SECTION FOUR OF FUTURES TRADING ACT HELD ILLEGAL

DECISION IS RENDERED BY THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT

OTHER SECTIONS OF THE LAW CAN BE ENFORCED

Sustains Sections Empowering Secretary to Investigate Boards of Trade.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The supreme court today held section four of the futures trading act was unenforceable. It held that section three, nine and other sections could be enforced.

Section nine of the law which was sustained by the court empowers the secretary of agriculture to investigate boards of trade, require them to submit statistical and other information—except confidential reports to the public.

The court announced that the injunction against the Chicago board of trade and its officers and the injunction against the collector of internal revenue and the district attorney should be granted so far as section four is concerned, and the regulations of the act interwoven within it.

The decree of the lower district court was reversed as to the existing injunctions. Free state and other counties where bridges and roads were damaged by the floods.

Section three of the act provided for a tax of 20 cents a bushel upon "privileges," "puts and calls," "bids and offers," and other so-called speculative trades.

Section four declared to be unenforceable, proposed to levy a virtually prohibitive tax of 20 cents per bushel on all futures trading transacted under the act. It made captions of actual owners of grain of legitimate hedging contracts.

GENOA CONFERENCE TO BE RECONVENED JUNE 15 AT HAGUE

SUBCOMMISSION AGREES TO PLAN PROPOSED BY LLOYD GEORGE

INVITE UNITED STATES TO ENTER CONFERENCE

Decision Will Likely Be Reached at Meeting of Cabinet On Tuesday.

GENOA, May 15.—The political sub-commission of the economic conference today unanimously approved the agreement reached yesterday among the convening powers to hold another meeting at The Hague beginning June 15 to further examine the Russian question.

The negotiations were undertaken at a called meeting of the city council, and there is every reason to believe that the loan will be made.

The money will be borrowed at six per cent, and is to be repaid at the rate of $25,000 annually for ten years.

With that amount of money in hand, the city can wipe out existing overdrafts and floating indebtedness and put some money into the general fund, and while its actual indebtedness will of course be as great as ever, it will be in much more satisfactory shape than at present.

The negotiations were undertaken at a called meeting of the city council, and there is every reason to believe that the loan will be made.

By Retiring the loan on the installment plan the council will not seriously burden succeeding administrations, and material relief will be given to the treasury's existing condition, of both hardship and embarrassment to city officials and employees.

EIGHT LABOR MEN UNDER INDICTMENT TO HAVE HEARINGS

DEFENSE ATTORNEYS WILL ASK FOR HABEAS CORPUS WRITS

PROSECUTION CLAIMS EVIDENCE TO CONVICT

Charge That Labor Leaders Have a Million Dollar Defense Fund.

CHICAGO, May 15.—Eight labor men indicted on murder charges in connection with Chicago's labor war will have preliminary hearings today before Judge Kirkham Scanlon of the criminal court.

Their attorneys have been instructed to ask for habeas corpus writs, thus forcing the state, if it wishes to hold them without bail, to produce evidence upon which hanging verdicts are to be asked for the labor leaders—"Big Tim" Murphy, head of the gas and workers' union; Con Shea, of the theatrical janitors' union; and Fred Mader, president of the Chicago building trades council.

For their legal fight, it is alleged by Henry Barret Chamberlain, of the Chicago crime commission, the labor men are equipped with a million dollar "slush fund." Police and state's attorneys connected with the case assert they have sufficient evidence to warrant continued confinement of the indicted men without bail.

While authorities are silent on information contained in the confessions, and the names of the confessions, it is believed that Harry (Smash) Hanson, Isadore Braverman, John Miller and Robert McClelland have confessed. Miller is said by police to be the owner of the car from which the shots were fired killing two policemen.

The building strike, orchestrated by Mader for next Monday, and involving 65,000 men, has unofficially been called off, it is said.

Dr. Hill said he believed there was no longer any need for American relief efforts in the war affected countries. The welfare of the people of Europe was better than at any time since the war, largely to American aid, he stated.

Stewart early today frustrated a spectacular attempt by eight masked bandits to rob Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific train No. 2, the Golden State Limited, bound from Chicago for Los Angeles. CHILD LABOR LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL COURT'S DECISION

ORIENT RAILROAD IS SEEKING A DIVISION OF THROUGH FREIGHT

APPLICATION IS MADE TO INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

WILL BE OPPOSED BY THE BIG TRUNK LINES

No Large Terminals Along the Line From Wichita, Kan., to Alpine, Texas.

