'MOTHER, HOME AND GOD' SUBJECT OF REVIVAL SERVICE

By FRANK B. REED
With over 15 additions to the First Presbyterian church congregation, the two weeks revival service, led by Dr. L. D. Grafton of Austin, closed Sunday night.

The services have been extremely interesting, the singing led by Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd has been inspiring and enjoyable.

Dr. Grafton chose for his subject last night the three most beautiful words in the Bible, "Mother, Home and God."

The text covering that portion "Mother, Home and God" was taken from chapters 23rd and 24th verses, and particularly to the words, "Her children shall arise up and call her blessed."

The subject of the sermon was "Mother, Home and God." The speaker emphasized the importance of the home and the mother's influence on the child.

Officials of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad company met Monday in the offices at Fort Worth to arrange a new train schedule.

It was stated that without a doubt the early morning train from Wichita Falls to Fort Worth and the one coming this way would be restored.

Formerly these trains were known as train No. 5 and 4. Train No. 5 left Wichita Falls early in the morning and No. 4 arrived here from Fort Worth at 10:45 at night.

It is not believed that these same hours will be included on the new time schedule.

Trains No. 4 and No. 5 will be discontinued between Texline and Dever. It was announced. The railroad commission of Colorado has granted permission to discontinue these two trains.

This will only leave 120 trains in the morning and 120 in the afternoon. Train No. 1 arrived from Fort Worth at 1:50 o'clock and train No. 2 leave here for Fort Worth at 2:30 o'clock.

The discontinuation of these trains west of Texline will not affect the schedule locally.

The new time table will go into effect Thursday, Nov. 2. Superintendent S. A. Covington left for Fort Worth Monday morning to assist in the rearranging of the timetables.

RAILROAD LABOR BOARD RULES "LIVING WAGE" THEORY CANNOT BE USED IN DETERMINING PAY

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Attacking the theory of the "living wage" as a basis for determining the wages of railroad workers, the public and railroad groups of the United States rail labor board in an opinion made public last night declared that such a course "if carried to its legitimate conclusion, would wreck every railroad in the United States, and if extended to other industries would carry them into communistic ruin."

The opinion, in the form of a rejoinder to a dissenting opinion filed by K. O. Wharton, labor leader in the recent decision increasing the pay of maintenance of way employees two cents an hour, declaring that if employees were granted a 72 to 75 cent minimum wage for common labor with corresponding differentials for other classes, an increase of 125.7 per cent in the nation's railroad wage bill would be necessary. This, the opinion said, would add $3,112,952,287 to the annual payroll, bringing it to $5,525,454,540, thus forcing the carriers to face an annual deficit of $2,412,502,518.

Even if the 45 cent minimum wage requested by maintenance of way union were granted and corresponding changes were made for other classes of employees, the opinion said, an increase of 50.4 per cent in wages would be necessary, adding $1,245,296,294 to the annual wage bill of the roads, bringing it up to $3,725,844,540, thus forcing the carriers to face an annual deficit of $2,748,978,125.

Calculated to Deceive.

The phrase "living wage" was termed in the opinion as "a bit of malicious phraseology, well calculated to deceive the unthinking."

If the contentions were that the board should establish a "living wage," the majority would readily accede to the proposition, the opinion said, "and as a matter of fact, the board in this instance as in all others, has granted a living wage. But the abstract elusive thing called the 'living wage' confessedly based upon a makeshift and a guess cannot receive the sanction of this board, because it would be utterly impractical and would not be just and reasonable as the law demands."

Mr. Wharton's dissenting opinion and reply are attached to the formal decision increasing the pay of the maintenance of way employees ranging from 25 to 27 cents. The united brotherhood of maintenance of way employees and railroad shop laborers held a strike order affecting 400,000 men in absence last July after the board had reduced wages pending a request for an increase based on the contention that the costs of living had advanced and wages in other industries had been raised.

Refuses to Subscribe.

When the case came before the board, the maintenance of way employees asked the board to subscribe to the principle of the "living wage" based on a budget of what was required for an average family of five persons to live in health and reasonable comfort. A majority of the board refused to subscribe to this principle, asserting that the transportation act called for establishing a "just and reasonable wage" and that a "just and reasonable wage" was in effect a living wage. The maintenance of way organization asked the board to establish minimum rates of pay of 48 cents an hour to replace rates then in effect, ranging from 22 to 25 cents. After a deadlock lasting several days the board made public its decision formally handed down today, increasing rates of pay two cents an hour and adding about $20,000,000 to the railroad payroll.

