ATTITUDE TOWARD LIFE'S OBJECTIVES SERMON SUBJECT

In preaching on "Christ's Attitude Toward His Purpose," Dr. T. S. Pittenger Sunday night declared to a good-sized audience that the attitude taken by a great many people towards moral and spiritual things is that it means up to them to look upon what they do with total indifference...

"The seeking of wealth is just as sacred as the ministry if the purpose of seeking it is as sacred as the calling of the minister," he said. "If the object of it all is merely to accumulate large fortunes then God will let those fortunes waste away..."

Europe Through an Editor's Eyes BY JAMES M. COX, EX-GOVERNOR OF OHIO

FIRST ARTICLE—A BIRD'S-EYE VIEW OF EUROPE

Every American has been trying to answer this question, which has an important bearing upon American industry and finance, but the mass of misinformation, propaganda and theories encountered by most people to give up in despair. James M. Cox, democratic candidate for president in 1920, and editor of the Dayton News, studied Europe as an American newspaper man from an American viewpoint. This is the first of his articles. Others will appear daily in The Times.

Regardless of what individual views may be with respect to international policies, there is a common desire to know more about the European situation. For this reason, consent was given to the request that I contribute a series of articles based upon the impressions which were developed from close contact with most of the continental countries.

Until this summer I knew no more about Europe than those who had read its history and what has been written about the present economic status. Our first article may have little interest for those who have been overseas. They are so vastly in the minority, however, that it may not be out of place to give some attention to those uninitiated in European travel.

From an agricultural viewpoint, Normandy is doubtless the most beautiful country in Europe. The diversity of crops, the pleasing, undulating character of the land, the well-kept villages and magnificent distances make a picture that is lasting on the continent. The fields have not been fenced. Cultivation of the soil is intensive and fence rows would make a considerable trespass upon fertile areas.

The average of live stock is much higher in America. Continental Europe, for the most part, has only mongrel types of cattle. In America we breed specifically for milk, butterfat or beef. In Europe, food, aside from milk, is not considered. The cows must pull the plow and make contribution in milk and butter. Holland, of course, has beautiful herds of Holsteins. The Jersey and Guernsey islands are yet the base of fine breeding in those types of cattle, but you don't see much of them on the continent.

Struggle for Existence Difficult. The Norman family of horses is in vogue in the northern parts of the continent. Belgium, in some respects, has improved the breed. The Suffolk horse of England is a refinement of the type. The saddle horses are fair. One would be interested in importing sheep to America, except from England and Scotland. The hardest struggle for human existence which we saw was in the Cevennes mountains, north of Avignon. To an outsider, the scenes here are pathetic, but the mountaineers, who know little or nothing of the outside world, seem perfectly content.

Spain. The most impressive governmental experiments now going on are in Ireland, Czechoslovakia, Albania and Germany. These questions will be treated later. Stripped of eastern Europe, it is perfectly apparent that central and western Europe must depend in goodly measure upon other parts of the world for a food supply. The average farmer has neither wheat nor oats nor rice to sell. Until Russia is rehabilitated, the demand from the western hemisphere will be tremendous, provided Europe has the means with which to buy.

The great staple is the potato. Without it some parts of Europe could scarcely have lived since the famine. There is some doubt about its origin. Authorities have traced its history, and believe it is a native of the Chilean and Peruvian Andes. It is found, however, as far north as Colorado in wild form. The South American claims may not be well based. St. Francis Drake introduced it into England in 1545, although Sir Walter Raleigh is said to have taken it with him a year earlier. When Francis Drake and Lewis and Clark, in their expedition in the northwest, found the Indians cultivating watermelons, he concluded to believe that food staples were originally pretty well scattered over the face of the earth.

These matters of European life are of no interest, but they deserve no place in the treatment of the more abstract subject matters dealing with government, war, peace and economics that will follow.

PASTOR DECLARES EVILS CHARGEABLE TO INDIFFERENCE

"It is nothing to you that right here in your city young girls are selling their souls, men are gambling away their lives, and sin is rampant out here," asked Dr. O. L. Powers in a strong sermon on the "Sin of Indifference" at the First Baptist Sunday night. The modern adaptation of Jeremiah's rebuke when he viewed the ruins of the holy city, "Is it nothing to you all you that pass by?" brought a response from the congregation and a number were added to the church.

