WAR SECRETARY OF MEXICO LEAVES FOR SCENE OF UPRISING

REPORT REBEL FORCES ARE DEFEATED WHILE STAGING CELEBRATION. CALL A WAR COUNCIL OF DEPARTMENT HEADS

By Associated Press. MEXICO CITY, May 18.—Secretary of War Serrano, who hastily left the capital upon receipt of reports of the sacking of Frontera, state of Tabasco, by 200 rebels under Jose Segovia, boarded the gunboat Maragosa at Vera Cruz and on his way to the scene of the trouble.

His office statement says Segovia's forces were surprised and defeated this morning at Las Palmas while celebrating their victory and that several of the rebels were killed and others captured.

The uprising in Tabasco, although frequent of late, have never been taken seriously here, as the state is not so strategically located that such movements can menace Mexico City and the north.

Two months ago he disappeared from the capital and since the uprising in Tabasco has been delicate, Serrano was included in President Obregon's recent order that all military officials be leaders of rebel movements.

SODERMAN TRIAL BEGINS ON MONDAY IN DALLAS COUNTY

CHARGED WITH THE MURDER OF MANAGER OF THE WALDORF HOTEL.

DEFENDANT AND POWERS WERE FORMER PARTNERS

Exact Lines of the Defense Have Not Been Announced By the Attorneys.

DALLAS, TEXAS, May 18.—The trial of D. E. Soderman, charged with the murder of J. Clay Powers, a member of a prominent Kentucky family, and brother of Tom Powers, well known on the New York stock exchange, is set for May 22, in the Dallas county district court No. 2. Soderman and Powers at one time were connected in a business way, having been interested in a hotel at Fort Worth. According to attorneys for the defense the Soderman and Powers families were close friends. Powers was the manager of the Waldorf hotel in Dallas. On April 18, about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, he was in the lobby talking to a friend. A city detective stood nearby. According to the witnesses preliminary words, at the most only a few which were not overheard, began shooting. Powers dropped, exclaiming "it couldn't be helped. Call my wife. Soderman was alarmed and placed under arrest by the detective. Powers was rushed to a hospital where he died in about an hour. His assistant refused to make any statements to newspapers.

Exact lines of the defense have not been announced, but well known criminal lawyers have been retained. They have intimated the defense will be based, in part at least, on statements contained in a letter which it is alleged Mrs. Soderman wrote to her husband, and mentioning Powers. According to the defense lawyers this letter indicates the motive in the case. When the shooting occurred Mrs. Soderman was in El Paso, it was said. She came to Dallas a few days, was summoned before the grand jury, but is reported to have refused to answer questions. Immediately after Soderman's arrest plans were made to hold a preliminary hearing. The grand jury quickly summoned witnesses and Soderman was indicted before the date of the preliminary hearing. A habeas corpus petition was planned by the defense to have heard first for the defendant, but was abandoned. Hearings in such cases usually require that both sides reveal their evidence to a more or less extent.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers both were known in amateur theatrical circles in Dallas, taking part in plays in the Little Theatre. Powers has written several plays. Powers was the son of Joshua Powers, former president of the American Banking Association, and president of the Commonwealth Insurance company, of Kentucky. He was born in Overbrook, Ky., and married there. Before coming to Dallas he practiced law in California, and also served in the army overseas, being a major when discharged. One of the surviving brothers was Col. Robert Powers, retired.

The case has attracted much attention because of Powers standing and the intimations of what the defense may be.

CALL FOR GENERAL MINE CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS PRICES

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Plans to give effect to the scheme adopted by coal operators in conference with Secretary Hoover for preventing profiteering in the price of bituminous coal supplied by non-union and "open shop" mines during the present strike has been placed under way today with the issuance of a call for a general conference of the operators whose adherence to the scheme is regarded as vital to its success.

The recommendation for a general conference of operators now proposed by coal was drawn up by an informal committee of the fifty odd operators who met with Secretary Hoover in a preliminary conference yesterday. It gave the approval to a plan under which prices would be kept at a reasonable level by placing distribution under the supervision of a clearing house committee in each producing coal district. The committees would be made up of operators, consumers' representatives and a government agent and a general committee in Washington would maintain coordination between the district committees.

The operators in the preliminary conference adopted Mr. Hoover's proposal that the price scale fixed by Fuel Administrator Garfield in 1917 with any necessary adjustments should serve roughly as the basis for price agreements.

LADY RHONDDA DENIED A SEAT IN HOUSE OF LORDS

By Associated Press. LONDON, May 18.—By a vote of 28 to 4 the committee on privileges of the house of lords decided today that Lady Rhondda's claim and petition to sit in the house of lords had not been made out.

Lady Rhondda's petition to sit in the house of lords was granted by the committee on privileges March 3 but when the decision was reported to the house late in March it was referred back to the committee.

The settlement of the debate in the house of lords over the reference back to the committee was apparently against the admission of women. Lady Rhondda, daughter of the late Viscount Rhondda, Great Britain's war time food controller, is one of the leading figures in the business world of Great Britain, having succeeded her father, long known as the "coal king" in the direction of his large business enterprises.

ELPOTRA, TEXAS, May 18.—Failure to put up mail boxes seems likely to postpone the inauguration of free mail service in Electra, according to Postmaster A. N. Richardson. Schuere have been appointed by the chamber of commerce and agriculture to cooperate with the postmaster in existing patronage along the proposed route to secure and put up some suitable receptacles for mail. An inspector is expected any day now, and his report will largely determine whether or not the service is to be inaugurated as proposed. Putting up boxes seems to be the only obstacle.

Somebody came between them. "You were adorable, everybody simply raved about you!" "Fact, Mrs. Druce. You outshined even Alma Daley in that Palm Room scene. No, but seriously: It was you first, Miss Daley second, Fanny a good third, the field afterwards." "Well, it's hard to believe, but if you mean it, the Cupis and their cameraman would seem to have been right."

"Right about what?" Lontaine earnestly wanted to know. "Why, they were so sure I would screen well, as they put it, Mr. Culp made me an offer, as we were leaving, to act with his wife in her next picture." Lontaine's eyes widened into a luminous blue stare; and abruptly, as if to hide the thought behind them, he threw away a half-smoked cigar and, helping himself to another, bent forward, tapping it on a thumb-nail. "Really, dearest? How precious! And what did you say to the creature?" "Oh, I was kind but firm."

Apkward explanations had been accepted without question.

"I'm not even dreaming of such a thing. Why, it's absurd!" "Then you're the modern miracle, Mrs. Druce—a woman without either vanity or a secret ambition to be a cinema star." Lontaine laughed and easily got up. "But if you'll excuse me now, I'll arrange matters with the conductor and porters."

