BILL TO PROHIBIT FORMING 'BLOCS' BY MEMBERS CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—A bill prohibiting the formation in congress of "blocs" based upon particular parties or geographical locations, for the purpose of "in any way affecting legislation," was introduced today by Representative Anson, republican, New York.

By Associated Press. DUBLIN, Dec. 21.—Mary MacSwiney, sister of the late lord mayor of Cork, severely arraigned President Harding today, speaking against the Anglo-Irish treaty in the daily column this afternoon. She characterized the British premier as "an unscrupulous scoundrel."

By Associated Press. DUBLIN, Dec. 21.—Opposition to referring the Anglo-Irish treaty to the Irish electorate was voiced by George Gavan Duffy, one of the negotiators, in his argument for ratification of the pact delivered in this morning's session of the daily column.

DUBLIN, Dec. 21.—Arguing to the daily column today in support of the Anglo-Irish agreement, George Gavan Duffy, one of the Irish plenipotentiaries, said that President Harding had issued an ultimatum to the Irish plenipotentiaries requiring them to sign the treaty under threat of immediate hostilities. He called it a "monstrous iniquity" that the delegates, who had been invited under the prime minister's roof for the discussion of their constitution, should have been given only three hours to decide the question of signing without the opportunity of consulting their constituents. However, should be ratified in the interests of the people of Ireland, he said.

Duffy contended that Ireland could omit the king's head from the coins of the Irish free state and could abolish the union jack and that in framing the new constitution the Irish people should put the king "into exterior darkness" as far as possible.

Emonn J. Duggan, the last of the plenipotentiaries to speak in this debate, denied that he had been "bluffed" into signing the treaty. He said he had signed it in order to bring about a peaceful settlement to the country, the living and the dead. He warmly urged ratification.

By Associated Press. DUBLIN, Dec. 21.—The daily column today entered the third day of its debate on the Anglo-Irish peace treaty with the outcome of the vote on the question of ratification still in doubt.

The majority either way will be small, according to the political correspondent of the Freeman's Journal, who warns his readers that "it cannot be made too plain that the situation is grave." Arthur Griffith and his supporters are directing their efforts toward the securing of a majority in the house of commons. The choice is not between the status provided in the treaty and that of an independent Irish republic. They contend that Eamon de Valera's alternative proposals, which have not yet been made public, differ only in a slight degree from the terms of the treaty.

By Associated Press. LONDON, Dec. 21.—The British delegation today canceled reservations it had made on a steamer sailing from New York on December 21. It was stated members of the delegation think there is little chance of their being able to leave before the middle of January.

LONDON PAPERS ARE NOT ENCOURAGED OVER OUTLOOK

LONDON, Dec. 21.—Eamonn de Valera was worried in yesterday's debate in the daily column as the result of John Milroy's disclosure of the substitute oath. He said to have been pleased by Mr. de Valera, in the opinion of English newspaper correspondents at Dublin, that he did not look upon developments being favorable to ratification of the treaty, however, as for the first time they omitted from their dispatches all predictions as to the probable result of the vote in the daily.

'SPOOKS' SEEN AT ARMS CONFERENCE SAYS COL. HOUSE

HEAR SAME VOICES THAT WERE RAISED AGAINST THE LEAGUE

SUGGESTS PRESIDENT GO AHEAD WITH REVIVAL

Says It Matters Not Whether We Enter Through Front or Back Door

By COL. EDWARD M. HOUSE. (Copyright by Public Ledger Co.)

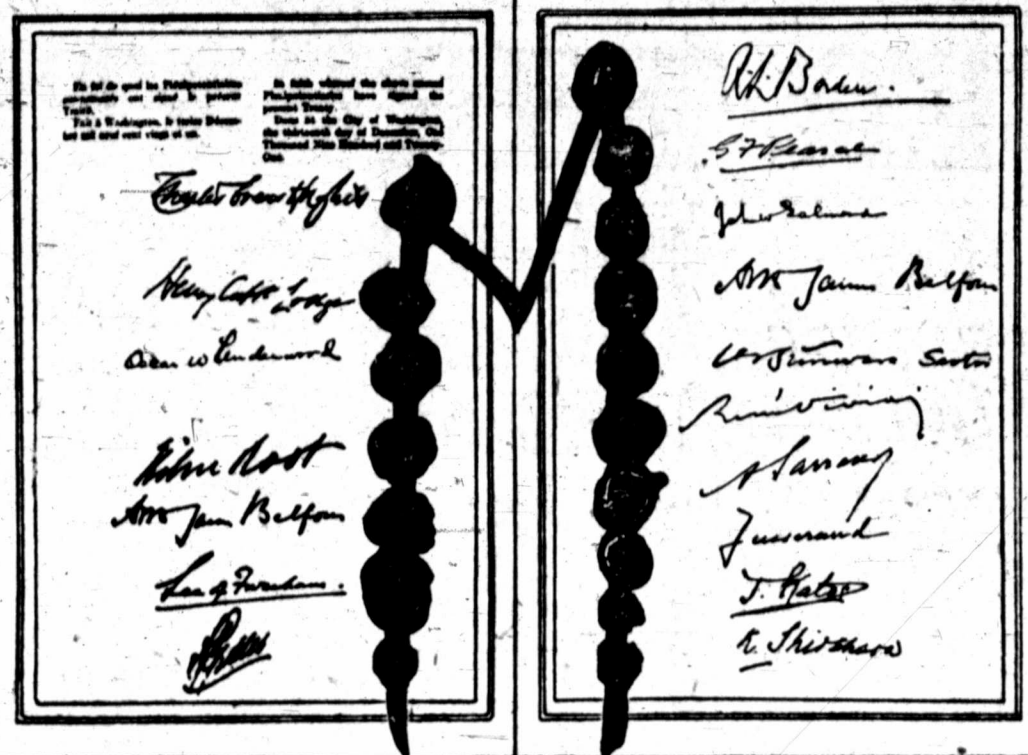

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—Now that the Washington conference is coming to grips with conclusions and is putting into concrete form the purposes for which it was called, spooks are being seen in many directions. We are hearing again the same voices which were raised against the ratification of the Versailles treaty, and the old arguments are being furnished up and put forth as new. We are told that the president is getting intangling alliances and that he is leading us into the league of nations by the back door.

It is said that the four-power treaty might lead us easily into war with Italy or some power not signatory to that treaty. The reasoning is that we morally bind ourselves to protect the territorial integrity of the islands of the Pacific, and in doing so we may become involved in war with other nations. Argument is brought forth that a European war includes the Pacific as much as if it originated there. Germany began a European war, and in consequence lost her possessions in Africa and Asia. Likewise, if France and Italy should war upon one another and Italy should win, it would be morally incumbent upon us to help France hold her Asiatic possessions.

To those opposing the four-power treaty, may we not ask if it is not better than the two-power treaty which it displaces. The chief objection to it should be that it is merely a four-power treaty and not one including all the nations. It seems good as far as it goes, but it does not go as far as the fifty-one power league. That is the ultimate goal, and the four-power treaty leads in that direction.

We want a reduction of armaments and taxes and a greater security from war, but none of these things will come to us by merely wishing for them. We must do something to win them, and in the winning take the lesser chance by joining other nations also wishing them, in treaties, understandings and mutual association. That is the immutable law which follows us from the cradle to the grave.

