AUTHORITIES TAKE A HAND IN CHURCH AFFAIR AT LAWTON

CIVIL COURT OF INQUIRY BEING CONDUCTED BY THE COUNTY ATTORNEY.

CRIMINAL CHARGES ARE EXPECTED AS A RESULT

Thirty Persons Are to Be Subpoenaed in Connection With Investigation.

LAWTON, OKLA., May 2.—The Lawton Presbyterian church affairs got outside the church's control today.

County authorities took a hand. A civil court of inquiry was under way directed by County Attorney Fletcher Riley, who announced he would go to the bottom of the whole dissection to determine the identity of three men who last Saturday night abducted the pastor, the Rev. Thomas J. Irwin, and threw him in a ditch beside a road outside Lawton, half-conscious and securely tied and gagged.

The county attorney declared he would inquire into every phase of the case. Filing of criminal charges will probably be the result of the investigation, he said.

He started his inquiry today by preparing subpoenas for about 30 persons who had been suspended from Pastor Irwin's church. They were reinstated by the church session, or executive board, with the sanction of Mr. Irwin, but have been aligned against the minister in the movement to have him expelled from the pulpit of Lawton on formal charges drawn up by the governing El Reno presbytery.

A marriage performed by Mr. Irwin in a bathing pool, church movie exhibition, and his funeral services over the late Jake L. Hanson at Ardmore more than a year ago, are some of the seed from which the turmoil grew.

She could eat anything without indigestion or sleeplessness

For a time she had been troubled with gas after every meal. The distress was most painful after evening positions and many foods, of which she was very fond.

Then she started taking two cases of Fleischmann's Yeast every night between her evening meal and bedtime. She poured about a half cup of boiling hot water over the yeast and stirred them thoroughly, added a little cold water and drank the mixture.

She found she could eat anything and sleep splendidly afterward.

Thousands of men and women are finding that Fleischmann's Yeast corrects such an intestinal trouble. It promotes the flow of bile and pancreatic juice. Appetite is always kept normal and you are protected against indigestion.

Add 2 to 3 cases of Fleischmann's Yeast to your daily diet. You will find that your whole digestive system is made more normal. Be sure it is Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast.

What This Buffalo Physician Has Done for Humanity

The picture which appears here of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., was taken in 1910. As a young man, Dr. Pierce practiced medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and wide for his great success in alleviating disease. He early moved to Buffalo and put up his study-in-the-form, his Golden Medical Discovery, the well-known tonic for the blood. This strength-builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found more effective in diseases of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of native roots with the ingredients plainly stated on the wrapper. Good red blood, vim, vigor and vitality are sure to follow if you take this Alternative Extract. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery clears away pimples and annoying eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear. HOME-MADE PLAY WILL BE GIVEN BY SENIORS THIS YEAR

A new idea in amateur theatricals is to be carried out this year by the high school seniors, who are presenting its annual spring play. Contrary to the usual custom of offering an established production of known merit, but also well known expense, the seniors this year will present a play written and staged in its entirety by members of the class.

The production is billed under the doubtful title of "The Lucky Dog," and is a modernized burlesque on Shakespeare's classic, "The Merchant of Venice." Gage McDermitt is credited with having written most of the lines, though some aid was rendered by Polly Chapp and Mary Ward Kadane. All three will have important parts in the finished play which will be presented at the Wichita theatre May 13.

The immortal "Shylock the Jew" finds his modern counterpart in "Shylock" while "Portia" will be represented locally by "Portia." Mr. Shakespeare's "Antonio" has been renamed "Antipathy" and "Bassanio" will appear as "Man-anio." The "Prince of Morocco" and the "Prince of Arraok" will be named, become respectively the "Prince of Tabasco" and the "Prince of Paragon" while "Lancelot Gobbo" is degraded to "Lanch-a-Lot Gob" and his father, "Old Gobbo" becomes "More Gob."

"Jamaica Ginger," representing "Jesuitical," "Shakespeare" and "Tubal" as "Tubal," and various other minor characters will complete the cast. Those students who are appearing in the play are Mary Smith, Katherine Hopper, Wallace Bright, Mortimer Clifton, Lillian Stande, Helen Snyder, Gage McDermitt, and others.

Carroll Johnson, Clyde Robinson, Harold Kahn, Barton Perry, Robert McEhee and others.

The play will be directed by the high school pupils. An admission charge of 5 cents for every seat in the house will be made. The "first come, first served" policy having been adopted.