The decision asserted that the increase was due mostly to the fact that the higher rates of wages were being paid for the same classes of work in other industries and that there had been no appreciable increase in the cost of living.

Fundamental Error.

Mr. Wharton in his dissenting opinion maintained that the "fundamental error" of the decision rested upon failure to inquire into "the adequacy of rates of pay established for section men and unskilled laborers."

He asserted that rates of pay in other industries of similar character should be made a secondary consideration and that the primary factor to be considered was whether the rates fixed were just and reasonable which he said meant an adequate and living wage under the terms of the transportation act.

He maintained that the law of supply and demand which operated in private industries to fix the price of labor should not be taken as a basis by the labor board.

The board, he contended, should find what should be a just and reasonable wage. By computing a family budget containing the expenses of the average family.

He maintained that the living wage principle was practical, asserting that added labor costs would be absorbed in large part by increased efficiency of the men and by managerial ability.

Pointing out Mr. Wharton would ignore the provision of the transportation act directing the labor board to consider wages paid in other industries of same nature in fixing wages, the supporting opinion declared that those responsible for the decision considered this as well as other factors set forth in the law.

Attack Budget Method.

Attacking the budget method of determining what should be living wages, the supporting opinion says:

"That it would be wise and practical to undertake to establish an arbitrary standard of living for several millions of persons is not apparent. That the desires and requirements of all men are equal and alike is not correct, and that a committee of experts could set up an average living standard 'up on which wage scale could be practically based has not been demonstrated anywhere."

"That standards of living are gradually improving in this country is undoubtedly true," the opinion said, "and this is as it should be. There is no member of the labor board who does not profoundly desire improved living conditions for common labor, but it is our belief that this movement must be continued along lines indicated by human experience and that it cannot be consummated in the twinkling of an eye by artificial expedients."

Commenting upon government ownership if the living wage principle were established the opinion said:

"Of course for those who desire government ownership this would be a quick method of getting it, for it is a sure thing that the government would stand for the imposition of higher rates to pay for such a deficit." It asserted that in the last analysis the public would pay for the increased wages and that most of it would come from workers in other industries.

Exaggerated Blunder.

"In the judgment of the majority of the board," the opinion continued, "and we believe, of a great majority of the people, the shopmen's strike was an egregious blunder without any real justification and that it is said with the kindest feeling for the men who have suffered most from its effects. It has wrought harm to all and good to none."

"Perhaps there is no better time and place," the opinion adds, "to emphasize the belief of a majority of the labor board that railway strikes are utterly useless and that the employees will always gain better wages at the hands of any tribunal fairly constituted and representative of the people than they will by making war on the carriers and the public."

In addition to the decision and the dissenting any supporting opinions, today's document contained a statement by W. L. McMenimen, labor member of the board, as to his reason for voting for the two cent raise for the track men. He said he favored a larger increase but voted for the two cent raise after the board had been in a long deadlock during each day of which the men were losing about $70,000 and when he feared that no increase might be obtained if the two cent raise advocated by the public group was not accepted.

BURKBURNETT

Salvation Army Services.
BURKBURNETT, TEXAS, Oct. 30.—Resign and Mrs. Harry Booth of Dallas, prominent workers among the young people departments of the Salvation Army are making an inspection of the work in Texas and will appear on the streets in Burk Burnett Monday evening, and at the rooms at 409 East Main street. Captain Watkins says that Adjutant Burdick of Wichita Falls, will also be present. Ensign and Mrs. Booth were overseas workers during the world war and many "buddies" will remember Mrs. Booth as Captain V. McAllister, who is famous for her war stories which so many have read. She is author of the story "The Cook," now running in the "War Cry." The public is cordially invited to the meetings while they are in the city.

Track Turns Turtle.
A produce truck of the Wooten Produce company from Wichita Falls, was turned over on the paved road about four miles out from Burk Burnett, Saturday afternoon. The driver turned out for a car close to the soft dirt and the truck completely turned turtle down the embankment. The driver sustained a sprained back. Another truck was sent up from Wichita Falls to get things straight. The car going did not stop to see what damage he had done. It is stated.

