only as fuel oil, but by the Burton cracking process, they are now able to refine it and make gasoline for American consumption, while American oil goes into storage. "We get 25 per cent of gasoline from a barrel of Wichita county oil and 11 to 16 per cent kerosene; the rest has no value for lubricants, and is sold as fuel oil. From the standpoint of the fuel oil alone, the Mexican imports exert a hardship."

Mr. Hamilton reiterated his statement in a former talk on the subject that he thought if eastern manufacturers were to obtain protection through a tariff, southwestern manufacturers were entitled to protection also. Mr. Culbertson in his talk gave some interesting history of the motor truck company.

"When we started up in 1911," he said, "we were three miles from Wichita Falls; you could see only three houses from the factory. That may give you some idea of how Wichita Falls has grown."

Trucks vs. Sacred Cows. The Wichita Falls truck is to supplant the sacred cow of India, Mr. Culbertson said, in spite of the fact that differences in exchange rates make a $2,000 truck cost $8,000 in India, motor transportation is slowly taking the place of the tedious animal-drawn carts that are now used for freighting in parts of India where there are no railroads.

In spite of their distance from factories and parts depots, Mr. Culbertson said, users of trucks in remote places get better service than do owners in Wichita Falls.

"They know the importance of taking good care of a truck," Mr. Culbertson said, "they don't overload or over-speed, and they watch everything carefully."

Mr. Culbertson said that while the emergency tariff would give some protection to American industries, it would bring about a poorer market for American products abroad and would utterly fail to equalize the existing exchange situation.

M. A. Bundy, former police commissioner of this city and now mayor of an Arkansas village, spoke briefly. "I don't know much about the oil business, or the tariff," he said, "but I do know that the apple crop is frozen to death."

"It was a more cheerful meeting, really, than such discussions indicate," it was the first meeting to be presided over by the new prexy, Horace Robbins, and committees for the ensuing year were announced. Tom Bergin is given a new job by the appointments, that of introducing guests; this is done, it is understood, in the hope of keeping him quiet for the remainder of the meal.

How Not to Become Jurors Explained to High School Class

The deterioration of jury systems, as now practiced in the courts of the United States, was graphically shown at the high school Wednesday morning when pupils of Miss Lela Boone's American History 2 classes gave a program which, with modifications, is being acted in the court rooms of the nation every day.

A venire of 100 jurymen, played by the students, was called before the judge who questioned them as to why they should not serve on the jury of the court. Out of this number there were but three who could not show proper legal excuses as to why they should be exempted from duty. The "jurymen" represented all professions, doctors, lawyers, druggists, merchants and laborers and had been provided in advance with appropriate legal excuses which would exempt them from duty. These excuses were prepared by Raymond Miles, a local attorney, and of the one hundred presented, ninety-seven were deemed to be sufficiently legal to cause the dismissing of the juror.

Included in this was a complete list of disqualifications which would rule out a juror even though he was willing to serve. A number were dismissed on these counts.

The program was designed to show the manner in which modern juries were obtained and also to show the many loopholes through which a venemian could escape.

PLAINTIFF'S SUE FOR $18,000 ON BALANCE OF A CONTRACT. The Stewart Drilling company seeks judgment to the amount of $18,000 from the One-ota oil company in the 8th district court for balance alleged to be due on a drilling contract. The case began in court Thursday morning before Judge P. A. Martin and a jury.

Judge J. P. Jones was able to come to his office at the court house Thursday afternoon for a few minutes. He states he feels much better, but is still weak. He suffered from an attack of stomach trouble.

SCHOOLS BUSY WITH NUMEROUS ACTIVITIES

Busy Times in Prospect from Now Until Closing of Session May 27.

Busy times are ahead for the school teachers and students of the city, especially those of the junior and senior high school, for with the school year drawing to a close, the annual round of exhibits, class plays, banquets and parties, topped off by commencement exercises, are descending in full force. The annual exhibit of grade and school complete accounts of this is published elsewhere in Thursday's edition of The Times.