Another spook arises in the direction of the island of Sakhalin. Would we be compelled in certain circumstances to help Japan should Russia regain her pre-war strength and vigor and undertake to dispute her rights with Japan?

And so we may go down the list of our suspicions and fears. If we let them possess us, we finally may find ourselves timidly shrinking into an isolation which will leave us without friends, influence or even our self-respect. History surely does not warrant the concern that we are as timid a nation as some of our spokesmen would have the world believe. There are dangers lurking everywhere in this mundane sphere. There is something of danger every time we sail forth into the streets; trolleys, motors, microbes and slippery ice may beset us and cause our undoing. But we must live this life as we find it, and not allow our fears to cause us to die more than once.

We are a great nation, full of brain and virility, and while we are not seeking dangers, yet we will not shrink those which necessarily come to a nation of our position and power. President Harding may lead along the path he is going and his countrymen will follow. He need not shy at the shadow of the league of nations or any of the associations which points to peace and a lessening of our economic burdens. No matter how often the bogey of the 1920 election is held before him by political politicians, we may be assured our people are unafraid. This country never passed upon the league in 1920, but upon other issues that are not necessary to enter into now. There were but few voices of consequence raised against an association of nations during that campaign. Mr. Wilson pointed the way in the last of his fourteen points, and Mr. Harding pledged himself in almost identical terms.

And there are the never-to-be-forgotten thirty-one—Taft, Root, Hoover, Wickersham, Lowell and their kind, who declared that "the republican party is bound by every consideration of good faith to pursue such a course until the desired object is attained."

Therefore, Mr. President, go on with your revival, for the people are with you, and it matters not whether we enter into a world association by the back door or the front.

Have you attended yet? The chance of a lifetime to buy Christmas presents at your own price. Roberts & Co.'s jewelry auction sale.

CHILEAN NOTE MAY PAVE THE WAY FOR EARLY ARBITRATION

By Associated Press

SANTIAGO, CHILE, Dec. 21.—The Chilean note forwarded to Lima Monday night is interpreted in diplomatic and political quarters as virtually certain to bring a reply from Peru embodying a more specific proposal for arbitration of the dispute over the provinces of Tacna and Arica than was contained in the Peruvian answer to Chile's first note.

This will pave the way for further exchanges for a settlement of the long standing disagreement. The original note from Chile, which started the present diplomatic exchange, proposed a plebiscite to determine the sovereignty of the provinces.

The declaration that before agreeing to arbitration—which Chile has not rejected—it would be convenient to know exactly what is the difference over the plebiscite formalities that would obligate the two countries to resort to the judgment of another nation in order to arrive at a perfect understanding is viewed as the feature of the Chilean reply. It is recalled that during the years of negotiations Chile has never before gone quite so far as this reference to discussion of possible arbitration, having maintained a policy of direct settlement between the two countries, while Peru held out for arbitration.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE MEETING AT QUANAH; ATTENDANCE OF 250

QUANAH, TEXAS, Dec. 21.—Two hundred fifty teachers of Hardeman, Foard, Cottle, King and Motley counties are registered at the Senior high school building for a four-day institute. Evening sessions are being held in order to complete the work planned.

Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner addressed the teachers during the Monday evening session, followed by H. W. Mowlock of Canyon, conductor of the institute.

The adopted text books are endorsed by teachers in attendance, but the lack of a definite uniform plan of child study and child development is deplored. Hardeman county teachers have completed plans today for a county school fair to be held in Quanah early in the new year. Exhibits from rural schools, agricultural classes, and domestic science, kindergarten and other departments will be shown, and liberal prizes awarded to winning schools and individuals. Other counties represented in the institute have formed tentative plans for a similar fair. The institute is held at Quanah through the efforts of County Superintendent Frances E. Bone and the chamber of commerce, who with the assistance of local club women secured more than enough rooms to entertain the teachers in private homes.

ONE "DRY" CONGRESSMAN WAS WELL FORTIFIED

PRORIA, ILL., Dec. 21.—Acting on an anonymous tip received at police headquarters, detectives surrounded the residence of Congressman Clifford Ireland and prevented the carrying away of 48 gallons of domestic wine and five cases of French imported wine. They captured Joseph Zipper and Richard Voris after letting them pile the liquor outside the house near their automobile.

Kept by leg and case by case, the men brought the liquor out of the collar and deposited it in the rear of the house. When the last case was put in place ready to be put into the waiting machine, the police closed in on them.

Congressman Ireland is in Washington and the members of his family were visiting in Washburn, Ill.

Congressman Ireland voted dry on the eighteenth amendment.

SAYS IMPORTERS SEEK TO DELAY OR DEFEAT THE TARIFF

CHARGE MADE BY REPRESENTATIVE FORDNEY IN HOUSE SPEECH

ATTACK IS MADE ON AMERICAN VALUATION

Says Department Store Sells Knives at $5 Bought for Nine Cents

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Charges that importers through misleading propaganda were attempting to delay or defeat tariff legislation and to accomplish this end were centering an attack on the American valuation plan, were made today in the house by Chairman Fordney, of the ways and means committee, who declared that the American valuation was the "logical solution of the present day economic conditions."

"Opposition to the pending tariff measure is readily traced," asserted Mr. Fordney, "not to the American producer, nor to the man who deals chiefly in American-made products, but to the man who produces abroad and the man whose chief interest is in bringing the product of cheap foreign labor to the American market."

"Those interested in importing enterprises are well organized and spending large sums of money in an effort to make us believe that what they seek is the country's general welfare. The importer is working to delay or defeat tariff legislation and to accomplish his end is centering his criticism on the American valuation plan without which on account of present chaotic world conditions it will be most difficult to write tariff measures at this time that will afford the slightest degree of protection against countries where protection is most needed."

Declaring that he had examined the propaganda in opposition to American valuation, Mr. Fordney contended that a "valid argument against the principle involved is lacking."

The whole opposition is founded on the question of rates and on alleged increases in prices to the consumers they predict will result from the new rates, the house was told.

Mr. Fordney declared he had "discovered" that the "department store that is leading the fight against American valuation" and is "one of America's leading importing establishments" retailed at $5 each knives bought in Germany at nine cents.

Tremendous profits also are made in a variety of other articles imported from countries where production costs are low, said Mr. Fordney, who pleaded with members of the house "not to be led astray by the importers' propaganda."

LIANG SHI-YI NEW PREMIER OF CHINA

Gen. Chang Tsoa-Lin Is Engaged in Forming Coalition Government

By Associated Press. PEKING, Dec. 21.—Liang Shi-Yi has been named premier of the Chinese cabinet to succeed Chin Yun Peng, who with all his ministers, resigned Sunday. The fall of the cabinet followed the arrival here of General Chang Tsoa-Lin, governor of Manchuria, who is now engaged in forming a coalition government in which all the reactionary parties are participating. It is charged that Chin Yun Peng was guilty of speculations and the sale of offices. The new premier is credited with having inspired the attempt by Yuan Shi-Kai to create himself emperor in 1915 and under his auspices many of the officials of the government overthrown last summer are now participating in the councils of state. Among those in General Chang's following is Chang Chin-Yao, who was governor of Hunan province at the time of the murder of Rev. W. A. Heimerl, an American missionary, in June, 1920. The American legation demanded that he be held responsible for the crime.

The legation is said to be preparing a protest against his presence in Peking at the present time.

