OMAHA, May 27.—Eddie Rickenbacker, American ace, arrived here at 11:30 a. m. from Cheyenne, Wyo., in an air mail plane.

Arriving at Cheyenne the flyer circled the airfield for several minutes before attempting to land.

FOREIGN TRADE IS PLAYING IMPORTANT PART AT CAPITAL

EVERYTHING COMES BACK TO INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS, SAYS SULLIVAN.

MANY PROBLEMS HAVE PRESENTED THEMSELVES

Foreign Governments Enter Upon a Practice of Exclusiveness in Commerce.

By MARK SULLIVAN, National Political Correspondent of the New York Evening Post and the Wichita Daily Times. (Copyright 1921 by the New York Evening Post.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 27.—Everything comes back to international relations. When Herbert Hoover was made secretary of commerce he instantly put his mind upon the obvious job of that department, which is to facilitate foreign trade. The results of his first survey were reflected in a speech which he made during the first week he was in office. In that speech he said that the great underlying difficulty is "the paralysis of international trade." This is the factor which is causing economic distress in nearly every industry in the United States, and especially in the farming industry. When Secretary Hoover considered the means of curing this trouble and reviving our export trade, he encountered a situation which he has alluded to during the past few days. He discovered that several important foreign governments have entered upon a practice of exclusiveness in favor of their industries, which renders the efforts of American industries in foreign countries difficult if not futile.

This exclusiveness goes to a length of cooperation between government and industry and of government sanction for the consolidation of big business such as we in America have always opposed. As Hoover expressed it: "We now face a new phenomenon in the world's trade in the possibility of combinations of buyers of our commodities. Such combinations are enabled by the large volume purchased to greatly influence the level of prices. I do not think that any student of the movements of wheat prices in the last twelve months can ignore the material influence of various European government purchases in the depression of our wheat prices. Such important combinations not only exist for food, but also include in certain countries coal, phosphate, hides, and leather and some other commodities in which we are interested."

Depresses Wheat Market. What has really happened is that for the purpose of the purchase of American goods several foreign governments either officially or by tacit encouragement, have consolidated all their imports to the point where our American products are bought in effect by a single purchasing agent. The disadvantages to the American exporters, who must sell in a market where all the buying is done by one agency are obvious. Ultimately, the natural remedy for such a condition would be to permit our exporters to be united in a common selling agency.

Oil Situation. The example of this sort of thing, which is not familiar to our public in the British and French action with regard to oil in Mesopotamia and elsewhere. But the Mesopotamian case merely happens to be the one that has become public. The same kind of thing is practiced in other lines, and in other instances. In our own dependency, the Philippines, for example, we face a situation in which the British grant an exemption from income taxes to British companies doing business there while America exacts an income tax from the American corporations in the Philippines doing a competitive business with the British. This sort of thing," Mr. Hoover says, "represents a tendency toward militant exploitation and domination of commerce of which the whole commercial world must take notice. It can, if it goes on, become a menace to the peace of the world. These attempts to dominate, formulated by the encouragement and support of government, at once claim diplomatic support. They lead governments into the evil paths of new frictions. It means the irremediable pressure to exert intolerant national strength. It means the enforcement of this strength by the weight of government, which means armies and navies, unless something is done to forestall it, that is the kind of competition on a national scale, backed up by government, armies, and navies, that is ahead of us."

"IT'S ALL A FRAME UP," SAYS WICHITA, KAN., May 27.—"It's all a frame up," asserted J. Q. Denny, Guyton, Okla., member of the Oklahoma legislature, who has been accused in connection with the suicide of Virginia L. Lloyd at Oklahoma City last Sunday. Denny, who was on his way to Oklahoma City from his home in northwestern Oklahoma, did not attempt to explain why any one should attempt to frame him.

BURLESON HOPES TO MAKE COTTON SALES

Former Postmaster General is Touring Europe in Effort to Find Market.

By Associated Press. BERLIN, May 26.—Albert S. Burleson, former United States postmaster general, who for several weeks has been investigating the possibilities of the cotton market in Germany, started for Vienna today. Later he will visit the Saxon cotton mill districts and then return to Berlin. While in Berlin Mr. Burleson met Chancellor Joseph Wirth and other members of the cabinet, manufacturers and economic experts. He said he was convinced that Chancellor Wirth would do his best to live up to reparations conditions. Mr. Burleson was hopeful that considerable amounts of American cotton could be sold in Germany in the near future. He said the inability of German manufacturers to find a market for more than 25 per cent of the normal output because of the reduced buying power of 200,000,000 consumers in central Europe, made the situation difficult.

RADICALS SEIZE THE JACONA GOVERNMENT STATE OF MICHIGAN

MENICO CITY, May 27.—Radicals seized the municipal government of the village of Jacona, near Zamora, state of Michoacan, yesterday, and in fighting with the village authorities, killed the chief of police and wounded the mayor and several other citizens. Red flags were hoisted above several buildings, but when the radicals attempted to force their way into churches, the populace resisted so strongly that the disturbances with-
The people of Zamora, hearing of the outbreak, took up arms and rushed to the aid of the authorities at Jacona, but before fighting began federal forces intervened. Less serious demonstrations were held by radicals yesterday afternoon at Uruapan, about 25 miles southeast of Zamora. There was some fighting but no casualties. Morelia, capital of the state of Michoacan, was the scene of a serious clash between radicals and Catholics two weeks ago.

ALLIES IN ACCORD AND EUROPE NEARS A PEACEFUL BASIS

United Press Staff Correspondent.
PARIS, May 27.—With the allies once more in accord today, Europe was nearing peace.
Developments pointing to a return to normal included:
Notice from Germany that reparations due by May 31 will be sent from Berlin tomorrow.
The French chamber's vote of confidence in Premier Briand by 303 to 143 for his handling of reparations and 350 to 182 for his policy in regard to Silesia.
The dispatch of six British battalions to Silesia and reports from that region that the allies are restoring order.
A report from Rome that Foreign Minister Sforza is working on a plan of partition for Silesia, which should be satisfactory to both Great Britain and France.
It appeared today that the allied supreme council will meet at Boulogne June 3. Premier Briand, of course, will represent France. It was expected that he would make a strong fight to secure a hard giving Poland a generous slice of Upper Silesia.
BRITISH FORCES ARE ON THEIR WAY TO SILESIA
BERLIN, May 27.—British forces which are on their way to Silesia will, it is believed, proceed to points in the industrial sections of the district, for police duty.
Reports of serious clashes between German volunteer organizations and Poles continue.
A dispatch from Munich states that Bavarians who volunteered for service in Silesia are returning home.