Great preparation is being made for the Shrine Halloween masquerade dance by Burk Shrine club on Tuesday evening, October 31, beginning at 8:30. All Masons are invited. The Temple orchestra will furnish the music.

Little Folks and Big Folks Celebrate Saturday for Hallowe'en; and More Parties are Scheduled for the Week

Saturday night was popular with everybody for a celebration of Hallowe'en week, and spooks were out walking in the broad moonlight all over town. There were several masquerade dances and parties, with a preppy party at the W. R. C. for some of the Association clubs. Other small groups gathered in several neighborhoods, with masquerade costumes popularly adopted.

One of the biggest and most complete and enjoyable Hallowe'en celebrations—or rather, two of them—were given at the W. R. Ferguson home on Broad. At the first, the Misses Ruth Ferguson entertained about sixty of her young friends in honor of her fifth birthday, inviting them all to come in costume.

The resultant bunch of kiddies which gathered in the darkened and beautifully decorated home made a wonderful carnival picture. The living room, dining room, reception hall, both stairways leading to the attic, and the attic itself, were decorated by means of Hallowe'en colors and streamers, witches, pumpkins, ghosts, black cats and midnight moans. Jack-o-lanterns and other weird lights, into a Hallowe'en setting of real traditional accuracy. And the little folks were entertained in real with the spirit of the occasion. Met at the door by a spook, entertained in the attic by a witch, and then escorted with Hallowe'en whistles and balloons directed in half a dozen delightful Hallowe'en contests and games, and finally served with "punch," doughnuts, Hallowe'en apples and weirdly costumed all-day quakers, nothing that could have added a shiver or a thrill to their entertainment was omitted.

Mrs. Ferguson and Miss Mary Ferguson were assisted by Mrs. Moreland, Mrs. E. H. Boyd and Miss Frances Boyd.

These little folks who celebrated from 4 to 8 in the afternoon included: Phoebe Jane Fligg, Jane and Dorothy Goodner, L. C. Hammond Jr., Lily and Lucille Graham, James Smith, Mary Lister, Taylor Juanita Patton, Jennie Eichelberger, Mignon Clark, Helen Gardner, J. A. H. Simmons, George and Joy Campbell, Mrs. E. H. Boyd, Miss Paul Jones, Jack Brothers, Hickman Mosely, Lucile and Dick Harper, Pauline Jane Art, P. R. Cox Jr., Billie Jean Cox, Charles Russell, Howard, Austin Lea, Clint Bailey Wood, Dorothy Davis, Elizabeth Downing, Frank Miller, Harold and Ralph Karr, Charles Russell, Roberta Lincoln, Ruth Kevel, Frances Tyson, Carter and Patay McGreggor, Edward Silk, Charles E. Taylor, Charlotte Mae, Frances Prothro, Gardner Walker, Walter Horns Priddy, John Bone, Philip Curd and E. H. and Miss E. Boyd.

In the evening Miss Mary Ferguson entertained about eighty of her friends in the young "teen" age with a Hallowe'en party. The guests were practically the same ones repeated in the afternoon, with the participants somewhat more advanced in years. The evening was a success, and practically all the fortune teller, Mrs. Gold, told real fortunes in the darkened attic, while the witch, Mrs. Moreland, dispensed which soup from the big black cauldron. Hallowe'en charms and games were indulged in with weird incantations by the witch. At 10 o'clock the young people had sandwiches, doughnuts, punch and other refreshment.

Gloria Verschoyle Party. Saturday afternoon little Miss Gloria Verschoyle entertained about fifteen of her friends at her home at the C. H. Verschoyle home. The little folks came in costume and enjoyed Hallowe'en games, with pumpkin pie, crackers, and cake were served late in the afternoon.

For the Teachers. Friday evening Mesdames C. W. Reid, Ivan Murchison, Von-Witman, W. W. Anderson and Preston Lee entertained the faculty members of the Alamo school and their friends with a Hallowe'en party at the Reid home. Most attractive entertainment was provided for the guests, including songs by the popular Ray, Von Alamo, Murchison and Huntington quartette, and sandwiches and coffee served.

MR. AND MRS. J. T. BOBO ENTERTAIN FRIDAY EVENING

There were witches and ghosts, gnomes and goblins galore at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bobo, 814 Houston street, on Friday night, when a number of their friends enjoyed a real Hallowe'en party.

There were original games and stunts of all kinds, a fortune teller, a ghost room, an auction sale, music and dancing.