PASSENGERS ARE ROBBED BY BANDIT

Works While Train Is Crawling Between Chicago Buildings on South Side

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—Police today were hunting the bandit who last night swung over the rear railing of the observation car of the Baltimore & Ohio night flyer for Washington and as the train was crawling between the big apartment houses and hotels of the south side, held up several passengers for $200 in cash and two watches, then pulled the emergency brake cord and dropped off into the darkness. He made his escape in an automobile which awaited him near 67th street. Two of the men robbed were passenger officials of the B. & O. railroad.

The bandit boarded the observation car at the Sixty-Third street station and forced the passengers to stand in line. M. D. Taylor, a Baltimore & Ohio passenger agent, was first. He gave up his pocketbook. Three other men contributed, the robber reaching for Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Stansbury of Tucuman, N. M., and their three small children.

"Stansbury," he said, "will you please take the children to the other end of the car. I am not interested in any valuables a woman may have and I do not want to frighten children. If you please."

As Mrs. Stansbury and the children obeyed his request, he relieved Mr. Stansbury of his pocketbook. "Not much, but you look as if you could well afford to lose it, else I wouldn't take it," the robber told F. W. Williamson, another Baltimore & Ohio passenger agent.

As he continued down the line of passengers, the conductor appeared at the front end of the car ready to collect tickets. The bandit regarded him coolly.

"It's quite possible," he told his victims, "that the conductor is armed. If he isn't he can call men who are. That would mean shooting and some of you might get hurt. I don't want that to happen, so I will leave you."

Covering the passengers with his gun, he jerked the emergency bell rope, backed through the observation platform door and as the train slowed down, leaped over the rail and disappeared down the embankment.

TWO MURDER CASES AFFIRMED BY COURT CRIMINAL APPEALS

AUSTIN, Dec. 21.—Two murder cases were affirmed by the court of criminal appeals this morning. One was the 23-year sentence of Alberta McDaniel, convicted in Cass county; the other was the 18-year sentence of Sim Collins, convicted in Polk county.

The court reversed and remanded for a new trial the case of J. S. Crosslin, sentenced to nine years in McLennan county for rape.

An unusual thing in the court proceedings this morning was the small number of cases from the larger counties of the state, there being only one from Bexar, two from Dallas, one from Tarrant and none from Harris.

RECORD FLIGHT IS MADE BY AMERICA'S LARGEST AIRCRAFT LANGLEY FIELD TO CAPITOL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—After having been christened in liquid air, the new military semi-rigid dirigible Roma, purchased by the United States from Italy, left Bolling Field at 2:30 p. m. today to return to Langley Field, Va.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The semi-rigid dirigible Roma, the largest American airship, arrived over Washington before noon today on her first long distance flight after Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Stansbury having been brought to the United States from Italy and reassembled at Langley Field, Va.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The 400 foot semi-rigid airship "Roma," America's largest aircraft, left her moorings at Langley Field, Va., at 6 a. m. today on her first cruising flight and is expected to arrive at Bolling field here about 9 o'clock. It was announced at army air service headquarters.

A ceremonial program of official inspection has been arranged by her recent successful test flight at Langley Field.

This speed was said to establish a record for airships, exceeding the maximum developed by the last Zeppelins and the ill-fated ZR-2. It is claimed, by about 10 miles an hour.

The Roma was reported by the army air service about two hours after her start to be making a leisurely speed of about 50 miles per hour in her flight here and to be encountering favorable weather conditions. She was understood not to be using her auxiliary engines with which she developed a speed of more than 80 miles per hour at Langley Field.

B. F. JOHNSON MAKES FIFTY SHORT TALKS TO BUSINESS WOMEN

B. F. Johnson submitted fresh proof of his cheerful resourcefulness Tuesday evening to the members of the Business Women's club, when he called upon them to furnish a subject for his twenty-minute talk. When the "hat was passed" and the fifty-odd suggestions gathered he took advantage of the situation by making a talk on each subject, except in the fortunate matter of duplicates.

The talks were brief and interesting and very much enjoyed by the half hundred members present. Mr. Johnson spoke a little more at length on the "spirit of Christmas giving" than some of the others, and the club was very much pleased when that slip was drawn from the hat for the presentation of a little gift to the author of the suggestion drawn. One of Curlee, Johnson and Crane's handsome little tooled leather bill-folds was then presented to Miss Annette Coffield.

Announcements made during the evening included that concerning the Christmas dinner at the Kemp Sunday evening, for which reservations are being made, and concerning the triangles. The Christmas edition of the club's newspaper, the Tuesday Night, was also distributed.

In the membership contest, Mrs. Stella Mason won the week's gift, a beautiful wrist watch, from the Art Jewelry company.

BENDS CHRISTMAS CHECK FOR TUBERCULAR SOLDIERS

The Legion Auxiliary, which met in weekly session Tuesday afternoon at the Legion hall, voted to send a Christmas check of $45 to the 45 tubercular soldiers at San Angelo at once.

The San Angelo hospital was selected from among others at Houston, San Antonio, El Paso and Kerrville as being the least well known and least likely than the others to receive attention. The auxiliary was reminded that there are 1,300 unaccompanied soldiers from the world war in the Texas hospitals this Christmas.

George Hodgins made a brief talk on the Legion motto, which is scheduled for Monday and Tuesday of Christmas week at the Wichita Theater, and asked that all the tickets to distribute among the numbers for sale, and asks that all the help will be the same phone number at her home.

Mrs. Carrigan presented the chapter with a handsome, leather-bound scrapbook of interest, paper and other clippings of interest to the Auxiliary.

OPEN MEETING EASTERN STAR TUESDAY EVENING

The O. E. S. held an open meeting at the hall Tuesday evening with about 75 members present.

An oyster luncheon was a feature of the evening, presided by a most enjoyable program. The members were very much delighted to have present Mrs. Mattie Grassfield of Duncan, Okla., who has been in the city for some time. Mrs. Maud Walker and Bacon, who is a "mocking bird whistler," and plays her own accompaniment. Mrs. Grassfield was called upon again and again, and responded very graciously. Other numbers on the program included a reading of "Daniel's Prayer" by Miss Mervie Guthrie; a reading, "Papa's Boy," by Miss Hazel Delstehurst, and a "Sister number," "Star of the Evening," by Mrs. Hardy, with Mrs. Grassfield at the piano.

After the program the oyster luncheon was served in the dining room, with fried oysters, pickles, crackers, cake and coffee.

PUBLIC IN INVITED TO "EMPTY STOCKING" PLAY

A general invitation has been issued to all interested to see and hear the little play, "The Empty Stocking Elf," which will be staged by the little folks of Miss Almas Kalkreuth's classes Wednesday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. No special invitations have been sent, and everybody will be welcome. Some of the little dramatic artists are so very tiny—from three to five years old—that the auditorium will have to be kept perfectly quiet in order that the clear little voices may be heard. Because of this it is hoped that babies who may be likely to prove disturbing be left with grandmother or auntie at home.

ESCALATOR BANQUET AT FIRST M. E. TUESDAY NIGHT

The Escalator class enjoyed a very delightful banquet at the First M. E. church, Tenth and Lamar, Tuesday evening, when about 40 young people dined and took part in the evening's entertainment.

A Christmas box was one feature of the program, with a gift of some sort provided for each class member. Later, games were played, and a contest among the boys was for the best recipe for a pie. E. R. Highfill's submitted the recipe, which was voted by the girls to be the best—a recipe for a gooseberry pie, and was presented with the prize, a toy pie balloon.