EQUALIZATION BOARD WILL MEET MONDAY TO WORK ON VALUES

The city board of equalization will convene Monday in the city council chamber to fix taxable values for 1921.
J. M. Bland, N. O. Monroe and J. N. Zuber, each of whom has had considerable experience in valuation work of this kind, will constitute the board for this year.
The work is expected to take about two weeks, at the end of which time a date will be set for hearing of protests.
DENY APPLICATION OF THOMAS MOONEY
Did Not Deny Justice of Plea But Refusal Was on Technical Grounds.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—Judge Leuderbach today denied Attorney Byron C. Parkes' application for a writ designed to give Thomas J. Mooney a new trial.
In denying the writ, Judge Leuderbach said that had there been any possible way under the law whereby he could have given Mooney a retrial, the writ would have been granted. He did not deny the justice of the application for a new trial, but refused entirely on technical grounds, holding that the writ asked for was not applicable in this case.
Strong Opposition to Investigation of Clothing Industry
WASHINGTON, May 27.—Strong and apparently effective representations have been made to the senate investigating the men's clothing industry. As the result, the Borah and Moses resolutions authorizing a trade inquiry into all phases of the trade, both manufacturing and selling, are being held in abeyance by the senate labor committee.
The plea that if the senate would keep its hands off the garment makers and their employers would themselves adjust their differences was made. It is understood by those who argued against the inquiry.

EXCESS PROFITS TAX IS DEFENDED BY PROFESSOR COLUMBIAN UNIVERSITY

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Prof. Edwin R. Seligman, head of the department of economics, Columbia university, defended the excess profits tax today at the senate finance committee hearing. At the same time Mr. Seligman opposed the suggested sales tax, saying such a tax had failed in Germany and France.
Mr. Seligman predicted that the treasury would need $1,500,000,000 next year instead of approximately $4,000,000,000. If the nation had not adopted prohibition, he added, the treasury would find the going much easier.
Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, inquired whether Mr. Seligman was in favor of prohibition.
"I am," he replied, "but liquor is gone and for the reason that it is gone, the government is forced to look elsewhere for revenue."

Baby Bride of the Ozarks in Custody Probation Officer

FARMINGTON, MO., May 27.—Letta Parsons, "the baby bride of the Ozarks," is today in custody of the probation officer, following her trial charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of her six year old step-daughter.
A jury in juvenile court last yesterday brought in a verdict that Letta was neither "a delinquent nor irresponsible."
The court, however, took into consideration the testimony of Dr. J. L. Eaton of the insane asylum here, that Letta had the mind of an eight year old child.
In his summing up of the case Judge Truck declared that Mrs. Parsons was in need of the "care and protection" of the state and placed her in charge of the probation officer. She will not be allowed to return to her home in the Ozarks, but will be taken care of by her attorney, Jerry Buske, temporarily.
Letta last February shot and killed Lilly, her six year old step-daughter, after she had been married but six days. She declared the shotgun went off by accident. Johnny Parsons, her step-son, said the shooting occurred during a quarrel.

Expect Arrest of Several Involved in Beaumont Case

BEAUMONT, TEXAS, May 27.—Arrest of several members of the mob who whipped and tarred and feathered Dr. J. S. Paul several weeks ago and ordered him from the city, was expected at the completion of the grand jury investigation, it was learned here today.
The fact that the men who entered Paul's office and abducted him were unmasked has led officials to believe Paul will be able to identify some of the men.
Paul was said to be at his office today, busy with his regular practice.
"CHICK" EVANS WILL ENTER FRENCH GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP
LONDON, May 27.—Charles "Chick" Evans of Chicago, who participated in the British amateur golf championship at Hoylake but was eliminated, left here today by airplane for Paris. He will enter the French golf championship.

FIVE PERSON KILLED BY TORNADO IN IOWA MUCH DAMAGE DONE

George Kramer, a farmer near Parkersburg, was killed when lightning struck his home.
Robert Able and Gus Magnuson, both of Garner, were drowned in Clear Lake when the cyclone toppled over their fishing skiff.
The wind hurled the automobile in which Frank McCall of Menzies was driving off the road and killed him. John Menzies was killed when the wind struck a bridge on which he was working near Plymouth.
The wind blew Mrs. Art Debet of Manley into a clump of trees and she is expected to die.

SHIPOWNERS DECLINE OFFER OF SETTLEMENT

Secretary Davis Wants Shipping Board to Make Agreement Regardless of Result.
WASHINGTON, May 27.—The American Steamship Owners association has refused to subscribe to the agreement on rules and working conditions reached between Secretary Davis and representatives of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, H. H. Raymond, president of the association, informed Secretary Davis today.
Secretary Davis later conferred with Chairman Benson of the shipping board, members of the board's industrial relations board, and the marine engineers. It was indicated that the labor secretary was making an effort to induce the shipping board to enter into an agreement with the seamen regardless of the action taken by the ship owners' association.

Mrs. Leeds Will Not Be Called in Stillman's Case

NEW YORK, May 27.—Mrs. Florence H. Leeds, named by Mrs. James A. Stillman in her answer to her husband's suit for divorce, will not be called to the stand by Mrs. Stillman's attorneys at the hearings which will start next week.
This was determined today at a conference of Mrs. Stillman's attorneys.
New evidence, which they have recently secured, was of such importance and value that they felt a testimony they might obtain from Mrs. Leeds would no longer be of major importance to their case.
Mrs. Stillman appeared at the office of Stanchfield and Levy, her chief counsel, shortly before noon today.
It was believed that today's conference would include a proposition to investigate criminal action against Stillman in connection with his alleged relations with Mrs. Leeds and the stipulation made by Stillman in the proposed separation agreement—that Mrs. Stillman absent herself from the United States for a period of years immediately after the settlement should become effective.
Another matter that was expected to be discussed was that of the numerous offers Mrs. Stillman is said to have received from dramatic and movie concerns.