At midnight a delightful lunch of pumpkin pie, olives, cheese, salads, doughnuts and hot coffee was served in a festive style to the following guests: Mesdames M. A. Mitchell, F. Rose, Ruesher, McGiboney, Reuben Moore, Wislaint, Presley and Harry Mitchell, Mesdames M. A. Alaman, Crowe, Rhoads and Gant, Misses Harbelle Campbell, Cleve Mitchell, Ruth Howard, Mesdames M. A. Alaman, Moran and Messrs. Zedek, Simmons and Newton.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS MOTHER GOOSE'S BROOM

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Gloves N. Legginz looked over the queer little car and said it was as good as never.

You'll never believe it, I'm sure, but at last Nancy and Nick reached the Fairy Queen's Palace in the magic automobile. The magic pill that Light Fingers dropped into the gasoline tank (making the car go backward) was the last of their troubles, for the Green Wizard stuck out his toe and turned the car around, and although it was still going backward, it soon arrived at the Fairy Queen's Palace.

You should have been there to hear the rejoicing when the Twins appeared sound and well and as happy as harlequins (if you know what that is, although Nancy does not). "Another adventure!" cried both children at once.

"Well, then," answered her royal highness, "I have one all ready around and helped them out, so the new chauffeur, called Gloves N. Legginz, looked over the queer little car and said it was as good as never."

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

Jack rushed across the field, soon meeting a farmer. "Hurry," pleaded Jack, "my horse just fell, I think his neck's broken. I'll take care of him," the farmer said and rushed across the field.

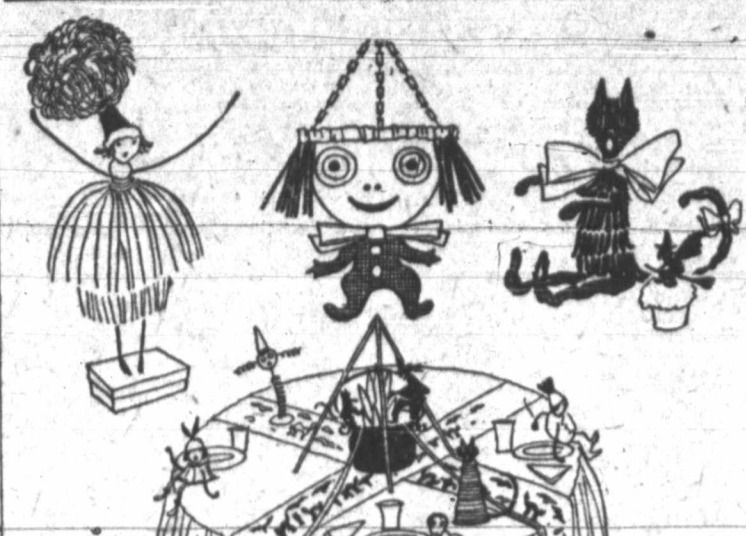

Jack rushed across the field, soon meeting a farmer. "Hurry," pleaded Jack, "my horse just fell, I think his neck's broken. I'll take care of him," the farmer said and rushed across the field.

"Well," said the farmer, when he returned, "your horse's neck isn't broken but his feet are. It may be months before he'll be able to walk again. I think you had better leave him here until then." Jack was broken-hearted.

Jack then hurried on as there was nothing to be gained by staying. "Well, I must be nearing the end of my journey," the boy said to himself, after he had used a morning sleep by J. B. O'Connell. "I must be near his dungeon." (Continued in next chapter.)

Protest May Change Aspect of District Championship Race

By SPIKE COOPER. Coach Jim Jones returned yesterday from Cleburne where he witnessed the North Side-Cleburne game which determined, in a way, next opposition for the Coyotes. The Fort Worth team won the game 3-1, but Coach Erney of the Cleburne aggregation had protested ability of three Fort Worth players, and in a message to Coach Jones yesterday, declared he had "proof positive" of his assertion. In case league heads allow the protest, the Cleburne team will be the next opponent.

