

REBEL ACTIVITY REPORTED THREATENING IN MEXICO PROMINENT TULSA OFFICIAL SUSPENDED FROM OFFICE MAKE SLOW PROGRESS ON HEARING OF BOUNDARY CASE

GENERAL GONZALES SEEKS TO DISTURB PEACE OF MEXICO

PLANS TO CONSOLIDATE SEVERAL OF THE SMALL REBEL GROUPS.

GEN. FRANCISCO MURGUA INVOLVED IN MOVEMENT

Report of Rebel Activity is Discredited by Prominent San Antonio Mexican.

MEXICO CITY, June 25.—Rebel activity in the state of Tamaulipas now is under the personal direction of General Pablo Gonzales, former commander of the Carranza forces in Mexico City, who, according to official reports today, crossed the international boundary at Columbia, Texas, yesterday with thirty men.

The intentions of General Gonzales, it is reported here, is to consolidate several small rebel groups which within the last week have been operating in northern Mexico. Secretary of War Estrada said this morning that federal troops had been dispatched to combat these rebels.

General Sidrona Mendez, who headed the rebel group in San Luis Potosi, was severely injured when federal forces captured him yesterday. He had not been executed as was at first reported. President Obregon has ordered a stay at least until the extent of his injuries have been ascertained.

SAN ANTONIO MEXICANS DISCREDIT THE REPORT

SAN ANTONIO, June 25.—A Mexico City dispatch received here states that seventy men had crossed into Mexico near Laredo and that the Obregon garrison at Lampazos had revolted and burned several bridges on the National lines between Nuevo Laredo and Monterrey.

In Mexican circles here the report of the crossing of Gonzales is discredited, although it is known that General Jose Elizondo, a former Carrancista general, who was related to the prominent Guadalupe family in Coahuila, crossed over at the head of the previous band that crossed from Zapata county.

Francisco Murgua, a strong Carrancista, has been at Laredo since he was released by the United States immigration officers, but up to last night he had not crossed.

Both Generals Gonzales and Aguilas and Juan Barragan are here today, while Esteban Cantu, former governor of Lower California, who has been on the border, returned east last night. It is reported here that the Carrancistas have subscribed half a million dollars for the new movement, which they have just launched, and that they have made their peace with the Felicistas and other refugees in the United States.

Another report is that the amalgamation of all these adverse factions is unable to agree on a leader.

The men named as timber for the leadership of the new movement are in Mexico, and it is not known if their names are used with their consent.

Alfredo Robles Dominguez, who was candidate for the presidency against President Obregon at the last election is also here, but denied any active participation in the recent political developments.

ORDERED TO TAKE FELD AGAINST GENERAL MURGUA

BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS, June 25.—General B. Lopez, commanding the frontier district between Matamoros and Nuevo Laredo, today ordered the federal commander at Guerrero, Mexico, opposite Zapata, Texas, to take the field with two hundred men against the supposed revolutionary band under General Francisco Murgua, who is said to have been secretary of war to Carranza.

Orders of General Lopez to the Guerrero officers were "to take no prisoners." It was learned here.

The size of Murgua's band is unknown here, but it is believed to be co-operating with that under General Pablo Gonzales.

Railroad service between Matamoros and Monterey, according to latest advice, is still intact. United States department of justice agents here expressed belief that if pursuit of Murgua and his band becomes too hot, they will attempt to cross into the United States in the vicinity of Roma, Texas, one hundred and thirty miles west of here.

SUBMIT DRAFT OF NEW LAW RELATIVE TO OIL CONCESSIONS

MEXICO CITY, June 25.—The draft of a new law regulating articles 27 of the constitution, relative to oil concessions, was submitted to the chamber of deputies by several deputies of the social democratic group who assert it contains "the elements necessary for the complete adjustment of that article."

LARGER COMPANIES REDUCE OPERATIONS TO MINIMUM POINT

ONLY 25 WELLS BEING PUT DOWN BY ELEVEN OF BIGGEST CONCERNS.

SEVERAL ABANDONMENTS REPORTED FROM ARCHER

Salt Water Continues to Disappoint Operators—Electrica Scene of Considerable Activity.

Since the recent cuts in the crude oil market, the larger companies throughout the North Texas fields have curtailed their drilling operations to the minimum. The following table will show the number now drilling, these being the wells that have to be finished on account of contracts and lease conditions: Humble Oil Gas company, one in old Burk Burnett field.

Magnolia Petroleum company, six in old Burk Burnett field. Sinclair Oil Gas company, two in Texasoma field.

Sun company, one in Archer, one in City. Lone Star Gas company, four at Petrolia. Texas Company, one at Petrolia. Texas Company, one at Electrica. Pure Oil company, one at Montague. Rosane Petroleum company, one in Jack, three in Young.

Prairie Oil Gas company, one in Young. Gulf Production company, one in Carson, one in Montague. Total, 25.

Drilling operations in the Young county field has slowed down considerably and nothing has occurred, consequently undue excitement in that county. In the Hunger district the Askew well is still fishing for casing at 1500 feet. Terrell and Ross have a rig erected on the Owens tract and are rigging up to drill at once. The Colquhoun company's No. 4, J. R. Armstrong in the river bed, has brought in a well at the 2100 foot sand and is making around 500 barrels.

There are at present in this county 90 wells producing oil. In Archer county's list of disallowments, due to salt water, has grown steadily during the week. One producer has been recorded, and two other tests are being fair to break into the pay sand. The Harper-Jones well on the Taylor is reported swabbing 150 barrels, and the W. C. D. test on the Beavers-Banders is going east at 1630 feet, which seems to be a good sand. One of the Texasoma wells, the Glose, is expected to be a successful completion this week.

In nearly all of the tests abandoned for salt water, promising sands were encountered, which is coming to be considered characteristic of Archer county operations.

At present, there are 24 wells drilling in this county, one location, 11 derricks have just launched, and 11 wells shut down for various reasons.

The W. J. Gresham well on the Gose tract, 2,000 feet southeast of the discovery well, producing oil.

PERMANENT TARIFF BILL IS NOW READY

Provisions of Measure Will be Made Public Wednesday, it is Announced.

By HERBERT W. WALKER, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, June 25.—The republican protective tariff bill stood practically completed tonight.

Only some of the rates on dyes remained undecided, and it was said that those would be determined early next week.

Representative Fordney, chairman of the house ways-and-means committee, announced today that the new duties, which probably will average somewhat higher than those in the last republican tariff—the Payne-Adler bill of 1909—will be made public next Wednesday.

He predicted passage of the bill by July 15 or 20, after which his committee, in accordance with the desires of President Harding, will start the work of revising the revenue laws.

The bill, which is one of the major tasks of the special session, will yield approximately $600,000,000 a year, according to members of the committee estimated, while the present democratic rates, together with decreasing imports, will not return more than $300,000,000.

TAR AND FEATHER A WEST COLUMBIA MAN ON SATURDAY NIGHT

HOUSTON, June 25.—Tarring and feathering parties continued in south Texas this week, according to reports here tonight.

One man was ridden out of West Columbia, oil town near here, tonight, given a coat of tar and feathers and ordered to leave town, according to a report to police here.

Another was treated similarly the first of the week, the police report said.

M'GANNON FOUND GUILTY ON CHARGE OF PERJURY

CLEVELAND, OHIO, June 25.—William H. McGannon, former chief justice of city courts here, tonight stood convicted of perjury.

The defendant, who returned a verdict of guilty after deliberating since 2:45 p. m. Friday.

Immediately after the foreman had read the verdict of the jury, McGannon jumped to his feet and shouted "I am innocent." Execution of the sentence was withheld, however, pending filing of an appeal for a new trial.

McGannon meanwhile will be released on $5,000 bond.

The culmination of the perjury trial is the fourth trial McGannon has figured in since the fatal shooting of Harold Kagy on May 8, 1920, at Hamilton avenue and East Ninth street.

John Joyce was tried and acquitted. McGannon appeared as a witness against him testifying that he (McGannon) was not at the scene of the shooting. He said he left the car in which he, Joyce and Kagy were riding at Euclid avenue and East Ninth street.

McGannon was then twice tried on a murder charge. The first jury disagreed and the second acquitting him. He repeated the same testimony at each of those trials.

It was on this testimony that he left the car at Euclid avenue and East Ninth street that he was indicted on the perjury charge.

LOYD GEORGE MAKES PEACE OVERTURES TO PRESIDENT DE VALERA

INVITED TO CONFERENCE IN LONDON WITH SIR JAMES CRAIG.

FIRST STEP IN DIRECTION OF DEFINITE SETTLEMENT

Last Opportunity Declares London Times in Discussing the Proposal.

By ED L. KENN, United Press Staff Correspondent. LONDON, June 25.—The British government tonight made its first official peace overtures to Eamon De Valera, president of the "Irish republic."

Premier Lloyd George made public a letter to De Valera, asking him to a conference in London in company with Sir James Craig, premier of the new Ulster parliament, as the first step toward definite settlement of the Irish question.

LONDON, June 25.—Premier Lloyd George has sent a letter to both Eamon de Valera, the Irish republican leader, and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, declaring the British government to be deeply anxious that King George's appeal for reconciliation in Ireland shall not have been made in vain. The letter appeals that the opportunity for a conference between representatives of the government and southern and northern Ireland shall not be lost.

LAST POSSIBLE OFFER TO SINN FEIN, SAYS PAPER. LONDON, June 25.—Premier Lloyd George's invitation to "President" De Valera to a peace conference is the last possible offer to the sinn fein, the Sunday Times declared today. The Times said that the information was authoritative.

Sinn fein cannot realize their hope for a republic, the newspaper declared. "A republic is impossible," it said, "but peace is essential."

Mary Wins First Fight to Establish Validity of Divorce

MENPEN, NEV., June 25.—Mary Pickford Fairbanks today won the first battle in the fight to establish the validity of her divorce from Owen Moore.

Court Judge Langan in court here this afternoon granted the motion to quash the summons in the action of the state of Nevada against "Little Mary" which had been designed to annul the divorce granted her March 1919. Her divorce had immediately preceded her marriage to Douglas Fairbanks.

Judge Langan's ruling was considered a sweeping victory for Mary, and if sustained in the supreme court practically establishes the validity of the famous divorce case of the Moore-Pickfords.

NEW ORLEANS SCENE OF BIG BOOZE RAID

Thousands of Barrels and Casks of Beer Are Captured by Officers.

NEW ORLEANS, June 25.—Thousands of cases and barrels of beer, alleged to contain more than the prescribed alcoholic content, were seized by prohibition agents here late today from six breweries. Officials said it was the biggest raid of its kind that had been held in this country.

The plants raided were those of the Standard, Dixie, American, Columbia, National and Union brewery companies. The following quantities of beer, according to the authorities, were seized: a quantity of half barrels and loose bottles of beer, and a note and charges of violating the Volstead act lodged against company officials.

ADMIT NO CLAIM TO THEODORE ROOSEVELT ESTATE

CLINTON, IND., June 25.—Mrs. Emma R. Baggett, of Hillsdale, Indiana, admitted she had no claim of the Theodore Roosevelt estate while confined in the Jerseyville, Illinois, jail in 1915, according to a telephone call here purporting to come from F. M. Hamilton, prosecuting attorney at that place.

The telephonic communication was held Friday with a newspaper man, Mrs. Burkett at the same time, it was said, admitted she wrote a note and forged the name of Stephen M. Reddish of Jerseyville to it. The face of the note was for sixteen hundred dollars, and she said it was an old note and that several years interest was due on it, according to Hamilton. Mrs. Burkett recently claimed sixty-nine thousand dollars and interest from the Roosevelt estate, declaring the former president had endorsed a note for that amount.

SEVERAL THOUSAND MINERS TO ATTEND ALEX HOWAT TRIAL

PLAN DRAMATIC STAND AGAINST KANSAS INDUSTRIAL COURT.

SEVEN ACRE PARK TO BE USED AS A CAMP

No Mines in Cherokee or Crawford Counties to Operate During The Week.

By United Press. COLUMBIUS, KAN., June 25.—Several thousand Kansas coal miners will quit work Monday and attend the trial here of Alexander Howat, president of district 14, United Mine Workers, who will make his most dramatic stand against the provisions of the Kansas industrial and agricultural court law by calling what was known as the "Mackie strike," involving a controversy over the wages of a young coal miner.

An "unlimited number" of plain clothes policemen and a score of deputy sheriffs will be sworn in to keep order during the trial, expected to be one of the most bitterly fought in the history of Kansas criminal courts.

"Churches and restaurants, and dozens of more 'concessions' in public parks tonight were prepared for a crowd of miners and other union men, which, on the night of last week, was expected to pass the 5,000 mark.

This little southern Kansas town, after refusing to get excited about the trial until the last day or two, was in a furious tonight.

The matter of police protection—one day police-men spending most of the time relieving streets being considered a standing army in the town—was arranged at a hastily called meeting of the village council by Mayor C. H. Skidmore.

The arrival yesterday of two Chicago reporters and a "strange" automobile added to the excitement.

Although in many quarters it was believed crowds will not be large because of the few automobiles and other union men have yet appeared in response to Kansas Labor Press at Freeman's "call to action" for all members to "march on Columbus" for the trial.

It is believed that today in pay day at the mines and the workers will not begin marching on Columbus until morning.

A "strike" back will probably be seen if the miners for their "pick" grounds here. Over a score of congressmen have applied to the city council for permission to feed the crowd.

Will Hold Conference. C. A. McNeal, one of Howat's attorneys, said today a conference of all defense lawyers will be held tomorrow night to determine "lines of defense" in the case of the Howat trial.

The case with all resources of a defense fund estimated at $15,000, it was said tonight. The penalty for Howat and Dorchy, if convicted is a $3,000 fine and two years imprisonment, or both.

State attorneys will also hold a conference here Sunday night. Leo Armstrong, county attorney, said that he has received word from the United Mine Workers that they will not ask a change of venue. Despite Armstrong's statement, however, there was considerable speculation about this.

Howat will be tried under the criminal section of the industrial court law making it a felony to call a strike in coal mines or any essential fuel or food industry.

DALLAS WAR VETERAN DIES AT MENARDVILLE

DALLAS, June 25.—E. Lowry Green, 35, war veteran, died today at Menardville, Texas, where he had gone on a camping trip, according to word received by his sister here today. Green has been practically an invalid since returning from France owing to injuries received on a transport enroute home.

By A. L. PRADFORD, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, June 25.—The United States is not pleased at a prospect of the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, it was understood here tonight.

The hope that has been held by high officials of the government that the United States be specifically exempted from the terms from the alliance, it seems to be developing toward opposition to a renewal of the pact in any form.

How the attitude of the American government toward the alliance will be made known to the world, if it ever is, is a matter of speculation today. The study now being given by the British and Japanese government to the question of renewal is of such delicate and confidential character that this government could find it difficult to make known its views on the Far Eastern pact.

TYLER CONDUCTING BOUNDARY HEARING AT OKLAHOMA CITY

ANOTHER WEEK WILL BE REQUIRED TO HEAR ALL WITNESSES.

WILL MAKE REPORT TO U. S. SUPREME COURT

Various Parties Interested in Controversy on Hand to Present Their Case.

Special to the Times. OKLAHOMA CITY, June 25.—With the first week completed in the hearing of testimony here by Frederick S. Tyler, United States commissioner named by the supreme court to hear evidence on claims in the Red river boundary dispute, John A. Pain, United States district attorney, announced today that the work was far from completed and, contrary to expectations, would last for another entire week.