EXPECT SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE IN PAPER MILLS

ALBANY, N. Y., May 27.—Settlement of strike of workmen in many of the paper plants in the United States, Canada and New Foundland, may be brought about early next week by submitting the question of wages and working conditions to arbitration, it was learned here today.
Jeremiah T. Carey, president of the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers, which, with the International Lin. Substitutes and Paper Mill Workers union, includes all branches of the paper making industry, said today that a group of manufacturers had submitted a proposition to arbitrate and added that there would be a union conference in this city next Tuesday.
The International Paper company is not included, said Mr. Carey, but has declared for the "open shop."
DENIES PAPER COMPANY
DECLARES FOR OPEN SHOP
NEW YORK, May 27.—The statement of President Jeremiah T. Carey of the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers in Albany today, that the International Paper company had declared for an open shop policy was denied by officials of the company here.
They declined to make any statement.

SETTLING THE ALLOWANCE QUESTION FOR CHILDREN

Give your child an allowance—There is one thing that I particularly enjoy every time I visit your lovely home, remarked one of my friends. "I never hear money matters discussed among the children. Perhaps I notice this in contrast to so many families where the children scarcely ever see their father without 'Father, give me a nickel' or 'When can I have that dime?'"

It is very simple. You see, we are all business people, even little Charles has his very own ten cents every week. We have a family council and decide the amount of allowances according to the age and needs of the children. This is spending money, not wages, for we all agree that nothing but love can pay for loving sacrifice, so we all contribute our help to the home without pay.

MUNITIONS ON HAND, SUFFICIENT TO MEET CASE OF EMERGENCY

COULD SUPPLY ARMY FOR WAR UNTIL PRODUCTION IS RESUMED.

REPLACING EXPLOSIVES IS THE BIG PROBLEM

Men Can Be Mobilized and Trained Faster Than Munitions Can be Produced.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., May 27.—The United States has on hand a reserve stock of munitions as a result of the world war sufficient to supply the army in case of war until production could be resumed and brought to full capacity. Col. C. L. H. Ruggles, ordnance department U. S. A., told the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in session at Rock Island arsenal today.

Experience in the world war showed, he said, that men could be mobilized and trained faster than munitions could be produced and that it took practically twenty months for the ordnance department to catch up with the army in the field. Allowing for delay, and estimating the consumption of munitions at the same rate as in the late war, experts agreed, he said, that the present reserve is sufficient, if maintained, for the next war which the cologne added is bound to come.

The present problem, he said, is to replace explosives as they deteriorate and other material as it becomes obsolete; keep up with or ahead of other nations in the development of new weapons; and keep up-to-date plans for the quickest possible utilization of government and private facilities in munitions production in the event of war.

"I think that few men will assert," said Colonel Ruggles, "in view of the many lessons of our own short history, that the United States has fought its last war. Inevitable as war is, no machinery has been devised yet that will prevent or even limit their frightfulness. The last was the most frightful ever fought and the next war between major powers, in all probability, will be much worse. It is possible now to destroy the whole population of a large city by poison gas dropped from aircraft, and this is only one of the many possible forms of destruction that might be employed by an unscrupulous enemy."

The present munitions reserve is estimated to be worth $1,500,000, Colonel Ruggles said. To replace this smokeless powder and other ammunition containing explosives every 15 years, as it deteriorates, and the other munitions every 30 years would cost $56,000,000 annually, he said. To do this must be added $1,000,000 annually to maintain the stocks in storage and another $1,000,000 for research and development work to keep equipment designs up to date.

In the field of research the ordnance department has been ordered to develop mobile artillery with a 50 per cent increase in range, without any material increase in weight; and explosives which will be both flashless and more smokeless than those used in the world war. Safer fuses to elim-nate premature explosions are also being experimented with, he added. Criticizing the failure of congress to appropriate any money for the purchase of munitions until ten weeks after war with Germany was declared, Colonel Ruggles said "the ideal arrangements would be that the notice in the daily papers of the declaration of war would be notice to plants previously selected and furnished with plans to start manufacturing."

BELIEVE CURARE CAUSE OF DEATH OF THOUSANDS OF SOUTH TEXAS CATTLE

HOUSTON, May 27.—Curare, a natural poison growing in an unknown tropical weed, was believed to have caused the death of thousands of cattle in the Gulf coast country, according to City Bacteriologist Edith Loth here today. Plant experts are now trying to locate the weed.

Cattle have become afflicted with a disease known as "down in the back" and have died quickly without owners learning the cause. Examination of the stomachs of several cattle disclosed the poison.

RAIN IN KANSAS WORTH MILLIONS OF DOLLARS TO GROWING GRAIN CROPS

TOPEKA, KAN., May 27.—Rains that fell over Kansas Thursday and Thursday night were worth millions of dollars to the wheat and corn crops, agricultural experts here said. Storms that accompanied the rains did much damage to telephone lines and trees in some localities.

Liberal, Wichita, Dodge City, El Dorado, Wellington and Hutchinson. All in the "wheat belt," reported precipitation ranging from light showers to half-inch rains. Topeka received .64 of an inch.

GEORGE WHEELER TO TRIAL IN DALLAS NEXT THURSDAY

DALLAS, May 27.—George Wheeler, alias Charles E. Gaines, arrested and returned from Indianapolis on a charge of participating in the Jackson street postal robbery here, will go on trial in federal court Thursday. Henry Swift, district attorney, announced today.

ONLY SIX COUNTRIES THAT CAN MAKE WAR SAYS NEWTON BAKER

CLEVELAND, May 27.—Declaring that "every consideration impels us to hope that the world has seen its last general war," Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, in the commencement address to graduates of Case School of Applied Science yesterday added that "we are too near the disillusionment of 1914 to count with much confidence upon any of our old reliance."

"There are only six nations that can make war," Mr. Baker declared. "They alone know how to make and use the appliances."

"They alone are organized sufficiently in industry, transportation, production and finance to make and sustain a modern war."

"War, therefore, can not devastate the earth unless some of these nations participate in it. Indeed, without their consent and assistance, war is impossible."

"Modern war comes with incredible swiftness and its very nature makes it general. The underlying cause of the trouble is economic and the world is so interlaced economically that the effect of a disturbance anywhere is felt everywhere."

"College men have two duties," Mr. Baker said, "preparation for war and the struggle for peace."

