FITTS ANNOUNCES NEW SPEED LIMITS ARE NOW IN FORCE

FIFTEEN MILES IN FIRE LIMITS AND 25 ELSEWHERE WILL BE LIMIT.

STRICT ENFORCEMENT WILL BE REQUIRED

Announcement Made After Constitutionality of Lower Limits is Questioned.

The speed limit has been raised in the city; in the fire limits the limit is now 15 miles per hour; in the residential section motorists will be allowed to go 25 miles per hour.
Following the argument in a case in the city court Wednesday morning in which Joe Carrigan acted as attorney, Commissioner J. R. Fitts made the above announcement. It was brought out in the discussion that the city ordinance setting the speed limit on city streets conflicted with the state law and in a test case had been declared unconstitutional.

After these rates of speed will be observed but there will be no margin; every violator caught exceeding the new limit by as much as one mile will be arrested and charged with the offense of speeding. Commissioner Fitts said when it is formed of the new ruling.

In connection with the observance
of a speeding charge was presented to Judge Martin. The law was declared unconstitutional some time ago in the cases where an appeal was made to the county the cases has been quashed.

In connection with the observance of traffic rules here, it was brought out in the city hall Wednesday that a driver on the right always was given the right-of-way. Committee member Fitts said that a number of accidents seemed to have the idea of traffic on thoroughfares going east and west was given the right-of-way, but it was a mistaken idea.
The state law specifies that the man on the right is to be given the right-of-way.

ago his health would not permit him
to be present, found especial pleasure in remarking the evidence of vigor and health that gave little hint of his past illness, and Mr.
Kemp strengthened this impression by making what was declared to be one of the best speeches of his career.

E. A. Stayton, who presented the report of the program of work completed, and W. D. Cline, 1922 campaign chairman, also had shares in the program. Mr. Cline's "instructions to teams" were rather wide of the mark, but his hearers were too thoroughly entertained by his barrage of humor to note the departure.

Music in Feature.
The work committee's suggestion of a musical feature was given force by the presence of the First Artillery band, which rendered several selections—that hierarchy brought down the house and the emphasized the value of good band music to all present. Other musical features included community singing of the new Wichita Falls song led by E. E. Shepherd, and the singing by the Lawtonites of some very appropriate songs; a violin solo
by E. A. Nelson, with Miss Abernathy as accompanist and a vocal duet by Mesdames W. M. Friday and C. Y. Tully, with Miss Walsh as accompanist.

The invocation by Rev. O. L.
Powers opened the meeting, and members then marked their ballots for director; C. H. Clark was appointed chairman of a committee to count the votes. A selection by the artillery band followed, and then the report of the committee and other items, excellently cooked and efficiently served by several score women from the Y. W. C. A.
and the Women's Business Club.

The report of the committee of work was presented by E. A. Stayton of the committee and then Ed Overholser of Oklahoma City was given a characteristic introduction by G. G. Wood, chairman, the subject being "Selling Your Chamber of Commerce."

"Selling a C. of C." Mr. Overholser, without any attempt at oratorical effect, but with simple directness and sincerity, presented to his hearers some of the fundamental principles of chamber of commerce activity. He sought to show the reason for the existence of cities, pointing out that back in the earliest days of the human race men lived by hunting and moved from place to place to find something to kill for his subsistence.
Later he became a herdsman, and moved from place to place to find pasture for his flock; it was not until he became a tiller of the soil that he began to build permanent abiding places. Mr. Overholser pointed out:

"Among these primitive men," he continued, "there were some, either too old or otherwise incapacitated for the hunt, who were unable to repair the bows and to make the arrows for those who did hunt;
thus the first mechanics came into being. As time went on, such men made or repaired the crude agricultural implements that their follows used. And so they established themselves in the neighborhood of those who tilled the soil and the first communities began to develop;
the community idea, therefore, is based on man's desire to prosper and profit and there is no one in your community who belongs there today, who isn't there for that purpose."

Tangible Results.
Mr. Overholser cited, from the experience of the Oklahoma City chamber of commerce, a number of definite, tangible things that the organization had done for the community, showing how in one year
the actual money value was in excess of $500,000. He declared a chamber of commerce to be just as much entitled to the public support as the municipal government itself, and he discussed some phases of government.

"I never saw a community that had rotten government that didn't at the same time have better government than it deserved," he said
"your government is just what you make it."

Major General C. J. Bailey, recently retired, made a pleasantly humorous talk that completely captivated his hearers and in which he pleaded for entire neighborliness between Wichita Falls and Lawton, and urged also a better understanding by the public of the army and its place for the development of the youth of the land.

