ARRESTS MADE IN 2 ROBBERY CASES BY POLICE MONDAY

Two youths were locked up by city police Monday morning and are being held pending further investigation of the robbery of the Servist Tailoring shop on December 22. Approximately $400 worth of clothing was stolen from the place on that date.

Joe Lowrey, one of the operators of the establishment, did some sleuthing on his own hook immediately after discovering the loss, the result of which was the arrest of the two youths now held by the police.

Lowrey found the pair in Fort Worth, he said, and brought them to Wichita Falls. The man held at the city hall is said to have been recovered in Fort Worth.

One young man was in jail Monday afternoon and police were searching for two others alleged to have been implicated in the attempted hijacking of a negro man New Year's eve.

The attempted hijacking took place at the corner of Fourteenth and Holliday streets and was frustrated by the negro who grappled with his three assailants.

GIVE PROMINENCE TO FRANCO-BRITISH PROPOSED ALLIANCE

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Reprints from Cannes that Premier Briand and Prime Minister Lloyd-George are engaged in negotiating an alliance between France and Great Britain were given great prominence by newspapers of this city Sunday morning.

The Figaro said: "The Anglo-French treaty has been received in political circles here with satisfaction. Should the reports be confirmed, nothing but happy consequences may be derived by France."

"The constitution demands," declared L'Homme Libre, "that the chamber of deputies meet on the second Thursday of January and the chamber could have nothing better to do than to ratify an Anglo-French defensive alliance which is so badly needed."

The Petit Journal asserted: "Conditional upon acceptance by France of the task of collaborating in the reconstruction of central Europe, new guarantees have been extended to this country by Great Britain. These guarantees should be more efficacious than the tripartite agreement reached during the Versailles conference, which was satisfactory to France."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Southern business men have awakened to the need of a protective tariff, the senate finance committee was told today by John H. Kirby of Houston, Texas, president of the Southern Tariff Association.

"We're not following our political opinions on this question any longer," said Mr. Kirby, "the whole south is awakened on this question."

"All of you have awakened except the voters," observed Senator McCumber, "the voters are not awakened."

"Oh, the voters are awakened," replied the witness, "you saw what happened in the last election."

"I think you are to be congratulated on the progress you have made and hope you hold out," remarked Senator Watson, republican, Indiana.

Mr. Kirby said the south was asking for "justice, not favors." He added that it wanted the same consideration that given other sections of the country and setting out the tariff question would be treated by the committee as a national and not a sectional one.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—George Wharton Pepper, Philadelphia lawyer, was appointed United States senator by Governor Sprout today to succeed the late Boies Penrose.

MUSKOGEE NEWSBOY IS UNWILLING PASSENGER ON KANSAS CITY TRIP

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 9.—Frank Neely, 10-year-old newsboy of Muskogee, Okla., was in custody of the authorities here today following a trip from Muskogee alone in a truck M. K. & T. express car. Officials of the railroad told the police he would be given a ticket to return home.

Frank said that he went into the car before the train left Muskogee to see if any one in there wanted a newspaper and some one locked the door behind him. He said he slept most of the way to Kansas City.

GERMAN PRESS IS PLEASED OVER THE CALL TO CANNES

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—The German press generally is pleased over the invitation to attend the reparations discussion. The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung is troubled by apprehensions of possible allied control of the German financial administration. The Vorwaerts says a great advance has been made during Dr. Wirth's policy of honest fulfillment of the treaty obligations.

A few weeks ago, the newspaper declares, no French premier would have dared even admit the idea of a moratorium. Nevertheless it thinks premature optimism would be misplaced, as the conditions being discussed at Cannes are likely to be anything but light.

The Voasische Zeitung urges Germany to begin in earnest to stabilize her finances and retard the growth of paper money. It dilates on the urgency of reorganizing the reichsbank.

KIRBY TELLS THE SENATE COMMITTEE SOUTH FOR TARIFF

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Southern business men have awakened to the need of a protective tariff, the senate finance committee was told today by John H. Kirby of Houston, Texas, president of the Southern Tariff Association.

"We're not following our political opinions on this question any longer," said Mr. Kirby, "the whole south is awakened on this question."

"All of you have awakened except the voters," observed Senator McCumber, "the voters are not awakened."

ASSASSINATIONS ON OIL ROYALTIES ARE UNDER FIRE

Ex-County Commissioner R. L. Eeda, a pioneer resident of this county, came before the court of county commissioners Monday morning and gave testimony on the proposed assessment of oil royalties in the county.