Taking of the testimony is turning out to be a maze of technicalities and "red-tape" details. One witness alone has taken up 800 pages of the record with his testimony and cost the company has represented more than $750. Seventy-five witnesses are to be examined, and the testimony of the original witnesses is expected to be completed by the end of the week.

Tyler, whose home is in Washington, has also been commissioned as special master to pass upon claims for the $5,000 trust fund in the hands of Frederick A. Delano, who was appointed as receiver for three producing wells in the disputed area.

Farmers and placer mining claimants are seeking to prove the title to the land by testimony from which the court will decide whether or not intervention is possible, and to whom the lands under the original title will be assigned. Testimony concerning school lands will also be taken and government representatives are appearing in behalf of Indian claimants along the river.

The Burke Divisio interests were presented Monday. The first witness was followed through the week by other representatives of the company and individual drillers and farmers. Later in the week the Colorado interests were heard.

The Mellish interests were heard Saturday and Monday will see the first testimony of the original witnesses who are contesting for riparian rights.

The question of school lands belonging to the state will then be heard. Tyler expects to return to Washington after the hearing, but will return here August 15 to take testimony in the hearing to decide the boundary of the south bank of the river which the supreme court has designated as the southern boundary of Oklahoma.

PLYMOUTH ROCK PIECES ARE AGAIN PUT TOGETHER

PLYMOUTH, MASS., June 25.—Plymouth Rock was put together again today. The three fragments which it had split since the first landing on it were taken out of another building and joined on its former site.

The rock, now entirely exposed for the first time, is being covered with a canopy to be erected by the society of Colonial Dames.

AMBASSADOR AT HAGUE MAKES AN ORAL REPORT

WASHINGTON, June 25.—William P. Phillips, ambassador at the Hague, gave to the state department today an oral report of the efforts to induce the Netherlands government to modify its position in the granting of concessions in the Djambi oil fields. He afterwards called on President Harding.

Since Mr. Phillips left the Hague, the Netherlands government has published a summary of its reply to the American note in which the United States insisted that the Netherlands government had at all times been fully informed of American desires.

Daily Times Will Begin New Blue Ribbon Serial. On next Sunday the Daily Times will begin another Blue Ribbon serial, "The Bogie of Fear," by Arthur Somers Roche. It is the latest vivid story of that master of mystery and action, and is heralded as one of the great pieces of fiction that he has yet produced. No modern writer has as many thrills to the page as Mr. Roche has to the paragraph and you will miss one of the treats of the year if you fail to read this great story. "The Bogie of Fear" has never before been published, either in serial or book form, and will start in the Daily Times simultaneously with the Chicago Tribune and a large number of other leading publications over the United States. Don't miss the first installment and we are sure after you have read the beginning that you will see to it that subsequent chapters reach you promptly.

DOORS CLOSED FOR INVESTIGATION OF CAPT. CHAMBERLAIN

CHAIRMAN BALL RULES EXECUTIVE SESSION FOR COMMITTEE.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUNSEL BELIEVES HIS REPORT

Charges No Opportunity Given Accused to Substantiate His Story.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The senate naval committee investigating the death of Captain Chamberlain, San Antonio, Texas, marine corps aviator, whose story of a sensational battle with German planes on the western front led to his return to private life, closed its doors to the press today soon after the inquiry started.

"This is a naval matter," Chairman Ball stated, "and until it is established that the navy treated this captain right I am of the opinion that the investigation should be conducted in executive session in accordance with custom."

Major Seth Williams, U. S. M. C., counsel for Chamberlain, stated at the outset that investigation had convinced him of the truth of Captain Chamberlain's claims that while on a furlough visit to a British sector in July, 1918, he participated in an air battle in which he brought down five German planes, damaged two others and accomplished other unusual feats.

Major Williams charged that Captain Chamberlain had been accorded no opportunity to gather evidence to substantiate his story, the denial of which by British officers, he said, led Admiral William S. Sims, then commander-in-chief of American naval forces in British waters, to order an inquiry.

Major Williams said Captain A. N. Proctor, U. S. N., was detailed to conduct a preliminary inquiry and became convinced that Captain Chamberlain was guilty of falsehood, deciding to recommend that testimony by the defense be dispensed with.

At this point the committee closed its doors.

AVERAGE VALUE OF FARMS IN TEXAS HAS DOUBLED

DALLAS, June 25.—The farms of Texas, with buildings on them, are valued at $2,717,799,244, according to census figures just issued, says the Texas Industrial congress. In 1910 the valuation was $1,342,208,355.

The average value of one farm now is $1224 as compared with $1,412 in 1910, and the average value per acre is $27.3 as compared with $19.29 in 1910, the census shows.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY AT DALLAS CHANGES NAME

AUSTIN, TEXAS, June 25.—The charter of the Commonwealth Cooperative Life Insurance of Dallas has been amended so as to change its name and bring it within the provisions of the new mutual life insurance law of Texas which became effective June 11.

The name has been changed to the Texas Mutual Life Insurance company.

CONTESTS RIGHT OF STILLMAN TO SELL PROPERTY IN TEXAS

BROWNSVILLE, June 25.—The right of James A. Stillman, New York banker, to sell his property in Brownsville, consisting of most of the original townsite, was contested here tonight.

WOMEN TELL OF FREQUENT ARRESTS AND BEING ORDERED OFF OWN PORCHES.

Testimony of Her Desire to Defeat Bralley—Testimony in Case Not Completed Saturday.

A narrative of conditions in the district once known as the "Flats" was unfolded Saturday in the 78th district court, where the injunction of Gladys Avinger and Fay Moore against City Patrolman Bridgewater and three other officers was heard.

Testimony dealing with plentiful profanity, alleged police orders for women to remain off their own front porches and out of their own front yards and the alleged "slipping" of $50 to an officer was heard in the case, which was continued until Monday.

Detective Bridgewater was the only one of the defendants to go on the stand Saturday.

The plaintiffs are seeking a permanent injunction against the officers, to restrain the latter from molesting them, arresting them and preventing them from enjoying the rights and privileges of the home they claim to own.

The hearing was given something of a political tinge when the plaintiff, Gladys Avinger, was on the stand.

"I don't know where you got that," she said, "I want you to bring them in."

The plaintiffs in direct examination of two witnesses brought out an incident that the defense stated they would bring out further near the conclusion of the trial.

On two occasions when she was arrested she stated that she had just arisen in the morning and was preparing breakfast when the officers entered and took her to the police station.

Fay Moore, the other plaintiff, told that Officer Bridgewater told her that Police Chief Huff had ordered him to arrest her every 30 minutes and that he intended doing so until he received different orders from the chief.

Put Into Patrol Wagon. The plaintiff also told that Officer Bridgewater had never caught her with a man in her house and that many times she was taken to the police station and kept nine and ten hours without being given opportunity of calling an attorney.

Bessie Finkley, wife of Chick Finkley, stated she resided in the same block with the two plaintiffs and told of an incident that was admitted by the court to show alleged usual custom of officers in making arrests in that neighborhood.

The witness said that she remembered one incident when Chief Huff and several other officers had come to the house of Irene Williams and entered the house and took the Williams woman bodily out of the house, dragged her over a fence and threw her either into the patrol wagon or against it, she could not see which.

At this juncture she said that the chief turned to the men, one of whom she said was Bridgewater, and told him: "When I send you down here to get these — I want you to bring them in."

Put Into Patrol Wagon. The plaintiff also told that Officer Bridgewater had never caught her with a man in her house and that many times she was taken to the police station and kept nine and ten hours without being given opportunity of calling an attorney.

Bessie Finkley, wife of Chick Finkley, stated she resided in the same block with the two plaintiffs and told of an incident that was admitted by the court to show alleged usual custom of officers in making arrests in that neighborhood.

The witness said that she remembered one incident when Chief Huff and several other officers had come to the house of Irene Williams and entered the house and took the Williams woman bodily out of the house, dragged her over a fence and threw her either into the patrol wagon or against it, she could not see which.

At this juncture she said that the chief turned to the men, one of whom she said was Bridgewater, and told him: "When I send you down here to get these — I want you to bring them in."

RELEASE HOMING PIGEONS FOR 1,500-MILE FLIGHT

EDMONTON, ALTA., June 25.—Twelve homing pigeons were released this morning on a 1,500-mile flight to San Antonio, Texas.

This is believed to be the longest flight of its kind ever attempted.

The birds were brought here from the southern state a few days ago.

The plaintiffs in direct examination of two witnesses brought out an incident that the defense stated they would bring out further near the conclusion of the trial.

On two occasions when she was arrested she stated that she had just arisen in the morning and was preparing breakfast when the officers entered and took her to the police station.

Fay Moore, the other plaintiff, told that Officer Bridgewater told her that Police Chief Huff had ordered him to arrest her every 30 minutes and that he intended doing so until he received different orders from the chief.

Put Into Patrol Wagon. The plaintiff also told that Officer Bridgewater had never caught her with a man in her house and that many times she was taken to the police station and kept nine and ten hours without being given opportunity of calling an attorney.

PLAN TO MOBILIZE BANK CREDITS FOR COTTON AND SUGAR

TO PREVENT FORCED LIQUIDATION OF THESE COMMODITIES.

STATEMENT GIVEN OUT BY SECRETARY HOOVER

Situation is Acute and Dangerous to the Country at the Present Moment.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Efforts are being made by the administration to mobilize banking credits for carrying over surpluses of the country's cotton and sugar, Secretary Hoover said today before a senate committee.

"The object is to prevent a forced liquidation of these commodities," he said, and "the plan under consideration is identical with that which was carried out in the cattle industry."

The committee secretary was called to give his views on the Norris bill to create a $100,000,000 government farm export corporation. He told the committee he did not favor the measure.

in the country at the present moment. Let I cannot feel that the extension of further credit facilities for the supply of food products to Europe would give any adequate remedy."

While sixty million Europeans still are "under food restraint, rationing or similar systems," Mr. Hoover said, Poland, Austria and, in a degree, Czechoslovakia were the only countries where a diminished food supply might result from a failure of credits.

He added that Europe "found the money somehow to take a billion dollars in food from the United States in the last eleven and a half months."

"As to cotton, however, the problem of disposing of our surplus is much more serious," Mr. Hoover continued, "because experience has demonstrated that the governments and peoples will get their food, but that they will refuse to pay."

"There is a marked tendency in Europe to live on their own food resources and make their harvests stretch as far as possible through the year, which indicates that the American farmer must carry hereafter his crops for a longer period through the year because the European demand will only come at later months."

"We are trying to set up such machinery as will prevent forced liquidation in cotton and sugar and negotiating through the banks of the country. If this cannot be done through the mobilization of private banking capital in such a way as to avoid putting the burden on the government, why then we may have to call on the government."

"Happily, there is a short crop of cotton this year, and there have also been industrial conditions which have depressed the market, such as the long strike in England and the reparations discussion with Germany, which worked to cut our cotton exports. The shelves of the world are growing bare of textiles and we can hope to carry over the surplus until it can be sold at satisfactory levels. A similar situation exists as to grain, but it is not so marked."

FOURTH MEMBER OF RANGER FAMILY IS EXPLOSION VICTIM

RANGER, TEXAS, June 25.—With the death here today of Mrs. W. O. Lawrence, four members of the Lawrence family had succumbed to burns received in a gas stove explosion last Tuesday at a nearby construction camp. A baby girl died almost immediately, a four year old boy died Wednesday and the father, W. O. Lawrence, passed away Friday.

WILSON APPEARS IN PERSON FOR LICENSE TO PRACTICE IN COURT

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Woodrow Wilson appeared in person today in the chambers of Chief Justice McCooy of the district of Columbia supreme court to be admitted to the practice of law before that court.

A special session of the court was called for the purpose of admitting Mr. Wilson, the court having previously amended its rules so that former presidents and vice-presidents of the United States who are lawyers, might be admitted to practice without application or other formality.

Mr. Wilson was accompanied to the court by his law partner, Bainbridge Colby, former secretary of state, and Joseph P. Tumulty, formerly his private secretary. The admission of the former chief executive was moved by John Paul Earnest, chairman of the examining committee, and the usual oath was administered by Morgan H. Beach, clerk of courts. At the conclusion of the ceremony the chief jus-ties briefly welcomed Mr. Wilson to the membership before the bar. To avoid photographers, the time of his ceremony was kept quiet. Mr. Wilson reached the court house shortly before noon in an automobile and walked the short distance from the car to an elevator, which carried him directly to the chambers of Justice McCooy. The ceremony and reception were brief, and Mr. Wilson returned the same way to his waiting automobile.

Court attendants said the former president appeared in better health than when he retired from the White House, although he still had the assistance of an attendant in entering and leaving his motor car. During the brief ceremonies Mr. Wilson stood leaning on his cane. He also seemed to depend much on it when walking.

Mr. Wilson shook hands with members of the court and bar and court attaches.

REVIVAL MEETING BEING CONDUCTED AT SEYMOUR

SEYMOUR, TEXAS, June 25.—Rev. D. V. York of Altus, Oklahoma, evangelist, and Rev. D. T. McMahon of Altus, Texas, singer, are conducting a revival meeting at the Methodist church in this city. A good meeting is predicted as much interest is being manifested.

Does your business require the full time of a bookkeeper? Of course you must keep records and keep them intelligently. The income tax law as well as the necessity for knowing just where you stand in these days makes correct accounts imperative. But perhaps the volume of your business does not justify you in paying for the full time services of an accountant capable of keeping your books correctly. For a fraction of the cost of the salary of one untrained bookkeeper you can employ a competent accountant to come to your office every day and keep your records as you want them kept. Phone 2967. GEORGIA GOVERNOR SAYS MOB VIOLENCE SHOULD BE SUPPRESSED BY THE STATE

ATLANTA, Ga., June 25.—Mob violence in Georgia should be suppressed, and by state authorities, Governor Hardwick declared today in his first message to the state legislature. He warned that if this was not done, it was very probable that federal intervention will not be long delayed.

PLAN IS APPROVED BY COMMITTEE OF EXPORTERS

NEW YORK, June 25.—A committee appointed by prominent exporters has approved a plan for liquidating American merchandise piled up at Latin American ports because of the credit situation unfavorable to countries south of the equator. This plan, which will be submitted at a special meeting here next week, calls for creation of a corporation in which owners of unshipped or rejected merchandise, decreed drafts or other frozen credits, would be represented. This company would take over the unshipped merchandise to deliver or dispose of otherwise.

LARGER COMPANIES REDUCE OPERATIONS

well, has after testing sand at 1620 to 1627 and getting all the salt water they are shut down for orders.

The Rathke Drilling company, one and a half miles south of the discovery well is experiencing the same trouble with salt water, but a string of 5-2-16 has been set with a packer, and if this is not successful in shutting off the water, the test will be plugged and abandoned.

West of the discovery well Goble-Walker, on the Wilson ranch also, tested a sand at 1441-46 which showed contact with the Gulf of Mexico, and have abandoned it at 1448 feet.

On the Wilson tract the A. L. H. Syndicate has abandoned its test at 1803 feet. The Nelson Drilling company on the J. B. Miller after testing oil and sand at 1420 to 1640 that showed salt water, will pull the 6-3-8 and reset to drill down to the lower sand. The Link Oil company on the Haggard had a very rich looking sand but after testing showed the usual salt water.

On the Nat Henderson farm, the Griswold Oil company has what appears to be the best chance for the next producer in this field; they are having a little trouble in getting the swab working and are now moving in a star machine to complete. This company has also made the No. 2 location on the Taylor, approximately 600 feet north of the Riner-Duiley well on the Gose, is swabbing around 150 barrels, and the W. C. D. test on the Beaver and Sanders has reached a good oil sand at 1625 and are coring ahead. This well while waiting on casing showed around 30 feet of oil in the hole after a few hours.

