Marrying Parson On Trial Before a Board of Church

By CARL V. LITTLE, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WINONA LAKE, IND., May 21.—Marrying parson on trial here today.

The case of Rev. J. L. McKimoye, accused of running a "Gretna Green" in his little parsonage at Ellettsville, Ind., in the supreme court of the Presbyterian church.

Several years ago the Rev. McKimoye was charged with indiscriminately marrying elopers which dodged over the state line from Pennsylvania and Delaware.

The case which was reviewed before James P. Goodrich, Indiana's former governor, who presided over the high tribunal today, it was charged that the minister married thousands of couples in the little town, one count against him states that as many as 1,000 couples were united in one year.

The hearing today brought out the allegation that Rev. McKimoye and the minister of another Ellettsville church were running a "race" for thousands of couples in the little town, the most couples and that the former was in the lead when the presbytery of New Castle, the lower court stopped the alleged marrying marathon.

FELLOWSHIP

By RICHARD LLOYD JONES

He who possesses the spirit of fellowship, whatever may be his confession of faith, is a disciple of the universal religion. Fellowship is fairness; fairness is the Golden Rule reduced to two syllables.

Fellowship is the foundation of democracy. Democracy may not mean social equality but it does mean equal chance. Democracy must always mean equal good will, equal hope, encouragement and opportunity. Fellowship, like democracy, means giving every one a square deal.

Democracy, through the spirit of fellowship, fosters philanthropy but it insists that its philanthropy be real and that it be IN business rather than AFTER business.

He cannot boast of the spirit of fellowship who amasses his fortune by paying an unfair wage to his toilers, and then publicly bequeaths to his city an uplift institution for the benefit of those who toil. He who disregards the rights and the welfare of those who work with and for him has missed the golden reward of fellowship which is more priceless and more satisfying than gold or thoughtless applause.

The spirit of fellowship refuses to coddle beggars for the privilege of handing them soup and free lectures.

Nor can the spirit of fellowship ever be housed in the heart of the gambler; fellowship insists upon a square deal—a fair trade. In a fair trade both parties gain; in a gambling transaction one must lose. Whoever engages in any trade where his gain means an inevitable loss to another, is simply a gambler.

The manufacturer who makes a good useful machine profits by his business as the sales of his machine multiply. And because the machine is perfected to be true to an assignment of labor, every purchaser profits who buys it to put it into useful operation. That is fair play and commercialized fellowship. But the fellow who makes a profit on misrepresentations, who sells fictitious stock, who inflates the valuation of his property with water, is false to the spirit of fellowship however well he may wear his broadcloth, or however piously he may kneel before the altar. Paying a high price for a pew never puts pity into practice.

In the dark ages barons went out with their armored retainers. They butchered, robbed and ravaged and out of the spoils built a church or endowed a benevolent institution in the name of the church. Yet, then as now, they are enemies of that religion, the brotherhood of man, for which the inspiration of the church lived and died.

The real criterion of a man's life is not how the world will be affected by his bequests, but how they who came in daily contact with him as friends and neighbors, servants and fellow-workers, were affected by his life. That is the test of character, and character is the measure of a man's spirit of fellowship.

Spudders Finish Home Stay By Slaughtering Nee's Charges 17 to 4

By PAUL W. LARKIN.

Walter Salm and all his little Salmites hopped the rattler for Dallas last night in a most pleasant frame of mind and well they might, for yesterday afternoon they made a race track out of Athletic Park while they were bombarding four Bear hurlers and cleaning up the San Antonio series. The score of the landslide which gave the local athletes their fifth consecutive victory was 17 to 4. As a result of the victory the Spudders drew up to within a half a game of the skidding Bears and are almost out of the dungeon at last.

Abe Bowman did the flinging for the home crew and had to pitch himself out of some troublesome situations in the early part of the game, as the Bears were continually threatening to hit and they did. Danny Gross and Danny Clark led the attack with four safeties including a double each. Still, the rest of the boys were not far behind, and they were out to hit and they did. The Spudders got two singles and a double. Kitchens a double and homer. Works a single and triple. Rothfus three singles, and McCall a couple of timely one-base clouts.

WELLESLEY COLLEGE HAS STRONG CREW THIS SEASON.