By agreement, the county board set the price of a barrel of oil at $1.00. Mr. Eeda stated that in his opinion this would cause trouble and gave for his reasons that in some instances the land from which the owner received royalties had no other value while in some other instances the land had a farm value.

It was his suggestion that the property tax title to land that should be assessed, and that an assessment would be made on the land. Mr. Eeda contended, saying that in many instances people would consider it a double assessment.

It was his suggestion that the assessor in assessing oil royalty lands take into consideration the royalty and the farm value of the land and have it regarded as the value of that land. It was his suggestion that where several wells were located on a large tract of land that the assessor consider ten acres for one site.

THE RESULT OF THIS PROPAGANDA, he said, is that "while that section is sympathetic with the aims of the conference, its sympathy is tinged with an unfortunate measure of suspicion as to its good results."

Mr. Barrett said he also had been impressed with "a new rapidly growing feeling in the central west against Washington as the capital and New York as the financial center of the country." This, he said, was due to the "various agricultural depression and the vigorous opposition of New York to the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes deep waterways plan, on which Chicago and the surrounding country has set its heart."

COL. HARVEY HAS A NARROW ESCAPE IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT

CANNES, Jan. 9.—George Harvey, American ambassador to Great Britain, narrowly escaped death here today in an automobile accident. Accompanied by Richard Crane, former American minister to Czechoslovakia, in whose car he was riding, and Wyckham Steed, editor of the London Times, Ambassador Harvey was on his way for a round of golf.

The axle of the machine broke and Mr. Harvey was thrown out, landing heavily on the road. He was able to arise, but was rushed back to his hotel in a dazed condition.

Physicians found him suffering from shock and from severe bruises on his back where he struck the road. His dazed condition after the accident lasted more than an hour. The physicians expressed the opinion that he would be confined to his bed for several days, and said he should not attempt to attend to any official duties.

Mr. Crane was uninjured, but Mr. Steed suffered from bruises and shock.

Delegates to the allied supreme council sent expressions of sympathy to Mr. Harvey and congratulations in his escape. Premier Lloyd-George was also visiting the hotel in person to make inquiries.

This was emphasized by the minister by Dr. Albert Salomon, minister of the foreign affairs, who asserted Chile was prepared to adopt a plebiscite should be held to determine the future status of the two provinces. SIX BOXES, including Seymour, GAVY, 125 votes for the bonds, 202 against, and the majority will be increased by returns from the remaining boxes. Seymour voted for the bonds, 173 to 152.

Defeat of the bonds ascribe its defeat to the inopportune time at which the election was held and to the fact that the bond issue was coupled with a restrictive measure on which there was considerable difference of feeling.

Another effort to make Baylor a good road course will be started later in the year.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—A sinister propaganda, apparently emanating from Washington, against both the purpose and success of the conference, is being spread through the mails, the "majority of homes, especially those of foreign born families," John Barrett, former director of the Pan-American Union, declared in a statement issued here today upon his return from a three week's tour of the central west.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The trial of Arthur C. Burch, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, entered upon its eighth week today before Superior Court Judge Sidney N. Reeve.

Cross examination of Dr. Louis J. Webber, prosecuting alienist, called upon to combat the defense's contention that Burch is insane, was expected to occupy most of the morning session. District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine said he also expected to call Dr. V. H. Parkin, alienist, but was hopeful that the taking of testimony would be finished before night.

COMMITTEE DRAFT FIVE POWER TREATY NEARS COMPLETION

TO BEGIN DISCUSSION OF THE TERMS LATE MONDAY OR TUESDAY.

HAVE TROUBLE AGREEING ON TECHNICAL POINTS

Hope For Agreement on The Shantung Controversy During The Week.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The subcommittee draft of the five power naval limitation treaty had been virtually completed today by the naval experts and the foreign affairs committee was prepared to begin discussion of the final draft of the pact probably later in the day or tomorrow.

As the treaty neared this stage the most generally debated questions appeared to be whether an attempt should be made to lay down a specific definition of a merchant vessel as bearing on the relation of the arming of such craft to the proposed limitation of auxiliary naval craft to ten thousand tons and also the banning of submarines as commerce destroyers.

At the conclusion of a long session of the naval experts yesterday it was apparent they were having difficulty in reaching agreement on some of their technical definitions and it was intimated that the question of defining a merchant ship within the meaning of the treaty had been or might be brought up again.