On Tuesday evening, May 10, a banquet will be tendered by the board of education to all public school teachers of the city, reservations already having been made for 100 plates. The banquet will be held at the Kean hotel and it is the intention of the board to secure a number of this city's most prominent citizens to deliver addresses and make the acquaintance of the high school work is scheduled to begin Friday afternoon and continue till late Saturday night, all displays being arranged at the high school building. J. K. Luton, traveling representative of The Times, who has been at the home of his daughter, Mrs. N. F. Fairbank in Dallas for several weeks recuperating from an illness resulting from car bunions, is reported slowly improving. He expects to be out again within a few weeks.

A stolen bicycle, which was later recovered, and a stolen automobile in connection with which an arrest has been made, were the only things reported to the police Wednesday night. The wheel belonged to L. M. Hill, 1224 Lucile, and was found early Thursday morning by a pedestrian. Police now have a man in custody whom they believe was responsible for the theft of the tire.

Henry Wampler, deputy collector of the internal revenue office, has called a meeting of all deputies in the district over which he has jurisdiction to be held in the local office Monday. Plans for a drive on delinquent taxpayers are said to be on foot. Mr. Wampler returned Wednesday from Dallas, where he consulted with Scott Reed, collector for this district.

A miniature ferris wheel, with appropriate advertising, is attracting considerable attention from those who pass the lobby of the Olympic theater. The display is an advertisement for Wesley Barry's new picture, "The County Fair," which is being shown at the Olympic the rest of the week.

W. A. Fiddle, vice-president of the Beaumont Lumber company of Beaumont, Texas, was in the city Thursday and called on his friend Judge R. O. Kenley.

A representative of a Chicago banking house is expected here Friday with officials of the Texas Bitulithite company, for an inspection of conditions here.

IMPORTANT MATTERS TO LABOR DISCUSSED

Executive Council American Federation Takes Up Questions of General Interest.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, May 5.—The important problems confronting the organized labor movement in the United States were being discussed here today by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor...

While the federation's council, under the direction of President Bernard Gompers, was taking up matters pertaining to the general situation, the executive council of the building trades department was considering the building trades labor situation.

Among the first of the major issues before the council was a nationwide drive against the "open shop" and the "American plan."

A campaign to put the federation's membership over the 5,000,000 mark also was scheduled for discussion.

President Gompers will report on legislation affecting organized labor, past and pending in congress.

A nationwide anti-union fight is said to be being conducted by the court and an outgrowth of a campaign under way in New York state.

The council will also consider the miners' strike, the printers' strike, clothing workers' strike and the building trades walkouts and lockouts.

Development of public work throughout the United States as a remedy for the present unemployment situation was urged here today by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American federation...

"There are at least 4,000,000 workers out of employment," said Secretary Morrison, "and conditions are showing no improvement."

"When a nation is enjoying prosperity it is not the time to develop public work. The time for public improvements is during an industrial lull such as that which is being experienced now."

President Samuel Gompers, who arrived here this morning with his wife, declined to make any statement regarding the program.

Asked about "open shop," when asked what he had to say about the "open shop" movement, Mr. Gompers said it was a "fine thing to do."

"They'll have a fine time doing it," officials of the executive council of the building trades department said...

AN ULTIMATUM TO GERMAN OFFICIALS

Lloyd George told the house of commons today, in announcing the allied reparations ultimatum to Berlin...

"It is most necessary," he said, "that Germany be compelled to disarm so that France can take her eyes from the frontier."

"The supreme council," he said, "is convinced that the terms devised by it and the reparations commission are fair to Germany and that they are workable."

The premier appeared before the house in the day after having personally handed the allied note to the German ambassador.

COMPLEXION OF CABINET DISCUSSED BY REICHSTAG

By CARL D. BROAT United Press Staff Correspondent. BERLIN, May 5.—The complexion of the German cabinet today to supplant the one just resigned, was to be determined today at a meeting of the reichstag foreign committee.

