WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The per apita representation of Oblo in the flaces of power in the United States

On a ton. Ohio, stonely, following that of Justice Ciarke, late of Lisbon, Youngs-town, and Cleve-land Uhlo, leaves one nan on the supreme bench, in the person of the chief juitles, Wm.

SULLIVAN H. Tafe.

But this is rather a trivial aspect of these resignations. Only a little more elevated in importance is the fact.

Tresident Harding, before his 'n ends, is likely to have had the appointing of an unprecedented nur ber of justices of the supreme court. Inamuch as there are two remaining justices who are $1 and 15 years, respectively, and may at any, time prefer the ease of retirement. Mr. Harding is quite likely to have had the appointment of five et the total of nine members. Some accident of circumstance might in accident of circumstance might in-crease the number to more than that, and it would give President Harding an extraordinary degree of power over the fundamental trend

All this, however, is mere coincidence. There is no disputed line of policy involved in Mr. Harding's of policy involved in Mr. Harding's appointments. There is no disputed line of policy before the public. His appointments have no relation to each other, and there is no necessary identity of views among his appointees. About all that can be pointed out is that Justice Clarke, who retires its a league of nations min, while the successor whom Mr. Harding has chosen, ex-Senator George Sutheriand, is an anti-league of nations man. On the other league of nations man. On the other hand, Harding's choice for the first vacance he had to fill, William H. Taft is rather conspicuo league of nations man.

Satherland Well Qualified.

However, the league of nations is one of the last questions likely to reach the supreme court of the United States. But what is important and what is cheering in a world it which a very superior of the court of world in which a rather extraor-

Senator La Pollette is of course entitled to the credit which fastents his name to the La Pollette segman's bill. But LaPollette would never have been aple to get that fill through the senate if he had not aucceeded in persuading Sutherland, who then represented Dtak in the senate! that the bill contained justice, and not only justice but practicability. When Sutherland indersed the bill he won for it a degree and kind of support from other senators who respected his mind and judgment such as LaPolictic never could have won.

The ex-senator's father was an English mining engineer who lived in the mining camps of litch. Where Sutherland first practiced law a lawyer could not "get by" merely through reaching the law from a call houng text book.

The juries and the rough judges of those communities could only be impressed by showing them that the legal aniem was what all good law ought to be, namely, the chitome of their own rough but accurate sense of what is right.

As Summer Merges Into Fall—

The transition of styles is as the merging of the season. Fall does not come overnight, except on the calendar. Nor do the shoe styles of the new season forget the pleasing features of the waning summer.

> So, in the beautiful styles which await your early selection, you'll see straps in clever new arrangements; cutouts-many with underlays of contrasting color, effective combinations of colors or materials that harmonize with the combinations so evilent in garment styles: medium heels as well as higher ones; new side lace effects; new colonials, oxfords, which will be so popular-

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Be not conformed to this world, but be ye transformed, by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good and ac-ceptable and perfect will of God.—Romans 12;2.

Act up always to your convictions, and when you have been unfaithful, bear with yourself, and resume always with calm simplicity your task.--Madame Guyon.

YOUR VALUABLES.

Are you thinking of buying the Russian crown ewels, including the famous Orlotf diamond? They re offered for sale by the bolsheviks. The price? A trifling $500,000,000.

The whole cahoodie of them, pried out of their den crowns and scepters, could be carried in your

As far as being useful, the Russian crown jewels are about as valuable as a peak of broken glass. Their value is entirely imaginary-no more, no a than the imagination of man makes it. Queer thing is value. Ford Motor Company's est statement shows that its assets exceed $400,-Of this, $81,026,633 is invested in real estate, the nly imperishable form of material wealth.