TEXAS GRID FANS WAIT BEAR-AGGIE CLASH SATURDAY

DALLAS, Oct. 29.—Baylor's defeat of Mississippi college at Waco Saturday, although not a southwestern conference game, has caused followers of the pig skin in this section to turn to Waco next Saturday, where the Baylor eleven will play the Texas Aggies. This will be the Farmers' first conference game. Baylor has won two conference games and the game will be watched with great interest. Southern Methodist University's defeat of the Oklahoma Aggies at Dallas put a ray of hope in the ranks of the Mustangs who went on the field in their first conference game following defeat last week by Austin college a more or less weak non-conference team. There was a marked difference in the brand of football the Mustangs played Saturday over which they exhibited in the Austin college game. Saturday they were fast and outran the Oklahoma ends on practically every attempt. Following their first intercepted pass in the first period on Oklahoma's 25-yard line, the Mustangs ploughed through the Oklahoma ends and played good all-around football.

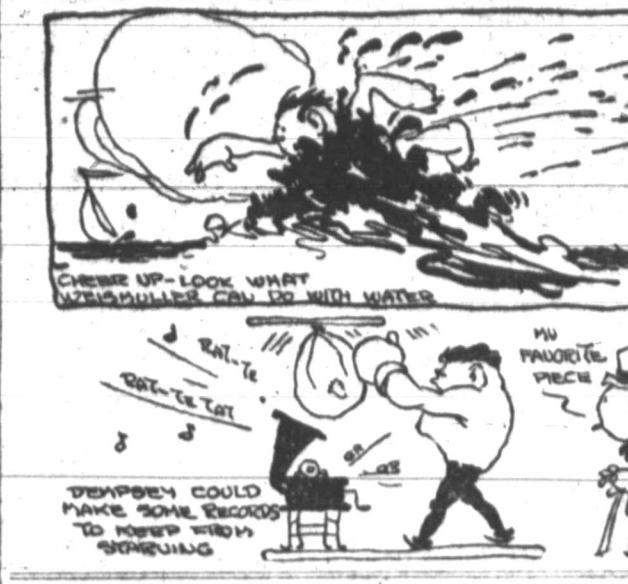

Guard-Captain

CAPTAIN FRITZE BREIDSTER

In Captain Schwab, Lafayette has one of the greatest guards that ever graced the eastern gridiron. Last year Schwab was an all-American selection. This year he is playing an even better game, and is practically certain of winning a place on that famous mythical eleven. Schwab is a whale on the defensive, is mighty fast for a big fellow and can carry the ball with the best of them. A player like Schwab in the line gives confidence to every other forward.

TWO TEAMS HEAD VALLEY CONFERENCE

Nebraska and Drake Lead; Saturday Games Follow "Dope" With One Exception.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Oct. 29.—Nebraska and Drake remained at the head of the column in the Missouri valley conference football championship review. A southern school, the Kansas Aggies, has not been defeated this year, but have two tie games which cut considerably into her championship possibilities. The games Saturday did not materially alter the standing of the teams, all of them resulting in ties. Saturday's crucial game in the conference, the one between Nebraska and Oklahoma at Norman, resulted in a 23 to 0 victory for Nebraska. It was Oklahoma's first defeat.

WON'T SHAVE TILL TEAM WINS GAME

JACK HARROD, JIMMY NIPPERT AND RABBIT KEITH

This is a cruel world as far as the University of Cincinnati football team is concerned. Two weeks ago, disgusted at their failure to win, the members of the varsity team entered into a pact not to shave until they won a game. Most of the players figured they would do some shaving at the expense of Ohio Wesleyan when that team played Cincinnati on Oct. 21. Ohio Wesleyan upset the dope of the Cincinnati athletes as far as the shaving was concerned by winning the game.

"Grid" Game Has Flavor of Diamond

There was considerable baseball flavor to the recent football game between Centre and Harvard. Charley Moran, the coach of the Centre College team, is an umpire in the National league during the summer months. Ernie Quigley, who refereed the game, is also a member of the National league staff of umpires. During the summer Moran and Quigley were picked up in a majority of the games played. They do say the pair talked college football almost to the exclusion of the national pastime. Both admit that any time they pulled a raw decision during the summer, their football connection suffered.

Quigley says the Centre game is the first contest he ever worked in which he felt certain there would be no complaint from one of the rival coaches. "Whaddya think we are playing football? Wake up and get in the game," was a favorite expression of the athletes. "Whaddya think we are playing football? Wake up and get in the game," was a favorite expression of the athletes.

