TESTIFY REGARDING LIVESTOCK WEIGHTS AT PACKING PLANTS

CHARGE FAILURE TO FEED CORN RESULTS IN LOSS TO SHIPPER.

EVIDENCE CENTERS ON MARKETING OF HOGS

One Load Gains Two Thousand Pounds on Feeding Seven Bushels of Corn.

KANSAS CITY, March 28.—Testimony as to the method of weighing hogs fed on corn and water over those which receive only water after being received at the stock yards was to be resumed this morning when the hearing on the Missouri exchange against the Armour Packing company in connection with the operation of the Mistletoe hog yards here by the packing concern.

Alleged failure of the Mistletoe yard to feed corn before weighing hogs is declared by the plaintiffs to cause a loss to producers who ship to the Mistletoe yards, operated by the Fowler Packing company, a subsidiary of the Armour plant here. Witnesses testified at this morning's hearing that it was the custom at the public stock yards here to feed hogs all the corn they could eat before weighing them for sale.

R. R. Bridgford testified that a carload of hogs was ordinarily fed four or five bushels of corn. This, he said, cost the owner about $10 a bushel and netted him $20 or $30 a profit.

E. Q. Foster identified certain tickets on tests made on hogs weighed in after being given water and corn and tests made after being given water and corn on one load was recorded on seven bushels of corn, he said.

There have been 50,000,000 cases of typhus, cholera and other contagious diseases in Russia during the past two years, according to the statistics read to the Warsaw conference, the report from which declared the measures taken to prevent the spread of these diseases into Poland and other bordering countries have been entirely inadequate.

WAS A DAY OF ACTIVITY FOR CHICAGO BURGLARS

CHICAGO, March 28.—While one hand of bandits can look complacently upon the results of their last 24 hours of activities, there are several others today with prospects less bright. One negro, caught in the act of robbing a victim, was shot and instantly killed by a negro police officer, one burglar was captured by a housewife in her home and police took into custody several others.

Bandit successes included the invasion of the farm home of Arthur W. Cotton, multi-millionaire grain broker, at Howe Grove, where they obtained $500 in cash, $17,000 worth of jewelry and nine cases of whisky.

MAY RATIFY THE PACT BEFORE ADJOURNMENT

Establishes a 5-5-3 Capital Ship Ratio for the United States.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Rapid progress is made with but little opposition.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The naval limitation treaty establishing a continuing ratio of sea power in capital ships among the five great powers was brought formally before the senate today by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader, in a speech praising the pact as an epochal achievement in international relations.

The history of the treaty was reviewed in detail by the republican leader, he said, the best technical advice throughout its deliberations.

Regarding land armaments, Senator Lodge said the United States had no supplementary agreement with France to propose while the attitude of France made it apparent that there is nothing more to be done in this general direction.

Figures presented recently in the senate by Senator Reed, democrat, showed that the ratio was not in fact borne out in the treaty were examined in detail by the republican leader, he declared there was no foundation whatever for such a charge. The treaty proposed that the ratio be 5-5-3, precisely the ratio and the policies that had been decided on and announced to the world previously.

The Massachusetts senator said that probably the greatest of the controversies within the conference was that originating in the proposal to which finally was accepted, he said the senate that Japan had yielded to it "only reluctantly" and that it was "not a triumph" for the United States.

Replying to questions as to the reason for Japan's contention for the ratio, Mr. Lodge said that the reason was one built largely from popular subscription and there was sentiment that "attached to the ratio" which was the same as it had been in America by the same means.

SENATE IS PREPARED TO BEGIN DEBATE ON TREATY

WASHINGTON, March 28.—With action on the four power pact treaty completed by ratification of the treaty by the senate, the senate was prepared to begin debate today on the naval limitation treaty for the United States, Great Britain and Japan. This pact, was called up after the senate had finally rejected the four power treaty supplements. Administration managers expect to see it ratified by an almost unanimous vote by the end of the week.

The two supplementary agreements to the four power pact were rejected by an unanimous vote yesterday after the parliamentary hitch had been overcome by joining the treaty.

The supplement excluding purely domestic issues from those which may be brought before the league was rejected by an unanimous vote yesterday after the parliamentary hitch had been overcome by joining the treaty.

BAR ASSOCIATION PAYS A TRIBUTE TO LUCIAN W. PARRISH

MEETING HELD IN 30TH COURT ROOM TUESDAY MORNING.

VOICE HIGH REGARD IN WHICH HE WAS HELD

Members Accompany Remains to Train and Many Will Attend the Funeral.

