

NEWS FROM BERLIN LEADS THE FRENCH TO EXPECT ACCEPTANCE

HAVE TWO MORE DAYS IN WHICH TO GIVE THEIR ANSWER TO ULTIMATUM.

FRANCE IS PREPARED TO MOVE IF NECESSARY

Unexpected Opposition Has Developed in Berlin According to Late Reports.

BERLIN, May 10.—Dr. Wirth, former minister of finance of the cabinet of Chancellor Fehrenbach, today agreed to attempt to form a new cabinet.

BERLIN, May 10.—Dr. Wirth, minister of finance, asked by President Ebert to form a new cabinet, was to present the names to the Reichstag this evening.

The Reichstag was to proceed immediately afterward to voting on acceptance or rejection of the allied ultimatum.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, May 10.—News received from Berlin this morning led French official circles to expect that Germany would accept all the ultimatum conditions.

Germany has two more days in which to give the categorical answer to the allied ultimatum conditions. The ultimatum, which expires at midnight, May 12, demands, in the main, that Germany pay reparations of approximately $23,750,000,000 and fulfill various other requirements of the treaty of Versailles, including disarmament, and the occupation of the industrial region of the Ruhr valley.

FRENCH LEADERS HOPE GERMANY WILL REJECT

By WEBB MILLER.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, May 10.—With only 40 hours remaining before the expiration of the ultimatum Thursday midnight, France today was prepared for the "jump off."

French leaders frankly hoped Germany will reject the demands and give them a chance to occupy more German territory.

Plans for the invasion of the Ruhr valley were complete to the last train schedule and the majority of soldiers indicative of the French feeling was that of Cardinal Dugues, of Paris, made public today. Addressing the archbishop of Cologne, the cardinal said:

"France's patience is exhausted. The people's sense of justice cannot be hurt with impunity. We demand only justice."

There was great enthusiasm among the troops already gathered at Düsseldorf and the young men who are still pouring toward the border in troop trains.

EXPECTED OPPOSITION TO ACCEPTANCE OF ULTIMATUM

By Carl D. GROAT.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, May 10.—Unexpected opposition to acceptance of the allied ultimatum was expected today when the Reichstag was to vote on the ultimatum.

At 4 p. m. in the Volkspartei caucus voting against acceptance. The democrats continued in session. If the demarcation line is not accepted, the question will stand a chance of defeat, and the allied invasion would start as planned.

The Reichstag was to meet at 4 p. m. for action on the allied demands. By that time it was believed the various parties would have determined their course and a meeting would be held in the morning.

It was believed the majority socialist ministers from the majority socialist, centrist and democrat.

Berlin newspapers today discussed a suggestion to have a meeting to argue the ultimatum that Germany refused to sign an agreement, but form a combination with Russia. It is expected that the approval of the proposal had the approval of full congress of the soviet republic.

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, May 10.—Acceptance of the allied ultimatum relative to reparations was expected in the Reichstag today when that body convened.

The centrist and the majority socialist yesterday, were believed to have definitely aligned themselves in favor of yielding to the entente demands, and while the majority socialist and German people's parties held a long session last night, debating the matter, it was felt that opposition to the allied terms was rapidly diminishing.

The people's party, headed by Dr. Gustav Stresemann, was reported last night to have become resigned to the inevitable, and it was said it would accede to the ultimatum, not desiring to antagonize the parties making up the government coalition. Yesterday's events appeared to show that the situation had resolved itself into a competition between the various parties for first place in the assenting column.

The majority socialist adopted a resolution yesterday pledging their support to "every sincere effort to carry out terms presented at London. In view of the military coercion and the violence with which Germany is threatened." The resolution declared acceptance of the ultimatum would be a real purpose of the allied ultimatum, but it was not to be made an equivocal declaration that she was prepared to disarm and disband her civilian guards by June 30. The center party yielded to the ultimatum, and it was believed today, give undivided support to a resolution expressing Germany's acceptance of the entente demands.

MAKES REPORT ON SEDITIONARY ACTIVITY

DECLARES AMERICAN COLLEGE HONEYCOMBED WITH SOCIALIST PROFESSORS

NEW YORK MAY 10.—The complete report of the joint legislative committee investigating seditious activities has been made public. A preliminary report was made to the legislature on April 29, 1920, and other findings of the committee were revealed during the hearings that led to the ousting of five socialist assemblymen by the assembly last summer. Now matters developed since that time incorporated in the four volumes of one thousand pages each, now published.

The report, popularly known as the "Lusk committee," for the reason that the chairman was State Senator Clayton R. Lusk, concludes that revolutionary radicals have sought to further their aims through personal propaganda, directing their efforts particularly toward college students, negroes and union labor.

American colleges, it is declared, are honeycombed with avowed socialist professors, whose teachings are bolshevick, and subversive of democratic ideals and institutions. "While the negro in general has been well treated in New York state," the report says, "the ill-treatment accorded him in other parts of the country has engendered a spirit of resentment which has been kept alive by the agents and agitators of the socialist party of America, the industrial workers of the world and other radical groups."

The report also has been encouraged by well-to-do liberals who have taken part in social uplift organizations and other groups. "This spirit of resentment has been encouraged by well-to-do liberals who have taken part in social uplift organizations and other groups."

The report also treats exhaustively
the growth of radicalism in the principal cities of the country, and the Karl Marx manifesto of 1848 to the present day.

MUCH DAMAGE TO CROPS IN JACKSONVILLE TERRITORY

SWISS FEDERAL COUNCIL AGREES TO ARBITRATE

GERMAN NEWS HAS ENCOURAGING EFFECT ON MONEY MARKET

JACKSONVILLE, TEXAS, May 10.— Much damage was done to corn and tomato crops here yesterday by heavy rain. All public highways were in bad condition.

GENEVA, May 10.—The Swiss federal council today agreed to arbitrate
the long-standing boundary dispute between Venezuela and Colombia. It is expected that a decision will be rendered by the council within twelve months.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Cables received today by international bankers from London and Paris indicating that Germany would accept the reparations demand bills on London sold at $497.

Active trading was reported in British bills, sterling selling at a high rate of $2.98 for small amounts, but reacting slightly before noon. The maximum quotation established a record
since April of last year when demand bills on London sold at $497.

There was a moderate inquiry for demand bills on Paris at $41, a new high level since the close of the war.
The German mark was quoted at $1.58, a gain of 13 points over yesterday's final price.

PRESIDENT HARDING MODIFIES THE RULE AS TO POSTMASTERS

MAY NOW SELECT FROM THE THREE CANDIDATES WHO STAND HIGHEST.

APPLIES TO INCUMBENTS AS THEIR TERMS EXPIRE

REPUBLICANS CONTEND WILSON WOULD GIVE MANY DEMOCRATS LIFE TIME JOBS.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—President Harding today promulgated the executive order outlining the method by which postmasters of the first, second and third classes are to be selected.
The order is aimed to replace, but not entirely overturn, the executive order issued by former President Wilson which put postmasters under the civil service.

The executive order makes it possible for the Wilson order to be chosen from three candidates who stand highest in a civil service examination. Existing regulations require appointment of the highest bidder of the city. The new regulation is to give the postmaster great more leeway in naming postmasters.

The order affects all incumbent postmasters whose terms have expired and will apply to other incumbents as their terms expire. A total of nearly 32,000 postmaster positions are affected out of a total of 60,000. All of those affected are towns and cities.

It was the contention of republicans
that the Wilson order had been allowed to stand many democratic appointees would have had life jobs.

"This leaves in the appointing power who have the ultimate responsibility for efficient administration the necessary constitutional right of choice," President Harding said in a statement
commenting on the new order.

The author, Harding said, is of the opinion that this is the kind of responsibility which cannot legally be and is not abridged by act of congress.
It is in exact harmony with the spirit of the civil service principle.

The order prohibits anyone taking the examination if he has passed his 55th birthday, or not actually resided in the territory of his office for two years.

President Harding in his statement urged that permanent legislation be passed to give the executive order the force of law. He said that postmasters would be brought under civil service requirements by law instead of by executive order.

"It is a step forward, measured by the requirements of progress, and is one which I hope will be made," the president stated.

I. W. W. HOLDING ANNUAL CONVENTION

Radical Element Not So Much in Evidence as in Former Meetings.