By CHAS. S. HAYDEN, Washington Correspondent Wichita Daily Times

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The interstate commerce commission today is hearing the application of Representatives for the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railroad asking for a larger division in freight earnings. Without this E. H. Shafter, general traffic manager, declares in a brief which has been filed, it will be impossible for the Orient to maintain service much longer.

The proposal made by Traffic Manager Shafter is somewhat unique and has attracted much attention among railroad officials advised as to its purpose. It will be bitterly fought by the big trunk lines, as under it the commission will be empowered to make increased divisions to all short line roads and provide for routing of such long hauled freight over these roads.

It is pointed out in the brief which has been filed with the commission that the Orient operates 137 miles of railroad in the United States, extending from Wichita, Kansas, to Alpine, Texas. It has no large terminals along that route and the country is sparsely settled, devoted largely to stock raising and agriculture. It requires a heavy toll power to maintain the passage of the Orient's trains, not but has never been able to regain the share of through business which it enjoyed before government ownership.

Traffic Manager Shafter insists that the commission under the Interstate Commerce act has the power to authorize increased divisions in freight earnings to the weaker roads and that this will not reduce those of the stronger lines below the six per cent authorized return.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION MOVEMENT BEFORE THE METHODIST CONFERENCE

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., May 15.—The 33rd quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, in session here, today wended through a four hour session, the outstanding features of which including the adoption of a report of the Christian education movement and the hearing of an address by Dr. J. B. McFarland, general secretary of the federal relief efforts in the war affected countries. The welfare of the people of Europe was better than at any time since the war, largely to American aid, he stated.

The conference also voted to hold in morning and afternoon sessions beginning tomorrow after officials had explained that the body was far behind in its work.

Details for selecting the official personnel of the church, including the branches of the new board of lay activities also were worked out today, the conference adopting a lengthy report of the committee on permanent amendments had been added.

The subordinate bodies will carry on the work in the various annual and district conferences and the members will meet locally.

In presenting the report of the Christian education movement, Dr. J. H. Reynolds, president of Henderson, in his address declared that the success of the movement had surpassed the expectations of even the more sanguine officials who had it in charge.

SOVIET DELEGATION SAYS THEY WANT IN LEAGUE OF NATIONS

GENEVA, May 15.—The soviet delegates at Genoa have informed the league of nations experts that Russia desires to cooperate with the league and become a member within a reasonable time, provided the conference succeeds from the soviet viewpoint. The soviet representatives have just reported this to the league council in session here.

The Russians added that if the Genoa conference failed, Moscow would continue to oppose the league on the theory that Russia could expect nothing from an organization composed chiefly of member states in view of Moscow's bitter opposition to the organization in the past. They believe it will only be a question of time when Russia must admit to the league. Genoa produces an all-European agreement with the soviet government.

League officials here regard the bolshevik overtures for peace significant in view of Moscow's bitter opposition to the organization in the past. They believe it will only be a question of time when Russia must admit to the league. Genoa produces an all-European agreement with the soviet government.

AVIATOR IS KILLED IN PARACHUTE LEAP AT VERNON SUNDAY

PART OF HARNESS BREAKS AND BODY GRATHS TO THE EARTH.

PARACHUTE USED IS BORROWED FOR EVENT

The victim, Ed Lirette, one of the foremost performers of mid-air stunts.

VERNON, TEXAS, May 15.—"Daredevil" Ed Lirette of Dallas, one of the foremost performers of mid-air stunts, met death here Sunday afternoon when a piece of the harness of the parachute with which he was making a 2,000-foot drop, broke, causing him to fall to the ground.

Fate's irony was manifest in the tragedy, in that it was in one of the simplest and least dangerous of his many feats that Lirette died. The parachute drop, spectacular though it is, has never been looked upon as a very dangerous stunt. Lirette performed other feats that far exceeded it in risk and exertion, and came through them all safely. His own parachute harness had been mislaid and was not available for his feat at Vernon; consequently he borrowed the gear of a lighter man; and it proved unequal to the strain which his heavy body placed upon it as the big envelope hurtled downward from the plane. A strap snapped at the neck of air failed the parachute; the flyer failed, in a desperate attempt to seize a handhold on something, then plunged downward.

