ATTORNEYS FOR DEFENSE GIVE NOTICE OF APPEAL

Bond of H. T. Scott (Scotty) Was Set at $12,000 by the Court.

Special to The Times.

HENRIETTA, TEXAS, Nov. 17.—Judge H. F. Weldon of the 30th district court overruled motions for new trials in both the Sewell Fields and H. T. Scotty cases Thursday morning.

Notice of appeal was given by counsel in each case and Scotty's appeal bond was set at $12,000 by the court.

Misconduct of the jury was the main issue involved in the motion for new trial in Scotty's case, while in the Fields case it was the alleged violation of the court's order in not restricting certain testimony given by J. O. Foulson who testified with reference to an alleged visit by Fields and Scott to the home of his father on the same evening of the robbery of the store at Dean.

Sewell Fields was remanded to the custody of the sheriff of Clay county pending appeal. The court granted 60 days in which appeal was to be perfected.

Fields and Scotty were each charged with the offense of robbery with firearms and upon conviction Sewell was sentenced to 20 years and Scott to 12 years in the state penitentiary.

Scotty had not perfected the $12,000 appeal bond on Thursday.

TWENTY-FIVE ARE INJURED IN WRECK; ONE MAN HAS DIED

COLLISION OCCURS ON ELEVATED RAILROAD IN CHICAGO.

TRAINS LOADED WITH A CROWD OF WORKERS

Accident Reported To Have Been Due to a Dense Early Morning Fog.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Twenty-five persons were injured, two of them probably fatally, shortly before 9 o'clock this morning, when two five-car elevated freight trains, one bound from the west and the other from the east, collided on the Crawford avenue station on the Oak Park line.

Three hundred passengers in other cars were thrown to the floors and showered with broken glass. Many suffered minor cuts and bruises but were able to proceed on other trains after receiving first aid.

The more seriously injured were removed by firemen.

A guard on the first train, was pinned under the wreckage for more than an hour. Firemen obtained torches and cut through the mass of twisted steel plates to get him out. McGuire died three hours after being removed from the wreckage.

A 15-year-old boy, was riding on the platform with McGuire. He suffered a crushed leg and also may die.

The elevated line said after an investigation that the motorman of the express failed to see the first train because of the dense fog.

Frank R. Doyle, 45, motorman of the express, was taken into custody by the police. He declared he had seen the first train as he saw the local ahead, but was unable to prevent the crash.

A second accident due to the fog was reported shortly before noon when two trains were injured in a collision between switch engines in the yards of the Chicago Junction railroad.

Three steel coaches were demolished and several victims pinned beneath the wreckage. Firemen with acetylene torches cut through the twisted metal to reach them.

The collision was due to a dense fog. The motorman of the local train was unable to stop his train as he saw the local ahead, but was unable to prevent the crash.

Three passengers, Louis Brady, Julius Berlin and Dr. Klump were injured. William Griffin, 15, was caught between two cars and his leg crushed. He may die.

HOUSE AGREES TO SENATE MAXIMUM FOR SURTAX RATE

ACTION TAKEN IN FACE OF A REQUEST BY PRESIDENT HARDING.

ADMINISTRATION ASKED 40 PER CENT MAXIMUM

Had Requested That a Compromise Be Reached On That Basis.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The house accepted today the senate 50 per cent maximum income surtax rate despite a request by President Harding that the two houses compromise their differences at 40 per cent.

The vote was 201 to 173. The announcement of the result was greeted with applause and cheers by both the democratic and republican sides.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—President Harding today informed the public house conferees on the revenue bill that a maximum surtax rate of 40 per cent would be agreeable to the administration.

The president's views were expressed at a conference at the white house with Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee and Representative Longworth of Ohio who with Mr. Fordney and Representative Green of Iowa make up the republican house conferees.

The tax bill as passed by the house provided for a maximum income surtax of 50 per cent, but the senate provided for a maximum income of 40 per cent and what virtually amounted to a deadlock ensued.

The conference for the president to send a letter to chairman Fordney setting forth his views. Mr. Harding's representative expressed at the late hour "would have appreciable effect upon the outcome of the surtax fight."

Mr. Fordney expected something of this sort, said Mr. Dickinson. "Of course, the president's views should be given consideration, but I don't think the house will be swayed by the late hour, after the matter has been left to drag along, will have the expected result."

Mr. Fordney opened debate with a plea that the resolution be voted down, saying that the huge conferees had been assured that the senate would accept a compromise could be had on the basis of a 40 per cent maximum surtax rate.

Mr. Fordney then read the letter from the president.

Mr. Harding in his letter said he believed "the rate approved by the senate would be a just and equitable one and the more promising one in returns to the public treasury." He added that while the administration had no objection to the senate's position, it would keep faith with promises made to the public.

A compromise at 40 per cent, the long continued acridity of the issue and rebellion in Ireland and resolve that no settlement of the Irish question is acceptable which does not result absolutely in the complete acquisition by Ulster and provide every safeguard essential for imperial defense and the protection of loyalists in the west and south of Ireland.

To this an amendment wishing success to the peace negotiations will be moved by Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, secretary of war.

It is reported that Sir James Craig, premier of Ireland, has arrived in Liverpool to attend the conference. Premier Lloyd George will not go to Liverpool.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Roy Gardner, convicted bank bandit, captured Tuesday night in Phoenix, Ariz., while attempting to add another mail robbery to his string, was sentenced to a year in prison for a charge as quickly as possible instead of being returned to the penitentiary to complete a former sentence.

San Francisco, Nov. 17.—For the sixth time since the trial began a temporary jury was selected today at the manslaughter case of Fatty Arbuckle, when Louis Meyer, retired liquor dealer, was passed, but the temporary selection was broken when Col. John Gretna, member of defense retory challenge.

Mrs. Dorothy B. O'Leary, a housewife, was called to the box, making four women seated there.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—While prospects seemed bright for completion of the trial today in the Arbuckle case, indications were that the introduction of testimony would not begin until Monday.

UNIONISTS APPROVE NEGOTIATIONS OVER THE IRISH QUESTION

GIVE GOVERNMENT A VOTE OF ENDORSEMENT AT LIVERPOOL.

ABOUT 2000 DELEGATES ATTEND THE CONFERENCE

Sensational Developments Predicted in Some Quarters Did Not Materialize.

By Associated Press.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 17.—By an overwhelming majority the unionist party in session here today endorsed with certain reservations the negotiations now in progress between the British government and the Irish representatives.

The unionist party, which numbered about 2,000 delegates, met in a hall here today to discuss the question of Ulster foremost, and under debate today at a great gathering of unionists here—the national conference of the unionist party, attended by 2,000 delegates.

The meeting opened in an atmosphere of calmness. Lord Derby was elected president.

The main business was a resolution moved by Colonel John Gretton, M. P., calling upon the conference to record its condemnation of the long continued acridity of crime and rebellion in Ireland and resolve that no settlement of the Irish question is acceptable which does not result absolutely in the complete acquisition by Ulster and provide every safeguard essential for imperial defense and the protection of loyalists in the west and south of Ireland.

Colonel Martin Archer-See in seconding the motion said that as soon as the negotiations broke down, as they surely would, the conservatives should leave the coalition and set up a government which would really govern the country.

"I am sick and tired of a government which is carrying out a radical policy which is led by a radical leader," he exclaimed.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Confidence among the government's supporters at Prime Minister Lloyd George's attitude toward Ulster in the Irish peace negotiations will be maintained, it was stated today by a spokesman for the government.

Some 1,500 delegates are attending the conference of the unionist party, increased as the meeting convened today in Liverpool.

There was a growing feeling overnight that the sensational developments predicted in some quarters—namely, the complete acquisition of Ulster and provide every safeguard essential for imperial defense and the protection of loyalists in the west and south of Ireland.

To this an amendment wishing success to the peace negotiations will be moved by Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, secretary of war.

It is reported that Sir James Craig, premier of Ireland, has arrived in Liverpool to attend the conference. Premier Lloyd George will not go to Liverpool.

This committee, which is headed by Arthur J. Balfour, is working hard in daily sessions with the assistance of British naval experts.

U. S. APPROVAL OF PRINCIPLES AFFECTING FAR EAST QUESTION OPENS AVENUE FOR SOLUTION

HIGH SAVING INVOLVED IN PROPOSED PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Savings in next year's naval appropriation will amount to $100,000,000 if the American naval reduction proposals be adopted, were estimated roughly today by congressional leaders and officials.

The savings are from $120,000,000 to $129,000,000.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Heads of the delegations of the nine powers participating in discussion of far eastern questions at a meeting today decided to proceed first with the consideration of problems relating to China before entering upon other far eastern questions.

The other questions, it was decided, will be taken up in the order listed by the tentative agenda, suggested some time ago by the American government.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Admiral Baron Kato on behalf of the Japanese delegation to the Washington conference today asked and received from the delegations of the nine participating powers a delay of several days to allow examination of the far eastern proposals submitted yesterday by China.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The several principles presented by China for solution of the far eastern problems afforded at least a definite working basis for the Washington conference as the delegations of the nine participating nations prepared to meet again today as a committee to discuss the proposals for consideration of those problems.

