"It is beyond my power to express any preference for either of the very fine and unselfish work you did for me during the campaign. I appreciate it with all my heart. WASHINGTON, July 27.—Production for Monday, although it increased over last week, still was below the high point of the strike period which was 17,600 cars. AMERICAN AGENTS SNAP UP COAL IN EUROPE

LONDON, July 27.—The question whether British coal miners will take any action against the exportation of coal to America was before the executive committee of the miners' federation today for discussion. Meanwhile reports from Britain indicate that the government will be done by the miners who after a lean period in their industry are appreciating the stimulus given through the American demand. The greatest effort of the American demand has been produced in the South Wales fields, where cheerfulness has succeeded long periods of depression.

LEADING RAILWAY EXECUTIVES AND LEADER OF SHOP CRAFTS CONFER WITH THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Having presented the views of the striking railroad shopen to President Harding at a morning conference, E. M. V. Farmer, secretary of the White House, this afternoon for another conference at which it was believed President Harding would present some sort of a proposition designed to settle the strike.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Revived hopes for a settlement of the railroad shopen's strike were centered today in Washington, where eastern railroad executives and the union leader met in separate conferences with President Harding. There was no indication, however, that peace was in sight and meanwhile both sides persisted in their claims as to the effect of the walkout.

Rail officials generally asserted that passenger and freight service was virtually normal. The union strike leaders asserted that the strike remained 100 per cent effective. No change of attitude on the part of either side was indicated. Mr. Farmer, regarded as the main stumbling block to peace, was inundated by any of the railroad officials or union men here today. In union circles the view was held that an early move toward peace would come from Washington, it being said by union men here that all questions at issue, especially that of restoration of seniority of the strikers, were being placed before President Harding today. No steps toward solving the labor problem were taken by the board which had announced recently that no further action was contemplated.

ST. LOUIS, July 27.—Contempt proceedings against striking railroad men were continued today in St. Louis and Texas railroad were continued by United States District Judge Andrew Miller of North Dakota. The Missouri Pacific is in charge of the guards here, that he did not turn the water on the engine deliberately, but that the water splashed on him when he was too close to the engine.

Cuyler, chairman of the association of railway executives, and then with the strike leaders headed by R. M. Jewell, who reached Washington early in the day from Chicago.

CHARGES LEWIS TRIES TO BOLSTER UP HIS FORCES

ST. LOUIS, July 27.—W. K. Kavanaugh, president of the fifth and ninth districts, Illinois coal operators association, said "Mr. Lewis is trying to bolster up his forces." This afternoon when informed of the situation by the executive committee of the miners' federation, Kavanaugh said he had no knowledge of such an arrangement and that the announcement was along the same lines as previous announcements made by Lewis.

BONUS FATE MAY HANG ON PAYMENT OF BRITISH DEBT

MEASURE MIGHT CARRY IF ENOUGH MONEY TO PAY THE BILL COMES POLITICIANS SEE LITTLE LIKELIHOOD OF SUCCESS

Possible Veto by President Also Figures Largely in Calculations

By MARK SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The soldiers' bonus is not really in any position to pass, it is felt here, from where it has been at any time in the last six months. With the exception of one distant possibility, nothing is to be said of it that adds anything to what your correspondent has said in the past. There is no reason to suppose that President Harding has changed the position which he took in his letter to Representative Ford in February—namely, that the bonus bill should be passed unless it contained as an integral part some specific means of raising the necessary revenue, and that the only expedient the president could see to raise the money in addition to existing forms of taxation for the other expenses of the government was the sales tax.

Since there never has been, and is not now any likelihood of congress passing the sales tax, it follows that there is nothing to infer any change of position by the president. The only possible inference from all this is that, if the senate insists on passing the soldiers' bonus bill in the form in which it now exists, the president will veto it. As to the senate, it is not clear that there is any degree to which it is more than on most other subjects, conspicuously and painfully between the devil and the deep sea. The bill in its present form is brought up in the senate it will be passed by a large majority. Of those who would vote for it by no means all believe in it. Some of those who would vote for it would do so because the conditions in their home districts make it more to their personal interest to vote for the bonus than to vote against it. But to state the situation as starkly as that does an injustice to the real difficulty in that several months ago, and in some cases as long ago as the campaign of 1920, they made public utterances in favor of the broad idea of a bonus for the soldiers. In many cases they did this off-hand in the course of casual campaign speeches, and without much thought either of the principal involved or of the amount of money that would be necessary. One of the best men in the senate, who regards himself as committed to the bill by reason of such an off-hand utterance a long time ago, says now that at the time he had no notion of the billions of money involved in such a measure when applied to all the ex-soldiers.