W. D. Cline next gave his "instructions" to team workers and laid down the slogan for the campaign, "Boost like Kemp and work
like Kell."

Congressman Elmer Thomas of Lawton in a brief talk made some humorous references to the recent boundary dispute and offered Wichita Falls his help and assistance, in congress, in all federal matters affecting this city.

J. A. Kemp recalled some of the early experiences he had in Lawton and in southwestern Oklahoma and told of the development of the section in later years. Referring briefly to the irrigation project and to his hopes for its full development, Mr. Kemp urged Wichitans to visit the works more often and to acquaint themselves more fully with its possibilities.

G. H. Jackson of the Dallas chamber of commerce was the concluding speaker, making a brief talk in which he congratulated Wichita Falls on such a gathering and expressed a hope for more direct rail connection between Dallas and Wichita Falls.

The preparation and serving of the banquet were in charge of Mrs.
E. L. Palm as general chairman, assisted by Mesdames C. R. Hartsook,
T. T. Reese, J. A. Kemp, Beulah Foggees and Stella Mason. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. B. H.
Donald and the place cards were by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Davidson. A large and efficient corps of young women assisted in the serving.

served the secretary read the prize winning slogan which had been wood as the other members.

After the regular business was transacted the Rotarians were ready for some fun and a motion was made to fine Andy Bourland 25 cents for letting Rotarian Voelcher have a gallon of gasoline. Andy paid his fine, after considerable argument. The visitor Voelcher took part in the discussion and took the part of Andy. Then motion was made by Coffee that Voelcher be fined a quarter or be made to tell what he really received whether gasoline or something else. Rotarian Voelcher paid the fine without further argument. Ed Dickenson was fined for calling "At Your Service Jimmie." Mr. Rossman, T. H. Shive was fined 25 cents for not mentioning
the Lee highway at a good roads meeting at Guilford, Miss. where fine without argument.

work was granted another week to make a complete report.

WESTERN PART OF CITY SOON TO HAVE 2 MORE FINE HOMES

Two more fine homes are to be erected this year in the western part of the city, it became known Wednesday.

At the corner of Tenth and Garfield, Judge and Mrs. A. H. Britain will have a new home, occupying all of the irregular-shaped block which fronts 150 feet on each street. Plans for the dwelling, which will be one of the handsomest in the city, are being prepared by J. M. Schafer.

A new home for Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neill is also to be erected in the same vicinity, sometime this year.

Contract has been awarded to the Whitehill Construction company for construction of the new home of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donohue at Seventh and Fillmore, announcement of which was made several weeks ago.

IS GIVEN JUDGMENT FOR BALANCE ON CONTRACT ON WELL

George W. Whitman was given a judgment of $1,945 by Judge P. A. Martin of the 9th district court, Wednesday morning against the Rainbow Oil company for balance due on a contract for cleaning out a well.

The defense contended that the contract as originally made was that the plaintiff was to clean out the well in a workmanlike manner and that the cost was not to exceed $1,000. The defense had entered a counterclaim against the plaintiff, but it should be refunded because the work had not been done satisfactorily.

After hearing all the evidence however, the court granted judgment over and above the $1,000 already paid for $1,945.

NOTABLE MEETING OF EASTERN STAR HELD WEDNESDAY

The states of Virginia, Ohio, Illinois, Colorado and New Mexico had visitors from Eastern Star chapters at the past matrons' and past patrons' meeting of Wichita Falls Chapter No. 287, Order of the Eastern Star, held Tuesday evening at the Masonic hall.

The meeting was the culmination of several weeks planning on the part of worthy Matron Mabel Spitzer and her corps of officers to make the meeting one of the best held this year.

The meeting was called to order at 8 p. m. with the regular officers of the chapter in their places. The usual routine business was transacted, then the worthy matron announced the past matrons and past patrons to fill the various stations which were vacated by the regular officers.

Mrs. Ashmore, one of the first matrons of the chapter when it was organized, put on the work, which was carried out by the past matrons, filling the station of patron. Two candidates were initiated, one through courtesy of another chapter.

Twelve past matrons and patrons from various jurisdictions were present. They were escorted to the usual routine business, and also visitors from other chapters representing a number of different jurisdictions.

P. Lanford, and with tentative plans for a number of other meetings, this year is expected to see some notable additions to the number of fine homes in this city.

Radio Enthusiasm Proves Expensive For Frisco Mayor

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Mayor James Rolph, Jr., faced today an organized assault on his personal exchequer as the result of a personal scientific experiment last night.