Known to have the moral support of the United States, the principles afforded a basis for the open door policy and for abolishment of "spheres of influence" in the far east. The plan is to have the support of Great Britain.

By the same authority it was said the conference would proceed to consideration of far eastern questions at once on the basis of the proposal submitted by the Chinese delegation, the various principles set forth in the plan to be referred to experts who will examine them and submit their reports to the full conference at the earliest practicable moment.

Japan would heartily subscribe to many of the points presented by China, it was stated by spokesmen for her delegation. The points raised, however, were of a nature which might be answered only after mature consideration. Chief among the latter was the proposal for abolishment of the "spheres of influence" in the far east.

The Chinese proposal was favorably commented upon by both the French and British delegations, forming a suitable basis for discussion of the whole far eastern question, although lacking definiteness except as to principle.

TAX RETURNERS FIGURE IN ARMAMENT CONSIDERATION

MARTIAL LAW IS NOW IN EFFECT AT MINES IN COLORADO

DENVER, COLO., Nov. 17.—Martial law is in effect in Huerfano county today.

State rangers acting under instructions from Colonel Patrick J. Hamrock, adjutant general, have taken charge of law enforcement since a few hours prior to the time that the miners of the state industrial court law by calling strikes in an industry regarded as essential to the public welfare.

The rangers of the officers was definitely announced late last night by Van A. Bittner of Pittsburgh, Pa., special representative of the international union, called here by President Lewis to take charge of the Kansas district affairs. Bittner's announcement followed one which he would proceed immediately to suspend from membership approximately 4,000 Kansas miners who have failed to obey an order of the international to end the present strike in Kansas and go back to work. The strike was called by the miners in protest against the incarceration of Howat and Dorchy. The men suspended for failure to obey the order to work would be fined $10 each to the union treasury, as provided by the organization's constitution.

Prohibition of the sale of arms and ammunition at Walsenburg yesterday revealed, according to dispatches, that Walsenburg merchants already had sold out their entire stocks of arms and ammunition.

The company justified the decreased wages with a statement that the miners' wages were out of proportion to the work being done. The company stated that the reduction in wages was a violation of the award of the bituminous coal commission and that the company had been a party to the award.

DEAN PROHIBITION LAW PLACES LIMIT STATES AN OPINION

AUSTIN, Nov. 17.—The Dean prohibition law of Texas governs the sale of intoxicating liquors upon physicians' prescriptions and the amount that may be prescribed in Texas irrespective of the federal statutes or the rulings of the federal authorities, an opinion of the attorney general's department held today. The dean law limits the amount to be prescribed to one pint of one kind of liquor only, that is wine, beer or whiskey. This opinion also held that it is unlawful to establish a place of business intending to sell only intoxicating liquors to persons bearing physicians' prescriptions. The comptroller cannot issue permits for sale of liquors except to bona fide retail druggists or pharmacists, it held.

Suggests Move to Educate the People to Live 100 Years

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A movement to educate the people of the world to live 100 years is suggested by Dr. Stephen Smith, 99 years old, who declared in an address to members of the American Public Health association last night the Mosiac law limiting the span of life to three score years and ten was all wrong. "Moses himself proved the falsity of the law by living forty years beyond his own span," he said. "He died apparently in good health. For it is written that his eye was undimmed and his natural force unabated."

HOUSE OF DAVID DENIES CHARGES OF IMMORALITY ANSWERING A SUIT FILED

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 17.—Denial of charges of immorality brought by John W. Hansel and Mrs. Hansel, formerly of Nashville, Tenn., against the House of David, a religious colony at Tonawanda, Pa., is made in the answer to the Hansel suit filed in United States district court here. The Hansels, expelled from the colony a year ago, are suing to regain property said to have been turned over to the cult when they were admitted and for compensation for services up to the time they were expelled.

The answer deals chiefly with the immorality charges and makes the counter-charge that the Hansels were party to an alleged conspiracy to break up the colony and influence public opinion against its customs and faith.

LONDON DAILY TELEGRAPH SAYS NOTHING MUST STAND IN WAY OF RATIFICATION OF U. S. PROPOSAL

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Nothing must stand in the way of ratification of the American proposal for limitation of the navies of the "United States, Great Britain and Japan," declared the Daily Telegraph today in an editorial on the Washington conference. The newspaper welcomes the reported decision that no understanding will be finally approved until the naval status of France and Italy is settled, "and providing this does not menace the agreement between the major navies, for nothing must intervene to prevent sealing the great compact Secretary Hughes has outlined."

The Daily Telegraph also is convinced that the world will approve the abolition of submarines, but doubts whether this is practicable and further thinks that the conference cannot ignore the wishes of countries with small navies regarding undersea craft. Comments on the various proposals at the conference and reports of the proceedings appear in all the morning newspapers, which manifest sustained interest in the progress reported.

The Times says it is encouraging to hear authoritative Japanese voices in Washington suggest that Japan may withdraw from Shanghai if England does likewise in Weihai-Wei. The newspaper thinks that the conference thus far has done extraordinarily well, particularly in revealing how deep and intimate is the agreement between the United States and Great Britain on the larger principles which dominate both.

The Morning Post declares that the suggested modifications of the details of the American proposal does not imply the slightest reflection upon the generosity or candor of those proposals. It supports an obviously sensible and business-like Mr. Balfour's suggestion that the replacement of warships be gradual and continuous instead of abruptly periodic, and while approving his

GIRL TAKES PRIZES FOR CHAMPION PIG OF DONLEY COUNTY

CLARENDON, TEXAS, Nov. 17.—What a girl or boy can do raising pigs and the future possibilities of the industry in the panhandle of Texas is illustrated in Donley county by Miss Marie Bowers, a girl 13 years of age. Last spring, Roy W. Hendrix, county agent, started a Boys Pig club and in a short time Miss Marie Bowers was added to the club. She with her father went to the farm of W. L. Butler & Son near Bella lake to purchase a pig and picked out what to some people looked like a little stunted pig, but Marie saw the future possibilities of that pig and again used her good judgment, buying it on time and giving her note for $15 due this December. She brought the pig home, put it in the stock yard and fed her regularly as well as giving her exercise every morning. This pig was seven months old when Marie purchased it, and fed it $8.50 worth of feed, consisting of maize meal (cooked), kafir corn and plenty of milk.

As Marie was anxious to have her pig ready for the Donley county fair at Clarendon, September 22 to 26, she started brushing and giving the pig a daily bath, and the night before the fair she put the pig in a wagon and started to town. The next morning Marie took her pig to the pen and when the day came for judging, she was the only girl among a crowd of boys, each one driving their pig around for the judges to pass on. Marie's pig won over all in the club, as well as being the grand champion and the grand champion, making three prizes in all.

Next, she went to Pampa, Texas, and at this place she again took the prize for exhibiting the champion, as well as the grand champion. Marie has since sold her pig for $100, making a very handsome profit and says she will join the pig club in Donley county for another year.

TESTING QUALITY PAVING MATERIALS

Seven General Types Used On Experimental Road in Illinois.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Highway engineers all over the country are watching with interest the tests which are being made to determine the stability and wearing qualities of several road building materials in an experimental road, two and a half miles long, near Springfield, Ill., and constructed jointly by state and federal authorities. This road is being subjected to all manner of tests and careful inspections made to determine the relative effect on the several materials which have been used in building this highway.

There are seven general types of paving in this road, comprising materials most widely used, and from the tests made engineers will be able to estimate more accurately the life of a given pavement under specified traffic conditions. The seven types are:

- Portland cement concrete.
- Three and four inch lug brick, semi-monolithic, on concrete base.
- Three and four inch lug and lugless brick, bitumen filled, on concrete base.
- Three and four inch lug and lugless brick, bitumen filled, on macadam base.
- Asphaltic concrete, with and without binder course, on concrete base.
- Asphaltic concrete, with and without binder course, on macadam base.

After observing the effects of cold, heat and moisture the government experts will send over this road ten motor trucks operated by expert drivers and, after each one thousand trips, the loads will be increased up to six tons for each truck. It is anticipated that the road will be completely wrecked by the tests and the highway engineers will have definite information as to how each type of road has stood up under varying strains.

TOO MANY MIDDLE-MEN CAUSE FOR THE WIDE SPREAD BETWEEN THE FARM AND RETAIL PRICES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17.—

In the report which the joint commission of agricultural inquiry will submit to congress a point will be made of the fact that the existence of too many middlemen is one of the causes for the wide spread between the price of food supplies on the farm and the cost to the consumer. This has been charged many times but it remained for the commission, in making its survey, to get down to actual facts and some of these are illuminating.