BATIK PORTRAIT PAINTER

ETHEL WALLACE.

Oil paintings, in this artist's opinion, are entirely too heavy for the average modern apartment. They give a sense of oppression and make the room crowded whereas the batik leads light, cool and a feeling of space. And they can be rolled up, put in a trunk and moved with the minimum of expense and effort. No crates, no fuss and no unpacking, the batik is quite ready to be unrolled and hung without unpacking, giving a homelike atmosphere to the new apartment.

RECIPES FOR NEW YEAR DESSERT

Perhaps there are to be so many small people at the New Year dinner that plum pudding is too rich a dessert. Ice cream is usually digested as an dessert, but plain ice cream seems rather ordinary for the New Year dinner. A sauce adds much to vanilla cream, while a frozen pudding or mousse is quite as elaborate a dessert as is necessary.

There are delicious unfrozen puddings that will be relished by big people as well as little.

Chocolate Sauce. One and a half cups milk, one cup sugar, one and a half squares bitter chocolate, one tablespoon butter, one teaspoon vanilla.

Grate chocolate. Put sugar and milk in sauce pan and bring to boiling point. Take out enough of this boiling mixture to melt chocolate and make of the consistency to pour easily.

Add to sugar and milk and boil five minutes. Add butter and boil five minutes. Remove from fire and add vanilla. Pour hot over vanilla cream. This can be made and kept for over hot water for an hour.

Frozen New Year Pudding. Two cups milk, one and a half cups sugar, five tablespoons flour, two-thirds cup powdered sugar, one tablespoon vanilla, two drops almond essence, half cup candied cherries, half cup candied pineapple, one cup nuts.

Put milk in a smooth sauce pan to scald. Mix flour and one cup sugar and add to eggs well beaten. Beat this mixture well and add scalding milk.

Cook over hot water till mixture thickens. Let cool and beat in cream and powdered sugar and flavoring. Add fruit and nuts cut in small pieces, turn into mold and pack in ice and salt. Let stand with turning for three or four hours.

New Year Delight. Five eggs, one cup granulated sugar, two tablespoons gelatine, one and a half cups grape juice, one cup chopped almonds, one-fourth pound butter.

Beat eggs and sugar till thick and creamy. Add gelatine and grape juice. Beat with wooden spatula to keep the fruit from settling.

LOYD'S NEXT IS SCEEN'S MOST PRETENTIOUS COMIC

Harold Lloyd. The same old it aroid, even if he does wear a goby uniform in "A Sailor-Made Man."

By JAMES W. DEAN.
NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Harold Lloyd's latest comedy, "A Sailor-Made Man," is the most pretentious comedy yet produced in America. With immense settings and hundreds of players it takes on the appearance of a foreign spectacle film. This comedy, like "The Kid," possesses continuity of action, carrying a story along with its funny business.

"The Kid" is a better comedy only because Chaplin possesses greater mimetic ability than Lloyd.

Lloyd appears as a wealthy youngster in love with a winsome flapper. Her dad tells him to get a job. He joins the navy.

Informed that his sweetheart is taking a trip around the world, he tries to resign. Any job will appreciate that situation.

Lloyd slips on a bar of soap. His flat connects with the jaw of the champion boxer of the fleet, knocking him out. That wins the admiration of a tough old salt.

Going ashore in India Lloyd gets into trouble with eight natives. The tough gob tells Lloyd to attend to four of them while he takes care of the other four.

Lloyd retreats. The eight attack his companion. As the first four live than the stereotyped old cliché with which most comedies end.

Back Feel Lame, Sore and Achy?

Are you lame every morning? Do you drag through the day with a steady, nagging backache—evening find you "all played out"? Probably your kidneys are to blame. Hurry, worry, lack of rest and a heavy diet, all tend to weaken the kidneys. Your back gives out; you feel depressed and suffer headaches, dizziness and kidney "irregularities." Don't go from bad to worse. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Home folks recommend them. Ask your neighbor!

Here's a Wichita Falls case: A. M. Gross, retired farmer, 306 Lee street, says: "My back and kidneys got in pretty bad shape, caused by a cold. My back was sore and I could hardly do my work. When I stooped, sharp pains caught me. I got dizzy and weak. I tried different remedies, but found no relief until Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of the attack."

'ALL ABOARD' NETS SUBSTANTIAL SUM FOR SENIOR CLASS

A crowd even larger than that of the opening night was on hand at the Wichita theatre Tuesday when the second presentation of "All Aboard," the two-act musical comedy staged by seniors of the local high school, was given. School officials were of the opinion Wednesday that a tidy little sum would be turned over for the benefit of the senior year book as a result of the two successful showings.

The production itself gained considerably by the second night offering and was agogged with much more smoothness than that of Monday night. Incidentally, none of the cabbage leave bouquets and other alleged examples of freshe-sophomore wit which marred the first performance were in evidence Tuesday.

All the principal characters carried their parts with ease and the choruses, in spite of the fact that one or two individuals failed to recover from their first attacks of seasickness, moved with commendable precision.

FEDERAL COURT WILL ADJOURN LATE TONIGHT

DISTRICT ATTORNEY ZWEIFEL TO CONCLUDE WORK AT THIS TERM

JESS WILLIAMS GIVEN 13 MONTHS IN PRISON

J. D. Lee, Charged With Offense of Possession of Dope on Trial

The November term of the United States district court for the northern district of Texas, Wichita Falls division, will come to a close late Wednesday evening, according to the plans of District Attorney Henry Zweifel, who stated late this afternoon that in all probability he would conclude his work late this evening.

J. D. Lee, charged with possession and sale of "dope," was on trial late this afternoon and the jury in the Earl Soper case, charged with transporting an automobile from Texas into Oklahoma, which, it was alleged, he knew to be a stolen car, was still locked up, having failed to arrive at a verdict.

Jess Williams, charged with possession of "dope," was found guilty by a jury after a few minutes' deliberation and he was sentenced to 13 months in the federal penitentiary.

There are several important cases that will be continued until next term. It is stated, however, that should another federal judge be appointed for this district that it is probable that another term of court would be held here either during January or February.

The most important cases that will be continued include several cases charging the use of mails to defraud and one or two large theft cases.

COUNTY ASSESSOR COMPLETES GUIDE BOOKS FOR 1922

County Assessor Irvin Deaton and his deputies Wednesday afternoon completed the guide books which will be used in taking tax assessments for 1922. This work has been in progress ever since the rolls for 1921 were completed.

Mr. Deaton announced that he will begin the assessments immediately after the first of the year and will start operations in the city first. The city and county will, as they did last year, work together in taking assessments in the city.

The deputies in the county will be supplied with blanks so that they may also begin assessing in the country during the first week in January.

JUDGE ROGERS REVERES JUDGMENT IN THREE CASES

Judge Guy Rogers of the county court at law rendered judgment in three civil cases Wednesday, all of which were in favor of the plaintiffs. They are:

Lillie Morgan vs. L. P. Vason, $451.25.

Dr. M. R. Garrison vs. Dr. Parmelee, $118.

E. C. Johnson et al. vs. Mark Kliden, $222.

Three pleas of guilty were entered as follows: J. H. Robins, disturbing peace, $27.75; W. C. Davis and L. A. Coffey, traffic violations, $22.95.

