

CHITA GOVERNMENT OF SIBERIA BLOCKS VANDERLIP PROGRAM

TEMPORARILY PREVENTS HIS SECURING VALUABLE CONCESSIONS.

PEASANT MEMBERS OF CHITA CONGRESS OBJECT

Officials and Diplomats at Washington Are Closely Watching Developments.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The little town Chita government of Siberia is blocked, at least temporarily, the valuable economic concessions which Washington D. Vanderlip, American capitalist, is trying to secure from the Russian government, according to these advisers to this government, it is understood by Russian diplomats here.

A movement was started recently in the Chita congress by communist members to separate Kamchatka, rich in industrial resources, from the territory of the republic of Chita, according to these advisers to this government, it is understood by Russian diplomats here. The movement was inspired by the news authorities in Moscow as to allow the Russian soviet government to give Vanderlip concessions for development of the vast Kamchatka region. Kamchatka was originally included in the territory of Chita when that territory was organized. The peasant members of the Chita congress, who are in the majority as the result of a recent election, opposed the separation of Kamchatka, but whether a vote was taken on the question was not reported in the advice here.

Officials and diplomats in Washington are following closely all developments in the tortuous course of the proposed Vanderlip concessions which the American capitalist claimed on various occasions had never been concluded so far as known here and the American government has given no indication that they would be recognized were they definitely concluded. Vanderlip now is understood to be somewhere in the Baltic states and is expected to return to Moscow.

FORMER GERMAN EMPEROR MAKES HIMSELF UNPOPULAR WITH THE PEOPLE OF DOORN

By Associated Press.—DOORN, HOLLAND, May 25.—The former German emperor has made himself extremely unpopular in the eyes of the people of Doorn by an attempt to sell a building ground a strip of woods belonging to his estate being outside of his fences and therefore useless to him.

The Dutch government is learning his intention to sell the woodland in small allotments in order to add to his income prohibited the selling of the trees in that place while the Doorn municipality this afternoon bought an auction the woodland in question, thus preserving it for the purpose in its national state.

AMERICAN RADICALS ARE BEING RAPIDLY DEPORTED

LAREDO, TEXAS, May 26.—American radicals are rapidly being deported from Mexico, it was learned here today.

Two men were held today awaiting federal action and five more are expected to be sent over the Rio Grande within a week either here or at El Paso upon orders of President Obregon. Government agents were watching both points of entry for the radicals. John Foertmeyer, formerly of Cincinnati, is expected to be tried there for alleged conspiracy to evade the draft. Jose Allen was said to be the other man held here. Both were alleged to have been co-workers with Lin A. E. Gale in publication of his radical magazine at Mexico City. Gale is held in the guard house at Port Sam Houston, San Antonio, it was said.

DECLARES RAILROADS ARE BEING OPERATED ON EFFICIENT BASIS

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—Railroads of the United States are being operated efficiently, H. E. Byram, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee, Milwaukee and St. Paul, said today in the course of his examination before the senate interstate commerce committee which is inquiring into the transportation situation. He praised the work of the employees who are endeavoring to aid the carriers in obtaining better results.

"It is to be regretted," Mr. Byram said, "that the attitude of some of those who speak for railroad employees of the country does not tend to promote good service."

"I shall endeavor to show that charges frequently and recently made that the railroad managers are not alert in endeavoring to prevent wasteful practices and install economical methods, are not correct, at least so far as this railroad is concerned, and I have reason to believe that similar efforts are made by the managers of the other railroads."

"Officers and employees of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway company for several years, and particularly of late, have been carrying out the principle of co-operation and working mutually in finding and practicing

FARMERS HAVE INNING IN THE GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, May 26.—Farmers are having their inning in the grain market. The farmer, with elevators filled with grain, pocketed a neat profit and grain speculators were "squeezed" when May wheat went to $1.85 on the Chicago board of trade yesterday.

Many of the speculators had said wheat "short," promising to deliver to eastern exporters. Reports of the continued drought in the southwest sent the price of wheat to a new high for the year and in order to cover, operators had to buy at high prices from farmers.

Board of trade operators are citing their unhappy plight to bear out their contention that legislation to regulate the board of trade is not economically sound and that prices are regulated by the law of supply and demand.

PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION TO AID NON-UNION MEN AT BUENOS AIRES PORT

BUENOS AIRES, May 26.—If there are further attacks on non-union laborers in the port zone, such as those which took place Tuesday, when two men were killed while attempting to enter the area prescribed by the union port laborers, the Labor Protective association, backed by its members, will join the non-union laborers in upholding their rights to work.

The association today published the following resolutions: "If any more humble workers are assassinated for the crime of seeking to earn their bread through honorable work, thousands of those associated with this association will go to the port to join the unjustly attacked, so that if there are killings of brave workers there also will be killing of loyal employees."

CANTON HAS BEEN CHINA'S SHOW PLACE FOR THE TOURISTS

THOUSANDS VISIT CROWDED CITY EACH YEAR AND STARE POP-EYED.

MORE THAN TWO MILLION SPACE FOR HALF MILLION

Like a Section of Middle Ages Dug Up And Preserved For Public View.

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL, Special Correspondent of the Wichita Daily Times.

CANTON, May 26.—As long as the European traveler has been taking a half-frightened peek at China, Canton has been his great and wonderful show place and the apex of his bragging and tales. Every year thousands of astonished folks from the occident have stared pop-eyed at this most extraordinary human hive and gone away to talk of it the rest of their days.

With reason—the well-trodden tourist circuit had nothing to equal or approach it. More than 2,000,000 people dwell in an area properly large enough for 500,000 and dwell exactly as half a thousand years before. It was the section of the middle ages dug up and preserved to add a unique interest to books and revenue to steamship companies. One in every four of these strange people lived in one of the sampans that in a huge raft hung to the river front, the rest in quaint little houses, very old, very dirty, very dark, lined dark and damp little cracks that leered them for streets.

These were so narrow that nothing with wheels could make way through their hopeless maze and tangle, little alleys overhung with the strange signs of strange shops, filled with half-naked sing songing coolies carrying burdens slung on poles or tourists in chairs, a wonderful babel of tongues had never at a time in the world, strange people, strange costumes, strange crafts and trades, strange smells of the cooking of strange dishes, and all the queerest and most interesting of life.

And the old books of travels, Come and see the comical old water clock with which they tell time; made about 500 A. D. by the Chinese—the old temple with the old gods and the old prayer papers. Come and see in a world of change the nations and the people always in the same place.

I remember, too, when Canton was far from safe for the visitor, when no

European would dare to sleep there except upon this always guarded island that was the European concession. After sunset never a native was allowed on any street to cross or even enter upon that bridge and before sunset only with an authenticated European pass and one at a time. On the land side was a great iron gate. At sunset it closed and a double file of white soldiers watched it, rifles in hand. You may see to this day the remains of that gate and even some persisting strands of the barbed wire with which it was once so liberally adorned.

In those days, the old empire days, the visitor (usually armed), was carried about Canton in a chair, and if he had any powers of observation knew that he was followed with the black looks of the people and their Chinese courses. As it was then so it would be years for China never changed.

On one of my visits, about ten years ago, a Chinese friend, long resident, told me of certain marvelous great plans to rebuild this ratty old hive to rebuild it on the best modern lines, to make it a new and handsome metropolis. Like a poor stage joke that seemed, and only as a joke or a dream, my European friend, Rebuild Canton. How would you rebuild these forty square miles of ancient shacks, this net of interlaced alleys eight feet wide, these establishments that have existed before the Normans landed in England. It would bankrupt any municipality in the world. And in China of all places! Conservative old China that never changes.

So thought we then and so thinks no man now. China never changes, said we of the copulating of wisdom. Go to Canton and you will find that there, at least, it does nothing else. The world of this wild day offers to the wandering sight-seeer many things nothing so strange as Canton. The joke has turned dead sober earnest, the dream has come true, the plans we scoffed at are actually being carried out, and the old visitor—Chinese—once the joy of the prating tourist is no more.

