COUNCIL REJECTS ALL OF PAVING BIDS TO ADVERTISE AGAIN

FAILURE TO GET LOWER OFFERS MAY POSTPONE IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM.

CONTRACTORS SHOW WHY COST EXCEEDS OTHER CITIES

Labor and Material Both Higher Here Than Elsewhere—Rent Question Is Brought Up.

The city council Wednesday morning in adjourned session rejected all the paving bids received Monday, and decided to advertise for new bids on the streets affected. These include north Indiana, north Ohio, one block on Sixth, two blocks on Elizabeth, Fifteenth street, half a block on Holiday and five blocks on Broadway.

The city council Wednesday morning in adjourned session rejected all the paving bids received Monday, and decided to advertise for new bids on the streets affected. These include north Indiana, north Ohio, one block on Sixth, two blocks on Elizabeth, Fifteenth street, half a block on Holiday and five blocks on Broadway.

The data submitted by paving company representatives indicated that the higher cost of paving here was chargeable both to labor and material. Paving contractors said they were paying $4 per day for common labor here, as compared with $3.20 and less in Dallas and Fort Worth; that gravel costs them $12.15 in Fort Worth, against $4.50 to $5 here; that cement costs $2.60 in Dallas, compared with $2.35 here.

"We might get cheaper labor than $4 a day here," said one of the bidders, "but we try to employ men who have homes and families here, and we do not believe those men can possibly get by on less than $4 per day. Skilled workmen that we have brought here from other places find house rents very much higher. Some of our men

MRS NANCY WESTCOTT, of Syracuse, N. Y., who declares Tanlac is the greatest medicine on earth. Says it built her up to where she is just brimful of new life and energy.

"I just think Tanlac is the greatest medicine on earth and I can never praise it enough for what it's done for me. For two years I was in a badly run-down condition. I had no appetite, and after every meal I was afflicted with indigestion and bloating. My nerves were on edge, and I could never get a good night's sleep. I felt tired and worn out all the time, was losing weight, and many times I was so weak I couldn't look after my housework. I just felt miserable. Tanlac helped one of my friends so much that I began taking it and it has certainly built me up into splendid health. My appetite is so big I can hardly get enough to eat now, and I am never troubled a particle with bloating or indigestion. My nerves are as steady as clockwork, and I sleep like a child at night. I have recovered my strength and am just brimful of new life and energy. In fact, I feel better than I have in years. My gratitude towards Tanlac is unbounded. The above statement was recently made by Mrs. Nancy Westcott, 121-Market St., Syracuse, N. Y. Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Miller Drug Store, in Electra by Tarleton Drug Store, West End Drug Store, Burnett, Texas; and by all leading druggists.—Adv.

NEGRO COMMUNITY TO SURROUND SCHOOL

To Have Opportunity for Better Surroundings; Board Has Meeting Late Tuesday.

The site for the new school for negroes in the eastern part of the city is to be the center of a new negro community here, if plans for that section are carried out. At a meeting of the school board late Tuesday, at which the deal for the school site was finally disposed of, it developed that J. B. Marlow, owner of much land in that section, expects to make it a negro community, which will enable members of that race to have a section to themselves other than the old negro quarter, of unenviable memory, to the southward. With this in view, Mr. Marlow is setting aside lots for negro church sites and making other provisions for them. The school site is about 250 yards east of the baseball park and is very pleasantly situated.

YOUNG MAN RECEIVES WOUND IN HAND WHEN SHOT GUN IS FIRED

Percy Minor, aged 18, was accidentally shot shortly after 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when a shot gun he was lifting from an automobile was discharged, lacerating the fingers and palm of the right hand. The accident took place about 20 miles up the Wichita river just as Minor and an older brother were starting on a hunting and fishing trip. They had driven to the point in their car and had planned an extensive hunt. Minor was brought back to the city, arriving here in the middle of the afternoon, and was taken to the Wichita general hospital, where medical attention was given. Dr. M. M. Walker was called and after an examination pronounced the wound serious. It will not be necessary to amputate the hand, however, according to Walker. Young Minor had been living with his brother at 509 Seventh street.

OIL THEFT CASE IS BEGUN IN DISTRICT COURT WEDNESDAY

The case of the state vs. C. A. McDonald et al. was begun in the 99th district court Wednesday morning after Judge P. A. Martin overruled a motion for continuance filed by the defendants. It was set forth in the written motion that the defendant's witnesses were not on hand and that the testimony of those absent would be very material. George Husted was elected by the defendants to be the first one placed on trial and immediately after the overruling of the motion by the court, selection of the jury was begun. The defendants stand charged under indictment with the theft of quantity of oil, which was tapped out of one of the big pipe lines of one of the oil companies in the northwest field. The alleged theft occurred last October.

FEW ENLISTMENTS IN GUARD RECEIVED

Organizers Urge More Active Interest. Members of Legion Inspect Their New Quarters.

Organization of national guard units here will not be effected very easily, judging from indications at the meeting Tuesday night, which was held in connection with a session of the American Legion post. Very few signatures for guard service have been obtained as yet, and those taking the lead in the matter feel that much more interest is necessary if this city is to be properly represented in the new militia organization. The legion members inspected the permanent quarters for which they expect to close a deal within a short time. The rooms are those occupied at one time by the Moose lodge on Ohio between Eighth and Ninth, and which have in recent years been used for a dancing school and skating rink. The rooms are readily adaptable to the legion's needs, and can also be used as a mess hall for the guard companies when formed. Major C. L. Test, overseas veteran, and representative of the adjutant general in the guard organization, work, was at the meeting, and explained the plans for the new national guard. Dogs are found in every part of the world except on a few islands of the Pacific ocean.

15 CONTESTANTS TO TRY FOR MEDAL OF J. WILKIE TALBERT

Fifteen boys are entered in the J. Wilkie Talbert extemporaneous speaking contest to be held in the high school auditorium Thursday evening, according to Miss Juanita Kinzie, literary coach of the school, who is directing the contest. The event is open only to the boys of the school and is being fostered by J. Wilkie Talbert, local real estate man, in the interest of public speaking. None of the contestants are to be told the subject on which they are to talk until ten minutes before their name is called to appear. Five minutes will then be allotted them in which to deliver themselves on the topic. All subjects will be chosen from some phase of life with which high school students should be familiar. A handsome gold medal will be presented the winner of the event by Mr. Talbert himself immediately after the decision of the judges is announced. The contest is to begin at 8 o'clock and a cordial invitation to visit the school and listen to the speeches has been extended the public by Miss Kinzie and other members of the high school force. Interest in the event is at a high pitch in high school circles and the miles in touch with the affair are anxious that a good crowd attend.

SILVER BLAZE

By A. CONAN DOYLE

Copyright, 1921, by Harper & Bros. Published by special arrangement with The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The story thus far:
Silver Blaze, the great race horse of King's Pyland, Dartmoor, was first favorite for the Wessex cup, a race soon to be run. John Straker, his trainer, had three boys under him, one of whom stayed at night with the horse, the other two of whom slept in the barn. On the night in question the maid in Straker's house went with a dish of curried lamb from a supper for the boy on duty. She met a man asking him about the great horse. The boy refused to talk and ran after him with the dog.

Straker went to investigate. In the morning he was found dead in a hollow nearby in the moor. The stable boy had been drugged with opium in his lamb. The horse was gone. The dead man's head was crushed by a cruel blow. In his hand were a small knife and the cravat of the stranger, and about him were signs of a violent struggle. The stranger proved to be Fitzroy Simpson, staying in the neighborhood, who admitted questioning the boy, because he had money up on Silver Blaze. He admitted carrying a heavy club, but said that he had no part in the murder. Holmes and Watson went to King's Pyland and were met by Colonel Ross, owner of the horse, and Inspector Gregory, in charge of the case.

PART THREE

A minute later we were all seated in a comfortable landau, and were rattling through the quiet old Devonshire city. Inspector Gregory was full of his case, and poured out a stream of remarks, while Holmes threw in an occasional question or interjection. Colonel Ross leaned back with his arms folded and his feet tilted over his eyes, while I listened with interest to the dialogue of the two detectives. Gregory was formulating his theory, which was almost exactly what Holmes had foretold in the train.

"The net is drawn pretty close round Fitzroy Simpson," he remarked, "and I believe myself that he is our man. At the same time I recognize that the evidence is purely circumstantial, and that some new development may upset it."

"How about Straker's knife?"

"We have quite come to the conclusion that he wounded himself in his fall."

"My friend, Dr. Watson, made that suggestion to me as we came down. If so, it would tell against this man Simpson."

"Undoubtedly. He has neither a knife nor any sign of a wound. The evidence against him is certainly very strong. He had a great interest in the disappearance of the favorite. He lies under suspicion of having poisoned the stable-boy, he was undoubtedly out in the storm, he was armed with a heavy stick, and his cravat was found in the dead man's hand. I really think we have enough to go before a jury."

