ORDER WITHDRAWAL OF AMERICAN TROOPS LOCATED IN GERMANY

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A Reuter dispatch from Cologne this afternoon states...

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Withdrawal of the American troops from the Rhine was ordered today by President Harding...

The American forces remaining in that area number about 1,000 men and it was indicated that the withdrawal order would be carried out as soon as the American commander, Major General Allen, could make the necessary arrangements for winding up finally the affairs of the army of occupation.

Officials of the state and war departments refused flatly to make any explanation of the decision to recall Major General Allen and his forces other than to repeat that it was considered expedient to complete withdrawal from Europe.

Secretary Weeks was called to the white house early today and the purpose of the government to disclose before his return to the war department the details of the withdrawal from Europe.

As an indication that no time would be lost, it was made known that the transport St. Mihiel would leave New York today or tomorrow to bring home the bulk of the Rhine forces.

Secretary Hughes also attended the conference at the white house which precedes the decision that the troops were to be withdrawn practically at once.

The troops probably will return via Bremen which has for several weeks been the main supply base for the Coblenz forces. The detachment consists of 320 men of the eighth infantry and various units of the coast and supply troops and detachments necessary to complete a garrison organization.

FRENCH CONTROL OF RUHR COAL DISTRICT STARTS WEDNESDAY

PARIS, Jan. 10.—France's assumption of the Ruhr coal control in accordance with a note delivered by the French government to Germany today.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The British government has granted a special permission to move troops through the British occupied territory along the Rhine in pursuance of the French plan for occupation of the Ruhr.

By Associated Press. BREMEN, Jan. 10.—No further advance by the French was reported from any point in the unoccupied area early today. The troops which arrived last night at Huelshorn, 15 miles north of Essen, and at Speldorf, nearby, have been withdrawn in the direction of Duisburg.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The last formalities regarding the necessary before the French troops enter the Ruhr valley to apply penalties for default in deliveries in kind by Germany under the treaty of Versailles were set for this afternoon. It was arranged that Premier Poincare would inform the German government, through Dr. Wilhelm Meyer, the German ambassador in Paris, and through the French ambassador at Berlin, of the measures he purposes taking, beginning tomorrow.

The measures comprise, besides the collection of the German coal tax for allied account, the seizure of state forests, to be exploited for the benefit of the reparations fund, and the collection of customs duties on exports in foreign money.

The French foreign office, in a statement today, said that the "occupation" was inapplicable to the operation in the Ruhr. The French troops there, it was said, will guard the prerogative of forces of military occupation further than may be found necessary to furnish protection for the reparations fund, and the collection of customs duties on exports in foreign money.

Seventeen native police were killed in rioting at Chauri-Chura which occurred February fourth last. The demonstration was one episode in a week of anti-British activities in various parts of India. The mob at Chauri-Chura, numbering 2,000 Indian nationalist volunteers, reinforced by villagers, attacked the police officers and killed the entire staff including the eight policemen were sent to reinforce the post. The buildings were burned.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The time for lifting the curtain in the last act of the post-war drama—the French inforcement of the Ruhr—was still a secret today although the actors were in their places with their parts well learned under the tutelage of the french military command. Every preparation for the final order to "go ahead" has been made with clocklike precision.

REPORT CONDITION OF DOCTOR WALLACE IS STILL SERIOUS

Dr. Charles W. Wallace, who was injured Tuesday morning when his automobile and a fire truck of No. 3 engine house collided at Eighth and Burnett streets remains in a critical condition according to reports from the General Hospital Wednesday morning. It was stated however that he had rested well during the night.

An X-ray examination made late Tuesday evening revealed that he was suffering from three broken ribs, internal injuries and painful bruises and cuts on his body, face and head.

A thorough examination was made of the ugly bruises on his head but no fracture of the skull was found. The local operator and former president of the University of Nebraska regained consciousness late Tuesday evening.

He was taken to the General Hospital where his condition during the night indicates that his internal injuries are not severe and that he will recover.

NAMES DR. B. M. M'KOIN AND PINK KIRKPATRICK AS TWO OF THE ALLEGED KIDNAPING PARTY

BASTROP, LA., Jan. 10.—Addie May Hamilton, known as "daughter of the Klan," declared on the witness stand in the open hearing investigation today into the slaying of Wadd Daniel and Thomas Richards, who was forced to leave her home near Mer Rouge and was deported from the state by "the Ku Klux."

She named Dr. B. M. McKoin, former mayor of Mer Rouge, and "Pink" Kirkpatrick as two of the party of men who, she testified, came to her mother's home one night, took her away and put her aboard a train for Little Rock, Ark., the home of her sister.

The young woman gave her age as 17. "How do you know the Ku Klux sent you to Little Rock?" George A. Gilson, who began the questioning of "the daughter of the Klan," asked.

"Because Mr. McKoin and 'Pink' Kirkpatrick and about six others came to my mother's home about two o'clock in the morning and they were going to send me away."

"Do you know positively it was Dr. McKoin and Kirkpatrick?" "Yes, sir," testified Dr. McKoin, who was masked, but he was the only one doing any talking.

"My mother asked them what for. McKoin said, 'We are going to take your mother and I will take you.' My mother got down on her knees and pleaded but they made me leave. They told us if anybody showed their heads out of the door they would 'blow 'em off.' They made me leave without a hat. Dr. McKoin struck my mother when she made a final plea for me to be allowed to remain. My mother attempted to shove them out of the room. She begged them to let her go to the depot. They refused. They put me in an automobile and Dr. McKoin gave me $1 for my fare to Little Rock. He told me if I did not catch the train I would be tarred and feathered the next day."

"I was put on the back seat of the automobile and 'Pink' Kirkpatrick threw his legs across my lap."

"What did he do that for?" "Where was your father?" "About 10 miles away in the country."

"When was that?" "It was in January, 1922."

"When did you return to Mer Rouge?" "Last May."

"When you were sent away were you told you could not return?" "Yes, sir."

"Did they threaten your mother?" "They told me they would tar and feather her if I did not go."

"Who said they would shoot anybody's head off if they looked out at the depot?" "Dr. McKoin."

"What size car was it?" "A roadster. Mr. McKoin drove the car. Mr. Kirkpatrick sat in the front seat. The final vote, 12 to 12, was considerably more decisive than even the most ardent Seagler men had anticipated."

West Texas representatives will get together in the near future to plan their fight for the West Texas A. & M. college. With increased respect comparative ease in the voting the house; the senate will offer rough sailing.

VOTING MACHINES WILL BE USED BY 30TH LEGISLATURE

By Staff Correspondent. AUSTIN, TEXAS, Jan. 10.—The Texas house of representatives is one of only four in the country to be equipped with the electrical voting contrivance, by which members vote by pressing buttons on their desks. The device was installed at a cost of about $20,000; the state has not yet agreed to take it, but will pay $1,000 for the use of it this session, that sum to apply on the purchase price if the device is adopted. As soon as all members have pressed buttons indicating their votes, a printed slip is turned out by the machine, showing the result. It is a claim for the device that in actual time saved, it will pay for itself in two sessions. It saves seven minutes on each roll call.

Two blind men are members of the Texas house of representatives. They are not the first Texas legislators to be chosen from among the six million who are blind. Members of former houses having been thus afflicted.

Mrs. Williams of Dallas joined with Judge Merriman in introducing house bill No. 1, which appropriates $20,000 for the purchase of a building for the public schools. Ordinarily the first bill to be introduced is that which provides for the appropriation of money and contingent expenses of the members, but the school aid bill got first place this session.

The oldest member of the house is Capt. W. A. Fields of Hillsboro, who is 73 years of age. He was not in the house last session. He was a captain in Hood's Brigade in the Civil war, and has extensive military experience in newspaper work at Hillsboro. He is postmaster there until recently.

Judge W. H. Blodgett, of Lubbock, state senator from Wichita Falls district, will probably be one of the most ardent opponents of the "non-con." He is among the movement.

