

McCUMBER LIKELY TO BE DEFEATED IN N. DAKOTA PRIMARY

NOT BEING SUPPORTED BY ALL THE CONSERVATIVE REPUBLICANS

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE CANDIDATE IS POPULAR

By MARK SULLIVAN National Political Correspondent of the New York Evening Post and Wichita Daily Times. (Copyright, 1922, by the New York Evening Post.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—The conditions seem to be such that Senator McCumber is not likely to win in the North Dakota primaries. The writer has not been in North Dakota, but has heard from many sources which indicate that McCumber can be classified as a conservative republican.

McCumber's opponent, Frazier, is not expected to follow the non-partisan league line, and it is expected that McCumber would have the hearty support of all conservative republicans, and all others to whom the non-partisan league is anathema.

McCumber is charged, not with identifying himself with the non-partisan league, but with failing to help whole-heartedly in various past efforts to crush it.

Frazier, the non-partisan league candidate, seems most likely to be the nominee. There is some ground for suspecting that the conservative element in North Dakota expects to make its real fight against the non-partisan league, not in the present primary, but in the election afterwards.

The man who will receive the democratic nomination in these North Dakota primaries on Wednesday, O'Connor, is satisfactory to the conservative elements generally in the state.

McCumber has been prevailing with them, he has not always "played the game" with entire satisfaction. Just recently he has pushed his personal bonus measure in a way and at a time that has openly embarrassed the other republican leaders here.

The defeat of McCumber would, of course, remove him as chairman of the committee on finance. In that position, he would be succeeded, under the seniority rule, by

The correct answer to Mr. Edison's question: "What is Grape-Nuts made of?"

Answered by the makers of Grape-Nuts

THIS is one of a number of questions which Mr. Edison is putting to applicants for an important position in his organization. We are happy to learn the interest shown in the food, Grape-Nuts, by a man of such broad attainments as Mr. Edison.

There has never been any secret about what Grape-Nuts is made of. It has been on the market for 24 years, and practically everybody knows its composition.

But inasmuch as such a simple, everyday question as "When did Columbus discover America?" is often incorrectly answered, it may be well to take this opportunity to restate the following facts about Grape-Nuts:

Grape-Nuts is a highly nourishing cereal food, made from a mixture of whole wheat flour, malted barley, salt and water. The mixture is raised by yeast, baked in loaves, then sliced, further baked, and then crushed into granules.

No food in the world is so thoroughly baked as Grape-Nuts. More than 20 hours are consumed in the various baking processes.

As every diet expert knows, this long baking brings about conversion of the carbohydrate elements, developing dextrin, maltose and dextrose or grape-sugar—a form of sugar to which all starch elements must be changed before they can be assimilated by the system.

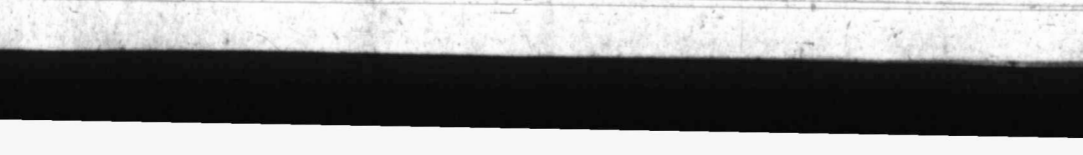

Grape-Nuts when eaten does not form a pasty mass difficult to digest—the 20-hour baking makes this delicious food easily digested by even those with the most delicate stomachs; and the character of the food requires thorough mastication.

Grape-Nuts is a well-balanced food for building bone, tooth and nerve structure. When combined with cream or milk, it is admittedly a complete food.

You will find Grape-Nuts everywhere. At your grocer's, your club, your hotel, your restaurant.

In America, where you don't find Grape-Nuts you won't find people.

DECLARES TARIFF ON MEATS WOULD BE HEAVY BURDEN

WOULD ADD $379,500,000 TO MEAT BILL OF NATION IS CHARGE.

COULD NOT RESULT IN BENEFIT TO FARMERS

Senator Walsh Discusses the Proposed Agricultural Schedule.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Duties on fresh meats and meat products proposed in the pending tariff bill if effective would increase the nation's meat bill $379,500,000, Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, declared in the senate. He was discussing the agricultural schedule and announced that he "would submit figures, staggering in their size, showing what an unbearable burden these duties on agricultural products will be to consumers."