EXODUS OF MENNONITES FROM CANADA DEPENDS ON SALE OF PROPERTY

WINNIPEG, May 27.—Exodus of 20,000 Mennonites from Canada to Mexico will depend upon their ability to obtain $7,500,000 in cash for their 20,000 acres of land, horses, cattle and farm implements, J. P. Wall, an elder, stated today. It is understood that a syndicate of Florida bankers is considering purchasing the property of the sect.

The Mennonites demand cash while the syndicate has made time offers. A contract for transportation to Mexico has been closed with the Atchafalaya and Santa Fe railroads, the elder stated.

Mennonites have been negotiating with the Mexican government, which has promised them exemption from military service, the right to establish their own schools and to teach German therein.

NEW MACHINE GUN DEVELOPED BY ARMY

Capable of Firing Bullet Which Will Penetrate Armor Plate of Battle Tanks.

ROCK ISLAND, ILL., May 27.—The United States army has developed a .50 calibre machine gun capable of firing a bullet which, at 200 yards, will penetrate the one-inch armor plate of battle tanks. Major Lee O. Wright, army ordnance department, announced today at the annual convention of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

The new weapon is an outgrowth of the war, he said, when fighting tanks were armored to resist the .30 calibre bullet of the rifle and machine guns then in use.

The .50 calibre machine gun fires a bullet weighing 400 grains, as compared to the 150 grains of the standard .30 calibre ammunition. The .50 calibre cartridge weighs one-quarter of a pound a piece and the heat generated by their discharge is so great that the gun's water jacket uses three quarts of water for every 100 rounds fired.

STILL WAITING FOR CASING TO SETTLE IN NETHERTON TEST, RUN BAILER THURSDAY

On the R. E. Moore land one and one-half miles east of the old Texhoma field, the Reising trustee No. 1 well has set and cemented the casing on top of the sand at 1528, but failed to shut off the water. They will set a collapsible canvas packer to shut the water off and give the sand a thorough testing out.

The Jones Oil and Gas company on the No. 4 Crompter are drilling at 958 feet.

Stump Oil and Gas company have struck a very good gas sand at 1375 feet in their No. 1 Crompter and are setting two casing strings.

The J. I. Staley well on the D. T. Coffin, which ceased to flow the last few days on account of mud in the bottom, which was not bailed thoroughly, shows very little water. The company is now standing and trying to get it to complete bailing.

The Rathke Drilling company well on the Netherton is still waiting for the casing to settle. The bailer was run Thursday and showed up to the company's expectations.

RACIAL TENSION IS HIGH AT HUGO, OKLA.

Policeman is Wounded by Two Negroes and a Negro on Thursday Night.

By United Press. HUGO, OKLA., May 27.—Racial tension growing out of wounding of Policeman Pitts by two negroes and a negro man last night continued high today with posse 2401 including hundreds of armed citizens searching for the blacks and maintaining that they will avenge the attack.

Pitts' skull was crushed when he attempted to take a gun from the negro and it was feared he would die. Several posse members over the county are searching for the assassins, ransacking and plundering negroes' houses, a race riot threatening. Negroes were chased from the houses.

A lynching is feared if the negroes wanted are caught and outside police have been called in to assist in keeping order.

DEMPSEY HAS NO USE FOR VETERAN TRAINER

Manager and Secretary Are Champions' Constant Directors and Companions

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 27.—Back in the old days of glove fighting, heavyweight champions and contenders for the title trained under the expert direction of a veteran conditioner of fighters—a trainer usually with years of experience. Of the latter Billy Delaney, a San Francisco veteran, was one of the old time trainers of heavyweight champions. James J. Jeffries, Jack Johnson and James Corbett were conditioned for championship battles under his expert direction. Tim McGrath, also of San Francisco, is another of the old time handlers. Later came Jimmy De Forest of Long Branch, N. J., who had charge of Jack Dempsey's camp at Toledo two years ago.

But a new order of things has come in the career of Dempsey. The champion is training under the watchful eyes of Jack Kearns, his manager, and Teddy Hayes, his secretary.

Hayes is Dempsey's constant companion. When the champion arises at 7 o'clock for his daily spin on the rods, Hayes with two Belgian police dogs trots along. During the gymnasium workouts in the afternoon, Hayes is at the champion's side holding up weights and timing his punches.

Hayes, who is 27, is a new type of trainer. During the war he taught boxing to 8,700 sailors at the great naval training station. He engaged in professional boxing around Milwaukee for six years before going out on the Pacific coast to play tennis parts in motion pictures. While there he became attached to Dempsey and has been with the champion since that time. He is a companion in all that the word implies.

"I don't know what I'd do without Hayes around," Dempsey said. "He is the most wonderful helper I've ever had."

INDICT THREE KANSAS BRICK CORPORATIONS

Charged With Having Entered Into Agreement to Advance Price of Vitriol Brick.

HUTCHINSON, KAN., May 27.—Three Kansas brick corporations today stood charged by grand jury indictment with having entered into an agreement with a local business man and a Kansas editor to advance the cost of vitriol brick for local hard road building.

The indictment named: Pittsburg Paving Brick company with Robert Nash and R. D. Calvin; Coffeyville Vitriol Brick and Tile company with A. W. Scullin, G. E. Mosher and E. R. Dick; Buffalo Brick company with C. W. Roberts and George S. Walsh; also C. W. Oswald, Hutchinson business man, and Will Townley, editor of a Great Bend newspaper.

The indictment charges the corporations with having entered into an agreement whereby, in return for promoting a benefit district for an "improvement" of paved roads, the company would advance the cost of the brick used to pay for the same. The agreement was to pay Oswald and Townley three cents and one cent on every square yard of brick sold.

Checks totaling nearly $5,000 were specified as having been paid the two men in the summer of 1920.

START INVESTIGATION OF "GET RICH QUICK"

So-Called Service Men's Organizations Subject of Inquiry by Senate.

By HERBERT W. WALKER, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Investigation of charges that several so-called service men's organizations are collecting large sums of money for private gain under the guise of helping veterans was started today by the house rules committee. The charges that some of these organizations are "get rich quick" schemes for promoters were made by Representative Royal Johnson, South Dakota, himself a veteran.

A resolution presented to the committee by Johnson names four organizations. The John Curtis Publishing company, New York; the National Service Bureau, New York; J. H. Oppenheimer, manager, and the Publicity Underwriting corporation, New York; Eugene Jess, president.

