

ENTHUSIASM OVER SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT OF ARMY AIRCRAFT

BELIEVE TRIP PROVES THAT AVIATION WILL MEET REQUIREMENTS.

ELAPSED TIME 66 HOURS 10 MINUTES FOR THE TRIP

Travelers Thirty-Covering Approximate Route-Two Hundred Miles.

ROSE FRENCH, ARCADE, CAL.

Sept. 25.—Enthusiasm over the successful transcontinental flight of the Army airplane, C-4, which arrived here yesterday, was expressed by many here.

“We believe our trip proves that aviation will meet all hopes for it in the line of transportation, not only of passengers, but of freight,” said Major Strauss.

“Our elapsed time was 66 hours and 10 minutes over route approximately 200 miles long. We had very little trouble, that little being mostly along the Arizona border, where the heat and head winds made it difficult to carry enough gasoline for long flights.

“We are very much gratified with the flight, especially as it was made in a fairly direct route for such long journeys for the high altitudes we reached.

“The route we took was satisfactory and new, having many of the things we believe that in aircraft with large carrying capacity, providing more comfort for crews and passengers and adequate arrangements for freight with longer flight ranges, equipment for more gasoline and designed for higher altitudes, we can direct routes may be taken, the transcontinental trip can be reduced from the 3,500 miles we flew to approximately 2,500.

“We shall leave for San Francisco Tuesday night. We expect to arrive at 8 or 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. We shall start back to Los Angeles at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, arriving here about 3 or 5 o'clock Thursday morning.

“Our next step will be to give the C-4 thorough examination and in a week or ten days after our return from San Francisco we expect to start back to Langley field.”

NO SOCIAL ENGAGEMENTS THREE DAYS EACH WEEK

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Northwestern university co-eds have agreed to have no social engagements with university men Monday, Tuesday and Thursday during the coming year, according to an announcement by Miss Helen Badonack, president of the women's self-defense association at the institution.

“This pledge is taken because we girls believe that too many dates interfere with a college girl's athletics and the school will suffer if the athletes do not have the proper time for training,” explained Miss Badonack.

AMAZING FACTS FULLY EXPLAIN TANLAC SUCCESS

How 20,000,000 Bottles Were Sold in Less Than Eight Years. Big Ft. Worth Druggists Enthusiastic—Thousands of Users Publicly Praise It.

The tremendous demand for Tanlac continues unabated, ever-increasing. Millions have rallied to its standard unswerving and thousands have given public endorsement. That the large druggists everywhere are enthusiastic over this sensation of the trade is evidenced by the letters received with orders. W. A. Hoover & Co., wholesale druggists of Denver, Colo., writing under date of July 17, state: “We are submitting today our order for the fourth carton of your goods since April. Taking into consideration local conditions this demand is not only exceptional but also in the record sales for proprietary articles in this section.”

Maxwell Clark Drug Co., Fort Worth, Texas, wrote in on August 11 as follows: “We have sold 25,000 bottles of Tanlac the first seven months of this year, and the demand holds as strong as ever. Tanlac is our greatest proprietary seller.”

Since the first of the year it has been necessary to establish two new branch offices, one in New York and one in Los Angeles, and the large modern laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, Walkersville, Canada, and Mexico City are working overtime but are still unable to keep up with the deluge of orders. Tanlac has been on the market less than eight years but more than 20,000,000 bottles have been sold to date.

And the foreign field has been entered with the most phenomenal success. Mexico now knows Tanlac as well as the people of the United States and Canada, while Cuba has received the celebrated medicine with enthusiasm.

The reason for this amazing demand is found in one word: merit. No proprietary article could long survive the acid test of time and public trial if it did not possess real value and produce actual and positive results. It cannot depend merely on whizzing advertising and “first call” appeal. Back of Tanlac's unprecedented record in the drug trade is Tanlac's success in producing results, and when this fact is thoroughly impressed there cannot possibly be any mystery in Tanlac's achievement in such a short time—the achievement of gaining the top of the heap and holding undisputed leadership over all preparations of its type ever produced.

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Adv.

WACHTEL - SIGMAN PROBABLE PITCHERS FOR MONDAY GAME

MOBILE, Sept. 25.—Wachtel, famous spibalist artist of the Fort Worth champions, and Lefty Sigman of the Southern league champions are expected to pitch the game at Monroa park this afternoon. Each team has won two games and tied one today.

Both Manager Jake Ats and Manager Bert Niehoff of the Bears expressed confidence before the game that their teams will win today.

The greatest problem the rival managers faced this morning was the selection of hurlers. Sigman for Mobile worked a short time Saturday and showed promise in the slugging Texas. Wachtel on his first appearance against the Mobiles in Texas scored a comparatively easy victory.

Mr. Worcham is survived by his wife and two sons, Clarence A. Worcham Jr. and Maxwell Worcham. Funeral services will be held in Danville, Ill., Wednesday. A brother, John A. Worcham, lives in Abilene, and a sister lives in Paris.

FORMER MEMBER OF CABINET FORECASTS A NEW ALIGNMENT

DENVER, Sept. 25.—That the two great political parties in the United States are having difficulty to find an issue upon which they can differ materially and that the natural outcome of the situation is likely to result in the scrapping of the republican and democratic parties in favor of a new political lineup of conservatives and radicals is the opinion of Lindsey M. Garrison, former secretary of war, who is here to attend a hearing in the United States district court.

