

CONFERENCE WITH WIDER SCOPE APPEARS NECESSARY

NATIONS MUST BE INCLUDED DECLARES COLONEL HOUSE

NOT MERELY A GROUP OF VICTORIOUS POWERS

Now Represented Could Not Maintain Peace Indefinitely

By COL. EDWARD M. HOUSE (Copyright, Public Ledger Co.) PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 29.—The Washington conference has clearly developed the necessity for another conference with a wider scope. It is becoming evident that if the world is to have limitation of armaments and international understandings that are satisfying, all nations must be included and not merely a group of victorious powers.

These nations now represented at Washington could maintain peace for a while by their own process, but they would not maintain it indefinitely. Looking into the future, we can see the possibility of Germany and Russia disputing the right of the powers now assembled at Washington to make laws and decisions which would also bind them. To assume to do this invites future trouble.

It is often stated that Great Britain and the United States could of themselves maintain the peace of the world if an agreement could be reached to do so, and in truth they would for a while, but such an alliance, even if made for the highest and most altruistic purposes and of the general good, would bring about a feeling of resentment throughout more than half the world. This feeling would gather speed year by year until the time when it would be impossible to give vent and then there would be another clash of arms such as we have just passed through. Therefore, those who have this well-meaning plan in mind had best give up, for our condition with it could be worse than without it, even as it is, we find some annoyance felt at the general accord which is evidencing itself in the relations between Great Britain and the United States. The Latins do not like it, neither do the Slavs, say nothing of the Eastern peoples.

It was inevitable that the world should leave a smaller group of powers than before it began, and it was also inevitable that in the victorious group there would be no powers left greater than any of the others. It is, therefore, of such consequence what is done by that they should leave undone.

It is well within the province of those sitting at Washington to follow the agenda which were set forth for the conference, and it is devoutly to be hoped that when they depart we shall have a 10-year peace, and with at least 10 years of peace in the Pacific. But

It is a question whether they can go farther than this, or whether they should try to do so at this time.

What should follow in the near future is a conference of all nations, and in that conference there should be an even more far-reaching and drastic agreement for the limitation of armaments, both on land and sea. And, there should be made a complete and comprehensive code of international law, including rules governing the procedure in war. The declaration of London failed of ratification, and it is necessary to hark back to the declaration of Paris of 1854 for any rules which are now recognized. The world war almost obliterated even that agreement, and the nations of the world may be likened to a fleet of rudderless ships sailing uncharted seas. Unless some general international agreement, including governing procedure in war, that we shall sooner or later, come to grief in as nearly certain as anything human can be.

And such a code must be made by all at interest and not by a special few. There should be some left on the outside to nurse their heart-burnings and to "foment trouble" when the time is propitious for it. And when this assembly meets there should be no action missing when the roll is called, if it is to express the moral, economic and spiritual yearnings of mankind.

NINE DEATHS FROM POISONOUS LIQUOR IN NEW YORK CITY

Police and prohibition officials early today redoubled their efforts to locate the source of poisonous bootleg liquor which has taken three more lives, bringing the total for the last six days to nine dead and as many others blinded or seriously ill.

Yesterday's victims included a gray haired woman, Mrs. Carrie Volck, who has been reported missing from her home for several days, and George C. Henry, a middle aged salesman of Brookline, Mass.; Charles Williams, a negro, and John Dooley, a 14-year-old boy. All were dead when discovered or died soon afterward except the boy, who was reported in a critical condition in Bellevue hospital. Several others who drank wood alcohol when they thought they were drinking gin were at the point of death at the same institution.

Alarm at the widespread ravages of the poisonous liquor, the Kings county grand jury has taken steps to ask the cooperation of other grand juries to root out and suppress the traffic in bootleg liquor.

JOHN EASTERWOOD HELD FOR SHOOTING HIS WIFE ON OAK CLIFF STREET

DALLAS, Dec. 29.—Arraignment of John Easterwood, 72, on a charge of assault to murder on his wife, Rosa May Easterwood, 36, has been set for January 4, following a report from a hospital early today that the woman had a slight chance for recovery. She was shot yesterday while awaiting a street car in Oak Cliff. Easterwood was taken into custody a few minutes later. The couple are said to have been separated more than a year.

