G. A. R. VETERANS STAGE PARADE AT DES MOINES

DES MOINES, IOWA, Sept. 27.—Bowed in body and thinned in ranks, but stalwart in the spirit that sent them marching through history from Fort Sumner to Appomattox court house, the surviving veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic marched through the streets of Des Moines and passed in review before their commander in chief today.

To the familiar roll of their battle drums and the shrill call of the fife, they stepped off at the brisk 90 pace cadence behind the colors they bore to victory more than a half century ago.

PROPOSE LAW TO PREVENT STRIKES AFFECTING PUBLIC

CONGRESS EXPECTED TO TAKE SUCH ACTION SAYS ELIHU ROOT

SPEAKS AT NEW YORK CONVENTION OF G.O.P.

Defends Congress Against the Charge That Nothing Has Been Accomplished

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Early adoption by the republican congress of laws to once prohibiting strikes which "cut off the supply of food or service necessary to the life of the community," and at the same time protecting the workman's liberty, was predicted by Elihu Root, temporary chairman, in his address before the republican state convention today.

Touching on the recent rail and coal strikes, Mr. Root said: "We are all employers and laborers and the general public is apt to be impatient about strikes. So long as strikes were a contest between laborers and employers to assume for labor its fair share of the national wealth which has come to mankind through invention and discovery and application of science and the art of organization, the sympathies of the American public were with labor. When a strike becomes an attempt to coerce the public into taking action by cutting off the supply of food or service necessary to the life of the community, I am sure that public feeling goes the other way.

"I think that in this country we are gradually approaching the point where the law of the land will provide for distinguishing between the two kinds of strikes, and protecting the public against compulsion by threat of peril to life or of destruction to the machinery of civilization, and at the same time protect the workman's liberty to refuse to work and the workman's liberty to work."

He is inclined to think that nothing could be better at this stage of the perennial process of industrial adjustment than the condition which has been reached through the patient and sympathetic influence of the president. That condition is full and impartial investigation of the rights and wrongs upon which the recent strikes have rested, accompanied by a clear and uncompromising declaration by the president of the rule of law and liberty, which is to be applied to the results of the investigation.

Declaring that the five things most needed when President Harding took office were an ending of "the autocratic method of government," carrying on the way, abolition of immensely extravagant scales of expenditures established during the war, restoration of normal industry and the general public in the management of the postal service have given way during the present administration to sympathetic personal cooperation between the postmasters of the country and the central department, Postmaster General Work declared today in addressing the opening session here of the national association of postmasters.

TO FORM DISTRICT ORGANIZATION FOR MASONIC SERVICE

PURPOSE OF MEETING HERE ON OCTOBER 3 IS ANNOUNCED
NOTED MEMBERS ARE EXPECTED TO ATTEND

Fourteen Northwest Texas Counties Are to Be Represented at Gathering Here

The Masonic education and service committee meeting to be held in Wichita Falls Tuesday, October 3, is for the purpose of completing a district organization. It is announced Wednesday. The association, which was started a year ago in Texas, is governed by an executive council composed of A. L. Handell, chairman; J. W. McClendon of Austin, vice-chairman; John Horwerth of Dallas, secretary-treasurer; Walter T. Smith of Galveston, W. W. Smith of El Paso, and Wilbur Keith of Dallas, executive secretary.

The purpose of the organization is to weld the members of the Masonic fraternity closer together fraternally and to educate them in matters concerning the growth of the state and nation and point out their duties with reference thereto. Commendatory letters have been received from a great many of the lodges in Texas concerning these meetings and it is likely that this district will effect the proper organization and thereby stimulate the work.

Wichita Falls district or district number 3 is composed of the following counties: Hardeman, Foard, Knox, Haskell, Wilbarger, Baylor, Throckmorton, Wichita, Archer, Young, Clay, Jack, Montague, and Wise.

E. V. Friberg, district deputy grand master has mailed invitations to all the lodges in the district and has urged them to see that they have a representation at the meeting. It is contemplated that five or six hundred visiting Masons will take advantage of this wonderful opportunity to learn the plan of organization and operation of the association.

A special invitation has been extended D. Frank Johnson, grand master, of Brownwood, and it is understood that he will be among the distinguished guests as he has a very kindly feeling toward his old home section, "Northwest Texas," he having lived at Bowie for a number of years. The business session will be held in the Masonic Temple at 1:30 p. m. and the evening session will probably be held in one of the churches. Masons of all degrees are expected to attend.

ARTILLERY UNIT AT BURKBURNETT TUESDAY NIGHT

BURKBURNETT, TEXAS, Sept. 27.—The eighth training battery of artillery marching from Fort Sam Houston to Fort Sill, Okla., went into camp here Tuesday night after marching from Wichita Falls, where they camped Monday night. The Hardin ball park resembled an army camp and the shrill notes of the bugle call early Wednesday morning was plainly heard in the city by many ex-service men and recalled the days of 1918 and 1919. The battery left San Antonio September 7 and expects to reach Fort Sill Friday. It consists of 180 men, 47 horses, 55 mules and four 75 millimeter guns.

ORIENT AND SHOPMEN FAIL TO END STRIKE

PRESSMEN ENDORSE THE PROPOSED TRADE SCHOOLS

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Sept. 27.—Proposed establishment of zone or auxiliary trade schools were endorsed this morning by the twenty-ninth biennial convention of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union of North America at pressmen's home. Manufacturers of printing machinery and supplies will be expected to co-operate as was done at the Des Moines branch school. "That thousands of members of our organization have profited as a result of the school and have been able to go forth and to produce better and more work and receive as the result a higher compensation speaks volumes for the efficiency as well as the necessity of trade education," said President George B. Berry in his report to the convention.

RAIN INSURANCE IS TAKEN ON TWO BIG DAYS OF T-O FAIR

Directors of the fair association Wednesday morning partially reversed their former decision not to take out rain insurance, and took out a policy covering six hours each on Sunday and next Wednesday, which are expected to be the two big days of the fair.

The insurance premium amounts to about 10 per cent of the face of the policy, and one of the directors, opposing the motion to insure, said that anybody who would bet that it rained in west Texas on one day out of ten didn't know his stuff, or words to that effect. However, the motion to insure prevailed.

It must rain a total of an inch for the association to collect on the policy. The directors passed a vote of appreciation to the retail merchants for agreeing to close on Wednesday, Wichita Falls day.

USEFULNESS OF BLACK-DRAUGHT

Louisiana Lady Tells How This Well-Known Liver Medicine Helped Her Obtain Relief

BATON ROUGE, LA.—"After having used many laxatives, I chanced to hear of Black-Draught, and decided to use it as a liver tonic," says Mrs. E. B. Odum, of 523 South boulevard, this city.

"Black-Draught acted on my liver, cleansed my system, and I was in much better condition after having used it," says Mrs. Odum.