Keeping A Rosy Complexion

And A Clear Smooth Skin What Millions of Women Do.

Medical science says that each one of the billions of red blood corpuscles in your blood stream must have iron or your blood becomes pale, thin and watery. Your face and cheeks also lose their color, then your stomach, kidneys, liver and heart become weakened, your internal lines do not act properly, poisons are accumulated, your skin becomes rough and muddy looking; dark circles may appear under your eyes, your cheek and facial muscles and tissues shrink, hollows may appear, and you may even look several years older than you actually are.

To say the least, the freshness of your youthful beauty is gone.

It is estimated that at least one woman out of every three you meet lacks 100% iron in her blood and is more or less affected thereby. In many cases it is due to the loss of their beauty, they become weak, nervous, unattractive and may be afflicted with melancholy or the blues, or suffer the terrible terrors of nerve force exhaustion.

Nuxated Iron is guaranteed in every case to furnish your body with true red blood food which your blood must have, if you are to be strong, healthy and vigorous. It is the iron in your blood that puts the color in your cheeks, helps clear up your skin and give the ruddy glow of health to your complexion. It has been used by millions of women.

Get a bottle today, take it for two weeks, and if you have not gained the color and energy from the use of Nuxated Iron, the manufacturer will promptly refund your money.

MORE RAIN FALLS IN VARIOUS SPOTS ON RAILROAD LINES

Agents on railroads leading into the city reported that more rain fell during the night. At Spur an inch and a half of rain was recorded, the agent stated, and at Stamford an inch was reported. Light showers were reported on the north end of the Northwestern and also on the west end of the Denver.

There was a break in the clouded skies at times Tuesday morning locally, but to the south on the Valley the agents reported heavy clouds. Agents on the Southern line stated that the sky was beginning to clear.

Temperatures all over the district remained high. The low point reached by the thermometer in this city during the night was 62 degrees. Woodward reported a low mark of 48 for the night. Texline said the temperature fell to 50.

South winds continued throughout the night but there was little movement at any of the points.

THE WHITE DESERT

(Continued From Our Last Issue) might reach some desolate home where there were women and children; or stopping to pull and tug at a snow-trapped steer and by main effort, drag him into a barren spot where the wisp of the gale had kept the ground fairly clear of snow.

A two-inch crust of snow formed over the main snowfall, permitting small sleds to be pulled behind struggling men; the world beneath had been frozen in, to give place to a new one above. And with that:

"It's open! It's open!" The shout came from the lips of the telegrapher, waving his arms as he ran from the tunnel back to the stationhouse.

"It's open! I've had Rawlings on the wire!"

"Rawlings?" Houston had edged forward. "There's not a chance. Get Denver on the wire. Then take this message to every newspaper in the city."

"Can't you help us? Please try to start campaign to force Crestline road to open the Pass. Women and children are starving here. We have been out of food from the rest of the world for two weeks. We need food—and coal. Road will not be open for four or five weeks more under ordinary circumstances. This will mean death to many of us here."

"The citizens of the West Country."

"Sounds good." The telegrapher was busily putting it on the wire. Then a wait of hours. Then the wire clattered forth a message. He jumped.

"It's from the papers in Denver!" he shouted. "A joint message. They've taken up the fight!"

The news still swirled the storms still came and went. During this period of uncertainty, Houston met Ba'tiste Renaud, returning from the lake region, to find him ragged.

"Is not that the world is all unjust?" he roared. "I am the mad enough to tear them apart!"

"What? What's gone wrong?"

"Ah! I pass today the Blackburn mill. They have the saw going—they keep at work, when there are the women and the babies who starve, when there are the cattle who are dying, when there is the country that is like a broken thing. They know that we do not get our machinery! They have taken their chance for the contract!"

It brought Houston to a sharp knowledge of conditions. They had given, that the rest of the country might not suffer. Their enemies had worked on, fired with the new hope that the machinery necessary to carry out Houston's contract would not arrive in time.

A shout had come from the distance. Faintly through the sitting snow they could see figures running. Then the words came:

CALOMEL MAY TURN ON YOU NEXT TIME

Calomel is mercury quicksilver. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, dumping and dissolving you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headache, constipation and all kinds of just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and eat your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great! No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salfate. (Adv.)

NEW YORK, May 2.—What sort of dynamite is being manufactured at the Genoa conference?

What are its world dangers? These questions were put to Bernard M. Baruch, noted financier and economist, chairman of the war industries board during the last year of the war, member of the supreme economic council, economic adviser for the American peace commission and American delegate on economic and reparations matters at the treaty of Versailles.