The body, badly crushed, was found in a small creek near the scene of the exhibition. Honors will be held Tuesday at Dallas. The body was forwarded to Dallas Monday afternoon, accompanied by M. M. Merrill, Lirette's pilot and companion, who was first to reach the body after it fell.

GUINN WILLIAMS CARRIES BAYLOR BY PLURALITY OF 28 SEYMOUR, TEXAS, MAY 15.—A complete tabulation of the vote of Baylor county in the congressional race for the unexpired term of Lucian W. Parish held Saturday follows:

S. A. L. Morgan 287.
Guinn Williams 216.
Ovitts-Bullington 34.
Miss Annie Webb Hinton 75.
Moore, S. J. only 778 votes were polled at the 16 voting boxes of the county, 416 of these being polled in the Seymour box. Less than a third of the qualified voters cast their ballots last Saturday. One substantial reason for the light vote throughout the country boxes was due to the fact that the farmers were busy attending to crop planting, which had been delayed by previously continued rainfall, only 266 votes being cast in 15 country boxes which had a potential voting strength of nearly 2,000.

Steel output continues gaining though badly crippled by coke shortage. Ingot production is nearing 38,000,000 tons a year, against a pre-war normal of about 30,000,000 tons. Outlook is that mills will be overworked in many semi-finished lines by June.

HARD BOILED GIRL CHALLENGES COPS TO FIGHT IN COURT

The cost of contradicting official testimony and getting hard-boiled in police court went up Monday morning.

Witness the plight of a young married woman who resented with such vehemence the statements of Officers Shook and Johnson that she was guilty of a vagrancy charge that Judge Chancy found it necessary to impose a $25 contempt of court fine on the 115 rag time already assessed. The defendant was arrested at midnight Saturday and after spending Sunday in jail was in no amiable frame of mind when arraigned before the court.

After her stormy session with the law she struck an a la Dames pose and offered passionate resistance to being taken back to her cell. The resistance was short lived, however, and throughout the morning her sole school dromedary in the upper corridors of the city hall.

Monday morning's court docket was probably the heaviest yet since Judge Chancy and Attorney Gibson took up the prosecutions. Furthermore the fines collected totalled more in this aggregate. A man arrested Saturday night for being drunk and disturbing the peace found that such a spree was worth about $25 while the usual traffic violator shelled out $5, $10 and $15 with monotonous regularity when their cases were called.

Incidentally the court entered a $5 fine against one of the local congressional candidates in Saturday's elections who was picked up for having left the motor of his car running overtime on a downtown street.

A jury trial, demanded by a man arrested for cutting corners, was set for 1:00 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Louisiana Lady Says She Has Never Found Anything Better than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much better I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go.

"I was thin.

"I had no appetite.

"I could not rest or sleep well.

"I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself or any one else.

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my troubles was from being so weak and unable to get fixed and out of heart."

"This nervous condition was worse than pain.

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it.

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep and grew stronger and was soon well.

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."

If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, it is reasonable to suppose that you, too, will find Cardui helpful for your troubles, as thousands of women have.

Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Get a bottle from your druggist, today—adv.

RESINOL
Soothing and Healing

That splendid social institution of the present decade, a mothers-daughters banquet, was the appropriate closing social entertainment of the big Y. W. C. A. High School Girls' club given at the Y. W. club room Saturday evening.

Over a hundred mothers and daughters attended the banquet, which was presided over by Miss Cecil McCarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McCarty, as toastmistress. A most attractive program of toasts, readings and music was given, and the favorable address of the retiring president, Miss Jo Betsey Miller, was a feature of the entertainment. The tables were beautifully decorated in the Girls' club colors and a three-course menu was served by members of the Y. W. Girls' Reserves.

The program was as follows: Invocation, Miss Janice McCallister, new president.

Toast to "Mother," Miss Jo Betsey Miller.

Response, Mrs. M. M. Adickes.

"A Mother's Strategy," reading, by Miss Vaughn Buchanan.

"From the Land of the Sky Blue Waters," solo, Mrs. Dorothy Ellis.

Toast, an address to "Mother," Miss Burch Murphy.

Reading, a cutting from Kathleen Norris' "Mother," Miss Elizabeth Carrigan.

