'BABY BRIDE' IS PAROLED IN CUSTODY OF HER ATTORNEY

FARMINGTON, MO., May 21.—Letta Parsons was free today—with a string tied to her freedom. The 13-year-old bride who is accused of killing her 6-year-old stepdaughter, was paroled into the custody of her attorney, Jerry Burk.

Mr. Catts made no attempt to conceal his identity and would not talk to newspaper men. In talking with the officers, however, he was quoted as saying that one of the negroes he is alleged to have held in peonage was given $10 a month and his board at the former governor's plantation.

Mr. Catts appeared to be greatly agitated by his arrest. The officers told him he knew no one in Albany and had no way of giving bond. Mr. Catts, who was formerly a Baptist minister, attended the First Baptist church, and this was done.

FARMER WELL TO BE DRILLED DEEPER

Plan to go Down to a Depth of 3,700 Feet Unless Oil is Found Before Then.

GRAHAM, TEXAS, May 21.—The Farmer well, northeast of Graham, has been taken over by George Ablon, J. M. Sanderson and E. B. McElroy and will be drilled to a depth of 3,700 feet unless oil is struck before this depth. It was stated yesterday afternoon by Mr. McElroy.

The Del-Tex Oil company's No. 1 West located one mile east of South Bend, is expected to be drilled in some time tomorrow or next day. As this is the first well to be put down east of South Bend, much interest is being manifested. A good showing was struck Monday at 1,911 feet. The log of the well and that of the Hale are said to be identical and the Del-Tex people will go after the new Hale sand, 2,225 feet.

Three men with a carload of booze blocked Weddington in the road as he was driving from Attilers. Weddington surprised the spokesman and covered him, but shots from a shotgun in the hands of another runner hit him in the back. The men deserted three 10-gallon kegs of whiskey. Weddington was found by farmers.

Announcement Extraordinary!

We take great pleasure and pride in announcing our securing the agency of the world renowned HOOSIER KITCHEN CABINET. We feel no greater tribute nor better indorsement of our standing could be demonstrated than being selected as a local representative of the famous Hoosier—the name of which is a household word in every land where civilization exists.

Your Name and Address
Beginning Monday and continuing for two weeks every man and woman entering our store is requested to register their names and address.

Special Offer to present
HOOSIER
OWNERS
If you have had your Hoosier ten years or more, here is our proposition. We will allow you the full price you paid for your Hoosier when new, less $1 for each year you have had it.

This is possible because there is less depreciation in the value of the Hoosier than any other household device. An old Hoosier is worth more than many new cabinets. Think of it—this offer means that when you turn in your old Hoosier you will have paid only $1 a year for the use you had out of the Hoosier.

Have you ever heard of a more liberal offer?

- Four Special Inducements
- 1 YOU PAY NO CASH. Regardless of how old your present Cabinet may be, we will allow you from $5.00 to $10.00 for it.
 - 2 You pay the balance in small weekly payments. No extra charge for these easy terms.
 - 3 The regular low 1921 prices on the Hoosier prevail during this offer. These prices are fixed by the factory.
 - 4 No charges for interest—no extras. You pay the low factory price—less our liberal allowance for your present cabinet.

The Greatest Single Convenience Ever Installed in a Kitchen Cabinet

MR. J. R. ADAMS
Special expert demonstrator from the factory will be here for two weeks. Feel free to ask him any information you desire in regard to the Hoosier.

Buy Your Hoosier Now

And get This $7.50 Kitchen Set and a Special Tool Compartment Tray FREE

- We offer four strong reasons for buying your Hoosier immediately
- FIRST
We deliver your Hoosier when you pay your first dollar. You pay the balance a little at a time. No extra charge for these easy terms.
- SECOND
You do not pay a cent more than the regular price of Hoosier. The low 1921 prices for the Hoosier prevail. These prices are fixed by the factory.
- THIRD
For one more day we will give FREE with every Hoosier Beauty sold, the handsome practical Kitchen Set and Special Tool-Compartment Tray shown above—the greatest single convenience ever installed in a Kitchen Cabinet.
- FOURTH
There is no kitchen convenience that can compare with the Hoosier. It is not an ordinary Kitchen Cabinet, but a real working center at which all kitchen activities are concentrated.
- A demonstration costs you nothing. It will convince you that you pay for the Hoosier in wasted energy every day you do without it. And remember, right now, you not only get the FREE Kitchen Set and Compartment Tray with this wonderful cabinet, but

The Special Cooking Spatula was designed by Mr. James Scott, supervisor of industrial education, Syracuse, N. Y.

Do not compare these tools with "so-called" kitchen sets you see advertised at a low price. You can not buy this set or one of like quality (exclusive of tray) for less than $7.50.

These kitchen tools are made and guaranteed by the Harrington Cutlery Co., of Southbridge, Mass. They sell regularly for $7.50.

This week we are giving this set free with each Hoosier Beauty. And, what is even more important, we give you an ideal place in which to keep it—a specially constructed tray that keeps the knives from coming in contact with each other, and thus dulling the edges.

When Hoosier's big, uncluttered work-table is extended, this tray comes out with it, so you can always get at each tool easily and quickly. This feature has never before been incorporated in a Kitchen Cabinet.

It is positively the greatest single convenience ever installed in a cabinet. The tray is not regular Hoosier equipment, but has been added to the Hoosiers offered during this sale.

The set comprises ten pieces, all of the Best Carbon Tool Steel, including six fine, sharp knives, two kitchen forks, and two spatulas. Knives are finely ground and guaranteed to hold a keen edge. They are light weight, rubberoid finish and strictly sanitary. Blades are firmly pinned in. Handles are fitted to the hands.

You cannot get this set and Tool-Compartment Tray after this sale closes. Right now you get BOTH—FREE—when you pay the dollar that sends your Hoosier home.

In Addition to this Offer—
YOUR OLD CABINET IS WORTH FROM $5 to $20 as first payment on a new Hoosier.

HARDING ADOPTS A PLEASANT WAY OF URGING PROGRAM

NOT SO EASILY HANDLED AS SOME WERE LEAD TO EXPECT.

HOOVER IS CLASSED AS THE BIG MAN OF CABINET

Leaders of Administration Are Showing Fatigue as Result of Arduous Duties.

By MARK SULLIVAN National Political Correspondent of The New York Evening Post and The Wichita Daily Times. (Copyright, 1921, by The New York Evening Post.)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Both for those who try to understand a complex thing, and those who try to make it clear, there are various devices for simplifying it. One of the most frequently useful is to picture a situation in terms of the men who figure in it. It is a part of that philosophy which says that what will come out of any situation will always be whatever is the net resultant of the pulling and hauling of the men who are in it, and that the whole tangle of the world together comes down to strong men seeking their own ends in their own ways, for their own purposes, sometimes in co-operation.

Such a picture of Washington begins of course with Harding, his dominant trait and purpose continuing to be as in the beginning, harmony, good feeling and "back to normalcy." But everybody has learned by this time that his policy is to bring harmony means not the consideration of the rights and feelings of others, it is as far as possible from meaning willingness to abandon his own purposes, nor easy-going compromise. Harding will squirm and shrink from doing or saying a disagreeable thing; he will show obvious discomfort in his resistance to those who want him to do what his own judgment does not endorse.

He rebukes the Senate. He will go to any length to leave a good taste in the mouth of one who is necessarily disappointed at the end of a transaction with him—but in the end Harding follows his own ends as steadily and surely as any public man in Washington. It is a striking fact that this president who was to be the "creature of a senatorial oligarchy" has given the senate in his soft-speech way, more rebukes than it has ever had from any president in the same length of time. Harding has his own program about our foreign relations and his own determination to support the secretary of state, who is his own choice. That program is to be carried out slowly and steadily and to the judgment of all except a few w. satisfactorily.

The strongest group in Washington, in the absolute men determining their own purposes, is the group of the fight they have made or not, the fact is they won it by sheer determination and the willingness to stake their own political existence on the result. For the present, the irreconcilables are not as dissatisfied as many reports imply. In the rejection of the league of nations they won 100 per cent victory and the slow and gradual building of our new bridge to Europe is not likely to be resisted or opposed of the past two years.

Hoover a Big Man. By most ways of judging, Hoover is the biggest man in Washington. His engineering training, his business experience, and the quality of his mind, give him the kind of grasp on the universe that a small town grocer has in his own business.

If the country ever determines to hire a general manager and leave everything to him, there would be no other candidate in Hoover's class of politics. Hoover knows nothing, what ever he works out a plan, and ends that for political or personal reasons it can't be made to work, and abandons it in the spirit in which he would yield to an insuperable obstacle in an engineering problem. The picture that most of us in Washington have, is of Hoover and Hughes united in furnishing Harding with guidance on our foreign affairs. For the purposes of those European problems which are most immediate these two are the big men of the cabinet. Some of the irreconcilable senators are suspicious of Hoover and Hughes as not having spared the irreconcilable attitude toward the league of nations. But this suspicion is a decreasing quantity, and every indication promises a smooth working out of our foreign problems by Harding and his advisers.

Hoover works too hard; he plunges into work in the spirit of headlong self-forgetfulness with which some men go into dissipation. Just lately there has been some concern about Hoover's health and his friends have been engaged in an effort to remind him that he is too big an asset to the country and the world to be imperilled by neglect. Hoover even at his best always looks a little tired. Keyness in his book of peace conferences speaks of Hoover as "looking like a tired titan."

Hughes Shows Strain. Hughes also shows the strain a little. When Hughes came to Washington on the 4th of March he had the spirit of galloping into his new duties. He still works hard, but there is enough indication of his incoherent vitality to be noticeable and to give concern to those who realize how much rests on him. Harding also is a little tired. When you watch him at one of those big receptions shaking hands with long lines of visitors, you can notice his tired personality, gripping at even a few seconds of rest which his tired features can get shaking hands with one man and beaming on the next. If the writer seems to lay unusual emphasis on the more element of fatigue in public men, it is because anyone who reported the peace conference knows better than the public commonly does, how devastating a thing fatigue may be and how much it has had to do with public episodes as to which history has assigned quite different causes.

Effect on Wilson. Between the Woodrow Wilson who was a world hero in the summer of 1918 and the Woodrow Wilson who was such a tragic figure in the summer of 1920, there is no difference whatever except nervous exhaustion. This is not the place and there is not room to go into the pathological phases of the history of Wilson's last three years, but it can be taken fully for granted that what happened to him, and all that happened to the world because of what happened to him, rests on the single fact that he became excessively tired, that he refused to rest—or as a shoulder, some of his duties on others, and that his refusal to renew his nervous reservoir led to conditions progressively worse.

