

RESPONSIBILITY IN CIVIC MATTERS IS THEME OF HUGHES

SPEAKS AT UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

DISCOURAGES SUSPICION DISTRUST AND HATRED

Chief Enemies of Peace Are Those Who Indulge in Abuse of Foreign Peoples.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., June 19.—A plea for a "new sense of civic responsibility in matters of international concern" in the United States as the most certain basis in promoting world peace was made here today by Secretary Hughes at the University of Michigan commencement exercises.

"Sound public opinion" was most necessary to support the nation's peaceful diplomatic aims, he said.

"It must first be based on the constant efforts to create suspicion, distrust and hatred," he continued. "It should be recognized that what is more necessary than formulas is a new sense of civic responsibility in matters of international concern."

The chief enemies of peace are those who constantly indulge in the abuse of foreign peoples and their governments.

"Inter-communication is so easy that domestic discussions of foreign affairs are not confined within the three mile limit, but are immediately published abroad as indicative of the sentiment of the individual who may be of little relative consequence, but as indicating sentiments of our people."

It is in this way that people become separated by mutual distrust, even while their responsible agents of governments are endeavoring to bring about beneficial settlements and mutual confidence.

"The principal difficulty at this time in our conduct of foreign affairs is not with methods of organization or aims, but with the untruthful, prejudiced and inflammatory discussions in which some of our citizens indulge in the press permit themselves to indulge."

"If there is to be less reticence in diplomacy, there must be at least a greater sense of responsibility in the discussion of international questions. Open diplomacy and candidness and unjudicious utterances will not go well together."

Mr. Hughes chose for his subject the title, "Some observations on the conduct of our foreign relations."

In opening, he said that with the development of the international conference method of seeking solution of international problems, a "more direct and flexible" system had replaced "the old diplomacy," one that was responsive to democratic sentiment.

"Our marriage and divorce laws are framed according to the whim of the legislators in each state and the result is a veritable patchwork. I doubt if laws would go far to ward this disease unless we can have positive prohibition of divorce," he said.

FIND BODY OF A WOMAN NEAR CLEVELAND, TEXAS, DEAD FOR SEVERAL DAYS

HOUSTON, June 19.—Liberty county officers are investigating the death of Mrs. Jerry Moshan, whose body was found Sunday afternoon at her home near Cleveland, Texas. WIRE EXPERT BACK AT WORK FEELING FINE

Electrician Coulter's Hit a Lick For Three Months But Tangle Completely Ridd Him of Stubborn Stomach Trouble.

"I have gained several pounds and am on the job every day feeling fine," said Clarence L. Silvers, 3923 Evan St., St. Louis, Mo., electrician for the Western Union Telegraph Co.

"Indigestion troubled me for years and my food seemed to lodge like lead in my stomach. There was a pressure of gas around my heart that almost cut off my breath. My head ached nearly all the time and I would get so dizzy I couldn't stand without holding on to something. I finally got in such a bad fix that I couldn't hit a lick of work for three months."

"Tanica soon put an edge on my appetite and then my stomach trouble commenced to lose its grip. Now I never feel a touch of indigestion, headache, dizziness or my old nervousness. Tanica is certainly great."

Tanica is sold by all good druggists.—adv.

LEADER OF REBELS STATE OF OAXACA IS KILLED SUNDAY

MEXICO CITY, June 18.—Mario Ferrer, leader of the rebels in Oaxaca state, was killed yesterday afternoon at Tliltepec, in that state, according to apparently authentic dispatches received here.

The reports say Ferrer was killed in a battle with government forces led by General Fortunato Maycote. The rebel losses in the fighting which lasted one hour, are given as 15 dead and 12 wounded, while no federal losses are reported. Ferrer's body was hidden by his followers in the jungle, according to the dispatches, but was found by the troops.

The death of Ferrer, if confirmed, removes one of the most important rebel leaders in southern Mexico. He had been active for the past month in behalf of General Diaz and his forces are said by government officials to have been responsible for the recent blowing up of a passenger train carrying a military convoy at Te-moacan, near Oaxaca City, in which 25 persons were killed.

LEWIS SAYS THREE FACTORS WILL WIN IN COMMON STRIKE

CINCINNATI, June 19.—Three factors will win victory for miners and other workers in the common strike, it was today predicted by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, who will meet tomorrow night with leaders of southern sider joint strike action in the threatened rail walkout of approximately one million men.

Joining of these forces, Mr. Lewis said, would first have a general moral influence on labor; second, would dislocate the transportation system and third, would affect the industrial fabric.

Coincidentally with Mr. Lewis' statement, 18 rail union presidents made public last night a letter to the labor board announcing their intention of going through with the strike authorized by the vote of the union members. M. J. Jewell, head of the railway employe department, stated that the vote indications were overwhelmingly for a walkout.