“There is a very decided difference of opinion among American people regarding our constitution,” he said. “While I class myself as a conservative I have no quarrel with that large and growing body of Americans who feel that this country has outgrown its constitution and that the time for change in our form of government is here. They have a legitimate right to work for the carrying out of their opinions, provided lawful measures are used. A new political alignment is inevitable in America—the conservatives of both parties against the radicals.”

Mr. Garrison expressed the opinion that the new parties are not likely to make their appearance before the next presidential election.

HEAD OF WORTHAM SHOW DIES SUNDAY

Well Known Carnival Man is Victim of Acute Attack of Appendicitis.

DALLAS, Sept. 25.—The death yesterday in Cincinnati of Clarence A. Wortham, well known showman, followed an attack of acute appendicitis, according to J. C. Simpson, business manager here of the Wortham interests in Texas.

Mr. Wortham was born in Paris, Texas, where he spent his youth. He was 45 years old and had been successively a newsboy and a professional baseball player before entering the show business in 1914.

From childhood he was devoted to shows and exhibitions and was himself expert in many feats. His show business, organized on an annual scale in 1914, has grown until he was the owner of nine circuses and was said to be the most extensive owner of carnival shows in the world. His shows are maintained every city and town where fairs and carnivals are given.

Mr. Wortham is survived by his wife and two sons, Clarence A. Wortham Jr. and Maxwell Wortham. Funeral services will be held in Danville, Ill., Wednesday. A brother, John A. Worcham, lives in Abilene, and a sister lives in Paris.

SEEK EXTENSION OF EXPRESS COMPANY DELIVERY LIMITS

Extension of the delivery limits for express packages is being sought by the chamber of commerce, which is taking the matter up with both the express officials and the interstate commerce commission.

At present, express companies do not deliver packages to addresses west of Van Buren, which leaves out a large portion of the city. It is planned to extend the delivery limits so as to extend out Sixth street to Fillmore, south on Fillmore to Ninth, west on Ninth to Tilden, south on Tilden to Avenue G, east on Avenue G to Monroe and south on Monroe to the Wichita Valley tracks.

The present limits were established some years ago, before the growth of the city made an extension feasible. Local express company officials are co-operating actively in the move.

KIWANIANS HEAR FRANK GAMTEL TELL ABOUT BOYS' WORK

There are lots of distressing things in the high school life of today, but I want to say to you that taken as a group, the high school boys of this generation are wonderfully splendid stuff,” said Frank Gamtel, specialist in boys' work, at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club at the Kemp Monday.

Mr. Gamtel held the close attention of the Kiwanians during a 20-minute talk in which he related some of his experiences with boys and explained his plans and methods.

“I would rather have my job than any other job on earth,” he told the Kiwanians, he specially invited his hearers to attend the lecture Wednesday night at the M. E. church, south on “the Romance of Building Boyhood.”

While stating that unfortunate conditions were found among boys in many high schools, Mr. Gamtel was prompt to point out that the actual percentage of boys affected by them is very small.

“More is being done for the boys of today than has ever been done for any set of boys,” he said, “and it is getting better. They are a finer lot than we were as boys. They are better sports. They have better ideas of ethics. The work that is being done is bearing fruit.”

Reports were heard by the Kiwanians on the thrift ticket campaign, which was bad news, and on the baseball game, which was bad. Raymond Myers won the attendance prize. A vocal solo by W. M. Young was a very pleasing musical feature.

CITY OFFICERS GET READY FOR CIRCUS IN SEVERAL WAYS

Tuesday is circus day; everybody is getting ready, looking forward to a big and busy day. Merchants, hotels, cafes, school kids, police force and possibly the crooks and confidence men, who prey upon an innocent and unsuspecting public, are preparing for a rushing business Tuesday.

The alarm clock has already been set in order to rise early enough to see “Jumbo” unloaded. It was stated at the police station Monday that officers would be on the ground and the crowd would be given every protection from the pickpocket, professional short change men and other offenders.

Monday was the busy day for the city health department. Dr. Arden H. Douglas, city health officer, reported a number of applications for health certificates, required by the state board of health for persons handling food or refreshments of any kind. From the number of persons applying for certificates and these seeking information concerning hamburger stands, lunch counters and cold drink counters, the crowd will be well taken care of in the way of refreshments.

By NEA Service. CLEVELAND, OHIO, Sept. 23.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has announced the completion of plans for the erection of a 21-story banking building here, to contain the main office of the largest co-operative banking institution in the country.

At the same time, word comes from Washington that U. S. Comptroller of Currency D. R. Cressenger has authorized the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Co-operative National bank to establish a branch office in the heart of the city, as well as in the populous East End, near the railroad shops and manufacturing industries.

The Engineers Brotherhood recently purchased the Union Commerce National bank building, on Euclid avenue, in the heart of the city, and it was reported that this building would become the permanent home for the big co-operative bank. Now the big financial and already developments just made public show that the 16-story banking building was acquired merely to recently in Chillicothe, has moved back to Haskell and will have the management of the Haskell theater. G. W. Waldrop went to Abilene Tuesday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Wood, a daughter, Sunday, Sept. 17, and Mrs. Dennis Ratliffe spent Sunday in Gore with Mrs. Ratliffe's parents.

Mrs. Morrison and children of Graham, who have been visiting her mother, Mrs. J. S. Rike, have returned home. Mrs. Rike accompanied them for a visit.