The Wellesley college boat crew is ready to begin its season. The eight has been whipped into shape by frequent practice on Lake Waban and is said to be one of the strongest ever turned out by the famous girls' college. The attractive and athletic young women who compose the crew have been trained and coached for their contestants as would a male crew. The girls take their work very seriously and in their trial spins on the lake have shown plenty of speed. The photograph shows the Wellesley varsity eight starting out for a trial spin. From left to right—Sibyl Wardwell, coxswain; Dorothy Brainard, stroke and captain; Gladys Hathaway, No. 7; Marion Smith, No. 6; Jeanette Luther, No. 5; Eleanor Snow, No. 4; Dorothy Conant, No. 3; Helen Sherman, No. 2, and Mildred Hess, bow. In the inside is Miss Dorothy Breingan, who is in charge of the crew.

SPORT SHOTS

No reason why the boys can't take about 9 of the 13 games on the road when they keep in their present clip. They should have little difficulty in knocking the Mariners under today. The Cubs are slowly slipping while the Salmites have already showed that they outclassed the Exporters and Bears. George Whiteman's Buffs have won eight in a row and there should be a merry battle when the locals meet them in their back yard.

The SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

LIVERPOOL, ENGLAND. For sixteen years—ever since the triumph of the British golf ramparts, off and on, only to be replaced with heavy slaughtering. Outside of Bob Gardner's brilliant bid last June, there has been an indelible setting around each invasion; but the time here comes when the American seems to be in striking distance of the goal.

THE U. S. TEAM. Captain Bill Fownes, being an intimate student of golf history, understands the long line of disasters that his team must wipe out to recover our golfing prestige and British galleries understand that an American isn't exclusively allied with bunkers and traps.

BRILLIANT TOURNAMENT. British galleries that will range from 10,000 to 15,000 a day are looking forward to the greatest international golf championship that the game has ever known.

WHO WILL WIN? On the eve of battle it looks to me like Evans, Quimmet or Jones. They are the three best amateurs in the world over any extended stretch. It may be a question as to which one of the three can stop the other two.

SPORT BRIEFS

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., May 21.—Harvard and Princeton meet here today on track and diamond. Ned Gourdin, Harvard's negro star, was expected to be high score of the track meet.

AMERICANS CLEAN UP IN FIRST MATCHES

Preliminary Foursomes Easily Won by Evans, Jones, Quimmet, Guilford, Hunters, and Others.

WHOLL WIN?

NEW YORK, May 21.—Jack Gleason, former promoter and manager: "Dempsy ought to win from Carpenter in about four rounds. The Frenchman is a fast man and a good boxer, but I don't believe he is strong enough to keep the aggressive American away from him. Dempsy is the harder puncher and has a style of fighting that is hard for a boxer to cope with."

BASEBALL PIONEER DIES IN HIS ATLANTA HOME

ATLANTA, GA., May 21.—Charles T. Page, pioneer of baseball in the days of "Pop" Anson, and Albert G. Spalding, died at his home here yesterday.

Bill Fincher received the first assignment from the Bear boss, but he was not the Fincher of 1920. Just four men faced Bill and each hit safely. "Froggy" beat out an infield hit. Gross bounced a long double off the left field fence. McDonald clouted one to center and Clark chased him to the clubhouse with a two-pee drive to left. This combination netted a trio of markers and Voight was sent in to stem the tide.

Voight Sticks Until Third. Voight got along famously until the third. He retired the side in the first without any further scoring and escaped unscathed in the second. In the third a couple of healthy swats together with a pass and perfectly executed squeeze play gave the locals three more.

SAND CRABS 5, MARINES 1. DALLAS, May 20.—Fitzpatrick was poorly supported today and every Dallas error counted in the visitors' run-getting. Galveston taking the final game of the series, 5 to 1. Work was benched for disputing a called third strike.

EXPORTERS 3, PANTHERS 1. FORT WORTH, May 20.—Jacobus, the Exporter pitching star, had a hard-hitting Cats at his mercy in all but the first inning here today and Beaumont won the final game of the series from Fort Worth, 3 to 1.

MAJOR LEAGUE BITS. Yesterday's hero: Lebraveaux, the Phillies' outfielder, hit a homer that beat the Cards 4 to 3.