Although it was original intention of the American delegates at least, as indicated by Mr. Root in the full committee sessions, not to attempt to define a merchant ship beyond the original definitions of international law, some of the delegates are known to be making a particular study of the questions and to regard it as one that cannot be passed over.

The British delegation was said to be prepared to bring the question before the full committee, if necessary, and to argue that merchant ships may carry guns without becoming auxiliary war vessels and thus be subject to attack without warning by submarines.

Although the Shantung controversy meantime remains in deadlock, there was evidence in both the American and British groups today that the mediation of Secretary Hughes and Arthur J. Balfour was almost certain to bring the Japanese and Chinese together again on this long discussed issue. In American quarters hope was expressed for an agreement during the week.

TROUBLE ARISES OVER SELECTION OF CHOIR LEADER

W. E. Griffin, negro, is on trial in the county court at law on the charge of aggravated assault. The trouble arose a week ago over the selection of a choir leader in one of the colored churches across the tracks.

It is charged that the defendant did strike a woman. The woman in the case was the organist. She related that there existed some personal differences between herself and the defendant over an incident that had occurred when the defendant's wife was one of the choir.

When the pastor of the church had appointed Griffin as chorister and when the appointment came up for ratification before the choir, the woman in the case arose to voice objections.

As a result, she said, the defendant struck her on the head and she was about to leave the church, that she ran back to jump out of a window but that the defendant got around the church and blocked her escape. She testified that he climbed through the window and that when she stood by he held his hands to her and kicked her in the stomach. At a late hour Monday afternoon the case had not been concluded.

FIRES NEGRO AND MEXICAN LABOR AND WHITE HELP ALSO

The "K. K. K." warning to employers of negro and Mexican help to hire white, American workers was headed by the North Texas Gas company by discharging its negro and Mexican laborers—and the white ones too. It was learned that two notices signed "K. K. K." were sent to about a score of local establishments last week, warning employers to discharge negro and Mexican laborers and to hire white Americans.

The sending of the notice to the gas company office was followed up by the appearance of two white men who, it is said, wanted to know what the company intended to do about it. The result was that all employees could be discharged with were discharged, the number including negroes, Mexicans and white Americans.

The identity of the delegation of two could not be ascertained.

At other institutions where the warnings were received, white men have appeared and inquired if there were any openings, saying they understood the negro and Mexican labor would be let go. So far as could be learned Monday, not much attention was paid to the warnings. One employer said Monday that he was in sympathy with the spirit of the warning, but could not consider any anonymous communication.

SCHOOL DISTRICT IN WHICH CATTLE GRAZE TO GET TAX

Cattle are to be assessed in that school district where they are on pasture, according to a ruling received Monday by Tax Assessor Hugh Deaton, from Lon A. Smith, state comptroller.

His letter follows:

"Replying to your favor of the 4th instant, in reference to the assessment of cattle in special school district, you are advised that I am of the opinion that where a party owns a ranch in a certain school district and is pasturing thereon a number of stock, that such stock would be liable to taxation in the school district in which the ranch is located on which they are being kept.

"Money and notes are subject to taxation in the county or district of the owner's residence. This does not apply to other classes of personal property such as cattle, horses, sheep, goats, etc.

"The question of assessing cattle came up when it developed that a man residing in a certain school district owned land in another district where he kept cattle. The difference in opinion was as to which school district should receive the tax on the cattle.

D. A. R. DISCUSS OLD FT. WORTH MONUMENT

The D. A. R. met in monthly session at the Y. W. C. Saturday, following their recently inaugurated custom of a luncheon meeting. Mesdames D. G. Whitney, Warren Ray, James Waggoner, and Fred Cooper were hostesses, and a program and business meeting preceded the serving of a three-course luncheon on attractively appointed tables in the Y-W club room.

Following the business session, Mrs. S. H. Burnside was elected delegate to the National D. A. R. convention in Washington City in the spring, with Mrs. J. L. Jackson alternate. The program was opened with the chapter song, "America," and the flag salute, after which, and the roll call, Mrs. S. T. Ferguson conducted a discussion of the memorial monument that marks the site of the old fort in Fort Worth. Mrs. E. T. Duff gave an interesting account of the dedication exercises held when the monument was placed some years ago, having been present on that occasion. Mrs. James Waggoner gave a historical account of Washington's wedding day, and Miss Vivian Bailey played Beethoven's "Minuet in G," responding to the encore very graciously.