SEEK COMPULSORY ARBITRATION LAW

Bill Will Be Introduced in Next Session of New York Legislature

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Compulsory arbitration of industrial disputes as a measure of protection for the public is provided for in a bill sponsored by the New York board of trade and transportation to be submitted to the state legislature. The legislation is intended to forestall unjustifiable strikes and lock-outs. It was said, and by its provisions justices of the supreme court and the state industrial commissioner would be empowered to handle labor disputes.

Massage Parlors In Chicago Under Eye of Officers

Grand jury indictments of three women owners of massage parlors based on evidence of what State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe terms "gross and increasing secret immorality" were announced today as the beginning of a determined campaign to rid Chicago of scores of such establishments.

State's Attorney Crowe announced that the investigation had revealed visits of doddering old beaux, some "tired" business men and some non-chalant youths to the massage parlors which featured "female attendants" and which were also frequented by former feminine habits of the old Twenty-second street district, women out of presumably respectable homes and even school girls.

The thirteenth and most pretentious of the massage parlors are said by investigators of the state's attorney's office to be in the Loop district. The convenience with which men may reach these pseudo "health establishments" has made the downtown business district a rich field.

"There are hundreds of these places in the city," said Mr. Crowe. "Some of them of course are legitimate and respectable, principally those catering exclusively to women. But I can see nothing respectable about a place where girls bathe and massage men."

At some of the places it was found that the "tired business men" made engagements with the girls attendant for after business hours, although no specific instances of vice were discovered by the investigators in any of the places.

Fuldah Johnson, massage manager of one large downtown massage parlor, was one of those indicted. The business card described the various sorts of baths and stated that the atmosphere would be appreciated by the business men.

Madam Eddeman, who has been operating a parlor in the Garrick theater building in the heart of the Loop, was also named in an indictment. Madame Greenbaum was indicted as the keeper of a disorderly house after the investigators had testified they had visited a south side massage establishment. The place was shown to be disorderly in character.

ARTHUR BURCH CASE LARGELY TECHNICAL; ALIENISTS TESTIFY

Former Student Gives $15,000,000 To Yale University

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Arthur C. Burch, on trial for the alleged murder of J. Belton Kennedy, changed demeanor so greatly while alienists were testifying about his mental condition that it was brought into the court record and a bailiff kept close to his side during most of the proceedings.

Doctors Charles L. Allen, Ernest B. Hoag and E. H. Williams, all Los Angeles specialists in mental diseases, testified they believed the defendant was suffering from mental deterioration which took the form of egotism, flippancy and conceit. While these statements were being made, Burch, who had smiled almost continuously during the "previous" sessions and had apparently paying little attention to the testimony, grew attentive and grave, keeping his eyes fixed on the doctors, by lifting his lips and yawning to and fro.

This attitude was most marked when Dr. Williams spoke of Burch as being "a little insignificant man, who apparently considers himself something great."

Later District Attorney Woolwine asked Dr. Williams if he had noticed how serious Burch had become yesterday.

"Yes," replied the alienist, "and I think I know the reason. We have been tramping upon his ego. "Might it not be because he is mediating on whether he will be hanged?"

"I don't think so." "Were you not here yesterday while Dr. Allen was testifying and Burch laughed outright?"

"Yes, but it seemed to me he was serious much of the time." Dr. Williams said he frequently had observed Burch, both in jail and in court, and had never seen

Another Day's Little Tragedies Smoothed Out a Bit at the Desk Of the Y. W. C. A. Travelers' Aid

Sometimes the Y. W. C. A. Travelers' Aid at the Union Station has the opportunity to combine the forces of helplessness and legibility to the mutual advantage of the lonely or helpless in their travels.

Such an occasion came during a busy morning last week. The day was blowing icy cold through the east doors of the station when a little woman with a baby in her arms came in, loaded down with suitcases, boxes, bundles, etc. The Travelers' Aid saw her and assisted her to a seat. "Where are you going?" she asked kindly. The woman was going to Trinidad, Colo. She had come from Haskell, Texas, and after she was seated and settled and had begun nervously to count the money in a small box, the rest of the story came out. Her husband had died two months before she found that the sum lacked $1.50 of the right amount. The Travelers' Aid reassured her, however, and made up the deficit, adding a bit for lunch on the way.