THE ADVENTURE OF THE ABBEY GRANGE

By A. CONAN DOYLE

Copyright, 1921, by Harper & Bros. Published by special arrangement with The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The story thus far:

Inspector Hopkins called on Holmes to help him at the Abbey Grange in Kent. There Holmes and Watson went to find that Sir Eustace Brackenstall had been murdered the night before. Holmes, and said it was the work of the three Randall, father and sons, a notorious star-burglar. He was assured by Lady Brackenstall, now that she was able to talk. Holmes saw Lady Brackenstall, a beautiful woman with a well over one eye, which her maid, Theresa, her nurse since babyhood, had been blind. She said she had never seen a man like her father, as Sir Eustace was a drunkard.

She said that the night before he went to bed early, leaving her reading downstairs. Her maid was the only person besides her husband and her self in that part of the house. She went into the dining-room to see that everything was locked, and found a big French window open. In it stood an elderly man, behind him two young men. He was looking at her, and she had long when she came to she found he had torn down the bell cord which hung in the kitchen. She had a fight with a cudge, entered the room and the next day she was found dead, killed by the oldest burglar. She faintly left and when she got her mouth free she screamed for help, which she did in the dining-room. The murdered man was the same man who had been seen at the Abbey Grange.

Holmes was impressed with the fact that the burglars must have known the habits of the house to dare pull down the bell cord. He thought it would waken the servants. The burglars took only a few pieces of plate. There were three glasses and a bottle of wine on the table. There was wine in all, but dregs in only one.

This struck Holmes as strange, so strange that he returned to Abbey Grange after starting away. He examined the dining-room again. He found the bell rope had been cut near the ceiling by someone who climbed up to get it. He questioned Theresa, and from her learned that Lady Brackenstall had met her husband shortly after arriving in England from Australia a year before, but that he had always been brutal to her.

PART FIVE

Lady Brackenstall was reclining on the same couch, but looked brighter than before. She was talking to us, and began once more to foment the bruises upon her mistress' brow.

"I hope," said the lady, "that you have not come to cross-examine me again."

"No," Holmes answered, in his gentlest voice. "I will not cause you any unnecessary trouble. Lady Brackenstall, you are a very nice woman. I will make things easy for you. I am convinced that you are a guinea-pig, and if you will treat me as a friend and trust me, you may find that I will justify your trust."

"What do you want me to do?"

"To tell the truth."

"No, no, Lady Brackenstall—it is no use. You may have heard of my little reputation right or wrong. I will stage it all on the fact that your story is an absolute fabrication."

Mistress and maid were both staring at Holmes with pale faces and frightened eyes.

"You are an impudent fellow!" cried Theresa. "Do you mean to say that my mistress has told a lie?"

Holmes rose from his chair.

"Have you nothing to tell me?"

"I have told you everything."

"Think once more, Lady Brackenstall. Would it not be better to be frank?"

For an instant there was hesitation in her beautiful face. Then she made a strong thought caused it to set like a mask.

"I have told you all I know."

Holmes rose, but he turned and shrugged his shoulders. He said nothing and without another word we left the room and the house. There was a pond in the park, and to this my friend led the way. It was frozen over, but a single hole was left for the convenience of a solitary swan. Holmes gazed at it, and then passed on to the lodge gate. There he scribbled a short note for Stanley Hopkins, and left it with the lodge-keeper.

"It may be a bit, or it may be a mis- but we are bound to do something for friend Hopkins, just to justify this second visit," said he. "I will not quite take him into my confidence yet. I think our next scene of operations must be the shipping office of the Adelaide-Southampton line which stands at the end of Pall Mall. If I remember right, there is a second line of steamers which connect South Australia with England, but we will draw the larger cover first."

Holmes' car sent in the manager. Insured instant attention, and he was not long in acquiring all the information he needed. In June of '98, only one of their lines had reached a home port. It was the Rock of Gibraltar, their largest and best boat. A reference to the passenger list showed that Miss Fraser, of Adelaide, with her maid had made the voyage in her. The boat was now on her way to Australia somewhere in the south of the Bues Canal. Her officers were the Bues, sailing in two days' time from Southampton. He lived at Sydenham, but he was likely to be in that morning for instructions, if we cared to wait for him.

"No, Mr. Holmes had no desire to see him, but would be glad to know more about his record and character. There was not an officer in the fleet to touch him. As to his character, he was reliable on duty, but a wild, desperate fellow off the deck of his ship—hot-headed, excitable, but loyal, honest, and kind-hearted. That was the pith of the information with which Holmes left the office of the Adelaide-Southampton company. Thence he drove to Scotland Yard, but, instead of entering, he sat in his cab with his brows drawn down, lost in profound thought. Finally he drove round to the Charing Cross telegraph office, sent off a message, and then, at last, we made for Baker Street once more.

"No, I couldn't do it, Watson," said he, as we reentered our room. "Once that warrant was made out nothing on earth would save him. Once or twice in my career I feel that I have done more real harm by my discovery of the criminal than ever he had done by his crime. I have learned certain now. I had rather play tricks with the law of England than with my own conscience. Let us know a little more before we act."

Before evening, we had a visit from Inspector Stanley Hopkins. Things were not going very well with him. "I believe that you are a wizard, Mr. Holmes. I really do sometimes think that you have powers that are not human. Now, how on earth could you know that the stolen silver was at the bottom of that pond?"

"But you told me to examine it."

"You got it, then?"

"Yes, I got it."

"I am very glad if I have helped you."

"But you haven't helped me. You have made the affair far more difficult. What sort of burglars are they who steal silver, and then throw it into the nearest pond?"

"It was certainly rather eccentric behavior. I was merely going on the idea that if the silver had been taken by persons who did not want it—merely took it for a blind—as it were, then they would naturally be anxious to get rid of it."

"But why should such an idea cross your mind?"

"Well, I thought it was possible. When they came out through the French window, they would be met with one tempting little hole in the ice, right in front of their nose. Could there be a better hiding-place?"

"Ah, a hiding-place—that is better!" cried Stanley Hopkins. "Yes, yes, I see it all now! It was early, there were folk upon the roads, they were afraid of being seen with the silver, so they sank it in the pond, intending to return for it when the coast was clear. Excellent, Mr. Holmes—that is better than your idea of a blind."

"I have no doubt that my own ideas were quite wild, but you must admit that they have ended in discovering the silver."