Tributes of respect from those who had known and worked with him, were registered in the flow of him only through his own achievements, and expressions of regret at his passing that could count from those who sincerely mourned his loss were accorded Lucian W. Parrish at a special called meeting of the Wichita County Bar association Tuesday morning.

The session was called primarily for the drawing of resolutions by the bar on the death of Mr. Parrish, but it soon resolved itself into more than a mere formality. The great respect in which the fellow lawyers demanded that testimonials be given on his worth as a man, as a friend or as a public servant. And when opportunity was given, eight prominent members of the legal fraternity, speaking as representatives of the bar as a whole, eulogized Mr. Parrish in terms that left no doubt as to the high regard in which he was held.

Judge Joe Worsham, A. H. Carrigan, P. A. Martin, W. N. Bonner, J. C. Kay, Leslie Humphrey and former Senator Joseph Bailey, who was present at the meeting, all spoke briefly of their acquaintance with Mr. Parrish and told of the many attributes possessed by him that had made him a man among men.

Former Senator Bailey voiced the bar's opinion most appropriately when, in concluding his speech, he touched on the qualities of manly deeds and lofty motives.

At the suggestion of various members of the bar a committee composed of Judge Joe Worsham, A. H. Carrigan, P. A. Martin, W. N. Bonner, Rodgers and Tarlton Morrow was appointed by Luther Hoffman, secretary of the bar, to draft suitable resolutions on Mr. Parrish's death. Other resolutions calling for the sending of appropriate floral tributes to the family were also passed.

A large number of attorneys present indicated that they would support the bar's plan to hold a memorial service for the late Lucian W. Parrish, Wednesday afternoon.

Near the close of the meeting Chairman Hoffman, acting on behalf of the bar, announced that the 30th district court, which was in session at the time, had adjourned by Judge Martin in order that he and attorneys interested in the case might attend the bar meeting.

Edwards, father-in-law of Mr. Parrish.

Lucian W. Parrish, member of congress from the 14th Texas district and candidate for the United States senate, died at 9:50 p. m. Monday at a local hospital to which he had been taken from Stamford after his injury in an accident near Holy 12 days before. The end came peacefully, Mr. Parrish having been unconscious for several days.

He leaves a widow and two children, Mary and Justin Jr. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Parrish of Dallas, and the following brothers and sisters: Mr. A. E. Boyd of Whitehouse, Mrs. Parrish of Mrs. John Franks of Henrietta, Misses Bess and Myrtle Parrish and J. C. Parrish of Stamford, Texas, and J. D. Parrish of Montrose, Colo. All of them with the exception of J. C. Parrish were at his bedside.

Texas Members of Congress Pay High Tribute to Parrish

Special to The Times

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The death of Representative Lucian W. Parrish is deemed a distinct personal loss by the members of the Texas delegation in congress by whom he was intimately known and highly regarded. Encouraging reports received had warranted the hope that he would recover and the announcement of his death came as a shock.

"I had hoped," said Representative Marvin Jones, "that the encouraging reports received meant the ultimate recovery of Representative Parrish, and the news of his death is a distinct shock. He was of the best type of American manhood, efficient and capable. I cannot lose a man whose services cannot well be spared."

"Representative Parrish was a man of high ideals and with a lofty conception of public service. I am proud to have known him very highly and profoundly regret his death," was the comment of Senator Culberson.

Born in Grayson County.

Parrish was born at an Alameda plantation county, January 18, 1874, the son of Jefferson and Mattie (Hanna) Parrish. The family moved to the southern part of Grayson county in 1885, and Parrish was reared at the little community of Joy. He attended the school at that place and also was student at Bowie, later going to the normal school at Denton. He then went to the State university, where he received an education degree in 1906 and his law degree in 1909.

The honors that came to him as a student were prophetic to some extent, for he was elected a member of the student body, president of the students' association, captain of the football and track teams, one of the university's leading debaters and an active figure in the Y. M. C. A. and other student organizations. His prowess as a football player has never been excelled by a state university student, in the opinion of many, his big healthy frame and absolute freedom from disability giving him strength and endurance that served him well.

"Few men in the student body have ever excelled such a broad and commendable influence for good," said one university official of Parrish.

Parrish entered the practice of law at Henrietta in 1909, being in partnership with William Wantland. He continued in practice until 1912, when he was elected to congress from the old Thirtieth district. He was nominated after a strenuous campaign, and was elected by a vote of 10,000 in 1912. In 1912 he decided to make the race for the senate and it was while he was actively engaged in campaign for that office that he received the fatal injury.