The door was behind Lucinda's shoulders. Closing it, unseen by her, Lontaine contrived to exchange with his wife a look of profound significance. (Continued in Our Next Issue.)

GANG OF 60 MEN ARE PLACING 85 POUND STEEL RAIL

A gang of 60 men are employed placing 85 pound steel rail on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad on the Denison division. Work began on the Wichita Falls end early in the week and Friday morning the local office was advised that the work had progressed to a point three miles from the city. Five miles of the heavier rails have been placed from Gainesville towards this city. It is believed that it will require at least two months to ten weeks before the lighter rails have been supplanted by the heavier ones. The work is being carried on without any interruption of traffic.

EXAMINING TRIAL OF BOB FLETCHER STARTS AT ARCHER

The examining trial of Bob Fletcher of Windthorst, charged with murder in connection with the death of his father-in-law and sister-in-law, was scheduled to begin Friday afternoon at Archer City. The father-in-law, William Saylor, prominent Archer county farmer, and the sister-in-law, Miss Jo Saylor, were burned to death on May 15 when there was a gasoline explosion in their car while they were driving home from Wichita Falls. Fletcher struck the match that ignited the gasoline, after the car had run off a small bridge, and was himself slightly burned. Much interest in the case is mani-festated in Archer City, owing to the prominence of the parties involved and the unusual nature of the charges. Martin and O'Neil of this city will represent Fletcher. You can get cotton seed for planting at Morgan's Feed Store, 1102 Ohio.

As she was pouring herself a second cup of coffee in the Pullman dining car the following morning, she glanced at her watch and found it was ten minutes past ten. "Do you mind my sitting here, Mrs. Druce?" Lucinda jumped in consternation. The speaker bowed with an ingratiating smile; her unsought champion of the night before. "I'm surprised, too," he confessed— "pleasantly, if you don't mind my saying so. And yet the dear public continually kicks about colonel's!" Lucinda found her tongue but found it incompetent to frame any but the most formal phrases. "I have a great deal to thank you for, and I am very sorry to hear of your accident. Please don't think of it that way. To the contrary, I owe you all sorts of apologies."

"For butting in where any rational angel would have been scared to dash to tread, and particularly for being here?" The waiter thrust an order blank with the bill of fare under the young man's nose. "If you'll excuse me . . ."

The head he bowed over the cards was well-modeled and thatched with a good quantity of hair, light brown in color and amazingly lustreous. A hair whose pattern of faint tan resembled that of old ivory, with never a bluish, covered boldly fashioned features. The mobile face had a trick of lighting up when its owner was walking as if aglow with the light of his thought, so that his look was in fact more eloquent than his speech. Lucinda thought she had never seen hands more strong and graceful, or any better cared for, not even Bel's. She had Bel ever gazed in better mood.

The subject of her interest waved the waiter away and met her openly interested regard without loss of composure.

"I guess it's time I introduced myself, Mrs. Druce. My name is Summerlad." After a slight pause and with a hint of self-consciousness, he amplified: "Lynn Summerlad."

Sensible that he seemed to expect her to think well of that previous name, Lucinda found no echo for it in the chambers of her memory.

"But how is it, you know my name, Mr. Summerlad?"

"That's easy; your husband told me."

Again Lucinda was reduced to a blank "Oh!" This time she felt she was coloring.

"In the police station?" Mr. Summerlad added with a broad grin. "But don't be alarmed. You see, Mr. Druce rather lost his head—couldn't be happy till he'd had me arrested on a charge of assault. At the station house your husband cooled down and remembered that publicity wasn't his best bet. So he withdrew the charge."

"How dreadful!" Lucinda murmured, her thought with Bellamy. "I'm so sorry."

"No reason to be. If you must know, I enjoyed the adventure tremendously. That's what one gets for having been born with a perverted sense of humor. Besides, it wasn't as if I'd never been pinched before."

"You don't mean to tell me you're in the habit of—?"

"I mean, pinched for speeding. You know what the roads are, out on the coast, hard and smooth and straight as a string for miles at a time. You can hardly resist them, once you get beyond the city limits."

Lucinda caught the eye of her waiter and gave him a bill to pay for her breakfast. But she couldn't escape with good grace just yet, unless she wished to administer a downright snub she would have to wait for her change.

"I'd like to show you what motoring is around Los Angeles," Mr. Summerlad pursued with breath-taking assurance. "If it isn't an important question, may I ask if that's where you're bound?"

"No," Lucinda replied briefly. One began to foresee that to put a damper on such abounding enterprises would prove far from easy.

Lucinda gathered up her change. And Summerlad's face fell touchingly as he grasped the fact that she was really going to leave him to finish his breakfast alone. "I am deeply indebted to you," she pursued. "But, of course, it isn't a thing one can talk about."

"Well, there are lots of other things we can talk about," Summerlad rejoined cheerily. "So let's forget the unpleasant ones. It's a long, lonesome trip and I'll be very happy if you'll let me prattle in your company now and then."

Lucinda contented herself with replying, "No, she wouldn't mind, and thrust back her chair. Immediately Summerlad was on his feet, napkin in hand, bowing prettily.

"Awwfully good of you, Mrs. Druce. Where shall I find you, say in an hour or two?" The observation came?

"Perhaps," Lucinda smiled.

She made her way back to her reservation but was not well settled when she heard a joyful cry—"Cindy! Cindy Druce!"—and rose, dropping the book in her astonishment, to be unfolded in the arms of Fanny Lontaine.

XV

Apkward explanations, haltingly offered, had been accepted without question. Fanny and her husband's mutual sympathy not only won Lucinda's heart completely, but, together with her reluctance to proceed so long before she could feel reasonably sure of living there unmolested, had influenced her to agree to go on whether (she was tacitly led to infer) with the Lontaines to Los Angeles. His motherly interests had permanently called Lontaine.

It seemed a sensible move as well as one spot agreeable in prospect. She

BEAUTIFUL LUNCHEON HONORS HIGH GRADE

A very lovely luncheon, taking its happy cue from the "flowers that bloom in the spring," was given by Mrs. E. S. Gooner Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock in compliment to two popular girl graduates of the high school, Miss Ada Guillatt and Frances Jones. Both of the girls were members of Mrs. D. B. Read's class in the Central Presbyterian Sunday school and members of that church's young people's society of that church.