Baruch spoke of the dangerous possibilities in the German-Russian treaty.

"This treaty," he said, "is the logical sequence of isolation of two nations made outcasts, first by America and Russia, and Europe and largely by themselves.

"And China now is the logical ally of Germany and Russia. China is a neglected nation whose territory is held by others, by nations China cannot throw out."

"The question was put as to the nature of the German-Russian combination and its effect if China joined.

"So far as men and material are concerned," Baruch said, "Germany and Russia would be self-contained as any nation in the world, with the possible exception of America. Russia can produce an amount of foodstuffs and possibly cotton. Germany can supply manufactured goods.

"If Russia became Germanized in a military sense, the commercial way, it would mean a very dangerous alliance. With China in this alliance would quickly come into conflict with the four-power treaty made at Washington. There would be Japan to consider. Almost anything might happen there—in spite of the four-power treaty.

"The economic Germanization of Russia and the likelihood of the German-Russian treaty growing into a military alliance were put into questions.

"Germany can put Russia to work," said Baruch. "That would make an unbeatable combination, from both a military and a commercial standpoint. It would be a combination of brains, determination, man power and materials.

"The economic Germanization of Russia amounting to anything can come until there is personal initiative again in Russia—that is, a system of individualism that is a part of the communistic idea. Whether that is near, as has been reported, I cannot say."

The whole trouble, Baruch points out, recalling his own prophetic words of 15 months ago, traces back to the failure to fix the amount of reparations Germany should pay at a reasonable sum.

"Everything that has happened proves it," he said. "It proves that until reparations are fixed sensibly so world conferences can be a success, that disturbing things like the German-Russian treaty will crop up.

"None of the economic questions can be settled at Genoa. Lloyd George's program for a 10-year non-aggression holiday would have to consider this question: What will the allies, particularly France, do if Germany doesn't part? For the treaty of Versailles France has a right to move into Germany to enforce the claims.

America helped to make outcast nations of Germany and Russia, in Baruch's opinion, by withdrawing from the league of nations. Europe made it worse, he says, "by continuing to impose impossible conditions, thus further isolating Germany."

"The more unreasoning the world continues to be the worse it will be," he said. "Grave world dangers cannot be avoided until a safe ground of good faith based upon reason is found. Nothing can be gained when fear and hatred are the moving causes; we must be governed by reason and hope."

THOMAS DISCUSSES FARM PROBLEMS IN ADDRESS AT TULIA

TULIA, SWISHER COUNTY, Texas, May 2.—"The problem of the farmer is an American problem. The prosperity of the country is inseparably interwoven with the prosperity of the farmer. They represent more than one-third of the country's population. They cannot suffer without that suffering being felt by every interested citizen of the land. We are learning the solidarity of human society," said Cullen F. Thomas, candidate for the United States senate, here today.

The plight of the farmers of America has been a national tragedy for two years. Theodore Price tells us that a city hoodlum stands a better chance to support his family than the average farmer who owns 160 acres of land.

ADOPT A NEW FORM OF PERMIT FOR WITHDRAWAL OF LIQUOR FROM BOND

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Adoption of a new form of permit for the withdrawal of liquor from bond and new prescription blanks designed to eliminate the possibility of either document being counterfeited, was announced yesterday by Commissioner Haynes. They are printed on specially designed specialty water marked paper, with the seal of the treasury department and the word "prohibition" water marked on each. A still further protection against counterfeit he declared the prohibition bureau has adopted a machine which resembles a check protector which will impress upon each withdrawal permit the amount of liquor to be leased, to prevent their being re-used after issuance.

CHIEF ANNOUNCES SEVERAL CHANGES IN POLICE FORCE

Numerous changes in the city police department personnel were made public Tuesday by Chief of Police J. W. McCormick and Police Commissioner J. B. Pitts.

Charley Rebovot, veteran peace officer who has held positions with the city and county for several years, was appointed Monday afternoon as night sergeant, succeeding Dave May. The resignation of J. E. Glenn, city detective on the night shift, was handed to Chief McCormick Monday night. The vacancy left by Glenn's leaving was immediately filled by the appointment of W. S. Johnson, former detective who has served as house officer for the Kemp hotel during the past year.

Mr. Glenn, who is a candidate for sheriff, will assume duties as the Kemp detective immediately, this position being such as to permit his campaigning actively for the office.