Senator Walsh estimated that the duties on beef and veal would increase prices by $22,000,000; that mutton and lambs would advance by $3,800,000; pork by $105,000,000, and lamb by $12,000,000. He said the total would be $377 for each man, woman and child in the country or $18.85 for a family of five. The Massachusetts senator contended that the increase in cost to the people of his state would be $15,140,000.

The speaker argued that the proposed tariffs could not result in any benefit to the farmer for reasons he outlined as follows:

"A tariff upon agricultural products except in a very limited number of instances may not have at all the effect of raising the general level of prices to the producer.

"To whatever extent it will raise the price of the producer, it will (a) react in higher cost of living to the people of the country, and (b) react in higher costs of the things the farmer must buy. This was well illustrated during the war. As the prices of agricultural products increased an increase in price of things the farmer purchased closely followed and the result was little net advantage.

"The wages of labor have been and are becoming more and more dependent on the cost of living. Increased costs through tariff rates of those things the laboring people of the country must eat means increased wages and increased wages in the industrial and large centers of population means that labor will be scarce and will demand correspondingly high wages on the farms.

"In those cases where the duties on agricultural products will be most effective in increasing prices they are levied upon commodities produced in restricted sections by the small percentage of the farmers of the United States. Thus high duties are proposed on lemons, almonds, walnuts, figs, and wrapper tobacco of which the great majority of farmers are consumers rather than producers.

"An examination of statistics and well known information in regard to some of these agricultural articles," Senator Walsh continued, "will prove I believe beyond question that this schedule will not meet with the success claimed for it, but will result in very serious losses to the American people as a whole and will impair and injure materially the growing and expanding expert business of the country."

LIONS' CLUB TAKES VACATION DURING SUMMER MONTHS

The Lions club at the regular luncheon and meeting held at the Kemp hotel Wednesday noon voted to discontinue the weekly meetings until September. The hot weather and the fact that so many members will be away for the summer were the reasons given for this action.

A report on the national conventions of the Lions club was given following the luncheon. According to figures given out during this convention, the club's membership has doubled in the last eleven months. The organizing and fostering of Junior Lions clubs is being encouraged by the national officers at this time, it was also stated.

Members of the local organization will go to Vernon Friday night to be present when a charter is given to that city. Several talks will be given by the visitors at this charter meeting. The Hannon demonstration of tearing down and reassembling a motor was a feature of the entertainment offered in the course of the meeting.

It is only a short time now until the gates of the circus swing open and the new and novel Shrine circus will be put in full operation. This will happen on July 1 at the conclusion of what is expected to be the greatest street parade ever witnessed in this section of the United States.

Saturday has been designated as Seymour and visitor's day and on this day it is expected that a large delegation will be present to participate in the merry making.

Monday night has been set aside as Kiwanis night and an official invitation has been extended to that club by the circus production committee.

Tuesday night will be Burkhardt and Electra night and it is expected that these two towns will be well represented on Tuesday, the fourth of July, both in the afternoon and at night.

Wednesday night is Rotary night and that club has been extended an official invitation on this night, also, will be held the public wedding when a Wichita Falls couple will be married under the big top.

Thursday night has been designated as fraternal night and every fraternal order in Wichita Falls is invited to attend the Shrine circus on that night. This, it is anticipated, will be one of the biggest evenings of the entire week.

Friday night will be Masonic and Eastern Star night and all the various bodies of Masonry, as well as the Order of the Eastern Star, have been extended an official invitation and requested to be present on this night.

The closing night, Saturday the 8th, has been set aside as everybody's night and the circus will wind up with a grand finale.

On each night during circus week, at 11:30, a sedan will be given away.

WOMAN IS INJURED IN GAS EXPLOSION, LIFE ENDANGERED

Surrounded by flames which had resulted from an explosion of gas, Mrs. Nettie Lammers, aged 70, was dragged from the kitchen of her home at 200 Scott Wednesday morning, by neighbors who were attracted by the noise of the explosion and by the woman's screams.

Mrs. Lammers suffered painful burns on the arms and face and neighbors declare that hers was a narrow escape from death.

