JUDGE NAPIER MAY ANNOUNCE FOR GOVERNOR

WOULD BE CANDIDATE AS ANTI-KLAN ENTRY, TO DECIDE SHORTLY

Judge Ed. W. Napier of the 78th district court may enter the lists as a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, it was learned Thursday.

An announcement of some kind is expected from Judge Napier within the next 48 hours. Judge Napier went to Dallas Wednesday night.

If he runs, it will be on a platform declaring emphatically and definitely against the Ku Klux Klan. Since he took such a firm stand toward the Klan several weeks ago, Judge Napier has received many letters from throughout Texas, commending his attitude and urging him to make the race for governor.

The fact that Governor Neff has never taken an unequivocal stand against the Klan is expected, in the event Judge Napier enters the race, to align the anti-Klan elements with the local man in the contest.

Judge Napier, who has resided in this county practically all of his life, was elected district judge in 1920.

GENOA CONFERENCE DEVELOPS INTO BIG POLITICAL CONCLAVE

MOMENTOUS PROBLEMS COME TO SURFACE SINCE ITS INAUGURATION.

STATEMENT READY FOR THE RUSSIAN DELEGATES

Drawn Up Primarily to Satisfy England, France, and Belgium.

GENOA, April 27.—The representatives of the big and little ententes and Portugal expected to have before them in final form today the statement to be presented to the Russian delegates in answer to their counter proposals for the economic restoration of Russia, which the allies found unacceptable.

This statement is being drawn up primarily to satisfy England, France and Belgium, who are the heaviest creditors of Russia. In their answer to the allies the Russians appear to have made no reference whatever to the war debts which the allies said they were ready to scale down.

In the English text of the allies' proposals the phrasing was:

"In view of the serious economic conditions in Russia the creditor governments are prepared to write down the war debts owing by Russia to them."

The Russians apparently interpreted the words "write down" to mean "write off;" in other words, complete cancellation. They therefore ignored the war debts in their rejoinder. What the attitude of the powers will be on this proposition has not been made clear.

Meanwhile the conference has developed plainly into one of the most political world conclaves in history by reason of the momentous problems which have come to the surface since its inauguration.

The Russo-German treaty is accepted by many as the forerunner of a great alliance between the former mighty nations.

COLORADO RIVER IS FIFTEEN FEET ABOVE NORMAL AT AUSTIN

WATER IS POURING SEVERAL FEET OVER THE LAKE AUSTIN DAM.

MARBLE FALLS REPORTS RIVER HIGHEST IN YEARS

Llano and Marble Falls Floods Not Due to Reach Austin Until Friday.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, April 27.—The Colorado river, starting with a slight rise last night, took a sudden jump, early this morning, rose at the rate of more than a foot an hour, and was still rising at 10 o'clock this morning. Water is pouring several feet over the top of Lake Austin dam. The water had reached the 67-foot mark at the dam at 10 o'clock, or 15 feet above normal. The the Congress avenue bridge the gauge registered 18.1 feet above normal and police are watching the river to spread the alarm should the river take an additional sharp rise.

According to Fred Morris, weather observer at the University of Texas, the rainfall for the 24 hours preceeding 7 o'clock this morning was 1.67 inches, and for the 48 hours preceeding this morning it was 2.37 inches.

The sudden rise in the Colorado was caused by the arrival of flood waters from the Pedernales river, according to reports. A report from Marble Falls stated the Colorado river there had reached the highest stage in recent years. The Llano river, emptying into the Colorado at Kingsland, Big Sand creek which joins the Colorado at Marble Falls and the San Saba river pouring in at Chadwick were reported to have risen suddenly.

The Llano and Marble Falls floods are not due to reach Austin until some time Friday, and it is said that the San Saba water will not reach here until late Friday night.

According to Observer Morris there was little indication of more rain in the vicinity of Austin today.

TRAIN COMMUNICATION IS HANDICAPPED AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON, April 27.—Train communication to the north is handicapped as a result of the heavy floods and a steady rain falling all morning threatened to swell streams to some extent. A windstorm north of Hempstead last night played havoc with telegraphic communication and the Southern Pacific railroad reported that it was handicapped in handling its trains, many of them being detoured over the Katy system.

Negro Sues for Damages Result Of Race Rioting

MUSKOGEE, OKLA., April 27.—The board of city commissioners of Tulsa, T. D. Evans, mayor of that city, and Governor J. B. A. Robertson were today made defendants in a suit for $10,000 filed by G. W. Hutchins, negro, in United States district court here, for damages he alleges he sustained in the race rioting at Tulsa in May of last year.

HENRY FORD OFFER FOR MUSCLE SHOALS BEFORE CONVENTION

BALTIMORE, April 27.—Among the resolutions and recommendations upon which the committee on resolutions was expected to report at today's session of the convention of the National League of Women Voters was one urging the government to accept the offer of Henry Ford to buy the Muscle Shoals nitrate and power plants. It was presented in the report of the committee on food supply and demand and it was understood the resolutions committee would recommend its adoption by the convention.

While the women of the south were reported to be lining up solidly in favor of the resolution, it was the talk in convention circles that considerable opposition to it was developing among northern delegates. The northern element was against the resolution as one on which the voting "would represent snap judgment," it was said.

CELEBRATE BIRTH OF GENERAL GRANT; PRESIDENT SPEAKS

NATION TURNS TO LITTLE HAMLET OVERLOOKING OHIO RIVER.

HUNDREDTH BIRTHDAY OF MILITARY LEADER

Many Prominent in Official and Civil Life Take Part in Ceremony.

By Associated Press.

POINT PLEASANT, OHIO, April 27.—The nation turned today to this little hamlet snuggled at the base of the hills overlooking the Ohio river to celebrate the one hundredth birthday of one of its greatest military leaders, Ulysses S. Grant.

Up the river from Cincinnati came a flotilla of river craft bringing the president, his wife, congressmen, uniformed military officials, soldiers, state officials, men prominent in civil life and hundreds of other citizens.

After viewing the place where General Grant was born President Harding was to deliver an address from a small platform erected near the site of the Grant home. Sound amplifiers will make the president's voice audible to all in the village and to crowds that are expected to assemble in Little Park in Cincinnati, three miles away. The president was expected to stress in his address the spirit and qualities of Grant.

VICE-PRESIDENT SPEAKS AT MEMORIAL UNVEILING

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The greatness of General Grant in peace, as well as in war was dwelt upon by Vice-President Coolidge in his address today at the unveiling of the Grant memorial here on the 100th anniversary of the birthday of the president and umions general.

"It is in response to an increasing sentiment of gratitude and patriotism," the vice-president said, "that national action has set apart this day to observe the centennial anniversary of the birth of a great American who was sent into the world endowed with a greatness easy to understand, yet difficult to describe, the highest type of intellictual power—simplicity and directness; the highest type of character—fidelity and honesty. He will forever hold the admiration of a people in whom these qualities abide.

"Our country and the world may well consider the simplicity and directness which marked the greatness of General Grant. In war his object was the destruction of the opposing army. He knew that task was difficult.

"He knew the price would be high, yet amid misunderstanding and jealousy he did not alter his course. He paid the price. He accomplished the result. He wasted no time in attempting to find some substitute for victory.

"He held fast to the same principle in time of peace. Around him was the destruction which the war had wrought. The economic condition of the country was depressed by a great financial pasic. He knew that sound values and a sound economic condition could not be created by law alone, but only through the long toilsome application of human effort put forth under wise law. He laid the foundation of national welfare on which the nation has stood unshaken in every kind of storm and stress. His policy was simple and direct, and eternally true. A grateful republic has raised this monument, not as a symbol of war, but as a symbol of peace."

WASHINGTON, April 27. — The machinery of government was halted today by executive order of President Harding in order that thousands of federal employes and officials in common with visitors and the citizenry of Washington might do honor to the memory of Ulysses S. Grant at the dedication of the Bronz memorial in the botanic gardens on the centennary of the birth of the great union soldier and president. At the same time the memorial services were being held here, President Harding was participating in a similar exercise at Point Pleasant, Ohio, the birthplace of the union leader.

A half holiday was granted to federal employes, the public schools were closed, the city bedecked in flags and bunting and men and women were marshalled from all sections of the country to form an impressive parade in homage to the memory of General Grant.

Vice President Coolidge and Secretary Weeks were on the program for the principal addresses, while Chief Justice Taft and all associate justices of the supreme court, members of congress and other high officials of the government were present. Officers Confiscate Papers and Regalia Of the Ku Klux Klan

LOS ANGELES, April 27.—The "Invisible Empire" has been rendered conspicuously visible, it was declared at the district attorney's office today after preliminary inspection of articles seized last night when agents of the district attorney and deputy sheriffs successfully raided the Los Angeles offices of the Ku Klux Klan.

While a detailed inspection of the confiscated documents and regalia which filled four large packing boxes, was postponed until late today, sufficient of their outward significance was learned quickly enough for county officials to assert they would be of great importance not only in Los Angeles county, but in other parts of the United States.

Walter E. Mosher, deputy constable, a member of the Inglewood raiding party, was to be arraigned today on complaint charging assault with intent to commit murder.

A similar complaint was issued against Leonard Ruelgg, deputy sheriff and member of the raiding party, but it was not served because of his physical condition.

Both Ruelgg and Mosher were shot by Frank Woerner, night marshal of Inglewood, in the raid.

N. A. Baker, Kleagle, alleged leader of the Inglewood raid, will surrender today to Sheriff William I. Traeger, it has been announced.

Pollock said here today at a hearing in his court in which a permanent injunction against the operation of the Kansas industrial court is sought by the United Mine Workers of America.

Judge Pollack's remark was in the form of a comment on the contention of attorneys.

"One man or all the men in Kansas have the right to determine for themselves under what condition they will work," the judge said, and added, "All of them can quit work if they want to and the state has no right to inquire into it. No man or body of men can be compelled to work against their will."

Judge Pollock remarked that he would "hate to conduct a business where conditions of employment are regulated by outside sources."

STORMY SCENE IS STAGED IN DAIL EIREANN

By Associated Press.

DUBLIN, April 27.—Debate in the dail eireann today provoked stormy scene. Arthur Griffith asserted that on the eve of the London negotiations resulting in the Anglo-Irish treaty Eamon De Valera had asked Griffith to extricate him from the "straight jacket of the republic." Mr. De Valera described this as a lie and turmoil followed.

Mr. De Valera and others protested against the tone of the report made by the foreign minister, reflecting the affect of the Irish dissensions on foreign opinion. A division was demanded and the report was adopted 57 to 50, which maintains the majority by which the treaty was ratified.

BREAK IN THE LEVEE NEAR NEW ORLEANS; TOWNS THREATENED

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—A break in the Mississippi levee occurred at Poydras about ten miles south of New Orleans today. Early reports are that a section of the levee 1,000 feet long blew out and about 250 families are fleeing before the flood waters. Poydras is on the east bank of the river and the break, unless checked, is expected to cover a large area just below the city.

FLOOD WATERS REACH TOWN OF FERRIDAY, LA.

NATCHEZ, MISS., April 27.—Flood waters of the Mississippi pouring through a rapidly widening crevasse in the Wecama levee this morning reached and entered the town of Ferriday, La., four miles from the break.

The residents had received warnings of the approach of the water in time to escape. The town of Validay, with a population of 1,000 is next in the path of the flood and is expected to be reached today.

The crevice in the Weecama levee, four miles above Ferriday, La., has widened to 1,500 feet.

Eight white and about twenty-five negro families are maroon at Junks, La., and are in danger of drowning unless boat reached them soop, according to a message received here this afternoon. It was stated that the water is ten feet deep in the village and rising rapidly. A steamboat is on the way to Junks for rescue work.

Power boats sent from Natchez arrived at Junks this afternoon and are engaged in rescuing women and children. The force of the flood waters from the crevice is so great that houses of the village are being swept away.

In addition to the sixty or seventy houses composing the village there is a large saw mill plant at this place.

PRESIDENT IS FIRM FOR GOOD FAITH IN SOLDIER BONUS BILL

WILL NOT APPROVE MEASURE UNLESS IT PROVIDES REVENUE

MUST MAKE PROVISION FOR RAISING THE FUNDS

Some Senators Eager to Pass a Make Shift Bill to Tide Over the Elections

By MARK SULLIVAN
National Political Correspondent of the New York Evening Post and Wichita Daily Times.
(Copyright, 1922, by the New York Evening Post.)

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Those senators who want the bonus bill and want it badly are as ingenious as J. Rufus Wallingford. In vising ways to pay it, without real money. To be accurate, they are dager to pass something that will look like a bonus bill in time to tide them over the primaries and elections of this year and leave the matter of finding the money or of evading the providing of real money up in the air until they are safely in office for another term.

SULLIVAN

But that is exactly the kind of bonus bill that Harding will never sign. He will not approve any bill that is not in good faith, that fails to provide a means for raising the revenue to pay the bonus as a part of the bonus bill itself.

Something new about the bonus bill comes out every day; but there isn't any real news in it. Only one concrete thing has happened since Harding told Fordney it should be bonus plus sales tax or no bonus at all. That one thing in Secretary Mellon's announcement that there is going to be a deficit of some hundreds of millions next year, even without taking the bonus into account. That message from the hard-headed, accurate-minded custodian of the nation's money is obviously a thing to strengthen Harding's determination.

There is nothing in the idea of tying the bonus up to the tariff, and there isn't any more real money in sight from our European debtors than there was six months ago. Perhaps it should be asked that there is one other concrete thing that has happened about the bonus; that is Senator Borah's letter of defiance to the bonus advocates, who threatened him in his home state. Borah has probably less to lose by such a defiance than most senators have. He is stronger in his home state than almost any other senator. Lots of people in Idaho vote for Borah, who don't more than half believe in many of the things he does. Borah could burn down the capitol and Idaho would continue eagerly to re-elect him.

But Borah's action is significant of the fact that there is an increasing number of senators who are willing to take a position against all varieties of bonus. The number is now probably a little upwards of 20. That, of course, is a good deal less than enough to prevent the passage of a bonus bill over the president's veto. It may not come to that, however, for as soon as the senators realize that Harding is firm they may try to find some other way to approximate his position. In any event, real money in the soldiers' pockets is not yet in sight.

In the meantime your correspondent will go to Indianapolis to see something which promises earlier and livelier action. The Indiana primaries come next Thursday, and the fight between New and Beveridge has been warming up perceptibly during the past few days.

WAR DEPARTMENT MAKES A REPORT ON ECONOMICS

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Secretary Weeks today sent to the senate military committee a "hastily prepared" report of economics inaugurated during his administration in the war department showing a total saving of $40,023,339. The report was made in response to a request of the committee.

RAIL LABOR BOARD TAKES CHARGE KATY SHOP CONTROVERSY

DENISON, April 27.—After an order had been posted announcing that the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad's car shop here would be opened Monday by the A. S. Hecker company of Cleveland, Ohio, contractors, the order was countermanded by Z. G. Hopkins, assistant to C. N. Whitehead, operating officer. The shops will not open Monday, Mr. Hopkins stated. A message stating that the rail labor board had taken charge of the situation at Sedalia, Mo., where the shops were opened last week under contract system, and would give a decision, caused the cancellation of the order, it was said.