A. L. Anthony spent the week-end in Abilene with relatives and friends. Winford Cole of Rule visited friends here Sunday. He will attend Galveston medical college this winter.

Quitman Gentry is in Wichita Falls this week having his eyes treated. Miss Madeline Hunt, who for the past six weeks has been in Dallas visiting relatives and taking medical treatment, has returned home.

Curran Hunt of Dallas is visiting his brother and family here this week.

FLORAL HEIGHTS BAPTISTS AGAINST SUNDAY FAIR OPENING. The following resolution was passed at the morning services of the Floral Heights Baptist church yesterday:

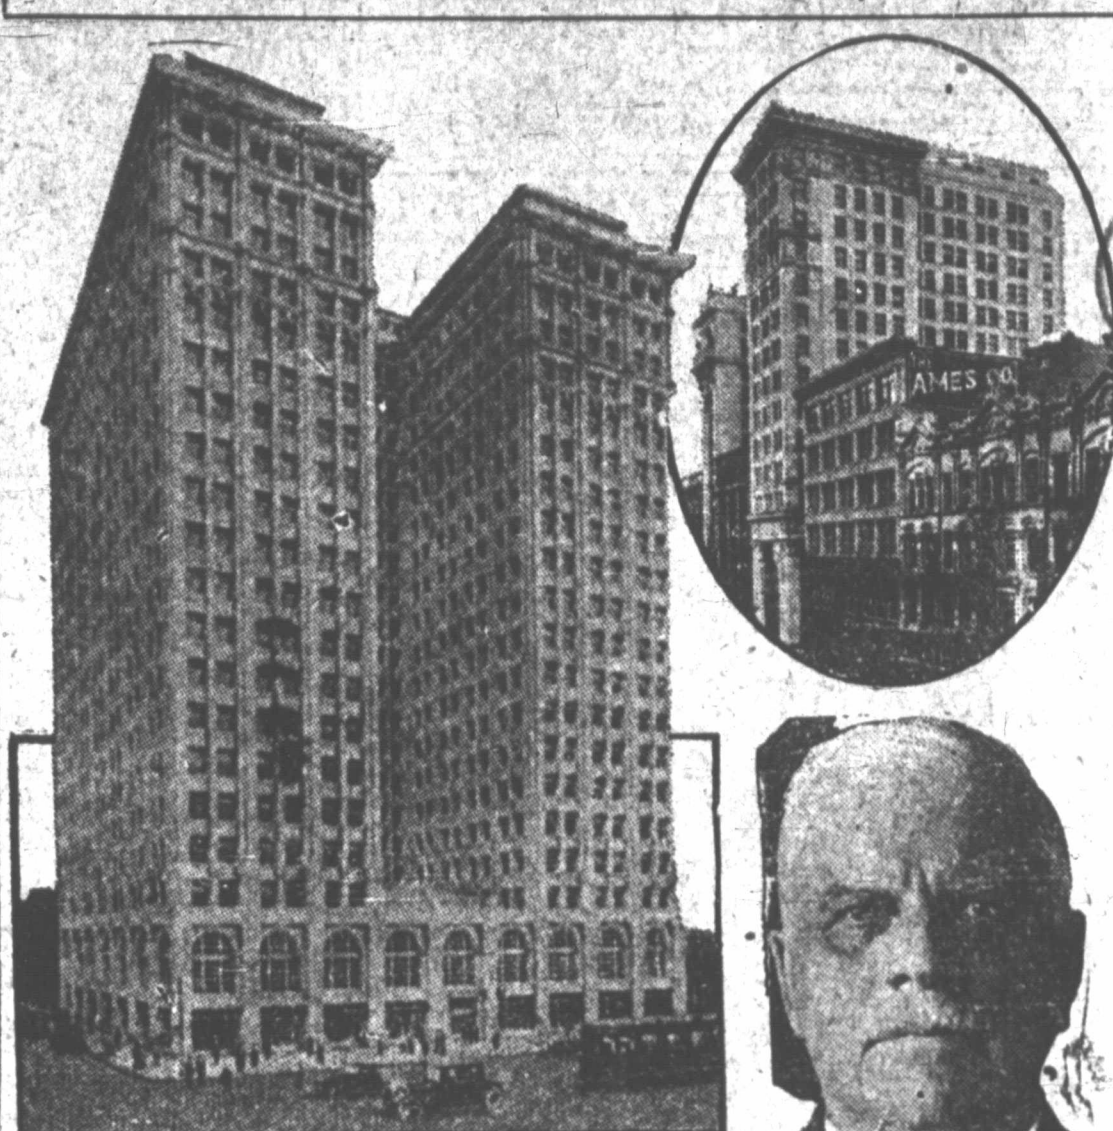

"Resolved, that the Floral Heights Baptist church go on record as supporting the pastors of the city in upholding the law by not attending the local fair on Sunday, October 1, and dignifying the violation of the law by their absence.

"We call upon other churches of this city to join us in this resolution.

"We are for the fair and have given all possible support for the success of the fair. We have boosted it, and will continue to boost it, and will do our best to make it a success, but we feel that the law should be upheld and no exception be made for any occasion.

(Signed) Jess McLarry, Church Clerk."

FUTURE HOME AND MAIN OFFICE OF B. OF L. E. BANK

Officials of the bank have further disclosed plans for the erection of a new building in the Nottingham district to house the office in that section.

The new 21-story main building, work on which will be started shortly, will occupy the corner across the street from the 14-story building built by the brotherhood in 1908 as its national headquarters.