Following the program the girls presented a cutting from Kathleen Norris' "Mother," Miss Elizabeth Carrigan.

The Girls Reserves, who served the banquet, included: Misses: Delma Witherspoon, with a gift, and Miss Miller made her farewell talk.

Brief News Items

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nugent Pitts, general of the Record-News and Miss Irene Davidson from The Times returned Sunday and Monday from attending the Texas Press association annual meeting at Denton, Texas.

THE RAINBOW'S JEALOUS

Rainie, one of the most popular members of the mothers-daughters club, is shown in a rainbow ever dreamed of—but nature is so limited!

Emerald green and periwinkle blue are the colors of the mother, but one needn't cramp one's style by refusing all others.

Deep rose, lemon yellow, new blue, torchlight red are only a few of them. Rainie is shown not only in plain colors but in gingham checks, stripes and temperamental plaids. The styles in which it may be used are almost endless.

You may have gathered by now what we started out to say—that your season won't be complete without at least one rainie frock. Unless it's brilliant color you won't be able to look your mirror in the face.

FLORAL WREATH SENT BY AMERICAN LEGION

A huge floral wreath with a suitable inscription was sent to the Dallas home of Mrs. Liggett Monday by the American Legion post of the American legion. Post officials here were greatly saddened on learning of the daring flyer's untimely death at Verdugo last week. During his recent stay in this city he had become exceedingly popular with those with whom he came in contact.

Liggett was the popular attraction of the American legion aviation meet concluded at Call Field a week ago Sunday and his hair-raising stunts went far toward assuring the success of the venture.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS THE MAGIC RECORD By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Servants quickly carried the phonograph from the palace to the place beneath Princess Therna's window.

Servants quickly carried the phonograph from the palace to the place beneath Princess Therna's window where the kings were waiting.

"It's false!" roared King Verdo. "Bring me my arrow."

"What shall be the target?" cried everyone.

"The dove at your window," cried King Indig.

"Yes," cried out the falcon. "Let the dove be the mark."

So it was settled.

King Indig shot first, but his arrow was so crooked it whizzed around in circles and disappeared in the sky.

"Oh!" moaned the Diddyvers.

"King Verdo's arrow—how crooked it was so crooked that his arrow went straight into the ground."

"Oh!" moaned the Korsknotts in horror for their king.

"And now," cried out the furious falcon, "turn the other side of the record and learn the truth, good people! You shall know all, for Longhead has yet more to say."

OUR FIRST YEAR CHAPTER XXXVIII—PLANTING AN ACORN

"Haven't I another shirt?" Jack called from the small dressing room back of the th-a-dor bed.

"Yes, dear!" I answered absent-mindedly, morning when Jack had a prospect at our end of town, therefore he could afford to be a little late in leaving home.

"In the third drawer, dearest!" I answered briefly because I was meditating about what to do with one of the letters the janitor had slipped under the door of the living room. It was from dear old Mr. Tearie. I knew from the writing, it must be about our scheme to let Bonny elope, if she wanted to, to get her to elope with the man of her father's choice.

And what, or how much of that secret had I a right to tell Jack? If Bart eventually were to marry Bonny, would it be nice for my mother's biscuits at his wife.

I wanted to tell Jack how terribly sorry I felt when this unfortunate speech floated from the dressing room.

"This settles it! I'll be late keeping my appointment!"

I knew perfectly well that Jack was kidding me, teasing a little, it was his way of saving my feelings, of making me laugh when I felt like crying, but the situation didn't appeal to me as one bit funny. His trifling speech was the last straw, a mere whiff, but big enough to make me decide what to do with Mr. Tearie's letter.

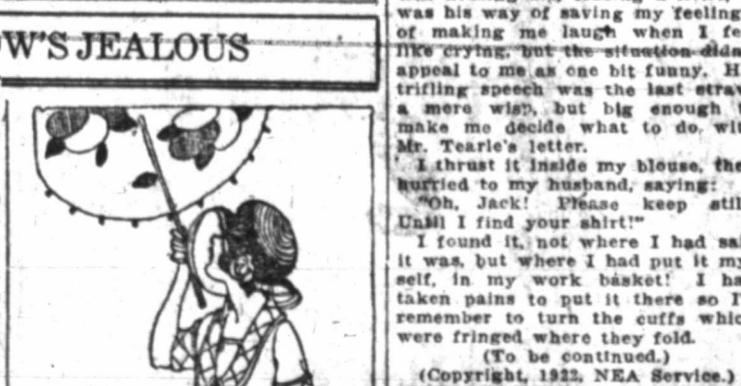

Lament it inside my blouse, then hurried to my husband, saying:

"Oh, Jack! Please keep still! I find your shirt!"