Stanley McGregor on the Taylor, after trying to overcome the water in his test has abandoned it around 1655 feet. The Bankers-Merchants Petroleum company on the Henderson, after setting 6-3-8 at 1622 are shut down for orders. The Lat Croix et al., west of the Rathke on the Netherton, resumed drilling after having to shut down waiting on 10-inch casing. To the northwest about 1 1/2 miles from the discovery well the Bartlett company are reaming at 1156 on the well on the Netherton. Lee Bass et al. are drilling near 500 feet in their well on the Henderson. On the J. H. Taylor, Fitzpatrick and associates are drilling at 650 feet. J. I. Staley has set the 6-3-8 on the sand at 1608 and will test out. In their No. 2, Haggard well, No. 1 McCarty of the same company is a derrick.

In the original pool, the Texoma company's No. 3 S. M. Gose is pumping 150 barrels daily. In No. 4 on the same lease, they have set the 6-3-8 on the sand at 1604 feet, and are waiting for the cement to set. No. 5 Gose is drilling at 750 feet, and No. 6 is a derrick. In their No. 1 Haggard, which has reached the sand at 1618 to 1622 they have cemented and are also waiting for cement to set. On the W. H. Taylor, Texoma No. 1 is drilling upward. Estate is having a little boiler trouble and is shut down at 2385.

In the townsite the Archer-Dome Oil company, on the Andrews had a sand at 1214 and will test it out. They are now setting the casing. This well is about one mile south of Archer city.

Electra seems to have the most activity in drilling operations, due largely to the fields south and east of that city. The week finds the following completions for that district on the Burnett ranch south of town the Gladious Oil company has completed their No. 28 well on the 1400 foot sand, for 20 barrels. Hobbs and associates also on the Burnett, completed their No. 5 well on the 500 foot sand, 25 barrels and No. 6 was finished on the 200 foot sand, 12 barrels.

East of Electra on the Douglas the Gloria Oil company has a sand at 1772 to 1780 and is reported to be swabbing around 25 barrels. Roy L. Carter, Dec-Lane, on the Burnett, has set the 6-3-8 on the oil sand at 1681 and after testing are reported to be swabbing 25 barrels. The Madison Oil and Gas company has set the 6-3-8 on the sand at 1548.

The Texas company is drilling three wells on the Waggoner land east of the Rogers tract, two miles southwest of the city. In the Red river district north of Electra all the tests are drilling along and the mother pool is having its share of the activity in the North Texas fields.

ANOTHER FLOOD IS THREATENING PUEBLO

Severe Rains Along Beaver Creek Hold Up Trains in That Section.

PUEBLO, Colo., June 25.—Severe rains along Beaver Creek, 12 miles west of Pueblo, this afternoon flooded that stream to such an extent that the R. & G. tracks from the village of Beaver Creek into the Arkansas river at Seward, a distance of seven miles, are inundated. The last train through was number 4, which took four hours in making the run. Recent floods which swept this section originated partly on Beaver Creek, washing out all dams. The flood waters have not yet reached Pueblo. All trains are being held up.

GALVESTON, TEXAS, June 25.—The newest tropical storm originating in the Caribbean sea Friday was scheduled to strike the southern Mexican or Central American coast, according to a report by the weather bureau today. Strong winds would continue for the next 24 hours, the report added. A warning was issued to shipping along the coast and in the Gulf to be prepared for a heavy gale. The storm was moving west-northwestward near the coast of Honduras.

CORNELL IS INDICTED FOR THE HOLMAN KILLING

SAN ANGELO, TEXAS, June 25.—The Vol Verde county grand jury today returned an indictment charging District Judge James Cornell of Sorora with murder in connection with the shooting to death of W. T. O. Holm, a prominent ranchman, at Fort Hill, Monday night. Cornell was released in $5,000 bail. His trial will come up next October.

PARADES SANS CLOTHING DOWN HALLS OF HOTEL

DALLAS, June 25.—A group of the leading hotels desire that "Au Naturel" parades be prohibited. A man alleged to be mentally unbalanced was taken to the county jail tonight after he was detected parading the halls of one of the most elite hotels here sans clothing. It was later found that the man was recently brought here from a Quindaro, Texas, hotel.

FATHER OF DEAD MAN WANTS THE REVOLVER

CHICAGO, June 25.—An unusual request, an affidavit in aid of a writ of habeas corpus to the sheriff, was made to Judge Wilson here today and it revealed that the revolver with which Mrs. Ziegler's son shot and killed Herbert P. Ziegler has a history. Peter Ziegler, father of the dead man, requested that the revolver be turned over to him. Judge Wilson refused the request and explained: "This gun was given out in a similar manner once before and it had already been instrumental in a killing. I am going to take precaution against such a thing occurring again." It then developed that the revolver was given to Ziegler by Corporal Peter Hoffman after figuring in another killing.

ANNOUNCES REDUCTION IN MAXIMUM DISCOUNT RATE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 25.—An announcement of a reduction from 12 to 8 per cent in the maximum progressive discount rate for the Kansas city federal reserve bank, effective July 1, was made today by Governor J. Z. Miller. The basic discount rate of 6 per cent remains unchanged. The present discount rate, a sliding scale above the basic rate, is charged when member banks borrow more than their full proportion of the lending power of the reserve bank.

CHARGED WITH EMBROIDERY IN RELEASED ON BOND

FORT WORTH, June 25.—E. L. Mayo was charged with embroidery of $200 when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Mitchell Friday. He was released on a $5,000 bond. He formerly was a teller in the Fort Worth National bank.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUBS TO HOLD ANNUAL CONVENT

WACO, TEXAS, June 25.—Home economics clubs and classes of McLennan county will hold their first annual convention today and picnic at Cameron Park Saturday July 2. It was announced by Miss Margaret Moore, president, county home demonstration agent.

Curb Market to Give Up Outdoor Habits of Years

NEW YORK, June 25.—The New York curb today gave up its outdoor life. When the chimneys of old Trinity pealed the noon hour, the babel that for years has marked the curb's operations on Broad street died down to a murmur after a final roar. Monday the curb market will have a roof over its head and four walls to shield it from the gaze of the curious. But the final roar was unprecedented. Brokers multiplied the shouts the furious winking of fingers, the waving of arms, the swing of caps and the mad milling that have made the curb seem like a band of deaf mutes holding carnival with acquaintances from the lunatic asylum. Up into the air went scores of varicolored caps and bizarre jackets—curious habiliments by which brokers peeped beside telegraph wires in windows above the street in the past had been able to tell their representatives from the other fellows in the scramble below. Nimble fingers, through which the men in the windows and the men on the street exchanged sign messages, sent their wireless order for the last time. Nobody agrees on the date when the business of dealing in undated securities on the curb got its start, but 1872 marked the organization of the association which left the open air today. Its members transacted business in ease or awkwardness, for business, and its unproving, it seemed they were ever in chaos.

SOCIALISTS WAGE CONTEST AT MEETING AT DETROIT

DETROIT, June 25.—The fight of the left wing socialists for affiliation with the right wing socialists broke today at the opening session of the socialist national convention. Louis Engelblat of Chicago declared the socialist government of Russia is the only international movement in the world today which is worth while and urged adoption of his resolution for affiliation on those terms laid down by Moscow. These terms include change of the party name to "communist" and banishment of Morris Hillquit and all other "reformists" from the party. A. Hoch of St. Louis branded the bolshevik government as a "wrecking crew" which is working to destroy the world to destroy socialist parties everywhere.

NOTABLE INCREASE IN OIL PRODUCTION IN UNITED STATES

TOTAL FOR MAY OF 41,920,000 BBL
GREATEST EVER RECORDED IN ONE MONTH.

WORTH ONLY ABOUT HALF
PRODUCTION MAY 1920

Estimated Value This Year is $66,000,000
Compared With $13,000,000 Last Year.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Oil production in Texas decreased 36,000 barrels during May, according to the monthly report issued today by the United States geological survey. The total Texas production for the month was 3,839,000 barrels against 3,936,000 barrels for April. Total oil production in the United States for the month was 41,920,000 barrels, an increase of 5,000 barrels over the production for April, while the coastal fields yielded 6,230,000 barrels, being 50,000 barrels increase over the production for April, while the coastal fields yielded 6,230,000 barrels, a loss of 38,000 barrels under April production.

Total production for the United States during May, amounting to 41,920,000 barrels, was the greatest ever recorded in any one month. The daily average production of 1,397,333 barrels represented an increase of 114,000 barrels over that for the month of April. The estimated value at the wells of the oil produced during May, about $66,000,000, contrasted with about $13,000,000, the value of the 16,503,000 barrels produced during May, 1920, emphasizes the shrinkage in value due to the precipitous fall in prices of crude oil that has taken place since the beginning of the current year.

The daily average consumption of domestic and imported crude oil during May, 1921, decreased 27,414 barrels, and the total daily average consumption of 1,354,419 barrels amounted to only 1161 barrels a day more than domestic production, although imports increased slightly to a daily average of 25,673 barrels.

There was a net increase in stocks during the month of more than 1,000,000 barrels. The net increase in stocks of domestic petroleum and stocks of Mexican petroleum held in the United States by importers on the first day of May, a total of 13,241,000 barrels, equivalent to 115 days' supply at the current rate of consumption, are the greatest on record.

The daily average production during the month of May in the following states, named in the order of greatest gain: Arkansas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Missouri, New York, Ohio and Indiana. The daily average production decreased in Texas, California, Wyoming, West Virginia, Tennessee, and Colorado. From January to May, 1921, inclusive, the increase in production of petroleum in the United States has amounted to more than 71,000,000 barrels as compared with the production in the first five months of 1920.

Imports of crude oil for May, which amounted to 9,147,416 barrels, show a decrease in daily average as compared with April of 29,719 barrels, although for the first five months of the year imports increased more than 25,000,000 barrels as compared with the similar period of 1920.

Stocks of Mexican petroleum held in the United States by importers decreased 22,000 barrels, and stocks of Lima, Indiana grade, decreased 25,000 barrels, but stocks of all other grades were greatly increased during the month.

Net pipe line and tank farm stocks east of California increased 5,910,000 barrels and California stocks increased more than 2,000,000 barrels.

Meteoric Shower May Result From Comet's Passage

Possibility of a meteoric shower in this part of the world atmosphere Sunday or Monday night is causing wide interest among astronomers and men of science throughout the United States. The shower, if it occurs, will be caused by the Pons-Winnecke comet, which is attracting considerable attention during its present apparition near the earth. The spectacular display, if it occurs, will be worth seeing. Astronomers, however, were unable to predict its certainty. The comet has already passed through the earth's orbit, and when the earth reaches that point, it is expected that the meteoric left in the trail of the tramp comet will be set on fire by the friction of the rapidly moving earth. If this happens the burning bodies will be visible from this section. The date of the expected contact was from Saturday to Monday night.

NOTICE IS POSTED FOR JULY ELECTION ON 4 AMENDMENTS

Notices were posted Saturday by Sheriff Fred Smith on the constitutional amendment election to be held in this county on Saturday, July 23. Four amendments are to be voted upon for ratification or rejection.

The first amendment to be submitted to the vote of the people is with reference to qualifications of voters, including the permission of husband or wife to pay the poll tax for the other, and also to permit absentee voting.

The second refers to the increase of salaries of state officers; that of raising the salaries of the governor to $8,000; attorney general to $7,500; comptroller of public accounts, treasurer and commissioner of the general land office to $5,000 and members of the legislature to $10 per day for each day during the regular sessions and also allowing the members of the legislature 10 cents per mile for traveling to and from the state capital.

The third amendment refers to the payment of pensions to confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows and leaving a tax of 2 cents on the $100 to defray this expense.

The abolishment of the board of prisoners is the fourth amendment to be voted upon.

New Superintendent and Business Manager, Texas Children's Home And Aid Take Charge at Fort Worth

TRACTION COMPANY IS SUED FOR $10,000 FOR YOUTH'S DEATH

Roy Stockwell of Houston, Texas, a social service worker of extensive training, and Wid Phillips, prominent social service worker and journalist of Texas, from Houston, are at the helm of the Texas Children's Home and Aid in the Fort Worth office since the middle of June.

Stockwell, who met the board of directors of the Wichita district branch office of the society in May, was elected superintendent of the Texas organization shortly after his visit here as case agent. Mr. Stockwell worked for several years under Dr. C. C. Carstena, director of the Child Welfare League of America previous to the world war, in which he served throughout the entire term, rising from the rank of private in the French army to that of captain in the United States field artillery. Under Mr. Stockwell's direction of affairs, and owing to the pressing need for service and the difficult financial condition facing the society at present, expenses of the organization have been reduced from $5,500 to $2,500 per month. This minimum has been reached by real sacrifice on the part of the field workers, all of whom have agreed to take a month's vacation without pay to reduce the summer expenses, and a number of whom have been working on short pay for several months.

Wid Phillips, the new business secretary of the society, is well known throughout civil and social service organizations and newspaper circles in the state. He has been in the direction of the Houston foundation of the society to take up work at the headquarters office. Mrs. J. E. T. Morris, for many years superintendent of the society, will continue as Mr. Stockwell's assistant. The position of field superintendent, formerly held by Mrs. B. E. Green, has been abolished.

Stockwell, whose work in the social service field is said to net him little more than a fraction of the remuneration his training and ability would win in other fields, is an energetic believer in a "real home for every child brought into the world." The belief took him into the social service work among children on the completion of his college course, and with the exception of the war period he has been at it with all his resources ever since.

The Wichita Falls Traction company is defendant in a $10,000 damage suit filed Saturday in the 17th district court by W. B. Harris and wife.

The plaintiffs state that they are the parents of George A. Harris, who came to his death on the night of April 28, 1921, and that they are 65 and 52 years old respectively. They contend that their son came to his death by reasons of negligence and carelessness on the part of the defendant company, its agents and employees.

The petition recites that the deceased was killed by being run over by a street car on the factory line. They allege that the boy was their sole support and that he had provided for them during his life time.

It will be remembered that the party referred to in the petition as being killed was the man who was found on the car track shortly after midnight and around which there seemed to be a great deal of mystery for some time. The theory being advanced at first that the man had met foul play.

MASKAT TEMPLE TO STAGE BIG STUNTS INDEPENDENCE DAY

Maskat temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., is planning on a hilarious time July 5, according to R. Fritz announced Saturday. An all-day basket picnic, country fair and Fourth of July celebration will be rolled into one for the benefit of Shriner and their families while, incidentally, all proceeds from concessions, which will amount to a tidy sum, are to go to the San Francisco-Honolulu fund.

The festivities will be held in the Shrine auditorium at Call Field and are scheduled to start at 9:30 o'clock in the morning with a concert by the Maskat Temple Shrine band. A polo game and a baseball brawl between Scottish Rite Masons and Knights Templar will feature the day's program.

The full schedule of the day as announced by Recorder Fritz is as follows:

- 9:30 a. m.—Band concert by Maskat Temple Shrine band.
- 10 a. m.—Welcome, Potentate Walter D. Cline. Address of the day by Luther Hoffman.
- 11 a. m.—Polo game.
- 12 noon—Dinner.
- 1:30 p. m.—Band concert by Maskat Temple Shrine band.
- 2 p. m.—Races and athletic contests.
- 3 p. m.—Baseball game, Scottish Rite vs. Knights Templar.
- 4 p. m.—Supper.
- 6 p. m.—Dancing in Shrine auditorium. Music by Maskat Temple Shrine band.