The explosion took place when Mrs. Lammers struck a match in her kitchen, preparatory to cooking dinner; it is thought that a leaking pipe had caused the room to be filled with the escaping fumes. The fire was easily extinguished by neighbors who rushed to the scene.

Mrs. Lammers being dragged from the room where she was found frantically trying to extinguish the flames. Little damage resulted from the fire which had been extinguished when the department arrived.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

How precious also are my thoughts unto me, O God!
How great is the sum of them!
If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand:
When I awake, I am still with Thee.—Psalm 138:17-18.

DRUGGERY

There is no royal road to learning. Effort and perseverance are required for success. Work, hard work—druggerly—is the foundation upon which attainment is built. Sometimes we forget this and some young folks start off in life without recognizing this truth. The Sherman Democrat stresses this truth in a sensible discussion. The Democrat says:
"The day's work is hard if it is druggerly. Most of us think that we have too much toll in the usual grind and that the majority of our acquaintances have easier, simpler, less bothersome employment.
We hate many of the petty, irksome duties which we must perform and make them more disagreeable by trying to shirk or shift them.
"Druggerly always is hard. It is just unvarying routine, just ordinary labor, fatiguing the mind and tingling all the muscles. Devoid of the least interest, its constant sameness and dullness wear on the temperament.
"Yet druggerly cannot be averted or evaded. A large percentage of the real work of every profession, every trade, every occupation, consists of detailed concentration on certain necessary but pallid tasks or automatic disposal of little obligations which seem to be inconsequential.
"The business man who would master his commercial affairs must delve through piles of letters and statistics, many of which are of no value and observe and investigate the small circumstances of his concern and his employees. If he ignores these trivial matters he lacks the insight and vision requisite for successful management. From the minor as well as the important phases of his business he imbues the philosophy which makes his judgment sound.
"The physician's examination and treatment of patients are but the conclusive features of his professional efficiency and skill. He is sure in his diagnoses and competent in his administrations, as a result of study, experimentation and practice.
"The lawyer's convincing argument is the demonstration of much research and thought. The writer's rhetoric comes not only from literary preparation, but in each article from inquiry, study and thought. The clergyman's eloquent sermon is truly but an incident of religious endeavor.
"Druggerly is encountered in all fields of activity.
It is unavoidable. But it is one of the best aids to excellence. Rather than resent and detest it we should train ourselves to accept it as a practical help to perfection.
"And, after all, druggerly is druggerly only as we regard the onerous duties we must perform as tasks.
Work is as agreeable or disagreeable as we make it ourselves. We can find interest even in druggerly, and we should; as druggerly is essential to success."

THE THREATENED RAILROAD STRIKE

Approximately 1,000,000 railway workers affiliated with the American Federation of Labor will strike on July 1, their leaders announce, unless the railroads agree to continue present wages, to restore working rules and to cease contracting shop work.
A strike has been sanctioned by the vote of nearly 96 per cent of the men.
If the strike goes into effect it is certain, for a time at least, to paralyze transportation and to seriously disrupt the industries of the country. Not only will the 1,000,000 strikers be thrown out of work but other millions also. The effects of the strike will be widespread and general.
It appears highly improbable that the railroads will agree to the conditions laid down by the railway unions. The railroads are likely to stand for the reductions ordered by the federal railway labor board. Whether these reductions are fully justified or not the federal board has ordered them after a thorough study and they conform in some degree to reductions in prices that have been general in industry.
Neither is it likely that the railroads will agree to restore working rules. These rules also were abrogated by the federal board after study and the action of the board has been supported by public opinion which may or may not have fully understood them.
It is to the ultimatum that the roads cease contracting shop work that they are most likely to agree. In contracting shop work—the railroads have defied the orders of the very board which they are expecting their workers to obey and their position has appeared inconsistent all along, and, indeed, if the shop rules are abrogated and lower wages forced

YOU AND I

By ALBERT APPLE
Weeks, secretary of war, "comes out for light wine and beer." He says he would vote for them if he were a congressman.
Suppose wine returned—limited, say, to one cent.
It would not be long until the light wine would be spiked, alcoholic content rising gradually to the strength of whiskey and brandy.
As a practical proposition, how would you suggest preventing such spiking? Could it be done, at all?
Prohibition, the severe one, else, is