The cabinet's resignation was formally presented to President Ebert today in compliance with the president's request that it remain in office until a new ministry was organized.

Where the present party bloc will be able to send another cabinet to the government's bench in the reichstag is the subject of lively conjecture in parliamentary circles...

The reichstag was not in session today on account of this being Ascension day.

It is known that Dr. Simons counted himself out when the delay in the reply to his appeal to President Harding indicated a negative answer.

The cabinet's resignation was formally presented to President Ebert today in compliance with the president's request that it remain in office until a new ministry was organized.

President Ebert has asked his ministers to remain in office until another cabinet can be formed.

HOUSE DETERMINED TO CARRY OUT PLAN FOR DISARMAMENT

POSTPONE MATTER ONLY OUT OF RESPECT TO WISHES OF THE PRESIDENT.

HAVE PROMISE QUESTION WILL COME UP LATER

Required Promise from Republican Leader Mondell to Get Appropriation Bill Through.

By MARK SULLIVAN National Political Correspondent of the Wichita Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The most unmistakable manifestation of a vital and widespread sentiment that has appeared in the present congress is the determination to move towards international disarmament. It is not too much to say that nothing except consideration of the present congress and the fear of embarrassing him prevent the house last week from taking formidable action in the direction of disarmament by our own and other nations.

In attempting to get the naval appropriation bill through, the republican leader of the house, Mr. Mondell, was compelled in substance to appeal to the house to pass the bill for the present, and in effect gave the house his promise that within the reasonably near future President Harding would take the necessary steps leading to disarmament which congress demands. Mr. Mondell's language was wholehearted. He said: "We all know there is a general sentiment in the country in favor of a reduction of disarmament. There is a general—I may say practically unanimous sentiment in this house favorable to the consideration of the questions relating to and looking towards the reduction of the burdens of war and armaments. I am hopeful that in the near future—I trust during this session of congress those who are directly charged with responsibility in the matter of our foreign relations will find that the time is ripe and opportune for the successful accomplishment of the purpose of those who desire a lightening of military burdens. This should be done, and I have no doubt that it will be done when the conditions of our foreign relationships are such that we can do it without any misunderstanding of our motive and with the greatest probability and assurance of a successful outcome.

It was only leader Mondell's assurance that kept his own party in line in support of the naval appropriation bill. One of those publicists who was closest to breaking away from the party reservation put in pointed words exactly the reason why congress passed the naval appropriation bill. He said: "Republican leader Mondell yesterday made a frank, candid statement to the house and to the country that President Harding is in sympathy with the program of disarmament of nations and that he will try to initiate that program at an early day, possibly during the time of the present session, after world conditions have become more normal. The statement is reassuring, for no member of congress, irrespective of party, will willingly vote to embarrass the president on a vital question in world affairs, nor can any man fail to recognize the tremendous obligation which must be solved by him alone."

The clear fact is that in the lower house, of congress, as distinguished from the senate, there are no motives stronger than any others. The first motive is one of helpfulness towards President Harding. They realize the difficulties of his position, they sympathize with the sincerity of his spirit in trying to solve those problems, and they are unwilling to embarrass him. The next strongest motive in the minds of the members of the lower house of congress is the clear and trenchant determination to bring about disarmament among the nations. Because of the first motive, and because of that alone, they have for the moment put the second motive in abeyance. They have passed navy and army appropriation bills, but in doing so they regard President Harding as having given them a preliminary note to bring about disarmament among the nations in the near future, and nothing can be more certain about the tempo of congress than that in due course they will insist upon the payment of that note.

