GEORGIA RESIDENTS PAY A LAST TRIBUTE TO SENATOR WATSON

By Associated Press. THOMSON, GA., Sept. 28.—A clear sky and blissing sun, the body of United States Senator Thomas E. Watson came home today and was laid to rest in the soil of McDuffie county as thousands of countrymen from Georgia's backwoods united with prominent officials and leaders in paying a last tribute to his memory.

Brief and simple were the funeral services at "Hickory Hill," the Watson home, but every honor within the power of the town was paid to the departed senator. Rev. E. J. Porter of Sparta, formerly pastor of the Thomson Baptist church and a close friend of the late senator, officiated.

Thomson, a typical Georgia village, with its few stores, postoffice, bank and print shop, nearly all located on the main street, early in the day became the mecca of the thousands of McDuffie's followers. They came in automobiles, others behind mules and horses, while some trod many miles of dusty road that they might gaze for the last time upon the features of their chieftain who died Tuesday in Washington.

In the funeral party were the late senator's Washington staff; members of the Georgia congressional delegation and United States senators appointed by the vice president to accompany the body home. The services at the grave were brief and were in charge of the junior order of mechanics, of which Senator Watson was a member. The body was laid to rest near the grave of his father and mother in the Watson family lot.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Sept. 28.—Insanely ill was the defense of Mrs. Clara Phillips, charged with having beaten Mrs. Alvin Karpis. Mrs. Phillips, 29 year old widow, to death with a hammer.

That was disclosed when the public defenders, who represent Mrs. Phillips at her trial, set to open October 20, submitted to the district attorney copies of interrogatories addressed to 15 persons residing in Texas.

The district attorney's office will decide soon whether to prepare cross examinations for the Texas depositions. He will be asked of W. C. Cooper, Dan Ford, William H. Thomas, A. W. Gregory, and James A. Younger, Dr. Hugh B. Todd, Clifton J. Woods, Ed Wolcott and James H. Hall, Houston; Raymond C. Brady and Al Boggs, La Marque; and Walter W. Williams, Edgar Easton and Mrs. A. B. Strom of Dickinson near Galveston.

HASKELL TO HAVE FAIR FOR BENEFIT OF PUBLIC SCHOOL. HARKELL, TEXAS, Sept. 28.—The Parent-Teachers association decided last night to have a county fair on October 21 to 25. A mass meeting of the citizens was held in the court house on Monday night, when every business man present promised his hearty cooperation in the undertaking. J. F. Kennedy, one of the local garage men, tendered his building, which is very conveniently located on the square, for an exhibit hall.

The association is planning the fair in order to raise funds for some much needed equipment in our public schools, therefore a small admission fee will be charged for entering the exhibit building. There will be an agricultural display, also canning, baking and needle work booths to interest the ladies. Many other attractive features are being planned and this promises to be one of the most successful fairs we have ever had.

Haskell is justly proud of her public school system, and the citizens always respond readily to a call that will benefit the schools.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—A pension increase from $50 to $72 a month for civil and Mexican war veterans, possibly as a Christmas gift from Uncle Sam, is planned by republican leaders in congress. A bill providing pension increase already has passed the senate. Senator Brewster, republican, New Mexico, is its author.

RISE OF KEMAL Turkish Leader in Progressive, Not Fanatic Like Gandhi and Lenin

MUSTAFA KEMAL PASHA.

By NEA Service. CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 28.—There are only two parallels in the east today to the spectacular rise of Mustafa Kemal Pasha from a lowly soldier to the dictatorship of Turkey in Asia and confidence and devotion of the whole Turkish people.

One is Nikolai Lenin, premier of soviet Russia. The other is Mahatma Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi, Indian insurgent leader now serving a prison term for sedition near Bombay.

And of the triumvirate Kemal, whose military victories have aroused the world, is the most powerful and most stable figure. For while the personality of Gandhi is impaired by religious fanaticism and that of Lenin by political fanaticism, that of Kemal is free from both.

The Turkish nationalist leader was born in 1881 at Saloniki, Macedonia, then a part of the Turkish empire—a section where almost every progressive movement in Turkish politics had its inception.

Early in life Kemal selected a military career. At 15 he entered a military academy at Monastir, Macedonia. He completed his military education at the Imperial War college, Constantinople. He was elected to the rank of captain.

The young officer was deeply interested in politics and was antagonistic to the reactionary regime of Sultan Abdul-Hamid, then in power. Kemal became an active supporter of the Union of Progress (Young Turk party) and soon was a leader in the movement.

Later Kemal became convinced that this movement under the leadership of Enver Pasha would be simply a return to dark reaction under a different name. He deserted the party and became politically independent.

When the World War came and Turkey cast its lot with the central powers, German officers were sent to train and reorganize the Turkish army. They found Kemal one of their most apt pupils.

After the close of the war and Turkey's defeat, Kemal became an aide to the sultan. In this capacity he was sent in 1915 to quell a rebellion among Turkish troops in Asia Minor.

But far from quelling the mutiny, Kemal cast his lot with them. That was the beginning of the Turkish nationalist government in Asia Minor. The sultan officially pronounced Kemal an outlaw. Kemal immediately proceeded to put his liberal political convictions into practice. Asia Minor was placed under a thoroughly democratic government.

FATHER AND SON AND ANOTHER MAN HELD FOR MURDER

WARSAW, MO., Sept. 28.—Chambers Buckley, 18, and his son, Earl, 20, are in custody here charged with the murder of Alfred E. Lutman, a reclusive farmer living near Haxstun, 15 miles southeast of Warsaw.

Lutman was killed by being shot in the back twice and in the head with a .38 caliber revolver about June 17. His body was found in a thicket on his farm four weeks later.

NO SEWER EXTENSION AT BURKBURNETT UNTIL MORE PEOPLE CONNECT. BURKBURNETT, TEXAS, Sept. 28.—Trustees of the Burkburnett Sewer company met here Wednesday, out of town members present being T. R. Macfarland of Haverhill and R. E. Shepperd of Wichita Falls.

The matter of making further extensions to the sewer system was considered with the result that it was voted by the members present not to make further investments until a cooperation with the city council was secured requiring connections to be made to lines already in operation.

It was stated that a request was made to the council recently requesting that all open toilets now in use on sewer lines where connections thereto are easily obtained be declared a public nuisance and persons owning same be forced to move them and that such a request was refused.