"Black-Draught relieves the swimming, or lightness, in the head. It relieves the heavy feeling after meals, which indicated to me it was good for indigestion.

"So I kept Black-Draught in the house and use it for colds, headache, sour stomach and torpid liver. I have told my friends, and they use it also.

"My present health is improved wonderfully. Thousands of people have learned of the value of Black-Draught from personal experience, and have chosen it as their favorite powdered liver medicine. It is purely vegetable; it disagrees with no one; causes no bad after-effects.

When you get up in the morning with a bad taste in your mouth, stomach not right, indigestion, or have a headache, try a dose of Black-Draught. Keep a package in your home ready for immediate use when needed.

Ask your druggist for Black-Draught liver medicine. See that the package label bears the name, "Theodor's"—Adv.

NO DISTURBANCES BUT MANY THEFTS HERE CIRCUS DAY

Circus day was a quiet affair with the police force; there was little or no disturbance other than the usual arrests for drunkenness and vagrancy. A number of lost or stolen articles were reported to the station Tuesday; clothing, jewelry, motorcycles, castings, and automobiles were lost in the rush.

Three fines amounting to $45 were assessed in the city court Wednesday morning. For drunkenness and disturbing the peace, the defendant paid $25 fine, on a plea of guilty; $10 was collected on a charge of vagrancy.

George and Rose, negroes, arrested Tuesday night and charged with fighting in front of a dance hall appeared for trial Wednesday morning. George insisted that the blows he administered were merely "loveclaps" but Rose did not seem to regard them as being of such affectionate nature. The man was fined $10 and given instructions to go home to his wife; the girl's case was dismissed.

Feed for Feathers

Feathers contain 87% protein. A hen must have protein to form feathers and lay eggs, yet most summer feeds contain little protein. You can avoid an egg slump next winter by feeding the guaranteed egg and feather making rations. Purina Chows put on feathers fast. They keep hens laying when cold weather cuts off the yield of improperly fed flocks.

You can't neglect your hens now and expect a heavy egg yield next winter. Feed for winter eggs now. Let your hens show you how much proper feeding counts.

Heating With Gas

No other fuel is so convenient or so economical as natural gas when used correctly. Misuse is expensive and wasteful. Some of the commonest causes of high cost are easily remedied. Don't burn natural gas in coal or wood stoves. It is always wasteful. No matter what anyone may tell you, coal furnaces and coal stoves cannot burn gas economically.

Effective Devices

The most effective heating device is the radiant or reflector type. It secures excellent combustion, so that no fumes or gases escape into your living rooms, and it delivers the maximum of heat at the least expense. One of these will heat a good sized room at an expense of not over a cent an hour.

Gas Furnaces

Furnaces especially designed for gas burning will often save their cost in a season. A coal furnace with a gas burner is rarely more than 25% effective, while a specially designed gas furnace usually delivers 70% of the heat from the gas into your living rooms. The difference between effective apparatus and makeshift devices is usually the reason for high gas bills. Attention to these points will enable you to heat your home satisfactorily with natural gas at a lower price than you can obtain the same convenience with any other fuel.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS TWINS SAFELY BACK

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

When Mr. Flippety-Flap strode into the Fairy Queen's palace attending all the way down from the Green Star, the Fairy Queen sat in state.

"Oh, Flippety-Flap, dear," she said, "terrible things have happened since Flap-Doodle stole my wand."

"Nancy and Nick are lost and can't be found, and all my magic wands have been turned into things, Tingaling's a turtle, and Squeaky's a beetle, Sprinkle-Blow is a rain cloud, and Scribble-Scratch is a long green lizard. Oh, what shall I do?"

"Flippety-Flap looked very queer. 'Oh, I shouldn't say too much about it if I were you, your highness, everything comes out all right in the end,' he said."

As he spoke, he looked down meaningly at the toes of his big shoes where two big patches were about ready to come off.

All at once they did fly off, and out popped Nancy from one shoe and Nick from the other one.

"And in Nancy's hand was the long-lost wand!" cried the Fairy Queen, hugging her close. "I was so afraid you were lost forever, both of you."

And she patted Nick proudly and said how he'd grown and how brave he was.

"And now you must sit down and tell me all about it," she said. "But first of all, give me my wand that I may turn all my beloved councillors back into fairies again." Then she waved it and said some magic words.

"One by one Tingaling and Rubadub and all the others appeared looking as well as ever. Then they all sat in a circle and heard the story of the Twins.

As for Flap-Doodle, he flew back to the Tinkly-Winkly Star by his magic and became a Tinkly-Winkler again. (To be continued.)

FIRST DEBATE OF YEAR IS HELD WEDNESDAY BY SPEAKERS CLUB MEMBERS

The regular weekly meeting of the Speakers club of the high school was held Wednesday morning, and the members enjoyed a delightful program. The meeting was called to order by Vice-President Clifton Haynes.

The program consisted of several readings by Miss Margaret Woolsey, "Why," a speech on trusts and other things, by Clyde Straus, and a debate, "Resolved that some phase of vocational training be studied by all high school students." The affirmative was upheld by Miss Thelma Cain and Dog Weldon, and the negative by Miss Stella Winters and Clifton Haynes.

The program was presided over by one of the greatest aids to beauty, and that it does more than any other thing to give a woman a well-groomed, youthful appearance. The right sort of massage promotes the circulation, nourishes the skin, improves the texture, and chases away the wrinkles that steal youth.

Some nice sunny day take your hand-mirror where a strong light will reflect it and look carefully for any young lines that seem to be getting a start.

You'll be most apt to find them around the corner of your eyes. To remove these, dip your fingers in massage cream and rub the surface very gently, working outward from the corners with a rotary motion.

Then see if a tale line seems to be making a path from the nostrils to the corners of the lips. If you are splendidly even-tempered, and have your emotions nicely under control, you may find nothing here, but if you aren't, get ready to do with a rotary motion.

At the corners of the mouth and massage upward with your finger tips to the point where the lines end. Use more pressure than when working about the eyes.

The forehead usually needs attention. It collects both vertical and horizontal lines if left to its own devices. Press out the vertical lines between the lines by rotary movements.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

Brush this through your hair, streaked looks and they become dark, glossy, youthful.

Almost everyone knows that Sage and Sulphur Compound, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by using the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by moving the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Worth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Can't Be Beautiful Without Practice And Work Any More Than One Can Be Successful At Other Things Without

TALLULAH BANKHEAD.

By MARIAN HALE. Tallulah Bankhead is considered one of the most beautiful blondes on Broadway. In her new play, "The Ecstasies," she exhibits such admiration for her beauty as for her acting.

By TALLULAH BANKHEAD. Women don't expect to be artists or musicians without practice and study, but they apparently see nothing illogical about becoming beauties without effort, than when they are asked to be so.

Now beauty is just as much an art as swimming. Some women have more talent for it than others, but everyone is capable of a normal development.

