

FOUR POWER TREATY RATIFIED

HOUSE PASSES THE SOLDIER BONUS BILL

MEASURE NOW GOES TO THE SENATE FOR ACTION IN UPPER HOUSE.

CHANGES ARE EXPECTED BY MEMBERS OF HOUSE

Look to Senate to Provide Means For Financing the Legislation.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Passed in the house late yesterday by a vote of 333 to 70, the soldiers' bonus bill was made ready for the senate. What would happen to it there was regarded as problematical, but house proponents proposed to use every effort to prevent it from being shelved, as was the original bonus measure.

In the long debate which preceded the final vote in the house some speakers predicted that the senate would kill the bill while others apparently were over optimistic as to the chances of its passage in its present form. Whatever its ultimate fate, it appeared fairly certain that the bill would be taken to the senate while at the other end of the capitol where already one calendar is congested with treaties and annual supply bills, the original bonus tariff bill yet to be reported.

There were those who believe that the senate finance committee, to which the bill would be referred in the natural course, would make sharp changes in it. Some administration officers were known to look to the senate to pass a measure providing means for financing the bonus, but they were not prepared to predict whether the measure would be taxes or the use of foreign bonds.

President Harding has been represented as having no objection to the financing of the legislation with refunded foreign bonds, provided they were in hand before the bill reached the senate. It is being made in the making by the house ways and means committee, the executive committee, suggested a date of 30 days in the belief that the treasury would by then be in possession of some of the British bonds.

There was some discussion in the house yesterday as to whether the president would approve the bill in the opinion expressed.

CONFIDENT BILL WILL MEET WITH APPROVAL WASHINGTON, March 24.—Confidence that the house bonus bill would meet with the approval of former service men was expressed today by Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion, who said that he had given the adjusted compensation bill in the house yesterday, said Mr. MacNider, "the best measure yet passed by the house in the history of the measure, and in spite of high organized propaganda in opposition, saw the great mass of Americans want this debt to the veterans paid and paid now."

While the bill adopted differs in some respects from the original five-fold measure drawn by the American Legion at the request of former service men and women, who have confidence in the integrity and judgment of the ways and means committee.

"Any measure which has been twice passed by the lower house by such overwhelming majorities, and once made the unfinished business of the senate, is inevitable legislation."

EXPECT TO ENCOUNTER OPPOSITION IN SENATE INDIANAPOLIS, March 24.—The action of the house in passing the bonus bill by a large majority after that body had been repeatedly urged by the wishes of the people, Lemuel Rolie, national adjutant of the American Legion, said here last night. Mr. Rolie warned that determined opposition would be encountered in the senate by friends of the measure, but expressed the opinion that the bill would pass.

STATE PRODUCES A CONFESSION MADE BY NEGRO ON TRIAL

ADMITS KILLING BOY WHEN BARKER COUPLE IS KILLED.

GORY EVIDENCE OF THE CRIME IS INTRODUCED

Includes Bloody Clothing Removed From Negro and Bloody Axe of Farmer.

WACO, TEXAS, March 24.—The state produced a confession made by Bennie Young, the negro on trial for the murder of Homer Turk, at Concord, to Henry Tiry, county attorney of Ellis county, while the negro was confined in the jail at Waxahachie in which Young admits he killed the boy when Mr. Barker and his wife were killed. To corroborate the confession, gory evidence of the crime was introduced today when the trial was resumed.

Constable Leslie Sigal testified to arresting the negro and obtaining statements from each of them that they killed the Barkers and the Turk boy. He then produced the bloody clothing taken off of Young at the time and the axe with which he struck the boy. The handle of the axe was spotted with blood. The axe belongs to the farmer who had employed the negroes and who resides near the scene of the murders.

Crowds jammed the court room today when the trial was resumed. No man was allowed to enter without being searched. A Texas ranger stood or sat at each entrance and when the court room was filled he closed the door and refused to admit anybody else except on business. A number of women were present in the court room proper. Negroes gathered in the gallery and every seat and standing room was taken.

The other cases against the two negroes were set for next Monday. Each of them is indicted three times, once for each of the murders. In the court room proper, now on trial will be disposed of this week and that Cooper Johnson will be arraigned Monday.

COUNTERREQUESTS FOR WAGE INCREASE "A STRATEGIC MOVE"

SUCH IS CHARGE AGAINST THE UNIONS BY REPRESENTATIVE OF ROADS.

CALCULATED TO DELAY NEW WAGE AGREEMENT

Closing Argument Against State-ment of Head of Shop Crafts Union.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Counter requests for wage increases by the railroad shop men at a time when the railroads of the country were asking reductions were characterized as a strategic move "calculated to interfere with and delay a new wage agreement by J. W. Higgins, representing western railroads before the railroad labor board today.

Mr. Higgins made the closing argument against the employees' charges preferred by R. M. Jewell, head of the shop-crafts unions, that the roads had not held proper conferences with the employees under the transportation act prior to bringing their wage cut requests to the board.

The unions came under fire for making the charges which Mr. Higgins declared "unfair and unsupported." He said that the railroads had not held proper conferences with the employees under the transportation act prior to bringing their wage cut requests to the board.

FINAL VOTE WAS 67 TO 27, OR FOUR MORE THAN NECESSARY TWO-THIRDS FOR RATIFICATION

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The four power Pacific treaty was ratified today by the senate. The vote on ratification was 67 to 27. This was four more than the necessary two-thirds and the roll call showed 12 democrats voting for ratification and four republicans against ratification.

BODY OF BABY BOY IS FOUND IN TANK NEAR EDGE OF CITY

EVIDENCE OF HAVING BEEN STRUCK IN HEAD IS DISCOVERED.

Two absent senators, Crow, Republican, Pennsylvania, and Jones, Democrat, Oregon, were announced supporters of the Pacific treaty. Senate approval of the part was voted after all proposed amendments and resolutions except the "no alliance" declaration accepted by President Harding had been defeated.

An incorporated in the resolution of ratification the reservation says: "The United States understands that under the statement in the preamble or under the terms of the treaty there is no commitment to armed force, no alliance, no obligation to join in any defense."

WASHINGTON, March 24.—A long succession of proposed amendments to the Pacific treaty were voted down after another by the senate today as it approached a final roll call on ratification.

For the most part the majorities were overwhelming. Only a handful of democrats stood with their titular leader, Senator Frank B. Rowan of Alabama, against the effort to qualify the ratification resolution and on the little slip of paper on which the republicans of Massachusetts, to vote with the republicans.

The strength recorded for the proposed qualifying declarations hovered close to 20 on succeeding nights. There was little of the usual last minute maneuvering to change the result. The voting proceeded without debate under an unanimous consent agreement which cut off discussion with the adjournment of the senate last night. A score of amendments and resolutions were acted upon however, it was apparent that the final ratification vote might be made in a few hours.

One of the largest orators to be attracted by a senate session in recent years looked down on the scene from the gallery. It was a crowded gallery and jammed the corridors of the capitol hoping to get a peep into the senate chamber.

The capacity of the amphitheater overlooking the well of the chamber overtaxed more than an hour before the senate met. An extra guard of capitol police was detailed to handle the eager crowds. On the floor senators were scarcely an empty seat virtually all senate membership being present from the start of the session.

Mrs. Harding, wife of the president, was in the reserved gallery. The first qualifying declaration to be voted on was the one presented by Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, which would have pledged the treaty signatories to maintain "an equal and friendly intercourse with any other power or powers during the life of this treaty."