During the nominating speeches in the house speaker election, George Washington was referred to six times; the expression "his great state of ours" was used seven times; the expression "his great state of ours" was used seven times; the expression "his great state of ours" was used seven times; the expression "his great state of ours" was used seven times.

There was a rush for the Seagler band wagon early Tuesday afternoon and Carpenter's message support device shrapnel as the voting began. The final vote, 12 to 12, was considerably more decisive than even the most ardent Seagler men had anticipated.

STAMFORD FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION MEETS; OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

STAMFORD, TEXAS, Jan. 10.—The annual meeting of the Stamford Farm Loan association was held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the city hall. The board of directors, elected for the ensuing year, was W. F. Bean, president; M. P. Jackson, vice-president; O. P. Harlan, secretary-treasurer. The board of directors was W. B. Thomas, M. P. Jackson, T. B. Tunnell, R. B. Buis and W. F. Bean. The association is capitalized at $20,000 and has outstanding loans to farmers in the vicinity of Stamford in the amount of $27,550. A small dividend will be declared in the near future.

A report from the federal land bank at Houston was read, the secretary-treasurer made his annual report and general discussion of affairs of the association was held.

The excitement caused by the performance of the Gulf Production company's well on the Worsham ranch south of Ringgold has stimulated drilling on other tests in the vicinity, both in Clay and Montague counties. The Gulf well, which swabbed between 10 and 12 barrels from a saturated line at 2300 feet, in an effort to increase the production, with good shows of oil. Four miles northwest of the town of Ringgold the Montgomery Drilling company No. 1 on the Turner tract is reported to have encountered three small shows of oil and gas at various depths and is drilling in the neighborhood of 1000 feet.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR 172 INDIANS RESULT OF RIOTS

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Advices from Lucknow state that the death sentence has been imposed upon 172 Indians accused of murder and arson as a result of the non-cooperation riots during the forenoon, but have not been read on the floor.

Two hundred and twenty-eight persons were originally held on the charges. Of this number 47 were acquitted and two received two year prison terms. Seven died while awaiting trial.

Upshaw to Furnish Names of Officials Violating 'Dry' Law

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The spotlight of bootlegging rumors and charges which has been hovering over Washington had shifted back to the capitol today with the declaration by Representative Upshaw, of Georgia, that he would furnish the names of officials who returned from abroad some time ago with more than a score of cases of foreign liquor.

Coming on the heels of assertions by local police authorities that they had found indications that liquor was being smuggled into the city, Upshaw's allegations was finding its way into the illicit traffic here. Representative Upshaw declared in his speech the problem of "dry" houses of such liquor importations was one that calls for delicate but firm treatment. He declared a former algahe of the state department had suggested to him that a "polite forceful note" to the secretary of state on the subject would cause a ready and universal response from all diplomatic officers here of willingness to aid in enforcement of the law.

Upshaw declared he had seen some of the highest officials in Washington lifting the "devilish battle" to their lips. In the evidence he was preparing to turn in, he said, he would include the names of the officials who returned from abroad some time ago with more than a score of cases of foreign liquor.

SEARCH FOR PASTOR OF BONHAM CHURCH SHIFTS TO DALLAS

BONHAM, TEXAS, Jan. 10.—Search for the Rev. G. C. Huston, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, missing since Monday, was extended to Dallas today. He is reported to have walked from the Red river, where he went hunting and where his gun, handkerchief and hunting knife were found, to Denton, where he is said to have boarded an interurban car for Dallas.

CLAY AND MONTAGUE COUNTIES ARE AFTER NEW DISTRICT COURT

MATTER WILL BE TAKEN UP DURING SESSION OF LEGISLATURE.

CONTEST EXPECTED TO RESULT FROM EFFORT

New District Created by Previous Legislature But Voted By Governor.

Special to The Times. HENRIETTA, TEXAS, Jan. 10.—When the matter of creating a new judicial district is considered at this term of legislature a hot tilt is promised which involves Wichita, Clay, Montague, Archer, and Young counties. The principals in this judicial mix-up will be Clay and Montague counties pulling together in an attempt to be reckoned together at the next district.

An attempt was made to settle this matter at the last regular session of the legislature. Clay, Archer, and Young counties presented a bill creating from these three counties a new judicial district. The bill was passed unanimously by the lower house and there was only one dissenting vote in the senate. Gov. Neff vetoed the bill, pleading that so many counties were trying to get new judicial districts. This he said was expensive and until enough funds were available to allow all counties consideration he would not allow this one request.

It is said here that Governor Neff promised Senator Hudson from his district that if the bill was passed at the special session of the legislature he would approve it. The bill was not attempted again and another test made as to whether Governor Neff would use the official blue pencil if given another opportunity.

The Henrietta Bar Association and the Montague County Bar have united in a proposition to get the new judicial district for these two counties. Attorneys from both counties are going to the legislature and are determined to have the new district composed of the two counties.

It is stated here that Young county officials are strongly in favor of the original bill vetoed by Governor Neff, which would have made a new district of Clay, Archer, and Young counties. Lawyers of Clay and Montague counties do not favor this for several reasons, the main one being that terms of court will be too far apart under such an arrangement.

The attempt of Wichita Falls attorneys to include Clay county in the thirty-ninth district does not meet with approval here for it is pointed out that the terms of court will be practically as far between as now.

Under the Clay and Montague county plan, there would be a new term of court for each county every six weeks. As it is Clay county only has two terms of court a year and with the oil situation looking up in both Clay and Montague counties it is believed advantageous to the legal fraternity in both sections to incorporate in the same district.

It is thought committees from Henrietta and Bowie will go to Austin and prepare for the fight, provided Wichita and Young counties do not agree to this new movement.

OFFICERS FIND TRACE OF THREE STOLEN NEW CARS

Trace of three new automobiles which were stolen several weeks ago were found Tuesday afternoon by Chief Deputy Jack Miller of the sheriff's office and Special Officer Charles Bebout.

One man has been placed under arrest and is being held in the county jail. Further investigations are being made.

It was found that the three cars were all torn apart and new ones made of the parts. The chassis of a Buick was used in rebuilding a five passenger car by using parts of all three cars.

Only two of the cars have been recovered, but officers stated they had trace of the third one and were working on the case Wednesday.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS MAKE REDUCTION COUNTY PROPERTY TEN MILLION SLICE IN THE CITY

Property valuations in Wichita county, for taxation purposes, will be reduced from $74,000,000 to $64,000,000 this year, which will include a cut of $10,000,000 on property located within the corporate limits of the city of Wichita Falls.

This decision was made by the county commissioners' court Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock immediately after the joint meeting held with local oil men. At the meeting an agreeable basis was worked out on which to assess oil properties.

Judge D. D. Sartin and the county commissioners went into a lengthy discussion of the property valuation question immediately after the meeting with the oil men and after due deliberation recommended various changes which will affect every taxpayer in the county in one way or the other.

Oil royalties will be assessed at $1,000 per barrel on the figures of daily production. This is the same amount for which it was assessed last year and destroyed a large quantity of mash. Several samples of corn whiskey were also brought back for evidence.

Deputies of the sheriff's department Tuesday made a raid through the northwest oil fields and brought back with them, two stills and three men and destroyed a large quantity of mash. Several samples of corn whiskey were also brought back for evidence.

Later, a Choctaw Indian, who was acquitted in the county court at law last week on a charge of theft was arrested and charged with possession of a still and whiskey. Six barrels of mash were found near the still and destroyed.

The still was found in Bridgetown, North of Burkhardt on an abandoned lease a small still was found but no arrests were made.

Dewey Wallace was arrested in Newton on a charge of vagrancy. Chief Deputy Sheriff Jack Miller and Deputies Bebout, Watkins and Belcher took part in the raid.