Right through the old swarming alleys and mole tracks they have plowed great new streets, 40 to 120 feet wide. On the water front, where formerly was but a row of moldy relics, is now a Bund two and a half miles long, planted with trees, lined with great modern buildings, one of the handsomest water sides in the world. The old city wall, eight miles in circumference, has been demolished and on its site they are building an avenue 29 feet wide that will be one of the beauties of the new city. Another will be a boulevard of the same width cut through a building an avenue 29 feet wide that will be one of the beauties of the new city. Another will be a boulevard of the same width cut through a building an avenue 29 feet wide that will be one of the beauties of the new city.

what seems of much more importance, the old human beast of burden idea is going, with the ancient shack. The modern Cantonese is a pretty merry bird, he can joke and he can laugh, and these were rare employments in the old days. Also, he can usually read the daily newspapers, of which he supports the impossible number of forty in this community, and he can send his children to school where in the grammar and all higher grades they are taught English.

To crown all this, the city of Canton, formerly, mediaeval rabbit warren and type of the changeless Asiatic, now looms before the world with the commission form of government modeled on the best that America has to offer. The governing body consists of eight commissioners, each the head of a city department, and these commissioners, sixteen young men, six of them, please note, are graduates of American universities, and the others were educated in France. A modern board of health, one of these departments, presided over by a physician trained in America, has already begun to have a marked effect upon the city's sanitary condition. Trained in America. Here is the final inspiration of all this. If we only knew and recognized the real power of America upon the rest of the world, from America who is making Canton. Just as he made the Chinese republic and if his visions about that, too, come to right, will make it great. I have seen a lot of him here, attacking with coolness and a faith not less than sublime the most overbearing problem in all history, and it is not to be impossible to look upon him as he goes forth to meet this colossal situation without feeling for him the admiring and personal sympathy that shakes paganism.

For the Chinese republic is one of our children and the new China, if there is any, will be part of our work in the world.

ROTARY AND WICHITA CLUBS PLAN ANNUAL BASEBALL CONTEST

WILL MEET SOON IN GAME FOR BENEFIT OF PUBLIC LIBRARY FUND.

DELEGATE TO EDINBURGH MEETING BIDS FAREWELL

Representative of Club Sent to Belton to Attend Graduation of Club's Protege.

Plans for the annual baseball game between the Rotary and Wichita clubs were considered at Thursday's Rotary luncheon, and it is probable that the contest will be staged about June 20. Practice will start next Monday. The challenge from the Wichita club was presented by Lloyd Weaver and was promptly accepted after Mayor Cline had called attention to the fact that the Kemp library fund could stand a little help. Last year the game was for the benefit of the library, and the same plan will prevail this year. Dr. G. H. Hampshire reported that the Rotary club was also hankering for a game and he will probably be the Rotary's second victim. Two dozen male members of the high school graduating class were guests of the Rotary club Thursday, in observance of a custom inaugurated last year. The young men were introduced by Cornelius Chewing.

Fred T. Cooper, who leaves late Thursday for Edinburgh, Scotland, as delegate to the international Rotary convention, bade farewell to the club, making some cautiously worded promises as to his conduct while away; he made it appear that most of his time on board ship will be spent attending concerts.

Rev. N. F. Grafton was appointed to go to Belton next week to attend the exercises at which Miss Jessie Jones, ward of the Rotary club, will graduate from Baylor academy.

Ninety-one of the club's 94 members were present at Thursday's luncheon. At a meeting of the baseball game committee following the luncheon, Horace Robbins was elected captain, Tom Herkin manager, and W. D. Cline, W. M. Priddy and Orville Bullington were designated as a committee to sell tickets. Other arrangements for the game will be announced as soon as the Wichita club committee has been appointed.

Musical Event of Unusual Merit to Be Friday Evening

A musical event as unusual as it will undoubtedly be excellent, will transpire Friday evening at the Church of the Sacred Heart, when the majestic new pipe organ recently installed in that edifice, will be heard in public concert. The unusual feature of the concert will be the fact that Father Gregory, O. S. B., organist from the abbey of New Subiaco, Arkansas, will be at the organ. It is only on the most exceptional occasion that the monastery organists are ever heard in public, though their interpretation is through long and consecrated study, is invariably of the highest excellence.

The concert will also be unique in that it will be the first and last time that the magnificent church organ will be heard in public concert. After its dedication to the service of the church, it can never again be used for a public occasion.

Varying and adding to the beauty of the concert, the following program will be presented by local artists, selected under the direction of Mesdames A. H. Britain and E. L. Fulton, program committee. These artists include Ivan Murchison, Mrs. W. M. Priddy, Mrs. C. Y. Tully, Mr. Templeton, M. A. Ellis, Mrs. Bates, Miss Tillie Schaefer and Miss Oechaner.

Tickets for the concert, which opens at 8:00 o'clock at the church, are on sale at the Tipton drug store, it was stated Thursday. The program will be as follows: Organ solo, Coronation March (Swenson), Fr. Gregory. Vocal solo, "Love, Here Is My Heart"; Leo Sileas, Ivan Murchison. Organ solo, (a) Chant d'Amour (Gillette); (b) Cloister Scene (Mason); (c) Minuet (Bocherini), Prof. Lamb. Vocal trio, Mrs. Bates, Misses Schaefer and Oechaner, "Jesu Vivit" (Verdi). Organ solo, (a) Canzone Nuptiale (Dubois); (b) Invocation (Capecci); (c) Reverie (Flaugier), Father Gregory. Vocal duet, "The Rosary" (Nevin), Mesdames Priddy and Tully. Instrumental trio, (a) "At Dawn" (Cadmán); (b) "Wiegand" (Ber. Wengel); (c) Bourée (Bach), Mr. Templeton, Mr. Ellis, Father Gregory. Vocal solo, "Recessional" (de Koven), Ivan Murchison. Toccata (Dubois).

VISIT TO SOUTH BEND SOME TIME IN JUNE NOW BEING PLANNED

Tentative plans are being formulated for a second excursion over the Wichita and Southern line, with South Bend as the community to be visited. The excursion is planned for June 30, thereafter, by which time the road is expected to be in operation across the Brazos. Grading and track work have been completed almost to the Brazos, and the tracks will cross the stream as soon as the bridge is completed; work on the crossing is proceeding rapidly. The crossing of the Brazos is the last physical obstacle of any consequence to be overcome, and when it is accomplished, completion of the line to Jimkura will follow within a few weeks.

LATEST STYLE

In the mad scramble for you in the fashions of the day, how often the mature woman sacrifices her chance for attractiveness by wearing clothes too obviously youthful for her age, instead of yielding gracefully to the mellow charm which years alone can bring in face and figure the woman of 45 may look years younger, but when she affects the slimy frocks of the debutante age she only blurs her personality and, like Sarah Gamp with her false hair, in "Martin Chuzzlewit," deceives nobody.

To keep young-looking is important, of course, but nothing is more unbecoming than a conspicuous straining for youth. A splendid example of suitable lines for the older woman is the black Canton crepe dress illustrated above, with fringe trimming.

JOINT REUNION DEPENDS ON ACTION OF RAILROADS

INDIANAPOLIS, May 26.—Whether the Union and Confederate veterans of the Civil war will hold a joint encampment at Denver, Colo., seemed today to depend upon whether railroads will grant a reduction in rates for the trip. G. A. R. posts throughout the country have voiced approval of the proposed meeting, according to M. F. Butler, manager of the national G. A. R. office. M. R. Van Zandt, commander of the Confederate veterans, is expected here within a week to discuss plans for the reunion.

MAUSOLEUM TO BE SOLDIER MEMORIAL

Is Being Erected by Judge and Mrs. A. M. Carrigan in Honor of Their Son.