Holmes shook his head. "A clever counsel would tear it all to rags," said he. "Why should he take the horse out of the stable? If he wished to injure it why could he not do it there? Has a duplicate key been found in his possession? What chemist sold him the powdered opium? Above all, where could he, a stranger to the district, hide a horse, and such a horse as this? What is his own explanation as to the paper which he wished the maid to give to the stable-boy?"

"He says that it was a ten-pound note. One was found in his purse. But your other difficulties are not so formidable as they seem. He is not a stranger to the district. He has twice lodged at Travistock in the summer. The opium was probably brought from London. The key, having several its purpose, would be hurried away. The horse may be at the bottom of one of the pits or old mines upon the moor."

"What does he say about the cravat?"

"He acknowledges that it is his, and declares that he had lost it. But a new element has been introduced into the case which may account for his leading the horse from the stable."

Holmes pricked up his ears.

"We have found traces which show that a party of gypsies encamped on Monday night within a mile of the spot where the murder took place. On Tuesday they were gone. Now, presuming that there was some understanding between Simpson and these gypsies, might he not have been leading the horse to them when he was overtaken and may they not have him now?"

"It is certainly possible."

"The moor is being scoured for these gypsies. I have also examined every stable and out-house in Travistock, and for a radius of ten miles."

"There is another training stable quite close, I understand?"

"Yes, and that is a factor which we must certainly not neglect. As Deeborough, their horse, was second in the betting, they had an interest in the disappearance of the favorite. Silas Brown, the trainer, has known to have large bets upon the event, and he was no friend to poor Straker. We have, however, examined the stables and there is nothing to connect him with the affair."

"And nothing to connect this man Simpson with the interests of the Mapleton stables?"

"Nothing at all."

Holmes leaned back in the carriage, and the conversation ceased. A few minutes later our driver pulled up at a neat little red-brick villa with overhanging eaves which stood by the road. Some distance off, across a paddock, lay a long gray-tiled out-building. In every other direction the low curves of the moor, bronze-colored from the fading ferns, stretched away to the skyline, broken only by the steeples of Travistock, and by a cluster of houses away to the westward which marked the Mapleton stables. We all sprang out with the exception of Holmes, who continued to lean back with his eyes fixed upon the sky in front of him, entirely absorbed in his own thoughts. It was only when I touched his arm that he roused himself with a violent start and stepped out of the carriage.

"Excuse me," said he, turning to Colonel Ross, who had looked at him in some surprise. "I was day-dreaming. There was a gleam in his eyes and a suppressed excitement in his manner which convinced me, used as I was to his ways, that his hand was upon a clue, though I could not imagine where he had found it."

"Perhaps you would prefer at once to go on to the scene of the crime, Mr. Holmes," said Gregory.

"I think that I should prefer to stay here a little and go into one or two questions of detail. Straker was brought here, I presume?"

"Yes, he lies upstairs. The inquest is tomorrow."

"He has been in your service some years, Colonel Ross?"

"I have always found him an excellent servant."

"I presume that you made an inventory of what he had in his pockets at the time of his death, Inspector?"

"I have the things themselves in the sitting-room, if you would care to see them."

"I should be very glad." We all filed into the front room and sat round the central table while the Inspector unlocked a square tin box and laid a small heap of things before us. There was a box of vests, two inches of tallow candle, an A. D. P. briar-root pipe, a pouch of seal-skin with half an ounce of long-cut Cavendish, a silver watch with a gold chain, five sovereigns in gold, an aluminum pencil case, a few papers, and an ivory-handled knife with a very delicate, inflexible blade marked Weiss & Co., London.

"This is a very singular knife," said Holmes, lifting it up and examining it minutely. "I presume, as I see blood-stains upon it, that it is the one which was found in the dead man's grasp. Watson, this knife is surely in your line?"

"It is what we call a cataract knife," said I.

"Thought so. A very delicate blade devised for very delicate work. A strange thing for a man to carry with him upon a rough expedition, especially as it would not shut in his pocket."

"The tip was guarded by a disk of cork which we found beside the body," said the Inspector. "His wife tells us that the knife had lain upon the dressing table, and that he had picked it up as he left the room. It was a poor weapon, but perhaps the best that he could lay his hands on at the moment."

"Very possibly. How about these papers?"

"Three of them are receipts, hay-dealers' accounts. One of them is a letter of instructions from Colonel Ross. This other is a milliners' account for thirty-seven pounds fifteen made out by Madame Lesurier, of Bond street, to William Derbyshire, Mrs. Straker was a friend of her husband's."

and that occasionally his letters were addressed here."

"Madame Derbyshire had somewhat expensive tastes," remarked Holmes, glancing down the account. "Twenty-two guineas is rather heavy for a single costume. However, there appears to be nothing more to learn, and we may now go down to the scene of the crime."

As we emerged from the sitting-room a woman, who had been waiting in the passage, took a step forward and laid her hand upon the inspector's sleeve. Her face was haggard and thin and eager, stamped with the print of a recent horror.

"Have you got them? Have you found them?" she panted.

"No, Mrs. Straker. But Mr. Holmes here has come from London to help us and I shall do all that is possible."

"Surely I met you in Plymouth at a garden-party some little time ago, Mrs. Straker?" said Holmes.

"Dear me! Why, I could have sworn to it. You wore a costume of dove-colored silk with ostrich-feather trimmings."

"I never had such a dress, sir," answered the lady.

"Ah, that quite settles it," said Holmes. And with an apology he followed the Inspector outside. A short walk across the moor took us to the hollow in which the body had been found. At the brink of it was the sure-bush upon which the coat had been hung.

RADICALS ATTEMPT TO ATTACK MEMBERS MEXICAN CHAMBER

STORM CAUCUS OF THE LIBERAL CONSTITUTIONAL PARTY TUESDAY NIGHT.

MEN WERE DISPERSED BY FIRE DEPARTMENT

Streets Near Congressional Building Filled During the Day With Idly Curious People.

MEXICO CITY, May 18.—Radical sympathies attempted to force their way into the chamber of deputies last night to attack members of the liberal constitutional party, who were holding a caucus there. The men engaged in the disorder were dispersed by the fire department.

The streets near the congressional building were filled all the afternoon with idly curious people who were awaiting developments.

Aurilia Manrique, a socialist deputy, made an impassioned harangue, and large numbers gathered to break into the chamber. The timely arrival of the firemen stopped the demonstrators and the radicals transferred their activities to Alameda park, in the center of the city, but the firemen again interfered, and the crowd was dispersed. One socialist deputy, who remonstrated with policemen, was arrested.

In the meantime, the members of the liberal constitutional party had left the building. Some of them were openly carrying arms, but there were no attacks upon them. An explanation was made later in the evening that the building was not to be used for a socialist caucus, but that the liberal constitutional party had left the building. Some of them were openly carrying arms, but there were no attacks upon them.

WARNED TO BEWARE OF THE FATE OF MADERO

MEXICO CITY, May 18.—"Beware the fate of Francisco Madero, who failed to heed solicitations to change his policy, and fell," was the warning sent to President Obregon last night by liberal constitutional members of the chamber of deputies and the senate. This morning was contained in a memorial drafted at a caucus of the liberal constitutionalists. It made pointed charges that Felix Calleja, secretary of the interior, and Adolfo de la Huerta, former president and now secretary of the treasury, had attempted to cause disaffection against the Obregon administration. The document was signed by 128 deputies, and several senators.

Referring to the necessity of President Obregon changing his policy immediately, the memorial said:

"In connection with the invasion of the chamber of deputies by radicals last week, the press has published your statements, which are almost identical with those made officially by the Confederation of Syndicates Workers. You have stated the attack was of small importance but this is a statement which is at absolute variance with all the concepts of society."

In conclusion, the memorial declared that Francisco Madero's friends were convinced of the disloyalty of some of his alleged supporters. It is said these friends visited Madero in 1912 and had told him it was necessary for him to change his policy. "But Madero," the memorial went on, "confident of his popularity, blind in his incapacity to conceive of wrong and sure of the loyalty of those who were reputed as disloyal, heeded not, and within a month there was begun the most prolonged tragedy this nation has ever known. At this moment members of the Mexican congress who have signed this document call upon you to make a supreme effort that history may not be repeated, and place at your service their loyalty and patriotism and their wishes for the prosperity of the nation."

LIFE TERM FOR SLAYER OF CASHIER OF BANK

LAWTON, OKLA., May 18.—Arthur Davum, self confessed slayer of J. C. Brewer, cashier of the Citizens State Bank of Geronimo, Okla., today was under sentence of life imprisonment in the state penitentiary. The jury hearing his case returned a verdict of guilty late yesterday. The trial of J. M. Ham, also charged with the murder of Brewer, was scheduled to get under way in district court today. Brewer was shot during an attempted holdup of the bank.

