ALEXANDER BELL INVENTOR OF THE TELEPHONE DEAD

PASSES AWAY AT HIS HOME AT RADECK, N. S. TUESDAY NIGHT

AMONG THE NATION'S MOST PROMINENT MEN

Internationally Noted for His Inventions and Scientific Achievements

SYDNEY, N. S. Aug. 2.—Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, died at 8 o'clock this morning at Radeck, his estate near Radlock.

Although the inventor had been in failing health for several months, he had not been confined to bed and the end was unexpected. Yesterday his condition was reported as such that he was expected to live with him when he died were Mrs. Bell, a daughter, Mrs. Marian Hubbard Fairchild, and her husband, David G. Fairchild of Washington. The inventor leaves another daughter, Mrs. Elsie M. Grosvenor, wife of a Washington magazine editor.

Dr. Bell will be buried in the top of Mount Bethel, a spot chosen by himself.

Alexander Graham Bell lived to see experiments which he began with a dead man's ears less than two years ago result in a mass of communication for millions of long distance telephone conversations daily in all parts of the world. The possibility of talking over a wire, ridiculed then as a dream by almost everybody except Bell, became during his lifetime a reality.

The Bell family had known in the records at Washington that Mr. Bell had been working on a valuable electric patent ever since the whole history of invention. There are today over thirteen million telephones in use in the United States which billions of telephone conversations are carried on each year.

Means of communication had been a hobby in the Bell family long before the inventor of the telephone was born. Two generations back, Alexander Bell became noted for inventing a system of deaf-mutes.

With this heritage, the son born in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1847, understood similar experiments, while still a lad. He constructed an artificial skull of gutta-percha and inserted a rubber that would pronounce several words in words tones when blown into by a bellows. At the age of 15 he became, like his father, a teacher of education and an instructor of deaf-mutes.

Bell reached a crisis in his life at the age of 21 when he was threatened with tuberculosis. The white plague caused the death of his two brothers and the Bell family migrated to Brantford, Canada.

A meeting at that time with Mr. Charles Wheatstone, the English inventor of the telegraph, fired the young educationist with ambition to invent a musical, or multiple, telegraph, which eventually turned out to be a telephone.

Bell spent the following three years in what work he called in Brantford, Canada, and later in Boston, Mass. His mother's head wife met by Gardner G. Hubbard, his

ALEXANDER BELL INVENTOR IS DEAD

He had a dead man's ear. "I can make a deaf man talk," he had declared. "I can make iron talk."

His first success came while testing his instruments in his new quarters in Boston. Thomas A. Watson, his assistant, had struck a clocking at one end of the wire, and was electrified to hear the sound in another room. For forty days the instrument struggled, as were, for human speech. Then on March 10, 1876, Watson became almost insane with joy when he heard the wire Bell's voice saying: "Mr. Watson, come here. I want to see you."

On his 25th birthday, Bell received a patent. It was at the Centennial exposition held at Philadelphia 10 months later, where men of science from every part of the world came to examine and study the numerous inventions exhibited, saw Prof. Bell's practical demonstration of the transmission of the human voice by electricity.

As for Bell himself, he had not intended to attend the centennial. He was poor and he had no money. He had put it quietly aside. He had been going when they asked him and was refused. As he sat aboard the train and it moved out, leaving him on the platform, he burst out crying. Bell after that was a general bore. He had a general boredom. He had a general boredom. He had a general boredom.

He received many honors. The distinguished inventor was recipient of many honors in his country and abroad. The French government, ever quick to recognize science, conferred on him the decoration of the legion of honor, the highest academy bestowed on him a valuable Volta prize of $9,000. In 1902 he was elected a member of the society of arts in London. In 1903 he was elected a member of the society of arts in London. In 1903 he was elected a member of the society of arts in London.

One of the curious things about the invention of the telephone is that Bell knew almost nothing about electricity when he started. He saw a great deal about acoustics, such as the formation of the human organs of speech and hearing. Bell was called to Washington once when he was in the slough and took the opportunity to call on Prof. Joseph Henry, who saw as much about electricity and telegraph as any man then alive.

FERGUSON OPENS FIGHT FOR SENATE

Mr. Ferguson declared that he had left the democratic party for a time, but that "this was only a tactical move." He declared his opposition to the "infamous poll tax," urging free ballot.

Speaking of "religious persecution," he said: "I am willing to die and go to the devil for the right of any man to have the kind of religion he wishes. The purpose of the Ku Klux Klan is to make the Jew and Catholic leave this country."

He predicted that the Klan would later "go after the other religions and then jump on us poor sinners, and my God, what they would do to us would be enough. I charge that the Ku Klux Klan is a political organization and it is not a religious one."

Mr. Ferguson blamed the "lack of money" on "Uncle Sam's confining the power of issuing it to the federal reserve bank system, which is ruled at Washington by a set of brutal, insubordinate wretches." He would like to wipe the federal reserve law from the statute book and branch, and give back to the government the right to issue the money.

