ESSEN, Jan. 19.—The announcement of a sign of weakness they declare that the Rhinelanders have brought forth comment in German circles that the French military authorities were reluctant to apply such penalties in the newly occupied territory.

Delay in enforcement of the measures here is regarded by the Germans as a sign of weakness. They declare that the Rhinelanders have brought forth comment in German circles that the French military authorities were reluctant to apply such penalties in the newly occupied territory.

There was great rejoicing today over the letter written to General Denig by Dr. Gumbert, president of the Rhinelanders, in which he declared that the French had been responsible for the increased cost of the Ruhr and that they were incapable, by reason of their inexperience of administering the Ruhr valley industries.

The communication also warned the French that unless they ceased their interference in the Ruhr, they would be forced to take drastic measures. In reply to the French report that this was an attempt at blackmail, Dr. Gumbert asserted that the Rhinelanders were not interested in the Ruhr valley industries...

FIVE ACCUSED IN CONNECTION WITH MINE TRAGEDY AT HERRIN FOUND "NOT GUILTY" BY A JURY

By Associated Press. MARION, ILL., Jan. 19.—All five defendants in the Herrin riot trial were found not guilty by a jury of 13 Williamson county farmers at 1:35 p. m. today.

The verdicts were read in the following order: Lova Mann, Jos' Carnaugh, Peter Hillier, Gust' Grace, and Otis Clark. All of them are union miners except Peter Hillier, who is a taxi driver.

The first defendants brought to trial as a result of the Herrin riot of June 21 and 22, 1918, were charged with the murder of Howard Hoffman, one of the 20 non-union workers killed during the riot.

The number of defendants at the first trial was limited to five to facilitate the obtaining of a jury as the jury that made its final report on October 23 after an investigation begun August 23 under the direction of Edward J. Brundage, attorney general, was exhausted.

Selection of the jury began on November 8 and the first juror was obtained on November 13. The jury was completed December 8 and the taking of testimony began December 11.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—Blackened eyes and swollen lips were in evidence in the chamber of deputies today, as reminders of last night's stormy session when the chamber, after one of the liveliest sessions in its history, voted to suspend parliamentary immunity of Marcel Cachin, the communist member.

The trouble started when a special commission that had investigated the Ruhr's alleged movement in the Ruhr recommended suspension of his immunity that he might be prosecuted. This brought a quick response from the radicals and there was such a lively cross fire among the members that the vice president was obliged to halt the session temporarily. When the chamber was again called to order the confusion increased and the communist members started in a body for the chair.

Prince Joachim Murat, who recently won the plaudits of his fellow deputies of the right in a festive encounter with M. Evraud, the medical assistant, hastened to lead his faction to the defense of the chairman, and the communist members started in a body for the chair.

Order was not restored until a corps of ushers had parted the combatants. The deputies then passed the motion to suspend Cachin's immunity.

HARRISON WAITING INVESTIGATION BY ARK. LEGISLATURE

TOWN IS QUIET FOLLOWING RECENT DISTURBANCES RESULT STRIKE.

LAWMAKERS TO BEGIN INVESTIGATION MONDAY

Committee Denies Charges That Press Campaign is Established.

HARRISON, ARK., Jan. 18.—After several days of disturbance following the closing of the Arkansas state and strike sympathizers charged with bridge burning and other depredations along the line of the Missouri and Arkansas railroads, by the self-styled "committee of 1900," Harrison today was awaiting the opening of the investigation by the legislative committee next Monday at Little Rock.

With the arrest yesterday of two suspects indicted on charges of arson the announcement that a total of 39 indictments had been returned by the grand jury, the investigation has been reported. Further arrests, however, are expected today, according to Sheriff Shannon.

The "committee of 1900" and the "citizens' court" last night made public the first statement of the results of their investigation. The committee inaugurated several days ago to apprehend those guilty of "vandalism" along the line of the railroad.

What the civil and court authorities were unable to handle in the past two years, the committee's statement declares, the citizens have accomplished in two days time. We are congratulating ourselves on winding up this situation with a minimum amount of "tragedy" and unpleasantness and we welcome the visit of the legislative committee.