Work has started at Riverside cemetery upon a handsome mausoleum for the A. M. Carrigan family, planned as a memorial to Lieut. A. Carrigan, Jr., who was killed in France. The mausoleum will be constructed of Texas granite, finished with Italian marble and lined with slate. It is to be of Gothic design, and will be one of the most attractive structures of the kind in the southwest. The Wrentham Marble and Granite Works have the contract, C. J. Pate being the architect. The site is an attractive one, on sloping ground overlooking the city, and somewhat apart from the remainder of the cemetery.

A bronze tablet will bear the dedication inscription. The first body to be placed in one of the eight crypts will be that of Lieutenant Carrigan, which will probably be returned from the Romagne cemetery in France late in the summer.

CHICAGO EVANGELIST TO HOLD SERIES OF MEETINGS HERE, STARTING SUNDAY

Rev. J. C. O'Hair of Chicago, a noted evangelist, will conduct a series of meetings at the Central Presbyterian church, starting Sunday, it was learned Thursday.

"Perhaps no man in recent years has risen so rapidly from among the rank and file of the membership of the church to a place of recognition as one of the foremost Bible teachers of the country," says Mr. O'Hair, "as an announcement."

While a southern man himself and but a few years ago a successful and prosperous business man of Texas, he has been received and recognized throughout the northern and eastern states as a preacher and Bible teacher of unusual ability. He comes to Wichita Falls from Saginaw, Michigan, where he has just closed one of the most successful evangelistic campaigns held in that city.

"You will probably never again be convinced to hear a more clear and convincing exposition of fundamental doctrines of the Bible than will be given by Mr. O'Hair in his lectures. Through the Bible in One Week! Thousands in many of the larger cities of the northern and eastern states, after hearing Mr. O'Hair give these addresses, have declared 'the Bible to be a new book to them.' He is not only a public speaker of ability but is fast becoming a writer of considerable note."

Mr. O'Hair will occupy the pulpit of the Central Presbyterian church, at the corner of Eleventh and Bluff streets, next Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock, and arrangements have been made for the use of the church for this purpose on the following days: Monday night at 8:00 o'clock and Tuesday night at 8:00 o'clock and continuing throughout the week. He will also occupy the pulpit of the Central Presbyterian church both morning and evening of June 5.

SAFETY ZONES HAVE HARD LUCK IN PAIR OF AUTO ACCIDENTS

Two auto wrecks, two safety zones torn up and one child slightly injured are the sum total of damage sustained by two traffic accidents, one of which took place at 2:30 Tuesday night and the other exactly twenty-four hours later.

The first occurred at Seventh and First, according to reports made by the police Thursday. A woman and two small children in a Dodge machine are reported to have hit the iron railings comprising the safety zone with such force as to smash the radiator into bits and to hurl one of the children into the street. The baby was not hurt, it is said, and was taken away by its mother. The name of the woman was not obtained by the police.

Wednesday evening's accident took place at precisely the same hour at a place at the intersection of Indiana and Seventh. A man was the only occupant of this machine, a Buick touring car, and was not injured. One of the metal rails of the zone penetrated the radiator, stripped the spark plugs from the top of the motor and cracked the footboards below the front seat before the machine could be stopped, police said. The name of the party was not taken.

"It is unanimous adoption by the senate was very gratifying to me," Borah's proposal for bringing the United States, Great Britain and Japan together to discuss the reduction of their armaments over a five-year period of naval armaments was made part of the navy bill late yesterday in the senate 71 to 6.

THOUSAND MEXICANS ARE SENT ACROSS THE BORDER

Interior homes daily transportation is being paid by the Mexican government, but due to railroad congestion, it is impossible to send the repatriates out of Nuevo Laredo promptly.

Double Marriage Life of California Man Is Disclosed

By United Press. SAN DIEGO, CAL., May 24.—By day, E. E. Rodgers, electrician of San Diego, with a wife installed in a city apartment.

By night, David H. Richardson, rancher of Otay, ten miles away, with another wife on his turkey ranch there.

This was the alleged double life of David H. Richardson, 24, former actor, until it was rudely broken up by deputy sheriffs, one wife jailed on bad check charges, and Richardson himself forced to flee to the Yuma, Mexico. There he is safe, as there is no recognized government beyond the border to grant extradition.

Richardson is said to have told his city wife, Mrs. Rena Goodnight, that he was on border duty for Uncle Sam at night. He told his country wife he was an electrician by day in San Diego, according to her. Thus he kept up the alleged deception with both.

Later he told Mrs. Goodnight, she said, that he had a wife at Otay, but that she was not legally married to him, having married her before the legal time after his first wife's divorce had elapsed. So the two went to Santa Ana and were married.

"I cannot imagine why he should have deceived me," said the Otay wife, who continues to tend the lonely ranch, alone.

"We were going to South America. I thought he loved me alone," said Mrs. Richardson-Rogers-Goodnight, in jail, facing check charges.

An O. HENRY Story

The Easter of the Soul

By O. HENRY

It is hardly likely that a goddess may die. Then Easter, the old Saxon goddess of spring, must be laughing in her merrily sleeve at people who believe that Easter, her namesake, exists only along certain strips of Fifth Avenue pavement after church service.

Aye! It belongs to the world. The paragon in Chilkoot Pass succumb to the winter-white feathers for brown; the Patagonian, Beau Brummell, oils his chinon and clubs him another sweetheart to drag to his skull-strewn fat. And down in Chrysothe Street—

Mr. "Tiger" McQuirk arose with a feeling of disquiet that he did not understand. With his practiced foot he rolled three of his younger brothers like logs out of his way as they lay sleeping on the floor. Before a foot-square looking glass that hung by the window he stood and shaved himself. If that may seem to you a task to be shirked, he had been impressively chronicled, I bear witness; you do not know the areas to be accomplished in traveling the cheek and chin of Mr. McQuirk.

McQuirk, senior, had gone to work long before. The big son of the house was idly idling in his cutter, and the marble-cutters were out on a strike.

"What alleys!" asked his mother, looking at him curiously; "are ye not feeling well this morning, may-be now?"

"He's thinking along of Annie Maria Doyle," impudently explained younger brother Tim, ten years old. "Tiger" reached over the head of a champion and swept the small McQuirk from his chair.

"I feel fine," said he, "beyond a touch of the I-don't-know-what-you-call-it. I feel like there was going to be earthquakes or music or a trifle of chills and fever or maybe a picnic. I don't know how I feel. I feel like knocking the vicissitudes of a volcano. And she like playing Coney Island straight across the board from popcorn to the elephant boudahs."

"It's the spring in yer bones," said Mrs. McQuirk, "I'll be the spring in yer bones." Time was when it could keep me feet still nor me head cool when the earthworms began to crawl out in the dew of the mornin'. 'Tis a bit of tea will do ye good, made from pipissawa and gentian bark at the drug-store."

"Spring-up!" said Mr. McQuirk, impatiently. "There's no spring in eight. There's snow yet on the shed in Donovan's backyard. And yesterday she puts open cars on the Sixth Avenue line, and the janitors have quit ordering coal. And that means six weeks more of winter, by all its signs that be."

After breakfast Mr. McQuirk spent fifteen minutes before the corrugated mirror, subjuncting his hair and arranging his green-and-purple ascot with its amethyst tombstone and eloquent of his chosen calling.

Since the strike had been called it was this particular striker's habit to slip himself each morning to the corner saloon of Fishery. Brothers and there establish himself upon the sidewalk, with one foot resting on the bootblack's stand, observing the panorama of the street until the pace of time brought twelve o'clock and the dinner hour. But on this morning Mr. McQuirk did not have immediately to his post of sidewalk observation. Something unusual that he could not quite grasp was in the air. Something disturbed his thoughts, ruffled his senses, made him at once languid, irritable, elated, dissatisfied and sneering. He was no dissatisfied, and he did not know that Lent was breaking up physiologically in his system.

Mr. McQuirk entered the saloon and called for his glass of beer. He threw his nickel on the bar, raised the glass and gazed about without seeing it and rolled toward the door.