BODY OF JOHN DIGGS FOUND IN CEMETERY; SUICIDE IS VERDICT

CHICAGO, May 18.—A verdict of death occasioned by carbolic acid poisoning, taken with intent to end his own life, was given out by Justice of the Peace R. V. Gwin in the case of John Diggs, veteran street employe and pioneer resident of the city, whose lifeless body was found in Riverside cemetery at 7:30 Wednesday morning. A two-ounce bottle of carbolic acid, practically drained of its contents, was found near the body.

The discovery was made by Ed Fickling, caretaker in the grave yard. He was starting to work. Diggs had apparently wandered but a short distance after drinking the poison, and had been dead all night, according to Justice Gwin and undertakers, having probably taken the acid between 8:30 and 10:00 o'clock.

Friends of Mr. Diggs were at a loss Wednesday to give any direct motive for his act, but domestic difficulties, with resultant despondency, was believed by several who knew him to have caused him to take his life. Mr. Diggs had lived in Wichita Falls for nearly 20 years and had been in the employ of the city since 1910. He was a local livery stable driver, and since his connection with the municipal government had been team boss of the street department. He was recognized as an authority on horses.

Surviving relatives include his wife, a daughter, Mrs. A. C. Carpenter, and a son. Funeral arrangements have not been completed as yet, the body being held at the Merkle and Lunn undertaking parlors pending word from relatives in Missouri.

SAYS JAPAN WOULD BE WIPED OFF MAP IN FIGHT TO FINISH

CHICAGO, May 18.—A fight to finish between the United States and Japan would result in Japan being "wiped off the map," George Gleason, international Y. M. C. A. secretary, who has just returned from a trip through the Orient, declared today in addressing the international disarmament conference.

Mr. Gleason declared that "only those living in the kindergarten of international affairs could picture the possibility of war between this country and Japan," however, and that combining all the friction growing out of the issue of Yap, Korea, China and California would not furnish the remotest cause for war.

"Even if there were a cause," he continued, "a real fight to a finish between the two nations would put Japan off the map. The island empire might capture the Philippines, Hawaii, or even a part of our west coast, but when the mighty resources and technical skill of this vast continent were once mobilized, Japan, unable to draw on bankrupt Europe, would be literally starved to her knees."

"The Japanese themselves know it, and none better than the army men," Gleason said. "Japan's Monroe Doctrine for Asia, though often criticized, should meet with American approval. When the smoke of war has cleared away and the world's nerves become relaxed, we may see that Japan's policy for Asia is the same as our stand for the open door of equal opportunity."

Furthermore, Japan is ready to follow America's leadership if she has the courage to lead. The act of signing the 21 demands would be a declaration of war, and the American government continued its announced policy of world service, Japanese would be following still.

JAPAN MUST SUBMIT TO 21 DEMANDS FOR RETURN OF SHANTUNG

By RUSSELL BROWNING, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The ransom demanded of China by Japan for the return of Shantung is submission to the 21 demands presented in 1915, according to Ma Soe, envoy of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, president of the rebel republic of South China, in an interview with the United Press today. Ma Soe declared that Japan had notified both the Pein and southern governments of China that she is ready to "negotiate" the return of the disputed province, intimating that the subject of the 21 demands would be brought up during the negotiations. "No government in China would entertain such an offer for one minute," declared Ma Soe. "This is why we refuse to treat with Japan on the return of Shantung. If China was deprived of a part of her body at the peace conference when she was surrounded by friends, how could we expect to cope with the Japanese in direct negotiations?"

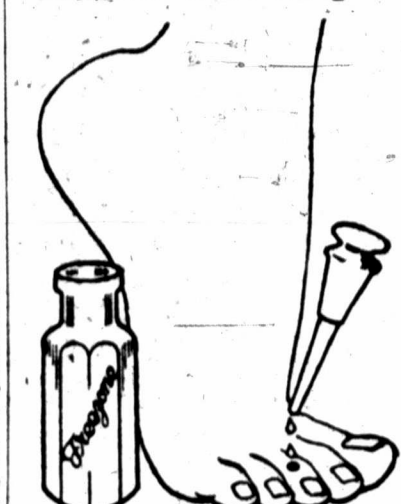

Copyright to a prevalent notion, the government of southern China is distinctly anti-Japanese, said Ma Soe. He declared that should Sun Yat Sen succeed in establishing the unity of China, the Japanese position in Shantung and Manchuria would immediately be challenged.

FILIPINOS WANT TO BE FREE AND ARE TO KEEP UP THE FIGHT

PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES HAVE FORMED THE WRONG OPINION OF ISLANDS.

HAVE LONG FOUGHT FOR COMPLETE INDEPENDENCE

Have Been the "Ireland of the East" Declares Charles Edward Russell.

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL, Special Correspondent of the Wichita Daily Times.

MANILA, May 18.—The people of the Philippine Islands long to be free. They have always longed to be free. They will keep long to be free until, in one way or another, they win their freedom.

In the United States we have a widespread notion that only a few Filipino politicians and trouble makers have any interest in independence.

That notion is delusion. It is a perilous delusion. A yearning for national life and a national independence, a fixed, passionate and indefatigable yearning possesses the enlightened majority of all these people and there is no way by which we can get it out of them except to shoot it out—

Before I came here I had grave doubts about this because like all other Americans I had been favored with an oversupply of these stories about the pose and bluff of the politician element. Any fair investigation on the spot dispenses of all this pose stuff. It isn't the politicians that make the independence movement; it is the plain ordinary run of plain ordinary people.

Nothing else could possibly be expected, and for two reasons.

In the first place, for twenty years we have been diligently teaching these people American history. And in the next place, independence was in their bones and the marrow, and points thereof before we ever sighted these shores. They have a struggle for independence that has lasted three hundred years. They have their heroic heroes and martyrs of liberty as good as ours or anybody's, and men that know history ought to know better than to try to argue down, get in the way of, or scoff much at a liberty movement with three hundred years of background.

The fact is, the Philippine Islands have been the Ireland of the east. For 327 years Spain held them down at the point of the gun, but the holding was infinitely costly in blood and money for there was nothing but trouble, open or brewing all the time.

Take a look at the list of the more formidable revolts that have shaken this archipelago and see if these seem just the kind of people on whom it would be a holiday jaunt to impose an alien domination.

The Spanish flag was first raised over Manila in June, 1570. It was hardly at the top of the pole when Governor Lavezares had an insurrection on his hands and he started the entertainment and from that time on most of his successors had enough going on to keep their interest from flagging.

1581—Revolt in Pampanga.
1588—Uprising at Manila and the conspiracy of Tondo, which at one time looked dangerous.
1598—Revolt of the people of Cagayan and Ilocos Norte.
1602—Uprising among the Chinese residents.

1642—Rebellion in the province of Leyte, started by religious oppression.
1659—The Taglibot rebellion in Bohol.
1642—Revolt in the province of Bulacan under Ladia.
1642—Revolt in Pampanga started by the collection of Spanish tribute and the system of enforced labor.
1642—Second revolt in Pampanga.
1649—The Sumcroy rebellion, the most serious, the best organized and most determined that so far had threatened the power of Spain.
1660—Third Pampanga revolt.
1661—Rebellion led by Andres Malong, in which Gumapos, the first great Filipino military leader, distinguished himself.
1661—Revolt in Ilocos.
1662—Third uprising of the Chinese residents.
1686—Tingco's insurrection.
1719—Revolt against the Spanish Governor, Bustamante, in which Bustamante was killed and there was a plentiful crop of trouble.
1744—Rebellion in Bohol, practically successful, for the Spanish power in the province was annihilated, the natives gained complete control of the island and for eighty-three years administered their own affairs in entire independence.
1762—Revolt in Pangasinan.
1762—Revolt in Ilocos Sur.
1762—Revolt in Cagayan.
1764—Revolt in Laguna and Batangas.
1782—Uprising of the Kalingas.
1812—Revolt of the Ilocanos.
1823—Rebellion led by Novales, a mestizo that had been an officer in the Spanish army.
1840—Rebellion in Southern Luzon, led by La Cruz, forming of the Confrdia of San Jose, the first revolting brotherhood.