The dining room and living room of the Goodner home did signal and beautiful honor to the young honorees. Dorothy Perkins and Frances Jones formed the flower and color motif, and the dining room itself was a real springtime bower. Festoons of tiny pink and green flowers hung from the chandelier in the four corners of the room, where three tables were arranged for the diners. The colors were beautiful, carried out in the table; centerpiece-for-each were baskets of the lovely pink roses, the crepe mint cups were in pink, tied with pale green ribbon, candles with pink shades were in crystal candlesticks tied with green tulle, and butterfly bows of pink tulle graced the plates. The place cards were miniature diplomas with a certificate of good wishes from the hostess to each guest.

At the luncheon, the girls presented a set of a beautiful Chinese silk, hand-painted in a Chinese design of pink and green.

The menu included: appetizers, candied sweet potatoes with marshmallows, peas in patty shells, pea butter bread, relishes, pear salad with whipped cream, cake and ice tea. Pink and white mints finished the course.

After luncheon the girls enjoyed music, wrote good wishes in the two pretty booklets for the honorees, and took kodak pictures of the party. Those who enjoyed the affair, including the mothers and one or two other friends, were: Misses Ada Guillatt and Frances Jones, Edna and Edna Kuehn, Pearl Ray, Emma, Lou Scott, Stella Winters, Ursula Johnson, Mary Meredith, Bono Bono, Birdie Craig and Irene Diggs; Mesdames A. F. Guillatt, Calvin Jones, D. B. Read and J. C. Grog.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS A NEW ADVENTURE

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Do you want company?" asked the Magical Mushroom.

The Fairy Queen wrote a letter of introduction for the Twins to give to Mr. Peabrook when they got to the moon. When it was finished, she handed it to Nick who put it away carefully in his pocket.

"Do you want company?" asked the Magical Mushroom. "I'd sort of like to go along for I haven't seen my old friend Peabrook for years 'n' years."

"Oh, yes, do come," cried Nancy. "We'd love to have you. Can you wish yourself so far?"

"I don't know whether my magic will hold out for that distance or not," answered the Mushroom, "but what's the matter with each of you taking one of my arms (the Mushroom had arms you know, my dears—legs too) and when you wish yourselves up to the moon, I'll go too."

"But can you get down?" asked Nick.

"His, ha, ha! That's a fine joke," Nick laughed. "The Mushroom, turning to the Fairy Queen and all the other faeries who were gathered around to see the Twins off on their new adventure. "That's a fine joke—to ask a person with a hat like an open umbrella, if he can get down from the moon. Yes, my dear, I can sail down as easily as a parachute jumper can jump out of a balloon at the circus. Don't worry. I'll be safe enough."

Nick started to be offended when the Mushroom laughed, but another thought popped into his head just then and crowded out the feeling. He looked up at the sky, squinting his eyes in every direction. "There isn't any moon now," he declared. "We'll have to wait 'till tonight to start."

The Fairy Queen shook her head. "Oh, so you won't, Nick," she said. "There's always a moon, only you can't see it, anymore than you can see a troley car after it turns the corner. It's right now on the other side of the world and that's where the moon is. Mr. Peabrook never gets a rest on that account. He's like Mr. Sprinkle-Blo, the weatherman. Somebody to please, ALL the time."

The home was attractively decorated in a profusion of roses for the luncheon, the dining table being especially lovely. Mrs. Hall was assisted by her daughter, Miss Pauline Hall, in serving the several courses of the menu, and after luncheon the guests spent the afternoon enjoying music and readings. Both of the honorees were presented with sterling silver pencils as remembrances.

Those who were present included Mesdames Clyde Gold, T. E. Bond, C. E. Bailey, J. W. Pond, C. R. Niles, and J. V. C. T. Christensen; Misses Dora and Cora Coons and Pauline Hall, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hall.

"OLD TIMERS" RETURN TO MAKE WICHITA FALLS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Durden, former residents of Wichita Falls who have been living in California for the past five years, drove into the city Thursday after an overland trip from the western coast, and will make their permanent home here. Mrs. Durden will be remembered as Miss Frances Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Allen of this city.

The travelers came through in a Cadillac car, making the trip in nine days. They "enjoyed" the unspicakable roads of a good portion of Texas for the past several days, running head-on into a downpour and mud at Big Springs. Aside from two drag-outs, after that in attractive mud-pits en route, however, they had a nice trip.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Durden of Marlin are here for a few days visiting the family.

In Kurdistan music of any kind is looked upon as immoral.

OUR FIRST YEAR

CHAPTER XLII—A FLAPPER CENSOR.

By a Bride

"Hello, folks! Give me a cigaret, Jack! An' a light! Thanks!" Bonny greeted us.

"May I enquire who your interesting new chivalrous friend is?" indicated two young girls in bob, breeches, coats and stocks, who had been helping Bonny address envelopes.

"Don't you know them? They're the famous—Konrad twins—their names are Konrad and Konrad. They're sort of—sort of semi-palms, extras we need for a specialty."

"Shall I get one of 'em to lend you her coat?" hinted Jeanne.

"Oh, Bonny! You're cold!" Jack was off and back in a minute, and had wrapped Miss Flapper in her evening cloak before she knew it, and 50 pairs of eyes were released from bondage.

I tell this story only to show what a regular dear is my husband, how comprehending and chivalrous, how quick to do the right thing at the proper moment. Only about me, about what I want, about how I feel is Jack's mind. He's got it.

Of Bonny he has always said that she can reason right, that she only prefers the freakish, the bizarre of being bored in her supreme affection.

"But Jeanne and I know that Bonny is unceasingly sophisticated, for instance, overlooking the Konrad, looking like pretty boys as they stepped upon the stage, Bonny commented:

"Breaches! Not for Bonny. Some girls are going to wear 'em all summer, they say, white duck tops. But—not me!" She blew a circle of elegant smoke into the air.

"Why not you?" Jeanne queried.

"Because men don't like to see girls in boys' clothes. Now do they, Jack?"

To which Mr. Jack, never having formed an opinion, contributed his characteristic bewildered, "Why not?"

"Men do not like pantalon effects on girls," Bonny insisted. "Breaches for horses, knickers for bikers—all right. But men like frilly, feminine lacey leaning girls. So I'm going to be all ruffly this summer. Pretty colors, too. I hope all the other girls will wear breeches. Then I'll have all the beauty!"

We laughed in chorus, all except Jeanne, who had on her critical mood. Said she:

"You super-sophisticated baby! Why, the infant has said all there is to be said against breaches for girls! She's told us why Dr. Mary Walker never could make them popular! Why they're doomed to-day!"

"At this moment Bart joined us and Bonny blushed! That smart little flapper actually blushed, and put out her cigaret against the back of a chair.

I managed to mill the group so that the two young things were left outside our circle. And, oh, they made a beautiful pair. Why couldn't Bart have some and fall in love with the girl?"