The candidate declared that he had been "wasting his time" about the unfair division of funds between the common schools and the higher institutions of learning, and said he would continue to do so until it is adjusted. He declared in favor of light wine and beer. Mr. Ferguson expressed satisfaction with the banishment of the bootlegging operations and endorsed the galling and controlling liquor traffic and taxing it.

With regard to the tariff he stated that he wants tariff for revenue and no part of the country discriminated against. "The state railroad commission in Texas and Louisiana know best what is a fair rate between their states, and I am against any commission in Washington being given the power," he said in regard to the rate matter. "The other candidate for senator wants to let the Washington commission keep that power."

TRANSPORTATION AND PROHIBITION

His candidate May said: "Mayfield may be accused of many things, but if you want to know the truth about this man go back to 1789 and ask his soldiers." Then go to Boston county, where he represented the people in the state senate. A man who goes to a thing inconsistent with the life he lived for 40 years."

PERFORMANCE PROVES SAVAGE TIRES Are BUILT TO EXCEL

Southern California is noted for its good roads and wonderful highways. A tire will surely give satisfaction under normal conditions here—anywhere. To recite every instance of performance and mileage in this territory would be to paint an unusually glowing picture, for the ordinary run is not especially taxing on good makes of tires.

Worth while comparisons, pointing to the superiority of our product over other makes, can therefore be brought out best by citing unusual types of service, showing the durability, correct construction and economy of Savage tires in service which renders excessive stress and hard usage.

Unusual Service
A fleet of trucks operating throughout the city, making 250 to 400 stops a day, has been equipped with Savage Cords—solving the tire problem of this company by increasing their tire mileage 100%.

Another local corporation operating a fleet of 225 cars throughout Southern California has standardized on Savage tires after an exhaustive test in which our tires were compared with other makes under every existing local condition. Many of these cars are heavily loaded as a usual thing.

Savage Cords on one-ton Ford trucks loaded daily to 4000 and 4500 pounds are giving far greater service than any other tire equipment used in a similar manner by a local feed and fuel company.

A jobber sending salesmen into an outlying territory, where roads are particularly rocky, claims Savage Cords are the only tire that is capable of giving their men satisfactory service.

Tire men and motorists familiar with the construction have found in the Savage Cord seventeen outstanding constructional features that make it the wonderful tire it is.

A recently invented attachment for passenger or freight elevators switches on a red light or rings a bell as a danger signal when they are overloaded.

Ovations greeted Mayfield's remarks throughout his speech. Especially did the crowd cheer when reference was made to Ferguson, immigration enforcement of the Volstead act and "running out" the bootlegger.

Mayfield left at 7:30 Wednesday morning for Venus, where he has a speaking engagement at 8 o'clock in the afternoon.

A body of approximately 500 men, said to be Ku Klux Klansmen, marched down Main street, over to Throckmorton and down to the First Baptist church about 7:30 o'clock. The men came from Commerce street, where the local Klan is supposed to have their downtown hall.

Almost any tire will give satisfactory service under ideal conditions. Some makes will even render satisfactory service under certain adverse conditions. Certain makes of tires will perform best on long drives over pavements, other makes will wear to better advantage on dirt highways—and so it goes.

Our object has been to build Savage Tires to perform equally well under every condition—on the short haul of the heavily loaded commercial car, on the heated roads of the sandy desert, over mud and stones of the land of forests or the broad dirt highways of the plains.

That we have accomplished our purpose is evident from the results users of Savage Tires are getting—everywhere.

ORIGINAL WELL-PLANNED PARTY FOR MISS REEVES

James R. Terrill and Miss Hazel Bristol were host and hostess Tuesday night at the Terrill home on Elizabeth at one of the most original and the best planned parties of the summer season. The occasion specially celebrated the birthday of Miss Jewell Reeves.

The front porch was artistically arranged as the deck of the good ship "Jewell" and was approached by a gang plank placed over the steps. The boys on arriving became pirates and were directed to a darkened room with only dull red lights, and told to follow the signal and crossbones signs. These led to "Devy Jones' locker," from which they came forth with slaves pulled up, handcuffs at the neck, and the wretches and took possession of the deck, where the crew, dressed in white middie and skirts and red ties, were on duty. Electric fans for "cabin fever" and a vibrating orchestra aided the crew in anchoring at various ports. The party ended when each pirate had captured a member of the crew.

Punch was served throughout the evening in the dining salon, and dancing was enjoyed in the "banquet room." Those present included Misses Jewell Reeves, honoree, Hazel Bristol, Gordon Harris, Elizabeth Thelma Norwell, Eleanor Whitman, Robert Green, Baldwin Montgomery, Lloyd Spotswood, Justus Darnall and the chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Spitzer and Mrs. J. C. Terrill.