Dedicating a radio broadcasting, his honor spoke in ringing tones into the transmitter. Said he: "I want to find how far my voice is carrying, how big my audience is. Send in telegrams to me, and send them collect. Come on—everybody!"

"Mayor Hyman of New York, and you, Mayor Curley of Boston—everybody!"

The search took the officers to Waurika, it is said that Toussaint hired another automobile to take him from Petrolia to Waurika.

HENRY TOUSSAINT TRACED AS FAR AS WAURIKA, OKLA.

Henry John Toussaint did not go toward Mexico as was at first believed according to reports, learned Wednesday morning. It is said that officers have succeeded in tracing him as far as Waurika, Okla., but from that point on all trace has been lost.

According to the story, officers have found that a service car driver he ate breakfast last Thursday morning shortly after 6 o'clock. He made his escape, according to Sheriff Murphy about 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night a week ago.

At Petrolia he asked for breakfast at a certain house informing them that he was not an ordinary tramp and that as conclusive proof he showed them a roll of bills. He made inquiry as to the roads leading to Frederick and later told them that his name was "Black" and that he was a carpenter by trade, looking for work.

3 Times This Week One Man's Record For Getting Drunk

"Just three times this week judge," a man told Judge Martin in the city court Wednesday morning in answer to a question as to when he was last brought up on a drunkenness charge. The man is a well known character in police court.

On a previous occasion the man was dismissed from the city jail at 1 p. m. and at 8 o'clock that afternoon was arrested again on the same charge. The man told Judge Martin that he was single and harmless when he was drunk and plead for the "mercy of the court." He was fined $10 on his plea of guilty and left the court room with a solemn promise that he was "on the water."

Fines of $10 each were assessed in five charges of drunkenness. A bond of $25 was forfeited in a variety of cases when the defendant failed to answer to the charge. Two cases were dismissed on motion of the city prosecutor, J. V. Alford; several cases were passed until Thursday morning.

It is estimated that 100 thunderstorms are always in progress all over the world.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

To everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under the heaven.—Ecclesiastes 3:1. Time is the king of men; He's both their parent, and he is their grave, And gives them what he will, not what they crave.—Shakespeare.

THE LAW'S PROGRESS.

We hear much criticism of the law's delay, of the failure of justice and the cost of it. And it is out of criticism that progress is made toward more prompt, surer and less costly justice.

This progress is reviewed by the Houston Chronicle which says:

"As late as 1802, in England prisoners on trial for their lives could have no counsel. So barbaric a system has now been utterly abolished there, and in Texas—and the same is substantially true as to other states—not only is every defendant guaranteed the right of counsel by the constitution, but if he is unable to employ counsel the court will appoint counsel for him.

"A little more than a century ago peasants were in jail in England by hundreds for shooting pheasants. It was lawful to set steel traps and spring guns in every forest to catch or kill trespassers. Such is no longer the law. If that were done in Texas and any trespasser were killed, the act would be murder.

"A hundred years ago imprisonment for debt, not only in England, but in this country, was a common remedy. The landlord in England could, without suit or trial, enter the house of the debtor, take all he had, and then have him flung into prison to rot and die.

"Imprisonment for debt is forbidden by the constitution of Texas, and no man can enter and seize the property of any, even the humblest citizen, without the order of a court.

"The time has been when such a thing as property being exempt from execution and forced sale was unknown; now in all but a few—if, indeed, any—of the states, exemption laws exist.

"The policy of exemption, begun many years ago, has expanded until a general system of homestead exemption prevails in the United States.

"It should be a matter of pride to every Texan that the young republic of Texas enacted the first homestead law in all the history of the world.

"A little more than a century ago, 180 offenses were punishable by death under the English law, and death could be inflicted by quartering and disemboweling and other kindred cruelties, and the right of appeal was unknown. In Texas only two or three offenses are now punishable by death.

"It has only been within the last few years that there was any court in England vested with the function of revising criminal trials. Now there is such a court presided over by a judge whose salary is $50,000.

"The time was in the memory of thousands now living, when no party to a civil proceeding in a Texas court was allowed to testify, and it has been but little, if any, more than 25 years since a defendant in a criminal case was allowed in Texas to testify in his own behalf.

"Now a defendant may testify in his own behalf, may appear by himself or by counsel, has the unlimited right of appeal in criminal cases, and the state pays the expense of the record.

"No cruel or unusual punishment can be inflicted. No man's home can be taken for debt, no man can be imprisoned for debt, every man has the right of trial by jury, the right to counsel, and the right of appeal. Furthermore, the lowliest, poorest, humblest citizen imprisoned or held in custody, can invoke the remedy of the writ of habeas corpus in order that the cause of his detention may be inquired into.