"What's the matter, Lord Bother-brake?" inquired the sarcastic bartender; "want a chinny vasa or a gold-lined perogie to drink it out of?"

"Say," said Mr. McQuirk, wheeling and shooting out a horizontal hand and a forty-five-degree chin. "You know your place only when it comes for givin' titles. I've changed me mind about drinkin'-see? You got your money, ain't you? Wait till you get stung before you get the drop in your BB, will you?"

Thus Mr. McQuirk added mutability of desires to the strange humors that had taken possession of him.

Leaving the saloon, he walked away twenty steps and leaned in the open doorway of "Lutz," the barber. He and Lutz were friends, masking their sentiments behind abuse and blungeons of repartee.

"Irish loafer," roared Lutz, "how do you do? So, not yet, but her holictomans or der catcher of dogs done der duty?"

"Hello, Dutch," said Mr. McQuirk. "Can't get your mind off of Frank-furters, can you?"

"Bah!" exclaimed the German, coming and leaning in the door. "I had a soul above Frank-furters today. There is springtime in der air. I can feel it coming in after der mud of der streets and der ice in der river. Soon will der be das in der islands. Mill kegs of beer under der trees!"

"Say," said Mr. McQuirk, setting his hat on one side, "is everybody kiddin' me about gentle Spring? There ain't no more spring in the air than there is in a horsehair sofa in a Second Avenue furnished room. For me the winter underwear yet and der truck-wheel-cakes."

"You haf no poetry," said Lutz. "True, it is peck cold, und in der

DRESS

By ANNE RITTENHOUSE

There is Little Chance for a Woman to Appear Shabby on a Rainy Day if She Wears the Apparel Makers Who Willingly Prepare Her For All Sorts of Rough Weather.

When the war brought leather to the fore as a fabric of importance for clothing the women did not leave it to the men. They saw in it infinite possibilities for their wardrobe.

The dressmaker aided and abetted in the desire to wear this rather harsh material by using it as trimming on serge and homespun, on tweed and crepe, and women who were in the war zone found it admirable for coats such as the soldiers wore. When the war ended they continued to wear these short jackets in rough weather and for sweaters beneath to absorb the moisture, to take the place of the soldier's flannel shirt. Then a straight and narrow leather skirt was bound to be a good thing to wear on the golf links. After these exploit women abandoned the whole scheme, in a woman's war.

The dressmakers were not done with the material, however. They thought they could exploit it as a new trimming, and they have done so with success. This season one comes to the conclusion after seeing a host of new spring clothes that leather and its imitations rank with the embroidery and metal galloon. The cost of the gown and wraps that carry it imply what the designers think of it. Even so frail a fabric as organdie is adorned with edges of brightly colored leather, which is not according to the best taste; but fashion was ever freakish.

Those who manufactured fabrics in the leather department were put to use on any surface that will give to it the bright burnished appearance of leather; its popularity proves that the public likes the idea.

Therefore when leather, bearing a shine that even a cavalry Colonel would not despise on his boots, arrives in the form of loose coats designed for rainy days, it does not strike the eye as unfamiliar, something that is too novel to be accepted without trial and discouragement. True, there have been rainy coats of leather before this post-war era, but they were worn by the daring ones, who often added a "swoosher" hat on the head and sallied forth to create a diversion.

This new kind of coat may create a diversion, too, through its gay, ornamental appearance. It has the imprint of novelty because it is half covered with stichery done in white. None of the former coats bore such gaiety.

The cap which has been abandoned. This new garment is cut with long sleeves, a belt and a high muffer collar, simply because the cape was found impracticable for stormy weather; it does not wind and does not protect the arms. When the leather comes in the form of the clothing that is guaranteed to give protection, this the long slim coat does.

This new kind of wrap puts out of commission to some extent that ornish coat which was so successful that had no weight and was easy to pack and carry about the country. It shed water, but it lacked style; it looked like a makeshift. These new ones take on the semblance of dress, and they are comfortable to the wearer and keep a woman up to the mark in tidiness, no matter how the wind may blow.

The character of the stichery does this. Odd how that type of ornamentation has intruded itself in the season's clothes.

A new kind of rain coat in black leather built like a frock and covered with a formal design of white stichery. The furban is built to match.

Something to Think About

From the News Column

By F. A. WALKER

IF YOU have read the papers carefully lately you have learned that down in New Mexico they crucified two people the other day as a part of a religious rite; that over in Spain they stabbed an old woman to death because she was a witch; that down in one of the Southern states a man killed and buried a dozen or more negroes because they did not work as he thought they should; that in New Jersey they are going to hang a man who committed a horrible crime under the influence of liquor and the people who sold him the liquor are at liberty; that in China there are millions of people dying of starvation.

These are just a few of the things that are considered important enough to put on the first pages of your country's greatest papers for your reading and comment.

They are unpleasant, but they are really important for they make you think.

As you read these items you must have asked yourself two or three questions.

You must have said "Ought we to call ourselves civilized when such things happen? Are we really progressing toward perfection or are we going backward toward savagery?"

There is a theory, which of course has not been proven, that the human race develops in waves.

There is a great surge toward the ideal man and then that is followed with a regression toward the primitive cave man with his crude, unbridled passions, his lack of culture and his absence of regard for his fellows.

Which way are we headed now?

Are we on the up grade or have we reached the peak and begun the descent?

Killing an aged woman for witchery certainly is not advancing.

Crucifying a human being, even as a part of a religious rite, is not an evidence of civilization.

Killing a man because he does not labor to suit you or killing him for any reason at all, is not an index of a higher culture or an increasing moral sense.

To let millions of people starve in China, while there is plenty of America is not a very hearty application of the command to love your neighbor as yourself.

While loving our neighbors as

FRIENDS

"A fellow come to me today
And slappid me on the back
And started makin' right away,
The usual sort of crack
About how good a friend he was,
How strong he was for me,
But friends don't need to tell you go,
There's other ways to let you know,"
Says Charlie Cherokee.

"When makin' up my list of friends
I try to git 'em all,
The folks who give me recommendations,
That is, the cracles say that one who
I try to think of as they done,
A friend of mine to be,
I find a rainy day is what
Will tell you who's a friend or not,"
Says Charlie Cherokee.

"I've never added to the list
A man, like this one did,
Who slappid my back and grabbed
my flat,
And started in to kid,
For friends don't need to say a word,
Their friendship you can see,
Can see it in a fellow's eyes---
For friends don't need to advertise,"
Says Charlie Cherokee.

DOROTHY DIX'S TALKS

By DOROTHY DIX THE WORLD'S HIGHEST PAID WOMAN WRITER

The Girl and the Married Man

A YOUNG girl writes me that she and a married man are in love with each other. She says that their affection is pure and idealistic and that she does not expect or desire the man to forsake his wife and marry her.

"Do you think any harm can come of such a beautiful love?" she asks.

"Do you think any good can come of it?" I would ask her in reply.

Leaving out of the question the wrong that a woman does her sister when she encourages her husband to be faithless to her, and the irreparable injury she does to the children whose father she takes away from them, let us consider the case of the girl alone.

What good does she get out of a love affair with a married man?

She will never be able to convince a man who is already married that she gets the love in the bottom of the cup of love, not the wine. The few brief hours of rapture that she knows in loving, and being loved, do not compensate her for the days and weeks and months and years of black despair that are the inevitable portion of nursing a hopeless passion.

Every young girl dreams of love, but she dreams of it coming to her as something that will crown her life with joy, something that will have no regrets bound up with it, something of which she can boast and be proud. And she expects this love to flower into a wedding bell.

The girl who falls in love with a married man can never know the clean happiness of love. Hers is always the guilty passion, something furtive and to be hidden. Her romance does not wander down flowery paths. It stulks behind closed doors and at clandestine meetings at shabby restaurants, and taking from every kiss its sweetness, is the knowledge that one is not playing the game, that one is not sporting. That the girl's background—the helpless woman who is being robbed without being given a chance to defend herself.