By CARL VICTOR LITTLE.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, May 10.—Wild eyed reds of the country have gone through the laundry of conservatism and have come out a faded pink.

In other words, a radical isn't what he used to be. A visit to the annual convention of the Industrial Workers of the World today demonstrated that conclusively.

For instance, none of the forty-five delegates carried T. N. T. bombs on them. Also there were no printing presses turning out seditious literature. No long-whiskered gentlemen, speaking in broken English were numbered among the delegates. All the representatives talked the king's English and talked it mildly.

Advocates of the overthrow of the government were not present. Delegates advocated the acquisition of additional members and little else.

The "problem before radicals" was this:
"How in the world are we going to scrape up the $5,000 to reimburse the iron who failed to answer the roll call at Leavenworth prison?"

Up until the time of going to press,
no answer was found to the question that is causing grave concern for Roy Brown, acting secretary treasurer,
on down.

The man who was interviewed as to why the city hall was not blown to smithereens as the opening ceremony of the convention, outlined the following platform for the I. W. W.:

"The aim of the I. W. W. is to organize every worker of each industry into one big union instead of numerous separate unions as now exist. This would give us a better chance of treating with employers."

No Intellectual Leader.
The I. W. W. gathering in without intellectual leadership—only the rank and file are present.

Delegates all frankly admit they are through former "intellectuals" who whom were sentenced to serve from one to twenty years in Leavenworth prison for violation of the Espionage act.

Thirty of the 46 convicted I. W. W.
"skipped their bonds and failed to "dress in" at prison. Seven of these were "intellectuals"—newspaper editors. These seven assumed the leadership during the war and had the most to say the only limit of the "say"
being the supply of printer's ink and printing press.

It was the boys who took their teachings at heart and went out to preach the gospel on the highways and byways who done the conventional prison stripes.

The disciplinary barracks were presented by the chief of the I. W. W.
department commander," he said.
"I was told by Colonel Humphrey, my executive officer, that the letter actually was written by the judge advocate who was trying Bergdoll at the time and was taken by the judge advocate to the chief of staff who signed it."

"But if it was signed by the chief of staff, there was no need of my comply with the warning," said Chairman Peters.

CONVENTION BEGINS PROGRAM TUESDAY. SEVERAL SPEAKERS

TEXAS CHRISTIAN MISSIONARY MEETING ENTERS DISCUSSION OF VARIOUS PROBLEMS.

STEWARDSHIP SESSION IS FEATURE IN AFTERNOON

Morning Speaker Contends Churches, Not Fraternities, Should Con- duct Welfare Activities.

The Texas Christian Missionary convention settled down Tuesday morning after the opening of preliminaries of Monday, to the routine work of the session here, and completed a busy and interesting program by Tuesday noon.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the Tuesday morning program was the talk by Milo J. Smith of Indianapolis, Indiana, on "The Church and Mr. Smith took the stand that such work should be handled by the churches and not by fraternal organizations."

Tuesday afternoon program was scheduled to include a "stewardship session," in which a discussion of this subject was a prominent part. This program was to be one of the big features of the convention with a number of speakers taking part. The Christian church members among its members quite a few strikes, and several of these are on the Tuesday afternoon program.

New Pastors Introduced.
When the Tuesday morning session began, a number of ministers who have come to Texas since the last convention were introduced. These included:
J. G. Wimer, now of Ranger; J.
Matthews, formerly of Illinois now at Weatherford; I. H. Teel, formerly of Kentucky, now at Midland; R. A.
White, formerly of Kentucky, now at Laredo; Sam J. White, formerly of Kentucky, now at Clarendon; W. Howard Frame, formerly of Ohio, now at Crossett; Ernest H. Davidson, formerly of Missouri, now at Mineral Wells; William Dunn Ryan, formerly of Ohio, now of Houston; J. W. Archer, formerly of California, now of Fritch;
Joseph H. Smith, formerly of Wisconsin, England, now of Palestine; J. L.

Paris; L. L. Lunde, formerly of New Mexico, now at San Marcos; C. S. Allhous, formerly of Arkansas, now of Crockett; P. E. Hawkins, formerly of Kansas, now of San Antonio.

In a discussion of missionary matters, S. W. Hutton, state mission superintendent, reported that the Wichita

MOUNTED POLICE ON GUARD AT DOCKS AT BUENOS AIRES PORT

By JAMES I. MILLER.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

BUENOS AIRES, May 10.—Mounted police, heavily armed, guarded all approaches to the docks here today to prevent clashes between union and nonunion workers.

The port was so tightly sealed that recent arrivals were unable to claim their baggage from the customs office.
The police were posted when the Employers' association announced it would repair striking dock workers with nonunion men. Union men threatened violence if they were replaced.

Strikers and strikebreakers made their way as usual to the docks today, but were surprised when halted more than a block from the water front. No effort was made to break through the police cordon.

Among vessels involved in the dispute is the Marita Washington, an American boat chartered by the Munition line. It was boycotted by dock workers when its officers refused to accede to demands by union leaders that part of its crew be paid off.

GENERAL MARINE STRIKE PLAN FOR BUENOS AIRES

BUENOS AIRES, May 10.—Representatives of the federation of marine workers, the general organization of men employed in port activities here,
met today for the purpose of ratifying
orders for a general maritime strike which will be effective until the government forbids non-union workers to enter employment by shipping companies. This meeting followed a strike by the stevedores union yesterday, and a walkout of several organizations of marine operatives. All operations in the port of Buenos Aires came to a standstill yesterday and more than 200 ships were tied up by the labor con-troverly which has raged here for the last three weeks.

RENEWED DANGER OF AN INDUSTRIAL WAR THREATENS ENGLAND

By ED L. KEEN.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, May 10.—Renewed danger of industrial war threatened Great Britain today.

"Bob" Williams, secretary of the transport workers, was prepared to stampede his followers into a strike when the unions executives met this morning.

Railway troubles threatened when the government ordered the Caldonian road in Scotland to carry out its public duty. The railwaymen refused to handle nonunion coal.

Government leaders recognized the new danger by again pushing preparations to meet a general tie-up of industry. With reserves called to duty and special defense corps recruited, there remained only the task of calling them into active service and again preparing the food and fuel supplies.

Thousands of soldiers and sailors and volunteer workers still are in the mining region as a precaution against flooding the mines.

WITNESS BLAMES A GENERAL DEFLATION; NOT FREIGHT RATES

CHAIRMAN SOUTHERN PACIFIC BOARD TESTIFIES AT HEARING.

PROPOSES A SERIES OF TRANSPORTATION REFORMS

Says Producers Unable to Dispose of Their Products and Traffic is Thereby Reduced.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—An attack on the "widespread propaganda" for lower freight rates opened the senate interstate commerce committee investigation here today.

Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific, told the committee that general deflation and not high freight rates were responsible for business stagnation. He blamed this stagnation for inability of producers to dispose of their products and charged that in many cases the middleman was responsible for lower rate skilition.

The witness proposed a series of reforms involving regulation of transportation systems competing with the railroads.

"The fact is," Kruttschnitt said,
"that even since the rates have been advanced the cost of transporting commodities is far less than the toll taken by the commission merchant and the retailer. Consequently people are mixed and conclude that high rates have stopped the movement of a large amount of freight and that the railroads would reduce rates and thereby revive traffic."

"Many commodities would not move
even if the freight charges on them were abolished entirely because producers can find no market," the witness continued, and in support of this pointed out that while ocean rates have been at their lowest point in their history, ships here and abroad are idle."

Refers to Cotton.
Kruttschnitt pointed to the case of cotton, on which he said inland freight rates had advanced 24 cents per 100 pounds while ocean freight rates had declined 42 cents per 100 pounds in March this year since August, 1920, when the rate was $1.98. Nevertheless forty per cent of the Texas crop remains in the hands of producers.

"Obviously the freight rate is not responsible," Kruttschnitt said. "Cotton shippers attribute it to an absence of demand, both domestic and foreign."

Taking the case of iron, Kruttschnitt said that the freight rate is not responsible. The fact about rates on "antiques" had been misrepresented
in the interest of the middleman, Kruttschnitt said.

As remedies for the railroad situation, resulting from too small revenues, Kruttschnitt recommended that the government should regulate the adequacy of rates and regulation of the use of highways built with public money.