It is because of the aggregate of senators who have got themselves into positions like this that the bill will certainly pass if it is brought up in the senate. There then arises the question of what will happen next. By far the best guess is that President Harding would veto it. To do otherwise would put him in a very equivocal position. Most of the senators fully expect he will veto it, but don't care much, because all they want is an opportunity to go on record in fulfillment of their pledges to their local communities. This aspect of the matter, however, has a bearing on the possibility of passing the bill over the president's veto. Some senators who will vote for the bill when it first comes up will regard themselves as having by that act fulfilled their pledges and discharged their obligation and will thereafter refuse to help pass the bill over the president's veto. Just how many senators there are in this particular position cannot be said definitely. Some who have thought over the bonus situation closely believe that it would be passed over the president's veto. The present writer believes in the lower house the strength of the advocates of the bill is enough to provide the two-thirds vote necessary to overcome the veto. As to the senate, however, probably the best judgment, although far from an assured one, is that this body would not pass the bill over Harding's veto. The one new element in the situation is the possibility in the future of the payment by Great Britain to the United States of a part of Great Britain's debt to this country.

If Great Britain should actually pay us a considerable sum before the bonus bill comes up for final action, or if it should have become a certainty that the future is going to pay, the advocates of the bonus would immediately seize upon that. They would say that this money would provide a ready cash in at least a first installment in paying the bonus and that subsequent receipts of cash from Great Britain would take care of future installments on the bonus. Advocates of the bill would say that this unexpected appearance of new cash in the treasury would meet Mr. Harding's objection that the bill must not be passed unless the cash to pay it is available.

How the president would feel about this, nobody but himself can tell. Probably much would depend on the amount of cash that Great Britain might pay us. If Great Britain's cash installment on her indebtedness is merely a hundred million dollars or so, that would only be a small percentage of the total amount involved in the bonus, and to say that such a small amount would justify going ahead with the proposal would not seem to meet the condition the president made six months ago to the effect that, if the bill were passed at all, it should be in the form of an overdue note in which the amount of the bonus involved should be in hand or definitely in sight. It would be easy, however, to overestimate the amount of cash that would be available in the near future.

That England is going to assume completely and without quibbling the entire obligation of one billion dollars which she owes us is known. But assuming the obligation is a different matter from turning over the cash. It will undoubtedly be Great Britain's disposition, and that disposition will be entirely satisfactory to us, to meet the obligation by changing it from its present form of an overdue note into the form of long-term bonds. It may turn out that the financial relations between Great Britain and the United States will be covered by the acceptance by us of these long-term bonds, and that the amount of immediate cash paid as a first installment will be relatively small—much too small to take care of the soldiers' bonus.

CHICAGO, July 27.—The threatened invasion of a nearby subdivision by a bungalow colony has caused Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick to plan erection of a 14-foot wall along the south and southern extremities of her estate. In addition she acquired 20 acres adjoining the property.

A real estate company recently divided into lots a plot near the McCormick estate and began an advertising campaign.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CINDERELLA GETS A TITLE IN NEW YORK

IS THE ADOPTED DAUGHTER OF THE COMTESSE DE CHANQUETOT.

SEVERAL TIMES MARRIED AGAIN SEEKS A DIVORCE

Most Recent Venture Was With Pierre Tartoue, a Portrait Painter.

PORTLAND, ORE., July 27.—Claudia Windsor Tartoue, born here, is the twentieth century Cinderella who is reported as acquiring a title in New York today as the adopted daughter of the Comtesse Clari de Toqueville de Rappan de Chanquetot. The adoption proceedings were to be certified in surrogate court today.

Madame Tartoue, the present wife of Pierre Tartoue, a portrait painter, first married a Pendleton, Ore. tailor named Roth. Later she appeared in Seattle as the wife of George J. Busch. Busch represented himself to be heir to the millions of Adolph Busch, St. Louis brewer. At that time, 1912, she was widely heralded as the "most beautiful woman in the world."