Tables compiled show, among other things, that there are 95,413 retail stores of various kinds in this country, which is equivalent to each store supplying 111 persons, or 26 families. These stores, employing 3,555,368 persons, provide employment for 2.3 per cent of the population. Since the selected lines for which data has been collected do not include perishables, such as fruit stands and stalls in market houses, it is estimated that the total number of establishments selling food and other products to the public will not be far from 1,200,000, although the number of persons engaged would not be greatly increased.

In the trades covered by these tables it is shown that 235,212, or one for 215 inhabitants, or 73 families, are retail grocers or delicatessen shops. These shops are supplied by 3,340 wholesalers, equivalent to one supplying 36 retailers. The total number of wholesalers in all lines is 27,982, representing one for each town of 3,903 people.

There are 40,399 men's furnishings stores, which would give each one 2,414 customers, supplying 692 families or approximately 842 men and boys over 12 years of age. The 35,207 retail dry goods stores should each have the custom of 631 families which each of the 2,780 wholesalers should have the trade from but 13 retail stores.

The 141,847 shoe dealers would average 345 customers, or with an estimate of two pairs of shoes a year, total average sales of but 1,500 pairs annually. There are 1,309 wholesale shoe dealers, sufficient to give them the trade of 101 retail dealers each. The 55,622 candy stores are supplied by 8,572 wholesale dealers, or 63 retail candy dealers for each wholesaler.

Although Representative Sidney Anderson (rep.) of Minnesota, chairman of the commission, has declined to comment on the figures, saying all the data has not yet been accumulated, he indicates the belief that over-crowding of the lines is doubtless responsible for many of the business failures, as well as for a large proportion of the expense of doing business, necessitating greater profits on individual sales.

Love Tragedy of Twin Sisters Is Revealed in Trial

GENEVA, Nov. 17.—The love tragedy of twin sisters who drew lots for death by poison became known recently in the Innsbruck courts when one of them was tried for murder. She was acquitted after she told her story.

The girls, daughters of a farmer named Goldhelm, fell in love with a former Hungarian officer who was unable to distinguish the girls and courted both, thinking he was always with the same sister. The officer, when he realized the situation, asked the girls to decide which should marry him. They solved the problem by preparing a glass of water and a glass of poison. They drew lots and the loser drank and died. When the surviving sister was arrested the officer disappeared.

A monument, your last act of love. Let us place it. A. G. Deatherage, 406 Seventh street. Phone 3440.

More Than 200 Mothers Attend Austin Meeting

More than 200 mothers and teachers, the largest gathering ever reported at a Wichita Falls Parents' Teacher council meeting, attended the Austin Home and School council Wednesday afternoon at the school auditorium.

Besides the enthusiastic attendance, though probably because of it, the program was one of the most interesting the mothers and teachers have taken part in for some time. The feature of the afternoon was an address by an immense battery on the relation of the proper physical development of the child to the school, and was a spirited and inspiring plea for playground equipment for the children of the school. Mrs. Berney was soundly applauded.

Another attractive feature of the meeting was the devotional song, led by Mrs. J. W. Bradley. "Up to Me Sweet Childhood Looketh," Mrs. Bradley had written and had typed and distributed, and all took part in the singing. The little second grade children, who sang two motion songs were an immense hit with the council, and were very much applauded. The little folks, under the direction of Miss Mary Crockett, were better perfect in their pretty little motions and in their singing. In the last song, a Chinese selection, Jane Goodner was dressed as a little "Chinese." Mrs. Harrow sang two beautiful songs and gave an interpretative talk explaining their selection, which was sincerely appreciated and enjoyed.

Lewis-Worth Benefit

The council voted to accept the generous offer of the Lewis-Worth stock company for an Austin center benefit performance Tuesday evening of next week. During the meeting a $20 donation, in individual gifts of $10 each, was made toward the payment of the piano debt.

EMIGRATION IS DISCUSSED BY SOROSIS CLUB MEMBERS

Members of the Sorosis club discussed immigration at their Wednesday afternoon meeting, held at the home of Mrs. W. B. Lowery, 1531 Elizabeth street, and brought out the salient points of the immigration question along with many interesting facts concerning the immigrant races.

Mrs. Ernest Atchambeau, leader for the afternoon, discussed the economic and social effects of immigration; Mrs. M. H. Glover, the general characteristics of Russian and Italian immigrants, and Mrs. White, America from the immigrant's viewpoint.

The hostess served refreshments of ice cream and cake to the following: Mesdames Atchambeau, Bachman, A. W. Burnside, E. H. Glover, Joe P. Harris, R. E. Hillburn, W. P. Lowery, Stanley Meador, Burke Taylor and H. B. White.

Next week the club meets with Mrs. A. W. Burnside, 1515 Park street, with Mrs. Bachman leading in a continuation of the immigration discussion from a different angle.

Bonner-Jackson Wedding Wednesday

which ushered in the members of the bridal party.

The little flower girls, Misses Ock Bell Britain and Florence Cabiers, led the wedding march and carried baskets of orchid and white sweet peas. The junior bridesmaids, Misses Frankie Adickes and Helma Snider, preceded the senior maids, Misses Thelma Kahn and Katherine McCumb, of Baton Rouge, La. Mrs. B. M. Bell, first matron of honor and sister of the bride, entered next, followed by the second matron, Mrs. Joseph Fenton, and the little ring bearer, Miss Josephine Louise Bell. The groomsmen, whose entrance alternated with that of the bride's party, were J. G. Powers and Ernest Fain. The bride entered with her father, J. L. Jackson Sr., followed by the trainbearer, Master Joseph Fenton, and the little ring bearer, Miss Josephine Louise Bell. Mr. Bonner entered with his brother, William Bonner, from the past, and the bride and groom entered the beautiful grouping of the wedding party before the minister, Rev. Mr. Powers. The ring ceremony was used, little Miss Bell presenting the circlet in the heart of a dainty orchid and white colonial bouquet. Mrs. Collard played the Spring Song during the ceremony.

Following the marriage service the wedding party marched out to the strains of the Mendelssohn receptional, and its members were later entertained at a reception at the J. L. Jackson home. At the reception, which was informal, the bride's cake was cut and the guests were invited to inspect the wedding gifts. Later Mr. and Mrs. Bonner left for a wedding trip to Chicago and other northern cities, expecting to return and be at home here in about two weeks.

The costumes for the wedding all conformed to the colonial theme introduced with the garden setting. The dainty little flower girls wore white lace, with lace frilled neck and sleeves, colonial style, and little Miss Josephine Bell wore point d'esprit over white satin with hand-made French roses.

The junior bridesmaids wore lovely frocks of orchid satin with the colonial neckline pulled with silver lace, and hand-made satin roses about the waist and on the skirt. The senior bridesmaids wore dresses of the same style, a little more elaborately trimmed and draped, and in the same beautiful shades. Mrs. Bell wore a costume of orchid duchesse and brocade satin with silver lace, and hand-made satin roses about the waist and on the skirt. Mrs. Barnard wore orchid taffeta with silver lace and hand-made satin roses about the waist and on the skirt. The bride wore a gown of white satin with hand-made French roses.

The bride wore white satin overhanger with crystal beads, with a court train of duchesse lace and satin. Her veil, of tulle and point de Venise lace, was caught with a silver comb, and she carried a lovely shower of bride's roses and valley hills. Miss Jackson carried a handkerchief of duchesse lace which had been carried by her grandmother at her golden wedding anniversary.

Ushers for the wedding included Messrs. Jim Barnard, Carl Lobitz, Lamar Fain and J. L. Jackson Jr.

SCIENCE TALKS TO SWEETHEARTS

By WINONA WILCOX

Talk with any girl who has lived a year in a college dormitory, and one discovers that she does not expect romantic love to last forever as her female forebears have done. Perhaps she will quote for you this from Edna St. Vincent Millay:

"I would indeed that love were sacred, and vows were not so brittle as they are, But so it is, and Nature has not thought to struggle on without a break thus far— Whether or not we find what we are seeking In idle, biologically speaking."

This heresy which shocks an older generation of women seems to be characteristic of the younger. When applied to the conduct of life, it is like a bomb planted under woman's ancient feet, the double moral standard.

And now consider a statement made by the statistician of an insurance company:

"A great racial loss results from the fact that women with higher education often remain unmarried." And then he urges the college bred woman "to look on matrimony as a career with great and inspiring possibilities."

There can be no argument as to whether a normal woman wishes to be married and to be a mother; nor about the statement that many women qualified to make the best of motherhood are refusing to wed.

A Thimble o' Thought

By J. M. D.

FALLING OFF PLACES

Children sometimes furnish the most simple logic in their solutions of things. It may be because the child mind has not become practiced in the intriguing art of mental dodging and shifting and obstacle-hunting in its search for fact.

"They aren't a lot of things in the world, of course, but there are some, and their friendship is like 'apple of gold in pictures of silver.' Their price is above rubies." Wilson is a fine fellow," you say, "but you know—," Wilson can't hold his tongue. He tells things, and the things are likely to be your own confidences. You admire and respect Brown, but Brown has the vulnerable spot of vanity, and it makes him slippery. Van people always are—they can be led astray from good judgment. You are fond of Johnson, but Johnson has never put the cap on his temper. These are the things to desert him in a critical moment.