OKLAHOMA STREET RAILWAY COMPANY OFFICE IS ROBBED

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 19.—A masked man held up the receiving clerk of the Oklahoma Street Railway company here early today and gathered all the cash in the office while an unmasked companion stood guard at an outer door. The clerk escaped with Sunday's total street car receipts, the sum of which has not yet been ascertained.

SAMUEL GOMPERS URGES A CONTINUAL WAR UPON INDUSTRIAL AUTOCRACY

LOUISVILLE, KY., June 19.—Continual war upon "industrial autocracy" has had the support today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, at the laying of the cornerstone of a $150,000 union temple.

"Be true to your principles, your country and your state," said Mr. Gompers. "This great republic of ours has had no labor supporters than the organized labor of America. As thousands of our sons fought and died that political autocracy should be eradicated from the earth, so shall we always fight any form of industrial autocracy."

RECEIVES OVATION WHEN MAKES REPLY TO THE PRESIDENT

JUDGE EDGAR SCURRY GETS LOUD APPLAUSE AT ARLINGTON CEMETERY.

TAKES EXCEPTION TO HARDING'S REMARKS

National Head of Sons of Confederate Veterans Cheered By Sons of the South.

Judge Edgar Scurry of this city, national president of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, made a "big hit" at Arlington cemetery on June 4 when he rose before the audience after President Warren G. Harding had made an address and took exception to a remark made by the president.

Judge R. H. Ward, who just returned from Washington, heard the matter related while on his visit there and states that Judge Scurry's name is being mentioned quite frequently in the national capital.

President Harding made it a point to be present at the dedication of the sons of the confederacy and was called upon for a speech. In the course of his remarks he stated that he was the son of a union soldier but had all the respect in the world for the confederate soldiers.

President Harding is quoted as saying: "The Union soldiers were right and every Confederate soldier thought he was right. That is why we honor them also."

As soon as the president had seated himself, Judge Scurry arose and in a manner absolutely void of reverential fear said: "I am the son of a Confederate soldier who died on the field of battle. Every Confederate soldier and every son of a Confederate soldier know that the Confederate soldier was right in his cause and that the Union men thought they were right."

The report is to the effect that the speaker's address and ovation that followed was long and loud.

The president, it is said, shook hands with Judge Scurry and the two parted with smiles on their faces.

ROGERS OF BONHAM TO SPEAK TUESDAY TO LOCAL VOTERS

Fred S. Rogers of Bonham, candidate for governor with the endorsement of the non-partisan political conference of Texas, will speak here Tuesday night, beginning at 8 o'clock, and friends of the candidate anticipate a large crowd to hear him discuss the issues of the campaign.

The non-partisan political conference is composed of the organized farmers, railroad men and laborers of the state who are active in the present campaign. It is not a political party, but is designed to select and support men who are friendly to organized labor.

Mr. Rogers is well known over the state and is making an active campaign. He is especially noted for the interest in educational matters and he is expected to discuss the school question at length on his visit to this city.

While the plans for the speaking have not been announced, it is thought that it will be held in the open air if the weather permits.

RIGHTOUSNESS AND DECENCY OF GOOD MEN MUST BE STRENGTH OF GOVERNMENT, KAY TELLS CLASS

The human government can be any better than the human state. It may tell his Bible class at the Olympic theater Sunday morning, and the more attention that is paid to the laws of honor, the less trouble there will be with the laws of earth. Judge Kay's address follows:

What do we mean when we talk about a government, a good government? Did anybody ever have one? Surely no, because we have a concept that is always in session trying to fix it. Surely not the state of Texas because the next legislature is the thirty-eighth legislature that has tried to fix it. Surely not England, because their parliament has been trying to make theirs out for a thousand years and it is in session now more than that ever was before. It is a building that man is always trying to build, that he loves to talk about, but he never takes the scaffolding down; he never says I have this like I want it.

Now you hear people say that Harding is administering the government. (He) have not done what they said they were going to do. That is true, but it is not particularly true of Mr. Harding. It always was going to be going to be true until that angel puts one hand on the sea and one on the land and says the clocks are not going to run any more.

Our government has been particularly easy to run. We had public hands to give away to every young man that wanted to go out and take a butcher knife, so to speak, and carve him out a farm. We did not have many difficulties and we did not have any crowd to care for, but we come now to where the strain is beginning. We say our government is a government. This lesson this morning about government. Our government is a government of the people. That is true, but there is a little secret shut up there. That is the most difficult of all. A government, that is the most difficult to make work. The car could run his government without consulting anybody. Then Caesar wanted to throw his jealous in. He would not ask anybody; but a government of the people is the most difficult ever conceived by man to make go.

Now I do not know whether this is going to interest you, gentlemen, this morning. You are in the habit of having fellows coming around to tell you about these things, running for office, he has a certain number of votes and if you vote for him he is going to fix it. I am pointing out to you how difficult it is to fix it and some of the fundamental things that you need in order that it may be fixed.