The tables were decorated with pink and white flowers, with appropriate place markers and other appointments. The luncheon was served to following members and guests: Mesdames J. L. Jackson, V. W. Cain, S. H. Burnside, James F. Leach, Clark, Lewis, Davidson of Pittsburgh, E. T. Duff, Brewster, Warren Ray and O. A. Schaff, and Misses Leoti Clark and Bessie Lee Bartlett.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS AN INTERESTING STUDY

Musical instruments, with their development from the early representatives of the percussion, wind, and string families, formed the interesting study of the Music Study club at its regular meeting Saturday afternoon.

The meeting was held with Mrs. C. Y. Tully, with Miss Marian Maer as leader of the lesson. The various histories of the instruments and interesting facts of their development with present day instruments were brought out by round table discussion, to which all of the members contributed. Mrs. C. W. Wallace told of modern organists whom she has been privileged to hear during her long residence in Europe, and organ music formed a major part of the discussion. Mrs. Harwood Stacy played "Four Gardners' Prélude" for the Organ, a beautiful number, modern and unusual, which was very much appreciated and applauded.

After the program Mrs. Tully invited the guests to remain for a social session, during which delightful refreshments were served to Mesdames Fred C. Barron, A. H. Brittain, N. M. Clifford, O. E. Nicholas, Harwood Stacy, C. Y. Tully and C. W. Wallace, and Misses Cecelia Adcock, Marian Maer and Annette Walsh.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS LAND OF LOST KITES

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

They never would have got through had Huskins not handed a policeman-kite a card from the Fairy Queen.

The next place that Huskins took the Twins to in the magic airplane elevator was the Land of Lost Kites.

Nick moved the funny old iron brake fastened to the side of the little rickety wooden car when Huskins told him and up they shot still higher above the hills, trees and valleys, right into the blue, blue sky.

At last they stopped and Huskins said, "Here we are! I hope we're in time for the trial." And he looked at his watch.

"Trial?" exclaimed Nick. "What's that?"

"It's when something is to be decided," answered the fairyman. "And the thing to be decided is usually whose fault something is."

"But land alive! That's too hard for you to understand. Come along and I'll tell you what I mean."

"The Fairy Queen is to be here to do the deciding. It's all about the kites who come here. They are always quarreling and always in trouble."

They started down a remarkable road with fields of lovely green on each side.

Here and there were houses where the kite people lived, who had come to make their home in this beautiful sky country.

And trees! There were oodles of trees, my dear, for where else would bird kites stay?

After while they arrived at a village and it was plain to see from the crowd of kites that something unusual was going on.

Huskins and the Twins made their way to the court house and here the crowd was thickest of all. They never would have got through had Huskins not handed a policeman-kite a card from the Fairy Queen.

Instantly the policeman-kite made a path, and the visitors went up the steps and in through the door.

There they could see the Fairy Queen herself sitting in state.

Before her were two disheveled kites who looked as if they had been fighting.

The maintenance squad of commissioner's precinct No. 1 will begin Tuesday morning on the last mile of the Friberg road. This work gang has been engaged for the past six weeks in placing a new gravel surface on this improved road.

Delay was occasioned in starting on the last mile last week when the men were called upon to put in some work on another road in the precinct.

The gravel that is being used in placing a new surface on the road is being taken from a pit that is located along the course of the road. Practically six miles of the road has been resurfaced and the gravel packed down with a big steam roller.

STUDY SUBJECT OF RECLAMATION OF WASTE AREAS

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—An intensive study of the whole subject of reclamation of waste areas was begun here today by a special committee appointed by the chamber of commerce of the United States. E. T. Meredith of Des Moines, Iowa, secretary of the committee, proposes to work out a national plan for the reclamation of idle land by irrigation, drainage, dikeage and other methods.

The committee will go into the social, political and economic questions involved in the subject, giving special consideration to such questions as the drift of the population to the cities, the effect of opening up new territory, the use of water, and the practicability of this method of providing lands for war veterans.

PRISONER IS RELEASED BECAUSE WOMEN WERE ON WACO GRAND JURY

WACO, TEXAS, Jan. 9.—District Judge R. I. Munroe this morning ordered the release from custody of Leonard White, convicted here less than a year ago of criminally assaulting a young white woman and given five years in the penitentiary. White was released because the constitution provides that grand juries in Texas shall be composed of twelve men, and there were two women on the panel that indicted White. He cannot be reindicted for the same offense because it is barred by limitation.