A year passed and then Busch, unaccompanied this time, reappeared at Seattle. He met pretty Dorothy Meyer, daughter of Mrs. J. N. B. Meyer of Seattle. He explained that he had been divorced, so nothing was said when he and Dorothy returned to Seattle a few days later from Victoria, B. C., announcing their marriage. A few months later Mrs. Busch of the 700 before reappeared in Seattle. The first person she met was a woman who had met her on her previous visit and who began to commiserate with her over her divorce.

"It was so sudden," she told Mrs. Busch. "I was sadder than that for Mrs. Busch, but she said nothing except to explain that she had 'kept it quiet.'"

When she went to the prosecuting attorney's office and instituted criminal proceedings, warrants were issued on the complaint of both Mrs. Busch and Mrs. Meyer, but the police found it was too late. Busch, taking his "wife" with him, started a flight across the country

Charged Barrels in Liquor Warehouses Bulge With Water

NEW YORK, July 27.—The embargo recently placed on liquor importations by the government was attributed by the New York Tribune today to a successful plot by a huge bootlegging combine which had bulged with imported wines and whiskies now bulge with barrels of water.

Lack of convicting evidence, alone says the newspaper, "prevents the government from officially revealing one of the biggest liquor scandals since prohibition."

Bootlegging rings, the article says, are suspected of having corrupted government employees in various branches of the revenue service in a successful plot to divert millions of dollars worth of liquor importations held in bonded warehouses. From August to the end of December last year $5,000,000 worth of liquors were imported and stored in government warehouses, mostly along the Atlantic seaboard and during the 12 months of 1921 liquor importations, the story says, more than doubled those of 1920. Since permits to withdraw the liquors were necessary, no alarm was felt over the incoming tide of whiskey and wine, but the bootleggers are alleged to have waived the use of permits and developed the practice of watering their visible stock.

VARDEMAN STUNG BY OPPOSITION OF WOODROW WILSON

JACKSON, MISS., July 27.—Stung by the opposition to his candidacy for the U. S. senate as contained in a letter of former President Woodrow Wilson to Dr. McCaleb of Carle, Miss., made public Tuesday night, former-Senator James K. Vardaman yesterday issued a 1200 word statement in which he said he did not believe Mississippians need to be told by Mr. Wilson for whom they shall vote.

Mr. Vardaman said that Mr. Wilson's letter states his conclusions without giving a reason therefor. "Mr. Wilson's letter contained the assertion that the former president thought that 'it would be a great detriment to Mississippi if he (Vardaman) were returned to the senate.'"

The former senator said: "I can only assume that his opposition is for the same reason that he opposed me in 1918. He said then in discussing the question that he would be obliged to accept my election, 'as a condemnation of my (his) administration.'"

Mr. Vardaman said Mr. Wilson's opposition is founded upon the fact that "I performed my duties as senator with the intention of pleasing and serving the white people of Mississippi and not to please or flatter the occupant of the white house."

Calomel may turn on you next time. Next Does You Take May Salivate and Start a World of Trouble

Calomel is mercury; quicksilver. It wreathes into our bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system. If you feel bilious, headache, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money. Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it looses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—(Adv.)

LITTLE MISS LANGFORD HOSTESS AT MASQUERADE

Little Miss Elizabeth Langford was hostess to half a hundred young friends Wednesday evening at one of the most delightful and original parties the children have ever enjoyed. The young hostess was celebrating her tenth birthday, and she invited to come as a masquerade, represented in their ingenious costumes a very variety of characters from fairy and Spanish dancers to clowns and Indians.

The lawn of the P. P. Langford home provided a most attractive setting for the little carnivalists, dotted with the brightly lighted and Japanese lanterns and decorated with Japanese parasols. A feature of the evening's entertainment was the "magician" who had a whole bundle of tricks in his bag, and the fortune teller who told wonderful fortunes for all the little folk. Chicken boardwalk balloons were provided for all the children early in the evening, and later, favors for the little girls were presented in the form of little doll pinushes, and while the boys were delighted with rough rider pistols.