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE BOY WHO CAME BACK.
In the Bible there is a story of a young man who thought that his home was not good enough for him.
So he went away.
He sought thrills, veneered pleasures, and "easy money"—without working for it. It is said that he fed upon the husks of the swine herd.
But the young man soon tired—as all such do.
He wanted to hear again the voices of home, and to eat home cooking, and to have a happy bed to sleep in. And so he decided to go back. "I will arise and go to my father," he said.
His pride had been broken. He was ragged and discouraged. But he was not so far gone that he was unable to decide to face things definitely anew.
As he neared his home, a thrill that he had never known before came over him. His father ran to meet him with outstretched arms. And so glad was the father to see him that he ordered the finest dinner and celebration that he could think up. "For," said he, "my boy, whom I thought was dead, is alive!"
Some of the other members of the family didn't seem to like the idea of taking him back. But not the father. Which goes to prove that there is great father love as well as mother love, in the big world.
But the lesson in the story, to me, is this: Here was a young man who had made a great mistake—but who still retained the courage to face life anew.
Daily must we mend and reconstruct. Regrets are vain, indeed. But the holy desire to be right within our hearts is what counts.
Each of us must decide for himself—to arise!

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

HIS PHILOSOPHY.
It's a good idea, said he to me, in dealing with your fellow men,
To realize that, dull or wise, they may be troubled now and then;
I don't suppose the stranger knows just how I'm feeling when we meet,
An' I have days my temper strays an' I can't keep my nature sweet.
Now gettin' on with Jim or John would not be difficult to do
If every day they cross our way the story of their life we knew;
If we could know if pain or woe was troubling them,
It seems to me,
Then you an' I would know just why they weren't just what they ought to be.
So when I meet along the street some irritable chap,
I say
Perhaps he's ill, or graver still, perhaps some grief has come his way;
His temper's bad, but if I had to bear his pain the whole day through
I can't deny the fact that I would be a bit cantankerous, too.
An' so I say from day to day in dealing with your
fellowmen,
It's always wise to realize they may be troubled now and then;
Both pain and woe all men must know, good nature is a gift sublime,
But none on earth can keep his mirth and be good-natured all the time.

SMILE A WHILE

By TOM SIMS.
Our idea of fun is listening to a woman who doesn't use perfume talk with a man who does.
All of them are not dead. An Ohio man bought a load of fine wood and found it was sawdust.
When a trip to the grocery is necessary father admits short skirts give freedom of movement.
New York plumber kills himself over his troubles.
This proves they don't forget anything.
Some of these reformers ought to invent a sandpaper powder puff.
Marconi expects signals from Mars. Guess they want to borrow money from our government.
The average woman thinks a beauty hint is a command.
If the railroad strike comes, how will aviators get back home?
Every now and then we would like to swat a golf bug.
Our ships are allowed to carry booze as "stores."
These stores will not lack customers.
In Austria, you can have a pocket full of money and be broke.

TEXAS Viewpoints

Their Right to the Job.
Dallas News. It soon scarcely as-cape notice in reading the story of what has just taken place at Herrin, Illinois, that the feeling of the strikers toward the operators and their jobs is that of proprietorship.
The report of the coroner, the general sentiment of the community and the rest of the whole affair show that these men are under the impression somehow that they have the right to murder at will those who "rob them of the jobs which they quit in obedience to the order of their union. It seems to be their belief that the use of force in the defense of their jobs—even after they have voluntarily ceased from labor at them—is on the same plane as the use of force to expel intruders from a residence temporarily departed from. On this line of feeling—for reasoning it can scarcely be called—the mining company is held by the coroner's report to be guilty of the death of strike breakers who came to their aid while the bound and helpless prisoners of the strike-murders.
Herrin is said to have been a strife breaker who came to their aid while the bound and helpless
prisoners of the strike-murders.
It is a shame, this is, a union miner is sought for his own sake, the murder of the victims. Those operators knew when they loaded these men on the train that they were as good dead. It is the feeling of the strike men that they are "voluntarily" ceasing from labor at them—is on the same plane as the use of force to expel
intruders from a residence temporarily departed from. On this line