During its erection, a main office of the bank will be moved to the 16-story structure just acquired.

The most modern and efficient banking equipment will be installed in the new building, giving the Brotherhood Co-operative National bank one of the finest banking premises in the city.

The action of the Brotherhood Co-operative bank, in expanding its business and holdings at the present time, is due to the work of its officers, who include Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the brotherhood, as president; William R. Prenter, its secretary and treasurer, as vice-president and cashier, and Walter F. McCaleb, vice-president and manager.

Starting with only $453,000 in paid-up stock less than two years ago, the brotherhood bank gained almost a million dollars a month during the first year and has already nearly doubled its resources in the second year.

Assets of the bank at the close of business on August 23, 1922, were $17,547,492.25.

TRACK LAYING ON ROAD TO WAURIKA UNDER WAY MONDAY

Track laying on the Byers-Waurika railroad project began in earnest Monday morning, and the putting down of steel is now expected to continue steadily until the Red river is reached.

Some steel was laid on the cut-off several weeks ago, but this phase of the work did not get under way in earnest until Monday.

Grading is in progress on the Oklahoma side of the river, but no steel will be laid on that side until the bridge is completed, which will be some time in November.

On Saturday night at the open air revival service in the Teshoma Shallow Field the text was Luke 17:14, wherein ten lepers having cried aloud to Jesus for mercy were told to go show themselves to the priest for a certification of their being healed, and it came to pass as they went (in prompt, unquestioning obedience, to His command) they were cleansed."

Emphasis was placed by the minister upon unhesitating performance of duty as an expression of faith. As St. James would say, "show your faith by your works." The habitual doing of the right and constant resistance of wrong is substantial evidence of the possession of saving faith. Moreover, it is a positive means of increasing the supply and quality of one's faith. The persistent exercise of it induces a stalwart strength that will always avail in heroic right doing.

On Sunday night the congregation was about double that of any service heretofore, the autos almost completely surrounding the seated space of twenty 11-foot pews. The text was "Without faith it is impossible to please God." (Hebrews 11:1).

Like electricity in the physical world, faith is one of the mightiest spiritual forces. Its possessor laughs at impossibilities and cries "I shall be done!" Using the introductory words of the chapter containing the text, the minister showed how faith is conviction of things not seen and confidence in things hoped for. This approximate definition was used to show how faith worked in the case of Abel's offering as contrasted with that of Cain. The faith of Enoch, Noah and Abraham were also cited as concrete examples, it was insisted that only prompt and exact obedience is an index of genuine faith.

A well-to-do country merchant met his wife's pastor who told him if he would honestly endeavor to act whole-heartedly as a Christian should for just one week, he would become one. The sequel showed that half a day of such faithful endeavor brought the happy experience he sought. W. A. BEETS, Pastor.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A wholesome tongue is a tree of life; but perverness therein is a breach in the spirit. Proverbs 15:4.

He that falls into sin is a man; that grieves at it is a saint; that boasts of it is a devil.—Thomas Fuller.

Texas-Oklahoma Fair, September 30 to October 4, Wichita Falls

INVITING MATERIAL FOR ORGANIZATION OF AN INDEPENDENT PARTY.

It is too much to expect that enough democrats will jump the fence in Texas next November for the election of an independent candidate for senator but there is no doubt that many of them, some following the dictates of their conscience and others, perhaps, through pique or disappointment, will vote for the independent candidate even if they are compelled to go over and do it on a republican ticket.

These democrats, together with the republicans and a considerable proportion of the more than four hundred thousand qualified voters who did not participate in the democratic primaries will give Mr. Fedy a very respectable vote, even though it may fall far short of electing him.

But the big break will not come in the democratic party until 1934 and it is hoped that the party in Texas may get back to democratic principles before that time. A much larger number of democrats than a good many folks have any idea of have made up their minds not to participate in a democratic primary again until the party breaks loose from its minority control in Texas and gets back on solid democratic principles. A good many democrats of this number feel bound by their pledge to support the party nominees next November. After this obligation is discharged they will feel themselves free and independent and will offer inviting material for the organization of an independent party for the 1934 campaign.

TEACH THE CONSTITUTION IN THE SCHOOLS.

One of the purposes of education is to fit the individual for the duties of citizenship. Without an enlightened citizenship democratic government would soon become a mockery. Many of the shortcomings of our government are traceable to the lack of enlightenment of the voters.

To intelligently participate in a free government the voter ought to understand the principles of that government, properly appraise the men who hold or aspire to positions of leadership and to understand their acts and measures. The very foundation of our government is the Constitution of the United States. The man or woman who is imbued with its principles has at least laid the foundation for American citizenship.

Yet, many a boy and girl who are to become citizens and voters go through school without even reading the Constitution to say nothing of understanding its principles—the very principles upon which our government is founded. It is not strange that in later years many of them are led off to follow false ideas in government and in their relationships with their fellow citizens.

The National Security League is conducting a campaign whose object is the teaching of the constitution in our schools. Our school curricula are overcrowded but if something less important must be thrown out for room for the teaching of the fundamental principles of our government let it be thrown out and let us have a little better understanding of this document which is the very foundation of Americanism.

MORE SPECIAL WRITERS FOR THE TIMES.

The Times has added two more noted special writers to its list of contributors. They are Frank G. Carpenter and William Jennings Bryan.