Late in the evening refreshments of fruit punch, brick cream, and cake was served to the following: Misses Mary Virginia and Elsie Fay Harrison, Kathryn Weeks, Margaret Kendall, Mildred Miller, Judith and Mildred Sherrod, Kathryn Weldon, Hazel Alred of Bowie, Dorothy and Mildred Reid, Mildred Glidhouse, Margaret Walker, Gertrude and Adina Monroe, Madeline Hill, Frances Tyson, Margaret Bond, Bernice Brown, Imogene Willis, Geneva Taylor, Hortense Cabell, Charlotte Robertson, Camille Avis, Genevieve Shaw, Florence Kathryn Cabell and Elizabeth Langford; Masters James and Langford, Margaret Kendall, Mildred Miller, Judith and Mildred Sherrod, Kathryn Weldon, Hazel Alred of Bowie, Dorothy and Mildred Reid, Mildred Glidhouse, Margaret Walker, Gertrude and Adina Monroe, Madeline Hill, Frances Tyson, Margaret Bond, Bernice Brown, Imogene Willis, Geneva Taylor, Hortense Cabell, Charlotte Robertson, Camille Avis, Genevieve Shaw, Florence Kathryn Cabell and Elizabeth Langford.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS PHIL FROG TAKES REVENGE ON DAVE DUCK

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Will you?" he asked anxiously.

Phil Frog had a busy time of it. He was the best natured person every time he went "whoosh" and made enemies than a fish has scales.

Oscar Owl made Phil jump a yard every time he went "whoosh" and made enemies than a fish has scales.

Marty Mink gave Phil a cold chill every time his shadow fell on the still waters of Lily Pond.

And Cob Coon and yet he had more enemies than a fish has scales.

But the one Phil dreaded most was Dave Duck.

DR. MARTIN PREACHES WEDNESDAY EVENING ON "THE HOLY SPIRIT"

Interest in the S. M. Martin revival at the First Christian church continues. Wednesday evening a carefully chosen program of preaching and religious subjects, "The Holy Spirit," was given by Dr. Martin.

This sermon, Dr. Martin explained, was only given for preachers and people farther advanced along the lines of Bible study than the ordinary person. The text is taken from Ephesians 1:13-14, "And ye were sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise, which is the earnest of our inheritance, until we redemption be purchased unto us by the blood of Christ."

Dr. Martin explained that the Holy Spirit is a person, and can exert both physical and mental power. Mental force is mind power, and physical force is matter power. The Holy Spirit is a person, and can exert both physical and mental power. Mental force is mind power, and physical force is matter power. The Holy Spirit is a person, and can exert both physical and mental power.

FATE OF ABDUCTED NEGRO UNSOLVED; NUMEROUS RUMORS

ated the earth. Second, there is the giving of supernatural power to man or things. Such as the supernatural strength given to Sampson. Third, the prophetic aspect of the Fourth, there is baptismal power. This is only a sign to confirm the word of God. Fifth, the supernatural power conferred by the laying on of Apostolic hands.

"Faith, hope and charity are still in the world, but the supernatural is gone. God does not have an agent. The idea some people have of the hokus pokus way of getting the word of God, is wrong. Nothing is done by the laying on of hands to move the sinner. He simply receives the spirit of adoption, the same as a child who has been adopted into a home accepts it. The child calls that man father and that woman a mother though they are not his real father and mother.

There are only two witnesses to your true self. Your mind and the mind of God. No other really knows you, and you and God only know whether or not you are a sincere Christian, and thus the spirit of God bears witness with not to our spirits that we are the children of God."

Dr. Martin will continue the lectures throughout the week, the revival meetings being scheduled to end Sunday evening.

CHARGE FILED IN FEDERAL COURT AGAINST OFFICER

Charges of assault and battery committed on United States government property were filed Thursday morning against Melvin Johnson, a member of the city police force. This charge followed an episode that occurred at the postoffice Wednesday. The officer asserts that the negro resisted arrest while the negro says that he asked permission to tell Ed Howard, the postmaster, that he was being taken away from work to the city hall.

The defendant waived preliminary hearing and United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz set his bond at $200.

Ware's Black Powder Relieves Indigestion, Gas, Bad Taste and Other Stomach and Bowel Troubles

Do you have that uncomfortable "full" feeling after eating? Are you troubled with bad taste in your mouth or "sour mouth"? Have you dyspepsia, "heartburn", or plain old-fashioned stomach ache? Are you constipated or bothered with indigestion, colic, diarrhoea and sometimes headache, nausea and other ailments that come from stomach trouble? If so, use Ware's Black Powder. It is a scientific preparation formulated by the celebrated Dr. James Ware, one of the South's best known physicians. Ware's Black Powder neutralizes the acids of the stomach, overcomes the poison of auto-intoxication in the bowels and keeps the alimentary canal in good condition.