The vote was 22 to 61. Six democratic senators—Dial, South Carolina; Myers, Montana; Pomeroy, Ohio; Ramsdell, Louisiana; Underwood, Missouri; and Williams, Mississippi, voted against the amendment, and four republicans—Senators France, Maryland; Johnson, California; Folger and Williams, Borah, Idaho, supported it.

No further amendments were offered. The vote on the treaty was 67 to 27. The vote on the article was approved in committee of the whole, 74 to 15. Opposition leaders said the strength that would be shown on final ratification since many senators based their opposition on other sections of the treaty.

Those who voted against article one were Senators Ashurst, Arizona; Culbertson, Texas; Gerry, Rhode Island; Harris, Missouri; Reed, Missouri; Robinson, Arkansas; Sheppard, Texas; Shields, Tennessee; Stanley, Kentucky and Watson, Georgia, all democrats; Borah, Idaho; France, Maryland; Johnson, California, and LaFollette, Wisconsin, republicans.

Senator Robinson then offered and the senate rejected an amendment to article two, pledging the signatories against aggression against any outside power and giving outside powers the right to sit in conferences affecting their interests. The vote on this amendment was 22 to 59. The only republicans supporting it were Senators Borah, France, Johnson and LaFollette, and the only democrats opposing it were Senators Pomeroy, Ramsdell, Underwood and Williams.

INFANT APPARENTLY ABOUT 6 MONTHS OLD

Body Wrapped in December 24 Newspaper and Weighted With Heavy Rock.

At 3:30 the official inquiry into the case had not been concluded. A number of physicians had been summoned in an effort to identify the body. It was identified by officers that an arrest might be made shortly.

A reward of $100 was offered by J. B. Marlow Friday afternoon for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties, responsible for the death of the infant.

The body of a baby boy, apparently about six months old, was found floating in the small lagoon known as Old Club lake near the end of Tenth street just before noon Friday. The infant had been dead three or four days, according to police and Undertaker, G. W. Hines, who was given charge of the remains.

A heavy rock, wrapped in a December 24 issue of a Fort Worth newspaper, was found floating around the left side of the head gave indication that the baby had been struck on the head before being placed in the water.

The discovery was made by H. E. Nelson, 1407 Tilden street, who noticed the head floating in the lake. He notified police headquarters and Chief of Police Morgan and Motorist Officer Melvin Johnson immediately went to the scene. They later notified Justice of the Peace R. V. Gwinn and Mr. Hines.

GENERAL POLICY COMMITTEE HAS FULL POWER TO DIRECT MATTERS.

PLAN ASSESSMENT TO ADD TO "WAR CHEST"

Fulllest Co-Operation Will Be Given By American Federation of Labor.

CLEVELAND, March 24.—The general policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America met here today to complete arrangements for putting into effect what international president John L. Lewis declared will be the greatest strike in history. The meeting was held behind closed doors.

Full powers to conduct the affairs of the union during the suspension of work was vested in the policy committee by the miners in convention at Indianapolis last month. The committee also has the authority to negotiate for a new wage agreement between the miners and the operators.

One of the most important questions to be decided by the committee is whether the district unions shall be allowed to enter into separate agreements with the mine owners. At their Indianapolis convention the miners voted against regional conferences.

The subject was expected to bring to the fore the long standing factional fight between President Lewis and Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners. Farrington was said to be prepared to demand that regional conferences be permitted. He is said to have many supporters.

Mine owners who live here expressed hopes that Lewis and Farrington would reach an agreement. They claim that the future of the coal trade of the great lakes is affected by the controversy.

The Illinois operators have expressed their willingness to negotiate an agreement. The policy committee was expected to arrange with the committee that the strike once it started would run automatically.

Another proposal calls for the assessment of strike dues to swell the $2,000,000 "war chest" which it is estimated is already available. "Fulllest co-operation" of the American federation of labor has been assured and it is claimed more than 729,999 union railroad employes have entered an alliance with the miners.

MUST REDUCE WAGES OR OKLAHOMA MINES CLOSE

MALESTER, OKLA., March 24.—Oklahoma coal mines will be closed April unless wage cutures are reduced. J. B. Wilson, secretary of the Oklahoma coal operators association, said this morning upon returning from Wilton where he went late yesterday with members of the association after an all day executive session in McAlester.

"It is certain that the operators will not continue operation under present conditions until operating expenses can be reduced to a point where competitive prices on other kinds of fuel from other fields can be obtained."

URGES ACTION TO COMPEL OPERATORS TO NEGOTIATE

WASHINGTON, March 24.—President Harding and his cabinet were urged in a telegram taken to the white house today by Representative Upshaw, democrat, Georgia, to take action to compel mine operators to meet the miners in a wage conference before the present contract expires on March 31, or in event of refusal of the operators to do so for the government to take over the mines and operate them until the operators agree to such a conference.

The telegram was from E. L. Quinn of the Atlanta, Ga., federation of trades, and Mr. Upshaw requested that the matter be brought before the cabinet at its meeting today.

HOUSTON WORKING FOR THE NAVIGATION BILL

HOUSTON, March 24.—The last move in the campaign of those working to have the voters of Harris county pass the navigation bill which will be submitted to the voters tomorrow was the placing of letters in the hands of the school children to be taken home to their parents urging them to go to the polls Saturday.

The purpose of the election is to decide whether the people desire to adopt the provisions of the navigation bill offered in the recent session of the legislature. This bill provides for the creating of a navigation district which would have charge of the maintenance and development of the ship channel and if adopted would result in the country taking up part of the burden incident to this work.

THREAT OF AN IRISH REVOLUTION CREATES A SERIOUS SITUATION

By Associated Press. DUBLIN, March 24.—The "open threat of revolution" signified by the decision of the antifree states to hold the forbidden Irish republican army convention Sunday has created "a precarious position," the London Times correspondent here declares in a dispatch to his paper.

The statement by Commandant P. O'Connor on Wednesday that 80 per cent of the army's members are against the treaty, however, the correspondent believes to be exaggerated. He remarks that the call for the army convention was signed by only seven of the 19 commanders.

No attempt to prevent holding of the convention is looked for on the part of the army general headquarters, while the provisional government is confident it has the support of the country as a whole and the greater part of the army.

TEN DEATHS RESULT OF RIOTING IN BELFAST

BELFAST, March 24.—Seven deaths from violence occurred in Belfast today. The victims are: Owen MacMahon and four of his sons, shot to death in their home. Two other sons were wounded.

Joseph Campbell, city official, shot by a sniper. John Murdoch, shot and mortally wounded yesterday, died this afternoon.

A youth who was shot in the abdomen today was in critical condition this afternoon. In addition Frank Kelly, Edward McLoughlin and William Cassidy were shot to death in the Farmagh-Tyrone border district bringing the total of fatalities reported in this city and the outside Ulster territory up to 10.

McMahon and three of his sons were killed outright, another son died of his wounds and two others have been in reprisal for the shooting of a number of special constables in May street yesterday.

At about 1:20 o'clock the raiders who were reported to have worn uniforms, smashed the door of the McMahon home in the north end of the city and rushed upstairs where the occupants of the house were sleeping.

The male members of the family were taken to the living room, lined up against the wall and riddled with bullets. Mrs. McMahon and her daughters rushed down to the living room when the attackers departed and found the seven lying on the floor.