They have their unconsciously tricky weaknesses to trap them. We all do, in some ways. But now and then we find some one who, in the essentials of dignity, honor, judgment, courtesy and kindness is as perfectly rounded as the earth. Some one who has absolutely no falling-off places in their make-up.

The morning stars must sing together over folks like that.

Many Goods Ways to Use Dried Beef

Dried beef is a great addition to the emergency shelf. It may be added to scrambled eggs, macaroni or white sauce and a nourishing and attractive dish is the result.

For breakfast or luncheon dried beef and rice is a good meal. If the meat is too salty let it stand in cold water to cover for half an hour. Drain and dry before using.

Dried Beef With Scrambled Eggs.
One-fourth pound dried beef, four eggs, two tablespoons butter, one-half cup milk, one-eighth teaspoon pepper.

Melt butter in frying pan. Add dried beef pulled into bits, cover and cook three minutes. Add milk and eggs, unseasoned. Lift and stir with a fork while cooking over a slow fire. The eggs should be made French style, if desired, properly and only slow cooking will accomplish it.

Macaroni With Dried Beef.
One cup macaroni broken in inch pieces, one cup shredded dried beef, two cups tomato sauce, coarse bread crumbs, butter.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water till tender, about 20 minutes. Drain and rinse. Add dried beef, a layer in a buttered baking dish, add dried beef and cover with macaroni. Pour over the tomato, cover with bread crumbs, dot with bits of butter and bake in a moderate oven until the crumbs are brown.

Creamed Dried Beef.
One-fourth pound dried beef, three tablespoons butter, two tablespoons cream, eighth teaspoon pepper, two cups milk.

Melt butter in frying pan and add dried beef pulled in small pieces. Let cook until the color is brown, over flour and stir till well blended. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly. Cook five minutes after the milk begins to bubble and serve on toast or with baked potatoes.

One cup of shredded dried beef may be combined with two cups of mashed potatoes, an egg added and the whole well beaten. Then turn into a buttered baking dish and bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven.

Home cured dried beef is delicious served just as it is. Slice very thin and serve for supper. (Copyright, 1921, N. E. A. Service.)

FRAU SCHRATT IS COMING OVER TO WIN OUR AMERICAN DOLLARS

By NEA Service.
VIENNA, Nov. 11.—America will see Frau Schratt—for a price.
The actress, who will go down in history as a friend of the late Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary, is feeling the pinch of poverty.
It is to replenish her fortunes that she is preparing to accept the offer of an American theatrical producer to star in a comedy in several American cities.

But Madame Katherine Schratt refuses to trade in her intimate knowledge of the Hapsburgs. Of the emperor she says merely: "He was just my very good friend."
At her beautiful villa at Hitzling, near Schbrunn, close to one of the palaces of the old emperor, she told the NEA Service correspondent that she would not make a movie serial dealing with tragic events in the Hapsburg dynasty.

She would not risk her memoirs, including many letters written her by the emperor.
She would not go on a lecture tour, discussing affairs of the Hapsburgs.
Offers of fabulous sums to do all three have been made her by American promoters. But she has declined them all. However, returning to the stage appeals to her differently.

Her Itinerary.
"My proposed tour," said Frau Schratt, "contemplates ten performances in New York, five each in Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati, and single performances in several other cities. The tour, if as successful as expected, probably will be extended."
Madame Schratt has been in America before, many years ago. She thinks Americans will like a comedy which she is considering for her vehicle. It is "Grandmama," by a Hungarian playwright.
"I may as well frankly admit," she said, "that the prospect of earning many American dollars is not without its attraction."
"People like myself, dependent upon capital invested in Austrian properties, are living very poorly."
"I am fortunate, however, for to me the drama is a high art—and what artist can be truly happy without her art?"

Story of Friendship.
Katy Schratt was a baker's daughter. She achieved an early success on the stage. After touring America she became a member of the Vienna court theatre. Getting into debt, she appealed to the emperor himself for permission to make another tour of America.
Confused, she addressed him as "Your excellency" instead of as "Your majesty." Courtiers laughed, but from that error grew a romantic friendship.

FRANK FARRINGTON STILL HAS APPOINTIVE POWERS.

HEAVY ADVANCE SALE OF TICKETS REPORTED IN BOOTH LOWREY LECTURE

"Plans are all completed and the advance sale of tickets indicate a large attendance," was the word Thursday from officials of the First Methodist church, south, Epworth league, who are promoting the address.

COULD NOT FEED HIMSELF

"I suffered with rheumatism and indigestion and at times could not use my arms to feed myself," said Wesley Royal, Augusta, Ga. "I tried numerous medicines with only temporary relief," he continued, "until I was advised to try Mendenhall's Number 40 which I did with splendid results. I cheerfully recommend it to anyone suffering from any blood, liver or stomach trouble, or general bad health."
"Number 40" is recommended for blood troubles from any cause; chronic constipation, rheumatism, indigestion, stomach and liver troubles, eczema, skin troubles, etc. Acts on the liver, removing waste matter from the system, thus cleansing the blood of all impurities and doing away with the need of cathartic pills and tablets. Sold by: Palace Drug Store.

THIS WILL BENEFIT WICHITA FALLS WOMEN

Stomach trouble in women is often due to retained waste matter. This poisons the stomach for months causing gas on the stomach and sour stomach. The old, poisonous accumulation should be cleaned out with simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-I-ka. Acting on BOTH upper and lower bowel, Adler-I-ka removes matter you never thought was in your system. EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach and chronic constipation. Guards against appendicitis.—Winston Drug Co., 704 Indiana Avenue, adv.

dress by Booth Lowrey, noted American lyceum speaker, in this city Friday night. Lowrey's address, which is entitled "Simon Says Wig-Wag," will be the third of a series of winter entertainments being brought here by the league. Lowrey is credited with being one of the foremost and most popular of the lyceum artists now making the circuits of the nation. Humor is his main forte, but while amusing, he is at the same time a philosopher of acknowledged worth, and in combining his talents he provides for his hearers an address of rare merit and charm.
He has appeared before American audiences for the past twenty years and for him is claimed the distinction of having more return engagements than any other speaker of a similar type in the country.
Tickets for Lowrey's address may be obtained from any member of the Epworth league and are priced at 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.
Seaplanes were used extensively as air taxis in the Altrondacks.

BAD BREATH IS DANGER SIGNAL

Thousands of men and women have bad breath and yet don't realize its terrible significance. For too often this disagreeable condition is a signal that there are dangerous germs in the mouth decaying the teeth or attacking the gums, or throat.
Everyone so effected should lose no time in getting an antiseptic mouth wash such as Steroline. A few drops of this solution on a toothbrush reaches the most hidden recesses of the teeth and mouth, cleansing and sterilizing them thoroughly.
Health authorities also recommend gargling Steroline frequently and spraying the nose and throat with it. Many contagious diseases are contracted through the nose or mouth, and the regular use of a mouth wash in this manner insures you against these dangerous germs. Get a bottle of Steroline from your druggist today, and use it regularly.
For sale by Winston Drug Store.

A CHALLENGE TO MAYOR CLINE

DEAR MAYOR:
Is it your intention to run for mayor at the next election? Do you believe your past record would elect you to office again? Would you declare for the same platform as in the last election? It was indeed a great and noble one but do you think you would stand a fair chance for reelection in a race with a woman who offered the following planks in her platform: "Taxes on gloom casters, no blue Sundays, free distribution of joy, liberty for hen-pecked husbands, equality for office boys, justice for baby vamps, one piece bathing suits if you want to wear 'em, something on your hip if you're lucky enough to get it." Do you think you could frame a platform to rival that? It is Constance Talmadge's platform in her race for Mayor in her latest comedy "Woman's Place" at the Palace Theatre all next week.

CAN'T BE HIDDEN.
Can you read character in a face? Can you size up a person and know whether or not he can be trusted?

Occasionally you meet some one who has the instinctive gift of penetrating any facial mask. "That fellow," you comment, "has eyes that look right through you. He can see to the bottom of one's soul. He's a good judge of character."

This is a gift that can be acquired. Develop it, as one of your powers. It may save you from a heavy loss.

You have observed the different expressions that flit across a man's face as he sees something pitiful, strange, terrible, dangerous, ridiculous or new.

Those expressions reflect emotions that have been aroused. The face, in nearly every case, is the mirror of the soul.

Each of us is dominated by some one emotion—such as fear, caution, recklessness, greed, generosity, affection or trickery. When that emotion is excited in the average person, the face responds with a betraying expression. When that emotion is frequently aroused, finally becoming dominant, it is constantly mirrored in the face.

No difficulty in fathoming the man with a worried look, the man with a happy-go-lucky countenance, or the man with a greedy, eager expression. You know what to expect of them.

When you look into any person's face, merely ask yourself: "What emotion is this face betraying?" That gives you "his number."