The only other change thus far recorded was the naming of Leney Humphries as day sergeant. Mr. Humphries has been serving on the day detective force and his change to the sergeant's desk was necessitated by the fact that Chief McCormick intends devoting much of his time to outside investigations thus requiring some one to look after the office details of the department.

It was indicated by the department associates that further changes will require other reductions in the force soon. The extent and nature of these, however, are not known at this time.

PREACHER WILL SUE MAYOR FOR DAMAGES SAYS HE LED A MOB

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, May 2.—The Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, of Evanston, Wyo., who is in Salt Lake City, announces that he is conferring with counsel how best to proceed against Mayor Romick of Evanston who, Mr. Richmond charges, led a mob of 50 men to the city hall April 30 and demanded that he leave improved.

According to Mr. Richmond, he defied the mob and refused to leave. He says the mob was largely composed of the lawless element, which he had been denouncing ever since he went to Evanston in 1921. Mr. Richmond says that Mayor Romick will be sued for damages in the United States courts in Cheyenne.

He stated that he still resides in Evanston and that the mob spirit has subsided.

Mr. Richmond claims that due to his sermons against law-breaking, gambling has diminished, open bars are no more and the moral tone of the town is greatly improved.

Mr. Richmond claims that he has the hearty support of the best element of Evanston in his endeavor to improve conditions in that city.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The poor ye have with you always, and whenever ye will ye may do them good; but my ye have not always.—Mark 14:6.

Nor she with traitorous kiss her Saviour stung;
Not she denied Him with unhothy tongue;
She, when apostles shrank, could danger brave,—
Last at the cross, and earliest at the grave.—Anon.

COTTON CONSUMPTION INCREASING.

Despite unfavorable financial and industrial conditions in many countries the consumption of cotton is increasing. The U. S. department of commerce estimates the world consumption of cotton for the year that will end July 31, 1922, at 11,000,000 bales, the estimated consumption being six million bales more than the production of the crop year.

BOY, PAGE ANDREW JACKSON.

Mr. Bullington says The Times was unjust to him, in its editorial Sunday, in referring to him as a republican; he never was a republican, he says, and his present political denomination is that of Jacksonian democrat.

Mr. Jackson, we have here a man who wrote the republican state platform in 1920, voted the republican ticket that year, with an exception or two, participated actively in republican councils and state chamber sessions, and now has entered a congressional race at the behest of republicans and has been hobnobbing with republican leaders from Dallas and elsewhere ever since he got home. What kind of a democrat, Mr. Jackson, would you say Mr. Bullington was?

Mr. Jackson did not answer the question directly. He just inquired what the candidate was doing with two surplus syllables in his name.

THE LATEST DEVELOPMENT AT ELECTRA.

The Electra district which has been producing oil for nearly fifteen years has come to the front this week with a 1600 barrel producer from the 1900 foot sand.

The Electra pool, while it has not given the oil world a large number of sensations, has won recognition as one of the most consistent and prolonged producing oil areas in the country and there are indications that it will be producing oil for many years after more sensational pools no longer yield anything.

Electra contradicts a belief that has been somewhat too prevalent that the oil industry in this section would be short lived. Electra has come back strong after fifteen years of good production. Other pools in this section are likely to do the same thing. Oil is likely to be as important an industry here fifteen years from now as it is today.

WHAT'S YOUR 'BUG'?

Secret service agents, in raiding the offices of promoters of fake stocks and other get-rich-quick swindles, usually find a "sucker list."

A "sucker list" is made up, for the most part, of names of "cream puffs," same being the name that swindlers apply to gent who, in a general way of speaking, possess at least one share of every stock ever issued. A "cream puff" is sure-fire when backed by a share of stock beautifully lithographed in several colors.

A "sucker-list" follows the name of each "cream puff" with a key like these:
"Will give you the glad hand if you talk about his pet bug, fishing."
"Jolly him about his home garden."

Obviously, these have a cunning appeal to the prospect's inner desires—the things he is most interested in, but to which, usually, he is too busy to give his first attention.

Psycho-analysis call an inner and repressed desire a "complex." For instance, a man in spring-time finds he cannot concentrate on his work. What's really wrong is that he has a "fishing complex."

His subconscious mind, wants to go fishing, ahead of doing anything else. Hence the conscious mind, beset by the subconscious desire, "has fishing on the brain."