The woman who has a love affair with a married man must perform such tricks of jealousy as are almost punishment enough for her folly and her sin. She sees another woman bear the name of the man she loves, and occupies the social position that she gives her. She knows that the man who tells her he loves her would not ask her to leave her home, or introduce her to his friends, or more than casually greet her on the streets. She knows that while he tells her that his wife does not understand him, and that he is tired of her, yet that they are bound together by a thousand ties of mutual interest, and that just because a woman is a man's wife sets her apart from him from all other women. No other woman in the world goes through such grinding torment of suspicion and anxiety and jealousy, as does the girl who is in love with a married man. She knows no moment in which the present moment is regarded as protection against evil or danger of all kinds. It also protects its wearer from feeling envious of another, and from arousing envy in other people.

An ancient legend makes the pink coral the natural gem of the bride on an anniversary of this day. Worn as an amulet, it preserves its wearer's health, but it must be so worn that its vivid color is noticeable. In ancient times it was believed that one who wore a piece of coral could pass through the severest storms without mishap.

White should be worn today. It is said to endow its wearer with great charm, and to bring to the girl who wears it on this date, the admiration of men.

Today's flower is heliotrope, symbol of the devotion of loved ones.

CARNELIAN

THE carnelian, today's talismanic stone, is associated in an interesting belief. Mohammedan lore on the little finger of the right hand a finger ring set with a carnelian, which was engraved so that it could be used as a seal, and it was thought that those who kissed this ring would be protected from all evil. Thus the carnelian has come to be regarded as protection against evil or danger of all kinds. It also protects its wearer from feeling envious of another, and from arousing envy in other people.

Worn as an amulet, it preserves its wearer's health, but it must be so worn that its vivid color is noticeable. The Housewife's Economy Calendar when sleeping all the better. It is desirable if the corner be placed a bend in the path from the house so that the baby's carriage may be easily wheeled into the landscape garden. The landscape garden produces such a corner by grouping three white pines three spruce trees, two dozen Japanese barberries, five black alders and three photinias. These five photinias and the barberries bear bright red berries in winter and the evergreens maintain their verdure thus making the baby's corner attractive in cool weather as in warm.

As baby grows older there is good sense in having a little garden plot completely fenced about. Little biologic fences painted white with swinging gate are decorative. You might have two sides of the enclosure bounded by shrubs and trees and the other two by means of a little fence.

A certain landscape gardener—a confirmed old bachelor by the way—has on several large commissions successfully planned and carried out a baby's corner in the garden. He has definite ideas as to where this corner should be located, what its exposure should be, and just how it should be planted.

Almost any one with babies and a garden of any sort could have one of these corners of a less elaborate sort. One of the essentials of the corner is that it should provide possible shade in warm weather as well as a bit of sunshine in cold weather.

Trees and shrubs should be arranged so as to provide protection against the wind. If the corner can be several hundred feet from the house where sounds from the house cannot disturb the baby.

THE ADVENTURE OF THE ABBEY GRANGE

By A. CONAN DOYLE

Copyright, 1921, by Harper & Bros. Published by special arrangement with The McClure Newspaper-Syndicate.

The story thus far:

Inspector Hopkins called on Holmes to help him at the Abbey Grange in Kent. There Holmes and Watson went to find that the Eustace Brackenstall had been murdered the night before. Hopkins apologized for calling on Holmes, and said it was the work of the three handiwork, father and son—a notorious gang of burglars, as he was assured by Lady Brackenstall, now that she was able to talk. Holmes saw Lady Brackenstall, a beautiful woman with a veil over one eye, which her maid, Theresa, her nurse since babyhood—was holding. She said she had married a year before when she came to England from Australia. Her marriage had been unhappy, as Sir Eustace was a drunkard.

She said that the night before he went to bed early, leaving her reading downstairs. Her maid was the only person besides her husband and her self in that part of the house.

She went into the dining-room to see that everything was locked, and found a big French window open. In it stood an elderly man, behind him two younger men. He struck her and she fell fainting. When she came to she found he had torn down the bell cord which rang a bell in the kitchen and tied her with it to a chair. Her husband, armed with a cudgel, entered the room and the next she knew he had been killed by the old man. She faint-ed again. When she opened her eyes the burglars were drinking wine. Then they left and when she got to her feet she screamed for help, which shortly came. Holmes looked at the dining-room. He learned that the murdered man was a brute when drunk and that he once threw a decanter at Theresa.

Holmes was impressed with the fact that the burglars must have known the habits of the house to dare pull down the bell cord without fearing it would awaken the servants. The burglars took only a few pieces of plate. There were three glasses and a bottle of wine on the table. There was wine in all, but drunk in only one.

from them. Does that strike you as likely?"

"Why not? There was wine in each glass."

"Exactly, but there was something only in one glass. You must have noticed that fact. What does that suggest to your mind?"

"The last glass filled would be most likely to contain poisoning."

"Not at all. The bottle was full of it, and it is inconceivable that the first two glasses were clear and the third heavily charged with it. There are two possible explanations and only two. One is that after the second glass was filled the bottle was violently agitated and so the third glass received the poisoning. That does not appear probable. No, no, I am sure that I am right."

"What, then, do you suppose?"

"That only two glasses were used, and that the drugs of both were poured into a third glass, so as to give the false impression that three people had been here. In that way all the poisoning would be in the last glass, would it not? Yes, I am convinced that this is so. But if I have hit upon the true explanation of this one small phenomenon, then in an instant the case clears from the commonplace to the exceedingly remarkable, for it can only mean that Lady Brackenstall and her maid have deliberately lied to us, that not one word of their story is to be believed, that they have some very strong reason for covering the real original, and that we must construct our case for ourselves without any help from them. That is the mission which now lies before us, and here, Watson, is the Sydney train."

The household at the Abbey Grange were much surprised at our return, but Sherlock Holmes, finding that Stanley Hopkins had gone off to report to headquarters, took possession of the dining-room, locked the door upon the inside, and devoted himself for two hours to one of those minute and laborious investigations which form the solid basis on which his brilliant deductions were reared. Seated in a corner like an interested student who observes the demonstration of his professor, I followed every step of that remarkable research. The window, the curtains, the carpet, the chair, the rope—each in turn was minutely examined and duly pondered. The body of the unfortunate baronet had been removed, and all else remained as we had seen it in the morning. Finally, to my astonishment, Holmes climbed up on to the massive mantelpiece. Far above his head hung the two pieces of red cord which were still attached to the wire. For a long time he gazed upwards at it, and then in an attempt to get nearer to it he rested his knee upon a wooden bracket on the wall, he brought his hand within a few inches of the broken end of the rope but it was not this so much as the bracket itself which seemed to engage his attention. Finally, he sprang down with an ejaculation of satisfaction.

"It's all right, Watson," said he. "We have got our case—one of the most remarkable in our collection. But dear me, how slow-witted I have been, and how nearly I have committed the blunder of my lifetime. Now I think that with a few missing links, my chain is almost complete."

"You have got your men?"

"Yes, Watson, men. Only one but a very formidable person. Strong as a lion—witness the blow that bent that poker! Six foot three in height, active as a squirrel, dexterous with his fingers, finally, remarkably quick-witted for this whole ingenious story is his concoction. Yes, Watson, we have come upon the handiwork of a very remarkable individual. And yet, in that bell-rope, he has given us a clue which should not have left us a doubt."

"Where was the clue?"

"Well, if you were to pull down a bell-rope, Watson, where would you expect it to break? Surely at the spot where it is attached to the wire. Why should it break three inches from the top as this one has done?"

"Where is it frayed there?"

"Exactly. Frayed, and which we can examine if frayed. He was cunning enough to do that with his knife. But the other end is not frayed. You could not observe from here but if you were on the mantelpiece you would see that it is cut clean off without any mark of fraying whatever. You can reconstruct what occurred. The man needed the rope. He would not bear it down for fear of giving the alarm by ringing the bell. What did he do? He sprang up on the mantelpiece, could not quite reach it, put his knee on the bracket—you will know the impression in the dust—and so got his knife to bear upon the cord. I could not reach the place by at least three inches—from which I infer that he is at least three inches bigger man than I. Look at that mark upon the seat of the oaken chair! What is it?"