pany is held by the coroner's re-

Purposes of Pain

By Dr. R. H. BISHOP Suppose railroads tried to operate without danger signals. Or suppose the engineers disregarded them.
Faults would be made, and wrecks that people would walk.
Nature has provided a danger signal for all animal life. It is the consciousness of pain. Lots of pain is caused every day, but it does not over it up with drugs.
When a man tries to rid himself of a pain he ought to ask himself if he is striking simply at the pain itself, or at the underlying cause.
There are times when it is perfectly right to aim at the pain. It may be intense—the kind that takes the mind away from the cause of it. And the cause may be too deep to get at quickly. Perhaps some important work must be carried on, and the pain is essential for a man to stick to his job a little longer. In a case like that, no one could blame him for giving the knockout to his pain sense.
But he does so at his peril. He ought to realize this fact. From that moment he has assumed responsibility for the conditions, whatever they are, that cause the pain. When the pain is no longer present he is in danger of forgetting that something is wrong. The danger signal was set and he has run by it. He may be able to take his train a little farther, but the track has not been repaired; if nothing happens watch, there will be a "smash-up."
A headache powder does not hit the cause of the headache any more than a laxative hits the cause of constipation or a spoonful of pepper-mineral also with acetone on the first syllable, and he may be able to take his train a little farther, but the track has not been repaired; if nothing happens watch, there will be a "smash-up."

Me and pop and ma was in the speaking room pop reading the sporting news and looking at the folks without laughing and me wishing something would interrupt me from doing my lesson. Ma started to begin to think of different accidents that might happen, saying, "Ma, wouldn't it be fearful if the ceiling fell in just now or any other time either, for that matter, you make me nervous even thinking of such things, ma, me and pop, me and pop, you know nothing like that can actually happen, so why don't you try to be strong minded and pay no attention to such silly remarks."
The remark mite of bin silly, but it would be serious enuff if it actually happened, ma, and, pop, said, "That's a woman's argument if I ever heard one."
And I, too, pop, suppose that paper suddenly caught on fire with you reading it, wouldn't you be surprised?
Not only surprised, but puzzled, he had, he had, pop, said, "Well, suppose the room caught on fire from it, what then?
"Then it would be time to take some radical action, just as it will be if you don't get on with your homework, pop, said.
Which I did for a while, and then I said, "Well, ma, suppose somebody put a bomb under your chair and you didn't know it and it supposed it was under there now and all of a sudden it went off and, pop, said, "That thing is absolutely impossible and duzent worry me in the least, now I'm trying to read this paper, so please let me alone, ma, and, pop, said, "I won't read it, and I, too, pop, said, "It wouldn't be impossible if one of the legs came down on the chair and the bomb chair went over with you in it, that wouldn't worry you, wouldn't it?
I, too, pop, said, "Now you go to Froving it is.