CLARENDON WINNER FROM DECATUR TEAM

CLARENDON, TEXAS, Oct. 24.—Clarendon witnessed the most interesting game of the season today when Decatur college eleven was defeated by the Clarendon college Bulldogs by a score of 39 to 6. During the season of 1922 Decatur was defeated by Clarendon by a score of 6 to 0, and in 1921 Clarendon was defeated by Decatur 23 to 6. The game was featured by the brilliant passing and sweeping end runs of the Bulldogs, their passings being made in the hands of the Clarendon backfield. The work of Jackson, Close Brothers and Goodwin Twins in the backfield, and Smith, Ratliff, Lane and Martin in the line was the feature players for the locals, also Smith's kickoffs were a feature of the game. Decatur team tried only three times to score a touchdown, but all were blocked, making only one first down in the game. The lineup: CLARENDON: POSE, DECATUR: Martin, RE... Stallworth, Peoples, ... LELAND PARKIN RANKS WITH AUBREY DEVINE

By BILLY EVANS. What do the eastern experts think of Iowa, the conqueror of Yale? Recently I put such a question to one of football's leading authorities. This expert attended the Yale-Iowa game as a scout. He was there for two purposes, to scout both Yale and Iowa. It happens that one of the western teams to play Iowa is coached by a personal friend and he was there to pass on the impressions of Leland Parkin, the Yale back, who is undoubtedly one of the greatest defensive backs of modern football. Defensively Locke played a great game, I was much interested in getting his impression of Leland Parkin, successor to Devine at Yale. Prior to the Yale-Iowa game a number of people told me that while Parkin was a good quarter he was not a patch on Aubrey Devine, a Yale expert. I was much interested in getting his impression of Leland Parkin, successor to Devine at Yale. M'MILLIN OPPOSES TRY FOR GOAL AFTER SCORE

All-"BO" McMillan. Of the two most noticeable changes in the football rules this season the change from try for goal after touchdown to try for point after touchdown has caused considerable comment and at the present time seems to be the joker of football. From my experience at the game, which runs over a period of 12 years, I must say that I am greatly opposed to this ruling and would like to see the try for point after touchdown abolished entirely. An it stands now it will cause the coaches to develop better place and drop kickers and this takes the life out of the game when you depend so much on individual effort. A team should win on the merits of team work alone and not through the individual work of one player. The new play does not help the game when it comes to measuring the strength of the contesting eleven, as nine out of ten times a kick will be tried in preference to another play. This will also cause the time of playing a game to be slowed to a great extent. If it is deemed necessary to have some method whereby to try for the additional point after touchdown will be granted, I would prefer going back to the old play where the team making the score has to kick the ball out where the line was crossed. This adds more to the pep of the game, yet there is the individual work in evidence. I am also in favor of doing away with all try for goals from the field and believe in letting the coaches depend upon real football to win. If an eleven is to win don't you think it much better to let them make a touchdown and not have to depend upon a player kicking a drop or a place kick. There are times when one team might win several hundred yards in a game and the opposing team not over 45, yet the latter win by a field goal if it should happen to get the breaks. The new ruling on the shift play says "The player must not only have both feet stationary on the ground, but must come to a full stop as when he starts again he starts from a standstill." The above modification of the old rule I think is a big step forward in improving the game. The former reading of the rule was only a signal for the back field to get in motion before the ball was snapped. I feel confident that the above statement will be proven this year by the abandonment of all shift formations. It has been the tendency of the ruler committee to alter the rules each year so as to lessen the handicap on the smaller schools. There smaller colleges have not been able to successfully compete with the larger institutions using the shift play because of the reason that it takes two or more years to develop a shift that will function. Centre Lost Chance To Set New Record

Harvard's defeat of Centre by the lopsided score of 24 to 10 was rather unexpected. True, Harvard was favored to win, but by such a wide margin. As analysis of the game shows that the two eleven were far more evenly matched than the score makes it seem. Harvard scored 21 points in the first half, but in the last three periods Centre made 10 points to three for Harvard. Unquestionably the victory of Harvard by such a big score was made possible through the breaks, rather than by so wide a superiority of play. Poor judgment on the part of Centre may have brought about the breaks that really decided the outcome of the game. Harvard started the game by kicking off to Centre and the ball went over the goal line. Centre brought the ball out and put it into play on its 25-yard line. Right here came the break that decided the game. Centre had no idea of Harvard's strength. To their credit, Centre's 30 yard line certainly would not be regarded as good football. The logical thing would have been to get in the line of scrimmage before putting Harvard to the test. To have punted out of danger would have been good football. It would have enabled little Centre to have gotten a better line on good Harvard. On the first play Harvard made three yards off tackle. On the next play he fumbled badly, the ball rolling toward the Centre goal. Fritze of Harvard flungly recovering it of the four yard line. That was the break of the game, it would have been a sure victory for Centre. On the very first play Owen of Harvard went over for a touchdown.

