EARTHQUAKE TOLL 1500 TO 2000

TOTAL OF 1,386 CANDIDATES FOR BRITISH ELECTION

VOTERS WILL GO TO POLLS WEDNESDAY TO SELECT PARLIAMENT.

WISE POLITICAL SEERS UNCERTAIN OF RESULTS

Development of Campaign Has Caused Revisions in Estimates.

By Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 14.—The last words in Great Britain's election campaign will be spoken tonight. The electorate will go to the polls tomorrow and pick a parliament from the 1,386 candidates seeking seats in the house of commons.

Even the wisest political seers are uncertain as to what the general results will be. During the campaign events have led to a revision of some of the more sanguine estimates. This was notably the case in Glasgow and western Scotland where the united front presented by the unions and Lloyd-George liberals originally induced considerable complacency.

Although some doubts have been expressed regarding Bonar Law's safety in his campaign, the dispatch from the central Glasgow district the correspondent says nobody seriously believes the premier will be rejected. But it is certain that his two opponents, Sir George Paish, labor candidate, and the laborite, Basil Mitchell, will poll more votes than it was first expected.

Sir Robert Horne, who was chancellor of the exchequer in Lloyd-George's cabinet, is regarded as an almost sure choice of the voters in the Hill Head division. Sir William Mitchell-Thomson, labor candidate, is expected to be elected in the Mary Hill division where Annie S. Swan is making a powerful appeal for the vote of women with liberal interests. Labor also has shown increasing strength against the reelection of Sir William.

The situation throughout popular Lancashire is much the same. It has become common to believe that only unusual energy can defeat the laborites in several places. Everywhere the great puzzle is how the women will vote. It is the experience of canvassers throughout the country that women are taking more practical interest in the elections than ever before.

The deaths of General Moraglia and Juan Carrasco left Hernandez the probable leader of rebels in the north.

DURANGO, MEXICO, Nov. 14.—General Rosendo Hernandez, whose status as a rebel general has been a personal and political significance, according to Mexican military authorities here, has surrendered and has been granted amnesty by the federal government. He has returned to private life at Santa Rosalia, Chihuahua.

His following was never large but he was active in many small uprisings. He fought against General J. Gonzalez Escobar routed his band, killing several officers and men.

COLOGNE RIOTING HAS BEEN RENEWED ON A LARGE SCALE

LONDON, Nov. 13.—A dispatch to the Times from Cologne says rioting was renewed on a large scale tonight in the city and suburbs. Considerable damage was done and there were several fatalities. Rioters pelted the police with stones and bottles and the police in retaliation used swords and revolvers. Order was restored at midnight. The dispatch adds it was reported in Cologne that there were considerable disturbances in Düsseldorf in the evening but that no details had been reported.

FACTIONS OF IRISH REPUBLIC REUNITED ACTIVITY INCREASES

DE VALERA HAS BEEN RE-APPOINTED PRESIDENT, SAYS REPORT.

COUNCIL OF STATE IS CLAIMING AUTHORITY

Wide Divergence Between Reports of Developments in That Country.

By Associated Press. DUBLIN, Nov. 14.—The current increase of activity of armed forces opposing the reuniting of the political and military wings of republicanism. This, among other things, results in the reappointment of Eamon de Valera as "president of the Irish republic" with a council of state claiming sole legitimate authority in Ireland.

There is a wide divergence between the accounts published by the government of its successes against the irregulars and those put out by de Valera's party. The government claims to be winning and gradually rearing order while de Valera's followers record severe losses they are inflicting and assert that the free state is already beaten.

The commander of the red forces that occupied Vladivostok as the Japanese left, told Japanese officers prior to his own departure for Moscow that the soviet promise of better relations between Japan and Russia and a change in Lenin's attitude toward the Japanese.

Verucular newspapers here declare that negotiations already have been opened between the two governments, but this announcement is characterized in well informed circles as premature.

With Siberia under the direct control of Moscow, which already is an established fact, it is the acknowledgment of Moscow authority by the government of the free state is submitted for ratification, it is anticipated that the activities of the irregulars will be further intensified.

Active in Dublin. Except in the south, all large bodies of republican forces have been dispersed in a whole never before by national troops, but small bands are able to inflict constant losses and humiliations upon the government by the use of Dublin and elsewhere. Repressive power has been granted to the government by the Irish parliament, but the republican forces have believed these powers would be fully exercised and for the most part, their forecasts have been accurate.

It has become common to believe that only unusual energy can defeat the laborites in several places. Everywhere the great puzzle is how the women will vote. It is the experience of canvassers throughout the country that women are taking more practical interest in the elections than ever before.

More than 25,000 men will be summoned. Mrs. Frances Stevens Wheeler Hall, slain with her choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, will probably be permitted to testify. She has requested this privilege and agreed to waive immunity.

CARTER BEND OF THE BRAZOS RIVER NOW IN EMBELIGHT

HERRON CITY, Nov. 14.—The Fulton-Albright et al. No. 1 on the Stafford-Cleveland block in what is known as Carter Bend, six miles southeast of this place, is in for a monster gusher at 1225 feet. It is making 11,125,000 cubic feet by actual gasser of what is said to be the best gas for commercial purposes produced in the Young county field.

This well places another bend of the Brazos in the limelight. It is about two miles south of the new oil town Wild Bend, which is also in a bend of the Brazos river. The Roddie-Ligon is the deepest well in Carter Bend, which is drilling at 1720 feet. Dudley Miller has a rig on the ground for Carter No. 3, one-half mile northeast of the big gasser on block No. 9 of the McKinney and Williams survey. This is the first Young county well to show production at this shallow depth and good pay is expected in this bend from the many sands found at a lower depth. Lease activity is very noticeable and many new locations are looked for.

AKRON, OHIO, Nov. 14.—Sixteen girl members of a local high school class in civics sat as a jury today in police court and acquitted Joseph Kallian, charged with violation of the state prohibition act. The girls were spectators in court when the Kallian case was called. Judge A. F. O'Neil asked if they would like to act as jurors. All were eager to serve.

TOKIO AND MOSCOW EXPECTED TO ENJOY BETTER RELATIONS

TOKIO, Nov. 14.—Better relations between Tokio and Moscow and a change in the hitherto uncompromising attitude of Nicolai Lenin, head of the soviet government, towards Japan are forecast following Japan's occupation of the Siberian mainland.

The commander of the red forces that occupied Vladivostok as the Japanese left, told Japanese officers prior to his own departure for Moscow that the soviet promise of better relations between Japan and Russia and a change in Lenin's attitude toward the Japanese.

Verucular newspapers here declare that negotiations already have been opened between the two governments, but this announcement is characterized in well informed circles as premature.

HOUSTON, Nov. 14.—The Humble oil field fire was practically extinguished today and little or no fear was felt that the flames would spread to tanks adjoining. It was the property of the Gulf Pipe Line company, subsidiary of the Gulf Oil corporation, of Pittsburgh.

MRS. MAC SWINEY AND EIGHT OTHER WOMEN ARRESTED

MARCH BEFORE BRITISH EMBASSY AT WASHINGTON WITH BANNERS.

DEMAND THE RELEASE OF MISS MARY MACSWINEY

Warned Against Picketing But Continue March Around the Building.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, widow of Terrance MacSwiney, former lord mayor of Cork, was arrested today with eight other women members of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, while marching before the British embassy armed with banners demanding the release of MacSwiney's sister, Miss Mary MacSwiney, who is held prisoner in the Irish free state.

When the women arrived in the vicinity of the embassy they were warned by a police captain against picketing. Refusing to heed these instructions, the group marched around the embassy. When they returned to the front of the building a squad of uniformed police officers, headed by Chief of Police Terence J. Conroy, took away their banners and marched them to police headquarters.

At the police headquarters the nine women were held in $500 bail, each after police officials had consulted with United States District Attorney Gordon M. MacQuinn, who would not attempt to furnish bond and the eight others indicated they would follow her example and remain in jail awaiting trial.

The police said the women had violated a District of Columbia law which prohibits picketing of the embassy. Mrs. MacSwiney, who led the procession, was bearing a banner which said: "England murdered my husband." The women did not resist arrest but laughed and chatted with the police who took them in custody. They were led away without a word, only one raising a feeble cheer.

Just previous to the arrival of the picketers Ambassador Geddes, emerging smilingly from the embassy, walked across the street and shook hands with Captain Flather, who was in the room when she took the strychnine from her father's medicine chest and mixed it in coffee and drank it before she was stopped. She had previously written a note to her mother, but it does not disclose any reason for the act.

CHARGE DANGEROUS AIRPLANES SOLD TO U. S. GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Charges by a committee of the U. S. House of Representatives that dangerous airplanes have been sold to the government at "unconscionably high prices" were presented today by Representative Woodruff, republican, Michigan, to Chairman Kelly of the House sub-committee at 10:30 a. m. on the 1922 aviation bill.

Mr. Woodruff asked that the committee look into the charges and announced that he would discuss the subject later in the house. The report of the Aero club committee is forth that the club would present an organized fight for open competitive bidding and charged that by violation of the anti-trust laws all competition had been eliminated and that the government and manufacturers prevented from supplying the army and navy with improved aircraft.