OUT OUR WAY

SCARAMOUCHE

By Rafael Sabatini

"Then we have Pasquariel here, who is sometimes an apothecary, sometimes a notary, an amiable, accommodating fellow. And finally, I have myself, who as the father of the company very properly play the part of Pantalone, the roles of father, For the rest, I am the only one who has a name—it is Binet."
"And now for the ladies. First we have Madame there. She is our Moliere, the greatest ornament of our stage, and lastly, my daughter Climene, an amoureuse of talents not to be matched outside the Com-edie Francaise, of which she has the bad taste to aspire to become a member."
The conversation becoming general, Andre-Louis soon learnt what there was to learn of this strolling band.
They were on their way to Guichen, where they hoped to prosper at the fair that was to open on Monday night. And then M. Binet fetched a sigh.
"But we shall miss Felicite M.
Binet turned to Andre-Louis. "He was our property man, our man of affairs, and occasionally he acted."
The three ladies had taken their departure to the chaise. The house was already climbing into the moon when Binet turned to Andre-Louis.
"We part here, sir," said he, dramatically, "the richer by your acquaintance." He put forth his podgy hand.
Slowly Andre-Louis took it in his own. He had been thinking swiftly in the last few moments.
"I part from you reluctantly," Andre-Louis continued. "The more reluctantly since I do not perceive the absolute necessity for parting."
"How?" quoth Binet, frowning.
"By withdrawing the hand which the other had already retained rather longer than was necessary."
"Thus," Andre-Louis explained himself, "you may set your eyes on a sort of knight of fruitful countenance in quest of adventure. On your side you tell me that you are in need of someone to replace your Pelicien."
M. Binet was musing.
"What should you say to ten lives a month?" he asked, "that isn't exactly the riches of Peru."
"I might go as far as fifteen," Binet, reluctantly. "But times are hard."
"I'll make them better for you."
"I've no doubt you believe it. Then we understand each other. You perfectly," said Andre-Louis, dryly, and was thus committed to the service of Theopis III.
CHAPTER III
At five o'clock that evening the curtain rose on "The Heartless Father."
The performance was in every sense successful. The audience meagre and unenthusiastic. By the time M. Binet had paid the expenses there was not likely to be very much left toward the wages of his players.
"And what do you think of it?" he asked Andre-Louis.
"Possibly it could have been worse; probably it could not," he said.
In sheer amazement M. Binet checked his stride, and turned to look at his companion.
"Huh! said he, "Dieu! Dieu! But you are frank."
At supper a half hour later he revisited the topic.
"Our latest recital," he announced,
"has the impudence to tell me that possibly our comedy could have been worse, but that probably it could not. And he blew out his great round cheeks to invite a laugh at the expense of that foolish critic.
From the tail of the table Andre-Louis was challenged by Climene, who sat there between Columbine and Madame.
"You would alter the comedy," would you, M. Parvissimus?" she cried, giving him the name which earlier he had suggested as appropriate. "I would suggest that it be altered," he corrected, inclining his head. "I should go back to the original and help myself more freely from it."
"The original?" questioned M. Bi-net—the author.
"It is called, I believe, 'Monsieur de Pourceaugnac,' and was written by Moliere."
"You do not imply that I have been stealing from Moliere?"

serious had happened. He had sprained his foot a little. A few days' rest and all would be well.
"A few days?" cried Binet. "God of God! Do you mean that he can't walk?"
"It would be unwise, indeed impossible for more than a few steps." M. Binet paid the doctor's fee, and sat down to think.
He thrust his arm through Andre-Louis', and led him out into the street, where there was still considerable movement.
"I am thinking of you in the part of Andre-Louis," said he. "Before "I begin to find you tiresome," said he.
"A moment, M. Parvissimus. If I am to lose that fifteen louis, you'll not take it amiss that I compensate myself in your own way?"
"That is your own concern," M. Bi-net.
"Pardon, M. Parvissimus. It may possibly be also yours." Binet took his arm again. "Do me the kindness to step across the street with me.
Just as far as the post-office there. I have something to show you." Binet hesitated. Before they reached that sheet of paper nailed upon the door, he knew exactly what it would say. And in affect it was, as he had supposed, that twenty louis would be paid for information leading to the apprehension of one Andre-Louis Moreau, lawyer of Guenille, who was wanted by the King's Lieutenant in Rennes upon a charge of sedition.
M. Binet watched him whilst he read. Their arms were linked, and Binet's grip was firm and powerful.

FORT WORTH HAS
NEW OUSLEY CLUB
FORMED TUESDAY

FORT WORTH, June 25.—The Clarence Ousley for U. S. Senate Club of Tarrant county was organized Tuesday at a meeting of respected civic men of this county, including bankers, merchants, manufacturers and professional men.
John P. King, head of the King Candy company, was named president, and State Senator R. L. Car-lock, chairman of the executive committee.
Mr. Ousley spoke briefly, stating that he had entered the campaign because of the important problems to be solved at this critical period of the nation and believing that his studies and experience of the last 35 years had fitted him to represent the people of Texas in the best manner and better than any other candidate seeking the office.
Charles L. Bass of Wichita Falls told of the excellent work for Ous-ley being done in Wichita county.
Resolutions were adopted endorsing Ousley as the best fitted of all the candidates by education, ability and training for the office of senator and pledging his support. Committees are to be named to direct a speaking campaign in Tarrant county, to enroll new members and to plan aggressive work throughout the state, all present pledging themselves to work untiringly in Ousley's behalf.