"Yes, sir—yes, it was all your doing. But I have had a bad setback."

"A setback?"

"Yes, Mr. Holmes. The Randall gang were arrested in New York this morning."

"Dear me, Hopkins! That is certainly rather against your theory—must they have committed a murder in Kent last night?"

"It is fatal, Mr. Holmes—absolutely fatal. Still, there are other gangs of burglars."

three besides the Randalls, or it may be some new gang of which the police have never heard."

"Quite so, it is perfectly possible. What are you off?"

"Yes, Mr. Holmes, there is no rest for me until I have got to the bottom of the business. I suppose you have no hint to give me?"

"I have given you one."

"Which?"

"Well, I suggested a blind."

"But why, Mr. Holmes, why?"

"Ah, that's the question, of course. But I commend the idea to your mind. You might possibly find that there was something in it. You won't stop for dinner? Well, good-bye, and let us know how you get on."

Dinner was over, and the table cleared before Holmes alluded to the matter again. He had lit his pipe and had his slipper feet to the cheerful blaze of the fire. Suddenly he looked at his watch.

"I expect developments, Watson."

"When?"

"Now—within a few minutes. I dare say you thought I acted rather badly to Stanley Hopkins just now?"

"I trust your judgment."

"A very sensible reply. Watson. You must look at it this way: what I know is unofficial. I have the right to private judgment, but he has none. He must disclose all or be in a traitor to his service. In a doubtful case I would not put him in so painful a position, and so I reserve my information until my own mind is clear upon the matter."

"But when will that be?"

"The time has come. You will now be present at the last scene of a remarkable little drama."

Tomorrow—The Adventure of the Abbey Grange, concluded.

Professor Budlong Puts Tanlac To Test

PROF. C. J. BUDLONG, Manchester, N. H.

"It's an actual fact, I'm in good health for the first time in thirty years and I owe my present splendid condition to Tanlac and nothing else." was the emphatic statement of Prof. C. J. Budlong, well-known and highly respected citizen of Manchester, N. H., residing at 42 School street.

"Practically all my life I had had rheumatism, and when I say rheumatism I mean every word of it. It was all over my body and especially bad in my feet and legs, and there were times when I couldn't get from my bed to my chair without help. And from the time I was a boy I couldn't sit down and eat a good meal without being in misery afterwards and I would have terrible pains around my heart and frequent attacks of palpitation and dizziness."

"I had a stubborn case of constipation, was troubled awfully with blind headaches and hardly knew what sleep was. My suffering had almost made a complete nervous wreck of me and, I was so weak I wasn't worth a nickel as far as work was concerned. I thought my troubles had a life-long grip on me and was about as discouraged as a man ever gets."

"Well, before I had finished my first bottle of Tanlac I realized it was different from anything I ever tried. It suited my case exactly. And now for almost the first time since I can remember I can eat anything I want and digest it. I haven't an ache or a pain and have gained fifteen pounds in weight. I just feel good all over and an full of life and energy these days. Every where I go I talk Tanlac. It hasn't an equal."

"Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Miller Drug Co., in Electric by Tarleton Drug Store, in Burkburnett by West End Drug Co., and by all leading druggists."

BIG GREEDY NATIONS LOOK UPON CHINA AS THANKSGIVING FEAST

PATIENTLY WAIT FOR ITS DELIVERY ON TABLE FOR THEIR CARVING.

CHINA NOW POLITICALLY LIKE GIGANTIC MADHOUSE

Two National Governments Exist, Each Declaring Itself the Only Real Thing.

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL, Special Correspondent of the Wichita Daily Times.

CANTON, May 27.—For going on a hundred years now the big and greedy nations of Christendom have looked upon China as a Thanksgiving turkey, richly fattened for their plates and in due time certain to be brought to table for their carving; they, the meanwhile, helping themselves to rich samples of the stuffing.

It is not a story to swell with pride the bosom of him that believes too much in civilization. England's two puppet governments, the pro-Japanese China Shantung, and the exalted and televising railroad concessions, the rotten incident about the Hsiao-tung peninsula, the chaotic far from pretty now in print. Not only so, but it seems to be a fact that in the rear of all these excursions in international piracy lurks the redistribution, and when that old boy starts in which his fall to even things up he doesn't seem to care where he hits. Just at the present time he is hitting us all for deprivations most of us had nothing to do with, and the sting of his blows is bitter.

It is this way. Mankind at large is short of many things that it needs for its daily life. Some of mankind is so short of these things that it is willing to give up anything in a part of which we have lately been fighting famine, looks upon the world with the greatest of all undeveloped resources. The world wants China products, present and potential. It wants China coal, iron, steel, cotton, but power, it wants likewise China development to make the wobbling balances of exchange come somewhere near normal.

Therefore we have the far-famed "Consortium," which is a big, roundabout scheme for a thing as simple as usury. Certain financial interests in the United States, France, Great Britain and Japan get together and hatch out a scheme to lend to China much money wherever China may develop its vast resources, get out its iron, coal, wheat, cotton, etc., and then the Consortium is to return for the loans the bonds that may lay steadily in the hands of the wobbling exchange balance.

But first there must be settled conditions in China, or what can be called anyway, and instead of settled conditions China is politically like a gigantic madhouse. The national governments, North China and South China, each declaring itself to be the only real thing, so-called civil war between these bandits that are named soldier, looting and burning, most of the provinces operating after their own sweet will, and altogether chaos in a spree.

This the grave and reverend Consortium views with disapproval. It polishes China that these rows must be settled and these quarrelling factions must be united. In response China gives the Consortium the swift kick and says, on with the dance, and it is on.

The world was none of the things it looks upon China as a Thanksgiving turkey, richly fattened for their plates and in due time certain to be brought to table for their carving; they, the meanwhile, helping themselves to rich samples of the stuffing.

many sterling and attractive traits, are about ready to despair. All of which the international pirates insured for us when they forced upon China at the point of the gun, introduced graft, rent the country in the search for stuffing, in the eyes of all the world sharpened their knives for the full feast to come, and founded the doctrine that in dealing with Orientals we can lie, cheat, steal, plunder and murder, set faction against faction, bribe, and play the devil's own tricks and all will be well.

The Consortium, a foreign influence, for its own profit, urges China to unite, and other foreign influences, for their own profit, keep it divided.