RANSOM RECENTLY PAID TO CHINESE GENERAL BY METHODISTS IS RETURNED

CHICAGO, March 24.—The $5,000 ransom recently paid by the Methodist conference at Poochow, China, to General Ma Yu-Yun of the Peiping government for the life and liberty of the Rev. Sik I. Siang, a native district superintendent of the organization, has been returned, according to a cablegram just received from Bishop P. T. Keeney of China. It was learned here through the committee on conversation and advance.

Through the American consul at Poochow and the expected visit of a destroyer flotilla to that port, the Methodists finally succeeded in getting General Ma dismissed and the ransom returned. The mission which operates under specific treaty rights, was able to prove conspiracy to blackmail and extortion formed before the northern troops marched into the province.

PLAN TEST NORTH OF PEASE RIVER TO START BY MAY 1

VERNON, TEXAS, March 24.—A test for oil north of the Pease river will be started on section 30, block 12, some time between the present and May 1 by Sam Dickey of Frederick, Okla., and associates. The location is about nine miles north of Vernon. Mr. Dickey has been in Vernon the past week, and is engaged in perfecting titles to the land.

When this has been consummated, material is in readiness to be moved at once to the ground. Head Driller Riley, possessing much experience in state oil fields, will have charge of operations. Mr. Dickey is one of the most influential residents of Frederick.

Interest in Wilbarger county oil circles is markedly on the increase. Several tests have been begun within the last two weeks, and more are contemplated in the near future. A new field opened in the southeastern portion of the county is attracting much interest.

LARGE BARN DESTROYED

VERNON, TEXAS, March 24.—A huge barn containing 21 rooms and valued at $1,500 by its owner, Otto Obenhouse, burned to the ground about 10 o'clock Wednesday night on the Obenhouse farm 12 miles southwest of Vernon. Contents of the building, valued at $1,200 were also a total loss. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Seven cows, one calf and two pigs lost their lives in the conflagration. Fifteen fine cows were housed in the barn, but some were not tied and it was possible to lead them out.

NEBRASKA PINCHED FINANCIALLY BUT FARMERS 'TIDED OVER' ARE NOW ENCOURAGED AND HOPEFUL

By EDWARD G. LOWRY (Copyright, 1922, Public Ledger Co.) OMAHA, NEB., March 24.—Nebraska presents an aspect and condition that differ only in degree from Iowa. The eastern end of the state, comprising roughly one-third of the total area, produces hogs, corn and other grains. The western part of the state is a cattle raising and grazing country. The farmers who produce grains and raise hogs are now well on the way back to normal, and what they believe to be permanent prosperity. Cattle-raisers are in better condition than they were three or four months ago, but their situation is still unsettled.

The stock raisers say they must have cheaper money. This matter of financing cattle loans is a special problem. It means long-term borrowing, and some of the banks do not like to take the business. Just now the normal number of cattle is not on the ranges.

Nebraska makes no secret of the fact that since last autumn the state has been having a hard time. The value of her products had decreased, and the farmers were still paying the War Finance corporation's loan to buy. The change for the better has come since the first of the year and chiefly since the first of February. Farm products have all advanced, ranging from an increase of 68 per cent in corn prices to 17 per cent for hay. Hogs are up 28 per cent and sheep 62 per cent. The total value of the state's farm products has increased from $32,000,000 on November 1, 1921, to $47,000,000 on March 1 this year. While these increases were going on the prices of the things the farmer had to buy were decreasing.

The most encouraging condition of all in the state is the new feeling of confidence and buoyancy, though this new state of mind is not as marked as it is in Iowa. A great many farmers and others who concede the recovery always add a proviso that prices for farm products must stay up for a period, unless the second condition of the state be worse than the first. Still there is a profit now in farming and in producing all of the things that brought Nebraska to its present estate. The farmers out here may have been hard up, but they were a long way from being broke. Fundamentally, the condition is sound. This is the testimony of bankers and business men as well as that of the intelligent farmers.

As a matter of fact, any observer coming here from the east quickly gets the impression that all of these people here are richer and more prosperous than they know. These two states of Iowa and Nebraska produce enormous crops worth millions of dollars. They do it year after year. For the most part, the people have everything they want to make them comfortable. They take it for granted that they should have all of these accessories to good living. In Iowa, for example, every fifth man owns a motor car. Every family could be transported out of the state overnight in its own automobile. Even during the depressing period of last autumn, about which they now talk so feelingly, one cannot discover that they stopped using their cars for a day. There is none of the skimping and higgling that so many families along the eastern seaboard are forced to practice. If one goes casually and without warning into any of these Nebraska farmhouses today, to get a dinner, he will find a table laden with fatness and plenty. There may be two or three kinds of meat on the table, vegetables, cakes, preserves and such thick cream as only the very, very rich can procure in New York or Philadelphia or Washington, if at all.

Undoubtedly these states have been pinched in the last six months, pinched for ready money, and would have been forced to sell their products for less than the cost of production had it not been for the aid extended them through the War Finance corporation. They were caught in a jam and now they are out of it. They expect to pay their debts this year; they have already begun. And they are looking forward confidently to next year and the prosperous times to which they have become accustomed. While the measure of restored confidence has not reached the high mark in Nebraska, that it has in Iowa, it is nevertheless here, and it has changed the whole face of the world for the farmer. In Nebraska the farmer has not started buying again on his usual scale as he has started in Iowa, but he is buying, and if there does not come a relapse and another decline in the price of his farm products, he will continue to buy and on a larger scale.

Indigestion Gases Acidity
Sourness Flatulence Palpitation

Take "Pape's Diapepsin" now! In five minutes your stomach feels fine. Don't bother what upset your stomach or which portion of the food did the damage. If your stomach is sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; you belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear. If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only sixty cents for a large case at drug stores.

Ask Some One Who Was There!

On Tuesday, at Wichita Theater, the New Edison proved that there is no difference between its RE-CREATION of music and the original music. It was proof that would be good in any court of law.

If you did not attend, take the trouble to find out exactly what happened. Investigate all the details of this drastic test. It was given particularly for the music-lovers of Wichita Falls—so that they might know, through their own personal experience, that there is a phonograph which can give them the exact performance of the living artist.

Harvey Hindermeyer, famous tenor, made the test. He stood on the platform, beside the New Edison. He sang.

In the midst of his song, he sopped singing. The New Edison took up the song, and continued it alone. Thus, they alternated—singer and phonograph.

The audience had to watch Mr. Hindermeyer's lips, in order to be certain which was singing. The New Edison's triumph was complete and spectacular.

A similar test was made by the Dann instrumental trio, with the same astonishing results.

Remember that no other phonograph can sustain this test! Remember that you want a phonograph which does! And remember that the New Edison did it—right here in Wichita Falls.

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph with a Soul"

You can have, in your own home, the exact kind of instrument used in the test. This was an Official Laboratory Model—owned and used for five years by Mrs. A. H. Carrigan. Select any Official Laboratory Model in our store, and we will guarantee it to sus-tain the test of direct comparison, and to do everything that was done in the test at Wichita Theater. Ask us about our Budget Plan. It brings you this New Edison for a small payment. Any man or woman, who loves music, can make a gentleman's agreement with us,

NEW TRIAL MOTION TO BE ARGUED IN OIL CASE SATURDAY

Motion for new trial in the case of Gladstone Oil company against the Planet Petroleum company will be argued in the 9th district court before Judge P. A. Martin, Saturday morning.

The trial of this case several weeks ago resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff and the defense immediately filed a motion for new trial.