"When we contrast conditions and processes as relate both to the civil and the criminal law as they prevailed a century ago and as they are now, we can but realize that the past century has been marked by great increase in enlightenment and by a humanization of the law, in accordance with the fundamentals of right and justice.

"It only remains for Texas courts to liberalize the administration of the law, and subordinate rules of procedure to the infinitely more important objective of attaining the right and justice of every cause."

ADDING TO THE SPAN OF HUMAN LIFE. A child born in the United States today has a life expectancy of between 54 and 55 years.

direction in recent years. A number of years have been added to life expectancy in the United States in the past twenty years. The death rate has been decreasing and the figures for the first ten months of 1922 were reported as particularly satisfactory, and as showing that progress was being made.

It is estimated that every year of added life for an adult means a net increase of $600 to the national wealth, quite apart from the immense social gains and the increased happiness to many families. Years can be added to the average of human life by better living conditions—better housing and better food and better clothing, by better habits of living, by the application of medical and sanitary knowledge, and by making industry safer.

Human life is a precious thing, yet there has been a prodigal and useless waste of it. It is, indeed, one of the great and worthy movements of our time to conserve human life and to extend the span of mortality. More and more our great life insurance companies are joining in this effort. Many of them are spreading knowledge in one way or another that will tend to add to the average life expectancy. Some of them offer free medical examination at least once a year and some even offer medical treatment in certain cases. And it is the observation of Dr. Knight that "it is most encouraging that such expenditures as have been incurred by life insurance companies have paid good dividends."

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

"IT DOETH NOT YET APPEAR."

There is the rustle and the bustle and the bustle of the day. Every man and woman—even to the child—busy at the string of life.

And then the gray of the closing chapter. The wheels stop. Offices are emptied. Cars, and trains, and hurrying feet—and then home! A little reading, a little playing, a little walk out under the stars—and then that brief little trot of ours into dreams and forgetfulness.

Such passing chapters! Almost before we know it, the book is finished. Just one short year ago, this old year was new—and now we are in a new one! And in this little while this new one will be old. But there is nothing to worry about, and everything to take heart in—for "it doeth not yet appear what we shall be."

Each of us may be building greater and surer than we know. It is our privilege to do our work and to get happiness out of it. And if we are not getting happiness out of it, we are not doing our work well. Our duty is to do the job at hand with zest and not mind the results. They will take care of themselves.

To be thoughtful, efficient, considerate—to ask few questions, to smile through, to believe in ultimate good, and above all to keep faith with the faintest whisperings of our honest nature—then what matter if "it doeth not yet appear what we shall be?"

At the fittest time, the most obscure hero may have his inning. Your bravest task is to keep fit and ready. So that when your greatest hour of opportunity does come, you won't have to run off and wash your hands before stepping out before the crowd from where you stand, to answer—"ready!"

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE CALENDAR. Here is a calendar to serve the year. A page to mark each day that's new begun. Behold the first which wears its figure one! At dawn another morning will appear, But will it come with sorrow or with cheer?

There is no clue for men to seize upon, Time breeds the hour which lives and passes on. Nor stays for laughter or the glistening tear. This day is fair, enjoy it while you may! Tomorrow you must tear away its page, You cannot lengthen it or bid it stay.

Its measured sands run swiftly through the gauge, But this is sure: who wakes tomorrow morn, Shall find a new day for his service born. (Copyright, 1922, by Edgar A. Guest.)

SMILE A WHILE

WITH TOM SIMS

Forty people saw a man rob a Los Angeles bank, so they may have thought it was the landlord collecting the rent.

The stinging man in town has a button and wants someone to give him an overcoat to sew on it.

The trouble with all these people viewing things with alarm is they alarm things with their views.

Some pretty day we are going out to the poorhouse and see how many oil speculators are there.

A Chicago bandit was caught in Seattle, showing a man is always safer in his own home town.

If some animal trainer wants to be useful he could train mules to eat holes like lace.

BE THRIFTY

Hoover, See Country Progress by Thrift Week Here

By HERBERT HOOVER, U. S. secretary of commerce, who as U. S. food administrator, during the war saved millions of Europeans from starvation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The whole progress of our country depends upon the individual savings of our people, for when all is said and done the improvement on our homes, our farms, our goods, our roads, railways, factories, etc., are the net savings that our citizens' hands on to the next, and our progress is marked by what we have saved and improved during our generation.

Hoover writes as this fact may be, to a more intimate personal value. "I was dependent for my independence. I had a guaranteed income, independent of anybody, for a couple of months when I saved $100. I had saved $1500. I had the courage to take the risks in trying for a better job the minute I could see a year ahead."