ROBY HAS A SUCCESSFUL FIRST MONDAY TRADE DAY

ROBY, TEXAS, May 5.—The Fisher county farm bureau put on a first Monday trades day at this place in which there were prizes offered for the best exhibits of livestock and poultry, and best babies under two years old. There were some extra exhibits of draft stock, and some hogs that would rival any exhibits at the fair stock show, one hog weighing over 500 pounds. These exhibits show a decided increase in the tendency toward the raising of better farm stock. In the better baby show, which was conducted by a red cross nurse, there were entrants from all over the county, and the contest was conducted on a clinic test instead of good looks. There were a great many that scored almost perfect, according to the standard as adopted by the United States department of health. There were more than fifty entered in the contest. Judging from the crowd that attended the trades day and the interest manifested, the farm bureau has started something that will be worth while if continued in the county.

THE ADVENTURE OF THE GOLDEN PINCE-NEZ

By A. CONAN DOYLE Copyright, 1921, by Harper & Bros. Published by special arrangement with The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The story thus far: One wild and stormy night in November Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson were surprised by a visit from Stanley Hopkins, a promising detective whom Holmes had helped on several occasions. He was puzzled by a case down in Kent, a country house down there. Yoxley Old Place was taken some years before by an old man, Professor Coram. He was an invalid keeping his bed half the time. He was writing a learned book, and a year before had found a secretary necessary. The first two he tried were not satisfactory, but the third, Mr. Willoughby Smith, was just what his employer wanted. That morning between eleven and twelve, Susan the house-maid heard a terrible cry and a heavy thud in the study. Rushing in, she found Mr. Willoughby Smith lying on the floor wounded in the neck by a small sealing wax knife from the desk. He gasped "The Professor—it was she," and died. The Professor, sitting in bed, was terribly agitated when the housekeeper told him of the tragedy, but could not explain the strange words. Hopkins showed Sherlock Holmes a rough plan of the rooms. The study was entered by the garden door, which was blocked by a bush as she ran to the room, one of which led to the garden, but after all it was easy to be mistaken on such a point. As to the knife, it might well be thrown far from the unfortunate man as he fell. It is possible that I speak as a child, but to me it seems that Willoughby Smith has met his fate by his own hand. Holmes seemed struck by the theory that the murderer was a woman, a woman with a puffed forehead, rosy shoulders and a peering expression. Holmes went to the scene of the murder, the bureau, and examined everything. On the bureau he found a scratch, which Holmes asserted was made by a key which the assassin had been using in trying to open the cupboard. He also attached importance to the fact that the corridor to the professor's room was also carpeted with matting. He then went to the professor's room—a room lined with bookshelves from which the books overflowed to the floor. The professor, with a gaunt, aquiline face and white hair and beard, sat in bed. He smoked incessantly and Holmes sampled his cigarettes generously.

PART FOUR Holmes was pacing up and down one side of the room whilst the old professor was talking. I observed that he was smoking with extraordinary rapidity. In fact, he was smoking so fast that he was licking for the fresh Alexandrian cigarettes. "Yes, sir, it is a crushing blow," said the old man. "That is my magnum opus—the pile of papers on the side table yonder. It is my analysis of the documents found in the Coptic monasteries of Syria and Egypt, a work which will cut deep at the very foundation of revealed religion. With my feeble health I do not know whether I shall ever be able to complete it, now that my assistant has been taken from me. I fear me! Mr. Holmes, why, you are even a quicker smoker than I am myself."

"I am a connoisseur," said he, taking another cigarette from the box—his fourth—and lighting it from the stub of that which he had finished. "I will not trouble you with any lengthy cross-examination, Professor Coram, since I gather that you were in bed at the time of the crime, and could know nothing about it. I would only ask this: What do you imagine that this poor fellow meant by his last words: 'The professor—it was she'?" The professor shook his head. "Susan is a country girl," said he, "and you know the incredible stupidity of that class. I fancy the poor fellow murmured some incoherent, delirious words, and that she twisted them into this meaningless message. "I see. You have no explanation yourself of the tragedy?" "Possibly an accident, possibly—I only breathe it among ourselves—a suicide. Young men have their hidden troubles, some affair of the heart, perhaps, which we have never known. It is a more probable supposition than murder."