The verdict in the case carried with it property valued at $200,000 and a money consideration appraised at $300,000. The case was over the boundary line of the property of the two companies which lay adjacent in the Northwest oil fields.

Senator Joseph Bailey, one of the counsel for the defendants is here in connection with the motion.

ADDRESSES LETTER ON SEWER RENT TO CITY CANDIDATES

W. R. Anderson has addressed an open letter to all the candidates for mayor and for city commissionerships as follows:

Gentlemen: If you are elected to the office to which you aspire, will you favor an amendment to the sanitary sewer rent ordinance, by which a property owner may be relieved from the sewer rent a distance by paying his pro rata of the total cost of such sewer and will you favor applying said money to the sanitary sewer interest and sinking fund?

"I have been informed by the engineering department, that certain sanitary sewers in this city do not cost over thirty dollars per lot to the abutting property owners. I have also been informed by some property owners that they have paid on a single lot from six to ten times the above amount.

"If there is any sane reason why we property owners should not pay these bills when the job is finished I would like to know it. Give us an opportunity and see if about ninety-five per cent of us do not pay the bill in full and forget the sewer rent forever. Yours respectfully,

"W. R. Anderson."

KNOT HOLE BLANKS MUST BE FILED BY SATURDAY APRIL 1

The time for returning "knot hole applications" has been extended until Saturday night, April 1, and all boys who expect to join are urged to have their application blanks filled out and returned to Scout headquarters by that time.

It is expected that the first meeting of the gang will be held April 7, at which time membership cards will be issued, officers elected, and organization effected.

The original supply of 500 blanks provided for the gang has exhausted this week, and another 500 was ordered. Blanks are again available at Scout headquarters.

The organization is making headquarters at Scout offices as a matter of convenience. It is not necessary that a boy be a Scout in order to be in the gang.

DEFENDANTS FAIL TO APPEAR, BONDS TO BE FORFEITED

Defendants in three criminal cases failed to appear when their cases were called for trial in the 9th district court Friday morning and forfeiture of the bonds in each case was ordered by Judge P. A. Martin.

In each instance, the defendant had failed to appear after indictment was returned. The bonds were made after preliminary hearings in the justice of peace court, binding them over to await the action of the grand jury.

Lena Hanna, charged with violation of the state prohibition law, was under bond of $250. The bond was accepted on December 16, 1921. The principal had not signed the instrument.

The bond of $1500 in the case against C. J. Sutton, charged with theft of an automobile was signed by the defendant, L. A. Vernon, M. L. Hunt and W. T. Hurst by Howard May, attorney.

Jim Gray, Lawler Smith and O. C. Williams were the bondsmen on the $1000 bond of Arthur Gray charged with burglary.

WANT TO ABOLISH THE GRAND JURY IN NEW YORK STATE

MOVEMENT IS STARTED BY LEADING CRIMINAL LAWYERS.

DECLARE USE PERVERTED IN MANY INSTANCES

BILL Will Be Prepared and Will Be Introduced in Next Legislature.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Propaganda to abolish grand juries will be actively carried on in New York and in every county in the state by the New York County Association of Lawyers practicing at the criminal bar, according to Robert H. Kider, 7 Dey street, a leader in the attack.

The large number of indictments brought in under District Attorney Swann against close friends of ex-Mayor Mitchell during the 1917 campaign and afterward dropped one by one without prosecution; the many indictments, the enormous amounts of money spent and the final negative results of the sensational O'Malley grand jury, and the quashing by the courts of practically every indictment found by the so-called "Whitman Grand Jury" and other alleged political uses of the system are alleged to have convinced hundreds of New York lawyers that the venerable grand jury, which goes back more than 1,000 years, has outlived its usefulness.

An agitation to abolish the grand jury has been carried on in England for about a century, and in many states in this country it has been abolished or left with a mere shadow of its former power.

"The grand jury is used now for a purpose precisely opposite to that for which it was invented," said Mr. Kider. "In the centuries after the Roman conquest its powers were developed for the purpose of restraining those in authority from putting men on trial arbitrarily and capriciously. The king was denied the right to prosecute at will. He was forced to lay his case before the grand jury, which could throw it out if the case appeared to be a bad one or the motive malicious."

"Today the grand jury is used by prosecutors frequently to attack enemies from ambush or to indict right and left in sensational fashion to impress the public with the activity of the prosecutor. The grand jury will nearly always bring in indictments at will for a suave, pleasant prosecutor. They do not know the law and the fact that the prosecutor seems to favor a certain course is often enough to cause them to follow it. That is why there are so many absurd indictments. There is no one to hold responsible for bringing in malicious or foolish indictments. A district attorney can safely do many things through a grand jury which, for the sake of his reputation and standing, he would not do on his own responsibility. The result of the bad system is its constant corrupt use for political purposes, the frequent injury of the innocent and the great loss of time by the courts and jurors in passing on matters which ought never to have been brought before them.

"The substitute for the grand jury system would be the presentation of evidence in magistrates' courts, where only legal evidence would be admissible and the rights of defendants and witnesses would be observed. A political or malicious case would not stand the light of day and the vicious or crooked use of the indictment would be at an end."

"One of the worst abuses of the present grand jury system is the frequent cajoling or bewildering of witnesses who are often led into saying, 'Yes' when they mean 'No.' Grand jury minutes every now and then reveal the fact that witnesses are deliberately confused and tricked with catch questions. Later, when such witnesses tell a straightforward story to the jury, parts of the grand jury minutes are produced which seem to show that the man is telling two stories. "Such witnesses would have their rights protected by their counsel or the magistrate, the questions would have to be honestly framed and the deliberate bamboozling of witnesses would be ended when the light of publicity is substituted for grand jury secrecy. The theory that a witness will talk more freely before a grand jury than he would in open court is without foundation. The witness knows that if there is an indictment he will be called on later to tell his story in open court, and he will be just as frank in a magistrate's court as before a grand jury."

Will Prepare a Bill.
"Our association is going to make a fight in every county in the state and will be prepared to introduce a bill at the next session of the legislature for the abolition of grand jury. I am positive that we will succeed. I believe the support of the lawyers for this movement will be overwhelming."

"We are now going into the records in this and other counties to show how many men, prominent politically or socially, have been indicted by the process of pulling wool over the eyes of a weak grand jury, and how large a proportion of them have been thrown out by the courts or dropped by prosecutors after they have served their purpose as political weapons."

versity said the debate for and against the grand jury system during the last 100 years formed a large literature. He said the recent controversies between judges and jurors, and the tendencies of jurors to make public comments on criticisms of the judges was a new development with very little precedent in legal history. The origin of the grand jury system is in doubt, being traced to Alfred the Great, to the Vikings, to the Roman law and elsewhere.

The grand jury, in its primitive form, appears to have preceded the petty jury in England.

GROCERS WOULD MAKE BRITISH COLUMBIA DRY

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 24.—A resolution declaring that the business of retail grocers in Vancouver has suffered severely through the consumption of liquor and requesting the provincial executive to obtain the views of other retailers through British Columbia as to the taking of a plebiscite on the question of prohibition, was passed by the grocers' association in annual meeting here yesterday.

The grocers, it was declared, want the province to be "bone dry."

COFFEE

-the universal drink

"I drink it every afternoon"

"Started about five weeks ago. . . . Friend of mine suggested it. . . . 'Greatest thing in the world for business men', he said. . . . 'Carries you over the zero hour of mid-afternoon.'"