The old misstatement that beauties are born, not made, should no longer be credited. I believe that facial massage is one of the greatest aids to beauty, and that it does more than any other thing to give a woman a well-groomed, youthful appearance.

The right sort of massage promotes the circulation, nourishes the skin, improves the texture, and chases away the wrinkles that steal youth.

TWO NOTABLE INSTANCES OF FAITH ARE DISCUSSED

Two notable instances of faith outside of Jewry was the minister's gripping theme at the opening air relief services to the Texhoma-Shallow oil field last night (Tuesday), and, although the crowd was considerably depleted by the late hour, the services in the city (a diversion Methodists are pledged to forego), the undivided attention of the "faithful" in attendance heartened the minister much.

STRAUS SEES ALLIES DIVIDED AND U. S. DRAWN INTO A WAR

OSCAR STRAUS Editor's Note—A renewal of the participation of the United States in the world war, with the participation of former Ambassador Oscar S. Straus in an exclusive interview.

By JOHN O'DONNELL. NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Present conditions in Asia Minor are so serious that there is "great danger of a recrudescence of the world war," declared Oscar S. Straus, twice minister and former ambassador to Turkey, in an exclusive interview today.

Had the United States joined the league of nations, the dominant moral prestige of our country could have prevented the disagreement between the allies and brought about an agreement in regard to Turkey, Straus pointed out.

STRAUS SEES ALLIES DIVIDED AND U. S. DRAWN INTO A WAR

Had he been at the head of affairs, Greece would not be in the plight she is in today. To escape from this plight, to avoid another world war, I would emphasize the necessity of these steps: (1) There must be immediate agreement between the allied powers; Great Britain, France, Italy, and the others and (2) Versailles should be recalled immediately and placed in power of Greece.

The former ambassador, who is probably as familiar with the Turkish question as any other man in America, emphasized these points in his interview: One: Turkey, Russia and Germany, with one or more of the Balkan states, may pool their forces against the allied powers.

The present situation has developed because Turkey took advantage of the jealousy between Great Britain, Italy and France. "A new world conflagration may ensue unless Great Britain, Italy and France come promptly to accord. It was their failure to act in concert that caused the present situation to develop."

OSCAR STRAUS finds its cause now, as in the past, in the opportunity given to the Turks by the mutual jealousy of those who opposed them.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Texas-Oklahoma Fair, September 30 to October 4, Wichita Falls

IS THIS A GOOD TIME FOR A CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT?

Is the holding of a constitutional convention in the near future advisable?

It is dangerous that the minority element which is temporarily in control of the democratic party in Texas would dominate such a convention and would strike out of a new constitution some of the principles of the bill of rights which it refused to endorse at the San Antonio convention?

Would this minority in drafting a new constitution attempt to bridge the rights of and discriminate against the Jew and the Catholic and the foreign born as in practice it is now attempting to do?

These are some of the questions that arise in connection with the movement for a constitutional convention endorsed by the democratic state convention at San Antonio. They are not seriously considered by a good many Texans. The Denton Record-Chronicle, a conservative and staunch democratic newspaper, apparently gives these questions no weight. It says:

"With the strong endorsement of the state democratic convention behind it, there is better than an even chance that the next legislature will provide for a constitutional convention to present to the voters of Texas for their consideration in lieu of the antigay under which state, county and municipal government are now trying to function. The present constitution was drafted and adopted at a time when the people of every southern state were still ill from the evils of reconstruction and carpetbagging, when they had seen carpetbaggers come into many southern states and through unbridled abuse of the taxing and debt-creating privilege put virtual bankruptcy upon those states and necessitating repudiation when the southern whites came back into power. Under those conditions it was inevitable that the instrument should go to extremes to guard against a recurrence of such abuse, and the result was that in Texas the rights of the minority are so hedged about and safeguarded that it has been that in many ways the majority has no rights. Especially is this true with regard to public improvements and the providing of the means therefor. That a small minority can block the efforts of a great majority in the way of public improvements one needs not leave Denton to see. And it is true in every other city in Texas where the forward-looking civicly ambitious majority wants to go forward, but are either stopped or severely handicapped by the so-called ultra-conservative minority whose only ambition in life, insofar as their community is concerned, is to stand still and to whom any civic betterment that costs money is absolutely abhorrent. A minority has rights in the face of the most brutal majority, and within reason these rights should be preserved in the basic law of the land. But one hopes that the authors of a new constitution for Texas, whoever they may be, will not be so concerned in the preservation of the rights of the minority that they will practically deny them to the majority, which is absolutely entitled under a democratic form of government to govern."

SALUTATIONS TO THE LIVING PIONEERS OF WICHITA FALLS

Today is for the 40th anniversary of the town lot sale that is regarded as the beginning of Wichita Falls. There was a village here before this town lot sale and some of the pioneers were already here before that sale, but it was a marked event and a definite date to which we can go back as the beginning of Wichita Falls.

Forty years has seen Wichita Falls grow from a struggling outpost to a thriving, modern and progressive city of more than 40,000 inhabitants. It has seen hard and bitter periods that tried the very souls of the pioneers and when hundreds gave up and left with the belief that the town was "blown up" and would never come back. Yet through all these periods of hardship and despair there were a number who kept up hope and remained steadfast. Wichita Falls today owes a great debt to these pioneers who kept up courage and stick things through for if they had given faint-hearted it is pretty certain that the metropolis of northwest Texas would now be located somewhere else than the crossing of the Big Wichita river.

There is a small band of those stout-hearted pioneers who were here in 1822 and who have gone through all the hardships of pioneer life who are still living here and who have participated in many of the movements that kept Wichita Falls going and helped to build it into the splendid city which is the pride of all its citizens today. This is certain that it speaks the sentiment of all its readers when it extends them congratulations and wishes them prosperity and long life.

SAM'S CUSTOMERS

Measured in dollars, American exports to Europe now are more than twice as big as before the war, though there has been a considerable falling off compared with a year ago.

From the first of the year to August 1, we sent Europe about $427,000,000 worth of goods more than she shipped us. This, when it comes to balancing the books, leaves us figuratively in the hole at a rate of $1,000,000,000 a year.

Which is doing fairly well at helping Europe back on its feet, considering what she already owes us. Of course, some of this trade debt is balanced in gold, but only a fraction of it. A great mystery, where the financing funds come from.

The complaint from Europe must be because we don't give our stuff away instead of selling it, on credit.

How about trade with South America, which we used to hear so much about? Well, it's growing.

For the first seven months of 1923, our exports to South American countries totaled around $122,000,000.

However, in the same months, we bought from South America $65,000,000 more than we sold her.

So our trade in that direction is growing—the wrong way.

Our trade with Asiatic countries—China, Japan, India, etc.—is also running twice as big as before the war.

In the first seven months this year our exports to Asia totaled $273,000,000. But Asia shipped us about $161,000,000 more than we shipped her.

We sell Europe more than she sells us. We sell Asia and South American less than they sell us. Logically the situation should be reversed, for it's only by importing more than we export that we can ever hope to get back what we have loaned Europe.