In order to have a government of the people you have to have a high-class people; there is no other way out. That government is the best in every state and community by the standard of citizenship in that community. Then you have to have education, a spiritual people, and an educated people, a thinking people.

Here is a fellow that comes along and says vote for me and everybody will get 40 acres of land and a mule like they did with the negroes after the war. Vote for me and everybody will get you a bonus. I am not talking about the bonus—it may be a good measure—do not misunderstand me. The fellow that tells you he will get it for you is maybe bringing you a poster like the Indians. He does not want you to have a bonus, he wants you to vote for him. I am not discussing the merits of the bonus. I am merely discussing that man who would ride into office on such a basis, and that is one of a thousand things in a promise that is mentioned that merely as an illustration. One never in Texas ran for office on the theory that he was going to lift the farm tenants out of their troubles. Not that a labor of Hercules, and to the shame of Texas, my shame and your shame, that man who promised a feat equal to bringing Pike's Peak to Wichita Falls, got away with it with you and with me.

We have to do our own thinking. Now over yonder in the north of that desert in Asia in this lesson I can see as Babylon people are going back some there with their army. You can see a great dust cloud and the camels and the chariots of war and the soldiers and prisoners going back to Babylon. You can see them stop some fellow in that army saying: Where have you been, what are you doing, who are these people you have here and what is the matter with them?

We have been over to Jerusalem; Jerusalem is morally bankrupt; Can a man go broke morally and spiritually? How you take the things around here when you hear them say, Mr. So and So is broke. You mean he has lost his money. There is an infinitely worse bankruptcy than that. It does not hurt very much to go broke. I have been broke a hundred times, until I learned better; but Jerusalem had gone morally and spiritually bankrupt. They had set up strange gods; they had strange religious strange forms of worship. They had idols; the very first thing told them that their Ten Commandments, they broke. They had their own gods, foreign and strange gods. You can go dragging along a good way with it for a while, but you come to the end. These Jews, here they were broke, spiritually, morally, financially, everlastingly. They were great people to have a king. Saul was their first one, who died in battle or after the battle. Here is the last of their free kings; they take him down to Babylon and punch out his eyes with a spear. There was not any foolishness with the Babylon people. They had a king; what did they do with him; what did they do with the kind of politician that you and I listen to? They did not do much except cut off his two big toes and his thumbs; they had lots of them captured; captured why? Why were these kings crawling around Babylon with their big toes and thumbs cut off? Because they had allowed their government to go morally bankrupt. That is what happened to that kind of people. Now what do we do about that and what do we get by it? Is there nobody that can come here and take us off into captivity? No, says our Fourth of July orator. England was the mistress of the sea, the greatest nation in all history, owing one-third of the world with her sails in every harbor, and that General Haig ever there had to cry out for our help; they had "my back is to the wall."

Now I think if the government ever got to pieces it will because we let it go so. I do not think any outsider can do it. We can wreck it. That is what was the matter with these Jews. There was not much for Babylon to capture when they came for it.

I wish there was some way for us to learn except having it wrecked into pieces. Experience is a dear school, but a fool will learn in no other, says one

MEXICAN CAUGHT ON BRIDGE FACES ROBBERY CHARGES

Following the receipt of a message from the chief of police at Burkburnett Sunday night at 8 o'clock, members of the sheriff's department planted themselves on the river bridge leading into the city at the foot of Ohio street and arrested a Mexican and a woman. Charges of burglary were preferred against the Mexican, who gave his name as H. Julian Aguila.

The officers at Burkburnett state that a Mexican robbed another of $20 and that he was headed in this direction. The officers shook Aguila down immediately after his arrest and found $28 in money. Just before placing him in a cell in the county jail, $29 were found in the man's hat.

The woman arrested with the Mexican gave her name as Agupina Aguila. She states that she and her husband are from Oklahoma. An investigation is being made as to whether the pair are man and wife.

VERBAL ENCOUNTER DURING SERMON ON CATHOLIC CHURCH

The Sunday night sermon by Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker on the methods of the Catholic church in Mexico resulted in verbal encounters with two women who were among his hearers.

Dr. Knickerbocker's sermon dealt particularly with the recent alleged attack on a Methodist missionary in Mexico, which attack he charged was led by a Catholic priest. He said that the Catholic church ought to discipline any of its priests who adopted such methods. He did not approve their work. He added that he had never heard of a Catholic priest being expelled for misconduct of any kind.

At this juncture a woman in the congregation arose and declared that there were several instances where priests had been expelled or otherwise disciplined by their church. Dr. Knickerbocker said he had been trying to obtain information along that line, and asked the woman for additional facts. She replied that she had a record of the cases at her home.