It appeared at the time of the strike that the "walkout" was welcomed by the railroads. The report said that the "walkout" was welcomed by the railroads. The report said that the "walkout" was welcomed by the railroads.

SULPHUR AND FUEL OIL FREIGHT RATE APPROVED

AUSTIN, Nov. 14.—A charge of $18 per carload for shipment of all products except sulphur and fuel oil was approved today by Interstate Commerce Commission. I. C. COMMISSION AND STATE BOARDS ARE TO COOPERATE

PLANS COMPLETED TO INSURE ULTIMATE SUCCESS OF MOVE.

STATEMENT IS MADE BY CHAIRMAN M'CHORD

Says There Should Be No State Lines Within the Realm of Commerce.

DETROIT, MICH., Nov. 14.—Plans for cooperation between the interstate commerce commission and state railroad commissions in regulating railroad service have been carried sufficiently far to insure their ultimate success. Chairman M'Chord of the federal body, declared today in an address before the National Association of Railway and Public Utilities Commissioners, which began a four day convention here. The joint exercise of state and national authority with elimination of conflicts between them, he said, would put the transportation utilities of the country to their greatest use.

"Within the realm of commerce there should be no state lines," Chairman M'Chord said, "and the building up of symmetrical rate structures for the use of the interstate and intrastate shipper can best be accomplished beyond question by harmony of purpose and action among the respective regulatory bodies."

"There can be no conflict of authority in harmonious action laid down in the present plan, and for the development and effectual application of the plan we need no statutory authority or assistance," Mr. M'Chord explained that the method adopted was that of having state commissions associate with the interstate commerce commission in decisions on matters of mutual interest, and having state commissions issue all necessary orders upon matters affecting service in their own state.

East and West. "Dealing with a common subject, with but one justifiable end in view," the chairman continued, "it is right to be adjudged failures if the product of our labor is discordant. Unrest and hostility are abroad in the land and should be quieted and cured, not stimulated, by official example."

"It is incumbent upon all of us to bear in mind that the destinies of the nation are largely in our hands, that our national existence is dependent upon transportation by railroads and ours is a serious responsibility."

"How dare we work at cross purposes? The rectification of harmful inequalities between interstate and intrastate rates should be as much the duty and concern of the state commissions as it is ours. It is your duty to call upon us for collaboration and assistance and we shall not hesitate to call upon you. Within those spheres wherein our interests coincide, we should be virtually one regulating body, not an aggregation of bodies without coordination. Unity of action, of course, comes only from a common purpose and that purpose must unflinchingly comprehend the good of the whole. We have laid the foundation for cooperation and announce our purpose and mark the beginning of a new epoch in railroad regulation."

The report said such steps would prevent a recurrence of the recent strike and retard sentiment in favor of public ownership. The report said sentiment for public ownership was growing. It was claimed by the report that with the labor board and interstate commerce commission, a dual control was established that had proved a failure and the system was wrong in principle.

It appeared at the time of the strike that the "walkout" was welcomed by the railroads. The report said that the "walkout" was welcomed by the railroads. The report said that the "walkout" was welcomed by the railroads.

PREMIER LENINE DEFENDS ECONOMIC POLICY OF RUSSIA

HAS BEEN JUSTIFIED IN EVERY WAY, HE DECLARES IN ADDRESS.

SAYS INDUSTRIAL CENTERS ARE WELL SATISFIED

Declares There is No Possibility Now of Peasant Uprising.

By Associated Press.

MOSCOW, Nov. 14.—The soviet government's change of economic policy in the spring of 1921 has been justified in every way, Premier Lenin declared in an address before the congress of the third international.

At the time the change was made, he frankly admitted the soviet was losing touch with the majority of the workers and virtually the entire peasantry was opposing the rapid transformation into communism.

The congress had to admit they had gone too far and too fast. There was no possibility now of peasant uprising. The peasants and the working men, too, in the industrial centers are well satisfied.

"Grain tax has been collected this season without trouble or the use of force."

The premier asserted there was absolutely no danger for soviet Russia in the new economic policy because the government retains large industries and the state commerce.

By the introduction of mixed companies in which foreign capital participated soviet Russia would be able to learn commercial tricks from the foreigners while retaining full control and being in a position to bring these relations to an end whenever it might be found that any of the companies was endangering the communist cause.

The big industries were in most difficult circumstances and 100,000,000 gold rubles would be required to reestablish them.

"Not a ruble has yet come from the outside in the way of a loan," Lenin added. "Therefore the task before us necessitates economy in the budget and everywhere possible, even in the school expenses."

Lenin claimed for the new economic policy that the ruble had been established in the last five months although quadrillions of paper rubles had been issued. The soviet had become financial genius, he said. "We have already done away with four others and hope in the near future to chop off a lot more from the quadrillions."

Regarding the idea of a world revolution, he cautioned against rashness and urged that international events be watched more carefully ever keeping in mind the five years experience of the Russian revolution.

ELEVEN TO HANG UNLESS GOVERNOR WOOD INTERVENES

By Associated Press.

MANILA, Nov. 14.—Eleven non-commissioned officers in the Philippine constabulary will be hanged unless Governor General Wood pardons them, since the supreme court of the United States yesterday declined to review their cases.

Sixty-six privates will serve life sentences. The Philippine supreme court will await the official mandate of the United States court before fixing the date for carrying out the sentences.

The men were sentenced following a riot in which the constabulary members attacked the city police of Manila.

SOLVE PROBLEM OF MEETING OF ALLIES BEFORE CONFERENCE

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The troublesome question of how a meeting of the allies could be arranged before the Lausanne peace conference for the purpose of outlining the allied program, as Great Britain has insisted, has been solved as a result of an exchange of messages by the chancelleries at Paris, Rome and London.

Neither Premier Poincare of France nor Premier Mussolini of Italy can leave his capital for a conference elsewhere before proceeding to Lausanne. It has developed, but Lord Curzon, the British secretary for foreign affairs, has arranged to see Premier Poincare in Paris on the way to Lausanne, probably on Thursday, and the conversation will be continued by the two on the train from Paris to Lausanne.

Reports from Geneva that the Turks would refuse to enter the Lausanne conference if the allies made any preliminary agreement evoked the statement in official circles here that little importance was attached to this.

It was pointed out that it was the customary thing for the allies to have preliminary conferences before the Lausanne conference. The statement in official circles here that little importance was attached to this.

The opinion is expressed in official quarters that in view of the seating of the delegates, the allied representatives at Constantinople have decided it is unnecessary for the present to proclaim a state of siege.

A news agency dispatch from Constantinople dated Monday said the allies had handed Rodosto over to the nationalists and that Adrianople would be turned over next Sunday.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—Lord Rardings, the British ambassador, again called all the foreign office today and informed Premier Poincare a memorandum. Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, was on the way giving the British viewpoint on certain near east questions.

French officials say they are at a loss to point out any details concerning the near east peace in which there is divergence between the London and Paris cabinets. A British desire to remain permanently at Chancery is suggested in political circles but officials here refuse to express any opinion on that point.

Janet Pasha, who left Lausanne this morning for Paris, will have a talk with Premier Poincare tomorrow.

MATRIMONIAL AGENCIES AND UNDERTAKING FIRMS ARE FIELDS OF INQUIRY

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Matrimonial agencies and undertaking establishments were fields of investigation today in the alleged poison plot of Mrs. Thilla Klimek and her cousin, Mrs. Nellie Sturmer Koulik. The women were arraigned on murder charges yesterday, but the preliminary hearing was postponed ten days while investigations continued.

According to the authorities there have been ten mysterious deaths or cases of illness from poison among former husbands, relatives and friends of Mrs. Klimek, while Mrs. Koulik is held as a suspect to five alleged poisonings.

Detectives turned to matrimonial agencies and undertakers, parlors when they were unable to trace the life of Mrs. Klimek during a period in which the police say she was known as "Mrs. Myers." The search of records was started in an effort to learn if there was a "Mrs. Myers."

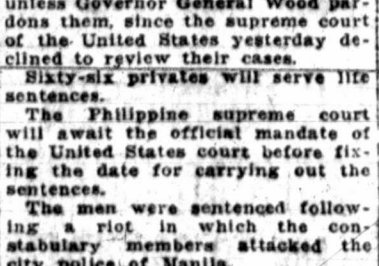

Meanwhile, Mrs. Cornelia Kozal, sister of Mrs. Koulik, questioned in connection with the investigations, was released.

City's physicians are analyzing the organs of two former husbands and a cousin of Mrs. Klimek and permits were issued to exhume three more bodies, those of two children and a grandchild of Mrs. Koulik.

The obelisk is now 216 feet high. When completed it will be 351 feet, according to the plans.

The work of raising the remainder of the funds has been placed in the hands of the Daughters of the Confederacy and the Jefferson Davis home association. Unfunded by the action of Governor Morrow in voiding an appropriation of $15,000 included in a bill passed by both houses of the Kentucky legislature, the daughters announced their determination to raise the necessary funds at this convention.

More than six hundred delegates are expected to be present when the convention is called to order tonight and every section of the United States will be represented.

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND LOOSENS TEETH

The Very Next Dose Of This Trouble-creaser Drug May Start Trouble.