BOLL WEEVIL CONFERENCE

A statewide concerted effort to control the boll weevil will be started at a conference in Dallas Saturday called by the Texas chamber of commerce.

The boll weevil is making an industrial and financial problem in Texas and throughout the south that is of great seriousness and whatever method is finally found for combating this pest, it can only be successful if generally and systematically applied. The conference at Dallas is a step toward such a general and systematic campaign. It is a matter of vital concern and one in which the entire state should be interested.

OH, WHAT IS SO RARE AS A QUIET DAY IN IRELAND?

I shall never cease to wonder at the marvelousness of the telephone. And the thing that mystifies me most is not that a voice can be sent across a wire, but that my friend's voice may be sent, exactly as it is.

Tonight I "listened in" to a beautiful concert. I merely touched the buttons of a simple machine in my library and heard music that was as sweet and clear as though sung within the room itself—though it was actually almost fifty miles away. And I got it through that little instrument attached by a wire from my window to a tall tree in my yard.

A friend handed me a magazine in which I have read a most interesting article headed "The Heart-beat of a Plant." Sir J. C. Bose, the noted Hindu plant biologist, says that plants and trees have a heart beat similar to that of animals and human beings, with this exception, that the beat in the plant or tree is accomplished by minute coils, "each of which expands and contracts with a throbbing action, continually drawing up water from below and expelling it upward to the next cell."

No matter where we go, whether to the rocks which have implanted within themselves the history of millions of years and the unwritten stories of countless events of living beings, or whether we seek the color in the flower or the story within the clouds, behind the stars, or about the daily life of the tiniest insect, still may we find that which speaks to the soul of mysteries yet to be unfolded.

Volumes have been written on the life of the bee, and yet a new thing has been recently observed—that the bees have a language! Experiments by Prof. Karl von Frisch, explained in a review in "The Scientific American," tells about it. And this language is the language of touch.

Each year finds us richer in knowledge of the unfolding mysteries of life.

Our fathers would "blink" a thousand times over at the great discoveries and inventions of this day could they be permitted but an hour of what we have constantly before our very eyes.

All life is an unfolding. As age creeps upon us, we see in clearer ways. Our attitude is not so confusing to those about us. We are sounder in opinion and gentler in action. Our natures are softened—because we have grown bigger, and understand through knowledge and experience.

How wonderful is the unfolding of a character! Especially if it is a beautiful character.

SCHOOLS IN THE UNITED STATES

"When the suburban vacation had packed up his school books he reverts little of the years of struggle and slow development that have given him the excellent public school system of today," says the National Geographical society in a bulletin issued from its Washington, D. C., headquarters.

"It took years to break down the prejudice against building up a free institution where the rich and the poor alike might obtain instruction, and in some of the colonies the fight was a more formidable one than in others. Massachusetts, always serious in purpose because her settlers had come primarily to make a permanent home in the new world, in 1657 passed a law requiring every town of 50 householders to maintain a teacher who could instruct pupils in reading and writing. More pretentious communities of 100 householders should have a grammar school. The rest of the colonies followed with much the same law in 1650.

English and Dutch Dissidents. "New York was not so progressive in the early days because there was disagreement between the Dutch and the English as to how the school system should be worked out. New Jersey was wiser in her generation and in 1682 passed laws providing for the establishment of schools. The problem in Pennsylvania was much the same as that in New York, and in most of the colonies the education of which poor laborer or craftsman in getting his meals out among the patrons of his school existed as a vivid reality, the support of the school as well as of the master depending almost entirely upon the generosity of the patrons.

"In the south it may be said that there were virtually no public schools prior to the revolution and few before the civil war. While England still governed the Atlantic seaboard of her kings, through the commissioners for the foreign plantations, inquired into the state of education in his possession. The Duke of Devonshire, in 1733, visited the plantations of Virginia, together with his notorious behavior in suppressing Bacon's rebellion, are remembered in the annals of history. I thank God there are no free schools or printing presses, and hope we shall not have these hundred years hence.

Connected a Pioneer. "On the other hand, Connecticut's governor proudly answered, 'One-fourth the annual revenue of the colony is laid out in maintaining free schools for the education of our children.' But in this connection it must always be remembered that as long as slavery existed in the southern states, which made large and very far apart, the common school could not exist. And even today, as was the case after the emancipation of negroes, the south has not solved the problem of maintaining separate schools for the different elements of her population.

"Just from the time of Washington and Jefferson it gradually became apparent that the system would prove one of the most effective institutions in determining the character of our national life. And that fact is probably what was in the mind of the father of his country when he said in his farewell address, 'Promote them as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge. In proportion as the science of letters and arts is advanced, the public opinion is enlightened.'

"When common schools were first founded in America, it is doubtful whether any such far-seeing purpose was in the minds of the men who were their founders, however. The Connecticut statute of 1695 does not fail to enlighten us as to the true purpose, that instruction may not be buried in the grave of our forefathers, public schools should be provided for.

New European Schools Differ. "They were democratic at least to the point of demanding that the same sort of training should be available to everyone—a definite department from the system that had been gradually growing up in Germany. Sharp, short, flamed on the continent, where even until the time of the world war, though the country is classed as one of the most literate in other parts of the common family from the age of six went to the Volksschule and the boy of the aristocratic family in the various states had another situation. From the very first day their respective school houses the line of the main deck of a small steam vessel drawn. A professor of one of the most learned universities in that country remarked in astonishment upon the number of students in American high schools. 'Such number of students in German higher schools would be the gravest kind of a social menace.'

"Perhaps the most interesting phases and in a sense one of the most distinctive of the American system is that the schools in the various states have developed along independent and individual lines. As a consequence there has been a friendly rivalry, which, together with suggestions drawn from the experience of each other, has made the American system of public schools such a vital factor in the education of the American citizen and in placing the system itself in the forefront among public schools the world over."

Ladies, this will be a season of Browns, says Ora Cne, famous milliner and designer. Brown takes the place of black. Colors next in favor are all in shades of blue, from foot-blue. Among metallic shades, aluminum and platinum lead.

Playing a photograph in the doorway of a store, to attract trade, annoys a gentleman in Suffolk, Mass. He has a retail shoe store across the street from the talking machine, and goes to court when the canned music sets his nerves on edge.

The judge agrees that continual music in a nuisance, so makes the photograph owner put on the soft pedal.

Injunctions against unnecessary noise will be common a few years from now in cities where more than hurry, is what makes city dwellers nervous.

Liane the Lone Wolf

by Louis Joseph Vance

CHAPTER XVIII. Bussanessing a la Mode.

Ten minutes after their arrival in Cherbourg, Liane, Lanyard and Jules had darted up a gangplank to the main deck of a small steam vessel, excessively neat and smart.

Lanyard stopped short with his hand on the mahogany hand rail. "Liane, Liane! Haven't I stumbled into the wrong pew? This is a private yacht."