The trustees state that their investments in a sewer system in this city will be a total loss unless the residents be required by the city to make connections when lines are laid adjacent to their property.

him in the position he is to hold. It is a position of honor and trust and one which any man should be proud of, regardless of the attitude of most of the people that it is of minor importance.

When I entered the race early in the summer, I made the statement then that there would be no slandering, no mudslinging or demagoguery, that my candidacy would be to submit the people upon their merits and qualifications. I kept that pledge and am glad that I have no apologies to make to any one.

My friends throughout the county who supported me, I wish to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to. I still have faith in my opponent, I hold no ill-will whatever. The sting of defeat is most certainly felt by me, but I do not believe that I shall hold it against any individual.

I regret exceedingly that the Ku Klux Klan issue was injected into my campaign or any other campaign. It has no place in politics and can but bring harm and dishonor to the community. I am sworn duty is to vote for the best interests of their government and uphold their constitution. The same intelligent members of the Klan will concur with me in this opinion.

Had I been a member of that organization I would not have permitted them to injure me as an organization nor would I have permitted them to have written one letter in my behalf. The same principles apply to all fraternal and religious organizations. I can truthfully say that I did not seek the support of any man or woman because of the fact that they happen to belong to the same church which I belonged to. I had rather be defeated by 10,000 votes than elected by a safe majority given me by an organization that has no place in the entire political kingdom in this state or nation. I do not make this statement in the heat of passion or with a disturbed mind, but with a calm deliberate and serious mind. I do not say it because of my defeat, for I said it long before the election.

A government of the people, for the people and by the people can be maintained only by sober, serious minded and intelligent people who believe in the principles of that government and will not subordinate those principles to the plea of an individual or set of individuals who have bound themselves together for the purpose of administering justice to a cause or cause wholly in the jurisdiction of the laws of our state and nation.

DOES LAUNDRY WORK AND HOUSEWORK TOO. Surprised to Find Herself Feeling So Well. Taunton, Mass.—"I used to have pains in my back and legs so badly, with other troubles, that women sometimes have, that my doctor ordered me to stay in bed a week in every month. It didn't do me much good, so one day after talking with a friend who took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for about the same troubles I had, I thought I would try it also. I find that I can work in the laundry all through the time and do my housework, too. Last month I was so surprised at myself to be up and around and feeling so good while before I used to feel completely listless. I have told some of the girls who work with me and have such troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I tell them how it has helped me. You can use my testimonial for the good of others."—Mrs. BLANCH SILVER, 99 Grant St., Taunton, Mass.

It's the same story—one friend told another of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MARITZA RIVER COMES TO FRONT IN TURKISH NEWS

LIMIT OF TERRITORY ALLIED POWERS WILLING TO GIVE TURKS.

LIKE RHINE BETWEEN FRANCE AND GERMANY

A Symbol and Bone of Contention Among Bulgar, Greek and Turk.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The Maritza river, which has within the last week come to the front in the day's news as the limit of European territory the allied powers are willing to give the victorious Turks, is described as Turkey's "fifty-four-forty or fight," in a bulletin issued today by the National Geographic society.

The Maritza river is like the Rhine between France and Germany, a symbol and a bone of contention among Bulgar, Greek and Turk. Each of these three peoples has claimed the Maritza valley as belonging to it on ethnic grounds and such in the ethnic mix-up in Thrace and the portion of Macedonia which adjoins it, that each has at least some excuse for its claims.

There has for five hundred years been in the anomalous condition of being Turkish territory, yet more Christian than Mohammedan, more alien than Turk. Moreover, the non-Turks, non-Mohammedans were more intelligent and more industrious than the Moslems, a fact which has heightened the non-Turkish aspect of the country in spite of the burden of heavy taxation, persecution and massacre which the non-Turks have had placed on their shoulders.

More or less unconsciously the Turks seem throughout their tenure of half a millennium in Europe, to have considered themselves engaged in a military occupation, and the towns and industry of the towns and cities they did not and could not compete with the Greeks and Jews and Armenians, and in the agricultural pursuits of the country they were equally outclassed by the Bulgars and Vlachs and the occasional Greek who was a farmer. Many of the Turks confined their activities to the cities where they were rulers or soldiers. Those who lived in the country never wholly shook off their nomadism. They were less efficient than their despised Christian neighbors, which led to many a pillaging and massacring expedition; for the Moslems, however humble their station, were armed while the Christians were not.

Eastern Thrace between the straits and the Maritza river is of little value agriculturally. It is an unattractive, dreary, monotonous plain, with here and there swampy depressions. Large areas of the territory are unutilized and in summer they give the country the appearance of a desert.

RADIO STATION AT THE NOBLE REFINERY PLANT

BURKBURNETT, TEXAS, Sept. 23.—There is being erected at the Noble refinery just south of the town of Burkburnett a powerful radio station so that the employees of that company may have the privilege of catching the broadcasting programs that are being enjoyed all over the United States these days. The station is being erected near the dance hall and the concerts and programs can be enjoyed during these events. The Noble Refinery company is also remodeling a number of their cottages and getting them ready for the winter months. They are moving in several new ones from other locations. A pipe fence has been erected which beautifies to a great extent a number of the larger residences in the refinery.

D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the church. Covers for 200 men will be laid, and more than that number are desiring to come, as indicated by the distribution of tickets so far.

Dr. Seaman's subject will be "The King on the Throne of a Man's Brain." Dr. Seaman has the reputation of being a splendid humorous story teller as well as an orator, and the men of the Methodist club are looking forward to a very rare treat.

The club, which is composed of men members of the congregation of the First Methodist church, south, Dallas, Texas, will elect officers on this occasion. Also, tickets for those who are eligible to come may be secured from Dr. Jones at the City National bank or from the church office. Any member of the Knickerbocker-Kay men's class or members of the church or has a connection with the church through his family is eligible for entrance. Dr. Knickerbocker states that he is sorry that he cannot invite the men of the general public, but the limited space precludes it.

Songs, stunts and eccentricities will add laughing life to the occasion. The biggest stunt will be the giving away of a baby by lot preceded by a baby shower.

MASONIC COMMITTEE NIGHT SESSION TO BE HELD AT FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

On account of the anticipated attendance at the meeting of the Masonic education and service committee, to be held in Wichita Falls Tuesday, October 2, the use of the Christian church has been arranged for.