How deep can be the effects of fatigue on men who carry heavy duties can only be realized by one who has watched it happen. The world takes it for granted that to every man one day is as good as another day, and wholly forgets the immense variations of judgment that many hang upon the mere fact of whether a man is tired or refreshed.

Harding's Favorite Word is "becoming." With Hayes is "humane." Hayes' buoyant and cheery personality is determined that before he quits the post office, every postman will leave our letters in the morning in the spirit of a chorister singing a Christmas Carol. He has a vision of all the human beings in the United States linked to each other in good feeling through the daily contact of a force of postmen who radiate pleasure because they are happy in their work.

The most pressing present concern of Secretary Weeks, as well as of most of the other cabinet members, is house-cleaning as an example of the kind of situation upon which the cabinet members are focusing their minds more than on anything else. Secretary Weeks has discovered that the operation of the Panama canal has some imperceptibly to be more expensive business than the country realizes. During 1920 average of 72-3 ships per day was put through the canal, and to do this work the country maintained a force of 17,500 civil employes. The rate of pay given these employes is still the same as it was made at the beginning when the canal was unhealthy and it was necessary to offer inducements to get men to go there. The inducements which are still maintained include free house rent and one-fourth added to the prevailing rate of wages in the United States. It is this kind of problem, scattered all the way from Panama to Alaska, that engages the cabinet's daily attention.

Rotary and Wichita Clubs Expected to Clash on Diamond

The time is drawing near for the annual travesty upon the nation pastime, the same being the baseball game between the Rotary and Wichita clubs.

HERE IS THAT HARNESS STRAP? Mayor J. M. Williamson has called meeting of the fathers tomorrow evening at the city hall for the purpose of presenting information that is come to him in his official capacity of mayor and presiding officer of the city court regarding the orals of some of the young people of this city.

It could be possible that all of the hundreds of thousands of dollars spent on Newberry's campaign not one dollar went for the direct illegal purchase of votes.

Paid workers, newspaper advertising, bill-board posters, wholesale circulation of voters, moving picture slides and other methods of reaching the voters in our day and age...

Although Newberry is an able man and a good citizen, who served his country well during the war as commander of the second naval district...

Public attention was directed to two mothers during the past week. In the federal court at Philadelphia the mother of the Bergdolls was found guilty of assisting her sons to evade the draft and was given a prison sentence and a fine.

Our father was his whipping arm completely out in attempting to maintain discipline and it was all to no particular advantage. This was true for two reasons, the first being that he whipped only when he was angry...

Fourteen-year-old girls who run at large with painted cheeks, scanty clothes and stridently attracting voices grow up daily into the unmoral and even immoral class.

The old harness strap should be brought out first to be used on parents who permit this sort of thing, and after they have been properly tanned the young people could be called for their first woodshed interview.

Our republican friends who have been feeling the peck over their showing in the last election are planning for an efficient statewide organization for the 1922 campaign.

There is no danger of Texas going republican but there has long been too much indifference on the part of democrats in political matters.

As a democratic newspaper The Times is not satisfied with a mere hundred thousand majority for the democratic ticket in Texas. It would like to see a half million or more majority.

The supreme court recently set aside the conviction of Senator Newberry by the federal court at Grand Rapids as contrary to law. But at the same time, Mr. Ford points out...

FORD IS RIGHT. Henry Ford has wired Senator Dillingham of Vermont, chairman of the senate committee on elections, demanding a thorough investigation of the charges that Senator Newberry of Michigan was elected through fraudulent expenditures of vast sums.

The supreme court recently set aside the conviction of Senator Newberry by the federal court at Grand Rapids as contrary to law. But at the same time, Mr. Ford points out...

INDEPENDENCE OF PHILIPPINES WOULD END 'EASY MONEY'

THIS IS GIVEN AS REASON FOR OPPOSITION OF AMERICANS ON ISLANDS.

FREE TRADE AT PRESENT IS PROFITABLE TO THEM

Many Have Invested Heavily and Desire to Continue to Reap a Financial Reward.

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL, Special Correspondent of The Wichita Daily Times.

(Copyright, 1931, Wichita Daily Times) MANILA, May 22.—You might say that all the Americans in the Philippine islands are against Philippine independence; some bitterly, some professedly, and some with darksome prophecies on their lips.

It is this way. These Americans, or many of them, have invested here their money in various enterprises.

Other Americans without direct concern have collateral interest in such investments. Products of the Philippine when enter the United States free from duty.

In that day and hour Philippine trade and production will suffer great shock. There is no sense in trying to deny or avoid the fact; it is certain and obvious.

We ought to be fair to these Americans. They have been commercial pioneers with more than the traditional pliancy, gifts of courage, resolution, character, ingenuity, industry.

somebody ought to tell them they are on a dead card, and if they want to know why they are, they have only to go out and make inquiries.

The revolutionary movement which grew out of the work of Rizal and the others did not at the beginning contemplate the use of force against Spain.

The nationalist party, which holds the great majority of the seats in both houses of the Philippine legislature, and runs the country, goes to success in every election merely because it stands for immediate independence.

At the present time there are three possible ways out of the present, being dominated by arms and armies, eventual statehood and complete independence.

North of Manila is a town called Maccabebe, famous because it was the only town in which the misunderstanding with Aguinaldo stood with the United States. It has always been strongly American in its sympathies; even now it furnishes a larger percentage of scouts than any other town in the islands. Today, Maccabebe has erected its monument to Rizal, the Filipino hero, lying on all sides and if you talk with any of the inhabitants you will find that they are as hot for independence as anybody else in the islands.

Within fifteen minutes and the space of ten feet in the Manila hotel you will be told that nobody wants independence but a few scheming politicians and that the politicians don't want independence, but don't dare to oppose it or they would lose their jobs.

I have talked with all kinds of Filipinos, not here in Manila, southern Luzon, Ilocos, Christian, Mohammedan, Ibanag and Ilocos, and I have never set eyes on one who is a member of the nationalist party.

TROOP ONE EASILY WINS FIRST HONORS IN SCOUT CONTEST

SCORES TOTAL OF 82 1/2 POINTS AGAINST ONLY 21 FOR NEAREST OPPONENT.

PLANS FOR SUMMER CAMP ARE RAPIDLY TAKING FORM

Sites Considered an Ideal One and Boys Look Forward to a Pleasant Two Weeks.

Troop 1 equaled the Spudgers of Friday and made a race track meet out of the third annual field day exercises held by the Boy Scouts of the city Saturday on the Ninth and Indiana vacant corner. The boys of the headline outfit ran wild from first to last, and piled up a total of 151 points during the day, leaving 21 points for troop 15, their nearest competitors, and 24 for troop 4, which came in third. Troop 9 scored 18 points and troops 2 and 7 tied for collar honors with eight points each.

The troop 1 aggregation had a well balanced team in all respects, a team which underwent scouting, which was composed of capable performers in all lines of scout work and which went into the games as though they enjoyed the work. As a result there was no question as to the final outcome after the events got fairly under way.

The other competing troops put up commendable fights, but were unable to show anything in the way of speed and thoroughness that was exhibited by troop 1. George Bolen, Curtis Harty and Rial Nichols were the individual high honor winners of the day, each of these troop 1 standard bearers getting away with point after point for their troop.

This is the second field day which the number 1 boys have annexed, they having swamped all opposition in the first event held several months ago. Troop 7 beat 11 out by a comfortable margin in the second place.

A summary of the meet follows:

- Knot boards—Troop 9, first; troop 1, second; troop 2, third.
- Tug of war—Troop 1, first; troop 15, second; troop 7, third.
- Knot tying—Troop 1, first; troop 15, second; troop 2, third.
- High jump—Troop 1, first; troop 15, second; troop 2, third.
- Broad jump—Troop 1, first; troop 15, second; troop 2, third.
- Archery—Troop 1 only entry. First place.
- Wig signaling—Troop 1 only entrant. Twenty-eight letters in 52 seconds.
- Wall scaling—Troop 1 only entrant. Half mile relay—Troop 1, first; troop 4, second.
- Scout pace—No troops able to qualify.
- First aid—Troop 1 and troop 4 tied for first place.

shape for the scout summer camp to be held June 1 to 14, inclusive, in the Wichita mountains, near Crestonville, Oklahoma, according to Scout Executive M. E. Taylor, who writes that approximately 100 boys will be taken on the two weeks' jaunt. The youngsters will leave Wichita Falls almost as soon as school is out and will enjoy the time of their young lives under the supervision of able camp directors.

The site selected for the camp is all that could be asked, as an abundance of wood, a cold spring, splendid swimming and fishing facilities and easy access to supplies has been provided. A committee of scout officials composed of Scout Executive Taylor, Superintendent of Schools Lee Clark and Messrs. Powell and Comber made a special trip to the mountains late last week and made complete arrangements at that end of the line. An advance guard of about 10 boys will be sent up a few days ahead of the main delegation to prepare camp and place things in readiness for the guests.

One of the treats being looked forward to with considerable interest is a day with Frank Rush, forest and game warden of the reserve, who has promised to take a day off and pilot the boys through the mountains on a hiking, tracking and nature study jaunt. Such a trip, with a man of Rush's knowledge as instructor, is one which Mr. Taylor believes will prove more than beneficial to the city-bred youngsters under his charge.

One hundred boys, including forty from the Burkhardt troops, will be accommodated during the two weeks' stay. A charge of only $5 is made for the boys, all other expense being borne by the scout committee.

NEGRO BALL PLAYER, INNOCENT BYSTANDER, MAY DIE OF WOUND

The condition of Henry Lewis, negro ball player who got put out on a "shoot and run" play in Mississippi street early Saturday morning, was reported to be still serious Saturday night although it was believed that he might have a chance for recovery. His condition would not permit an operation for the removal of the bullet, and until this is done it will be impossible to determine his exact status, hospital attendants say.

Lewis was shot through the abdomen while witnessing a gun-battle between Julius McLendon and Earl Jones, who fought following a quarrel over a girl. Both are now held in the county jail with minor bullet wounds in their legs and with the alternative of raising $500 each for fines and bonds or staying behind the bars. Henry Emerson, a companion of Lewis was shot in the right leg at the same time the latter was wounded. Emerson was not badly hurt.