"It is the little ship of a dear friend, Monsieur, who generously permits me to share his cabin. Very soon you shall know."

A door had opened in the after-partition, two men had entered. Above the white tunic and trousers of a ship's officer, he recognized the tragicomic mask of the soldier-diant Mr. Phinuit.

From this last Lanyard received a good-natured nod, while Monk proceeded directly to Liane Delorme and bowed low over the hand which she languidly lifted to be saluted.

"My dear friend!" he said in his sonorous voice. "In another hour I should have begun to grow anxious about you."

"You would have had two hours reason, monsieur. It is not two hours since I have been engaged in a game of cards with the stenderest margin, and thanks solely to this gentleman here."

"The educated eyebrows expressed any number of emotions. Monk's hand was cordially extended. "But I am enchanted, Monsieur Delorme, to welcome on board the sloop the brother of your charming sister."

Lanyard resigned limp fingers to his clasps.

"And most public-spirited of you, I'm sure, Captain Monk, let me introduce you to Liane."

"Forgive me if I seem confused, but I thought you told me Mister Whittaker Monk had sailed for America a week ago."

"And so he did," the captain agreed blandly. "Mr. Monk, the owner, is my first cousin. You see in me merely the skipper of my wealthy kinsman's yacht."

"And your two names are the same—yours and your cousin's? You're both Whittaker Monks?"

"It is a favorite name in our family, monsieur."

Lanyard wagged his head in solemn admiration. "I'm glad to meet you to your bare face," said Monk. "Add now suppose we adjourn to the skipper's quarters, where we can improve one another's acquaintance."

Lanyard remarked that there were places laid for four. He had been expected, then. Neither Monk nor are now quiet, but that the Argentinians had resorted to bomb throwings and shooting in many ways, except the chance of massacre.

REECE IS IN CHIEF OF A REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENT

Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Greece is in a grip of a revolutionary movement and King Constantine is reported to have abdicated.

At least part of the navy has gone against the government and several warships and transports manned by revolutionaries are being sent to the Aegean islands, where the revolt originated.

Definite advice from Athens are being received, indicating that a censorship is in effect.

The revolutionary movement is headed by an officer named Genatas, who is described as a general and a colonel who organized the soldiers in the islands of Mytilene and Chios, off the Smyrna coast, to which they moved following their crushing defeat by the Turkish nationalists.

In order for the demobilization of these troops to have been the immediate cause of their mutiny.

The revolt quickly spread to the Aegean and many of the warships refused to answer queries sent out by the admiralty. An airplane appeared over Athens and showed the city and the pamphlets signed by Genatas demanding the resignation of the government and the abdication of the king. This created a tumult in the capital and crowds surged through the streets and about the public buildings. Then a number of warships started for Athens.

A large number of troops mutinied at Saloniki, but this development is said to have taken the form of a military organization organized in Thrace against the Turkish nationalists.

Officials here believe former Premier Venizelos has had no part in the revolt. Because of his importance, however, and his large personal following in Greece, it is stated that he will hardly be able to avert figuring in the subsequent developments.

INDICATION OF THE KING INDICATED IN DISPATCHES

PARIS, Sept. 27.—The abdication of King Constantine of Greece was indicated in Athens dispatches received by the Times and dated midnight last night.

The revolutionary movement headed by General Genatas and Constantine is reported to be threatening these and two of their ships and landed troops near the capital which is an undefended military.

The government is believed to be seeking refuge in the embassies of Crown Prince George.

MORE TURKISH TROOPS DRIFT TO CHANAK SONS

LONDON, Sept. 27.—More Turkish nationalist troops have drifted to the Chanak zone, according to official advice from Constantinople today. This news is regarded as aggravating the situation much, and the opinion was expressed in these quarters that trouble would be provoked.

The word has yet been received from Kemal Pasha in answer to the ultimatum giving him 48 hours for the removal of the troops in this zone, but the British are inclined to give him all possible leeway to avoid a clash.

WORKS WILL DEMAND EVACUATION OF THRACE

PARIS, Sept. 27.—The Angora government has decided to evacuate the works in Thrace, according to a statement attributed to the figure to Ferid Bey, Kemal's representative in France. This step has been decided upon, he said, because it was certain the Greeks were preparing for systematic destruction of the country and had already arrested and sent to Greece a number of prominent Turks to be held in exchange for Greek prisoners in Turkey.

Ferid Bey declared the Turks had not recognized establishment of a neutral zone and added:

"If the Kemal government accepts the zone you may be sure it will respect it. In any case, acceptance might coincide only with the meeting of the preliminary armistice conference where we shall demand evacuation of Thrace and restoration of the country to Ottoman administration, and also the return of Constantinople, although perhaps our troops might not enter the capital."

KING CONSTANTINE ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF CABINET

ATHENS, Sept. 27.—King Constantine has accepted the resignation of the cabinet, which quickly followed the receipt of two ultimatums from the cruiser Lemnos.

In accepting the resignation the king demanded the cabinet and the resignation of the cabinet would bring, as a result, civil war in Greece.

DEMAND DISSOLUTION OF THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY

ATHENS, Sept. 27.—An ultimatum from the warship Lemnos, which arrived at Laurium, on the peninsula southeast of Athens, with revolting troops, demanded the dissolution of the national assembly and the formation of a people's cabinet friendly to the nationalist cause.

A second ultimatum declared it was considered the national assembly had already been dissolved and it demanded the creation of a provisional cabinet whose members would be appointed by the revolutionaries.

If no favorable reply had been received by midnight it was declared, disembarkation would be begun.

General Papoulas, recently appointed military governor of the Thracian peninsula, proceeded to Laurium to negotiate with the revolutionaries.

Neither ultimatum spoke of the abdication of King Constantine, which was mentioned only yesterday in the airplane manifesto.

The royalists believe the abdication of the king in favor of the new prince should not be excused from the possibilities.

NATIONALIST LEADER IS CONCENTRATING HIS ARMY

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—While the Anatolian army at Smyrna is completing its reply to the allied note the nationalist army continues concentration of troops on the island and Chanak lines.

A FALL FASHION FLIER

Mustapha Kemal Pasha now has 1100 men in Kum Kaleh, at the mouth of the Dardanelles; 5000 at Adramytti, 50 miles southeast of Chanak; 10,000 in the intervening Sanjak of Karassi and considerable forces in other areas.

The nationalist leader expects these concentrations to be completed by September 30, the time set for the final evacuation of refugees from Smyrna. It is considered significant here that General Noureddin Pasha, military governor of Smyrna, has declared he cannot guarantee the lives of the Christians in Smyrna after that date.

This is taken to mean that the Kemalists want to clear decks for action if the allies reject their reply. The British are no less busy strengthening their lines and checking every move made by the nationalist forces and general submarines and naval units are daily augmenting their forces and inversely impairing Mustapha Kemal's chances of success by attacking the straits.

The sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus are deluged with the most modern war craft, the concentration rivaling that of the fateful days of the Gallipoli campaign.

The British fleet now includes six dreadnoughts, seven battle cruisers, twenty destroyers and general submarines and giant aircraft carriers. The assembly of this great armada forces to upwards of 20,000 men have quieted the frayed nerves of the anxious Christian population of the capital.

The Sultan's cabinet met in special session yesterday and decided not to retire unless so ordered by the Kemal government.

NUMBER OF GREEK WARSHIPS PROCEEDING TOWARD ATHENS

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A number of Greek warships and transports manned by revolutionaries have left the island of Mytilene, off the coast of Smyrna, and are proceeding toward Athens, according to messages from authoritative sources received here.

The first intimation that the movement are being arrested, it is added.

The immediate cause of the revolt was an order for the demobilization of the soldiers who had been ordered to these islands, the men wishing to keep their rifles as trophies or perhaps for personal protection.

The first intimation that the authorities in Athens had of the movement was the appearance of an airplane over the city, which showered pamphlets drawn up in the name of the army and navy and the population of Mytilene demanding the abdication of the government and the abdication of Constantine.

MARTIAL LAW HAS BEEN PROCLAIMED IN GREECE

PARIS, Sept. 27.—A Havas dispatch from Athens not timed there, received this afternoon, says:

"The insurrectionists who have nine destroyers and naval airplanes, besides two warships, Kilkis and Lemnos, have landed troops at Cape Smiton (on the peninsula southeast of Athens). General Papoulas has been sent to try to stop them."

"Martial law has been proclaimed."

"General Kouzis induced the garrison here to adhere to the revolutionary movement."

testee filed an answer in which allegations of irregularities in other boxes of the county were mentioned. The alleged irregularities as set forth by the contestant in the answer referred to boxes and precincts not mentioned in the contestant's original petition.

The contestant argued that viewing the question from the side of justice that the court should either grant leave to the contestant to file an amended petition or give permission to file an answer to the contestant's answer.

After listening to argument of counsel on both sides on this issue the court ruled that "the briefs should be taken off."

Attorneys for the contestant construed this to mean that every illegal vote cast in the primary election regarding whether an allegation had been made in the original petition for contest should be thrown out and not counted. The contestant's attorneys, however, took this to mean that it referred only to the allegations as set forth in the original petition.

An effort was made to reach an agreement, but it proved futile and Judge McKennis announced that he would give the contestant until 2 o'clock to file an answer.

In the answer filed by the contestant following the ruling of the court late Tuesday afternoon certain new allegations were set up.

In City Hall Precinct.

It was alleged that in Box No. 1, the city hall precinct, the presiding judge did not sign any of the ballots cast and that for that reason all ballots cast in that precinct were illegal.

The petition further recited that in box No. 2, four negroes were permitted to vote and that two negroes voted in box No. 2.

The answer recited further that if the allegation as made by the contestant that Charles L. Francis was not a qualified elector that by reason of the fact that he was the presiding judge in precinct No. 4 that all the votes cast there were illegal and void.

In box No. 3 the contestant alleges that fully 50 votes were counted for the contestant which in fact were cast for the contestant.

GREEK DIVISION OF 5,000 ESCAPES TURKISH ARMY

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—An independent Greek division, comprising 5,000 men, has been landed at Rodosto after a remarkable escape from the Turkish army in the Smyrna region.

At the fall of Eski-Shehr the division was cut off from the main body of Greek troops. After wandering in a famished condition through the bleak mountains of Anatolia, the men managed to reach the Aegean sea before the Turkish army entered Smyrna. Then they pushed northward to Dikeli, where they were taken off by two Greek transports.

Arrival of these troops at Rodosto allows the third army corps once more at full strength.

BITES OFF MAN'S FINGER; HELD ON MAIMING CHARGE

John Spivey of Newton was placed under arrest Wednesday, but later released under bond of $750 to appear before the grand jury of the December term of the 30th district court on a charge of maiming.

It is charged that while engaged in a fist fight with Dr. J. Simms of Newton, that he bit off the doctor's finger just below the second joint. Officers state that the finger bitten off was the middle finger of the right hand.

According to the officer's story the two men were engaged in a fist fight which ended when the doctor's finger was bitten off by the man charged.

CRIMINAL CASES IN COUNTY COURT ALL NEXT WEEK

The county attorney's office announces that criminal cases will be tried in the county court at law all next week beginning Monday morning at 9 o'clock. The settings will be announced within a few days, it is stated.

The county court at law has set aside the first week of each month for the trial of criminal cases and in view of the fact that a jury will be on hand Monday morning for the entire week the practice will be adhered to. It is likely that no more juries will be called for several months, and for this reason the court is particularly desirous of trying as many cases as is possible during the coming week.

NEWS BRIEVITIES.

A large attendance of lodge members is expected Wednesday night at the Palace theater to hear Dr. Frank Pincher speak on "Lodges." A special invitation to members of all fraternal orders represented in this city has been extended for this service.

"The Believer's Confidence" was the subject of Tuesday night's sermon by Dr. Pincher. Miss Harbison will sing some special selections at Wednesday night's service.

M. A. Doyle, receiving clerk of the Fort Worth and Denver, was called to Houston to be with his brother who will undergo an operation in the Southern Pacific hospital.

Attorneys for the contestant construed this to mean that every illegal vote cast in the primary election regarding whether an allegation had been made in the original petition for contest should be thrown out and not counted. The contestant's attorneys, however, took this to mean that it referred only to the allegations as set forth in the original petition.

An effort was made to reach an agreement, but it proved futile and Judge McKennis announced that he would give the contestant until 2 o'clock to file an answer.

In the answer filed by the contestant following the ruling of the court late Tuesday afternoon certain new allegations were set up.

In City Hall Precinct.

It was alleged that in Box No. 1, the city hall precinct, the presiding judge did not sign any of the ballots cast and that for that reason all ballots cast in that precinct were illegal.

The petition further recited that in box No. 2, four negroes were permitted to vote and that two negroes voted in box No. 2.

The answer recited further that if the allegation as made by the contestant that Charles L. Francis was not a qualified elector that by reason of the fact that he was the presiding judge in precinct No. 4 that all the votes cast there were illegal and void.

In box No. 3 the contestant alleges that fully 50 votes were counted for the contestant which in fact were cast for the contestant.

testee filed an answer in which allegations of irregularities in other boxes of the county were mentioned. The alleged irregularities as set forth by the contestant in the answer referred to boxes and precincts not mentioned in the contestant's original petition.

The contestant argued that viewing the question from the side of justice that the court should either grant leave to the contestant to file an amended petition or give permission to file an answer to the contestant's answer.

After listening to argument of counsel on both sides on this issue the court ruled that "the briefs should be taken off."