MAJOR CUTLERSON URGES HEARING OF LOGAN LECTURE

Frank E. Logan, cartoonist and lecturer, will be presented by the young people of the First Christian church Friday night at 8 o'clock. It is said by those who have heard him that Mr. Logan's lecture is worth going a long way to hear, and coupled with his beautiful and humorous pictures it is very entertaining as well as instructive. Mr. Logan is quite a young man, but already he has made a name for himself as a newspaper cartoonist and as a lecturer. He draws the soldiers on the march, draws sunset scenes of no man's land and the many things that will remind the ex-soldier of his experience in France. Major Cutlerson thinks so well of the lecture that he has written personal letters to all the American Legion chapters in the city, urging attendance. Mr. Logan will draw some scenes and cartoons of some well known personages in Wichita Falls.

ROMANCE OF BOYS' DEVELOPMENT IS TOLD BY LECTURER

"The Romance of Building Boyhood" was unfolded Wednesday night to a crowd of several hundred at the First M. E. church, south, by Frank Gamel, specialist in boys, who is spending the week in boys' work here under auspices of the Rotary club.

Mr. Gamel sketched for his hearers the manner in which a boy's thinking for "fun" develops successively into a liking for play, games, athletics and finally for the competition of adult life. The boy's restlessness as an infant, he pointed out, is the forerunner of the activity, energy, power, and finally achievement of the later years. Curiously, he said, several inquiries, explanations, criticism, judgment and intelligence. The two critical periods in a boy's life, the beginning of adolescence and the arrival at manhood's years, were explained by the speaker. Mr. Gamel told of many experiences in his conferences with boys in various cities. Thursday night, Mr. Gamel will speak at the Masonic Temple at a meeting of Demolay boys and their fathers. This will be his final lecture here, as he has agreed to speak at Electra Friday night. He will give an illustrated lecture there on "Life's Most Sacred Function."

GENERAL HOSPITAL ALMOST READY TO RECEIVE PATIENTS

Electricians to install the stethoscopes at the General hospital will arrive from Fort Worth and begin their work Friday morning. With the exception of this and a few minor details everything is in readiness to receive patients.

It is expected that city and county officials will go in a body to inspect and receive the institution early next week. Those in charge are anxious to have the hospital open to fair visitors. Officials are undecided whether or not there will be a formal opening or program of any kind.

Bring Your Better Baby to Fair Tuesday; Silver Loving Cups Will Be Presented to Two State Winners

Of course your baby is a better baby; nobody who reads the newspapers and magazines and is in touch with a first-class county Red Cross organization such as this city boasts has any business being the parent of any other kind.

So bundle him—or her—up in his or her neatest romper suit and bring him or her to the Better Baby department of the Red Cross at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair Tuesday. "Babies" are classed from one to six years, and if the youngster can arrive on his own pedal extremities, it's no bar from the infant class.

Two handsome silver loving cups are going to be awarded the best babies in each of the two states represented at the fair, and an announcement from Red Cross headquarters Thursday morning stated that the entrants may be registered any time before the fair opens— from now on, in other words— if it is more convenient to the mothers. Babies will be graded strictly on general health conditions and weight and measurements.

The children may be entered on Tuesday between 9 and 12 and 2 and 5, and the Red Cross issues an urgent invitation to every local mother to help swell the tide of babies by registering her own. The baby department will be in charge of Mrs. M. M. Glover, head of the nursing committee of the A. R. C., while Dr. J. F. Paulos of the Washington City, A. R. C., will be an honored invitation to every local mother to help swell the tide of babies by registering her own. The baby department will be in charge of Mrs. M. M. FASHIONS

Straight lines, with skirts of about the same length as last season, was the characteristic feature of the remarkably good looking gowns shown at the fair. The dresses were the greatest attraction, however. Silver cloth, satin, and soft velvets were beaded and embroidered in the most striking manner, and elegant broadens and silk crepe gowns were aglitter with rhinestones and crystal trimmings.

The display of Drexel, evening gowns were cut on straight, classic lines, and elaborated heading and embroidery were also prominently featured. Still, the simple draped dress that emphasizes the outlines of the figure was also shown and was extremely well received by the big audience of American buyers present at this exhibit.

One of the best looking three-piece costumes shown at another French house is illustrated above. It was made of tete de negre cordelle cloth, trimmed with beaver, the blouse portion of the dress made in beaver color crepe de chine, embroidered in a Chinese pattern. The Chinese turban, and matching purse, repeat the same colors.

Meetings Postponed to Make Way For Texas-Oklahoma Fair, Nothing Big Scheduled for the Next Week

All of the larger woman's organization meetings originally scheduled for next week are being called off temporarily on account of the Texas-Oklahoma fair, and the indication is that the women citizens aspect is 100 per cent strong. A great many households are getting ready for guests during fair week, also, and much interest is being manifested in the daily entertainment programs which are to be given in the woman's building.

The Final High School Girls have postponed their opening meeting Friday to two weeks from Friday; Mrs. J. A. Kemp's Sunday school class has postponed its Sunday afternoon tea and get-together meeting at the Kemp home to Sunday week. The high school and Junior College Mothers have postponed their opening get-together meeting from Friday to a date to be set after the fair, the date this week. Other clubs and organizations which expected to open this week have followed suit, and evening entertainments, with only one or two exceptions, have been postponed until after the fair.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS QUEEN'S AUTOMOBILE IS STOLEN

It had taken the old wizard 11 years to make it.

The next thing the Fairy Queen lost was her automobile.

It had been given to her by the Green Wizard who was an old, old friend of the family.

It wasn't an automobile like you or I have, my dears, or like the neighbors across the street have.

No, it was a very unusual automobile, and it had taken the good old wizard 11 years to make it magical enough to present to the Fairy Queen.

Yes, it was magical. So very magical that it didn't need anyone to run it at all and it could think for itself. Anyone who owned it could make it do anything he wished by just wishing!

But there was one thing to remember. This wonderful automobile would serve only one master at a time, and the last person to turn the shiny handle just between the jiggamcrank and the thingamabob on the whirlligig was the only person whose wishes this wonderful machine would obey.

I suppose now that I have told you, everyone will be writing to the Green Wizard and ordering one of these wonderful cars. Because, without a doubt, it's much easier than having to pull handles and push that and push things with your feet and turn a big wheel and watch the road to every second.

All you'd have to say would be: "Magic auto, do not dally. I wish to visit my Aunt Sally."

And whik! You'd be there! Or: "Magic auto, please to stop And let me out at the butcher shop."

And there you'd be. Well, that's the kind of car some body stole from the Fairy Queen and she sent for the Twins at once to help her.