You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quicksilver, and it's dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and choking you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your drugstore and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than any calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day. If you use a day's work, Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can't salt the system.

Deep Dark Mystery At Denver Lake is Solved by Officers

A deep-dark mystery harbored by the Denver lake on the Henrietta road has been placed under the searchlight and is now illumined. It required two sets of officers to penetrate the puzzling problem.

Sunday the sheriff's department was notified that a big still was in operation. The still must be in operation for during the night somebody had placed a large number of sacks of chops along the banks in a rather obscure place. The informant had not located the still, but the chops were positive evidence that a still was there somewhere.

The sheriff's department made an investigation, a most thorough one. In fact it was so thorough that when they returned they kept everything quiet. Not a soul was notified. They had an object in view. It was not discovered until Tuesday morning just why the members of this department had not said a word.

Monday morning a man appeared at Constable Frank Morgan's office. He would talk to him privately. There were several men in the office and so Mr. Morgan walked outside the building and into the way. The man asked him to go still further away where it would be impossible for anyone to hear. When the man reached a spot around the corner of the court house building he whispered to Frank that the sheriff's department and also of Mr. Morgan had been explained to the satisfaction of all.

number of sacks of chops had been placed there during the night Saturday. He had found them Sunday morning. It would be a big catch and reflect with credit on his department.

Frank thanked his informant and immediately made preparations for a raid. A thirty-three, three extra six-shooters, a pair of field glasses and a periscope comprised the added equipment taken.

Cautiously and carefully, Frank and his trustworthy deputy slipped up to the edge of the lake. The field glasses brought the large number of chop sacks close to them. There were a large number of them.

Practically every foot of ground surrounding the lake was placed under observation. No still could be found.

Then Frank decided that he would approach the sacks and perhaps secure a lead that would take him to the still. So he proceeded.

Finally Frank reached the sacks without anyone seeing him. He cautiously approached them. There were a lot of tracks there and all of them pointed toward the bank. So Frank opened one of the sacks. They were filled with sawdust.

The Denver railroad had taken precautionary measures to insure that their water pipes would not freeze this winter. The silence of the sheriff's department and also of Mr. Morgan had been explained to the satisfaction of all.

LEGION HOPES TO PROVIDE MORE ADEQUATELY FOR VETS BY HELPING THEM HELP THEMSELVES

One of the great needs of the community today is to help the soldier to find himself as a citizen. Returned soldiers have found themselves facing seemingly insurmountable difficulties with the slack demand for employment and the high cost of living.

One of these fighting boys had brought his wife to Wichita Falls to start in life anew after the grim days in the trenches. He went out in search of employment, but everywhere he was greeted with the same news. "Industry was letting men go rather than adding to its forces." His wife's efforts to find something to do were also of no avail.

When the matter was brought to the attention of Ma Burdick, world famous war worker, a very despondent and broken hearted soldier faced her. Such despondency as he could easily have been turned into incurable bitterness. But cheery Ma Burdick loved by all the fighting boys, soon put new heart into the discouraged vet. She helped the family pay their rent and grocery bill and in that never-fail way of hers found the soldier employment. He made good and advanced in his work. Later he got a better paying position out of the city, and he left here with a feeling of love in his heart for Wichita Falls and an unexpressed gratitude and devotion for her who had helped him in his darkest hour.

The Salvation Army has been taking care of these cases along with their other constructive community work. The American legion of this city has made extensive plans to carry this work on further. Their program for the coming year will embrace a reconstructive policy for the citizen-soldier. Through this organization's efforts, he will be given an opportunity to take training that will fit him to compete with his fellow-citizens in making a living. He will be given aid when he is in need of it. Everything will be done to make a loyal and devoted citizen out of him by helping him to help himself.

Funds will be needed to carry on this important community work.

The American legion will enter the campaign with seven other organizations of this city to secure funds to carry on for the coming year. Citizens of Wichita Falls will have an opportunity to play a part in this great work by contributing to the United Welfare fund on November 27, 28 and 29, and at the union Thanksgiving service at the First Baptist church November 30.

TEN THOUSAND BALES RECEIVED AT MEMPHIS

MEMPHIS, Nov. 14.—Cotton receipts here have been 10,000 bales up to the present time, according to the county officials. Hall county will make about 10,000 and 20,000 bales this season. ## EDNA PARK PLAYERS ARE GIVEN ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION WITH EVERY EVIDENCE PLAY PLEASES

At their initial presentation of the comedy drama "Fair and Warmer," which also marked their debut to the theater going people of the city, Jack Doty and Jack Doty, members of the company were greeted with a packed house at the Palace. The company as a whole was well received, but Jack Doty, who appeared here last winter in another stock company, goes the honor of receiving the most enthusiastic reception.

From the time the curtain rose in the first act until the final drop the house was either laughing or just recovering from one, or getting set for another. The play itself is a most humorous one, and the laughs were rendered more spontaneous by the splendid acting of each and every member of the cast.

Dainty little Edna Park and Jack Edwards assumed the two heavy roles in the play while Jack Doty and Madge Haller, who are well known to the company, were well assisted in bringing out the main threads of the story.

The play is set in an apartment in New York City in which reside two couples. The husband of one, who is labeled "The Model," is a "band" because he doesn't smoke, drink, stay out late at night, and in fact is just a "One Woman Man." His wife finds him so uninteresting on this account that she seeks her recreation in company with another man. She has practically decided to divorce him and tells him so on account of the fact that he hasn't done anything.

The husband of the other couple believes in keeping a wife wondering, and at least once or twice a week goes to "The Mystic Shrine." The model husband confides in the Mystic Shriner and tells him that his wife and he are to be separated. He is told by his friend that the only way to keep a wife is to make her jealous and keep her wondering.

Events so transpire that the model husband and the wife of the Mystic Shriner are left alone one evening in the former's apartment. When the better halves are out for the night. After waiting until the wee teeny hours of the morning and neither one having returned, the pair decide to indulge in fixing up a cocktail which they label the "Woolworth building" due to the fact that on the foundation they build many stories, each story representing a different brand of liquor.

When the wife of the model husband returns with her escort of the evening she discovers that her husband is intoxicated. Within a few minutes the Mystic Shriner excitedly appears and relates that his wife is gone. She is found in a negligee under the rug in the model husband's room and also intoxicated.

This is the climax of a large number of conflicting threads which form the basis of the playlet.

The crowded house was supplemented by a party of high school students who "whooped" things up before the curtain rose, but who during the presentation of the program acted very gentlemanly and womanly. The members of the Rotary club were guests of the management of the house.

Miss Park and Jack Doty were presented with several large and expensive bouquets which were received with thanks and appreciation.

It was announced that the delays Monday night were due to the non-arrival of parts of the stage scenery and equipment and other unforeseen obstacles that always attend the first appearance in a new theater. The crowd, however, did not grow impatient and accepted the delays without nervousness.

Mr. Edwards announced that his company had come for an indefinite stay, depending entirely upon the patronage. If the same ease and grace is shown by the members of the company in the succeeding weeks, he offered it is expected that the company will remain here throughout the winter.

The representative audience of Wichita Falls people was present last night, and taking it from the lips of those present, Wichita Falls is pleased with the company and its members.

CITY TO REIMBURSE REALTY COMPANY FOR WATER LINES

Under a contract of April 23, 1919, the city water department will reimburse the Scotland Realty company $17,500 for private water lines. In addition, the city council decided Monday night. The above contract between the water works and the realty company was made before the city purchased the water works and was assumed by the city upon the purchase. It was agreed that in any calendar year when the gross revenue should equal 25 per cent of the cost of the equipment, that the realty company should be reimbursed.

This payment was authorized at a meeting of the city council in the Monday night session. At that time the city purchased the water system $85,000 indebtedness was assumed; of this amount $25,000 has been paid.

Upon motion of Fitts and Clifford, ordinance 422, establishing the fire limits defining zones one and two and specifying the kind of building permits in each, was passed to its first reading. The ordinance was drawn on recommendation of the fire marshal and if passed it is claimed will be of great assistance in keeping down fire losses.

A permit was granted the M. K. & T. to place a fuel tank at the corner of Ninth and Ohio, to be used in the heating plant of the new freight depot now under construction. No protests were offered in the public hearing on the permit applied for by the Schofield filling station. The permit was granted upon motion by Shepherd and Clifford. J. T. Workman was given permission to operate a hand laundry.

Commissioner Fitts outlined to the council his plans for handling the spring traffic. It is not probable that any definite action will be taken for several months but the council will keep the matter under consideration and several changes in traffic regulations are expected before the spring season. A motion was made and carried to hold the weekly council meetings at 4 p. m. Monday afternoon instead of at 7:30.

JOHN LEBUS SUED FOR $15,000 FOR ALLEGED DAMAGES

John Lebus is named defendant in a damage suit for $15,000 filed Tuesday morning in the 35th district court by E. R. Rogers of Tillman county, Oklahoma. The damages are for alleged injuries suffered in an accident at Electra on May 22, 1922.

The plaintiff recites that he was riding in an automobile driven by C. L. Granbury and while an occupant of the automobile while crossing the intersection of two streets in Electra, the defendant struck the automobile while traveling at a terrific and dangerous speed.

