Objects to Paying Three Million to Sugar-Trading Company

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Samuel Gompers was re-elected president of the American federation of labor today.

The veteran American labor leader defeated John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, by a heavy majority.

Only two of the largest organizations cast a solid vote for Lewis—the machinists union and the United Brotherhood of Carpenters.

The railroad organizations which had been claimed almost solid by Lewis supporters, split their votes by the largest margin between Gompers and Lewis.

Ward, republican of New York, which would authorize assumption by the government of losses, now approximately $2,000,000, sustained by the American Trading company, and B. H. Howell, Son and company, in the Argentine sugar transportation during the spring of 1920.

SIMPLICITY

By RICHARD LLOYD JONES

Adelina Patti's test for a singer was never, as you might suppose, "Can you trill, can you imitate a mocking bird?" No, it was "Can you sing a simple ballad in honest, straight-forward fashion? Such a ballad as 'Home Sweet Home'?" That was a fair test.

Simplicity shows quality naked and unadorned. And it is only genuine worth that dares challenge its criticism.

It takes both courage and the consciousness of value to come before the world without affection. Our assumption of numberless little airs, poses and prejudices is but the confession and apology for weakness.

The strong are always simple. Simplicity implies strength. The weak hide their defects and their lack with tricks and frills.

The highest attainments in painting and sculpture are not the kaleidoscopic, brightly-colored canvases of battle scenes; not the complex many-turreted statue structures that misguided patriots sometimes erect in memorial of achievement. The greatest picture in the world is of a mother and her babe. As the sense of skill grows strong and the eye keen in its perception of beauty, non-essentials, jewelry and drapery, are stripped off and the true artist finds satisfaction in the flowing line and satiny flesh texture of the simple human figure.

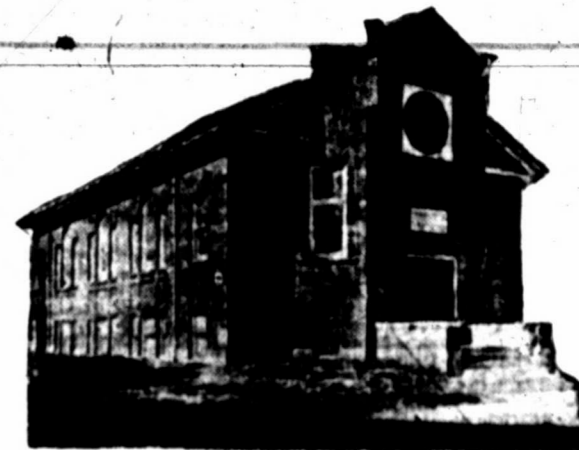

In the world of letters, that which lives as poetry, is not the half hearted, labored utterances of a Poet Laureate on some quasi "great" occasion. Rather it is the simple stanza that sang itself out of some more obscure poet's heart that binds us all with living bonds through community of feeling and experience. The great song is never the oratorio but the ballad.

Real worth is always unassuming and natural. High thinking seems automatically to draw unto itself the complement of plain living. Napoleon was always most at ease in the Spartan simplicity of camp on the battle field. To his mind, the grandeur and splendor of his French court were a concession to the limitations of the less great.

Great minds focused as they are on great issues have small patience with the trivialities of custom and convention.

It is only when the building is right, true in conception, strong in foundation, pure in outline, that the architect dares let it stand forth unadorned.

So with human souls. Our poor terms "homeliness" and "humanness" may stand for the truest aristocracy of human character.

SPORTS STORIES by Paul W. Barkin

We didn't go into third place, but it wasn't our fault. All the first division clubs won.
We can't complain of not getting the breaks yesterday. We didn't get the pitching nor was our fielding of the soft-edged variety, yet we were never behind. A few timely blows, combined with Landry's generosity and a couple of dumb Bear plays decided the issue.

There has been much discussion among local fans as to whether Danny is a better ball player than his brother Ewell. To date we have refrained from venturing an opinion, but we can honestly say now that we would rather have Danny on our club than Ewell. He is a better fielder, a much speedier pitcher and he is able to outpitch every bit as good as that of his older brother, Ewell.

Have Their Way About It, Too—237 Depart Friday For Their Native Land.

Diplomatic relations between the Times and the Mexican government were decidedly strained for a while Friday afternoon. The Times appeared at the union station, bent upon getting a picture of the 237 Mexicans who departed late Friday for their native land. They were promptly informed that taking of photographs was forbidden. It seems that the Mexican government had forbidden it so far north of the Rio Grande, the photographer was preparing to go ahead and shoot, anyhow, in the face of official threats of jail, and divers and sundry ugly looks on the part of the Mexicans. It developed that there wasn't any order against photographs, but that there was a very earnest request that none be taken, said request originating at Mexico City and having the endorsement of Washington officials.

The esteemed Mexican consul didn't trust to the good manners of the Times representatives, in spite of the fact that they assured him they would not hurt Obregon's feelings for anything. He delegated several swarthy descendants of Montezuma to see that no picture wasn't taken, and they succeeded entirely. Besides, the light was bad.

Whenever the photographer looked as if he had any notion's authority to carelessly drape themselves a few feet in front of the camera, blocking the view. Finally the train pulled out without any picture being made.

The consul felt that the scene was one of some humiliation, and that to reproduce it would be an embarrassment to the Mexican government. The Mexicans, with their bedding, clothing and children, were safely herded on board the train and departed via Fort Worth for the land of their nativity. They were expected to reach the border sometime Sunday.

COLORADO-TO-GULF HIGHWAY REPORTED EASILY PASSABLE

VERNON, TEXAS, June 25.—A communication addressed to all chambers of commerce has come to the Vernon body from the Panhandle section of the state requesting that tourists be not misinformed on the condition of roads between Childress and Amarillo. The letter states that some tourists out of Childress are being routed over the Dallas-Caddo-Denver route much to the disapproval of Amarillo. The latter city has threatened to retaliate by sending automobilists headed this way over the south plains route.

The Colorado-to-Gulf highway is said to be in good shape and easily passable.

"GREAT SALVATION" CULPEPPER'S THEME

Eighteen Respond Friday Night to Evangelist's Appeal—Three Services Sunday.

The great throng that went to the open air tabernacle Friday night felt repaid for going. It was delightfully cool, and then, too, Evangelist Culpepper preached another of his great sermons. Automobiles filled the parking space around the tabernacle while the seats in the enclosure were comfortably filled.

The labor unions were represented by quite a large number and stood in a body when called by Mr. Robinson. There will be no services Saturday night, as the evangelist has reserved the day for rest day. Sunday he will preach three times—at 9:30 to the Sunday school of the First Methodist church; 11 a. m. the subject will be "Was Jesus Christ Divine or Just a Common Man"; and at 8 p. m. at the tabernacle on the "Golden Choice."

Evangelist Culpepper's subject Friday night was "The Great Salvation," from the text, "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" Mr. Culpepper said that salvation was the greatest and mightiest fact in the universe of God.

"I saw the goddess of liberty with an open Bible in one hand and a lighted torch in the other, and when I thought of the millions that pass here every year and are sent to the different parts of our country, I said it is great, great, I stood at the base of the monument at Washington erected to the memory of the father of his country, and as it seemed to vibrate with the motion of the earth, I said it is great, I saw the gentle McKinley kiss his mother's Bible and take the oath of office as president of the greatest nation in the world, and that was great, I stood on the banks of the father of waters that runs by my town, and bathed my hands in its silvery spray, and when I remember that it runs from Lake Itaska to the Gulf, I said, the fertile fields that line its banks, and that is great, but the greatest thing in all the universe to me is to see a man step out boldly for God."