1793—Revolt led by the mestizo, Samaniego.
1850—Revolt in Cavite, led by former land owners that, with official Spanish connivance, had been cheated of their possessions by land sharks and adventurers.
1873—Revolt of the Filipino soldiers, starting in Cavite, when Jose Burgos, Filipino priest and patriot, was put to death.
1872 to 1896—Continually increasing agitation and unrest and agitation for self-government and independence.
1888—Forming of the Spanish-Filipino association, the purpose of which was to agitate and work by peaceful means for political reforms.
1892—Forming of Rizal's Liga Filipina, or Philippine league.
1892—Forming by Andres Bonifacio, the Filipino hero, of the Katipunan—a secret society to work for complete independence.
1896—Discovery by the Spanish authorities of the existence and menace of the Katipunan. Thirty-six of its leaders summarily put to death. Rizal, who was not one of its members, but of death also, one general principle, thus becoming, the great Filipino martyr, whose monument now adorns every Philippine town and city. The date of his death is observed with elaborate ceremonies throughout the islands.
1897—Beginning of the great rebellion and formal proclamation of Philippine independence.
August 4, 1897—Treaty of peace with the rebels, which they were promised accepting reforms and democratic improvements.
April, 1898—Renewal of the civil war, following the failure of Spain to keep this treaty.
June 12, 1898—Establishment of the Philippine republic, the Spanish power having been exterminated in the islands and call for the election of the first Philippine congress.
January 27, 1899—Adoption of the constitution of the Philippine republic.
After that came the misunderstanding with us and the hot days of Aguinaldo.
It is a great but overlooked evidence of the tact and sincerity of the American government that since those days it has managed to live in complete peace—army with these people and have their good will. The Ireland of the east has been quiet for the first time in 300 years.
But I should like to remark that we might profitably meditate on why it has been quiet.
It has been quiet because the people universally believe the United States intends to fulfill the pledge it has made ever and over from the beginning that it would give to these islands their complete independence. All Filipinos implicitly believe that.

this was meant in good faith and in good faith will be carried out.
What would happen if by any means they could be convinced that our pledge was only cold and wicked bunk for the purpose of exploiting them anyone who nows them can easily predict. Those who know them not can get a correct notion of it by reviewing the above excerpts from their history and recalling the life they led the American army in the days of Aguinaldo.
Spain, under the galleons, musket in one hand and whip in the other, ruled for 300 years a people always struggling to be free. "If we desire to follow her example here's the easy way to do it, but we shouldn't look very pretty and assuredly it would cost a lot."

Jazz Methods No Longer Effective In Church Work

By CARL VICTOR LITTLE, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WINONA LAKE, IND., May 18.—The jazz method of getting church members is out of date.

Preaching of the old, old story by sensational and spectacular means, when it became famous throughout the land during the heyday of Bill Sunday's popularity, is no longer favored by the majority of America's leading churches. New members of churches are now brought into the fold of Christian fellowship by quiet and conservative teachings.

Most representative ministers and laymen from upon what they now call the ragtime church method of conversion.

These points were brought out most emphatically as the opinion of delegates to the Presbyterian general assembly, who met at the committee on evangelism here today.

This committee, in backing up the conservative method, not only represented the rank and file of the 1,500,000 members of the Presbyterian church of America but also the views of most of the other denominational governing bodies with which it cooperates and exchanges ideas.

British Colonel Disarms Fifteen Insurgent Poles

BEUTHEN, SILESIA, May 18.—Colonel Cockerill, British control officer, lectured, disarmed and sent home fifteen Polish insurgents who halted him at 3 o'clock in the morning and attempted to examine his papers and give him orders.

The colonel jumped out of his automobile and shouted: "What are you boys doing out at this time with guns? Give me your names."

The insurgents, who were mostly youngsters, were nonplussed. The leader finally handed over his rifle, and the colonel boxed his ears. He then made the others give up their guns, and advised them all to go home. Loading their fifteen rifles into the machine, he proceeded to British headquarters.

The colonel's chauffeur, a Prussian soldier, said afterwards: "I have been through four years of the war, but that was the nervous thing I ever saw."

Judge Keeps the Remains of a Cat Embalmed by Wife

TULSA, OKLA., May 18.—A hitherto unrelated incident in the life of the late Judge John Devereaux—an incident which the judge's friends say showed the tenderness in which he held the memory of his wife, who died a year ago—came to light here last night.

The judge's friends, in examining his personal effects following his mysterious death last week, found a small, hand-carved and highly polished casket of cherry wood which enclosed the embalmed remains of a large Persian cat, Sultan, the pet for many years of the judge's wife before her marriage.

The cat died 28 years ago and its mistress, who thought much of it, had it embalmed and kept the remains in a specially made casket in her home. After his wife's death, the judge likewise preserved the casket and its contents. The casket bore a silver plate on which was engraved the pet's name. Last night the casket was buried by friends of Judge Devereaux.

2 WOMEN INJURED IN MIDNIGHT ACCIDENT

Pierce-Arrow is Wrecked on Lake Road Tuesday and Two of Occupants Hurt.

A demolished Pierce Arrow touring car and painful injuries to two of the four occupants were the results of an auto accident just north of the Call field entrance on the Lake Wichita road at midnight Tuesday. A Mrs. Reynolds and a Mrs. Bentley, sisters, both said to be living at the William and Mary hotel, and two men, one reported to be from Breckenridge and the other from Burkburnett, were in the car at the time.

Mrs. Reynolds sustained three broken ribs and several cuts and bruises about the body, while one of the men was also painfully cut and bruised, it is said. The other two are believed to have escaped injury.

A sister of the two women stated Wednesday morning that the large machine had attempted to pass a Ford and had run off the side of the road, turning completely over and being wrecked beyond repair. Auto experts who viewed the machine Wednesday morning said that it must have been traveling at a high rate of speed.

SUGGESTS AN INDEPENDENT STATE FOR UPPER SILESIA

LONDON, May 17.—The Warsaw correspondent of the London Times believes the only solution of the Silesian situation without bloodshed and without sacrificing the dignity of the allies is to create an independent state of Upper Silesia. He declares that the plebiscite has proved a failure and adds: "Now that weapons are out, it is almost impossible either to give the area wholly to the Poles or the Germans without provoking a struggle."

He advocates independence followed by an appeal to local patriotism "in order to allay smoldering racial feeling."

DESCRIBES METHODS OF SELLING TRUCKS IN FOREIGN CLIMES

A. G. Savelli, export sales manager of the Wichita Motors company, told members of the Wichita Falls Ad club, at their luncheon Wednesday, of some of the methods and problems of selling Wichita trucks in foreign lands. His talk was the chief feature of the weekly session of the club.

Mr. Savelli said that of the numerous methods of getting in contact with foreign customers, the most satisfactory was the direct circular, which was gotten up in such a way as to give the prospective buyer every possible bit of information necessary to consummate the purchase. Mr. Savelli spoke of the advertising methods used in reaching foreign buyers, saying that countless publications were available for the use of advertisers and that it was a real problem to decide which to employ.

The difficulties of traveling salesmen in foreign countries were sketched by Mr. Savelli, and he made it appear that the job of selling American merchandise in lands where the salesman is strange to the language, customs and temperaments of his customers is far from the easiest on earth. He paid a tribute to the men who "carry the flag" of American goods into remote climes, and said the nation's debt to them was greater than anyone realized.

By a rising vote of thanks, the club members expressed their hearty appreciation of the address. Rev. Matthew Small of Indianapolis, who was a guest at the luncheon, said that the paper should be given wide circulation.

State Chairman Lascelle of the China Relief fund spoke briefly at the luncheon and secured the club's indorsement of the movie "Lying Lies" in the Strand, the proceeds from which are to be given to the famine fund.

Miss Murphy won the attendance prize donated by J. E. H. Hatley. T. A. Bradley presided at the luncheon in the absence of W. J. Daugherty.

MISS BLANTON URGES HELP FOR SUFFERERS IN CHINA

C. H. Clark, local chairman of the Chinese relief fund, has received copy of a communication from Miss Webb Blanton, state superintendent of public instruction, urging help for the famine sufferers in China.

"While our state is suffering temporarily from financial depression, we have no personal experience of horrors such as the people of China are now enduring," Miss Blanton stated.

"The recent claims made on us as a result of the world war, and the great distance between us and this suffering nation may have caused some of us to receive with little interest the information as to the suffering of millions of men, women and children in China. It is more necessary, therefore, that those of us who feel the brotherhood of man keenly do our utmost to arouse the generosity of the people of the state.

"Every instinct of humanity should prompt us to lend our aid to a cause so worthy and so appealing."

Pat M. Simmons, state treasurer of the relief fund, and checks or money, urgently asked for, may be sent or taken to him at the Wichita State Bank.

PLAN A BARGAIN SALE OF OBSOLETE NAVAL VESSELS

WASHINGTON, May 18.—A "bargain sale" of obsolete naval vessels, including battleships and destroyers, may be held by the navy department soon, it was indicated today. A study is being made of various ways of getting rid of a large number of useless war craft, it was said, and it was indicated that the example of Great Britain might be followed in selling useless ships to be broken up for junk.