"Thought I'd humor him. . . . Ordered a cup of Coffee that afternoon at the soda fountain. . . . Great stuff. . . . I do more work now from three to five than I used to do all afternoon."

"Recommended it to my wife. . . . She thinks it's great, too. . . . Particularly on cold days. . . . Always serves it when company comes. . . . Better try it!"

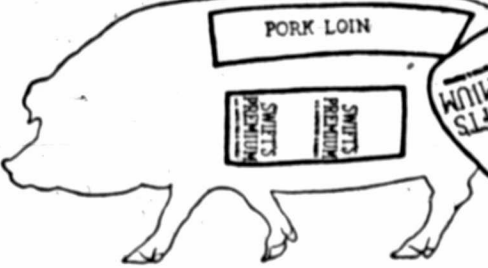

"Better try it!" That's a good suggestion to put down on your memo pad under the head of Agenda—that new word which means "things to be done."

'After all, why not a mid-afternoon cup of Coffee? Coffee helps you to start the day right. Why not repeat on it along about three or four o'clock?'

This advertisement is part of an educational campaign conducted by the leading Coffee merchants of the United States in cooperation with the planters of the State of Sao Paulo, Brazil, which produces more than half of all the Coffee used in the United States of America—Joint Coffee Trade Publicity Committee, 74 Wall Street, New York.

COFFEE - the universal drink

34 vs. 66

Swift's Premium Ham and Swift's Premium Bacon are produced from only the best hogs. Many of the animals we buy do not furnish meat of Premium quality.

Since these are the choice cuts from the best hogs, cured and smoked in the best way, with scientific care and precision, they are naturally in great demand; but these cuts, with the loin from which pork chops come, represent only about 34 per cent of the live animal.

The remaining 66 per cent consists of the cheaper cuts, such as spare ribs, shoulders, trimmings, pigs' feet, lard, etc., and shrinkage in dressing and curing. Shrinkage is equal to one pound in each five, and has no value whatever.

That is why the prices of "Premium" Ham and Bacon and pork loins are higher than the price of the live animal.

Everybody wants them—and yet they are only about one-third of the entire weight. "Premium" Bacon alone is only about 8 per cent.

The great demand for the choicer cuts, and the smaller demand for the cheaper cuts, constitute the reason for the comparatively higher price of the one-third, and the lower price of the other two-thirds. (Some of the lower priced cuts sell at less than the per-pound price of the live animal.)

It is only by utilizing all possible by-products and exercising the utmost skill and efficiency that we are able to average a profit of a fraction of a cent a pound on all our business.

N. B. Some very delicious dishes can be prepared from the cheaper cuts.

Soon they heard a scuffle and a splash in the creek. Dan Silke was coming back. Silke jammed his Winchester into one of the empty scabbards and untied the bridle reins of the horse. Holding the reins in one hand, he gripped a saddle horn and simultaneously stuck toe in stirrup. Ensnared then a mighty creak of saddle leather, a snort, and Silke found himself on his back on the ground with one foot higher than his head. A gun barrel smote him smartly over the ear.

When Silke emerged into the full possession of his senses, he was the most disgruntled man in the territory. "Do you feel like admitting that the district attorney helped you break jail?" asked Billy.

"Nothin' to say," declared Dan Silke, the unrepentant. They found the body of the man with his face in the water. Billy dragged out the body and turned it on its back.

"This fellow ain't Jack Murray," cried the perplexed Mr. Wingo. "It's Skinny Shindle. Where's Jack Murray?"

They left Skinny Shindle lying beside the little creek and went to the other dead man beside the branding fire. Billy turned the dead man face upward. He whistled. "Here's an odd number. This fellow is Simon Reelfoot's foreman, Conley. I'd sure like to know why he's riding for the T. U."

"Came then a pucker riding on his occasions. "I know him," said Dawson. "Con Tommy. It's me, Johnny Dawson."

"No, Johnny," Tommy said, with a straight mouth. "Did that man with his arms tied kill Daley?"

"Is that his name?" asked Billy, flicking his thumb toward the dead man. "Jim Daley," said Tommy. "Did he?"

"Sure, I killed him," Silke truculently answered the question. "This is sure hard on Daley," observed Tommy. "He told me he came north for his health."

"North?"

"Yeah, couldn't stand the climate in Arizona, he said," amplified Tommy. "He only joined the outfit last week. Let's go see if I know the other fellow."

"Sure, I know him," declared Tommy, after one look at the dead face. "He's named Brindley—been with the Horse since February."

Toward dawn next day the horses showed signs of tiring. "Mine won't last another five miles," said Johnny Dawson.

They were making camp when Billy stopped to examine a butcher knife taken from Silke. He caught his breath. On the handle of the butcher knife the letters T W were cut deep into the wood.

"How many butcher knives did you take from Wallon's?" he demanded. "One," replied Silke. "He told me, 'then you didn't kill Rafe Tuckleton.' "First I knew he was dead," Silke said thoughtfully. "As a rule, I don't kill my customers."

"She said he only took one knife," Billy told himself stupidly. He was no nearer the solution of the Tuckleton murder. His theory that Silke had killed Tuckleton was smashed to smithereens by the discovery of the Walton butcher knife in Silke's booting. Unless Silke had taken two knives. But Silke had not taken two knives.

Early one morning several days later the sheriff pro tem of Crocker county was roused by rappings on the office door. Shotgun Sullivan did not open the front door. He went round the back way with his gun in his hand and, on circling the house, he found at the front door a hatbox and Dan Silke flat on his back in the dust, tied hand and foot, and with a gag in his mouth.

Later in the day Guerilla Melody called on Nate Simon, asked the storekeeper several apparently aimless questions and leafed through the catalog pages of Nate's hardware catalog. Still later in the day Johnny Dawson rode out of Golden Bar, only two people besides himself knowing that he was bound for the railroad and telegraph line.

CHAPTER XVII
"There's a lot of this stuff I don't understand," said Guerilla Melody after Dawson's return. "Why did Conley go south? Conley ain't committed any crime round here that I know of."

"I'm betting he did, alla name," said Billy. "Or else why was he so particular to tell those T U boys he was from Arizona?"

Guerilla looked bewildered. "What did Conley have against Tip?"

"I don't know, said Billy. "But maybe friend Simon can tell us something."

Simon Reelfoot, riding the range that day, met a strange horseman. Did Simon know where Park Valley was? Simon knew.

"Shucks," said the straggler. "Here's a envelope and a pencil. Make a B I map like, will you?"

"Here," said Simon, holding out the envelope. "This ought to fix you up."

"To his honor, the well-known voice of Billy Wingo at his back conformed. "It ought to," said Billy Wingo. "Kindly clasp your hands over your hat."

"You oughtn't to have given him that envelope," Billy admonished the straggler. "It has the confession in it."

Simon stirred uneasily on his saddle. "Confession? Whose confession?"

He recalled that there had been several folded sheets of paper in the envelope. Of course, Simon could not know that these sheets were white, innocent of either handwriting or printing.

Billy took the envelope and unfolded the sheets. It was apparent that he was refreshing his memory.

suddenly. "Why did Conley go south?" "I-I-I dunno," Billy insisted, striking the sheets of paper with his flat. "We found Conley. He was working for the T U when he died."

"I told him not to go," muttered Reelfoot. "Conley talked before he died," said Billy. "He told me some interesting things about himself—and you." Here Billy stuffed the sheets of paper into his trousers pocket and gripped Simon by the throat. "You damned murderer, what did you kill him for?"