"Hoops."

"Undoubtedly it is blood. This alone puts the lady's story out of court. If she were seated on the chair when the crime was done; how comes that mark upon her? She was placed in the chair after the death of her husband. I'll wager that the black-dress shows a corresponding mark to this. We have not yet met our Waterloo, Watson, but this is our Marengo, for it begins in defeat and ends in victory. I should like now to have a few words with the nurse, Theresa. We must be wary for awhile, if we are to get the information which we want."

She was an interesting person, this stern Australian nurse—taciturn, suspicious, ungracious, it took some time before Holmes in pleasant manner and frank acceptance of all that she said thawed her into a corresponding amiability. She did not attempt to conceal her hatred for her late employer.

"Yes, sir, it is true that he threw the decanter at me. I heard him call my mistress a name, and I told him that he would not dare to speak so if her brother had been there. They it was that he threw it at me. He might have thrown a dozen if he had but left my bonny bird alone. He was forever treating her, and she too proud to con-plain. She will not even tell me all that he has done to her. She never told me of those marks on her arm that you saw this morning, but I know very well that they came from a stab with a hairpin. The silly devil—God forgive me—that I should speak of him so, now that he is dead! But a devil he was, if ever one walked the earth. He was all honey when first we met him—only eighteen months ago, and we both feel as if it were eighteen years. She had only just arrived in London. Yes, it was her first vorage—she had never been from home before. He won her with his title and his money and his false London ways. If she made a mistake she has paid for it, if ever a woman did. What month did we meet him? Well, I tell you it was just after Christmas. We arrived in London on the 15th of July. They were married in January of last year. Yes, she is down in the morning-room again, and I have no doubt she will see you, but you must not ask too much of her, for she has gone through all that flesh and blood will stand."

Notice!

At the present time there is a shortage of water in various parts of the city between the hours of six and eight a. m. and also between the hours of six and eight p. m. due to the rapid growth of the city and the demand for water for new lawns, trees, gardens etc.

In order to provide sufficient water for all domestic purposes all water consumers are hereby requested not to use water during these hours for sprinkling, or garden irrigation, until further notice. Within the next sixty days a large pump will be installed at the pumping station and a large supply main run from the pumping station direct to Floral Heights and it is thought that these improvements will provide sufficient water at all times for the requirements of the city.

WITH AMERICA'S GREATEST KITCHEN CONVENIENCE

A $7.50 SET OF KITCHEN TOOLS

And a Specially Built-in Tool Compartment Tray

Results at the start of this sale would have surprised us if we had not calculated on the exceptional selling power of our present offer. All records for the sale of kitchen cabinets in this part of the country have been shattered. And the sale has only begun. It continues for a limited time.

But come in soon. We can't guarantee to have this special offer in force for you if you delay.

There are three reasons for the exceptional number of Hoosiers we have sold.

FIRST

The unquestioned supremacy of the Hoosier. There never was a device that could compete with the Hoosier in saving steps and making kitchen work easy. And there never was so carefully constructed, or so well made a kitchen cabinet.

SECOND

We will put this great labor-saving device in your home on payment of one dollar—no extra charges for these terms. The low 1921 cash price set by the factory prevails during this sale.

THIRD

Note our FREE OFFER of a special, ten-piece Kitchen set and a specially constructed tray in which to keep it, with every Hoosier Beauty sold this week. This tray is actually BUILT INTO the cabinet—it is the greatest single convenience ever installed in a kitchen cabinet.

$1 Delivers Your Hoosier

Pay the rest on easy terms. No extra charge for this accommodation, which enables you to get, at once, that freedom from kitchen drudgery which every woman deserves.

A single demonstration will convince you that nothing you can buy will do so much to save steps and shorten the hours you spend in the kitchen as will the Hoosier.

Once you sit before Hoosier's big, uncluttered work table, and see how naturally every needed article comes to hand, you will understand why more Hoosiers have been sold than any other two makes of kitchen cabinets.

Every Woman Needs This Splendid Set

This is the Famous Dexter Domestic Science Kitchen Set

Endorsed by Such Eminent Authorities as: Miss Alice Bradley, Principal Miss Farmer's School of Cookery, Boston.

Mrs. Christine Frederick, Applecroft Experiment Station, Greenlawn, L. I.

Good Housekeeping Institute. See special article in GOOD HOUSEKEEPING magazine for January, 1921.

And many other great authorities.

The Special Cooking Spatula was designed by Mr. James Scott, supervisor of industrial education, Syracuse, New York.

Do not compare these tools with so-called kitchen sets you see advertised at a low price. You can not buy this set or one of like quality, exclusive of the tray, for less than $7.50.

These tools are made and guaranteed by Harrington Cutlery Co., Southbridge, Mass.

Included are: Six kitchen knives, two kitchen forks, and two spatulas, of the best Carbon Tool Steel, specially ground to hold a keen edge. And remember, we not only give you the set—but, in addition, an ideal place to keep it—a specially constructed tray that fits right into your Hoosier and keeps the tools from coming in contact with each other.

You can not get this set and special tool compartment tray after this sale closes. AT ANY PRICE. Right now you get BOTH FREE—when you pay the dollar that sends your Hoosier home.

In Addition to This Offer Your Old Cabinet is Worth From $5 to $20 as a First Payment on a New Hoosier

Kitchens Thumps a Few And Spudders Vanquish Bears in Opener 7 to 5

Special to The Times. SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, May 25.—Wichita Falls made 14 hits, eight of which figured in the scoring, for 22 bases Wednesday, taking the opening game of the series from San Antonio, 7 to 5.

Kitchens was the swatting hero, getting two home runs and a two-run homer after striking out on his first trip up. McDonald also got a homer. Hollingsworth had the bears where he wanted them until the ninth, allowing only a walk and a hit. The brains rallied, scoring three runs, and made a decent game of it.

FAILURE OF JONES IS BIG DISAPPOINTMENT

Bobby Was Great Favorite Among English Golfers Who Made Idol Out of Him. BY VISCOUNT NORTHCLIFFE (Copyright, 1921, by the United Press.) HOYLAK, ENGL., May 25.—You, no doubt, have heard told all about Bobby Jones' unhappy experience. His friends tell me he never played himself. I don't know whether you have in the States seen the kind of a young fellow who is a matinee idol girl. Bobby has been their great favorite and they were very disappointed when he was put out by the powerful Alga Graham.

BOX OFFICE RECORDS

ALREADY BROKEN BY CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT

Though Battle is Five Weeks Distant Receipts Now Total $325,000 With Many Seats Unsold.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The Dempsey-Carpentier fight for the world's heavyweight championship already has broken all box office records. With the date of the bout five weeks distant, Promoter Tex Rickard today announced that the receipts had reached $325,000. Thousands of seats yet remain available.

WHO'LL WIN?

CHICAGO, May 25.—Floyd Fitzsimmons, Benton Harbor, Mich., promoter, who staged the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, says he will win the first time Carpentier misses him. It may possibly go four rounds but I cannot see how the Frenchman can stay that long with Jack.

NERVES IN GOOD SHAPE? CARPENTIER PROVES IT

FRANK KITCHENS

To prove to visiting newspaper men that his nerves were not on edge, as has been claimed in several articles written about him, Carpentier went through several daring stunts at his training quarters at Manhasset, L. J. shadow-boxing while standing on top of an outdoor ring post is some stunt but Georges don't mind at all. He is here shown standing atop of the post.

The SPORTLIGHT by Grandland Rice

(Copyright 1920 New York Tribune Inc.) LIVERPOOL, ENGLAND. There was a time, back in the days of the Doherty and when the brilliant Wimbledon was at his best, that Great Britain considered the tennis crown her exclusive possession.