Grandpa Taft

No wonder Chief Justice Taft smiled when this telegram was received. He is shown here reading a wire announcing the birth in Cincinnati of a second grandson within 24 hours. The first boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Taft Jan. 8. A few hours later a similar event took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Taft.

C. M. WAGGONER PERFECTS BOND LATE TUESDAY

At 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, C. M. Waggoner, ex-city police officer, who has been held in the county jail following his conviction on a charge of murder, was released after perfecting an appeal recognition bond of $5,000 before Judge R. W. Napier of the 79th district court.

Judge Napier over ruled a motion for new trial in the case Monday morning and late Tuesday afternoon the defendant produced his bondmen who obligated themselves in the amount of $5,000 for the defendant's appearance after the court of criminal appeals announces its decision on the case.

Waggoner, who stated after his trial that his name was Waggoner was found guilty of the murder of John Wahl. The verdict with a five year imprisonment penalty was returned on Thanksgiving morning after a trial which lasted three days.

THREE NEGROES HAVE NAMES CHANGED IN COURT. John Paul and Louis Smyrnayev, brothers who are in business in this city made application to have their names Americanized and Judge F. A. Martin granted permission to have the name changed to Smyrson.

Here stand the proud buildings of great financial institutions, in New York's Golden Acre.

Each square foot of land sustains a fabulous valuation and must yield a commensurate return.

There are no great financial institutions located on some streets scarce a stone's throw distant from this favored spot—streets equally blessed with material advantages, but obscure.

Ah! There's the rub—obscure! And yet these great financial institutions, paying tremendous sums for the privilege of their place in the sun, maintain that they "do not advertise."

What is "advertising"? Published by The Wichita Daily Times in co-operation with The American Association of Advertising Agencies

MOTHER! BREAK CHILD'S GOLD

Hurry! Move Little Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

No matter what else you give your child to relieve a bad cold, sore throat or congestion, be sure to first open the little one's bowels with "California Fig Syrup" to get rid of the poisons and waste which are causing the cold and congestion. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works the constipation poison, sour bile and waste right out.

Even if you call your family physician he will praise you for having given "California Fig Syrup" as the laxative because it never fails, never cramps or overacts, and even sick children love its pleasant taste.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must get "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Collier and Landon and Legion Teams Tied for Top Place

Standing of the Teams.

Team	W	L	Pct.
Collier and Landon	7	1	.714
Legion	6	2	.667
Knight of Columbus	4	4	.500
Methodists	3	5	.375
Texhoma	2	6	.250
Gaines	1	7	.125
Baptists	0	8	.000

The unexpected and almost unthought of happened at the American Legion hall Tuesday night when Texhoma five with fifth place in the percentage column in city league games, completely outplayed the Collier and Landon aggregation and blasted their ambition to make good their claim for first place in city league basketball, when they defeated this would-be champions by a score of 49 to 23.

At present the outlook is that the first half of the season will end in a four cornered tie. Collier and Landon and the Legion are now tied for first place and the Knight and Methodists are picked for the winners in the last two games of the first half, Tuesday night. In event the result is as predicted the tie games will be played off on week nights so as not to interfere with the regular schedule. Interest is keen and record breaking crowds are expected for the final games of the first half.

Sharpe at forward for the winners played near his goal and roped basket after basket throughout the game; seemingly for diversion he passed the ball to Van Horn who was a close rival for high point man. "Cherry" Johnson at center showed up to his last season's reputation for the first time this year. Putty and Johnson were in their place every minute of play and to they close guarding goes the credit for the unexpected victory. Texhoma kept her lineup as they entered the game; no substitutions were made.

Tate, who has been the balance wheel of the Collier and Landon machine was missed from the game. Harrod, a new man for the team made his initial appearance with the sporting goods crowd and showed up well. The other members of the team were on hand and played their usual good basketball but luck was against them and they fought hard against the odds.

BATTERY D. IS DEFEATED BY THE LEGION QUINTETS

Battery D. played against Luck and odds in the second game of the twin bill at the legion hall Tuesday night when they lost to the legion five by a score of 27 to 23.

The almost monotonous goal tossing of Ferguson and G. Rogers cinched the game for the legion early in the play. Beck was the main stay of the losers; at the end of the game he was credited with six field goals. The close guarding of Tatum and Bremen for the winners broke up the repeated attempts of the guardsmen to score. The score at the end of the first half stood 23 to 14 in the legion's favor.

EIGHT FAMOUS VICTOR ARTISTS

HENRY BURR

Those of us who missed hearing Henry Burr when he appeared here January 15, under the 1921 management of McConnell Brothers, As a singer of semi-classical and popular ballads, Burr has gained a world-wide reputation, while his work as a member of the Sterling

Trio and the Peerless Quartet has never failed to interest. In stature he is as big as in reputation—weighing nearly 250 pounds. In spite of all his poundage he is very fond of outdoor life, is very active and is especially fond of swimming. He owns two big cars and drives them daily, one at a time, of course.

He has established a wonderful camp on the shores of Lake Champlain, and as soon as the musical season ends he hides himself to this camp for a summer of rest and study. For although an established artist, he studies as much and as faithfully as a new beginner.

In the party with Mr. Burr, four-comedian; Albert Campbell, actor; John Meyer, baritone; Frank Croston, basso; Monroe Silver, monologist; Rudy Wiedsoff, saxophonist, and Frank Banta, piano soloist and accompanist.

A program entirely new is assured local music lovers.

GAS FACTS

Have you ever tested out the different appliances you are using gas through?

Has it ever occurred to you that some stove or appliance is using too much gas for the heat you receive?

Try it and be convinced.

To do that, light one stove at a time. Take a watch and time meter by the one foot test hand. See what stove uses most gas.

Most stoves can be adjusted so as to waste nothing and give you all the heat contained in the gas consumed.

A little money paid a good plumber for adjusting your appliances often times saves a great deal in your gas bills.

Oh, Dear! High Heels and Pointed Toes Again! But They May Be Baby French or Military, Shoe Men Say

CAMPAIGN SONG.

High heels 'n pointed toes,
N' corns goes with 'em wherever they goes.

But they goes, or they comes, which ever way you wish to put it. The National Shoe Retailers have said it, and the requiem of the flat heel and the broad toe is being sung, for the nonce. (So they say.)

A telegraph resume of the style critics' suggestions given in Chicago today (January 10) follows:

"Military and Baby French heels of high French heels may be worn with afternoon gown, but colors of gowns and shoes must harmonize. With a gray squirrel coat, gray suede slippers are proper, brown or tan for mink and black for seal. Soft dull colors, perhaps of two tones, distinguishing afternoon walking shoes. Dainty kid footwear of brilliant hue should be contrasted with simple black frocks. Hoses of the same color but of lighter shades should be worn with the gown and slippers for evening wear. Dancing slippers of the material in their gowns are popular for the younger women. Large metal bows and buckles fastened up right to the vamp of the slipper are favored while especially eccentric women may select fans made of monkey fur, inset in the center with sparkles for formal wear. High heeled white shoes are correct for sports, the shoes reaching to the ankle and small circles held together by a vertical strip in the rear. Each band is cut and perforated with buttons at the side. The shoes are faced in black.

BIG NEW BUSINESS FIELD FOR WOMEN IS OPENING

—Was Prohibition Created It

By MARIAN HALE.

Women have prohibition to thank for the opening to them the biggest business field yet discovered. The tea room, in all its variations. So says Helen M. Woods, head of the first school ever established to teach tea room management exclusively.

HELEN M. WOODS.

The tea room's popularity, Miss Woods holds, is just in its infancy. She is confident there is a great future before it. "Before prohibition," she points out, "a woman couldn't hope to compete with big hotels and road houses where drinks were sold, and a self-respecting woman couldn't serve in a place where there was a bar. Now, since people can't buy drinks openly, they are paying more attention to their food. They're tired of fancy, indigestible French cooking. They want good, plain American dishes. That's where tea rooms come in. The woman who runs a tea room is capitalizing her sex's generations of training in home making. The tea room is essentially a feminine enterprise. Thousands of women already are managing tea rooms or automobile inns, connected with their own homes. What's more, there's raising mortgages, educating their children, making themselves financially independent without loss of social position or subjecting themselves to the grind and sacrifices of the wage-earner's life.