Last Rehearsal For High School Show Saturday

The final rehearsal for the minstrel and vaudeville show to be produced in the Wichita theatre Thursday and Friday nights for the benefit of the high school athletic fund was held Wednesday night in the theatre and in the manner in which the youthful and experienced "theatians" went through their stunts there is no doubt but that the performance will be highly satisfactory.

The minstrel, which has been worked up under direction of George Hodgins, received the most attention as the vaudeville show. The production is bound to be a gloom chaser as from the opening selections by the Boyer orchestra to the closing minstrel number there will be nothing but "jazz" numbers.

Those taking part in the main, will be new to Wichita Falls theatre goers. The program promises to deviate from the ordinary home talent production and the majority of performers will make their Wichita Falls debut.

Holy War Would Remake Germany As World Power, Expert Declares

Herbert Adams Gibbons, author, correspondent and university professor, has spent more than 10 years in Turkey, the Balkan states, Egypt and other parts of the Near East. For three years he has been a correspondent in Constantinople. Much of his time has been spent in interviewing the big political figures of those countries.

Gibbons is just back from Constantinople. NEA Service asked him to write out of his long life in the Near East some of his first-hand knowledge of conditions, the "inside story" of what is happening on the Bosphorus, the political battle among the powers that behind it, and what the result is going to be in the world at large. And here Gibbons has written the story as few other men could.

By HERBERT ADAMS GIBBONS
Author, War Correspondent and University Professor.

What the first Turkish delegation was summoned to Paris in the spring of 1919 to learn the fate of the Ottoman empire from the victorious allied powers, who were at that time sitting in judgment upon the defeated powers, it was universally agreed by the victors that the vanquished should be treated alike. Hence, they were told the truth about themselves when they made pleas for mercy.

The entente powers proposed to dictate a series of treaties, similar in terms, all inspired by the thesis that the enemy powers were equally guilty for the origin and maintenance of a war that had threatened the bases of our civilization. For this reason M. Clemenceau answered the plea of Damad Ferid Pasha and his associates, that Turkey be left off easily, by a statement—in his blunt, unvarnished manner—to the effect that the Turks had made a mess of governing and that history recorded no instance where lands once freed from the Turkish yoke had not become prosperous and better to live in.

HERBERT ADAMS GIBBONS

But soon it was realized that the settlement of the near eastern question was not going to be decided by the prime ministers of Great Britain, France and Italy held conference after conference, and the treaty of Sevres was not ready to hand to Turkey until a whole year or more after the German and Austrian treaties had been signed.

Then a startling thing happened, the full significance of which has not yet been appreciated. But it will be during the winter of 1922-1923 a group of Turks, led by Mustafa Kemal Pasha, repudiated the treaty of Sevres and set up a separate Turkish government at Ankara.

The entente powers sat tight at Constantinople. It was the Greeks who enforced the treaty in Thrace and who entered upon an expedition for themselves the possession of the Smyrna region, given to them by the treaty of Sevres.

France and Italy made treaties with the nationalists at Ankara, and furnished them with the military means to combat the Greeks. Great Britain cried out against the policy, but backed the Greeks only half-heartedly because a strong section of public opinion in England sympathized also with the Turks.

The Greeks maintained themselves in Asia Minor for more than three years. They became discomfited in Asia Minor, fighting not only the Turks but also the French and Italians, and they realized—so Occidentals did not—that Soviet Russia was also backing Ankara. The losing game ended in demoralizing them.

France-Italian Eviction. With singularly short vision the Italian and French governments rejoiced at the success of Mustafa Kemal Pasha. For the Italians the smashing of the Greeks meant the Eastern Mediterranean. A strong and united Greece could not be tolerated as a neighbor, especially since the Greeks showed great aptitude in the carrying trade, out-berthing the Italian mercantile marine.

For the French the ruin of Greek hopes meant the checking of a diabolical scheme of Mr. Lloyd George to make England supreme in the Near East by using the Greeks as dummy holders of Constantinople and the resources of Western Asia Minor.

Another strong influence at work in France against Greece and the Treaty of Sevres was that of General Lyautey, military governor of Morocco, who went personally to Paris to urge that the way to pacify Morocco and to retain French sovereignty in the other North African colonies was for the French government to back Mustafa Kemal Pasha. For was not Mustafa Kemal in the eyes of the Mohammedan world defending the Khalif of the Faithfuls (the Turkish sultan) against Greek aggression?

This argument was used by the Turkish supporters in England, who declared that enforcement of the Treaty of Sevres was madness for England—the greatest Mohammedan power in the world.

Weight was added to this argument by the publication of a letter from the British viceroy, stating that backing the Greeks against the Turks was making the problem of pacifying India virtually impossible. The 75 million Mohammedans of India stood solidly behind the Turkish Nationalists.

Force-Isam's Creed. There is only one form of prestige that counts with the Mohammedans, the prestige of force. If they get the idea into their heads that they can play one master against another, there is no telling what they will do while they are running amuck.

This is seen at the present moment. Owing to French and Italian intrigues at Ankara, Mustafa Kemal has the bit in his teeth. The entente powers can pull on the reins all they want to. It is too late. They are dealing with a runaway horse.

He will, of course, sooner or later come to the end of his strength and go to smash. But may he not bring to grief with him those who are trying now to pull him in?

If the events of the first fortnight of September in Asia Minor had only to do with the discomfiture of the Greeks we might look upon them without batting an eyelid. "Xmas Eve" has been thrashed before. The Turks have long been massacring Christians, and yet the world has wagged on.

But I write from personal experience, having just come from Asia Minor and Constantinople, when I say that the Ankara nationalists represent something far different from a group of patriots valiantly retrieving the misfortunes of their country.

Behind Mustafa Kemal Pasha stands the Islamic world, 300,000,000 strong, stretching across southern and central Asia and northern and central Africa. Behind the Islamic world stands Soviet Russia. Behind Soviet Russia, if they choose to do so, stand Germany and Japan.

Oh, the folly of France! Oh, the folly of Italy! Oh, the folly of England! And—yes, I must say it—Oh, the folly of America!

We are all in the same boat, and the waves are beginning to rock us hard.

In regard to Germany and Japan, I put in a qualifying clause. The victory of the Kemalists is of tremendous value to Japan, marking as it does the defeat of a European and Christian people at the hands of an Asiatic and non-Christian people. Its repercussion in furthering the propaganda of "Asia for the Asiatics," which Japan is sponsoring, is incalculable.

It is of tremendous value, also, to Germany, marking as it does the utter confusion of the European enemies of Germany.