Arbuckle Broke And Plans to Return to Movies February 1

By LINTON WELLS. LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21.—Roscoe Arbuckle is broke. That is, financially.

But that doesn't worry Roscoe or his friends as his second trial on the charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe approaches.

Those friends are few, but they have confidence in Roscoe Arbuckle's innocence, integrity and ability to "come back."

Such is the gist of statements made by Arbuckle and by Joseph M. Schenck, motion picture producer and Arbuckle's best friend.

"The fact that I have hardly a dollar in the world," Arbuckle told me, "doesn't worry me, for in losing about a hundred thousand dollars I have gained the lifelong friendship of a few men and women. I am proud to know, who came to my aid unsolicited."

Trial Cost $25,000. It has been reported that Arbuckle's trial cost an enormous sum, but actually it cost less than $25,000. However, his total financial loss amounts to more than $100,000.

The comedian has not drawn a penny from the Famous Players-Lasky company since September 10. "I wouldn't have taken it had they offered it to me," Arbuckle said, "because they're not getting anything from me. But I hope to be back on the payroll by February 1."

Arbuckle believes that he will be not only acquitted at his second trial next month, but wholly vindicated of causing the death of Virginia Rappe.

Arbuckle says he hasn't been able to understand yet why he was picked to be the "goat" when he had no more to do with the death of Virginia Rappe than any other member of the party, and that was "nothing at all."

Arbuckle maintains he will re-enter pictures.

Regarding the future distribution of Arbuckle pictures now being sold by the Famous Players-Lasky company, no official of the concern here will discuss the subject.

Arbuckle told me, however, that

Jesse L. Lasky, vice president of the company, had informed him a week before his trial was completed that his pictures had been "rescheduled" and would be released after his complete vindication.

Rescheduled With What? Have Arbuckle and his wife patched up their differences, in the question appointment in many minds. "Absolutely," is Arbuckle's reply to the question. "My wife has proven that she is the one woman in the world for me, and I intend to keep her—if she'll let me; and I think she will."

Arbuckle told me that he has not taken a drink since his original commitment in the San Francisco jail, and added, "I never will."

COURT HOUSE TO OBSERVE MONDAY LEGAL HOLIDAY

Monday will be observed by county and district officials as a legal holiday and all courts and offices in the courthouse will be closed the entire day. Several of the offices are planning to close early Saturday afternoon and will not reopen until Tuesday morning.

None of the district courts will be in session during the entire week it was announced Wednesday, but the judges will be in the city to attend to any emergency matters that may arise.

Judge Guy Rogers of the county court at law will not try any civil cases during the coming week, but will make it a point to be present in his court each morning for a short period in order to accommodate any men in jail who care to enter a plea of guilty.

SENATOR KENYON OPPOSES NEWBERRY IN SENATE FIGHT

DECLARES RECORD SHOWS "ENTIRE ELECTION TO BE TAINTED."

RULE OF PEOPLE IS GONE IF PRACTICE IS APPROVED

Declares The Statutes of Michigan Were Flagrantly Violated.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Declaring the money spent in Senator Newberry's campaign for election to the senate from Michigan "regardless of any statutes" shows the "entire election to be tainted," Senator Kenyon said today in a speech in the senate today on the Ford-Newberry election contest that if that body voted to seat the Michigan senator it would be "undermining the foundations of this government."

"The rule of the people is gone," Senator Kenyon declared. "It justifies the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars to get a seat here."

"While the federal act limiting campaign expenditures has been declared unconstitutional by the supreme court since the Newberry campaign, the senator declared it was in effect at that time and so, he added, "we find the common laws, the federal statute and the state statute all violated, the latter openly, notoriously so."

"The record shows an expenditure of at least $262,000," Senator Kenyon said, adding that "the plain inference from the testimony is that a much larger sum was expended."

"If the record showed the expenditure of a million dollars for Mr. Newberry," Senator Kenyon continued, "I believe the senate still would seat him. But no senator who will study the case with an open mind and forget that he is a member of any political party can do otherwise than arrive at the conclusion that the statutes of Michigan were flagrantly violated; that such sums of money were spent in the campaign as to shock public conscience and that the election is tainted and fraudulent."

"The social lobby has been active in this case and the social lobby is effective. No argument here is going to change any votes. The matter is pushed at a time when the country can know but little about it. If Mr. Newberry were a democrat he would be promptly voted out under this record. Some of the democrats would be found stoutly defending him. It is unfortunate that on any question of public morality there should be a dividing line of politics in the chamber."

"I deny that the Newberry case is any test of republicanism. I deny that the seven million majority of republican party last fall was a vindication of any such methods. I deny that the day will ever come when Lorimerism and Stephensonism and Newberryism will be a test of republicanism. The day has not yet arrived when a few gentlemen in the senate of the United States can determine what republicanism is. If so, God save the republican party." The Iowa senator declared it was "nonsense" to say that Senator Newberry knew nothing about the campaign, adding that "the record fairly teems with evidence showing that Mr. Newberry was the active manager thereof and the guiding genius."

"The people of the country do not endorse the large expenditure of money in campaigns. Last year the republicans did not dare nominate either General Wood or Governor Lowden because of the enormous expenditures in their campaigns. One of the great contributing causes to the nomination of Senator Harding was the clean account sheet that he showed in his campaign."

"A large part of the press of the state was subsidized in the Newberry campaign. At least $140,000 was spent for publicity purposes."

"Mr. Ford is brought in as a smoke screen in the matter. Ford will not get this seat. If Ford ever said things that have been charged he said about the American soldiers he should not have a seat in this body. I doubt if he ever did. The president of the United States did not evidently share in the belief of many republicans that Mr. Ford was such a dangerous person, because he spent a very pleasant few days in camp with him a few months ago."

"I believe the senate still would seat him. But no senator who will study the case with an open mind and forget that he is a member of any political party can do otherwise than arrive at the conclusion that the statutes of Michigan were flagrantly violated; that such sums of money were spent in the campaign as to shock public conscience and that the election is tainted and fraudulent."

"The social lobby has been active in this case and the social lobby is effective. No argument here is going to change any votes. Some of the democrats would be found stoutly defending him. It is unfortunate that on any question of public morality there should be a dividing line of politics in the chamber."

"I deny that the Newberry case is any test of republicanism. I deny that the seven million majority of republican party last fall was a vindication of any such methods. Railroad Sends S. O. S. Call For One Ex-Railroader

Freight conditions at Mexia are very much like those obtaining in Wichita Falls about two years ago, only more so, according to reports reaching here. Cars are backed up for miles and piles, every bit of switching room is occupied and a serious congestion prevails.

Officials of the T. & B. V. wanted somebody to straighten out the tangle. So one of them came to Wichita Falls and sought out M. A. Bundy, who has had some slight experience in railroading.

"Want you to come down and straighten things out," they told him.

"Is that all?" counter-queried M. A.

He told them that his railroading days were over. However, his friends feel that a marked compliment to his ability as a "trouble-shooter" was paid by the offer.

PROHIBITION AND STATE OFFICERS GET MUCH LIQUOR

Prohibition officers Tyler and Gonzales and state rangers McCormick and Koonman raided a place owned by L. E. Rone on North Sixth street Tuesday night and confiscated 75 quarts of whiskey which they found buried in the cowshed and other places around the house.