Poor young Mr. Smith, he was a smoker also, but not as bad as the professor. His health—well, I don't know that it's better, nor worse for the smoking. "Ah!" said Holmes, "but it kills the appetite."

"Well, I don't know about that, sir!" I suppose the professor eats hardly anything?" "Well, he is variable. I'll say that for him."

"I'll wager he took no breakfast this morning, and won't face me much after all the cigarettes, I saw him consume."

"Well, you're out there, sir, as it happens, for he ate a remarkable big breakfast this morning. I don't know when I've known him make a better one, and he's ordered a good dish of cutlets for his lunch. I'm surprised myself, for since I came into that room yesterday and saw young Mr. Smith lying there on the floor, I couldn't bear to look at food."

"Well, it takes all sorts to make a world, and the professor hasn't let it take his appetite away."

We loitered the morning away in the garden. Stanley Hopkins knew good dog, and the village to look into some rumors of a strange woman who had been seen by some children on the Chatham road the previous morning. As to my friend, all his usual energy seemed to have deserted him. I had never known him handle a case in such a half-hearted fashion. Even the news brought back by Hopkins that he had found the children, a woman exactly corresponding with Holmes' description, and wearing either spectacles or eye-glasses, failed to raise any sign of keen interest. He was more attentive when Susan, who waited upon us at lunch, volunteered the information that she believed Mr. Smith had been out for a walk yesterday morning, and that he had only returned half an hour before the tragedy occurred. I could not myself see the bearing of this incident, but I clearly perceived that Holmes was waxing it into the general scheme which he had formed in his brain. Suddenly he sprang from his chair, and glanced at his watch. "Two o'clock, gentlemen," said he. "We must go up and have it out with our friend the professor."

The old man had just finished his lunch, and he certainly had a good appetite with which his housekeeper had credited him. He was, indeed, a weird figure as he turned his white mane and his glowing eyes towards us. The eternal cigarette smoldered in his mouth. He had been dressed, and was seated in an armchair by the fire.

"Well, Mr. Holmes, have you solved this mystery yet?" He shoved the large tin of cigarette which stood on a table beside him towards my companion. Holmes stretched out his hand at the same moment, and between them they tipped the box over the edge. For a minute or two we were all on our knees retrieving stray cigarettes from impossible places. When we rose again, I observed Holmes' eyes were shining and his cheeks tinged with color. Only at a crisis have I seen those battle-signals flying.

SEYMOUR IS PROVIDING A CAMP FOR TOURISTS

SEYMOUR, TEXAS, May 5.—A camping ground for tourists is being put in condition at the city park and it is planned to make it one of the most convenient in west Texas. Arrangements are now under way for water and lights and necessary buildings to be used during bad weather. A committee of J. A. Brittain, F. H. Davis and Capt. A. H. Hunt, were appointed by the chamber of commerce to assist the directors of the park in the undertaking. This ground will cover about ten acres in the north part of the park and signs will be put on all highways leading into Seymour giving notice to tourists of these conveniences.

EXPECT OLD RECORDS TO BE SHATTERED AT TEXAS TRACK MEET

Present Marks Have Been Equalled or Better in District Meets.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, May 5.—The eleventh annual track and field meet of the University of Texas Intercollegiate league held in conjunction with contests in debate, declamation and tennis promises to be one of the fastest, high school track meets ever held in Texas. One hundred and sixty-five schools have entered contestants in the track and field meet alone, and there has been a total of 550 individuals entered in the track and field meet. The contestants in track and field this year in the state meet have been determined by strict eliminations in the county meets and in the district meets. Only the winning track team in each district and winners of first, second or third places in the various events are eligible to enter the state meet. From reports of district meets held in the 22 districts into which the state is divided under the league organization, many excellent records have been made. The state record in the 100-yard low hurdles is 14.2-5 seconds. In competing in the district meet Rench of Groveton tied this record, and Hill of Weatherford made it in 14.3-5 seconds.