TEXAS AGGIES ARE HOME GROWN MEN

Bible Not Forced to Go Outside Lone Star State to Build a Team

DALLAS, TEXAS, Sept. 27.—The Texas Aggies, who meet the University of Tulsa here at Fair park stadium on Tuesday, October 10, Dallas day at the state capital, the considerably turmoiled football world of the past two seasons a team that is a model of home grown amateurism. This is some thing of a distinction in these days of suspicion. It was the supreme tribute in their New Year's victory over Centre, that they had been achieved by teams made up of native Texas talent upon whose escutcheon no possible taint of mercenary motives rested.

Circumstances made last year's eleven unique in that it was largely recruited from the two upper classes and of men who had been several years in college without making a letter. But back of that lies the fact that Dana Bible has no use for individual stars. He works from mid-September to the end of the campaign to evolve a machine. The men whose work has stood out above the team in the years that Bible has coached at Baylor, Murrah, Mahan, Woodrow Wilson, Murrah, Carruthers, Sanders, Fred Wilson—have been essentially stars because they utilized their value to the team.

Tulsa, meeting the Aggies here for the first time in its history, will find them correspondingly hard to beat. It was the all-star combination of Centre, flanking with all-American and all-sectional lustre, that crumbled against the magnificent team play in the stadium of last New Year's Day. The brilliance of McMillin and Roberts—the dash of Moran's team—broke upon a team play drilled perfectly to the end of the campaign and tackle—a team indeed that never missed a tackle on that fateful day.

Dr. H. M. Acher's Black and Gold eleven can be fairly said of an outcountering just that—a football squad drilled thoroughly in elements regarding the year may or may not have advanced.

Texas, however, is thoroughly familiar with Bible's style of coaching by now. The Tulsa team will offer it an opportunity to see a new coach and probably a new system in action.

Pats Counted Upon to Save the Dixie Series for Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Sept. 27.—Dutch Henry or Fuhr for the Mobile Bears and Joe Pats for the Fort Worth works probably will open the fireworks in what may be the deciding game in the Dixie baseball championship series here this afternoon.

The Bears have at their disposal three games to two for the Cats. The series only calls for the best four and so the game, beginning at 1:30 o'clock, may decide the winner.

The Fort Worth team won their two games here but lost three and tied a fourth in Mobile. The local team came in last night and was given a royal welcome. The Mobile Bears will arrive this morning accompanied by a special train of boosters and their own band.

Indications point to one of the largest crowds of the series, practically all tickets and standing room having been sold.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Giants 6, Cards 2. NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The New York Nationals made it three out of four from St. Louis in the last game of the series today by the score of 6 to 2. Nehf was hit hard at times but settled down in the closing innings. Groh and Cunningham both hit home runs within the grounds. Pitcher Haines of St. Louis became incensed when he was taken out of the box during a giant hitting rally in the fifth and threw the ball over the grandstand.

WORLD SERIES COMPARISONS PROBABLE CONTENDERS RIGHT FIELD—By Billy Evans

RUTH

Ruth, New York Giants—Ruth is not going as well as he did last year. His late start and several suspensions have held him back. Illness and injuries also have done their part in affecting the big fellow's play.

Although he is well up in the list of the home-run hitters, Ruth's plons for seven years, are the Boston Americans' longest disputant, having won back in the days of the million dollar infield three world's series, two of them in succession.

The other American league club to humble the National league champs twice without intermission are the Chicago White Sox, who a glided memory of their "cupidless" days. Cleveland with Tris Speaker speaking, is the only other contender in the younger circuit to win a world's series.

All the American league clubs except Washington and St. Louis—neither St. Louis team ever has won a pennant—have been champions of their ballclub.

Five National Clubs Lead. In the National league five clubs, New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Boston and Cincinnati, have won premier honors, the first two named twice each and the last three once each.

A peculiar incident of world's series is that seven of the 17 times it has been played the winner took four games out of five—the best four out of seven to win; three times it has been four to two games, and only twice have the winners shut out the losers in all four, although in the 1907 series Detroit managed to tie the one game of the series.

A table showing the world's series winners and losers in the 17 times it has been played, with the scores of the games, won, lost and tied, follows:

Year	Winner	Losers	Games
1903	New York Nationals	Philadelphia	4-1
1904	Chicago Americans	Philadelphia	4-1
1905	Chicago Nationals	Detroit	4-1
1906	Chicago Americans	Detroit	4-1
1907	Pittsburgh Nationals	New York	4-3
1908	Philadelphia Americans	Chicago	4-1
1909	Philadelphia Americans	New York	4-3
1910	Boston Americans	Philadelphia	4-1
1911	Philadelphia Americans	New York	4-1
1912	Boston Americans	Philadelphia	4-1
1913	Philadelphia Americans	Brooklyn	4-1
1914	Boston Americans	Philadelphia	4-1
1915	Boston Americans	Philadelphia	4-1
1916	Boston Americans	Brooklyn	4-1
1917	Chicago Americans	Philadelphia	4-3
1918	Boston Americans	Chicago	4-2
1919	Cincinnati Nationals	Chicago	5-3
1920	Cleveland Americans	Brooklyn	5-3
1921	New York Nationals	New York	5-3
1922	New York Nationals	New York	5-3

swings lack the punch and accuracy of last season when he hit all kinds of pitching over the fence and far-away.

Babe's physical condition also has retarded his fielding ability. In one department of play he is much improved. His throwing is far better than ever before. He has snuffed out several rallies in important games by accurate heaves. Bats and throws left-handed.

Young, New York Giants—Young is a mighty fine outfielder. He has all the mechanical ability and, in addition, uses his head to advantage at all times. Only recently, in a game with the Phillies, he trapped a fly ball, which so confused the opposition that a triple play resulted.

Young is a left-handed hitter and a mighty good one. He is a clever outfielder and a good thrower. Taken as a whole, Young comes very close to being the ideal outfielder.

There is little to choose between the right fielders. Ruth is the demon swatter, Young the ordinary style batsman. If Ruth is in a hitting mood his greater strength would give him a shade. If he's in the throes of a slump, Young would prove much more valuable.

WESTERN PREXY WANTS POST-SEASON SERIES TO OPEN FRIDAY IN TULSA

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—President Tierney of the Western league with a party of baseball leaders left last night for Tulsa, Okla., to attend the Western league meeting there Friday and to arrange for the post-season series between Tulsa and the winner of the Dixie series between Fort Worth and Mobile.

Tulsa won the Western league pennant.

If the Dixie series ends on Thursday President Tierney will suggest that the opening games of the series with Tulsa start in the latter city on Friday. He favors playing in Tulsa Friday, Saturday and Sunday and then concluding the series in the visiting club's city.

SPORTS SHOTS by Paul W. Barkin

To Help Amarillo. Tex McDonald will play with Rankin Johnson's Amarillo club this week end in a series with Oklahoma City. The proposed Wichita Falls-Amarillo series will throw out the Johnson managed to hold over the majority of his pennant winners until the Western league closed.