Germany took her greatest step forward towards reentry into world affairs when Italy signed a similar treaty with the Turks.

There is no truer motto in the world than "A house divided against itself cannot stand." How can the entente alliance stand?

The Kaiser is cackling at Doorn, Hindenburg and Juedendorf threw their hats in the air when they heard of the recapture of Smyrna, and the murder of Englishmen by the Turks at Smyrna; and right beside it the news that France had withdrawn her troops from the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus. For is not the Dihad (Holy War) at last coming to fall like a ton of bricks upon the enemies of Germany?

All this does not prove that Japan and Germany are actually helping the Turks, materially or diplomatically. Quite otherwise, however, is the situation in relation to Moscow. Soviet Russia is squarely and openly backing Mustafa Kemal and rejoicing in the gullelessness of French and Italian statesmen, especially of the former.

Mustafa Kemal Soviet. All that the Nationalist Turks have been able to accomplish during the past two weeks is of supreme and immediate importance to the Bolsheviks.

Soviet Russia has placed herself on the side of Nationalist Turkey in demanding that the entente powers evacuate Constantinople and return the Turks to Constantinople is not an eventuality that has any other significance to the new converts of the "Little Entente" than its true meaning.

Mustafa Kemal in the saddle at Constantinople would give the signposts of the denunciation by Bulgaria of the Treaty of Neuilly and the launching of an offensive by the Bolsheviks against Rumania and Poland. Trouble is brewing once more in the Balkans. And when trouble comes in the Balkans, we know how from our bitter experience that Europe—and America—get into trouble, too.

Putting the entente powers out of Constantinople is only one part of the program of Soviet Russia. It is no more than the soup, one might say, in the meat Lenin proposes to force down the throats of those who have been gaming him, and whose folly in the near east has now given him the opportunity to get even with them.

Ever since the soviet regime came into power in Russia, the menace of Islam has been a precious weapon to be used against the "capitalist countries."

Inheriting the machinery and the opportunities of Czarist Russia to make trouble for Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, American, Lenin and his associates began nearly five years ago to use Mohammedanism as a tool to destroy the British empire, and to pry loose from France her North African possessions.

Northwestern India, the khanates of Central Asia, Afghanistan, Persia, Turkey, Mesopotamia, Syria, Palestine, Arabia, Egypt, the Sudan, Tripoli, Tunisia, Algeria, Morocco, the tribes of the Sahara, and rapidly increasing covered areas in Central and Western Africa—these are the countries, under British, French and Italian rule or protection or mandate, which the "victory" of Mustafa Kemal and the restoration of Constantinople to the Turks will electrically and galvanically into action.

If the entente powers were still united, if the United States were in the entente combination, if Japan were not interested on the other side (even passively), if Soviet Russia were out of the game, if the entente powers were not weary of colonial wars and heavy expenditures on taxpayers for adventures far afield, the Mohammedan world could do nothing and would do nothing as a result of the Turkish victory.

Ah! but those fatal "ifs"—they all hold. So may we not expect to see a train of calamities following the

YOUR POWERS.

Lulu M. Cargill, clerk in the New York postoffice, takes from Nina E. Holmes of Detroit the title of "champion letter sorter of the world."

Miss Holmes attracted attention by sorting 20,610 letters in eight hours, or nearly 43 a minute.

Miss Cargill sorts 30,315 letters in eight hours, which is better than one a second. And she sorted the first 23,500 letters without pausing. Then she stopped for a cup of tea.

Sorting a letter means picking it up, reading the address, recalling the postal route to reach the addressee, then tossing the letter into the proper bag.

Miss Cargill is 26 years old. She has been a post-office clerk three years.

Miss Cargill, you reflect, must have wonderful coordination of body and mind. A brain that works with lightning swiftness has automatically perfect teamwork with a body that perfectly obeys her rigid brain.

The body is a collection of machines, each trying to work cooperatively for the good of all. It is a more perfect system of government than man has been able to devise.

Miss Cargill, judging from her work, has what scientists would call "an extraordinary well-balanced system of endocrine glands."

In the so-called "efficient" person, the body glands speed up when needed and slow down when the energy of the body is required by the other glands.

In a boy who is growing too rapidly, as a result of abnormal activity by the pituitary gland in the brain, the other glands slow down and surrender part of their share of the body's energy. With most of his energy devoted to growing, the lad is apt to be otherwise languid.

Or, for example, you suddenly are in danger, which requires a quick use of reserve energy. The word is telegraphed through the blood. The message is sent out by the adrenal glands, which stand guard as a mobilizer of reserve energy. Other glands slow down, as if saying, "If the adrenals fall in this emergency, we all perish."

The heart responds to the adrenals and rushes blood to the arms or other parts of the body that have to meet the danger. This rush of blood is why "the face goes white" in a time of peril.

The crisis met and conquered, the blood rushes back to normal distribution through the body. The other glands "come to life." The sudden change makes the person, calm in danger, half-collapse "after it's all over."

MISSOURI DEMOCRATS ADOPT NEW PARTY EMBLEM.

The democrats of Missouri have substituted the figure of the Goddess of Liberty for the lowly donkey as the emblem of the party on the ballot in that state.

They did so for the reason that the Goddess of Liberty is a more dignified emblem and better represents the principles of the party than the donkey.

In some states the emblem of the democratic party is the donkey and in others it is the rooster. Both of these are common, utilitarian animals, and as such are emblematic of the democratic party which has always professed to be the party of the common people, but it must be admitted that they are lacking in dignity and outside of their commonness reflect little of the principles of democracy which are certainly better reflected in the figure of the Goddess of Liberty.

Missouri democrats are probably the first in any state to substitute the figure of the classic goddess for that of the lowly mule or the scurrilous rooster. The mule, which is sometimes known as the donkey, has an important place in the industry of Missouri and there is some surprise Missouri democrats should abandon the donkey as their emblem. At first thought it might appear that Missouri democrats have become a little high-brow in the adoption of a classic emblem but on second thought, when it is remembered that they have renominated Senator Reed, it is seen there is nothing to this change.

PRESTO!

Reinacker Hatfield is the talk of Italy. They had a five-months' drought over there. Italian government sent an S. O. S. for Hatfield, reputed to have made the heavens open and pour down heavy rains in various parts of our country and Canada.

Hatfield set up his rigging near Naples, Presto! Comes a young cloudburst.

It used to be—maybe, still is—a military saying that the thunder of cannon precipitates heavy rains.