There are 21 battleships and many destroyers now carried on the "second line" list, and officers say that more than half of the former should be disposed of. The Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, mounted obsolete 12-inch main battery rifles.

Included in the "second line" list is the famous old battleship Oregon, but it is doubtful if the department will order it scrapped because of sentimental considerations. The latest and most useful battleships on the "second line" list are the Michigan and the South Carolina, both launched in 1908, but in the opinion of naval men long since practically valueless except for training purposes.

In addition to these 21 old battleships, the navy department has already taken steps to dispose of four other vessels. The Indiana was sunk by placed bombs and the big gun fire; the Massachusetts became a target for the guns of the coast defense batteries in Florida; the Idaho is being used for radio control experiments; and is destined to take a prominent part in the coming bombing tests, and the Kearsage has been tentatively allocated to the army for use in aerial bombing experiments this summer.

PRESIDENT HARDING SENDS MESSAGE OF CONDOLENCE

WASHINGTON, May 18.—President Harding sent the following message of condolence today to Mrs. Franklin K. Lane at Rochester:

"I have just learned of the death of your distinguished husband and am writing to express my great shock and my exceedingly deep sorrow over his untimely passing. He was an outstanding American who rendered most distinguished service to his country and found an abiding place in the affections of all who knew him well. Mrs. Harding joins me in an expression of most sympathetic condolence."

Former President Wilson also sent a message of condolence to Mrs. Lane, which was not made public.

LLOYD GEORGE STANDS FIRM ON STATEMENT

mans, however, controlling the region's railways, exerted great pressure through an ironclad blockade on foodstuffs. Much suffering already has resulted from this. Hot weather, just beginning, and lack of milk was expected to result in great infant mortality.

Suffer, but Hold Firm.

Germans in the Polish region suffered with their enemies, but they held firm.

"No food for the Poles if we die with them" was the watchword.

British officers suggested that refusal to move food trains was a "frightful" method of repressing the insurgents. They protested mildly at what they called a renewal of "secret-licensing."

"Yes," a German leader told the United States. "It is frightful. We know what a food blockade is because we had it during the war."

"But our own folks approve. We have messages from everywhere in the occupied territory saying 'for God's sake don't send any food.' It would only prolong terrorism. We'd rather die of starvation than suffer the cruelty of their willing to send milk trains for the sake of the babies, but the allies say we must send in mixed foods. We won't do that."

"We are countering the threat of starvation by declaring they will punish the Germans on their side by throwing a ring of soldiers around the cities as Katowice and Beuthen. The Polish fighters are foraging, but the production of their districts is meager and not sufficient to feed all."

GREAT BRITAIN TO DEMAND FRANCE ACCEPT VIEWS

By ED L. KEEN, United Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, May 18.—Franco-British differences over the handling of Upper Silesia still threatened trouble today.

It was stated authoritatively that Great Britain will demand acceptance of her views by the French. Premier Lloyd George, whose blunt statements in commons provoked an uproar in Paris, was said to have declared he did not wish to meet Premier Briand before the next session of the supreme council. The session probably will be held next week.

Lloyd George, it was stated, will demand that Polish insurgents in Upper Silesia be compelled to withdraw before the allies attempt to partition the region.

The demand was regarded as the crux of the situation which led to a threatened break in the entente.

The tension in Paris was still noticeable today but the British were not inclined to worry.

Lloyd George is expected to hold that Poland has no more right to invade Silesia than the Germans have. "France's 'benevolent neutrality' toward the Poles did not excuse the illegal acts of the latter, he will say. The British view is expected to dominate the supreme council since Italy has been angered by Polish attacks on her soldiers in Silesia. Events of the last two weeks are believed to have left France isolated. Italy favors Germany because the Germans aided her soldiers, Germany's enmity has been increased by losses which she believes France permitted the Poles to inflict, and Russia is regarded as an enemy country.

Poland's position after two years as a nation was regarded as most precarious.

The Warsaw government will be given a chance to prove its sincerity by ordering the insurgents to withdraw from Silesia and permitting the allies to divide Silesia according to the plebiscite of last March.

Adalbert Korfanty, leader of the Polish insurgents, has notified Lloyd George that nothing less than his division of the region will be acceptable. Korfanty declared the Silesians will wreck mines and destroy other property rather than submit to German rule.

At the same time it was reported from Berlin that Korfanty had offered to withdraw the insurgent forces to establish an armistice line. The report said he "admitted we have overstepped the laws of good sense in our rashness."

OPPOSITION TAKES FORM OF ECONOMIC BLOCKADE

LONDON, May 18.—German opposition to the Polish insurgents who have occupied most of Upper Silesia appears to have taken the form of an economic blockade. The German railway companies have refused to transport food supplies other than milk into the district where the Poles have control.

In the disturbed areas have been in sent into Silesia the money to pay for work done prior to the Polish uprising.

Berlin dispatches apparently indicate plans on the part of Germans to enlist hunger as an ally against Korfanty's forces.

Preparations for the meeting of the supreme allied council, possibly early next week, are going forward, and an announcement that the council will hold a plenary session would seem to fore-shadow a decision as to the allocation of Upper Silesia between the Germans and Poles. It is known the allied commission in Silesia is at work on a report to be laid before the council and the recommendation of the council of ambassadors relative to the new frontier line between Germany and Poland in the disturbed areas have been in the hands of the allies for some time.

Advices from Paris declare debate on Silesia and on the reparations question will begin in the French chamber of deputies Thursday after Premier Briand makes an address outlining his views on the Polish insurrection in Upper Silesia and answers the denunciation of the Poles voiced by Prime Minister Lloyd George last Friday before the house of commons. It is declared that Briand will receive a vote of confidence following the debate.

The Texas Federation of Labor, meeting here this week, today stood on record as favoring co-operation with a new Texas farmers' organization. Desire of union by the farm labor union, organized similar to trade unions, was expressed before the labor meeting by W. W. Fitzwater, national president of the farm organization.

"Farmers are realizing their interests are identical with those of the laboring man," President Fitzwater said.

Seven Hundred of Enforcement Agents Laid Off—No Funds

WASHINGTON, May 18.—About seven hundred prohibition enforcement agents in various parts of the country have been temporarily laid off for lack of funds to pay their salaries. It was announced today at the prohibition enforcement headquarters here.

Failure of congress to provide $250,000 asked for by the prohibition commissioner to pay salaries of field agents until the end of the present fiscal year, officials said, necessitated a cut of about two-thirds in the field forces.

The men were given a 45 day vacation without pay, but it was said, will be reinstated on July 1, when the appropriations for the next fiscal year become available.

About 500 agents remain on duty, many of them office men.

UNION JOB PRINTERS TO STRIKE THURSDAY

Vote Late Tuesday to Quit, Following Failure of Negotiations for 44-Hour Week.

Union job printers late Tuesday voted to go on strike Thursday morning unless given assurance, before that time, that their demand for a 44-hour week without a reduction in pay will be granted. Employers stated Wednesday morning that they did not expect to grant the demand, and that they were making arrangements to conduct their shops on a non-union basis.

Telegraphic authority to strike was received from headquarters of the typographical union at Indianapolis before Tuesday's vote was taken. It is a rule of the typographical union that all strikes must be authorized from international headquarters.

The strike follows several weeks of fruitless negotiations. The original demand of the union provided that the new working basis should become effective May 1, but action was deferred while negotiations were in progress.

Employers say that to pay $30, the old scale for a 44-hour week, for only 44 hours' work is equivalent to an increase in wages, and this they contend is not justified by present conditions.

Shops affected by the strike are the Raleigh, American, Stone, Huey, and Midwest.

Newspaper offices are not affected by the strike.

Oh How Glorious to Be Free From Rheumatism's Tortures!

Just suppose you could be free from your deep-seated, agonizing rheumatic aches and pains, your stiff joints and unsightly swellings! Wouldn't you give anything to get rid of them?

You have doubtless rubbed on outside treatments; most rheumatism sufferers have. Some of these take the edge off a few hours, but they do not strike at the cause, which nearly always lies in the poisoned, impoverished blood.

When this is so, you need an internal remedy, one that will take out the impurities that are torturing you, one like famous S.S.S., which has relieved thousands of cases of rheumatism all over the country just this way.

Get S.S.S. from your druggist today, and after starting with it write us a history of your case, addressing Chief Medical Advisor, 877 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia.

GOOD RAINS MATERIALLY BENEFIT FISHER COUNTY

ROBY, TEXAS, May 18.—Good rains fell over practically all of Fisher county the latter part of last week putting a fine season in the ground for planting, putting out stock water and refreshing the ranges. weather is adding very greatly to the value of the rain. A great many farmers had planted their feed and cotton, some of which will need to be planted over, but where there was a stand already up it is not very greatly damaged. It is believed that the rain was too late to be of much benefit to small grain in this county. In general the rain was of untold benefit to the county.