At the fierce clutch of Billy's fingers, Simon's shaking legs refused to uphold him longer. He fell on his knees. "I—I didn't kill him," he spluttered. "He was dead when—"

"You lie! Conley said so! You tried to throw the blame on me by leaving behind—" Billy's voice trailed off into silence.

"That was Conley's idea," screamed the punky Reelfoot. "He got the husband and quit one day why not?"

"And there was a time when we thought Bill didn't have any brains," Guerilla Melody and that Dawson friend of his didn't get Silke by themselves any more than I did."

"I didn't," always the district attorney, "I always knew—"

The door flew open, and Jerry Fern, wild-eyed with liquor, stumbled into the room. The stage driver rolled straight to Felix Craft and pawed him. "Fuf-felix," he babbled, "wan' shush-shome mon-money."

But Jerry Fern was nothing if not persistent. "The furious Felix shook him off. "The grinning face of Guerilla Melody, Johnny Dawson, Shotgun and Tiley looked in through the open doorway."

"Come along, Jerry," called Guerilla. "We've been hunting you all over." "I wuh-wuh-wan' shush-shome mon-money," gurgled Jerry. "I wan' wan' mon-money you promised me."

"I give you what you deserve," there was cream and butter in the gambler's voice, but there was grizzly menace in his restless eyes.

"Wah-wah-wan' mon-money now," yelped the contumacious Jerry, or I'll p-p-pup you in jail!"

into boisterous song. "Who's that?" asked Billy. "It's Jerry Fern," said Guerilla indifferently. "He's drunk again. Aunt died, left him money. Big legacy. Must have been for Crafty to lend him money to play with."

"Do you know Crafty's been lending money to Jerry?" "I'll make him drunk," Guerilla said earnestly, "or there ain't a drop of virtue in Old Creve."

"Guerilla flipped on his hat and departed. "You can't tell me that infernal Bill Wingo ain't at the bottom of all this business?" snarled Felix Craft. Guerilla, Melody and that Dawson friend of his didn't get Silke by themselves any more than I did."

"I didn't," always the district attorney, "I always knew—"

$5,000 FIRE LOSS EARLY THURSDAY ON HOLLIDAY STREET

Property loss in excess of $5,000 was sustained early Friday morning when fire of unknown origin completely destroyed a house at 711 Holliday street and damaged two adjoining structures in the same neighborhood. The building burned was owned by M. G. Beamey and was occupied by Mrs. J. H. Burk.

The loss at this place was estimated at $5,000, about half of which represented the value of furnishings and fixtures owned by Mrs. Burk. The entire loss is reported to have been covered by insurance.

Plans were first discovered at 4:30 in the morning and had already gained considerable headway before an alarm was turned in. Firemen from stations 3 and 4 responded to the call and by fast work extinguished a blaze that had started on the roof of the M. L. Weaver home, 709 Holliday. Sparks from the burning brick home had lodged in the shingles, which were blazing briskly. Damage estimated at $500 was caused by this fire.

On the other side of the Burk house a smaller building suffered a $75 damage from heat and sparks. The outside walls nearer the fire were blistered and windows broken, but firemen kept careful watch that no blaze was allowed to start from sparks.

Fire Chief McClure and Assistant Chief Hubert were unable to account for the fire Friday morning. For could Mrs. Burk give any idea as to its origin.

Paris plans to house a permanent world's fair in a ten-story building with a 33-story tower.

FOUR POWER TREATY RATIFIED BY SENATE

offices and efforts, in removing friction and controversy" and with intention of departing from its traditional policies.

On the Shields amendment the vote was 13 to 13 with the four republican irreconcilables again standing alone for supporting it on their side of the chamber. Democrats who opposed it were Senators Broussard, Louisiana; Culbertson, Texas; Fletcher, Florida; Glass, Virginia; Harris, Georgia; Hitchcock, Nebraska; Kendrick, Wyoming; Myers, Montana; Owen, Oklahoma; Pomerehne, Ohio; Ransdell, Louisiana; Swanson, Virginia; Underwood, Alabama; Heflin, Alabama; McKelvin, Tennessee; Sheppard, Texas; Walsh, Montana and Williams, Mississippi.

Amendment by Reed

Another amendment by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, providing that the signatories would "in no respect be bound" by decision reached after consultation under article two was rejected.

It received only the four irreconcilable votes from the republican side and was defeated 29 to 62.

The senate then rejected 27 to 65 an amendment by Senator Reed providing that no nation should be "in any manner obligated to do any act of war" because of its decisions reached under the treaty.

The senate voted down 26 to 65 an amendment by Senator Johnson, republican, California, providing that only "pacifist" methods could be considered by the four powers when they meet in conference as a result of outside oppression. Senators Poindexter, republican, Washington, joined the four republican irreconcilables in supporting the amendment. Ten democrats voted against it.

On the question of agreeing in committee of the whole to article two on which opponents of the treaty have centered their fight, 66 senators voted in the affirmative and 28 in the negative.

Eleven democrats, Senators Broussard, Dial, Fletcher, Kendrick, Myers, Owen, Pomerehne, Ransdell, Trammell, Underwood and Williams, voted in favor of the article and four republicans, Senators Borah, France, Johnson and LaFollette, voted against it.

Senator Reed made an unsuccessful effort to amend article three so that the treaty would be terminated automatically at the end of 19 years or could be terminated sooner upon 12 months notice by any signatory.

The amendment was defeated, 29 to 64, four republicans supporting and ten democrats opposing it.

Senator Reed then offered and the senate rejected an amendment which would incorporate in the treaty the language of the league of nations covenant permitting any signatory to withdraw on two years' notice.

This time the senate divided 28 to 63 with four republicans voting in the affirmative and nine democrats in the negative.

Article three which contains the stipulations as to the life and termination of the treaty then was approved in committee of the whole, 67 to 25, the four republican irreconcilables and 22 democrats voting against it.

The fourth and final article containing the usual perfunctory provisions for exchange or ratification, was agreed to, 13 to 8.

On Senator Walsh's reservation the vote was 26 to 65 representing the largest vote that yet had been cast to qualify the ratification.

Five republicans, Senators Borah, France, Johnson, LaFollette and Norris of Nebraska, voted for the reservation, while only three democrats, Senators Underwood, Myers and Williams, stood against it.

Proposed Reservations

That ended the opportunity for offering amendments and the senate began consideration of proposed reservations. Thirteen resolutions had been taken in the two hours since the senate met and it was indicated that a score more might be introduced to consider the ratification vote was reached.

The first resolution to come before the senate proposed to admit to the conference any signatory affecting their interests. It was offered by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, and was promptly voted down.

A similar reservation by Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, pledging against aggression against outside powers and giving outside powers the right to sit in any conference affecting their interests was voted down, 36 to 46. The same five republicans voted for the resolution and it was opposed only by Senators Underwood, Williams and Ransdell on the democratic side of the chamber.

In still another form the proposal to invite outside powers into conferences involving their interests was re-introduced as a reservation by Senator Pittman, democrat, Nevada, and was defeated, 21 to 60. Senators Borah, France, Johnson, LaFollette and Norris, again were the only republicans voting in the affirmative. Senators Dial, Kendrick, Myers, Ransdell, Underwood and Williams, democrats, were recorded in opposition.

A reservation by Senator LaFollette, republican, Wisconsin, providing that the Anglo-Japanese alliance shall not be renewed during the life of the four power treaty, was rejected, 39 to 62.