Looks sometimes are deceiving. But this is the exception that proves the rule. Nine times out of 10, the face is a glaring billboard, easily read, revealing character.

The study of psychology, through analysis of facial expression, is being furthered by the movies. The film characters are constantly registering emotions, teaching people the meaning of facial expressions.

That gives you a great advantage. Your grandfather had no such teacher. His knowledge of facial expressions was acquired slowly, by experience. He had to reason it out, step by step.

Therein lies the real intellectual value of the moving picture. It is making us a nation of astute psychologists, teaching us how to read the mirror of the human face.

This is a field in which men have much to learn. In the past, women have been the greatest psychologists. Cooped up in their homes, with very little to occupy their minds, they have, by concentrated analysis and deduction, become experts at "getting his number."

LEGISLATION BY EXPERTS.
A few days ago there was a meeting of folks at San Antonio interested in the welfare of Texas, at which a reduction in the membership of the legislature was advocated. Forty was agreed upon as the number of legislators which would give the best and most efficient service to the people of the state.

It appears to be the thought of those who met in San Antonio that forty legislators of experience and outstanding ability by giving their undivided time to their legislative duties and by remaining in practically continuous service would give the state its most ideal service.

This is doubtless true. The Texas house of representatives is a large and cumbersome body. It contains many inexperienced legislators and doubtless some who are incompetent. An expert would certainly find it inefficient. But with all its faults the legislature is a representative body and its members have, at least, the opportunity to keep in close touch with the people and their needs and aspirations. That is one of the essentials of popular government.

A small body of experts could do more and doubtless do it better than our present cumbersome, inefficient legislative bodies, but it would be impossible, in such a large state as Texas, for such a body to keep close to the people. And then, while it is easy to believe that the commission could do the job better than the peoples' representatives, the thing doesn't jibe with the principles of free government. Muscles of the human body and the faculties of the mind become useless unless they are exercised. So it is with democratic government. Unless the people exercise the right of self government they are likely in time to become incapable of governing themselves. It is for this reason, that a state government by commission would be most objectionable.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

JUST A LITTLE BETTER.
If you will do your work just a little better than it has ever been done before, you will be a grand success—no matter what you do.

That is what I told a writer, who asked me the other day for my recipe for success.

There are too many people in this world who are doing the mediocre thing—trying to "get by." But I notice that the biggest people are those who never think they are good enough in what they do.

The great artist is never satisfied. The inventor invents—and invents. I know of a scientist who made nearly a thousand experiments before he would let the world know anything about what he was doing.

Do your work just a little better than it has ever been done before—and you will have no need for worry.

Life is extremely hard and quite cruel at times—no matter how you figure it. But it is fairly aglow with compensations that smooth the roughest path and make the ascent toward one's ideals and great purposes far from unbearable.

There is satisfaction only in doing one's best. And then you may leave the rest. History takes the achievements of a man and stirs them as the thrashing machine does wheat. The chaff is removed from the ripe grain. And the grain nourishes the multitude.

If you are discouraged in your work, do it just a little better.

Failure always increases climbing ability. Incentive comes from lost ground.

Never think that you are very good in what you do—but that you are going to be better.

Thinking and working will bring you to the turn in the longest lane.

(Copyright, 1921, by George Matthew Adams.)

YOU AND I

Prosperity ruined many a stomach. When money was flush in war-time, people slipped away from plain food and bought lobster, fancy jellies, candied fruits and high-priced canned meats.

Fred Dutton, grocer from Columbus, Ohio, tells a canner's convention the fancy food is going out and plain old-fashioned staples—like, canned tomatoes and corned beef and cabbage—coming back.

That is had been with certain dealers and stomach specialists, but it is fortunate for the national health. Most of us dig our graves with our teeth. Business depression occasionally is a blessing in disguise, starving some into good health and saving people from suicide with their teeth than with pistol or poison.

CHEAP.
In Anatolia, where Greeks marched against Turks, food prices are so low that visitors rub their eyes and pinch themselves. Eggs sell for 4 cents a dozen there, a whole sheep for 60 cents.

But wages in Anatolia are correspondingly low. When you find a soft snarl, look for the joker. There always is one.

STRIKE.
Members of a farm bureau near Columbus, Ind., are on a strike against the things they have to buy drop in price.

In this 20th century a father starting a family of farmers are getting organized. What if they should weary of being the "goats," and stage a national strike, cutting off our food?

What that would mean is understood by city people who have had their supply of milk or ice shut off by strikes.

PROFITS.
The railroads made $50,868,927 net profits in the 12 months ended last August 31.

In announcing this, the Association of Railway Executives points out that it is an annual earning of a fraction less than 3 per cent on investment.

Grain growers, cattlemen, cotton planters and many manufacturers who have been selling at a loss will envy the poor, unfortunate railroad.

HAIREMS.
In India, where girls often marry when they are eight, 40,000,000 are in harems. That's about as many girls and women as there are in the United States, not counting old ladies.

Women, in Caucasian civilization, has made great progress toward liberty and equality, compared with the Orient, though she still has a lot coming to her.

COMPLEX.
The telephone wires in United States would make 160 unbroken telephone lines from the earth to the moon.

Over those wires, Americans daily carry on 33,000,000 phone conversations. Yet it is only 43 years since the telephone was invented. Our civilization is becoming terrifically complex. In the machine getting so intricate that we can't make it function! Often it seems so. Maybe the real cure for our economic troubles is a return to the simple life.

FIRE.
Many farmers this winter will burn corn for fuel. Department of Agriculture says corn at 25 cents a bushel equals coal at $1.20 a ton.

Money is scarce, no market for their product. Many people are starving while others burn corn. Things certainly are topsy-turvy.

Production problem has been practically solved. Problem of distribution has barely been touched.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By LES PAPS

Us fellows was setting on my front steps waiting for something to happen, and nothing did and nothing looked as if it was going to, and we all tried to think of something to do and none of us could, and I say I tell you let's wait, let's all go around to Puds Simkin's and stand outside his parlor window and see if we can hear him talking his nose to the window.

What that would mean is understood by city people who have had their supply of milk or ice shut off by strikes.

THE HISTORY OF YOUR NAME

By PHILIP FRANCIS LOWLAND

WAKEFIELD.
Variations—Wake, Wakeman. Gaelic Origin—English. Source—Geographical site occupational.

The family names of Wakefield, Wake, and Wakeman all trace back ultimately to an old Anglo-Saxon word, "wace," meaning "watch," which, in fact, comes from the same word root as "watch."

The word "wace-man," or as it came to be spelled in the period following the Norman invasion of England, "wakeman" meant simply "watchman." And the wakeman of the various English communities was an important personage among the peasantry of those days. He was the guardian of the peace and the thief of citizens' property took place from the time he blew his horn at 8 p. m. until sunrise, for it was his custom in those days that the entire community should make good any losses suffered by any individual during that period. In the course of time, however, the wakeman himself, but his entire family, and finally their descendants, came to be known by this name, until it lost its significance of occupation and became a family name.

The wake, or watch, in medieval times, was a religious custom, the populace gathering in the square, or some open place to watch for the dawn of the feast-day. Such gatherings naturally attracted wandering merchants, and on the occasion became important commercially as well. Hence a certain large town in Yorkshire developed the name of Wakefield. The family name of Wakefield in its original form denoted that its bearer came from the town of that name.

THE NEXT WAR

By DR. WM. E. BARTON.

Compared with the next war, the one just closed will have been a very tame and lady-like affair. The next war will begin where this one left off.

We shall have no illusions about it. We shall begin with poison gas that may wipe out a city in a single night, and we shall not have any compunctions about dropping it where it will kill women and children.

Make no mistake, if a war is to occur in the present unsettled state of world opinion, it will very nearly obliterate civilization.

It is not possible to conceive of horrors so great as are likely to be perpetrated in the next war.

Before the last war ended, all the armies were doing deeds which at the outset they condemned Germany for doing. America has making poison gas as fast as its chemical resources would enable it to do so.

America is now experimenting with poison gas more deadly than any yet used upon the battlefield.

And so is Great Britain and France.

And so is Germany.

The conference on reduction of armaments has been in session a week.

I am not a delegate, and neither are you, unless this article. But I am one of the hundred million folk in this country who help to make public sentiment, and I intend that the public sentiment I make shall be in favor of peace.

If the nations do not disarm, the nations will perish. The nations that take up the sword will perish by the sword of the lake of the world.

Now is the time for every loyal American to stand for peace as this nation has always stood for peace.

One nation cannot disarm unless the rest do so. We can only disarm by the mutual consent of all.

Let the world lay down this crushing burden of preparation for war.

One more war will be the death of civilization.

COMPLEX.
The telephone wires in United States would make 160 unbroken telephone lines from the earth to the moon.

Over those wires, Americans daily carry on 33,000,000 phone conversations. Yet it is only 43 years since the telephone was invented. Our civilization is becoming terrifically complex. In the machine getting so intricate that we can't make it function! Often it seems so. Maybe the real cure for our economic troubles is a return to the simple life.