Rone pleaded guilty to the charge of possessing whiskey Monday before Federal Judge W. T. Grubb and was fined $25 and costs.

Rone was arrested and placed in the county jail to await the setting of a bond by Commissioner Lantz, who is now busily engaged with work in the court.

EMPLOYEES COAST LINES REJECT WAGE REDUCTION

HOUSTON, Dec. 21.—Employees of six classes on the Gulf Coast lines after a conference over proposed wage reductions, rejected the new scale and the matter will go to the labor board for decision. The classes represented are dispatchers, switchmen, telegraphers, clerks, maintenance of way employees and stationery engineers.

Patrons of office building are wondering what has happened, to the elevator boys this week.

They smile cheerily when you enter the car, say "yes, sah" when you call your floor, don't matter your words under their breath when they have to back up, and generally speaking are just as courteous and painstaking as the 100 per cent model elevator boy (a purely fictitious being) could possibly be.

Tenants just can't understand it at all.

WINGED VICTORY.

The clouds will be the war trenches of tomorrow, says Rear Admiral Sims. The winner of the next war will be the nation—or nations—which has the control of the air.

You have been thinking: "The diplomats are going to reduce navies—now that the battleship is obsolete."

But the battleship is not obsolete, says Sims. Why? Because invulnerable armaments cannot be transported through the air.

Practice makes perfect—be careful what you practice. You have to be an old man before you believe a fellow ought to work and save while young.

COMMON SENSE WAYS TO KEEP WELL. INTESTINAL CATARRH.

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP. Intestinal catarrh is a common ailment. The disease is caused chiefly by eating indigestible foods and by constipation.

When the intestine becomes overloaded—and especially when its contents are very long retained—the mucous membrane becomes diseased by long continued contact with putrefactive bacteria and the poisons they produce.

The inflammation that results may extend through the wall of the intestine and cause adhesion of the bowel to the abdominal wall or to some other portion of the intestine.

"Kinks" and other obstructions are thus formed. Sometimes false membranes are developed and the result is a most obstinate kind of constipation, in quite a large proportion of cases of chronic constipation that do not yield to regulation of diet and other simple means of cure, adhesion, minks or loops are formed. When the infection extends into the appendix, appendicitis results. This is a serious condition and may give rise to peritonitis and death within a few days.

As in the treatment of most digestive troubles, regulation of diet is of first importance. The patient must carefully avoid tea, coffee, condiments or alcohol beverages. Vegetables and cheese should be eliminated.

Milk is an excellent food for those suffering from colitis if the milk is fresh and clean and the patient does not drink it too rapidly. Egg yolks may be eaten if not too large quantities.

Cereal foods, as oatmeal, when well prepared and carefully masticated, are extremely beneficial to those suffering from this malady, and also toasted cereal flakes. Cereal gruels are especially recommended.

YOU AND I. Must Choose Between "Back to the Soil" and Race Extinction.

The city industrial worker has one chance in eight of living to be 70 years old. The farmer has one chance in three. So reports a committee of the United Hospital Fund, New York.

There, in a nutshell, you have a graphic picture of what civilization is doing to us. Health is close to the soil.

The time is not far off when cities will in large part break up, factories moving to the open country and taking workers with them. That or man heads for extinction.

MARRIAGE. One divorce to every nine weddings in America, and we are rapidly approaching a one-to-five condition, says the Rev. Jones I. Corrigan, Boston College.

In the last 20 years nearly 1,300,000 divorces were granted in the United States, breaking up the homes of 1,280,000 children, most of them under 10.

There even are states that have one divorce to three marriages. The great dragon that is attacking American home life is the divorce evil.

RELIABLE. The oldest oil well in the world is at McClintockville, Pa. It began producing 200 barrels a day. Sixty-one years have passed but the well still is producing oil in paying quantities.

Some people are a lot like this. They are reliable in a year just as they are reliable in a hundred years. A war debt doesn't mean much, expressed in long money figures.

Translated into terms of human labor, it's evil is clearly seen. Human labor is the only real wealth. It pays for every war, long after the cannons are rusted into dust.

TODAY'S TALK.

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

THE MONGREL. He came just as darkness was feeling its way into the night, this dog with a strain of the terrier and the spaniel in his vein.

A storm was on. Rain beat in torrents against the window panes. And it was only by chance that the scratching knock of the little fellow was heard.

He had the energy of a miniature Niagara and the joy of a laughing sunbeam.

Friendship with him was first nature. His dancing eyes seemed to compose poem after poem, while his restless ears fairly tangled the waves of the air as he romped and jumped.

He ate—and was grateful. Then tired from his day, he curled his spotted body into a ball on the floor near the radiator and fell asleep.

Morning came with the passing of the storm. A warm sun welcomed the visitor. When we went to tell him "good morning," he answered back with many wags of a tail and an understanding while and bark that seemed to translate over and over again: "Thank you, I had a good rest—I'm glad I came, but I want to get out!"

Just then another one of his kind was spied across the street. With a desire that was almost frantic, he begged at the door. The call of the tramp was on. We watched him dash to his friend while each wagged a happy greeting. And then another of his outdoor family called to him from a passing automobile.

But his brief stay was well worth while. For he was all laughter and friendliness.

How very wonderful it is to leave behind us nothing but joy and happy memories! To be always welcome wherever we go—and to stay just long enough!

Unacquainted with fame or fickle fortune—but loved nevertheless, because of the simple ability to distribute happiness and tint the air with a lovely influence.

I hope that the little mongrel will come back again some day.

"Gossip" is a corruption of the old English "God-sip" or "God-part," and gained its present meaning because of the way in which these people used to stand and discuss trivial matters.

NAVY DEMAND OF FRANCE ASCRIBED TO 'GALLIC' PRIDE

AMERICAN ARMS DELEGATES ARE INCLINED TO BE GOOD HUMORED

NEVERTHELESS ATTITUDE IS ONE OF FIRMNESS

Politicians Think It Must Bore Hughes and Root to Have to Pet Nervous Nation

BY MARK SULLIVAN
National Political Correspondent of The New York Evening Post and The Wichita Daily Times (Copyright, 1921, by The New York Evening Post)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Every time France almost upsets the apple cart, Washington good-humoredly says: "It's merely the Gallic temperament."

"I don't pretend that we wholly approve this Gallic temper," says a French official, "but we understand it fully, and we find it useful as a kind of blanket explanation for things that are otherwise inexplicable. In that role the phrase is called into useful service rather than more often than can be regarded as ideal."

The other day an entirely serious writer in one of the Paris papers, replying to a foreigner's comments about the spirit of Paris, said:

"France wants to be petted." It was a rather unusual thing for a mature person of the male sex to say about his country, but that seems to go along with the rest as a part of the "Gallie temperament."

Although their most recent blow-up has caused a good deal of plain speaking both to the French and about the French, I suspect the American disposition continues to be one of good humored patience, coupled with complete firmness. Undeniably, Mr. Hughes and Mr. Root and Mr. Lodge are pretty elderly persons. It must bore them more than a trifle to be called on to include among their diplomatic duties that of petting a nervous and excitable nation with a feminine temperament.

If that prince of cartoonists, "J. N. Ding," should care to cover this recent French episode, he could not do so more concisely than to picture our most bewickered American official, Mr. Hughes, going slightly but reluctantly through the motions of stroking the excited hair of that much more bewickered Frenchman, Admiral Labonne, who seems to have brought up this matter of the French navy, and who happens to be about the most bewickered, the most altogether hirsute, the most good-looking, and generally the most ornamental and ornamental son of either Neptune or Mars that has struck this town since the war began.