In the house, Mr. Parrish was a member of the committee on commerce and mines and the committee on mines and mining, in which latter capacity he has been a prominent worker in legislation affecting the extensive oil interests of his district.

In 1912 Mr. Parrish was married to Miss Gladys Edwards, a broad and active worker in his ranks.

Mr. Parrish was a life-long member of the Baptist church and an active worker in its ranks.

BODY IS REMOVED TO HENRIETTA FOR BURIAL

The body of Congressman Lucian Parrish left Wichita Falls at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon over the Fort Worth & Denver for Henrietta, where it will be taken shortly after 4 o'clock. A number of local men, life-long friends and associates of Mr. Parrish, accompanied him to the train. Mrs. Parrish and other relatives of the dead representative.

Scott's funeral services will attend the funeral services tomorrow afternoon.

Leaving the Merkel-Lunn undertaking parlors at 2:30 the body was taken to the union station, preceded by over 200 Masons. At the depot a double line of men were formed through which the casket was carried to the truck on which it was placed until the arrival of the outgoing train. Mrs. Parrish and members of the family boarded the train a few minutes before its departure.

DECLARES RAILROADS DO NOT PAY LIVING WAGE TO SHOP EMPLOYEES.

Compares Expenditures For Food With Minimum Requirements For Subsistence.

CHICAGO, March 25.—The business concern which cannot meet its fixed charges is bankrupt; failure to provide a healthy standard of living for its family—a working man's fixed charge—means eventual physical and moral bankruptcy to the nation. This was the axiom on which E. Jewell, head of the shop craft's union, based his plea for a living wage for the nation's real workers today before the United States railroad labor board.

Ordinance Against Smoking in Public Not an Ordinance

NEW YORK, March 25.—Police Commissioner Enright today lifted the ban on smoking by women in public as suddenly as he clamped it down last night when he learned that Alderman McGuinness' anti-smoking ordinance had never been passed by the board of aldermen or signed by Mayor Hylan.

Daniel W. F. McCoy, an employe in the city clerk's office, was led forth, caparisoned in sack cloth and ashes as official "goat" for an error that had set pro and even anti-smoking women on the war-path from the battery to the far reaches of Harlem.

Higher wages rather than a further cut were urged upon the board by Mr. Jewell in his fight against the 10 per cent slash proposed by the railroad industry.

The result of such a deficit in terms of the physical health of the country and also in terms of the efficient operation of the railroads is sufficiently obvious.

When Alderman McGuinness presented his proposed ordinance relating to smoking in public places, it was not considered seriously.

'Torture' Tree at Dallas Scene of Flogging Parties

DALLAS, March 25.—Evidence tending to show that possibly numerous men have been whipped at the place where F. H. Etheredge, Dallas lumber dealer, was flogged a week ago Monday night, has developed officials say, through statements of negroes who attend the New Zion church, located about 400 yards southeast of the grove in which the latest known whipping party took place.

NO ARRESTS EXPECTED SOON IN DALLAS FLOGGING CASES

DALLAS, March 25.—Three weeks or more may be required to obtain and develop enough information on which to base arrests of persons who flogged F. H. Etheredge a week ago, Will Moffett, captain of detectives, said today.

IOWA PARK MONEY MAY BE EXPENDED FOR GRAVEL ROADS

The Iowa Park precinct's share of the road bond money remaining after the Burk Burnett road and the road from Wichita Falls to the Clay county line are completed may be used in building gravel roads instead of concrete.

The commissioners' court Tuesday adopted an order authorizing the county attorney to make a trip to Austin to see whether the clause in the order under which the bonds were voted specifying concrete would permit the expenditure of any part of the money for gravel roads. If this can be done Commissioner Koonitz expects to use the money in building gravel roads north and south out of Iowa Park.

COMPLETE TESTIMONY IN RICKARD CASE

RICKARD SKETCHED IN COURT

SARA SCHOENFELD

JUDGE WASSERVOGEL

NEW YORK, March 28.—Evidence in the Rickard assault trial was all in at noon. Supreme Court Justice Wasservogel told the jury he hoped to give them the case late today.

RICKARD DENIES STORIES TOLD BY THE TWO GIRLS
NEW YORK, March 28.—Tex Rickard denied before the supreme court jury trying him an a charge of having assaulted Sarah Schoenfeld, 15, that he ever had misconducted himself with her. The stories told about him by Sarah and her 12 year old chum, Nellie Gasko, the sports promoter contradicted almost in their entirety.

During cross examination Rickard swore he never had had improper relations with women of Alaska or Nevada during the gold rushes.