Toward the end of his remarks, Dr. Knickerbocker commented upon the presence of a woman who was making a stenographic report of his sermon, and whom he had apparently noticed during the attack. He said that this woman was representing; she replied that she was a Catholic and that she was taking down the sermon for herself.

BRIEF ILLNESS IS FATAL LATE SUNDAY TO WM. H. CANTY

William H. Canty, for a number of years with the land department of the Texas company, died at his home here at 10:30 Sunday night, after an illness of three days. Mr. Canty had an attack of acute kidney trouble late last week and grew rapidly worse until his death. He was operated upon for appendicitis several weeks ago.

The body will be buried at his old home in Pascagoula, Miss., where it was forwarded Monday afternoon, accompanied by his widow and two children and other relatives. His parents reached here from Mississippi shortly before his death.

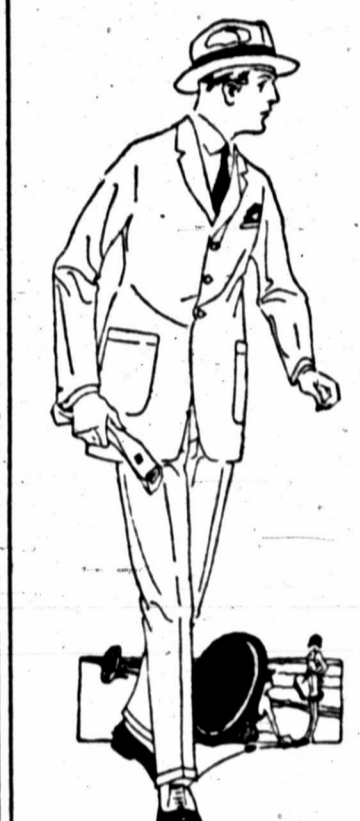

Mr. Canty went with the Texas company about seven years ago and except for a brief period of service with another company, has been with it ever since. He was 29 years of age.

TWO YOUTHS FIND JAIL BREAKING AN EASY PERFORMANCE

Two youthful prisoners found breaking jail a very easy matter Sunday afternoon some time between noon and 2 o'clock. At least the task was accomplished within that time and they are gone.

The two boys, "Bobby" about 11 years of age, broke a leg of the table in the cells and proceeded to dig a hole in the wall. The hole completed, they had access to the front from where they made their way to the grand jury room and then exit.

No trace of them had been found at a late hour Monday morning.

NEW SAND IN K. M. A. INDICATED BY FLOW IN ABANDONED WELL

A heavy flow of oil from the Marshall Franklin well on lot 17, block 25 in the K. M. A. field Monday morning, while the casing was being pulled preparatory to abandonment, caused considerable interest among local oil men in reason of the possibility of a new sand being opened in that field.

The well's production from the regular 1700-foot sand had dwindled to such an extent that pumping was no longer profitable, and the operators started to pull the casing. When it had been pulled to slightly above the 1500-foot mark the well made a heavy flow.

Those who visited the scene Monday morning were not prepared to say whether the flow was the result of an accumulation that was released when the casing was removed or was something more moving.

BUFFALO TEX OIL COMPANY PICKS UP SAND AT 1300 FEET

The Buffalo Tex Oil company picked up a pay sand at 1300 feet Sunday afternoon on the Mattie Parker lease, eight miles northwest of Wichita Falls, and indications point to the fact that the well will be a fair producer.

The company started setting the six and five-eighths inch casing Monday morning and expects to drill in some time Tuesday.

MRS. LULA VANN FULTON, ARK., Suggests to Suffering Women the Road to Health

Fulton, Arkansas.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a soreness in my side. I would suffer so badly every month from my waist down that I could not be on my feet half the time. I was not able to do my work without help. I saw your Vegetable Compound advertised in a newspaper and gave it a fair trial. Now I am able to do my work and don't even have a backache every month. I cannot praise your Vegetable Compound enough and highly recommend it to those who have troubles like mine. I am willing for these facts to be used as a testimonial to lead all who suffer with female troubles, as I did, to the right road to health."—Mrs. LULA VANN, Box 43, Fulton, Arkansas.

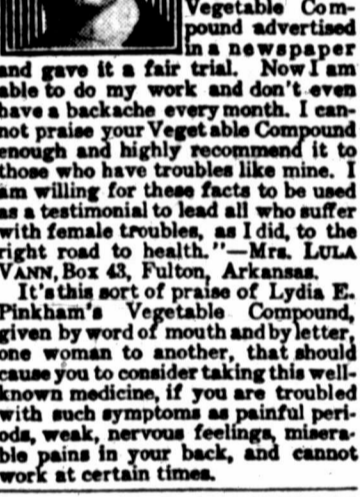

It is this sort of praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, given by word of mouth and by letter, one woman to another, that should cause you to consider taking this well-known medicine, if you are troubled with such symptoms as painful periods, weak, nervous feelings, miserable pains in your back, and cannot work at certain times.