COLLIER-WALKUP WEDDING SOLEMNIZED MONDAY EVE

Monday night at 8 o'clock, Miss Gladys Deak Walkup and Joe Fred Collier of this city were united in marriage at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Edward Fell, 1417 Ninth street, Rev. J. H. Groves, of the First Heights Methodist church performing the ceremony. The house was decorated in lilacs, moss, hollies, and ferns. The bride dressed in a becoming suit of blue tulle and wore a crown. The groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was held in the parlor of the home. The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents and several friends. The reception was held in the dining room. The party ended at midnight.

MARTIN-NYCOM MARRIAGE COLORADO SPRINGS AUG. 6

Friends in this city have received invitations to the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Nycom and Mr. Martin Martin, which will be solemnized at 8 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church of Wichita Falls and will be officiated by Rev. J. H. Groves. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nycom of Waxahatchie, and the groom is a graduate of Trinity University, and for the past three years has been a librarian in the Wichita Falls high school. Mr. Martin is a member of the law firm of Martin and Harris.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS IS CHIRK CHIPMUNK ILL! DR. SNUFFLES MUST FIND OUT

"Isn't my rent paid?" asked Dr. Snuffles anxiously.

One day Mr. Tingaling, the fair-haired landlord, went to call on Snuffles, the California doctor. I came to see about collecting rents and Mr. Tingaling, knowing the Twins were helping Dr. Snuffles, decided to go and see all three of them.

After they'd talked about the weather, and everything like that, Mr. Tingaling took his rent list out of his pocket and tapped it.

"I've come on a little business," said he.

"Isn't my rent paid?" asked Dr. Snuffles anxiously. "I thought I sent you a check."

"Oh, yes, yes! Yes, indeed!" said Mr. Tingaling. "It's about another matter. In plain words, I came to see about collecting rents and Mr. Tingaling, knowing the Twins were helping Dr. Snuffles, decided to go and see all three of them."

nia and he couldn't pay me any more rent until either the house was fixed or he was sorry."

"I just thought I'd ask. That Chirk is a cute one and you're not to get up early in the morning to get ahead of him."

"What do you suppose I can do, doctor?" The Fairy Queen expected to collect her rents and I'll have to get it some way."

"I tell you what I'll do," said Dr. Snuffles. "I'll go to see Chirk at once. Then I can let you know if Chirk is really and truly sick."

In connection with the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans near Holiday this week, John Woodhouse, one of the few surviving veterans, recalls that the first camp of Confederate veterans was organized here in 1877.

Mr. Woodhouse has the membership roll with the following signatories: J. H. McCauley, S. E. Coffield, G. U. Humphries, E. H. Lewis, T. H. Jenkins, S. H. Wilson, W. H. Burgess, W. B. Brothers, R. Cobb, W. E. Coffield and N. Robinson.

Only two of these are now living: W. E. Coffield, who now lives at Bowie, Texas, and John Woodhouse at Wichita Falls.

VAN WEDDEN CHILDREN LOOKING FOR STRAY KITT

The quiet of a last summer afternoon was suddenly broken Tuesday when a sorrel mare with cream tail and roached mane went leaping down Tenth street, followed by two children of six and eight years in their bathing suits. The crowd that soon gathered learned that the horse was the children's pet and had broken loose from their home at 1405 Polk. When last seen, she was turning just ahead of the team of horses in the street. The children, evidently bent on "rescuing the town," the little girl, Louise and Donald Van Wadden, are greatly grieved over the disappearance of the animal and would be very happy to hear from anyone who has seen her.

LITTLE FOOD FOUND UNFIT FOR USE BY HEALTH OFFICIALS

A report of the activities of the public health department for the month of July shows that $247.50 had been derived from revenues during that period.

Food products condemned during July by the health officers were much less than in previous months, only 25 pounds of beef being processed unfit for food, during July.

Food establishments inspected within this period, as shown by the report, total 298. Dairies tested numbered nine, and nine dairy cattle were also tested.

In the laboratory 27 bacteriological tests and 31 chemical tests were made by Dr. A. H. Douglas and his assistants. In the meter inspection department the record shows that a total of 375 meters were inspected.

During the past month the incinerator handled 876 loads of garbage and trash, and 27 dead animals.

Only 11 cases of quarantine for contagious diseases were made by the health officers, according to this report.

NORTH SIDE CANAL
SURVEY PARTY NOW
CLOSE TO THIS CITY

The surveying party for the north side irrigation ditch is now at work just north of the refinery district and has reached the Northwestern crossing a short distance beyond the city limits. The tentative line follows the high ground from Iowa Park toward a point northwest of this city, crossing the Woodall dairy.

The survey will be continued into the Thornberry-Charlie district, and the line will be located that far. It is yet determined, of course, how much of the line will be constructed.

TWO PATROLMEN ARE DROPPED FROM FORCE THIS WEEK

Patrolmen Howell and Jensen were dropped from the local police force Tuesday night. This further cut in the police force was made necessary to keep within the budget allowed by the city council.