Lewis and Emerson were both members of the Fort Worth Black Panthers, who are scheduled to mix with the Wichita Black Spudgers at Athletic park this afternoon. They landed in town early Saturday morning and until this is done it will be impossible to determine his exact status, hospital attendants say.

ASSISTANT CHIEF'S CONDITION IMPROVES, MAY LOSE ONE EYE

A decided improvement in the condition of Henry Smith, assistant fire chief, who was severely burned by an explosion of gas at the City Bakery early Saturday morning, was reported today. Smith is still in great pain, it is said, but has shown such improvement that hospital officials are hopeful of a quick recovery.

Smith is still blind, but the sight of at least the left eye will be restored in time. The right eye was badly burned and the sight probably destroyed, although physicians still have some hopes of saving the optic.

J. P. Leasure and Joe Beecher are both reported to be recovering from the effects of their burns. Neither sustained as serious injuries as Smith.

Miss Eileen White of 1605 Eldon street, president of the Young Girls class of the First Methodist church, entertained Saturday evening in honor of the teacher of the class, Mrs. Eva V. Hatch, who leaves soon for the summer. The feature of the evening was a table in the center of the library which displayed a number of parting gifts. Games and music furnished entertainment for the evening. At a late hour the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. H. COURT OF HEROE

ANDREW D. MELLON, CUSTODIAN OF NATION'S POCKETBOOK

The Pittsburgh Banker, Who Makes His Job as Secretary of the Treasury a Preliminary to Retirement, Faces Stupendous Task in the Spirit of a Man Playing a New and Engrossing Game

The financial center of the United States, the Treasury at Washington

By William Atherton Du Puy

"THE normal span of a man's life," said Secretary Mellon, "depends on the length of time his ancestors have given him the right to live. Of course, he may shorten this normal span by acts of his own, may cut it down by improper living, thus decreasing the heritage of years that he passes on to his children. His logical expectancy, however, depends upon the line from which he springs and the wisdom with which its members have lived their lives."

"I am a great believer in heredity. You have asked me if I think being born to wealth is a handicap to a boy. I hold that there again appears the influence of his ancestry. If he has had handed down to him the strength of will that causes him to persevere—the desire for accomplishment—he will not fail of useful work merely because of the fact that he is not driven to it by necessity. However, early training and environment are, of course, essential factors."

The new Secretary of the Treasury, Andrew W. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, was just beginning to find himself fitted into his new niche down at Washington, was becoming at home in it, was beginning to submit to that necessity of the public man, the interview. It was a new thing to Mr. Mellon. His life had been laid along different lines.

When I first went to him for an interview he rather turned the tables on me. He asked me what I wanted him to talk about and I suggested that he tell me some of the highlights of his own life. Where should he begin, he asked. I thought that the reader was interested in the sort of stock a public man came from—in whether he was of Scotch, Irish or Dutch descent. I thought they were interested in the setting of his childhood that they might contrast it with his present position in life. I thought they would want to know how he got started on the career that he had followed.

"But isn't this digging unduly into a man's private life?" the Secretary asked. I replied that the viewpoint of the public was that when it gave a man one of its posts of trust and responsibility, it had a right to know all about him.

"But the whole story of my life can be written in six lines," he said. "I will write it for you. You can come back tomorrow and I will give you what you want ready prepared."

I was not quite sure whether he was spoofing me or whether he was conducting an investigation into the relative positions of the public man and the newspaper, but I explained that I had a page to fill and six lines would not be adequate, and that I would rather ask him a lot of questions about the sort of thing which I believed the reader wanted to know about him.

How long would it take? What time would be entirely convenient to me? I had been gathering impressions as we talked, but that final question as to my convenience was the most vivid flash. This man who was running the Treasury Department of the United States, and who was absorbed in mastering the multitudinous details that this task presents in these trying times, wanted to adapt himself to the convenience of the interviewer.

So we set the hour of two-thirty the following afternoon.

MR. MELLON is sixty-six years old. He is the type of man who carries boy-like flesh and which is shown by mortality tables to live longest. When the weakening effects of age set in Mr. Mellon will have no burden of flesh to carry. He is a smallish man with gray hair which he still retains and with a heavy, close-cropped gray mustache. His face is bony and his eyes deep-set.

Mr. Mellon is a financier in the truest sense of that word. He has been in the banking business in Pittsburgh all his life, has long been the president of the biggest banking house in that center of wealth. A bank president is always a somewhat cloistered individual. Give him a difficult proposition, make him a naturally quiet sort of man, add to this a love for reading and study, and the probabilities are that you will produce a man who leads a good deal of a life apart. The popular conception of the master of finance, the huge, square-jawed burrhead of a man who bowls everything over before him, is not the Mellon type, if he exists anywhere out of fiction.

Mr. Mellon told me that his father came to America as a small immigrant boy from the north of Ireland. The family was, however, Scotch than Irish in its blood. It settled on a farm thirty miles from Pittsburgh and it was there that the elder Mellon grew up.

This Scotch-Irish farmer boy came down to Pittsburgh when he was grown, obtained a good education at the University of Pittsburgh, later read law and was admitted to the bar. He practiced in Pittsburgh for many years, prospered, advanced to a highly respected place on the bench, became a leading citizen of the city.

So it came to pass that Andrew W. Mellon was born of wealthy parents, highly respected and well established in the community in which he was to live, and that, despite these facts, he worked hard and won for himself a place of ever-increasing strength and prominence in that community. This might not be considered an unusual condition unless one takes the trouble to study men of prominence and their origin, and if he does he will find that those in high places were almost universally poor in their youth.

There were five sons in the Mellon family and they grew up in the Pittsburgh of their time as might have been expected, acquiring good educations in the public schools and in the University of Pittsburgh, which is now called the University of Western Pennsylvania, an excellent school with relation to the destinies of which Andrew Mellon has had a good deal to do of late years.

The elder Mellon was a studious man, much given to reading. While Andrew was a

He must collect $4,000,000,000 yearly youth his father found that much reading tired him and he turned to this son for assistance in his study. The boy read to his father, largely from works on philosophy, and frequently Herbert Spencer was the author. It was this reading aloud to his father that has given to this government a Secretary of Treasury who has known his Herbert Spencer as does only the true enthusiast.

The elder Mellon wanted to make the right sort of opportunity for his sons, wanted to give them those disciplinary tasks that would lead them to lives of usefulness. It was on their account that he established a bank in Pittsburgh in 1867. It was into the detail of the operation of this bank that Andrew was gradually initiated, even during his school years.

In vacation, for instance, he would be sent about investigating and reporting on the value of property upon which the bank was asked to loan money. Even in those days the tendency of the Mellon interests was toward development. One vacation, when he was nineteen years old, for instance, Andrew Mellon spent in Baltimore. A suburban subdivision was being developed, was being cut up in lots and sold at weekly auctions. Handbills advertising these sales were distributed throughout the community. Andrew had charge of the boys who distributed these handbills.

IT WAS during the time he was at Baltimore that he made his first visit to the city of Washington. He saw all the sights, but that which impressed him most was a vessel which was tied up at a Washington wharf ready outfitted for a try at the North Pole. It was the ship of Dr. Isaac Hayes. Everything was in readiness for the start, even to the Eskimo dogs and their sleds. He later read in detail the story of the expedition as written by Dr. Hayes.

Then on another vacation season he went to Europe with another Pittsburgh boy who was destined to become a figure no less prominent than himself, one Henry Clay Frick, destined to gain for himself a place of great leadership in iron, steel and allied industries and destined to be associated in his big tasks with this same lad with whom he was seeing the sights of Europe. For few months these two young men of Pittsburgh wandered about the continent, surfeiting their interest in Old World civilization.

Pittsburgh was not the city in the late sixties that it has since come to be. Mr. Mellon disclaims the popular impression that Pittsburgh is the wonder city of the nation industrially. Detroit and others, he says, have grown steadily and rooted deeply. When the Mellon bank was started, for instance, the strongest bank in Pittsburgh had not more than a million and a half deposits.

The financial strength and importance of Pittsburgh may be measured by this comparative strength of banks which has grown up in a single generation. For fifty years Andrew W. Mellon played a part of constantly increasing importance in the financial life of Pittsburgh. For most of that time he was president of the Mellon National Bank with its affiliated savings bank and trust company. He was director trust companies. Such institutions have to do with the industrial life of any community, are largely responsible for its development. The men at the head of them become interested in those developments. The Mellon policy was always construction, development. His banks supported the policy of development in the Pittsburgh field. He, individually, became interested in many developments. He always added to and never subtracted from. Not many times since the

So it is very hard to find a place where you can let go. "When I was asked to become Secretary of Treasury I at first thought that it would be impossible for me to do so. I could not see how I could quit what I was doing. I had realized, however, that I would have to retire from active life some time and I was sixty-six years old. This post in Washington afforded me a place to light. I decided that I would take it, would discharge its duties, and when the work was done, I would be free to settle down, either to a quiet life or otherwise as I might feel inclined. Of course there was also the feeling that I might be able to accomplish something to the good in public service."

So did the secretary decline the opening that I had offered him to take credit for having made great financial sacrifices that he might serve the public. Such a claim would not have been in accordance with the facts, and this man always insists on guiding one along the track of truth. So, when I asked him how he liked the job of Secretary of Treasury, he again disclaimed any glow of public service enthusiasm and viewed the task from the matter-of-fact viewpoint.

"The situation here is very interesting to me," he said. "It is like a new game one has learned and in which he has become absorbed. The problems that confront the treasury are large. To view them from the inside is interesting. To watch each develop step by step toward working itself out is sure to prove an interesting game which will hold my undivided attention. The work is congenial."

Another example of the secretary's insistence upon stating his position with relation to the facts rather than taking the conventional view was given the other day when he was asked if he played golf. He answered that he did. The interviewer suggested that he probably found it necessary that he might keep in physical condition. Not at all, he said. He played because he liked to. He told me, however, that he had not taken time to play a game since he became secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Mellon does not believe, however, in unsmiling toil. He has not been a slave to his business through these fifty active years in Pittsburgh. Before the great war broke, for instance, he had spent ten consecutive summers in England. He likes the climate of England through the summer months. He always took a country place and lived a life of quiet relaxation and enjoyment.

As is the case with so many different men who appear to be stiff and unyielding in casual contact, this man Mellon, when he thaws out, develops into a genial and companionable person, much given to expressing himself with entire frankness, and prone to indulge in genial smiles that contrast strikingly with the usual solemn appearance of his visage.