While the little woman with the baby waited for her train, two children were brought in to the Travelers' Aid. The story? Well, sometimes when a pair of frightened eyes look up at her and a cold little hand clings to her dress, she feels something akin to terror, the story seems a little more pitiful and desolate than the last one. The children's mother had died and the father, out of work but with work promised in Memphis, had gone through in a wagon. He had just enough to have the children sent through by train, and a relative was to meet them, but in the meantime the children had never grayed in the care and were frightened and lonely. The Travelers' Aid looked over at the little woman with the baby, who sat on the bench close to her desk. They never get very far away, somehow, when they're in trouble. And the little woman looked at the children and back understandingly. She held her baby a little bit tighter, and called to them in another half hour a coffined little group was waiting for the train to go to Memphis, Texas, and Trinidad, Colorado.

Another Lonely Trip. The same morning a young woman stopped over on an incoming train from Denver, via Kansas City, on her way to Wellington with her eight months' old baby and the body of her young husband. There is no afternoon connection to Wellington, and after questioning, the Travelers' Aid found that the young woman had a brother in Iowa Park. Knowing what the presence of any

To Ban War Toys

MRS. KATHRYN TIBBETS.

By NEA Service.
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Dec. 28.—America's toy shops must be disarmed by Christmas, 1922.

Pop guns, air rifles, tin soldiers, miniature shooting galleries, tanks and warships must go.

"That is the objective aimed at by the Florida Audubon society. Mrs. Kathryn Tibbets of Lake George, N. Y., a war mother, is chairman of a committee that plans to do the disarming.

Warlike toys breed the desire to kill in the hearts of little boys, Mrs. Tibbets thinks.

"Give them pop guns when they're babies and they ask for air rifles a year or two later," she says. "Then when they grow up they naturally take to heavier weapons and hunting."

Anna Steese Richardson Says She Hasn't Yet Achieved Her Ambition

By ALICE ROHE.
NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—What is success? I asked Anna Steese Richardson, "I am not a success!" was Mrs. Richardson's surprising announcement. "Why?" I demanded. "Because I have not done the thing I have wanted to do since I was 16 years old."

"What can that be?" I demanded. "This remarkable woman who raised a family of three children, keeping her home intact while battling through early difficulties to the place where she could educate them abroad and in the best universities, who had arrived in the newspaper, magazine, theatrical and movie world seemed to have entered almost every field. "I want to be a really successful playwright!"

On the eve of a newspaper women's luncheon, honoring Mrs. Richardson as being the first of her craft to invade the world's biggest movie theatre, the Capitol, with her clean movie, "A Man's Home," the remark was interesting.

"I don't want to write a high-brow play, but one that will reach the people, one that will make them laugh and cry and think and have courage. Then I will think I am a success."

Mrs. Richardson has done more constructive work than any American woman writer. Her better habits campaign which swept the country has been taken up by the government. Her good citizenship campaign has also spread throughout the United States.

There are 65,000 members of the Mothers' club and 115,000 of the Expectant Mothers' club founded by Mrs. Richardson.

"But tell me how you arrived," I insisted.

"Well, my first job was at $3 a week on a Council Bluffs (Ia.) newspaper. Then I was the first woman reporter on the Omaha Daily News. When I made $20 a week and was told I could never make any more I came to New York.

ANNA STEESE RICHARDSON

"I had $5 in my pocket when I came here, a family of children—and determination."

"What would be your advice to a girl who wanted to succeed?"

"First of all I would say: Do not confuse notoriety with success. And remember if you want anything so much you won't be happy without it, you'll get it!"

EPWORTH LEAGUE TO GIVE NEW YEAR'S EVE BANQUET

The Epworth League of the First M. E. church, Seventh and Lamar, will entertain its members and friends with a New Year's banquet and watch night party in the basement of the church Saturday night, January 31, at 9 o'clock.

After the serving of the banquet there will be an address by Judge P. A. Martin, and later games and other amusement until 11:40 p. m. At that time Dr. Pettinger will take charge and hold a devotional service in closing the old year.

