

MINORITY ATTACKS HENRY FORD OFFER ON MUSCLE SHOALS

DISABTIFIED MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE SUBMIT A REPORT.

DECLARES THE COUNTRY DOES NOT UNDERSTAND

Charge Most Invidious Propaganda Nation Has Seen For Many a Day.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Henry Ford's offer to purchase and lease the government power and nitrate projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., was attacked today in a report to the house prepared by Representative Kearns, republican, Ohio, and signed by Representative Morin, Pennsylvania; Parker, New Jersey; Crowther, New York; Frothingham, Massachusetts, and Ransley, Pennsylvania, all republican members of the house military committee. The report declared dissatisfaction with opinions already presented to the house by other members of the committee and announced that the signers were determined to tell the people the "real facts about Muscle Shoals and the so-called Ford offer."

Representative Kearns said Representatives Parker and Frothingham signed the report although they previously had endorsed another minority opinion. He expected two other committee members would sign later, he said, making a total of eight republican signatures on the report.

Declaring the belief that "the country little understands what it is that Mr. Ford is offering to do, or what, if anything, he is offering for this great plant," the signatories first attacked the "insidious propaganda" that the nation has witnessed for many a day.

Many of the Ford advocates, the report says, are honest and conscientious but have been misled as to facts of the offer made. In this connection it pointed to the provision by which fertilizers would be manufactured and says despite the "persistent reports that he will compel the fertilizer manufacturers of the country to sell their product at one-half of what they are now selling it," Mr. Ford "does not agree to make fertilizers at all unless he can make them with a profit to himself."

The committee declares "this is a hollow promise made to enlist the support of the farmer and not founded on any fact either contained in the contract or existing outside the contract," and charges that propagandists fail to tell the people that "the principal business of Mr. Ford should be to get this gigantic plant built by the manufacture of other articles which he would be allowed to sell at any price he might see fit."

"The only thing that is kept before the public," the report continues, "is that he is to make fertilizer and sell it cheaply to the farmer, only charging for himself a profit of 3 per cent on the production. No one has ever suggested how he could make fertilizers and sell them cheaply or what means he would employ."

Propagandists also have attracted the unemployed, the report says, adding they "do not only try to thus bribe the sympathy of the farmer but try thus to elicit the attention of the unemployed by painting a rosy picture of the great activity that is to be started overnight at Muscle Shoals where they promise a million men will be given employment."

The properties for which Mr. Ford offers the government $5,000,000, the report says, already have cost the government $24,477,000. It declares the amount offered "seems wholly inadequate when it is remembered that Mr. Ford could immediately dispose of the Gorgona plant to the Alabama Power company for $2,500,000," and thereby obtain "the Waco quarry, nitrate plants Nos. 1 and 2, with all of their innumerable railroad engines and steam freight cars, steam shovels, concrete mixers and other surplus property that could be readily sold for several additional millions."

FORMER MINISTER IS CHARGED WITH A DOUBLE MURDER

AUGUSTA, Ga., June 20.—Allotte Padrick, a former minister, is in jail here today on charges of having shot and killed his 15 year old wife and her husband, Mrs. M. E. Dixon, of Dover, Ga., last night. According to the sheriff's deputies, Padrick has confessed the crime. He was brought here last night from Clitro, Ga., for safe keeping against possible violence, the officers stated.

Mrs. Padrick and her husband had been separated two months, officers stated. She is said to have accused her husband of the shooting before she died.

Padrick, who is the son of a preacher and also had two brothers that are ministers, told the officers, "I was told that his jealousy over his wife's alleged attentions to other men got the better of him."

The vice presidents elected include H. C. Hays, secretary of Kansas City, C. H. Verschoy of Dallas, Eugene Stuart of Louisville and J. Horton Weeks of Philadelphia.

CULBERSON ISSUES STATEMENT ON THE TWO AMENDMENTS

TELLS WHY HE OPPOSED 18TH AND VOTED FOR THE 19TH.

WOMAN HAS NATURAL AND INHERENT RIGHTS

Praise Important Part Played by Women of America in the World War.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—In a reply to George L. Beatty of Lubbock, Senator C. A. Culberson explains why, having opposed the 18th amendment on the ground that it was an invasion of the rights reserved to the states, he favored the 19th, or woman's suffrage amendment. He contends that "the natural and inherent rights of women as citizens" are paramount to any other consideration in determining this question and, continuing, says: "Accordingly, I favored the submission of the 19th amendment, extending the right of suffrage to women, upon the broad ground, among other things, that women, being subject to taxation in every state, are of right entitled to full and complete citizenship and should therefore enjoy equal political rights with men."

"Twenty two states had already conferred complete or partial suffrage upon women, Texas among the number, and there was every justification for voting to make law uniform in all the states by submitting a federal amendment on the subject."

"When the important part played by the women of America in the world war is considered no one can justly question the wisdom of giving them a full share in the political life of the nation."