It is in the corner room on the second floor of the Treasury Building that you see received. This Treasury Building, it will be remembered, is right at the elbow of Pennsylvania avenue looking down from the Capitol and obscures the White House from the corner point of view. Andy Jackson got into a quarrel with the committee which was to locate the Treasury Building, tramped around one muddy day with it and finally stuck his foot in the mud, swore loudly and said, "Put it there."

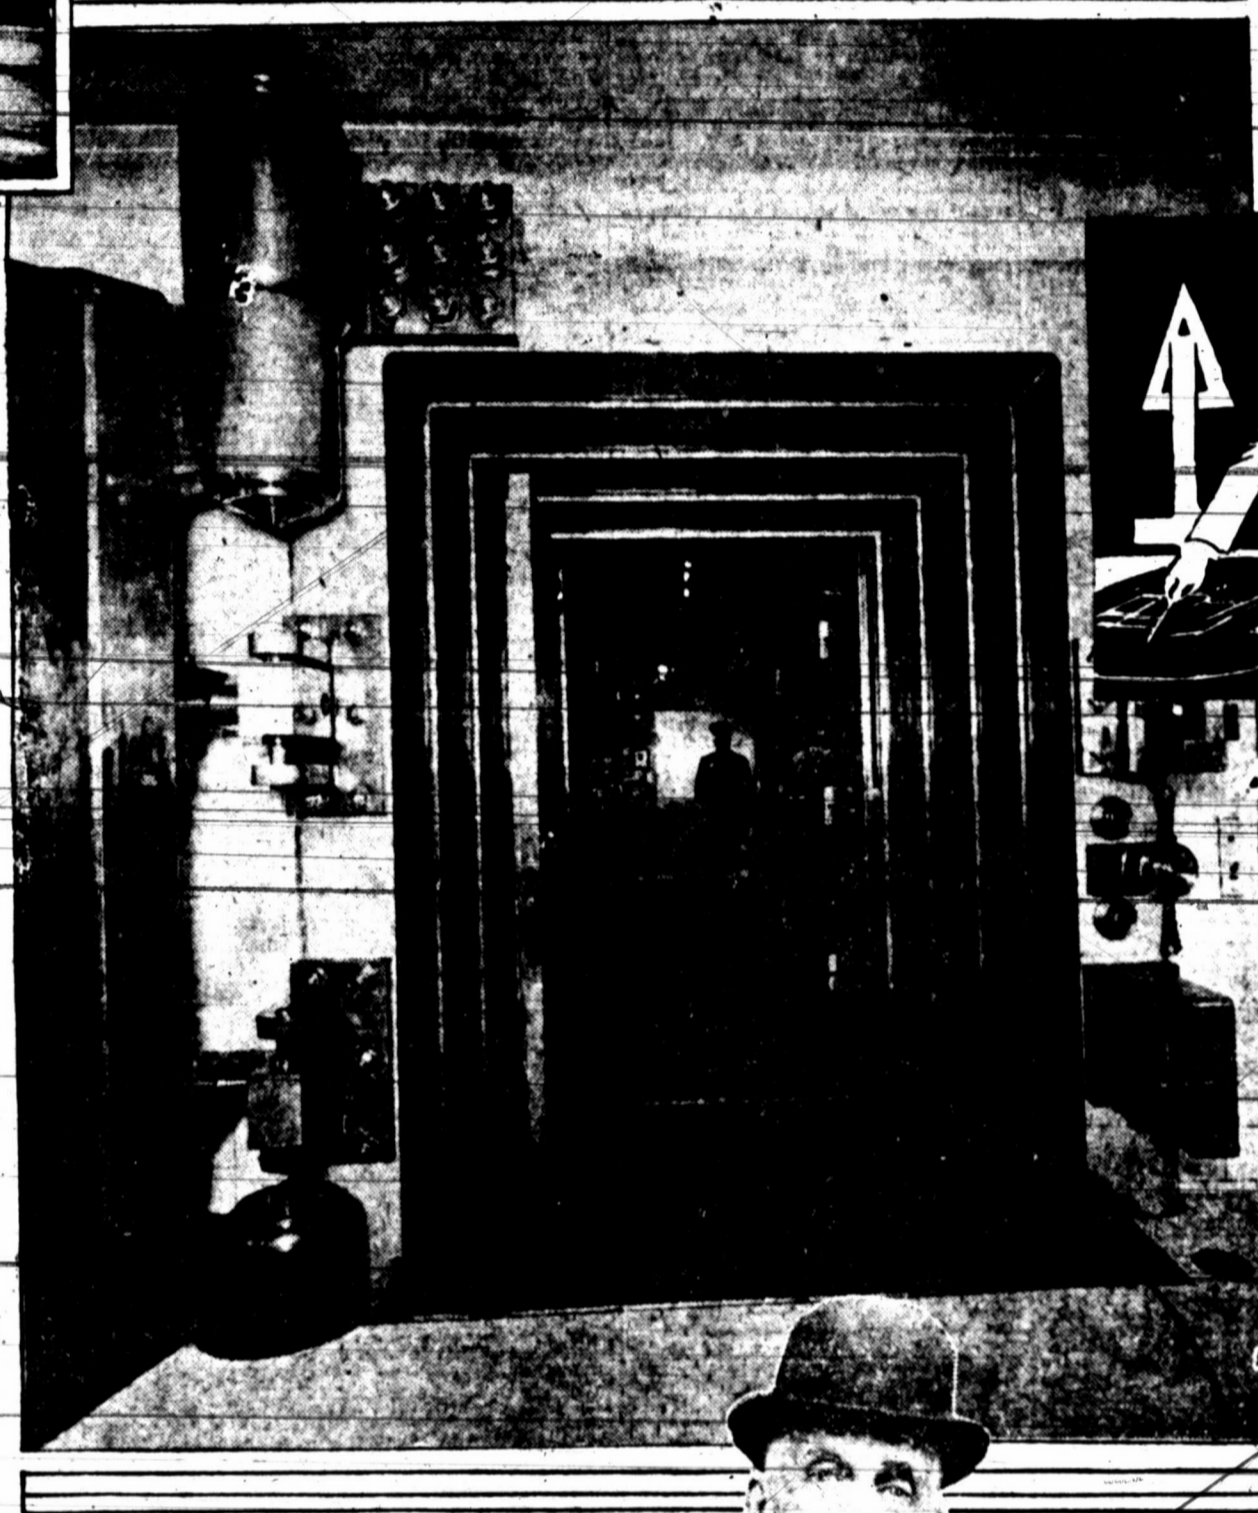

So the secretary's office looks out on the White House not 200 feet away, and out upon the parkway to Washington monument, and down through the trees to the Potomac. Here the man from Pittsburgh sits and studies the problems of the nation which are undoubtedly most directly and immediately important to it. As cabinet officers run in a nation that is controlled by politics, it often happens that the men who come to the controlling posts have very little background to experience upon which to base their understanding of the problems. Viewed from the standpoint of financial experience, this man Mellon has undoubtedly had more of it than any one who ever came to the post. Judging from the success that he has attained in his career his judgment is good.

And here are some of the tasks ahead of him. He must gather in from the 117,000,000 the $4,000,000,000 a year that is necessary to run the government. Collecting world began have there been opportunities that have been greater than those in the Pittsburgh field in the last half century. A typical Mellon operation was the establishment of the town of Donora, just outside of Pittsburgh, a municipality that came into being because of this man who is Secretary of Treasury, and which is today the seat of great steel mills that produce largely of this product in which America has world ascendancy.

Administer the Federal Reserve banks

Through the decades this quiet, thin man sat in his secluded inner offices and dealt only with the masters of the destinies of Pittsburgh. Through the decades the evidence of the quality of his mind, the soundness of his judgment, the effectiveness of his methods, were gathered from the successes that were his. But of the detail the public knew little, for his operations were those of a private individual in whom the qualities of diffidence and modesty were highly developed.

"I suppose," I said to Mr. Mellon, "that the time comes when there is no longer any incentive for a man to pile up money and that a chance for public service is therefore attractive to him."

It had seemed to me that a desire to render public service as a culmination of one's career would be logical. But this man Mellon would not allow me to get the wrong slant on his motives.

"The accumulation of money," he said, "ceases to have much of a place in a man's plans after he has made a certain point. It ceases to be a goal, it ceases to be a motive. If he has become interested in many developments, however, he is more or less absorbed in watching them. He wants to see how each will come out. To let go would be leaving a ball game before the final inning. And, besides, there are many other people interested in these same enterprises. They are likely to be the people you know best. You are interested in the success of the enterprises also, from the standpoint of the income tax and enforcing prohibition are two incidents to this job. He must act as bill collector for the $10,000,000,000 that foreign governments owe us and guide the nation toward the payment of the huge war debt that it has accumulated. He must be paymaster to every individual who works for Uncle Sam. He must keep all the national banks in the ways of rectitude and so administer the Federal Reserve banks as to avoid any possibility of panic. He must collect the customs and manufacture all the paper money and coin that passes as legal tender under the flag. He must keep a balanced book which tells him that there is to be enough money in his pocket every Saturday night to pay the nation's bills, and if the stock runs low he must take emergency action to replenish it. He is the keeper of the greatest hoard of gold that has ever been massed in one ownership since time began and his is the responsibility to see that it is not dissipated. He is the uncle to whom the farmers of the nation come to borrow through the farm loan bureau. He is head of the Coast Guard, he is the architect who puts up all public buildings, the doctor who is responsible for the public health. He conducts the war risk insurance and the hospitalization of the disabled soldiers. His is a stupendous job. When secretaries appear at formal functions and there is the matter of precedence to be observed, the Secretary of State ranks first and the Secretary of the Treasury second. “And the Greatest of These Is Charity”

There Is Famine in China —Thousands Are Dying Daily

Imagine your wife, your husband, your children, your parents, so mad with hunger that they crawl out into the fields at night and gnaw down the green stalks of growing grain, knowing that they are destroying next year's food, but too far gone to care.

America Must Save 5,000,000

In five great provinces in Northern China—Chili, Shensi, Shansi, Honan and Shantung—millions are destitute and have no hope of food except as America provides money. China, herself, and other countries will take care of many millions, but five millions, according to all official information, remain dependent upon continuous and voluminous relief from Americans.

Giving Will Not Hurt You— Anything Like It Hurts to Be Hungry!