Albert Stiger, the Austria, probably had this in mind back in 1896 when he invented the small canon that is used to start off and break up hailstorms.

Prof. D. W. Hering, writing in the Scientific Monthly, says he has investigated all kinds of "artificial weather control" and that he is convinced Stiger's method really works.

The canon theoretically breaks up the clouds. Reinacker Hatfield's method is kept secret. He was offered and won $4,000 in 1913 for making it rain at Medicine Hat, Alberta, Canada. And now he will bring a big roll back from Italy.

Scientists of the Mellon Institute in Pittsburgh are experimenting to prevent fogs. Laboratory results are encouraging, so the method will be tried out on rivers.

The method? It's simple. Spray the river's surface with a chemical that will prevent mists from rising and condensing into fogs.

Dr. Hering in his scientific article says that weather control by artificial means is not regarded as unscientific, and that meteorologists are not hopeless of accomplishing it.

C. F. Marvin, of the United States Weather Bureau, steps in, however, and warns farmers against swindlers in the guise of weather wizards. A large crop of these fakers is sprouting up, claiming to make rain, stop rain, prevent frost, regulate heat and cold and charm the winds.

Some of them may be practicable. But farmers should remember that the genuine thing always has its counterfeiters.

BRECKENRIDGE TAKES STEP FOR IRRIGATION PROJECT.

Another West Texas community has taken a definite step toward the development of irrigation possibilities in its vicinity.

Breckenridge is the community. The citizens of that place have pledged $3,000 toward a preliminary survey of the irrigation possibilities from the Clear Fork of the Brazos. It is expected the state will expend an equal sum in making the survey.

It is said that an ideal site has been found for a dam across the Clear Fork which will impound a great reservoir of water with which many thousands of acres of fertile land can be irrigated. The people of Breckenridge in pledging the money for the survey have shown that they are alive to the possibilities of irrigation and are ready to spend their money to bring the project a little nearer a definite proposition.

The development of irrigation in West Texas in the next twenty years will be one of the most important industrial developments in the state. And irrigation is linked with the problem of flood control, which is one of the most serious problems facing the people of Texas.

In New Jersey a choir leader was murdered. Some people can't tell the difference between good and bad singing.

TODAY'S TALK

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

AN ARTIST OF WORDS.

There are writers who make me not only see what they have written about—but feel the flesh and blood of their characters.

Few masters, outside of Shakespeare, have surpassed Stevenson as an artist of words. "Through no art beside the art of words," says Stevenson, "can the kindness of a man's affections be expressed."

The right words, aptly uttered at the right time—who is there who can resist their appeal?

The "pleases" of the child, the "goodbyes" of a mother, the "thank you" of a friend, the "I love you" of one beloved, the "you can" to him in whom you believe—how words reach into the very depths of our emotions and stir us to heights of happiness and great inspiration!

Take the simple words of Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech or his letter to Mrs. Bixby, what beauty of thought, what sympathy, what a negation of self in the expression of great feeling.

Who has not lived over again the great hours of the battle of Waterloo as he has read its matchless description in the words of Hugo in his great work, "Les Miserables"? And who wouldn't be a boy again, if he could be a boy with "Huckleberry Finn"?

But the greatest artist in words is he who has learned how to make people happy by uttering words that have no sting or cut to them—words which warm and ennoble, that encourage and uplift. For better no words at all than those which come with hurt upon their wings.

We take and assume great responsibility just the moment we form words into expressions and send them out into the world.

And these words shall live or die wholly upon the purpose for which they have been uttered. For people would easily forget mere words—but the heart that forms them touches them with an aroma of immortality. And so they live!

Jesus was the greatest artist of words who ever lived. And the greatest word He ever uttered was that of service—greater even than that of love, for love is meaningless unless it is made to live in service.

It is well to think twice before you speak your words. And then it is well to be definite and honest in what you say—not forgetting to make your words to walk out into the light filled with kindness. (Copyright, 1932, George Matthew Adams)

JUST FOLKS

LIFE'S SEASONS.

Troubles come and troubles go, Never lingering very long, First the winter with its snow, Then the springtime with its song.

Then the summer filled with bloom, Happy skies above us all, Then a day of dark and gloom, And the first cold frost of fall.

Winter follows, long and drear, Bitterly the blizzards roar, Then a robin's song we hear, And the spring has come once more.

So with us, whoever we be, Trouble frets us for awhile, Hurt and grief fall bitterly, Then it comes our time to smile.

Joy is followed by the tear, Grief and all its hour of pain, Then a friendly voice we hear— Life is at the spring again. (Copyright, 1932, by Edgar A. Guest)

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY.

Today's word is—Calf.

It's pronounced—kalf or kal-f. It means, in other words, on the first syllable, but with the "a" long in the former, as in "kale," and short in the latter, as in "that."

It's used literally, "successor," but is used in English almost, if not quite, exclusively as a title, applied to the successors of Mohammed, as temporal and spiritual rulers, now claimed by the sultans of Turkey.

It comes from—Arabic "khalifa," to succeed.

It's used like this—"With the English holding him practically a prisoner and demanding from him a policy in line with their wishes, and with the Kemalists, who control most of his dominions, demanding from him an entirely different policy, the position of the caliph at Ankara is embarrassing."

Yesterday's answer: "Pro-creatinism is the chief of crime."

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By LEE PAGE

This morning at breakfast I tried an experiment to see how much paper I could smelt at without actually smelting, and some dropped on my clothes and made me sneeze.

Which just then somebody dropped their pencil and their pencils and things went all over the floor, making an even worse noise than the desk, Miss Kitty saying, Now, whoever makes another sound, I don't care what it is, will remain after school, I don't believe this class knows the meaning of the word attention.

Which just then what did I do but smelt some of the paper, and sneeze, sneeze, Miss Kitty saying, Benny Potts, come up here, meaning her desk, which I did, and she said, Now, if you sneeze like that again, I'll see to it!

I couldn't help it, how could I help it, I had to sneeze so I had to sneeze, I sneezed, she said, Now, I restrain myself and save it for the proper time.

Well I can't do that, I sneezed, which I can't, and Miss Kitty said, Don't have so much to say. And she took a hold of my arm and gave me a shake, properly loosening some of the paper because, just then, I had to sneeze again, thinking, Good night, I hope I don't.

Which while I was trying not to sneeze, Miss Kitty, sneezed, ever heard anybody do, and she hadn't hardly did it was a sneezed again and everybody lifted like anything and Miss Kitty said, There seems to be something in the air around here, go back and take your seat, perhaps you couldn't help it after all.