STORM DAMAGES GRAIN AND OTHER CROPS IN CLAY CO.

HENRIETTA, TEXAS, June 20.—A storm accompanied by a heavy rain, some hail and a hard wind occurred here yesterday about 4 p. m., doing slight damage to out buildings, considerable damage to fruit and shade trees and growing crops. At Blue Grove a great deal of damage is reported to the grain crop, which was blown down and badly injured.

DRILLER OF WELL IN CARSON COUNTY SEVERELY BURNED

PANHANDLE, TEXAS, June 20.—W. C. Breining, driller on the Silk, Bullington & Clark Burnett No. 1, section 22 block 5 Carson county, was severely burned Saturday night when he attempted to light his pipe.

The well has been gasing lightly for several days, and the drillers had been smoking while at work but there was little wind at the time of the explosion, which accounted for the accumulation of gas under the derrick floor.

Breining was alone at the derrick and immediately following the explosion, he pushed through the blowing gas to the snuffer valve on the steam line, which was located in the engine room. As soon as the steam was released over the hole the blast was extinguished, preventing the destruction of the tools.

Breining's injuries consist of serious burns about the face, arms and neck. It is thought that he will be able to resume his duties within a fortnight. The driller is considered a very efficient workman, having drilled for a number of large operators in the Wichita Falls field before coming to the panhandle early this year.

Little delay was occasioned by the accident and workmen are busy fighting a cave in red shale at 2,900 feet. Production is expected in this test at 2,900 feet. Oil having been tested at this depth in the Gail Production company Burnett No. 2 well a short distance to the north.

TWO PEOPLE ARE DEAD RESULT OF A SUICIDE PACT

QUANAH, TEXAS, June 20.—Sheriff Gober was notified Monday morning that Mrs. Lillie Bidwell seriously wounded in an auto about five miles south of Quanah. An ambulance was called and Graham was brought to a local sanitarium where it was found his left lung had been pierced by a bullet. He died late Monday afternoon.

It is said that Graham and his companion had employed a local service car driver to take them to the country, that they compelled him to leave the car about three miles from town and drove two miles further, where the shooting took place.

Graham stated that the shooting was the result of a suicide pact.

POLITICS AND PULL HAVE MORE POWER THAN DO VETERANS

ILLUSTRATED BY METHODS OF LOCATING THE HOSPITALS.

MEANTIME THE DEMAND FOR AID IS INCREASING

Only 9027 Soldiers Have Had Hospital Attention For Mental Disorders.

By HARRY B. HUNT.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Politics and pull have more power in Washington than the pleas of disabled soldiers and sailors.

This is illustrated by the methods through which the location of a neuro-psychiatric hospital for the second regional district has been blocked.

This district, including the metropolitan area of New Jersey and Connecticut, is one in which the sufferings of veterans are most severe, due to the lack of adequate hospital facilities.

Site after site has been agreed upon by eminent experts, only to be abandoned in the face of objections arising from politics or selfishness or both.

Environment important. Environment is one of the most important factors in the selection of a site where the rehabilitation of men suffering from nervous disorders is to be attempted.

Guided by that requirement, the committee charged with locating hospital sites picked a place on Staten Island for the second district's new hospital.

It fell upon persons and their heirs who objected to having such a hospital located near their properties. So the site was changed.

A location on Long Island was next announced.

The same sort of howl went up from owners of handsome Long Island estates.

The Long Island site was abandoned.

Another Move Fails. Then a site was selected up in beautiful Westchester county, of all probably the most ideal in the climate. High elevation. All the stimulating, invigorating factors. Beautiful estates everywhere about.

This time the roar of protest and indignation from the rich and influential was deafening.

One multi-millionaire informed a representative of the committee choosing the site that he'd call Washington by long distance phone and start trouble if the selection wasn't rescinded.

It was Vassar Objects. Discouraged in its efforts to locate hospital within the zone of New York suburban territory, the committee went up the Hudson near Poughkeepsie. Although somewhat less central to the territory it would serve, the site chosen here was acceptable as fourth choice.

But—now a new protest was heard—this time from Vassar college, three miles away.

Vassar fears the effects on its 1,100 girl students of several hundred soldiers only a short distance off.

And there the matter stands today. The Poughkeepsie site has not yet been definitely abandoned, but a significant hesitancy is shown by those in charge of its location.

Need Increases. Meantime, the pressure for additional hospital facilities for ex-service men suffering from mental disabilities increases instead of decreasing.

Only 9,027 soldiers have had hospital attention to date for mental disorders.

The adjutant general reports 72,000 men discharged from the army with mental disorders.

And the number of claims lodged today with the veterans bureau for neuro-psychiatric disabilities is up to 120,000.

CITY EQUALIZERS BEGIN THEIR WORK; MAYOR IS MEMBER

The city board of equalization began its work Tuesday afternoon. C. Wood, J. M. Baber and Mayor Frank Collier are the members of the board, which will probably be at work for several weeks.