If the record shown in the district meets for the 100-yard dash in any indication of what these contestants will do in the state meet, the state record of 10.1-5 seconds will be materially lowered. Celaya of Brownsville, Garbode of Shiner, and Hoffman of Strawn are all credited with making the 100 yards in 10.1-5 seconds at their respective meets. Wilson of Honey Grove is credited with making it in 10 flat. Vickery of Groveton made it in 10.2-5, and Self of Denton is credited with running the century at his district meet in 9.4-5.

The state high school record for the mile run was made in 1916 by Goodright of Lubbock in 4 minutes, 41.1-5 seconds. Pierce of Wellington is credited at his district meet with making the mile in 4 minutes, 25 seconds. Briscoe of Greenville district meet made it in 4 minutes, 34 seconds.

No district report of the class A division has so far reported any lowering of the record held by Tucker of Fort Worth in the 220-yard low hurdles of 26.2-5 seconds. The present record for the 440-yard dash was made in 1916 by Ho't of Marlin, who made it in 22.4-5 seconds. Slough of Wellington is credited with making it in 22.3-5 seconds at his district meet there in April.

Two runners are credited at their respective district meets with breaking the state record for the 220-yard dash, which is now 22.3-5 seconds. These runners are Thomas of Electra, and Mitchell of Corsicana.

The best time so far reported this season from district meets on the 880-yard run is credited to Griffin of Minersville for 2 minutes and 12 seconds, which lacks seven seconds of equalling the present state record.

There is no prospect of the pole vault record made last year by Jackson of Dalhart at 15 feet being exceeded. A curious coincidence in connection with this event is reported this year. Loeven and Woody, both of La Grange, and Roher of Hallettsville, led in the Hallettsville district meet at 19 feet, 10 inches. There is every prospect that the broad jump of 21 feet, 8 inches will be lowered at the state meet this year. Jackson of Hillsboro at the Hillsboro district meet jumped 22 feet, 7 inches. Wilson of Dallas jumped 21 feet, 8 inches at the Grovesville district meet. Many contestants are reported as jumping more than 20 feet at their respective district meets.

Jackson of Hillsboro is credited with 5 feet, 11 inches in the high jump, which is considerably above the present state record.

POLO CLUB REALIZES IT HAS HARD GAME

Warren Jennings Says Cowboys Are Finest and Hardest Riders in the World.

While the Wichita Falls polo team will enter Saturday's contest in the second match of the series with the Cowboy polo team, the boys are not underrating their opponents' ability one whit. They fully realize that they are stacking up against one of the best outfits in the country and that they will have to keep hustling every second. While discussing last Sunday's game Warren Jennings, one of the local quartet's stars, had the following to say:

"Our team should feel proud of what we did to the Cowboy team last Sunday. We were meeting the finest and hardest riders in the world. Riding is a profession with them and when anyone doubts their ability to play polo, they do not know what they are thinking about. Throughout the game Sunday, the ball was on the jump, rarely did a Cowboy miss it. It is true that the Cowboy team was a little over anxious and by their aggressiveness caused them to commit more fouls than our team but that is what makes the game a real red-blooded game. As to the Cowboy's ponies, they are the best money can buy.

"Whenever Slim Caskey or Jim Massey find a pony faster than the one they are using, they buy him. In their rodeo contest the fastest and handiest pony generally brings home the bacon. Dave White, captain of the Cowboy team, plays polo the year around almost with Milt McCoy's Cowboy team at Sheridan, Wyoming. It's the fastest team in the northwest and Dave White is considered one of the best backs in the country. If his wrist is in better condition next Saturday we will have a lot harder man to handle than we did Sunday.

"Jim Minick is one of the fastest and most elusive players in the game. In spite of this hard combination, we boys expect to win these games. We try to meet their strong offense with our team-work, and that is what won for us in the last period in Sunday's game."