Be Careful What You Wash Your Child's Hair With

If you want to keep your child's hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisulfated coconut oil shampoo, which is pure and entirely greaseless, is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing. It is safe and possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Multisulfated in a bowl with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rises so easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisulfated coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multisulfated—only.

REPUBLICANS AND THE TARIFF BILL.

The republicans are still discussing the acid schedule in the "A" list of the new tariff bill and there seems to be a wide variance of opinion among them.

The country was prosperous under the Underwood bill. Why can't the emergency tariff bill be repeated and the Underwood bill be allowed to stand?

But it is too much to hope for this from a republican congress. They've simply got to make a new tariff, although a definite plan or policy seems to be lacking.

The Daily Oklahoman discussing the situation of the republicans in connection with the tariff bill says:

"The greatest confession of weakness by the republicans in regard to the tariff bill is the provision which gives the president broad powers over tariff duties. Under this provision, the president could change tariff duties from time to time. That they should provide for such changes by executive order is an admission by the republicans that they have considerable doubt as to the fairness or wisdom of the rates in their permanent tariff bill.

"As a matter of fact, the tariff bill, as a whole, is an unwise measure. It will give protection to many industries which do not need protection and will enable manufacturers to charge the American consumer almost any price they choose. The tariff bill will also constitute a high wall which will keep foreign products out of America and thus further reduce the foreign trade of the United States. There must be reciprocity if trade between nations is to be maintained and promoted. The foreign trade of the United States has dwindled rapidly and greatly during the Harding administration. The republican emergency embargo tariff was a slap in the faces of other nations that resulted in their giving preference to goods other than those from the United States. Canada actually put into effect a retaliatory embargo tariff against American products. The permanent tariff bill will make even worse the conditions which have resulted from the republican embargo tariff.

"By decreasing the foreign trade of the United States through the enactment of high tariff laws, the republicans cripple American business and thus delay the return of normal conditions in regard to business and employment."

RUSSIA FAILS TO OBTAIN LOAN.

The Russian soviet delegates went to the Genoa conference to ask for the loan of a billion dollars, doubtless with the expectation of getting some part of this amount. They are returning to Russia without a dollar and with some understanding that Russia cannot expect money from the outside until her government merits the confidence of other governments.

The United States had no delegation at the Genoa conference but its attitude toward Russia was stated more than a year ago by Secretary Hughes when he said: "No lasting good can result so long as the present causes of progressive impoverishment continue to operate. It is only in the productivity of Russia that there is any hope for the Russian people, and it is idle to expect resumption of trade until the economic basis of production are securely established. Production is conditioned upon the safety of life, the recognition of firm guarantees of private property, the sanctity of contract and the rights of free labor."

When these conditions are met the Russian people themselves will begin production and credit will be extended to them from the outside. Until they are met the recognition of ambassadors from Russia, the sending of ambassadors to Russia and the loaning of billions to the Russian government will not help in the restoration of trade with Russia nor the rehabilitation of the Russian people.

As Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover said a few days ago: "But when all is said and done, the great problem still stands out. Russia is slowly dying because the dynamic forces of production and foreign confidence have not yet been restored. We, a great Christian people, look with horror and deepest sympathy upon her untold miseries. We wish to find foundations in realism for assistance to the Russian people. To extend this help requires a vast restoration of confidence. It requires a restoration of the processes of business and commerce. Russia is making progress in these directions. We wish to help but where does lasting help lie except in the firm and final re-establishment of those basic fundamentals that we have already stated?"

A man is not eligible for the hall of fame until 10 years after his death. That's another thing to worry the college seniors.

We need ice men who know the difference between tomatoes on ice and ice on tomatoes.

Our rising generation is going to the dogs; but rising generations always have done that.

CLAY COUNTY PRECINCT VOTES ROAD BONDS.

Clay county commissioners' precinct No. 1 has voted a bond issue of $150,000 for road improvements in that precinct, an example that may be followed by other commissioners' precinct in that county.

Several county-wide bond issues in Clay county have failed in recent years and the voters of precinct No. 1 have determined to go ahead by themselves.

It is hoped that in selecting the highways to be improved an eventual county system will be kept in mind and highways chosen that will connect with the main highways in other precincts.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

WORK AND LIFE.

Someone has given utterance to this thought and I am giving it to you: "Work as though you were to live forever—live as though you were to die tomorrow."

It is only as we find in work something to spur us on, something to feed our minds and souls, that we become worthy to share in the honor and dignity that is inseparable from work.

And it is only as we find in work richness of life that we are able to find happiness at all.

You who work merely for the material advantage that results from work are a very poor worker indeed. Outside my window I note a laborer. He is digging in the soil. He is whistling. I note a digger on his brow. He does not take one dig and then look over the landscape—beautiful as it is—but he works right on. When the day's work is finished he will go happily tired to his home.

I am amused at the employe in a good concern who is always wondering whether or not there is to be any future for him.

There is always a bright and substantial future for the worker—no matter where he works—if he keeps the future he desires in mind and sets his entire energies to the task of attaining it.

But there can be no slighting of details, no counting of time, no covering up of that which should be done.

Work is life only as life is work. There is to high position and to large accumulation of money heavy responsibility, whereas there is always satisfaction that is bound to accrue from work well done, no matter how menial or seemingly unimportant.

And where is there in all this world anything to compare with the happiness that conscientious effort is able to give?

JUST FOLKS

By Edgar A. Guest

Mother was troubled when he came in With his usual shout and his merry grin. For his waist once clean and his shoes once new Were covered with mud for an inch or two, And she said as she looked at his ruined shirt: "I think that he willfully rolls in dirt."

They argued it out in the usual way, "I couldn't help it!" was all he'd say, "Of course you could help it," his mother said, "You could look where you're running along, instead Of seeking the puddles to wallow in! The way you act is a downright sin."

Then he turned to me and he said: "Say, Dad, If you were playing a game and had A chance to win if you'd catch a fly, And you knew you could if you'd only try, And the kids were yelling, 'Go get it, Bud!' Would you be stopped by a puddle of mud?"

"If you were on third with a chance to score And your team was needing just one run more, And you started in and the throw was straight, With the catcher trying to block the plate, But if you could make it the game was tied, Would you think of your shirtwaist then, or slide?"

I winked at him and I said: "Now climb The stairs and wash, for it's dinner time." Then I said to his mother: "Well, after all, And what is the dirt that he wallows in So long as he honestly tries to win?"

SMILE A WHILE

In the spring a young man's fancy nightly turns to gasoline. Eat, drink and—be cautious or tomorrow the undertaker will come. Europe is going to have peace if she has to fight for it. Neighbors judge a new family by the furniture that goes in. Some movies call a spade a spade; others call a spade a subsoil plow. Baltimore will hold a Pan-American Women's meet! But we think American women have had enough gassing.