The council has already indicated that no reductions in property values can be expected this year, and that assessments for 1922 will be kept up to the 1921 level, as a general rule. This is taken to mean that the total of valuations will not be less than last year, and it is expected that some increase will be recorded.

A date for hearing of protests will be fixed as soon as the board finishes going over the tax rolls.

Total construction in British shipyards in 1921 was 1,533,000 tons.

TO EXHUME BODIES FOR EXAMINATION; MURDER SUSPECTED

WASHINGTON, Ga., June 20.—The bodies of Charles W. Willbanks and the first wife of Dr. J. G. Saggus were to be exhumed today, according to plans announced by the coroner's jury for an examination to determine the cause of their deaths.

The announcement was made following the arrest yesterday of Dr. Saggus who was lodged in jail here on charges of poisoning the former Mrs. Saggus and Willbanks, a former neighbor and former husband of the present Mrs. Saggus.

Dr. Saggus emphatically denied the charges and attributed them to a "frame up" born of jealousy. His denial was substantiated by Mrs. Saggus.

Dr. Saggus asserted that his first wife died last November of neuritis of the heart and Willbanks died in February after an extended siege of asthma.

Testifying at the coroner's jury inquest instigated by relatives and friends of Willbanks, the former Mrs. Saggus and Willbanks said they were poisoned, but they could not be sure of the cause of their deaths.

Letters designed to show improper relations between Dr. Saggus and his present wife before the death of Willbanks were introduced at the hearings. Dr. Saggus carried $5,000 insurance on the life of his first wife, witnesses testified.

SENATOR OWEN AND ASSOCIATES GIVEN A $175,000 JUDGMENT

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The U. S. court of claims has awarded to Senator Owen of Oklahoma and his legal associates a judgment of $175,000 against the Mississippi Choctaw Indians.

The action was brought to recover for legal services rendered and expenses incurred in establishing the citizenship of certain Indians in the Choctaw nation under the "Dancing Rabbit creek treaty," whereby the Indians agreed to remove from their lands in various states to the Indian Territory. It was said that the services rendered were worth $750,000.

The court of claims determined the value to be $175,000 and awarded judgment for that amount.

THE WOMAN'S PAGE

Have You Seen The "Nail File" Hosiery Dodge?

Have you seen the "nail file" hosiery trade yet?

A rather interesting coincidence Tuesday morning made the Woman's Page editor feel that the matter was worth passing on to other Wichita girls. A visitor to the grocers' open air market was talking about buying in general, and the subject turned to a hosiery agent who had been at her house that day.

"She had what she insisted were wonderful bargains in the new colored hosiery," the housekeeper said, "but when I looked at them, and at the prices, I had just bought a pair of one of the sales up town that had anything she had by a dollar or a dollar and a half."

The housekeeper then went on to tell that the agent had demonstrated the wearability of her hose in a number of unique ways, and later the Woman's Page editor spoke of the incident to another woman.

"Yes," said the second housekeeper, "an agent at my house took a nail file and ran it over the stocking, and it didn't hurt it a particle."

The "nail file" test.

"There are tricks in every trade—or most of them."

"But house to house canvassers, seeking to dispose of hosiery, declared to be proof against anything short of fire, have the king trick, according to the Better Business Bureau."

"Making a canvass of Houston homes now are salesmen who handle hosiery, which they say, is priced lower than that disposed of by local dealers and has superior wearing qualities. As proof of these arguments the demonstrator uses a unique test for quality and strength, which was discovered Saturday by representatives of the bureau."

"As proof of the durability of the hosiery the salesman draws a nail file along the material apparently with considerable force. After which she shows the prospective customer that no damage has been done."

"These tests are merely tricks. This 'test' may be employed by anybody—if care is used in connecting the point of the file between the finger and nail," says a statement issued Saturday by the bureau.

"Stocking is not touched by the file."

"This demonstration is being made in many cities other than Houston. It was said Saturday."

OUR FIRST YEAR

CHAPTER LIII
MY BEADS—I LEARN THEM PEARLS, WORTH $42,000

Next morning I walked down town with Jack and stopped at Barnick's with my beads restrung. I was obliged to wait while the clerk found whether the missing pearls could be replaced. I waited five—ten—fifteen minutes. Finally came Mr. Barnick himself with my imitation gems in his hand. He looked at me critically, deliberately, before he spoke again:

"Madam, we've been looking for you for months. What did you pay for these beads?"

"Twenty-five dollars."

"Twenty-five dollars?" Mr. Barnick chuckled. "Madam, very strangely on that same day, we sold a strand of pearls of the same size for $42,000. There was a mistake in delivering the packages. I could scarcely comprehend, finally I stammered:

"Just that! You see, you took your package with you, leaving no name, no address. Nobody here knew you. Today jewelers all over the country are on the lookout."

"You'd be more astonished if you knew what had been happening to your $42,000 strand of pearls while I owned them," I said.