CONGRESS NOT TO MODIFY DRY LAWS POLITICIANS SAY

TENDENCY, ON CONTRARY, FOR A MORE RIGID ENFORCEMENT.

LAXNESS DUE TO THE ILLEGAL DISTRIBUTION

All News Giving Hope to "Wets" Is Either a Rumor Or Surmise.

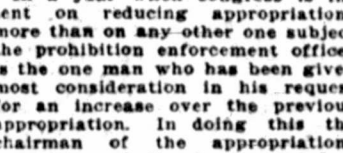

By MARK SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Nobody is more deceived either by his wishes or his fears than the politician who interprets the news that comes out of Washington from time to time as meaning that the prohibition laws are going to be modified in the direction of greater looseness.

The truth is exactly the contrary. All the news that gives hope to the "wets" is a rumor or surmise. Whenever anything tangible is done by congress it is in the opposite direction.

In a year when congress is intent on reducing appropriations more than on any other one subject the prohibition enforcement officer is the one man who has been given most consideration in his request for an increase over the previous appropriation. In doing this the chairman of the appropriation committee of the house stated a fact and uttered a sentiment which reflects the true disposition of congress more accurately than all rumors.

"This is the only case in all the hearings we have had," the chairman said, "where we have allowed any argument or any suggestion from anybody on the other side of the table about increasing salaries."

It is true that the increases of individual salaries were not allowed. But what is more significant is that the head of the prohibition enforcement department was permitted to address 125 men to the force of about 3,000 men already had, that he was given $1,750,000 more for the coming year than he had last year, and he has been given 8 per cent of all the money he wanted, an approximation to the estimate that is unique in the way the appropriation committee is now doing things.

Those who look sympathetically into the enforcement of prohibition think the chief difficulty lies in the enormous quantity of whiskey still legally in existence. It is about this that all the really formidable frauds have centered. When that whiskey is exhausted the effectiveness of prohibition enforcement will no longer be so widely questioned, so say its friends.

Whiskey is being Will Disappear.

When prohibition went into effect there were about seventy million gallons of whiskey legally in existence in bonded warehouses. The prohibitionists realized that this would be the chief difficulty, and the most ardent of them wanted the government to buy it and destroy it. This was not done and the great bulk of the law-breaking has centered around this particular volume of whiskey. Up to date almost half of it has been withdrawn and disposed of, either legally or illegally.

About 25,000,000 gallons remain.

THE INCENTIVE BEHIND MANY BIG PROJECTS.

Secretary of War Weeks has announced that Henry Ford's offer is the only definite proposal so far received for the government's Muscle Shoals project.

It is probable that Ford's offer will be accepted but if it isn't he has said that he will seek some other location for a great water power plant for the manufacture of nitrate and other things.

Ford is a man well past middle age. If we were to compute his wealth in money it would run into the hundreds of millions. He has all of the wealth that any man could want. Why does he, at an age when other men would be thinking of plans for retirement, lay plans for one of the most ambitious and adventurous projects of his career?

He doesn't plan this project for the profits it will bring. He doesn't plan it for any additional luxuries or comforts that will come from it for he is a man who lives plainly and does not enjoy luxury and the project instead of bringing these will bring added responsibilities and cares. Ford isn't entering into this new project for any of the rewards that ordinarily tempt men to endeavor.

Ford is planning this big thing because he believes it will be a service to mankind. That has been behind many of Ford's projects. It is the incentive that is behind many of the big projects in the world today. It has been the incentive that has stirred some of the leaders in Wichita Falls. Some of our biggest men are undertaking new things. They already have wealth that would maintain them in comfort and luxury for the rest of their days. Most of us, in their places, would plan to retire from an active life to enjoy this comfort and luxury. But these men are spurred on with a passion for doing things. The older they get the more is their thought for doing something for their city, their community, their section—something for the benefit of mankind.

BEYOND THE CURTAIN.

A wild fox was turned loose in the heart of New York City's most congested district.

It was the scheme of a Tuf company's press agent, seeking free advertising by the circus method of doing the unusual.

But the fox terrified at the roar and confusion of traffic, cowered against the side of a building. Its exploiters poked it out with sticks. The fox trembled with fear.

It didn't run. No place to run to. Finally it tried to cross 42nd street. A limousine ran it down, broke a leg.