ROGER DOOLEY, writer, wants to know what keeps the earth from falling as it floats in space. No mystery about it. What we call down is "up" to Chinese on the opposite side of the earth. If earth fell downward under our feet, Chinese would say, "The globe is rising, carrying us with it, like an elevator."

Obviously, if the earth fell, it would have to fall outward in all directions. Unable to do that, except by exploding into atoms, it does the opposite—remains afloat in space like a toy balloon. An atom, it seems amazing, that the impossible does not happen.

WHISKY. Haynes, federal prohibition commissioner, figures that only 4,800,000 gallons of whisky will be withdrawn from bonded warehouses this year. That's a quart a year for each 12½ Americans.

In the old saloon days the country drank 120,000,000 gallons of bonded American whisky a year. Compare with 1922.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

Yesterday after supper pop took off his shoes and put on his slippers saying, Ah, now for a cigar and 14 carrot solid content. And he put his feet up and started to smoke with a satisfied expression, and he said, I should think you'd be tired of staying home every night, I should think you'd feel the need of a little amusement and recreation.

Sitting here on my 4th from the hat vertebra and drawing good clean smoke into my lungs is a most interesting and recreation snuff for me, and pop.

Which he kept on doing, and he said, We don't you call up Mr. Lewis and see if he wants to bowl or play billiards or something. Well, well, I thawt you'd feel the need of that, folks, and pop, and he said, Well, nobody can be as black as theyre painted, and he said, I should think you'd be tired of staying home every night, I should think you'd feel the need of a little amusement and recreation.

To repeat the blind mans fable from my book, well, far be it from me to wish to be the sole representative in the male sex in any gathering of the Dawters of Cleopaters.

And he took his feet down and took his slippers off and put his shoes on and took me to the movies.

MOTION PICTURES WILL BE MADE AT PLAINVIEW MEET

STAMFORD, May 19.—Five thousand persons attending the West Texas chamber of commerce convention at Plainview May 22 and 23 are to be "shot" by Duff Maps, cinematograph operator. Since the "execution" is to be painless, the organization headquarters here will permit it, according to Manager Porter A. Whaley. A number of other motion picture "snappers" will be on the scene to do their level best to get the crowd's imagine in the reels of celluloid. Since the West Texas chamber of commerce convention at Plainview is calculated to be one of the largest commercial organizations ever staged on earth it is attracting the attention of the big moving picture production concerns of the country. The latter are expected to be at Plainview while all this "shooting" is going on, will have the pleasure of seeing themselves "reconstructed" on the screen in hundreds of places in the United States in the next year or two. The publicity which the West Texas chamber of commerce and this territory will receive through this valuable medium cannot be computed in cents and dollars.

DELEGATION GOING FROM PLAINVIEW TO AMARILLO

TEACHER STANDARD WILL BE RAISED IN COUNTY NEXT YEAR

PAST YEAR HAS BEEN THE MOST SUCCESSFUL ONE IN HISTORY OF COUNTY.

SUPERINTENDENT BRYANT PLEASSED OVER RESULTS

District Trustees Will Demand Higher Certification of Teachers Next Year.

With the close of all the schools in the county Friday, the announcement was made that although the past year was the most successful one in the history of the schools of Wichita county, that the standard of teachers for next year would be raised.

The various district trustees will demand higher certification of teachers for next year than in the past, and it is understood will demand first grade or permanent certificates in addition to college work.

Superintendent Burl Bryant stated Friday that a most efficient corps of teachers was used during the past year, but that more experienced teachers would be given positions for the coming year.

An unusually large number of applications have already been received for positions for the school term of 1922-1923.

A majority of the teachers of the county have planned to attend college during the summer. A number of them will finish their degree work during the summer courses.

On reviewing the work of the past year, Superintendent Bryant expressed himself that the school survey conducted by the University of Texas and the announcement of the erection of a new building in the Fairview district where a high school course will be offered, stood out as the most important developments of the country's schools.

The attendance as a whole was better last year than during any previous year. It, however, does not come up to the percentage as had by the city schools.

The schools of Wichita county have been widely advertised throughout the state following the survey made by the State university.

This is one of the reasons assigned for the exceptionally large number of applications for teachers' positions thus far received.

"WOULD RATHER BE KILLED THAN DO TERM OF 20 YEARS"

Constable Frank Morgan, who has returned from Abilene where he delivered J. D. Sprinkle, wanted there following a conviction for murder and sentenced to 20 years in the state prison, stated that the prisoner had to be watched continually while on the way to be turned over.

Before the train had left the city limits of Wichita Falls behind, Sprinkle began talking about jumping out of the window. The officer told him that he would be delivered to Abilene dead or alive. To this the man replied that he would rather be killed than to serve 20 years in prison.

Sprinkle was tried in Abilene three years ago for murder, the case having been taken there from Cheyenne on a charge of murder. The prisoner told Constable Morgan that another man was also convicted on the same charge.

After seeing his way out of the jail at Abilene, Sprinkle told the officer that he had fled to Mexico City where he lived a year.

He said that the case in which he had gained his freedom from the county jail had been sent to him in a religious book and that the saws had been placed inside the shell back when the shell was made.

Constable Morgan received $520 reward for the arrest of Sprinkle.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES OF COUNTY MEET SATURDAY, MAY 27

The five members of county board of trustees and all trustees of county school districts will meet in an important session Saturday, May 27, at 2:00 o'clock in the court house. Superintendent Burl Bryant urges that every trustee and all others interested in the schools of the county be in attendance.

E. M. N. Marx, first assistant state superintendent of schools, will be present and will give a brief address on the possibilities of the county school. County Superintendent Burl Bryant and several others will also speak.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss plans, pertinent to the school program for the coming year and to assist in creating a closer relationship between the school districts of the county.

NEGROES PAY FINE FOR DISTURBING PEACE

Esie Brown, negro, paid a fine of $15 and costs in county court Friday on a charge of disturbing the peace. Deputies of the sheriff's department effected her arrest Thursday night when a search of her premises revealed a wagon load of fruit jars. The negroes told the officers that she had bought the cans to put up fruit during the summer. Odors arising from the cans told the officers that the jars had recently contained something other than fruit.

H. R. VOELCKER IS CHOSEN ASSOCIATE SCHOOL ARCHITECT

H. R. Voelcker of this city has been appointed associate architect for the new high school and Junior college building for which bonds were recently voted, and will be associated with W. B. Ittner of St. Louis. In the preparation of plans and supervision of the work, Mr. Ittner is now at work on the plans. Mr. Voelcker has been architect for a number of school buildings in this city and section, and was recently chosen architect for the new $150,000 high school at Burkburnett.