Ware's Black Powder is often prescribed by physicians. Besides helping ordinary cases of indigestion, it often is of benefit in serious cases, and this unpalatable testimonial recently received from a minister of the Gospel (name on request):

"About five weeks ago, I began using Ware's Black Powder for intestinal indigestion, with which I had been troubled for about three years and this preparation, having taken treatment of seven doctors in three states but was no better. After taking about 14 bottles of the family size, I feel quite well and suffer no more as I did so long. Several who have seen the good it has done me have inquired where they can get it."

Ware's Black Powder contains no harmful drugs. It does not purge. The same ingredients used in Ware's Black Powder are also combined in convenient form in Ware's Black Powder Tablets. The Tablets are especially recommended when only one or two doses are required to check a case of indigestion coming on, to relieve a slight heartburn or to soothe the irritation caused by gas. Sold at drug stores, 50c and $1.00 the package. Send for booklet on the care of the stomach.—free. The Ware Chemical Co., Dallas, Texas.

TWO CONTESTS OF IMPORTANCE BEFORE WISCONSIN VOTERS

SENATOR LAFOLLETTE AND GOVERNOR BLAINE FACE STRONG OPPOSITION.

"RADICALISM" IS ISSUE MADE BY OPPOSITION

Friends of LaFollette Say Fight Is Between "Progress and Reaction."

By Associated Press.

MADISON, Wis., July 27.—Two contests of outstanding importance are before the Wisconsin voters at the September 8 primary, the one between Senator Robert M. LaFollette, seeking re-nomination for the third time as the republican candidate for U. S. senator, and Dr. W. A. Ganfield, president of Carroll college and the other between Gov. J. J. Blaine, seeking re-nomination as republican candidate, and Attorney General William J. Morgan, his opponent.

"Radicalism" is the issue being stressed by the candidate opposed to Senator LaFollette and Governor Blaine, who are in a political partnership. According to the LaFollette faction the issue is between "progress and reaction" between the principles enunciated by Senator LaFollette during his 25 years as a political leader in Wisconsin and what they term the reactionary principles of his political enemies.

Dr. Ganfield during his campaign tour of the state attacking the war record of the senior Wisconsin senator, LaFollette's advocacy of a constitutional amendment to give Congress authority to re-enact measures held constitutional by the U. S. supreme court, his endorsement of the Wisconsin socialist party at its recent convention to severa million dollars, and the fact that he is conducting his campaign without appeal to class prejudice.

State issues are stressed by Attorney General William J. Morgan in his campaign against Governor Blaine. His candidacy has received the support of the anti-saloon league because of the attorney general's experience in the federal reserve bank and beer. He urges exemption on home building and home ownership, and says that he is conducting his campaign without appeal to class prejudice.

Into this republican contest for governor, Mayor A. C. Henry of Oshkosh, announced his candidacy on a platform calling for modification of the Volstead act and urging a general curtailment of activities of the state government. He classes himself as a "constructive republican."

The present members of the Wisconsin delegation in congress, all republicans, will seek re-election. The democrats announce that contests will be made in every congressional district and the socialists are expected to place candidates in the several districts, including the fifth in which Victor L. Berger is expected to make a contest.

Berger, leading socialist, twice elected to congress from the fifth district only to be refused his seat each time, is expected to again try for that office.

Congressman Joseph D. Beck, republican of the seventh district, who defeated John J. Beck two years ago will be opposed at the primaries by A. C. Kingsford of Baraboo.

Miss Martha C. Riley, of Madison has announced her candidacy for the democratic nomination for congress from the third district. Miss Riley is former probation and truancy officer.

Sharp primary contests are predicted between representatives of the republican faction, both seeking to retain control of the state legislature. Democrats and socialists have been minor quantities for several sessions.

WIFE'S PLUCK AND SACRIFICE BRINGS SUCCESS TO AUTHOR

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS TEMPLE HOYNE.

By ROY GIBBONS. CHICAGO, July 27.—A wife's faith in her mate, her fortitude and unending self-sacrifice in the face of all adversity to bring her husband fame—that's the story behind the story of a new book that probably will net its author a fortune in royalties.

Thomas Temple Hoyne wrote the book. But Mrs. Hoyne published it, helping to operate a tiny job press between meal times.

For three years she had tried to have regular publishers print the book. But they refused.

The book, "Speculation," attacks some of the popularisms of the day in the field of economics and politics. It's too bold a mirroring of time, is expected to again try for that office.

Congressman Joseph D. Beck, republican of the seventh district, who defeated John J. Beck two years ago will be opposed at the primaries by A. C. Kingsford of Baraboo.