STREAM WAS WITHIN BANKS AT FT. WORTH THURSDAY MORNING; LIST OF MISSING REDUCED TO 34

FORT WORTH, April 27.—Discovery of several of the persons reported unaccounted for in the flood here reduced the list of dead and missing to 34. The known deaths today stands at seven, three bodies being in the morgue and four unrecovered.

When communication had been established with Arlington Heights and other flood districts, a number of those reported missing were found. They included a Mrs. Pierce and a Mrs. Reagan, Mrs. Cordie Runnells, B. F. O'Toole and his wife and three children, and Mrs. A. J. Wilkinson and her children.

Three more names were added to the list of missing, however, with the report that a Mr. and Mrs. Spear and their daughter, a Mrs. Mathews could not be found.

FORT WORTH, April 27.—Trinity river was well within its banks this morning, the gauge showing a drop of 16 feet over night and now registering only 17 feet. Street car services were restored this morning. The dead and missing list now totals 34.

The river guage was reported at 17.7 feet this morning. It was 33.7 feet yesterday morning.

Constantly changing reports of the missing made it difficult to determine the definite number, the latest report being 34. M. F. Ward and his wife and three children, who were reported missing yesterday, were located this morning, when communication was established with Arlington Heights, where they have been living during the flood.

Mrs. Lenora Ferguson, 64, was identified today. Her body was recovered with that of Mrs. G. W. Pettis, 50. The other body of the three that have been recovered was that of W. C. Gentry, 25.

Mrs. Ferguson is survived by her husband, J. C. Ferguson, two sons, J. D., Fort Worth, and T. D., of Iradell, and one sister, Mrs. M. C. Weston of Graham

All three bodies were found north of Seventh street viaduct.

The bodies of four unidentified persons known to be dead have not been recovered. They were a woman and girl seen to drown by J. O. Jenkins, and an elderly woman and baby seen by M. J. Farris to drown.

The list of 34 missing, according to a check this morning follows:

ALLEN FARRIS.
FARRIS, brother of Allen, wife and three children.
MRS. DAVIS, 70.
MRS. ROSIE HARTMAN, and son, Joe.
DAN HANDY, wife and three children.
BILLY HARRIS.
SHELBY SELLERS and wife.
W. E. GRAHAM.
MRS. M. M. COLBERT.
THELMA FRANCIS SAUNDERS.
TOM SMITH.
BERT BARBER, wife and three children.
MRS. H. A. CORBIN.
MRS. KENDRICKS and two children.
SHELTON, aged negro man.
MR. AND MRS. SPEARS.
MRS. MATTHEWS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spears.

Decision to carry on the relief and construction work without outside assistance was reached at a conference of the executive officers of the local Red Cross chapter with Henry M. Baker, director of disaster relief, southwestern division, American Red Cross.

Baker returned last night to St. Louis.

Interurban service between Fort Worth and Dallas was resumed today, the cars running to Grand Prairie. Passengers reach Dallas from there by taxicab. The Texas and Pacific railroad service is still tied up, officials here report. An effort will be made to bring the passenger train that is marooned near Aledo to Dallas tonight, it was said, and service from Dallas to Fort Worth will be attempted tomorrow.

The Texas and Pacific will endeavor to get a train from Abilene to Fort Worth today, detouring from Weatherford over the Santa Fe.

Property damage of probably $2,000,000 was estimated when the flood sites were investigated today. Hundreds of homes have been swept away and others are filled with mud and debris, furniture ruined, and the houses damaged beyond repair.

The greatest property loss was in the district west of the Van Zandt viaduct and on the north side, east of Main street.

West of the Van Zandt bridge in the thickly settled district between there and Arlington Heights, residents were searching their mud filled homes today. A layer of mud was deposited on the eaves of the houses.

A large steel vault in an oil company's building on North Main street was wrecked by the force of the water. The brunt of the flood on the North Side was felt by 300 homes in a strip two blocks wide and a mile long. The current made a clean sweep of everything in the path. Territory a mile wide was occupied by the flood.

The area of the inundation is being determined more definitely as the waters recede sufficiently to enable persons to enter the affected districts. Four breaks were found when the levee was investigated.

BEGIN AN EXAMINATION OF LEVEE EMBANKMENT

FORT WORTH, April 27.—Examination of the levee embankment along the Trinity river was started today by investigators of the levee board in an effort to determine whether the leves had been dynamited. The board announced the offer of $500 for information leading to the arrest of any person convicted of illegally dynamiting the levee system during the flood.

CREST OF THE FLOOD HAS PASSED AT DALLAS

DALLAS, TEXAS, April 27.—The crest of the Trinity river flood passed Dallas at 5 o'clock this morning, reaching a maximum depth of 42.3 feet, according to the Dallas weather bureau. From 5 to 7 o'clock the water receded at the rate of one-tenth of an inch per hour, the bureau reported, and said that the river will continue to fall throughout the day unless heavy rain falls north of Dallas.

Tents and churches here are being used by persons driven from their homes in the lowlands. A score of men, women and children were rescued from buildings in which they had been marooned yesterday near Irving by motor boats furnished by the sheriff's department. No lives have been reported lost, although untold damage has been done to crops in Dallas county.

The general flood situation in north and central Texas also showed improvement, it was said, although a number of west Texas towns reported creeks still overflowing.

Two thousand persons are reported homeless at Breckenridge due to flood waters from Gonsales creek which run through the city. Property damage is beyond estimation.

Eastland is in a similar plight, about 300 persons being made homeless there by high waters. Flood conditions are reported at Big Springs, Waxahachie, Valley Mills, Belton and other localities. Railroad traffic both east and west of Dallas is badly demoralized. Interurban service south continues hampered.

Reports to the sheriff's department this morning said 1,500 persons were homeless at Eagle Ford, six miles west of Dallas, in the flooded area. Three hundred homes were abandoned there. The refugees are being cared for by neighbors.

EASTLAND, CISCO AND BRECKENRIDGE FLOODED

EASTLAND, TEXAS, April 27.—The rains of Tuesday night caused the two forks of the Leon river and the Gonsales creek in Eastland county to overflow, inundating parts of Eastland, Breckenridge and Cisco.

In Breckenridge the waters of the Gonsales were receding when another downpour of rain put the creek on another rampage. Hundreds of people are already homeless and it is estimated that 2,000 will be made so by the rise coming on the creek. A barge on the creek was put into use moving the people in the flood district. No lives were lost and no one was missing, according to the latest reports. The report circulated yesterday that three persons drowned at Breckenridge could not be verified.

The north fork of the Leon river went out of its banks, overflowing the Mexican and negro districts of Eastland and part of the white residence section. The number of people made homeless was not available, but it was said that it would run into hundreds. Over 200 people were forced to abandon their homes at the first rise and it is unknown how many more followed as the waters rose. Property damage will run into thousands, it was said.

Early Wednesday relief stations were established at Eastland and the homeless people were provided with temporary shelter, food and clothing. A subscription list totaled over $230. Included in this was a $50 donation by the Eastland Ku Klux Klan.

Three hundred feet of the Texas and Pacific tracks were washed out at Eastland.

At Cisco the south fork of the Leon river overflowed, flooding a number of houses in the white residence district. No lives were lost and no one was reported missing. The property damage was not estimated.

FIGHT TWO HOURS ONE IS KILLED AND SIX ARE WOUNDED

By Associated Press.

MULLINGAR, IRELAND, April 27.—Fighting broke out early today between the regular and irregular Irish republican forces stationed here in anticipation of Eamonn De Valera's anti-treaty meeting on Sunday. The hostilities continued for two hours, both sides using rifles and machine guns. One was killed on each side and six were wounded, it was believed.

The fighting began at 5 a. m. and ended about 7 o'clock. The regulars captured and disarmed a lorry load of republicans.

The buildings bear evidence of the fray and the merchants refused to open their stores, fearing a recurrence of the trouble. The republicans are still holding the police barracks.

CHARGES ARE FILED AGAINST PASTOR OF CHURCH AT LAWTON

ALLEGE HE HAS OUTLIVED HIS USEFULNESS AS A MINISTER.

PERFORMED CEREMONY IN A SWIMMING POOL

Was Also Supporter of the Late Jake L. Hamon and Preached His Funeral.

LAWTON, OKLA., April 27.—The Rev. Thomas J. Irwin, founder and for 19 years the pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, who recently performed a marriage ceremony at a public swimming pool in which the principals were bathing suits, must stand trial before a church commission on charges of "conduct unbecoming to a minister."

Trial of the minister was decided upon at a session here yesterday of the El Reno presbytery. A commission of seven will hear the charges on May 7. The pastor is ordered to show cause why he should not be relieved. The Rev. Irwin has been the storm center of opposing factions of the church for months. He was a supporter of the late Jake L. Hamon, republican national committeeman from Oklahoma, and preached the funeral sermon following the death of Hamon in November, 1920, at Ardmore, where Hamon was shot by Clara Smith Hamon. The El Reno presbytery voted at a recent meeting to reinstate members of the church, who, it was brought out, had left the church because of the pastor's support of Hamon.

The charges upon which the minister must stand trial are:

"That the Rev. Thomas J. Irwin has outlived his usefulness as a minister."

An injunction obtained by the pastor in district court restraining a commission, recently appointed by the presbytery, from interfering with the church did not operate against the presbytery session yesterday.

"I will stick until the bitter end," Mr. Irwin said last night. "The whole situation has been caused by intense, bitter political feeling and by enemies of the church."

The El Reno presbytery by its action exceeded its authority, he asserted, declaring he would carry the matter before the Oklahoma synod which meets in October.

Jake L. Hamon was a strong supporter of the church and built an annex to the edifice. Mrs. Hamon was a member of Mr. Irwin's congregation for several years.

A motion picture booth was maintained in the church by Hamon prior to his death and has been continued since. According to the pastor, attempts have been made recently to destroy this equipment.

Several days ago following the meeting of the executive body of the church at which plans were made to guard the structure, a fire was discovered in the annex. The church board estimated the damage at $500. Since then a guard has been maintained about the building.

Following the firing of a shot at the church last Saturday night to scare away a prowler, Mr. Irwin explained that he had obtained permission of the authorities to go armed, as threats had been made against him.

Citizens Committee Charges Membership in The Ku Klux Klan.

BEAUMONT, TEXAS, April 27.—A suit to oust Sheriff T. H. Garner of Jefferson county from office because of alleged membership in the Ku Klux Klan was filed late Wednesday in the sixtieth district court.

The date of the hearing has not been set down. The complainants are E. D. The petition quotes in full the oath taken by the sheriff when assuming office and the duties incumbent upon him and then added "the respondent has been guilty of official misconduct and such unlawful behavior in relation to the duties of his office, refusal and neglect of duties enjoined upon him by law as that his removal from office should now be made by a decree of this court."

Loss of blood from 20 cuts on the chest, back and throat caused McCoy's death, the hospital reports.

DALLAS SCOTTISH RITE REUNION DATES MAY 15-18

DALLAS, TEXAS, April 27.—Scottish Rite Masons of the Valley of Dallas will hold their spring reunion in this city May 15 to 19 inclusive. The committee reports over 500 new petitions received, and with the holdovers from the last reunion prospects are good for a large class.

The Dallas Scottish Rite bodies are exceedingly anxious for every Blue Lodge Mason who can possibly do so register for the May reunion and help make the class one of the largest in the history of the Dallas Scottish Rite organization. A letter to J. L. Stephens, secretary, Scottish Rite Cathedral, Dallas, Texas, will bring to every applicant a blank petition to be filled out and returned to the secretary. Half of the fees derived from the reunion degrees go into the Scottish Rite educational fund for the building of the dormitories at the University of Texas and other educational projects under way in Texas. The sum of 700,000 is being spent on the building at the university.

The class committee is working daily. "The degrees are a part of Freemasonry and are priceless," said Walter C. Temple, chairman of the committee, "and every Mason in Texas should be proud to participate in a small way in the building of the Masonic dormitories and aid in the many educational projects sponsored by the Scottish Rite bodies."

Mr. Temple is a member of the Scottish Rite educational board of Texas. Sam P. Cochran of Dallas, 33rd degree, and inspector general of Scottish Rite Masons of Texas, is president of the board and also a member of the university board of regents.

Pimples, blackheads and boils—fresh yeast rids you of them

It is well known that pimples and blackheads (acne) and boils are often caused by errors of diet.

Fleischmann's Yeast is now being recommended for these embarrassing and painful skin troubles because fresh yeast corrects the errors of diet which cause them.

The surgeon of one important New York hospital states: "I have used yeast extensively and found it invaluable in curing boils." When 17 cases of pimples were treated with Fleischmann's Yeast at hospitals in New York and Philadelphia the results were remarkable. A typical case was a young man who had suffered from pimples for three years. He ate three cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast daily. In five weeks the eruption had cleared completely.

If you are troubled with pimples or boils, begin at once to correct them by eating 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's fresh yeast daily before or between meals. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tinfoil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast.

OF GAINESVILLE, COOKE COUNTY

CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS FOR THE UNEXPIRED TERM

Of Lucian W. Parrish From the Thirteenth Congressional District, Makes Statement.

TO THE VOTERS OF THIRTEENTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

I am a candidate for the UNEXPIRED TERM of L. W. Parrish. I am not a candidate for the regular democratic nomination on July 22. As a candidate for the unexpired term I make the following statement:

I do not believe that any citizen should be a candidate for two offices at the same time. I do not think it right or proper for candidates seeking the regular democratic nomination for Congress from this district at the July primary to at the same time ask for the UNEXPIRED TERM. My reasons for so thinking are threefold:

1. The election to be held on May 13 for the election of a congressman to fill the unexpired term is in the nature of a general election at which the members of all parties may vote, while at the democratic primary in July only democrats may vote.

2. The democratic nominee to be chosen in July will be chosen by A MAJORITY OF ALL DEMOCRATIC VOTERS, while your representative in congress for the unexpired term to be elected on May 13 will be chosen by a mere PLURALITY of the voters of all parties. Thus, if the race for the unexpired term is permitted to determine who shall be the democratic nominee in July, the democratic nominee will be chosen largely and indirectly by voters other than democrats. No candidate has the right to use an advantage thus acquired to get the democratic nomination.

3. The vote at the May 13 election will not be a full vote, and thus will a minority, perhaps, of the voters name a nominee for the regular nomination in July. Besides, whoever is chosen as your representative in the May 13th election should immediately upon his election proceed to Washington and be sworn in and enter upon his duties and not remain in the campaign for the regular democratic nomination and use the money he will be paid in filling the unexpired term or spend it in the race for the July nomination.