We all use the words "France" and "the French" as a convenient collective term to describe the French government and the French officials here at the conference, but when we try to be more accurate we all make distinctions between these individuals and, on the other hand, those sturdy millions of the plain people of France who have made more sacrifices in war and are more interested in ending war than any other nation on the face of the earth. The French people haven't lost any of the good opinion of America, but if some of our American officials and observers felt free to talk about some of the French politicians there might be some tolerably plain speaking.

The Odd French Psychology
These French officials and politicians seem too much disposed to interpret things on a personal basis. Within a few weeks after the Wilson administration had gone out of power one of the Frenchmen attacked the Viviani mission that came to America last spring and spoke publicly in exceedingly unpleasant epithets about Mr. Wilson and several of his associates who had worked themselves almost to death trying to help France during the war. If the French psychology thought this sort of thing would help them with the new administration, then the French psychology failed to go hand in hand with American psychology.

The French psychology is inaccurate again if it assumes that the red ribbons and other decorations which they have distributed among prominent Americans should move the possessors from a strictly impersonal attitude in public affairs. There are signs also that some of the French have misinterpreted the college degrees and other honors we heaped on Marshal Foch as signs of a willingness on our part to give sympathetic support to the French cause.

Some American officials, who must manage the intricate business details involved in untangling our alliance with France, might conceivably find it difficult to reconcile the "Gallie pride," which insists on a larger yard than it can possibly pay for, with some other aspects of France's management of her financial affairs. Seriously and pointedly, this recent action of France jeopardizes the present action of France no less than it jeopardizes the future economic conference which the French are ardently trying to bring about.

Nevertheless, the net of it all is that America is determined to continue to make allowances for whatever France does as the not wholly to be blamed actions of a nation not yet free from the hysteria of war and fear. But while we remember this in extension of France's failure to be helpful in our effort towards preventing future wars, we ought not to forget the fact that France has no less than 15 million other nations have gone the limit to be helpful, and in doing so have remained silent about many things which they might reasonably have protested. France's course has been not only embarrassing to us, but more so almost to Great Britain and Italy. When the whole story is told, it will be found that Italy is entitled particularly to the good opinion and sympathy of America.

Chas. Angle, a popular ballad singer, will appear in a novelty dancing number. Mr. Angle needs no introduction to the theatergoers of this city, having appeared before crowded houses on several occasions.

J. W. Akin Jr., also very popular with Wichita Falls' lovers of ballads, will sing one of the very latest songs now being used by the largest New York theatrical companies. Mr. Akin has a wonderful delivery of voice and expression and will see the show will be carried back to the fireless which mother keeps. Reserved seats are on sale at Tipton's drug store.

EUROPE'S CHILDREN BLIGHTED BY WAR

Many Obstacles in Way Of European Comeback, Says Whiting Williams.

By WHITING WILLIAMS
"Over there was formerly a quiet little village of a few thousand," one of the residents was telling a group of friends up on the hills outside Verdun.

There was not a sign of brick or masonry—nothing except a collection of mounds and shell-holes. But he was right. The bombardment had first knocked everything into the cellar and then so churned up the ground that all the bricks and paving stones were far beneath.

It is the same with most of the bodies of the million French and German soldiers who died there. They are still unburied. Because they were too many times buried! Burying the collection of heads and arms and legs brought to the surface by the last shell served only until the next one came.

"This must be for an officer, m'ister, because it is six inches deeper than the others."

The laborer was from Morocco or Algeria—one of the thousands kept busy burying the war's dead. He was doubtless by this time grown accustomed to those "crosses row on row" which bear the legend of "French unknown" or worse, because nothing but an assortment of human parts could be found. "French unknown."

The question is: Can Europe "come back" after such a loss of blood? It is bad enough for a country to have paid for its security the price which France has paid in more than 50 per cent of its young men of fighting age. It is bad enough for the wives and children of those who remain to accommodate themselves in 600,000 fewer homes than before.

But an even deeper, and less obvious wound, perhaps, is one that is not shown by either painted crosses or leaking roofs.

"That's what they all say but I am 18," replied the little day laborer at Legs when I said his age was unbelievable. He had been living through four years of bombardment in the cellars of Lens—living worse than a rat in a drain!

Thousands of children in France have suffered not only from lack of food and shelter, but from the necessity of learning to be thieves. One told me that as a prisoner he had never tasted a square meal unless he could steal it from his captors. Hundreds of thousands of youngsters in Germany are underfed because of the blockade.

On all sides workmen told me of their troubles—their war-troubles—in their homes. In thousands of families, divorce and other domestic difficulties have arisen.

Still further, in Germany and especially in Austria and central Europe, the best educated people are at present suffering most. Though they get the same number of money units as before, the depreciation is so great that sometimes a whole year's salary hardly buys a single suit of clothes.

Such wounds in the heads, hearts and bodies of whole peoples are sad enough to contemplate in comparison with the gains—the scanty gains which have followed from the war. They do more than prove the foolishness of fighting as a means of settling disputes.

They also complicate enormously the job of the world's statesmen in nations. To them good relations are bread—they mean jobs.

Still Fear Germans.
At Longwy, as every where else in France, the French workers told me how they feared the Germans might come in and take their homes again. That fear is at the bottom of the heart of every Frenchman today. In Essen and elsewhere workers told me similarly of the hatred of France, which is at the bottom of every German's heart. Nevertheless, at Longwy great long trains full of coke stood in the siding marked "From Essen."

These fearing and hating workers depend upon each other for their jobs!

British Face Boycott.
CAIRO, Dec. 21.—A boycott has been started against the purchase of British goods in Egypt, following the breakdown in negotiations to substitute an alliance between Britain and Egypt, for the protectorate.

Perhaps because these workers more around so much, they seem to understand better than we the importance of good relations between

Group of children in the industrial suburb of St. Dennis, near Paris. Fifteen or 20 years from now, the world may be surprised at the unbalanced action of some parliament in Germany or France or the Balkans. The reason will have to be sought in the demoralized lives of the children of Europe of 1914-18.

CHINESE HELP REBUILD FRANCE

All foreigners still look alike to the French.

By WHITING WILLIAMS.
In Poland—sex year—all time shoot. Bang!—Bang!—all time like dat. Poor man no can find bread unless coom here. Look here my back!

The great holes made by shrapnel were easy to see. We were all laboring at the face of a seam of coal in northern France near Lens and were clad only in trousers and shoes.

There in that one small mine town were 1,000 of his friends—all trying to escape from the miseries of war-torn Poland. Later at a big steel plant in the center of France I saw 2,000 Chinese doing jobs which required a maximum of brawn and minimum of trained brain.

Thousands of Belgians, Spaniards, Italians and Portuguese are working with pick and shovel and wheelbarrow in France today. Moroccans and Algerians were to be seen almost everywhere that bricks had to be moved.

Perhaps because these workers more around so much, they seem to understand better than we the importance of good relations between

TEXAS AGAIN LEADS OTHER STATES IN POPULARITY FOR MAJOR LEAGUE TRAINING

The charge of the fight brigade too high.