"Where in my other shirt I had said it was, but where I had put it myself, in my work basket! I had taken pains to put it there so I'd remember to turn the cuffs which were fringed where they fold."

Although Miss Annie Webb Blanton had said that she would be a candidate for the nomination, some of her friends here are inclined to believe that she will not make the race. If she is not a candidate it will leave only Mr. Moore to oppose Mr. Williams for the nomination.

Mr. Williams has already announced his candidacy for the nomination.

Mr. Williams is expected to go to Washington shortly and to take the oath of office as soon as he receives his certificate of election.

MORGAN WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE IN JULY'S PRIMARIES

—Hon. S. A. L. Morgan will not be a candidate for the congressional nomination in the democratic primary in July.

When he entered the race for the unexpected term of the late Lucian W. Parrish he did so with the expectation of being a candidate for the nomination for the regular term if he won and of not being if he lost. He told friends Monday morning that there had been nothing to change this decision and that he would not be a candidate.

W. S. Moore, who had withdrawn from the race for the unexpected term, announced in his withdrawal term, announced in his withdrawal

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY
My God shall supply all your need, according to His riches and glory.—Philippians 4:19.

The central thought of religion is of a peace that transcends all its discords, a harmony which works through all the conflict of the forces of nature, and the still more intense conflict of the wills of men.—Edward Caird.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS FROM NOW.

W. L. George, a British author, in an interview in the New York Herald, tells what he believes the world will be like in another hundred years.

"The family would still exist, even though it is not doing very well today. It is inconceivable that some sort of feeling between parents and children should not persist, though I am of course unable to tell what that feeling will be. I imagine that the link will be thinner than it is today, because the child is likely to be taken over by the state, not only schooled but fed and clad, and at the end of its training placed in a post suitable to its abilities.

"This may be effected by birth control, which in 2022 will be legal all over the world. There will be stages: the first results of birth control will be to reduce the birth rate; then the state will step in, as it does in France, and make it worth people's while to have more children; then the state will discover that it has made things too easy and that people are having children recklessly; finally some sort of balance will establish itself between the state demand for children and the national supply.

"Largely the condition of the family will be governed by the position of woman, because woman is the family, while man is merely its supporter." It is practically certain that in 2022 nearly all women will have discarded the idea that they are primarily makers of men. Most fit women will then be following an individual career. All positions will be open to them and a great many women will have risen high. The year 2022 will probably see a large number of women in congress, a great many on judicial benches, many in civil service posts and perhaps some in the president's cabinet.

"But it is unlikely that women will have achieved equality with men. Cautious feminists such as a brief hundred years will not wipe out the effects on women of 30,000 years of slavery. Women will work, partly because they want to and partly because they will be able to. Thus women will pay their share in the upkeep of home and family. The above suggestion of community buildings, where all the household work will be done by professionals, will liberate the average wife and enable her out of her wages to pay her share of the household work which she dislikes.

"Marriage will still exist much as it is today, for mankind has an inveterate taste for the institution, but divorce will probably be as easy everywhere as it is in Nevada. In view, however, of the improved position of woman and her earning power, she will not only cease to be entitled to alimony, but she will be expected, after the divorce, to pay her share of the maintenance of her children."

ARE YOU CLEVER?

Bloodhounds are transported across Texas by airplane, to trail criminals wanted at Mexico, oil-company towns.

This is news, because it never happened before. Later on, when airplanes will be as common as autos, shipping bloodhounds by flying express will be part of every day's business. Then no one will want to read about it.

People are most interested in the unusual. The craving to see something new is more gnawing than curiosity about the baffling riddle, human beings themselves.

To attain success, do the old stuff in a new way. That gets attention. Having attention, it is an easy matter to get the crowds to pay admission to your tent.

Christian K. Nelson, son of an Iowa village confectioner, had 19 cents and an idea. The idea was the Eskimo pie, now earning him royalties of around $1,000,000 a year.