I believe that when a citizen offers for the great office of representative in congress he should TELL WHAT HE STANDS FOR AND LET THE PEOPLE KNOW WHAT HE PROPOSES TO DO. THE PLATFORM OF A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS SHOULD BE MORE IMPORTANT THAN HIS PICTURE, AND WHAT HE STANDS FOR OUGHT TO BE OF GREATER CONCERN THAN WHAT HE LOOKS LIKE. THE PEOPLE OUGHT NOT TO VOTE FOR A CANDIDATE FOR THIS GREAT OFFICE MERELY BECAUSE HE SHAKES HANDS WITH THEM OR BECAUSE THEY HAVE SEEN HIS PICTURE IN A SHOW WINDOW OR HAVE RECEIVED HIS CARD. The office is of too great importance to be disposed of in any such manner. It is not a question of "honoring" some individual, nor is it a question of who may get the salary, BUT IT IS A QUESTION OF SERVICE. So believing, I state briefly what I stand for on national issues:

1. I FAVOR THE COLLECTION OF EVERY DOLLAR DUE US BY EUROPEAN COUNTRIES ON THE LOANS MADE BY US TO THEM, to the end that our taxes may be reduced.

2. I favor the immediate withdrawal of American soldiers from the Rhine and from other foreign lands. It is costing the American taxpayers about $1,000,000.00 per day to keep our soldiers on the Rhine.

3. I favor taking proper care of the sick, wounded and disabled soldiers of the World War.

4. I favor getting out of Europe and its affairs and staying out and giving more attention to our home affairs. The cost of living is high, wages are low, the prices of farm products are below the cost of production, farmers are facing financial ruin and our merchants are threatened with bankruptcy. We should first remedy these terrible conditions before meddling with the affairs of Europe.

5. I favor the immediate limitation of the army and the navy in times of peace to the lowest possible limit. We are spending $35.00 out of every $100.00 of taxes collected to keep up the army and navy.

6. I do not favor the taxing of the American people for the purpose of loaning the money to European countries and then "forgiving" the loans thus made.

7. I am opposed to calling our boys again to fight in foreign wars without a vote of the people first authorizing it and I am opposed to a declaration of aggressive warfare unless in case of foreign invasion or the eminent danger thereof.

8. I am opposed to universal military training in times of peace.

9. I favor giving first and primary attention to our home affairs before meddling in foreign matters.

10. I am opposed to the "deflation" policy of the Federal Reserve Banking Board which brought on the distressing money stringency and caused the low price of farm products and brought financial ruin to millions of average American citizens. I favor a decided limitation of the power of that Board. It has too much power.

11. I am opposed to any further encroachment of the federal government upon the rights of the states; I favor the control of the education of the people by the states; I favor the control of public roads by the states; I favor the control of intrastate freight and passenger rates by state railroad commissions.

12. I am opposed to any form of direct tax by way of a "sales tax" at this time, the burden of which falls on those least able to bear it.

13. So long as capital is permitted to organize to oppress the people I recognize the right and the necessity for labor to organize for its protection and I also recognize the right of farmers to organize for their protection.

14. I am opposed to a "ship subsidy" whereby the shipping trust is benefited at the expense of the tax payers of the country.

15. I am in favor of the immediate reduction of freight and passenger rates to the end that business may revive and farm products may be moved and marketed. Freight rates in many instances are greater than the original cost of the commodity.

16. The tariff is wrong both in economic theory and in principles, but if levied it should be for revenue only and never for protection. I am opposed to a protective tariff whereunder manufacturers grow rich and powerful at the expense of the producers and consumers of the country.

17. I favor the most restrictive immigration law that can be enacted to the end that we may be protected against undesirable foreign immigrants.

Owing to the short time in which to make the campaign I will be unable to see all the voters personally. Find out what my platform is and demand to know what the other candidates stand for and vote for the best interest of the district and the country. I am willing to meet any or all of my opponents in joint discussion on the above platform should they take issue with me on any of the questions upon which I have announced my position.

Respectfully, W. S. MOORE.

Claims a Process To Make Gasoline From the Wastes

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—A reduction in the price of gasoline and the addition of 10,000,000,000 gallons annually to the California refineries output will result from the success of secret experiment conducted in San Francisco for a period of more than three years, according to statements made today by C. P. Bowie, petroleum engineer attached to the United States bureau of mines here.

Bowie stated that report showing an entire success of long and patient experiments in the refining of heretofore practically waste oil products were being prepared and would be forwarded to Washington in a few days.

The process as explained by Bowie will make possible the production of gasoline in immense chemical quantities from asphaltum, oil waste, tar and "below grade oil," all of which have heretofore baffled every effort to wrest from them the gasoline they are known to contain.

MEXICAN PAPER SCORES PHILADELPHIA OFFICIALS OVER THE FLAG INCIDENT

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, April 27.—A bulletin by President Obregon's private secretary, Fenando Torreblanca, says that the proposed presentation of a Mexican flag to the city of Philadelphia, which was prohibited by officials of that city, was not planned at the instance of the Mexican government, but at the specific invitation to Senorita Obregon, the president's wife, from members of the Pan-American round table.

The Mexican Post, English language newspaper, says:

"The affront to Mexico's womanhood is likewise an insult to American manhood which prides itself on its good breeding," and adds that refusal to accept the gift "shows an utter lack of chivalry just at the moment when conferences were concluded aimed to bring a better understanding between the United States and Mexico."

BRYAN SENDS A CHECK FOR $100 AS A REWARD

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., April 27.—William Jennings Bryan has sent a check for $100 to Dr. R. C. Spangler, professor of botany in West Virginia university as a reward for answering certain questions on evolution put by Mr. Bryan in a recent address here. Dr. Spangler is undecided whether he will accept the money because Mr. Bryan took the position he had proved nothing, and in the letter accompanying the check declared that "it is worth $100 to me to see a college professor guilty of cowardly evasion."

Mr. Bryan's challenge was to any university professor who could harmonize the Bible and the principles of evolution and Dr. Spangler undertook the task, claiming the reward.

Records in the case show that Henry was fined $10 following his conviction on a charge of having unlawfully advertised as a certified public accountant without having obtained a certificate from the state board. CALCUTTA PRISONERS STAGE A REVOLT AND A NUMBER ARE KILLED

By Associated Press.

CALCUTTA, April 27.—Discontent over alleged favored treatment of political prisoners is believed to have been at the bottom of yesterday's convict revolt in the jail here, when a break for the gates was made by about 300 of the men, several of whom were killed when fired upon by the guards. A few of the prisoners succeeded in escaping over the walls.

This discontent came to a head when one of the wardens, it is alleged, struck a Mohammedan prisoner for insubordination.

Several of the prisoners and some of the wardens were injured, but definite figures of casualties are not yet obtainable.

PRESIDENT PAYS A TRIBUTE TO GRANT AT HIS BIRTHPLACE

PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT EXERCISES COMMEMORATING BIRTH.

COMMANDING FIGURE IN MILITARY HISTORY

His Fame Is Secure, Republic Has Not Forgotten and Will Not, Says Harding.

POINT PLEASANT, OHIO, April 27.—The world today needs something of the spirit of General Grant, President Harding declared today in an address at exercises commemorating the 100th anniversary of the birth here of the great military leader.

"I sometimes wonder," the president said, "if the magnanimity of Grant, the dogged, persistent, unalterable Grant warfare—the unconditional surrender Grant—would not be helpful in the world today. The great world struggle, which we might reasonably designate the civil war of western civilization, and in which we so creditably and helpfully participated, left peoples and nations prostrate, hardly knowing which way to turn for restoration. I cannot help but believe that something of the spirit with which Grant welcomed victory, something of his eagerness to turn to peaceful ways, would have speeded the restoration and hastened the return to prosperity and happiness, without which there can be no lasting peace.'

Mr. Harding paid tribute to Grant as "the military hero of the republic; a commanding figure in the military history of the world; the surpassing example of magnanimity of all times; the most striking example of the possibilities in American life; the confident and relentless commander in war, and the modest and sympathetic petitioner for peace after victory."

"We know his cherishment of peace, intensified by his intimate knowledge of the horrors of war," the president continued. "I can well believe he would approve of all that the republic has so recently done in joining other nations in lifting the burdens of armaments and promoting understandings which make war less likely. I know he would have approved because we surrendered no importance, we gave up none of nationality for which we fought, but we have furthered the assurance of peace, which was the supreme yearning of his great, brave heart.

Fame Is Secure.

"It is 47 years since Grant garlanded victory with magnanimity. It is 37 years since he laid down wearied autobiographer's pen and made his one and only surrender. His fame is secure. The republic has not forgotten and will not forget.

"What of the republic itself? It will not be unseemly to say that American example and American conception of justice and liberty since then have influenced the world little less significantly than Grant's service to the Union shaped the course of our land.

"A score of new republics have unfurled their flags and democracy has opened new avenues of liberty and made justice more secure. Civilization meanwhile has made such advances that there has seemed a divinity pointing the way. And yet that very civilization, more advancing than entrenched, was threatened by the world war, in war's aftermath established order has been assaulted and revolution has threatened throughout the world. In our own land the enemies within have been more threatening than those without. Greed and anarchy have menaced. But a calm survey gives every assurance. Twenty centuries of modern civilization could not have been builded on foundations which are false. A century and a half of gratifying American achievement dates from the sacrifices of the founding fathers and their firm structure was preserved by the patriots whom Grant commanded, and will be held secure by the patriotic citizenship of the republic today and the grateful Americans of the morrow.

"Let Us Have Peace."

"Though he proclaimed the doctrine of moral disarmament at Appomattox, he declared in a nation equipped for a righteous cause," Mr. Harding declared. "But no aggression was in his breast. In that supreme moment of victory with the Union saved at unutterable costs he seemed to have surveyed the many disappointments, the measureless sacrifices and the indescribable sorrows, he felt the assurance of the nation preserved and yet the one sweeping utterance from his great heart was, 'Let us have peace.'

"Undoubtedly the task of reconstruction was lightened, because of Grant's great foresightedness. The armies, artillery and public property to be parked and stacked, and turned over to the officer appointed by me to receive them. This will not embrace the side arms of the officers, nor their private horses or baggage. This done, each officer and man will be allowed to return to their homes, not to be disturbed by United States authority so long as they obey their paroles and the laws in force where they may reside,' are the sentences which show the real Grant," continued Mr. Harding.

"Many years later, when his life was ebbing and he struggled to the end of his memoirs, all the American people knew of his brave fight and the inevitable outcome, and the man of magnanimity found himself the recipient of a genuinely nation-wide sympathy.

"It is more than third of a century since his one and only surrender, and in this time the firmness of liberties have been more firmly rivited. Geographical sectionalism is only a memory now and Mason and Dixon's line remains only a historical record, where an ambiguity in the federal constitution was wiped opt and the nation resumed the onward march on its destined way.

Leaders Not Understood.

"Seemingly it was long time in which to reestablish concord so manifestly essential to the nation's greater achievement, but the understanding of the magnificent Lee was not universal throughout the south, the magnanimity of Grant was not manifest throughout the north. Wounds had to be healed and partisan politics temporarily profited more in irritation than in healing.

"I do not mean to say that everywhere in our land we are all in complete accord about fundamentals of government, or the basic principles upon which society is founded. But the sectionalism of Grant's and Lee's time has been effaced and the geographical divisions which hindered the formation of the union and later threatened its disruption, have given away to the fearless menacing divisions which have challenged all civilization and which make the ferment out of which progress comes. We are today incontestibly one people, with a common purpose, universal pride, nationwide confidence and one flag. The contentions which beset us are not ours alone, they are the irritants to civilization throughout the world. They are not to be ignored, but they have never altered the human procession and will not hinder the progress of the firmly founded republic.

"Grant was himself the supreme example of American opportunity. Standing before his humble birthplace, amid the surroundings of his obscure boyhood life, one doubts if three quarters of a century, if one would have sought here for the military chieftain of a century. And yet this little village furnished in Ulysess S. Grant and Henry C. Corbin, two of the thirteen lieutenant generals who have been commissioned in all our history."

CONGRESSMAN BLANTON AT NOCONA WEDNESDAY

NOCONA, TEXAS, April 27.—Congressman Thos. L. Blanton spoke here Wednesday afternoon in the Milkstone theatre to about 300 people. He was introduced by Henry M. Burns, who in a few words referred to Mr. Blanton's record in congress.

Mr. Blanton spoke along the lines that he used in his speeches at other points. He spoke only a few words of the candidacy of his sister, who is a candidate for congress.

The crowd seemed to be intensely interested in what he had to say, and as he told of the incidents connected with his record in congress he was liberally applauded, and no doubt but he had the sympathy of a majority of his hearers. After the speaking many people shook hands with Mr. Blanton and congratulated him on his efforts.

CONSIDTRABLE DAMAGE TO CROPS IN MONTAGUE

NOCONA, TEXAS, April 27.—It has been raining here almost continuously since Sunday morning at 3 o'clock. Considerable damage is reported to land and crops. About 75 per cent of the cotton will have to be planted over.

CALOMEL SALIVATES EVEN WHEN CAREFUL

Treacherous Drug can not be Trusted and Next Dose may Start Trouble

Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue, and excessive saliva dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel. It is mercury; quicksilver.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you will take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—Adv.

LEGION GETS READY FOR RECORD CROWD FOR AIR CARNIVAL

Preparations for the American Legion's aerial carnival, which starts Saturday, were rapidly nearing completion Thursday, with every indication that a record number of planes would be entered and that an immense crowd would attend.

Friday will be "tag day" for the Legion and the Women's Auxiliary, and all who buy tickets for the carnival will be tagged appropriately.

Reports reaching Legion headquarters up to Thursday noon added to the number of planes to compete, and to the evidence of widespread public interest in the unusual program. If the fair weather of Thursday morning continues through the remainder of the next week, permitting out of town visitors to come here for the occasion, one of the biggest crowds ever gathered here is expected to be on hand.

NERVY GIRL RIDER WILL PARTICIPATE IN ROUNDUP EVENT

Among the bevy of cowgirls who will thrill the audiences of the round-up here May 3, 4 and 5 there are none who will attract more attention or receive more applause than Bea Kirnan, says a round-up announcement, which adds:

"Miss Kirnan is a real cowgirl, whose life in the saddle and in the open reflects in the healthful color of her cheeks, her sunny disposition and the gracefulness of her carriage; she is one of the favorites with the round-up visitors and in the cowgirls' trick riding she will be mounted on her favorite steed "Rubio."

There is probably not a child in the country that receives more attention from its mother than Rubio receives from Miss Kirnan. It is said that she even uses dental cream and tooth brush on Rubio's teeth, keeping them pearly white, and no one else is ever allowed to feed the animal, Miss Kirnan attending to this matter herself, and always seeing to it that Rubio gets the choicest meals on the menu of horsedom.

Miss Kirnan is a fearless bronc rider, and convinced the spectators of this fact at the round-up here two years ago, when, after a bucking horse had twice fallen with her and after being badly bruised by these falls she again mounted a bucker, riding him to a finish.

She will also ride for Tommy Kirnan's fancy roping and will have plenty of opportunity to display her ability as a horsewoman."

BANDITS ROB TWO MOTORMEN OF $45 LATE WEDNESDAY

Motorman R. D. Helms and W. I. Gordon of the traction company were robbed of about $45 late Wednesday night, when two masked men boarded the car in the factory district, and with revolvers forced the two men to hand over all money in their possession.

Gordon had just made his final run for the day and had boarded Helms' car at the barn, being in a hurry to get home; as a result, he had his day's collections on his person and was forced to turn them over to the two bandits. The latter, producing their guns, commanded the two car men to "give us what you got."