Naturally, he "can't keep his mind on his work." If the man knocks off work and gets out on his tackle and rods, a few days of angling will erase his fishing complex. He comes back, finds it easy to concentrate on his job—and is convinced that the change and the fresh country air "did him worlds of good." What really happened is that he doused his fishing complex by gratifying it. As a slaugterer would put it, he gets his fishing bug out of his system.

Psycho-analysis, in presenting that line of reasoning, seem to think they have found something new.

But it is merely an elaboration of what was defined as "the suppressed function," years ago, by Sheldon, Prentiss Mulford, David Gibson and other business writers who created the modern psychology of so-called scientific salesmanship.

Nothing new under the sun—though hash does taste different from the original roast of beef. Have you a complex—a repressed desire? If so, appealing it to a moderate extent may do you more good than a barrel of medicine.

The wise boys of Wall Street, almost without exception, have found their hobby or "bug" and gratify it—golf, racing horses, yachts, fishing, big-game hunting, raising prize orchids or getting real Scotch from a bootlegger.

With Memorial Day coming, there will be a revival of "Disco," "Marching Through Georgia" and other songs that call up in memory the Civil war. Musicians are wondering what particular song Americans will always associate with the World War.

The interesting possibility looms, that they will not remember any song in this connection—unless it's written later.

The popular song during the Revolutionary War was "Yankee Doodle." After nearly a century and a half it's still going strong.

"Hail, Columbia!" was first sung April 30, 1796, by a young actor named Fox, in Philadelphia's Chestnut street theater. While not exactly a war song, it was in the nature of a reaction from the war, expressing young America's exuberance at its independence.

In 1814 the spirit of the war of 1812 saturated the blood and brain of Francis Scott Key. Affire with a militant patriotism, he wrote "The Star-Spangled Banner."

The Civil War left the country with a whole flood of songs, some of them sure-fire today, others good on occasion.

The Spanish-American war dug up the old-timers, including "Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." This gem, however, dates back to the Chicago fire, which it commemorated. The war with Spain produced no song typical of its period—possibly because so many of the singers died of malaria, "yellow jack" and embalmed beef.

Maybe some one, later on, will burst forth with the song that Americans always will associate with their part in the World War.

The chances, however, are against it, for the national complex is to keep the war buried in memory.

It is dawning on people that modern war is nothing to sing about. Which is a good thing.

Proposed airplane line will make it possible to be robbed in Chicago one morning and shot in New York that afternoon.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE GENTLE RAIN.
How like the ceiling arms of the lover are the falling bits of rain that touch the earth—finding place on leaves and grass and touching with color and life the beautiful arrangements of nature.

Like pearls dropped into the bosoms of flowers. How soothing as they hit the window panes and roll to their nests in the ground, to be taken up as life-givers later in buds and bark.

What a thing to watch, what a thing to listen to—this gentle rain that touches the air with its moisture, and perhaps crops up later in some falling stream or bubbling spring.

How the grass greens under its fondling and what a spectacle of beauty when it has ceased and turned over its task to the sun to complete.

We are prone to appreciate too little this great gift of nature—the gentle rain.

If the rain sometimes seems sad it is only because it is thinking. For in every drop there lives hope and promise.

I have watched this gentle rain from a hidden cabin deep in the wild among mountains in the west. I have sat in a tent beside a beautiful lake and watched it mingle its life with that of the waves. I have seen it crossed by rainbows, and have sat in my writing room and heard its patter on the roof and walks outside. And every time I love its message of inspiration and encouragement.

For the gentle rain has a voice all its own—an almost silent language that is universal around the world.

How much we can learn from the rain and its giver! All our benefits would amount to nothing without its gracious coming.

TWENTY YEARS.
Looking forward it appears
Oh, so long are twenty years!
Twenty years to work and wait,
Twenty years to battle fate.

Twenty years to fame to climb,
Seems too long a stretch of time.
When at last success appears,
Swift were all those twenty years.

And their many hardships seem
But the passing of a dream.
Yesterday we braved a blow—
That was twenty years ago.

Texas Viewpoints

Donelson Herald: At Wichita Falls a few days ago and later at Fort Worth, a Mr. Kell, a man from Georgia or somewhere else, upon whom has been conferred the title of "Colonel," presumably by the "invisible empire" in which he boasts citizenship, declared that Attorney General Daugherty was a member of the Klan and that President Harding, if not a member, was in sympathy with the organization. It is interesting to note that both the attorney general and the president have emphatically denied the impeachment. They not only are not members of the empire, but they are not in sympathy with it in any respect.