John C. Middel, a stock farmer residing near Belcherville in Montague county, Friday filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court, listing assets at $2,550 and liabilities at $12,255.

HAD INEXPENSIVE MEANS OF GETTING FROCKS AND FRILLS

A sixteen year old girl of Burkburnett had a most inexpensive way of getting new frocks and frills from the large mail order houses in the country. The result, however, was that Thursday night she was placed under arrest by the postoffice inspector. On a plea of guilty she was bound over to the federal grand jury under bond. Bond was perfected and she was released.

According to the postoffice inspector, the girl would order from $20 to $50 worth of new clothes from the mail order house under an assumed name and enclose a check for the amount. The order was sent to "general delivery," Burkburnett, Texas.

In due course of time after the clothes had been shipped the check would be returned marked "no account."

The inspector worked on the case but a few hours until the girl was under arrest. She made a confession to him, the inspector stated.

FEARFUL MIXTURE FOUND BY POLICE IN RAID ON STILL

Four quarts of liquid, vivid pink in hue and smelling like the leeward side of glue factory were confiscated Thursday night by City Detective Balcher after he had crawled through a window in a small negro shack at 310 Mill street and surprised the owner of the place busily engaged about a huge washtub that was being utilized as a still.

The negro, giving the name of Clarence McGowan, was locked up for the night, his still destroyed and the "whiskey" taken to the city hall to be held as evidence.

According to a general opinion around the city hall a gastronomic system with a cast iron windpipe, India rubber stomach and a luminum digestive apparatus could be necessary to survive an introduction to the "evidence" in question. It appeared to have nitric acid as a basic ingredient, with priming ink used for coloring material and something closely akin to decomposed eggs thrown in for odoriferous purposes.

W. T. Rittenberry, aged 33, died at 1:00 o'clock Thursday night in the Call Field hospital where he was taken April 30 after having accidentally shot himself at his home five miles north of town on the Iowa Park road.

Little hope was held out for Mr. Rittenberry's recovery from the time of the accident and his condition grew gradually worse until death.

Surviving relatives include his widow, parents and three small children, all of whom are now in the city.

Funeral services will be held in the Merkle-Lunn funeral chapel at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. D. Heston, assistant pastor of the First Methodist church, south.

The writ was placed in the hands of Constable Frank Morgan for execution.

REVIVAL SERVICES BEGUN AT NORTH SIDE CHURCH

To the Editor: On Monday, May 22, at 8 p. m. in the North Side Methodist church there will begin a daily series of religious services looking to revival. It is planned to have some Methodist layman or laywoman from the other churches deliver the message on each evening. Request is hereby made for volunteers to write the pastor of their willingness to render such important and praiseworthy service in helping a struggling congregation. It will also materially increase the interest and prove a distinct encouragement if members and friends of the other Methodist congregations shall attend the meeting regularly, or even occasionally. Members of other denominations are likewise cordially invited. Ample space for parking cars will be found in the rear of the church building and a special officer requested for protection against any sort of vandalism.

No financial offerings will be asked at any service.

W. A. BETTS, Pastor. 502 Bridge street.

TEXAS MUCH IN EVIDENCE METHODIST CONFERENCE DR. GROSECLOSE REPORTS

Dr. Groseclose, pastor of Floral Heights Methodist church, has returned from the general conference at Hot Springs, Ark. In speaking of the conference he said:

"Texas was much in evidence there. We elected three of the five bishops elected. We also elected John W. Barton of Dallas as book agent of the church. This is one of the important positions, as the publishing interests of the church have grown until the business runs into the millions of dollars per year. There were hundreds of Texas preachers and laymen present and all of them were boosting for Texas. I am glad to be back in my pulpit again."

"You may say that my sermon will be of interest to all Methodists Sunday morning as I am going to talk on what 'Methodism Stands for Today.' At night the theme will be of interest to all Wichitans. The theme is 'If Jesus Should Come to Wichita Falls Today.'"

C. E. McCutchen has returned from the bankers' convention at Fort Worth.

TWELVE HOUR DAY MAY BE ABOLISHED IN STEEL INDUSTRY

PROPOSAL WILL BE STUDIED BY COMMITTEE TO BE APPOINTED.

PRESIDENT HARDING CALLS ATTENTION TO SITUATION

Steel Men Point Out Many Obstacles to the Abolition of Practice.

Washington, May 19.—The practicability of abolishing the 12-hour day throughout the steel industry of the country will be studied by a special committee of five to be appointed from the industry at an early date by Judge Albert H. Gary as president of the American Steel and Iron Institute.

Authorization for appointment of the committee to make a scientific investigation of the matter and report its conclusions to the institute was voted by its representative steel manufacturers last night after dinner at the White House.

President Harding's suggestion that the 12-hour work day be abolished for the good of industrial America was approved in principle by the steel manufacturers present without exception.

Judge Gary acting as spokesman for the president's guests, stated after the conference, and they voted unanimously for the committee investigation to determine its practicability.

The president stated, Judge Gary said, that "he did not desire to interfere with the natural and legitimate progress of business nor to do anything except to assist industry to meet its possible needs with what appears to be a strong public sentiment."

In the course of a full and free discussion of the question many objections to the abolition of the 12-hour day were pointed out to the president and the steel men made no commitments on the proposal.

KEMP HOTEL WILL HAVE ROOF GARDEN AND WIRELESS SET

A roof garden, where guests and friends may get the full benefit of summer evening breezes, will shortly be installed at the Kemp hotel.

The roof garden will open about June 1. A railing will be erected around the edge of the roof, a plank floor installed, and electric fixtures put in.

For the present, there will be no provision for dancing and no cafe or other service, the garden being planned as a lounge and recreation place than for any entertainment features.

Mr. Stafford said, later, it is possible that fountain service will be installed, if it will be moved to the mezzanine floor or to the lobby.

IRRIGATION BOARD TO FILE SUIT SOON FOR RIGHT OF WAY

Right of way condemnation proceedings will be instituted shortly by the irrigation district directors against the E. P. Mittlebach heirs, the suit involving about 15 acres of land in the southern part of this county.

J. M. Bland, N. O. Monroe and M. A. Bundy have appointed as a condemnation board in the case.

There are seven of the heirs, several of them residing in North Dakota, and owing to the difficulty of getting them to agree on a price, the board decided to institute proceedings.

This is the second condemnation suit for right of way, the first being for the Thom land in Archer county; that case is now on appeal.

GENOA CONFERENCE MATTER OF HISTORY

already have treaties of peace with Russia which are not to be affected by the peace of France.