Dr. Powers related in an interesting and effective way the story of the prophet Jeremiah and his distress over the destruction of the temple and the invasion of the holy city by hostile armies. He told of how this man of God would go into the hills at night and gaze upon the ruins of the city and search in vain for the friends who had been taken into captivity by the invading troops and return by day and plead sympathy and assistance by asking "Is it nothing to you, all you that pass by?"

The indifference of today was compared with that of Jeremiah's time. The pastor declared that the same indifference prevailed today. He said that people were just as unconcerned about church work in this city as they were about the destruction of the temple in Jerusalem's day. Church goers, who are members of some congregation yet take no active part in the work were included by the pastor among those who were committing the "sin of indifference." He cited the number of people in the city who were connected in no way with any congregation and yet the church members, he said, were indifferent as to their welfare.

He closed the sermon with a plea to every person in the audience, to change their lives of indifference and begin a career that would be of service to those around them. Dr. Powers left Sunday night for Orange, Texas, to hold a meeting for the Baptists in that city.

D. A. R. Meeting Saturday Opens Year's Work of Historical Club; City's Real "Daughter" Is Present

With Mrs. Eli Skidmore, Wichita Falls' "real daughter" of the American Revolution as special guest of honor, the local chapter of the D. A. R. held its first business and social meeting of the year Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. A. Thompson, the chapter's recent.

Mrs. Skidmore, who celebrates her ninety-first birthday this winter, was feeling especially well on this occasion and was very much delighted when the Daughters voted to send her to the state D. A. R. meeting in Amarillo early next month if her health permits making the trip.

Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. D. G. Whitney were appointed delegates to the meeting, with Mrs. Fred Couper and Mrs. E. T. Duff alternate.

The delegate to the meeting is to go anyway, however.

The delegates were instructed to make a contribution from the local chapter to the C. I. A. scholarship fund of the D. A. R., which will be completed this year.

Following the business session a social meeting and program was held. Mrs. Whitney gave a summary of the work of the local chapter, stating, among other things, that it was organized 11 years ago with 14 members, and now had 55.

On the musical program, Mrs. Paul Pond gave a piano solo, "Chamade," "The Des Amphores," Miss Beattie Lee Barlett sang a solo, with the violin obligato by Miss Vivian Barlett. Miss Barlett gave a violin solo and Mrs. Lois Parker sang with Mrs. Britain at the piano. Following the program a lovely salad and coffee course was served by the hostess.

Those present included Mesdames S. Y. Ferguson, Patterson, Fred Carter, J. R. Hyatt, J. E. Gardner, R. L. Miller, V. W. Cain, Frank Kelly, Mrs. M. J. Whittier, C. E. Beavers, E. T. Duff, John Pruitt, A. O. Scharif, J. E. H. Ralley, A. R. Watland, Young, Billingsley, Kemp and D. A. West, and Mrs. Evans, a special guest. Paul J. Pond, C. E. Deaton, A. H. Britain, Lois Parker and Lee Clark, and Mesdames Jessie Lee Bartlett and Vivian Ralley.

MRS. ELI SKIDMORE.

MRS. BYMAN CELEBRATES SIXTY-SECOND BIRTHDAY

Mrs. G. Byman was very much surprised Sunday morning on her arrival home from church to find that a number of her children and close friends had gathered at her home and prepared a big birthday dinner to help celebrate her sixty-second anniversary.

The dining room was decorated with carnations, and the table centered with a big birthday cake, surrounded by a sumptuous repast. Those present who extended their warm congratulations and good wishes included Messrs. and Mesdames J. B. Dollard and daughter, Marie; R. C. Galan, C. Goyer and children, Mary, Harry, Carleton, Catherine and Byman; E. J. Byman and daughter, Blanche; E. J. Byman and son, Edwin; and J. T. Lamb and children, Karl, Ida, Bernice, Mary Margaret and Arvell; Messrs. Mary and Anna Byman, and Mr. G. Byman.

SMALL MEXICO PLUMS ARE SOLD BY THE YARD

EL PASO, Oct. 8.—Tocuanotes are fruit. They are small plums, or apple-like fruit from Central America and southern Mexico. They are sold by the yard, or rather are strung on long strings and sold in bunches, just across the line from here, by the string. A string a meter long, about a yard, costs 20 cents, American money. They are shipped across the string.

Titled Englishwomen Succeed in Business

Some of England's most ambitious and successful business women are members of British nobility.

The Countess of Clomplund has opened a laundry she calls "The White Elephant" in the most aristocratic section of London. To keep her business running smoothly she frequently goes into the workrooms herself to superintend.