Cook in Mainstream. Of course, the real success as a business woman—preferably two to a tea room—a conductor and an engineer. The conductor receives the guests and keeps things smooth and pleasant. But the engineer, out in the kitchen, is the mainstay of the enterprise. "Atmosphere is all very well, but customers tire of it as a substitute for food."

Miss Woods' school teaches the chef for the tea room, the laying out of the establishment, furnishing, decoration and the buying, preparation and storing of food. Then it helps to start-its graduates in business and acts as their counselor for a few weeks. It has alumni in business throughout the country, from Maine to California, and will have representatives this year in England, France, Holland, Switzerland, South America and China. Miss Woods formerly was employment manager for six of New York's largest hotels.

Business Women Have Busy Session And Enjoy a "Last Day of School"

The Business and Professional Women held a pretty busy session Tuesday evening, following their regular supper meeting, and had time at the close to enjoy a "district night" staged put on by two group leaders.

During the business session, presided over by Mrs. Stella Maroon, president of the club, Miss Jackson reported that dates had been arranged between the producing company and the Drs. Ford and Rogers management for the staging of "Kathleen" by the Business Women's club here March 13-15 at the Palace theatre. The play is reported to be one of the greatest stage successes among all productions arranged for amateurs, and the club is very much delighted at getting the date arranged, as it was first thought it would have to be given up. The play will be directed by Dorothy McKenney, who directed "Kathleen" last year for the club.

The service committee chairman reported that a young woman had been put in the National School of Business on a scholarship purchased with the club funds, and that another would be enrolled soon. The committee also reported caring for a family of five at Christmas in cooperation with the Salvation Army, clothing and toys being provided out of the service committee funds.

also of the purchase of a gift for a recent club bride, presented to Mrs. Claude Ruffner at the Christmas party. These items were both taken care of out of the service committee funds, earned by that committee, as the club does not go into its social service and scholarship fund money for any other than the designated expenses. The proceeds of the play in the spring will add to the scholarship funds.

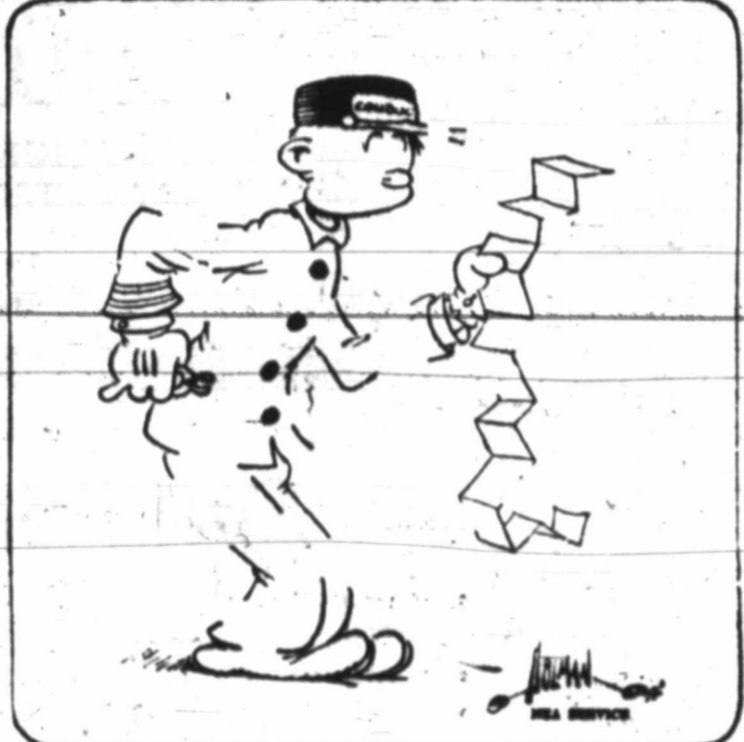

It was announced by the secretary, Mrs. Edna Vogt, that a letter from Mr. Harlow of the chamber of commerce had requested that the president of the club sit with the business council at its weekly meetings. This cooperation was promised.

The members of the club agreed to cooperate with the Y. W. C. A. in the serving of the chamber-of-commerce banquet next Tuesday evening, and fifty of the girls and young women will have charge of the service in the dining room, under the direction of Mrs. Roggens.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS A DREAMLAND POET

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

There was Philip Frog in satin and lace parading around arm in arm with Mike Mole in velvet and lace.

Dusty Coat, the fairy sandman, and Nancy and Nick had sprinkled magic powder on all the sleeping creatures in Whispering Forest and Bright Meadow, and sent them all to Dreamland.

After that the three little travelers went to Dreamland themselves. As they entered the little arched gateway with climbing roses all over it, a curious sight met their eyes. There was Philip Frog in satin and lace parading around arm in arm with Mike Mole in velvet and lace, the two of them grown to such a size that they could have swallowed the Twins if they had so wished, in one gobble.

Philip was laughing. "Say, Mike, I've turned poet," said he. "I've been writing verses."

"You don't say so," replied Mike with admiration. "Would you mind letting me hear a jingle or two?"

"Not in the least," said Philip obligingly. "How 'tis?"

"Did you ever hear a hoot-owl hoot? He's got a voice like a rubber-boat. He sings no better than old gum-shoes. And he's always yelling out, 'Who, who, who?'"

"That's fine! When did you think of it?"

"I've always thought of it," declared Philip with a wave of his hand. "Only I couldn't say it because I was afraid he'd hear me. There are no owls in Dreamland and I can say what I please. Here's another about one of my enemies:

"Old Cobby Cob Coon is a perfect loon. I hope he'll very soon fly to the moon!"

"Wonderful!" declared Mike Mole. "You are a real genius, Philip. I suppose you wouldn't dare to say that out loud anywhere else but here."

"Well, hardly!" said Philip cautiously. "Knowing that Cob Coon like frog's legs as well as I like flies."

(To be continued.) (Copyright, 1922, NEA Service.) Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Warren returned from a pleasure and business trip in west Texas.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB WITH MRS. J. W. KING

The Music Study club met Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. O. E. Nicholls, with Mrs. John Wegg King, leader. The subjects for study were the symphony, Mendelssohn and Schumann, and their works. Miss Florence Sammons read an excellent paper on the life and style of Mendelssohn, which was followed by a general discussion led by Mrs. King. The musical illustrations were two of the "Songs without Words" played by Mrs. E. Van Wormer, and a movement from the concerto for violin, played by Mrs. O. E. Nicholls with Mrs. Harwood Stacey at the piano.

NORTH SIDE CIVIC LEAGUE NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

The North Side Civic League elected new officers for the coming year in the meeting Tuesday afternoon at the community house, and the following will comprise the new official board for the coming year. Mrs. E. J. Moore, president; Mrs. Tom Bohn, vice-president; Mrs. K. Rose, secretary; Mrs. Edna, assistant secretary.

As a token of their appreciation of her work the members of the league presented Mrs. A. F. Gullatt, retiring president, with a beautiful basket of flowers. Mrs. Gullatt has been president of the league since its organization.

The retiring officers expressed in their reports their sincere appreciation of the help of the Central league and the different local clubs which have cooperated with them, the pastors who have assisted with the Community House services, and others who have helped the organization. Refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served.

TUESDAY EVENING "42" WITH MRS. SIMISON

The Tuesday Evening "42" club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Parker Simison, 1311 Seventh street.

MRS. CAMP HOSTESS TO TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. H. C. Camp was hostess at a pretty party enjoyed by the Matrons Tuesday Bridge Club at her home, 114 Tilden street.