Each of the provinces has a civil or military governor, or both, appointed by the federal government, and supposed (by a fiction) to be responsible thereto. One or the other, and it is usually the military man, waxes in power, becomes a kind of satrap, gets up his own band of mercenaries, or soldiers, defies all other authority and goes his way under the tutelage and encouragement and often financial support of some interested foreigners, true to the traditions of a century of western duplicity about China.

This is not always the case. Sometimes the governor is incorruptible and unselfish. But there are enough crooked bribe-takers to keep the maels from running.

The most progressive of the provinces, the most enlightened, democratic and hopeful is Kwangtung, which capital is this wonder-working city of Canton, where the magic of the steam roller and the cement mixer are making the old Aladdin staff of iron. To show that the chaos of China, though deplorable and to the rest of the world costly, is not really Chinese but due to foreign interference.

ence, and to show at the same time that it is not hopeless but curable, take one incident from Kwangtung. Until last November this province has been plagued, off and on with a procession of satraps, real, imaginary or self-imagined. With one of these five eminent foreign firms made a compact by which 90 per cent of the provincial means of transportation and communication was to be delivered into their hands for their own private profit.

Here was stuffing that dripped with gravy and richness. Before it could be swallowed, the people revolted. Ming, who is a patriotic sentiment on the level, and Dr. Sun Yat-sen, who is also on the level and one of the most remarkable men in China. They chased the satrap, set up a national government at Canton, kicked the five firms down stairs and threw their contract after them.

The five firms and the interests behind them immediately became the government's deadly enemies and will continue so to be. But at least General Ming and Dr. Sun Yat-sen had established a principle, new in China's public affairs, wholesome and becoming popular, that nothing is to be done that is hostile to public interest. The people of Kwangtung want Ming and Sun Yat-sen. The offended foreign capitalists are agitating the Consortium might as well go play marbles and plead for peace.

It must have been in a spirit of prophecy that the Chinese of other generations called outsiders "foreign devils."

To cite one other illustration from many, nothing else would help China so much now as the reform of its currency conditions. It needs to go upon a gold basis and it needs to have its currency shifted. Foreign banking influences steadily defeat both reforms. Foreign banking houses make money out of the present silver basis; they make money out of the currency conditions by which the money of one province does not circulate in another. It is reason enough; the bad currency conditions are entrenched and buttressed in foreign profits.

But there is one foreign power that could change all this. One foreign power could unite the north and the south, put an end to the confusion, help to establish an enduring popular government and shove China upon its eventual road to peace and development. The United States of America could do all this, because it is the only foreign power that all Chinamen, north and south, hold in respect, the only power stronger than bribery, graft and chicanery. The United States of America does not entertain the slightest suspicion that it possesses this great power because the United States of America prefers to know nothing about itself outside of its own frontiers, but its power exists, nevertheless, just as I have stated. Without exploiting anybody, bribing anybody, swindling anybody or showing guns at anybody, it could by friendly offices with both sides, and thus by the exercise of its moral influence unite China, open these resources and spread the peace.

It will be. It will not. It will trundle right along on its good old beaten path with a ton of wool over each eye fooled and led along in its foreign policy by the conventional axioms and by spurious morality of the stuffing grabbers and opium sellers. It always has done this and probably it always will.

Save that Wheat Crop with the Cletrac

Don't take a chance with the weather this year. Save that wheat the quickest, surest and cheapest way—with a Cletrac. Recall the wet harvest days of 1918-19, when horses and wheel type tractors bogged and mired in muddy fields when over-tire grain wasted—causing a loss of thousands of dollars to Texas farmers. A Cletrac is the wheat grower's best insurance. Its broad tank type tracks carry it over soft or boney ground, pull two 4-foot binders with ease. Its steady speed keeps the knives cutting a full clean swath. And, Cletrac will keep going 24 hours a day if necessary. Get a Cletrac on the job now—save that wheat—and after harvest let it turn right in and break the stubble, adding a bigger yield to next year's crop. Phone or write your nearest distributor today about immediate delivery.

WICHITANS MAY NOT BRING HOME ANY OF CUPS FROM DALLAS

Inability to keep his long tea hours bounds caused Tom Cochran, local aspirant for the state golf championship, to be eliminated Thursday in the second round of the state tournament at Dallas. Cochran won his first round, defeating J. H. Powers of Dallas, two up and one to play. In the afternoon he was opposed by J. J. Bush of Dallas, who defeated him, three up and two. Cochran won the first hole with a beautiful drive to the edge of the green, rolling down for a three. On the second hole he was out of business, and Bush squeaked the match, taking the lead when Cochran's drive on the third hole also went out of the lot. After having the match, Cochran missed a short putt, and lost the fifth, giving his opponent a two-hole lead that was not only held, but increased. In the second flight, Bud Golding of Wichita Falls was still in the running Friday morning, having defeated J. H. Harrod of Dallas and Frank Cullinan of Dallas in his two matches Thursday. In the consolation match of the same flight, W. E. Norton and G. F. Reppy were still to be eliminated Friday morning.

There is said to be some explaining of the loss of the Wichita Falls team from Dallas. One of them is alleged to have played under an assumed name at Dallas, and the scandal will be thoroughly aired. The offending Wichita turned in a score of 132.

VACATION STARTS FOR 6,000 CHILDREN

Many of Teachers Expect to Attend Special Schools During the Summer Months.

Some six thousand school kids in Wichita Falls gave whoops of glee Friday afternoon and prepared themselves for three long months of solid bliss, for at 3 o'clock an official edict decreeing that the public schools be closed was given out by Superintendent Lee Clark, and vacation time set in with full force.

Final examinations in the ward schools were held Thursday afternoon and yearly grade cards made out in the evening and Friday morning. High school and junior high tests were given earlier in the week and grades finished up Thursday, while part of the time was devoted to the checking in of text books.

Practically all of the teachers employed in the city at present will leave within the next few days on vacation, to fill teaching positions elsewhere for the summer or to study in summer schools. This latter class will total between 50 and 75. Superintendent Clark believes, and is a compliment to the teaching force as a whole. The willingness of the instructors to keep up studies during the hot summer months is indicative of their desire to offer the local schools efficient teaching next winter, Mr. Clark states, and is tangible proof that the teaching standards of the schools are being improved.