Miss Martha C. Riley, of Madison has announced her candidacy for the democratic nomination for congress from the third district. Miss Riley is former probation and truancy officer.

DISTRICT GOVERNOR OF TEXAS ROTARY VISITS LOCAL CLUB

JOHN SINGLETON OF WAXAHACHIE IS SPEAKER AT LUNCHEON THURSDAY.

PAYS COMPLIMENT TO ORGANIZATION HERE

Electra and Burk Burnett Rotarians Attend To Visit Electra Club Friday.

A plea that the local Rotary club continue to live up to the standard set for it by its motto and which service was voiced at the weekly luncheon of the club at the Kemp Thursday by John Singleton of Waxahachie, governor of the 12th Rotary district which includes most of Texas.

Mr. Singleton, who became district governor on July 1 and who was required to visit each of the 64 clubs in his district during his term, told the local club that his predecessor had confided to him that it was one of the most active in the district and one that could be counted on to cause him little trouble. Mr. Singleton was very complimentary in his remarks of the action of the local club in organizing and providing for the "Knot Hole Gang," also for its work with crippled children.

Mr. Singleton said there was little doubt that it would soon be a force in every civilized country and that its voice would be heard with effect in international councils. He urged every Rotarian to attend the district conference at Beaumont next spring.

Mr. Singleton was the only speaker at Thursday's luncheon. A snappy song service was led by "Sheep" and two very enjoyable vocal solos were given by Mrs. J. Will Gray, with Mrs. O. E. Maer and Mrs. A. M. Miller as accompanists.

A number of Rotarians from Electra attended the luncheon, and several members from the tentative organization at Burk Burnett were present. The guests were most heartily cheered when they were introduced.

The district governor took breakfast at the Kemp Thursday morning with the directors of the local club, going over a number of club matters with the board. On Friday he will visit the "baby club" of his district, at Electra.

Bailey Receives Worst Drubbing By Spudders Since Return to Texas

By PAUL W. LARKIN. The bigger they are, the harder they fall. Bill Bailey, considered by many as the greatest southpaw hurler in the minors, didn't look a bit tougher to the spudders at Athletics park Wednesday afternoon than the worst recruit and a big chaperone the spudders chalked up their sixth successive victory, broke their tie with the San Antonio Bears, vaulted over the spudders into second place in the league standing and kept pace with the league leading Panthers. The decisive manner in which the locals trounced Bailey is indicated by the 11 to 3 score.

Wheeler was the flinger who led the Athletics to victory. He outpitched Bailey at every stage of the game. He allowed only seven hits and rose to magnificent heights in the pinches. His control was all that could be desired. His hook broke across the strike zone and a puzzling change of pace zipped and floated past the Houston bats. He showed great exhibition of pitching as the Athletics have been receiving for a week. It was also a perfect exhibition of coolness, skill and perfect confidence. The only really dangerous was in the sixth canto when they filled the bases before the second man had been retired, but it was at this juncture that "Rip" bore down and secured the hairy plaudits of the vicarious third swing for the second and made Denoville roll weakly to Beck for the final out.

Bailey Has No Luck. Had Bailey received decent support and received any of the breaks, says many a baseball fan, his record would have been different. He pitched well, but he was not helped by his own team. He pitched well, but he was not helped by his own team. He pitched well, but he was not helped by his own team.

DALLAS GETS THREE VALUABLE PLAYERS FROM EXPORTERS

DALLAS, July 27.—What is said to be the largest baseball deal in the history of the Texas league was consummated here last night when the Dallas club acquired outfielder Nick Demaggio, pitcher Edwin Love and shortstop Don Rader from the Beaumont club in exchange for outfielders Ben Spencer and Horace "Pug" Allen. A large sum of money accompanied Spencer and Allen, the amount of which was not announced, but was said to be of sufficient proportions to make the deal the largest yet transacted in the league.

Demaggio is one of the hardest hitting outfielders in the league and Rader is one of the most consistent infielders at present leading the shortstops of the league in batting. Love has been one of the most effective pitchers on the Beaumont staff, Spencer and Allen are playing their first year in the league. The latter was farmed out to Greenville of the Texas-Oklahoma league several weeks ago when the local club had to get under the player limit, but was recalled and will join Beaumont at once. Rader, Love and Demaggio will appear in a Dallas uniform tomorrow.