It may be possible to add more men to the police force later and still keep within the prescribed budget. Commissioner Pitts is trying his best to maintain an efficient police force on the small amount of money appropriated for his department.

ONIONS AND BEETS IN LARGE QUANTITY BEING RAISED AROUND HEDLEY

HEDLEY, Aug. 2.—Onions and beets—just out of them—are being raised this year in surprising large quantities in the vicinity of Hedley, bringing new increment into the circulation of this place.

Some prodigious yields are being recorded. For instance Zeb Land, residing three miles from town, has harvested 12,000 pounds of fine onions from a two and one-half acre tract, making an average of 5,100 pounds to the acre. The onions average 14 pounds each.

Land also has one and one-half acres of large red turnip beets that will bring him somewhat more than $100 profit. He has also 40 acres of cotton, 35 acres of pure feed kafir and milo make. All these crops are being made on subirrigated land that insures production.

Dodley county has several thousand acres of this natural moistened land, most of it being in the vicinity of Hedley. Much of it is being developed each year.

Hedley is expected to gather 8,000 bales of cotton this season. Though livestock has been a leading industry since the first settler came, the poultry business has outclassed it. Just a few days ago a solid car of chickens and eggs was sent out. More money has been realized by farmers from their poultry products than from their hogs and cattle—though the latter have been exceedingly large.

CONSOLIDATION OF 2 PRINTING FIRMS
IS EFFECTED HERE

Announcement has been made of the consolidation of the Railway, Gillette and Stromquist and the Midwest Printing companies. The two companies are being consolidated under the name of the Railway Printing company, Incorporated.

The company will do job printing, ruling, book binding and will carry a line of office supplies.

The consolidated company will have one of the largest and most complete printing plants in north-west Texas.

J. E. H. Raley heads the new company.

PERMIT REQUIRED TO FISH IN LAKE AT ELECTRA

ELECTRA, Aug. 2.—Persons who wish to fish in the city lake hereafter must secure a permit, which will be charged for at the rate of $2.50 a year. A charge of $10 a year is made for hunting or fishing with a boat. Permits will not be issued for a shorter period than one year, nor will they be issued to persons less than 18 years old.

A city ordinance provides that only live or artificial bait may be used, and no camping is permitted on the watershed of the lake; neither can livestock be kept thereon. Bathing, wading or swimming in the water of the lake is forbidden.

WILL BUILD ADDITION

ELECTRA, Aug. 2.—Harris and Chart have increased the depth of their store on West Cleveland avenue by an addition 20 by 25 feet, which is devoted exclusively to shoes for men, women and children. Prosperity Ahead For the Farmer After Many Months Of Despair and Suffering, Opinion of Noted Writer

By JAMES H. HOLM

The American farmer is coming back. He is beginning to emerge from the tremendous slough of despair and suffering in which he has floundered for the past 20 months. His head is once more above water and he feels that the crisis is past. He believes better times are coming, although almost imperceptibly so.

The farmer himself says this. In a 2500-mile trip through the heart of agricultural America, I have learned the true conditions from the man with the hoe and the man behind the plow. I have talked with the dirt farmer, the rich and poor, landlord and tenant, with the country banker and the county farm bureau agent.

I have learned first hand of the tremendous struggle the farmer has had to make both ends meet during the past year and a half.

Literally, the farmer has suffered not only from want of the comforts, but of the necessities of life, that America and the world might eat.

It is told how the value of his land shot downward with a thud that meant ruin to many who had toiled years for a little gain. I learned how prices of crops and produce faded away; how many were gouged and swindled by profiteers; how there was suffering for lack of the comforts of life; how the young men left the farm for the city and how crops were lost for want of help to harvest them; how the farmer's morale was shot to pieces.

For a year or more he felt himself a beaten man for whom the future held but little.

Now his courage has returned. He has faced about with the light of a new spirit in his eye.

The practical American farmer is not claiming that prosperity is here. Far from it. But he believes it is on the way, slowly coming nearer every day.

All Optimists

I heard everywhere. We lost money last year. This year we expect to break even or perhaps make a little money. This is the tremendous importance to the country. Farming is by far the largest of all the nation's activities. This calls for the best business and industry of the country and maintain there can be no lasting prosperity until the farmer is prosperous and contented and spending his money, the whole country should then experience better times.

In this swing through the garden of America, I learned of men who had virtually worked for nothing in the past year, if a fair rate of interest was paid on their investment. Or, if a very small wage was allowed to them as workers, then their farm as a business, lost money.

I was told of men, supposedly wealthy through inheritance of rich farms, clear of debt, who had to borrow money enough to pay their taxes. They couldn't make enough from their farms.

Families were found whose cash income would, under normal conditions, be in the year, in addition, of course, to rent and a part of their food.