Spudders Chalk Up Second Road Victory With Wheeler in Box

BEAUMONT, TEXAS, June 28.—The Spudders won the second game of their current road trip here yesterday at the expense of the Exporters 3 to 5 and once again it was "Rip" Wheeler who piloted his mates to victory. Wheeler was exceptionally tight in the pinches while the entire club hit hard and timely. "Rip" Morris was knocked off the slab by the Salmites in the sixth chapter and Caldera, who relieved him, was not a bit pissing. Wheeler pitched his terrific hitting drive by pounding out a double and three singles. Al White also had a good day with the stick, clubbing out three singles. Wheeler visited Wheeler on his first three runs in the second. White knocked in Summa, who had singled, and Beck, who had doubled over the right field fence, with a timely blow to left. All went to third on a couple of infield outs and counted on Wheeler's single. Three more were added in the fourth. White was hit by a pitched ball, advanced on Bishoff's sacrifice and scored on Bowman's drive over the right field fence. Adams, c. sack. Abe ran head third on Wheeler's infield out and tallied when Alcock played tag with Adams' roller. Adams quickly paroled second and scored on Tanner's crashing double to deep center.

MRS. MALLORY
AMERICAN TENNIS CHAMPION WHO IS PLANNING TO ENLIGHTEN THE WORLD IN AN ATTEMPT TO WIN THE WORLD'S TITLE. BECAUSE OF A LITTLE BITTER FEELING BETWEEN THESE TWO STARS SHOULD THEY MEET IN THE FINALS IT WOULD AROUSE WORLD WIDE INTEREST.

All the tennis world has its glims focused on Wimbledon this week. For the chances are that a new woman champion will be crowned there.

The controversy between Mrs. Mallory, American champion, and Mlle. Lenglen—which has been brewing since last summer when Mrs. Mallory successfully defended her title against Mlle. Lenglen at Forest Hills, L. I.—came to a head a month or so back when Mrs. Mallory passed the time of day and the remark that Suzanne could not stand up in fact company, that she was good when ...the game goes her way," but let things break against her and she quit, or words to that effect.

Should the American champion fight her way successfully through the finals at Wimbledon, the struggle between these two stars will create world-wide interest—perhaps more than any other championship tennis struggle in the history of the game, regardless of sex.

GREAT CROWD SEES EVANGELIST BRING AID TO AFFLICTED

ONE SUFFERER IS TOLD THAT DOUBT CANNOT PAR-TAKE OF CURE

SEVERAL WHO HAD BEEN DEAF ARE RESTORED

Night Services Are to Be Held at Palace Theater in Evenings Hereafter

By FRANK S. REID

A capacity crowd packed the Wichita theatre Tuesday evening to hear Dr. Raymond T. Richey, and above all, to see him perform miracles of healing. Hundreds of people could not gain admission to the theatre. Truly it is a wonderful inspiration to attend such a meeting, and a good Christian person cannot go away from that meeting without having gained some good thought of the wonderful influence this man has over people.

Mr. Richey claims no supernatural power, but his influence in bringing people to God and diverting their minds from the things of this world is wonderful. After all, we may apply these cases directly to our own lives. Sometime during our life we have been influenced by some person or persons in some way for good, and we have lots of faith in that person and the doctrine of helpfulness; and so perhaps after all this is what Dr. Richey is doing. If he is affecting permanent cures, and he has influenced people to believe that their ills will be permanently cured, surely he is doing a wonderful work.

Mr. Richey took for his text at the meeting Tuesday night the 26th verse of the 15th chapter of Exodus wherein it says: "I am the Lord that healeth thee." In part, Mr. Richey said: "Seventy million children of Israel had faith in the Lord for 450 years; they trusted God for 450 years; they kept their eyes on God. You cannot find in God's word where it says the day of miracles has passed, for he is the same yesterday, today and forever. Jesus is here tonight in this theatre to heal your souls and people say that healing ministers were a thing of the past when Jesus closed his ministry on earth. Some of the greatest miracles that have ever been performed have been performed on this earth since Jesus' departure. Jesus healed the sick and preached the gospel here tonight. You heard somebody was healing the body. Nothing will bring out the sinners like preaching the gospel of healing. If you want your church full, preach the gospel of healing. The Bible says in James 14, 'The prayer of faith shall save the sick and the Lord shall raise them up.' Some people will fight divine healing. They don't know what they are doing. If you want to do good foreign missionary work, preach the gospel of healing in the foreign land. There is no work as great as preaching the gospel of healing. All over the United States this is springing up in the different churches. Let us get the healing of our souls; give Jesus a chance at your heart."