The press agent is getting free advertising. But not the kind he wanted. Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals goes after him with a John Doe warrant.

If we could return to Wichita Falls 1,000 years hence everything would be so changed that we'd be as terrified as the fox.

People of the year 2922 will be almost as superior to us in their invention and construction, as we of 1922 are superior to the fox.

Man is just beginning his development. Real civilization has barely begun.

The fox is a cunning and capable animal in his natural habitat, the woods. In New York City, he's lost.

So with individuals.

About 650 years ago a sorcerer named Albertus Magnus, after 30 years' work, unveiled a mechanical brass man in the Rhineland city, Cologne.

Ancient writers recorded that this brass man could even talk. Talked so incessantly, in fact, that Thomas Aquinas wearied of his chatter and knocked his head off with his staff.

"Thus perished a demon," the historians wrote. In 1922 we call such mechanical-talkers phonographs, and only savages are awed by them.

Albertus Magnus lived 650 years ahead of his time. He showed the foxes of his day a glimpse of New York.

If George Washington could come back and see the auto, flying machine and wireless telephone, he'd think he'd gone crazy.

It's a good thing, for the sanity of man, that progress doesn't come too rapidly. The witchcraft of one generation is the scientific accomplishment of the next.

Current Comment

MAIN STREET IN FACT. (St. Louis Post Dispatch.)

Will Hays, apparently, is about to retire from the cabinet. The offer to head a moving picture enterprise at a salary of $150,000 a year "is too attractive to be dismissed without consideration," Mr. Hays is reported to have said in a talk with the president.

Already candidates for the prospective vacancy in the postmaster generalship have appeared. Rumors of cabinet transfers have also crept into the news.

It is something of a jump from Sullivan, Ind., to the cabinet and thence to $150,000 per annum. Main street may laugh at the claques of urban detractors. And if Broadway shrugs sophisticated, cynical shoulders and acknowledges the exception to the rule, Main street may unroll an official map.

Let us contemplate the cabinet. There is a topography sprinkled with Main streets. Hughes started at Glens Falls, N. Y. Weeks issued his first command at West Newton, Mass. Did anyone outside of Ohio ever hear of Washington courthouse? Well, that was the hamlet that welcomed Daugherty to terra firma. Wallace first shook a clenched fist at Wall street and shouted "Long live the farmer" at Rock Island, Ill. To West Branch, Ia., the Belgians are indebted for Hoover. It may be hard for the Mexicans to believe that Fall falls from Kentucky, but it was at Frankfort that the Secretary of the Interior commanded conspiring against the peace and happiness of the democratic party. Donby's adventurous career traces back to Evansville, Ind., and Davis hails from Tredegar, Wales. Of all the president's accredited advisers, Mellon alone is of city birth. And when Mellon looked on Pittsburg for the first time in 1820 the present inferno was then a placid group of Pennsylvania hills that had never heard of Carnegie or Frick or Thaw or Hans Wagner.

There are Luis Bettis and Carol Kennecott, of course, and their impossible relations. Masters had buried them all in Spoon River before Gale or Lewis discovered them. But Main street has cradled some of our greatest, and is doing it today.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

RUTH DRAPER. I like to write about and praise people who now live, while yet they are pouring out benefits for the betterment of the world. I like people to know that I appreciate them and their art or work.

Recently I went to hear Ruth Draper, whom I consider one of the greatest artists it has been my privilege to hear. They call her an impersonator. But that is not what she is at all. She is an interpreter—and even more than that.

She is the granddaughter, I believe, of Charles A. Dana, the great founder of the New York Sun. And surely the genius of that wonderful understanding of human character has descended to this woman, for she actually flows into and becomes one with the characters she depicts.

She gives you a New England character in one of her sketches. You see the very porch where the farmer's wife sits. You seem to hear the creak of the old chair, the hen's cackle and the dog barking as the woman clatters on. Ruth Draper disappears and the characters, as they actually are, walk and talk before you.

Real tears come and roll down your cheeks before you know it when she leads you into an old Western railway station to see them bring in the wounded from a wrecked train. And as you catch the humor and pathos of one character after another, you know that this artist has brought you a clearer understanding of human nature and of life—that she has brought a lot of sweetness into your life that had been all too dead before.

Ruth Draper etches characters on the stage as Whistler did on copper. And with as infinite skill. And one of the first things you note about her is that she is so simple, so modest, so very honest. She has no tricks.