THESE THREE MAKE INDIANS A DANGEROUS AGGREGATION.

TRIS SPEAKER, CHARLEY JAMESON, STUFFY MCINNIS.

These three make the Indians a dangerous aggregation. Tris Speaker is one of the greatest fielders the game has ever developed, one of the game's leading base runners and batsman and better yet a smart player at all times. Speaker has, since he assumed head of the Cleveland club, proved himself one of the most successful managers in the history of the game. Speaker has personality, power and drive. He dominates the situation. A bad leg has kept Speaker from being at his best this year. When he is out of the lineup the Indians lack the fire that characterizes their usual game.

Stuffy McInnis disputes with Slater the right to be classed as the best first baseman in the American league. He is the perfect fielder and a timely hitter. Charley Jameson has developed into one of the best outfielders in the American league, despite the fact that his name doesn't break into print very often. Jameson is very fast, a hard hitter and an excellent baserunner. In the field he is a regular ball hawk, and in addition has a strong throwing arm.

Still Going Up. Six in a row; twice out of four; and the last six games have been twirled without a spudder hurler being presented the air. Looks like Dixie bound. Dinner a Success. President Harvey's dinner, given to the players in the Kemp hotel Wednesday night, had been coming for a long time. Walter Salm told him to hold it off until he had a pitching staff. The prey concluded that the time was now ripe. Hub Falls One. The dinner was a huge success. Fried chicken was the principal item on the bill of fare. Everything went off swimmingly until Hub Perdue finished his and cried to the waiter: "Fry, gason, bring me a dozen more of them little birds."

After the Money Now. The Beaumont club will undoubtedly be further broken up before the season is over. The owners are out to realize all the money possible now before forfeiting the franchise. There's a chance for some club to pick up a few good ball players. Important Confab. The outcome of the American league meeting will be watched with interest. Many important issues are carded for discussion which will have a direct bearing on the league race. Foremost among the topics to be discussed is the recent Yankee-Red Sox deal. There's a chance that the deal may be called off. It would be a good thing for baseball if it were.

Hughie Jennings, now being an assistant to John McGraw in directing the Giants, says that Bancroft is the brainiest New York club. Lightweight Title At Stake in Twelve Round "Battle of Century". NEW YORK, July 27.—The second "battle of the century" at Boyle's Thirty Acres in Jersey City—this time with the lightweight championship at stake—will take place tonight when Benny Leonard defends his title against Lew Tendler, Philadelphia challenger, in a 12 round contest. Both boxers pronounced themselves fit and confident on the eve of a match perhaps unparalleled in interest in the history of the lightweight ranks and rivals as yet. Leonard lifted a fly ball to the outfield, it was a hard-hit ball and the fielder was compelled to go deep to make the play.

STATE OF KANSAS HAS A SEVEN-SIDED RACE FOR GOVERNOR

TWO WOMEN HAVE ENTERED LIST OF REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES.

OTHER FIVE CANDIDATES MEN LONG PROMINENT

Interest Centers Mainly in Abolishment of Kansas Industrial Court.

By Associated Press. TOPEKA, July 27.—The generally accepted custom of ladies first has little chance of prevailing in the seven-sided Kansas gubernatorial contest for the republican nomination at the primaries in this state on August 1. Two Kansas women have entered the list of republican candidates. But as to prospects for victory or defeat, both graciously have conceded the latter, long before any votes have been cast. Neither is making an active campaign nor has the backing of any statewide women's organization. They are Mrs. W. D. Mowry, welfare worker and wife of a wholesale druggist, and Miss Helen Pettigrew, educationist and platform entertainer, both residents of Kansas City, Kansas.

The other five candidates are men long prominent in politics: W. R. Stubbs of Lawrence, stockman and banker, who served two terms as governor, 1909-1913; W. X. Morgan, former lieutenant governor and publisher of the Hutchinson News; W. P. Lamberton, farmer of Fairview and for many years a member of the legislature; Fred W. Knapp, Salina banker, editor of one of U. S. Senator Arthur Capper's agricultural publications.

Interest centers mainly in the industrial court issue. Two of the republican candidates—McNeal and Knapp—advocate the "abolishment" of the new Kansas industrial tribunal. This stands harmonizes with resolutions adopted by the Kansas federation of labor and two farm-labor organizations. Practically all the gubernatorial candidates freely advocate curtailment of state expenses and lowering of taxes.