The question arises, why did "Colonel" Camp make the statement? What purpose had he in view when he said these distinguished officials had honored the Klan with membership? Did he know to be true or did he have reason to believe it was true when he imputed Klan membership to them? If so, what about the solemn and binding obligation which the Klan members take not to reveal under pains and penalties to be imposed by the Imperial Wizard, the identity of those who have sworn to uphold and defend the fiery cross? How could "Colonel" Camp disclose the name of any member of the organization without making the statement? What privilege and immunity does he enjoy as a klan member? How could he reveal to a started and wondering world the names of members of the Klan and get by with it, when members summoned before grand juries of Texas are forbidden to give evidence of membership or members or anything connected with the organization's alleged activities?

The "Colonel" by his own words and acts stands convicted of either willful violation of the Klan obligation or deliberate misrepresentation. There is no escape for him. If it is true that General Daugherty is a member of the Klan, according to the information made public, the "Colonel" had no right to disclose that fact and disclosure of membership must be inhibited since it became necessary for Mr. Henry to obtain consent of the Imperial Wizard to give information concerning members of the Klan and get by with it, when members summoned before grand juries of Texas are forbidden to give evidence of membership or members or anything connected with the organization's alleged activities?

COLONEL JAMES DISCUSSES LATEST RAILROAD ENTERPRISE

Editor's Note.—The following communication is from Col. J. G. James, a resident of Wichita Falls from 1882 to 1892 and had an intimate knowledge of the history of the community, having been one of the leaders in those early days in the development of the city. It is indicated by his communication which follows.

ROFF, OKLA., April 28.—Editor The Times: The filling in of the shock already set between Elyers and Wauwika by Frank Kell—which now seems assured—will be a master stroke for the increased growth and prosperity of your city. Transportation facilities have largely contributed to your wonderful growth in the past, and the realization of this plan of Mr. Kell's, by which the great Rock Island system will enter Wichita Falls and add 3,000 miles of steel rails to the network of roads over which freight and passengers already travel to and from your city, will be an event of far reaching importance that should benefit every business interest in your community. It will add greatly to the convenience and volume of travel, and especially increase the prosperity of your mills, factories, refineries, machine shops, foundries, glass, motor truck and various other plants for receiving their raw materials and for distributing the many millions of dollars' worth of manufactured products which annually are shipped by you over the railway lines that centre in this city.

When one considers the potential advantages of such a railway alliance, the possibilities it involves not only for the upbuilding of your city, but also of promoting generally the development of interstate commerce between two rich and populous commonwealths, I don't believe that to the whole of the state there can be found a parallel case, in which such wonderful results for good can be obtained by building such an important stretch of only 15 miles of rails.

It is extremely fortunate that you have a citizen whose wide vision sees such an opportunity and who has the enterprise and ability and the influence in railway circles to make the opportunity a reality. Whatever Frank Kell has ever undertaken, he has done, and done it well. No one doubts his early building of this short connection, "The Ringling Road," which will stretch from Ardmore to only 30 miles from Ringling on west to Wauwika, and an easy country over which to build. It is a short line, and doesn't take much money to extend, and note the town of Ringling, the present terminus of what is called the "Ringling Road," which runs due west from Ardmore only 30 miles from Ringling on west to Wauwika, and an easy country over which to build. BULLINGTON SAYS POSITION ON TARIFF IS DEMOCRATIC ONE

TELLS UNIVERSITY CLUB HE IS IN LINE WITH JACKSON AND FARRISH.

DOES NOT WANT PLACE SAVE FOR PARTIAL TERM

Oppose Cash Bonus, But Would Not Object to Land Settlement Plan.

A detailed explanation of his position on the tariff, which he declared to be in accord with that first laid down by Andrew Jackson and to be the same tariff position that Lucian Parrish held, was given by Orville Bullington, announced independent candidate for congress in an address before the University club at noon Tuesday.

Mr. Bullington credited the emergency tariff bill with bringing about the present improvement in business conditions, and blamed the raw material tariff bills for all the panics and hard times of the past 30 years. He declared that none of the other candidates for congress is in accord with the tariff of Mr. Parrish, and that it was to some extent in the defense of the memory of his friend that he entered the race. He was brought in by the race, he said, by democrats and republicans alike.

Mr. Bullington said that he is seeking election to congress only for the unexpired term, and that he would not have the regular term "if it were handed to him on a silver platter."

A brief talk by Lee Clark, explaining the school bond issue, was followed by a unanimous vote of endorsement on the part of the club.