Senator LaFollette then presented and the senate voted down 27 to 59, a reservation stipulating that the signatories shall not enter into outside agreements prejudicial to the purposes of the treaty. There were five affirmative votes from the republican side and seven negative votes from the democratic side.

By a similar line-up, a reservation by Senator LaFollette, proposing abrogation of all existing treaties inconsistent with the four power pact was voted down, 17 to 60.

Taking its twentieth roll call of the session, the senate then rejected 27 to 60, another reservation declaring that "it being the intention of the United States to grant full and complete independence to the Philippine Islands within ten years" the independence and integrity of the islands shall be respected thereafter.

Senator Pittman, democrat, Nevada, sent to the desk as a proposed reservation, the section of the printed copy of the League of Nations Reservations which referred to the United States full power to decide what are "domestic questions" falling entirely within its jurisdiction. The reservation was defeated 28 to 65 with four republican irreconcilables supporting it and 19 democrats opposing it.

Senator Johnson then called up the reservation providing that the United States assumes no moral or legal obligation to "maintain" the rights of other powers, originally offered in the foreign relations committee by Senator Brandegee, republican, Connecticut, but drawn by him after a conference with President Harding. The senate rejected it, 28 to 64.

Dividing 28 to 63, the senate voted down a reservation by Senator Johnson, republican, California, providing that only "pacifist" means should be employed to fulfill the provisions of the treaty. This time five republicans voted "aye" and 19 democrats "no."

The proposal for a pledge against secret diplomacy already rejected as an amendment, was re-introduced by Senator Robinson, in the form of a reservation and was defeated, 22 to 60.

By a vote of 28 to 63 the senate rejected a reservation by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, reserving the right to withdraw from the treaty whenever any signatory "shall wrongfully engage in war."

Another reservation by Senator Reed, defeated 24 to 64, would have provided that the conference provisions of the treaty should not apply to controversies growing out of occupation of any portion of the Asiatic mainland.

Senator Reed took a last gouge at the treaty by proposing a reservation under which the United States could withdraw from the four power arrangement at any time on one year's notice. The reservation was defeated, 28 to 64.

A substitute for the committee "no alliance" reservation, offered by Senator Pomerehne, democrat, Ohio, was rejected 19 to 71. It would have provided that no adjustment or understanding reached under the treaty could be carried out except in accordance with the constitutional methods of the United States.

Senator Pomerehne sought unsuccessfully to add to the committee reservation a stipulation requiring that the American government could act only according to constitutional methods. In that form the proposal was voted down, 13 to 71.

On this roll call the senators voting to make the addition 40 to the committee declaration were Ashurst, Culbertson, Dial, Fletcher, Harris, Pomerehne, Ransdell, Sheppard, Underwood and Walsh of Montana, Democrat, and Howell, Johnson and LaFollette, republicans.

Preparatory to a final vote on ratification the senate then voted to accept the committee reservation.

The vote by which the committee "no alliance" reservation was incorporated in the resolution of ratification was 50 to 5. Senators Spencer, republican, Missouri, and Williams, democrat, Mississippi, casting the only votes against it.

At 4:17 p. m. the roll call on final ratification began.

Adams Wins Third Leg On Gun Club Trophy By Losing Only Two Birds

MAJOR LEAGUES SHY ON A-1 SHORTSTOPS

Many Managers Forced to Start Season With Experiments.

To refer to a ball club as a one-man team is hardly fair to the other players.

However, the addition of one star player very often makes a ball club. The presence of such a player in the lineup immediately changes a mediocre aggregation into a pennant-winning team.

The coming of Tris Speaker to the Cleveland club added the necessary punch to the Indians. The team ultimately won the pennant and world series with Speaker as its manager.

When Eddie Collins was secured by Comiskey from the Athletics, the White Sox became a strong pennant contender. The Sox, after the coming of Collins, won a pennant and a world series in 1917 and a pennant in 1919.

"Rabbit" Maraville last season made a pennant contender out of the Pittsburgh team. Much credit of course must be given Manager Gibson, but it was Maraville's presence in the infield that gave the club its balance.

Last year the Washington club despite the experimenting that was done at shortstop was a hard club to beat. Shortstop is a vital position on the infield.

If Washington is with an uncertainty at short was able to stick in the running throughout the season, the fans of that city have a right to expect much greater things this year with Roger Peckinpaugh playing the position.

SHORTSTOP THE BIG ISSUE

Shortstop is a position that several major league managers fear. The addition of Peckinpaugh has solved it at Washington, but who should Cincinnati, Cincinnati, Boston and the Athletics?

The developing of a player able to fill the position of shortstop just about as well as Peckinpaugh, and success and failure to Manager Pat Moran at Cincinnati and Ty Cobb at Detroit.

It now looks as if Moran would pin his hopes on Caveney, the sensation of the Pacific Coast league, while Cobb has Rigney, the star of the Texas league, as his one best bet.

It is making a great deal of a reputation to fill a bill at shortstop on a major league club right off the bat. However, it looks as if that was the task that both Caveney and Rigney face.

Cornie Mack has had a score of shortstops in the last eight years. He probably has a half dozen possibilities at the present time.

The passing of Dugan may make it necessary to send (alloway) who played short most for last year, as he is a recruit will hold down short for the Athletics.

The Boston Red Sox figure on Joe Degan, to fill Cobb's place. Degan doesn't like to play short. Third is his natural position. That will probably be apparent to Manager Duffy before the season is over.

VERNON OPENS SEASON WITH CHILLICOTHE TEAM

VERNON, March 24.—The Vernon high school baseball team will open its season Saturday at home with the Chillicothe team. Nappy Baird, the hurler who almost pitched Vernon to a state championship last season, will start for the home team and Snagel will probably finish.

Prospects for a winning team this season are, according to Baird, as Baird has showed great form in the early workouts and will have six letter men of last year's team to back him up.

Koster and Mars Draw GALVESTON, TEXAS, March 24.—

Kid Koster of New Orleans, 129 1/2 pounds and Kayo Mars of Cincinnati, 129 pounds, fought 12 rounds to a draw here last night, the referee making the decision. There was little variance in any of the rounds, Koster having the better of the infighting and Mars proving the cleverer in the open.

BROOKLYN HAS MUCH BETTER TEAM THAN IN 1920

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 24

"Best looking bunch of athletes Brooklyn has had in 40 years."—Squire Ebbetts, owner of team.

"Those ivory hunters sure dug up a lot of good, big promising pitchers."—Manager Robinson.

"We've got a secondary defense stronger than in 1920 when we copped the pennant."—Scout Larry Sutton.

The boss wanted catching strength. I gave it to him with Hurling and DeBerry. The team looks mighty good to me."—Scout Nap Rucker.

There you have the opinions of the four men overseeing the spring prep of the 1922 Dodger outfit. A consensus of the big four, plus scattering comments by experts who have watched the squad at work, make the Dodgers the "dark horses" in this year's pennant dash.

The catching was slow and mechanical. The fielders, having no rivals on the bench, were sure of their jobs and with few exceptions jangled it.

This year the Dodger chieftain has two or three players for every position, many of them capable young hustling lads from the minors who are making the veterans watch their step.

There are 36 veterans and recruits in the Brooklyn squad—16 pitchers, four catchers, nine infielders and seven outfielders.

Brooklyn intends to carry the full limit of 25 players this season. That is another sign of improvement. Last year Owner Ebbetts was satisfied with 21.

Last year the club was several times severely handicapped by lack of capable substitutes.

The plan this year is to carry nine pitchers, three catchers, eight infielders and five outfielders.