Mr. Stidham's wheat was grown on the Proud farm, three miles north of Electra. It tested 60 pounds to the bushel and was bought by the Farmers Elevator company at a bushel. A premium of 25c a bushel was paid by the buyer and a purse of about $100 was made up by local business men as a prize for Mr. Stidham.

IS MONEY EVER "SPENT" for ADVERTISING?

A young and energetic executive took hold of a fine old retail business in New York.

"What this business needs," he told himself, "is a place in the mind of the public."

And deliberately he set out to sacrifice the greater volume of his profits and invest the sacrifice into the building of goodwill.

He did. And to this old business, advertising was the breath of life.

For six months had not passed before the business had grown so that the advertising cost was a smaller percentage than ever it had been, and, because of a larger volume, the shop effected economies and gave far superior service.

That was five years ago. Today a certain percentage is spent, or supposed to be spent, for advertising. But as fast as the appropriation is spent, the more the business increases; and the more that the business increases, the smaller the percentage becomes.

It money ever "spent" for advertising?

They Will Sing for Day Nursery At First Baptist Tuesday Night

Miss Katherine Sullivan, daughter of R. J. Sullivan of this city, and Miss Marie Powers, of the color Motor company, will sing for the Day Nursery kiddies Tuesday night.

The concert will be given in the auditorium of the First Baptist church, and the two young ladies will be presented by their teacher, Mrs. Walter S. Robertson. Both are said to have exceptionally pleasing voices, and have selected a most attractive program of songs.

The proceeds of the benefit will be given to the Day Nursery permanent home fund, and a special invitation has been extended the citizenship of Wichita Falls to attend the concert.

The permanent home—the Davenport home on Lamar—has been purchased, the finance committee of the Mission Federation closing the deal Saturday. The cost price was $4,300, and with necessary remodeling and repairs the total cost, before the nursery can go into its new quarters, will probably be $4,800, it is figured. A final week's campaign for donations was opened today by the Federation. Between $1,500 and $2,000 is needed, and the rest remains to be raised at once.

MISS LUCILLE JOHNSON IS HOSTESS TUESDAY EVENING

(Omitted from Sunday's paper through mistake.)

Miss Lucille Johnston was hostess Tuesday evening of last week in honor of Miss Denise Colburn, on the eve of the latter's leaving for a Colorado trip. Most of the guests comprised a group of girls in the county clerks office.

A group of young people spent a very delightful evening with Miss Johnston at 1401 Seventeenth street, and during the evening the guest of honor was surprised with a handkerchief shower, very prettily presented. A color scheme of orange and white was carried out in the decorations, and progressive "15" played. Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Lester Ray and Bourland; Misses Lenna Davis, Ruth Wilkes, Denise Colburn, Elizabeth Hill, Winifred Helms, Thelma Pross, Ella Donaldson, Lucille Johnston, Elizabeth and Treas Hill of Iowa Park, W. T. Harris, county clerk, was also a guest.

Little Miss Dorothy Marie McClure arrived Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McClure, 1405 Seventeenth street.

Virginia Lady So Weak She Could Hardly Get Around. —Says Cardui Helped Relieve a Serious Condition

Ringold, Va.—Mrs. D. T. Barker, of a well-known Pittsylvania county family, residing on route 2, here, says that upon reaching a critical period of her life she was "in a very serious condition."

"I was so weakened until I could not get around," Mrs. Barker relates. "I could not sleep. I was so blue and out of heart. I had no appetite."

"I would . . . try medicines, and grew weaker and weaker, more out of heart every day. I would get up and try to drag around, and feel so miserable, and creep back to bed."

"My husband bought me Cardui. I thought the first bottle helped, and when I began the second, I knew it did. I kept it up—each day growing a little stronger, a little more like my former self, and I began to eat and sleep."

"It sure wasn't long until I was up and around like another woman. No more dragging; no more weak and blue feeling. It cured me. I used seven bottles in all."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Barker describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui, if troubled with womanly ailments.

HOW TO MAKE TWO COOLING HOT WEATHER DRINKS

While iced tea is refreshing, combinations of fruit juices with iced tea are rather nice as afternoon thirst quenchers. A cool drink, served with plain crisp cookies or tiny sandwiches, means little work to a housekeeper and has a telling psychological effect on her and her guest.

Some suggestions:

Tea Punch.
One cup strong fresh tea, three lemons, two oranges, one cup strawberry or raspberry juice, two cups sugar, two cups water, cracked ice.

Squeeze juice from lemons and strain. Cut oranges in slices. Boil sugar and water 10 minutes. Mix lemon, strawberry juice and tea off the orchard trees. A gulp of two, and then a trifle of tea.