At the close of his sermon, the minister and crippled people flocked to the altar of God with great hope of being cured by the touch of this influential man. There appeared to be many cases of deafness. Some went away rejoicing that they had heard for the first time in years; others still under the influence of prayer. Mrs. W. S. Hunter, wife of a local Wichita Falls business man and member of the First Presbyterian church, rejoiced exceedingly that her hearing had been restored and she was able to hear Dr. Richey's whispered voice within four feet of her back. Another woman who had not been able to walk for thirty years without the aid of a crutch, threw aside her crutch and walked off the stage.

One man who had not heard his watch tick for 20 years seemed to lack faith that he could be cured and Dr. Richey said to him, "Since you do not expect God to do anything for you, he isn't going to do it for you; just as soon as you expect him to do so, you will hear your watch tick."

INSTITUTES OF 4 COUNTIES TO BE HELD IN THIS CITY

WILBARGER HAS RECEIVED 50,000 BUSHEL WHEAT

THIS AMOUNT HAS MOVED DURING THE PRESENT THRESHING SEASON

CROP FORTY PER CENT OF THAT OF LAST YEAR

Has Been Selling at an Average Price of $1.04 on the Vernon Market

VERNON, TEXAS, June 28—Approximately 50,000 bushels of wheat have moved during the present threshing season in Wilbarger county, is the estimate of local millers, and it is thought that this amount is considerably in excess of shipments made and received even at Fort Worth and Dallas. Wheat has been bringing $1.04 on an average locally.

Grain movements of the same time a year ago are not equalled at present, however, and one mill operator estimated that the crop will yield about 40 per cent of its total last year. Black rust is giving the farmers some concern, too, and 125 acres of what appeared promising wheat north of the river have been practically devastated.

Numbers of farmers are holding their wheat. Movements from the vicinity of Oklahoma continue to be the heaviest in the county. One local mill has received 15,000 bushels, and the other has accepted about 5,000 bushels.

Responses have been received by one of the local mills in regard to the campaign it has instituted for pure seed wheat. Numbers of farmers have asked that a portion of

TRUTH BRINGS REVOLT

WHEN some great truth dawns upon the world it always brings its measure of revolt, for it must displace some old tradition or time-worn theory dear to the heart and imbedded in the brain of many people.

Take the French Revolution. One bright day in July, 1791, it dawned upon the French people that Louis XVI had no "divine right" to rule, and that his prison, the Bastille, was a monument to the injustice of a dozen wretched kingships.

The dawn of this great truth brought sweeping revolt. The people tore the Bastille stone from stone and beheaded Louis, though thousands of true Frenchmen died nobly to preserve a fallacy—"divine right"—which had outlived its day.

The Texas Chiropractors Association desires to humbly point a moral with this thought: Chiropractic is a new and simple means to health, positive in its action to remove the cause of disease, based on the single, practical truth that nerve force and vitality are all-important and that the vast majority of interruptions of nerve force and vitality—and its consequent result, illness—come from pressure on or impingement of major nerves where they pass out between the joints or vertebrae of the spinal column.

That spinal adjustments (the return of these joints or vertebrae to their normal position) has relieved this pressure on the nerves and permitted Nature to remove the symptom—illness—is a revolutionary truth indeed. People are called upon to accept a downright development in science, a tremendous step forward.

The State Association sincerely petitions every reader of this publication to consider the truth of chiropractic without fear or prejudice. Intelligently applied chiropractic cannot harm, and its possibilities for good are boundless.

Visit the office of your local chiropractor. He will have something of interest to tell you, and a spinal examination may reveal something you should know—and know on time.

The Association only asks that in accepting this advice you make sure he is an Association member, maintaining its rules and regulations and its standards in his methods.

(Fourth of series of messages to inspire public knowledge and confidence in the new science of chiropractic.)

Watch for This Emblem— It Denotes the Association Chiropractor

The Texas Chiropractic Association urges the public to seek out the chiropractor displaying this emblem, as it denotes those who are actively supporting the Association effort to inform the public of the day and benefits of Chiropractic—only members in good standing can display this emblem.