Great Hurling Duel Won By Hollingsworth When Bailey Uncorks Three Base Heave

There's an old saying that if you go to the well often enough you're going to get the water. That's what Bill Bailey did yesterday afternoon at Athletic park. Pat Newman figured that all he would have to do to sew up a game against the Spudders would be to shove his ace in the box. But the Salmites are full of surprises these days. They took to Bill's offerings in the last two rounds like a duck does to water and won finally their second game in succession. It took them 10 innings to get over the hump and Bill Bailey helped them do it, but what came was 2 bases.

It was a battle from start to finish. Not only did Bill Meine and Hollingsworth stage the best hurling duel of the season, but Pat Newman and Walter Salim staged a little battle of wits of their own. These two foxes shifted properly as the occasion demanded and had it not been for Newman's wild heave in the tenth there is not a shadow of a doubt but that darkness would have finally won out.

"Holly" had his customary battle, but tucked in there like a Trojan from behind. He took care of more than one-third of the invaders himself by fanning 11, and he kept his nine hit well scattered over the frames. Newman's error in the fourth of his first ones in the fourth chapter and it soared over the left field fence for a round trip ticket. This one run stuck out alone, and it was Newman's ninth canto as Meine, the hurler who started for the visitors, had all kinds of stuff on the mound and was making dots out of the home boys until the seventh.

"He didn't falter much in the seventh, either, but Newman did not care to take any chances and he gave him the high sign when he was on. Just before he about to tie the dish with two on, just before he was derrieked he fanned Hollingsworth, but he was visibly nervous—and he was visibly nervous. Newman was on the sacks with Rothfus at the plate and only one run needed to tie is sufficient to make any hurler quiver in his shoes.

Salim Outgrows Newman. But when Newman saw Newman one better. When Walter saw that Bailey was going to assume the burden he was going to hold a brief consultation. He is assumed that he will know that Bailey is a southpaw and "Froggy" is a left-handed hitter. Incidentally, for the benefit of those who failed to witness Sunday's game, it might be stated that Bailey had "Froggy" on the hip all during the matinee and forced him to swing in vain the last two times he faced him.

Newman remembered all that and so did "Froggy." Walter asked our sterling fielder how he would feel if a pinch hitter was sent in. He replied that he thought it would be exceedingly good baseball for a right-handed clouter to hit in his place and the skipper acted accordingly. Biscoff was sent in and he did not hesitate a moment finally worked Bill for a free ticket. By this time the handful of fans who had braved the threatening weather were in the diamond. In a situation was made to order for Danny Gross, though it must be stated that Danny was facing the biggest crisis of his short career in the diamond. He was nervous, but he overcame a perfect third strike that Bill buzzed by him like a bullet. This made the contest look like a draw, but it was not to be.

From a local viewpoint, the game never started until the ninth. The fans were still at a high pitch and Griggs took the field in this frame. In fact, they had never sat down since the seventh chapter. Cecil pried the lid off the ninth with a one-base hit, and in short order he had a score with Works, another southpaw hitter, at the plate, but once again Salim used the old bean and shot Newman into the breach. At the next he hesitated a second, but poled one over Johnson's head in right that was good for two bags while Griggs tore around the sacks as though it were later in the game. In fact, he got only a second left to play. Demaggio slipped momentarily when he went to pick up the ball and that slip was just enough to give Griggs a chance to hit the pitcher with the run that put the local athletes on even terms with the visitors. Kitchens put Newman on third with a hit, and Demaggio and Johnson went swinging and Biscoff grounded to Smith.

When the Spudders took the field, the new star came in to guard the initial corner. First crack out of the box Johnson belted a screamer into Abe's territory, but also in the first inning. The fielder in right field and made a difficult catch look easy. "Holly" then fanned Doyle and forced Smith to hit weakly to Gross.

Now for the grand blowup. McDonald started the fireworks, after Gross had lined to Johnson with a punch to left. Bailey still had Clark's number and the latter hit to Doyle, forcing Marshall, who was coaching at first, started in to catch a hit. Danny kept darting off the bag until he had Bill worried to death while "Rube" kept up a rapid fire line of chatter. The pitcher made a half a dozen vain attempts to catch the ball, but his last heave went wide of the mark and rolled to the right field fence. Demaggio and Johnson raced after the elusive ball, but by the time they had retrieved it Danny had crossed the plate and the fans joy knew no bounds.

The visitors backed up their hurlers in enviable fashion. The fielder in the day was turned in by Cedric Durant in center and, of course, it was to be Ted McDonald who was the victim. Ted thumped one on a hit that was ticketed for three bases if any clout ever was and Durant started running with the crack of the bat. He and the horse side half a dozen vain attempts to catch the ball, but his last heave went wide of the mark and rolled to the right field fence. Demaggio and Johnson raced after the elusive ball, but by the time they had retrieved it Danny had crossed the plate and the fans joy knew no bounds.

CARPENTIER CAMP IS WELL BARRICADED

Frenchman's Training Quarters Looks Like an Ammunition Factory.

MANHASSET, N. Y., May 18.—The camp of George Carpentier will look like an ammunition factory during the war when the Frenchman goes to work.

The Andrews farm, French headquarters, within a stone's throw of the magnificent country home of Harry Payne Whitney, is barricaded barbed wire. A high guard fence is built and the camp is well guarded. The final touch of the military will be furnished by "two soldiers," as Des Camps called them, who will pound a beat around the place.

Strange eyes that see the Frenchman compounding his dynamite for Jack Dempsey, will have to resort to fore-gery, strategy and war-time cunning.

Only a pass will get anyone not well known to the Frenchman past the guards.

Scribes Admitted Twice a Week. Twice a week, the newspapermen will be notified that they can come out and look the Frenchman over and ask him a few questions.

No one will be allowed to see Georges at work.

Des Camps said today that Carpentier would not do any heavy work for at least two weeks.

The barn where an indoor ring has been erected for the Frenchman is filled with evidence to show the Frenchman at his work that he is good.

Covering the entire side of one end of the barn is a huge billboard picture in colors of Joe Beckert prostrate on the floor of the London ring and Carpentier standing over him.

At the top of the billboard is a picture of a large size depicting the victorious Georges being carried from the ring on the shoulders of his admirers.

In the few bare spots of the walls are cartoons and pictures and the French hero in various poses and attitudes.

In one corner is a six-foot strip of new carpet neatly tacked to the floor in front and a mirror where Georges can see himself when he is doing calisthenics.

MAJOR LEAGUE RACES ARE GETTING HOTTER

Latest Intersectional Clashes Bring Clubs Closer Together in Both Circuits.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Major league pennant races were considerably tightened by the second number of the east-west series just ended.

The Giants closed in on the leading pirates and the Yankees took the lead away from the Cleveland Indians.

Pat Moran was treated like anything but a guest on the polo grounds, the Giants taking four straight games.

The St. Louis Cardinals on the other hand, acted like anything but guests over in the Brooklyn section and took three out of four from the Robins.

Pittsburgh did well to get two out of three from the Phils and the Braves and Cubs split even.

The Yankees pulled the big surprise in the American league by going into Cleveland and taking three out of four games from the champions. The New Yorkers went west in a rather pessimistic mood but the team rallied and has lost only two games on the trip.

Washington got an unpleasant reception in Detroit where the Tigers took three out of four games.

The White Sox mopped up the Athletics with four straight victories and the Browns and Red Sox split even.

Pittsburgh will have more tough meat for the rest of the trip with the Robins and Giants.

The SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

London, England, May 17. While Americans in England can point with just pride to the skill, courage and ability of their many stars now in active training on British soil or on the way over, British sportsmen insist they can do a little pointing on their own hook.

There are two sides to every question, the same as a plank. We have our Tilden, Miburn, Evans, Stirling, etc. but to meet this talent the British Isles have gathered together one of the finest defensive machines in Albion history.

In amateur golf, referring to the males first, Great Britain is banking upon a large number of steady, first-class players rather than upon any one or two individual stars.

"We have at least 20 men ready for Hoylake," an eminent critic remarked, "who are capable of playing from 74 to 76. They know the course and the conditions. Many will have their off days. But others will come through stoutly and will be worthy opponents for even an Evans, a Quimet, or a Jones, over an 18-hole march.

EXPECT TO WIN OTHER TWO. "Frankly," the same critic continued, "we expect to win the other two golf championships. We know how well Miss Stirling and other members of your team can play. But in addition to Miss Stirling, who is a most remarkable player, we have Miss Jackson, Miss Griffith, Mrs. Dohell and four or five others who can play well enough to eliminate Miss Stirling, or even Miss Leitch, at Turnberry late in May than America will have."