"Here, here, son," admonished the amother-of-wrinkles; then picked up the telephone. In half an hour, through the kindness of Superintendent Grace of the W. F. and N. W., the little fellow was equipped with a trip pass to Tipton and return through cranberry fields on his annual pass, and a happy youngster started on the last leg of his trip to grandma's.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS COMET-LEGS SCORES A POINT —BUT SO DO TWINS! By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Quick as a wink he gave the Moon-Man a push. Comet-Legs was the rival of Mr. Fearbort, the Man-in-the-Moon. One day he rode up to the moon on his star and hopped off.

"Now, then," said he, "I'll just go round to the cities of the moon and show the moon people how handsome I am. No doubt they'll put old Fearbort out and give me his place."

"He's too old anyway, and earth folks want a change. I'll bet they're good 'n' tired having the same old moon run the same old way."

The idea tickled Comet-Legs so much he began to ho, he and hee, hee till his round tummy shook up and down like a plum pudding. By and by he came to a mountain top and looked down at the earth. When he got up, there was old Fearbort looking at him.

Quick as a wink he gave the Moon-Man a push, and away went he head over heels into space. Comet-Legs went on his way. He was so tickled he began to make up a song of his own. This was it.

OUR FIRST YEAR CHAPTER LIV—MY UNDERSTANDING OF JACK PREVENTS OUR PARTING

"But, Jack, you know I can act!" Now that I had mentioned my own living, I bubbled over.

"Don't you remember the offer I had after 'Skool'?"

"You—you want to go on the stage—wife-on-the-stage-for-a-salary?" Jack stammered. His expression was blank—as vague as his approval nor appreciation, just bewilderment.

"I could—that's all I'm saying," I continued. "They cut 'Skool' to one act for a while. And offered me $100 a week. Of course, I'd hate it. Jack, the separation. But since I'm responsible for our predicament—"

Jack interrupted me with a tragic sentence:

"You're not responsible. It's I'm so good. I was grained. You must think me selfish to marry you—and not take care of you, as you want to be, ought to be. You must think me a failure."

His speech was like blow upon blow. Jack didn't mean to hurt me. He was explaining himself, not accusing me. I was thankful that I knew how to construe him, otherwise, I might have parted right there. I went to him, drew his head upon my breast, kissed him, but I couldn't stop his words:

"You've tested me, Peggina! You've shown me what a husband ought to do for a wife. And I haven't been able to keep the pace!"

"At any other time, you would have insisted. 'It's the times—the business slump—'"

"No, Peggina! It's I!"

"Or I!" I murmured. "But, Jack, honestly, I've only been doing what all the girls do. Why, darling, we haven't half as much as most of our friends—"

A small accident ended our discussion. Jack's distressing reaction to my suggestion that I go on the stage had made me a little nervous. While I argued, I twisted my pearl necklace. The string snapped suddenly and the drops of congealed moonlight dripped through my fingers and rolled to the walls.

We went down on our knees to find them and met at a corner of the rug. Jack wiped my eyes. Kissed me, comforted me. We sat like two children on the floor.

We had not been such understanding friends for days. Finally Jack raised me to the davenport and we counted the beads.

"Take them to Barnick's," Jack suggested. "I've had them strung properly this time. Two are missing, as I count them. That makes a half dozen you've lost, altogether."

"The string is getting too short," I said. "But they're cheap things—you remember I paid only $25 for them! I'll have Barnick match them. If we can afford it!"

Jack pulled a few bills out of his pocket and less than one dollar in silver.

"There's our pile—until next pay-

NEGROES OBSERVE EMANCIPATION DAY WITH LAKE PICNIC

A noisy though abbreviated parade of decorated vehicles, and a general shortage of colored help were the most noticeable features of the local observance of June 19, Emancipation day, by the negro population.

Lake Wichita was the scene of the main celebration, and special street cars conveyed numbers to that place; all of the concessions except the swimming pool were at the disposal of the celebrants, and a dance in the pavilion bid fair to

I had a good idea yesterday, and last night I got a piece of chalk and went around to the empty wall on the way to school and wrote on it, Benny P. loves Mary W. And this morning I was wawking to school with some of the fellows and when they saw what was on the wall they all started to yell, me saying, Good nite, who did that, that's all I got to say. That was dirty trick and whoever did it didn't have much sense, that's all I got to say, and I'd like to govt hold of them whoever they are, that's all I got to say.

Panther Lead Cut Full Game as Spudders Win Twice From The Buffs

By PAUL W. LARKIN. The Spudders wound up their game Sunday afternoon at athletic park in a most brilliant manner by coping both ends of the hill from Bonninghoven's to a score of 13 to 5 and 10 to 6. While the Salmites were bombarded every batter sent to the hill by George Whitehead's Sand Crabs were giving the Panthers a couple of hard tussles in Fort Worth, leaving the second game and barely enabling the Wichitans to crawl up within two and a half games of the league leaders.