Tables arranged for four sets of players in a living room suite attractively decorated in pots of narcissus. In the games, Mrs. Joe Stokes won high honors the guests and was presented with novelty shade holders. Mrs. Jackson Price was most fortunate among the members and received a bowl of narcissus, while Mrs. Frank Shackelford won the club cut and a box of sandwich cutters.

MRS. EDWARD LARD NEW PRESIDENT HEALTH CLUB

Mrs. Edward Lard will head the successful Health and Efficiency Club organized for another year, following the election of officers at the Tuesday afternoon meeting with Mrs. Ahin.

Mrs. C. Walker was elected vice-president; Mrs. J. D. Anderson, secretary and press reporter, and Mrs. A. C. Cameron, treasurer.

Mrs. Lard delivered a health food lecture and conducted a question and answer series, and Mrs. J. W. Ahin made a health talk and read a McCallahan story.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames H. G. Harrison, J. W. Ahin, A. C. Connor, Mrs. Craw, Mrs. J. D. Anderson, Matta, F. C. Carter, Couch, and Walker, and Sibert; C. R. Montgomery, W. H. Costley, Mattie Jane Caason, Dan Hardy, J. W. Thomas, John Saunders and Clements, visitors.

TUESDAY'S CALENDAR

Group Four of the Alabean Bible class, First Baptist church, meet with Mrs. J. T. Abbott at 1:30.

Circle Three of the First Baptist auxiliary meets with Mrs. R. H. Joyce at 1 p. m. and sews for Buckner orphanage; members asked to bring scissors and thimbles.

Circle six of the First Baptist auxiliary meets with Mrs. O. L. Powers to sew for Buckner orphanage.

Mrs. Preston Lee is entertaining for Miss Lulu Wood.

The Wesley Girls of the First Church will hold a social and business meeting at the church at 1 o'clock.

Buchman-Martin marriage Thursday. Penwomen meet at Kemp Library, 3 o'clock. Escalator class party at the First Methodist church Thursday evening.

Printed materials of all kinds are going to be popular in the spring. Already they figure among advanced models shown to wholesale buyers. English prints in small designs are expected to be as much in demand as last season. French printed linens are shown also, especially in red, black and white combinations. Cotton pongee with Egyptian and Japanese printed designs are intended for children's frocks.

MUSICAL TEA AND SHOWER FOR BUCKNER ORPHANAGE

The women's auxiliary of the Floral Heights Baptist church are entertaining Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. A. Overall, 2108 Ninth street, with a musical tea and shower for Buckner orphanage at Dallas.

A cordial invitation has been extended all friends of the home and the church to attend, and an attractive informal program has been prepared for the affair. Mrs. E. Hicks will read, and Miss Lucy Smoot and Miss Lucile Overall, Miss Ruth Eggers, Mrs. G. A. Smoot Jr., and Mrs. Farmer will have numbers.

For the shower, clothing for boys from six to fourteen, bedding or silver will be gladly received.

HELP ORGANIZE ARMORER BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB

Miss Carrie Webster, member of the board of the Wichita Falls Business and Professional Women, leaves Thursday morning for Ardmore to assist the business women of that city in the organization of a Business Women's club.

Miss Webster goes on the invitation of the temporary Business Women's organization at Ardmore, and represents the Wichita Falls club. The organization will be completed at Ardmore Thursday night.

Miss Nan Fretter of Victoria is the guest of Miss Adelle Marcus.

Don't wonder whether you can dye or tint successfully, because perfect home dyeing is guaranteed with Diamond Dyes even if you have never dyed before. Just tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, spot, fade or run.

ROCK OF AGES

Rock of ages, cleft for me —Psalm lxxii: 1-2.
Let me hide myself in thee: —Ps. cxlii: 1.
Let the water and the blood —John vi: 5.
From thy riven side which flowed —John xix: 14.
Be of sin the double cure, —II Kings ii: 9-10.
Cleanse me from its guilt and power, —Ps. li: 11.
Not the labor of my hands, —John vi: 39 (first clause).
Can fulfill the law's demands, —Ps. li: 17-18.
Could my seal no respite know, —Psalm lxxi: 6 (first clause).
Could my tears forever flow, —Ps. li: 6.
All for sin could not atone, —Heb. x: 5-8.
Thou must save, and thou alone, —Ps. li: 17-18.
Nothing in my hands I bring, —Isa. lv: 1.
Simply to thy cross I cling, —Gal. vi: 14.
Naked, come to thee for dress, —Rom. xiii: 14 (first clause).
Helpless, look to thee for grace, —Ps. li: 17.
Foul, I to the fountain fly, —Psalm li: 7.
Wash me, Savior, or I die, —John xiii: 1 (second clause).
While I draw this fleeting breath, —Psalm ciii: 15-16.
When my eyelids close in death, —Psalm li: 17.
When I soar to worlds unknown, —John xiv: 2-3.
See thee on thy judgment throne, —Psalm lxxv: 1.
Rock of ages, cleft for me, —I Cor. x: 4 (first clause).
Let me hide myself in thee, —Psalm li: 1.

Quick Quaker Oats

The Quick Style

The quickest-cooking oats in the world. Now your grocer has Quick Quaker Oats, as well as the regular Quaker. The Quick cooks in a hurry. It cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes.

It is the quickest-cooking oats in the world. Thin flakes, partly cooked. In flavor and quality the two styles are identical. Both are flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavory oats.

We get but ten pounds of Quaker Oats from a bushel. And that super-flavor has made this brand the leading oat dish the world over. But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Now Quaker Oats offers you two great advantages. It offers you flavor which no other oats can match. And it offers, if you wish, the only oats that cook in from 3 to 5 minutes.

For one or both of these reasons you want Quaker Oats. Be sure that you get it, and get the style you want.

Regular Quaker Oats. Come in package at left—the style you have always known. Quick Quaker Oats. Come in package at right, with the "Quick" label. Your grocer has both. Be sure to get the style you want. Packed in sealed round packages with removable covers.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Fear God, and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man.—Ecclesiastes 12:13

The first condition of goodness is something to love; the second is something to reverence.—George Elliot

WHO CONTROLS THE PRESS?

Every so often some person or organization comes forward and charges that the press of the country is controlled by some special interest. William Jennings Bryan made this charge in his first campaign for the presidency, when as a matter of fact hundreds of newspapers were supporting him with great vigor and enthusiasm. Before the United States entered the World War, German sympathizers charged that the press of America was controlled by British interests and lately the Ku Klux Klan has been charging that the press of the country is controlled by the Roman Catholic church.

There has been no basis, in fact, for any of these charges. The press of America is as broad and varied as America itself. The press is so big, in fact, that there isn't any interest with sufficient financial power to own it, even if they were foolish enough to attempt to do so. And once it was controlled by any special interest its power and influence would immediately leave it, because it has influence only as it has the confidence of the people.

Prof. W. A. Dill, of the Department of Journalism of the University of Kansas, discussed this recently in a rediophone talk from the Kansas City Star's studios.

"The critic who declares the press is 'owned' by some interest may mean one of two things; either the interest, whatever it is, seeks to acquire actual ownership of the newspapers of the nation, or that some interest is seeking to corrupt—to bribe—the editors of the nation," declared Professor Dill.

"What is the answer? The very magnitude of the publishing business is almost an answer itself. There are in the United States about twenty-three thousand publications of all classes. Of these, about three thousand are daily papers, ranging from such metropolitan newspapers as the New York Times, the Chicago Tribune and the Kansas City Star, with circulations in the hundreds of thousands, down to little 4-page sheets of a few hundred circulation. Consider, then, how much money it would take to buy any considerable number of these publications, to say nothing of the vast advertising and circulation reaches only a part of the nation's readers, and the greatest number serve only limited territories.

"The rush and hurry of modern daily newspapers, and the distances from which stories are brought, make errors to creep in. It has taken historians a hundred and fifty years to explode the Ethan Allen-Benedict Jehovah and Continental Congress story—can't the newspaper men be excused for failing to get in four hours the exact truth from Baghdad?"