Charges of terrorism, emanating yesterday from Chicago, were denied by both local authorities, telegraph and newspaper correspondents.

Denying a charge by W. S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at Chicago, that men and women are being abductively "trapped" in some instances to the extent of lynching, Governor McRae at Little Rock, was quoted as having introduced the union leader that authorities were in full control here and that state militia was not needed.

HOODS MAN DID NOT HAVE LEGAL NOTICE OF LIEN

Judge Guy Rogers held Thursday in the case of the Wichita Music company against E. M. Dever that the defendant did not have legal notice that a chattel mortgage existed on a player piano which he had purchased from the plaintiff.

The facts as testified to in the case were lengthy but in substance were that in 1920 Mrs. F. W. Bonaparte purchased the piano from the plaintiff and executed $2,225 notes as part payment on a chattel mortgage. A chattel mortgage was taken by the plaintiff on the piano.

After three notes had been paid Mrs. Bonaparte sold the piano to Tom Madison and arrangements were made with the plaintiff that the new owner was to assume payments of the notes. A new chattel mortgage was taken.

Three months later Madison traded the piano to the defendant Dever for an automobile. Dever testified that he had no notice that a chattel mortgage existed on the property.

It developed that the second mortgage which gave an accurate description of the piano was not filed for record until Dever had purchased the piano. The first mortgage which was still on file did not give an accurate description of the piano and for that reason Judge Rogers held that the defendant Dever did not have legal notice of the existence of the mortgage.

A resolution adopted at the last state convention in Houston providing for three meetings of the directors during the year, was amended and changed. The resolution now holds that at least three meetings must be held at the call of the president.

A resolution providing that the state association defray the expenses of the legislative committee meetings was adopted unanimously. This motion was later amended by a provision that the expense be prorated by the various local associations, represented and the remainder of the local associations benefit therefrom.

The following members were named vice presidents: George W. Todd, Austin; C. L. Berly, Beaumont; Harry F. Boyd, Dallas; G. B. M. Monty, Fort Worth; W. N. Long, Houston; Reagan Houston, San Antonio; D. E. Dodson, Waco, and C. D. Whitley, Wichita Falls.

The directors for the ensuing year will be: H. M. Voss, Austin; L. R. Cohen, Beaumont; W. H. Y. Harris, Dallas; W. N. Koonce, Houston; John W. Barron, San Antonio; C. H. Rebeck, Waco; R. J. Bean, Wichita Falls; A. L. Baker, Fort Worth, and J. F. McCarthy, Houston.

You'll take a new delight in your phonograph

THERE are idle phonographs in thousands of homes, to-day, because of the noise of needle friction. Thousands of sensitive music-lovers have never purchased phonographs because, for them, record surface sounds spoil the music.

Other thousands patiently endure the ever-present scratch and scrape and try to overlook it.

Columbia's already famous discovery of a new and unbelievably quiet surface material for records has opened up a new epoch in phonograph pleasure. Now you may buy records of the music you most delight in—the well-loved ballads, arias from the famous operas, the lilt and swing of dance music, songs of the violin, the surging harmonies of great orchestras—all noticeably free from objectionable surface sounds.

All of the Columbia Records out to-day are made with this wonderfully quiet and pleasing new surface.

As an example, hear Dolly Kay sing "Hot Lips"—a true blue song of a torrid trumpeter who blows a wicked horn. On the other side is Dolly again, singing "Blue." There is a very susceptible saxophone that sighs and sobs all the way through as though its musical heart would break.

Tear out this list and take it to a Columbia Dealer. Listen to any or all of these Columbia New Process Records. You, too, will acclaim them the smoothest, most quiet, most musical records you have ever heard.

Civic League Executive Board All Day Meet With President

With every member of the board present, the Civic League executives met in an all-day sitting at the home of Mrs. B. F. Johnson Thursday in one of the busiest sessions it has held for many months.