"Come back to the office and tell us. And hear a little proposition I want to make to you."

And so I told Mr. Barnick and his partner the remarkable history of "my beads," of the theft attempted. The men were vastly amused. But I was near to weeping. I told them how I had loved "my beads," never guessing why!

My little tendency to tears came to an abrupt conclusion.

"As to our proposition," said Mr. Barnick. "We offer you any string of imitation pearls in the house and $2,498 for settlement."

It hadn't occurred to me that they owed me anything at all except a string of imitations. I gasped.

"Twenty-five hundred dollars? I can't decide. It's so complicated. I'll—I'll have to talk it over with my husband."

The partners conferred.

"We'll make it $1,000 in order to have it ended," said Mr. Barnick.

SUBSTANTIAL HELP FOR DICKSON ORPHANAGE IS PROVIDED IN THIS CITY

Among contributions announced: N. B. Chenault, $500; Reece S. Allen, $200; C. D. Shamburger, $100; R. M. Waggoner, $100.

In view of the fact that the orphanage has taken care of several children from this county, the commission court Monday voted an appropriation of $100 for the institution. "The Awakening"—Chorus. Scripture reading, Rev. J. L. Keevil. Jubilee, "Tell Me How Did You Feel."

Cocoonat Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoonat oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup of glass with a little warm water, then rub your hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and the lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, shiny and silky.

You can get Mulsified cocoonat oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last you for the best of months. Be sure your drug store gives you Mulsified. (adv.)

HEALTH BREAD INDEED

Lots of folks recommend raisin bread as "health bread," and it is indeed when you use Mrs. Tucker's Shortening as your cooking fat.

This loaf can be made with standard recipes, but there is only one ideal shortening for bread baking—Mrs. TUCKER'S.

It works splendidly in raising bread, making it crisp instead of soft and soggy, and giving a beautiful brown crust. Try it your next bread-baking day.

Mothers—Read This Letter and Statement Which Follows

Portland, Indiana.—"I was troubled with irregularity and constipation and would often have to lie down because of pain. One Sunday my aunt was visiting us and she said to the girls Cook Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got well, so mother said she guessed she would let me try it. It is doing me good and I praise it highly. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial."—SYLLIA NEWTON, R. B. Portland, Indiana.

Mothers—You should carefully guard your daughter's health. Advise her of the danger which comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, or overworking. Do not let her overstudy. If she complains of headache, pain in back or lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, give her careful attention.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for your daughter to take, as it is especially adapted to relieve just such symptoms. Remember it contains nothing that can injure her.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Through Thy precepts I get understanding; therefore I hate every false way.—Psalm 119:104.
In the exact proportion in which men are bred capable of warm affection, common-sense and self-command, and are educated to love, to think and to endure, they become noble, live happily, die calmly, are remembered with perpetual honor by their race, and for the perpetual good of it.—John Ruskin.

FROM ONE EXTREME TO ANOTHER.

There was considerable debate in the lower house of congress last week over an appropriation for the government arsenal at Springfield. A modest appropriation was asked to keep the rifle works of the arsenal open on a small scale. The appropriation was opposed by some members of congress who would have been willing to see the arsenal closed entirely.

The main object in keeping the arsenal open was to retain a skeleton force of rifle makers employed. Rifle making and especially the making of the government's famous Springfield rifles, requires artisans of long experience and high skill. The government has such men at its Springfield plant. Many of the men there are descendants of men who have been making rifles since the time of the Revolutionary war. They have few equals in their trade in the whole world. If the government were to close its arsenal these men would scatter to other points and it would take the government some time to find men who were their equals in rifle making and still longer time to train them in the making of this particular rifle, if the time came again when there was need of rifles.

It is economy to keep a force of men together making rifles, even if they are not needed at the moment, rather than let the art of making these rifles die out and the artisans become scattered.

The lesson from unpreparedness in the World War has been quickly forgotten. It has been forgotten even while the people are staggering under the burden of taxes for which our unpreparedness was in part responsible. We raised billions by bond issues and poured them out with prodigal hand in a mighty effort in the war. In the haste and under the stress of necessity great sums were wasted in the equipment and supply of our military forces. We spent billions prodigally. Now we are spending a few millions so niggardly that military equipment costing many millions more is rusting and rotting in government yards scattered over the country.

It is reported that great railway mounted artillery is rusting and deteriorating at points along our seacoast because the government cannot supply money to build sheds to house this artillery.

It is reported that cannon costing millions is rusting in pits at government fortifications because there are not enough men available to keep it in proper condition.

Many vessels in our navy are deteriorating for the same reason, and it was doubtful for a time whether the navy would be able to hold any maneuvers because of the likelihood that the appropriation would be insufficient to prove the necessary fuel.

That is the way we have gone in this country from the most prodigal expenditure in history to a niggardliness that has been wasteful and demoralizing.

THE SEARCH FOR TRUTH.