Mr. Carpenter is without an equal as a writer of travel. He is now starting on another tour of the world for The Times and a number of the leading papers of the country. His first letter will appear in The Times of Sunday, October 15th, and subsequent letters will appear weekly thereafter.

Mr. Bryan has been engaged to write a Weekly Bible Talk for The Times. His first contribution will appear in a few weeks.

The Times feels fortunate in being able to obtain the services of these noted writers. It is its aim whenever possible to employ the very best interpretive writers whose services are available to the press. In pursuance of that policy it has employed Mark Sullivan as its national political correspondent. In pursuance of the same policy it engaged Kathleen Norris to write a series of articles and this policy was further followed in obtaining publication rights of the drawings of Charles M. Russell and accompanying articles on "Back Trailers on the Old Frontiers."

In coming to its public with special writers like Frank G. Carpenter, William Jennings Bryan, Mark Sullivan, Kathleen Norris and an artist like Charles M. Russell, The Times feels that it is offering features of class and well worth the while of its readers.

TEXAS TALENT CAN SOLVE DALLAS WATER PROBLEM.

The city commissioners of Dallas have failed to approve the proposal of Mayor Aldridge to employ General Goethals as consulting engineer for plans for enlarging the water supply of Dallas.

If their action was prompted by the belief that there ought to be engineers nearer home just as competent for this particular work as General Goethals, it appears entirely reasonable. In Texas there are being developed water engineers who are the equal of any in the country. The very problems of the state itself and the opportunities for work in that line are developing this talent in our engineers and it ought not to be necessary for Dallas to send beyond the borders of Texas for engineers to solve the problem of her water supply.

But no water supply plan ought to be adopted by Dallas or any other community without first a very comprehensive survey and study of all the facts and possibilities. Money paid to the best engineering talent for such work will be money well spent.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

EARTH.

Oh Earth, both of the Now and the Hereafter—silent Force, big, bold and gentle, who you bore us from your heart and in whose enfolding arms we shall finally be warmed—Oh, Mother Earth, keep telling us more about ourselves.

Your deserts dotted only by the sage brush and heaved-up mounds of other days, your stalking hills and mountains, white of head, your stars that peer through cloud-rifts, your heaving seas, sometimes so mad and uncontrolled, your tiny valleys where daisies smile, your trotting brooks, your families of birds with their countless varieties of song, your solid rocks with their stories of the hidden past—Oh, Earth Mother, teach us to count your heart-beats that we may know you better.

Through infinite space in which you move, Earth, we feel the touch of infinite life. For other worlds are just friends of yours—that's all.

Out of the sweet smell of your coated body are we brought to sense the roving spirit of the great God, who made you all that you are to us.

Oh Earth, you are "the sower's bed, but got the reaper's rest."

And how often have you "been slain by the narrow-brain." But to us who feel in you our life and all, have you returned again and again, to love and lead us on.

Today your rain came. For hours the dust hugged its place. And then your friend, the sun, washed away the clouds and cleared the wet from the trees and plants—and all your flowers came out smiling! Oh, furnish us with deeper love that we may love you more, dear Earth!

For away from you we can neither find nor feel God, Heaven, Human Thrub—or Hope.

Slowly, like the snail's crawl, do events come through the ages to tell us of our duty and pleasure here. So that our growth is seemingly infinitesimal. But from the eyes of Eternity, in its pause, Progress, as evidenced in these poor frames of ours, is seen to pause as well and to exchange a pleasant word—and then to pass on again.

Earth, you are more than we can understand, but from what we do understand, we have our solid faith.

With George Meredith, let us

Look at her through her showers, Her mist, her streaming gold, A wonder edge the familiar face: She wears no more that robe of printed hours; Her strange seems Earth, and sweeter than her flowers.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

I DON'T WANT TO GO TO BED.

World wide over this is said:

"I don't want to go to bed!"

Dads and mothers, far and near,

Every night this chorus hear;

Makes no difference where they are,

Here or off in Zanzibar,

In the igloos made of snow

Of the fur-clad Eskimauks,

In the blistering torrid zone,

This one touch of nature's know;

In life's various tongues it's said:

"I don't want to go to bed!"

This has ever been the way

Of the youngsters at their play.

Laughter quickly dries their tears,

Trouble swiftly disappears,

Joy is everywhere about,

Here and there and in and out;

Yet when night comes on they cry

That so glad a day should die,

And they think that they will miss

Something more of precious bliss,

So shout every curly-head:

"I don't want to go to bed!"

COAT.

The Turkish massacre and military comeback probably would not have occurred if the United States had not been afraid to take part in European affairs. Think of the opinion of Dr. Christian F. Heiser, preaching in New York after a long tour in Europe.

In the British grain market, experts estimate that this year's harvest of the six cereal crops of Russia and Ukraine will total about 2,000,000 tons, against 37,000,000 last year and 45,000,000 in 1921. That should be enough to keep Russia alive, on a restricted diet.

But there is no excess for export. Which will please American farmers who know what grain prices, already low, would be if Russia were selling heavily in the international market.

CHINESE.

You could learn to talk Chinese in six months, says Franklin C. M. Lee, linguist. While children born in China pick up Chinese words more easily than English words.

More drunks may be dying abruptly. But fewer are dying slowly by chronic alcoholism. As an instance, the gentleman with hardened arteries or puffs under his eyes is not seen as often as in the old days. The death score remains in favor of prohibition.

The names of eight British poets are buried in these lines.