"It never happened," he said when Assistant District Attorney Percora asked if he hadn't lived with a woman at Nome and then abandoned her. He made the same answer when asked if he had not tried to induce a 15 year old blonde girl, a cigar store clerk, to go to a room with him at Rawhide, Nev., 15 years ago.

He also denied that a 14 year old girl in Ely, Nev., had once been wronged by him and that after the girl was sent to a hospital when about to become a mother, her own mother had committed suicide.

The promoter testified that he and Mrs. Rickard were married at Seattle in 1902. He first went to Alaska in 1902, he said, and had divided his time there for several years between prospective mining and operating saloons and gambling houses.

Mrs. Rickard came to the defense of her husband, testifying that he was dining in their apartment and sitting beside her sick bed during the hours of last November 12, when Sarah and Nellie said he was with them in an apartment in Forty-seventh street. Other witnesses swore Rickard was at Madison Square Garden after leaving his home that night.

Rickard admitted having seen Alice Ruck, Anna Hess and Nellie Gasko, complainants against him in three pending indictments, around the garden swimming pool last summer.

He might have given them money to buy lunches, he asserted, but denied ever having presented to Sarah and Nellie the sums of $10 to $25 which they said the promoter gave them on several occasions.

The defense indicated it was through when cross-examination of Rickard ended.

The sport promoter this morning admitted that he was so little acquainted with football that he did not know the number of players on a team.

When the cross-examination shifted to Rickard's business enterprises he admitted he had promoted a number of oil and mining companies that never had paid any dividends. He also testified to having tried to sell stock in the South American Land and Cattle company, an organization which he said had met with little success.

Wright was one of the leading third sackers of the league last season.

Wright never was the property of the Spudgers, but was sent here under option by Oklahoma City. Eddie stated some time ago that he preferred to play in the north as the southern climate did not agree with him.

She could eat anything without indigestion or sleeplessness

For a time she had been troubled with gas after her evening meal. The distress was most painful after eating potatoes or other starchy foods, of which she was very fond.

Then she started taking two cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast every night between her evening meal and bedtime. She poured about a half cup of boiling hot water over the yeast cakes, stirred them thoroughly, added a little cold water and drank.

She found she could eat anything and sleep splendidly afterward.

Thousands of men and women are finding that Fleischmann's Yeast corrects stomach and intestinal troubles. It promotes the flow of bile and pancreatic juice. Appetite is always kept normal and you are protected against indigestion.

Add 2 to 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your daily diet. You will find that your whole digestive system is greatly benefited. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast.

FAIRIES AND HEALTH.

The National Child Health Organization, whose "Health Fairy" instilled some of the wholesome fundamentals of good health into the minds of around 2,000 primary grade children of this city Monday afternoon in the First Baptist auditorium, didn't choose an inappropriate medium for the dissemination of their facts.

For in spite of the fact that children are rather matter-of-fact little beings when it comes to the realities, and not quick to grasp the necessity for the myriad grown-up subtleties to which they later become accustomed, they are quick to accept the reasonableness of an accurate parallel. This willingness is at the back of the child's ready acceptance of the stories of good fairies and bad fairies during their early years, and the reasonableness of the parallel is back of the willingness. It isn't gullibility; it's a sort of idealistic good sense.

So the utter reasonableness of Health being represented by so perfect and lovely a being as a fairy is probably much more acceptable to the undefined and unprejudiced judgment of a child than to an adult. It is perfectly natural and proper that anything so harmoniously lovely as the pink rose in the cheek of a child should be produced by some fairy-like method. It is just as natural and proper that the skin-whitening which is a product of health and cleanliness should have been enameled a bit by fairy brushes. It is also perfectly appropriate that a fairy person should be responsible for the glow of health and vitality which comes from the good red blood of little folks who have plenty of playtime and sunshine and sleep. They are all fairy gifts, and it is easy for children to couple them with the winged little people of the fairy world, and to accept the practical medium of "Johnny Carrot" and "Sammy String-Bean," and "Billy Potato"—etc., along with the little elves of sunshine and air and cleanliness.

It was a good stunt, and the children won't soon forget the precepts they learned through such an acceptable source. The local Red Cross folks are always on the job, but they have probably never been responsible for creating a bigger impetus on one brief occasion toward the goal the whole organization is working for than they did Monday afternoon.

SUGGESTIVE MOVIES.

As the country swings back to normal, there's a reaction against suggestiveness in the movies.