Make inland waterways pay for themselves by regulation and proper tolls.

Keep the government out of the ship operating business and halt expenditures for the construction of ocean transportation in competition with the railroads.

Tolls for the Panama canal sufficient to pay its cost of operation and maintenance.

Do not deprive transcontinental carriers of coast to coast traffic by increasing the rate of a long and short haul clause.

WARREN WAGNER IS KILLED MONDAY NIGHT HOLMES GIVES BOND

SHOOTING WAS ON FORT WORTH STREET EARLY IN THE EVENING.

BOTH PARTIES ARE WELL KNOWN IN WICHITA FALLS

Wagner Formerly Operated in the Electra Field and Later in the Ranger Territory.

FORT WORTH, May 10.—Warren Wagner, wealthy oil operator, is dead today and Fred J. Holmes, vice-president of the Electra Oil company, was charged with murder and released on bond, following a shooting at Seventh and Houston streets late yesterday. Wagner was shot twice and died about 1 o'clock at the hospital.

According to Assistant District Attorney W. H. Tolbert, Wagner, after being taken to the hospital declared, "Holmes shot me through jealousy." Tolbert said the wounded man was too weak to talk coherently. When Mrs. Norma Wagner, wife of the dead man, came to the hospital, according to Tolbert, Wagner said, "I don't want to see you."

In a petition recently filed in district court for a divorce, Mrs. Wagner accused the rich oil operator with cruel treatment.

PRINCIPALS ARE WELL KNOWN IN WICHITA FALLS

Both Warren Wagner and Fred J. Holmes, principal figures in the tragedy of Monday night at Fort Worth, are well known in Wichita Falls. Wagner was an operator in the shallow field near Electra for some years, being at one time an associate of J. A. Fisher. He left Wichita Falls about five years ago, and attracted considerable attention in the Strawn district by drilling a well more than 3,500 feet deep with a star rig.

He was an operator on McClusky No. 1 at Ranger, the discovery well in that region, and later operated extensively in the central west Texas field, with considerable success. He was also a dealer in oil field supplies. Fred J. Holmes, who is held under bond in connection with the shooting, is connected with the Planet Petroleum company, which has offices in the American National Bank building. He did not reside in Wichita Falls, but is well known in local oil circles.

ANNUAL TAX BILL THREE AND A HALF BILLION DOLLARS

SCHEDULE BEING ARRANGED BY HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE.

PLAN TO REPEAL THE EXCESS PROFITS TAX

Soda Water, Ice Cream and Other Consumption Levies Are Scheduled to go.

By HERBERT W. WALKER, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—America's annual tax bill will be fixed by congress at $3,400,000,000 if plans of leading members of the house ways and means committee go through. They would like to reduce the per capita taxation to $10 for every man, woman and child in this country, or $3,000,000,000 but with continued larger appropriations they admit is doubtful if it can be done.

Tax changes will be along the following lines:
1. Excess profits, now one of the big sources of revenue.
2. Soda water, ice cream and some of the more "obnoxious" consumption levies.
3. Transportation taxes.
Some uncertainty exists as to whether theater admission taxes will be repealed.

whether theater admission taxes will be repealed. The new tax bill, in general, will follow these lines:
1. Reduced surtaxes on higher incomes so the maximum percentage will not be more than forty per cent.
2. Possible lowering of normal income tax rates from four to three per cent—although this has some opposition.
3. Increased flat corporation income tax from 10 to 15 percent, with the imposition of a levy of 15 percent on undistributed profits of corporation, to make up for the loss caused by repeal of the excess profits tax. It is believed this would tend to prevent issuance of stock dividends, which have been held untaxable.
4. Increased tobacco taxes from 50 to 100 per cent.
5. Taxes of $240 a gallon on all liquors withdrawn from bond, compared with the present rate of $220.
Taxes on estate, insurance, lodge and club dues, child labor products and the so-called stamp taxes, as applied to various legal documents and business papers, probably will remain the same.

J. Callahan announced here yesterday. Of this amount $2,000,000 had been expended and budgeted for technical and business courses for 150,000 former servicemen.

PROMISES TO GIVE GAME OF "AFRICAN GOLF" A RUN
KANSAAS CITY, MO., May 10.—"Bring your top with you," is the invitation grown men and boys are giving each other in social circles here these days. But it isn't a boy's top they mean. It's an octagonal top with mysterious letters and numbers and one lone star on its eight sides that has to do with "paying and taking" from the "pot." And this novel gambling device threatens to give "African golf" a run for its popularity here.

The Adventure of the Second Stain

By J. CONAN DOYLE Copyright, 1921, by Harper & Bros. Published by special arrangement with The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The story thus far: Lord Bellinger, the premier, and the Right Honorable Trevelyan Hope, secretary for European affairs, visit Holmes in great distress to tell him that a valuable paper disappeared the night before from the locked despatch box in Hope's bedroom. The paper was a letter from a foreign potentate. If it was found it would doubtless cause war.

PART TWO. Holmes wrote a name upon a slip of paper and handed it to the Premier. "Exactly. It was he. And it is this letter—the letter which may well mean the expenditure of a thousand millions and the lives of a hundred thousand men—which has become lost in this unaccountable fashion."

"Yes, sir, a cipher telegram has been dispatched." "Perhaps he desires the publication of the letter?" "No, sir, we have strong reason to believe that he already understands that he has acted in an indiscreet and but-headed manner. It would be a greater blow to him and to his country than to us if this letter were to come out."

"This is so, whose interest is it that this letter should come out? Why should anyone desire to steal it or to publish it?" "There, Mr. Holmes, you take me into regions of high international politics. But if you consider the European situation you will have no difficulty in perceiving the motive. The whole of Europe is an armed camp. There is a double league which makes a fair balance of military power. Great Britain holds the scales. If Britain were driven into war with one of the other confederacy, whether they joined in the war or not. Do you follow?"

"Very clearly. It is then the interest of the nations of this potentate to secure and publish this letter, so as to make a breach between his country and ours?" "Yes, sir." "And to whom would this document be sent if it fell into the hands of an enemy?" "To any of the great chancelleries of Europe. It is probably speeding on its way thither at the present instant as fast as steam can take it."

"Mr. Trevelyan Hope dropped his head on his chest and groaned aloud. The premier placed his hand kindly upon his shoulder. "It is your misfortune, my dear fellow. No one can blame you. There is no precaution which you have neglected. Now, Mr. Holmes, you are in full possession of the facts. What course do you recommend?"

Holmes shook his head mournfully. "You think, sir, that unless this document is recovered there will be war?" "I think it is very probable." "Then, sir, prepare for war." "That is a hard saying, Mr. Holmes."

"Consider the facts, sir. It is inconceivable that it was taken after eleven-thirty at night, since I understand Mr. Hope and his wife were both in the room that hour until the loss was found out. It was taken, then, yesterday evening between seven-thirty and eleven-thirty, probably near the earlier hour, since whoever took it evidently knew that it was there, and would naturally secure it as early as possible. Now, sir, if a document of this importance were taken at that hour, where can it be now? No one has any reason to retain it. It has been passed rapidly on to those who need it. What chance have we now to overtake or even to trace it? It is beyond our reach."

"The prime minister rose from the settee. "What you say is perfectly logical, Mr. Holmes. I feel that the matter is indeed out of our hands." "Let us presume, for argument's sake, that the document was taken by the maid or by the valet."

"They are both old and tried servants." "I understood you to say that your room is on the second floor, that there is no entrance from without, and that from within no one could go up unobserved. It must, then, be somebody in the house who has taken it. To whom would the thief take it? To one of several international spies and secret agents whose names are tolerably familiar to me. There are three who may be said to be the heads of their profession. I will begin my research by going round and finding if each of them is at his post. If one is missing—especially if he has disappeared since last night—we will have some indication as to where the document has gone."

"Why should he be missing?" asked the European secretary. "He would take the letter to an embassy in London, as likely as not." "I fancy not. These agents work independently, and their relations with the embassies are often strained."

"The prime minister nodded his acquiescence. "I believe you are right, Mr. Holmes. He would take so valuable a prize to headquarters with his own hands. I think that your course of action is an excellent one. Meanwhile, Hope, we cannot neglect all our other duties on account of this one misfortune. Should there be any fresh developments during the day we shall communicate with you, and you will no doubt let us know the results of your own inquiries."