The Spudders furniture was loaded with TNT as usual. In the second game they collected 16 blows, including a home run and five doubles, while in the abbreviated set of the first game they collected 17 which were five more two-ply wallop. Every man who got into the game with the exception of George Schaefer and Whitehead, who were called on to bat several times, fared better than the Buffs.

One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed the double within the enclosure was occupied and there was a goodly sprinkling of fans along the foul line and in the field. The next stand in back of the temporary wire netting was also pressed into service and about 500 fans made use of what was left of the bleachers. The game was out of the shack, but it was a good natured gathering and no good seemed to be in the air.

Homer Summa, the greatest out-fielder in the Texas league, had another big day. He collected four hits and four singles in his first game. He collected three hits and four singles in his second game. He collected two hits and four singles in his third game.

The Spudder lead lasted until the fourth. In this round Denny's single, Doyle's sacrifice hit, and Wheeler's sacrifice fly, the Salmites, same back with a rush in the sixth. The Buffs scored more than a couple of walks, an error and hits by McDonald and Beck.

Costly errors by the Wichita Falls legion that gave the Buffs a 10 to 6 victory Sunday. Holmes and Peavy pitched well enough to win, but their mates kicked the game away on them. Murray was charged with wildness. Geddings hurried good ball for the winners.

A triple play by the Wichitans, in which Fust, Bashara and Dixon figured, featured. Combination of cement and cast-iron blocks has been used in some recent road building in France. Milk of the Asiatic buffalo contains three and a half times as much butter fat as that of the cow.

The Spudders, minus the services of Jake Miller, left for Houston Monday morning for a second southern invasion, two and a half games behind the league leaders. The Buffs, who were called on to bat several times, fared better than the Panthers.

GRAND JURY NOT A HOSPITAL TREATING A POLITICAL BODY

Judge H. R. Wilson Empanels Grand Jury of 30th District Court.

CHARGES IT AT LENGTH OF PERJURY STATUTE

Judge States That Bawdy Houses, Gambling Houses and Liquor Traffic Are Triumvirate.

"A grand jury is not a hospital for political body treatment; it is not a collection agency and is not a body where men can come and vent their spleen of vengeance upon their neighbor," said Judge H. R. Wilson in charging the grand jury of the 30th district court Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock.

Eleven men reported to Judge Wilson out of the 18 summoned by the grand jury commission and the sheriff was instructed to pick up an additional juror.

J. A. Richolt was selected foreman of the jury and the other 11 members are: C. H. Clark, W. R. Hibb, M. J. Gardner, Tom Corridor, O. L. Clark, C. W. Snider, J. A. Wise, L. E. Cowling, J. C. Cooper, I. K. Williams and A. E. Gwin.

In charging the jury Judge Wilson banded bawdy houses, gambling houses and the whiskey law violations as the great triumvirate of crime.

The court spoke at length on the perjury statute and charged that the jury pay especial attention to this matter.

"Perjury is a false statement made in the proceedings of law on a material matter," the judge said, "and I cannot send a man to jail for contempt if he refuses to answer questions unless the questions are material."

"This is not novel or new but has been on this statute book since its beginning."

"Many witnesses testify only to half truths. If you could find one bill of indictment for perjury it would do more to render a healthier attitude and would be one thing that would tend to do more good in the courts of justice than any other thing."

"It is not quantity that counts in the returning of bills of indictment, but quality. Resolve yourselves into a petit jury and judge whether the evidence before you would be likely to return a verdict of guilty, if you decide that then return a bill."

"Measure every man with the same yard stick regardless of his power or his weakness. Judge Wilson told of the method of procedure followed in the selection of grand jurors and told that they had been selected by a grand jury commission which had been appointed to perform this duty at the preceding term of court. The jury was charged on the laws made mandatory by law for the judge to charge the jury. This includes the anti-trust law, rebates on rates charged by common carriers; bawdy houses, gambling houses and the violations of the liquor laws.

The court advised the members of the grand jury that he had no idea how long their body would be in session but had been advised that there was a great amount of work to be done.

He instructed the jury to select its own balliffs and advised them as to the law on summoning witnesses from any point in the state of Texas.

The grand jury immediately repaired to the grand jury room in charge of the sheriff. District Attorney Walter F. Schenck, County Attorney E. L. Fulton and Assistant District Attorney Sam Holliday met with the body.

FLORAL HEIGHTS BAPTIST CHURCH REVIVAL STARTS

"I do not feel that the religion of Jesus Christ is something you have to endure. Rather it is something that will make you happy. If there is anyone in the world who has a right to frown it is the one who can not lie down at night and say 'Is well with me.'"