"President Brooks of Baylor University," says the Waco Times-Herald, "insists on academic freedom to look for truth."

It is the only safe rule, says the Times-Herald, adding: "A school can't be a university that denies the utmost freedom in the search for truth."

"Truth has many sides. The curse of the ages has been the attempt to monopolize truth. Conway has said that if you can but give to the fainting soul at your door a cup of water from the wells of truth, it shall flash back on you the radiance of God."

"And how inspiring the exclamation of grand old Thomas Carlyle, 'Blessed be the God's voice; for it is true, and falsehoods have to cease before it!'"

"President Brooks has the right point of view; there must be freedom in the search for truth, and this corresponds precisely with that saying of Jesus of Nazareth, 'Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.'"

President Brooks is not only a discerning, but a courageous man. When he advocates freedom in the search for truth he has taken a right but dangerous position for the head of a denominational college. Too often it has happened that when a member of the faculty of a denominational university has followed where the search for truth led the way he has suddenly found that the truth he sought has separated him from his job.

That has been the experience of seekers of the truth through the ages. The time was when ecclesiastical or kingly authority separated such seekers from their heads. Now they suffer a different kind of a desecration.

We applaud President Brooks, but at the same time we fear for him.

THE DOG FAMILY.

Fashions in dogs are changing. You may have noticed lately that the majority of lost-and-found ads, dealing with canines, are for Alredales that have strayed from home.

The Alredale craze is refreshing, after the epidemic of diminutive dogs that looked like a cross between a starved rat and a dwarf giraffe.

Popularity of different breeds of dogs seems to travel in waves. There was an epidemic of hounds, long ago, when a man had little social standing unless his kennels housed at least five.

Pug dogs had their day. So did water spaniels, fox terriers and Newfoundlands. The "Boston bull" was all the rage when the Gibson Girl's clothes and huge, bulging pompadour were in style.

To a psychologist, each of these dog crazes reflected "the trend of the times."

Now it's the Alredale's day—probably because he is expensive and a one-man dog.

The dog—which in the wild state never barks—is one of the few animals that have accompanied man in friendship, during the long march out of barbarism.

Originally dogs, jackals, foxes and wolves belonged to the same family. The origin of domestic or tame dogs is lost in the mists that enshroud the period of the cave man.

Professor Shaler's researches in dogology led him to believe that dogs were first domesticated to provide an emergency food supply during famine.

A more plausible guess is that dogs were tamed to help gratify man's craving for submissive affection, also to tickle his vanity. Our primitive ancestors, no doubt, felt very much pleased with themselves when they contemplated the dogs they had subdued from the wild state.

Nevertheless, the dog has accompanied man into so-called civilization, and in return has been rewarded with a maze of legislation concerning his legal status, rights, ownership and conduct.

The oldest monuments of India and Egypt show that ancient man reveled in ownership of Fido, Towser, Bruno and Bob.

Today we have him in magazine stories and the news, which correspond to the carvings on monuments of long ago.

How the dog has survived man's passion for exterminating animal life, is a riddle, despite the affection with which he rewards kindness to him. That's why the study of dogs is inseparable from the study of human nature.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE SPECIAL FIFTEEN. Too many of us merely live days. As though to live were not to pass with the hours!

For my part, I find the greatest inspiration in the accomplishment of definite things. I like to map out a particular job and go to it and stay in it, until I am able to say that one more definite task is finished.

On the other hand, I find too many times that I have gone through a day without these milestones to mark my way.

I sat in my library the other day with books piled everywhere—everyone bristling with unvoiced treasure for me. I looked into several and noted the dates written on the front leaves telling when I had purchased them. I sat for quite a time reading from one that had long ago attracted my attention. Then I let this book drop to my lap and speculated as to the time necessary to finish it. I figured that if I spent but fifteen minutes each day on a book I would finish dozens more than I do each year.

And then the idea came that it would be an excellent plan to reserve at least fifteen minutes each and every day for the accomplishment of some one thing.

Fifteen minutes for the purpose of practicing at writing to improve one's expression in conversation—fifteen minutes in which some flowers might be sent to some loved one—fifteen minutes out for a walk where quiet meditation might help to reveal one's own self to one's self—fifteen minutes dedicated to the spiritual side of one's nature.

It will surprise you to learn what a daily fifteen minute period is able to do for you. Perhaps you are living a life that is only partially awake—and maybe this fifteen minute plan will wake you completely!

Fifteen minutes may not seem a very long or important period, but it can be. The tide against Napoleon at Waterloo turned in less time. And it was this same Napoleon who gave as his reason for beating the Austrians that they "did not know the value of five minutes."