Every American can help the famine sufferers. Just think of it, three cents will save a Chinese life for one day. No American is so poor that he can not save human life at this the lowest rate ever quoted. Life-saving stamps at three cents each are now being sold in hotel lobbies, department stores, banks and other downtown places. Buy them and use them on your letters and packages.

The Appeal Is Straight To Your Humanity

There are excellent commercial reasons and the best of political reasons why America should be the firmest friend of China, for America's own sake—but never mind them. “There is neither east nor west” when you hear the howl of the gray wolves of hunger half way round the globe.

GIVE QUICKLY AND LIBERALLY AND SAVE AS MANY AS POSSIBLE!

Wichita Falls Executive Committee Give China a Chance to Live! $100.00 will save 25 lives $50.00 will save 10 children $10.00 will save a mother and babe $5.00 will save a child $2.00 will save 2 children 1 month $1.00 will save a life a month Thousands are Dying Daily

No Wichita Falls Man or Woman Is So Poor That They Cannot Save MANY LIVES at Three Cents Per Day—

Three Cents—Less Than You Pay for This Newspaper Three Cents—Less than It Cost You to Ride Downtown This Morning Three Cents—Less Than the Cigar You Smoke After Dinner Costs

Give As Many Dollars As You Can Spare— Invest in Terms of Lives and Not of Money!

You wouldn't hesitate if the starving folks were here in Texas, would you? Of course you wouldn't. You would give three thousand times three cents as quick as you could get your hand out of your pocket. Don't let the fact that these famine stricken people are thousands of miles from your door keep you from doing as much.

Purina Cow Chow. You feed Grain in Winter Why not Now? Silage and roughage used for winter feeding are better than most pasturage. The average pasture is never balanced, never uniform throughout the season—protein being the element most lacking. Thousands of dairymen have proved that this shortage is perfectly replaced by Purina Cow Chow. Every 100 lbs. of Cow Chow contains 24 lbs. of protein, 85% of which is digestible. This makes it possible to balance the cow's ration under all conditions and obtain an average of 6 lbs. more milk per day per cow.

SUCCESS IN IRRIGATION FARMING COMES FROM HARD STUDY AND HARD WORK, EXPERIENCE SHOWS

By FRANK S. REID.

Success in a new irrigated country does not come when a man is upon the land. There are a number of things that follow or should follow to make an irrigated project what it should be. Imagine, if you please, people going into a new section of country, getting out of one environment into another—a complete change of conditions. This was the condition when the land embraced in the Twin Falls project in southern Idaho was settled up. People tired of the city, sought to get in on cheap land and a cheap water right. Countless numbers of them absolutely knew nothing about farming or irrigation. They put their household goods into a car, traveled as emigrants, landed in the new country, built temporary shacks to get their furniture into, and went at through the hardships incident to that pioneer life.

Then they had to learn how to clear their land of sagebrush and get it into crop. They could rely a great deal upon information and assistance given by early settlers in that country, but it was soon realized that it would take more than that to educate the people into the science of irrigated farming, crops to plant, amounts to plant, duty of water, etc.

Settlers soon began to organize themselves into farmers' associations in a small way. The land and water company employed expert farmers to go around among the ranchers and show them how to do things. Following this the state school of agriculture sent its agents down into the different communities. Agricultural trains were run by the railroads. These trains were composed of exhibit cars. Experts from the state university traveled on the trains and lectured to the people who gathered. This was the start, finally, of the movable school of agriculture idea, where sections of Idaho were picked out during the winter months, and experts from the university would come into the community holding the school and spend a week's time going over local problems.

The new settlers were intensely interested as evidenced by the wonderful meetings held. I have attended many of them, took many notes and consider the information I received worth a great deal. Not only did the university authorities have their staff of experts, but they went about the state, picking out practical irrigated farmers, who had accomplished something out of the ordinary, to come and tell the people how they did their work and the results of their efforts. This feature was most interesting—the exchange of ideas. Question upon question was poured out to these men, showing the wonderful interest and enthusiasm. I recall one incident to show the intense desire to make the best of irrigated farming: The general passenger agent of the Oregon Short Line railway running through that part of Idaho, offered a prize of $500 to the rancher who grew the largest yield of marketable potatoes on one acre of measured ground. The prize went to a Mr. Snider and his son who lived at Twin Falls, Idaho. Mr. Snider and his son raised over 400 bushels of marketable potatoes and had the cult left.

In relating his experience in raising these potatoes, he said he had never had any previous farming experience, but had come to Twin Falls from Utah, having formerly been in the livery business, but that he had taken advantage of attending short schools of agriculture and had listened to practical men give their experiences, and he had just naturally followed out their suggestions and ideas.

At such meetings we had, for instance, big agricultural men like Eugene Grubb of Carbondale, Colorado, considered one of the greatest authorities in the country on the raising of potatoes, he having been sent to Europe by the U. S. government to study potato raising there, and on his return prepared an agricultural bulletin on potatoes for the agricultural world.

Mr. Snider, who was connected with the government experiment station at Gooding, Idaho, and who is now chief irrigation expert for the Canadian Pacific railway. Other big men in the agricultural world, attended these meetings and gave much valuable information.

Then the U. S. government became interested and cooperating with the state, established experimental farms where all kinds of crops were grown under varied conditions. The experiments were carefully observed and taken to determine the amount of water necessary to grow a maximum crop. People were at liberty to go to the experimental stations at all times and get all the information they desired with the assistance of the experts in charge. The United States government sent their field men to cover the territory and assist the farmers in their problems. Dairy experts from the division headquarters at Salt Lake City came down. Plans for building dairy barns, silos, etc., were given to the farmers interested and every assistance rendered them in their problems. Selecting of livestock by government experts, methods of handling, irrigation, water, etc., were all worked out through these agencies.

So, in the local problems confronting the Wichita Valley project, to make it the success it should be, these same ideas must be worked out, for there are but a handful of people down here who have the slightest conception of irrigation and what it means. The greatest agencies in the work for the education of the farmers are the U. S. government, department of agriculture, and the state experimental stations and state agricultural colleges. A great deal of information is obtainable through these agencies if advantage is taken of it.

As a result of all these advantages which the people partook of, it was wonderful what the city people accomplished, never having had any serious experience at all. They were thoroughly alive to the conditions. They realized the problems they had to face and they were eager to make the most of their opportunity. In their determination to win, remarkable results were obtained. Immense yields of grain, alfalfa, potatoes and crops of all kinds, were obtained. In fact they proved themselves the better over the old time settlers who had been content to irrigate and farm in their own way without any apparent desire to keep up with modern farming conditions.

These are problems that will come up and study given in connection with the local irrigated project and they deserve all the thought that can be given them for they are vital to the wonderful success of the local project and its future.

DENIED AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT TOOK PLACE AT MIDNIGHT

Mrs. Clara Bentley of 1308 Campbell boulevard, who was slightly injured last Monday night in an automobile accident at the junction of the lake and Oak field roads, has asked the Times to correct the statement appearing in its report of the accident relative to the time of the occurrence. Mrs. Bentley said that the mishap was at 11 p. m. and not at midnight, as reported. Mrs. Bentley, who is a trained nurse, was to have been in Burkburnett at midnight on a case she was attending, but had driven to the lake with her sister, Mrs. Venia Rensels, and with Clem Sanders of Burkburnett, following the report of a drowning there. A man named Abbott of Burkburnett was driving the machine when the accident occurred, she said.

We Congratulate You—

—you fathers and mothers, uncles, big brothers, sweethearts—all you whose dear ones will receive their graduation diplomas this year.

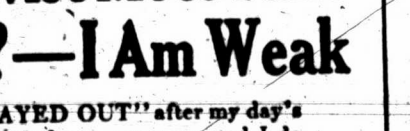

We congratulate you young graduates, too, with all our hearts. You stand on the threshold of a new life, and our good wishes go with you.

To fittingly commemorate the great day, we have made careful selections of Elgin Watches most suitable for graduation presents.

We can show you exquisite Elgins for girls—from the bracelet watch to the most beautiful Diamonds.

And for young men—Elgin Streamline Watches, Diamond Rings, etc.

When congratulations take on this beautiful, yet intensely practical form, then truly Graduation Day is enshrined in memories that shall never fade.

HOSTS OF SUMMERY TUB FROCKS

- OF FLOWERED VOILES
- OF CRISP ORGANDIES
- OF HANDKERCHIEF LINENS
- OF DOTTED SWISSES

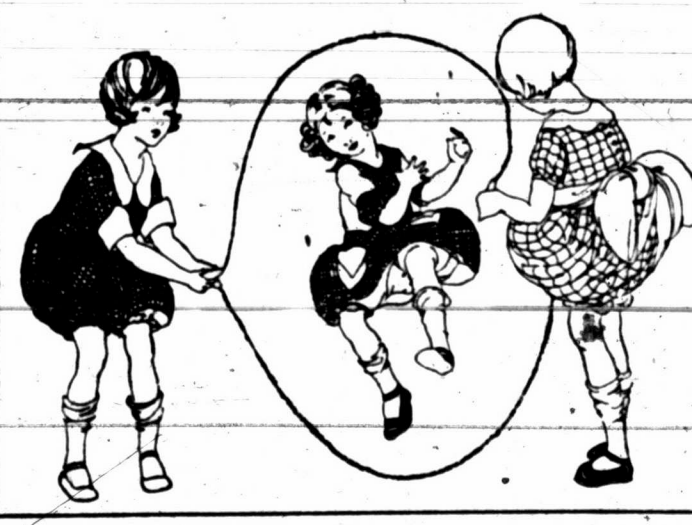

Whether you are going to have two, three or a dozen frocks this summer you will enjoy choosing them all right now while every mode is new, fresh and unhandled. Of course, you may not wish to don them immediately but you will be mighty gratified that you made your selections of pretty tubable frocks bright and early, when those who delayed will be searching about for appropriate modes after hot weather has made itself felt.

Thin Frocks summery in style, fabric and colorings, as delightful in every way as the most fastidious tastes could desire, are enough of an excuse, if indeed one is needed, for getting the summer wardrobe in readiness at once. And with prices way down, lower than they have been for years on the selfsame qualities, every woman will feel that there is really no reason why she shouldn't hearken to her present impulse to buy and to buy in quantities.

Summer Weather Means Much To Misses Who Have Plenty of Tub Frocks

If the new Tub Frocks which have just been unpacked have their way, life for Misses of 6 to 16 will be one ruffle after another this summer. Many of the organdy modes have girlish looking skirts made entirely of ruffles. The voile frocks and those of dotted Swiss, not to be far behind, are just as enthusiastic though less prodigal in their use, employing ruffles of various sizes as trimmings on tunics, sleeves and on graceful transparent fishus.