The same holds good for our Open Championship at Hoylake, has ever won Open Championship, you can't blame us for feeling comfortable with Duncan, Mitchell, Ray, Vardon, Taylor, Fraud, Holland, Herd and others on guard. Many will have their off days. But with defenders such as George Duncan, Abe Mitchell and Miss Leitch playing at home we seem to have a trifle the best of it."

AT HOYLAK. Recalling the stirring dash of Bob Gardner last June, British sportsmen are not nearly so certain about the coming championship at Hoylake. They admit that Great Britain put up a desperate defense to beat back our three great amateurs and their strong aids. They look with deep regret upon the advancing years of Ball, Hilton and Maxwell, three members of the Old Guard who have won more than a dozen championships, but who are now a trifle too far advanced in years to last out a week's play.

There are many who take comfort over here from 1914. You may or may not recall that disaster to American golfing arms.

We went over Evans, Travis and Quimet that year and yet all three were eliminated by the fourth round.

Yet those on the inside admit that our 1914 combination was not nearly so strong as the American team now hard at work around Hoylake. Evans and Quimet have both gathered valuable experience since that trip, while young Jones' former has made a deep impression upon the galleries that have followed him.

There were many who at first thought the youngster was sure to be far over-rated. But when they began to watch the power and firmness of his iron play, they were willing to admit that he was a regular golfer. For it is the iron play, after all, that is the story, and the iron play of our Big Three has recalled to many veterans the early days of John Ball and Harold Hilton, now past 50, but still remembered gods of British golf. Great Britain has no one in amateur golf to stand out as Duncan, Mitchell and Ray do in the professional game. But she has a large number of steady, consistent players who may never be champions, but who are good enough to beat champions with at least fair regularity.

Tolley, Wethered, Simpson, Holderness, Scott and at least a dozen others have been playing well enough to hold the Albion faith fairly firm.

Nothing But the Guitars is Played in doors in the Philippine Islands.

By CHARLES EDWARD SURREL (Special Correspondence of the Wichita Daily Times.)

"MANILA, May 17.—If the gamblers and highlanders who are trying to kill baseball in America ever succeed in their iniquitous purpose the proud old national game can flap its wings and soar away to a land where it is sure to find the warmest welcome. It can make its abode in the Philippines and be permanently at home here, for years ago the Philippine people adopted it with enthusiasm and played it with judgment.

Somewhat, they took naturally to it. I suppose that not one hundred persons in all the islands had ever heard of baseball when the American exiles brought it with them. It is a game of light and culture, and now look at the blame thing. From one end of the islands to the other, baseball is the choice and favorite game. They play it in the mountains and by the sounding sea shore, among the rice fields in the north and by the hemp plantations down south. You cannot strike a village in the most remote corner of Luzon or most other islands where you will not see the boys playing it. I have seen photographs of young Igorrotes playing it without pants and then another of the same Igorrotes in full uniform, champions of North Luzon or some such thing, with the silver cup of victory resting in front of the crossed bats.

Also, I have seen a team of colored sugar pushers from somewhere up in the interior beat the crack nine from a United States battleship and put up an swift and hardy a game as any fan on earth could desire. Already this year the Philippines have developed two pitchers of no-hit games against such accomplished performers with the ash as the best arm nine in the orient, and these same sugar boys have a pitcher of firm, sturdy, and named Paronillo, who was a major league quirt in the corner of his left eye. In a recent game in Manila he pitched almost perfectly and made four strikeouts at the bat.

Boys and girls, all about the Philippines, they are all about baseball. The girls play it as much as the boys, but with the indoor ball, of course. I have not the least doubt that there are more girls in indoor baseball teams on the island of Luzon than in the whole United States. Some of these teams put up a wonderful game. At the Manila Carnival this year I saw countless hundreds of girls who, with wretched shouts of approval even from skeptical tars off the U. S. Huron, and that it will be admitted, was going some. The girls here only played rarely and accurately, but they showed an infallible knowledge of the intricacies of the game.

Once the Manila Babe Ruth of Philippine indoor baseball, when there were no outs and second and third were filled, knocked a hot liner over second that looked safe if anything ever looked safe in the game. The umpire for it, snatched it an inch from the ground, never stopped her run, touched second and slammed it down to third in time to complete the triple.

"Snappy work," yelled a group of excited Americans. It was no less.

SPORTS PROTS by Paul & Barkin

There's one series they can't take away from us.

The boys had to fight to get over the hump, but nobody quit yesterday. The work of the footers was a revelation.

The threatening weather kept a few hundred away and the smallest crowd of the season. On the 22nd, they had more noise and offered more encouragement than any crowd of 1,000 ever did.

It's hard to control one's feelings during a fight and exciting ball game, but the management wished that the same would use a little discretion with the cushions. They flew thick and fast from the seventh inning on yesterday. Should one happen to strike a person wearing glasses or hit one of the faculty's heads, the unfortunate victim would be out several dollars. It's a dangerous practice and should be eliminated.

Isn't that Hollingsworth a plunger? That boy's in there fighting all the time and it must be admitted that the boys don't play their best ball behind him. There were no costly errors yesterday but it was due to Holly's game that they weren't costly. He ran up against the same proposition when he won that memorable 15-inning game in Dallas and his support in his first start here was wretched.

Waller's praise are being sung all over town today for the stellar manager in which he judged his men yesterday. If there's anything more he'll do than a bunch of baseball bugs we don't know what it is. Waller has shifted his men in just such a manner several times this season, but the men didn't come through—consequently, he got the blame. As long as he won, everything's hunky-dory.

The fans had to wait until the last day to see Durr to something to make them believe that he was one of the birds of the bush today. It's a pity that it yesterday. The way he pitched "Indoor," of course, is a misnomer. Nobody plays anything but the guitar indoors in the Philippines. The games are played on regular fields. Girls' teams wear uniforms; dark blue skirts and red hair ribbons; light blue with white facings; white with blue trimmings; and all that American fans may care to note is that the champion ballplayer of the Philippines is Miss Lillie Cobb, a mignon (half caste) and a relative of Ty Cobb.

The girls' devotion to extremely good pitchers and run bases well, but of course not so well as the boys. The Philippine boys, taking them by and large, are the swiftest base runners I have ever seen. If they could hit as well as they field and run bases they would be the world's wonders. As that I saw those same sugar pushers play a terrific game in Manila, with the best American team in Manila, and believe me, little children, it was a game!

Per Clean Athletics. Anything in the line of clean athletics looks good to the new generation in these islands. Go into any government or public office in Manila; you will find the same clean athletic equipment in one glass case containing the trophies won on the athletic field by teams from that office. Baseball, basketball, football, every approved style of athletic endeavor, is represented in those cases. Any very likely the arms of sports as a means of raising the level of the Second still above the rest of the island. The old day and the new.

Or go into any school above the primary grade. You will find the trophies and the trophies from that school cherished and handed down from class to class as precious possessions. The average athletic excellence of the schools in Manila is the result of the constant visit of a visitor. One reason is that Dr. Camillo Casas, assistant director of education, a Filipino well known to educational circles in the United States, is a member of the Philippine Athletic Association. He is a member of the Philippine Athletic Association and is a member of the Philippine Athletic Association.

The performances, moreover, are far from elementary. At the Manila interschool track and field meet, end of January this year, five intercollegiate records were broken. There was a javelin throw of 153 feet; a 220 yard run in 3 minutes, 2 seconds; a 220 yard low hurdle run in 2:5 seconds; 550 yard relay run in 1 minute, 32 seconds; 1 mile relay race in 3 minutes, 35 seconds.

Splendid Records Made. Some of these records compare well with the best achievements in the American Athletic Association:

Javelin, 174 ft.; 224 yards 1 m. 2:5 s.; 220 yard hurdles, 2:4 s.; 220 yard relay 1 m. 31 4-5 s.; mile relay 3 m. 37 4-9 s.

The Philippine boys now touring and visiting battles in Australia, are rather outside of this consideration. Yet legitimate note may be made of the fact that one of them has fought 17 contests and never lost one.

But it is in all round athletics that the Filipino takes most pride—general physical development. And, speaking of that, the survival every year produces some remarkable exhibitions of varied abilities. At the decathlon, for instance, which is about as good as 1921 can say, the people here think they have interesting material, east or west. In Juan Taduan, the star teacher of that team from the sugar farm about whom I have said so much, Taduan's decathlon record this year was 355 in the first half (nearest competitor 358) and 371 in the second half (nearest competitor 317). As the athlete jog out, the decathlon includes a 100 yard dash, running high jump, shot put, running high jump, 440 yard run, 220 yard low hurdle, discus throw, pole vault, running hop, step and jump, and a mile run. It will be seen that young Mr. Taduan is quite a boy. Particularly when we remember that just as he stands he can throw to second hole the common shot.