As soon as Connie Mack makes known where his team will do its training next spring the list of major league conditioning camps will be complete. Connie has made it known that he will shift from Lake Charles, La., where his Athletics have worked out for the last two years, but the exact location of his 1922 base is not known.

Two new names will be added next spring to the long list of cities or towns chosen by major league clubs for training purposes. They are Seattle, Wash., and Leeburg, Fla., where the White Sox and Phillies will hold forth, respectively. As far as is known neither town ever before entertained a team from the majors, and it is possible that the natives of these two hamlets will make the most of it, though their sports guests do not rank among the elite of the majors at this time.

Both White Sox and Phillies trained in small cities of the south last spring and are changing now to other small cities. Five clubs in the National league and four in the American have passed up their 1921 training sites in favor of other places.

Fame in baseball is fleeting. Johnny Rawlings was a star in the 1921 world series. His brilliant work around the second base featured the infield play of the Giants.

The play made by Rawlings in ending the final game of the world series between the Yankees and Giants will long live in the memory of those who attended the game.

BIG LEAGUE STARS FIGURE IN TRADES

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Ten major league baseball players, some of them in that select category known as "stars," were affiliated with new clubs today as the result of two big deals consummated last night.

In the other deal "Stuffy" McInnis, Red Sox first baseman, was sent to Cleveland in exchange for Elmer Smith, hard hitting right fielder.

By one trade or another in the last few years, the New York and Cleveland American league clubs have obtained nearly 20 players from the Boston team of whom the following are still members of those clubs:

New York—Ruth, Mays, Schang, McNally, Hoyt, Scott, Bush, Jones and Harper.

Cleveland—Spencer, Gardner, McInnis, Wood and Nunamaker.

To the Red Sox of next season the New York Americans will have contributed: Pratt, Ruel, Vick, Walters, Russell, Peckinpaugh, Quinn, Collins, Piercy and Thorman.

Harry Frazee, president of the Red Sox, today authorized a statement that the club, which has been represented to be on the market, was not for sale.

ARDMORE PREACHER WARNED TO LEAVE

The First Presbyterian church here and a member of a delegation of Ardmore citizens who conferred with Governor C. G. Robertson yesterday in Oklahoma City relative to conditions in Carter county, was the outstanding development today in the disturbed situation precipitated by the killing of three men at Wilson, near here, last Thursday night.

The note, written on a type writer, contained the single sentence: "Mr. Rev. Weith, if you value your life you will leave town at once."

It was postmarked Ardmore, Dec. 19, and was received by the Rev. Mr. Weith just before he departed for Oklahoma City; he immediately gave it to the newspaper upon his return here last night.

Thirteen men are today still charged with murder in connection with the killing of Joe Carroll. So far none has been specifically charged with the killing of John Smith and C. G. Sims, Ardmore policemen, the other victims of the triple killing. Nine of the accused are in jail, having been arrested on Thursday. Two others, in investigation were also released under bond.

Soon after the bonds of the prisoners were signed, County Attorney Matthews, following a conference with Assistant County Attorney John Hodges, Sheriff Buck Garrett and defense attorneys, announced that the examining trials of the men would be held Thursday afternoon. This announcement was accepted generally with favor by defense counsel who earlier in the day had filed applications for habeas corpus for the release of their various clients on the ground that they had been held too long without trial or a hearing.

The promise of the governor to place the investigation of the killings in the hands of the attorney general's department was met with the statements by county and state authorities here that they would be glad to aid the attorney general in any way possible to clear up the affair.

All last night uniformed and armed national guard sentries paced posts on guard duty at the armory. Heated conversations in the building, which remained constantly on watch, the guardsmen patrolled the outside of the armory, sometimes singly and sometimes in squads. This, it was explained by Lieutenant Colonel Hutchinson, in command of the two companies of guards stationed here, was in accordance with orders from the state adjutant general to protect state property in event of probable disorders arising from the threats which have been received that an attempt might be made to liberate prisoners held in jail in connection with the killings.

He reiterated that no other military action was contemplated.

Aside from the probable release on bond of other prisoners today no other action in the case is anticipated. It being said that further steps would await outcome of the preliminary hearings tomorrow. The interest which the case aroused here gives promise of a record attendance at the hearings.

STATEMENT IS MADE IN CONNECTION WITH CASE

By Associated Press
ARDMORE, OKLA., Dec. 21.—With the submission of a signed statement here last night, J. A. Gilliam, stock raiser of Ardmore, to Assistant County Attorney John L. Hodges, concerning his participation in the series of raids "bare" day night, which is believed by authorities to have culminated in the death of three men at Wilson, five of the 15 men who were being held in the county jail in connection with the killings were released under bond of $2,500 each and another was unconditionally released and the charge of murder against him was withdrawn.

The men allowed bond were J. A. Gilliam, Leon Julius, Baptist minister of Healdton; J. D. Smith, Walter Carroll, brother of Joe Carroll, who was shot down and killed by masked men at his home, and H. A. Hensley of Wilson, relative of Carroll. Bill Ratliffe, an oil field worker, was ordered released by County Attorney James H. Mathers, when it was established, the attorney said, that he had no connection in the affair.

At the same time, the county attorney announced that the preliminary hearings of the men 11 of whom are now charged with murder, will be held Thursday afternoon. It was expected that Carroll and Hensley, against whom no charges were filed, were held under bond because of their possible value as witnesses in the case. These two men, according to authorities, were at the home of Carroll when members of his household attempted to repel the attack of masked men after they had shot and killed him. In the gun battle which followed, John Smith, an alleged member of the band was fatally wounded.

Soon afterward the body of C. G. Sims, Ardmore plain clothes policeman, was found in a field near Wilson and authorities since then have been attempting to connect the killings.

Gilliam's statement follows: "About 11 o'clock Tuesday day morning, Mr. Sims said he wanted me to go with him to a meeting at Wilson; that he was a committee man selected by committee men among who invited the cooperation of Ardmore citizens to meet in a mass meeting for the discussion of better conditions in the oil fields. He also stated he was planning a raid and had taken pains to obtain a detective as he would be out of the city."

"I told him I could not go on account of other business. So I saw him no more until about 4 or 5 o'clock in the evening, when he came to me in front of the Simpson building and talked again about going. Then we went to see the other parties, R. G. Raines, the saddler, Guy Harris and Ray Beede, about going."

"Then I told him I could not go on account of business and he said that I was no better than he, as he had called off a dog with him with his check to make this trip."

"He also stated there would be no danger as he had planned the raid which he thought would uncover a 'wet car' dealer as well as the whiskey traffic and had planned for John Smith to do the buying of the whiskey as he knew the game but had quit; that he was planning to have four or six men so be present and nearby so they might take charge without alarming anyone."

Leave for Wilson
Then C. G. Sims, plain clothes policeman, was found in a field near Wilson and authorities since then have been attempting to connect the killings.

Postmaster Has Quit Guessing On Biggest Rush Day

Predicting the whims of the Wichita Falls public around Christmas time is something akin to prognosticating on Texas weather, according to Postmaster Ed Howard.

Tuesday he gave out an opinion that Monday of this week would prove to be the biggest day, in point of mail volume handled, that the local office has experienced this year, and when Tuesday's work was checked up it had exceeded the Monday total by quite a respectable margin. And Wednesday he was decidedly averse to predicting that the total for today would not exceed that of either Monday or Tuesday.

One thing is certain, he says, and that is the fact that December of this year will outstrip December of either 1919 or 1920.