Two picked teams, of eight men each, race to see which can assemble a Dodge car the faster. The winner puts the car—motor, top and complete—into a truck in minutes. You don't get that kind of speed in any country except America, even in contests.

More important auto trade news is Ford's decision to build a $10,000,000 plant in St. Paul, to employ 15,000 men. It will save freight, and the production of a year will be $100,000,000 worth of cars. This is a straw showing the way the wind blows. In next few years you'll see many other industries scatter. It will be compulsory adjustment to the growing problem, transportation.

PAID Here's information that may help you understand news of the next few months: Germany claims that she has already paid indemnity equal to nearly $10,000,000,000. Not all in cash, of course. The figure includes in itself matter for wonder: deliveries of coal and dyes, value of lost colonies, restored property, etc.

The French have a different way of keeping books. Before the war, when the German mark was worth about 24 cents, the Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd steamship lines sold $2,500,000 worth of marks. The bonds have been called for redemption, to be paid off April 1.

Always they'll be paid off according to shrunken value of the mark. Investors will get back about $100,000 for their investment of $23,500,000. Some American promoters will brag that they hold $100,000,000 worth of these bonds are held in Europe.

FABULOUS Jackie Coogan, according to his press agents, is to have a steady income of $100,000 a year. Pretty good, for a lad of eight. The case is an exception to the so-called platitudes that tell us success comes only by hard work, thrift and perseverance. However, it's a true rule that still holds good for most of us. Exceptions prove the rule that holds good for the average. And there are very few Jackies Coogans. Put him out selling newspapers or delivering parcels, and he'd not make any more than other boys.

Moral: Money success depends more on the line of work you follow than on the way you do the work. Follow a profitable road if you want to earn $100 in some industries as $1 in others.

AMERICAN refineries in 1922 sold about 8000 million gallons of gasoline, compared with 5900 million gallons in 1921.

Back of this big jump is the increasing use of the auto. The gasoline engine "made" the oil business of small stock gamblers are glibly enough to reason that purchase by Doherty would mean that he had discovered oil under the Equitable and was about to tear the building down and start drilling. At that, it would be as logical as the average market "tip." The safest way is to flip a coin.

Two picked teams, of eight men each, race to see which can assemble a Dodge car the faster. The winner puts the car—motor, top and complete—into a truck in minutes. You don't get that kind of speed in any country except America, even in contests.

More important auto trade news is Ford's decision to build a $10,000,000 plant in St. Paul, to employ 15,000 men. It will save freight, and the production of a year will be $100,000,000 worth of cars. This is a straw showing the way the wind blows. In next few years you'll see many other industries scatter. It will be compulsory adjustment to the growing problem, transportation.

PAID Here's information that may help you understand news of the next few months: Germany claims that she has already paid indemnity equal to nearly $10,000,000,000. Not all in cash, of course. The figure includes in itself matter for wonder: deliveries of coal and dyes, value of lost colonies, restored property, etc.

The French have a different way of keeping books. Before the war, when the German mark was worth about 24 cents, the Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd steamship lines sold $2,500,000 worth of marks. The bonds have been called for redemption, to be paid off April 1.

Always they'll be paid off according to shrunken value of the mark. Investors will get back about $100,000 for their investment of $23,500,000. Some American promoters will brag that they hold $100,000,000 worth of these bonds are held in Europe.

FABULOUS Jackie Coogan, according to his press agents, is to have a steady income of $100,000 a year. Pretty good, for a lad of eight. him a message offering to surrender aboard his ship, taking Miss Bishop and Lord Julian with me, but only on condition that the Arbella is allowed to proceed unharmed."

"It's a bargain he'll never be offered," retorted Wolverstone, and his earlier vehemence was as nothing to his vehemence now. "You're surely daft even to think of it, Peter."

"Not so daft as you when you talk of fighting that!" He flung out an arm as he spoke to indicate the pursuing ships, which were slowly but surely creeping nearer. "Before we're run another half-mile we shall be within range."

Wolverstone swore elaborately, then silently cursed. Out of the tall of his single eye he had espied a trim figure in gray silk that was ascending the companion. So engrossed had they been that until now they had not seen Miss Bishop come from the door of the passage leading to the cabin. And there was something else that those three men on the poop, and Pitt immediately below them, had failed to observe. Some moments ago Ogle, followed by the main body of his gun-deck crew, had emerged from the booby hatch.

Captain Blood bared his head and bowed slightly in a greeting which Arabella returned composedly and formally.

"What is happening, Lord Julian?" she inquired.

"As if to answer her a third gun spoke from the ships toward which she was looking intent and wondering.