Though it has been weeks since I heard this extraordinary artist, her characters are following me everywhere. They rise before me as I go to work, and often I find them coming into my room at night, after the lights are out, and into my library when the lights are on. You see, they were real—and somehow I like real folks.

I have heard no woman artist to compare with Ruth Draper since Bernhardt. And I am wondering whether the Divine Sarah, at Miss Draper's age, could have been so great.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

SAD CASE OF M'NABB. "I am the fellow!" said Old Man McNabb, "All for myself I must hustle to grab.

All that I do in this land of the free Must have something tangible in it for me; I am the fellow that's out for the gold.

Out for the stuff I can gather and hold. Let others prate of their service for man, I'm on this earth to get all that I can."

Old Man McNabb sits alone in his wealth. Broken in spirit and broken in health. "Cold is the world," he declares, all alone; Never a friend he can trust has he known.

Nobody stops at his door day by day, Nobody passes a kind word to say. Now he discovers, with life near its end, One can grab money but can't grab a friend.

He wanted it all for himself, did McNabb. Greedy and selfish and eager to grab. Working for others he thought was a crime, A waste of his effort, a waste of his time.

Seeking the profit, he went on his way, Making his world what he finds it today. Now, at the end of his road, he has learned, He who spurns others shall some day be spurned.

"I am the fellow," thought Old Man McNabb, "All for myself I must hustle to grab."

Pitiful doctrine and horrible creed, Fashioned in selfishness, builded on greed; Turn from yourself just as fast as you can, Think less of profit and more of the man.

Make it a good world for others, and they Will make it a good world for you every day. (Copyright, 1921, by Edgar A. Guest.)

COMMON SENSE WAYS TO KEEP WELL

BREAKFAST

By DR. R. H. BISHOP

While in most households breakfast is considered the least important meal and in many instances snatched hurriedly, it is really the most important meal. Breakfast is the foundation meal which gives the power to start a good day's work.

It is almost unnecessary to warn about neglecting to eat breakfast, for most people know that this lowers their bodily resistance and gives infectious diseases a chance they are waiting for.

The trouble with many people is that their appetite is particularly deficient at breakfast time, and a good housewife will be especially careful in her selection of foods for this meal.

The tendency of late years has been to get away from the hearty breakfast. Such a breakfast is all right for the farmer or the hired man or anyone engaged all day in hard manual labor, but the average office or factory man can do more and better work when the stomach is not overloaded.

Fruit, a cereal, salt meat or fish, eggs, hot bread, panakes or waffles, and coffee—six dishes in all—compose a breakfast hearty enough for any hired man. One or two of these dishes are light enough, too, for any devotee of the "no breakfast" fad.

It is a poor breakfast, however, when fruit or cereal are omitted. There are many attractive ways of combining fruit and cereal that are gaining in popularity.

Any late cookbook will have any number of novel dishes to tempt the finicky breakfast appetite.

Imagine a Lot of Things That Don't Exist at All.

A Brooklyn hospital sponsored by the National Y. M. C. A. is the first real proof that the orient is awakening.

A civilization is accurately measured by the way it treats its women.

The country now has about 20,000,000 horses, compared with 12,000,000 in 1900.

That is how the auto is making the horse pass out.

Horses have practically disappeared from city streets. Apparently, though, they're just moved to the farm, where they're plugging away same as ever.

Like most new things, the auto merely has added to our list of conveniences instead of driving out something already established, to make room for itself.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

I was setting on Mary Watkins' front steps talking to her, and so was Puds Simkins, and I was making her laugh and Puds wasn't, and Puds said, 'Wats, you think, Mary, I dreamed about you last nite, I dreamed you was a angel.'

O Puds how perfectly lovely, sed Mary Watkins.

My thinking Heck, darn him. And I sed, 'Well I wouldn't want anybody to dream I was a angel. If you ever saw angels in pictures you know what they go around, don't you? I sed.'

Meaning with nothing on but wings, and Mary Watkins sed, 'Puds Simkins, I'm going rite in the house.'

With she started to do, and Puds sed, 'Haw, I sed a minute, haw, he's crazy, he's didn't dream you looked like the rest of the angels, I dreamed you was all dressed up in a long fur coat and everything.'

That's different, that's all rite, sed Mary Watkins setting down a pen, and I sed, 'Well then how did he know you was a angel if you waken't dressed like a angel?'

Yes, how could you tell I was a angel, sed Mary Watkins starting to get up again.