The robbers are described as of medium height, and apparently of middle age.

There were no passengers on the car. Local officers were at work on the case Thursday.

BULLINGTON ENTRY PUTS NEW ASPECT ON CONGRESS RACE

FOUR DEMOCRATIC ASPIRANTS TO DIVIDE THAT PARTY'S STRENGTH.

DISAFFECTION MAY PROVE BIG FACTOR

W. S. Moore of Gainesville, Another of Candidates, Is Visitor Here Thursday.

The definite announcement late Wednesday of Orville Bullington that he would run for congress as an independent, as forecast in The Times of Wednesday was accepted locally as putting a decidedly altered aspect on the contest for the unexpired term.

There is known to be considerable disaffection among local democrats and if that element can center on the independent candidate, there is some possibility that this district will not be represented by a democrat.

In the general election of 1920, the 12 counties in the district polled 20,901 votes for the democratic ticket, 2,868 for the republican and 1,468 for the American party. While this indicates an overwhelmingly democratic vote, the fact that there are four candidates to divide up the democratic support makes Mr. Bullington's candidacy more of a danger, from a democratic standpoint, than it would ordinarily be. Mr. Bullington's wide personal acquaintance and popularity throughout the district are factors to be reckoned with, it is admitted.

W. S. Moore of Gainesville, a previously announced candidate for the place, was a visitor here Thursday, and met a number of local voters. Mr. Moore is a University of Texas graduate, of the class of 1903, and was active in debating circles and in student activities generally during his school career. Four of the five candidates for the place are former State University students, Guinn Williams of Decatur being the only exception.

Mr. Bullington is expected to return shortly from Washington, and announcement of his platform will probably be made soon afterward.

PIERIA-DELPHIANS PLAN CLOSING PICNIC FOR MAY

The Pieria-Delphian club met with Mrs. Earl Jamison, 1309 Alma street, Wednesday afternoon. The meeting closed the year's course of study, and was a most enjoyable one.

Miss Helen Bengeston, superintendent of the General hospital, read a splendid paper on the "Maternity Hospitals" and "Orphans Homes." The paper was excellent, comparing the hospitals of this country with those of France, Sweden and England.

Mrs. G. T. Drinkard read an interesting paper on "How to Save Our Girls," which was heartily applauded.

New officers for the coming year recently elected were installed, and plans were laid for a picnic for the members and husbands or friends some time early in May.

After a pleasant social hour the hostess served a delicious plate of fruit salad, angel food cake and iced tea to the following: Mesdames C. E. Pugh, C. M. Richardson, John Pruitt, J. C. Berney, H. O. Newton, Earnest Westmoreland, J. E. Ralley, A. C. Parks, Allen Duncan, G. T. Drinkard, J. C. Crane and Earl Bamburn, and Misses Helen Bengeston and Clara Schuls.

JUNIOR TRAVEL CLUB STUDIES PARADISE LOST

The Junior Travel club members studied Milton's "Paradise Lost" at their regular Wednesday morning meeting at the library, with the president, Mrs. F. T. Datson in the chair for the first time in some weeks.

Mrs. George Watson sketched the life and work of the blind poet, Mrs. T. O. Alles gave a summary sketch of "Paradise Lost," and Mrs. Chester Wynne discussed the plan and purpose of the poem. Mrs. W. E. Hunter described the character of Satan in the poem, concluding the study.

During the business session two interesting reports were heard, one from Mrs. E. T. Duff, delegate to the First District Federation meeting at Haskell, and one from Mrs. W. C. Merritt, delegate to the City Federation.

Members present included Mesdames Datson, H. A. Deans, Watson, Merritt, E. W. Napier, F. R. Mack, Chester Wynne, J. J. Fennessy, C. E. Thames, Duff, H. F. Weldon, C. C. Jones Jr., John Davenport, L. R. Shelton, T. O. Alles, Hunter, and Wayne Somerville.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
CURLICEW VALLEY
By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Welcome," said a sign in bright gold letters on an arch overhead.

The path that led down to Curlicew Valley was very steep. In spite of the Green Shoes, the Twins stumbled at almost every step and loose stones and gravel, roots and brambles tripped them constantly.

The path was as crooked as its name, too, and turned this way and that in the craziest fashion. It was so very crooked that Nancy and Nick sometimes almost met themselves coming back. It would go in circles like a watch spring, then take a sudden turn and unwind, and when at last they were sure they had come to the end and would soon be out of the valley, they found themselves at precisely the same place they had started.

At last they came to two lovely rose vines climbing over tall gate posts, and between them swung a cute little gate.

"Welcome," said a sign in bright gold letters on an arch overhead.

"This must be the postern gate the dove told us about," said Nancy.

"Let's go in. It must be the way out of Curlicew Valley."

"All right, go ahead," said Nick, holding the gate open for his sister.

But before Nancy had time to put a foot across the threshold, the dove suddenly fluttered down onto a rose vine.

"Stop," he called excitedly. "This gate leads to the Garden of Snares. If you enter you cannot leave for twenty-nine years. Be on your way."

"But we're tired of this old crooked path," said Nancy.

"Patience brings its own reward," cooed the dove, flying off.

So the Twins proceeded on their dizzy journey. Uphill, downhill, twisting, turning, circling went the path!

Suddenly the dove flew down. "The postern gate is before you," he said. A little, crooked, weather-worn door swung open and the Twins stepped through.

FLORAL HEIGHTS B. Y. P. CLASS ENJOYS LUNCHEON

Members of the Floral Heights B. Y. P. class of the M. E. church, south, enjoyed a delightful luncheon meeting Wednesday noon at the church, featured by a business, study and social session.

During the business session the class planned a big cake, pie and candy sale for Saturday, May 6, the place to be announced later.

Mrs. Black led the lesson, and Mesdames Joe Stokes, J. B. Reighard, H. F. Smith, S. B. Daniels, Pat Jarrett, Paul Cotner and J. E. Schiebe, and Miss Lucille Tancred took part in the program, which was an especially interesting one. Roll call was answered by current events, and Dr. Groseclose, who with Mrs. Groseclose was a guest, led the devotional service.

A two course luncheon was served to the following, cafeteria style: Mesdames S. M. Black, Paul Cotner, S. B. Daniels, J. E. Schiebe, J. R. Stokes, Louis De Mont, Pat Jarratt, J. B. Reighard, Paul Harding, Wilbur Lee, L. M. Oberwetter, H. F. Smith, Joe Trigg, C. H. Young and Misses Vera Mais and Lucile Tancred.

FAREWELL PARTY HONORS MRS. "BUD" FOERSTER

A very happily planned party, except for the occasion of the hospitality, was given by Mesdames Henry Hund, Harold Keim, Clarence Sweeney and Paul Larkin Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hund in compliment to Mrs. "Bud" Foerster, who leaves the first of the month with her husband for Cincinnati.

Tables were arranged for "500" in attractively decorated rooms, and prizes were won in the games by Miss Helen Hund (first) and Mrs. James Long, a box of stationery and an embroidered guest towel furnishing the respective trophies. Mrs. Foerster was consoled with a "booby" prize, but was later very delightfully remembered with a pair of white kid gauntlet gloves as a parting gift. A color scheme of pink and white was prettily carried out in the decorations and in the refreshments which were later served, ice cream, cake and mints, to the following: Mesdames Homer Summa, Harry Gray, F. D. Keim, John Oeschner, Joseph Long, James Long, Burk Warmuth, W. L. Valentine, Easton, William Maloney, S. Bamrod, J. H. Faichney, Bud Foerster, James S. Maxwell and Misses Florence Morse, Linnie May Williams, Countess Taylor and Helen Hund and the hostesses.

OUR FIRST YEAR
CHAPTER XXIV—INSPIRING A HUSBAND
By a Bride

START THIS SERIES HERE.

Perfect contentment may be found in individual independence, this bride and groom think. But their financial affairs are interfering with their "perfect freedom."

Of course I expect my husband will some day be a rich man. I've been poor all my life. I'm tired of it.

We girls used to talk this over at college. And I know that lots of girls feel the same as I do. They agree that a girl, after she's married, mustn't be too easy in her demands on a husband. Not if she wants to make anything of him.

Jeanne Alison used to get perfectly furious when we talked so.

"You silly flappers!" she used to scold. "You marry to spend and spend! And demand and demand! You want things and things! You plan to drive your husbands! Then what? You'll see 'em. And you deserve to!"

"But they say that if a wife is too contented, a husband will slump! Make a man too happy, and he'll slump." So Mary Smith, at college, had said. "I think a wife can help her husband make a fortune by keeping him on his toes!"

Jeanne asked:

"You girls all remember Molly Gaines?"

We did. Molly is the shining millionairess among our alumnae.

"Well, Molly married her chemistry professor, you know. And she prides herself on having made her husband. He was content to fool around with science, just as science, you know. Molly decided he might as well make a fortune out of his knowledge, and not teach in a minor university all his life. So she kept at him until he went into commercial life. Color was his specialty. He was always measuring color waves. Now he makes dyes."

"And a million a year!"

"Yes! And he used to be the dearest, sweetest man in the university. And now he's an old grouch!"

Only a few of us shared Jeanne's opinion. Most of us believed that making money is a duty a man owes his wife. For doesn't a girl, when she marries, surrender her own chance to provide a fortune? Doesn't a man, then, assume a double responsibility, his own and hers?

So we girls argued in school. And I never have forgotten the theory. And long ago I decided not to let my husband get into a financial rut.

Naturally, Jack felt from the first his wife ought to have the best of everything. Just as a matter of personal pride. For example, whenever I have mentioned a car, Jack agrees that I ought to have one.

I must admit that he never brings up the question of a car, but he is attentive when I tell him about the new models some of the other girls have. Jessie Langdon has a new sedan. And her husband is in the office with Jack. I suppose things will come our way some time.

But I have a harder problem than most of the girls.

For if Jack has one single tiny fault in his character, it is this: he may be a wee bit too much of a reader and a dreamer and a chess player.

He much prefers sitting over a chess board at some kind of chess solitaire to going to the most brilliant society event of the season. And that attitude toward society and people with money will not do—if Jack is to make a quick success.

LOTUS CLUB MEMBERS GUESTS OF MRS. KNOWLES

Members of the Lotus Bridge club were very enjoyably entertained at the home of Mrs. Howard Knowles on Eighteenth street Wednesday afternoon, when tables were arranged for three sets of players.

High score was won by Mrs. M. L. Clopton, to whom was presented a piece of Egyptian pottery, and Mrs. Bert Adrian was consoled for low with dainty hand-made handkerchiefs.

The hostess served a salad plate with chicken salad, sandwiches, cake and coffee to the following: Mesdames Otis Geers, Vandevere, M. L. Clopton, Bert Adrian, E. H. Hoover, George Q. Parker, J. L. Nabb, E. H. Harrington, L. E. Stewart and Leslie Collins.

Mrs. J. L. Nabb will be hostess to the club next week at Kemp hotel.

FREE TRANSPORTATION OF BIBLES FOR BLIND URGED BEFORE CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Free transportation by mail of volumes of the Holy Scriptures printed in raised characters for the blind and furnished to them without cost was urged to day by Representative Alice Robertson, republican, Oklahoma, author of a bill to that effect before the house postoffice committee.

Mrs. Gertrude T. Rider, in charge of work for the blind at the congressional library, told the committee census figures showed that there are 52,000 blind persons in the country although she estimated the actual total around 100,000. Approximately 12,000 of these, Mrs. Rider said, are able to read a book in such print.

Light that a man receiveth by counsel from another is drier and purer than that which cometh from his own understanding and judgment, which is ever in his affections and customs.—Francis Bacon.

CIVIC SELFISHNESS.

Overhanging about the exact center of one of the most frequented sidewalks in the downtown section of Wichita Falls is an eaves trough. It is a perfectly respectable trough, with one exception. The exception is several inches long, and the water has been pouring down through it for the past two years every time there is a sprinkle. Folks passing by have to get out into the mud and sand of the sidewalk edge—off the cement—in order to escape the downpour, and if the rain is a generous one—such as all of the rains have been for the past several weeks—even the edge of the sidewalk is no refuge from the splash. A few skirt it by climbing over the porch of the house and walking its length to safety, while others get out into the street.

It would cost the owner of the house three or four dollars to have that eaves trough mended, yet because of his—or her—civic selfishness several hundred thousand people within the past two or more years have been severely discomfited. It would be bad enough if the trough were on a house back from the street, with only the owner himself—or herself—to suffer. It would be worse if it were jutting on a thoroughfare not so much frequented. But it is utterly, abominably, inexcusable that it should be permitted to interfere with the comfort and safety of citizens in a busy district.

And in a dozen or more—maybe a hundred or more—residence blocks about town there are trees whose branches hang so low that they occasionally turn the unthinking pedestrian into a trapeze acrobat. It would cost very little to trim the whole tree, and nothing for the owner to sever the offending limb. But the same civic selfishness holds them back.

And in just about as many community ways as individual ways, selfishness is operating to make towns like Wichita Falls and New York City less livable and lovable. In fact, folks who abhor personal selfishness—the lack of thought for members of an immediate circle—are often the very ones whose subconscious trend toward original sin performs a neat balance by indulging civic selfishness, or lack of thought for people in the mass. It is just as selfish by principle to fail to use the dimmers on one's cars, leave half a block of broken cement walk unreplaced, monopolize a public telephone, provide proper drainage for one's own premises, or let one's chickens run at large as it is to refuse to remove one's sombrero at the movie, or share food with a hungry child.

A BARGAIN VALUE.

It is just beginning to be realized what a bargain Wichita Falls is getting in her irrigation and water system. By a bargain, we do not mean that it is cheap, for $4,500,000 is no small load for a community of this size, but we do mean that this community will get big value for every dollar spent.

In approving a project in the state of Washington that will irrigate 2,000,000 acres of land at a cost of about $145 per acre, General Goethals comments upon the cheapness of water at that figure. It is not yet known definitely how many acres the local project will irrigate, but if the original estimate of 160,000 holds good, the per-acre charge will be $45, or less than one-third of that of the Washington project.

Such figures do not take into account the fact that Wichita Falls is getting an assured water supply. The Times is informed that a Dallas engineer has said that the storage dam on Wichita river would be worth $10,000,000 to the city of Dallas. Wichita Falls is getting it for less than half that sum, and is making a fertile valley out of a semi-arid one, to boot. Many cities are having to spend as much as this community is spending, just to get their water supply, with no irrigation system included. Wichita Falls has reached the point where it is far cheaper to spend than not to spend.

NORTH TEXAS' FLOOD PROBLEM.

The only answer to the high waters which are harassing Fort Worth, Dallas and other North Texas towns this week is a sectional program of flood control. The two chief cities involved might forget their differences, for once, and get together on some program that will remove the annual menace to life and property.

Dayton, Ohio, learned her lesson several years ago, and decided that the tuition she had paid, in life and property, was too high not to put the lesson to good use. Accordingly, that city is spending about $40,000,000 to make herself safe from high waters.

Dallas, Fort Worth and the numerous smaller communities sooner or later must come to the same solution.