The Boccaccio type of picture, with its vampires and lounge lizard, sprouted up as a natural part of the crop of jazz, which in all centuries is the way abnormal prosperity, mortgaging the future, expresses itself.

Jazz is checking out and, with it, the movie that exploited fifth behind a "problem play" mask.

The gradual passing of suggestive movies is a psychological rather than a theatrical phenomenon. For entertainment of all kinds is a mirror of its audience.

Suggestive movies, active agents causing decay of public morals, also were the expression of decay, the response by the producers to what they thought the public wanted.

The producers went too far. Public revolted. An era of clean, virile movies is coming, because the public again is thinking healthy thoughts, and the movie that doesn't sense the changed drift is not long for this world.

An adult is not immune to suggestion. But, after all, he is "set in his ways," thereby having a certain protective armor, compared with children whose morals are in the formative period.

What kind of movies should children see? Chicago recently tried to find out. Seeking something to take the place of blood-and-thunder movies in childish popularity, it gathered 4,500 school children together. The show included a comedy, trained animal features, nature movies, picture of children catching sandflies, and geographical lessons.

Outside of the geographical lessons, the applause played no favorites. An official commented that nothing was learned from the exhibition.

He was wrong. The try-out showed what any mother knows—that children, just beginning to sit up and take notice of the mysterious world with its constantly advancing horizon for childhood, are keen about anything that is interesting.

In particular, children are interested in wholesome fun and animals. These two elements should be the background of juvenile movies teaching important things by suggestion.

Children will gorge on the bread of knowledge if there's plenty of the jam of entertainment and interest.

YOU INHERIT IT.

Suppose you go to an antique shop and buy an old Chinese dagger, with ivory handle and an ivory sheath. You clean it, hang it on the wall.

Friends come in. Show the Chinese dagger to them. They handle it gingerly. Then, "discovering that it doesn't bite, a wave of impulse sweeps through them.

Playfully they pretend to go on the warpath—make flourishes as if about to stab every one in sight. Scientists call that a "revision to type"—a throw-back to barbarous ancestors who wanted to kill with a knife whenever they got their fingers on it.

Occasionally the revision to type unfortunately occurs when some one is examining a pistol. Then a wrath is hung beside the front door, with purple streamers attached, and the pistol handler says he "didn't know it was loaded."

All of us inherit many primitive emotions from ancestors thousands of years back. These emotions are like furnace fires with the drafts closed by gradual civilization.

These emotions, in super-civilization, will become cold, dead ashes. Now they smolder, some of them rarely bursting into flame in the course of a lifetime.

They are the relics that mark man's upward climb.

Behold the spring gardener, happily plunging his fingers into the soil. He is a reversion to type—displaying the mechanical spring-time planting habit of ancestors, far back when agriculture was the only form of real civilization.

The city man's backyard garden is an inherited expression of the crop-growing instinct.

What of the man who hates gardening and flower planting? He probably likes to roam in the woods and fish—a throw-back to ancestors who lived by fishing and hunting. They were roamers, unlike the soil tillers.

Another type in spring goes crazy on sport. If they could trace their family trees far enough, they'd probably find gladiators and professional soldiers at the roots.

Nature intended all men to be tillers of the soil. Wandering therefrom, we have economic and health problems that result from congestion. From these we revolt in springtime—revert to type—fish, roam, plant vegetables, trees, grass and flowers.

Springtime wakens all that lies dormant in man's blood and brain. It is the link connecting us with the unknown past.

THE KICK-BACK FOR THOSE WHO SET THEMSELVES UP AS JUDGES.

Last week a Dallas man was taken from his home and whipped by masked men. Before or after the whipping one man of the party delivered a lecture on moral conduct to the man who was whipped. It is now learned that the man who delivered this lecture was so drunk that he reeled as he walked about the whipping tree and that his tongue performed those tricks that are common in cases of intoxication.

In this we see a thing that has been noted in the whole history of the human race and that is that when men set themselves up to be judges and punishers of other men they have been led into excesses worse than those they have set themselves up to correct. There is a kick-back in that sort of thing that men have never been able to escape.

The small rival of the Ford is out. A man parked one by a mail box and the parcel postman carried it off.

"Cash down" is a fine motto, but a bad way for it to be.

A man whose mind was blank for 13 years has recovered, so it is too late for him to run for congress.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ESSE NON VIDERE.

This is a Latin motto—translated: "Be, not seem to be."

It was brought to my attention the other day when I saw it cut into stone on the front of a fireplace in a friend's home.

I thought that it was a splendid motto for a home, where we seem so often to be something that we are not. And I believe that it is a better motto for us all to carry with us every day as we go into the work of the world.