The two statesmen bowed and walked gravely from the room. When our illustrious visitors had departed Holmes lit his pipe in silence and sat for some time lost in the deepest thought. I had opened the morning paper and was immersed in a sensational crime which had occurred the very night before, when my friend gave an exclamation, sprang to his feet, and laid down his pipe upon the mantelpiece. "There is no better way of approaching it. The situation is desperate, but not hopeless. Even now, if we could be sure which of them has not yet passed out of his hands. After all, it is a question of money with these fellows, and I have the British treasury behind me. If it's on the paper I'll buy it—if it means another penny on the income tax. It is conceivable that the fellow might hold it back to see what bids come from this side before he risks his luck on the other. There are only those three capable of playing so bold a game—there are Oberstein, La Rothiere and Eduardo Lucas. I will see each of them."

stable Barrett, passing along Godolphin street, observed that the door of No. 14 was ajar. He knocked but received no answer. Perceiving a light in the front room, he advanced into the passage and again knocked, but without reply. He then pushed open the door and entered. The room was in a state of wild disorder, the furniture being all swept to one side, and one chair lying on its back in the center. Beside the chair, and still grasping one of its legs, lay the unfortunate tenant of the house. It had been stabbed to the heart and must have died instantly. The knife with which the crime had been committed was a curved Indian dagger, plucked down from a trophy of Oriental arms which adorned one of the walls. Robbery does not appear to have been the motive of the crime, for there had been no attempt to remove the valuable contents of the room. Mr. Eduardo Lucas was so well known and popular that his violent and mysterious fate will arouse painful interest and intense sympathy in a widespread circle of friends.

"Well, Watson, what do you make of this?" asked Holmes, after a long pause. "It is an amazing coincidence," I replied. "A coincidence! Here is one of the three men whom we had named as possible actors in this drama and he meets a violent death during the very hours when we know that that drama was being enacted. The odds are enormous against its being coincidence. No figures against Lucas, Godolphin street, Westminster, is only a few minutes' walk from Whitehall Terrace. The other secret agents whom I have named live in the extreme west end. It was easier, therefore, for Lucas than for the others to establish a connection or receive a message from the European secretary's household—a small thing, and yet where events are compressed into a few hours it may prove essential. 'Hallo! what have we here?'"

"Not at all. They know all they see at Godolphin street. They know—and shall know—the names of the three men. Only we know of both events, and can trace the relation between them. There is one obvious point which would, in an armed camp, have a meeting place against Lucas, Godolphin street, Westminster, is only a few minutes' walk from Whitehall Terrace. The other secret agents whom I have named live in the extreme west end. It was easier, therefore, for Lucas than for the others to establish a connection or receive a message from the European secretary's household—a small thing, and yet where events are compressed into a few hours it may prove essential. 'Hallo! what have we here?'"

"You will not see him." "Why not?" "He was murdered in his house last night." "My friend has so often astonished me in the course of our adventures that it was with a sense of exultation that I realized how completely I had astonished him. He started in amazement and then snatched the paper from my hands. This was the paragraph which I had been engaged in reading when he rose from his chair."

MURDER IN WESTMINSTER. A crime of mysterious character was committed last night at 14 Godolphin street, one of the old-fashioned and secluded rows of eighteenth century houses which lie between the river and the Abbey, almost in the shadow of the great tower of the house of parliament. This small but select mansion has been inhabited for some years by Mr. Eduardo Lucas, well known in society circles both on account of his charming personality and because he has the well-deserved reputation of being one of the best amateur tennis in the country. Mr. Lucas is an unmarried man, thirty-four years of age, and his establishment consists of Mrs. Pringle, an elderly housekeeper, and of Milton, his valet. The former retires early and locks the door of the house. The valet was out for the evening, visiting a friend at Hammermith. From ten o'clock onward Mr. Lucas had the house to himself. What occurred during that time has not yet transpired, but at a quarter to twelve Police Con-

CAFE PROPRIETORS MUST PUT UP SCREENS INSPECTORS DECREE

Cafe owners and operators of confectioneries in this city who have not provided their places of business with screens doors and windows are scheduled for a clash with the law.

Dr. L. I. Lucy and C. Krupell, food inspectors of the city health department, started an active campaign on Tuesday morning against offenders and promised that in case the screens were not up within a day or two prosecutions would follow. The pestiferous fly is beginning to show signs of life, according to Lucy, and provisions must now be made for combating them. A large number of cafe owners have already provided their houses with screens, but a few are still operating without them and it is these that the officials are going after.

"It would be a good idea for the housewives of the city to put their husbands to work getting the screens out and in place," said Lucy, "for the first spell of protracted hot weather will bring the flies out in droves."

FORD DENIES HE IS MAKING ANY PLANS FOR MASS MEETING

H. S. Ford, theatrical manager who is leading the fight for Sunday amusements in this city, has denied that he contemplates calling a mass meeting for the purpose of creating public sentiment in favor of Sunday operation of picture shows. Published statements have credited Mr. Ford with having made plans for calling the meeting, but he emphatically denies ever having entertained such an idea.

In commenting on the situation Tuesday morning Mr. Ford stated that he was making no effort to resort to such measures and that all he wanted was the same privilege being accorded other business institutions which, according to him, should be closed on the Sabbath. Mr. Ford also reiterated his declaration that he would voluntarily close his theatres on Sunday if new laws, confectories, drug stores, soda fountains and filling stations were shut down.

Policeman Is Jailed By Fellow Officers When He Takes Bride

Melvin Johnson, day patrol driver of the police force, was found trying to get married quietly in a dangerous proposition; he took unto himself a wife Monday night, and was locked up in jail for six hours, riding on a rail, threatened with drenching from a fire hose and subjected to sundry other indignities entirely unbecomingly.

The punishment was meted out by a half dozen cops, however, and the luckless victim had no recourse. Even Chief Huff joined in the festivities and for a few minutes devoted himself to the task of making life miserable for his efficient subordinate.

Johnson and Miss Thelma Collins were married Monday evening and groom took pains to keep news of the impending event from the city hall Monday. He helped perpetrate a number of punks on motorcycle officers who took the step a few months ago, and this was still fresh in his mind, but some traitor tipped off the word to Captain Ehlers, and the fun was on.

Incarcerated in the "stew" cell for two hours, deluged with questions from the mates as to what message they should take to his girl hidden all over the city hall on a rail and finally dismissed violently by Johnson in line for anything from murder up, but he was back at work Tuesday, and aside from swearing eternal vengeance on his tormentors, did not attempt to even up with them.

The young couple will go to light housekeeping in the city.

BOTTLES, GUN AND TWO NEGROES FORM SETTING FOR NELLE

George Dawson and Robert Clark staged a battle in front of Rufus Pratt's place of business on Mill street Monday night with the use of some bottles and a gun. The two negroes engaged in a brawl that landed Clark in jail.

According to witnesses, Dawson hurled a bottle or two at Clark and the latter returned the onslaught with two or three shots from a gun. The last seen of Dawson Monday night was when he turned a corner a block from the place. It is thought that none of the bullets found their mark.

Fred Powell, another negro, said he heard the shots and ran out of the rooming house and picked up a coat. Officers found a pair of knucks in the pocket and he was also brought to the county jail.

"MARRYING PARSON" PERFORMS THREE WEDDINGS IN 20 HOURS

Rev. W. L. Tuttle of the Floral Heights Methodist church is in a fair way to earn the title of "marrying parson." His latest record is three marriages in 20 hours, Saturday and Sunday.

These were the nuptials of Jack Bristol and Miss Thelma K. Hill, a home wedding ceremony performed Saturday afternoon at 8 o'clock; of Dr. L. Hubbard and Miss Lillie Meade, a home wedding performed Saturday evening at 8 o'clock; and of C. D. Brown and Miss Chessie Riggs, a home wedding performed at 8 o'clock Sunday morning.

START MOVE AGAINST GLARING HEADLIGHTS

University Club Also Tackles High Rent Question at its Session Tuesday.

Such public questions as regulation of glaring headlights and relieving the high rent situation were tackled by the University club at its weekly luncheon at the Kemp Tuesday.

The headlight matter ran into a legal tangle, and was referred to a committee to straighten out and report at the next meeting. On the rent question, after E. P. Haney had discussed it at some length, preliminary steps were taken for bringing to the attention of the special session of the legislature laws enacted in New York, California and other states.