Lady Poynter, wife of Sir Amundson Poynter, the architect, and a famous beauty, is now an interior decorator. Her shop is in Beauchamp Place, London.

Countess Annesley has gone into the millinery business. She has a shop in London and takes an active part in serving customers.

Feeding color suggesting aspiration and stability.

Affect Emotions.

"When color is placed in a room in the intensive way they are in stained glass there is bound to be a reaction on those who enter.

"Flower motifs may be carried out in stained glass, and are lovely in a bedroom. I use little gray or black and much pure, intensive color so that my windows let in a much brighter light than the ordinary stained glass window.

"In my studio I have many pieces hung up as pictures. By experimenting with light effects on them I am able to get surprising variety and unusual effects. I cannot advise home makers too strongly to introduce color and light into their homes."

Though she finds great satisfaction in working out subjects and experimenting with modern technique, her imposing window in Grace church, Kansas City, shows what she can do.

She has studied extensively in this country and abroad, and has had many exhibitions in both countries.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS COMET-LEGS PLOTS AGAINST TWINS

They got the big rain-barrel, rolled it on a cloud and opened the top. Comet-Legs tied his climb to the top of a tree and slipped down to the place by a cave where Twelve Toes, the Sorcerer, and Light Fingers, the bad little fairy, were waiting for him.

Then Twelve Toes told him how Nancy and Nick had got the Fairy Queen's automobile back for her after Light Fingers had stolen it.

"And we can't do a thing," stormed Twelve Toes. "It's a magic automobile and I want it, but every time Light Fingers steals it for me something happens."

"If Light Fingers will come with me I think we can manage it nicely," said Comet-Legs. "I saw the twins only a few minutes ago, they had left the Milky Way and were coasting down toward the earth on a piece, smooth, broad moon-beam."

"Come and hop on my star behind me, Light Fingers. We'll go up to Bluster-Gust Land, and if we are lucky enough to find the Weather-man away, we'll take his barrel marked 'Regular Pourdowns' and dump it all on the earth."

"It will make the roads so sticky the twins will never get back to the Fairy Queen's Palace," Light Fingers climbed the tree where the star was tied, and got on. Then the two of them whizzed away through the sky toward Bluster-Gust Land.

Mr. Sprinkle-Blow, the Weather-man, was out as luck would have it and the two bad little fairies had everything their own way.

THE LITTLE ADVENTURER STARTED OFF IN THE DIRECTION OF THE OLD MILL. HE WONDERED WHY THE OLD MAN TOLD HIM TO KEEP AWAY FROM THERE.

JUST DRAGGED SO WEAKENED

Florida Lady Was In a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up.

"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling.

"I would get depressed and out of heart.

"I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse.

"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results. So I took one bottle (of Cardui), and I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up.

"Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right.

"Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it."

Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

Cardui has stood the test of extensive use, for more than forty years, in the treatment of troubles common to women.

TODAY'S TALK

THE GROUCH HOUSE By George Matthew Adams

I have a friend in Cleveland, an artist whose love of home rests just at the top of a beautiful hillside.

There are thick woods, open spaces, flower beds, seats hidden from beaten paths, statues, and winding steps that lead to a small out-of-the-way house at the bottom of the hill which its builder and owner has termed "The Grouch House."

This house has a living room with an artistic fireplace made of tiling of the artist's own design, a kitchen, a sleeping room for the occasional guest, and an outside, stone-terraced place from which to watch the birds and squirrels.

Many a famous personage has been entertained in this little hidden house. And inscriptions are written across the walls on all sides.

But now I come to the important point—why is this "The Grouch House?"

Well, in the first place, no matter what comes in this life—fame, wealth, distinction—there always keeps burning within us the desire for fundamentals, for crude "homey" things, for a romp where honest, natural instincts breed.

My friend wanted a place to go when he wished to hammer something together, or whistle extra loud when he felt like musing up things generally.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

After supper last night pop and Benny were sitting on the porch, clear without pulling any out on account of none being there, pop saying, "See gods, not a cigar and me before."

YOU AND I

Refreshing to turn from the bleak news and find an interesting item like this:

In England, consumers now pay for gas by the "therm," a unit of heat value, instead of by cubic feet.

Crabs in the North Sea lived in poor feeding grounds and lacked intelligence to move, so marine scientists transplanted them to places where they would thrive.

Twenty thousand bicycles a day pass over one bridge in London, and it is estimated that this doesn't happen in our country, though it might have, 20 years ago.