Patents are listed at a value of only $110,740. The company's good-will is entered as worth arly $21,000,006. This good-will is intangible. No eye can see it. No scales can weigh it. Equally intangible is the Ford Motor Company's eatest value—the brain of Henry Ford. Or, to be lutely accurate, his intellect.

sumulation of values seems to be a national nania. There are fixed values such as gold, whose price is set by law. There are sentimental valuesricoms, remembrances, etc. Value is the most clusive thing on earth. It is the magician of economics. You think you have obtained a small value. Suddealy it swells to enormous size. This is increasing value. Henry Ford fell into its embrace and from s poor bicycle repairman became one of the three richest Americans. In the far corner are declining values—ones that are deceptive, look substantial and permanent at first, then shrink. Ask Wall Street plungers who have been caught in bear markets, Value skips about like a fles. Big fortune comes to the man who can guess where it will jump next. Typical of this is real estate.

Values are the poker chips of uncertainty. And, of all values, the only ones that have per manence approaching the perpetual are knowledge, fame and good deeds. These are the real wealth. No man is really poor who has created any of the

AID AND COMFORT TO THE ENEMY.

It must have been a gleeful time, in republican samps, when the news came from San Antonio that the state democratic convention had failed to put itself on record against the Ku Klux Klan. The convention's action, or lack of it, was an act of aid and comfort to the enemy of which, we may be sure, the enemy will take full advantage.

The democratic party of Texas had already laid itself liable to the charge of being Klan-dominated, by making a Klan-indorsed candidate its nominee or senator; the effect of that nomination, in states where the conditions were not known, was to line up against the democratic party all those elements osed to the Klan. Had the convention adopted anti-Klan plank, it would have lifted that buren from the shoulders of the national organization, and would have robbed the enemy of the right to point to Texas, foremost democratic state, as being

It was a most unhappy set of circumstances that put the democratic party of Texas in such a postion, and the party's action makes the situation un-

There was a chance for some real statesmanship at San Antonio, but there was not even a fractional nt of statesmanship apparent in the outcome That gathering was lacking both in statesmanship and in political astuteness, and the national party must foot the bill for its shortcomings.

HIS LAST STAND.

The spirit of Drouth is making his last stand. At the very spot where men with their machines sking to provide for his everlasting retirement, hing breath has seared from the river's ads the last precious particle of moisture; has at a halt to the work that is designed to forever sliffy his evil plans.

It is as if he were challenging man's powers, an's ingenuity, as if he were answering man's major operation.

"I'll give 'em one last go-round," he might be ying, "it's my last chance.

that exists at the site of the big dam. There men are robbing drouth of his stinger by creating Texas greatest lake; and there isn't enough water on hand just now to fill a radiator. The plains and fields that are to be the site of a great body of water are parched and cracked under a relentless sun.

The significance of it lies in the fact that the need for storing water is brought home with multiplied emphasis. Drouth and prosperity are poor team-workers, and the former must go to make way for the latter

LOOK FAR.

If you have no vision, you have nothing by which ou are able to rise from the place where you are In dreams do many people live and die, but brough dreams there are those who have reshaped the world.

Look far! Beyond the things of trivial moment The traveler sets out on his journey. He has a map by which he is to be guided. If he gets off his track, he will consult his map again. But all the time he has within his mind a picture of the place $2.75 to which he is going. He looks far.

A man may carry a vision in his mind, but it must have its source of inspiration in his heart, else its materiality will soon or later crush out the thing for which he most strives and his life will end in disappointment, no matter how much he is worth in

The great Cecil Rhodes looked so far that he beame known as "The Empire Builder." And it was because of the vision of James J. Hill that he also was known as an Empire Builder. Rhodes saw a vast territory united into one for the common good of all, in South Africa. Hill saw long lines of railroads reaching their arms into untrod lands, waiting for the immigrants.

Your character becomes just about what you are dreaming and planning that it shall become. And your success is going to be tempered by what you see each day as a possibility of the workings of our mind. Look far!

Don't be afraid to look too far. It is much grander to aim too high and never reach your goal than to aim low and reach it easily. Keep just ahead of where people expect to find

See things completed. Then you will be able to go through all the hardships, the sufferings, the disappointments, the set-backs—and not mind at all.