Mr. Bullington was given an eloquent introduction by C. M. Clark, who warmly commended his candidacy.

"I'm not a politician," said Mr. Bullington, in opening his remarks. "I never engaged in political matters, but I have certain fixed opinions on public matters that I believe in."

Mr. Bullington said that he was brought into the race by democrats and republicans, who realize that party politics benefits nobody except the politician. He spoke of his long acquaintance with, and friendship for, Lucian Parrish, and said that one thing that brought him into the race was the fact that the other four candidates had repudiated Parrish's position on the several legislative bills.

The agency tariff that Parrish voted for has saved this district hundreds of thousands of dollars, he said, and he is going to defend his record on it throughout the district.

Mr. Bullington quoted at some length from Andrew Jackson's message, and from Mr. Parrish's speeches, to show that he was in accord with the position of both as to the tariff.

The only other issue touched upon by Mr. Bullington was the bonus. He is looking for a cash bonus, but he would not object to opening public lands to settlement by soldiers.

DECISION OF THE SUPREME COURT LEAVES QUESTION OF SOUTH BANK OPEN TO A LATER CONSTRUCTION

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The question disposed of Monday in the opinion rendered by Justice Vandevanter in the Red river boundary dispute was those relating to title to land in the bed of the river, valuable because of oil and gas discoveries in the "big bend country." In many instances the remaining conflict of title cannot be disposed of until the court locates what is the south bank of the river which it has decided is the northern boundary of Texas.

With the question open as to whether the south bank of the river is at the foot of the bluff on the north or the south bank of the river at normal stages, often a mile or more distant from the bluff, or whether some intermediate line between the river at normal stage and the bluffs is designated by the court, the rights of the conflicting litigants were in a large measure settled.

Outstanding points in the opinion were: The entire bed of the river is within Oklahoma and Texas and its grants and licenses have no proprietary interest in the bed. It may develop that the receiver in whose custody the river has placed the oil properties in dispute is not holding some land south of the time which will be established as the permanent boundary, and if so, Texas and its grantees and licensees will be free to mine it.

Oklahoma's claim to the lands in the bed of the river was based on the ground that the river which it forms a boundary with Texas is not navigable.

The court concluded that title to the bed did not pass to Oklahoma by the act of the legislature of that state, but remained with the United States.

Concerning the riparian claims to lands on either side of the river, the court held that the mouth of the north fork in what is known as the "big bend" of the river.

SANCTION STATIONS IN A MAJORITY OF STATES

United States Practically Alone in Magnitude and Type of Development.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—California has fallen to radio broadcasting harder than any other state. Ohio comes second, and Pennsylvania and New York follow close behind.

There are now sanctioned stations in practically all the states. Such stations exist in two-thirds of the states, and some of the commonwealths.

The desire to contribute to the entertainment of the populace through the ether seems to be most widely reported. Over 100 stations are now in operation in the United States.

The number of licenses issued in a state is not a true index, however, to the amount of radio broadcasting in that state.

Dr. Frank R. White of the North-west Texas Insular asylum left Monday afternoon for Austin, where superintendents of all state asylums are to meet Wednesday with the state board of control.

L. C. Heydrick left for South Bend in Young county where he is looking after the affairs of the new well which was brought in on his school-house tract, that from this tract he has been leasing to the neighborhood of 500 barrels.

CONSTRUE DECISION OF SUPREME COURT AS PARTIAL VICTORY

OPINION INDICATES LINE WILL BE FIXED ALONG RIVERS CUT BANK.

3,500,000 BARRELS OF OIL HELD BY RECEIVER

Semi-Annual Report of DeJano Has Been Filed With Court at Washington.

A very hopeful view of the final outcome of the Red River boundary case is taken by Judge A. H. Carrigan, attorney for some of the large land owners most vitally affected by the suit, who returned late Monday from Washington.

The complete elimination of Oklahoma as a contestant in the boundary case, as a result of the Supreme Court's decision, is considered an important point for the Texas owners, while the portions of the decision affecting the navigability of the stream, and the claims of placer companies, also point to a holding that the cut bank is the boundary, he thinks.

The extent to which the land owners are affected by the case is indicated by the semi-annual report of Frederic A. DeJano, federal receiver, just filed with the supreme court. The report shows that a total of 3,500,000 barrels of oil have been taken from the river area in two years, an average of nearly 4,500 barrels per day.