"They are ships of the Jamaica fleet," his lordship answered.

It should in any case have been sufficient explanation. But before more could be added, their attention was drawn at last to Ogle, who came bounding up the broad ladder, and to the men lounging aft in his wake, in all of which, instinctively, they apprehended a vague menace.

"What's this?" the captain demanded sharply. "Your station is on the gun-deck. Why have you left it?"

This challenged the obvious treachery of Ogle's bearing. But it gave no pause to the gunner's intention. If anything it increased his excitement.

"Captain," he said, and as he spoke he pointed to the pursuing ships. "Colonel Bishop holds us. We're in no case either to run or fight."

"Blood's height seemed to increase, as did his sternness. "Ogle," he said, in a voice cold and sharp as steel, "your station is on the gun-deck. You'll return to it at once, and take your crew with you, or else . . ."

But Ogle, violent of men and gesture, interrupted him.

"The most part of my thinking, and they'll have their way."

C. OF C. CAMPAIGN FOR YEAR STARTS EARLY WEDNESDAY

TWENTY TEAMS START ON ANNUAL DRIVE FOR MEMBERS.

$40,000 IN PLEDGES IS GOAL OF WORKERS

Will Meet at Rotary Luncheon On Thursday to Make Reports Of Progress.

A score of teams of workers, armed with subscription blanks and other ammunition, deployed from chamber of commerce headquarters Wednesday morning for the annual membership campaign of that organization.

The campaign will continue for three days, in which time it is hoped to enroll all the 1922 membership, plus those who have moved here during the year, and to obtain pledges covering the $40,000 budget adopted for the organization this year.

The team workers will meet at the Rotary luncheon at the Kemp Thursday for their first reports of progress. The final meeting will be held Friday.

"Hoist the flag and work like hell" is the slogan suggested for the campaign, and in the opinion of the chairman, W. D. Cline, the success of the campaign is certain if the workers follow these instructions literally.

The city has been divided into districts, with a team assigned to each.

Unofficial reports at noon Wednesday indicated that the campaign was proceeding at a very satisfactory rate.

SINCLAIR COMPANY EARNS $22,384,000 SINCE ORGANIZED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Taking the stand in the senate oil inquiry today, Harry F. Sinclair, chairman of the board of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation, testified that net earnings of his company from its organization in 1919 to last June 30 amounted to $22,384,000.

Mr. Sinclair was questioned at length about the activities of the subsidiaries. The Sinclair Pipe Line company, he said, was organized in May, 1916, with 10,000 shares of stock, par value $100, covering physical property taken over from a number of concerns. The present capitalization of the company, he said, is $12,054,000.

TELLS OF STRUGGLES OF INDEPENDENT COMPANIES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Details of battles waged in the oil fields of the southwest between independent oil companies and corporations belonging to the Standard group were given at the senate oil inquiry today prior to the appearance of Harry F. Sinclair, chairman of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation.

F. A. Wiley of Wichita, Kan., secretary of the Board of Oil Companies, an independent, described the increase in crude oil prices made by Standard companies in the mid-continent field, in 1922 and early in 1921 and the later break in prices "looked to me as pre-arranged and an endeavor to get the independents in a corner."

P. E. Butler, Jr., of Oklahoma City, vice-president of the National Oil and Development company, related negotiations between his concern and the Magnolia Petroleum company, a Standard corporation, which he said resulted in imposition on the National of a contract under which the Magnolia company got the National's oil at virtually its own price.

UNITED STATES TO REMAIN HANDS OFF EUROPEAN AFFAIRS

NO INTENTION TO ACT OR MAKE SUGGESTIONS IN ANY WAY.

IF EMERGENCY ARISES WILL CONSIDER MATTER

Sentiment at Washington is Changing, According to Mark Sullivan.

By MARK SULLIVAN, National Political Correspondent of the New York Tribune, Inc., and Wichita Daily Times. (Copyright 1923, N. Y. Tribune, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—As efforts to set compactly the present state of our relation to German reparations and attend to questions, so far as it can be gathered from original sources, would say that there is no evidence that we have any intention to take any action or make any suggestion in any way.

All the evidence is to the contrary, namely, that we have no present intention of doing anything about Europe either within the limited field of reparations question or in any broader way. So much for the present. As to the future, if any serious situation should come from Europe or if any emergency should demand action our response would necessarily be adapted to whatever the circumstances "light be. For the sake of the light it may throw upon our present and future attitude it may be useful to sum up in a few sentences what has been our European policy for the last eight months, so far as the knowledge of it could be gathered from observation.