A. E. Murdoch made a suggestion, and the headlight question, that seemed to meet with favor; it was to deal with cases of such headlights on a social, rather than a legal basis, so that drivers of offending cars would be branded as "ill-bred persons." Mr. Murdoch was referred to a committee to straighten out and report at the next meeting.

E. P. Haney discussed the rent question, and cited some remedial laws that have been passed in New York, California, and other states.

E. C. Lolette, representing the China Famine fund, spoke briefly, outlining the need for aid from this city. He spoke of the importance of retaining China's friendship.

"You may laugh at the idea of war with Japan," he said, "but I believe it is coming, and when it does, China will be a valuable ally for America."

Judge Guy Rodgers presided at the meeting. C. A. Kleinmann was in charge of the program.

CUT THIS OUT Old English Recipe For Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment. Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength). Take this home and add to it a pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful every three hours. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, stinging hearing improve and the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmit used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. Preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh of head noises is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.—(adv.)

START ORGANIZATION TUESDAY OF SPUDDER ROOTER CLUB—HOLD BARBECUE AT LAKE ON MAY 17

Plans were inaugurated Tuesday by a group of enthusiastic Spudder rooters for the organization of a "Spudder Rooter" club, the purpose of which is to bring the players and local fans into closer contact with one another.

Though many of the details are yet to be formulated, it was decided to hold a barbecue at Lake Wichita Tuesday night, May 17, two days before the club leaves on its second road trip. Every member of the team will be present and it is the intention of the organizers to have at least one thousand fans on hand.

The initiation fee and dues for the entire year will be one dollar. This dollar will include the barbecue and entertainment and each member will be furnished a pin upon which will be inscribed the words "Spudder Rooter," in addition to a small megaphone which it is hoped will be used at the home games.

V. H. Shepherd was elected president of the embryo organization and C. F. Carter, secretary. An entertainment committee including H. F. Lowry, George Jehle and E. Stanley Field was appointed and two membership committees were chosen.

Every man, woman and child in the city is eligible for membership and for this reason a committee composed of Mrs. J. F. Lauck, Mrs. Paul W. Larkin and Mrs. N. O. Munroe was chosen from among the "dainty" rooters of the fair sex.

The men's membership committee will include J. D. Parnell, W. H. Street and George Mobley.

EMPLOYEES OF THE EL PASO AND SOUTHWESTERN ROAD ARE GRANTED AN INCREASE

CHICAGO, May 10.—Employees of the El Paso and Southwestern railroad handling rail, lumber, scrap and doing other common labor around storehouses were granted an 8 1/2 cent increase by the July 1920 wage award, the railroad labor board ruled in a decision handed down today. The employees had contended for a 10 cent increase as awarded to storehouse employees. The board decided, however, that common labor under supervision of foremen, should not be classed as storehouse employees.

Mrs. Warren was charged by the company with tardiness and excessive absence from duty. She claimed that her discharge resulted from a request for additional salary. The absence, she claimed, was largely due to illness.

DOROTHY DIX'S TALKS

Playing the Game.

ARE you playing the game of life squarely and fairly? Are you making yourself as little a burden as possible to those about you? If you are not, you are not giving your family a square deal.

Take the matter of sickness, for instance. To save our faces we speak of ill health as an affliction sent upon us mysteriously by some strange Providence that we do not understand. Most of the time, this is an out and out lie. We know well enough that we are sick because we broke the laws of health, and that we have nothing but ourselves to blame.

We justify ourselves in overeating, in refusing to take exercise, in staying out too late at night, in dancing too much, in defying wintry blasts in insufficient clothing because our new frocks look better without wraps, by saying that it's our own stomachs, and our own nerves, and our own lungs that we are rickety, and that if we get dyspepsia, and nervous prostration, and pneumonia, we are the ones who will have to suffer.

If that were entirely true, it wouldn't be so much matter, and the family might well stand aside and let those die who did not have enough sense to live; but in cases of sickness it is not the ill who suffer most. It is those who have to take care of them.

There are only a small number of people who are able to turn the sick members of their families over to the care of trained nurses and hospitals. The balance must keep the weary vigil of the sick-room themselves, they must fetch, and carry, and minister to the fretful whims of those who have brought their illness upon themselves by their own self-indulgence.

Nor can the average family afford sickness any more than they can to set up a yacht, or an imported automobile. Of course, when one we love is suffering and in danger, we weigh nothing else in the scale against his or her safety. The best doctor, the finest surgeon, costly medicines, expensive nourishment he or she must have, no matter what it costs.

So the little savings bank account that we had gathered together, penny by penny, with which to buy a home, and which represents a thousand bitter denials, melts away like ice in an August sun. Or worse still, we saddle ourselves with debts to doctors and druggists that will sell us into slavery for years to come.

Who does not know some family that is kept down to the low level of grinding poverty by an invalid? There is never a chance to save anything, because the sick one is forever trying some new cure. The very food that growing children need is stunted for patent medicines. All ambition and effort are crushed under the weight of the perpetual doctors' bills.

And nine times out of ten, the invalids who martyrize their families have brought their illness upon themselves by their own self-indulgence.

Last winter a man I knew died. For twenty years with their bare earnings an immense salary, and he and his wife had spent money as if it were water. When his estate came to be settled up, it was found that he had not left a penny. He and his wife had lived up everything he made, and when she was widowed she had to go and live on her brother, a poor man who could ill afford to support her. There are thousands of such cases, and these dependent people never seem to realize that they are grafters and thieves because they have no right to fail to provide for themselves.

Even parents have no right to make themselves a burden for their children to take care of unless it is absolutely unavoidable. Most men and women quit work too early. They would be healthier and happier, and better satisfied if they would keep on with their jobs to the last possible moment, and they would have far more self-respect if they earned their own living than they have as pensioners on their children and their in-laws.

I don't know what Saint Peter is going to ask us when we come up and knock for admission at the Heavenly Gate, but I have an idea that if we can say that we have played the game of life fairly and squarely, and made ourselves as little an affliction to other people as was possible, that we will have the counter-sign and the password.

NEWS FROM BERLIN MAY ACCEPT TERMS

ernment troops into Upper Silesia would be considered by France as a violation of the Versailles treaty had influence in bringing about a decision on the part of several deputies to join the elements ready to accept the allied ultimatum.

The premier's communication was generally viewed here as betraying an over-zealous desire to stimulate action among reichstag parties opposing the ultimatum.

Leading democratic deputies declared yesterday that acceptance of the ultimatum would be the most effective way of counteracting French aspirations and contended that a sincere effort on the part of Germany to carry out the conditions of the ultimatum would strengthen her case in the United States and England. Count Von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, was one of the most prominent democratic deputies to champion acceptance, a course he has persistently advocated in party conferences and in public speeches.

There is a probability that the retiring Fehrenbach cabinet which at present is functioning as an acting ministry, may accept officially the London ultimatum for Germany. Definite decision has not as yet been reported, but there is considerable sentiment in favor of such procedure among members of the present coalition parties, who believe it would provide an expedient way out of the present crisis. They declare it would not encourage the incoming ministry with what is viewed as an odious and thankless job.

Better Part of Valor. "If the Poles steal Upper Silesia and the French invade the Ruhr district, Germany will be so completely weakened that she will be unable to carry out the reparations conditions," declared Theodore Wolff, editor of the Tageblatt, yesterday. This statement occurred in the course of an editorial in which Dr. Wolff declared he had come to the conclusion that acceptance of the allied ultimatum would "be the better part of valor for Germany."

"Lincoln's warning," he continued, "not to swap horses while crossing a stream, has not been observed in the present situation. The retiring cabinet has gravely complicated the crisis by retreating."

He pointed out the inevitable loss of the Ruhr district and Upper Silesia in the event of the rejection of the allied terms. "said these losses formed the preponderant element in the situation, and would induce many who object to the entire demands to decide in favor of yielding."

"We are only too familiar with the vacillating soul of Lloyd George," said Dr. Wolff in discussing the British prime minister's speech at Maidstone, England, on Saturday, "and are quite aware that rhetorical commonplaces do not always definitely bind him. We must admit, however, that Germany balks in the present situation none of the allies will raise a hand in her behalf in Upper Silesia."