JUNIOR MASONIC ORDER SOON TO BE ESTABLISHED HERE

Temporary papers are now being prepared by local Masonic officers for the installation in the near future of a chapter of the order of De Molay for boys. This order was created several years ago, the first chapter being installed at Kansas City, and is fostered by the ancient and accepted order of Scottish Rite. The chapter here will be instituted and maintained by the Wichita Falls commandery, No. 20.

The order of De Molay has made exceptional progress in all sections of the country, according to Recorder C. O. Fritz, and a strong demand for such an institution has been felt in this city for some time. It will admit the son of any Master Mason, or his chum, between the ages of 16 and 21, and will provide regular meetings with an established ritual.

Any Free Mason in good standing, properly vouched for by a Master Mason, is eligible to visit the chapter.

Control of the new body will be vested in a tribunal of 12 officers, the first five namely the master, chancellor, senior chancellor, junior chancellor, treasurer and scribe are to be elected by ballot, while the remainder are to be appointed.

In addition to the regular officers an advisory council consisting of the following—Knights Templar will be provided: W. D. Cline, C. R. Hartson, W. W. Gardner, A. H. Brittain, E. C. Cowling, R. J. D. Avis, J. A. Kern, Frank Collier, N. F. Grafton and C. O. Fritz.

ROAD EQUIPMENT IS BEING MOVED NORTH BEYOND IOWA PARK

One-third of the equipment of road contractors Potts and Prentice has been moved to the new location, preparatory to the paving of the 17 1/2 miles of road between Iowa Park and Electra and work will be begun within the next ten days. The road will be completed, contractors stated Saturday, by December 1.

A large amount of new tractors and cars is on its way and will be installed as soon as it arrives. The one mixer that is being used is being played on the hill at the Van Horn farm just west of Iowa Park. The second mixer, which will be moved this coming week, will be stationed one mile beyond Tom Burnett's ranch house.

The contractors are subletting the contract for paving the road through Iowa Park and specifications were mailed out to firms Saturday.

UNIVERSITY CLUB TO ELECT OFFICERS AT LUNCHEON TUESDAY

The semi-annual election of officers will be held Tuesday by the University club, and a number of names have been mentioned for the presidency of the organization. The meeting will be held at the election, hear from the all men on the subject of needed tariff legislation.

The report of Secretary F. G. Swanson for the past six months shows that the average attendance at luncheons during the past three months has been $5, as compared with 70 for the first three months of the year. Among the activities of the club have been the stimulating of the demand for a lecture of civic forum, valuable assistance in high school athletics, and the financing of the education of a State University student. There are tentative but none the less hopeful plans for club quarters with athletic and swimming pool accessories.

Among those mentioned for the club presidency are Norris Ewing, C. A. Rogers, F. G. Swanson, Judge E. W. Napier and Paul Von Altman.

FARM MARKETING. One of the most interesting developments of the farming industry has been pool marketing, a plan whereby the entire output of some farm product or products is handled by a whole and thereby better prices secured for the producers.

Pool buying of raw materials has been practiced for a great, great many years. It is still being practiced with marked success in almost all lines, even though the days of buyers' agreements, whether written or gentlemen's agreements, are supposedly past, according to our laws.

A reason for the fluctuations of the grain market has been the pool buying of the European governments. Whenever the wheat market would sag and the price drop well downward the European buyers would step in at the lower price and buy hundreds of thousands of bushels; then the price would begin to climb up again.

The farmer has taken a leaf from the book of the buyers of raw materials and is selling his products in pools. Four times as much wool has been pooled by the Michigan wool growers this year as last.

The fruit growers of California have effected their selling organization and the result is that California fruits have a constant sale at a fair price. There is an effort under way at the present time in Texas to sign up for pooling one million bales of cotton, the sale of which the Texas farm bureau will handle, 250,000 bales of which was signed up on June 1st.

Slowly the farmer is getting organized, organized in a manner which will make possible handling his products through his own cooperative organizations and thus insure not only a better price but a fair grading of his products, as well as the partial financing of these products as soon as they are placed in bonded warehouses. When that has been done for all farm products the uncertainty of farming will have been taken well in hand.

Tenth street is soon to lose its distinction as the only paved route between the business district and the western part of the city. Work has started on paving Eighth street, which will connect with other thoroughfares at Brook and Denver so as to relieve Tenth street of the abnormally heavy load it has had to carry. It is unfortunate that some of this city's four-mile miles of pavement was not laid years ago so as to prevent Tenth bearing all the burden.

It is time to do some figuring on a road to the site of the Wichita river dam. The site is at present reached by two routes, one via Iowa Park, the other over part of the Seymour road. If the great lake is to mean all that Wichita Falls hopes it will mean, it ought to be readily accessible and it is not too early to begin planning. The fact that the roads will traverse parts of other counties will be a handicap, but of course not an insurmountable one.

The time is not far distant when a concrete highway will connect Wichita Falls and Vernon. Part of the Wilbarger section of this road will be opened this week, and Wichita county is continuing to make the dirt fly on her end of the line.

Now that Admiral Sims has admitted he talked too much, and been administered an official slap on the wrist in the form of a reprimand, tell us, how mad did you get?

WHY?

Does Wood Rot? (Copyright, 1921, by Wholesaler Syndicate, Inc.) The first analogy which comes to mind when we think of rotting wood is a piece of iron—a railroad rail, for example—which has been allowed to remain out in the rain until it has been partly eaten away by rust. But here the action of the rust is due to a chemical change in the iron or steel, following the application of water—while the rotting of wood is caused by an entirely different reason, tiny microbes or bacteria which lodge in the pores of the wood and gradually eat it away until it falls apart.

Monday—WHY are some Londoners called "cockneys"? The definitely adopted appellations of families. There are literally dozens of family names common in America today which trace back to the given names of women in those days following the Norman conquest, when wars on the continent wrested from the Norman-English monarchs and their nobility their holdings in Normandy and left them no alternative but to call themselves Englishmen.

WHY?

DO YOU KNOW—WHO discovered the Pacific ocean? WHY is an unmarried woman called a spinster? WHAT is the heaviest kind of wood? WHEN did the first steamship cross the Atlantic? WHERE does cork come from? Answers to Yesterday's Queries.

It's the soft times comin' that is frettin' us most. It's the fact that competition's here one more. An' a fellow has to hustle if he wants to keep his post. An' the job's a little harder than before. We've made and spent at every bend and curve. For a time we'd no occasion to give battle and be strong. An' we most forgot the way to work and earn. Now we wait hard times are comin' but to me it just appears. It's the soft times that are goin' that is causin' all our tears.

IN OUR TOWN

By HUBERT M. HARRISON

"Tell the World We'll Rebuild." With the flood waters still standing in the streets and business houses of the flood-stricken city of Pueblo, Colo., the first message that came over the wires of the Associated Press to the outside world was, "Tell the world that we are going to rebuild Pueblo." This spirit, as shown by the business men of Pueblo, is the spirit that has made the chamber of commerce work a success in more than 3,000 American cities. This is the spirit of faith and self-confidence which has inspired forward-looking men and women in other cities to stand together and work together for the improvement of their community.

Corpus Christi, too, has demonstrated that a calamity might be so serious as to be a benefit, a spur, and an inspiration to a community. Out of the defeat of the terrible sea storm that visited that city several months ago, has arisen a new community spirit. Its citizens, drawn together by the common tie of trouble and suffering, have renewed their enthusiasm for community work and through the chamber of commerce they are building a bigger and better city even than they waves destroyed. Today Corpus Christi is building modern structures, is preparing defenses against the sea, and is making a strenuous campaign to secure a government deep harbor.

This is proof of what citizens working together can do for their town, even under hardships of great disaster. It is the spirit that is promoting chambers of commerce in three thousand cities of the United States. The Johnstown flood, the Chicago fire, the San Francisco fire and many other tragedies to cities have been but the beginnings of new eras of greater growth.

Why wait for a calamity to do our best work for your town? There are many problems that need your service; there are wrongs to be righted; unsanitary places to be cleaned up; streets to be made more beautiful; business to be broadened and stimulated; trade territory to be enlarged. All these things can be accomplished best through your chamber of commerce. If you have no chamber of commerce, perhaps it is your duty to help your community organize. Get together—Think together—Work together!

Gainesville, Florida, recently built a park in one day. Hundreds of citizens turned out at the call of the chamber of commerce, put on their work clothes, seized rakes, hoes and shovels, and between sunrise and sunset transformed what had been a mass of rubbish and underbrush into a charming four-acre park, with streets laid out, sewerage installed, electric lines in place and everything spick and span. The boys and girls worked side by side with bankers, druggists, clerks, plumbers, merchants and planters.

Eureka, Cal., is promoting a campaign of advertising for northern California with the slogan, "Be a Hooster! We'll tell the world of Humboldt county."

The New Orleans Association of Commerce is encouraging all steamship lines in the city to add the following line to every letter they write: "New Orleans says 'Let's Go!'" A different slogan to promote publicity of the city is used each month.

HUMANISMS Inner Lights on Lives and Whims of Personages in the Public Eye

By WILLIAM ATHERTON DU PUY Postmaster General Will Duys has moved his desk right out in a big days which he devotes to interviews, office-seekers, congressmen, anybody can come and talk with him. While one individual is telling his story he has constantly before him the fact that others are waiting. It tends to keep him from staying over long. Those individuals who are waiting look constantly upon the man whom they have come to talk. They know that he is right there talking to other men of his kind and they observe the approach of their turn. They know that they are not being neglected or put off. They are satisfied, pleased. The idea seems to work.

He was a venerable clerk in the department of interior, at Washington, and he sat at a certain desk and did a certain routine of work in a certain way for 40 years. Then along came a new, breezy, young assistant secretary from Spokane, Wash., who had ideas of efficiency, one Francis M. Goodwin, by name. Goodwin thought that by changing the desks in the office around a bit the papers that passed through it could be routed off more expeditiously.

He had the janitor push them a bit from their accustomed places. He did not know that this would count of his elbows and neck knocking.

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton. NEW YORK, June 25.—A sharp rally in the cotton market was followed by an almost equal reaction today with the close easy and irregular, although last prices showed net gains of 17 to 28 points. Cotton contracts sold up to 12.27, making new high ground for the movement and a recovery of more than a point from recent low records, but broke more than 20 points from the best, closing at 11.95, compared with 12.13 at the close yesterday.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Mixed sentiment as to the future and scant response to the closing of the market today. The Chicago board of trade today, the finish was a quarter cent lower to 1 1/2 to 2 net higher for corn, unchanged to 1/2 higher for oats and from 1/2 to 1/2 higher for provisions. Wheat began an advance of 1/2 to 1/2 in the closing period, the usual weak and trading brought a rally. Export demand continued slow.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY TO SPEAK MONDAY AT KIWANIS LUNCH

Mr. Wilson, newly appointed district attorney, will be the principal speaker at Monday's luncheon of the Kiwanis club, it was announced Saturday.

Plans for the baseball game with the Wichita club, to decide the club championship of the city will be discussed at the luncheon, the Kiwanians having much confidence in their ability to overcome the nine that recently romped on the Rotarians.

W. O. Beaman of the Wichita Motors company will be chairman of the meeting. H. A. Dodson will furnish the "silent boost" road maps of Texas, and Chick Parker will furnish the attendance prize, a supply of letterheads and envelopes.

A reading by Miss Elvia Altman is among the announced entertainment features.

MEET WEDNESDAY TO HEAR REPORT ON SITE FOR COLISEUM

President Tom L. Burnett of the Pure Bred Live Stock association, recently organized here, has called a meeting of the organization for next Wednesday at 2 o'clock to consider several matters.

It is probable that the committee named to find a suitable site for the coliseum will make its report at that time. No action has been taken by the committee as yet, but it is considering a proposition that is expected to materially facilitate the construction of the building.

CITY NATIONAL DECLARES 32ND CONSECUTIVE QUARTERLY DIVIDEND

Checks will be sent out early this week for the regular quarterly dividend of the City National Bank of Commerce, it being the 32nd consecutive dividend of this institution. Officers of the bank report its affairs in excellent condition, and are proud of the consistent dividend record that is being maintained on the new capitalization of $1,500,000 with $300,000 surplus.

C. W. Reid, active vice-president of the bank, announced Saturday that the quarterly dividend rate had been reduced from five to three per cent, the balance of the earnings to be added to the surplus and undivided profits account.

Commenting on the action of the bank, Mr. Reid said:

"Practically all business institutions have reduced their dividend rates in view of existing conditions. Our reduction, however, is more apparent than real, in view of the greatly increased purchasing power of the dollar. We expect to restore the former dividend rate later."

HENRIETTA CITIENS STAGE 2 AUTOMOBILE TRADE TRIPS

Two automobile trade trips were staged last Tuesday and Wednesday by members of the Henrietta chamber of commerce, the Tuesday trip visiting Big Grove, Joy, Shannon, Prosper, Buffalo Springs, Yashli and Bellevue, and that on Wednesday going to the north end of the county. A large number of autoists participated in both trips.

Johnsons Get In Bad When Johnson Sees 'Em Speeding

The Johnson family very nearly came to grief Saturday afternoon when a civil war loomed as a strong possibility for a few minutes, and threatened hostilities were prevented only by the knowledge that a fair trial of family differences would be allowed in the near future.

It happened thusly:

O. D. Johnson was proceeding quietly and peacefully up Lamar street early Saturday afternoon, his little roadster purring like a million dollars. Directly behind him in a somewhat larger machine came A. W. Johnson.

Drawing abreast, the two cars, no doubt of their own accord, gradually increased in speed until that thing commonly known as a race was in full swing.

As it happened, Motorcycle Officer Melvin Johnson was riding in the vicinity of that section of Lamar street where the impromptu speedway combat was in progress, and he straightway became a third party.

At the city hall O. D. and A. W. vigorously denied that they were indulging in anything out of the ordinary, and many indeed were the things which Melvin was informed he would have to prove when the case came for trial Monday morning. They even hinted that the cop was in a grocery store when they went past and that he had no way of knowing what speed they were making.

But the latter Johnson merely grinned and opined that "if you didn't!"

The argument finally waxed so hot that Captain Ehlers had to interfere, but it promises to be resumed Monday morning when the case of Johnson and Johnson vs. Johnson is called by the judge.

REPORT CORN CROP ONE OF LARGEST IN HISTORY OF COUNTY

The country around Wichita Falls will harvest one of the best corn crops this section has ever seen, according to farmers who were in the city Saturday. The crop is practically made, according to reports, the recent rains giving the requisite amount of moisture.

Wheat threshing is gradually getting under way, after being delayed to some extent by the recent wet weather. Reports indicate that the average yield will be below 10 bushels to the acre, although some fields in the Byers-Charlie section of Clay county will do much better than that.

Cotton is reported in excellent condition with prospects for an excellent crop.

SOUTH BEND PLANS 2-DAY CELEBRATION OF SOUTHERN ENTRY

MANY FROM THIS CITY EXPECTED TO ATTEND FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

TRACKS TO CROSS BRAZOS PROBABLY BY TUESDAY

Young County Community Planning Big Time and Invites All of Its Neighbors.

Wichita Falls will add an important section to her trade territory this week when the tracks of the Wichita Falls & Southern cross the Brazos river and enter the busy oil community of South Bend. Reports Saturday indicated that the Brazos crossing would be completed by Tuesday night and that the track would be into South Bend very shortly thereafter.

South Bend will commemorate the occasion with a two-day celebration, and a large number from this city will attend. Wichitans may spend one or two days in South Bend, as they desire. The same schedule as is maintained at present will be continued for a while, when regular service to South Bend is instituted next Sunday, the passenger train leaving here at 7 a. m. and returning at 8 p. m.