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—The economic conference ended today with a preliminary meeting after 19 days of efforts to solve Europe's problems.

The period since the convening of the congress on April 10 has been one of disappointment for Mr. Lloyd George and other enthusiastic supporters of the conference who hoped when they came here that the soviet government had altered its economic policy sufficiently to make possible an agreement for the reconstruction of Russia.

But Mr. Lloyd George went to San Giordano palace full of optimism for the outcome of the experts' negotiations with the Russians at the Hague in June, an outgrowth of the present meeting.

His announcement a 10 year truce for Europe as had been hoped for, but there is the eight months non-aggression pact, a gentlemen's agreement as yet unassigned, but probably more effective than any signed document.

San Giordano palace and Royal Palace were still brilliantly decorated with flowers and the flags of all the nations when the delegates gathered for the last time, immaculately uniformed soldiers were on duty everywhere.

The report of the economic commission which has been laboring for five weeks studying projects for the economic reconstruction of the continent, was presented by its chairman, Mr. Corbet, one of the French plenipotentiaries.

Why are some women happy, beloved and successful, while others drag out a negative existence, of no use to themselves or anyone else? Except in a few cases the answer is to be found in a state of freedom from the troubles known as "female." The well known radiators, cheerfulness and serenity, while the ailing one reels because of her lack of these qualities. It is not necessary, however, to harbor aches and pains, and the "blues" that make one a detriment to society. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought relief to such women, and given them a new lease on life.—adv.

PARIS, May 19.—Lloyd George would hear nothing complimentary if he talked with Georges Clemenceau now, writes a representative of the Echo de Paris after interviewing France's premier.

"But the British people," said Mr. Clemenceau emphatically, "you can be certain as I am myself, remain faithful to France."

Asked how he was getting along with his book, Mr. Clemenceau replied: "I expect to finish the first chapter in three years."

CHANGE OF STYLE HAS HELPED KEN

Ken's Leading Swatter Used to Aim at Certain Fields, But No More.

By KEN WILLIAMS.
One of the things that has helped Ken Williams in his home run making is the change in his batting style. He has altered his style at the plate.

Up to last year I always tried to hit to all fields. Last year I would go for a stretch of games always taking a free line and if unable to make home runs I would shift back to my style of trying to hit to all fields.

By Cobb. This season, Speaker, George and Eddie Collins are left-handed hitters. None of them can be used as batters. They hit hard, usually on the line, and never get the distance that they put into his swats.

Hit to All Fields.
I seriously doubt if it would be possible to get four more outfielders than the quartet I have named. Cobb, Speaker, Siler and Collins hit to all fields.

General Impression among the fans is that left-handed batters and right-field hitters. That is the true with the slugger type. I certainly don't hold good scientific hitter.

Like Collins, Cobb, Siler and Speaker hit balls on the outside than do a majority of the right-handed batters. This, of course, is due to a keen eye and the timing of the ball. When a pitcher pitched inside to them they all hit equally hard to right field.

Not a Home Run Style.
The season of 1921 I tried to swing along the lines I have named, hitting to all fields, according to the style of pitching that was called upon. However, we did not make for home runs. Hitting home runs is not a scientific thing. It is good judgment and timing of pitching, plus strength.

Take home runs you must be a healthy man. That is, I am doing this year and I am getting home runs. I suppose is not to try to hit to all fields; rather to hit it out of the field.

One Year Ago
Dorsey Clark's triple in the ninth of the Spudders a 7 to 6 victory over the Browns and made it four for Salm's club. A total of 11 runs made the Spudders 12 to 11 over the Browns.

Home run with a man on base to the fifth inning gave the Spudders a 3 to 2 victory over the Red Sox in the seventh by Larry Spaulding and the Indians to defeat Athletics 4 to 3.

Spaulding's smash by Garrity with a man on base gave the Senators a 5 to 3 win over the Browns.

The Indians were leading the American League, the Pirates, the Red Sox and the Panthers, the Texas Rangers.

Will Judge Landis Pardon Babe Ruth On Next Saturday
Contrary to the general belief, the suspension of Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel is not automatically lifted on May 20.

The decision handed down by Judge Landis states that the players may apply for reinstatement on that date.

There is nothing definite as to when the sentence will be lifted. Judge Landis may elect to let the two stars get back into the game on May 20. Then again he may keep them out a few days longer if he so desires.

It is understood that Ruth and Meusel will apply for reinstatement several days in advance of May 20, requesting the reinstatement take place on that date.

Will Use Wires
It is also the intention of the players to telegraph Judge Landis on the morning of the date set, May 20, requesting to be allowed to play that afternoon.

While there is nothing certain, it seems that Judge Landis should be a good enough sport to grant an immediate lifting of the suspension.

The sentence, the most severe in the history of the game, has in no way affected Ruth or Meusel. Instead of hitting the real offenders of the New York club as well as the other American league clubs have suffered.

It was a sentence that really touched the innocent parties rather than the culprits.

New York fans haven't approved the decision. They have shown this by failure to attend the games. The spring attendance in New York this year, despite the fine showing of the Yankees, has been far below the figures of the past two years.

The answer is, the fans like to see Ruth in action.

It is a rather strange coincidence that Williams, present home run king, and Ruth will oppose each other in their first game. If the suspension is lifted May 20, St. Louis opens a series in New York on that date.

The addition of Ed Walsh to the American league staff of umpires has started an argument, as to who is generally considered the greatest spitball pitcher of all times. Please give your opinion of this point?

Since there are many styles of spitball pitcher, I wouldn't care to come out and flatly say that any one pitcher was the best spitballer. However, I feel safe in saying there never was a more effective spitball pitcher than Ed Walsh.

Walsh's control was equally as effective as his spitball. I have worked back of a number of pitchers who could get a more peculiar break on the ball than Walsh, but never saw a pitcher who had such uncanny control of the moist delivery.

The spitball is most effective when broken low. It always seemed to me that Walsh could throw every spitball at the knee. It was a rarity for him to break a spitball high. As a result the batters were always topping the ball.

Shocker of St. Louis, Faber of Chicago, Coveleskie of Cleveland and a few others could possibly do more with the ball than Walsh, but there never was a more effective spitballer in the history of the game.

FAMOUS TWIRLERS AGREE THAT SURE PLACING OF BALL HAS MOST VALUE

By BILLY EVANS
I have often asked some of the game's greatest pitchers what they regarded as their most valuable asset. The reply has always been the same—control.

Mathewson had a great fadeaway, a fine curve and a wonderful fast ball. Yet batters who have faced Mathewson will tell you that he wasn't a hard man to hit, except in a pinch.