Dr. Wolff demanded tangible guarantees that Germany's acceptance of the ultimatum would not be followed by arbitrary invasion of the Ruhr region by the French at some later date, and on some flimsy pretext.

"If the French, nevertheless, pounce upon their coveted booty through no clearly proven fault of Germany," he concluded, "they no doubt will be permitted to remain, and any provisions of the Versailles treaty forbidding such action will become null and void."

GERMANY MAY ISSUE BONDS TO SATISFY ALLIES' CLAIM PARIS, May 10.—The possibility of the issue by Germany of bonds to the value of 12,000,000,000 gold marks bearing 5 per cent interest for the allies has started speculation in financial circles regarding eventual loans to be floated by the allies with the bonds as a guarantee. It was said at the ministry of finance today that this was along the possibilities, but the matter had not yet been discussed in the form of a project.

Rumors are current in Paris of a projected loan by France in the United States but the ministry of finance declares absolutely that no project of that kind is under consideration.

STRICT COMPLIANCE AS TO WEED CUTTING IS TO BE REQUIRED

The city health department has made the following statement in regard to cutting weeds during the summer months:

"All the people of Wichita Falls who have weeds are required by law to cut and keep them down to 12 inches in height from June 1st to October 1st. We are giving notice that this law must be complied with this year by every one who has property on which weeds are growing."

"We are not going to discriminate because the law applies to everybody regardless of station and doesn't recognize your weeds as being and better than your neighbors. We were lax last year, because many people were unfamiliar with these provisions, but now you have had a year to become educated and there is no excuse for pleading ignorance."

"Commence now while the weeds are young and it will be no trouble to keep them down to the required height. Let's all pull together and clean up all wash, rubbish and filth before weather comes, which will produce flies and eventually disease. Now let's all go to work, clean up Wichita Falls and make it the best city in which to live in Texas."

DRESS By ANNE RITTENHOUSE

Among the French Frocks of the Spring the One That Looks the Simplest May Be Most Difficult to Reproduce.

From the workrooms of some of the large dressmaking establishments here where customers frequently order from French models, comes the complaint that though many of the new French clothes of the season look simple, usually they aren't. They are simple in effect, but not in structure.

It looks a simple matter to pose a little drapery of georgette crepe for slight bouffancy on the side of the skirt of an evening frock. Skirt as hanging under at the bottom are sure to the unwary. Lace, too, always seems like an easy trimming to handle.

Of course there are few if any unsurmountable obstacles for the professional dressmaker in the way of sending out from her workroom perfect reproductions of the French models. And it still holds good of American-made clothes that there is a better finish about Paris that do not show than in the French frocks.

Black Shadow Lace. The little frock by Brandt of Paris that is sketched today is a good example of the simpler sort that would present some intricacy in construction to make it less simple in the making than the beheading.

It is made of white crepe de chine draped with black shadow lace, thus falling under the head, as far as color or tone is concerned, of the black and white frocks of the season. And they are legion.

Look back at the accounts of French spring openings of other years and see if you do not almost always find the statement that "black and white combinations are especially smart" or striking or something of that sort. If America could not look to Paris to launch black and white she would take to it of her own initiative.

But the way the black and white combination is handled this year is different in many ways from that of other seasons. We once spoke of it as the magpie combination, naming it after that bird of European habitat whose features of black and white are in strong and striking contrast. And people knew what the magpie combination was when applied to clothes who scarcely knew that there was a bird so called.

Like Bird's Plumage. We might not have to go so far afield for a bird name to give to many of our black and white frocks this season. Many of them possess no splash of black against white, but the combination is wrought by fine tracery of black against white or white against black.

In the frock sketched it is black lace against the white crepe de chine. An all-over tracery of white embroidery on a black background is seen in other new things. Then black fabric or wooden beads are used on white and white beads on black.

Perchance the little native downy woodpecker would be a better bird for whom to name this type of black and white combination. He shows less splash of contrast in using black against white and, what is more, he shows a dash of red. And black and white plus red is one of the good things of the spring.

White Sleeves, Black Sleeves. To be sure there are some black and white combinations of bold enough effect. Callot shows a frock made piped fashion with the entire right sleeve of black and a left sleeve of white.

One thing that you may have noticed: In a season when the black and white combination is supposed to be especially strong, you see practically no black and white checks. One all but stares nowadays at the woman who wears a black and white checked suit, though once it was next in frequency to navy blue or black for the spring suit.

TOURIST CAMP SITE PURCHASE IS URGED BY CITY PARK BOARD

TWO BLOCKS ON JALONIC STREET RECOMMENDED TO COUNCIL FOR ACQUISITION.

TRACT RECENTLY TENDERED FOR PARK IS WITHDRAWN

Found to be Needed for Other Purposes. Scotland Park Converted into Picnic Ground.

Acquisition of one new park, and loss of another, will probably result from a session of the park board held Tuesday morning at the chamber of commerce rooms.

The board recommended to the city council the purchase of a two-block tract on Jalonic street, for use as a tourist camp ground, the action being unanimous. There are sufficient funds in hand to make the first payment, it was stated.

Orville Bullington, who recently gave the city a tract near the water and light plant, asked permission to withdraw the land, which he has found was much desired and badly needed by the electric company as a site for some oil storage tanks. The board granted the request, the members expressing the hope that Mr. Bullington would keep his heart open on the park question.

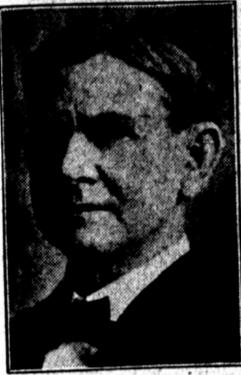

Reports submitted on work in several parks showed very satisfactory progress. Particularly good results have been obtained in Scotland Park, which by the installation of tables, benches and ovens, will be available for picnic parties. That park has been thoroughly cleaned up, and is said by members of the board to be one of the most attractive spots for picnics in the city's vicinity.

The tract acquired for a tourist camp site consists of two full blocks on Jalonic street, just two blocks from the Southland car line and the Lamar payment, and fronting 216 feet on the Meridian and Colorado-Gulf highways. It is to be purchased for $5,000 from J. A. Kemp. Facilities for lights, water, sewerage and cooking can be readily installed, it was explained by J. Wilkie Tathert, who was instrumental in obtaining the tract. It was strongly recommended by the sub-committee headed by John W. Bradley, after a number of tracts had been visited. It was stated that the price fixed by Mr. Kemp is at the rate of $250 per lot, or about half what property is selling for in that section of the city.

Members of the board discussed the matter at some length, sentiment being unanimous for the purchase. R. O. Harvey, chairman, and Hubert Harrison pointed out that owing to the great increase in railroad rates, auto travel will greatly increase, and that cities that cannot offer public camp sites will be largely passed up by auto tourists. Recommendation to the city council for the purchase was unanimously agreed upon. The park fund has sufficient money on hand to make the initial payment.

Among Convention Notables

CHALMERS McPHERSON of Ft. Worth. Mr. McPherson is a 100 per cent convention attendant. This is the 36th annual convention of the Christian missionary organization, and Mr. McPherson has yet to miss his first one, and he has come to be a real convention fixture. Mr. McPherson is on Thursday afternoon's program for an address on the subject "A Call to Service."

ARTHUR H. EVERTS of Dallas. Stewardship chairman of the convention, and one of the speakers on Tuesday afternoon's program. "One reason a lot of Christian business men haven't more money," Mr. Everts said, "is that God is afraid to trust them with it. The minute they prove themselves worthy, paying the tenth they owe to the Lord, they prosper more. Out of my 25 years of experience in tithing, I am willing to offer $500 to anyone disproving this."

S. W. HUTTON of Fort Worth. State Bible school superintendent. One of the speakers Tuesday morning.

DR. E. M. WAITS. President of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth.

"AMERICANIZATION" WILL FEATURE JUNIOR MUSICIAN CLUB PROGRAM WEDNESDAY

"Americanization" will be the keynote of the opening program of the Junior Musicians Club, to be given at the High School auditorium Wednesday evening. The program will begin at 7:30, and all music lovers and those interested in the Junior organization are invited to be present. Numbers will be as follows:

"Good Citizenship," ten minute address, Ebon Keith.
Piano solo, selected, James Youngblood.
Declamation, "Star Spangled Banner," Miss Marguerite Fisher.