The names of the candidates appear on the democratic primary ticket for the nomination of governor—Henderson Martin of Lawrence, former vice-governor of the state; Philippen Jonathan M. Davis of Bronson, farmer and party nominee two years ago, and Leigh Hunt, Kansas City attorney and ex-candidate for the office. There are no contests on the socialist state and democratic contests are confined to candidates for governor and ex-officio members of state superintendent of public instruction.

JUDGE WILSON MAY EXCHANGE BENCHES WITH JUDGE LEAK

Judge H. R. Wilson of the 50th district court may exchange benches with Judge James V. Leak of the 46th district next February. Judge Leak was in the city Thursday and called on Judge Wilson.

Judge Leak was just nominated as district judge in the primaries last week over a field of five. At the time of his nomination and at the present time he is serving as district attorney, and for that reason is disqualified in a large number of criminal cases, especially in will-barger court.

Judge Wilson will also be disqualified in a number of cases that will come up for trial here next February, and for that reason the exchange was suggested.

100-GALLON STILL IS SEIZED IN SHOP; 5 MEN IN CUSTODY

Five men were arrested in connection with the discovery. They are in police court Thursday morning on charges of vagrancy. Two men found guilty of vagrancy were assessed fines of $5 and $10 each.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO TAKE PART IN NEW FORMS OF ACTIVITY

DALLAS, July 26.—Young people of rural communities in Texas are to have an opportunity to take part in new forms of activity, including debates, lyceum courses, hikes, rallies, banquets, prayer meetings, under plans developed by W. Roy Breg, southwestern secretary of the United States of Christian Endeavor. Secretary Breg is undertaking a statewide campaign for the organization of Christian Endeavor societies in the rural communities as a means of giving the young people training in all these activities.

"One of the most difficult problems of every church today is reaching its young people, especially in the rural communities," Secretary Breg said, discussing the campaign for rural organization with the Christian Endeavor society, built upon strictly interdenominational lines, has been found to fulfill a long-felt need in many of these rural sections where young people heretofore have had little opportunity to develop talents along educational, social, physical and spiritual lines.

MAJOR CULBERSON NEW COMMANDER OF LOCAL LEGION

Major W. L. Culberson was elected commander of the Pat Carrigan post of the American Legion at a meeting held at the Kemp hotel Wednesday evening. The office of post commander was the only one filled in the election, as it was thought best by the legion members to elect the other officers when Major Culberson could be present.

Due to the meeting and mobilization of the Wichita Falls unit of the national guard many of the legion members could not be present for the election of officers Wednesday night. Retiring post commander, Dr. O. W. Wilson, after Major Culberson was elected to succeed him, asked the members of the legion to get behind the new commander and give him all the support possible. Major Culberson was not present at the meeting, but it was learned after his election that he had some good plans for putting the local post of the legion on a firmer basis. As soon as the major returns to this city a special meeting will be called and other officers will be elected at this time.

TRYING HARD TO EXCELL SEASON'S HIGH MARK OF 110

The weather gods are exerting themselves, apparently, to excel the season's high mark for maximum temperature. The record mark for the summer is 110, reached twice this year. Wednesday the thermometer mounted to within one degree of this point, but remained there only momentarily. It fell back to 108 and remained at that station several hours.

The night was also an exceedingly warm one, the minimum temperature recorded being 87 degrees. Early Thursday morning the thermometer got a good start and it seemed evident that no cooler weather would be experienced than on Wednesday. From all points on railroads came the report that Wednesday was a record breaker for heat and that it seemed probable that Thursday would be even warmer. A light southwest wind was reported from all points in the district touched by railroads. In the northern part of the district agents reported partly cloudy skies.

In 25 years factories in Japan have increased from 200 to more than 25,000.

Back to the Grain Fields for Health

GRAPE-NUTS is a regular "three bags full" of the best food qualities of whole wheat flour and malted barley, carefully mixed and slowly baked—

- To develop all their appetizing flavor,
 - To preserve all their wholesomeness,
 - And to provide nature's "broom" that keeps the digestive system spick and span.
- There's not a bit of artificial sweetening in Grape-Nuts—it just becomes sweet of its own accord in the long baking.
- And that enticing flavor—how good it is with good milk or cream! Fruits, too, fresh or cooked, add to the delight of a dish of Grape-Nuts, morning, noon or sundown.
- It is a compact, ready-to-eat food—no cooking needed. Why not try it for tomorrow's breakfast?