"THE MAN WHO HAS EVERYTHING." They figure over here that if Bill Tilden has one weakness it is the possession of too much talent. You know, I suggest, one English tennis expert, "Your Big Bill has such an extraordinary variety of strokes that I can't understand how he can decide upon his selection without getting confused. Then you get something else. And very shortly you are on the verge of a nervous break-down trying to outguess him and get set for his next big shot. But Tilden has the first guess—and this is generally the winning one."

COMPARED TO DOHERTY AND WILSON. The two Doherty and Wilding together won thirteen British turf tennis championships. This trio, with Norman Brookes, is frequently compared to the lean, lank American who has stepped forward to hold the spotlight. And when the comparisons start you get the usual differences of opinion. But the English are willing to admit that none of these could hit a tennis ball as hard as Tilden can, and that none of them had his extreme agility and speed. And certainly none of them had a greater variety of strokes. They don't believe that Tilden has the court generalship of Brookes or the Doherty, so possibly no man can have everything after all.

WEATHER INTERRUPTS CHAMPION'S TRAINING

Rain and Cold Prevent Dempsey From Working Out and He Doesn't Like It. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 25.—As long as we have a roof over our heads, we don't care if it rains a week, Kearns said today. The manager of the heavyweight champion was stressing the point that he would like to keep the "ball and chain" on Jack Dempsey.

De Palma Breaks Track Record and Gets Pole Position

INDIANAPOLIS, May 25.—Ralph de Palma, "hard-luck driver," broke the track record for the 133 cubic inch piston displacement cars on the Speedway here yesterday. He qualified for the 500 mile race to be held Memorial Day.

REGULAR WEEKLY SHOOT TO BE HELD FRIDAY-AFTERNOON

The regular weekly shoot of the Wichita Falls Gun club will be held Friday afternoon. At this shoot the 100 target tournament of 100 birds will be held.

KILBANE OUTPOINTS JACKSON IN SLOW 10-ROUND BOUT

CLEVELAND, OHIO, May 25.—Featherweight Champion Johnny Kilbane, making his first appearance in many months, outpointed Freddie Jackson, claimant of the British featherweight crown, in a ten-round no-decision fight here last night. The fight was a close range, no-decision affair. Kilbane opened up and showed some of his old-time skill. Spectators booed both boxers during the early rounds, asking when the fight started. During the ninth and tenth rounds Kilbane was jabbing and hitting Jacks at will. Had he shown the same sort of stiff barbed Jacks would not have lasted six rounds.

DEMPEY DUCKING PUBLIC AS WELL AS CARPENTIER

ATLANTIC CITY, May 25.—Jack Dempsey, like his prospective opponent, Georges Carpentier, is well barricaded from the thousands of curious fight fans who have attempted to view the world's heavyweight champion at close range. Barriers are encountered on every side. The camp, which is about two miles from the famous board walk, is in a tract of 160 acres.

MAJOR LEAGUE BITS

Yesterday's hero: Old Jack Graney. The Cleveland veteran singled in the ninth driving in the run that beat the Red Sox 2 to 1. Jack Quinn heaved a wild pitch in the ninth inning with the bases full and the Yanks lost to the Browns 7 to 4. Ruth got his 12th home run. Two runs in the ninth inning enabled the Athletics to beat the Tigers 5 to 3. Walker and Dykes hit homers. Spectacular fielding behind the loose pitching of Morridge enabled Washington to beat the White Sox 10 to 6.

MANHASSET, N. Y., May 25.—Clear weather and a bright sun were welcomed today at the Carpentier training camp. The French challenger was up early and took a stroll through woods back of his farm with Gus Wilson and his dog "Ellie." The Frenchman bundled up in a big sweater and wore heavy walking shoes to keep from taking cold.

Records Show Vast Increase in Spring Batting in Majors

NEW YORK, May 26.—The remarkable increase in spring batting in the major league baseball season is confirmed by a comparison of the record of the first month with a similar period in 1920 and 1919.

The figures for the first thirty days of the 1919, 1920 and 1921 series are as follows:

Year	National	American
1919	13	2
1920	18	11
1921	9	9

HERRMAN DENIES DEAL TO SEND GROH TO GIANTS

SPORT SHOTS by Paul W. Barkin

Hope it's not a flash in the pan.

Practice makes perfect. The boys have had a lot of practice against southerners of late and the new legions to tell. They've faced four left-handers in five days and won from two of them. That's not half bad for a club that boasts of so many left-handed swingers.

Cecil Griggs is beginning to make the fans sit up and take notice with his club. He hits the ball too hard to go hitless very long.

We've never seen the San Antonio ball park, but those fans who have stated that McDonald's crash to the left-center fence must have been terrific. They say that a ball hit that high that barrier in the fly would be good for the outfit in any way.

The Bears kept Jake Miller on the run all day. Jake captured nine fly balls. He has missed two games this season, but must come pretty near leading the league in the total number of putouts. He covers a world of territory and usually gets under three or four during the game. Too bad he's so weak on ground balls.

Jake would rather be credited with an assist than a dozen spectacular putouts. With a runner on the base, especially one in a home waiting to score on a single, he always gets himself for the buy. He claims that he's either going to get the runner or miss the ball completely. The latter has happened more often than the former this year, and it's our humble opinion that it would be advisable to get the ball before throwing it. Most outfielders do.

As usual the Airdome fans had a ninth inning thrill. A couple more blows and the decision would have been reversed. Holly twisted magnificent ball until the final chapter, but it was a good thing he entered the last round with a run lead. The crowd was starting to pick up again.

There's more real baseball humor in the Airdome than at Athletic park.

Paul Mott's temper may prove costly for the Yankees. The underhand hitter has been indefinitely suspended for his acts with the article. Tuesday, Higgins' crew made every bit of good hitting it can get.

Mays wasn't a bit keen for working his first game in Cleveland this year, and when told by Higgins to warm up by hitting a few balls, he said: "I don't want to do a thing." However, nothing happened. The fans didn't get him, neither did they applaud him. He was greeted with a strong silence. Having no one to break after his game, Mays was guarded by a police guard, but the fans left the park without paying any attention to him.

Here's the way they feel about "Huddy" Tanner in the Twilight League. There is not a Bert Wright fan who does not take a deep interest in the condition of "Huddy" Tanner of the Wichita Falls team, who was stricken by apoplexy here and had his entire game operation. The absence of Tanner from the line-up of the Spudders probably enhanced Fort Worth's chances of winning, but not a fan in the town wants to win with Tanner that way.

The Americans still have a chance to bring back an English golf cup by coping the open championship, but they'll never do it by dissolving the brand of golf they did in the amateur journey. Fred Wright of Houston, though conceded to be a sterling player, was not expected to be the last American disposed of. The big four—Evans, Jones, Oulmet and Guilford, made wretched showings. English critics now think that as a golfer, Evans is a fine journalist.

Suppose when the winner of the Dempsey-Carpenter fracas meets the next challenger the receipts will meet the million mark. The mammoth stadium now under the course of construction is not big enough to accommodate all the fans who would like to go. Fans and writers thought the high water mark had been reached in receipts at the Dempsey-Willard bout, but that mark has already been passed by several thousand though the battle is five weeks away.

Fans Give "Rabbit" Credit for Pirates' Remarkable Spurt

NEW YORK, May 26.—Baseball fans throughout the country are inclined to give Walter J. ("Rabbit") Maranville, the Pittsburgh shortstop, most of the credit for the remarkable spurt of the Pirates, now leading the National league by more than 100 points.

Maranville, however, declares that the fighting spirit, which made of the tail-end Boston Braves of 1914 a world's championship team, is responsible for the fast start of the Pirates.

The present race, it is maintained, would clinch the National league pennant for the Pirates not long after July 4.

29 COLLEGES REPRESENTED IN INTER-COLLEGIATES

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., May 26.—An inter-collegiate athletic congress was in the making today, with the gathering of the men who tomorrow will represent 29 colleges in the annual championship games of the inter-collegiate A. A. at the Harvard stadium.