Be—do not seem to be! Simplicity, sincerity and genuineness are every-day qualities—but rare none the less.

We see posers everywhere we go. The other day I witnessed a group of women urging another to take luncheon with them. The casual observer would have imagined that she was a most intimate and much loved associate. But no sooner had this woman gone than the whole group seemed to vie with each other as to which one could say the most unkind thing about her.

There are many people whom we are always glad to see—for no matter how many times we see them, they come back with the same stamp of worth.

All the announcing in the world which we make of our abilities and merits, will go for naught if we have nothing to back our claims.

Be—do not seem to be! The wax model has to be kept from the light and sun. Pretense shrinks from too much gaze and glamour. The plated metal has a limited time in which it may pass for the solid and real. Nothing can seem to be for long. It must either be—or pass for what it is.

So you try to be real—exactly what you are—and try to be somebody! (Copyright, 1922, by George Matthew Adams.)

JUST FOLKS

By Edgar A. Guest

THE IMPORTANT TRAIT.

Three traits there were one summer day Who watched the people come and go, And started in a friendly way Discussing them, the high and low, Said Skill, "No one amounts to much Unless he has my clever touch."

On hearing this, young Strength replied: "I am the one the people need, I hold this cannot be denied, I am the backbone of the deed, For who would rise above the throng Requires a body fit and strong."

"Discuss this question as you will, But you have nothing for your pains, For neither of you, Strength or Skill, Can get along alone," said Brains, "Without me, both of you must fail, I am the Master trait of all."

In violent argument the three Engaged, until there came along A stranger, wondrous fair to see, Who stopped to ask them what was wrong, Said they: "To end this bitter strife, Tell which of us counts most in life?"

The stranger smiled and shook his head: "Though each of you is fair to own, From me accomplishment is bred, You three could not succeed alone, Save I am there the dream falls dead, For I am Faith," the stranger said, (Copyright, 1922, by Edgar A. Guest)

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

"Thus saith the Lord, thy Redeemer: I am the Lord thy God which teacheth thee to profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldst go."—Isaiah 48:17.

Every man has his own vocation. There is one direction in which all spirits are bound. He has faculties silently inviting him thither to endless exertion. He is like a ship in a river; he runs against obstructions on every side but one; on that side all obstructions is taken away, and he sweeps serenely over a deeping channel into an infinite sea.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

IS YOUR CHILD BACKWARD? EYE DEFECT MAY BE CAUSE

By DR. R. H. BISHOP. There is a considerable number of school children every year in this city and country schools who fail to be promoted because of bad eyes.

These children are either eliminated entirely from school life or their education is retarded because they must be constantly repeating their lessons of the grades they have failed to pass.

Some children are unfortunate enough to fall a number of times. Some of these may be deficient mentally, but tests have proved that defective eyes are to blame in a greater number of cases than one would suspect.

Retardation of this sort is not only a waste of the taxpayers' money, but is a positive detriment to the children who become discouraged and dislike school.

Not all trunks are bad. Many can be reformed by correction of the physical defects which handicap their efforts to succeed in the schoolroom.

To force such children to attend school before their physical defects are removed is not only cruelty to the child but a vast waste of time and effort for the teacher.

No child with defective eyes uncorrected should be in proper condition to do the work assigned in school, and for many a child close application to books involves almost unbearable eyestrain.

It is but a natural consequence that such children either leave school entirely or are retarded year after year.

When a boy or girl is bright and active in play but unable to concentrate his attention upon his books for any length of time there is sure to be something wrong with his eyes that needs correcting immediately.

The child just starting school should undergo a complete physical examination. Better to remedy faults early.