All the colors so becoming to young girls of blonde or brunette complexion are here and the prices are so tempting that mothers will find it no hardship to make little daughters happy with several frocks of different styling. $4.95 to $15.00

Snowy Neckware Adds Such a Freshening Touch in the Summer

A fresh pair of cuffs and collar will make you feel as though you had donned a different frock. Business women tired from a day at the office or store find this plan much more satisfactory than going home to dress before going to the theatre in the evening. It is the same with tennis. Put spic and span neckwear on your sweater and you will feel more like stopping for a cooling drink and to chat with friends on the club veranda.

BRING THE CHILDREN TO HEAR MISS KNICKERBOCKER TELL FAIRY STORIES, MONDAY 4:30 TO 5:30. CANDY KISSES GIVEN TO EVERY CHILD.

Would You Advise Me to Take Nuxated Iron?—I Am Weak

NERVOUS, and "ALL PLAYED OUT" after my day's work, but times are "hard" and money scarce and I do not want to spend a cent that is not absolutely necessary

In "hard times" it is more difficult to make MONEY and "GET AHEAD" than it is in good times, you, therefore, require MORE PHYSICAL AND MENTAL VIGOR, STRENGTH, and endurance in "hard times" to help you overcome the numerous difficulties, obstacles and stumbling blocks you are bound to meet.

Now as to taking Nuxated Iron, what would YOU SAY a man should do if he had WEAK LEGS or no legs but had to get his food by running after it—would you advise him to get a pair of good strong shoes?—YES, OF COURSE!—THE SAME IS TRUE IN YOUR CASE. YOU REQUIRE MORE BODILY AND MENTAL VIGOR to get ahead in "hard times" than in "good times" and you must have iron in your blood which helps make you stronger!

Many a man is struggling, trying hard to get ahead, but just as he gets a start something always seems to go wrong that sets him back while another man with apparently less ability seems to get along famously with comparatively little effort—THIS GREAT DIFFERENCE in men may be due solely to the difference in the AMOUNT of organic IRON IN THEIR BLOOD.

There are 30,000,000,000,000 RED BLOOD CORPUSCLES in your blood and each one must have iron without iron your blood is like a car without gas. CHANGE FOOD INTO LIVING CELLS AND TISSUE and nothing you eat does you any good unless you eat it in the proper amount of food—you do not get the full strength of it.

Indoor life, overeating, household drudgery, gripping, galling worry and nervous strain are sapping the iron out of your very life, from the blood of thousands of men and women. We do not advise what to do in individual cases as this is the province of the physician, but we do say that if you lack sufficient iron in your blood to give you the strength, energy and endurance you need to get ahead and overcome obstacles, by all means try NUXATED IRON.

NUXATED IRON often increases the bodily and mental vigor of weak, tired, worn-out, nervous people in two weeks' time. It's like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. You can eat it if you wish. It will not blacken or injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach—it is entirely different from ordinary metallic iron which people usually take and which is made merely by the action of strong acids on iron.

In addition to organic iron, Nuxated Iron also contains a product which represents the principal chemical constituent of ACTIVE LIVING FORCE for feeding the nerves. It may, therefore, be said to be both a BLOOD and a NERVE FOOD. Over 4,000,000 people are using NUXATED IRON annually.

Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "NUXATED" on every package and the letters S. I. on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. At all druggists.—adv.

HIGH SCHOOL'S FINAL EXERCISES TO START WITH PROGRAM TODAY

SENIORS TO HEAR BACCALAUREATE ADDRESS AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

MEMBERS OF BOARD TO PARTICIPATE IN SERVICE

Busy Week is Ahead for Graduates—Will Receive Diplomas at Theater Friday Night.

High school seniors, 76 strong, scores of other high school pupils, many faculty members and a throng of parents and friends are expected to gather at the First Baptist church this morning to listen to the annual high school graduation sermon, to be delivered by Rev. O. L. Powers, pastor of the church.

A pretentious program has been arranged by high school officials, working with those of the church, in an effort to make the baccalaureate sermon one of the high lights of the school career of the seniors. An inspiring address by Rev. Powers and several special music numbers by school musical organizations are to be special features of the day.

A procession by the entire senior class, with music furnished by the orchestra under the direction of Miss Gehringer Goff, will open the services and will be followed by an invocation by Rev. W. C. Ashford, assistant pastor of the church. A mixed chorus from the school, "The Lord is Great," by Mendelssohn, will be offered as the first special musical number.

A scripture reading by Hon. E. S. Goodner, prayer by Judge W. B. Chauncey and another chorus, "Benediction," by Goddard, will precede the sermon by Rev. Powers. The service will close with a hymn by the entire congregation, benediction by Judge A. H. Carrigan and the recessional by the orchestra.

The final program to be given at the graduation exercises, held in the Wichita theater next Friday night, has not yet been completed but will be announced early in the week.

Class Play Tuesday Night.

With the securing of the Wichita theater as a locale for the presentation plans were practically completed for the staging of the high school senior class play, to be given next Tuesday night under the auspices of this year's graduating class. Other arrangements were completed several weeks ago.

The play selected by the seniors is "Honor Bright," a comedy drama written by J. P. Stinton, which has proven to be exceedingly popular as a starring vehicle for high school dramatic talent. It is patterned on the same lines as the famous "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," and has many of the comical situations found in this celebrated stage play. Marguerite Fisher and James Moran head the cast which is to present the play, and will be supported by Elizabeth Smith, Marjorie Dulin, Jewell Whitley, Walter Frieberg, Ema Ibberton, Etta Madrey, Clyde Robinson, Ralph Harper, Denver Russell and Raymond Brannon. Miss Juanita Kinzie, literary coach of the high school is directing the production. A novelty solo dance, "Dance of the Rainbows," will be given in the third act by Ema Everton and thirty high school girls.

NORTHSIDERS PLAN CARNIVAL TUESDAY NIGHT AT SCHOOL

Next Thursday evening, May 24, at 8 o'clock, on the Fannin school grounds there will be staged a carnival under the auspices of the North Side Men's club. There will be two features to this entertainment, one purely carnival, such as raffles, fortune telling, confetti throwing, cold drinks, etc. the other an outdoor program given by the Fannin school children. At the conclusion of this program Judge A. H. Carrigan, president of the school board, and Lee Clark, superintendent of city schools, will make addresses.

The Northsiders hope to make this a joyous occasion as a celebration of the Men's club having secured rights for the Fannin school ground, thus enabling them to have a public play park the remainder of the summer.

Judge Carrigan was an important factor in having the school grounds lighted, he having pledged the board to pay half the expense. Everybody is invited.

Is Doubting Thomas No Longer

"All medicines and doctors for stomach trouble proved worthless in my case. Everybody recommended something else and nothing helped so I became a doubting Thomas as to any cure. While in St. Louis a party praised Myra's Wonderful Remedy so highly that I bought a bottle and I am now a doubting Thomas no longer. It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. THOSE LEGISLATORS OF 1883 DID THEIR BEST TO MAKE SUNDAY BLUE, BUT THEY SLIPPED UP, SOME

The man who said, "Consistency, thou art a Jew!" wasn't a member of the Texas Legislature in 1883; but some of his disciples must have been.

"Pick-out any Texas city and line-up, on one street, the following establishments:

- A cigar stand.
- A public dance hall.
- A public drink stand.
- A baseball park.
- A moving picture theater.
- An iron foundry.
- A dry goods store.

Suppose, for instance, each of these establishments is open on Sunday and doing business. Some stranger comes up to you and asks, "What are these places doing, open on the Sabbath? Isn't there a law against it?"

Well, this is the answer. You pick out the quiet, peaceful places and find that they are violating the law; the noisy ones are not.

Cigars may be, and presumably are, sold without creating much in the way of public disturbance. You pick out your El Comodoro without much conversation, plunk down your 15 cents, and the only noise is the tinkle of the cash register. But the cigar stand is violating the law.

Next door is the public dance-hall. Jazz music issues from its portals. There is a sound of revelry within. To say that it comports with the peace and dignity that one would deem essential to a strict observance of the Sabbath would be stretching things some. Yet the dance hall, provided it is not the rendezvous of loose characters, is within the law on Sunday, jazz music and all.

The cold drink stand is a quiet enough place. The noisiest thing in it is the silk shirt of the "jerk" as he is called, or dispenser, as he calls himself. Unless it confine itself to the purveying of straight, unadorned, ice cream, it violates the law, even though its quietude be downright painful. Ice cream it may sell; but if the ice cream is adorned with chocolate, gummy, or any other aquashed pineapples, it is no longer ice cream, but sundae, and the law of 1883, if enforced bars sundaes on Sunday.

The ball park is the noisiest place yet. Even though the Spudders be at home and running true to form, it is

Glaring Sun, Dust and Heat Strain, Injure and Weaken Eyes Says Dr. Lewis. Prescribes Bon-Opto in Hot Weather

Thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and amplitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of getting glasses. Eye trouble of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules.

Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow it to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many homeseekers blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent physician said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturer guarantees it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family. It is sold in Wichita Falls by Mack Taylor and druggists everywhere." (adv.)

Philadelphia, Pa.—Dr. Lewis, an eye specialist of many years' practice, says summer time is hard on eyes because the glare of the sun, heat and dust injure and weaken them. He says it is possible to strengthen eyesight wonderfully in a very short time by using Bon-Opto. He says it freely and further says: "A patient came to me suffering from theophthalmia Marginalis. Her eyes had the dull expression common to such cases. She used Bon-Opto and not only overcame her distressing condition, but so strengthened her eyesight that she was able to dispense with her distance glasses." Her headache and neuritis left her. In this instance I should say her eyesight was improved 100 per cent. The doctor's advice will prove of great value to many eye sufferers.—Mack Taylor and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored. One man says after trying it, "I was almost blind, could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this medicine for 15 days everything seemed clear. I can even read the print without glasses." It is believed that noisy. Cheers and cat-calls and laughter and the urgings of the cushion, program and pop boys make up its din. If you were looking for quiet, you'd never go there. But it's not against the law.

Agnes Adenoid in "The Missing Nail File" is the attraction at the movie theater. The other name for the movie is the silent drama. Even if the organist hasn't gone to sleep, which, curses on him, he probably hasn't, it isn't a very noisy place. Certainly far less noisy than the dance hall, the ball game or the iron foundry. But the movie is against the law.