JUST FOLKS

By—Edgar A. Guest

IF ONE COULD TAKE IT WITH HIM. If man could take it with him when he dies, Then gold might be a precious thing to own And heaven would then depend on this alone: Whether our earthly markets fall or rise, What ship comes in, what stock the trader buys, The daily price of steel and brick and stone; If man could take his fortune to God's throne The miser could go rich to Paradise. But since the well-filled purse and raiment fine Stay with the flesh to wither and decay, And only the soul may pass to realms divine, Where one with gold can never buy his way, Who hopes for heaven must labor to the end To gain the things on which heaven's joys depend. And they came up to let ma know what he had done. Ma said, I certenly trimmed the ears off your husband today, how had he?

Which ma who luffs last luffs best, eat pop. Meaning himself, and Mr. Jones went in his house and ma sed, Jest for that if I was you Willyum I would let him beat me, ma says, I know lakcally you let him beat you, because he's jest the kind of a man that won't play unless he wins, and you haf to have somebody to play with.

Well, to tell the truth that jest about the size of it, eat pop. And ma started to feel better, and we went in and started to eat supper, fubbing Irish stew nothing speehil, and pop leste on tawking about how he would beat Mr. Jones if he had of wanted to, saying, Jest as you say, the trouble with Jones is, if he don't let ma put in a window to stand on the prodigal to return with assurance of a hearty welcome. The doors of a party should always be left ajar, and the window to stand on the prodigal to return with assurance of a hearty welcome. The doors of a party should always be left ajar, and the window to stand on the prodigal to return with assurance of a hearty welcome.

When the next time you just go ahead and beat him and let him suffer, eat ma, and pop sed, I believe I will, I'm tired of humoring him, and he started to look as if he was so much better I asked him if he would take us to the movies after supper and he sed he would.

MUSHROOM OR TOADSTOOL?

By DR. R. H. RHIBOP

Mushrooms for many hours but are afraid to gather their own because there have been so many cases of poisoning from eating toadstools and mushrooms.

A very common question is "How can I tell a mushroom from a toadstool?"

The popular tests, such as putting a silver coin upon in a meal after being, to see if it blackens in process of cooking, all are absolutely worthless.

Mushroom or toadstool poisons are of two kinds: Irritant and narcotic.

The irritant affects the stomach and digestive organs soon after eating. The narcotics are much more dangerous, acting upon the nerve centers without producing symptoms for many hours.

The irritant fungus often are recognized by their taste when raw; the narcotic frequently are pleasant, or at least not disagreeable, to the taste.

All mushrooms should be considered dangerous which have: 1. A cup-like formation at the base of the stem.

2. A scaly or close-fitting layer at the base of the stem.

3. Loose warts on the cap.

4. A milky juice—unless this is red.

5. Great brittleness, with gills nearly all the same length, and the flesh of the cap thin.

6. A honeycombed appearance of the gills, if the flesh tastes bitter, or the mouths of the tubes are red, or the flesh changes color when cut or bruised.

7. A cobwebby ring or veil when the plants are young.

8. A slimy cap or clay-colored spores.

All mushrooms that are decaying or are in the immature button stage should be avoided.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY.

Today's word is agenda. It is pronounced a-jen-da with accent on the second syllable. It is—the plural, in which form it generally is used, of the noun "agenda," meaning "things to be done," especially "a program of business to be brought up at a meeting."

It comes from—Latin "agere," to act. It is used like this—"The American Federation of Labor convention has formulated its agenda in the report of the executive council."

Our Educational System

Waco Times-Herald: All of us are for proper educational facilities; let there be no misunderstanding there. But, fellow-citizens, why should the legislature appropriate money for the schools? Whose money is that? Our money, isn't it? Why take our money down to Austin? Doesn't taking the money down to Austin involve needless expense? Why not keep the money in the local community, and use it as we need it? But, it will be said, there are some schools that are not self-supporting. Doesn't that bring up the question of consolidating schools? But, it will be said, the distance to the schoolhouse is in the way of consolidated schools. That is a serious difficulty, of course, but couldn't it be overcome by providing transportation, or by using the money which the legislature appropriates for the schools as a general rule, to provide an excellent educational facility for the schools, while the grades are maintained. Of course, there are some excellent schools of moderate size due to a teacher of special ability, but these are the exceptions; as a rule, the best schools are the larger schools. Why shouldn't each community make provision for the education of its young people? Why take the money from the community, carry it down to Austin, and then bring it back? Doesn't that involve needless expense? Besides, the small, isolated school does not, as a general rule, provide an excellent educational facility for the schools, while the grades are maintained. ## GROH, STOCK AND GARDNER ONLY STARS AMONG THIRD BASEMEN IN THE MAJORS

When one mentions Groh and Miller, the baseball fan knows that there is to say about present day third sackers, except the veteran, Larry Gardner of the Indians, who has been knocking down the home runs from the left field line. Frank Baker, of home run fame, can still slout the old slug by running "Pie" Traynor, a star at knocking down the home runs from the left field line. BECKER UNDERGOES OPERATION IN FORT WORTH FOR HIS LEG
With Bob Becker out for the rest of the week, Jake Miller at home with a bruised ankle and "Pie" Traynor with a lame throwing arm, the Spudders outfield is in exceedingly rocky shape. Bob was a sick man when he left Wichita Falls and stated that were it not for the fact that it was absolutely necessary for Jake Miller to remain at home, he would have stayed behind, though it wasn't his leg that was bothering him. He claimed he had a touch of ptomaine poisoning due to some fish he ate. Bob has eliminated meat from his daily meals as he takes on weight easily and is anxious to keep in shape. A couple of weeks ago he ate some fish and the familiar attack though it was much lighter.