Centre Lost Chance To Set New Record

When Centre College fell before Harvard in the third meeting between the two teams, the little southern institution lost a chance to create a record that no team has ever been able to accomplish, but Harvard two consecutive years on its own field. In 1921 Centre surprised the football world by defeating Harvard 6 to 0. Centre, with a veteran team, was given a good chance to repeat in 1922. The team, however, lacked Dr. McMillin who had scored the winning touchdown in 1921. Yale, Pennsylvania and Princeton are the only teams to beat Harvard twice or more running, but none of the three has visited the Crimson field two years in succession, each of the series between the teams alternating between the two fields. Centre, on the other hand, has played at the Harvard stadium for three consecutive years. In a way Centre has performed the rather unusual feat of scoring on Harvard each year and through the medium of crossing the Crimson goal line.

MISS WOOD TELLS KIWANIS ABOUT THE PASSION PLAY

When Miss Wood traced in an interesting way the development of the play and told how under the most adverse circumstances the natives of Cherramorgan had always remained loyal to the very first ancestor in 1633 when only 100 survivors of the black death remained in the village. She made a narrative of the conditions which confronted the players the past year as a result of the war. Sixty-eight of the players were killed in the conflict and 12 failed to return; the costumes used for the play were stripped and used for bandages. The play was given with a small loan from the Bavarian government. The play was a triumph for the three most impressive scenes of the play, the triumphant entry to Jerusalem, Christ's departure from his mother, and the crucifixion. The crowded conditions in the village made it necessary, she said, for parents to stay in the village and there Miss Wood stayed in the home of Anton Lang, who played the role of Christ.

WICHITA DAILY TIMES, MONDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1922

COTTON MARKET

The corn market rallied later in the day as wheat advanced, at a shade net lower to 40 cents. The market opened firm at an advance of 23 to 24 points with all months making high records for the season on a renewal of last week's buying movement and in response to relatively firm cables. Brokers with both Liverpool and domestic trade connections were active buyers at the opening while there was a good commission house demand and further covering but the advance was not a good deal of southern selling and falling. This was sufficient to cause some irregularity during the early trading and after selling at 44 1/2 for December and 42 1/2 for January the market worked off a few points from the best.

S. S. S. is the Great Builder of Red Blood Cells and Rheumatism Must Go! Just Try It!

"Rheumatism? No! No, indeed, it's all gone, every bit of it. It's run away and joy for me now for the first time in years. I feel a wonderful vigor again in the free motion of my joints when my days were younger. I look at my hands and think of the twigs and swellings they used to have. I bend my arm over to the floor. I haven't been able to do that in many years. I can thank S. S. S. for it all. There is a rising sun of joy and liberty. Brothers and sisters in misery, do not close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. It is here and now for all of you. S. S. S. is waiting to help you." There is a reason why S. S. S. will help you.

When you increase the number of your red blood cells, the entire system undergoes a tremendous change. Everything depends on blood-strength. Blood which is minus sufficient red cells leads to a long list of troubles. Rheumatism is one of them. S. S. S. is the great blood-cleanser, blood-builder, system-strengthening, nerve-vigorator. It stops skin eruptions, soothes, plumps, brightens, tones, helps, restores, and builds up run-down, tired men and women, beautifies complexion, makes the flesh firm, smooth, and S. S. S. today. FAREWELL SERMON DELIVERED SUNDAY BY DR. GROSECLOSE

By FRANK H. REID. Dr. Groseclose preached his last sermon at the Floral Heights Methodist church on Sunday morning, and peculiarly fitting was the subject he chose. "Key Words to Unlock the Door of Happiness," for truly he is leaving a growing church with a feeling of happiness at what has been accomplished during his pastorate here and at the same time fully realizing the tremendous responsibility that he is to shoulder in his new work at Dallas.