The Eskimo pie is merely a combination of two old things—ice cream and a chocolate coating. Selling them separately, Nelson might have lived and died in his father's candy store without getting rich.

But he had imagination, also shrewdness enough to know that the public would buy the "old stuff" if it was dressed up in a new way.

Barnum, master showman, advertised "a horse with its head where the tail ought to be."

All that was inside the little sideshow tent, was an old nag, hitched with its tail in the manger.

But more people in one season bit on this appeal than their craving for the unusual, and paid over their hand cash to gratify their craving, than would pay to see a normal horse in several million years.

Every one of the broodstock, bosome things of life could be presented in a new and attractive way, with as much success as Nelson's combination of ice cream and chocolate coating.

Stir up your imagination and apply it to your job. Find the new way to make your work attract the appreciate attention of your employer. If in the sales end, all you need is a "new sales kink."

Observe that the new way usually is a better way—applying simplicity, convenience and efficiency to the old method.

THE CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION.

State Senator Guinn Williams has been elected to fill the unexpired term of the late Lucian W. Parish in congress by what is probably a majority of the votes polled in the election. Mr. Williams' large vote is a tribute to his fine and genial personality more than an endorsement of his views on the issues in the campaign.

Wise county, probably more than any other west of Tarrant, has sent her sons westward into many Northwest Texas counties and particularly into the counties in the western part of the Thirteenth congressional district. It befits Mr. Williams' good citizenship and is a tribute to him that almost without exception these former Wise county residents worked diligently for his success in the recent campaign.

Hon. S. A. Morgan of Wichita Falls made a splendid campaign and impressed many as being the ablest man in the race. His speeches showed breadth of view, conviction, courage and were expressed with a vigor and clarity that could not be matched by others in the race.

Orville Bullington, Wichita Falls independent candidate, received the votes of many friends in Wichita Falls and in Wichita county who could not fully endorse his views. There were many others of his friends who regretted that his political position would not permit them to pay him a personal tribute by giving him their vote.

THE CALICO WOMEN.
I have an idea that if Nancy Hanks, the mother of Lincoln, were alive and should come into the ordinary store, she wouldn't get the best of attention.

The uncouth appearance and perhaps bent figure might cause some clerks to smile and to render only a passing service, as contrasted with the service rendered some fashionable and showy woman.

For what clerk could guess that here was the mother of the greatest figure of modern times? But how much it would mean to wait upon such a one.

There is something very beautifully noble about the consideration shown to the best, frail, calico women of the world.

What a plain, simple woman Madame Currie is. Such a fine, wonderful face. Yet no one would suspect here to be one of the greatest scientists in the world just to meet her on the street.

The mothers of great men—the scientists, discoverers, merchants, statesmen—are, as a class, plain and simple folk with wonderful souls.

If you are a clerk in a store, bear this in mind. You may be rendering service to one of the greatest of the earth. Treat the unpretentious ones with consideration, graciousness and kindness.

I often encounter—after the business day is over—the woman who cleans my offices and scrubs the floors. She is a very wonderful woman to me. She has five children and I have never heard her complain and I have never met her but what her face has been wreathed in smiles. Perhaps one of her little ones shall rise to leadership in the world some day and get to shame those who once hired her for so menial labor at such small pay.

The calico woman! I never see the type but what I think of my own mother—who dressed so plainly, but whose heart was gold of the finest thread thought, her soul always conscious of the needs of other people.

How very wonderful is consideration and kindness, anyway—to whomsoever it is rendered.

JUST FOLKS

OUR CHILD AND THE NEIGHBOR'S CAT.
They are taking care of their neighbor's cat. And making a very good job of that.

For the next-door lady was called away. So what could they do and what could they say? When she asked in her absence if they would see that her cat was fed as she ought to be?

Now the cat is a puss that is highly bred. And on dainty foods must be daily fed; She's a costly thing, as you may infer, And the common cats mustn't play with her, And not for the world would they dare to let Disaster come to their neighbor's pet.

They fret at night and they fret by day For fear that Miss Tabby may run away; The very last thing that they do at night Is to see that the neighbor's cat's all right. They never could rest if their charge should roam And perhaps be lost when their friends come home.

God loaned them a child, but He didn't say: "Look after my baby while I'm away." So they seldom worry and seldom fret For he isn't ranked as a neighbor's pet. And never they trouble to count the cost, Or what God will say if His child be lost.