Raymond Overture, High School Orchestra.
"Pictures"—Woodrow Wilson, by Dorothy Engle; George Washington, by William Powers.

130 Members

The Junior Musicians club already numbers 130 members, and the program Wednesday evening will be both the opening and closing public program of the year. In September the meetings will begin again, with programs as outlined by the National Federation of Music Clubs, under the local direction of Miss Henrietta Pyle.

The club was recently organized by Mrs. Walter S. Robertson, chairman of the Junior and Juvenile Musicians department of the State Federation of Music Clubs.

CONVENTION BEGINS PROGRAM TUESDAY

Falls church was second, only to the East Dallas church in the amount paid to the mission budget.

"Stewardship of Time" was the theme of a discussion led by Bert Wilson of St. Louis.

"Wasting time is just as detrimental as wasting of money," Mr. Wilson declared. "He urged that time be 'budgeted' as activities of the church, declaring that time can be found to do anything if the desire to do it is strong enough."

Social Welfare Discussion

Milo J. Smith of Indianapolis, speaking on "Methods in Social Welfare Work" made one of the most interesting talks of the morning.

"The object of social welfare work is to bring the kingdom of God into the community by caring for the unfortunate," Mr. Smith said, "and it can best be accomplished by unified Christian effort."

Mr. Smith took the position that such work belonged to the church rather than to the fraternal organization. In his discussion of some of the broader phases of welfare work, he declared that open forum discussions for community problems would solve nearly all of them. Mr. Smith quoted some recently published figures showing the growth of the divorce evil in Texas and the need for some combative effort.

Speaking on "Christian Unity," L. B. Hawkins of Dallas declared that the present day movement for church union is a part of the reconstructive movement. It was launched, he said, by the Episcopal and Christian churches.

Women to Have Luncheon. Among convention events scheduled for Tuesday afternoon were the session on stewardship, scheduled to start at 2:25 p. m., and a woman's luncheon at the church, presided over by Mrs. Terry King. At 5 p. m. Tuesday night there is to be a woman's session at the church, with Mrs. G. D. Smith presiding.

Wednesday's program will start with conferences on young people's work, and much of the work of the day will deal with that subject.

The formal opening of the convention was accomplished Tuesday night, with addresses by Hubert Harrison and J. W. Bradley, welcoming the visitors to Wichita Falls, and the annual address of the president, Will H. Evans of Eoham.

BRYAN PROTHRO AND MISS LORRAINE SYLVESTER WED

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Sylvester announce the marriage of their daughter, Lorraine Reed, to Bryan A. Prothro. The marriage was solemnized Tuesday noon at the home of Rev. J. Lem Keevil of the First Christian church, only members of the family and a few close friends being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Prothro left for Oklahoma City and other northern cities, expecting to be gone a short while. They will make their home here on their return.

Come in and hear Victor Record No. 13744, two good dance hits, special release, "Nunn Electric Co., 909 Scott, Phone 5327."

BOARD DECIDES ON EARLY ELECTION ON SCHOOL TAX RAISE

PROPOSITION IS ORDERED SUBMITTED TO PROPERTY OWNERS SOON.

IS EXPECTED TO CARRY WITH LITTLE OPPOSITION

Would Authorize Maximum Rate of One Dollar, But Lower Rate Will Probably Apply.

Steps for an election early this summer, on increasing the school tax limit to one dollar, were taken Monday at a meeting of the school board, which instructed Manager W. W. Brown to draw up the necessary papers.

The school tax has been limited, by the state constitution, to 50 cents on each $100 valuation, for many years. Last year a constitutional amendment was adopted, authorizing school districts to increase the maximum to one dollar. Adoption of the higher maximum bill will not mean, members of the board said, that the local rate will be raised to $1 at once, but some increase will be required on the current year's valuation.

The election will probably be held late in June or early in July. The proposition is expected to carry with little opposition.

The board also discussed the high school and negro school sites, but took no final action on either pending the outcome of some deals which are being consummated.

WITNESS ACCUSES KAUFF OF STEALING AUTOMOBILE

NEW YORK, May 10.—Benny Kauff, former Giant and Federal League outfielder, on trial charged with receiving a stolen automobile, was alleged by a witness today to have stolen the car himself.

The witness, James Shield, said he met Kauff one day and told him he was going to Cuba.

"You don't have to go to Cuba to make money," he testified Kauff said. "You can make more right here lifting automobiles."

A few nights after this (December 3, 1931) Shield said it was raining and Kauff told him "this is a good night to steal a car."

Shield said they met Freddie Whalen and the three went to the home of James F. Brennan where, he said, Kauff unfastened the lock on the automobile standing in front and then, accompanied by the other two, drove to his garage where the license plate was changed.

Spudders Pound Apple In Early Season Form And Wallop Crabs 7 to 3

Walter Salm is feeling much better, thank you. In fact, all the little Salmites are feeling better. Walter took his family for an outing at Athletic Park yesterday afternoon and, after covoring and otherwise disporting themselves on the peeping grass for a little more than an hour and a half, they had absorbed enough nourishment to constitute a ball game.

After one of those games that sizzles, bubbles, boils over and, at times, dies down flatter than a Monday morning bank roll, the Spudders emulated the well-known worm and turned—turned and bit the high-stepping Crabs on their collective ankle. It was a 7 to 3 bite, and in these crabs times there isn't a cure for such things.

After losing five straight games, four of them to the Panthers, the Spudders were beginning to look decidedly puny. The vaunted attacking power of the club was rapidly becoming anemic. The air was filled with forebodings and misgivings. But yesterday the Spudders wrecked a fair portion of vengeance on just one of those games that sizzles, bubbles, boils over and, at times, dies down flatter than a Monday morning bank roll, the Spudders emulated the well-known worm and turned—turned and bit the high-stepping Crabs on their collective ankle.

Miller's Homer Clutched It. A home run drive by Jake Miller that soared over the left field fence in the fourth period was the blow which in reality won the match, though the locals added a few more runs on just to make sure of the contest. When the Spudder center fielder took it into his head to park one, his club was on a roller. Miller's homer was on a marker to the lead and Danny Clark was tagging at his leash on second, which station he had reached after bounding a terrific double off the right field boundary. Miller's homer put the Spudders out in front and they were never headed after that.

Miller's four base wallop was only one of three such hits which enlivened the proceedings at the local park. Frank Kitchens, the first man to face Bob Couchman in the third inning, leaned on a fast one and shot it over the left field boundary. Several feet to spare. However, such things are to be expected of Frank every now and then, and though the blow was duly appreciated by all those present it did not have that unexpected twinge about it that was in evidence when "Rube" Marshall socked one over the same fence immediately afterwards.

"Rube" also came through with another timely wallop in the sixth that assisted his side materially in chasing three more crosses over the park and sewed up the game. Ostensibly, "Rube" is a right handed pitcher who mixes a fast breaking curve with a change of pace and occasional cross fire. But yesterday he appeared in a dual role. As a batter Marshall has always been considered an excellent slasher. He had never burned up much success with torrid wallops, and for him to take that at bat was generally considered a mere formality to comply with the rules of the game. But yesterday it was far different.

Bob Couchman is supposed to be one of Galveston's mainstays this season, but the big right hander, lasted only one inning and then he was retired to park for a homer. "Izzy" Glenn, erstwhile Buff, took up the burden at this stage of the game, but fared little better than his predecessor. No home runs home thumps were garnered off him, but seven lusty wallops dented the atmosphere and he was nicked for a trip of scores in the sixth.

Marshall had two real big innings, but his worst was the fourth when the visitors got to him for four safe crosses and a homer. And in the ninth, it looked as if he were going to soar to unknown heights, but a dazing stop and throw by Danny Gross who hit him in the head, and a ninth, it looked as if he were going to soar to unknown heights, but a dazing stop and throw by Danny Gross who hit him in the head, and a ninth, it looked as if he were going to soar to unknown heights, but a dazing stop and throw by Danny Gross who hit him in the head.