"We are living in a day when the message of Jesus needs to be told over and over again. Jesus says, 'I came that you may have life and have it more abundantly. I am the way, the truth and the life.' Jesus came to make the world a gift—life. It is the thing we will spend our last dollar for. We will do everything within our power to hold not only life but abundant life. Why is it that we do not have more abundant life? It is our fault, one word is fellowship. Fellowship with Jesus Christ daily."

These were some of the suggestions in the opening sermon at the Floral Heights Baptist church on the Rev. J. H. Knight of Fort Worth at the Sunday morning services. Mr. Knight is professor of missions at the Southwestern Baptist seminary at Fort Worth and is here for a while to assist Rev. J. W. Loving, pastor of the Floral Heights church in a series of revival meetings that are now being held.

An announcement says: "The church has also secured the service of Professor McNeely to conduct the singing. Professor McNeely is not only a fine soloist, but is a fine choir leader."

"Everyone is cordially invited to attend these meetings, both day and night. The morning services will be held in the church at 10 o'clock and the evening services will be held in the open at eight. Come and enjoy both. Rev. Knight and Professor McNeely."

URGES OBSERVANCE OF OBLIGATIONS TO CHURCH AND FAMILY

By FRANK S. REID

Dr. Griffin's subject at the morning service of the First Presbyterian church was "Life's Obligations," which he selected from the second chapter of Luke, 4th verse, "What ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"

He said: "These seem to be strange words falling from the lips of Jesus Christ, the Messiah and Savior and especially that word 'must.' That seems to be a strange word for Christ lived the freest and the mightiest life that was ever lived by any human being. He had all the forces of the universe back of him; he was able to command 12 legions of angels that they might support and defend him; yet with it all he says 'I must be about my Father's business.' It is interesting to read the 'I must' of Jesus. 'I must work the works of Him who sent me if I must preach the gospel in the cities; I must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things of the chief priests and scribes, what ye not that I must be about my Father's business.'"

His was a supreme obligation, although his life was a free and a mighty one, and this obligation ever rested upon him, the Lord Jesus Christ. He never got away from that obligation.

"There are continual forces calling everyone of us. The first of these forces calling to you and to me is 'you must' and you first see it in the home. The father and mother says to the child 'you must do this or you must do that.' Those are the other voices and they are calling to you and have it more abundantly. I am the way, the truth and the life. Jesus came to make the world a gift—life. It is the thing we will spend our last dollar for. We will do everything within our power to hold not only life but abundant life. Why is it that we do not have more abundant life? It is our fault, one word is fellowship. Fellowship with Jesus Christ daily."

"How much easier to stay at home and read the daily papers than it is to go to church on a hot Sunday. Lack of a sense of obligation. I wish some of you Presbyterians would get that obligation to come to church Sunday night. There are entirely too many ones. We go to church one time Sunday morning then we go home and say 'I have done my supreme duty going to church Sunday morning.' Jesus Christ didn't have any sense of obligation as that. Jesus the master never made an excuse; he never saw an excuse; he didn't have to have any excuse. The obligation resting upon him was so great that he said 'I will let absolutely nothing prevent me from meeting that obligation.' I think the reason we let things prevent us because we really lack a sense of obligation. We have trained our consciences to do exactly the things that we want to do to such an extent that we have lost the sense of obligation. It is a sad time in the life of any man or woman when he or she has lost the sense of obligation because he or she trains himself or herself that way. You are not saying what the Master said 'what ye not that I must be about my Father's business.'"

"Church going is a matter of habit after all. You can get the habit, mechanically, of going into the House of God. You can get out of the habit, too, and after a while you won't go."

"Self-consciousness prevents folks from saying 'I must.' Oh, that the sense of obligation might be reborn in every one of us. I wish some of my congregation, as I look into your faces this morning, I plead with you that you say with the Lord Jesus

MERCURY DRIVEN WITHIN ONE POINT OF CENTURY MARK

It was hot Sunday afternoon. Every baseball fan who arrived at the ball park after 1:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon will positively testify to that effect. As further evidence the thermometer at Art's store shows that the mercury rose within one point of the century mark.

A slight south breeze kept blowing throughout the afternoon which made it more bearable. Through the night, however, the lowest point reached locally was 80 degrees. From all points of railroads leading into the city came the report Monday morning that Sunday was an exceptionally hot day.

Clear skies and light south winds were reported from all points Monday morning.

SERVICE the TRUE FUNCTION

Primitive man was dependent upon his own efforts for the necessities of life. Heat and light came from fuel dragged from the nearby woods. The only power was man's brawn and the domestic beasts.

Today public utility companies supply very many of our daily necessities.

This is pre-eminently true of the gas business. Your gas company is not content simply to supply you with so many thousand cubic feet of gas. It furnishes gas when and where and in what quantity you want it. It virtually cooks your meals, heats your rooms, lights your home. It offers you a service you cannot do without; and back of it are trained labor, substantial investment and a directing genius, all working together to merit your good will by efficient, faithful service.