"The American editor, whether he is editing the mass publication, the metropolitan daily or the country weekly, is striving to advance the cause of his clients. He is honest in his efforts for he knows the American people are not simple, they will soon discern dishonesty and he must be honest with his clients if he is to retain their support."

A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

A few days ago this paper commented upon the fact that while Secretary of State Hughes had, in a public address, suggested the creation of a non-political commission of economic and financial experts to determine the amount of reparations Germany would pay, that this suggestion had not been made in an official way and that until the suggestion was officially made it could hardly receive consideration by the allied governments. A statement from the state department today shows that the suggestion was officially made, being discussed with the French ambassador at Washington by Mr. Hughes and having been transmitted to his government.

The fact that this suggestion was officially offered to the French government marks a forward step on the part of the American government, for it carries with it the inference, at least, that the United States would be willing to have a part in the determination of such a commission and would itself take a hand in the settlement of the problems that are disturbing the equilibrium of the whole social, political and economic world.

Uncle Sam ought to have learned that the time has passed when he can stand on the sidelines and shout encouragement and tell the boys to "go ahead." The time is here for him to say "come on boys, let's settle this thing." Until the United States does assume this attitude there is little hope for a settlement. The fact that Secretary Hughes has made an official suggestion of a plan for settlement of the reparations problem is an indication that Uncle Sam is getting ready to say "Come on, boys."

Haste doesn't make as much waste as waste makes haste.

YOUR TWO MINDS

Did you ever "get stuck" for a name, date or something else that's "on the tip of the tongue" but hard to bring out of your memory?

Your conscious or objective mind strives to bring the missing information to the surface. All the time, according to students of thought processes, the missing information is stored away in your subconscious or subjective mind.

Your conscious mind forgets a lot. But your subconscious mind is supposed to remember—to store away—everything you ever encounter from cradle to grave. You've heard how, when a man is drowning, his whole life passes in review before him in a few seconds. This means, the subconscious mind simply throws its doors wide open and displays its hidden contents to the conscious mind.

Thirty-one years ago, Dr. Thomson Jay Hudson wrote a long book, "THE LAW OF PSYCHIC PHENOMENA." It towers head and shoulders above everything of a similar nature ever written.

Hudson set forth a theory that the subjective (subconscious) mind exercises complete control over the functions and sensations of the body. Also, that the subconscious mind (and, in turn, the functions and sensations of the body) can be controlled by suggestions made to it by the objective or conscious mind.

Here's how Hudson advised readers to cure a nervous headache:

"The suggestion must first be made that the headache is about to cease; then, that it is already ceasing; and finally, that it has ceased. These suggestions should be made in the form of spoken words, and they should be steadily persisted in until the desired effect is produced.

"A constant reiteration of the declaration that the head is better will inevitably produce the desired result. And when the effect is distinctly felt, the declaration should be boldly made that the pain has entirely ceased.

"If any remnants of pain are felt, the fact should be ignored, and the suggestion persisted in, that it has ceased. This should be followed by the declaration that there will be no return of the symptoms; and this should be made with an air, tone and feeling of perfect confidence."

All this, obviously, is a process of self-hypnotism. Hudson made quite a sensation in his day. Today only scholars are familiar with his book. But, after 31 years, the tide rolls in again and the followers of Cane are suggesting to their subjective (subconscious) minds: "Every day, and in every way, I feel better and better."

An Atlantic City runaway horse may have seen a "Blip" sign and stopped. Anyway, they claim he did.

Why worry? Six months from now the furnace will be working fine and coal will be cheaper.

Aviation has its ups and downs.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

HOW I GET ALONG WITH PEOPLE
I get along very well, and happily, with all my friends and associates. This is a much more remarkable statement than it, at first, would seem.

The fact is that I am not any too easy to get along with!

I learned this fact a long time ago, and decided that I would make my friends a very glad and glorious asset. And this is the way I do it. I recognize the faults and failings of my friends as skin to my own, and then I dress myself all up in the clothes of an explorer and hunt for the good and lovely qualities in those whom I desire as my friends. And it works wonderfully.

It is surprising what a little time it takes to cement a warm and enduring friendship, and to make that friendship one of the beautiful possessions of this life.

I get along with people by playing their game much of the time, by measuring my own likes and dislikes against theirs.

Often I go out of my way to give others something that I would like very much to have—and to and behold! I get that very thing myself.

I do little criticism. I leave that for someone much wiser than I.

But when I have the opportunity to say something that I think will sparkle a smile or two, I take that opportunity. Why not? Is there anything that spurs the soul like recognition?

I envy no one their good luck. In my heart, I "God bless them." In reviewing my own life, I am made aware that luck has sprinkled its stars all along my way.

I get along with people by loving everything good and kind and generous that it within them.

JUST FOLKS

By Edger A. Guest

WHAT A BOOK CAN DO
This is what a book can do:
Take you where the skies are blue,
Take you where the laughter's ringing,
And the eyes with love aglow,
Take you out of care and trouble,
And the griefs which seem to double,
Take you far from wintry weather,
And the fields of drifted snow.

This is what a book can do:
Dreams you thought were lost, renew;
It can set you bravely sailing,
All the salty seven seas,
It can bear you on its pages,
Back to long forgotten ages,
Back to minutes of beauty,
And to silver-buckled knees.

This is what a book can do:
Build and strengthen you anew,
Give you fortitude and courage,
When above a storm appears;
It can fashion and re-make you,
So that Fate can never break you,
It can comfort and console you,
When your eyes are wet with tears.

Texas Viewpoints

For Every Voter a Government Job

Denison Herald: Rapidly are we leaving the goal for which we have been encouraged and impelled by the vast army of office-seekers, have been striving for several decades—namely, government positions and offices. Honorable, have those on the outside looked through the windows at the horde of swivel chair occupants filling government positions and noted the complacency with which they discharge their more or less onerous duties and the regularity of their visits to the windows. Seeing these things and observing the freedom from care that marks their daily lives, the uninitiated are apt to conclude that money comes from the government, the out set no reason why adequate provision cannot be made for the maintenance of the public and the future of the state.

Reference has been made in these columns from time to time of the innumerable departments, bureaus, and offices of the government, and the payment with compliments of employees out-numbering the standing army five to one, all supported by the taxpayers.

However, there is nothing imaginary about the salary attachments which the lawmakers invariably get out in the very act of creating the act. The latest move in that direction is made by Senator Spencer of Missouri. Evidently, the quiet, unassuming, and unassuming Missouri constituent who is not forced to the necessity of laboring, now and then, in order to keep clock and door for the department would not be expected to taste every sample submitted and therefore would have to be furnished with a program of judgment along that line would not only be respected but upheld by the courts. Each of these experts is a member of the legislature, a secretary and a stenographer or two and all other appointments properly belonging to a government are included in the list.

It is surprising what a little time it takes to cement a warm and enduring friendship, and to make that friendship one of the beautiful possessions of this life.

I get along with people by playing their game much of the time, by measuring my own likes and dislikes against theirs.

Often I go out of my way to give others something that I would like very much to have—and to and behold! I get that very thing myself.

I do little criticism. I leave that for someone much wiser than I.

But when I have the opportunity to say something that I think will sparkle a smile or two, I take that opportunity. Why not? Is there anything that spurs the soul like recognition?

I envy no one their good luck. In my heart, I "God bless them." In reviewing my own life, I am made aware that luck has sprinkled its stars all along my way.

I get along with people by loving everything good and kind and generous that it within them.

YOU AND I

By ALBERT APPLE

YOU
The typical American man is five feet nine inches tall. Typical American women are five feet six inches tall, which is an inch taller than the average of 30 years ago. American women incline to be fat-shouldered, and their feet are not as near perfection as our men's.