The following letter will be sent Monday to all chambers of commerce members:

Dear Member: June 27, 1921. The South Bend chamber of commerce has extended a cordial invitation to the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce to attend a two-day celebration at South Bend July 1 and 2 in honor of the completion of the Wichita Falls & Southern railway tracks into that city.

We must not forget that South Bend is in the center of an important new trade territory which Wichita Falls may annex by showing proper interest and cooperation. The trip to Graham recently did much to cement friendly relations between that city and Wichita Falls. We must be diligent in keeping the name of Wichita Falls and Wichita Falls products constantly before the people of this vast oil belt to the south.

The Wichita Falls & Southern railway company will run a special excursion train, leaving Wichita Falls union station at 8 a. m. Friday morning, July 1, arriving at South Bend at 1 p. m., returning the same day, leaving South Bend at 6 p. m., arriving at Wichita Falls at 11 p. m.

Passengers may remain in South Bend over night and come back on the regular train on July 2, leaving South Bend about 8 p. m. and arriving home about 10 p. m. or they may return the same day on the excursion train.

The railroad fare from Wichita Falls to South Bend and return will be $2.25 plus war tax, per passenger. It is expected that a large crowd will go from Wichita Falls. Arrange now to take part in this trip, for the recreation and fun it will bring to Wichita Falls in a business way. Notify the secretary of the chamber of commerce if you desire to go.

Yours very truly, TRADE EXTENSION COMMITTEE, W. W. Anderson, Vice-Chairman, J. G. Culbertson, Chairman.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF KABER ARRESTED

Salvatore Cola (center) photographed immediately after his arrest in Buffalo, New York, charged with the murder of Daniel Kaber, wealthy Cleveland publisher, who was killed almost two years ago. In connection with the death of Kaber, the late publisher's mother-in-law, the wife and stepdaughter are under arrest. According to District Attorney Moore, Cola admits stabbing Kaber twenty-four times.

PROTESTS ON COUNTY VALUATION SET FOR HEARING ON JULY 6

With only one more day of work for the board of equalization, all renditions will have been examined. Work has begun in sending out notices to those people whose renditions have been returned in which they are requested to appear before the board on July 6 at which time any protests will be heard. The board expects to be in session three days in order to hear protests and it is hoped by the members that everyone will take this opportunity of voicing himself on the matter. Commissioners state that the renditions this year were in an exceptionally good state and that although numerous changes were made by the board the members are far below that of former years. As soon as the board has heard the various protests and made any changes, if any, the county assessor will be able to furnish a figure on the total valuation of the county for this year.

MEETING AT DALLAS ON TRUCK TAX LAW SET FOR THURSDAY

A meeting of all interests affected by the truck mileage tax bill will be held at Dallas next Tuesday and Friday, it was announced Saturday by Representative E. F. Johnson, who is leading the fight for repeal of the bill. Mr. Johnson returned late Friday from a visit to a number of east Texas points. Represented at the meeting will be each of the local organizations formed throughout Texas, also such organizations as the wholesale grocers, lumbermen, oil field supply men and others affected by the measure.

Mr. Johnson addressed the County Judges' association at Fort Worth last week and secured the partial cooperation of that organization. It was largely through the efforts of the judges that the bill was passed, and while the county officials now realize that it is an unjust measure as it now stands, they do not entirely agree with the plans for the new bill, Mr. Johnson said.

The Dallas meeting will draft the new bill which the governor will be asked to submit at the coming special session.

College Students With Us

Four University of Texas students are depending on Wichita Falls to put them over the top in scholarship contest. The young men are spending their summer vacation taking subscriptions to the Pictorial Review Magazine to help earn their next year's tuition at college.

Pictorial Review, the leading women's magazine, contains fiction by the best authors, household columns, fancy work and a complete set of the latest fashions every month.

Pictorial Review Patterns are simple, easy to follow and accurate; any one of them may be obtained at our pattern counter.

The boys who will soon call on you are bona fide Pictorial Review representatives and have nothing more to offer you. They will explain the deferred payment plan and Pictorial Review service through which you may keep abreast with everything new for women on practically your own terms. They are all college students, and are enjoying their vacation doing this work. Each subscription or renewal counts 3 to 5 votes. Their names are:

Your Two Best Friends

Calumet Baking Powder is the friend of millions of housewives; it is your friend because it helps you in many ways on bake-day.

It makes you sure of bakings that are absolutely pure and wholesome; contains only such ingredients as have been officially endorsed by the U. S. Food Authorities.

It helps you reduce baking expenses because it contains more than ordinary leavening strength. It costs less—you use less.

Calumet is a true friend because it never causes you any worry about baking results. You know positively, that when you use it your bakings will be sweet, palatable and nourishing.

Calumet is your friend because it is always the same—the quality never varies. The last spoonful is the same as the first—pure in the can—pure in the baking.

Best by Test. One trial will convince you.

The Calumet Kid is the emblem of quality and economy in baking powder.

He represents the baking powder that is made in the world's largest and most sanitary baking powder factories—that received the highest awards, World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago—Paris Exposition, Paris, France.

Whenever you see the Calumet Kid, think of the biggest selling brand of baking powder in the world—the baking powder that has raised the quality and lowered the cost of bakings for over thirty years.

It is the life mission of the Calumet Kid to encourage economy—to constantly remind you to use only one level teaspoonful to the cup of sifted flour.

He will help you solve your baking problems by sending you a beautiful cook book—illustrated in colors—containing hundreds of new worth while recipes. Full instructions for writing him for this book will be found on the slip in the one pound can of Calumet Baking Powder.

"OLD SETTLERS" OF EAST TEXAS NOT WORRYING ABOUT THE SUIT FILED BY CHEROKEE INDIANS

By JAMES E. SULLIVAN

HOUSTON, TEXAS, June 25.—The fact that the Texas Cherokees, a branch of the Cherokee Indians, one of the five civilized tribes of Oklahoma, have joined the Oklahoma Cherokees and brought suit to recover acreage comprising virtually all of Cherokee county, and ask for damages for having been "dispossessed of the Cherokee Nation county" in 1829 and by the republic of Texas, is apparently causing little worry among the "old settlers."

I have been to Rusk and other towns in Cherokee county and have talked to old settlers. While many agree that there may be some tangled litigation, perhaps long drawn out, the eventual end, they say, is easily surmised. "There will be nothing doing for the Indians."

The suit was filed against the state of Texas and it is said will be carried to the United States supreme court, because of the nature of the litigation, and because John M. Taylor of Oklahoma is suing there for 14,000,000 acres in two states.

It involves some 1,500,000 acres of land, and embraces the whole of Cherokee county, Smith and portions of Gregg, Rusk and Van Zandt counties.

The claimants contend Texas assumed the obligations of the republic of Texas when admitted to the union, and, moreover, is obligated to a treaty made by the Cherokee with the republic of Texas during the war with Mexico, that the Cherokees were to retain possession of their land in consideration of their services during the war, but were later driven from the "Cherokee Nation" by the troops of the young republic, aided by volunteers—settlers of the affected territory.

For this alleged "looting" the red brother from his mourning, the Texas Cherokees, who were left out in the cold and rain when the treaty of 1817 was made with the United States government and who came to the flowery prairies of Texas from Alabama, personally conducted by General Winfield Scott, ask recovery and damages.

However, a historical sketch of Cherokee county and the town of Rusk, compiled by Sam A. Wilson, A. Jackson, William T. Long, Asa Dossett, E. R. Ragdale, W. J. Ragdale, R. H. Quinn, John J. Bowman and Isaac Lee, pioneers of the county, and read at a July 4 celebration at Rusk in 1916, takes issue with the allegations of the Texas Cherokees.

The Cherokee Indians claimed this county (Cherokee county) under a grant from Mexico, but whether this claim was well founded, we have no means of knowing. Write the county historians, who evidently knew nothing of the alleged treaty between the Cherokees and the republic of Texas.

The sketch is said to have been written at the request of the federal government when General U. S. Grant was president. He wanted a centennial history of the United States by counties—each county to furnish a sketch compiled by representative and substantial citizens.

The Indian domain in 1823 extended from the San Antonio road northward and included, besides Cherokee county, Smith and parts of Rusk, Gregg and Van Zandt. The Cherokees numbered about 1,000 effective warriors, some 400 of whom lived in Cherokee county. Their chief, Bolea, a powerful leader, who possessed cunning and courage, lived about eight miles southeast of Rusk, on what became after his death the home of George W. Pearson. The second chief, "Big Bush" lived a few miles south of Rusk. One of his sons, noted in the sketch, lived two miles southeast on the farm subsequently owned by L. H. Julliard. One live creek takes its name from this Indian.

The creek, west of Rusk, is named for Little Bear, a Cherokee warrior, whose wigwam adorned its brushy banks. Tales creek is also named for a Cherokee.

As the Cherokees grew powerful in numbers their attitude toward the scattered white settlers grew more war-like and vicious, and finally culminated in the massacre of the Killough family, one of the largest pioneer families of the "nation" in 1833.

The Killoughs decided to leave the Indian country in the fall, just as soon as crops were harvested. They combined to quicken the harvesting, but about noon one day were attacked by a force of Indians and 18 members of the family, matters to pioneer civilization, perished by the tomahawk. Only three escaped—Nathaniel, wife and child—no man there was seen to flee. Fought behind the safety of a block-house.

Judge Will Donley of Jacksonville has an ancient tomahawk, a relic of the Killough massacre, that he expects to eventually present to a historical society.

The wanton massacre of the Killoughs, together with other depredations, aroused the settlers to vigorous action and General Thomas J. Rusk of Nacogdoches, for whom the town of Rusk is named, and Colonel Ed Burleson, noted Indian fighter, with 200 regular troops of the republic of Texas, marched against the Indians, commanded by Chief Bolea, who had assumed the title of "general." They met on July 18, 1833, near the Neches river, just beyond the northern border of Cherokee county. The Indians suffered a disastrous defeat and Chief Bolea was killed in action.

The fight terminated the war, frequently known as the "Cherokee war," and left the country in undisturbed possession of the white settlers, the remnants of the defeated Indians moving on to other lands.

Until that time the Indians had held full sway and only a handful of white settlers lived within the present confines of Cherokee county. Old records show Joseph Burt lived near the "crossing" on the Angelina river, known as Lincoln, Peter Bean lived on Bean's prairie, three miles east of Alto, and Martin Lacy two miles west, under the protection of a stockade called Fort Lacy. John and William Bored lived 15 miles south on Bos creek, within the shadow of a stockade. Thomas Cook, Jesse and Abner Gibson lived about three miles south-east of Rusk, near Cook's fort. James Bradshaw lived on the Neches river near the San Antonio crossing, and the Belts, Martins and Johnsons lived near Knoxville.

After the "Cherokee war" and the expulsion of the Indians the country was more rapidly settled and in 1836 the state legislature enacted a law providing for the organization of Cherokee county, which included a slice of Nacogdoches county—frequently called the "mother of east Texas."

3 DISTRICTS VOTE SCHOOL TAX RAISE

Canvass Shows Road Bonds Carried, 749 to 111—Hospital Majority Smaller.

Official count of the votes cast in the bond elections of last Saturday shows that the road bonds led, only 111 votes being cast against it and 749 for it. The general hospital bonds carried by a vote of 620 to 223 and the branch hospital bonds carried by 663 to 184. The road bonds were merely a new issue of the old $1,000,000 voted two years ago, but the new ones will be serial bonds maturing one each year with interest at 6 per cent. The general hospital bonds were for $74,000 and the branch hospitals for $100,000. The branch hospital bonds include branch hospitals at Burkburnett, Electric and Iowa Park.

Three school districts voted on the school tax question and the results show that it carried in each district. Enterprise voted for the tax by a vote of 19 to 16; Barwise was unanimous in adopting the measure by a vote of 7 to 6, and the county line district voted the tax by 18 to 1.

'ONE A MINUTE' AND 'THE MIRACLE OF MANHATTAN' COMING TO THE EMPRESS

The old saying of that famous elfish philosopher, Phineas T. Barnum, that "there was a fool born every minute," has been made the groundwork of a clever and enjoyable comedy-drama, "One a Minute," starring Douglas McLean, which comes to the Empress Monday and Tuesday of this week as the feature attraction.

Mr. McLean is seen as a druggist who, in order to get ahead of a big syndicate which is trying to close him up, perfects a patent medicine and successfully defies the manufacturers. But he is put on trial for violating the drug law and manages to be acquitted when he cures the judge. Everything seemed to be going in fine shape until he was asked what he put in the medicine—and then events happened thick and fast.

Wanda Hawley has the leading role in "A Kiss in Time," which is the feature on Wednesday only. She has the part of an illustrator who is requested by a magazine to draw pictures for a story of a man who met, wooed and won a girl all within the space of four hours. She refused, saying that such events were absolutely impossible, whereupon the author proves that they are not, by doing the same thing to her. In the latter young lady herself—T. Roy Barnes plays the role of the author, and Walter Heirs has the part of an amateur detective.

Thursday and Friday bring Elaine Hammerstein in "The Miracle of Manhattan," while the week closes Saturday with Antonio Moreno in "Three Sevens."

Miss Hammerstein's production deals with life in New York city and is said to be one of the best pictures she has ever made, while the latter film, one in which two fisted fights predominate.

LATEST COSMOPOLITAN PRODUCTION TO BE SHOWN AT THE OLYMPIC THIS WEEK

"The Woman God Changed" is the title of a Cosmopolitan production by Don Byrne, which will open a three days' engagement at the Olympic theater Monday. After a private screening of the picture recently by the Olympic management, at which a number of show patrons and representatives of the press were present, it was declared by all to be the equal of any of the past few years, and includes such productions as "The Miracle Man," "Humoresque," "Hello, Hello" and "The Gilded Lily."

There is just a bit of all of these famous pictures in "The Woman God Changed," added to which is a tremendous new thought which will no doubt raise considerable discussion, for, on the surface, the seriousness of the question appears rather flimsy, but as pointed out in the picture it gains a hold on the spectator that will hold his attention for some time.

From a standpoint of entertainment the picture grabs the onlooker's attention at the very beginning and holds him in suspense almost to the breaking point. It carries one from the gayest spots on Broadway, through a courtroom to the South Seas and back again. Scenes of splendor and gaiety representing thousands of dollars expenditure flash one upon another across the screen, while the South Seas island pictures were obtained by taking the company to the Bahama Islands. The company remained in these waters for several weeks and many handsome shots were obtained. There is action plenty in "The Woman God Changed." It is the sort of dramatic action that thrills the biased spectator and makes him sit up and notice.

The cast includes such well known and Lillian Walker.

Reel Chatter

By JEAN DARNELL

With her eyeballs burned by a curling iron Marguerite de La Motte cannot be photographed for a fortnight. Consequently work is progressing at only half speed on Douglas Fairbanks' "The Three Musketeers."

For his part in Gouverneur Morris' photoplay, "Ace of Hearts," which Goldwyn has recently completed, Lon Chaney spent two hours every morning putting on his make-up. But everyone agreed that the result was worth the effort.

Madame Nalimova is cutting and editing her Metro production of "Camille," which will be released in the near future. Those who have seen bits of the unfinished picture declare it promises to be the greatest of the Russian pictures.

Viola Dana has been working at Santa Monica, Calif. for the past week, where final scenes of "The Match Breaker," her new picture, are being filmed.

Bert Lytell's next picture will be "Junk," a Saturday Evening Post story by Kenneth Harris, for which June Mathis is preparing the scenario.