That is to say, the letters that spell the name form, in their proper order, parts of different words.

Dupont to kill Laney to live, Dupont to better Laney to live, Laney to prevent that very thing from happening.

ONWARD INTO BATTLE

I was standing around the lamp post with Sid Hunt and he said, 'Hey, G. by the way, this is Fuda Simkins birthday, lets go around and see if he got any candy among his presents.'

'Which we went around to do, ringing Fuda's door bell and Fuda opened the door with something suspicious making a bump in one side of his face, and me and Sid and Fuda, and Fuda shook his head hello as if he couldn't talk good on account of what he had in his mouth, and I said, 'What did you get for your birthday, Fuda?'

'Which just then the bump got smaller on account of Fuda probably swallowing part of it, and he said, 'I didn't get any candy, but I got a box of chocolates and a box of soap.'

'Which just then he gave a fearful scowl, and the lump disappeared all the way, and Sid said, 'G. in that all, gosh, didn't you get any candy?'

'and Fuda said, 'Candy? No, why?'

'I wish I had, why? he said, 'What you know about that, Sid, I wouldn't consider it was a birthday if I didn't get any candy, would you Sid?'

'No, I'd think it was a funeral, Sid, and I said, 'I'd consider it a birthday if that how I'd consider it, and Fuda said, 'Well, that's how I'd consider it, but I ain't your fault is it?'

'Being a pretty good of a seer, Sid just now? and Fuda started to look as if he felt innocent, saying, 'Well? Went, and I said, 'What you know about that, Sid, I wouldn't consider it was a birthday if I didn't get any candy, would you Sid?'

Home Run by Dennis Williams Puts Dixie Series on Even Terms

MOBILE, Sept. 21.—The Mobile team, which has won the Dixie series, today won the first game of the series by a score of 4 to 3. The home run by Dennis Williams, the only one of the series, was the key to the victory. Williams, who is a native of Mobile, was the only player to hit a home run in the series. The series now stands even, each team having won two games. When the crowd saw Williams drive sailing toward Mobile bay, a great demonstration ever seen in a ball game in Mobile took place. A crowd of thousands gathered to see Williams, who is a native of Mobile, hit the home run. Williams, who is a native of Mobile, hit the home run. GOTHAM CLUBS LOSE CHANGE TO CLINCH PENNANTS SUNDAY

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—New York's prospective world's series contenders, the Giants and Yankees, are separated today by the narrowest of margins from a dyed-in-the-wool, mathematically certain hold on the 1923 championships in the National and American leagues. The Giants can clinch the pennant for the fourth time since 1904 by winning only one of the two games scheduled with the St. Louis Cardinals today. They could then lose a game ahead of the Pirates, who are also today.

Bob Meusel, New York American—Bob Meusel possesses remarkable ability in every branch of play, yet does not get the most out of his possibilities because he looks initially like a "square" player. There is little to choose between the left fielders, both are crack-players. Each has some particular department in which he outshines the other. A draw would be fair, but every ball he throws is with a purpose—put one of these fellows who is to throw it with a batter, or with a prayer of "I hope it don't go safe," but one who studies every opponent closely, more closely, I believe, than any pitcher in the American league. He will be handicapped to a certain extent the first time each Giant faces him, but the farther he goes the better he will be.

EDDIE COLLINS PREDICTS THE AMERICAN LEAGUE WILL WIN

This is the last of seven articles written for The Wichita Daily Times by Eddie Collins of the Chicago White Sox. Collins has played in more world series games than any other major league player. By EDDIE COLLINS, World's Greatest Second Baseman. I think the pitching is unquestionably the dominating factor. For this reason I like the chances of the Yankees for the title better than the Browns. I firmly believe Joe Bush will accomplish it as many times as he is given the chance. Sam Jones is another pitcher who I figure would give the Giants lots of trouble. To me he always appears to be a kind of twirler.

SIKI OFFERED BOAT WITH HARRY WILLS

$150,000 For Boat With Negro Champ On Oct. 12 Or May 20. NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—An offer of $150,000 irrespective of decision for a 15-round contest with Harry Wills, negro heavyweight, was made last night to boxing promoter Georges Carpentier in Paris yesterday. The offer was made by the match-maker, the Ebbets Field-Keever exhibition company, operators of Ebbets field, Brooklyn.

Carpentier Battered by Giant Senegalese and Takes Count in Sixth

STILL CATCHING AT 56. By Associated Press. PARIS, Sept. 22.—Georges Carpentier, hood of French fight fans, has at last been topped from his pedestal and today a new king reigns in the European heavyweight division. Battling Siki, a Senegalese, hammered the great Georges around the ring in the new Buffalo yeldrome last night before a howling mob of spectators and sent him down in the sixth round to stay. The bout was to have gone on for 15 rounds.

MAURICE HEUMAN

When a hall of fame is established for baseball veterans Maurice Heuman of Jackson, Mich., will be entitled to a prominent place. Aged 38, he still plays great ball. Heuman is catcher for Jackson Council No. 57, United Commercial Travelers' team. He picks out one of the best like a big leaguer. He can hit, too. Recently out of five times at bat, he made one three-base hit, one two-bagger and three singles. In 1920 and 1921 he belonged to the Fremont club in the Ohio Central league. He has played in 100 games this season the traveling men have lost only one. Of the opposing teams are semi-pros.