Liberty bonds are getting higher—so is liberty.

THERE'S HOPE FOR US YET.

The fact that Leopold Godowsky, eminent pianist, was greeted by a house packed with appreciative music-lovers, for his appearance here Tuesday night, is of cheerful significance. Godowsky is not enough of a celebrity to attract the merely curious, and those who paid to hear him play were in most instances prompted by the desire to hear a really great artist for the sake of his art.

The cheerfulness of that view lies, not in the fact that Wichita Falls shows due appreciation of good music, but in the fact that she shows more appreciation than she used to. This city has never been nearly the musical center that smaller communities have been, and those ardent spirits who wanted the world's best talent brought here have often suffered both in their enthusiasms and their pocket-books when they have experimented in such matters.

The turn-out for Mr. Godowsky indicates that as a community we are losing a little, at least, of our lowbrowness.

THE SCHOOL EXHIBITS.

Every Wichitan who can do so ought to attend the school exhibits to be held Friday afternoon in the several buildings. It will be a revelation to those who have not kept close tab on the schools and their work, and it will be worth seeing.

Exhibits of that kind are not the real measure of the work of the schools; the true test of the value of a school system is the character of the young men and women it turns out. But rightly trained hands and minds make character-building more easy, and the exhibits will show you in what ways the hands and minds of your children are being trained.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE END OF THINGS.

There are those who dread to face old age. I am not one of them. To me, the end of my days is something to look forward to with distilled pleasure.

There is so much of beauty in the end of things.

I am a lover of art. And I am reminded of the titles of so many of my treasured pictures. Here are some of them as they come to me from the framed friends throughout my home: "Twilight," "Evening," "The End of the Day," "Sunset," "Autumn," "Moonrise," "The Falling Leaves."

There is to the end of things a satisfying sense of completeness.

He only need fear the end of things who has not done—or at least attempted to do—his best.

And he who never thinks of the end of things, as of himself, waters his soul with the drink of eternity.

How many a man has come to the end of his strength in the midst of great achievement, only to utter: "So much yet to do!"

The wisest of us all sleep in ignorance.

The simplest truths and facts of science are just beginning to be opened up to us. Though for thousands of years they have been as close to us as the air we breathe.

H. G. Wells, who recently visited America, left with a drooping head. To him it looks as though New York City is doomed—that its decay has already set in. And this seems to be the way he looked at much in the entire world.

But this evening I walked out into my yard and stood, thinking, on a rock that is probably much older than any so-called civilization on the earth.

There is really no end anywhere. What dies is but a phase of some newer and beter development.

JUST FOLKS —By— Edgar A. Guest

THE OLD-TIME LILAC BUSH.

A lilac bush is a lovely thing
Wherever it blossoms in early Spring.
But I have a tenderer regard
For the old time bush in an old time yard,
With the house near-by and the youngsters flown,
And the old folks living there all alone,
For always I fancy I can see
The visions that cling to the lilac tree.

The house still stands, but the walls are still,
And the storms have battered each window sill;
There's a tired, worn look on the humble place
Like the weary look on the mother's face,
Yet somehow or other I seem to know
That joy reigned here in the long ago,
And somehow or other I seem to see
The dreams which cling to the lilac tree.

Time was those feeble hands were strong
And the faltering footsteps danced along;
Time was youth romped in that lonely place,
But never the years will halt their pace,
And the young must go, but the old will cling
To the home they've loved to the final Spring,
For they hear the laughter that used to be,
When the bloom comes back to the lilac tree.

A lilac bush is a lovely thing
Whenever it blossoms in early Spring,
But, bent with age and the smiles and tears
Which come to all with the passing years,
It seems to me that it wears the glow
Of the golden days of the long ago,
For all that remains of the youth long gone
Is the lilac tree still blossoming on.

Prevention of Gout

By DR. R. H. BISHOP

Inactivity and approaching old age find many men unprepared. When a vigorous, red blooded man who has always been very active and busy suddenly retires, and begins a more or less inactive life, he must begin also to watch his health habits.

Active men usually can eat heartily and somewhat carelessly because the exercise which they get daily enables their bodies to throw off their burden of poisons. Inactivity suddenly changes the whole routine.

The man who has been used to high living while active forgets that he cannot keep up such habits when he retires. Hence there is a lack of equilibrium which sooner or later shows itself as gout, rheumatism, or obesity.

Gout is characterized by sudden and painful inflammation of the small joints, particularly those of the great toe, accompanied by a deposit of poisonous material called sodium urate.

Such a deposit proves that the blood is overloaded with such matter and usually means that the liver does not make it ready for elimination by the kidneys, or that the kidneys are not functioning properly.

The excess comes from high living coupled with insufficient exercise. The attacks of gout usually come on at night and pass away with the return of day.

The joint is swollen, the skin darker than usual, and exceedingly tender. Sometimes, bronchitis, asthma, and indigestion of various kinds attend the attacks.

The treatment of the attacks consists in applying warm and moist bandages snugly, having absolute quiet and taking anodynes, such as morphine, atropine or colchicum. These remedies are only to be administered under the physician's direction, however.

Between attacks, the patient should become, if possible, more active out of doors. Most gouty patients however, will not do this and so must be compelled to bring about increased elimination, by means of mineral waters, vapors baths and massages.

Bughouse Fables

Texas Viewpoints

Amarillo Tribune: Pictures made by Fatty Arbuckle have been barred by the new director of the motion picture industry, former Postmaster General Hays, notwithstanding his acquittal on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, an actress in San Francisco. Whether the jury acted in keeping with the law and facts in the case seems to have not been considered by Mr. Hays in arriving at his decision. The evidence against Arbuckle was far from convincing in many respects so far as any intentional guilt, but he stands convicted of an offense against the rules of common decency at the bar of public opinion. If Arbuckle is allowed to go unwhipped of justice for his moral offense, what lesson are we to gain from it? Is it the right sort of an example to hold up before the young people of America to allow him to go ahead and capitalize his shame and recoup his financial fortune? If Mr. Hays can instil in the motion picture industry a higher appreciation of clean living off the lot as well as the filming of clean plays on the lot he will have performed a far greater service to his country than would have been possible in the cabinet of President Harding. As an influence on the life of the nation, motion pictures are far more important than the kind of service rendered by the postoffice department, although at times there is some slight provocation to the use of unpolite language in the service rendered by the postal department. At any rate, Mr. Hays is to be commended for his display of backbone in the first big case that has been put up to him in his new job.

Denison Herald: With the announcement by the secretary of the treasury that the nation faces a shortage of almost one-half billion dollars revenue for the fiscal year, 1921, the question arises as to how that deficit can be met. Mr. Mellon includes in his revenues two hundred million dollars of interest on loans to Great Britain. This has not been received, may not be received, and can hardly be included in the revenue available. The deficit may exceed a half billion. Income taxes are too high now. The deficit cannot be made up by increasing the income tax. So high are the surtaxes and taxes on large incomes that that money is being driven out of the regular investment fields and is being invested in non-taxable securities. Such investments are of no benefit to the treasury department. Just when investments in private and semi-public projects are needed, talk of increased income taxes would be disastrous. Nuisance taxes and so-called luxury taxes are, if not the most unpopular, very unpopular. A general return to such taxation cannot be thought of. The third source of taxation, sales tax, is not popular. The claim that it puts the burden on the wage earner and the small salaried man is to a great extent justifiable. A one per cent sales tax, which the manufacturer and retailer would not take advantage of, would be just the thing for the emergency. The sales tax would not throw men out of work; it would not "freese" the markets; it would not be felt by the consumer, if the manufacturer and retailer would not take advantage of the situation.

Waco Times-Herald: Occasionally some brother gets up in the meeting—likely as not in the congress at Washington—to say that the transaction at Appomattox court house destroyed forever the doctrine of state sovereignty insofar as we here in America are concerned. We are not prepared to accept this conclusion, although it must be confessed that those who consider the states as merely outlying provinces of the Washington government are in the saddle the greater part of the time. The southern states quit the American union. The government of the Confederate states was in existence when Mr. Lincoln came to the presidency of the United States. What was called the "relief squadron," with eleven ships, carrying 285 guns, was sent out from New York and Norfolk, with orders from President Lincoln to reenforce Fort Sumter, near Charleston, South Carolina. General Beauregard of the Confederate States army, knowing of the approach of the squadron, demanded of the federal officers the evacuation of the fort, and the demand being refused, he opened fire on Sumter. A four year war ensued. The Southern Commonwealths lost; they reentered the union. But did the failure of the southern states to maintain a government of their own change the character of the union which they had helped to create? We do not think so. The southern states quit the union; the southern states came back to the union; how could that in and of itself change the character of the union? Wasn't it the same union after Appommattox as before? True, certain amendments to the constitution made a slight alteration, but these did not destroy the sovereignty of the individual state, the supreme court declaring ours to be "an indissoluble union of indestructible states." And that's all that Appomattox stands for; repeat it: "An indissoluble union of indestructible states." True, again, the congress is constantly enlarging its powers at the expense of the states—that's the universal tendency of power; to grab all in sight and then grab for more. But this is in defiance of that clause of the constitution which says that "the powers not delegated"—delegated by the indestructible states — "to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively or to the people." If the general government be one of delegated authority, how was it possible to change that fact at Appomattox court house? As says Alexander H. Stephens, "the states made the constitution. The federal government has no inherent power whatever. It has no power except what is delegated to it by the sovereign states." And consequently what took place at Appomattox court house bore no sort of relation to the character of the union—"an indissoluble union of indestructible states," and that is all. Jefferson Davvis expressed it another way when he said: "* * * so that crimination and recrimination may forever cease, and then, on the basis of fraternity and faithful regard for the rights of the states, there may be written on the arch of the union, esto perpetua."

Denton Record Chronicle: The Bonham Favorite seems to resent Mr. Ferguson's effort to "run the democratic party" of Texas and refers somewhat intensely to his revolt in 1920 against that party when he organized the American party and sought office under its aegis. Editor Spotts evidently has forgotten that Mr. Ferguson has "forgiven the democratic party" since the legislature ordered his picture hung in the capitol, and that, consequently, he feels he is entitled to a seat toward the head of the democratic table.

FIERY, ITCHY ECZEMA HEALED RIGHT UP BY APPLYING SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.—(Adv.)

Brilliant Play By Tris Speaker Fails Because Mates Can't Think Fast

Tris Speaker of the Cleveland Indians is a great manager.

Tris Speaker is an equally great outfielder, perhaps even more so.

Speaker uses his head in running his ball club and in playing the outfield.

Often the manager is called upon to resort to strategy in order to handle a certain situation. If the strategy goes over the manager is regarded as a wise guy.

In a recent game at Detroit Manager Speaker of the Cleveland club pulled a bit of outfield strategy that probably few other big league outfielders would have even attempted.

From Speaker's standpoint his strategic move worked perfectly. Some of the other Cleveland players, however, failed to think as rapidly as their manager and a play that would have snuffed out a rally, had it been properly completed, resulted in a serious injury to Second Baseman Wambsganns.

Here is a detailed account of the unusual happening. In the first inning of this game Cleveland made three runs and Detroit came back with two runs and had Veach on second, Blue on first and one out, with Fothergill at bat.

This was the setting when Fothergill hit a fly ball to short center field. Speaker got under the ball, while Blue and Veach held close to their bases. Then, instead of catching the ball, Speaker deftly trapped it.

With the same motion that he trapped the ball he threw it to Wambsganns at second. The base runners were at sea as to what to do. When Wamby received the ball Veach was standing on second, Blue on first, also Fothergill, who had hit the ball.

All Wamby needed to do to complete a double play was to run over and touch Veach, who was forced to advance, and then touch second, which would have forced Blue.

Instead Wamby, standing a few feet from second, hesitated a moment and then tossed the ball to Gardner, who was also some distance off third. Veach then made a break for that bag, and instead of a double play being completed no one had as yet been actually retired.

Finally, in the runup on Veach, the ball was tossed to Wamby while he was standing on second base, which forced Blue at that base. The runup on Veach continued. In the meantime Blue, who had been retired, dashed for second.

Wamby, noticing a runner coming into second, and possibly thinking it was Fothergill, who had hit the ball, jumped in front of the bag to touch the runner, who happened to be Blue, who had been retired perhaps 15 seconds before when Wamby accidentally hit the bag with his foot.

Blue slid into second very high, cutting two deep gashes in Wamby's leg. He will be fortunate if he isn't out for some time as a result of the mixup.

It was a most unusual play, in which the manager thought a bit too quickly for his teammates. It was a bit of strategy that instead of stopping a rally resulted in the loss of a valuable player.

CHICAGO, April 26.—Timely hitting by Grimes today enabled Chicago to defeat Pittsburgh 4 to 3 in ten innings. Grimes made three hits, driving in the first run and aiding in two more in the fifth which tied the score. Hollocher's single in the tenth paved the way for the final run, which came home on Grimes' third hit. Alexander settled down after the second inning and pitched a masterly game.

NEW YORK TEAMS BUMPED BY CLUBS FROM PHILADELPHIA

NEW YORK, April 27.—The Giants and Yankees were temporarily halted yesterday in the dash pennant-ward by both Philadelphia teams, the Quakers turning the tables after a series of emphatic trounces.

Connie Mack's Athletics broke the Yank's streak of seven straight, pulling the game out of the fire in the ninth when Sam Jones blew up, while the Philadelphians overcame the Giant's earlier lead.

The Giant's setback gave the Cubs an opportunity to crowd into a tie for the league leadership, Chicago beating the Pirates. Ray Grimes' three hits knocked in all of Chicago's tallies.

The Tigers won over the Browns by a shut out with Babe Cole in the box. As Cleveland also met defeat at the hands of the White Sox, chiefly as a result of its own misplays and Chicago's timely batting, the Yankees retained their margin over their nearest rivals.

Four Red Sox pitchers were pummelled by Washington for nineteen hits and fifteen runs, giving the Senators, who apparently are rounding into form, a clean sweep of the series.

Two Brooklyn recruits, Pitcher Vance and Catcher Hungling, were mainly responsible for the 10-1 trimming administered to Boston. Hungling knocked in six runs and scored two himself with a single, double and triple.

Eppa Rixey, Cincinnati's elongated southpaw, pitched the Reds to their second victory of the season, a 3-0 shut out over the St. Louis Cards.

SPORT SHOTS by Paul W. Barkin

Turn Bills Galore.

Guess the Panthers aren't the only club which will have a flock of double headers to play off this summer. The Spudders are just as many games behind.

Ready For Play Soon.

If present plans are carried through the Cats won't be as badly off as was thought at first. The Fort Worth management believes that the ball yard will be ready by the time the Salmites return to the Panther City. The Dallas field is not in as bad shape as the Fort Worth and the Spudders will play there before going to Fort Worth. While the Spudders are battling the Giants in Dallas the Cats go to Shreveport for four days. Hence, many games won't be lost.

Beaumont.

And still the Exporters climb! A fan asked the writer yesterday what Joe Mathes had in Beaumont—an outfit of sluggers or a good hurling staff. Judging from the box scores to date, it would appear that there is a combination of both.

Do Figures Lie?