The rule is, roughly speaking, that the more noisy it is, the more lawful it is on Sunday. The quieter, the more illegal.

That's not a joke about the founders. The Sunday law passed in 1883, the terms of which cause controversy every few weeks in Wichita Falls, especially exempt foundries from its provisions.

This isn't written in behalf of, or in defense of, Sunday amusements or Sunday business of any nature. It is simply designed to show the ridiculous inconsistency of the statutes as they exist, and the necessity for changes of some sort.

It wasn't the fault of the stern and solemn legislators of 1883 that you can see a baseball game on Sunday. They did their best to make a blue Sunday a pure enough reality. They made a list of everything that folks might like to do on Sunday, so far as 1883 conditions went, and then hung up the verboten sign. If they had had any idea that folks would want to play golf or go to ball games on Sunday, they would undoubtedly have legislated against those things, too. But neither cow pasture pool nor professional baseball had appeared in Texas in 1883. The oversight of the legislators was excusable; they did their dearest.

For the past 20 years or so the advisability of amending the law has been manifest, but there are two sets of would-be amenders: one would make the law more strict, applying it specifically to baseball and perhaps to golf, the other would liberalize the law to permit Sunday movies. The result has been that the conservative legislator couldn't steer a middle course; he had to go to one extreme or the other.

The writer likes a Sunday ball game far better than anyone of his strict Presbyterian antecedents should like such an amusement, but it is folly to contend that attending a Sunday baseball game should be lawful when buying an ice cream soda isn't. However, there the matter stands. Start a move to change the law one way, and you immediately provoke a strenuous effort to change it in the opposite direction, with the result that you decide to let well enough alone.

Were the law strictly enforced throughout Texas, it would of course cause more agitation. Only in a few small communities does a clear store or soda fountain proprietor face arrest when he makes a sale on Sunday. Probably if the law could be rigorously enforced for a few weeks, public sentiment would bring about a more consistent measure.

Maxwell Prices Reduced—Now $845

New Organization, Taking Full Control, Turns Prices Back Three Years

The last step in the Maxwell reorganization was the sale of the Maxwell properties to the new and powerful organization, May 12.

The first step of the new organization was to raise the value of the good Maxwell still higher, by restoring prices to the former low level of 1918. The reduction is $150 on each of the four models, effective at once. This is the second price revision made by the new organization; and the total reduction from the high level, since Sept. 28, 1920, has been $310 on open cars and $350 on closed cars.

What this latest action means, literally, is turning back Maxwell prices to the basis of 1918.

The truth is that the good Maxwell today is a better car than it was three years ago.

It has been given a new goodness, by lowering costs, by increasing plant efficiency, and by greatly improving the manufacturing practices.

The new organization now owns the great Maxwell plants outright. Its way is clear to carry out in full its larger plans and policies.

It pledges itself never to stop working for the further betterment of the good Maxwell, and for the greater satisfaction of present and future owners of this good car.

Automobile News

OVERLAND PRICES TO BE REDUCED JUNE 1, CUT IN WILLYS-KNIGHT CARS ALSO

Rock bottom prices for Overland automobiles go into effect here on June 1.

This announcement was made Saturday by the Overland Motors Co., local distributor of the Willys-Overland products, following receipt of telegraphic advices from the Willys-Overland factory at Toledo, announcing sweeping reduction to $495 on the Overland touring and $485 on the Willys-Knight touring, other reductions in proportion.

Last September the price of the Overland was smashed from $1,025 to $595. June 1st the price is again cut, this time from $395 to $495, a sweeping reduction of $200 more.

The new price is $150 less than the lowest price for which this car was ever sold, and is made possible, according to John N. Willys, by the quantity sale of this popular car, which has already passed the 100,000 mark, and by the anticipation of great savings in manufacturing cost through increased volume and increased factory efficiency.

The new Overland prices compared with the old are as follows:

Touring $495	formerly $595
Roadster $595	formerly $695
Coupe $1,085	formerly $1,425
Sedan $1,275	formerly $1,475

John N. Willys, recently returned from a trip in which he visited more than 3,000 Overland dealers, states: "The public wants to buy automobiles, but the buying public has hesitated in the hope that price cuts might be made. We have decided to anticipate every possible saving from material savings, and from the savings of volume production, and we are putting our prices at rock bottom June 1."

"We are going the whole route right now. The price is the low price which we have long anticipated we might some day reach on the Overland car, and the car itself is better than ever before. It shows an average gasoline mileage of better than 25 miles to the gallon, its tire mileage and its mileage on oil is astonishing."

"At the present we will take a loss on every Overland car we sell, but we fully expect to make this up through increased volume and increased material savings."

"This gives the public the opportunity to buy and use a modern, well designed, high grade automobile, at a cost never before attained."

"We have the organization to do this now as we never have had it before, and there is absolutely no question in the minds of our dealers and distributors that the Overland car today represents a value which makes it easily first among all popular valve cars as a utility investment."

"The great surprise in the Willys-Overland announcement is the demand made in the Willys-Knight car, according to the Overland Motors Co., Willys-Overland distributor."

"This car which uses the same type of motor as the famous Panhard built in France, the Daimler in England, and the Mitrava in Belgium, and the Mercedes, has long been classed in the public mind as one of the country's fine cars."

"It combines smartness of design and fineness of workmanship with an extremely low cost of maintenance. Its gasoline mileage averages above 20 miles to the gallon, and the sleeve valve motor actually improves with use up to 100,000 miles, and maintains its high standard for a life that has yet found no limit. Yet this fine car by quantity production has been sold not at the eight to twelve thousand dollar figure of the foreign cars but at the low figure of $1,195 during this past year in America.

The new price of $1,195 puts this car at the very lowest price among America's finest cars.

The ability of Willys-Overland to make this saving may be judged from the fact that up to the first of May this year more than 60,000 Willys-Knight cars had been sold, and among the purchasers of this Willys-Knight car who are enthusiastic over the qualities of its motor, are the Prince of Wales and the King of Spain, who join with thousands of Americans in paying price secondary to satisfaction.

The new prices of the Willys-Knight compared with the old are as follows:

Touring $1,195	formerly $2,135
Roadster $1,195	formerly $2,195
Coupe $2,550	formerly $2,845
Sedan $2,540	formerly $2,845

50 CARLOADS OF HAYNES "50" MODELS IN ONE SHIPMENT TO NEW YORK

What is believed to have been the largest single automobile shipment ever made in this country left the factory of Haynes Automobile company at Kokomo, Indiana, early in the morning of May 8 and arrived at the West Twenty-seventh street yards of the Lehigh Valley railroad, New York City, in the evening of May 8. The shipment consisted of fifty automobile cars filled with the new Haynes "50" models, and one carload of accessories.

A group of high officials of the Haynes company, including the vice president and general manager, secretary and treasurer and general sales manager were on hand to watch the departure of the train. Accompanying them were a number of high railroad officials. J. J. Bernet of the Nickel Plate road, B. E. Morgan, traffic manager of the same line, H. L. Stonecipher, general superintendent of the Lake Erie and Western railroad, and E. J. Henry, traffic manager of the Lehigh Valley road.

Tourist travel is picking up, following the warm weather of the past week, and from now on a number of machines from distant states may be seen on the streets of the city, according to auto dealers in a position to know and gauge the tourist travel.

The Times has received several queries recently as to the best route to take in reaching the coast and other points to the west, north and east, all of which indicates that a number of local touring enthusiasts are planning on extended trips in the near future.

The careful engine operator never uses too much oil in his engine for it will form carbon in the compression chamber foul the spark plugs and cause improper ignition. The oil gauge should be inspected every morning to see that the proper amount of oil is in the engine.

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS

By WILLIAM H. STEWART, JR.

Motor Department: Kindly mention through your column of the paper the addresses of standard made carburetors. SUBSCRIBER.

The Tillotson Mfg. Co., Toledo, Ohio; Zenith Carburetor Co., Detroit, Mich.; Marvel Carburetor Co., Flint, Mich.; Stromberg Carburetor Co., Chicago, Ill.; Rayfield Carburetor Co., Chicago, Ill.; Stewart Carburetor Co., Detroit, Mich.; Holley Carburetor Co., Detroit, Mich.; Scholer Carburetor Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

Motor Department: Can you tell me how to overcome a trouble that gives me considerable annoyance? I have a 1919 Ford car that gets flooded easily when cranked. Very often it floods after being primed the second time, and it cannot be started without priming.

Too much priming is worse than none at all. Just a little will suffice. Make sure that the float does not stick. Sometimes after priming, the float will stick and cause flooding. It may be advisable to take the carburetor apart and clean it. Would not advise this, however, unless you are familiar with the construction and adjustments. Better let the service station do it.

Motor Department: I own a Lexington Six touring car and starter gives me some trouble. Usually I have to kick it very hard to start it. Why is that? The battery is in good condition. Will thank you for information. W. W.

Probably the starter switch is in need of repair. Take it apart and see that all points of contact are clean and that the connections are tight.

Motor Department: I wrote in your paper questions and answers on the automobile and their parts. I have a 1916 model Hudson Super Six. I have taken it to the best mechanic in town and he don't know no more 'till me what is the trouble, for he has worked on it several times to put it in no better shape. My trouble is in starting. You can hold the starter on it all day and it would not start without you priming it through the jet cocks and I want to find out what I can do to stop this trouble. Could you put a checker on it like one on a Ford, or what could I do or have done? READER.

On the dash you have a lever which controls the mixture "rich" or "lean." Shorten the control rod id carburetor a little, which will enable you to obtain a richer mixture for starting. This device is installed to raise or lower the level of gasoline in the carburetor float chamber. Also remove vacuum slides, of cast-iron, polish this thoroughly, removing all traces of corrosion, etc. This should be done frequently. Before removing the screws, be sure to mark the parts so they will go back into same position, otherwise you will have trouble. If this does not remedy the trouble, please advise.

Motor Department: Which is the better way to clean the car body—by flowing water over it or by spraying prepared oil on it and then wiping it off with a piece of waste? NOTICE.

Any wiping while the grit is still on the polished surface must scratch it. Water should be flowed over the surface, carrying away what dirt it can. The sponge is used gently afterward, and then the chamols used to dry off the surface and prevent spotting.

HELPFUL HINTS.