These do not mean extreme cases, such as the shiftless, the ignorant and the unfortunate. With hard work, good crop returns and good luck, still there was no money to be made.

Pro-war prices for his crops and war-time prices for his machinery, groceries, clothing, etc., were a bad combination.

Said an Indiana farmer: "It's bad enough when a man has no work and therefore no pay. But it's worse yet when you put in full time and get no pay for what you do."

...Daily Secretive

The average farmer is curiously secretive about his financial income. Sometimes it is because he himself doesn't know and hates to admit it.

But I talked with many farmers in Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, and Indiana, and about their neighbors' income. It was always the same.

"I couldn't make a decent living last year," they would say.

U. S. government reports, based on surveys in 1916, showed the average farm income then to be about $600 per year, of which $200 was in cash. This was in the best three agricultural states.

New surveys are being made this year. No report is yet available, but it will show a change for the worse. The farmer may be taking in the same amount of money as before, but it goes only half as far. If $600 was the average income in 1916, the income of those below the average can be readily imagined. In some cases it was as low as $200. A family nowadays doesn't live very high on $200 per year.

Reasons for Change

The reasons for the change of feeling by the farmer are varied. No single thing seems to have caused the change.

"Some think recent small price rises will continue—to the benefit of the farmer."

Some expect considerable benefit from recent legislation forced by the farm bloc in congress.

Many believe the growth of co-operative buying and selling enterprises will help much.

The activities of the farm bureau and government agencies in educating the farmer to produce more economically, will help wonderfully, so many believe.

Money is easier to get at the banks, too, which will also be of help.

At any rate the farmer is in the right frame of mind for better things this year.

Frank Fulkerson owns over 400 acres of land in Jersey county, Illinois. He lives on and operates one of his farms. He is a shrewd business man, a keen thinker and strictly up-to-date in his methods. If there's a way to make more money on the farm Fulkerson goes after it. Yet, he says he lost money last year.

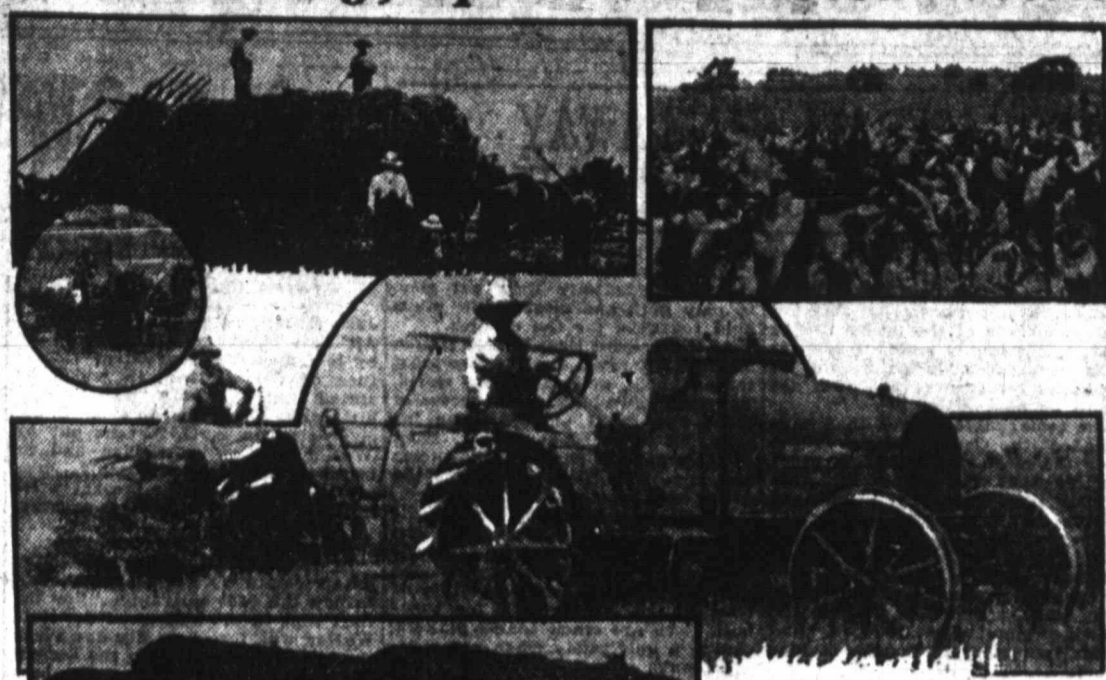

Says Fulkerson:

"The farmer is a business man as well as a worker. He must figure a depreciation fund as well as invest on investments. What city business man would be content with three or four per cent profit each year? But it is impossible for a farmer to make more than three or four per cent even under ideal conditions. Last year we didn't make even four per cent. As a business we lost money."

"The farmer is worse off now than ever before. His morale is gone. He's about busted and does not know where he is at, but conditions, I think, are slowly changing for the better."