Sherman Defeats Graham Again.

GRAHAM, TEXAS, May 5.—Sherman defeated Graham here again yesterday 4 to 4 in the third game of the Texas-Oklahoma league series. Stogener, the Graham shortstop, was hit on the nose in the first inning and his retirement from the game weakened Graham considerably. Score: Sherman..... 2 of 0 0 12—4 Graham..... 0 of 1 0 0—4 Batteries: Flock and Clayton; Alberts, Reed and Rain.

SPORTS SHOTS by Paul W. Barkin

One of our hardest tasks nowadays is denying rumors. Some of these wise above league managers have even been tipped off (?) to the fact that Bobby Wallace is going to manage the club. How do they get that way?

These same hot stove managers couldn't see the reason for allowing Marshall to remain in the box as long as he did yesterday. Why should he have been taken out? In the first place none of us saw the actual contest and consequently are in no position to criticize. The best we can do is accept the account of the game as written by an eye-witness. Let's see what he (Bill Ruggless) has to say. "Sharp, short hitting gave Dallas two in the sixth." Again we read: "Dallas tied it in her half on infield hitting. Felix let off with a lucky

WICHITA FALLS FOURTH Official announcement of the Texas League attendance on opening days in the eight circuit cities made by President Donk Roberts awards the president's cup to Shreveport for the second consecutive year. The Louisiana fans turned out 6,177 strong on their opening, leading the Galveston attendance 102,000. Dallas with 4,822 took third place. Other figures were Wichita Falls 4,545, Houston 4,218, Beaumont 3,391, San Antonio 2,194 and Fort Worth 2,075. The showing of Fort Worth, the 1920 pennant winner, was astonishing.

Works, while the team run was scored when Works dropped a throw.

It is perfectly true that the Marines were hitting Marshall safely, but they were not hitting him hard. There's some in yanking a man when the big majority of blows garnered off him are infield raps. He proved to the satisfaction of all that he wasn't wild when he fanned the next two batters, incidentally two of the strongest hitters on the club—Robertson and Skinner if they were slumping his offerings to all corners of the lot, it would be a different matter. But they weren't.

If we were to criticize the manner in which the hitters were judged yesterday, we would say that the home was pulled when Marshall was yanked in the ninth. He had two balls on the latter when Bowman relieved him. Since we were not at the scene of the conflict, we don't know how unsteady he was becoming, but on the face of the facts as we have read them it looks as if Marshall was going along just as well as ever.

Oscar "Idaho" Anderson has been sent to Cincin.

Skipper Schim did not file a written protest with President Roberts over Monday's game with Dallas. He said: "After filing the protest with the official scorer I decided that Manager Galloway's action called for presidential discipline and did not justify a protest, so I did not press the matter further."

The presidential discipline meted out was a 22 fine which was slapped on "Bad News." From information we have gathered since the incident we see why Galloway was so anxious to get away with the pellet. Floyd Kros admitted that the apple had been doctored a bit with emery. But he was using the same horseshoe that Mitchell had used in the previous inning. "Lefty" can handle a trick ball as well as any of them and he was simply taking advantage of what Mitchell offered him. Evidently Galloway knew where the trouble originated. Hence, the paroling of the pill.

President Roberts also handed out some heavy fines to Sears, Kraft and Miller for their little setto here. The amounts were not named.

Baney Burch's manager has left him. Jack Lettvelt has decided to quit the game, and Baney is going to take the reins himself.

Danny Clark's extended hitting slump has carried him out of the charmed circle. He is now sporting an average of .75 "Frogs" went hitless a couple of days, but he more than made up for them. He has only belted out eight safeties in the last two days. When the Spudders went into the tenth inning yesterday and the scores were announced at the Airframe of other Texas league games each contest was deadlocked. Three of the games went into extra innings, while the other was won in the ninth.

Until Monday: Shipping Spudders vs. Shipping Panthers.