DISCOVERED! ONE BASEBALL ROOKIE

When he lost to Greb the bout was certainly on its merits.

Tommy Gibbons has far too much character to fake a bout. No one ever tried harder to win than he did from Greb. Overanxiety was his worst enemy.

Standard of Baseball Improved

Reports from the south would seem to indicate that the crop of recruits now being looked over is only an ordinary one.

Some of the major league leaders have already expressed themselves as being disappointed with the prospects. The advance dope on many a touted phenom has already been exploded. However, I fancy that at least a dozen worthwhile players will be developed.

I look for a decided improvement in the standard of baseball in 1922.

Both leagues are going to benefit of much better pitching. In addition a number of youngsters who were just so-so last year are about ready to blossom out into stardom.

Both major leagues should have raced this year that will be considerable improvement over 1921. Every club appears to be stronger.

I look for a better race in each league and a much improved standard of baseball.

GRASS FIRE THREATENS DAMAGE AT CALL FIELD BUT IS EXTINGUISHED

A grass fire at Call Field which threatened to assume serious proportions resulted in an alarm being sent to the city for fire fighting equipment at 3:08 o'clock Thursday night. A considerable area of dry grass was burning briskly and residents at Call Field feared that it might spread to buildings and cause trouble.

A truck from the Buchanan street station and the "false alarm" wagon from number one was sent to the scene with firemen who extinguished the flames without trouble.

SIZE IS NOT ONLY ASSET FOR CHAMP

Grab Believes He is Contender Despite Fact He's Under Six Feet.

By HARRY GREB
(Conqueror of Tommy Gibbons)

A fighter doesn't need to be a giant to be a champion.

Because I am shy of the six-foot mark by several inches, and because I weigh in the neighborhood of 200 pounds, I suppose a lot of people are not taking me seriously as a heavy-weight contender in the ring has ever produced.

There was Bob Fitzsimmons, he didn't weigh much more than I do, yet he was reckoned as one of the greatest fighters the ring has ever produced.

Fitzsimmons made his big follow like Jim Jeffries, Tom Sharkey, Gus Kuhn and the rest like it.

True, Jeffries twice knocked him out, but before the finish Jeffries knew that he had been in a real battle.

Joe Wolcott measured only a few inches over five feet, yet Walcott constantly gave away from 15 to 20 pounds in weight and often as much as a foot in height.

Despite his size Walcott was certainly a fighter if there ever was one. I have no desire to compare myself with either Fitzsimmons or Walcott. I simply speak of these two great fighters to prove that one need not be a giant to be a fighter or a champion.

When Jack Dempsey was matched to meet Jess Willard the bout was ridiculed by a lot of fight critics. Most of the fight fans thought Willard was too big for Dempsey.

In the Toledo bout Dempsey, who was a little man compared to Willard, proved that size wasn't the only thing that counts in a fight. Willard, although still remembered as the "long" one, was the public viewed the bout in much the same manner as it did the Willard-Dempsey go.

Gibbons, with an advantage of 10 pounds in weight and four inches in height, was regarded as far too husky for me to have a chance with him. I feel that I demonstrated the folly of size being a fighter's most important asset.

There are a few other things a fighter must prove besides size, among them being aggressiveness, footwork, cleverness and courage.

ARCHITECTS ARE AGAINST SKYSCRAPERS FOR LONDON

LONDON, March 24.—London will not imitate New York in erecting skyscrapers, if the ideas of the Royal Institute of British Architects are carried out. The architects have voted against a report of their building acts committee advocating alteration of the London regulations to allow the erection of buildings of 120 feet in height instead of 80 feet as at present.

SPUDDERS WARM UP AND CALL IT A DAY

Light Workouts Precede Exhibition Games With Kansas City Blues.

The Spudders worked just about hard enough yesterday afternoon to get up a sweat when they were chased to the clubhouse by Skipper Salm and told to get a good rest in preparation for the three Kansas City games which are expected to give Texas league fans a line on the respective strength of Dallas, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls.

Though the Spudder boss is hardly looking for a clean sweep in the series, he confidently expects that his veteran hurlers are in good enough shape to hold the Blues down in two of the games while the sluggers are pounding out runs.

The fans are more than anxious to see Ruth, Bowman, Darrrough and Names in action as they should be Salm's mainstay on the hill this season. Their arms are all in rare shape, but Bowman has a blistered heel which will probably keep him until Sunday's game. Abe, however, is one of the hardest working men on the squad and the skipper has his hands full keeping him out of the lineup if he's able to throw a ball at all.

No word has been received from President Harvey, who is in Hot Springs with the Pirates as to whether he has accomplished anything in the way of getting a hurler or two. Salm stated Friday that he does not expect to hear from him while he is away, but if R. O. does any good at all, the chances are he will wire. The trip was made for the express purpose of learning whether Hollingsworth is to be returned here or whether Barney Dreyfuss and George Gibson want to offer him "something just as good."

Destiny or the three Fates, in the eyes of those who may believe in predestination or Greek mythology, allotted to Ely Barker, tried in the 23rd district court Thursday on a charge of burglary, the figure "4" as an important factor in his life. The history of his case including some of the facts as adduced from the witness stand in the course of the trial is as follows:

Light showers of rain were reported by agents from towns on the Valley, Spur and Southern railroad lines. The heaviest rainfall was reported from Haskell where a half inch was recorded.

Warm temperatures prevailed throughout the night and the lowest point reached in this city was 64 degrees. Thursday afternoon the mercury mounted to the 82 degree mark.

Police Use Powers Of Suggestion and With Good Results

Attaches around the city police court were sticking out their chests and offering themselves congratulations Friday morning on having devised something that worked successfully.

For some time past one of the most fearsome types of cases that the court has been forced to deal with has been that one known as the "neighborhood scrap," wherein irate housewives and their bombastic husbands pour into the court ears tales of domestic woe that really should be righted by a judicious application of the well known hickory switch rather than by court action.

So when information reached the hall this morning that about 90 per cent of a certain neighborhood's population was en route to the station intent on obtaining legal edicts as to whether it was permissible for 4-year-old Mary Smith to make a face a 7-year-old Willie Jones, the court groaned and set its collective teeth to thinking.

The domestic crusaders arrived in due course of time, but they tarried not. On a table in front of the judge was a 10-pound ball and chain recently designed for the new city "chain gang," and from various corners came whistled consultations of blue-coated cops.

"I hear the judge is going to put some of these neighborhood scrappers to work on the streets," ventured one.

"That's the plan, he's getting tired of them," came the rejoinder, etc., etc.

The leaders in the impending fight hurriedly commuted with themselves, agreed that maybe they didn't have such terrible grievances after all and that they could settle all differences without help from "the law."

That real down-East maple taste

Enjoy it again in LOG CABIN Syrup

YOU don't have to be a New Englander to long for the taste of real maple sugar. But perhaps the excitement of working in the sugar bush was part of your own childhood. Then you remember the thrill when the first sap was being boiled down in the big open kettle and you spread some of the golden syrup to cool on the snow! Has any candy ever tasted quite so good as that first chewy mouthful?

most delightful maple flavor. And Log Cabin never varies in quality. A blend of sugars—nothing else For Log Cabin Syrup is made from the choicest of New England maple combined with the best from Canadian groves—the real sugars of maple in which the flavor is most intense. This is blended with just enough pure sugar of cane—and nothing else—to give Log Cabin Syrup the most delicate, most mellow maple flavor.