MOTHER AND THE STYLES. Dresses high and dresses low, Fashion bids them come and go; Tresses bobbed and tresses long. Pashion sways the moving throng; What was new becomes the old," Thus this changing life is told. First we view it with a smile, Then adopt the latest style-But with all the passing days, Mothers never change their ways.

Gay of heart and bright of face, Fashion seems to rule the place. With the swinging of the clock Youth gives age another shock, Flaunting into public view Something Age would never do, Laughing at us when we preach, Scornful of us when we teach-But with all of fashion's wiles. Mothers never change their styles.

Motherhood's no fickle thing, To be changed each fall and spring; As it was so it remains, Spite of all its cares and pains. Joy may call and pleasure lure But a mother's love is pure, And the baby sinks to rest. Pillowed on her lovely breast, Closing little drowsy eyes To the softest lullables.

Mothers worry night and day When their children are away; Mothers grieve when they are ill, Always have and always will. They would shield you with their care Every day and everywhere, And they're happy through and through At the slightest smile from you-To the ending of their days Mothers never change their ways. These second guessers will be able to tell Salm what he should have done when the club returns Monday. Will they? Hardly. They'll gather in knots around the corners and roast him among themselves. Some may even hide in the crewd that will turn out to witness the games and voice their sentiments so a few surrounding this will hear so a few surrounding fans will hear them, but they'll not tell Walter personally. However, these ransers and people who cannot take defeat gracefully but must always whim-per are so far in the minority that little attention is paid to them. They hold the floor while expressing themselves because they usually talk so loud nobody else has a chance, but they get the horse haugh when they finish. You'll find them on all the corners and every place the fans congregate.

Turn Out Monday. The fair minded fan who loves baseball for itself has nothing but words of praise for the entire club. Machine Cut Ice -and what it means to you

In the past all ice cut for delivery on routes has had to be cut with ice picks. A slow, hap-hazzard, guesswork method. No matter how experienced the ice man might be he could not at all times cut even weight pieces. A block would break wrong or sliver off, his guess at the weight would be wrong and inadvently the customer would get a piece of ice that would not be correct in weight.

Every block of ice delivered by our wagons is cut (or scored) before leaving our plant by our perfection ice scoring machine in even cut, full weight pieces.

There is no guesswork, you don't have to take somebody's word for the weight, machine precision assures you full weight at all times.

The installation of this machine is in keeping with the policy of this company to always give their customers the benefit of the latest and most modern methods in the delivery of ice.

Don't Pay All You Make On Grocery Bills

HOUSE-WIVES

HERE'S GOOD NEWS

Everyone Should Read This—Because, We Are All Interested in Something to Eat

First we want to thank the people of Wichita Falls for our success with our Ohio street store, also for the nice business we have had with our No. 2 store on Indiana. To show our appreciation to the buying public we have decided to reduce the selling price on practically every item in the stores. The prices are exactly the same in both stores.

We invite the public to visit our stores, inspect the stock from front to back, the grade of merchandise and our way of doing business. Once you visit one of these stores you will readily see why the Piggly-Wiggly system has grown from one store to one thousand in less than five years.

Cleanliness is our motto. Our store is just as clean in the back as it is in the front. We don't ask you to pay clerk hire, you wait on yourself and save that extra expense. We don't ask you to pay the expenses of a collector, book-keeper, bad check chaser, because we have none of these things. You just pay for what you want at the very lowest selling price possible.

With 1000 stores to buy for, naturally we can buy most of our merchandise so we can sell it right. We make our money on quick turnovers. Come to the Piggly-Wiggly Saturday and see if our prices are not right. Take a pencil and figure 15 per cent saved in one month on a $35.00 grocery bill. See what you have been donating every month that you could have been saving. A Piggly-Wiggly is the Housewifes pantry. She comes into the store, gets a basket on her arm, goes through the isles, selects what she wants to cook. Nobody trys to sell her something she doesn't want. A clerk isn't always trying to sell her a brand that is supposed to be just as good as the brand she prefers.