Lands Now Low

Fulkerson attaches considerable importance to the new laws enacted

by congress last winter to help agricultural men are willing to work on the farm now."

In Kentucky they are pinning their faith on the activities of the tobacco pool, a co-operative selling arrangement. The busy men formed their pool more than a year ago, and the black-leaf men are organizing now. Last year, by agreement, the tobacco acreage was kept low. The price rose.

More tobacco will be raised this year, but through an intelligent marketing system the growers hope to keep the price stable. They have an iron-bound agreement among themselves.

"Taxes Too High"

Albert Lane of Lee county, Iowa, told of a neighbor who owned two quarter-sections of land, which he rented at $1,500 each. The taxes on one farm amounted to an even $1,500, and on the other just a little in excess of $1,500, so the owner lost money by merely owning the farms.

"Taxes are too high," said Lane. "They are ruining us. Nobody can break even now. These town fellows make us a little bit tired. The farmer worked hard before the war, he worked during the war, and he's hard at work now. That's more than the other fellow can say."

produced most effectively and cheaply."

System Wanted.

Said County Agent W. H. Eastment of Mound City, Ill., located in one of those so-called "poor counties" of the state.

"Farmers have lost money in the past year. The future is still uncertain, but it looks better than it did. The salvation of the farmer is to learn what are the best crops for him to grow and how to grow them. The hit-or-miss system, which his father or grandfather followed, does not get him anything."

So far, it looks like a good year for crops. The wheat crop is nearly all harvested and it is good. Reports from states visited and from Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas tell of wheat in abundance.

The price of corn was low last year and the corn belt will have a smaller average this year. How the crop will turn out depends on the weather in July and August. Other crops appear to be abundant.

From the appearance of the plow fields and barnyards, there are still plenty of porkers to fill the needs of the nation.

Heard but little complaint about the inability of farmers to obtain bank loans. Money is easier now, they say, and the right kind of man can usually get loans at his home bank at a fair rate of interest, usually seven per cent. The government loan system, they say, has acted as a stimulant to local banks.

So the farmer is pulling up his gaiters, spitting on his hands and taking a fresh hold on the plow. There is a better time coming for him, he is sure."

RAILWAY COMMISSION TO CONSIDER PAPER RATES

STAMFORD, Aug. 2.—The state railway commission will take up and consider the application of the Galveston commercial association, asking that the commission establish a maximum rate of 25 cents per hundred pounds to govern in the transportation of news print paper, cardstock, from Galveston to Texas common points, embracing most of west Texas counties. The hearing will be conducted August 7.

The commission will hear the complaint of the Thrasher Brick Co. of Galveston.

NO OLD WOMEN NOWADAYS

Modern dress, hair dressers, facial experts and cosmetics all combine to keep women of all ages young and attractive in appearance. Not until the telltale wrinkles become so deep, the figure stoops or some ailment or weakness develops to drag a woman down does she really look her age.

Every woman owes it to herself and her family to keep herself young in appearance, and happy. When headaches, backache or "the blues" develop or when a woman reaches the trying age from 40 to 50, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be depended upon to keep her in health as it has done for other women whose letters we are continually publishing in this paper.

and the Mineral Wells Paving Brick Co. September 12, alleging that paving brick is being discriminated against in rate application in favor of rock asphalt. They will also ask promulgation of commodity rates to apply on petroleum asphalt, cast iron and steel.

The highest speed ever attained on a railway—131 miles an hour—was made by an electric locomotive in 1908.

By PAUL W. LARKIN. If the Panthers are waiting for the Spudders to lose a ball game that they may win the short game that now exists between the two clubs they will have to wait at least one more day. Though pressed harder Tuesday afternoon by Felix Northern's Bears than they have been in some time, they emerged on the desirable end of a 2 to 1 count in a contest which requires one man insuring to reach a decision. It was a great pitchers' battle all the way through and one of the prettiest things ever seen in the city in quite a span of the sporting calendar. The victory was the thirteenth in succession registered by the Wichitans since they are still trailing the Atmen by two full games.

Pat Flaherty, Salma's lucky Irish twister, opened for the local club and Pat was in fine fettle. On the other side of the score card was Volgt, one of Northern's best. Like Pat, Volgt was feeling pretty well himself. They both had plenty of stuff to feed the batters, but from a batting viewpoint, it wasn't the most nourishing in the world. The result was that the visitors collected eight hits in the ten rounds and the home team had only one more. "Shorty" Adams and Bob Becher fared better on the offense than did their mates, each collecting two blows. It was Becher's wallop which broke up the performance in the tenth. The knock was in the form of a spinning single to center on the first ball served him with Bob perched on the third. Adams also drove in the first, adding another while he scored the other one himself.