Fort Worth Record: Back in the dawn of time your ancestor and mine roamed the jungle, wrestling a barren living from a hostile world. Hunted by monsters we can scarce imagine now, bested by unseen dangers, the very existence threatened at every turn of the trail, he fought for an existence less comfortable than that of brute and beast today. Physically little more than the animals he hunted, mentally still a child, he had within his low and flattened skull that spark of the divine soul that later elevated him from the beasts who roared in the thicket about him. They remained beasts, perhaps refined somewhat by training as civilization grew, but his soul was the beacon light that guided him on the long climb from the surface and to civilization and the mountain peaks of human existence. They remained brutish while he learned, by subjecting his mind to the spiritual, to rule himself and all creation about. He learned to transmit brutally by self-sacrifice his wisdom into courage. He learned to change rapacity into progress and selfishness into service. So long as man has kept his mind and body in subjection to the mental and both to the spiritual life he has progressed and civilization has advanced. But when the brutish instincts come to the surface and assume control man sinks in the scale of time and civilization slumps into its dark ages. When the rule of law and justice is broken and the law of the jungle takes the place of public justice, when the flogging party and the lynching party take the place of judge and jury and hatred and prejudice are substituted for right and justice—then man is on the trail back to the jungle from whence he came and all the structure of civilization crumbles about us. There comes a time when the law of the land to punish the criminal and the offender. Half the effort put into arousing public sentiment for the sowing of crime seed. Dig up the seeds of evil. Plant the seeds of good. Overcome the temptation. Turn from the path of evil doing. Consort not with those who are evil. Be slow to anger and ready to forgive. Think of the good for who are the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh and deeds follow after the thought. Dig not pits for others. The same snares may be your own downfall. Folks do not mean to turn out criminals who they begin to sow the seed, but they go on and on and after a time the harvest must be garnered because the laws of nature cannot be changed. Then comes disgrace, sorrow and the time of paying the penalty. That is the way with crime waves.

When the spending branch of government begins paying as much attention to the mighty penny, government will be living up to its obligations to the people.

HUNGER. Income tax auditors will be amazed when they check up and observe how many large corporations have been drawing on their surplus—dipping into saved money.

Higgins News: Speaking of crime waves, did you ever stop to think how long it takes to bring about such a wave, if there are any. Crime is rarely the product of a moment. The seed is sown weeks, months and even years before the final deed is done that goes to form one of the so-called waves. Murders are rarely committed on a sudden. There are many things back of the deed, as a usual thing. A thief does not become such all at once. A hold-up man, a robber, is not the product of the moment. The evils that blacken character and cause ruin and despair are the temptations of the moment. The deed is but the fruit of the seed that has been sown. There is a sowing time and there is a reaping time. An axe does not chop up for many months the seeds of crime are sown, the harvest can be nothing but crime. The song, "What Shall the Harvest Be?" can be answered only by examining the seed. Figs are not gathered from thistles. Evil produces evil. Like produce like. The only way to check crime is to check the seed.

FOOD. More wheat was exported from America in 1921 than in any previous year. Corn exports were the largest since 1916. This is shown by final government figures. Just announced.

The fundamental purpose of our country, in international trade, is the supplying of food and raw materials to countries which, on account of dense population and small territory, are fitted only to produce finished goods.

Farmers need not worry about export market for their products. It will always be waiting. Prices will adjust themselves to fair levels. Need is for bigger and bigger crops.

GHOST. The Fushun coal mine in China has not been worked for 300 years, because the Chinese didn't want to disturb the spirit of Tai Tu Kuo, Manchu emperor buried near the mine.

That bit of superstition for three centuries has kept undeveloped a seam of 1,000,000 tons of coal. Japanese forcibly opened the mine, started it producing. Chinese predicted earthquakes and other dire results. Now they notice that nothing unusual is being started by the ghost of the old emperor, and are flocking to get jobs at the mine.

By HARRY GREB. Conqueror of Tommy Gibbons. Some fighters are unfortunate as to their weight. Packey McFarland was such a fighter. His best weight was about 127.

Billy Evans Says

Willie Hoppe is seeking to regain his 112 ball line championship from Young Jake Schaefer in a match in Chicago. Hoppe's defeat by Schaefer was one of the big upsets of the past year in sporting circles. Hoppe had been regarded as invincible at the 112 game.

Both Benjamin and Hoppe are baseball fans. The suggestion is along the lines followed in baseball. In a recent conversation with Benjamin he unburdened himself as follows:

UNUSUAL ATHLETE HERE WITH ST. LOUIS

In George Toporcer, who will be the second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals when they play here on Saturday and Sunday, Manager Branch Rickey boasts of one of the most unusual athletes in baseball. Toporcer wears glasses when he plays baseball. There is only one other player in the major leagues who wears glasses—Lee Meadows of the Philadelphia club—and he is a pitcher.

ABANDONMENT OF FORT APACHE RECALLS HISTORY OF THIS OLD AND INTERESTING ARMY POST

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, March 28.—Troops and supplies from Fort Apache, Arizona, famous Indian post which is to be abandoned, probably will be moved within two months, according to army headquarters here. Then the buildings will be placed in charge of a caretaker.

A few of the old-time army officers now in the service have been stationed at the post when the Indian wars were being fought in the west by the regulars. Many of the black and red service ribbons seen upon the breast of the older officers were gained when Fort Apache was at its height.