Being rite, only I didn't tell her why.

Uncle Sam reports that during August he paid $183,000,000 interest on the public debt.

Liberty bond holder pockets the interest when Uncle Sam pays the money to pay the interest is taken out of his other pocket, as a taxpayer. Only consolation is that part of the interest is paid to people who do not own bonds. You help pay the interest, whether you get it back on bond coupons or not.

The attempt to popularize imitation furs is said to be part of the commendable movement to save fur-bearing animals from extinction, an armistice in furtrapping.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY.

Today's word is—Calf.

It's pronounced—kalf or kal-f. It means, in other words, on the first syllable, but with the "a" long in the former, as in "kale," and short in the latter, as in "that."

It's used literally, "successor," but is used in English almost, if not quite, exclusively as a title, applied to the successors of Mohammed, as temporal and spiritual rulers, now claimed by the sultans of Turkey.

It comes from—Arabic "khalifa," to succeed.

It's used like this—"With the English holding him practically a prisoner and demanding from him a policy in line with their wishes, and with the Kemalists, who control most of his dominions, demanding from him an entirely different policy, the position of the caliph at Ankara is embarrassing."

than when Lanyard had last seen her. Nobody would ever have believed her a day older than 25, no one, that is to say, who had not watched youth ebb from her face as Lanyard had when he told her of the death of de Morges.

"Later that night, on deck, pressure of a hand upon his own roused Lanyard to discover that Liane Delorme had seated herself beside him.

"I must have been dreaming," he said, apologetic. "You startled me."

"One could see that, my friend." The woman spoke in quiet accents and let her hand linger upon his with its insistent reminder of the warm, living presence.

"It is that one grows bored, eh, cher ami?"

"Perhaps, Liane."

"Or perhaps that one's thoughts are constantly at the Chateau de Montalais?"

"It annoys you, then, to shoot arrows into the air?"

"But naturally, I seek the reason, when I see you distract and am conscious of your neglect."

"If that is for me to complain of that! Always you are with your two companions; always I am alone."

"Do you imagine for an instant that I care you with such trifling?"

"And who am I that you should hold me in higher rating than any other man?"

"You should know I do," the woman breathed, so low he barely caught the words.

"Think what I owe to you, Michael; and then consider this, that of all men whom I have known you alone have never asked for love."

He gave a quiet laugh. "There is too much humanity in my heart."

"But you said in a dull yolo—" "but you don't say it!" She shifted impatiently in her chair.

"I cannot hope to escape my fate!" "But one imagines nobody can escape his fate."

"Men such as you, rare as you are, know how to cheat destiny; but women never. It is my fate to have learned too late to love you, Michael."

"Ah, Liane, Liane!"

"But you hold me in too much contempt to be willing to recognize the truth."

"On the contrary, I admire you extremely, I think you are an incomparable actress."

"You see!" she offered a disparaging gesture to the stars. "It is not true what I say? I lay bare my heart to him, and he tells me that I act!"

"No, no, my fate to love you, do not expect me to think of other men!"

"I was a fool to expect anything from you," she returned bitterly—"you know too much about me."

"Between you and me, Liane, you are distant, he was silent. And all at once she threw herself half across the joined arms of their chairs, catching his shoulder with her hand, so that her half-clothing brushed against his bosom, and its accented warmth assailed his sense with the seduction whose power she knew so well.

It Isn't Overwork

By DR. R. H. BISHOP

So much is heard nowadays of "overwork," or that college girl has ruined her health from too much study.

So the stories run. Most people, however, who are "overworked," are, properly speaking, simply victims of bad diet or worry.

They believe that because they are tired, it must be the work that is hurting them. Work seldom hurts anyone who is properly rested. It is the one big essential. Keep every organ and muscle in your body in trim and you will be able to stand any amount of work.

People who get all run down from overwork and then are forced to take vacations naturally improve in health while resting, but if they have taken care of themselves at work no vacations would have been necessary.

Why the body has a terrible load of unphysiological habits to carry, additional work is a strain.

Illnesses and disabilities are attributed very commonly to the less important instead of the most important causes. Consequently, the average health seeker makes the error of correcting his daily regimen in some nonessential respect. Great and permanent results require the adoption of an all-round, well balanced regime.

Don't say you haven't time to take care of yourself. Simply form hygienic habits, exercising all your organs, sleeping eight hours every night, and eating plenty of vegetables and fruits and your health will take care of itself.

The Texas Highway association's comprehensive exhibit will arrive Friday night for the "Wichita" home fair, it was learned Thursday, W. T. Wheeler, secretary of the association, wired that the exhibit was en route, and it is expected to prove one of the attractive features of the exposition.

It contains a number of pictures, models and posters designed to show the value of good roads, and the high cost of bad ones.

WOUNDED BANDIT IS ALIVE BUT HAS A SLIGHT CHANGE

EUREKA SPRINGS, ARK., Sept. 28.—Charles Price, wounded bandit, who with four companions was shot down following the daylight robbery of the First National bank of Eureka Springs yesterday, was alive this morning. He was erroneously reported dead earlier in the day. Physicians said Price has but a slight chance for recovery. Two other wounded bandits, John Cowan of Tahlequah, Okla., and Mark Hendricks of Parkhill, Okla., are in a hospital here.

No word has been received from relatives of the two dead bandits, George Price and "Cy" Wilson of Coakston, Okla.

A check of the bandits' loot revealed that the cash the robbers attempted to take totaled $14,000 and securities $60,000.

WEBER AND FIELDS HAVE BEEN KEEPING AUDIENCES IN UPROAR 45 YEARS, YET NEITHER KNOWS A JOKE

By JAMES W. DEAN NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Forty-five years ago Law Fields poked Joe Weber in the eye. That was their idea of fun. The audience had the same idea. A new genus of American humor was born.

Today Weber and Fields are reunited on the stage. The eye-poking episode creates as many laughs as it did half a century ago. Their brand of humor has become a national institution.

Each considers the biggest thrill of his life their golden jubilee half a century ago. The box office took in $12,000.

REVOLUTIONISTS NOW IN ATHENS

LONDON, Sept. 28.—British government circles today took a grave view of the situation in Greece, which was regarded as so critical as to overshadow the revolutionary developments in Greece.

The cabinet was convened this morning to consider a message from Brigadier General Sir Charles Harrington, commanding the allied forces in Constantinople, summarizing Mustafa Kemal Paasha's reply to General Harrington's warning against violation of the neutral zone along the straits. The reply was considered to be evasive and ambiguous.