He included his remarks with a review of the work of the church during his term as pastor, and his appreciation of the splendid cooperation that has been given him by the members of his congregation. He said that the Floral Heights church is one of the growing churches of the Methodist church, south, in taking upon him, with his new work in connection with his Methodist hospital at Dallas, he has only been given the opportunity of developing his best work in connection with his spiritual work. We quote from his sermon:

There are two great outstanding passages in the Bible. One is to be found in the New Testament in said to be the gospel in its fullest sense. It brings all of the elements of the gospel into one verse. Of course you will discern that I refer to John, third chapter, sixteenth verse. "God so loved the world that he gave His only begotten son, etc." The other verse is a verse which is a key to the old testament, and that verse is found in Micah, sixth chapter, eighth verse. "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justice, to love, mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God." If I were today going to give you the three great words in the Christian religion, I would give you these three words: "justice," "mercy," and "God," and as we are living in the new testament age, I would give you the second person in the Trinity rather than the first, "justice," "mercy" and "Jesus."

One of the great things we have to keep in mind in our Christian life—certainly in the theological life—is that verse in the new testament, there is also a verse which is a key to the old testament, and that verse is found in Micah, sixth chapter, eighth verse. "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justice, to love, mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God." If I were today going to give you the three great words in the Christian religion, I would give you these three words: "justice," "mercy," and "God," and as we are living in the new testament age, I would give you the second person in the Trinity rather than the first, "justice," "mercy" and "Jesus."

FOURTH QUARTERLY CONFERENCE HELD AT VERNON CHURCH

VERNON, TEXAS, Oct. 26.—The fourth quarterly conference met Friday evening at 7:30 at the Methodist church, with Rev. W. F. Garvin presiding. The regular business of the conference was transacted. A written report was presented by the superintendent of the Sunday school, R. D. L. Killough, and by the chairman of the board of stewards, U. S. Davis. Also a written report was read from the chairman of the Woman's Home Mission society and by Rev. R. E. Dickenson, the pastor.

U. S. Davis was elected district steward, Judge E. L. McHugh was elected recording steward, J. A. Harrington was elected conference lay leader and R. D. L. Killough was re-elected Sunday school superintendent. The pastor, Rev. Dickenson, nominated 21 stewards who were elected by the conference for the ensuing year.

During the time the conference was being held the Sunday school held a Halloween party in the basement of the church. More than 200 members of the Sunday school were present and enjoyed the delightful party planned for them. "Mr. Timothy Tab" was a very entertaining character and the smaller members were delighted with the many unusual treats they had for their enjoyment.

C. D. Ashenburt, manager of the Kell Milling company presented the Sunday school with 25 sacks of flour in sizes from six pounds to 25 pounds, which were used as a display during the Halloween party. After the party this "Belle of Vernon" flour was sold and the proceeds went to the Sunday school as a gift from the Kell Milling company. One little boy remarked: "I like Belle of Vernon biscuits almost as well as Halloween parties. The basement of the church was decorated with pumpkins, with the Halloween faces and candies, piles of hay and bundles of flour. Refreshments of pop and cookies were served."

EVANGELIST DECLARES MAN HAS PRIVILEGE OF CHOOSING HIS COURSE

Rev. Walter Robinson, who has been preaching a series of soul-stirring sermons in the revival services now going on at Fifth and Broad streets, took for his Sunday night text the passage in Deut. 30:19, "I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing; therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live." In conjunction with this text, the minister read portions from other places in the Bible. A report of the service says:

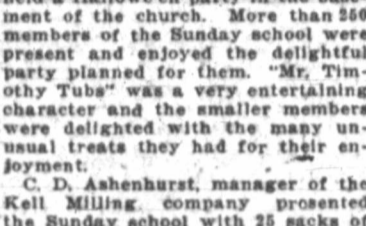

"Mr. Robinson showed that God had given it to man to choose between the good and the bad. That it was not a matter of whether we could or could not do right, but rather whether we would do right. There is nothing to hinder in doing right if we only choose to do so. It is all a matter of free choice. Man was created a free moral agent with the privilege to choose life or to reject it. The blessing or the curse is the result of our choice. Our first parents God has been setting before us the privileges of life or death, the blessing or the curse, Christ is our divine helper. He died that the penalty might be set aside and has therefore become life to all who choose Him. The minister explained that the plan of God was not hidden but had been placed before us in plain view. Quoting from Moses and from Paul he said: 'The word is nigh thee, not in heaven above, nor yet in the sea; it is nigh in thy mouth and