Spudder Lead Short Lived. The two circuit smashes by the Spudder battery in the third put the boys off to a lead which was held just long enough to get the Spudders to bat in the fourth. King opened with a line drive good for one base to right and held the first station while Schliebner hit the latter's peg to the dugout. On the hit and run play Lapan swung at one over his head and dumped it in right for one sack and King romped to third. Eilam hit to McElwee and the latter's peg to the plate was a trifle late and King counted. Freddie McDonald poled a safety to center, but Lapan was nipped at the plate trying to score without second. Kitchens made a beautiful play on Miller's peg and Lapan was caught by Innes. He was out beyond the shadow of a doubt, but he argued with Paul Sentell just long enough to find his check $5 short next pay day. While all this was going on Eilam kept on to third and McDonald reached second. Grubb slammed one through Gross that almost carried the little fellow in to left field and both runners scored. Clark took care of Couchman's roller for the final out.

Clark's two ply wallop and Miller's excursion bang put the Salmites back in the lead in their portion of the frame. This was increased by three in the sixth. Works walked, but was forced at second when McElwee put too much power behind his attempted sacrifice. Kitchens followed

VERNON HIGH WINS FROM CLEBURNE, 16-6

School Nine Now Has Real Claim to Championship of Central and Northern Texas.

(Special to The Times) - VERNON, TEXAS, May 10.—In a baseball game for the high school championship of central and northern Texas, Vernon high Monday afternoon defeated the fast team from Cleburne 16 to 6 in a contest featured by heavy hitting on the part of the locals, and a complete rout of the visitors in the sixth inning when Vernon made seven runs. Signall, the first man up for Vernon, hit the first ball pitched for a home run.

More than 1,000 spectators witnessed the contest, the enthusiasts coming to see Vernon win from a team that has not been beaten in two years. Vernon's victory was the result of a complete rout of the visitors in the sixth inning when Vernon made seven runs. Signall, the first man up for Vernon, hit the first ball pitched for a home run.

Richardson, the Cleburne pitcher who recently buried a no hit, no run game for his teammates, was knocked from the box early in the game and replaced by Rhome, shortstop. The second moundman was erratic and was hit freely by the Vernon batters. Errors at critical times by the Cleburne team also aided in providing Vernon with a large score.

SPORT SHOTS by Paul W. Barkin

Now we're off. The skipper had a smile from ear to ear last night for the first time in many moons. He was like a kid with a new toy.

The boys didn't hit the pill much harder yesterday than they did on the road trip, but they fell safe.

There's still lots of room for improvement in the hunting line. They can sock the old apple, but they can't lay it down in hitting practice too. Stragger things have happened, but not many.

"Rube" had his eye on the ball for fair yesterday. He noted one out of the pasture in hitting practice too. Stragger things have happened, but not many.

That the Spudders didn't lose the game was no fault of Harvey Grubb's. The erstwhile Salmite tried his best to hang one on his former mate.

We're glad "Izzy" Glenn is out of the way. He's one of the sweetest hurlers in the league.

The first man to face Marshall in five innings got on. But Reuben tightened up in every round but one.

Danny Gross looks better in three at short every day. If he continues to play as he has in the last few games "Buddy" will be a suitable backstop for him.

California Flyer's Marks Will Not be Accepted by A. A. U. in Time.

By HARRY L. FARRELL. United Press Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, May 10.—Charlie Paddock, California speedster, will get no international record this year as the world's greatest sprinter.

The five sensational marks made by the Pacific coast youth in the sprints will not be offered to the International Amateur Athletic federation when it meets in Geneva May 22.

F. W. Roblin, secretary of the A. A. U., said Thursday on the Mauritania for Switzerland, where he will attend a series of important international meetings.

He will offer for recognition 22 records made by American athletes since 1914, but Paddock's marks will not be included and will have to wait four years for official acceptance.

Roblin explained today that Paddock's records could not be offered because they cannot be accepted by the A. A. U. until the annual convention of the union next November. The International Olympic committee meets in Lausanne during week of June 2 to 7.

The American committee will not disclose its choice for the site of the 1924 Olympic. Reports from the other side indicate that Paris has lined up enough European votes to assure the next Olympics being held in the French capital.

THE PUNCH VS. THE PEN. Dempsey and Carpenter between them will collect $500,000 when they meet.

Goldsmith got ten boxes, they say. For writing "The Deserted Village." Homer had to beg his way. When there was no free lunch to pillage. Burns was a very seldom reader. Who only dined well now and then. There's nothing to it, Gentle Reader. The Punch is mightier than the Pen.

Not all of Byron's stock was par. Old Dante crabb'd, and he had reasons. He never owned a touring car. Although he led the league for seasons. Shelley was broke, and Keats the leader of English verse often borrowed Ten. There's little to it, Gentle Reader. The Punch is mightier than the Pen.

Milton and Southey, Moore and Pope. Put over stuff that wore no freckles. They each compiled a world of dope. But not $50,000 shekels. Gray's "Elegy," quite a classic speeder. Although he led the league for seasons. Shelley was broke, and Keats the leader of English verse often borrowed Ten. There's little to it, Gentle Reader. The Punch is mightier than the Pen.

Most of us know Bill Shakespeare's verse. How fast he was, how keen and shifty. Yet I will bet the largest purse. That William Spitt was shy ten-fifty. Although he led the league for seasons. Shelley was broke, and Keats the leader of English verse often borrowed Ten. There's little to it, Gentle Reader. The Punch is mightier than the Pen.

As Man o'War reads the flaring headlines still attached to the names of Ruth, Dempsey, Paddock and Tilden his nostrils quiver as he mutters, "I, too, once dwelt in Arcady."

HALF STRIDES. The game's finest swing is of little use after the ball has crossed the plate. The essence of strategy is what you can get by with.

A good loser can still be just as sore beneath the skin as any other type. Nature's biggest mistake seems to have been in not making the average human with two mouths and one ear.

Many are called—but Central answers "Busy." Before looking at the stars be sure that the manholes are all covered. Life doesn't consist so much in keeping out of bunkers forever as it does in knowing the proper way to emerge after getting in.

SPORT BRIEFS

TOLEDO, May 10.—The return of Roger Bresnahan as an active participant in a baseball game appeared likely today when Bresnahan, who is president of the Toledo club of the American Association, announced that his efforts to obtain a suitable backstop for the club had been successful. Bresnahan has been out of the game two years and is not in first-class condition to take up heavy toil. He is expected to join the club in Milwaukee within a day or two.

The Tigers batted the Browns, rain and an electrical storm, and won 7 to 5.

Halbe Ruth and Bob Meusel knocked homers in an exhibition game against the Toronto Internationals, the Yanks leading 4 to 2.

The Pirates were outlived 16 to 12 but they defeated the London, Ont. team 7 to 2, in an exhibition game in Manager Gibson's home town.

MAKING NO PROMISE ON 1921 TAX RATE

Mayor Says Nothing Can Be Known Until Budget is Complete. Brief Council Session.

The city council is not in position to make any promises with regard to the 1921 tax rate until it knows how much money it will need, Mayor Cline said at Monday night's council meeting.

The tax rate cannot be even estimated until the budget is drawn up and the tax roll is approximately known. It was pointed out at the meeting, and the budget will probably not be completed for a week. There was evidence of a decision to deal with the part of the council to keep expenses as low as possible for the ensuing year, but a considerable portion of the revenue already pledged.

Taxable values will have to total at least $22,000,000, City Clerk Thorburn pointed out, otherwise the interest and sinking fund levies, which are prescribed by the charter, will not be sufficient to pay interest on the bonds. The council discussed the year's financial situation informally Monday night, without attempting to take any definite action until the budget is adopted.

Special Session of Court to be Held Friday in Interest of Road Bonds.

Four eastern bond purchasers will arrive in the city Tuesday and will meet with the county commissioners in special session Friday morning, according to an announcement made by County Judge J. P. Jones Tuesday morning.

ANOTHER MEETING FOR NATIONAL GUARD ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Further steps for organization of two or more national guard units are expected to be taken Tuesday night at a meeting called for 8 o'clock at the city council room in the Morgan building.

Word has been received that four houses will be represented to make a bid on the remaining $1,400,000 of the special road bonds. With the bond market showing a gain in strength in the past few weeks, it is hoped that a satisfactory price will be obtained.

len and Colonel Nieman were present. Some organization work has already been done toward the formation of two, and possibly three, units here, to be parts of a regiment recruited from along the Fort Worth & Denver. All those who are interested in the movement, whether they expect to serve or not, have been invited to attend Tuesday night's meeting.