GOLF WEANING MANY BASEBALL FANS AWAY FROM THE GAME ACCORDING TO BILLY EVANS

By BILLY EVANS. What effect is the growing popularity of golf and tennis having on baseball? I have references to its effect on the attendance at the games; also what part it may play in determining the future standard of skill. There is no doubt that golf has weaned many a baseball fan from the game, particularly the middle-aged or older fans. There comes a time in the life of every individual where the need for exercise makes itself apparent. Golf is the ideal exercise. It offers fresh air in the outdoors, with plenty of exercise, yet lacking in strenuousness. Yet I don't believe golf has cut down the attendance at baseball games to any appreciable extent. True, it has taken many a fan to the links instead of the ball field. Yet it seems that for every one who has been lost to golf a new one has perhaps been afforded the game is developed. Merely Amusement. Baseball to the older fan offers merely amusement. Golf offers amusement plus exercise. Tennis, while it has become very popular, hasn't materially affected the attendance at the major league games. Big tennis matches are not daily occurrences, hence tennis, as a magnet for the crowd, does not cut in on baseball at all. The remarkable crowds that have attended the major league races since the close of the war is proof positive that the game is more popular than ever. All attendance records in every major league city have been broken over and over again during the past three years. Relative to the standard of play in the major leagues I am positive that sooner or later the growing popularity of golf and tennis will have a serious effect. Golf lures many a youngster who otherwise would be spending his spare time playing baseball. The position of caddy at the golf links offers good pay. The boys are well treated. Most parents are delighted to have the youngsters spend the summer months as caddies. It keeps them out of mischief. Incidentally they get time to play golf, and most of the club hold tournaments for the caddies. At the present time Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen are the two most talked about golfers in the world. They are ex-caddies. The success of these two great players is an inspiration to every youngster. Most of them get the championship germ and hope some day to emulate the deeds of Hagen and Sarazen. Tennis is a game that has a direct appeal to the youngsters. The other day I was talking to a prominent American league pitcher who had two boys. He told me neither of them cared a great deal for playing ball. They are crack tennis players. Neither golf nor tennis is affecting the attendance at baseball, but unquestionably the two sports are threatening the future standard of skill at baseball because each is luring so many youngsters from the ball field.

FORT WORTH AND DALLAS ARE TO HAVE T-O CLUBS

DALLAS, Aug. 1.—Doak Roberts, president of the Texas-Oklahoma league, announced last night that after August 6 the league would be out of a six to a four city league, with all of the present towns dropping out except Mecca and Corsicana. It is probable, Mr. Roberts declared, that Fort Worth and Dallas would take over the Paris and Greenleaf clubs, respectively, there by giving the two larger cities continuous baseball. The Ardmore and Sherman clubs of the Texas-Oklahoma league were dropped under this plan, he said. The fact that the league would summer down in four cities leaked out in Ardmore, Okla., where the club is being organized. Mr. Roberts said. This action was decided upon at an executive meeting in Dallas last Sunday and the original plan was not to announce the decision until August 6.

BOSTON IS IN TRAINING FOR ENGLISH CHANNEL SWIM SOON

Attempting to swim the English Channel has suddenly become a popular outdoor sport with American swimmers, to judge by the number who are planning to make the attempt this summer. If present plans are carried out, no less than five will attempt the dangerous feat, only done once in the last 46 years. Charles Toth and Sam Richards, Boston swimming stars; Harry Sullivan of Lowell, Mass., who has already swum several attempts; Walter Fatterton of Bridgeport, Conn., and George Walsh, the movie star, are the ones who will have a try at the job. Toth is already on his way to England, while the others are expected to leave soon. Of them all Toth has displayed the nearest to the ideal qualifications. Though he did not learn to swim until 24, and is now 44, he has performed many difficult feats in his 19 years at the game. In September, 1914, he navigated from Charlestown Bridge to Boston Light, 11 miles, in 6 hours and 25 minutes. Another remarkable performance was swimming from Charlestown bridge to Revere Beach, more than 25 miles, in 14 hours and 45 minutes. This was in September, 1915. This spring, in order to test his fitness for the swim across the channel, he swam to Graves Light from the "L" Street Baths, a 11-mile swim through water ranging from 13 to 49 degrees in temperature. He made the distance in 4 hours, 25 minutes. The English Channel has a width of 21 miles. The distance is not so great, but the waves and terrific tides make its crossing one of the most dangerous and difficult swimming feats. Captain Webb was the last man successfully to brave its waters about 45 years ago. If the output of iron increases five per cent per annum, as it did before the war, it is estimated that the supply would be exhausted in about 120 years.

Noting Defeats as Miser. There is nothing definite about Jake Miller's return to the Spudders. All that Manager Salma has to go by is a message from Barney Dreyfus of the Pirates in which he stated that he would "try" to send him back. The message came in response to an R. O. S. sent out by Walter for an outsider and as they were knocked out of the running last year by the Giants. Four in a row over the McGrawman wiped out the advantage they had gained in their return with the Cards.