As a result of the smashup the plaintiff alleges that he suffered injuries which will permanently incapacitate him and asks judgment in the sum of $15,000.

ELECTRA SCHOOLS HAVE AN ENROLLMENT OF 1948 INCREASE MORE THAN 300

ELECTRA, TEXAS, Nov. 14.—Enrollment in the public schools of Electra is only 53 short of 2,000. This is an increase of more than 300 over last year and is nearly five times as many as were enrolled when the present school management took charge five years ago.

Three hundred and twelve students are in the high school. Seven hundred two are enrolled in the junior high school. Enrollment in the first ward is 148. There are 82 small children in the Thompson high school, and 43 are enrolled in the "Red Riders" school. The total enrollment last year was 1,635.

Despite the occupancy this year for the first time of the new Thompson high school building, it is still necessary to use the wooden shacks in which part of the teaching was done last year, the increase having been about 100. The capacity of the new $75,000 building. The school plant is now valued at about $250,000. Five years ago it was less than $50,000.

Fifty teachers are employed. The high school is affiliated for 27 units.

CECIL JAMES AGAIN UNDER ARREST TAKEN TO TOPEKA, KAN. JAIL

Cecil James, formerly of this city, was figured in the episode at San Francisco early last summer in which a policeman was wounded and James seriously wounded. He was placed under arrest at Dallas Sunday and taken back to the jail at Topeka, Kansas.

Word to this effect was received Tuesday by H. D. Bishop, local representative of the department of justice.

According to Mr. Bishop, the young man was transferred from California to Topeka, Kansas, after he recovered from the effects of the five bullet wounds. Word was sent there that the young man was wanted here on an automobile theft charge. Five days ago Mr. Bishop was advised that James with another prisoner had broken jail.

The arrest at Dallas was made at the Western Union telegraph office.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR CLASSES GUESTS "FAIR AND WARMER"

At the invitation of H. S. Word of Dye, Ford and Rogers, to attend the evening of the Jack Edwards Stock company at the Palace theater Monday evening the junior and senior classes of high school and members of the junior college enjoyed "Fair and Warmer." The students, numbering over 300, gathered in front of the theater at 8 o'clock and succeeded in letting the townspeople for a radius of several blocks know what was happening.

However, as a result of the party, Tuesday morning saw yawns and a general lack of knowledge of the contents of lessons among the intellectual upper classmen.

FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF COOPERATIVE MARKETING ARE DISCUSSED BEFORE AD CLUBS

HOUSTON, TEXAS, Nov. 14.—The great crops of the west and south are moved year after year by constant advertising in the newspapers and magazines, by encouraging proper window and stand display, by the development of new and palatable uses, Aaron Sapiro, of San Francisco, legal counsel for 46 cooperative associations in the United States, including the Texas farm bureau cooperative marketing associations, and regarded as one of the best authorities in the world on cooperative marketing, declared this noon, addressing the state convention of the Associated Ad Clubs of Texas. Mr. Sapiro was introduced by Law Holland, president of the Associated Ad Clubs of the World. Mr. Sapiro explained the fundamental principles of cooperative marketing as related to merchandising and advertising.

"Three associations will spend in an aggregate over $4,000,000 in this crop season for advertising alone. Every dollar of this expenditure will come back 10-fold to these wise cooperatives in the sale of the whole crop by constant absorption," Mr. Sapiro said.

"Out of many years of bitter experience, the growers on the far west have learned how to merchandise their crops. They have worked out six primary steps in merchandising farm crops:

"First—All products must be standardized and graded with constant improvement of quality. Frozen oranges of 1921 will not sell more oranges in 1922. Grades must be established and quality maintained. Trade marks and trade names must be hammered into the public mind, so that a certain name means oranges, another raisins and another prunes.

"These trade names are useless unless they are backed up by a constant, steady flow of high quality products. From the grower's standpoint, the sale of ungraded products is always a calamity. Where he sells in mixed grades, he always has to take a price based on the lowest quality in the entire delivery. With ungraded products the grower bears every hazard of quality. With graded products the grower has some chance of receiving the regard of cars in production and the resultant quality.

"After the product is graded, the package must be made right. It must carry the product to the consumer in good condition and in a quantity or form that meets the desire or convenience of the purchaser. This is the second primary step. The California cooperatives are constantly experimenting with new packages to see, for example, if the 21 pound box of prunes cannot be taken from the floor of the country grocery and be replaced by a neat two-pound package on the shelves.

"The next steps is to extend markets, by time, by place and by intensifying use. The commodities must be sold in the degree that the markets will absorb them at fair prices. Eggs have a period of production in the spring; but one-half of this flush production is carried over to the fall and winter. The sale of all the spring eggs during spring months means low prices to the growers—and huge profits to speculators from the high consumer prices in the winter. Storing the surplus eggs will permit an extension of the marketing period from three to 10 months.

"With storage and credit facilities, marketing is extended by the element of time for all products that are semi-perishable or non-perishable. Markets are then extended by place. The cooperatives seek all over the world to sell their products. They send agents to the Orient; to Europe; to South America; to all the various states in the United States and Canada to open up markets.

"The dealer does not have to sell the crop. He only has to sell what he buys of the crop. If there is a surplus, the dealer is glad, because it gives an excuse for battering down the price basis.

"But the cooperative association must sell the entire crop. It does not go for high prices; it does not depend on margin. It has to sell the full crop and make its profit upon volume.

"Fourth, the cooperatives, as a part of merchandising, set out to convert occasional uses into constant use and luxuries into staples. Twenty years ago oranges were rarely seen and rarely eaten. Today oranges can be purchased every day in the year in practically every city in the country. They are a part of everyday life.

"Here Mr. Sapiro dwelt on the policy of constant advertising in newspapers and magazines, pointing out the success derived therefrom by many concerns, corporations and associations.

"Fifth, there must be a control of the flow of products so that they move under central direction, in order that no market shall be glutted and no market have a famine," the speaker resumed. "With perishables, the aim is to see that every market gets what it can consume immediately without overloading and without waste. With non-perishables, the aim is to control the flow so that the product moves in a sane, orderly fashion into consumption by factories or ultimate consumers. This is accomplished primarily by centralization of control.

"Sixth, all of these elements lead to the final step. The cooperatives study the flow from the standpoint of the consumer. They learn where products go, and in what quantities and at what times they are consumed. Everyone realized that prices must be determined by consumer supply and demand. The unorganized farmer receives a price based on supply at points of production. All the prunes on the trees in Santa Clara county put nothing into the pockets of the growers. The prunes that are sold in Chicago, in London, in Antwerp and in Hamburg determine the prices and the profit to the smallest grower in California. None of these things can be done by individual growers; but all of them are actually done by great cooperative associations of the west in merchandising agricultural crops.

"That is the aim of cooperative marketing: to abolish the dumping of farm products, and to substitute in its place the merchandising of farm products, the controlled movement of crops into the markets of the world as such times and in such quantities that these markets can absorb the crops at fair prices," the speaker concluded.

BRITISH ARE GOOD SPORTS SAYS SIMS IN TORONTO SPEECH

TORONTO, Nov. 14.—Rear Admiral William S. Sims, U. S. N., retired, was heartily cheered when in an address before the Canadian club yesterday he said that he favored the British "because the British are good sports."

"I am pro-British," Admiral Sims said. "In fact I am characterized by some newspapers as the most popular British admiral in the American navy. I like the British because they are good sports and will stand the gaff without whimpering at all. You can torpedo a British sailor (till he is blue in the face but he will still go back to sea."

Addressing the Royal Canadian Institute last night, Admiral Sims said the use of gas in warfare came rather under the classification of humane weapons than otherwise and that the horror that existed in the minds of people regarding its use was largely due to propaganda.

"Gas has a bad name," he said. "The Germans were smart enough to spring it on us first and the propaganda about it was such that it will take a couple of years to get that impression corrected. The number of casualties resulting from the use of gas was small and the effect on the systems of those who were not killed by it was slight. There is no doubt that if anyone is menaced by an enemy and can save the situation by the use of gas, it will be used. Provisions have been formulated forbidding the use of gas by the nations but they are keeping their gas tanks filled any way."

The one great aim of cooperative marketing is to abolish the dumping of farm products, and to substitute in its place the merchandising of farm products, the controlled movement of crops into the markets of the world as such times and in such quantities that these markets can absorb the crops at fair prices," the speaker concluded.

WAY ON YEARS 'COYOTE'

The work on the Coyote, annual publication of the Wichita Falls High school, has begun in earnest. The subscriptions have been taken, and the staff is now busy at the almost impossible task of getting money from the student body.

Courtney Howell, business manager of the Coyote, states, however, that the situation is not as bleak as it appears. He says that a result of a good start has been made toward the completion of the photographs.