Huggins' Forces Beaten By McGraw Team in 1921 See Chance for Revenge

By BILLY EVANS. In the boxing game, when a fighter scores a decisive victory through the medium of a knockout punch, the impression prevails that he has something on his opponent. If the two fighters ever meet in a return match the "knock" scored by one of them gives him a decided edge in rating the two men. The memory of the previous battle always seems to linger with a fighter who has been counted out.

On the ropes. Last year the New York Giants, in ring parlance, handed a knockout to the New York Yankees after the Yankees had all the best of the first two rounds and had the Giantstrangling on the ropes, clinching to avoid further punishment.

SAVE YOUR EYES

Not so many years ago it would have been regarded as an accident decidedly out of the ordinary if some player who had not yet reached the voting age worked his way up to the finals. Now such a happening is the rule rather than the exception.

As I looked over the course, in company with many of the game's leading experts, the consensus of opinion was that the champions of the future in most cases would be young men.

Once upon a time the impression prevailed that youth was of no particular advantage in golf. That theory has been dispelled in the last five years. Youth must be served in golf as in other sports, all things being equal.

The suppleness of the youth's muscles, plus the steadiness of his nerves, his fighting spirit and the stamina that nature has blessed him with, certainly give a decided edge to the young.

Among those who followed the players in the semi-finals it is conservative to say that several hundred were boys and girls around the ages of 15 and 16.

Billy Evans says

Golf is the old man's game no longer. The belief certainly was shattered at the recent amateur championship held over the Brooklyn (Mass.) course. The oldest of the four players who completed in the semi-finals was Chick Evans, who is 32. The other three, Rudy Knapp, Jesse Beemer and Bobby Jones, are all around the 25 mark.

As I followed Evans and Knapp around in their match, the spiky-haired man as much interested as the players. It was a conglomeration of all classes and ages, proving that golf is becoming rapidly a game that appeals to the masses, rather than the elite.

Not so many years ago it would have been regarded as an accident decidedly out of the ordinary if some player who had not yet reached the voting age worked his way up to the finals. Now such a happening is the rule rather than the exception.

As I looked over the course, in company with many of the game's leading experts, the consensus of opinion was that the champions of the future in most cases would be young men.

Once upon a time the impression prevailed that youth was of no particular advantage in golf. That theory has been dispelled in the last five years. Youth must be served in golf as in other sports, all things being equal.

The suppleness of the youth's muscles, plus the steadiness of his nerves, his fighting spirit and the stamina that nature has blessed him with, certainly give a decided edge to the young.

Among those who followed the players in the semi-finals it is conservative to say that several hundred were boys and girls around the ages of 15 and 16.

Not so many years ago it would have been regarded as an accident decidedly out of the ordinary if some player who had not yet reached the voting age worked his way up to the finals. Now such a happening is the rule rather than the exception.

NORTHER BRINGS MERCURY TO LOW RESTING POINT

Following an extremely warm afternoon Sunday during which time the temperature mounted to 100 degrees, a norther sprang up and brought with it a cool, low reading of the mercury before sunrise Monday morning.

FIRST SECTION OF CIRCUS TRAIN DUE TO ARRIVE 5 A. M.

The first section of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum-Balley circus is scheduled to arrive in the local yards of the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad company at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning.

It is believed that the fourth and last section of the circus train will not arrive before 9 or 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Fifty thousand tons of soap are used every year in the power laundries in the United States.

Thirty-five private secretaries are required to handle the correspondence of the pope.

YOO, HOO! KIDDIES, LOOK WHAT'S COMING TO WICHITA TOMORROW

Oh, joy! Oh, joy! Circus is coming to town! Yes, three—in the wee hours of tomorrow morning five early painted trains, numbering 100 railroad cars, all bearing the wondrous name, "Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Balley Combined," lettered across the sides, will roll into the yards of the Fort Worth and Denver from Amarillo.

All will be in readiness for the invasion. The trains will be met by circus officials who are here today laying out the show grounds and making all other arrangements.

The contents of the hundred cars at the circus grounds the air will be scented with the thump of sledges and staho drivers, massive blue poles will be erected, the commissary department get its work under way, the thousand animals of the menagerie be safely housed, and the block-long canvas stabilizes be bedded down for the regiments of splendid horses including the 500 equines that take part in the great added horse show.

The Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Balley circus of 1922 is so stupendous and requires so great an effort to set it in place that the street parades in every where eliminated. But it is promised that those who go to the grounds tomorrow will witness a free show that will more than make up for its absence.

There are more than 700 performers with this season's circus and fully half that number of trained animals. Two hundred superbly schooled horses representing Europe's finest equestrian acts form a big new feature.

The wild animal acts include bears who ride upon swiftly running horses, jungle like animals perform tricks of balancing on poles at games with their leopards. The arena are time after time filled and re-filled with entire troupes of tigers, black panthers, leopards, panthers, jaguars and trained pumas. Most remarkable among these are the mixed groups of tigers, black panthers and leopards presented by the world famous woman trainer, Mabel Stark and Olga Calceste. Woman trainers are to the fore this season. One of the six herds of trained elephants is in charge of the noted, Belgian breaker, Mme. Clara Hildegarde.