With the bases empty, Mathewson always had the ball over the plate, and you had to take your swing, or listen to the constant calling of strikes by the umpire. However, in a pinch, Mathewson was almost unhittable. He always had something in reserve.

Some ten years ago I worked an inter-league series in which Mathewson struck out 14 men. His fadeaway was breaking perfectly that day and when he used the fast ball he was almost unhittable.

That evening in conversation with Mathewson I remarked that he had shown me more stuff than I had seen in a long time. I don't believe I ever will forget his answer: "Yes, I surely had great control today," he replied. "I was able to place that ball just where I wanted it."

Mathewson attributed his great pitching to his remarkable control rather than to his deceptive fadeaway and puzzling fast ball.

I have discussed pitching with Rube Waddell, Cy Young, Chief Bender, Ed Walsh, Grover Alexander, Miner Brown and many of the other great pitchers, and with them the question of control was always uppermost.

Case of Ed Walsh.
Take the case of Ed Walsh for instance. Walsh was a spitball pitcher. There have been any number of pitchers with just as good a splitter as Walsh, yet none has met with anything like the success that smiled on the former White Sox star.

Last winter at the meeting of the pro major leagues in New York I bumped into Walsh, who, by the way, is now doing very well as an American league umpire. We were talking over some of the great games that he had pitched. Some one remarked what a puzzling spitball he threw, when Walsh replied: "My spitball was the regular sort, but I could control it. When I was pitching to a batter I never saw any part of him except his knees. My aim was to break my splitter at his knees."

Hard to Hit.
"No spitball can be hit very successfully if broken at the knee. The ball is breaking down and the batsman can do little other than top it, which usually results in a weak grounder."

The most recent example of what control means to a pitcher was forcibly brought to my attention in the no-run, no-hit, not-a-man-to-reach first game by Charley Robertson of the Chicago White Sox.

In that game Robertson had practically every batsman in the hole. He got the first ball over for a strike.

Only two of the Detroit players to face him managed to get three balls. The count was three balls and two strikes on Blue and Veach. Blue was struck out and Veach fled out on the next pitch.

Yes, control looks to be a pitcher's best asset because when a pitcher gets the ball over he has eight other players to lead him assistance.

Ruth and Meusel Anxious to Get Back Into Game

NEW YORK, May 19.—If the sun shines tomorrow and all of the telegraph wires between New York and Chicago don't break down just before midnight tonight, Babe Ruth will be trying to hit his first home run of the championship season when the game between the New York Yankees and the St. Louis Browns gets under way before the world's series sized crowds at the Polo Grounds.

At midnight a message will be sent from New York from the Yankee business office and addressed to Commissioner Landis respectfully asking if Ruth and Bob Meusel, who was suspended with him, can be reinstated after their six weeks' exile, and if everything is all right.

Both the Bambino and Meusel are anxious to get back into the game.

COMPANY OBSERVES 25TH ANNIVERSARY IN MERCANTILE LIFE

QUARTER CENTURY SEES REMARKABLE GROWTH FROM MODEST START

OPERATING 25 STORES; $15,000,000 ANNUAL SALES

Local Store Established in 1918 And Has Had Remarkable Business Record.

1897, one store; 1912, twenty-five stores. 1897, four employees; 1922, 500. 1897, 2500 feet of space; 1922, 500,000.

Each is the record of growth and expansion of the Perkins-Timberlake company, which Thursday was observing its 25th anniversary.

The first Perkins store, operated jointly by J. J. and E. B. Perkins in Denton, Texas, May 19, 1897. The store boasted four employees, including the executive heads, sales, purchasing and advertising departments and was spread out over 2,500 square feet of floor space.

Today 25 Perkins-Timberlake establishments are scattered throughout Texas and Oklahoma in as many different cities, giving employment to more than 500 people and utilizing 500,000 square feet of space.

Included in this number of establishments operated by the syndicate is a large wholesale house at Dallas. Officials of the Perkins-Timberlake store here are taking a pardonable pride in the accomplishments of the last twenty-five years.

That the commercial success attained was reached through rigid observance of a code of high business and through giving constantly "winning service to the pound."

Wichita Falls is especially fortunate in that it has the largest and most completely equipped and furnished store of all the Perkins-Timberlake chain.

The executive staff of the local institution, consisting of Mr. Perkins, Mr. Timberlake, who is district manager of the syndicate for this territory, E. D. Koenig, manager of the store, and T. A. Bradley, advertising director, is well known to business circles of Wichita Falls.

COOL NIGHT SENDS THERMOMETER DOWN EIGHTEEN DEGREES

Following an exceedingly warm day Thursday when the thermometer rose to the 96 degree point, a cool breeze after sunset sent the mercury down 18 degrees during the night and the city registers locally was 68 degrees.

High temperatures were reported from all points along railroads for Thursday and cool night was experienced over the entire district.

Early in the evening dark clouds passed over the area from the southwest, but no rain was reported from any point. The reports Friday morning were as one, clear and calm.

Since my coming to your city I have kept busy trying in different ways to get the work of the church in hand so as to do you the best work; and am using this means to further attempt to reach the membership and to stir all to that interest in our work.

It has been our effort to get in touch with every one who is a member of the church of Christ, whether he be enrolled or not, and to interest all in the great work of the church. We have listed a large number who have not been enrolled and there are perhaps many more who are not enrolled whom we have failed to find; but it is our aim to meet everyone who is a member and strive to interest him in our work, and if you will just give us a little

MANY TEACHERS TO SPEND SUMMER IN SCHOLASTIC WORK

With the public schools of the city virtually closed already and with the high school commencement exercises only remaining to mark the official end of scholastic work, faculty members of the system are starting their annual exodus from Wichita Falls.

According to reports made by Superintendent Clark, by far the larger number of those employed in the schools here last year will enter university or normal summer school classes as further preparation for teaching next year. It is definitely known that several instructors will spend their time in Colorado, which offers attractive recreational advantages as well as an opportunity for study in excellent educational institutions.

Most of the instructors will leave the city, although quite a few will make their homes here will remain for a time, at least.

One of the most gratifying features of the summer work, according to Superintendent Clark, is the fact that half a dozen or more of his teachers have been called to teaching positions of importance in summer schools. At least seven high school instructors, including Mr. Clark, will spend the larger part of their time during the vacation period in a teacher's capacity.

Miss Jennie Robertson, art supervisor of the schools, has accepted the position as director of art work in the summer normal term of the University of Texas and Miss Jennie Spahn of the high school English department goes to teach English at the West Texas State Normal school in Canyon, Texas. Miss Chella Hendricks, also of the English department, will teach at the North Texas Normal college at Denton.