According to the standing of the Texas league, the Exporters are really a half a game ahead of the Spudders, yet the percentage column shows them 13 points behind. They have won two more than the Salmites and lost only one more. Dope it out!

Watch for the Axe.

The Texas league will have to cut down to its limit of 16 men on May 1—in less than a week. There is no rookie rule this year nor is the manager included among the 16 unless he be a playing manager. It looks as if Walter Salm would carry four outfielders, four infielders, two catchers, a utility man and five hurlers. At present he has six infielders—Beck, White, Adams, McDonald, Sorey and Tanner. One of these is due for the axe. He also has eight hurlers—Bowman, Ruth, Darrough, Ramsey, Knadler, Mokan, Newkirk and Clancy. At least three of these are doomed and if Walter receives anything from Pittsburgh a couple more may go. Maybe the club will be as hard to recognize when it returns as it was when it took the field here when the season opened.

Plenty of Errors.

When the Spudders and Gassers get together (It's to be hoped that they do some time this week) it will be the 'Salmites' first skirmish on foreign territory this year. They haven't seen a diamond except at Athletic park—not even during the spring training. Numerous "boots" can be expected. They didn't even see the Fort Worth diamond on their way through. There wasn't such animal.

A Great Sport Town.

Wonder if there's a city of 40,000 as wild over baseball as Wichita Falls. When the franchise was first brought here it was only natural that the fans would go "nuts" over the game. But it was predicted then by some of the "wise ones" that when the floating population left, all interest would cease. Yet this year, the third, a scoreboard will show the detailed play of the Spudder games while the club is on the road while Carl Stoecker now comes forth with the information that a detailed account of the game will be megaphoned on Ohio avenue. The Times will also megaphone the results on Scott avenue as it did last season. Incidentally, the bugs can hardly wait for The Times Sport Final to read the detailed account of the game as well as all Texas and major league scores and late sport news. If there ever was a sport town, Wichita Falls is it!

Looks Like Houston.

The name of the city which had the largest opening day crowd will be announced by President Doak Roberts of the Texas league this week. The Houston crowd has been estimated at a little better than 5,000. This is a newspaper estimate, but newspaper estimates of crowds at baseball games are usually fairly accurate. This is the largest estimate that has been made in any city. Wichita Falls' crowd is estimated between 4,100 and 4,400. Shreveport can hardly expect to grab Doak's silverware this year as it did last. Its position in the race will count heavily against it while the weather isn't any too favorable.

St. Louis Park Too Small.

St. Louis crowds have turned out in such large numbers this season to see the Cards in action that there is general cry there to enlarge the baseball park. Sunday overflows are regular occurrences.

Klem Panned.

Bill Klem is the arbiter who parked all the Cubs recently, not Paul Sentell. Klem is being severely censured by Windy City scribes for his action, the inference being that such moves tend to take the "pep" out of the ball players and that when the players lose their enthusiasm the fans do. The fans like plenty of action and enjoy seeing the players threaten to kill each other. They know that the threats are seldom carried out. Take the verbal shots out of the games and the fans will spend a dull afternoon.

CY YOUNG'S RECORD LIKELY TO STAND

Johnson Only Hurler Who Has a Chance to Equal Mark of 858 Major Games.

There are few established records in big league baseball that possibly will remain forever. Seemingly, there isn't the remotest chance of ever duplicating or surpassing the record of pitching 858 games of major league baseball.

Denton T. Young, better known as "Cy," during his career of 22 seasons in the big show, pitched 858 games and there isn't a pitcher in the game or out of the game that came within 200 of this mark. With the remarkable record of Cy Young's is the side feature of winning 511 out of that number of games pitched.

Walter Johnson is the only hurler in the game today who has the slightest chance of touching that mark. Young was 44 years old when he pitched his last game in 1911. Walter Johnson is nearing his thirty-fifth birthday. In his 15 seasons' work in the American league the big hurler has pitched 586 games, an average of 38 per season. If the boy from Coffeyville, Kan., lasts in the game until he is 42 and pitches 22 games per season he will shade the record of Cy Young, which is a possibility, even though a remote one.

Few hurlers in the history of the game have pitched 500 games during their career in the major leagues. Of the oldtimers one can mention the names of Jimmy Galvin, Tony Mullins, Charlie Radbourne, Tim Keefe, John G. Clarkson, and each of these noted ones have won 300 or more out of the not less than 500 or more than 600 games they pitched in the major leagues during their respective careers.

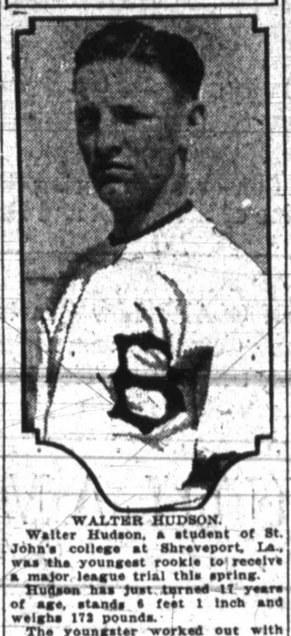
Matthewson Ranks Second.

Christy Matthewson participated in 627 games during his 16 seasons' work for the New York club which is the next best record to Young's, and Matty, with 371 victories, is the greatest winner of games outside of Cy Young, for all time back and up to the present time. Walter Johnson's record is third best.

Eddie Plank pitched 580 games during his seasons in the big show, which is going some for a southpaw. Out of the number Plank won 314 games or a percentage of .631 in games won. Charlie Nichols, better known as "Kid" Nichols, pitched 559 games in 14 seasons in the National league, winning 356 of them. Nichols has a record of pitching 800 games during his career as a major and minor league hurler. It is recorded that he won 500 of these, which is remarkable, for Nichols pitched in the strongest of minor leagues.

The names of such notables as Billy Hart, Joe McGinnity and Theodore Breitenstein can be mentioned as pitching many games and lasting 20 or more seasons in the pitching game, but these lads worked less than 13 seasons in the major leagues. Joe McGinnity pitched over 700 games during his career of 25 seasons, but only 16 of the years that McGinnity pitched were spent in the big leagues. Then there was "Long Tom" Hughes, who pitched ball when Babe Ruth, Rogers Hornsby and even Ty Cobb were paddling about in knickerbockers. Hughes pitched ball for over 20 years, and half that period was spent in the major leagues.

BOY WONDER



WALTER HUDSON.

Walter Hudson, a student of St. John's college at Shreveport, La., was the youngest rookie to receive a major league trial this spring.

Hudson has just turned 17 years of age, stands 6 feet 1 inch and weighs 172 pounds.

The youngster worked out with the Boston Braves at St. Petersburg, Fla. He has returned to his college and will finish his course. If he decides to turn professional he will join the Boston club.

Dick Rudolph, the veteran Boston coach, says he looks like a second edition of Waite Hoyt.

TEXAS LEAGUE HAS RULES OF ITS OWN

President Roberts Has Ideas Which He Means to Enforce This Year.

Among the new ideas of Doak Roberts relative to the running of the Texas league this year are found the following:

The infield fly on which base runners have advanced at their own risk under the ruling in force in the Texas loop for several seasons, will be dead this year and no bases can be run. The fly will be judged infield or outfield by the umpire, where doubt exists, according to whether the infielder handling the ball faces in or out.

Where ground rules are necessary in the league this year, owing to the overflow crowds, a ball hit into the crowd or beyond the barrier will count for two bases whether it falls safe or is caught if the fielder goes into the crowd after the ball or leans over the barrier.

Where a time limit has been set on a game to permit a team to catch a train this year, the umpire will not allow a new inning to start after even innings have been completed, if his watch records within ten minutes of the dead line.

Players who have been wont to express their disapproval of umpire decisions to the stands by hurling their bats, gloves, caps or the balls on the ground can continue to do so this year, but the rivilege will nick them just ten beans per expression of disapproval.

PANTHER GAMES MAY BE PLAYED HERE MAY 6-7TH

During the course of a long distance phone conversation, Thursday between President R. O. Harvey and Manager Walter Salm of the Spudders, the latter intimated that there was a possibility of transferring at least two of the games scheduled between the Panthers and Spudders, to be played in Fort Worth May 4, 5, 6 and 7, to Wichita Falls.

The rodeo management has contracted for Athletic park May 5, 6 and 7, and the Spudder skipper stated that in the event of Panther park being unfit for play when the Spudders arrived there, the games schedule for May 5 and 7 would be played here.

The Fort Worth management, however, is leaving no stone unturned to get the field in shape and if there's a possible chance, the games will be played there. But according to late reports there is only a slight chance that the field will be ready.

Salm did not give any inkling as to which players would be turned loose by May 1, the date set for Texas league clubs to cut down to the 16 player limit, but per latest rumors are floating around Wichita Falls to the effect that Bob Bescher will be among those to go. Walter stated some time ago that Bob would be kept, but his showing thus far this season has not come up to expectations and the boss may have undergone a change of heart.

Bescher reported late and up until the time the club left for foreign territory he was far from in the proper condition. The Spudders are well fortified in the outfield with Miller, O'Brien and Summa, and Salm could easily afford to let an outfielder go and keep a good hurler. Bescher's performances this season have been very unsatisfactory. He may come around in due time, but regardless of that fact the Spudders need hurlers more than outfielders.

President Harvey, who does not interfere with the managing of the club in any manner, stated that Walter has never expressed himself as to whom he would keep or turn loose. Salm has a free rein, as all managers should, and if he knows yet which man will stick he is not committing himself.

Salm also stated during his conversation with Harvey that there was only an outside chance of playing Thursday's game with the Gabbers.

60 OF 87 METERS FOUND TO BE FAST, MANY HOUSE LEAKS

Out of a total of 87 gas meters tested so far by the city sanitary department, 60, or more than two-thirds, were found to be more than two per cent fast. A total of 72 were fast, but 15 were speedy less than the two per cent allowed by law. One meter was found accurate and six were found slow.

Ten of the fast meters were more than ten per cent fast, and one was over 20 per cent.

Inspectors found that in 35 cases consumers had "house leaks" that were running up the bills. In every case of this kind, the consumer is being urged to repair the leak at once, owing to the serious danger of fire. However, the discovery of leaks does not affect the settlement with the gas company where meters are found to be fast.

Five water meters were inspected, but only one was too fast. Several house leaks were discovered in these inspections also.

The White Desert

CHAPTER VI

The woman in the buggy was holding forth her hands to him and he assisted her to the ground.

"Well," she asked, in a sudden yawning manner, "aren't you going to kiss me?"

"Of course." He took her in his arms. "I—I was so surprised, Agnes. I never thought of you——"

"Naturally you didn't." It was Thayer again. "That's why I sent for her. Thought you'd get your memory back when——"

"I've had my memory for long enough——" Houston had turned upon him coldly—"to know that from now on I'll run this place. You're through."

Three hours later, the last of the men paid off, Barry Houston approached the door of Ba'tiste's cabin. Barry raised his hand to knock—and halted. His name had been mentioned angrily; then again——

"I don't know what it is, Ba'tiste. Fred wouldn't tell me, except that it was something too horrible for me to know. I can't be pleasant to him when I feel this way."

She ceased. Houston had knocked on the door. A second later, he entered the cabin, to return Medaine Robinette's cool but polite greeting.

"I'm afraid I've stayed longer than I intended," she apologized. "It's late. Good night."

Then she was gone. Houston looked at Ba'tiste, but the old French-Canadian merely waved a big hand.

"Woman," he said airily, "peuff! Eet is nothing. Eet will pass. Now, what mus' Ba'teese do?"

"At the mill? I wish you'd guard it for me. I'm going to Denver on the morning train to hire a new crew."

"Ah, oui. It shall be."

The next evening brought Barry to Denver, and the three days which followed carried with them the sweaty smell of the employment offices and the gathering of a new crew. Then, tired, anxious with an eagerness that he never before had known, he turned back to the hills.

With his rough-faced men about him, Houston reached Tabernacle, and started the journey to the mill.

Into the canon and to the last rise. Then a figure showed before him, a gigantic form, running and tumbling through the underbrush at one side of the road, a dog bounding beside him. It was Ba'tiste, excited, red-faced, his arms waving like windmills, his voice booming even from a distance:

"M'sieu Houston! M'sieu Houston! Ba'teese have fail! Ba'teese no good! He watch for you—he is glad you come! Ba'teese ashamed! Ashame'!"

They had reached the top of the rise. Below them lay something which caused Barry Houston to leap to his feet unmindful of the jolting wagon, to stand waving with white-tipped hands, to stare with suddenly deadened eyes——

Upon a blackened, smoldering mass of charred timbers and twisted machinery. The remainder of all that once had been his mill!

CHAPTER VII

"Eet was my fault!" The French-Canadian still stared at the ruins. "Eet is all Ba'teese' fault——"

"I thought you were my friend, Ba'tiste."

"Sacre! I am."

"Then show it! I've got about fifteen thousand in the bank. There's enough lumber around here to build a new shed, and money to buy a few saws. And I need help—I won't be able to move without you. But——"

"Oui!"

"But," and Barry smiled at him, "if you ever mention any responsibility for this thing again—you're fired. Do we understand each other?"

The next morning Barry went to Denver, and in a week returned to Tabernacle, thence across country to camp.

He found no Ba'tiste, but there was something else which held Houston's interest for a moment and which stopped him, staring wonderingly into the distance. A new skidway had made its appearance on the side of the jutting mountain nearest the dam. Logs were tumbling downward in slow, but steady succession, to disappear, then to show themselves, bobbing jerkily outward toward the center of the lake. A thunderous voice was booming belligerently from the distance:

"You lie—un'stan? Ba'teese say you lie—if you no like eet, jus'—what-you-say—climb up me! Un'stan' I climb up me!"

Houston broke into a run, racing along the flume with constantly increasing speed as he heard outburst after outburst from the giant trapper, interjected by the lesser sounds of argumentative voices in reply. Faintly he heard a woman's voice, then Ba'tiste's in sudden command:

"Go on—you no belong here. Ba'teese, he handle this. Go 'long!"

Houston, at last made the turn of the road as it followed the flume, and saw the broad back of the Canadian, squared as he was, half across the road. Facing him were five men with shovels and hammers, workmen of the Blackburn camp. Houston looked more closely, then gasped. It was another flume; they were making a connection with his own.

"What's this mean?" he demanded angrily.

The foreman looked up caustically. "I've told you about ten time," he answered, addressing himself to Ba'tiste. "We're building a connection on our flume."

"Our flume?" Houston gasped the words. "I own this flume and this lake and this flume site——"

"If your name's Houston, I guess you do," came the answer. "But if you can read and write, you ought to know that while you may own it, you don't use it. That's our privilege from now on, in cold black and white. As far as the law is concerned, this is our flume, and our water, and our lake, and our woods back there. And we're going to use all of 'em, as much as we please—and it's your business to stay out of our way!"

CHAPTER VIII

The statement took Houston off his feet for a moment; but recovery came just as quickly, a recoil with the red splotches of anger blazing before his eyes, the surge of hot blood sweeping through his veins, the heat of conflict in his brain. His good hand clenched. A leap and he had struck the foreman on the point of the chin, sending him reeling backward, while the other men rushed to his assistance.