Beginning with a date soon after the close of the armament conference, the attitude was the appearance that our European policy was one of rather complete detachment by far from identical with the policy of the senate "irreconcilables" on the league of nations fight. The basis of that policy seemed to be that there were certain things in the nature of self-help, such as cessation of military expenditures and cessation of printing paper money, which Europe could only do for itself, and which Europe must do before we could take a hand. There appeared to be a certain amount of hope that Europe would reorganize on a sound policy and act upon it, and that thereafter America might be able to take some affirmative action in the direction of quinine cooperation. In spite of rumors of something important about to be done, the single exception to this course of "hands off" was Mr. Hughes' suggestion in December that an international committee of business men, which would be composed of representatives of the business men of the world, should be made by an unofficial commission of business men, which would be composed of representatives of the business men of the world.

CURTAILMENT OF ALCOHOL PERMITS BY FEDERAL AGENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Drastring curtailment of dealing in denatured and individual alcohol has been decided on by federal prohibition authorities as the next step in their campaign to combat the illicit liquor traffic. Orders have been issued for the revocation of scores of dealer permits, among these being that issued to one of the largest alcohol producing plants in the country.

Decision to withdraw the licenses of this plant and to refuse to re-issue licenses for which applications were pending, was reached at a conference of prohibition enforcement officials attended by Acting Commissioner Jones, Acting Director Yellowley of New York, and heads of the principal bureau at headquarters here. It is understood that reports submitted by Mr. Yellowley of his investigation into the sources of Christmas beverages had much to do with the order.

Mr. Yellowley is known to have secured evidence which convinced him that the great bulk of this supply was of domestic manufacture with illegally diverted alcohol used as a base. Much of the alcohol was declared by prohibition agents to have been rectified from stocks supposedly denatured in accordance with government regulations.

Alcohol used in the booting trade is believed by prohibition officials to come largely from stocks denatured by the addition of quinine sufficient to make the solution nauseating as a drink. It has been found that by the use of a simple and easily procedure reagent the quinine can be precipitated and the clarified alcohol then siphoned off for any use the owner desires. Investigation made by Mr. Yellowley in New York of recent supplies of bootleg whiskey led to seizure of 5000 gallons of redistilled alcohol and a number of stills which were destroyed for use in this operation. The New York director obtained evidence that much of this product was retained under the guise of having been landed by rum runners.

The conference of prohibition officials was given further detailed reports on the investigation which had been made of the recent operations of the rum runners fleet in the vicinity of Highlands, N. J. The reports were not made public but there is now no disposition at prohibition headquarters to deny the probability that a considerable amount of liquor was landed.

There were a great many changes in the business houses here over the first of the year 1923. Miss Hattie Edmondson takes the place of W. D. Neves at the Roby Merchants Co.

The Masonic people of this place have purchased the second story of the First State Bank building and are this week having it remodeled for their future home. Those who had private offices in the building have moved to the Terry and McMahon building on the same side of the square. The old Masonic hall was sold to J. A. Wilburn.

DWELLING HOUSE IN ROBY IS DESTROYED SAVE THE CONTENTS

ROBY, TEXAS, Jan. 16.—The dwelling house belonging to Jim Stewart and occupied by Mr. Tettler, manager of the Williams-Miller in this place, was destroyed by fire in an early hour Monday morning.

Fire starting in the roof from a defective fuse. Most of the household goods were saved.

The basket ball teams of six rural schools met here Saturday in a preliminary tryout for county and district championships. It is understood that reports submitted by Mr. Yellowley of his investigation into the sources of Christmas beverages had much to do with the order.

Mr. Yellowley is known to have secured evidence which convinced him that the great bulk of this supply was of domestic manufacture with illegally diverted alcohol used as a base. Much of the alcohol was declared by prohibition agents to have been rectified from stocks supposedly denatured in accordance with government regulations.

Alcohol used in the booting trade is believed by prohibition officials to come largely from stocks denatured by the addition of quinine sufficient to make the solution nauseating as a drink. It has been found that by the use of a simple and easily procedure reagent the

Reb Russell Figures to Rival Ruth

By HILLY EVANS
Babe Ruth, at a time when he was regarded as the leading southpaw of the American league, quit pitching to play the outfield.

Ruth thereupon developed into the greatest slugger in the history of baseball.

George Sliker came to St. Louis Browns from the University of Michigan. Inside of a year he won the right to be classed as one of the best left-handers in the American league.

Sliker, a great hitter and very fast, was missed by the Browns when not pitching. His quit pitching at the top of his game to play first base.

Sliker has developed into the greatest first baseman of all time and one of the most remarkable batsmen the game has ever produced.