All members and friends of the league are invited to be present. The banquet will be served at 60 cents a plate.

Oyster Supper Opens Campaign North Side Funds

An oyster supper Wednesday evening of next week, with the proper accessories, will open the formal campaign which the women of the North Side Civic league will make for funds for their new community house, plans for the building and use of which were announced recently in The Times.

The supper will be served in the store building on the north side where the big dinner was recently given, the location of which is known to all the North Side, and visitors from Wichita Falls proper are invited to attend. Accompanying the oysters and their culinary trimmings will be a brief but first class entertainment, comprised of music in several forms, with a stent or two specially staged for the occasion. Talent from Wichita Falls is assisting to make the entertainment a success, and it is expected that a big representation of the North Side progressives will be present when the oysters are served.

TWO STORES TO COMBINE IN WOMEN'S WEAR SALE

A sale which is being put on jointly by two local stores, and in which 2,000 garments are to be displayed at one time, will be started shortly by Semberly's and the Up-States Garment Shop.

The quarters formerly occupied by the American National bank will be used for the sale, giving a ample display and sales space. The sacrifice prices to prevail in the sale are made necessary by weather conditions here, which also enabled the proprietors to make extensive additional purchases at low figures.

C. Connelly, formerly located here and connected with the government internal revenue service, will leave Saturday night for Kaufman, Texas, where he goes to take up his duties as executive secretary and manager of the chamber of commerce.

By Associated Press. LONDON, Dec. 30.—The European staff of the United States shipping board will be composed almost entirely of Americans at the beginning of the new year as a result of the Americanization policy inaugurated by Chairman Lasker.

Last June only 25 per cent of the board's employees in Europe were Americans.

IDEAL WEATHER CONTINUES OVER ENTIRE DISTRICT

Ideal weather conditions, indications of early fall time, continue throughout the district, and early Friday morning there was no apparent change in sight. Cool nights and moderately warm days are reported from all points along railroads, leading into this city.

The minimum temperatures for the night over the local area ranged from 35 to 43 degrees with clear skies and practically no winds at any point. Amarillo reported the lowest minimum temperature for the night with 25 degrees, while Wichita Falls' lowest mark was 45 degrees at 9 o'clock in the morning. After sunrise the thermometer began rising.

The only disturbance of any kind noted anywhere which was not of consequence enough to warrant a belief of a change was the barometer reading Friday morning. The pressure at 9 o'clock was 30.52, a fall of 2 points since Thursday morning.

FRIBERG ROAD IS RE-SURFACED WITH GRAVEL TO CREEK. Dick Morris, in charge of the work of resurfacing the Friberg road, reported Friday that the work had been completed as far as Bear creek, a distance of over six miles, and that a 15-ton roller was engaged in packing the gravel.

Resurfacing of this improved road was begun six weeks ago when the commissioners were petitioned by farmers residing along the road for improvements. This road was improved over a year ago, but the weather and traffic had wasted away the surface to such a degree that the road was nearly impossible to traffic.

The gravel that was used in placing a new surface was taken from a pit along the road so that the expense was greatly reduced.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE COMPANY TRUSTEES ARE REMOVED. BOSTON, Dec. 30.—The board of directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, today announced the removal of the board of trustees of the Christian Science Publishing society. The trustees at the same time insisted that they were still in office and that the fact that their resignations had been offered to the supreme court placed jurisdiction solely in the court's hands.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 30.—With prohibition enforcement officers gathering here from surrounding towns and parishes to assist local officials in watching places where liquor is liable to be sold, New Orleans faces one of the "driest" New Years Eve celebrations in its history.

Supervisor of Police Moloney has selected a special squad of members of his force known as the "sponge squad" to operate in plain clothes in the enforcement of the new state prohibition law.

FUNERAL VERNON BANKER HELD THURSDAY AFTERNOON. VERNON, TEXAS, Dec. 30.—Funeral services for Robert Houseley, Vernon pioneer banker, capitalist and land owner, were conducted here Thursday afternoon. Mr. Houseley died Christmas day at Long Beach, California, and his body arrived here at midnight Wednesday.