ACTION OF KING COMES AFTER DRAMATIC SCENES

ATHENS, Sept. 28.—King Constantine's abdication came after dramatic scenes, with the palace surrounded by an angry mob of revolutionists demanding his de-thronement. It was not until the mob threatened to seize the person of the king, that the king yielded to the demands of the revolutionists and issued a proclamation of abdication.

And says, "Well, did you write the rules of the game?" The audience is convulsed at that line. Weber told me that he made up that line on the spur of the moment.

Take off the make-up of Weber and Fields and they are almost comical. Here are two men known to millions, their names a byword in the daily life of America, yet off stage they seem to be without personality, without vitality.

That is because the stage is their own life. They started when they were "half past nine," as Weber puts it. They have butchered the queen's English so much on the stage that they continue to slaughter it off-stage most of the time.

Each considers the biggest thrill of his life their golden jubilee half a century ago. The box office took in $12,000.

But each either of them about that, and they'll deny that they ever quarreled off the stage.

Bowie Legion Band Coming; Hope to Arrange for Special Pullman Cars

American Legion officers and members from over a dozen northwestern Texas counties will hold a district conference in Wichita Falls Sunday afternoon to make plans for a big delegation from this section at the national convention at New Orleans next month, according to advices received Thursday by Sam Beattie, adjutant of the local post.

Legion camps at Bowie, Decatur, Gainsville, Denton, Electra, Burk Burnett, Vernon, Henrietta, Seymour, and other points will be represented at the meeting, which is planned to stimulate interest in the '23 Orleans gathering, October 16-22. It is hoped to arrange for a delegation sufficiently large to charter at least one Pullman. If this is done, local Legionnaires can go to the convention and return, and occupy Pullman berth going and coming and while in New Orleans for a total of $23. A one-way fare for the round trip is provided, this being about $12.

It is announced that railroad identification certificates must be obtained, these being available for members of the legion, members of the auxiliary, and members of deceased legionnaires and widows of the inter-allied Veterans Federation.

The meeting Sunday afternoon will start at 3 p. m. at the Legion hall. All local Legionnaires are expected to attend.

LITTLE PUBLISHED ON GEOLOGY OF EASTLAND-STEPHENS FIELD IS A HANDICAP TO NEWCOMER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The excitement and elation of the oil producers in Eastland and Stephens counties, Texas, over the discovery of the Ranger and Caddo fields some years ago was followed by depression and gloom as it became apparent that these fields would be short lived. Companies that had made great investments and prepared elaborate drilling programs had to sustain losses, some of them staggering. Optimism was followed by pessimism. First the operators thought that every recommendation that they made for the successful development of the region depends largely upon him. Fortunately, the geologist's work is gradually becoming easier with better prospecting success. At first very few geologic facts had been published concerning this region, and geologists working there were compelled to rely entirely upon their own observations. Even now, years after the discovery of the Ranger pool, published descriptions of the geology are scarce, and the newcomer in the field is badly handicapped.

HI SQUAD GETTING READY FOR CLASH WITH BURKBURNETT WITH BURKBURNETT SNETLAND PONIES TO HAVE BIG PART IN T-HORSE SHOW

The high school football squad goes against Burk Burnett Saturday afternoon for the first official game of the season. It was first decided to play the game on the fair grounds, but the place has been changed, and the game will begin at Athletic park at 3:30 o'clock Saturday.

Coach Jones kindly requests those who attend the games not to sit on top of the dugouts or on the partitions of the boxes. Several boxes were damaged at the game last Saturday afternoon, and the athletic council of the high school is held responsible for all damages.

Police officers captured on Fillmore street and turned in to the station Wednesday afternoon a modern and well equipped still, several gallons of mash and about three quarts of corn whiskey. At the time the still was seized the owner was not at his home. As soon as he arrived home he called at the police station and made a statement. Charges were filed against him in the county court.

Fuhr Bests Pate In Hurling Battle And Bears Become Champs

By Associated Press. FORT WORTH, TEXAS, Sept. 28.—The Mobile Bears are baseball champions of the southland.

By defeating the Fort Worth Panthers, 2 to 1, in the seventh game of the Dixie series, the Mobile Bears won the Southern Association for the first time since the Dixie series established as an annual feature between the Texas and Southern circuits in 1920.

The Panthers won the first two games of the series, but the Bears, displaying the same gameness and persistence which carried them to their first southern pennant, retaliated by winning the four subsequent games and clinching the title. One game ended in a tie.

The final game was the closest of the series and was in keeping with the evenly matched play the teams exhibited throughout the series. Both teams played errorless ball. The Bears won by dint of stronger offensive strength and tight pitching.

Joe Pate, the Panthers' premier southpaw, who sprang into the limelight by shutting out the Bears in the first game, was again the hero in an effort to put Fort Worth on even terms with their opponents and performed nobly, striking out ten men and issuing but two bases on balls. These two bases proved costly, however, as both were followed by base hits and accounted for Mobile's two runs. Fort Worth's lone run was the result of a pass in the sixth inning.

The story of the run-getting is quickly told. In Mobile's fourth inning, a pass to the first base was followed by a hit to the left and Mulvey hunted single, filling the bases. In a series of quick hits, Mulvey singled, scoring Cotto. Huhn hit into a double play. The Panthers tied it in the sixth and tremendous applause greeted the winning run when Mulvey, who did very little hitting in the series, singled over short. Both teams had the opportunity to score, but tight pitching prevented.

The play on Mulvey's bunt in the fourth inning resulted in a general cleanup around first base and caused the ejection of second baseman Hoffman of the Panthers who maintained that Mulvey was out. Hoffman and umpire E. F. Feltner, who were but timely interference by others prevented further trouble.

Mobile will meet Tulsa, champions of the Western league, in a series for the Class A baseball championship of the south and west. The series will open in Tulsa Friday, according to an agreement made at a meeting of officials of the Southern Association and Western league here Wednesday.

High School Net Stars Win City Championship. Powers and Haynes, high school net stars, capped the city doubles title Wednesday afternoon by defeating Myers and Gallenbach, the pair which was expected to walk away with the honors. It took the youngsters five hours to win, 4-2, 5-2, 2-4, 2-4, 5-2. The first two sets were played Tuesday and when darkness interrupted the play, the winners were leading by two sets. Their other opponents pressed them to the limit Wednesday, however, and did not succumb until they had evened the match.