"That's my answer to you!" shouted Houston.

"Run tell Thayer!" shouted the foreman, and then with recovering strength, he turned for a cant hook. But Ba'tiste seized it first.

Facing him were five men with shovels and hammers, workmen of the Black-Burn camp.

"Here comes somebody!" Ba'tiste's grip tightened about the cant hook and he rose, squaring himself. Houston seized the club and stood waiting a few feet in the rear, in readiness for anyone who might evade the bulwark of blows which Ba'tiste evidently intended to set up.

A moment more, and Ba'tiste, with a sudden exclamation, allowed his cant hook to drop to the ground.

"Eet is Thayer and Wade, the sheriff from Montview, and his deputy. Peuff! Have he fool heem, too?"

The sheriff pulled two legal documents from his pocket, and unfolding them, had shown Houston the bottom of each. Barry's eyes opened wide.

"That's—that's my signature," came at last.

"This one's the same, isn't it?" The second paper was shoved forward.

"Yes."

"Then I don't see what you're kicking about. Do you know anyone named Jenkins, who is a notary public?"

"Yes."

"Then look 'em over. If that isn't a lease to the lake and flume and flume site, and if the second one isn't a contract for stumpage at a dollar and a half a thousand feet—well, then, I can't read.

"But I'm telling you that I didn't give it to them." Houston had reached for the papers with a trembling hand. "I don't remember——"

"Didn't I tell you?" Thayer had turned on the sheriff. "There he goes pulling that loss of memory stunt again. That's one of his best little bets," he added sneering, "to lose his memory."

"I've never lost it yet!"

"No—then you can forget things awfully easy. Such as coming out here and pretending not to know who you were. You can't even remember the night you murdered your own cousin, can you?"

"That's a——"

"See, sheriff? His memory's bad." All the malice and hate of pent-up enmity was in Fred Thayer's voice now. One gnarled hand went forward in accusation. "He can't even remember how he killed his own cousin. But if he can't, I can. Ask him about the time when he slipped that mallet in his pocket at a prize fight and then went out with his cousin. Ask him what became of Tom Langdon after they left that prize fight. He won't be able to tell you, of course. He loses his memory; all he will be able to remember is that his father spent a lot of money and hired some good lawyers and got him out of it. He won't be able to tell you a thing about how his own cousin was found with his skull crushed in, and the bloody wooden mallet lying beside him—the mallet that this fellow had stolen the night before as a prize fight! He won't——"

How the Process of Ironization Makes Yeast Doubly Effective

While Science admits that yeast is of wonderful value in building flesh, clearing the skin, and increasing energy, it is found that yeast alone is not enough to bring 100 per cent results. For while yeast contains certain vital elements—lacking in diet, yet essential to health—experiments prove that some other agent is needed in order to quickly CONVERT these important yeast elements into new firm tissue, energy and health.

Everyone knows the great value of iron in changing our food into living cells. So working on this problem, our scientists finally discovered the amazing process of ironization—the scientific process which enables you to derive from yeast ALL of the wonderful benefits it holds for you.

The Only Yeast that is Genuinely Ironized

This remarkable process of ironization is embodied ONLY in IRONIZED YEAST, the one scientifically correct yeast treatment. IRONIZED YEAST is superior, therefore it is widely imitated. You are cautioned against accepting cheap inferior imitations, which in most cases are merely mixtures of ordinary yeast and iron. Always insist upon the genuine IRONIZED YEAST. It is the only way you can be sure of getting the best.

A 10-Shave Tube

At Your Own Store.

A few years ago we decided to make a Shaving Cream and to have it embody—like our famous toilet soap—a blend of palm and olive oils.

Our first step was to ask a thousand men the qualities they wanted in it. And these were their requirements:

1—A Quick Shave
2—Liberal Lather
3—Lasting Lather
4—Soothing Effects

They wanted results complete and abundant, without hot towels, finger rubbing or delay.

Multiplies itself 250 times

The soap multiplies itself in lather 250 times. A tiny bit—just one-half gram — suffices for a shave. There are 152 shaves in a 35-cent tube.

Acts in one minute

Within one minute the beard absorbs 15 per cent of water. And that makes a stiff beard wash-like. No hot towels, no finger rubbing necessary.

Maintains itself 10 minutes

The lather maintains its creamy fullness for ten minutes on the face. It does not dry quickly. It does not need replacing.

We Studied 18 Months

We are experts in soap making. Palmolive Soap—our creation—is the leading toilet soap of the world. But it took us 18 months to perfect this ideal shaving cream. We made up and tested 130 separate formulas. Thus, step by step we developed for you the best shaving cream in existence.

It embodies those four requirements—in a matchless way—as we picture at the side.

Now we ask you to test it. Let a ten-shave test show you how it excels. It will lead you to a lifetime of delightful shaves.

Present the coupon to any store listed below and he will give you a trial tube.

Soothing after effects

The palm and olive oil blend makes the soap a lotion. It leaves the skin soft and velvety. It allays all irritation.

WORK OF SCHOOLS TO PASS IN REVIEW FRIDAY AFTERNOON

EACH BUILDING TO HAVE DISPLAY SHOWING WHAT PUPILS ARE DOING.

EVERY STUDY COURSE TO BE REPRESENTED

Larger Crowds Than Ever Before Expected to Attend Various Exhibits.

When the nine local public schools of the Wichita Falls educational system open their doors Friday afternoon to their patrons and friends on the occasion of the annual school exhibit, the concrete evidence of a year's work in the various departments will be presented to more people than gather to attend any other variety of entertainment during the year.

Each school is expecting a record crowd of visitors, partly because of the fact that, instead of presenting all of the exhibits in the high school, each community will have its own gathering place in the ward school of that community. This will allow far greater scope for the exhibits, and every study course followed in the schools will be represented in the various rooms by work of the pupils. In each school the teacher in each grade will have charge of the exhibit of that grade, with the exception of departmental work, which will be in charge of the members of the departments.

The general character of the ward school exhibits will be the same. In the primary grades there will be sand table, desk and table problems, such as the Maypole dance, Japanese, farm and Dutch scenes worked out by the little folks. Little language, reading, health, geography and spelling booklets will set forth the character of work done along these lines. In the elementary grades, toys, clay modeling, construction baskets, books, candle shades, etc., will be on display, all made by the children. In all grades there will be attractive exhibits of papers, notebooks and problems in the various grades.

The Art Work.

The art exhibits in junior and senior high will naturally attract greater crowds, including the manual, domestic and fine arts sections. The work done by the local advanced pupils is said to be especially good, and many beautiful and practical problems have been worked out for the exhibits. The schools are especially proud of this class of work, demonstrating as it does, the big step toward practical training the school systems have made during the past decade.

Several of the schools will give definite programs, one or two informal entertainments during the exhibit hours—which are from 2 to 7 p. m.—and one or two will not have any set program at all. The "order of events" at each will be about as follows:

High School Program.

At the high school a musical and reading program will be given from 3 to 4 o'clock by the members of the public speaking and music departments as follows:

Music, "Zamba" (Herold)—High school orchestra.

Address, "The Value of School Exhibits"—Joe Bashara.

"Clang of the Forge" (Rodney)—Boys' Glee club.

"Fairy Belle" (Day), reading—Miss Vaughn Buchanan.

Dialect interpretations — Edward Kadane.

"Goodnight, Goodnight, Beloved" (Pinsuti), and "Moonlit Meadows" (Czibulka)—Girls' Glee club.

Alamo School.

During the afternoon a chorus of 300 voices from the primary grades, under the direction of Miss Violet Davis, will render a selection or two, and another chorus of half a hundred selected voices from the intermediate grades will give another group. On account of the rain several numbers, including a beautiful Maypole dance, have had to be called off.

Austin School.

At the Austin school, beginning at 3 o'clock the following program will be rendered, the little folks in costume for the folks dances and several other of the group selections:

Violin solo, Miss Harriett Bradley, "Canzonetta."

Music, orchestra.

Chorus, high third grade children.

Folk dance, high first grade children.

Violin solo, Miss Thelma Fisher, "Elegy in F."

Piano solo, "Il Trovatore" selection, Miss Vivian Ross.

Folk dance, high second grade children.

Chorus, high fourth grade children.

Violin solo, Miss Belle Hatchett.

The program will be closed by a pretty group of folk dances, songs, and games by the tiny little folks of the second grade.

Sam Houston Program.

At the Sam Houston school the following program will begin at 2 o'clock, with the children in costume for many of the numbers:

"A Farmer's Song," first graders. Folk dance, second graders.

Song, "Solitude," fifth graders.

Piano solo, Miss Lorene Tucker.

Folk dance, "The Shoemakers' Dance," high first and low second grad children.

"See Saw Song," high third and low fourth children.

Reading, Miss Jewel Harkins.

Piano duet, Misses Mabel Hutson and Hazel Hobbs.

"Tick Tock Song," second graders.

Norwegian folk game, third graders.

"Billy Bob-Tail" (dramatized), high first and low second children.

Hoop drill, fifth graders.

Violin solo, Miss Lily Blaner.

"Wild Roses," third graders.

"A dance of Greeting," first graders.

"Baseball Song," fifth graders.

"A Surprise," first graders.

Movie at Barwise.

A two-reel free movie will feature the Barwise school exhibit, the program beginning at 3 o'clock promptly. The reels will include "What Uncle Sam Can Do For Two Cents," and "Animal Antics," both excellent and entertaining movies. Light refreshments will be served by the Girl Reserves.

Other Wards.

At the Travis school an informal program of musical selections, with talks by the students, will feature, with a girls' debate and a boys' debate and a reading, "The House By the Side of the Road," by Miss Hallie Taylor.

The San Jacinto teachers will be treated to a dinner served by the Mothers club of that community at noon. There will be no formal program, but a very attractive exhibit has been arranged.

At the Fannin school no program has been arranged, but the teachers and their assistants will explain and present the exhibits.

CHILDREN MURDERED

Elizabeth Mathis, 8, and her brothers, William, 8, (left), and Horace, 6 (right.)

By NEA Service.

HOUSTON, TEXAS, April 27.—Y. S. Mathis, 65, grandfather of the three Mathis children found dead in their beds here with four open gas jets in the room, is being held by police.

The children were Elizabeth 8, William, 8, and Horace, 6.

The grandfather denies any knowledge of the crime.

"I am innocent. I want to be released so I can help run down the murderers," he says.

Police have been conferring frequently with the mother of the children, who was not at home when the tragedy occurred but who reached Houston 24 hours later.

With the aid of three small children, officials re-enacted the killing in the presence of Mathis. He averted his head each time the children came within the range of his vision.

Officials declare that if he had been asleep at the time of the crime, as he says, the gas fumes would have killed him, as the door between his room and that occupied by the children was found ajar.

LOCAL TEAMSTER ENDS LIFE WITH DRINK OF POISON

Walter Wright, a teamster living at 307 Walnut street, committed suicide Thursday morning about 11 o'clock by drinking carbolic acid. No reason was given for the act either by his family or the police.

Wright had several times threatened to take his life and purchased a bottle of carbolic acid Wednesday. In view of his previous threats, his family paid no attention to him Thursday when he went to his room early in the morning and locked himself in. When he failed to appear by 1 o'clock, however, his daughter became suspicious and with the aid of neighbors forced the door and found him dead.

He was about 58 years old and is survived by his widow, a daughter and a son.

TWO ARE INJURED IN AN ACCIDENT ON STEAMSHIP

POINT PLEASANT, April 27.—Two people were injured aboard the Island Queen, one of the flotilla of river boats carrying visitors to the Grant celebration when the forward portion of the third deck crashed as the steamer was passing New Richmond.

Only a timely half minute's warning after the first crash in which the deck sank about a foot before it completely gave away probably prevented a serious catastrophe. Immediately under the destroyed deck was the Manchester school band of 52 pieces. The few seconds' warning permitted them to escape before the deck crashed, smashing the chairs on which they had been seated.

The injured were: Richard Armstrong, Bethel, Ohio, arm broken, and Lieutenant Eugene Wetherly of the Cincinnati police department, cut by glass.

Many women became hysterical and fainted. There was no semblance of a panic, however.

President Harding was to have been a passenger on the Island Queen, but late last night he was switched to the government boat Cayuga, which leads the flotilla.

SHE'LL GO TO EUROPE IN SEARCH OF SECRET OF ETERNAL BEAUTY

MISS SADIE V. MAUSBY.

By ROY GIBBONS.

CHICAGO, April 24. — Eternal beauty.

Miss Sadie V. Mausby of this city, who holds the title of "human engineer," is soon to sail for Europe in search of a magic elixir said to have been discovered by foreign scientists, which changes old faces into new.

She will leave from New York some time in May under auspices of 20 millionaire eastern society leaders who have agreed to pay all expenses and give Miss Mausby a handsome premium as well should she return with secrets for making the potion.

For more than 15 years she has been remodeling the bodies and facial expressions of American women.

Irons Out the Lines.

By means of plastic surgery, and a process of duplicating the human face on a wax mask, she has succeeded in completely ironing the lines out of a tired woman shopper who must 'look her best" for an evening's function.

She looks upon her work much in the same manner as a bridge builder might regard a new railroad trestle.

"Beauty has become something more than just a superficial thing to be regarded simply as entertaining or pleasing," she says.

"Beautiful wives who stay young and pretty are absolute necessities these days as a means of keeping the home fires burning.

"My investigations in Europe will not in any manner be mystic or speculative. I shall pay court in my quest for beauty to the laboratories of European science, and make my plea not to sorcerers, but to reputable physicians in control of the serum.

Details Lacking.

"Details of the process are lacking in America. All that I have learned is that the serum is taken internally in capsule fashion, and that within a very short time rejuvenation sets in."

Miss Mausby's patients are scattered all over the country. She became interested in changing the construction and appearance of the body when doctors, 15 years ago, gave her up to die because she weighed 286 pounds and was gaining so rapidly that the excess tissues began affecting her heart.

"When they told me that," she says, "I gathered information from various medical and health sources which enabled me, by proper dieting and exercise, to throw off 108 pounds of weight.

Made Face Younger.

"After that I even successfully changed the appearance of my face and made it seem years younger, just as I have done for countless other women.

"I am positive that the time is not far off when we all, young and old, will be going out to the golf links at 100, and at 200 be as much in our prime as we were when in the flush of youth."

STORY HANDWRITING TELLS

Expert Reads Secrets Between the Lines

By ALBERT J. SMITH.

The right hand slope, about 70 degrees to the right of the perpendicular, is the normal slant of writing. Any deviation from this slope marks the tendency to abnormality, or the mental excitations of the over-developed faculties.

Ex-President William H. Taft writes the right slope normally. This assures us of his well-balanced mind, in the first place, and it also tells us he is affectionate, kindly, considerate and good-natured.

Taft writes the round hand. It denotes constructiveness and order. It also signifies strength, deliberation, clearness of conception, good judgment, coolness, steadiness, thoughtfulness and a practical, patient and resolute character.