WAGE CONTROVERSY TO GO TO THE MAIL LABOR BOARD

TOPEKA, KAN., May 5.—Firemen and brakemen on the Santa Fe will take a 20 per cent wage cut if the federal labor board orders this. F. R. Harvey of Kansas City, Kansas, told Santa Fe officials in their wage cut conference here. However, the representatives of these crafts refused to take the matter up with the federal board. "The board can let us know when it is time to cut our wages; we don't need to apply to it," Harvey said.

NEW RULING ON DEAN ACT RECEIVED HERE

Higher Court Holds That Liquor Can Be Made for Medicinal Purposes.

A new ruling on the Dean Act by the higher courts in which it is held that a man who made whiskey for medicinal purposes would not be guilty of manufacturing liquor for an improper use is attracting much attention in local bar circles.

The decision was handed down and is recorded in the advance sheets of the Southwestern Reporter of April 20, page 625 in the case styled Durcago vs. The State.

The case was appealed from Falls county where a jury found the appellant guilty of violation of the Dean Act. The appellant defended the case on the grounds that he was making the liquor as a medicine for his own use and the higher court held that the trial court should have given the jury an affirmative charge on this phase in the case and held that by not so doing that the court had erred and remanded the case.

In commenting on the case Judge Hawkins stated: "The constitutional amendment under the Dean law as enacted, omitting parts not applicable thereto. The manufacture of spirituous liquor capable of producing intoxication is excepted from medicinal purposes."

"The Dean law is drawn for the purpose of making that amendment effective but recognizing that intoxicating liquors could be manufactured for certain purposes, it provides in sections 7-11 the things necessary to be done before the rights could be exercised. One of the conditions precedent is securing a permit from the controller of public accounts.

It appeared from the record that the appellant was a man 88 years of age and that the evidence showed that he was suffering from asthma and that he needed a stimulant. The court held that inasmuch as this fact was before the jury that the court should have given an affirmative charge on whether or not the man was manufacturing the whiskey for medicinal purposes, and if they should so believe that they should return a verdict of not guilty.

Something to Think About Rubbing the Lamp

By F. A. WALKER.

OF all the stories that out of a far-distant past have come down to entertain and teach us, none is more compelling in its interest than that of Aladdin and his wonderful lamp.

There are several versions of the tale but one feature remains the same in all the variations—in order to get the benefits which the lamp had power to confer the possessor had to rub it.

The greatest disgrace in this life is to be idle. To produce nothing, to feed upon the mental or physical labors of others, reduces man to a rank lower than the animals for they strive at least for their food.

COUNCIL IS HOPING TO GET BY WITHOUT TAX RATE INCREASE

MATTER DEPENDS UPON AMOUNT OF GAIN IN CITY'S TAXABLE VALUATIONS.

EXPECT NEW TERRITORY TO RAISE VALUATION TOTAL

No Reduction in Assessments Likely for Property Whose Market Value is Now Less.

The city council is hoping to get by without increasing the tax rate this year, but there is no certainty that it can do so.

The taxable values are expected to increase considerably over last year's total of about $29,000,000.

Much of the new territory is that in which refineries and industrial plants are located.

The fact that the market value of many pieces of property was less, on January 1, 1921, than it was on the same date in 1920 will not effect any reductions in taxable values.

Just what the total values are will not be known until the board of equalization has completed its work.

BURNETT TO MAKE PROPOSITION LATER

Expresses Gratitude for Co-operation Extended Him in Staging This Year's Roundup.

Tom L. Burnett in a statement issued Thursday extended thanks to the people of Wichita Falls for their generous patronage and attendance at the roundup this year.

He said that he also wished to express his appreciation to those men whose co-operation and help made the affair possible.

Jerome S. Stone deserved special thanks, he said, on account of his assistance in securing the ball park.

Mr. Burnett was more than pleased with the success of the affair and hopes to make it a permanent institution.

Most of the contestants have now left for other places and the boys with the big hats are now scarce on the streets of the city.