CIRCUS SCHEDULE AT A GLANCE

Show Grounds. Performances—3 p. m. and 8 p. m. Doors open one hour earlier. Feature—Europe's biggest trained wild animal acts and newly added European horse shows. Dimensions—Largest tent, 700 by 350 feet. Three steel girded arenas, three rings, eight stages, colonial hippodrome and oval; wilderness of aerial apparatus. Menagerie—Forty elephants, herds of camels and zebras, six giraffes, 110 cages of rare animals, including baby hippopotamus. Tickets—On sale all day for both performances at Tipton's drug store, Eighth and Scott streets. Red ticket wagon opens simultaneously with the main entrance. Arrival—in 100 double-length railroad cars, comprising five train sections, from Amarillo, where a matinee performance is being given today. First section due at day-break.

Among the hundreds of men and women stars are Lily Leitzel, queen of all aerial gymnasts; Ernest Clarke and the noted Clarksons in hazardous casting acts; the Belgians, Silbons and Neapolitans, supreme on the flying trapeze; the Kirschners, Reimanns, Tasseffs and Savilles—all newly imported European equestrian acts of extraordinary skill; the Bagonghi, Rooney, Meers, Bradens and Clarksons troupe of riders; the Sie Tahar company of gymnasts for the first time introducing the women athletes and having trained and perfectly formed women; eight of the world's highest perch acts, and many other high-air sensations.

The main-tent program opens with a grand introductory pageant magnificently costumed, replete with nursery tales enacted in pantomime by hundreds of story book characters. A hundred clowns in five times as many original stunts promise no end of fun for juvenile patrons.

Tomorrow's performances will begin at 2 and 8 p. m. and the doors to the menagerie open an hour earlier. Tickets will go on sale at Tipton's drug store at 9 a. m. at the same prices charged at the show grounds.

SAYS MORE CHRIST, NOT MORE CHURCHES WORLD'S NEED TODAY

"What the world needs is not more churches nor more organizations, but more Christ, and Christ doesn't need much else," declared Dr. Pittenger to a good sized congregation Sunday night, in preaching on the theme of "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, today and forever." The text for which he quoted in Hebrews 13:3. He said in part: "Through changing conditions men have everywhere sought something permanent. Kingdoms and empires rise, decay and fall away, and in excavating among ancient ruins we find evidences of a civilization that had passed away so long ago that we are not yet able to interpret the evidences of the language we find there. Jesus Christ is always the same. He has been the one character through history that will live for all time. He went about doing good and healing the sick and saving souls, but He could not save some men because they would not believe on Him. He is eternal and no matter what is arrayed against Him, He is always the same, willing to save anyone who will believe on Him. He is eternal and no matter what is arrayed against Him, He is always the same, willing to save anyone who will believe on Him. He is eternal and no matter what is arrayed against Him, He is always the same, willing to save anyone who will believe on Him.

There are a lot of people claiming to lift the banner of Christ among men when there is not a thing that they even have the spirit of Christ in it. They simply have a moral or religious frenzy. Some churches have tried to make Christ and His banner subservient to their schemes and interests but they have found that He is not in the church for that kind of business and have turned and declared "John bears witness of Christ, tells what He will do, and declares Christ to be the Son of God in His own name, yesterday, today and forever."

about Christ from the time we find Him in the Temple questioning the priests till He was about thirty years of age, but we find Him in tonight's lesson going about doing good, finding the sick and healing them, finding the hungry and feeding them, and when they questioned Him with regard to working on the Sabbath day, He declared that the Son of Man was Lord of the Sabbath and should do good on the Sabbath. "The Bible will remain the same just as Christ will always remain the same. No man or organization that raises himself, or itself, against Christ can survive, but will be ground to dust through the ages and nothing will remain of those teachings. Ingersoll could hold an audience of thousands spellbound by his oratory and denunciations of Christ, and the church and Bible, but in the end he declared that if he could only retract the things he had said against Christ he could be satisfied, but he and his teachings have passed away while Christ is the same loving Christ as ever. Christ is the only force in a personality that has gripped, and continued to grip, the attention of men throughout history. He is the one eternal personality that has kept into the soul of the mother that has said goodbye to her babe, and into the soul of the man that has committed sin. He is the one personality that can hold you steady in the time of storm and I beg of you to accept this same loving Christ who is willing to forgive and who is the same, yesterday, today and forever."

Not a Laxative. Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus replaces it. Try it today. A LUBRICANT—NOT A LAXATIVE.

Time to Build Strong

It has come to be understood by most manufacturers and distributors that a large volume of business at any period of time is of itself no proof that the business is built on a sure foundation. The volume may be due to a variety of conditions, and those conditions may be temporary, and may be entirely out of the control of those who enjoy them.

The only sure foundation upon which a big business can be successfully built is an undisputed consumer preference. Let that be present and it matters not how quickly a business grows, or how big it grows, you have the assurance that it is solidly built and that it will not topple over when the first wind blows.

Advertising is the corner stone of the structure of consumer preference. No conspicuous example exists where there is a steady and sure consumer demand for any product that is not prominently advertised. Every instance that can be cited of a consumer demand that is strong enough to offset changing market conditions may also be cited as an example of the effective use of advertising.

The present business condition is a challenge to every business that is built on the uncertain foundation of a demand due to a favorable state of the market. Assuming that the strong demand of the past few years, prior to 1920, was a permanent thing, many manufacturers made provisions to supply the demand and reap a harvest of profits; but they overlooked the importance of insuring their share of the demand.

Now the great lesson has been learned—at a prodigious cost. The disposition today is to build strong, to make sure of the foundations before rearing a great superstructure. In the long run it will mean that all business will be on a more solid basis, and less likely to be upset by changing conditions. This will be the great compensation for the stress of the present period.