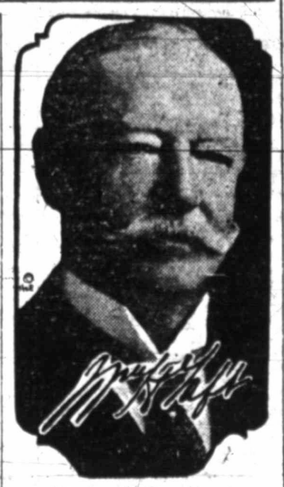
It is not unusual for talented persons to join the strokes in their signature with one continuous sweep of the pen. Taft lifted his pen once in making the capital "H," but otherwise the connections are continuous.

The graceful, original manner of his connections is what counts here; it denotes logical reasoning powers. It implies that he has a practical turn of mind, is instinctively careful and prudent, and does not make up his mind hastily on matters of importance.

That Taft is of jovial, happy, lighthearted disposition, probably full of fun and humor, is attested by the easy swing of his pen, the absence of heavy pressure, free from batentatious quips and curves suggesting a simplicity of effort in penning his name.

It is a beautiful nature—one so full of kindness and good will. Taft may have a judicial mind (the writing in this specimen does not reveal this faculty), but he would not be a very great success in the intricacies of business life. He is too conscientious.

The nature is more or less passive. He depends on his expansive judgment and strong reasoning powers for achievement in the world of commercialism.



WM. H. TAFT AND HIS SIGNATURE.

ROY CARTER HOLDINGS INCORPORATE $2,000,000 HAS MUCH PRODUCTION

Another big company will soon be added to the number in this district by Roy I. Carter, oil operator of this city, who left this week for New York City to secure papers of incorporation for the Roy I. Carter Oil company to be incorporated under the laws of Delaware with a capitalization of $2,000,000.

The company has holdings in Oklahoma, with production in the northwest, Burkburnett and Mexia fields. In the latter it has three producing wells, one on the sand to be drilled in this week and one drilling, all proven territory.

Mr. Carter will give personal attention to management of the new company.

COURTS TAKE A RECESS AT NOON ON THURSDAY

All the district courts and the county court at law took a recess at noon Thursday in respect to Judge George E. Miller, whose funeral was held at the First Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon. Judge Miller served on the bench of the 30th district court for eight years. Judge Wilson recessed court at Henrietta Wednesday evening.

SAYS SUGGESTION MADE IS A DEVICE TO JUSTIFY LOW WAGES OVER EAST

LAWRENCE, MASS., April 27.—Southern competition, advanced by New England cotton mill owners as the cause of the recent wage cut, is a device for justifying low wages in New England, President Thomas F. McMahon of the United Textile Workers of America asserted at a mass meeting of striking textile workers here today. He was replying to recent statements by Edward Farnham Green, treasurer of the Pacific Mills, that the textile industry in New England was in danger of disappearing because of the advantage enjoyed by southern mills.

"There is, as Mr. Green says, a tendency toward the manufacture of fine goods in the south," the labor leader said. "Why? It is because northern capital wants profit from southern child labor and long hours."

STEAMER HAS ACCIDENT GOING TO POINT PLEASANT

CINCINNATI, April 27.—It is reported here that a portion of the boiler deck of the Island Queen, one of the steamers in the flotilla conveying President Harding to Point Pleasant, had collapsed near New Richmond, Ohio. COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, April 27.—Reports of further heavy rains in the southwest and increasing danger of floods led to an opening advance of 8 to 11 points in the cotton market today, with active months selling 5 to 13 points net higher right after the call. The buying was encouraged by firmer late cables from Liverpool and reports of floods in Concordia parish, La., but there was considerable realising and some scattered southern selling which checked the advance around 17.75 for July and 17.78 for October.

A private report was issued pointing to an increase of only six per cent in acreage and indicating a late start with 35 per cent of the crop planted compared with a normal of 50 per cent. The crop and weather news failed to stipulate any general or aggressive buying, however, and the market eased as a result of realizing or selling for a reaction. July sold to 17.62 and October to 17.70, but May was offering less freely and an increase in the near months premium helped the tone of the general market around midday when price showed rallies of 5 or 6 points from the lowest.

There was continuance of scattering liquidation during the early afternoon accompanied by reports of a slightly easier spot basis in some parts of the south. July ruled around 17.55 and October 17.61 shortly after 2 o'clock or about 5 to 11 points net lower.

The cotton market closed steady.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., April 27.—More rain in the western and central portions of the belt, the break in the levee in the cotton sections of Louisiana and better cables than due caused a rise of 11 to 13 points in the early trading in cotton today, but after May touched 17.05 considerable realising came from the long side and at the end of the first half hour of business prices were 2 points down to 8 points up compared with yesterday's close. May fell back to 16.92.

A private bureau report, estimating the increase in the acreage this year at only six per cent, caused considerable comment, but failed to arouse little buying. The market continued to sag under unfavorable reports concerning development at the Genoa conference and at noon was 12 points under yesterday's final price with May off to 16.92.

While price changes were not wide in the afternoon an easy undertone was retained. At 1:30 o'clock the list stood at net decline of 4 to 17 points with May 16.77.

The cotton market closed steady 8 points down to 2 points up.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE

CHICAGO, April 27.—Net setbacks in wheat this morning. Profit taking together with favorable crop reports from the southwest caused the market to drop. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to 1¼ cents higher, with May $1.40 to $1.41 and July $1.24¾ to $1.25¾, was followed by declines all around to well below yesterday's finish.

Buying on the part of houses with seaboard connection caused an advance in prices near the end of the session today on the board of trade. It was current gossip that export sales had been of a liberal amount and that Germany was paying the best premiums of the season. The close was unsettled 8 to 1¾ points net higher, with May $1.41¾ to $1.41¾ and July $1.26 to $1.25¾.

Unfavorable weather gave firmness to corn and oats. After opening unchanged to ¼c lower, July 64, corn scored slight further gains.

Subsequently the seaboard sent word of good sized export sales of corn, while country offerings here were light. The close was firm ¼ to ⅜c net higher with July 64¼ to 64⅜.

Oats started unchanged to ⅛c off, July 29¾ to 29¾, and then rallied a little.

Provisions were weak with hogs.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 27.—Initial dealings in the stock market were characterized by further free selling of rails, oils, steels and utilities. Canadian Pacific lost 2¼ points in the first transaction, and Wabash, Mexican Petroleum, Bethlehem, Manhattan Elevated and Pierce Arrow lost 2 to 3 points. Other reactionary issues included Pan American Petroleum, American Tobacco, Wilson & Co. and American Ice. The market's stronger side was represented by New York Air Brake at a 6 point gain and Lake Erie and Western preferred, which advanced 11. Moderate unsettlement was shown by foreign exchanges over night on news from Genoa.

Professionals who experimented on the short side of the market found little support and redoubled their efforts, causing marked declines in all the important shares. In the liquidation of speculative shares was heavy. Equipments, dividend paying railroads, textiles, motors, oils and low priced railroads were sold at a rapid rate. American Radiator made an exceptional rise of 4¼ points.

The closing was heavy. Sales approximating 1,400,000 shares.

FATHER OF CHILD DENIES ALLEGATION IN WRIT PETITION

Clarence R. Cox of Petrolia, the father of the child for which a writ of habeas corpus was issued out of the 30th district court last Monday evening, in a communication to The Times denies some of the allegations in the petition for the writ.

The petition was brought by Lottie Taylor. The father of the child relates that there was a misunderstanding, that the baby was brought to him for a 30-day visit, and that four days later they came out after her claiming they had brought her for a short visit and not for thirty days.

He states in his letter that he did refuse to give up the child but denies that he voluntarily turned the baby over.

BOARD OBJECTS TO CUT IN SALARY OF PARK SUPERVISOR

A resolution protesting against the action of the city council in reducing the salary of J. E. Dobson, park superintendent, from $250 to $200 per month, was adopted at a meeting of the park board Thursday morning. R. O. Harvey, chairman of the board, presided.

The resolution sets forth that more has been accomplished by Mr. Dobson in his two years here than in all the years previous in the way of park improvement. Members of the board suggested that the care of the cemetery and the improvement of school grounds might be added to Mr. Dobson's present duties and his salary maintained at the existing, or a higher, figure.

It is understood that Mr. Dobson is unwilling to accept the reduction and that he has opportunities elsewhere that offer him as much as he is now getting.

MISCONDUCT OF JURY IS ALLEGED BY RALPH PARDY

Ralph Pardy, who was found guilty of the charge of selling whiskey in violation to the state laws and sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary, filed his motion for new trial Thursday in which he alleges misconduct on the part of the jury.

His contention as set up in the motion is that the jury stood six to six when some juror stated in the presence of the others that a whiskey ring existed in Wichita Falls and that it was time that it was broken up. After several ballots were cast after this had been said, the appellee alleges that the jury voted for conviction.

Exception to the court's charges are also taken in the motion. It has been set down for hearing for next Saturday morning and all jurors have been subpoenaed.

RELIEF SIGHTED WHEN SKY BEGINS CLEARING IN SOUTH

DENVER BRIDGE INTO FORT WORTH IS INTACT DESPITE REPORTS WEDNESDAY.

VALLEY ROAD DAMAGED MORE THAN ANY OTHER

All Trains Have Been Annulled Between Stamford and Abilene.

Relief from the continuous showers since last Saturday night was sighted Thursday morning when the agent at Abilene reported that the skies were clearing. At 9:30 o'clock he stated that Abilene had been a bright sun the first time in four days.

No rain fell in this city and vicinity during the night, but the showers of Wednesday afternoon and morning produced another half inch of water, according to actual measurements.

On the north end of the Northwestern road it was raining Thursday morning, but agents reported that the showers were light.

Despite the report received here Wednesday afternoon, the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad bridge leading into Fort Worth is intact, the water having not reached a danger point to the bridge. All trains are running on time, officials stated.

The Wichita Valley was the road that suffered the greatest loss of any leading into this city. A number of washouts occurred on the main line between Stamford and Abilene and all trains have been annulled beyond Stamford. An effort was made to detour the passenger trains, but the Texas and Pacific also suffered damages and it was unable to reach Abilene in any manner.

On the Denton branch of the Katy, it was reported several washouts had occurred, but the train from Dallas arrived in this city Thursday morning only one hour late.

The Brazos river where the Southern tracks cross is showing some signs of danger. There was a 24-inch rise in the last 13 hours ending at 9 o'clock Thursday morning. Watchmen at the bridge reported that the waters were rising at the rate of two inches an hour. Some drift wood was congregated underneath the piling, but it was not considered dangerous.

R. W. Miller, superintendent of the road, left for the bridge scene early Wednesday night.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

The Redistricting Bill.

Editor The Times:

There is now pending in the state of Texas the question of validity of the redistricting bill enacted by the last legislative session on account of accidental omission of Swisher county in reporting the bill and as copied into the laws of the state.

Considering the act under the state constitution, it appears that article 3, section 28, prescribed that the legislature "shall" at the first session after publication of the U. S. decennial census, and agreeably to sections 25 and 26 of the same article, redistrict the state, as to both senatorial and representative districts. Section 42 again directs that the legislature shall pass acts necessary to carry into effect the provisions of the constitution, which naturally, would likewise apply to the provisions that were continuing in character as the redistricting of the state after each decennial census.

It therefore appears that the redistricting act was necessarily enacted by the session of the legislature at which the measure passed both houses and in regular form and manner under the constitution in all things, and must by the very terms of the constitution be held valid unless some more mandatory provision of the constitution or other factor of greater moment may nullify the act by fatal omission of any kind.

The act has in nowise been attacked on any question other than the omission of mention of Swisher county in the new bill. It is generally conceded and house and senate records verify, that the measure was regularly presented, referred to counties, reported out more than three days prior to adjournment of the session of the legislature, as required by section 37, and that the population of the state under the recent federal census was used as basis and allotment of representatives to all counties where any county entitled to one or more representatives, and all excess population of any such counties was considered with "contiguous counties" as stipulated and required by sections 25 and 26 of article 3 of the state constitution, and that the measure in no case allows more than one representative for every fifteen thousand inhabitants as prohibited by section 2 of article 3.

Enactment of the measure indicates compliance with section 32, requiring reading on three several days; with section 34 in that no redistricting measure had been defeated by the same legislature, and is in nowise subject to attack for failure to comply with any constitutional or other requirement in legislative procedure, and in nowise runs counter to any prohibition or limitation of constitution as to its enactment.

Other discussions published have emphasized that Swisher county is contiguous to other counties included in same numbered district in both old and new bills indicating that omission was but clerical error; that former law was not repealed except insofar as inconsistent with the new measure, and that Swisher county is therefore in District No. 123 by virtue of the old law and consistent with the redistricting bill, which interpretation is upheld in court decisions in similar cases arising in other states.

CITY TO NEED MORE FILTER EQUIPMENT FOR WATER SUPPLY

F. N. Lawton, superintendent of the city water department, left Thursday afternoon for Dallas, to inspect the water filtration plant which is being installed there. In view of the fact that the local plant will probably install additional filtering facilities shortly, Mr. Lawton wanted to familiarize himself with such operations.

The plan for increasing the filtration capacity of the pumping plant will probably come up at the next meeting of the city council. At present, the plant can filter 2,000,000 gallons daily, and this city uses more than 3,000,000 on many days during the summer, so that a larger filtration plant is badly needed. Present plans provide for doubling the filtration capacity.

Members of the council recognize the need for such a plant, but are not certain that it can be financed at this time, in view of the state of the city's treasury.

NEW WIRELESS SCHEDULE FOR STATE UNIVERSITY

AUSTIN, TEXAS, April 27.—Within the next few days a new schedule will go into effect at the University of Texas wireless station. Instead of sending the crop reports out from 3 to 4 o'clock every afternoon, as has been the custom for some time, reports will be sent out at various times during the day. The exact schedule will be announced later by G. A. Endress, director of the station.

An experiment was made recently of sending out music from the university station, using the same modulation—485 meters—as was used for the sending of crop reports. The wave length for music sending is 360 meters; but tests are constantly being made with the wireless telephone transmitter. Receivers at other stations report to Mr. Endress as to the clearness of the message.

CHILLICOTHE, TEXAS, April 27. Plans have been perfected for an open air exhibition of the circulating moving picture films to be held at the play grounds of the local Presbyterian church, May 12. These films are now being sent out by the west Texas chamber of commerce.

RESUME IRRIGATION IN TRUCK DISTRICT; LITTLE RISE IN LAKE

The heavy local rains of this week, amounting to over two inches, have raised the water level of Lake Wichita only three and a half inches, water department officials said Thursday. The rain was of the slow, soaking variety that went directly into the soil.

As a result of the assurance of ample water for local needs this year, irrigated district farmers south of town are again using water from the ditch, after being cut off for several months.

The Wichita river continued to rise very slowly Thursday and there were reports that heavy rains arounds the headwaters of Beaver creek would cause still further rises; however, the stream is considerably below the danger stage.

NOW DO MY WORK WITH EASE
Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N. Y.—"I was in bad health but there didn't seem to be any one thing the matter with me. I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and could not sleep nights and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly every one around me knew of your medicine and wanted me to try it, so at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as it would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like."—Mrs. Chas. Baker, 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N. Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know because they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?