FIRE.
Many farmers this winter will burn corn for fuel. Department of Agriculture says corn at 25 cents a bushel equals coal at $1.20 a ton.

Money is scarce, no market for their product. Many people are starving while others burn corn. Things certainly are topsy-turvy.

Production problem has been practically solved. Problem of distribution has barely been touched.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By LES PAPS

Us fellows was setting on my front steps waiting for something to happen, and nothing did and nothing looked as if it was going to, and we all tried to think of something to do and none of us could, and I say I tell you let's wait, let's all go around to Puds Simkin's and stand outside his parlor window and see if we can hear him talking his nose to the window.

What that would mean is understood by city people who have had their supply of milk or ice shut off by strikes.

PROFITS.
The railroads made $50,868,927 net profits in the 12 months ended last August 31.

In announcing this, the Association of Railway Executives points out that it is an annual earning of a fraction less than 3 per cent on investment.

Grain growers, cattlemen, cotton planters and many manufacturers who have been selling at a loss will envy the poor, unfortunate railroad.

HAIREMS.
In India, where girls often marry when they are eight, 40,000,000 are in harems. That's about as many girls and women as there are in the United States, not counting old ladies.

Women, in Caucasian civilization, has made great progress toward liberty and equality, compared with the Orient, though she still has a lot coming to her.

THE HISTORY OF YOUR NAME

By PHILIP FRANCIS LOWLAND

WAKEFIELD.
Variations—Wake, Wakeman. Gaelic Origin—English. Source—Geographical site occupational.

The family names of Wakefield, Wake, and Wakeman all trace back ultimately to an old Anglo-Saxon word, "wace," meaning "watch," which, in fact, comes from the same word root as "watch."

The word "wace-man," or as it came to be spelled in the period following the Norman invasion of England, "wakeman" meant simply "watchman." And the wakeman of the various English communities was an important personage among the peasantry of those days. He was the guardian of the peace and the thief of citizens' property took place from the time he blew his horn at 8 p. m. until sunrise, for it was his custom in those days that the entire community should make good any losses suffered by any individual during that period. In the course of time, however, the wakeman himself, but his entire family, and finally their descendants, came to be known by this name, until it lost its significance of occupation and became a family name.

The wake, or watch, in medieval times, was a religious custom, the populace gathering in the square, or some open place to watch for the dawn of the feast-day. Such gatherings naturally attracted wandering merchants, and on the occasion became important commercially as well. Hence a certain large town in Yorkshire developed the name of Wakefield. The family name of Wakefield in its original form denoted that its bearer came from the town of that name.

BEFORE INDUSTRY WAS ORGANIZED THE COMBINATION OF LABOR AND CAPITAL DEVELOPED NATURALLY. INDEED, IT HAD TO FIND JUDGMENT IN THE INDIVIDUAL.

SINCE INDUSTRY BECAME ORGANIZED, THE INDIVIDUAL HAS LOST IT, AND THERE IS WHERE THE SEED OF TROUBLE LIES.

THERE ISN'T A THOUGHTFUL CAPITALIST, OR A THOUGHTFUL WORKER, BUT RECOGNIZES THIS. THERE ISN'T A SCHEME OF REARRANGEMENT PUT FORTH BUT HAS FOR ITS OBJECTIVE THE RECTIFICATION OF THIS.

Landru, French "Bluebeard" Laughs As He Faces His Accusers in Court

Henri Landru (left), charged with slaying 10 sweethearts, now on trial at Versailles, and eight of his alleged victims. They are: (1) Madame Marie Gullin, (2) Mademoiselle Marie Marchadier, (3) Madame Louis Jaume, (4) Madame Jamet Cuchet, (5) Madame Anna Moreau Colomb, (6) Mademoiselle Andree Babely, (7) Madame Celestine Buisson, (8) Madame Anne Pascal.

By NEA Service. VERSAILLES, Nov. 16.—The greatest murderer and the most successful lover of modern times. Those titles will be given without reservation to Henri Landru by Prosecutor Bonin proves him guilty at his trial, now under way at the Versailles assizes. But noted criminologists who have studied the case, say the state has a hard fight on its hands to convict Landru on the evidence.

MURDERS CHARGED TO LANDRU. (By NEA Service.) VERSAILLES, Nov. 17.—These are the 10 women that police charge were fascinated, enticed away and killed by Henri Landru, now on trial here as a modern "Bluebeard". Mme. Jamet Cuchet, a widow of 40, disappeared at Vernouillet in January, 1915. Her 19-year-old son, Andre, vanished at the same time. Mme. Therese Labor-De-Line, native of Buenos Aires, and grass widow, disappeared at Vernouillet in July, 1915. Mme. Marie Gullin, a former governess, disappeared at Vernouillet in August, 1915. Mme. Berthe Heon, a 54-year-old widow, disappeared in October, 1915, from Landru's new villa at Gambais. Mme. Anna Moreau Colomb, 49-year-old widow of a Parisian silk manufacturer, vanished from Gambais in December, 1915. Mme. Andree Babely, 19-year-old household servant for a Parisian fortune teller, disappeared from Gambais in April, 1917. Mme. Celestine Buisson, a widow, disappeared at Gambais in September, 1917. Mme. Louise Jaume, separated from her husband and divorced after meeting Landru, disappeared at Gambais in November, 1917. Mme. Anne Pascal, native of Toulon and Parisian acquaintance of Landru, disappeared at Gambais in April, 1918. Mme. Marie Marchadier, a Bordelaise, vanished at Gambais in January, 1919.

Landru was a "model man"—a churchman, a faithful husband and loving father—until he was 30, when his career of mixed love and murder is alleged to have begun. He's a brilliant man of quick wit. His answers to questions made many a magistrate ridiculous in preliminary investigations. Testimony and affidavits against Landru on closely typewritten sheets fill several huge trucks. And Landru now says his eyes have been ruined reading them and that he'll ask damages from the French government.

BURKBURNETT AND HASTINGS TEAMS TO HAVE GAME FRIDAY

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES. BURKBURNETT, TEXAS, Nov. 17.—The Burk Burnett high school football team will meet one of the strongest prep school eleven of southern Oklahoma when it clashes with Hastings on the local field Friday afternoon. The game will mark the first appearance of Burk Burnett's high gridiron warriors at their full strength, as all previous games of the season have found the locals handicapped either through lack of dependable men or through lack of consistent practice. An American legion benefit game on Armistice day was productive of funds with which a large quantity of needed equipment was purchased, however, and the addition of several experienced football men has boosted the team to a point where formidable football strength has been developed. Hastings is bringing down a well-seasoned aggregation—one that has thus far enjoyed a highly successful schedule against the cream of southern Oklahoma high school eleven and that is confident of returning home with Burk Burnett's scalp. A decisive victory over Temple, Texas, recently, has sent Hastings football stock on a steady climb upward and the Friday game here is considered as another stepping stone toward the Oklahoma claim for fame. Locally, however, there is not much doubt as to the final outcome, and in spite of Hastings' strength, Coach Smith and his charges are confident that the score board will read in their favor at the conclusion of hostilities. The game is being staged Friday in order that the Burk Burnett team and fans may witness the Electric-Childrens scrap in Wichita Falls Saturday afternoon. A large del-ation from here will attend the intersectional championship battle. The "magic lantern" was invented by a German in 1846.

CALOMEL GOOD BUT AWFUL TREACHEROUS

Next Dose May Salvate, Check Liver or Attack Your Bones

You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system. If you feel bloated, headache, constipation and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money. Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day. It loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you out and you feel great. No you fight up and you feel great. No you fight up and you feel great. No you fight up and you feel great. Because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. (Ad.)

Why Be Only A Christian?

To Wichita Falls' Religious Public:—

The Church of Christ uses this means in a further attempt to be understood by the other religious bodies of the city. Again we state the grounds of our faith. We repeat our offer to yield every item of our faith and practice which is not in inspiration's own words positively commanded us. We even propose to give up our own house of worship and meet with others upon the sole condition that we shall all agree to do only what the Lord explicitly and in His own words bids of us. What the Bible says is the divine basis for union. Why not everybody unite upon this non-partisan and infallible ground?

Christians come together when they come to God, and under the leadership of inspired men they never "joined" anything. All who accepted Jesus as Lord were joined together in the same spirit and in the same body, the church. And as long as they were faithful to God division among them was impossible. They were all born again, born into God's family, the church. The steps necessary to entrance into Christ, which were the identical steps they had to take to become Christians, brought them into fellowship with all other Christians. Thus the Lord added them to the church. And all were forbidden to do anything save what the Lord commanded (Deut. 28:14; 3 John 8).

Any religious organization as a whole which does not include all Christians is not the church we read about in the Bible. Whatever divides the body of Christ and destroys its unity is sinful. To cut a body so as to separate its parts is to mutilate and kill it. But this is precisely what denominationalism does. Sectarianism destroys Christian unity and fosters discord because it fences up some of God's people in one party and some in another. Partisanship is the negation of the aim of Christ. No would that sects are called "Baptist" (2 Pet. 2:1) and "carnal" (1 Cor. 3:3). To divide the children of God, as he does who upholds party institutions and names, is a very grave sin.