The rules are simple
The reward is priceless

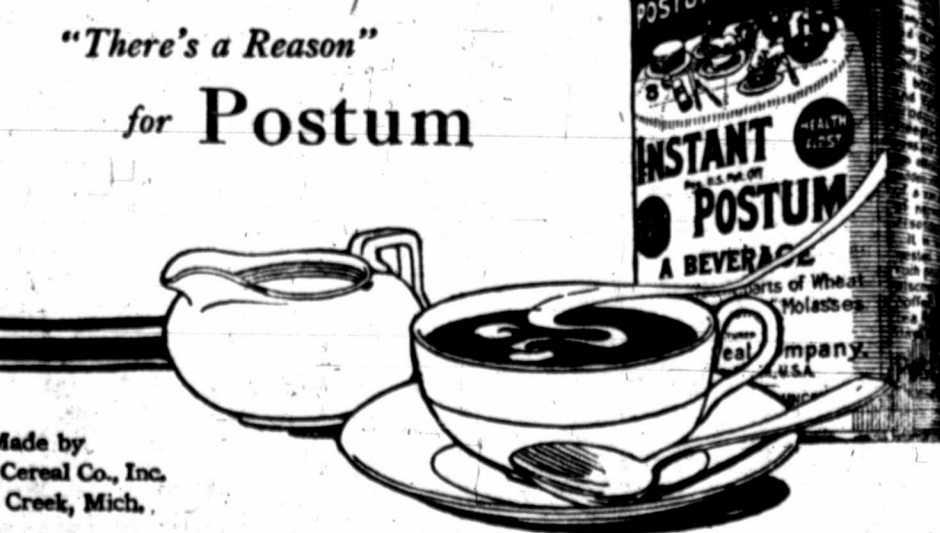

THE whole scheme of progress is based on the desire for enjoyment. But without health, you cannot enjoy life.

If your nerves are irritated and weakened by the effects of coffee or tea drinking, you cannot have good health. If you can't sleep nights, and you suffer from headaches, and are generally depressed, stop coffee and tea. Drink delicious Postum instead, and see if you don't feel better.

Postum is a pure cereal drink that satisfies the most exacting taste for a refreshing hot beverage.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Give this delicious beverage a fair trial, and like thousands of others you will never go back to coffee or tea again.

Postum is sold by your grocer in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling fully twenty minutes.

ETHEL NELSON IN MUSICAL NUMBERS AT UNIVERSITY CLUB

Wichita's latest premier musician, Ethel Allen Nelson, violinist, was the feature entertainer and guest of the University club luncheon today, offering three musical numbers, two of her own compositions, the other an old time favorite, "The Rosary."

Mr. Allen, a deviation from the ordinary professional musician, is also a business man as well as a violinist. He is a graduate of the University of Texas and is now a resident of the city. He has secured some excellent classes here in the violin and is now a Wichita resident, the latest addition to the local musical colony.

Failure of the principal speaker, Judge Finley Weldon, to be present, gave opportunity for the club to elect a short address to be given by Chauncey Snowden of the Church of Incarnation (Episcopal), Dallas, Texas.

Rev. Snowden, a life-long friend and guest of Al Ellis, opened his address with this statement: "The state of today is in a state of a fall, but it will not be shown until the next generation."

"Education without first establishing a character is going to have a telling effect on the future of the world. Few today know the science of education to be that of life itself. People and communities are trained too much by treacherous and unreliable emotions. These are not trust-worthy. The thoughts of a country must guide its destiny and emotional thoughts are not heavy enough for that, were the positions advanced by Rev. Snowden. WAS A BROKEN-DOWN WOMAN Then I Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicines
Donaldsonville, La.—"I write with pleasure to praise your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had been having pains every month and at intervals between, was weak and seemed to be smothering at times, but in a week I felt like another woman. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. It did me a lot of good too. I cannot praise your medicines too much and will be more than glad to recommend them to any woman who is suffering from female troubles. You may print my testimonial, as it is true."—Mrs. T. A. LANDRY, 612 Miss. St., Donaldsonville, La.

GRAHAM PETITION FOR UNION STATION WILL BE HEARD

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Nov. 14.—Increased livestock rate application of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad and application of the same line for increased divisions in all freight shipments, are the principal cases to come before the state railroad commission at its November hearing, which opened here today.

The increased divisions asked by the Orient are similar to those recently granted that line on interstate traffic by the Interstate Commerce Commission as a means of assisting in rehabilitating the road. The increased livestock rates, with horses and mules as exceptions, are asked for the same purpose.

Proposed car charge on loaded cars between Magnolia Park and Manchester, Ind., was also discussed. Graham—petition for union depot facilities on C. R. I. & G. and W. F. & S. railroads.

Coal and coke, carloads, alignment after placement. Cotton and cotton lint, any quantity to apply general reconignment rules. Cotton seed, carloads, when for planting purposes, minimum weight of cars.

Increased division in freight rates, Kansas City, Mexico and Orient on Texas interstate freight traffic. Increased freight rates on livestock, except horses and mules, carloads, and between points on Kansas City, Mexico and Orient of Texas.

DALLAS, Nov. 14.—An average reduction of 87.32 a carload in freight rates on about 225 commodities moving into the Lubbock, Texas, division territory, has been secured through the efforts of the transportation department of the Texas chamber of commerce in cooperation with the Lubbock chamber of commerce. The first tariff carrying the new decrease has just been received at headquarters of the Texas chamber of commerce. The reduction in the present commodity differentials amounts to 62 per cent. In addition to the 18 per cent reduction which was made July first.

Love's Redemption At the Olympic Is A Splendid Picture

A wealth of beautiful tropical scenery, an inspiring character of naive girlhood and a love story as tender as any ever written are the features of "Love's Redemption," the first National attraction starring Norma Talmadge, which is the feature at the Olympic theater.

The early part of the story deals with life in Jamaica, and to preserve the realism of the story upon the screen the star and an entire company of screen players spent three weeks in the tropics making the "extensive" interesting "back-sets" on affairs in the West Indies, features of clubs and native life in the islands, and an insight into the management of a huge sugar plantation covering thousands of acres.

The story teems with thrills and heart interest. It was adapted by Anthony Paul Kelly from Andrew Souter's novel, "On Principles." Albert Parker directed the picture.

SEEK TO ELIMINATE GRADE CROSSINGS ON HIGHWAYS OF TEXAS

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Nov. 14.—An appeal will be made to the next Texas legislative session to pass measures eliminating grade crossings on the state highway department or the state railroad commission to eliminate dangerous railroad crossings on Texas highways.

There is no law in Texas by means of which the railroad company can be compelled to bear a portion of the cost of eliminating railroad crossings over public highways. A THOUGHT FOR TODAY
For this is the love of God, that we keep His commandments; and His commandments are not grievous.—1 John 5:3.

RESPECT FOR THE LAW.
Americans need some of the Englishman's reverence for the law.

An Englishman is taught respect and reverence for the law. In the United States the youth is taught but little about the constitution and the law but he quickly learns from the example of leading citizens that the practice is the breach rather than the observance of the law.

That is one of the things that is the matter with the country today. Disrespect for the law has been growing rather than respect for the law. The time has come to think soberly of this fact and to take steps to inculcate in all the people a greater respect for the law as it is written.

Many of America's leaders have seen this. One of them was Abraham Lincoln. In an address before the Young Men's Lyceum at Springfield, Ill., in 1837, Lincoln said:

"Let every American, every lover of liberty, every well wisher to his posterity, swear by the blood of the Revolution never to violate in the least particular the laws of the country, and never to tolerate their violation by others. As the patriots of Seventy-Six did to the support of the Declaration of Independence, so to the support of the Constitution and laws let every American pledge his life, his property and his sacred honor. Let every man remember that to violate the law is to trample on the blood of his father, and to tear the charter of his own and his children's liberty. Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap; let it be taught in schools, in seminaries, and in colleges; let it be written in primers, spelling books and almanacs; let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in the legislative halls, and enforced in courts of justice."

That is a good quotation to read again. It is a good piece to clip out and put on your desk. It is a better thing to believe and to observe.

SOME FACTS ABOUT CANCER.
Cancer is increasing as a cause of death among the American people.

It starts often with some irritation that could be easily avoided and in its early stages is absolutely curable, according to good medical authority.

For these reasons the aid of the newspapers has been asked to spread information about cancer.

Here are the important facts you should know about this dread disease:

First—Cancer usually is caused by chronic irritation, particularly of the stomach. Thirty per cent of cancers in men and 21 per cent in women are in the stomach.

Second—Cancer is not contagious. It is not a germ disease.

Third—Cancer is not hereditary, though a person may inherit a "tendency" or physical weakness which, not safeguarded, may enable cancer to develop easily.

Fourth—Cancer, taken in the early stages, often is curable in the hands of medical experts. Radium is working wonders in this line. So is surgery.

Dr. Francis Carter Wood, director of the Columbia University Institute of Cancer Research, learned this: Between the ages of 15 and 19, only one person in 250,000 dies of cancer. Between 20 and 24, only one person in 200,000. Between 25 and 34, one man in 10,000 and one woman in 5,000 dies of cancer. And so the rate rises until, between the ages of 65 and 75, one man in 200 and one woman in 150 dies of cancer.

This cancer is especially dangerous in middle-age and after. But the irritation or other cause of cancer often starts much earlier, so no one is immune, and all should be on their guard.

As with other diseases, a periodical physical examination by a skilled physician is the best safeguard against cancer.

JUDGE WILSON EXONERATED.
Charges made against Judge James C. Wilson of the United States district court of the Northern District of Texas by Rev. J. Frank Norris, of Fort Worth, have been found to be unfounded and unsubstantiated by a committee of lawyers who made an investigation of them. The report of the committee of leading attorneys of Fort Worth to whom the evidence was submitted was unanimous, and was unanimously adopted by the Tarrant county bar association.