The statement shows that the production of the older district, known as the "Big Bend area," or east of the Grandfield bridge, has diminished to 22,937 barrels from 32 wells for the month of March, 1932. The high production of the area was in May, 1929, when 55 wells brought in 93,398 barrels. The low production was in February, 1932, being 20,487 barrels. The loss in that production has been made up in part by the increased production from new wells west of Grandfield bridge, but their production is diminishing very considerably, the report shows, and is about one-half the previous maximum production of the latter area.

Wells west of the bridge to the number of 19 produced their high record of 132,650 barrels in July, 1929, while 33 wells in March of this year brought in only 63,124 barrels. Of these 33 wells, but 19 were being operated by the receiver and of these 49 three are on the margin of the flood plain, the remainder being in the river bed.

The financial statement submitted to the court shows the revenue derived from the sale of oil produced from lands under supervision of the receiver in the two years has amounted to $3,374,900. The net value of the capital assets in hands of receiver is given as $11,520,000, added to which is book value of warehouse stock $37,876, the current assets embracing the following: Inventory of crude oil $2,821,000, due from other oil companies and others for oil runs $112,943, other accounts receivable $45,971, United States treasury certificates with accrued interest $975,056, Victory notes with accrued interest $1,216,625, cash in bank $24,916, These amounts less accounts payable and reserved for contingencies, $84,592, leave a balance held by the receiver of $2,892,166.

Y. M. C. A. WILL BE UNDERTAKEN HERE WITHIN NEAR FUTURE

COMMITTEE NAMED MONDAY NIGHT TO KEEP IN TOUCH WITH PROJECT.

COMMUNITY'S NEED OF INSTITUTION ADMITTED

International Industrial Secretary Tells of Work That Organization is Doing.

Wichita Falls was committed Monday night, more or less definitely, to undertaking the construction of a modern Y. M. C. A. plant in this city; not this year, probably, but within the not distant future.

At a meeting Monday evening at the Wichita club about 30 representative business men declared themselves already convinced of the necessity for such an institution here, but agreed that it should not be undertaken until some other projects that have prior claim, are disposed of.

"This is the day to raise to its highest power every constructive force" was the keynote of a stirring talk by C. R. Towson of New York, international industrial secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

A committee of seven was named to keep in touch with state and international Y officials and to determine when the time is ripe for starting a campaign here. It was indicated that this will not be done until the Y. W. C. A. building program, to which the community is already committed, is an accomplished fact.

The committee consists of W. D. Cline, chairman; Frank Kell, W. B. Hamilton, W. M. Fridy, Les Clark, R. E. Shepherd, J. W. Culbertson.

In speaking of his experiences in industrial Y. M. C. A. work, Mr. Towson said that many business men had answered the question of what was needed in industry, and that the same answer, in different forms was returned—efficiency.

"There can be no efficiency except on a character basis," Mr. Towson said.

Mr. Towson declared that more pay, shorter hours, better working conditions could never satisfy the working-man, that his pay must include "something like fraternity."

"Pay, work hours and working conditions are not as important as attitudes, relations, intercourse," said Mr. Towson. He said that the railroad of the country, in the face of all of the financial troubles of recent years, had never reduced their contributions to the support of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Towson added that the Y. M. C. A. was not in the position of going around with its hat in its hand, begging, but that it was ready to render a service wherever it was called upon to do so.

L. A. Coulter of Dallas, state secretary, spoke briefly on some phases of Y. M. C. A. work. A. B. Minear of Denver, H. P. Demand of Denver, H. L. Crate of Kerrville, M. E. Brown of Houston and J. R. Lewis of Dallas were Y. M. C. A. workers attending the meeting.

Those students making the trip are: Fred Couper, junior boy; de-claimer; Louise Scott, senior boy de-claimer; Stella Winters, a 4 Frances Jones, girl; de-claimer; Leo Baldwin, athletics; and Paul Hines, William Powers and Clifton Haynes, tennis entrants.

Hines will represent the local high school in tennis singles, while the latter two, who were runners-up in the tennis doubles last year, will make up the doubles team again.

The orchestra is not to compete with similar organizations, but will furnish musical entertainment for the meet. It is considered as one of the best high school musical organizations in the state and is to be utilized by school music directors as an argument for the securing of recognition for music work in the interscholastics.

The local representatives will return to Wichita Falls Sunday, according to present plans.

Five literary contestants, one track man, three tennis entrants and about twenty orchestra members, comprising as a whole the Wichita Falls public school entry

Miss Jussula, Kinsey and Miss Genevieve Gott, high school faculty members, will accompany the local delegation.