Shirley Mason and her husband, Bernard Durning, stood sponsors for Edith Hallor, film star, at her wedding to Jack Dillon, Fox director. The bridegroom took place in the Durning apartments and were witnessed by both Viola Dana and Alice Lake.

Mary Miles Minter is the most recent celebrated celebrity to go abroad. She leaves immediately upon completion of her current picture.

Emphatic denials that William Farnum will leave the screen and return to the stage are being made by Fox. It seems that additional stories are being prepared for him.

Judge Priest in "Boys Will Be Boys," the Goldwyn picture starring Will Rogers, is played by Kimball, father of Clara Kimball Young. He is an old school actor, with a long legitimate stage career and is often seen on the screen in support of his daughter.

The Infamous Miss Revel, a story from the pen of Carey Winster, has been selected as Alice Lake's new Metro starring vehicle. Miss Lake has been taking a much needed vacation since the completion of "Over the Wire," her most recent picture.

Harold Lloyd has purchased the lot next to his home and will use the space for a swimming pool and tennis court.

The heaviest California rainfall in 45 years has marooned Tom Santschi and his company in the High Sierras. Scenes for the new Santschi picture were being taken when the downpour came and rendered mountain streams impassable.

Possibly to return to the musical comedy stage, which made her famous, Texas Guinan has left the Western Film colony and is in New York. She has completed eight western pictures.

The newest star to head her own producing organization is Florence

Vidor. She will work at the studio of her husband, King Vidor.

A Mexican saddle, valued at $1,000 helps to dress the crystal cave set in the Ruth Roland serial. The saddle, which was loaned by Walter Cameron, is considered the finest example of saddlery in the country and has won innumerable prizes as such at fairs and exhibitions. The main features are the sterling silver mounting throughout, and the hand-wrought iron work, while the leathers and pockets are also hand-tooled.

Mary "Soub" Pollard is tearing up the earth in his latest mirth getter, in which he is featured as a district attorney.

Ruth Roland was the first to inscribe her name on a petition to California congressmen and senators for a tariff on foreign films. Miss Roland established informal quarters on her set, a bulky list of signatures being secured.

After he had won a horse raffled off by one of his cowboy friends, Will Rogers, Goldwyn star, treated the entire personnel of the studio to luncheon one day last week.

When the Goldwyn company was making "Snowblind" in Canada, Cullen Landis, who has the part of Peter in the picture, served as fireman on the special train that took the company every day from Seattle to Lake Louise, where the snow scenes were taken.

Some people might think it hardly worth while to deposit a dollar a week in a savings account with the City National Bank of Commerce, but that weekly dollar with the four per cent compound interest paid by the bank will, in the course of five years, amount to almost $200.

"NOMADS OF THE NORTH" A STUPENDOUS PRODUCTION; COMING TO THE STRAND

"The Spenders," Benjamin B. Hampton's photoplay of the Henry Wilson book, released under the Hodkinson name-plate, comes to the Strand theater on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Carrying to the screen Mr. Wilson's unique humor, his pleasing human characters and an appealing dramatic plot, "The Spenders" is a photoplay which will dwell long in one's memory. It abounds in romance, adventure, comedy, quaint humor and rich color. The varied and brilliant society atmosphere, with its smart costumes and display of wealth does not dispel the humanness of the characters. More than a society picture "The Spenders" is a generally humorous drama of human life, one that is universal and rings true.

The final part of the week at the Strand brings a production said to be in a class by itself, "Nomads of the North" is its title and Lon Chaney and Betty Blyth have the leading roles. It is adapted for the screen from the book of the same name by James Oliver Curwood.

Chaney, he it known, is one of the most progressive actors appearing on the silver sheet today, having risen from comparative obscurity within the space of a few years' time and he is still rising. Since his advent to the screen Chaney has played just about every type of character imaginable; he has been everything from rich man to poor man, from beggar man to thief; he has been very old, bewhiskered and rickety, and he has been very young, debonair and dashing. Parts calling for a type of middle-aged appearance fit him just as perfectly as do those of the other two extremes, and the secret of it all lies in his dressing room, where he is able to make his genius for "changing looks" as quick as a chameleon's count for all it is worth. "Nomads of the North" is a great picture and is played by a great actor.

"THE WOMAN GOD CHANGED" IS BIG ATTRACTION AT OLYMPIC THIS WEEK

Scene from the Paramount Picture "The Woman God Changed" - A Cosmopolitan Production

OLYMPIC TO OFFER NOVEL PROGRAM DURING COMING ANNIVERSARY WEEK, JULY 4

The management of the Olympic theater promises a rare treat for local amusement fans during Olympic anniversary week, the week of July 4. An old-time movie show will be staged by which movie bugs will be able to gaze to a great extent the advance present day motion pictures have made over those of 10 years ago.

A picture of by gone days, one some 8 or 10 years, will be shown, accompanied by the noise of the old "nickle in the slot" type of electric piano. Along with these will be all the other things associated with the old nickle-deck days, even to the highly colored "don't spit on the floor" slides.

A big new Paramount picture, with the music of the organ and all the adjuncts of the present day production will follow the old time show. Superbly satisfactory spectacle service supplied by Fred Goss, Optometrist, with Kruger Jewelry Co., Wichita Falls, Texas.

FATTY ARBUCKLE IN "THE TRAVELING SALESMAN" RETURNS TO THE MAJESTIC

Fatty Arbuckle in "The Traveling Salesman" is coming back for a single day.

The picture which brought laughter that rocked the theater when shown at the Olympic several weeks ago is to be the main feature at the Majestic on Monday, and the following afternoon on his first appearance in any theater by which to judge, it is safe to assume that this one day run will come perilously near smashing some attendance records.

"The Traveling Salesman" is beyond doubt the funniest picture the round Fatty ever turned out, and that is saying a great deal. It fairly teems with ludicrous situations, and at the same time is clean and wholesome. Lois Wilson appears in support of the star and does some acting that is scarcely less amusing than that of Arbuckle.

"The Inside of the Cup" comes on Tuesday and the next two days bring a special production with an all-star cast, "The Princess Jones." The former picture is a screen version of Winston Churchill's great novel and

CADILLAC NOW BUILT IN NEW FACTORY; INCREASED PRODUCTION NECESSARY

Cadillac motor cars are now being constructed in a recently built Detroit factory which is declared by industrial experts to be one of the best adapted to its purposes of any in the automotive industry. The factory is also one of great size, occupying a 47-acre site. The new plant is regarded as one of the finest in the automobile business, and a tribute to the Cadillac Motor Car company, and its steadily growing success in the production of Cadillac cars during the last 26 years.

Among the 13 cars of the price of Cadillac or above," according to H. H. Rice, president of the Cadillac Motor Car company, "more buyers have preferred the Cadillac than all other cars put together. This preference, which has been increasing year by year, has in a large measure made desirable the concentration of Cadillac manufacture." This is done in the new factory, which the company has built as fine as it knew how, just as it has always built the best cars it knew how to build.

Walking four stories above the street, one can start at the west end of one of the new Cadillac factory buildings and go approximately 1,000 feet in an east direction, before reaching the eastern walls of another Cadillac building with which it is joined. From north to south, there is a similar route of 1,153 feet. Practically all main structures are four stories high. Normally more than 7,000 employees work for the company. Great pains have been taken to get working quarters so well lighted that they are almost shadowless. Forced ventilation gives a worker the same freshness of air which he would enjoy if working out-of-doors. At pleasure has been allowed for every operation. A real working home has been established, which is conducive to maintaining and even improving the high type of Cadillac workmanship.

Face Mask for Auto Drivers.
A complete face mask, to be buttoned to the cap and equipped with an adjustable eye shield against glaring headlights, has been patented to protect automobile drivers in cold weather.

Protects Side Curtain Fabric.
There has been invented a thimble for the ends of upright rods used to support automobile side curtains to protect the fabric from puncture and relieve the stitching from strains.

Keeps Water From Running Board.
A new rubber mat for automobile running boards not only prevents a person's feet from slipping but also drains off the accumulated mud and water.

Gives Overboating Alarm.
When an automobile engine over heats sufficiently for the water in the radiator to boil the steam blows an alarm whistle, which has been invented to be inserted in a radiator cap.

LATEST WAR TANK IS A WATER BUG

A new caterpillar tank was successfully tried out at Stockton, Calif., recently by United States army officers. The photograph shows the tractor as it appeared while executing test maneuvers in water at the Holt Testing Grounds. An army officer directs the single mechanic who operates it. The new tractor can go under water and has a periscope, with which the engine breather. The caterpillar can go 30 miles an hour on land and carries a three-inch gun. The photo shows the tractor in stream, with army officer and mechanic during government test.

BOOTH AND DAUGHERTY THINK THEY CAN DO THIS WITH ONE OF THEIR CARS

The people who congregated at the office of the Bakerfield Californian a few days ago to greet Billy Kitchen, Floyd Dunlap and A. Erickson on their return from the 250-mile test run of the Willys-Knight touring car, which was driven to Los Angeles and back with a sealed radiator, and with the fan removed, to determine how much water it would consume, were treated to a surprise without any shock absorbers.

Some of the boys were really shocked at the errors they committed in guessing how much water the car would use on the trip, and some of them guessed unusually low, too, as such guesses go. A prize of $25 will be given to the fortunate bird who made the closest estimate on the cooling system capacities of the Willys-Knight, which made the trip.

The car used just five ounces of water. There are 16 ounces to the pint. And Billy Kitchen declared that during the trip some of the contents of the radiator bubbled through the cracks of the tape and sealing wax, indicating that the quart of water which was removed from the filled radiator before the trip was started, was not enough to allow for natural expansion. The Kitchens were about the only ones present who were not surprised by the car's performance.

"We knew what it would do," Billy said, "I didn't expect it to use more than a teaspoonful." Kitchen, Dunlap and Erickson, made the first half of the test run, leaving Bakerfield at 8 o'clock in the morning and arriving in Los Angeles shortly after noon. They left Los Angeles on the return trip at 1:12 p. m. the next day, wiring notification of their departure to The Californian. The arrival at Bakerfield was at 5:26 p. m. total time for the return trip being four hours and fourteen minutes. When the car was parked in front of The Californian office a careful inspection of the seals on radiator cap and joints in the cooling system was made by a representative of the newspaper. Tape and sealing wax, which was carefully marked with type letters, were found intact and undisturbed. They were also examined at the arrival and departure in Los Angeles.

Makes Easier for Driver.
A new automobile steering gear, in which cams replace the usual segments, sectors and worms, has been invented by an Englishman, who claims it will prevent shocks of rough roads and twisting strains to the steering columns.

Copper tubing of small diameter can be readily bent into short curves by melting resin and pouring it into the tube, which can then be bent like a piece of solid copper without fear of breaking. After the desired bend has been obtained, the resin can be run out by heating the tube with a blow-torch.

GIVE YOUR STORAGE BATTERIES A DRINK, IS ADVICE OF LOCAL DEALER

"Storage batteries should be inspected at least twice a month to determine whether the electrolyte is above the plates," J. W. Brown, U. S. service station representative for this section, stated yesterday in urging motorists to educate themselves in the care of their batteries. "It may be necessary to examine often to make sure that the plates are covered, particularly in hot weather, since heat expedites the evaporation of the water. The greatest care must be exercised in making this inspection," he continued. "If it is necessary to use a light, use an electric lamp, but under no circumstances use a match or a candle or any other open flame. The battery contains gases which on coming in contact with an open flame may cause a serious explosion. Water will evaporate from the electrolyte during the normal course of battery operation. The acid itself does not evaporate. The surface of the fluid should be not less than half an inch above the plate tops. If less, enough distilled water should be added to bring it up to the required level. Well water, spring water, faucet water or water from an ordinary stream never should be used as they contain impurities which will damage the battery.

"If there is no distilled water at hand then clear rain water, if in the country, or melted artificial ice may be utilized. For this purpose, handle the water or ice only in glass, glazed or hard rubber vessels. City rain water is to be avoided because it is impure, often containing ammonia and other gases which the rain absorbs in falling.

"Whether the battery contains the up-to-date machine-pasted plates, or the old-style hand-pasted plates, sulphation will set in immediately if the electrolyte is permitted to remain for any length of time below the plate tops.

FRANKLIN CAR GOES 34.8 MILES ON GALLON WITHOUT COASTING

In these days when the subject of gasoline economy is so much discussed, the fact that a stock Franklin touring car made 34.8 miles on a measured gallon of gasoline over the Los Angeles speedway on May 18—and without coasting at any time—is worthy of more than passing notice. The test was made with the top down, the windshield up and closed, and the motor in constant operation at a set speed from start to finish. The car carried an official observer besides the driver.

To show that the car was not doctored up, but was running on a lean mixture, the driver (George Sherwood, service manager of the Pasadena branch of Ralph Hamlin, the Franklin dealer in Los Angeles) put the car around the track at 48 miles per hour during the gas test an average speed of better than 20 miles per hour as maintained.

MOTORCYCLE INDUSTRY CONTINUES TO FORGE AHEAD, MANY USES FOUND

AKRON, OHIO, June 20.—Considerable optimism is expressed for the outlook of the motorcycle industry, in a statement made by the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, who announce the addition of J. H. Appleby, the well-known tire and rubber expert, to their force of special motorcycle tire representatives.

"Motorcycle registration continues to climb," this announcement says, "and a recent research finds the motorcycle in fields of service never before utilized. Caterers, for instance, are using the motorcycle and sidecar for delivering hot meals. Hospitals give speed—first-aid, service with them, while the fast two-wheelers are found in greatly increased numbers operating for messenger and telegraph companies, store delivery work, police force and postoffice service."

Mr. Appleby has been with the Firestone company many years, much of his time being devoted to the St. Louis and Kansas City districts. Naturally he has gained a wide circle of business acquaintances who will welcome his promotion as being well merited.

The announcement also reports a trip east by C. T. Wood, Firestone cycle tire representative, with headquarters on the Pacific coast. Mr. Wood is making an extended visit for

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS

By WILLIAM H. STEWART, JR.

Motor Department: Lately the front wheels of my car have been making a cracking noise. Sometimes I have to stop them in water, which I did. The noise disappeared for a while, but it now has an ever—H. C.

Motor Department: One of my friends has a set of auxiliary spark gaps on his car. They are set on the dash, where they can be watched as he drives. They are set on the dash, where they can be watched as he drives. They are set on the dash, where they can be watched as he drives.

Motor Department: I have an 1918 Overland car on which the right brake is beginning to give me some trouble. About three weeks ago I had the differential filled with grease and ever since then I notice that a certain amount of it leaks out through the right-hand brake. What shall I do to remedy this trouble?—W. K.

Motor Department: My tires are beginning to wear through the tread, but have not worn through the fabric yet. Would it be advisable to use tinterol instead of buying new tires? Do they really prevent punctures? In three anything else you can advise?—P. S.

Motor Department: At what position should the piston of a Ford be when at firing point with spark retarder on or no spark? I have trouble with my engine knocking on a hill, no matter how far I retard spark. Have taken up all bearings, and my mixture is about right.—E. S.

Motor Department: In the flow of current from an L. T. Spitzdorf magnet a continuous current or a split current? For instance, there is one wire from the collector to the switch and two from the switch to the magnets, one to the breaker box and the other to the distributor. Should the direction of flow of the current?—C. Y.

Motor Department: In overhauling my automobile, I got it out of line and when it should spark on one cylinder it sparks on all. What is likely to be wrong? I have taken all the magnets from the magnets. All are marked "N" on one end. Do those marked "N" all go on the same side? Thanking you for any information you may be able to give me, I am—J. S.

Motor Department: I have a Ford car that has been run one year. It does not run more than 11 or 12 miles on a gallon of gasoline. Can you suggest what might be wrong? S. T.