On account of your beautiful face, I knew vite away nobody but a angel could have such a beautiful face, you couldn't fool me, sed Puds.

Me thinking, 'Aw heck, darn that sed.'

And Mary Watkins kept on looking at Puds as if she thaw't he was about twice as wonderful as me, and pritty soon I got up and went home disquieted.

RENEWED ACTIVITY IN AMARILLO FIELD WATCH SHAMROCK

CASINO HAS BEEN SET AND SAND WILL BE TESTED THIS WEEK.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN CARSON COUNTY TEST

Several Locations Are Made And Drilling In Progress On Burk Burnett Ranch.

Special To The Times. AMARILLO, Jan. 9.—With ideal weather prevailing during the opening of the new year, activity in the local oil field took a noticeable spurt here last week and operators are getting ready for developments within the next few weeks, despite the fact that the middle of the winter season is now on.

Interest now is centered primarily on the Shamrock company's No. 1 Sneed, in the southeastern corner of Moore county, and about 10 miles northeast of the original Amarillo Oil company's giant gasser on the Masterson ranch. Casing has been run in this hole to 2,171 and a new sand will be tested this week, it is announced.

The Greater Amarillo Oil company's Masterson No. 1 is claiming attention now, it being the only test that is really active on the Masterson structures. Drilling has been resumed in this hole at 1650 feet after casing had been set when a two million gas flow was struck two weeks ago.

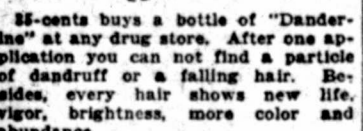

The big interest now, outside of the Shamrock and Greater Amarillo tests, is centering on developments on the Burk Burnett ranch in Carson county, on the structure surrounding the Gulf company's No. 2, which was brought in last spring. The Texas company, the Harry T. McGee interests, the W. W. Silk interests and the Humble people are all ready to start new tests on the Burk Burnett structure.

Rig is being erected at the Cliffside company's location, section 12, block B, S. S. Two miles northwest of Amarillo city limits, and a deep test in a new part of the field is promised.

This test will determine if a new structure to the south and west of the Masterson ranch exists, which is the contention of numerous local operators, but to date this area has been given only passing notice by the bigger companies that are active elsewhere.

Land Not Exactly Expensive Early In Days of County

W. W. Purinton, owner of a section of land located three and one-half miles west of Iowa Park, crossed by the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway company's tracks, sold half of his holdings—320 acres—to John and Anderson Moore for one pair of mules, one wagon and one set of double harness.

The deed given at that time to the property above referred to is recorded in the first volume of deed records on page 12, as found in the county clerk's office. It reads: "State of Texas, County of Grayson—Know all men by these presents that W. W. Wind direction, air pressure, humidity of the air and temperature united Monday morning in giving an indication that there was a change of weather conditions imminent. The lowest point reached locally during the night was 48 degrees.

FLAMES DESTROY BOTH AUTOMOBILE AND ROAD BRIDGE

A motorist very considerably, according to Road Commissioner L. I. Kuntz, drove his burning automobile onto a precast bridge last Thursday afternoon with the result that the automobile and the bridge were both destroyed by the flames.

The bridge was constructed of wood and spanned a ten-foot creek at a point eight miles west of Iowa Park. Mr. Kuntz stated Monday morning that there was not a single piece of timber left.

The remaining pieces of the automobile were removed and Commissioner Kuntz stated he was unable to find out who the owner of the car was.

HEAVY ADVANCE SALE OF TICKETS REPORTED FOR 'ADAM AND EVA'

A heavy advance sale of seats is reported for the opening performance tonight of "Adam and Eva," the initial offering of the Theodore Lorch stock company, which starts a long engagement at the Wichita theatre. The curtain goes up promptly at 8:15.

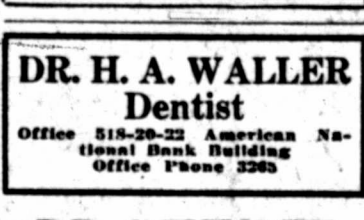

Reports from cities in which "Adam and Eva" has been presented are unanimous in declaring it to be one of the cleanest, snappiest and most entertaining comedy-dramas of recent date. A sharply defined story in an entirely new vein and an abundance of comical situations combine to make the play itself well worth seeing, while its treatment by the Lorch company add greatly in putting it "over the footlights."

Bargain matinees will be given every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon with the regular evening showing at 8:30 each night.