It's just another illustration of how America, mechanically and otherwise, is from 10 years to 20 centuries ahead of the rest of the world.

Several thousand reasons for this, including immigration restrictions and smelter pocketbooks.

Our imports and exports of humanity this year just about balance.

So far this year, about 250,000 people have left the country for Atlantic seaports.

Arrivals at the same ports, from abroad, total around 270,000, or 20,000 fewer than a year ago.

WHEN FRIENDS FALL OUT

GIFT OF A SHINY AUTO MAY COST A FORTUNE

By NEA Service TULSA, OKLA., Oct. 3.—A missing girl, a kidnapping plot, an alleged worthless deed to oil property, and the whole brought about by a gift of a shiny new flivver to an unsuspecting relative—all of these figures in an Oklahoma mystery, the disappearance of Millie Naharkey.

Shortly before she became 18, the girl with her parents and half brother, went to a mountain resort in the Ozarks. Her guardian and lawyer, Stephen B. Nelson, has not seen her since.

Search was then started in Missouri and Oklahoma for the girl. Fozie Red, her half brother, explained that some white friends had offered him a new automobile if he would coax the family to make the trip to the mountains.

JUST FOLKS

THE LOVE OF YOUR OWN. Pile up the wealth of the world—and when you have gathered it in, You must come to the home of your dreams, if peace and contentment you'd win;

Gather the wreaths of the throng, by all let your courage be known, But to be happy at last you must still have the love of your own.

There, in the house that you keep must be water whenever you thirst, Whether 'tis humble or great, the home that you build must be first,

First in your heart and your mind, first in the deeds that you dare, For never men's praises are sweet unless praise is bestowed on you there.

Guard it from sorrow and pain, close it to shame and to hate, Treasure the hearts that are there, look for their smiles at the gate;

Cherish their pride through the years, let them rejoice in your worth, And you may sit down content, though missing the glories of earth.

A home that is cheery and glad, build it, oh, brother of mine! Let the world think what it will, but your loved ones must know you are fine;

Starve not their lives for success, wreck not their love to attain, Some goal which you selfishly seek, or you shall have struggled in vain.

Give it your best through the years, tender and kind, and strong, Fill it with laughter and love, fill it with music and song;

Strive for men's cheers if you will, but bitter and dreary the cost, If the home you have builded goes down and the faith of your loved ones is lost.

"Was you an officer?" "I was." "Then you're spyin'. You're a cop."

"You're mistaken." "Ah, don't hand me none like that! You're a state cop, or a plain, dirty cop. And I'm not in any service, now."

"Wasn't you an army officer?" "Yes, Cap'n an' officer, go wrong?" "Soft stuff. Don't feed it to me, I told you too much anyway. I was babblin' drunk. I'm drunk now, but I got sense. By you think I'll run chances of sittin' in state's prison for the next ten years and leave five out here alone? No, I gotta shoot you, Smith. And I'm a-going to do it. O'wan and say what you want."

THE "MOST CONSISTENT FIGHTERS" WON 1922 WORLDS SERIES

Yankees' Poor Work on Bases and McGraw's Good Judgment Decide Series

By BILLY EVANS. POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The New York Giants will continue to hold the title of world champions during the season of 1922 by defeating the Yankees in the fifth game of the series. The Giants really went over to four straight.

The triumph of the Giants makes the third time in the history of the classic that a team has won the title without suffering a defeat. Back in 1907 the Chicago Cubs defeated Detroit in five games, one of them being a 11-inning tie.

The Giants won because it proved to be far the better team. It played heads-up baseball all the way, showed plenty of courage in coming from behind, got excellent pitching from a staff supposed to be very weak, and in addition got all the breaks of the game as a winning team usually does.

The Yankees on the other hand played in a half-hearted manner, and the American leaguers could not have won had they been at top of their game.

McGraw's Statement Made Before Series Vindicated By Giants' Last Victory

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Just before the opening of the world's series last Wednesday, John Joseph McGraw said the club with the most consistent fighters wins the most ball games.

His statement has been vindicated. The Giants, rated even by the most conservative of experts to have nothing more than a faint fighting chance of winning one game, battled through the finished "super" series of the Yankees, and four games, tied one, lost none, and are still world champions.

From every approach that could be made on paper before the first game was played, the Giants were considered a beaten, badly beaten club, the figures said the Giants had but one chance in ten of winning the series.

But the record books were wrong. The index didn't even carry the caption "fighting ability." Few men in baseball besides McGraw, who found that quality in his ball players and he asked his pride that he could recognize it when he saw it.