Obedience to Christ will make a Christian, but not a Methodist Christian or a Campbellite Christian. The unmixed seed of the kingdom (Luke 8:11) cannot produce such mongrel breed. To make people anything more than simply and only Christians the doctrines and commandments of men (Matt. 15:9) must be taught. But we must give up the teachings of men if we are to go to heaven. (Matt. 15:14).

If we are married to Christ (Rom. 7:4) whose name should we wear? You reply there is nothing in a name. But Jehovah says there is salvation in his name (Prov. 18:10; Acts 4:12). Always the Lord has put His name upon his people (Num. 6:27; Deut. 28:10) and he cursed Israel for adopting another name (Isa. 65:15). The Lord promised his people through Christ "a new name," "an everlasting name" (Isa. 54:5; 62:2). Paul was sent to bear this name (Acts 9:15; 11:25, 26). God called it "that worthy name" (Jan. 2:7) and says we are to "glorify" him in wearing it (1 Pet. 4:16) and to "suffer" for it (Luke 6:22). And when the Corinthian Christians wore also Paul's name, as folks today wear other names, they were straitly condemned for it. And we ask you if it was carnal to wear the name of so great and so worthy a leader as Paul, why is it not carnal to wear the name of any man, or any name save that which the Lord puts upon us to wear?

Why not let us all be content to be simply Christians?

We extend a most cordial invitation to all the people of the city to come out and be with us in our great revival. Services daily at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

NAVY BUILDING YARD QUESTION IS RAISED AT THE CONFERENCE

BRITISH SUGGESTION IS NOT UNDERSTOOD BY U. S. OFFICIALS.

NO PROPOSAL IS MADE FOR SCRAPPING YARDS

Present Equipment Will Be Required To Care For The Repair Work.

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The British suggestion that each of the naval powers retain at least one naval building yard capable of turning out one ship a year does not appear to be understood by American naval officers particularly familiar with construction problems. There was no suggestion in the American limitation proposals that any yard be scrapped and as far as navy yard facilities in this country are concerned all will be needed, it said, in the maintenance and repair of the retained fleet.

At present the United States has several navy yards equipped to build capital ships. It has not been contemplated here that it would be necessary under the reduction program to scrap the equipment of these shops and building docks. Some of the machinery would not be needed, of course, for repair work and would lie idle, but the bulk of the government plants in each case would be constantly in use in keeping up the 18 battleships to be retained by the United States, it was said.

These ships, the newest in the navy, are in many cases now approaching the point where regular overhaul programs are necessary to keep them in first class shape, and with the scrapping of the older ships that have been keeping the yards busy up to this time, officials feel that a sound program as to first class craft can be adopted for the first time.

If the British suggestion, a wholly informal one as yet, is far from known, has to do with providing means for insuring the advancement of naval engineering knowledge during the proposed 18-year holiday, there is no doubt that it will receive much approval among American naval officers. That aspect of the holiday proposal already has appealed to technical experts of the United States. They have assumed that this would be covered in the final form of the holiday agreement.

One thing that many officers hope will be possible under the limitation program is that the navy can be kept in better shape at all times than was possible with the larger fleets and extensive work on new programs. This has to do, it is said, more with preparation of plans for vessels of all types than with the actual conditions of the ships fleet. There are always in about the state of readiness it would be possible to keep them, but with

DISTURBANCE IN BOMBAY WHILE PRINCE OF WALES IS MOVING THROUGH CITY

By Associated Press. BOMBAY, INDIA, Nov. 17.—Coincident with a procession escorting the Prince of Wales through the city of Bombay today, serious disturbances occurred in the native quarter, attributed by the authorities to agitation by followers of Mahatma Gandhi, the Hindu non-cooperation leader, resulting in a number of casualties. The procession itself, however, was not marred by any untoward incident.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 17.—Diphtheria and smallpox, widespread here for several weeks, have taken a combined death toll of eighty-nine, according to vital statistics kept by the city health director. Forty new cases of diphtheria have been reported in the last week. An average of six or seven new cases of smallpox is reported daily.

MEMBERS RESERVE CORPS NOT BARRED FROM OFFICE

AUSTIN, Nov. 17.—The fact that a candidate for public office in Texas is a member of the reserve corps of the United States military forces does not disqualify him and he is therefore entitled to have his name placed on the ballot, an opinion by the attorney general's department held today. However, if elected, he must resign from the reserve corps before he can officially qualify for the office, the opinion held. Failure to resign would make qualification null and void.

SAGINAW, MICH., Nov. 17.—A warrant charging Richard Champlain, 22 years old, with the murder of his father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Champlain, was ordered last night by Prosecuting Attorney Crane after a coroner's jury returned a verdict of homicide. The bodies of Champlain and his wife were found in their fire-wrecked farm house near Homestead Tuesday. Young Champlain escaped from the burning house.

It is the contention of officers that Champlain killed his parents to obtain possession of their estate, valued at $100,000.

MERIT BADGES TO BE ISSUED SCOUTS BY LOCAL COUNCIL

Another big step forward was made by the local Boy Scout council early this week when word was received from national scout headquarters at Washington that hereafter merit badge certificates could be issued directly by the Wichita Falls council without the necessity of securing authorization from national officers.

Up until this time it has been necessary for a Wichita Falls scout, after he had passed tests entitling him to a merit badge, to file proper credentials with the Washington office and await the return of his badge after an investigation by the national officials. This long wait has now been eliminated and the permit issues from this city will effect a considerable saving of time and trouble.

Every boy scout in Wichita Falls is requested to be at the First Methodist Church South, Tenth and Lamar, at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. A picture of the entire organization and a theater party at the Empress, at which time the scouts will be the guests of Manager Will Page, are the all sufficing reasons for the request, scout officials announced Thursday.

The scout band will be out in force and will head the parade from the church corner to the Empress.

A mock trial in which Guy Taylor, captain of the troop football team, is to be charged with insubordination and various other offenses, will feature the open meeting of Troop 6 Friday night. The session will be held at Floral Heights Methodist church and a special invitation to attend is extended the public.

Taylor will be defended by Joe Bashara and a corps of assistants, while the prosecution will be in the hands of Peyton Thurman and several other legal lights of the troop. Park Macheckey will serve as judge and other court attaches will be recruited from the troop membership.

Practice for the scout all-star football team, which is to tackle Troop 6 scout champions Thanksgiving day, will be started Thursday afternoon at Junior high school grounds. Paul Hoynton, instructor at the school, will have charge of the team.

Original plans for the selection of two all-star teams have been abandoned and in their place the one team, open to any scout who played during the recent scout schedule, will be selected to tangle with Troop 6 pennant winners. Coach Hoynton has urged that as many candidates as possible report for practice at the afternoon sessions.

TWO LOCAL GIRLS ESCAPE FROM THE TRAINING SCHOOL

Two Wichita county girls made their escape from the training school at Gainesville the first part of the week, according to word received by Juvenile Officer R. L. Yates. The superintendent in a letter to Mr. Yates stated that they made their getaway in the afternoon.

One of the girls, Pearl Smith, had been in the school but one week, while the other, Annie Dollar, had been there for over half a year. A sister of the Dollar girl was taken to the training school at the same time the Smith girl was taken.

It is believed that the girls, who also took with them Virgie Daugherty of Tioga, intended going to Durburnett or Newton.

HART POOL WIDER DUE TO NEW TEST IN BRECKENRIDGE

A southward extension of the Hart pool, in the Eastern Breckenridge district of Stephens county, and a discovery of a good oil sand of lime formation, as reported by the Hart Oil corporation in their No. 1, J. B. Hart land in Section 22, near the eastern edge of the county. The new well hit the top of the lime at a distance of 325 feet, and drilled into it a distance of 35 feet, when a true sand was encountered. This sand was barely penetrated when the well began to make gas, and in a few hours was blowing at the rate of 1,000,000 feet daily and spraying oil profusely.

The well is in the center of the Hart ranch, which approximates 5,000 acres of land. The oil rights now checkered about 1,000 acres and the Hart Oil corporation.

The Whiteside company's Lane No. 1, which is an offset to the original Hart well, is making 400 barrels daily after a 150-quart shot. This well found the top of the lime at 2,000 feet and drilled in to a depth of 2,150 feet before about

THE ACCUSED, THE VICTIM AND THE WIFE

On the right is Minto Durfee Arbuckle, Roscoe's wife, who had been living apart from him and who hurried to his side after his arrest.

Mrs. Mildred Lothrop and two sides of medal she won.

HOMER, NEB., Nov. 17.—The hero honor is split three ways in the home of Mrs. Mildred Lothrop, chief telephone operator of Homer. Mother Lothrop and two of her five sons share it.

The two boys served overseas during the world war. They were the "talked about" around the family fire-side until—

Mother Lothrop stuck to her switchboard during a cloudburst which sent Omaha creek surging over its banks. She warned farmers of the onrushing waters until the floor of her little office was flooded. Her heroism saved many lives.