From distant California two teams were on the ground—the all-star combination of the University of California and a quartette from Leland Stanford Jr. university.

By nightfall most of the 700 odd entrants were expected to be here or hereabouts.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT SOUTHERN PACIFIC IS KILLED

HOUSTON, TEXAS, May 26.—A. L. Karsendahl, assistant superintendent of the Southern Pacific lines in this district, was dead and Robert Peacock, section hand, not expected to live here today as a result of wrecking of a section railroad motor-car late yesterday near Garrison.

Five other section hands on the car were not hurt. A crowd bar jolting from the car, overturned the speeding vehicle, and caused the fatal accident.

SCHOLASTIC POPULATION OF YOUNG COUNTY INCREASES

GRAHAM, TEXAS, May 26.—Mr. H. H. Axtell, county superintendent of public instruction, has completed his census rolls and forwarded them to the state superintendent at Austin. The rolls show that there are 4,331 children of scholastic age in Young county. This is a considerable increase over last year. The Graham independent school district increased from 600 to more than 1,000 this year. South Bend, Elginville and a few other districts show a decided increase.

AGREEMENT REACHED ON CARPENTER WAGE

Compromise Made on Basis of $8.50 Per Day With Local Contractors.

Local contractors and the union carpenters have reached a settlement in the wage controversy which has been in progress for several months. At a recent conference held it was learned that a compromise was reached on the basis of $8.50 per day.

Two months ago contractors stated that they would pay but $8 per day on all new work but that they would continue to pay the union scale of $10 per day on all old work.

The carpenters stated at that time that they would continue to work on the old scale of $10 per day. Some trouble was experienced at this time and the result, union officials say, was that many union men went to other cities to seek employment.

The conference held early in the week but no information was given out by either parties. It was learned, however, Thursday that agreement had been made and although not official it is known to be correct.

NO ROUGH METHODS USED ON PRISONERS, OFFICIALS DECLARE

Reported rumors of an investigation of treatment accorded prisoners at the city police station brought forth vehement statements from Police Commissioner Bralley and Chief of Police Huff Wednesday afternoon. Huff stoutly denied the allegations made by Willie Shelton, convicted of the murder of Thomas Abscher had any semblance of truth. Shelton, in testifying, stated that he had been struck by a traffic and that after that he remembered nothing until after being taken to Seymour for safe keeping.

Investigative policeman, who stated that the police used pretty rough tactics in extracting confessions from prisoners was also vigorously assailed by Bralley and Huff.

The testimony given by Shelton, wherein it was said that he was struck by a traffic, Chief Huff does not bear out the facts of the case, according to Bralley. The prisoner, it is said led officers to several points connected with the murder after he had confessed to his part in the crime, and at no time was he treated or even threatened with violence. After making his statements to Chief Huff he is reported to have taken the chief and several other officers to the home of his sweetheart, later to a hotel where a negro implicated in the murder was working and finally to the Waggoner building, where he detailed the methods by which Abscher was murdered.

While being taken to Seymour by Detective George Jackson and Jimmy Gonzales, Shelton is alleged by the latter to have continually questioned the officers as to where they were taking him. All this, it is said, was played after he was reported to have been hit by the chief.

Any rumors of an investigation, Mr. Bralley said, were probably started by irresponsible parties who thought they had a grievance with the department and who were trying to take advantage of the situation.

"We do things open and above board here," he said, "and if any one wants to investigate the conduct of my department they are perfectly welcome to do so. We have nothing to hide. If I gave any credence to all the rumors afloat about what transpires here I'd have to have a force of clerks to help me out. Anyone who has a real investigation to make will have my support, but I don't propose to waste my time in worrying over the stories of a convicted murderer and an ex-policeman who was fired from the force."

HIGH GRADE STONE ARRIVING ON ROAD

Both Stone Quarries at Chico Are Sending Out Quantities This Week.

An excellent quality of crushed stone is arriving for the Iowa Park road project. Both the North Texas and the Lone Star quarries at Chico are sending rock this week and a sufficient amount will be on hand so that operations can be begun on full time Monday morning.

Five cars of stone were received Wednesday and the North Texas company shipped out nine more. Thursday each of the companies promised to ship 10 cars.

J. A. Wallace, an inspector, employed on the road, was sent to Chico Tuesday by the county to inspect the stone before it is shipped and in communication to officials here stated that the rock en route was the best that he has thus far seen on the county road work.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK IN VERNON PUBLIC SCHOOLS

VERNON, TEXAS, May 26.—The present week is commencement week in Vernon, and high school and training school have presented some excellent programs. The high school commencement exercises held Friday at the Holcomb training school held Monday evening.

The exercises were divided into two parts, the first being opened with music and invocation. The exercises were awarded Miss Millard McLarty and Shirley McLarty by Superintendent H. F. Sisk to every institution of higher learning in the state. These were offered on the basis of the two highest percentages in school work in the class. Diplomata were presented by R. D. L. Killough, vice president of the school board.

Members of the graduating class of the Holcomb training school held graduation exercises last night in the Methodist church. An attractive program was presented by the nineteen graduates. The baccalaureate sermon was for the Holcomb students was preached Sunday morning by Rev. S. W. Hayes at the Methodist church.

BURTON WILBARGER TEST WILL BE DRILLED DEEPER

VERNON, TEXAS, May 26.—The test on the holdings of W. G. Burton and associates of Fort Worth, south of town in section 13, block 17, will be deepened in the near future, according to Mr. Burton who is in town, and the company is contemplating putting another shaft to the location for which has not been determined.

Burton well south of town is now 550 feet deep and was abandoned about the latter part of last October. It will be taken down to 2,150 feet, the contract depth.

The Burton holdings are directly north of the Pyramid and are considered by their owners to be practically fairly favorably located. Work on the hole is expected to commence in about two weeks.

DENIES MONDAY NIGHT FIGHT WAS IN WASHINGTON CAFE

The management of the Washington cafe has denied the report, in connection with a disturbance Monday night, that the fight which resulted in the arrest of two men and a woman took place in the cafe. The fight took place on the sidewalk some distance from the cafe, it was stated. The management also says that the conduct of the trio, while in the cafe, was such as to elicit a remonstrance from the proprietor, but that the real disturbance took place outside.

WHEAT HARVEST TO BEGIN WITHIN WEEK. OUTLOOK PROMISING

VERNON, TEXAS, May 26.—Harvest in Wilbarger county is expected to start in earnest within a week or ten days, and farmers are already hard at work preparing for their "busy season." Supplies are being purchased, machinery overhauled and all put into readiness for the inauguration of cutting. Many will commence the harvest earlier in the season, and a few will begin cutting wheat.

According to the county agent, wheat in most of the localities is looking better than was anticipated several weeks ago. There will be what is considered a fair crop, and in some instances it will probably average as high as 15 or 20 bushels to the acre. This, however, will be a high yield. Most of the wheat, it is thought, will be worth cutting, although on some farms it will make practically nothing.

Wheat in the Wanderer creek section is said to be particularly good. There is a small amount of rye and barley that will also be harvested in the county.

Labor is expected to be plentiful during the coming harvesting season. Rain, however, is needed badly over Wilbarger county, although there has been a noticeable slackening of complaint on the part of farmers, due probably to the absence of extremely dry winds during the last two weeks. In some sections, also, there is a surprisingly large amount of moisture still in the ground.

Cotton in the county, where planted early, has an excellent stand. Many farmers, however, have abandoned this crop and planted corn, maize and other grains in its place. In some localities oats that bid fair to produce good crops are being plowed up and cotton planted in their stead. This will serve to increase the cotton acreage slightly above the estimate placed upon it earlier in the season.

Alfalfa in the county has had one cutting, and is nearly ready for another. Gardens, too, are doing well. It is thought there will be more peaches than at first anticipated, especially in the immediate vicinity of Vernon. The poor crop is somewhat short, but there is expected to be a plentiful supply of this fruit. There are but few apricots in Wilbarger county.