The buildings are of adobe and part frame structure. Around it now the remnants of the once famous Indian post. The army has maintained there since built the 40-mile railroad from the old post to the new one. The government has decided.

Few forts of Arizona are surer of the glamor of frontier romance attached to Fort Apache, according to Colonel C. C. Smith, U. S. Army, retired, now commandant of the cadet corps of San Antonio high schools. Colonel Smith was reared in the army, his father, a captain being the last of a long line of officers in Arizona during the '70s and early '80s.

The most notable affair in which the garrison at Fort Apache engaged while the work of abandoning the White Mountain Apaches was going on, was the battle of Cibola Creek, in which Captain Hentig and six men were killed. The battle occurred on August 29, 1881. Colonel Smith was the last of a long line of officers in Arizona during the '70s and early '80s.

Colonel Smith, who lived a great part of his life in Arizona, said he had been at the fort many times and has walked through the post cemetery in which Captain Hentig and six men were killed at Cibola Creek are buried.

The fort will be abandoned and supplies moved to the new post, a new railway and shipped to other parts of the country. The garrison will be moved to the new post, a new railway and shipped to other parts of the country.

FIRE DAMAGES THE MARTIN STATIONERY AND PRINTING PLANT

Starting from some unknown cause in the front of the store and burning back toward the rear, fire early Tuesday morning wrecked part of the Martin Stationery and Printing plant, 820-22 Indiana avenue, drove guests of the Stratford and Joline hotels scantly clad to the streets and caused a total property loss estimated in excess of $6,000.

The blaze originated a few minutes after 1 o'clock and was subdued in less than half an hour by desperate work on the part of local firemen. Had it been allowed to gain any great headway the city would probably have awakened Tuesday to find its main business block wiped out.

Dense volumes of smoke pouring up to the two hotel rooms located directly above the Martin building resulted in a score of more guests promptly vacating their quarters. Many of them, clad only in night clothes, stumbled down smoke-filled stairways or hurriedly descended by means of fire escapes.

Firemen made a thorough search of all rooms while the blaze was at its height in order that no one might be left to the mercy of the flames should they get beyond control. Actual damage to the two hotels was slight, smoke accounting for the only loss.

In the book store rooms a large quantity of supplies were burned, a number of show cases and plate glass windows cracked or broken by the heat and the varnish of office furniture badly damaged. Loss from water will amount to practically nothing.

An exact estimate of the damage could not be given at the time of the store Tuesday morning, but a hasty inventory placed it at $6,000 or more.

ORDER INVESTIGATION OF SHOOTING IN FORT WORTH

FORT WORTH, March 28.—Following three shootings in which policemen either wounded or killed residents in the last week, Police Commissioner Alderman announced today he was making a thorough investigation of the shootings, and preliminary findings at the scene of the shootings, even though the officer didn't shoot to kill. In last night's instance, where a man was fatally wounded, Alderman said it was an accident, the officer firing into the ground and the bullet rebounding into the man's body. A charge of murder has been filed against the policeman, who was later suspended from duty and was turned over to the grand jury.

CALL ATTENTION TO THE DANGER IN USING COIN IN ELECTRIC FUSE BOX

The much abused and entirely defenseless electric light fuse came in for more misery at the Monday night city council meeting when a lengthy discussion grew out of reports that copper coins were being substituted in scores of fuse boxes for the regulation plugs.

Claude Montgomery, city electrician, waxed eloquent in a denunciation of such practice, and was ably seconded by Fire Chief McClure, who pointed out the fire hazard that was engendered by utilizing coins. A local electrical dealer appeared before the council with a request that he be provided with a letter setting forth the danger of the fuse box and Fire Chief McClure was instructed to draw up such a note.

Other business taken up by the council was limited to the hearing of complaints on the Eleventh street paving and the passing of one or two routine matters.

EIGHT JURORS SELECTED FOR THE TRIAL OF THREE LEAGUE CITY CATTLEMEN

GALVESTON, March 28.—Eight jurors had been selected when the trial of Perry McEdden, J. E. Hays and Hayden Ross, League City cattlemen, charged with the murder of Marcus Benson at League City last summer, was resumed in the 56th district court here today. Two hundred and fifty veniremen had been examined to secure the eight jurors.

Fifty takers were ordered to report this morning from which an effort to select two additional jurors will be made. Veniremen opposed to capital punishment were rejected by the prosecution.

The killing of Benson occurred several days after his nephew, Grover Benson, had been whipped by masked men. At the examining trial last December the defendants denied connection with the whipping of Grover Benson.