Such is the case of Reb Russell. Now comes another left-hander pitcher to win batting laurels.

On Sept. 1 Russell made seven consecutive hits and the bundle included three home runs and a double. Here is what he did in the double-header.

NINETEEN MURDER CASES REMAIN ON COURTS' DOCKETS

TOTAL OF 2409 CASES COMPOSE DOCKETS OF COURTS IN THIS COUNTY.

FIGURES PREPARED TO SHOW LEGISLATORS

Active Steps Taken to Keep From Removing 30th District Court From County.

Nineteen murder cases remained on the dockets of the three district courts at noon Wednesday, according to a check made by District Clerk A. F. Kerr, who was asked to prepare a set of figures to be presented to the state legislature in an effort to convince them that it would be unwise to remove the 30th district court from Wichita county. The check-up revealed that a total of 2,409 cases, civil and criminal, are still alive on the dockets. This number, it is said, represents sufficient amount of work to keep three courts busy here for a period of 12 months or two years, not counting the new business that is being continually filed.

The local bar association appointed a committee at its annual meeting last Saturday night to look after the interests of Wichita county in this proposed legislation. Every effort will be made to keep the three district courts in this county.

The cases are enumerated by the district clerk in response to a request made by members of the committee appointed by the bar association last week.

It is understood that several members of this committee are planning to make the trip to Austin equipped not only with this data, but with other convincing arguments that the 30th district court should be kept in Wichita county.

By ELTON

Then Jack picked one of the icicles and, sure enough, it was just like the one he had seen at his back door. While he was examining it, a great sheet nearby attracted his attention. A little flock of snow men were running around and jumping in big piles of snow.

"What are they playing!" Jack asked. "Why, that's hide and seek," said a snow man. "Do you want to join us?" "I'd be glad to," replied Jack. "I know how to play that game well." But Jack soon found that it was a lot different than the hide and seek he had played back in his town.

"Now we'll run and hide," shouted several snow men. Jack buried his head in his arms and counted up to 10. He heard the snow men running away, but when he opened his eyes again he couldn't see a single one of them. That's funny, thought Jack. Where can they be? (Continued)

FORMER MEMBER OF 'KLAN' RECALLED

was the first witness called today. Carpenter testified previously as to the arrest of John Braddock, who was turned over to him by a party of men including Captain J. K. Higginbotham.

"Mr. Carpenter, the other day when Braddock was on the stand he testified he made an effort to obtain a bond after spending the night technically under arrest and that you told him that the district judge was not here and you would have to take him to a justice of the peace, is that correct?"

"Yes, sir."

"Was it then that the warrant to search his house was made out?"

"Yes."

Higginbotham testified.

"Tom R. Higginbotham, the next witness, was questioned as to next leading from Bastrop and Mer Rouge to his home and to reach the home of E. N. Gray, which he said was on the Coulee swamp road."

"What was the warning received by your cousin, William Higginbotham?"

"It told him if he did not leave negro women alone and bootleg whiskey they would get him. The letter was signed 'Not Your Friend.'"

"You are a member of the Klan?"

"Yes."

"You knew Matt Daniel, J. L. Daniel, W. C. Andrews, Tom Davidson and T. F. Richardson?"

"Yes."

"Have you ever heard them discussed by the Klan?"

"No, sir."

MARY PICKFORD'S NEW VERSION "LESS OF THE STORM COUNTRY" BREAKING ALL HOUSE RECORDS

Daniel and Thomas Richard and other alleged masked band operations in Morehouse parish.

Gray took the witness stand after a half dozen other witnesses had testified as to previous alleged kidnaping in the Morehouse parish during the last six months, including the statements of two witnesses as to a visit said to have been made by Gray to the state bank building.

Gray testified that he saw an apparently held prisoner by a black hooded figure pass his home on the evening Daniel and Richard were taken to the state bank building.

Other witnesses yesterday told of the appearance of the black hooded band with the two captives at the town of Collinston, where they stopped for gasoline and their way to Lake La Fourche, where the bodies of the men recently were found.

Thus far the automobile truck in which Daniel and Richard were last seen has been generally described, but not positively identified.

LITTLE PROGRESS MADE IN ESTABLISHING IDENTITY

BASTROP, La., Jan. 17.—The investigation into the kidnaping of the two witnesses, Daniel and Richard, brought forth revealing testimony at Tuesday's session. But little progress was made in the central part of the state.

The witness described seeing black hooded men in an automobile and truck hauling prisoners away after the kidnaping of Daniel, Richard and others August 24, last. He said he and Gray were taken to the way to William Higginbotham's home and paid no attention to what they had passed?"