It becomes necessary to remove a wheel for any cause.

When the wheels are set true ahead by adjusting the tie rod correct alignment does not follow unless the offset knuckle arms are set at equal angles to their respective knuckle points. While driving straight ahead the wheels will run true, but in turning from a straight course the throw will change and the wheels will not cut concentric circles. As a result one tire must slide.

Do not neglect to grease the wheel bearings occasionally. They should not be neglected because they are out of sight. The front wheels must be removed for this. If a grease cup is provided for each rear wheel it will be on the axle housing next to the wheel. If not, the wheel must be removed. Neglected bearings mean loss of power and unnecessary expense.

The wheels should respond to the turning of the steering wheel with but little lost motion, and when the lost motion is excessive it may be taken up by tightening the thrust nut on the steering gear bearing or by adjusting the ball and socket joints.

Keep the fan clean and well greased so that it will turn easily.

When an engine fails to develop much power until it is hot, indicates that the carburetor is pretty lean for starting.

Oil a hub gear of a motorcycle on the inside and outside splines. Turn three times on a 200-mile trip is not too much.

A rusty spring will cause damage to a car and tires on account of its sluggish action on rough roads.

When attempting to pass another vehicle going in the same direction, start turning out (to the left) at least seventy-five feet to the rear. If you get up too close your view of the road ahead is obstructed and you may turn directly in front of another car coming toward you. When you have passed a car do not turn back into the road nor slow down too soon.

Caked, spent carbide in an acetylene generator can be cleared out without difficulty if the container is placed in a bucket of water for ten minutes or so.

An open coil is indicated by the failure of a low voltage test lamp to light when its terminals are touched to two neighboring commutator bars that connect the coil in question.

The appearance of a car can be greatly improved by first carefully washing the surface with warm water containing a little ammonia and then give it a coat of thin varnish.

When the steering wheel seems to turn harder than usual, a flat tire is the most probable explanation and sometimes there is a tendency for the car to edge toward the side which the trouble has developed.

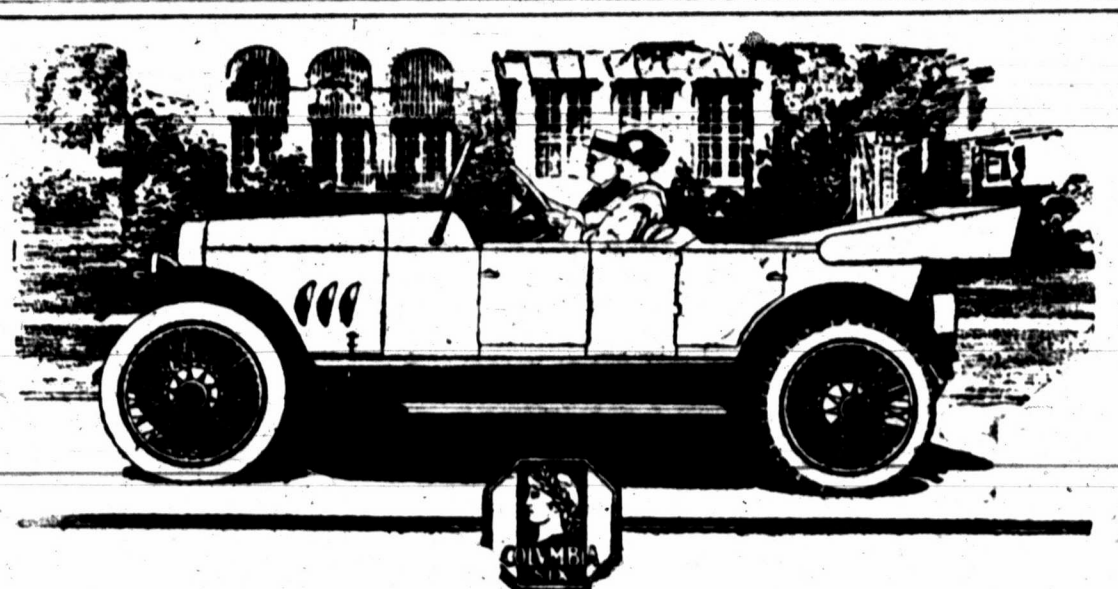

Not all the cooling of the engine is affected by water, but lubricating oil plays an important part, as it cools the bearings. Keep the crank case clean. It cools the oil.

It is inadvisable to use white lead or other material containing oil to stop a leak in a gasoline connection. The gasoline would dissolve the oil, thereby making the repair useless.

Much difficulty in removing spark plugs is directly traced to their being inserted when the engine was hot. This should not be done, as the metal contracts when the engine cools, making the plugs entirely too tight.

Motorists would do well in hot weather to test the air pressure in their tires every few days to see that the leakage of air has not reduced the pressure to a point where the tire will suffer harm.

When you have trouble with your lights, take a test lamp of a volt-meter and test out the circuit, beginning at the point where the lighting wire should take its current. This will enable you to discover where the circuit is interrupted.

RACIAL COMPOSITION OF U. S. ANNOUNCED

Japanese Rate of Growth Far Exceeds That of Any Other Country.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The racial composition of the population of the United States in 1920, as announced by the census bureau, shows the country to contain 94,822,421 white persons, 19,463,912 negroes, 242,955 Indians, 111,625 Japanese, 61,686 Chinese and 9,482 others. The Japanese rate exceeded by far the rate of growth in the last ten years of all other classes.

Official estimates of the increase in the number of Japanese in the United States particularly on the Pacific coast were based on the official tabulation which revealed a rate of expansion of 22.9 per cent during the decade of 1910-20. California absorbed 20.56 per cent of the total growth of Japanese in this period. On January 1, 1920, there were 71,902 Japanese in California. The remainder of the increase was distributed largely in the states of Washington, Oregon, Utah, Idaho, Colorado and New York with between two and three thousand each.

The white population showed only a 16 per cent expansion for the decade and the negro 8.5 per cent. Both the Indian and Chinese groups dwindled 8.4 per cent and 12.8 per cent, respectively. The growth in the white population was considerably less than the rate for the previous decade, which was 22.3 per cent. This decline, the statement said, was due principally to the marked reduction in immigration during the world war. An estimate based on the excess of births over deaths and the excess of immigration over emigration showed a difference by only a small fraction of one per cent from the total white enumerated.

The greatest numerical increase in the white population was shown in the east north central division embracing the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, where the increase was 3,911,363. The middle Atlantic states division had a growth for the decade of 2,761,562. In the south Atlantic and east and west central portions the whites showed a combined increase of 3,551,107.

The rate of increase in the negro population, which was not perceptibly affected by immigration or emigration, was the lowest on record, according to the statement.

Evidence of the migration of the negro to the north and west was found in the figures showing nearly three-fourths of the increase in the negro population, or 472,418 of the 625,250 gain in these sections. A growth of only 167,822, or about one-fourth was reported for the south, despite the fact that 55 per cent of the total negro race is still below the Mason Dixon line. The percentage increase of negroes in the west was 23.1; in the north 42.3 per cent and in the south 1.9 per cent. Michigan with 60,052 negroes, led all states in percentage of increase with 231 per cent. Illinois and Ohio, with increases of 71 per cent, showed further evidence of the northward movement of negroes. Pennsylvania negro population for the period was 46.7 per cent, its black race now exceeding in number those of Maryland and Kentucky.

Decrease in the Indian race in the last ten years' period was probably due in part, it was said, to the enumeration as Indians in 1910 and as whites in 1920, of persons having only slight traces of Indian blood.

Of the total decrease in the Indian race—22,724—by far the greater part, 18,876, was in Oklahoma alone. The only pronounced increase was reported for North Carolina—from 7,881 to 11,824.

Other states where increases occurred were Louisiana, Texas, Montana, Arizona and California.

ANOTHER CUT IN PRICE OF THE COLUMBIA SIX IS ANNOUNCED DURING WEEK

Another reduction in the price of the Columbia Six was announced June 18. The current reduction of $200 makes a total of $500 since October of last year, when the downward trend of prices started. The Columbia Six touring car now sells for $1,495 f. o. b. factory.

R. R. Smith of the Smith Auto Sales company, local dealers for the Columbia and King cars, states that at the present price level the Columbia represents more than value received and he fully expects a marked buying activity. Many who have been waiting for lower prices will make their purchase at this time.

WITH THE LOCAL AUTOMOBILE MEN

Leslie Stringer spent a couple of days in the territory last week. Two Haynes cars were delivered as a result of his trip. He was in Wichita Falls and one to J. E. Humphries of Burk.

G. J. Moulder is in Fort Worth and Dallas on business for a few days. G. J. reports the sale of a Chandler and a Cleveland early in the week.

Eckman & Von Allmen local Hummole dealers, state that business lately has taken a pronounced upturn. Three Hups were put in the hands of owners and the used car market has been brisk.

Two new salesmen now hang their hats in the Overland sales room, George Colgin and T. P. Chilver. Laughery says he firmly believes them to be salesmen, but he will let us know for sure a little later. Al Booth returned from Dallas a few days ago.

A Hudson Speedster was delivered to Mrs. Maude Erwin. Hall of the Lloyd Weaver outfit also announced several sales in used cars.

I. H. Rubsam of the Marshall Huff Motor company reports that a carload of Oakland Six touring cars is on the way and should arrive in a few days. A small quantity of used stuff was sold during the past week, he states.

Frank Keim has a carload of special Studebaker models somewhere between the factory and Wichita Falls and thinks they'll roll in most any time.

J. P. Garner, former salesman with the S. Hemrod company, has taken a position with the Marshall Huff Motor company, local distributors of the Oakland, Jordan and McFarland cars.

Frank Quiesler of Motor Supply company says it is still the same old story—the problem is to keep Fords on the floor. There is also a brisk demand for Fordson tractors. The demonstration last week of the Fordson was a great success and many inquiries have come in as a direct result.

L. M. Forcier of the Electric Service station reports the sale of three additional Atwater Kent attachments for Fords. The electric service business has been exceptionally good the past week and Forcier says it looks as though he never would get started on that northern tour of the factories.

WEST TO LOSE RELIC OF WILD AND WOOLY PAST; WILD HORSES MUST GO

EL PASO, June 25.—That the west is to lose one of the last of its relics of a "wild and wooly past," is the decree of stockmen, officials of the Southern Pacific railroad said. The few remaining herds of wild horses which roam the high places of New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Oregon are to be exterminated. Frequent shipments of these animals pass through El Paso.

During the war expert riders hunted down much of the untamed stock fit for use in the army. Now all that remains are "culls"—small scrubby stock classified as undesirable. Their presence on the range is a menace to the domestic stock that is turned out to pasture, the breeders say. The wild horses consume fodder, break down fences, injure valuable animals from ranches and are dangerous to human life.

Stockmen are making every effort to rid the ranges of the pests and in some sections are hiring expert rifle shots to hunt the beasts down. The expense in capturing and reducing the horses for the foreign market is not commensurate with the possible profit.

In former years the wild beasts were lassoed at round-up time and shipped by trainloads to St. Paul, Omaha, Kansas City and St. Louis, where they were sold to small dealers. The pick of the herd often brought $100 each after being domesticated. Cow ponies went to the British army, which found these light, blocky horses well adapted to South African service. Ordinary stock brought $15 to $20, while the culls sold at $2.75 per head and were sent to slaughter, yielding an average of 60 pounds of good canned horse meat for shipment to the European markets. The hides and hair were saved and the balance used for fertilizer, glue, etc.

FORT BLISS HAS YEAR OF UNUSUAL BUILDING ACTIVITY

EL PASO, TEXAS, June 25.—Fort Bliss is just closing an unusual year of building activity. Its program represents about $2,000,000 expended.

A base hospital of 26 or more buildings and some supply warehouses and quartermaster depot constitutes the bulk of the construction. The hospital cost $1,000,000 and the zone supply quartermaster home, $775,722.

Colonel Roger Brooks, executive officer for all army hospital construction in the United States, on an inspection visit, expressed satisfaction in the new hospital. There are twelve buildings in one group, all connected by open air, glassed corridors. These buildings will accommodate 500 persons. By extensive use of the screened corridors for convalescents, the hospital would accommodate 500 more, said Colonel Brooks.

The hot water and steam system for the hospital is extended to the fort. Water is carried a half mile through asbestos covered pipes and loses only two degrees of heat in the passage.

Each ward has a separate ventilating system. Each room has an automatic fire alarm and the room can be reached in seven minutes by the fire department from the fort. Machinery is used extensively throughout the kitchen, dining room and sanitary service of the institution.

Should the war risk bureau put through the Sweet bill to coordinate the public health service and vocational education with the army hospital work, the Fort Bliss base hospital undoubtedly will have additional units to cost about $750,000, Colonel Brooks said.

The grounds are being excavated and trees and shrubbery will be planted by engineers working with Construction Quartermaster Daniel Kearns. Captain Kearns said that $20,000 will be spent on trees and in building tennis courts and laying off a golf course.

Sunlight does not penetrate the sea to a depth of more than 200 feet.

The City National Bank of Commerce offers the merchant, the manufacturer, the oil man and the farmer a complete and satisfying service based upon the emergencies, the routine requirements and the opportunities of their respective callings. Essentially a business institution, it discharges every function of a progressive commercial bank.

CANNIBAL CHIEF JUST FAILS TO MAKE MEAL OF EX-WICHITAN, DRILLING FOR OIL IN PAPUA; TEXAN'S MARKSMANSHIP SPOILS DINNER PARTY

Captured by cannibals, rescued via a vine ladder before he could figure on the menu, then pursued by more cannibals who made him shoot his way to safety—these are a sample of the experiences undergone by Ivan Whitley, for many years a worker in the oil fields of this county, whose relatives still reside at Meistr.

In a letter to The Times, Mr. Whitley encloses another letter in which some of his experiences are related and which describes how the desire to take a picture came very near meaning curtains and slow music for him.

Mr. Whitley left here last fall for South America, going from there to the East Indies with the Anglo-Peruvian company. It was in Papua that the experiences herein described took place. Mr. Whitley is remembered by many of the local oil fraternity, who will not doubt rejoice to learn that the escaped fugitive prominently on Makoko's bill of fare.

Mr. Whitley's letter to The Times is dated April 12, and post-marked Port Moresby, Papua, April 22. It follows: "I am a Wichita Falls man and an oil well driller. Have lived in Wichita county at Wichita Falls and Elgin for the last nine years. I left there Sept. 18, 1920, for New Guinea, and arrived here Dec. 12, 1920, at Port Moresby, the only town in British New Guinea. It has a population of about 500 persons. I left Port Moresby on the seventeenth of December and have been in the interior ever since, and have had several narrow escapes.

"I am working in league with the Papuan police and staying on the good side of the law, for it is dangerous to do otherwise. Messrs. Greaser and Bell started across the same country in November of last year and were killed and eaten by a famous cannibal chief, Old Makoko pronounced Mokoko-Koo. Several times had dealings with him, but we have at all times had plenty of native police to handle him, except once. He is a white old coon, and very fond of white pig's flesh, as he calls a white man.

"On the 7th of February we had a report from a native that in the Lakemba district there were late oil showings and on the 10th of February we proceeded to leave for the place, with a band of 50 Mombari police that were tried and true.

"We had some real trouble, and I am not a good hand at telling it, so I will enclose Thomas G. Whitley's letter that he wrote to William Hopwith. My party was made up of Mr. Whitley, Mr. Montgomery (referred to as Montie in the letter), Mr. Maxey (referred to as Jim) and myself and the natives.