This description is furnished by Dr. Alex Hrdlicka, scientist of the Dr. Nathan Sargent School of Medicine, in the complex of Americans in tending to swartheness and that, as a result, he desired to be distinguished like the Latins. Thus he coined the melting-pot of nations.

ABOUT 45 MILLION dollars was bet at Maryland's four one-mile race tracks last year. More than that probably was bet on the same race—the pony-follower over the country. And think of all the other race tracks that baited the gamblers.

A billion dollars a year would be a conservative estimate of gambling by Americans—races, fights, base-ball, and everything else.

Gambling is decidedly an evil. It flourishes on a big scale in our country because it's an outcropping of the widespread desire for a life of ease. That willingness is back of much of our progress, backward as well as forward. We're a nation of well-to-do people, and a life of ease is a game of chance. Hence we have a few big winners, millionaires.

WEATHER-VANE
German militarists must be foaming at the mouth. Tempelhof Field near Berlin, formerly the largest German military training grounds, is to be used hereafter as a potato patch.

There's a lot of fertile land lying idle west of the Rhine.

GLORY
Famous old slipper ship "Glory of Night" with the result that when day came at Boston, that ship will ride at anchor as a museum of the days when "ships were ships and men were men and a man was a part of a ship."

Forty years ago this craft was a sensation when she sailed 4000 miles around the Horn at an average speed of 12 miles a day, and a 40-year-old man, specimens of the crew and antiquated.

LADDER
Two more sensational cases of hoodlums climbing to the top of the ladder. James Simpson becomes head of the big department store, Marshall Field & Co. He started as office boy, and a clerk, and a white, who began as a clerk, is the new president of the Armour meat packing firm. They should be inspirational to young men fighting to get a start.

Each attributes his success to "little things well done." Doing the little things well saves you the big big deal. Cynics call that a platitude. Observe that most cynics are failures.

FOOLISH
We waste a lot of time with foolish long spelling instead of cutting the long word (phonetic system). As though instead of spelling, we should emphasize it, a teacher spells "ghoughphinghteeau." Gh stands for p as in hiccough. Ough stands for t as in phthisis, eigh for a as in neighbor, ier for t as in sea, and y for y as in sea.

Why use a size 12 shoe on a size 8 foot?

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Are Oil Producers Penalized for Industry?
Editor The Times:
In connection with fixing of tax valuations on royalty and producing interests it appears that the following is in order unless the taxing authorities of the state intend that a producer shall be penalized for industry and developing natural resources for himself and also others.

1. The average state and county tax rates (ignoring city and school taxes) are approximately 3 per cent. The gross production or occupation tax is 1 1/2 per cent, and a pipe line tax 1-20 of 1 per cent, these payments by the producing interest for the entire production including royalty. The ratio of value of a royalty per barrel production as compared with the producing interest which pays all production costs, is variously estimated at 2 to 4 to 1, with minimum of at least double value.

2. On above basis the state and county, total taxes on a royalty barrel would be $20.00, or 2 per cent of the $1,000 value of the barrel.

3. A producer's barrel valued at $500.00 would pay half of the above tax or $125.00 as an ad valorem tax. Then in addition it would pay for the gross production or occupation taxes, 1 1/2 per cent plus 1-20 of 1 per cent, on 25 barrels worth average of $1,000 a barrel, a tax of $1.55 per cent on production value of $500.00, or the sum of $9.05. In addition to this (producer paying taxes in excess of the royalty barrel) would be an additional 1-7 of this sum (tax for a royalty barrel for each 7 of producers, and more if more than 7 producers) or $1.29 plus $9.05, or total of $10.34 cents for the production and pipe line taxes.

4. On above basis, each royalty barrel is taxed a total of $22.29, worth double the producing barrel at least, with estimates ranging as high as three or four times the producing barrel, depending on the field and operating conditions.

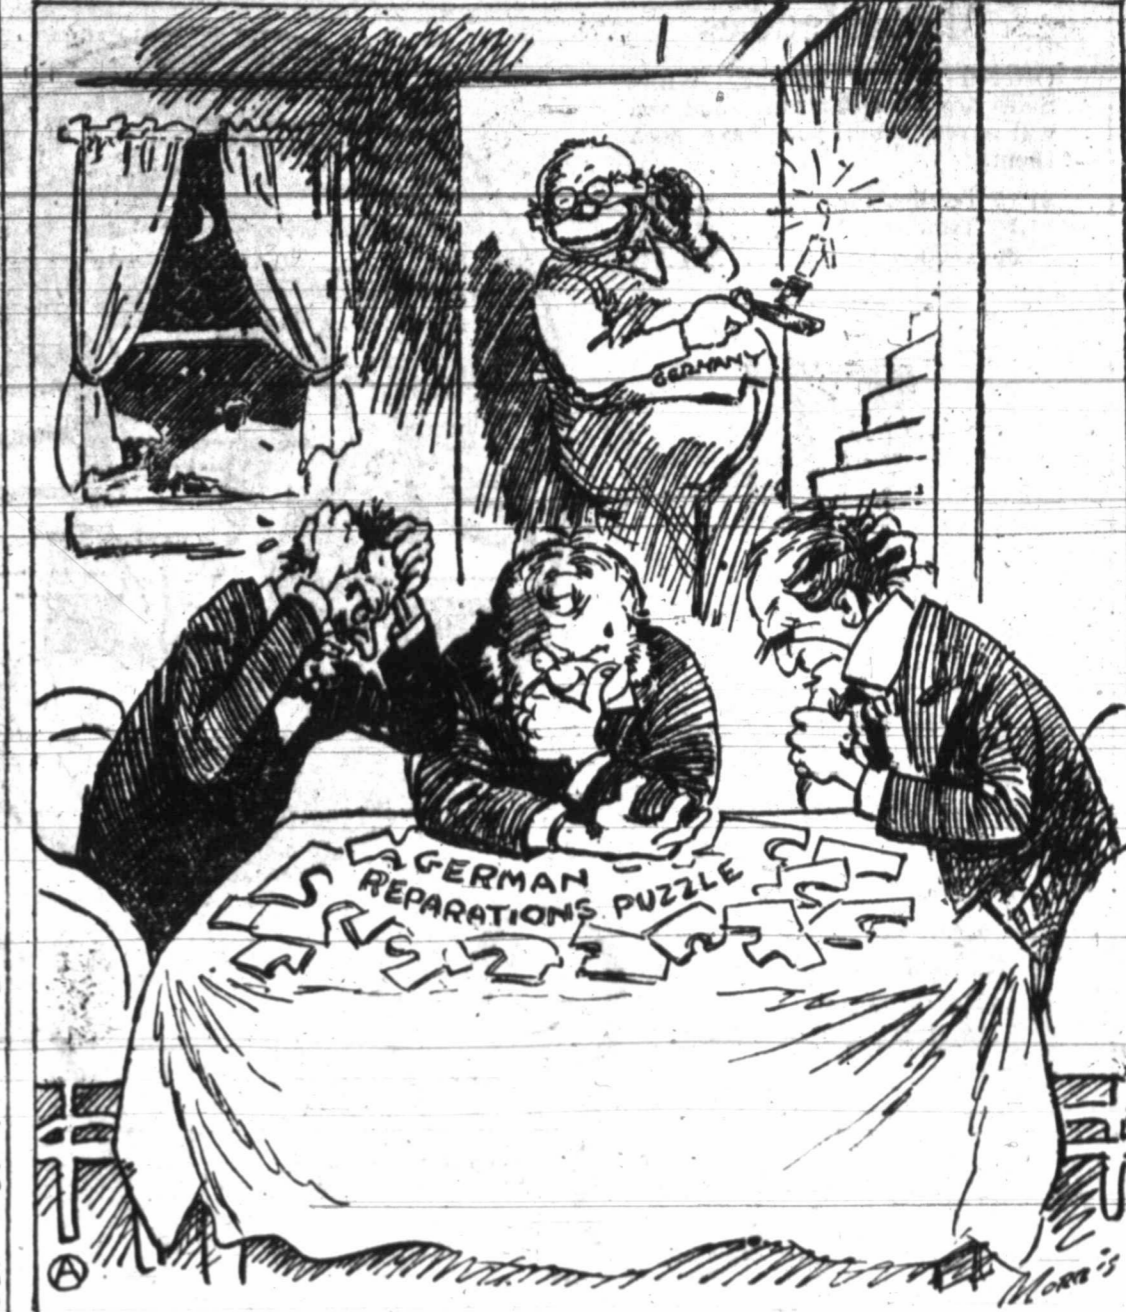

5. Outside of Burkburnett, there is probably no city taxes paid on oil production properties in Wichita county. Each school district has its varying tax levied on the ad valorem valuation for taxation.