Then Mother Lothrop was awarded the Theodore N. Vail gold medal and $1,000 in recognition of her heroic services.

"Now we know why we never feared the Germans," says Mrs. Lothrop's son.

"No one should ever fear anything," says Mrs. Lothrop. "All fear is futile."

HOW HEROINE WILL SPEND $1,000 REWARD

HOMER, NEB., Nov. 17.—Mrs. Mildred Lothrop, the telephone operator awarded the Theodore N. Vail gold medal and $1,000 for heroism in saving hundreds from perishing in a flood at the risk of her own life, today how she will use the money.

"First, I'm going to pay what I owe. I would have been out of debt, but the flood took all that I had and I just couldn't let the boys quit school and work. Next I'm going to buy a few little things that I've wanted for a life; I've always longed for a silver set. Then I'm going to buy three or four shares of stock in the American Telephone and Telegraph company, and the rest I'm going to put in the Homer bank as a nest egg."

Mrs. Lothrop has five sons, two of whom enlisted and served overseas.

"My boys—they're the best boys in the world—have gone raving crazy over their mother's medal," laughed Mrs. Lothrop. "And the boys of the American legion—they call me mother—want to give a dance in my honor, but I'm discouraging it because I always have to take charge of serving the refreshments."

COVERED WAGON IS TOO BIG OBSTACLE FOR TEENEY FORD

A covered wagon proved a Waterloo for a teeney Ford on the Iowa Park paved road Wednesday evening at a point about three miles west of the refinery district.

T. W. Clark of Iowa Park, driving a Ford, was sailing homeward as shadows started to deepen, just staying within the speed limit. An automobile containing several deputies of the sheriff's department had just met a covered wagon and on passing it noticed the little Ford rattling onward.

Suddenly there was a crash and household utensils and equipment started flying. The covered wagon was pushed off to the side of the road by the impact of the Ford and the Ford suffered injuries of a critical nature.

The wagon was driven by W. W. Hampton, who was moving to Vernon. Mr. Clark called for all damages and then settled for assistance toward the Ford to a garage. No one was hurt.

DIPLOMATIC AND CONSULAR STAFFS U. S. TO GERMANY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Complete diplomatic and consular staffs to represent the United States in Germany were named today by the state department.

Ellis Loring Dresel, American commissioner at Berlin, whose nomination to be charge d'affaires was sent to the senate yesterday by President Harding, has been instructed to request from the German government provisional recognition as charge d'affaires and interim pending arrival of his letter of credence.

As soon as Mr. Dresel has been formally received as charge d'affaires at interim, consular officers will proceed at once to their posts. It was announced. Recognition will be requested by Mr. Dresel for the following consuls:

William Coffin, Middleboro, Ky., consul general at Berlin; William Dawson, St. Paul, Minn., at Munich; Hernando de Soto at Leipzig; John E. Kehl, Cincinnati, Ohio, at Breslau; Lewis G. Dreyfus, Santa Barbara, Cal., at Dresden; Emil Sauer, Doss, Texas, at Cologne; Alfred W. Donegan, Mobile, Ala., at Konigsberg; Francis R. Stewart, Evansville, Ind., at Bremen; Eugene C. A. Reed, Daytona, Fla., at Stettin; J. K. Huddles, Fort Recovery, Ohio, consul in charge temporarily at Hamburg; John Q. Wood, Backs-port, Maine, consul in charge temporarily at Frankfurt, and George A. Buckley, Norman, Okla., consul in charge temporarily at Coblenz.

In explaining the nomination of Ellis Loring Dresel to be charge d'affaires, it was said that that action was to regularize Mr. Dresel's taking over America's interests at Berlin. Mr. Dresel had not been in the service of the state department and had had no diplomatic status. It was further explained that the appointment of an American to be charge d'affaires would automatically remove Mr. Dresel from service in the state department.

Regarding the reported sailing of a charge d'affaires from Berlin to install a German embassy in Washington, it was said that nothing further had been heard regarding Germany's plans.

BLONDS, ADIEU! NO MORE IN U. S. IN 40 YEARS!

By N. E. A. Service. PHILADELPHIA, November 17.—Madam, forgive your husband for casting the lingering eye upon the blond.

His interest may be sentimental, but more likely he'll tell you it's purely scientific—and get away with it.

"For the blond is vanishing! In two generations we in the United States will see no blonds, except the imported or the drug store varieties!"

This information comes from other than Dr. Austin O'Malley, noted anthropologist of Philadelphia.

He fixes the deadline for blonds at the 45th parallel of latitude. This traverses the United States approximately from Bangor, Me., through St. Paul, Minn., to Portland, Ore.

"Blonds cannot survive below the 45th parallel," says Dr. O'Malley. "and even in Minnesota they will have a hard time of it. This, of course, means that the American race soon will be dark—almost Mediterranean."

"It's sad to dwell upon," says the doctor. "For fairness and beauty have been almost synonymous throughout the ages. All the great heroines of painting and literature, from Helen of Troy to Pollyanna, have been blonds."

"So it's time the brunette had her day."

"In two generations, when artists speak of the American type, they will mean the brunette."

PRELIMINARIES OF BIG CONTRACT ARE BEING CLEARED UP

BONDS TO BE DELIVERED TO PURCHASERS WITHIN NEXT TEN DAYS.

WORK ON POWER LINE IS AMONG FIRST TASKS

Much Gratification Felt Here Over Assurance Of Co-Operation From Seymour.

The task of clearing up various preliminary matters, in connection with the irrigation contract, was well under way Thursday, following the awarding of the contract on Wednesday.

The bonds will be sent to Austin for registration as soon as they have been signed by N. H. Martin, secretary of the district directors, and from Austin will be sent to St. Louis for delivery to the purchasers. While this is being done, the final checking up of the contract specifications will be under way, with R. A. Thompson, chief engineer, at work on this undertaking at the dam site.

E. S. Heyser, vice president of the Callahan Construction company, will return next Tuesday to sign the contract, and before he returns will place orders for much of the equipment, machinery and material. He will not let any of the sub-contractors until he returns here. A large number of teaming contractors will share in the work, Mr. Heyser said Wednesday.

One of the next tasks for the district, apart from the main contract, will be the installation of the power line from this city to the two dam sites. The putting in of this line is expected to materially cheapen the construction, as power will be available for various items in the work. After the project is completed, the power line will be used for supplying current to the homes of farmers in the district.

Much interest was manifested locally in the report from Seymour, of the interest being manifested in the project, and in the plans for road building. Seymour business men are keenly alive to the benefits that will accrue to that community, and T. B. Noble, acting chairman of the district directors, expressed his gratification Thursday that Seymour's co-operation was being shown in such a tangible and beneficial way.

It is expected that the trade with W. T. Waggoner's store, on the west land, will be closed before the end of the week, all details of it having already been agreed upon.

ANNUAL ROLL CALL OF RED CROSS TO START HERE SOON

The annual Red Cross membership "roll call" will start shortly here for the purpose of re-enrolling all Wichita county members, and it is hoped to exceed the number of former years in the campaign.

Each member who responds to "roll call" pays one dollar for his membership, and the support of the organization depends therefore upon the numbers who participate rather than upon large amounts given by individuals. As the Red Cross is spending about $18,000 a year in this city and county, employing two paid nurses and carrying on a very helpful scheme of work, it is felt that the local response should be hearty.

Mayor W. D. Cline is roll call chairman, and he and T. B. Smock, county president, are laying plans for starting the roll call here within a short time.

PRESIDENT HOLDEN OF DENVER SYSTEM ON TOUR OF ROAD

President Hale Holden of Chicago, president of the C. B. & Q. C. & S. and Fort Worth and Denver City railroad systems, is on a tour of inspection over the Denver lines and will arrive in this city on a special train Friday afternoon.

Mr. Holden is being accompanied by the officials of the Fort Worth and Denver, the special train being made up of private cars being the various officials.

The itinerary of the president does not state whether a stopover will be made in Wichita Falls but it is believed that a brief visit will be made here.

In our gardens of sleep there remain many an unmarked grave. Now is the time to remember them. A. G. Deatherage, 406 Seventh street, Phone 5446. 186-1440

NAME COMMITTEES TO SERVE DINNER THANKSGIVING DAY

Two more committees, the "serving committee" and the "hanger committee," have been announced by officials in charge of the Shrine Thanksgiving day festivities. These two, which complete the list of groups on which responsibility for the success of the Turkey day affair rests, will have charge of preparing one of the Call Field air-hoof hangers for the evening banquet and for the serving of the dinner.

The serving committee is to furnish all culinary utensils needed and is to see that the debris is cleared away at the conclusion of the day, while the hanger committee is to be in charge of the dance preparations at the hangar.

A ladies auxiliary committee to assist in the general work has also been named and is published below. Names of Shriners appearing on the lists following the committee announcements are requested to communicate promptly with their committee chairman.