Setm on Coast. Walter Salm wired President Harvey Tuesday that he had arrived safely on the coast. That was the extent of the information, however. Nothing was said as to whether he ribbed up any deals with a Western league club.

Harvey Favens Cats. The Spudder prexy planned to attend the last two games of the Dixie series in Fort Worth. He said there would be two as he figured Fate would romp home a winner in Wednesday's battle.

Off Day at High School. The high school football team had an off day Tuesday on account of the circus. They're in for some stiff seasons the rest of the week, though as Coach Jones has all the respect in the world for the light Burk eleven. Particular attention will be paid to breaking up forward passes. The team was exceedingly lucky Saturday that Devo didn't cross her line on one of her numerous aerial heaves. It is expected that Burk will use the same form of attack, relying on speed rather than brute strength.

To Rebuild Panther? Will the Panther machine be broken up if Mobile wins the Dixie series? Many who claim to be "in the know" assert that it will. The Cats were unfavorably criticized more this season than for several years despite the fact that they set a new record for victories in a season. There are one or two logs in the machine which need replacing and it appears as if several new faces will be seen at Panther park next summer regardless of the outcome of the present series. Any club in the Texas league which finished in the first division could have made as good a showing against Mobile as have the Cats. They tossed away two games which should have wound up the conflicts. The Bears were entitled to win the last game, but that is the only one Jake Ats is seldom accused of pulling skulls, but he pulled one when he substituted Bill Stillbauer for Bill Whittaker.

Big Asset in Stengel. The Giants' good fortune this year, can be attributed to Casey Stengel, perhaps, as much as to any individual. It isn't fair to the rest of the team to claim that any one man won a pennant, but without Stengel, a veteran who broke into the National league 11 years ago, the McGraw men would have found the going much rougher. Stengel's comeback, if it can be termed such, has been one of the features of the 1933 season. He received his chance when McGraw turned over a small fortune and George Burns for Heinie Groh. Critics moaned at the time that the Giants never would come out on top without Burns, but George was never missed. Stengel hit around .400 just when Burns were needed most and his fielding all year has been sensational.

Tanks On Paper. One week from today about 40,000 rabid bugs will be trying to Jimmy their way into the Polo Grounds. For the second time in the history of the game two clubs have appeared in successive years and will face each other in a world's series chess (assuming that the Yankees have won). It is to be regretted that the city is to have all the fun again, but the best teams have won with these teams were assembled, and a horse of another color. But they were assembled and turned out to be the class of their respective leagues. One thing is certain, however, the Giants are not nearly as strong as they were last October. Pitching is the most important factor in a short series and that goes to be the one department in which the Yankees are weakest. The Yankees, on the other hand, are stronger in the box than they were a year ago, though the brand of pitching turned in last fall was not so successful. There can be no doubt but that the Yankees look like winners on paper. But so did the Browns a few weeks ago.

Praise For Rigney. Frederick G. Lieb, president of the Baseball Writers' association, in reviewing the work of the major league rookies this season, awarded the palm to Topper Rigney, former pitcher in last fall, who was not a "freshman" team. He puts Danny Clark on second base.

CORB INJURED IN EXHIBITION GAME WITH PHILADELPHIA. DETROIT, Sept. 27.—Ty Cobb was hit by a pitched ball and was carried from the field in the fifth inning of today's exhibition game with the Philadelphia Nationals, which Detroit won, 5 to 4. Cobb was batting for Cole, the ball striking him on the leg. Score: Pittsburgh . . . 002 001 000 Detroit . . . 000 020 300 Batteries: Yellowhorse and Westcott; Cole, Ehms and Basney.

RED SOX HOLD PALM FOR SERIES HONORS

Boston Americans Only Club to Win World's Title Four Times

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Since 1903, when the former national baseball commission was created, a post-season series has been held between the teams which won the championships of their respective leagues, resulting in 10 victories for the American and seven for the National.

Whether this world's series supremacy denoted a better brand of baseball playing in the younger league has been debated every winter in the Old Stove league with facts dug from the record books to prove and disprove the same assertion. Neither side has been able to "Tom" Marshall used to say, "with the same result and no casualties."

An fantastic as it appears in print the Boston Red Sox, rivals of all who are dependent, hold the palm for world's series honors, being the only club that has won the highest prize in baseball four times and one of the three in the annals of the classic that have won it two times in succession.

Also more fantastic, so it seems to the fans of "Sleepy Town," the Philadelphia Athletics, cellar-dwellers since 1913.

MARION HOLLINS IS ELIMINATED FROM TITLE TOURNAMENT

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Deluged by applications for world's series tickets, the Giants today began accepting requests for the National league "home games" at the Polo Grounds, including the opening contest.

The Yankees, although they have not yet definitely clinched the American league championship, also were being besieged by applicants but they were being held to await the actual winning of the pennant.

Prices for the series are the same as a year ago, ranging from $1.10 for bleacher seats to $5.00 for box reservations for single games. Tickets for the upper tier of the grand stand and for the bleachers, numbering 22,000, will be sold on the day of each game and only at the Polo Grounds.

TULSA ON TOP AS WESTERN LEAGUE CLOSES SEASON

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 27.—The Western league closed its season yesterday with Tulsa, Okla., winner of the pennant. St. Joseph, holder of first place for nearly six weeks, finally lost its place to the Oilers and closed in second place. Wichita, league leader last year, is in third place.

Permit For Two Dams. WASHINGTON.—The federal power commission today issued a permit to the Cado River Power and Irrigation company for construction of two dams in the Okmulgee river in the vicinity of Hot Springs, Ark. Upwards of 60,000 hp power will be developed by the company. An unusual feature of the license was a requirement that the company keep its reservoir with "top feeder" minnows in order to check mosquito propagation.

British Will Submit to Turks Prediction of Lothrop Stoddard

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 25.—The "essential" errors of Lloyd George in foreign affairs combined with the mad policies of the governments of western Europe are the causes of the Turkish situation in Asia Minor and the imminent danger of another great war, declared Lothrop Stoddard, America's leading expert on Mohammedan affairs, in an interview today.

What do you think will take place? he was asked. "The British government will be obliged to give Constantinople to the Turks and, very probably, France along with it. Very likely there will be reservations, on Turkey's part, with regard to the Straits. These, I think, will be the major developments; but of course, there will be much face saving on both sides."

"And if Great Britain defends Constantinople with an army?" "If England fires a rifle against the Turks along the Dardanelles, she will be heard through all Islam. In the great strength of Mohammedan war the British will be a series of explosions—each one a revolt against Christian rulers."

"I do not look for a holy war in the sense that this is a very organized, coordinated onslaught of Moslems on Christians. What will take place is a series of vicious revolts, isolated and independent in various parts of Islam."

On the other hand, predictions that the lake sailors' strike would bring about increased demand for United States wheat at the Gulf of Mexico in particular, tended somewhat to stimulate demand.