In event all was priced at 12 per barrel, or any increase, the proportion against the producer in taxation becomes greater. The same holds true for the other oil fields.

It is apparent that the present taxation increases the production, occupation or severance taxes. Therefore it appears that a reasonable consideration is to be given the constitutional requirement of all property being assessed on basis of value. Where production taxes equal state and county taxes, alone paid by the producer, the oil interests are taxed double where assessed on some value percentage basis for state and county taxes.

CAPTAIN BLOOD

CHAPTER XVII
Levasseur's Heroics

It would be somewhere about ten o'clock on the following morning, a full hour before the time appointed for sailing, when a canoe brought up alongside La Foudre, and a half-caste Indian stepped out of her and went up the ladder. He was the bearer of a message from the Dutch brig, Levasseur.

His contents may be roughly translated thus:
"My well-beloved—I am in about the Dutch brig Jongvrou, which is about to sail. I resolved to separate us forever, my cruel father is sending me to Europe, and my brother, who I implore you, come to my rescue. Deliver me, my well-beloved hero! Your devoted Madeline, who loves you."

The well-beloved hero was moved to the soul of him by that passionate appeal. His glowing glance swept the bay for the Dutch brig, which he knew had been due to sail for Amsterdam with a cargo of hides and tobacco.

She was nowhere to be seen among the shipping in that narrow, rock-bound harbor. He roared out the question in his mind.

In answer, the half-caste pointed out the Dutchman's mast, which marked the position of the reef that stood in the way of the stronghold of the Dutchman. A way beyond it, a mile or so distant, a tall was standing out to sea.

Cursing in his soul the association which had entered the Dutchman's mind, Levasseur had already studied ways of evasion. Blood would never suffer violence to be done in his presence, but he would do what it might be done in his absence.

Within the hour the Arabella and La Foudre were beating out to sea together. With the understanding of the change of plan involved, Captain Blood, nevertheless, accepted it and weighed anchor before the appointed time upon receiving his associate's message.

All day the Dutch brig was in sight, though by evening she had disappeared to the westward of the northern horizon. The course prescribed for Blood and Levasseur lay seaward along the northern shores of Hispaniola. To that course the Arabella held steadily through the "Sea," will spread her sails at broke again, she was alone. La Foudre under cover of the darkness had struck away to the northeast with every rag of canvas on her yards.

Dawn found La Foudre close on the Dutchman's heels, not a mile astern, and the sight of her very evidently flustered the Jongvrou. The Dutch ship veered, showed them her stern chasers, and opened fire with her main battery. The small shot went whistling through La Foudre's shrouds with some slight damage to her canvas. Followed a brief running fight in the course of which the Dutchman let fly a broadside.

Five minutes after they were a tight light in the clutches of La Foudre's grapnel, and the buccaniers poured noisily into her waist.

The Dutchman's master, perched on the face, stood forward to board the pirate, followed closely by an elegant, pale-faced young gentleman in whose Levasseur recognized his brother-in-law alic.

From the quarter rail Mademoiselle O'Geron looked down with glowing eyes in breathless wonder upon her well-beloved hero. He saw her, and with a glad shout sprang toward her. The Dutch master got with hands up, and begged for arrest his progress. Levasseur did not stay to argue with him, he was too impatient to reach his mistress. He swung the pistol that he carried, and the Dutchman went down in blood with a cloven skull. The eager lover stepped across the body and came on, his countenance joyously alight.

But mademoiselle was shrinking now, in horror.

He laughed, as a god should, with the tolerance of a hero for the mortal to whom the condemned: "He stood between us. Let his death be a Dutchman's warning. Let all who would stand between us mark it and beware."

Other officers, and went to visit Captain Blood aboard the Arabella. "Our brief separation has been mighty profitable," was Captain Blood's greeting—"it's a very interesting we've both had." He was in high good-humor as he led the way to the great cabin for a rendering of accounts.

The tall ship that accompanied the Arabella was a Spanish vessel of twenty-six guns, the Santiago from Puerto Rico with a hundred and twenty thousand weight of cargo, forty thousand pieces of eight, and the value of ten thousand more in jewels. A rich capture of which two-fifths under the articles went to Levasseur and his crew. Of the money and jewels a division was made on the spot. The cargo it was agreed should be taken to Tortuga to be sold.

Then it was the turn of Levasseur, and black grow the brow of Captain Blood as the Frenchman's tale was unfolded. At the end he roundly expressed his disapproval. "You've done a very foolish thing, particularly for so paltry a matter as these hides and tobacco, which would fetch a bare twenty thousand pieces."

But Levasseur answered him that a ship was a ship, and it was his business to make the most of it. "I had gone well for him that day, Blood ended by strutting the matter aside. Thereupon Levasseur proposed that the Arabella and her crew should return to Tortuga, there to unload the cargo and enlist the further adventures that could now be had on the coast of Tortuga. Blood not only agreed, but pronounced himself ready to sail at once.

At sunset that evening the wind freshened it grew to a gale, and from that to such a hurricane that Levasseur was the first to be blown ashore and his ships in safe shelter.

CHAPTER XV
In the glory of the following morning, sparkling and clear after the storm, a curious scene was played on the beach of the Virgin Magra.

Entrenched upon an empty beach the French filibuster to transact the business of making himself safe with the Governor of Tortuga. A guard of honor of about a half-dozen officers hung about him. Before him, guarded by two half-naked negroes, stood young O'Geron in a frilled shirt and satin small-clothes and fine shoes of Cordova leather, Mademoiselle, his sister, sat hunched upon a hillock of sand.

Levasseur addressed himself to M. O'Geron. He spoke at length long, in the end—

"I trust, monsieur," said he, "that I make myself quite clear."

A PUZZLE A DAY

A man owned a large house, with eight smaller houses around it. (See diagram.) There were two circles of trees, as shown in the diagram, in front of the main house. He wanted to keep the outer circle of trees to himself. How did he divide the land?

For the remainder of that day Levasseur's thoughts were of anything but love. He remained on deck, his eyes now upon the land, now upon those two slowly gaining ships. And then, toward evening, when within three miles of shore, he almost fainted from relief when a voice from the crow's-nest above announced that the larger of the two ships was the Arabella. Her companion was presumably a pirate. Levasseur put off in a boat accompanied by Chausse and two

JACK DAW ON ICICLE ISLE

By ELTON

As Jack and Flip went gliding over the bright snow Jack began to believe that he had properly named his sled. "Lightning" was the name he picked and that is just about how fast Jack was traveling. And, all the time, as Jack clung tighter, the sled was gaining speed rapidly.

Now and then little up and down slopes would break the straight downward path and these kept Flip and Jack bobbing around. "We'll have to hang on mighty tight," shouted Jack, "or we'll go flop in a snow bank." Flip whined a bit and tucked his head into Jack's arm.

Suddenly, just ahead, Jack saw a huge bank of snow. It was right in the path of the flying sled. Jack realized that he couldn't possibly avoid crashing into the mountain of white, so he pulled Flip closer to him and held his own head down low. Then the big crash came. (Continued.)