He's one of God's children, but what that is, He's not the same as a neighbor's cat. For soon will the neighbor be home to find If they've been true to their trust and kind, And they fear his wrath, but it strikes me odd They're never afraid of the wrath of God.

IMPORTANT.
Today's most important news is that the railroads are moving as many cars of freight as during the great business boom of 1913.

It is a remarkable showing, for the coal strike has reduced freight movement 116,000 cars a week.

If coal shipments were uninterrupted now, as they were in 1919, freight traffic would be more than a seventh bigger than during the boom.

It is important news, mighty encouraging, for freight loadings show how much is being produced, how much sold.

Prosperity is returning in the humble box car.

MURDER.
Lillian White disappeared at Nyack, N. Y. Two boys, picking wild flowers, found a skeleton in a basket.

Belgian detectives reconstructed the victim's head by shaping plaster over the skull, mathematically restoring the face as it looked in life with muscles and skin over the bones.

Relatives viewed the work, faintly identified it. Blue glass eyes, the hair of the victim, was found near the skeleton, made it lifelike.

Sherlock Holmes, Lecoq or Doctor Brown never did anything as wonderful.

By a similar method, scientists take a fossil fragment of a jawbone and reconstruct it to show what primitive man looked like—500,000 years ago, according to science, 5,000 years, according to W. J. Bryan.

BEAUTY.
Next time you are near a big museum, especially the American Museum of Natural History in New York, be sure to see the reconstructed skulls of primitive men.

Instantly it will strike you that modern man, compared with his ancestors, is like beauty alongside the beast.

Man is losing his ferocious head and becoming more and more a thing. Progress is certain, if slow, and the primate skull proves it.

BRAINS.
The cave man had jaws like a gorilla, for cracking bones and masticating tough raw meat. His brains were in his stomach.

He is higher as man began to think. On the other side, many a big skull has nothing in it. These are exceptions. Place your bets on the big skulls. Cuvier, great French naturalist, who died 30 years ago, had a brain weighing 64 ounces, heavier than present-day American average of 50.

WOODSIE.
Mrs. Mildred Brandt, newly elected police magistrate, announces she will hold court in her parlor at home to take less time from her domestic duties.

While a parlor may not look as impressive as a dusty court room, it is in the home, the original and greatest agency of law and order, for the most part court rooms exist to rectify and punish mistakes of early home training.

Many a young fellow looks back to a youthful session in the washbasin, with father's shingle, as his shifting into the path of righteousness. Best when taken in moderate doses.

OLD-FASHIONED DOSING

By DR. R. H. BISHOP.
The old-fashioned mother who does her child with bitter medicine, who has a hot or cold, probably doesn't know that her patient can get real worms only by getting into the mouth and stomach of a worm.

There are no symptoms of "worms." A coated tongue, white lines about the mouth, restlessness, heavy breath, picking at the nose, bright eyes, feverishness, nightmares and numerous other disturbances noted in children are not symptoms of worms. They are rather signs of acute intestinal indigestion, and a teaspoonful of soda in a little water will bring relief quicker than all the old-fashioned worm medicines.

The prevention of worms has nothing to do with the regulation of foods given the child. The only true prevention of worms is personal cleanliness.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Citizens vs. Hungry Hounds.
Editor The Times:
We called on the city council Monday night; presented our case, namely, citizens vs. many hounds. To date the hounds have the best of it.

We asked the council to enforce the dog law, also dog muzzling ordinance.

Police Commissioner Pitts states five dogs take the place of each one captured. Quite a local industry.

And as we plead in vain for less dogs we feel that Colonel Kirby's oration on protection of home industry has had some effect in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Brown, residing at Third and Bluff, in company with my wife, was attacked Tuesday night by a bull dog on Seventh street near the Salvation Army hall, and bear him off with an umbrella.

The dog was unmuzzled. The owner should be held responsible for training them for exhibition at a profit, is a survival of savagery.

If England passes the proposed law, she should hand a copy of it to the young prince of Wales, who recently butchered tigers and elephants in India. It may be sensible to kill man-eating tigers, but that longer if, as Mr. Pitts admits, 40

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and colonel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

These little "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force the bowels.

If you have "dark brown mouth" or bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 50c.