The charges against Judge Wilson were uttered by Rev. Norris from the rostrum and published in his paper, The Searchlight.

It is too easy for most of us to impute improper motives to those who differ with us on public matters. Unfortunately there are some preachers who are so inclined and who are credulous enough to believe almost any tale that is repeated to them and who do not hesitate to repeat them from the pulpit. Of course we do not charge that Rev. Norris has done this but merely point out that it is sometimes done. Preachers more than any other men ought to be careful how they repeat from the pulpit things told them and how they make charges against those with whom they differ in opinion. The pulpit is in danger of losing some of its high prestige and influence from the conduct of some of those who occupy it.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

TWO THINGS.
There are two things that should be in the back of every decent man's head—the buying and owning of a home of his own, and the carrying of an adequate insurance policy.

The one protects, gives happiness and security while he lives, and the other affords him the satisfaction that those whom he loves and who have for long served him are not to be left unhappy or forgotten when he is gone.

The mere hoarding and piling of money is getting to be less and less attractive.

It is far better to leave a boy an honest name and an understandable formula for work, than any possible "bird's fortune."

An inherited character is the richest thing a boy could receive.

And this is developed best in a home where all the ennobling influences of life are born.

Yes, go into debt for a home. And keep your life insurance policy, even though you have to sacrifice greatly to do so.

These two are the great agencies that breed success and happiness.

A real man must learn the great art of "rubbing shoulders" with other men, of finding in them something attractive and uplifting, as well as becoming useful and necessary to them. But only as he is secured in his own mind by a background of preparation is he able to tread with sound and sure step. Have a home—get your life insured!

Be a real citizen and a mover for the best in your community. And consider your voting one of your greatest privileges.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE YOUTHFUL ROSE.
A youthful rose, as children will, Saw night descend upon the hill, And frowned and tossed her lovely head Refusing to be put to bed.

"So lovely is the world," said she, "I want to stay awake and see The friends who pass along the way, And drink in all they have to say."

"I've seen the world in April days And know the summer's lovely ways, But since to sleep they make me go, I've never seen the winter's snow."

"I do not want to miss the sights And pleasures of the wintry nights; I want to hear the shutters shake And so I'm going to stay awake."

So like a curious child, she tried To pass her bedtime open-eyed, To see the happy carryings-on With winter here and summer gone.

But Mother Winter came along And sang a little drowsy song, And long before the snow grew deep The youthful rose had dropped asleep. (Copyright, 1922, by Edgar A. Guest)

HERE ARE THE MEN WHO MAY CONTROL U. S. SENATE

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Niles Staff Writer.

In the next congress the republicans, while they'll have small majorities in both houses, won't have the kind they can depend on.

There will be enough republicans among senators and representatives, who recognize party lines only when they happen to feel disposed to do so, to hold the balance of power, with a few out-and-out independents, as between the really partisan republican and democratic groups of lawmakers.

This is the alignment: Senate—Republicans, 55; democrats, 41; farmer-labor, 1; independent, 1; farmer-labor, 1; independent, 1.

But in the senate the republicans cannot depend on Borah, Brookhart, Frazier, Howell, Johnson, Ladd, LaFollette, Norbeck and Norris, respectively of Idaho, Iowa, North Dakota, Nebraska, California, North Dakota again, Wisconsin, South Dakota and again Nebraska, Frazier, he who conceded to "Why classed strictly as a republican at all, but as a member of the non-partisan league. There is also Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota.

That means a group of 10, quite capable of sticking together, who hold the casting votes in the United States senate.

In the house the lineup is not quite so clean cut. Suffice it to say, however, that a majority of only 17 is entirely insufficient—counting out the republicans whom the administration cash is sure of—to be mentioned. In fact, it is agreed that the republican organization isn't even sure enough of itself to fight yet what leader the doubtfuls will permit it to name for speaker.

Of the republican senators with whom it is not expected party dis-pline will count, R. B. Howell is a new man to national political life. He is a manager of public utilities in Omaha, was a warm supporter of Theodore Roosevelt and made his senatorial campaign largely on the issue of pushing collection of America's foreign debt.

Edwin F. Ladd is a teacher and chemist. He has served a term in the senate and was federal food administrator of North Dakota during the war.

Robert M. LaFollette has served as governor of Wisconsin, in congress and in the senate. He has a reputation as the author of legislation of the "advanced" type.

William E. Borah has been in the senate for two terms. He was notable as the chief opponent of President Wilson's league of nations plan. Borah is a Boise, Idaho, lawyer.

Like Borah, Hiram Johnson fought the Wilson league of nations plan vigorously. He was once the prosecutor of the celebrated San Francisco "boodling cases" in 1906 and 1907, served two terms as governor of California on a platform dealing mainly with the elimination of corporation interference in the state's affairs, was a founder of the progressive party, ran for the vice presidency on the ticket with Colonel Roosevelt and has a term in the senate.

Lynn J. Frazier won the senatorial election despite the fact that, not long ago, he was recalled, under the North Dakota law, as governor of his state, an office to which he was elected on the non-partisan league ticket. Thus he has the remarkable record of having been swept into office by a large majority of votes, swept out of it by the ballots of the same voters and then, again by the same voters, swept into the senate. He is a farmer.

Smith W. Brookhart is a small-town Iowa lawyer, who farms on the side. He was a colonel in the World War. In a few years he has risen to great political power in his state. He made his run awkwardly as an advanced progressive.

Triumphs of M. Jonquille. by MELVILLE DAVIDSON POST. © 1922 NEA Service, Inc.

THE MOTTLED BUTTERFLY.
The opera had opened. The music began to fill the corridors. But M. Jonquille did not go in.

He remained idling in the foyer, a cigarette in his fingers, his manner and air, well-bred, bored indifference. The whole house was crowded. There was not a vacant seat.

It was the last performance in Paris of Mme. Zircenoff's Salome. A few belated persons passed M. Jonquille and entered the doors. It was the house. Some of these persons addressed him; all regarded him. He was a well-known figure in Paris. His friendship was worth something, and whether one knew him or cared to know him, all were curious about the man.

The vast music assembled and extended itself.

The foyer became empty, and still M. Jonquille did not go in. Perhaps it was the name of heaven had not gone out. She was a famous beauty; her Salome had the abandon which stimulated—even the jaded nerves of Paris—on the night of the opera for 80 days, and Paris was still keen to see it.

The woman was a Russian exotic, one of those mad creatures who always assemble a fabulous legend. There was a wild passion in her Salome, and her conquests were the greatest of Paris.

The opera had continued for perhaps 30 minutes. Mme. Zircenoff had come on; her voice, like a silver bell, reached the doors. Clearly she had entered the foyer.

Presently the door to a box opened and one of the pages of the theater appeared with an immense bouquet of orchids. The flowers were worth a thousand francs. They could have been grown in Paris only with extreme care and attention. The direction of light and temperature. It was a mass of flowers that would have drawn the attention of anybody, exquisite orchids of the genus Oncidium. Kramerit, called the Mottled Butterfly.

It seemed to have drawn the attention of M. Jonquille. He stopped the page and reached the doors to the box. "Gardez," he said, handing him a piece of gold. "Find me a box of cigars before you go on with those flowers. Quickly—run; I will hold them until you return."

The boy knew the great chief of the Service de la Surete.

He gave M. Jonquille the bouquet of orchids and disappeared down the stairway. He was gone hardly a moment when he returned. M. Jonquille had not moved from his position by a pillar of the foyer. He handed back the orchids to the page and did not open it. Instead, he walked a few steps down the foyer and entered the box from which the page had come out with the orchids.

One looking on would have wondered at the prettiness of the girl who quired a pack of cigars, at the cost of a ten-franc gold-piece—especially as, after having turned it in his hand, he had put it carefully into his pocket and entered a box.

It would appear that he wanted to see the girl before entering the box. But to what end? One could not smoke in a box at the opera, as its most expensive point in the ultra-fashionable and regular of Paris. Although the great opera house was packed with people—not a vacant seat visible to the eye—there was but one person in the box which M. Jonquille had entered.

He was a person that anyone would pause almost anywhere to observe. He was young, he was not quietly dressed—a dress in which there was some of the over-extravagance of detail, that suggestion of elegance, which the Parisian cannot avoid.

He was a young man and extremely handsome, a blond French type with a delicate mustache and regular Italian features, and thick, soft, yellow hair presenting the gloss of the seal's coat. In his physical aspect, for want of detail, the man had no equal on the Paris boulevards.

It had got him a rich American wife and lifted him, as by a fairy lamp, out of the sordid environment of an old family in decay. The thing seemed a vision of the future, a sign of the American invasion after the great war had set up in Paris.

The marquis was the envy of the boulevardier.

This exquisite person would have been a conspicuous figure in any atmosphere of wealth. He had an apartment now beyond the Arc de Triomphe, one of those wonderful apartments that the American invasion after the great war had set up in Paris.

The marquis was the envy of the boulevardier.