Already it seems an old story. It's been written every time men meet in combat. The score of yesterday's game, that decided the series for the National, was 2 to 1, but that's only an incident. Yesterday's fight was done in a matter of detail. The Giants won that game and all the others they captured because they were the "most consistent fighters."

Of course the Giants have ability. Courage without skill in the last of the series. They have been as useful as an untraded doughboy marching against a battery of Big Berthas.

Waited in upon the winds of the universe from all directions, including up, down and sideways, come facts, figures and alibis.

If you find a mistake in these statistics it is due to the old proverb—Figures do not lie, but they figure.

If the Yankees had not defeated St. Louis they would not have lost the world's series to the Giants.

If the Giants had not deliberately tried to defeat the Yankees the Yankees might have won the series.

Light Workout For Tulsa And Aggies

DALLAS, TEXAS, Oct. 9.—Both the University of Tulsa and the Texas Aggies eleven will be resting on their heels tonight in preparation for the opening big football game of the year here, staged tomorrow afternoon at the Hughes Fair Park stadium, which 15,000 seating capacity is expected to entertain grid fans from all over the section.

Texas arrives in Dallas this afternoon and is expected to work out at the stadium. The Aggies will put in their appearance tonight and will take the field tomorrow morning to get accustomed to the atmosphere and ground conditions.

MAKING UP ROSTER FOR ORIENTAL TOUR

Men Selected For Gentlemen's Conduct As Well As Baseball Ability.

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—At least three members of the New York Giants, new world's champions, and three of the New York Yankees, losing team in the series that ended yesterday, will participate in the tour of the Orient that has been organized to further the growth of baseball beyond the Pacific.

While the official roster has not yet been completed for the party that will gather at Chicago next Sunday to sail from Vancouver in time to reach Yokohama October 25, it is known that George Kelly, whose hit won yesterday's game for the Giants; Arthur Nehf and Emil Meusel, the stinging outfielder, will go from the Giant squad.

From the Yankees will be Joe Bush, who pitched two losing games for his team, including that of yesterday; Waite Hoyt, the sensational pitcher, and Fred Hoffman, second string catcher.

Other players billed to go are Tom Griffith of the Brooklyn club, Joe Sewell and Stephenson of the Cleveland Indians; Amos Strunk and Bill Hall of the Chicago White Sox, and John Lavan, St. Louis Cardinal. Names of all the players who will go are expected to be announced soon.

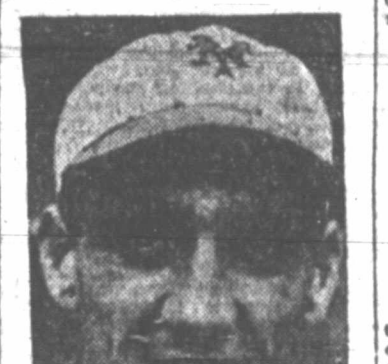

The men are selected not only for ability but for their gentlemanly conduct on and off the ball field and their selection is subject to the approval of Commissioner Landis. Games will be played in Tokyo, Osaka, Manila, Cebu, Singapore, Hongkong, China, Philippines and Hawaii, the players returning to the United States early in February.

Electric light was first used in America for stage illumination in 1878.

Hard Work Ahead of Red and Black Squad Before Vernon Game Here Friday

With the exception of Tommy Miller, quarterback, the Red and Black football squad came out of the Henrietta game Saturday in fine fettle. Monday, however, both players and coaches were not so well off. They received one of those thrills which comes once in a lifetime and there was no team spirit when the Red-Whites played. They realized fully that they were not for the break they would have been lucky to get away with a tie score. They completely underestimated the City county aggregation which put up one of the greatest battles ever witnessed in Wichita Falls and have learned the lesson that two much confidence can be detrimental. Miller was not injured as seriously as was first thought Saturday when he was prevented a touchdown by stopping Kerbow of the visitors while on his way to the Wichita Falls goal-line. Tommy's astrophysical phenomena when he took the count back has never been visible to the naked eye, and for a time it was believed he would be out for the season. The force of the impact knocked him out only temporarily, however, and he will undergo the usual treatment in time to get into the Vernon game Friday at Athletic Field. A team will come here Friday with a roster that is reported to be much larger than the one which faced the Coyotes Saturday. If such is the case, the Wichita boys probably be hard work ahead of them this week. Both Jones and Zandt are fully cognizant of the fact that this line is weakly weak and offers just about as much opposition as a line of tissue paper.