Yanks Play Safe. Dilatory tactics saved the Yankees from slipping a notch farther away from the top. They were bled taken to a nice trimming when Japs Flivins stepped in and changed the day. Every known method of stalling was brought into play by the American league champs.

Pat Calls Bears. Flaherty was the target for an uncalled-for verbal lashing from the Bears all during the game, but the big Irishman refused to let their epithets get his goat. He stayed cool there and pitched. There was a different story after the game, however. He walked by the Bruin bench and offered to take on any one of them or all of them. His challenge was not accepted.

Santera Prexy Expected. President Benson of the San Antonio club is expected in to see the rest of the series. When the club left home it looked like a winner and the Bear proxy expected to enjoy himself immensely. Times have changed.

MISS ROBERTSON LEADS OPPONENT FOR NOMINATION

Carter Has Big Lead Over His Opponents in the Ardmore District

By Associated Press. OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 2.—Representatives from six of the eight Oklahoma congressional districts, including Miss Alice Robertson, the only woman now in congress, have won their way into the November general election if leads on incomplete returns from yesterday's primary election are maintained.

Manual Herrick of Perry, republican "flying congressman" from the eighth district, and T. A. Chandler, republican incumbent from the first district, were the only two to fail.

George Schwab, speaker of the house of the last session, registered 1,875 votes to 1,397 for Chandler in the first district with 76 out of 81 precincts reporting. E. B. Howell appeared the likely democratic nominee.

INTRODUCE BODY OF AUTOMOBILE AS EVIDENCE IN CASE

THE DEFENSE ATTEMPTS TO PROVE IMPOSSIBILITY OF STATE'S CASE

DEFENDANT ED SMITH FLATLY DENIES CHARGE

Testimony Will Be Concluded Before Dismissal Wednesday

Is Relief

The body of an Essex five passenger automobile was introduced in evidence in the trial today against Ed Smith, late Wednesday afternoon.

The defense expected to prove to the jury in this way that the content of the case as was borne out by the testimony of the prosecutor and her brother was an absolute physical impossibility.

The state contended by its testimony that the alleged criminal assault upon the 14 year old girl was committed in the front seat of the automobile. The prosecutor so testified and so did her brother, who was in the party on the night when the alleged offense was committed. The brother said that he was in company with another girl.

The brother testified that his sister screamed and that he ran back to the automobile to inquire what the trouble was.

The defendant took the stand at 10:45 o'clock and was still in the chair when court was recessed at noon. He resumed the seat after 1:30 p.m. and remained there until 2 o'clock.

He denied each and every allegation as set up by the state and contradicted the testimony offered by the state's witnesses. The state had sought testimony from the witnesses that there was whiskey in the crowd that night, Smith said there wasn't any.

Smith told the jury that the brother of the prosecutor had asked him to take him riding on the night of the alleged offense and that the brother had stated that he would put in ten dollars' worth of labor if he would take them riding. Smith testified that he told his wife he was going to take some people riding and that he was going to make ten dollars. He said his wife told him to go.

After he had picked up the brother and Inez Smith got out of the car. He noticed that Smith's later that the back seat cushion was missing. Smith said he was fixing the lights at a point where a mass of wires came into the ammeter box just under the dash board in the front seat. He said the prosecutor was sitting by his side.

He had been there ten minutes, he said, when he decided that he had better go back before the lights went out on him. He called to the other couple and started to town. They took a short ride on the Iowa Park road and then he said he took all three parties home.

"Are you guilty of the offense as charged in the indictment against you here?" Smith's attorney asked. "I absolutely am not," was the reply.

"Did you lay your hands on any part of the little girl's person while out there that night?" "No, sir, I did not," Smith replied.

"Did you at any time conduct yourself in any improper manner toward this little girl?" "No, sir, I did not," Smith replied.

"Did you kiss her good night when she got out of the car near her house that night?" "I did not kiss her then nor did I ever kiss her," Smith replied.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Rates on sugar were declared too high to be reasonable in certain sections of the United States in a report to the interstate commerce commission today by the commerce examiner assigned to hear complaints. The report held that rates on sugar from refineries in the Texas and Louisiana territory west of Buffalo and Pittsburgh and east of the Missouri river were too high as compared with rates in New Orleans to the same territory.

Rates on western sugar moving eastward to Mississippi valley points as proposed by the interstate commerce commission, were, however, unreasonably low as compared with charges on other commodities and should not be allowed to become effective.

REPORT EFFORTS MADE TO PURCHASE RIGHT-OF-WAY

HASKELL, Aug. 2.—Unconfirmed rumor has it that efforts have recently been made in gumshoe fashion to purchase right-of-way in Throckmorton county, presumably for new railroad line from Fort Worth to the plains section. Nothing definite as to the route through this section has been ascertained, according to those who are familiar with the secret efforts to possess right-of-way lands. A grade was laid up for several miles in Throckmorton county several years ago for a railroad from Stamford to Fort Worth. Whether or not efforts were made to procure it has not been made known.