But it was rumored that he had not the freedom of his wife's money-sacks. He got what she allowed verify details; but you will pardon me if I am moved to ask you for your opinion on a certain phase of this mystery. You must have an opinion, monsieur, if you do not have an explanation, in fact."

He turned a little in his seat.

"Monsieur," he said, "how did it happen that when we had fitted this robbery upon Jean Lequeux, a member of the Lecons, he admitted it before the court, asked for an immediate sentence? But he would admit nothing else he would not say what he had done with the necklace or where it was."

"That was a strange position for a man to take, monsieur. He could have nothing to do with the necklace. It did not lighten his sentence; and after all, our evidence against him was circumstantial. Why did he not say what he had done with the necklace? The judge would have reduced the sentence. Why conceal it, monsieur, and go for this long period of servitude? Did he hope to escape?"

M. Jonquille spoke with decision.

"He did not,"

"Then, monsieur," continued the marquis, "why did he refuse to say where the necklace was? Of what service would the necklace be to him after twenty years?"

Again M. Jonquille replied directly and with decision.

"Of no use, monsieur; the man did not expect it to be of any use to him."

"Then, monsieur," continued the marquis, "why in the name of heaven did he not say where the necklace was, and thereby reduce his sentence?"

M. Jonquille seemed to reflect.

"You have asked for my opinion," he said. "I think I can do better than give an opinion. I think I can tell you precisely the reason why Jean Lequeux, when he confessed this crime before the court, refused to say what had become of the necklace."

Coyotes Will Likely Meet Ft. Worth Hi. (Central) Saturday

Now that the Coyotes have been eliminated from the race toward a state championship, with a clean schedule sheet, Coach Jones feels that the supporters of the Red and Black are entitled to some good measure of encouragement and support rendered in the past. Arrangements are now under way to bring Fort Worth Central High here for Saturday's game. All details have not been worked out, but the local mentor is confident that the game will be played.

Electra is not at all satisfied with the beating dealt out to them which netted the Coyotes a sectional championship. Jones is somewhat of a task-master in arranging another game. This agitation comes from the defeated city and whether Coach Jones would consider such a proposition is not known, but at any rate, it would make a great drawing extra.

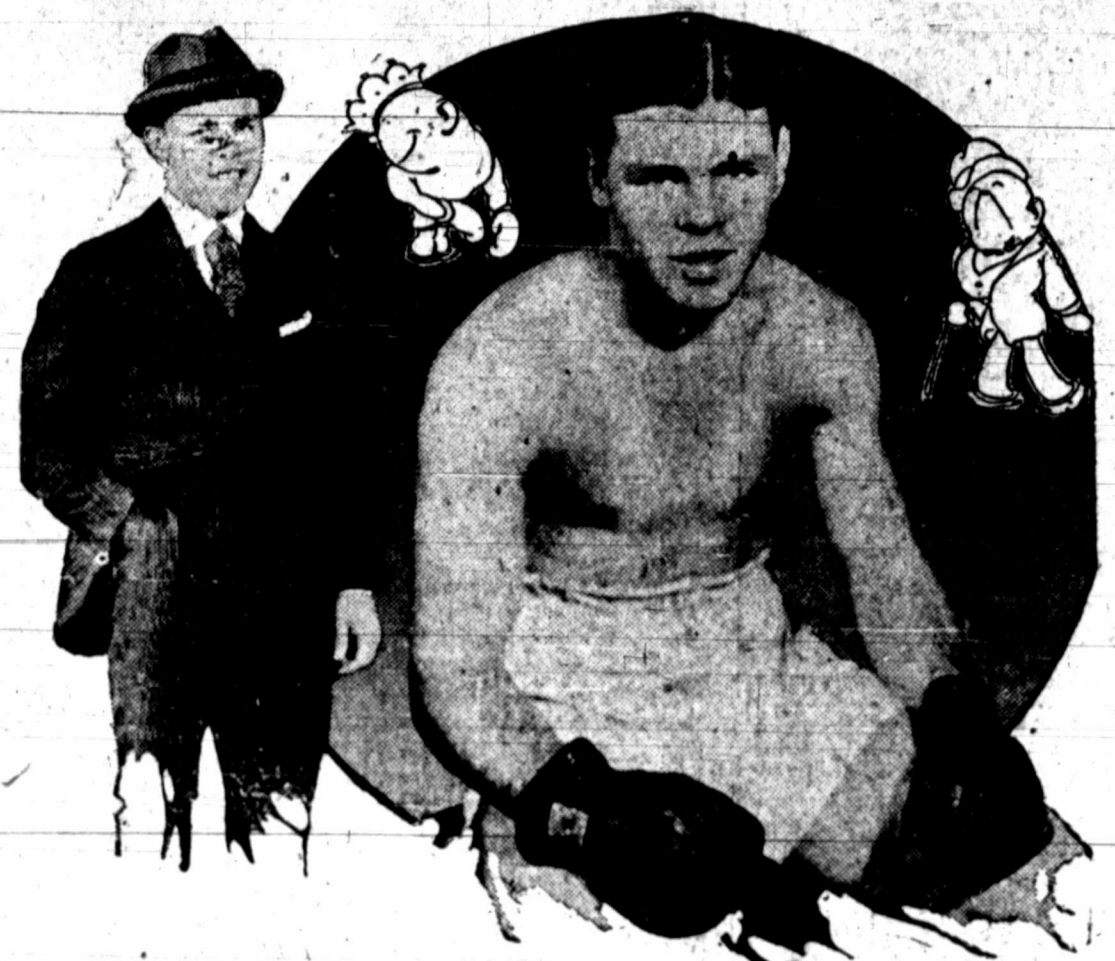

Hollis, Okla., one of the strongest aggregations of that state, is trying to secure a date here for Saturday, November 25. The Hollis bunch has defeated all comers of late, their least memorable victory being that of Electra in a 27-6 contest on Electra's own grid.

Coach Jones has also opened negotiations for a Thanksgiving game here with Oklahoma City, recognized as one of the strongest contenders in the state race. Nothing definite is known regarding that game, nor will it be for several days yet, but Jones is hopeful of securing that team as the stellar attraction for the Turkey Day celebration.

The squad is in good condition except for a few minor injuries. Bennett Moore, stocky back, is still suffering from a sprained knee, sustained in the Cleburne game and may not play in the Saturday game, but will be okay thereafter. Moore was the star of the most consistent ground gainers on "home field last Saturday and his loss was perceptible.

Frank Shaw received a severe joint in the side which did some damage but not enough to keep him out of the week end game. All others were ready to play and in practice yesterday all had much pep.

New Welter Champion Has Many Rivals

Mickey Walker in civilian and fighting togs.

By BILLY EVANS

How long will Mickey Walker hold the welterweight title? Some of the boxing experts are inclined to the belief that Mickey's tenure will be short one.

There are a half dozen welter contenders to a match with Walker and every one of them is a dangerous contender.

George Ward and Jack Malone who held decisions over Walker, are more than anxious for a shot at the new champion. Johnny Katz, who has a verdict over Malone, is equally anxious. Then there is Dave Shade, the brilliant Californian.

Will Epitaf, the stage.

Jack Bulger, Mickey's manager, has temporarily called a halt to the many challenges by announcing to the world that Walker would shortly go on the stage. It is said bookings covering a period of three months have already been closed.

Walker, it is understood, isn't very keen for the stage stuff, but his manager opines otherwise and, of course, that settles it.

Walker is the twelfth fighter to hold the welter title. Walker, by the way, is the youngest man that ever wore the title in this country. Jack Britton was the oldest boxer to win and defend the honors of the division.

Britton beat Kid Lewis, Walker's opponent at New Orleans April 24, 1916. Jack held the title a little more than a year, Lewis winning it back when he received the decision over Britton at Dayton, Ohio, June 25, 1917.

Lewis held the honor for two years. During that time he met Britton in a number of non-decision bouts, the critics usually disagreeing as to the winner.

Britton then sprang a pugilistic surprise by knocking out Lewis in nine rounds at Canton, Ohio, March 17, 1919. Britton has held the title since, finally surrendering it to Mickey Walker on points.

Walker is 29 years old. He has been fighting only three years. His victory over Britton came as a great surprise because only a few months ago Jack had won all the honors of the division, including the welter title, by knocking out Britton in the tenth round.

Basket Flingers Open League Season With Two Games Tonight

The Wichita Falls amateur basketball league will inaugurate its second season with two games at American legion hall, 1124 Ohio street, at 8 o'clock tonight.

First game, the Methodists take on the Baptists. In the second game the Texoma outfit, which has assembled quite a glittering array of players, tackles the Knights of Columbus, which has lost several of its last year's stars. The hall has been enlarged, new seating arrangements provided and the lighting system improved. The league gives promise of providing exceptionally fast games of the popular indoor sport.

On Friday night, November 17, the American legion, with a splendid team, plays the new Collier and London team, a new member, but a strong one, while Battery "D," Wichita Falls, contribution to the national guard of the state, will endeavor to place a box barrage around the Gaines Motor company team, which was the team that ticked the University club entry last year in a fiercely contested battle.

Admission will be 25 cents per person, the proceeds, over and above expenses, going to the American legion, as was the case last year.