Gun Club Planning Big Registered Shoot To Be Held Here Armistice Day

As soon as the American Trapping association sanctions the members of the Wichita Falls Gun club will go ahead with their plan to make the Armistice day registered shoot the biggest event of the year in this city. A tentative program, calling for 150 singles and 25 pairs of doubles has been made and is being sent to the A. T. A. headquarters in New York and the association's mark of approval is expected within the next few days. One hundred dollars added money and several merchandise prizes have been guaranteed for the various events and since it will be the only shoot in this section of the country that date, many out-of-town members will undoubtedly attend. Prizes will be awarded in such fashion that everyone will have a chance to win something. The Jack rabbit system will be used for the benefit of the novice while there will be optional money in the three alternate events of 50 each as well as the doubles. Preparations will be made to accommodate at least 50 shooters. Among those who will undoubtedly attend are such such as R. A. King, double champion, Phil Miller of Dallas and Bill Herr of Guthrie, Okla.

FARMERS ARE PROUD OF THE RECORD THEY MADE

Five Awards On Pure Bred Hogs and Three Prizes On Canned Fruits and Preserves.

ELECTRA, TEXAS, Oct. 9.—Although oil and agriculture is usually associated with this place, the exhibitors won 43 awards for farm products at the Texas Oklahoma fair this week in Wichita Falls.

The fair is the largest and most complete in the agricultural department of the fair included elaborate booths representing Jackson and Tillman counties, Oklahoma, and from Wilbarger county and Clay county in Texas.

Looking at the booths, it seemed that the exhibitors had articles far superior in quality, but taken individually they were not as good as those of other exhibitors.

Since farming in this community has only recently begun to receive cooperative attention as an industry to be developed, farmers in this vicinity are proud of their record.

Not alone in the agricultural department was Electra winner. Local breeders were given five awards on pure bred hogs and three prizes on canned fruits and preserves.

OLD WOOD PILING SUPPLANTED BY A CONCRETE BASE

The old wood piling that made driving underneath the railroad tracks to the north end of Ohio street most unpleasant will be supplanted by two large concrete bases and a concrete span.

The Fort Worth and Denver railroad company has had a crew at work at this place for the past three days and it is believed that all work will be complete by Tuesday afternoon.

There will be no obstructions in the right of way of the street when the work is completed. There will be but one span across the street.

CITY SHIVERS AS MERCURY SHRINKS TO LOWER LEVELS

For the first time in such a long time that is a difficult matter to compute it, Wichita Falls shivered early Monday. Millions of little skin pores also told that there was quite a difference in the temperature under the bed clothing and in the room.

The mercury sank down to the 53 degree mark at 6 o'clock Monday morning for the low record mark of the season. During the day Sunday the highest that the temperature could climb was 74 degrees.

Throughout the district touched by local railroads the temperature dropped down to low levels Monday morning. The Woodward agent reported a minimum temperature of 50 degrees during the night while one agent on the Wichita Valley reported 45 degrees. This latter figure was merely a guess. The agent stated that it felt like it was only 40 but said he added five degrees for good measure.

Clear skies were reported from all directions. A north wind that came in puffs was felt keenly in the city.

Quit Making Faces At Your Meals!

There's one organ in the human body that "licks back" when it gets weak, and that's the stomach. No stomach on earth when it's out of vitamins-and-iron. The same thing is true about the nerves. There is hardly anything the body can do.

Stomach-Power Gone! Ironized Yeast Quickly Builds Up Digestive Power. You'll Relish Your Food!

To the nervous system that is not at once reflected to the stomach. Weak nerves-weak stomach. Nature has only one answer: more vitamins ironized!

Ironized Yeast is not a mere mixture of yeast and iron, but is yeast ironized, which is a substance all by itself. This is why Ironized Yeast produces almost immediate results in cases of loss of appetite, aversion to eating, indigestion, general weakness, and all the other ailments that result from a weak stomach.

There is only one Ironized Yeast in the world; it contains yeast-vitamins-with-iron-the very natural food-power which every strong nervous system possesses. The answer is ironized vitamin-ironized Ironized Yeast. It is sold at all drug stores at $1.00 a package. Each package contains 60 tablets; each tablet is sealed. They never lose their power. MFD by Ironized Yeast Co., Atlanta, Ga. Taste Ironized Yeast, and you'll enjoy eating and digest thoroughly everything you eat. That's life!