FIVE MEN HAVE FAILED TO FILL GEORGE BURNS' SHOES ON THE GIANTS

What all the New York Giants' fans are asking is, "What happened to the Giants?" The question to ask about a club that is leading the National league race by a comfortable margin. When I saw the Giants play the Yankees in the world series last fall McGraw's club made a great impression on me. It loomed up as a truly great ball club, whom I considered to be the greatest team in the world. In 1921 the Giants, with Frisch at third, Bancroft at short, Rawlings at second and Kelly at first, had a great infield. The addition of Groh, with the shift to second and Kelly at first, certainly gave New York an inner defense to rave about. It was strengthened 25 percent by one game today, defeating Philadelphia 3 to 2. This puts the locals two and one-half games ahead of New York. The winning run was scored in the seventh when McManus' single brought in Tobin from second. Tobin was safe on first on Galloway's low throw and was sacrificed to second by Gerber. Score by innings—R. H. E. Washington, 000 000 000—4 0 0 Chicago, 000 000 02X—2 6 1 Batteries: Morigridge and Gharcity; Schupp and Schalk.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
White Sox 3, Senators 0.
CHICAGO, June 19.—An eighth inning rally today enabled Chicago to shut out Washington 3 to 0 in a pitching duel between Schupp and Morigridge. The Senators scored four hits and struck out ten men. Heine Groh certainly added a punch to the infield. To get him, however, it was necessary to put a big hole in the outfield. It is the absence of George Burns that ails the Giants.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Dodgers 6, Pirates 5.
BROOKLYN, June 19.—Johnston's single, followed by Decatur's sacrifice and Wheat's single scored the winning run in the fourteenth inning and enabled Brooklyn to defeat Pittsburgh 6 to 5 today. The Dodgers staged a thrilling rally to tie the score in the ninth, scoring four runs on three doubles and two singles. Score by innings—R. H. E. Pittsburgh, 001 000 022 000 00—5 11 0 Brooklyn, 000 100 004 001—6 13 4 Batteries: Glanzer, Hamilton and Gooch; Vance, Decatur and Deberry.

PHILLIES 3, Cubs 6.
PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—A home drive by Fitch Hittler Peters scored two men ahead of him in the ninth inning, gave Philadelphia an 8 to 6 victory today over Chicago. Score by innings—R. H. E. Chicago, 000 000 000—6 8 3 Philadelphia, 000 001 304—6 8 1 Batteries: Pfeffer and Armstrong; Douglas, Causey, Barnes and Smith.

INDIANS 4, Yankees 2.
CLEVELAND, June 19.—Cleveland defeated New York today, 4 to 2, making it eight straight defeats for New York. Ruth hit a home run with none on in the first inning, but later fanned twice. Ruth was ejected from the game by Umpire Linsen for disputing a decision on Nunnemaker at second in the eighth. Score by innings—R. H. E. New York, 100 000 010—2 7 0 Cleveland, 010 000 000—4 11 0 Batteries: Mays, Jones and Hoffmann; Mails, Uble and O'Neill.

DETROIT 11, Red Sox 9.
DETROIT, June 19.—Detroit won its seventh straight game today by defeating Boston 11 to 9 in a slugfest. The Red Sox were stopped in the fourth by Fullerton after making ten consecutive safe hits. Score by innings—R. H. E. Detroit, 011 000 040—11 15 10 Boston, 000 000 000—9 15 10 Batteries: Quinn, Fullerton, Piercy and Ruel; Stoner, Oldham, Johnson, Daus and Basler.

SPORT WRITER DIES.

Sport Shots HOW TO PLAY BALL

By PAUL W. LARKIN

Little Improvement.
There may be people in Wichita Falls who are as blue as the sky in disposing of the Butts in the present series, but the Spudders take a complete rest and allow his ankle to round into shape. When three games after he was hit by the injured member felt, he replied, "Oh, just about the same—as when I hurt it." Jake is still hobbling about on crutches, but he has his fate and uttering lots of remarks about the "breaks" which wouldn't look well in print.

Thinka Jim Is On Him.
Jake believes that there is some sort of jinx hovering over him in Wichita Falls. He claims he has never out of a game in organized ball on account of injuries until he signed with the Spudders. He was once in the steel league with a broken leg, but was always on deck in the southern. He was out the last few weeks in 1921 with an injured leg, but he has been back in Houston ready to play, but it is extremely doubtful if he will play regularly again until the club returns.