Bass and Big Duck Flight Call Many to Lake Pauline

Lake Pauline, formerly known as Tumbull, is rapidly becoming one of the most popular recreation spots of this section of the state. The unusually large flight of ducks, together with numerous catches of bass and channel cat both go a long way towards making a day there one of pleasure.

Arla Berry, lessee of the property, is authority for several fascinating stories of recent happenings, one of which states that Dr. E. Jones and party of Vernon caught three nice bass in a large flight of ducks, liver, set for catfish. Another says that a party of three from Fort City caught more than 40 pounds of channel cat, two of which weighed more than 10 pounds.

The cold snap which arrived Sunday brought a large flight of ducks, which added to the many straggle there, promise much shooting for the coming week. For the past three weeks, thousands of redheads, greenheads, mallards, pintails, turkeys, teal and occasionally a few canvas backs have been seen on lake and several nice bags are reported.

SISLER GRABS TWO OF COBB'S OLD RECORDS

George Sisler of the St. Louis Browns, who bids fair to usurp Ty Cobb's crown as baseball's greatest all-around athlete, erased another record last summer that the Georgian has held for years, the consecutive hitting record.

Last summer Sisler made one or more hits in 41 consecutive games, thereby just breaking Cobb's record of 40 straight games in which he had hit safely. Cobb's record was made in 1911. It stood 11 years.

In 1921 Sisler erased another Cobb record that had stood since 1911. In that year Cobb made 215 hits during the season, the greatest total ever amassed by any American leaguer. A year ago Sisler came through with 257 safe walks, nine more than credited to Cobb.

Sisler began his consecutive hitting streak on July 27 against New York.

Yost May Retire As Active Coach

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Nov. 14.—It is believed that Coach Yost will retire as head football coach at the close of the present season's campaign around the campus in the affirmative.

Yost, who is now director of all athletics at Michigan, has been in charge of football activities as head coach for 23 years.

It is hinted that if all goes well at Michigan this year, and at the present time things are flourishing, Yost will turn the football worries over to his assistant, George Little. Of course, Yost will continue to act in an advisory capacity as director of athletics.

Yost has an enviable record as football coach at Michigan. He certainly put the Maize and Blue on the map from a sporting standpoint.

Yost came to Michigan in 1891. He probably won his greatest fame in his first four years at Michigan. His teams from 1891 to 1894 were practically unbeatable. These were the days of the "point-a-mile" eleven.

Michigan in the first four years of Yost regime won 45 out of 47 games, tying one and losing the other. Minnesota in 1902 played the Wolverines to a 6 to 6 tie while Chicago in 1901 beat Michigan, 6 to 0, because of a "bone" play on the part of Denny Clark, which permitted Chicago to score a safety.

During his first five years at Michigan Yost's teams scored 2390 points to the opposition's 42, a most remarkable record, that probably will never be equaled in collegiate circles.

Thus it is easy to see that Yost had more than his share of glory and he is willing, yet anxious, to step down when he finds someone he believes will fill the bill. Coach Little has been the man in charge of the present assistant.

MUSTANGS REVIVE HOPE FOR HONORS

Thanksgiving Game With Baylor Will Go Long Way Toward Deciding Conference Race.

DALLAS, Nov. 14.—Skeptical fans who did not concede this year's rushing Mustangs a chance at the conference title are now wondering whether the Baylor Bears, who defeated the Texas Aggies in a later margin than the M. U. eleven, achieved in their Saturday 17 to 5 victory over Bible's men and whose morale may be shaken by a defeat at Baylor on Armistice day, will be able to eliminate the Southern Methodist football coach at all before the week end at Fair Park stadium on Thanksgiving. Saturday's results practically assured a certainty of three consecutive games going to the turkey day battles without a defeat.

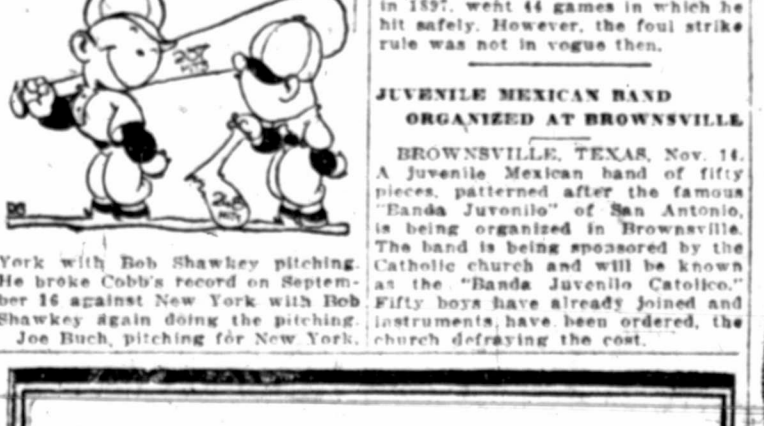

The State University will not play a conference game until it meets the Aggies. But while both Baylor and S. M. U. have conference games to play, unless they win the week end by all-around football, S. M. U. can end, especially the weak right end, plugging the formidable Aggie line, and get away with the passing game in emergencies.

The fact that the eleven reached the apex of its game this late and has a light battle only before Thanksgiving to take care of the Aggies and indeed desired reacting indicates very thoroughly that the Mustangs should be in top speed for the Baylor game. Thanksgiving. There is a new slogan out on the campus, "Beat Baylor."

It looked as if the seven other clubs pitched ball by Mays. At one time would give the contest. Mays was removed from baseball.

Ruth and Mays have been at odds ever since the formation of the club, and as a result discipline has suffered.

It is hinted that waivers have been called. Mays and that all the American league clubs have passed him up. However, it is said that several National league clubs are willing to take him, and all of which makes it look as if Mays might drift out of the American league before the opening of next season.

Yankees Will Drop Mays Is Rumored

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Since the defeat of the Yankees by the Giants, rumors have been spread relative to changes that would be made in the club before the opening of next season. Some of these changes will no doubt materialize, others will prove to be mere piffle.

However, of all the rumors circulated, one thing seems certain. Carl Mays will not be with the Yankees next year. Ever since joining the club Mays has been a bone of contention that has kept the team in a constant turmoil.

The purchase of Mays by the Yankees from Boston after President Johnson had suspended the pitcher caused a wide split in the American league that has not yet been healed.

The New York club in order to be able to play Mays, went to the courts and had a injunction restraining President Johnson from interfering with him in any way.

Boston and Chicago sided in with New York in the fight on Johnson, demanding that he be ousted. The other five clubs resent it. For a time it appeared as if the injunction might cause the formation of a third league.

There comes the unfortunate killing of Ray Chapman by a wild

Man's Like a Tack--Goes Only as Far as Head Lets Him, Says Noted Speaker

By FRANK S. REID

Dr. Henderson, personal representative of the president of the University of Chicago, delivered an inspiring talk at the Labor temple on Monday evening. To the men who missed his stirring and timely remarks is their loss.

He said it was nobody's business what his subject was. He had the idea—and he would try to bring out the idea. Said Dr. Henderson:

"There are three kinds of men in the world; the go-getter, the fellow who refuses to come back until he gets what he wants after; the fellow who goes and doesn't get, and the fellow who doesn't go at all. It is a simple matter for any man to logically determine for himself into which classification he belongs. Our educational institutions are more concerned about how our students finish their course than how they begin. This world is full of men who have made remarkably fine starts, but are poor finishers. That is why 56 out of every 100 men 42 years of age in America today can't make their own living. There is nothing hard in that to explain. Life is what you care to make it. The most discouraging thing to me is to think that some day I may be given some problem I can't solve just because I haven't taken advantage of the things around me.

"Every man is like a tack. He can only go as far as his head will let him. Men, your success in life is determined wholly by how you use your head. The rank and file do not know anything about their heads. The distance between the average man's ears is one block. If you men are fooling yourselves on the idea that bigger success in life is going to come to you in 1923 with the same equipment that you had in 1922 you are just kidding yourselves. Success in life doesn't come because of the unusual opportunity, but it comes through the recognition of the common place things of life in the uncommon way.

"A young man's success in life is not the unusual thing, but the way we do the seemingly insignificant things and the encouraging

FIRST FROST OF SEASON VISIBLE TUESDAY MORNING

With the mercury falling down to the 35 degree point during the night for the minimum temperature, the first deposit of white frost of the season was plainly visible at sunrise Tuesday morning. Throughout the night the skies remained clear which made conditions most favorable for a frost.

The skies were reported clear from all directions Tuesday morning and it was evident that the sun would bring the temperature up during the day and although low temperatures are expected for the night it is not believed that they will fall as low as Monday night.

The high mark of the thermometer locally Monday afternoon was 63 degrees.

W. H. FEHLER HAS RECORD CROP OF BUSH TOMATOES

W. H. Feher, residing two and a half miles north of the city on the Thornberry road, brought to The Times office Monday evening a sample of his crop of tomatoes which he stated he pulled Monday following the forecast of frost which he saw in The Times.

Mr. Feher had an exceedingly good crop of tomatoes this year. His crop is evidence of what the soil in this part of the country will do with the proper amount of water.

His pulling Monday was the second crop his vines produced this year. The first crop netted him 125 and on the second crop he picked three and a half bushels.

Mr. Feher experimented with both bush and tree tomatoes and