"After my trip was finished I was forced to go to Port Moresby on account of New Guinea fever and when coming back, I stopped at Paramaripi, and there I got acquainted with William Hopwith, the resident magistrate, and he told me he had heard of me through a letter from Mr. Whitley, also a Kurupinra magistrate. After reading Mr. Whitley's letter, I thought it was good and true as I could tell it and as I have lots of friends and associates in Wichita Falls I would like for you to print it if you think it worth reading.

"I am a native Texan and have known most of the drillers and toolmen in Wichita Falls and I would like for them to see what an oil well driller has to do in Papua. If you care to write to Messrs. William Hopwith or Thomas G. Whitley, they will answer. Write care of P. F. Karpinra, Port Moresby, New Guinea. Each of them has been in this country a long time and Mr. Whitley has had 12 years' experience in West Africa. William Hopwith has been in this country 26 years and can tell some interesting tales. He knows all over New Guinea as Terrible and Hopwith and the natives refer to him as Terrible; that is the reason Mr. Whitley refers to him as Terrible. He has sympathy with a New Guinea negro. Tell some of my old time friends to write to me.

"Enclosed I am sending a negative of a negro village 10 miles up the coast, close to where there was some heavy fighting in the picture you will see Messrs. Hopwith and Whitley. Yours truly, I. G. WHITLEY, Port Moresby, British New Guinea." The letter enclosed by Mr. Whitley tells the story he refers to. It is dated Kurupinra, Purari Delta, March 31, 1921, and addressed to Mr. William Hopwith, Orokolo Police Patrol, Paramaripi. It follows: "Dear Terrible: My short note act through all right. The corporal tells me that two of his police got speared and eaten just above that mountain where Whitley and me stood off Makoko and his bunch of cannibals last month. I think the poor chap is badly scared himself as he slept at my feet last night.

This is the village of Leal, near which Mr. Whitley had his thrilling experience. The two white men in the picture are Messrs. Hopwith and Whitley, referred to in the letter.

"You ask if there is any truth in Jim and Montie getting the wind up and running. Well, Terrible, old son, I'm sorry to say it is too true. As you know there was Montie and Jim, the big American, Whitley and myself in charge of these 50 Mombari native police. I had my old Lupusesei sergeant, Makaria, and the Itikumu corporal, Quarum.

"We left Lolorua on Feb. 10 and went up the Lakemba in Hartigan's launch, towing the big whaleboat that Jim brought from Siavli. When we got up as far as Manubada the trouble started.

Whitley, the big Yankee chap, in-listed on going ashore to photograph a cannibal feast that old Makoko was holding. They were cooking the three natives they took in that raid on Lillipep, two of them were women. When old Makoko saw the photo jigger he reckoned that Whitley was some new kind of medicine man and promptly rushed to his dubu and got his purple outfit on and came back with about 100 of his fighters.

"I yelled to Whitley to beat it. He started for the launch and had not gone 50 yards before about 30 of them cut him off. He started in with his .45 and got four of them and then they closed on him. I ordered Makaria to take his police ashore and get him. I grabbed my .45 special and jumped ashore and by this time the nigs had disappeared in the scrub at the back of the cooking pots taking the American with them.

"I followed with the police and yelled to Jim and Montie to get the Maxim and riddle the dubu as I knew at least 200 cannibals were in there. We were off like hell after Makoko and his gang and caught up with him at that stockade on Mount Yile. We surrounded the place and shot at every woolly head that showed up until dark came on. I had a discussion with old Makaria as to the best thing to do and the old sport offered to scale the stockade at midnight and take a vine ladder for Whitley to climb out by.

"About 12:30 he got over and took the ladder with him and I and the rest of the police got ready to cover him in case the nigs inside tumbled to our little scheme.

"He was gone about 20 minutes when I heard my name whispered from the top of the stockade and sure enough it was big Whitley. Old Makaria had found him on the platform near the cooking pots, with one cannibal on guard, and you know what happened to the sentry, the old trick did it.

"Well, the American was not knocked about much except for a few bumps on his head where they had clubbed him.

"We got back to Hannabada and found the launch and whaleboat gone. It was just before daylight so I got my police to collar all the canoes in the vicinity and we decided to beat it back. We had just got started when all hell seemed to be let loose on the bank. Talk about yells and screaming.

"There was fully 500 of them blazing away with spears and arrows and 10 of my police were rubbed out in the first shower of spears. Our nigs were paddled like hell, but about 20 of Makoko's mob came tearing after us in a big war canoe and got within about 20 yards of the canoe that Whitley and myself were in. We got into them with Winchester pump guns. He fairly raked that canoe and I can tell you the alligators had plenty of tucker that day.

"I always was kind of suspicious of the tales we heard about the Texas gunmen, but I will believe anything I hear now. Hell, Terrible, but that big Texan could handle a gun. I thought I was pretty nifty with a Colt—as you know—but this Whitley chap takes the biscuit for playing tunes on a Colt.

"Well, old son, we managed to get away from Makoko's gang and after eight days of battling got back to Lolorua, where we found Montie and Jim with the launch. They looked very much ashamed of themselves and said the Maxim jammed and they thought we were done for and decided to bolt for the outpost. They will never hear the last of this cowardly beggars.

"Whitley is pretty bad with fever and goes in to Moresby by the Kerama and I'm afraid he is in for a bad time. Send that bag of clothes along by the next patrol, also the monthly supply of tucker and ammunition. I won't stop here much longer unless they send me more men. Well, Hurro, old pard, give my regards to Harry and Jack—your always friend (signed) THOMAS G. WHITLEY.

Car Buyers Should Ask This Question:

"Is this car a permanent model, or do you plan to bring out a new one?"

BEFORE you make a choice of cars be as sure of the model as you are of the price. Your investment depends upon permanency of model.

If your car is to be put out of date by a new model, your investment, even though you make a saving, is minimized.

Here is our answer to the question: "No, we are not going to announce a new model. We are not disposing of a current model, preparatory to bringing out a new. We offer you not only 1922 prices but a 1922 car—the finest we have ever built.

"We make your investment a permanent one. You will not find your car superseded by a new model. Stabilized Design keeps each Marmon 34 up-to-date. Advanced Engineering has

The Meaning of Smoothness

Each man's interpretation differs. His knowledge is limited to the cars he has driven sufficiently to know intimately.

Hudson Super-Six

So when we speak of Hudson smoothness of operation it means, though may not convey, an entirely different quality of smoothness than is understood by those whose motoring experience is limited to another car.

Hudson has developed smoothness to an unusual degree because of the way its exclusive Super-Six motor minimizes vibration. The bird-like motion of the car is due to its design. It not only contributes to motoring comfort, but also accounts for Hudson's reliability throughout a long life. The vibration shocks that in less balanced cars fatigue driver and passengers, likewise fatigue the car and rob it of endurance.

Learn Hudson smoothness by actual experience. Let us show you.

WHEAT YIELDS MORE THAN WAS EXPECTED

Grain in Shock in Wilbarger Is Damaged Some by the Heavy Rains.

VERNON, TEXAS, June 25.—Wheat is expected by many closely interested in Wilbarger county farming to yield a higher average this season than was at first expected. With harvest practically over everywhere and thrashing well under way, many farmers who were expecting nine bushels to the acre are getting 12, and others who anticipated 12 are getting 15.

A little smut has been found in the wheat but on the whole it is threshing out well. Wheat harvested last is in best condition. Grain that was in the shock was damaged somewhat by the heavy rains and is not in the best of condition.

There is a marked tendency on the part of Wilbarger county farmers to market their wheat as soon as it is threshed. Several causes contribute to this movement, the chief of which is the tight money market. Many agriculturists are in need of ready cash and embrace the present market as a means of affording it.

Dampness in the wheat is another reason why farmers wish to dispose of it as quickly as possible. In the events that it is stored in granaries there is the danger of steaming and consequent spoiling. The present price of wheat is also pretty generally satisfactory in its relation to other farm products.

There is some apprehension on the part of farmers lest the scale sink still lower, and many are desirous of taking advantage of the present market before it occurs.

Acresage this year in Wilbarger county has been from 50 to 60 per cent larger than last, but the yield will be considerably smaller per acre. In view of this fact the total production is expected to be only a trifle larger this year. A safe estimate at the present time is that Wilbarger wheat will average close to 12 bushels to the acre.

Results of the hail that occurred in the northern part of the county about two weeks ago are now clearly evident. Wheat is sprouting up around the shocks and mesquite trees are quite bare.

BAN ON MEXICAN FRUIT BECAUSE OF INSECT PESTS

LAREDO, TEXAS, June 25.—Many visitors to Laredo who cross the Mexican border and try to bring back with them some of the fruits which are a novelty find the introduction of certain fruits prohibited by the United States department of agriculture, because of the dangerous insect pests which they harbor and which might cause great damage if brought into this country.

Oranges, sweet limes, grapefruit, mangoes, papayas, peaches, plums, avocados (known by the people of the border as aguacate and in Florida called alligator pears), sugar cane, sweet potatoes and a long list of other fruits, vegetables and grains are barred from admission and when visitors bring them across the river they are obliged to surrender them to the guards, who dispose of them, frequently throwing them into the river.

The favorite purchase of strangers here is the aguacate, which is known in other sections only as a tropical importation, and the average tourist is denied the pleasure of a salad of the delicious fruit upon their arrival on this side of the Rio Grande. A ruling of the agricultural department permits the aguacate to be brought in, provided it is opened, the seed and skin removed and the pulp mashed. Some tourists take fruit jars over the river and have their aguacates prepared in this fashion.

The cheapness of many of the Mexican fruits, as well as their delicious flavor, unfamiliar to many who know the orange and sweet lime only after it has been imported in a green condition and permitted to ripen in storage, cause many of the visitors to go into raptures over the display. But they are disappointed when they arrive at the barrier and their fruit is confiscated.

PLENTY OF EQUIPMENT AT CAMP MABRY FOR 10,000

AUSTIN, June 25.—There is enough army equipment at Camp Mabry, near Austin, where the national guard encampment is being held, to equip and arm nearly 10,000 men, according to the report of Lieut. Col. James T. Stockton, United States property and disbursement officer. This is in addition to the equipment and arms already furnished to the 1,200 guardsmen attending the camp. Lieutenant Colonel Stockton is custodian of all property furnished by the federal government for the Texas national guard.

Colonel Stockton's report showed that there are on hand 18,000 pairs of breeches, 26,817 blankets, 22,500 bousies, 11,500 coats, 11,410 service hats, 11,000 pairs of leggings, 15,000 shirts, 2,900 pairs of shoes, 1,000 pyramidal and storage tents, 7,000 shelter tents, 12,326 overcoats, 5,287 raincoats, 150 field armbags complete, 9,325 canteens, 2,405 meat cans, 2,950 forks, 9,125 knives, 5,100 spoons, 7,300 U. S. rifles, 10,000—50—100000—rounds—of—ammunition; 4,000 pistols, 45 caliber automatic, 1,900 cartridge belts, 2,250 pistol holsters, 4,500 first aid packets and poultices, 700 complete sets of horse equipment, 60 motor trucks, 100 motorcycles and side-cars, 25 ambulances, 24 kitchen trailers, 37 water tank trailers, nine light truck chassis and 80 bicycles.

According to the report, some of the soldiers would have to eat altogether with their knives as there are several hundred mere knives than forks. Also some of them would have to carry their pistols in their pockets or hold them in their hands as the supply of holsters is far below the supply of guns.

SEYMOUR PLANNING A BIG CELEBRATION

Splendid Program Has Been Arranged For Fourth and Fifth Of July.

SEYMOUR, TEXAS, July 25.—With Seymour the only town in its immediate section preparing for a Fourth of July celebration, a record breaking crowd is expected in the city for that event. The celebration will cover two days—the 4th and 5th. The program will begin first day with a grand parade, prizes being offered for best decorated float and automobiles. Races will be held in the morning of each day, and games in the afternoon. There will be a free swimming contest the first night and free boxing match second night. The second day there will be a free barbecue.

This celebration will mark the formal opening of the Murrie park and playground. These grounds have been improved this year at a large expense, and they will form a splendid place to pull off an event of this kind. Plenty of amusement will be afforded at the Fourth of July celebration for all whether or not they attend the regular program. It will be a time when people of this whole section come together for a fraternal meeting. Seymour has the reputation of being a successful host, and does not intend to lose it on the 4th and 5th of July.

English footmen formed one of the earliest labor unions in 1790.

POLICE TO KEEP WATCH WHILE OWNER IS AWAY

EL PASO, TEXAS, June 25.—El Paso police were instructed by Chief Peyton Edwards to patrol with special care the homes of citizens who are away from the city on a vacation, provided the owner observe a few precautions before leaving. The rules of safety follow:

"Fasten windows and lock doors securely.

"Tell the police how long you will be away. Patrolmen will make a point to watch your house.

"Ask your neighbors to report to the police if they see anyone about your house.

"If a neighbor has asked you to give such co-operation, don't take any chances. If someone is about the house, let the police know immediately. They will find out if the person has any right at the place and will appreciate co-operation even if the alarm is false," said Chief Edwards.

"Leave as few articles of value in your home as possible during your absence."

DECLARE CHINESE CUSTOMS BASELY MISREPRESENTED

JUARZ, MEXICO, June 25.—Declaring that the Chinese customs are being basely misrepresented and that the people are ridiculed as degenerate, the Juarez Chinese Fraternal union has appealed to the Chinese ambassador at Mexico City asking that President Obregon be petitioned to order the prohibition of a resort in Juarez from luring tourists into a club by showing a "dive" with men and women impersonating Chinese smoking opium.

The activities of the place are offensive to the 200 Chinese in Juarez and block the union's work for material uplift of the Chinese in Mexico, officers said.

On request, Mayor Rodriguez ordered the attractions to be stopped. A meeting of the city council, however, protested the mayor's act, saying that the resort was operating upon licensed premises and that the city administration could do nothing to suppress the alleged misrepresentations.

The mayor then rescinded his order, according to officers, and the Chinese Fraternal union took the matter up with the Chinese ambassador at Mexico City.

Lower Prices on Nash Cars

Effective July 2

Nash prices will be reduced, effective July 2.

This conforms to our statement made last October that Nash prices would be maintained until at least July 1, 1921.

The reasons were plain. Until manufacturing costs were lower we could not cut price without cutting value, as Nash prices were not inflated.

We pointed out then that while the average rise in the price of motor cars for a four-year period had been 76% the price of Nash cars had been raised but 31%.

This 31% included the addition of cord tires as standard equipment and many other additions and refinements which added materially to the value of Nash cars.

So we re-affirmed our fixed intention of rigidly upholding the high quality of Nash cars.

Since then every effort of the Nash organization has been centered on effecting sound manufacturing economies.

New labor-saving devices were added and production practice so perfected that every process of Nash manufacture is a model of efficiency and economy.

The savings have been substantial. And they demonstrate as nothing else could demonstrate the remarkable Nash ability to produce fine cars at the lowest possible cost.

Even while working production costs downward we were improving Nash cars still further.

Now we can announce for July 2 a greater Nash value than ever at a reduced purchase price.

At the new prices the leadership of Nash cars is even more emphatically apparent.

Hupmobile

Unless it gives the simple, staple results which the Hupmobile owner gets, no car can truly be said to be worth what it costs.

It should everlastingly keep going. It should not have to be "hauled home" except for accident.

The repair costs per year should be negligible. (We believe the average cost per car for Hupmobile repairs is lower than any car in the world.)

It should, like the Hupmobile, have a reputation for low-cost long life so good that it will always command a high price when re-sold.

These things are axiomatic. They make up the thing known as value. They are the things you pay for and get in the Hupmobile.