At the close of the school year there are 130 instructors in the public school system, and if over 50 of these continue their education it will give Wichita Falls a record worth boasting of. These 130 have been doing the work usually done by 160. The half day sessions used throughout the schools having accounted for this, but next year the teaching force will number at least 160. The addition of new rooms to present schools and the erection of several new buildings will necessitate the increase.

WILL BAR PEDDLERS FROM TRUCK MARKET

Cannot Make Purchases Hereafter Until Housewives' Needs Have Been Supplied.

The truck growers and the Civic League officials have reached the definite understanding that hereafter no produce will be sold at the open market to the peddlers until after the retail trade has been entirely cared for. Until Tuesday of this week there had been no hitch whatever in this promising undertaking of the Civic League. However, at Tuesday morning's market the street peddlers bought up the entire offerings before the retail trade had arrived.

For fear that they might be running afoul of the law in refusing to sell to the peddlers, the truck growers sold them the day's produce supply. Since that time they have consulted lawyers and learn that they are well within their legal rights in refusing to sell to the peddlers.

The Civic League, in fostering the open market, had in mind the developing of a local industry as well as supplying the homes of this city with the produce at the savings of the middlemen's profits. The support of local housewives had been all that could be desired up to this week when the peddlers cornered the supply.

The peddlers will no longer interfere, according to the truck growers and the Civic League officers, who met Thursday and determined to keep the market an open market just as long as the women of Wichita Falls will support it.

SENIORS BEQUEATH CARES TO JUNIORS

Fun Dominates Annual Class Ceremony at High School Thursday Evening.

A radical departure from the usual method of procedure, on class night was taken by the high school seniors when they met in the school auditorium Thursday evening to bequeath the cares and worries of next year on the juniors and to make merry in one of the closing social functions of the school year.

Humor and fun were the keynote of the whole event, the happy side of every situation being brought out with all the force possible. A novelty play, in which each member of this year's class was presented with a "gift" furnished the main attraction of the evening and afforded no small measure of amusement, even to those who were the recipients. Marjorie Duffin, Mlle., on the program as "You'd Be Surprised," was master of ceremonies and was supported by twenty other seniors, all of whom appeared in roles inconsistent with the general haughtiness and dignity of a high school graduate.

The "gift" came in the form of welcome legacies which had pointed bearings on some weakness of the individual to whom it was given. Those who assisted Miss Duffin in the play were Edna Kay, Claude Robinson, Ruth Smith, Raymond Brannon, Marshall Evans, Homer Pope, Aubrey Hanowsky, Rosa May Scott, Monterey Lewis, Fay Boyd, Minnie Bell Sewell, New Wick, Mary Underwood, Anna Ryan, Ewing Watkins, Katy Simmons, Lorraine Phillips, Charles Williams, Marvin Jordan.

In addition to the play a piano solo was rendered by Ena Hverton; Ebon Keith entertained the crowd with a vocal solo and Marguerite Fisher gave a reading which showed a "sweet young thing" in her bearing her commencement speech.

The senior mantle was thrown on the shoulders of the juniors by Jewell Whitley and Fay Boyd, representing the upper classmen, and Edward Kadane and Mable Brooks, of the junior class.

Starch factories at Oswego, N. Y., and Glen Cove, Long Island, are the largest in the world.

Do You Know a Baby Sick With Constipation

Tell the mother to give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

NO thoughtful mother with children in the house will risk being without a good, reliable laxative. It will save many a serious illness, many a doctor's visit.

When the baby cries and is fretful, when the boy has no appetite and won't play, when the girl is listless and nervous, when there are complaints of headaches and colds, the mother can suspect constipation. Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the small dose prescribed on the bottle, when you put the child to bed, and with morning the ailment will have disappeared.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a popular compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. It acts gently and mildly, and children take it without objection. A sixty-cent bottle is enough to last an average family many months. The ingredients are endorsed in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia, and last year American mothers bought over eight million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from druggists. It is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, and few cautious families are ever without it.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. D. Caldwell, 317 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Every body now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

Four Wichita Falls Boys to Graduate at the Kemper School

MOONVILLE, MO., May 27.—Ninety-seven cadets will receive certificates of graduation here Monday at the 7th annual commencement of the Kemper Military school. The diplomas will be presented by Supt. T. A. Johnston following a commencement address made by the Hon. S. Evans, president of William Jewell college. The 1921 class is the largest that has ever graduated from the school.

Among the seniors are four Wichita Falls boys—George F. Tay, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Ray, 2386 Buchanan; Albert E. Shappell, son of Mrs. T. O. Shappell, 1217 Elizabeth street, and Carroll H. Maxwell, son of J. L. Maxwell, 1304 Austin.

OLD BURKBURNETT MYSTERY IS SOLVED

State Accident Board Finds Death Last December Was Due to Exhaust Gas.

The mystery that surrounded the death of William E. Hoar, who was found dead in a refinery near Burk Burnett on the morning of Dec. 1, 1920, has been cleared before the accident board at Austin. The board there held that the man came to death as the result of being overcome by burnt exhaust gas.

When the man's body was found at 9:30 o'clock on the morning of December 1, the report was circulated that he had been murdered by highjackers and a thorough investigation was made by the county officers. No trace, however, could be found and the coroner's verdict at that time was that he died from an attack of acute indigestion.

The man was employed by the Charles F. Noble Oil and Refining company and ten days after the body was found it was shipped to Arizona for burial. The mother of the dead man, Mrs. Eliza Bullion, urged that a further investigation be made and Attorney G. C. McBride was employed. He took the matter up with the board at Austin and it was ascertained that the payment of $5,400, payable in weekly installments of $15.

The man was insured by the Consolidated Underwriters at Dallas, who

76 WILL RECEIVE THEIR DIPLOMAS FRIDAY NIGHT, PROGRAM STARTS AT 8:30

Seventy-six high school seniors will receive diplomas this evening when the class of '21 gathers at the Wichita theater for commencement exercises. Everything is in readiness, school officials say, for one of the best programs ever given by a graduating class.

The exercises are scheduled to start at 8:30.

FRANCIS ANNE SAUNDERS' NAME OMITTED FROM PROGRAM

An oversight on the part of the Times Thursday resulted in the omission of the name of Francis Anne Saunders from the program given by the junior high school graduating class last Wednesday night. Little Miss Saunders delivered a reading, "Life's Mirror," which was one of the most entertaining numbers on the entire program.