DON'T FORGET WE HAVE MADE A GENERAL REDUCTION IN ALL PRICES

CHICAGO, Sept. S.—General commission house buying based on nigher quotations at Liverpool led to a his upturn here in the price of wight today during the early desiting. It was said large orders to purchase Canadian wheat were in the market. Gossip was current that France would require 1.506,000 to 1.000,000 tons of wheat before the harvest of 1923.23 was available. The opening which ranged from 5 & fe higher, with December 1.0220 1.02 and May 1.03 to 1.034, was followed by a slight reaction.

Owing to wet weather, hedging pressure in the northwest was less in avidence than of lath. The government crop report due after the dione was expected to show a small increase in the estimated yield of spring grain. The close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's linish so be higher with December 1.025 and May 31.074.01.078.

Profit taking on the part of holders checked the advance in the values of corn and eats. After opening to off to be higher, December 55c, the corn market held sear buyers. The close was analy at the same as yesterday's finish to generally the dear buyers. The close was easy at the same as yesterday's finish to generally and the same

CULL THE FLOCK IS ADVICE GIVEN BY CHICKEN MAN

M. B. OATES GIVES ADVICE AND SHOWS HOW FLOCK CAN BE CULLED.

PENS CONTAIN 38 PER CENT BAD LAYERS

If Hens Have Yellow Bills and Legs They Should Be Sold Immediately.

The time of the year has arrived when all flocks of chickens should be culled. M. B. Oates, agricultural agent of the Fort Worth & Denver City Rallroad company, points out the necessity of culling the had hens from the good ones and advises that every owner of chickens cuil the flock at this time.

Experience has shown that the average percentage of culls in flocks in Texas each year is 35 per cent. Last year Mr. Oates helped cuil 11.366 chickens. In this number 4,000 were found to be early moiting hens and consequently bad layers.

The good laying hen is also the hard worker. She is the first one off the roost in the morning and the last one back on in the evening. During the day she is active white the poor laying hen lays around in the shade and combs her feathers.

Mr. Gates stated that many people harbor the idea that the early molting hen is the hen that lays in the winter time. This, he points out, is erroneous as the early molter does not begin laying again until spring.

The average number of eggs per Texas hen is only $5. This average could be brought up above the 100 mark, Mr. Oates said, if farmers and chicken raisers would cuil their flocks each fall.

TEXAS AND CALIFORNIA HENS IN A CLOSE RACE

In appearance the good laying hen is characterised by old and worn plumage. Hens who molt before August 1 are considered early molters and should be culled.

A good layer, Mr. Oates stated, has a faded beak and faded appearing legs. This, he explained, is caused as the result of the system utilizing all the yellow matter in viduals were both S. PUP IS GUARDED IN EFFORT TO LOCATE PURSE

FORT WORTH, Sept. 8.—A pup here perhaps is pussled at the ard-ent attention he has been receiving. The reason is that it is hoped that the pup will lead his present ad-mirers to a hidden treasurer of $225. The manner in which city detective Hale tells the story is this: sen decided to take a map on his front porch, and while asleep a wallet which contained $225 fell wallet which contained $225 fell, from his pocket. In the neighborhood is a pup who hasn't the discrimination to distinguish between a nice old shoe, and a valuable pocketbook and it is believed that he found the purse and carried it away and buried it as a treasure to be dug up later and properly gnawed."

Tou know what calomal is. It's mercury: quicksilver. Calomal is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and abould never be put into your system. If you feel billous, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go is your druggist and get a bottle of Dedson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmiess vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn's start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than masty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money, out making you sick, you just go sack and get your money.

Ton't take calounell it makes you got the next day; it bees you a day's work. Dedson's liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children lecture it is perfectly harmless and en not salivate.