No Pleasure There.
It could hardly be said that a "pleasant time was had by all" if the "Spudders" today in the Panther-Crab game Monday afternoon. "Ziggy" Sear took the joy out of their lives.

Must Keep Hustling.
The Panthers should have little trouble in disposing of the Butts in the present series, but the Spudders have no inch on their hands with the Crabs. If the Wichitans out there can lead any within the next three days there'll be many surprised fans in Wichita Falls.

Beck Is In Becher's Lat.
During the recent home stay, Fred Beck was criticized several times by the fans for failing to hit the dirt. The reason should be apparent now. Fred is a big fellow who is very apt to severely injure himself by sliding and he takes no unnecessary chances. If the Spudders need a right fielder, Beck is the man to go for.

Twilight Well Organized.
The Twilight league has been the most successful of all city amateur leagues ever organized. Seidman has a team failed to appear when it had a game scheduled and many out of town players have been playing in the Twilight league. Practically every team has made its expenses for the season by playing out of town clubs. The best amateur talent in the city is to be bound on the rosters of the eight clubs. The Pond Laundry aggregation, which is leading the loop, has been reported from Vernon and Henrietta while Electra reported light showers.

Special Game Falls Through.
An effort was made to arrange a game between the Shrine and Laundry clubs for the Fourth of July at Athletic park during the Shrine circus, but the local temple has a series scheduled with San Antonio in San Antonio over the holidays. Manager Ellis' tribe will be in Austin July 3 and 4 and will then head to San Antonio for a series Wednesday's Twilight schedule calls for games between the Millers and Pond Laundry, University Club and Shrine, Legion and First Christian, Baptists and North Methodist.

HOW TO PLAY BALL

Shift for Batter, Say a Roger Peckinpaugh

Most Hitters Will Pull a Curve or Slow Ball—That is, Right-Handers Will Hit Either Style Delivery to Left Field, and Left-Handers Will Pull a Slow One or a Curve to Right Field.

Be Ready To Go.
Therefore, after you have taken your position on a batsman, and you know a curve or slow ball is being pitched, you should be ready to start in the direction the batsman usually hits such balls, and in the opposite direction when a fast ball is pitched.

Keep Your Eyes on the Ball.
Concentration on every play is essential. You must know just how many are out, how many are on the bases, and the score. These conditions often call for different ways of handling certain plays. The shortstop must be alert to every situation.

STRIKE INTEREST NOW CENTERED IN JOINT CONFERENCE

By Associated Press. CINCINNATI, June 26.—Interest here today in the nation-wide rail strike situation centered in the conference tonight between officials of the miners and railroad shop craft union when plans for strike action between these organizations will be discussed.

W. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees department, and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, at a conference yesterday discussed the agenda of tonight's meeting and mapped out a plan for action.

None of the big four or transportation brotherhoods was expected to attend the meeting. It was said, however, that the Pennsylvania railroad was not affected by recent decisions of the labor board.

William H. Johnston, president of the machinery department, said it was possible to move that could prevent a walkout of approximately 1,000,000 rail workers July 1, was for the government to suspend its order reducing wages and for the board to enforce against all lines its order against the continuing out of shop work by railroads.

STRIKE BALLOTS MAILED TO RAILWAY CLERKS CLEVELAND, June 26.—Strike ballots are being mailed to all members of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees on the New York Central railroad, according to an announcement today by Frank W. Grosser, general organizer of the union.

RAIL LABOR BOARD IS FORMULATING A REPLY CHICAGO, June 26.—A formal reply to the charges made by leaders of 15 railway unions who informed the United States railroad labor board that the railroad strike will be authorized if the board's decision favors it, is being prepared by the board. It was learned today that the reply to the union chiefs will not be forwarded for several days, it was said.

MEANWHILE union leaders were speeding up the strike vote in an effort to have it completed and tabulated by next Saturday when the general committee of ninety representing the rail unions meets here to canvass the ballots.

FIFTY thousand ballots cast by shop craft employees have been almost solidly for a strike, according to John Scott, secretary of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor.

'FLAPPERITIS' BRINGING ABOUT INEFFICIENT AND SLEEP STARVED WRECKS AMONG CITY YOUTHS

CHICAGO, June 26.—"Flapperitis" is bringing about inefficient, sleep starved and under nourished physical wrecks among the modern city youths, Dr. Clarence Bartlett, president of the Pennsylvania state homeopathic society said yesterday in an address before the homeopathy convention.

Not only were the habits of the flappers assailed, but the methods of enforcement of the Volstead act were characterized as "officialdom gone mad" by Dr. Bartlett.

Dr. Roy Upham of Brooklyn, president of the homeopaths, told of the remarkable steps made lately in the use of glands of animals in rejuvenating human beings. By the simple process of feeding to a patient—or by injecting into his or her veins—the extracts of the various glands of animals, one who is lazy may be made a prize athlete, Dr. Upham declared.