The finish on many a fine car has been ruined by the mistaken seal of the owner going over it with a piece of cheese cloth to remove the dust. The cloth is soft enough, but the grit scratches and the finish soon becomes ruined.

A dust cover for the entire car is necessary, especially if the car is to be laid up. It should come down to the floor, covering every part of the car completely. It keeps out dust, and dirt, which are exceedingly difficult to remove if allowed to remain any length of time.

In order to prevent the silverying of lamp reflectors from tarnishing when not in use it is good to give the surface a light coating of alcohol in which collidin has been dissolved. This will form an excellent protection and is easily washed off with warm water.

Painting an automobile so that it will look neat is an expert's job, but if you will carefully wash the surface with warm water containing a little ammonia, and then give it a coat of this varnish, the appearance will be greatly improved.

KNOWLEDGE FOR CAR OWNERS

Interesting and Important Facts That Every Motorist Should Know.

Of every gallon of gasoline used in a motor car nearly 30 per cent is wasted through faulty carburetor adjustment. A little neatfoot oil or castor oil applied to the leather washer of the pump will prevent the air from filtering through. The leather upholstery in the car is often ruined by the use of gasoline as a cleanser. Gasoline has a tendency to crack the leather and a little ammonia in a pan of water is preferable.

A Hudson Advantage That is Distinctive

Its Smoothness and Ease of Operation

Hudson owners tell us they most appreciate the utter forgetfulness of mechanism they are permitted in their cars.

Neither sound, nor the lapse of any function calls it to attention. Even minor adjustments, which are annoying, though not costly, are almost never necessary. And command of the controls seems intuitive—hardly needing conscious direction.

Men say the Hudson Super-Six repays a minimum of care with years of smooth, dependable, punctual conveyance, without default or absence from service.

And we have a gratifying pride in knowing that more than 100,000 owners drive Hudsons, without envy, we believe, of any other car, no matter what its price.

NEW MARK FOR PHOENIX RUN

Bramlette Clips a Whole Hour from Former Record

Lincoln Shows Stamina Over Long Desert Trail

W. W. BRAMLETTE and route he took (heavy line) to break the Los Angeles-Phoenix Record

A terse, crisp message from Walter M. Murphy Motors Company brought the message, May 8th, that Bill Bramlette had broken what is probably the most important automobile record on the Pacific Coast.

He drove from Los Angeles, Cal., to Phoenix, Ariz., in 12 hours and 16 minutes, knocking an even hour off the best previous mark.

His performance held unusual significance in that the Phoenix run—across desert and mountain country—has been the center of attack by record-seekers for many years. Consequently, the time had been cut down to what was considered almost an irreducible minimum.

The route runs for 424 miles across some of the roughest country in the United States. Its deep-sand hazard in particular puts a car to the most severe and searching tests for many continuous hours.

Yet Bramlette's mark is two hours and 4 minutes faster than the time of the limited trains between the two cities.

Bramlette was officially checked out of the Western Union's main office at 4:00 a. m., and with only the rumble of milk wagons to keep him company, started on his dash southward and eastward.

At 16 minutes past 4:00 that afternoon, he checked in officially at the Phoenix, Ariz., postoffice.

Bramlette was in good condition when he arrived at his destination, and the Lincoln was in shape to keep right on over the transcontinental route.

2 OUT OF EACH 3 FAMILIES IN COUNTY HAVE CARS AND QUITE A FEW OF THEM ARE TIN HENRY'S

By E. F. FRUETCHE.

Two out of every three families in Wichita county enjoy the use of an automobile.

According to the state highway licenses issued by County Tax Collector Tittle, up until the night of May 18, 1921, there were 212 passenger-cars in the county.

The same records also show that there are 732 trucks, making a total number of 10,508 automobiles in the county.

This number does not include those that the dealers have on hand, which if counted would bring the total to perhaps 150 more.

In going over the list of licenses, it was found that there are 143 different makes of cars represented by one or more cars in the county.

These 143 automobiles in the county paid in 1921, 27,944 in state highway taxes, half of which is retained by the county and utilized in the upkeep of the public roads. The other half is sent to the state highway department. Of the amount paid in to the county tax collector, $52,232.15 was paid in during the month of January.

Some explaining had to be done this year by the tax assessor to owners of automobiles who harbored the belief that the payment of the state highway tax exempted them from payment of ad valorem tax. The state comptroller ruled on the specific question and held that this was a false impression.

Fords took first place in the tabulation according to makes.

Dodge were second, with Buicks running a close third. There was an interesting race all the way through between Cadillacs, Chevrolets, Overlands and Hudsons, but they finished in the order above named.

Of the total number of passenger automobiles in the county 41.9 per cent are Fords; 10.8 per cent Dodges and 9.3 per cent Buicks.

United States are apparently blind to the economic condition of the industry," he said. "Otherwise they would not continue the process of business and financial suicides which must soon result from the drilling of additional wells.

In spite of the fact that the addition since November 1 last of 47,377,000 barrels to the country's stocks above ground has broken the market price of midcontinent crude from $2.50 to $1.50 per barrel with relatively similar reductions in other districts, the production for March in the United States was the largest of any month in the history of the industry, 40,302,000 barrels and 10,192,000 barrels were run into storage.

A recent published statement puts the available empty tankage at 25,000,000 barrels in the midcontinent field. My information puts it at less than 5,000,000 barrels and it is now being filled at the rate of over 3,000,000 barrels a month. It must not be assumed, however, that this will take care of the over-production for five months, for as the limited eastern storage is filled the oil will be backed up and the increased surplus must be stored in the midcontinent. It may easily happen that all available storage will be filled in two months. What then?

"It should be remembered that the business and financial processes of the entire world are in a state of disorganization and that it is difficult to get money for any purpose. That the producers should continue to drill and thus force the financing of an enormous amount of new storage under such conditions is unbelievable and yet that is what they are doing.

"Gasoline is the only product of petroleum which is moving in quantities approaching normal. The lack of either money or credit abroad with the resultant demoralization of all branches of industry in this country has reduced consumption of kerosene, lubricating oils and fuel oil to a low point, and these stocks have increased to unparalleled amounts.

"I have recently returned from the east, where I discussed the situation with leading men in the industry and found it the universal opinion that the only remedy is to stop the drilling of every unnecessary well. These gentlemen declared their willingness to co-

A Servant of the People

Your electric light and power system is the most faithful servant in the community. Its hours are long—24 a day—it knows no strikes and it works for less than any other servant save one—the two-cent postage stamp.

In the home it quietly and quickly cooks the meals, sweeps, sews, washes, irons, lights the lamps, and assists the housewife in countless other ways. It never "answers back."

It is the silent partner of industry. In store and factory it makes the machinery go, brings in trade, furnishes economical and efficient light, heat and power, and saves endless hours of labor.

It works with church and school to further the intellectual and spiritual advancement of our children and ourselves. It helps police our streets and safeguard our property. And it is democratic. Rich and poor are served alike. The light responds whether the button is pressed by magnet or mechanic.

Our whole scheme of living in this country today is built upon the existence of public utilities and their efficient operation. If electricity, alone, were cut off for any length of time the whole nation would be thrown out of gear to the point of actual disaster.

The Wichita Falls Electric Company SERVES the public. YOU are the public. No one is in a better position to render fair judgment than are you. The Wichita Falls Electric Company is your servant. Encourage this faithful servant as you would any other employe. Do it through the magic of Mutual Helpfulness and Good Will.

YOU'LL FIND A FARM-HOUSE OVER THERE - NEAR THE OTHER EDGE OF THE CLIFF.

I'LL BE RIGHT BACK WITH THE WATER GIRLS - SAVE ME A PRUNE SANDWICH.

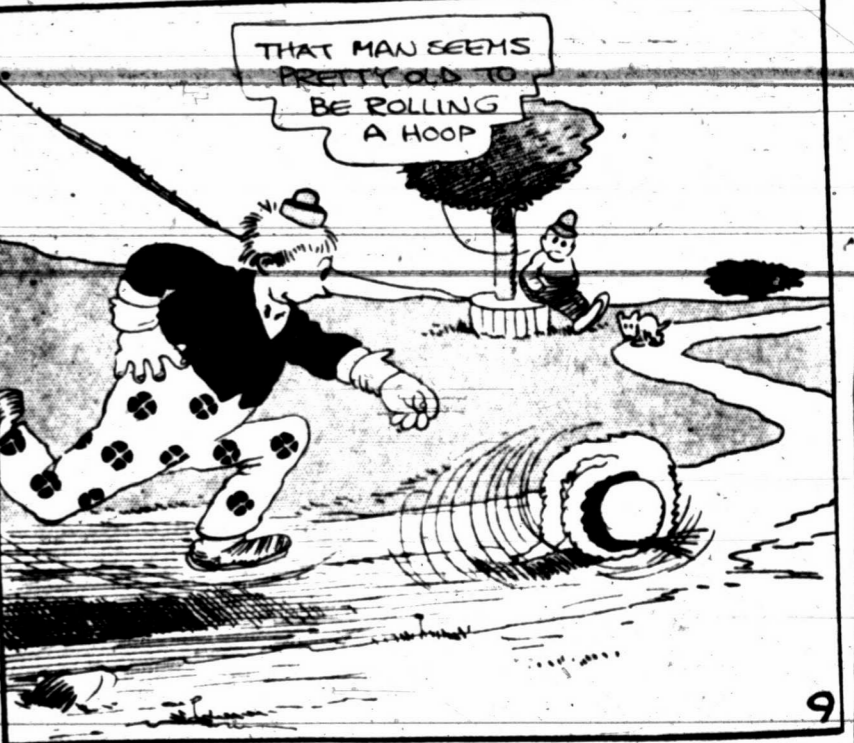

SAY, MADAM, COULD I BORROW A LITTLE WATER FOR SOME FRIENDS OF MINE?

O, YOUNG MAN, YOU'RE JUST IN TIME - MY NEW HAT JUST BLEW DOWN INTO THE VALLEY - WILL YOU GET IT FOR ME?

I SEE IT.

THAT MAN SEEMS PRETTY OLD TO BE ROLLING A HOOP.

OO LOOK! HERE COMES UNKIE BOOB RACING WITH A HAT - I'LL GET THE HAT WINS.

UNKIE BOOB, THE LADY TOLD ME TO TELL YOU SHE RAN OFF WITH THE FOREIGN GENTLEMAN WHO WAS STANDING HERE WITH THE APRON ON - NOW I WANNA GO FISHING.