As to the practical fruitage of all this, there again is something profoundly interesting to every philosopher. Dr. Casas in a recent magazine article published here, expressed the rather startling belief that the course in athletics of the public schools would eventually make the Philippine as tall as well as a stronger and healthier race. He had some grounds for his hope. The superintendent of the medi-

SEWELL'S GOLF HOME. Jim Sewell has left for his home in Dallas for a few days to take things easy and see if he can get his arm into working order. His faithful right arm has not been right since the season opened, though he lost a couple of hard-fought games. He stated that it has hurt him to deliver each ball in every contest. He will rejoin the squad within a couple of weeks.

PHILIPPINE COAST GUARD DIVISION. The Philippine coast guard division is reported in 1916.

Physical. "After examining and keeping a record of more than 1,000 enlisted men, I firmly believe that the Filipino is a much larger man physically than he was eight or ten years ago. There is no doubt to the athletic training the young generation has been receiving and is receiving in the primary, intermediate and high schools of the islands."

It is a recorded fact that children in the public schools have better health than children outside of them and medical testimony that athletics in the schools have decreased tuberculosis among children.

There is something else. The Filipinos are naturally sober and moral people; but there is among them one ancient though imported vice. They still tolerate cock-fighting. The harm to children outside of them and medical testimony that athletics in the schools have decreased tuberculosis among children.

But a nation that takes so quickly and successfully to baseball, the most difficult of all field games, demanding the greatest exercise of wit and intelligence, will you say that it is hopelessly incapable of self-government? Not to an old baseball player like your truly.

WHO'LL WIN?

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Jim Jakh, veteran boxing writer: "If Dempsey is out for a quick triumph he should stop Carpenter in six rounds at the worst. In a sixteen-fight ring two innings would suffice. A wide open boxer like the Frenchman just suits a body puncher. I believe America has half dozen middles good enough to stop the Frenchman."

HI SCHOOL TENNIS PLAYERS IN CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNEY

L. Snow defeated J. C. Smith and C. C. Randle, 1-1, 4-4.

One more double match remains to be played in the first round and the singles have not been started yet.

Eastern Coaches Will Not Take Track Teams to Chicago

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Western athletes who came to the Penn relay and gave the east a trimming probably will have to be content with those laurels for the season.

Eastern coaches say "for several reasons" they cannot journey west to Chicago on June 11 and meet the westerners in their own haunts at the University of Chicago's national collegiate championship meet.

Rules for the meet limiting the entries to eight men from a single college will make it "impossible" for the eastern coaches to go west, several of the coaches say.

If western coaches had seen the same disadvantages in entering a small team, the Penn relay would have been of a different nature, which, however, might have been more to the liking of the east, since the small band of westerners made such a wonderful showing.

Not a western school at the "relays" had more than eight entries, some of them had two men and some only four. Yet the Penn relay would have been of a different nature, which, however, might have been more to the liking of the east, since the small band of westerners made such a wonderful showing.

It is hard to tell what would have happened to the east if the west had sent an entire team to the relays as the east wants to do in the "nationals." Eastern coaches say it would cause hard feeling among their teams if they were to select only eight men from the entire squad to go west.

"Suppose twenty of my men were sent to the Penn relays, existing for so long, will be another victim of the west within a short time."

YOUNG LADY DROWNS AT LAKE WICHITA AND 3 NARROWLY ESCAPE

BODY OF MISS BESSIE GILHAM RECOVERED AFTER HOUR'S SEARCH.

WERE BOAT RIDING EARLY TUESDAY EVENING

Miss Fannie Sheridan Rescued by Escort of the Two and Lake Attendants.

Miss Bessie Gilham, aged 18, was drowned and three companions narrowly escaped a similar fate when a boat in which they were riding overturned on Lake Wichita shortly after 8 o'clock Tuesday night. Miss Fannie Sheridan, aged 21, was saved by heroic work on the part of her escort, T. H. Bates, and that of Miss Gilham's companion, Clarence Hammond. She was believed to have been in a serious condition as a result of the accident Tuesday night, but reports from her home, 1300 Clark street, indicated that she was well on the way to recovery Wednesday morning.

The party had gone to the lake about 7:30 Tuesday evening, according to statements of the survivors, and after a short stop at the pavilion had secured a boat and started for a ride. The water was rough, according to lake attendants, and it is believed that after rowing out several hundred yards a return trip was started.

Statements of Hammond and Bates bore out this belief. When within 100 feet of the long pier which juts out from shore a heavy wave struck the small boat broadside, filling it with water and drenching the occupants. Reports from this point on were somewhat conflicting, one story circulating to the effect that the two girls became frightened and leaped into the water, while others indicated that the boat capsized, throwing all four out.

Hammond and Bates were both able to swim. It is said, but neither of the girls were able to support themselves in the water. Miss Gilham was the first to sink, but was brought to the surface immediately by Hammond, only to pull him below twice more. Hammond was unable to break her grip on his shoulders and it was not until she had become completely exhausted that she loosened the hold and sank out of sight.

In the meantime both Hammond and Bates had shouted for help and a boat manned by Riley Rickman and S. A. Giles, attendants at the lake, put out to aid the distressed quartet. Miss Sheridan went under several times, according to the story of Bates, but was not so excited as Miss Gilham and was more easily controlled. She was pulled to the overturned boat by Bates and Hammond after the latter had failed in his efforts to save Miss Gilham, and the trio were brought to shore a few moments later by Rickman and Giles.

Efforts were at once started to recover the body of Miss Gilham from the water, but it was not until 3 o'clock, over an hour later, that it was raised to the surface with grappling hooks. Rickman and Giles made the recovery, and from their reports the lake is approximately thirty feet deep at this point. The boat overturned about 100 feet south and a short distance west of the pier.

Pulmotor is Used.
An ambulance and pulmotor from the O. W. Hines Undertaking parlors was summoned and the machine was used for two hours in an attempt to resuscitate Miss Gilham, but the efforts were unavailing and the girl was pronounced dead.

The body was removed to the Hines Undertaking parlors and prepared for burial. It is being held there pending funeral arrangements.

Miss Gilham had been employed as telephone operator at the local exchange and had been living with her brother, George Gilham, at 1318 1/2 Fourth street. Her parents were reported to be on their way to this city from a distant part of the state Wednesday morning.

Miss Sheridan had been living with a sister, Mrs. T. T. Plummer, 1300 Clark street. Hammond resided at 511 Eighth street, and Bates at 506 Mississippi.

Absence of telephone facilities at the lake were declared by many to have been responsible for the death of Miss Gilham, as a spark of life was still left when the pulmotor was placed in operation. Word of the accident and the call for the ambulance was brought to town by automobile.

NOT A NICKEL CIGAR BUT A MIGHTY GOOD CIGAR FOR A NICKEL

We are offering E-P and Powhatan cigars, ten cent, two-fors and 15-cent sizes for five cents

A while back when more popular cigars were not to be had, we stocked up on these; they're not so well advertised nor so well known as some other brands and haven't moved as fast; so we'll swallow a substantial loss on them and you can get as good a 15-cent smoke as you ever inhaled for just—ONE NICKEL.

Five cents is all you lose if you don't like 'em—but you will.

HUNDRED AND EIGHTY DERRICKS HAVE BEEN BUILT IN YOUNG CO.

GRAHAM, TEXAS, May 18.—Since the Roxana's Goode No. 1 was brought in over three years ago, opening up the Young county field, there has been about 180 derricks erected in this field. New locations are being made almost daily. There are around seventy producing wells in the field, the pipe line runs for the last month averaging about 8,000 barrels daily. Much of the production of the field is being stored and used for fuel. The many completions in the field last week add materially to the number of barrels taken by the pipe line company.

Later still continues to grow in the Bunker district, as contracts for two more wells have already been let. The wells will be drilling within the next thirty days.

The Parsons No. 1 in Bunker, which has been shut down for the last few days while water is being piped to the lease, resumed operations today. They are now down 700 feet.

"Lest We Forget"

Workmen's compensation insurance is a matter of concern to all the public. The working man is entitled to the same courtesy and consideration we show his employer. In the final analysis he is the real "insured."

The survival of our business, and the permanence of our livelihood, depends largely upon our treatment of compensation claimants.

While it would be contrary to public policy to pay compensation to those clearly not entitled to it, EVERY JUST CLAIM SHOULD BE PAID IN FULL ACCORDANCE WITH THE BENEVOLENT INTENT OF THE LAW.

Remember that we are dealing with HUMAN BEINGS. Let them see that we are fellow human beings, that we sympathize with them in their misfortunes, and that at all times we recognize the humane as well as the commercial side of our business. Be helpful to them, and if in doubt give the benefit to the injured employee and his dependents.