The new lineup of division chairmen represented radical changes in the composition of the board, several chairmen who have served for the past two, three or four years in their divisions being relieved or changed to other divisions, on request. There was a good deal of energetic interest apparent and in all but one or two divisions the work for the coming year was lined up pretty fully.

The new president made some splendid suggestions in several divisions, and one or two "leaders" for the coming year's work were discussed, to be presented to the membership at the annual luncheon in February.

Mrs. Johnson served a plate luncheon at noon, and the meeting continued until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The board members present included: Mesdames C. E. Bailey, Joe Mayfield, Hubert Harrison, C. U. Daniels, R. E. Shepherd, W. S. Curlew, Bert Bean, J. M. Isbell, T. E. Smock, T. E. Branson, Crawford, Fred Barron and Johnson, and Miss Irene Davidson.

EVERYBODY IS GRIEVED OVER NEWS DEATH OF WALLACE REID THURSDAY

Everybody is expressing their little personal grief today over the news of the death of Wallace Reid, the film star, Thursday in Los Angeles.

It is a very sincere tribute to one of the most popular stars of the screen that the feeling seems so general, and it is undoubtedly due to the fact that young Reid held a record for clean, wholesome, film-stories probably not duplicated for their popular regard by any other man screen star.

The Times' editor and all of the other movie fans in the office share the general sorrow over Reid's death.

Second Community "42" Party Nice Affair at Y. W. Thursday

The second community "42" party given at the Y. W. C. A. under the auspices of the service committee of the Business Women's club was enjoyed by eleven sets of players at the "T" Thursday evening.

In the games, which lasted until 11:30, Roy Carter won high score among the men and Mr. R. J. Pardo, November champion of the players, won with Mrs. Chesley-Burness among the women.

Mrs. V. E. Martin and Miss Beas Gibson cut for high scores among the women players and Miss Gibson while Mrs. C. C. Randle held second high. Mr. Carter was presented with a handsome gold pencil and Mr. Pardo with silver clothes, "Kum-a-part" cuff links; Miss Gibson with a beautiful rose Rookwood vase, and Mrs. Randle with a framed guest room sentiment, all as remembrance of the evening to the January champions from the club.

The community party will be given again in the middle of February, and Mesdames Randle, V. E. Sultman, V. R. Martin, Ernest Archambault, Joe D. Harris, C. W. Neavers and Charles Pogonopoli will form a local hostess committee to assist in the entertainment and promote the community club.

Ermine Searf, at the opera recently was seen, a gorgeous scarf of white ermine, edged with long white fringe. It was slightly smaller than the regular size and stimulating the circulation.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS MR. TINGALING'S LETTER By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Well, for goodness sake!" he cried, joyfully. "Look who's here?"

"Here's a letter that's been here most a hundred years," said Mr. Stamp, the fairy postmaster in the highway, in a postoffice. "The more I look at it the less I can read it, and the less I can read it the less I want to look at it."

He handed it over to Nancy and Nick who looked at it with their magical glasses. "Why, it's written in Chinese!" declared Nick.

"Then what's to be done?" asked Mr. Stamp in a despairing voice.

"Why, I couldn't even read a laundry check from a Chinese laundry, to save my life."

Nancy looked again. "It's to Mr. Tinkling T. Tingaling," she said.

"Why, that's the fairy landlord!" cried Nick. "Who can be writing to him from China?"

"And at this time of year, too!" added Mr. Stamp. "Surely nobody is home hunting now. The snow's not off the ground yet and won't be for weeks 'n' weeks. Some of the wood folks are still in the south, but most of them are in Dreamland. And I don't know of anybody who's gone to China."

"Well, take it to Mr. Tingaling at once," said Nick. "There is no use in guessing any longer."

So off went the letter in the fairy landlord's house in Whispering Forest and knocked on his front door.

Mr. Tingaling was out chopping wood, but he heard them.

"Well, for goodness sake!" he cried joyfully. "Look who's here! What! A letter! From China! I'll have to read it!"

But Nancy and Nick had to help him with their magical glasses. The letter said:

"Dear Mr. Tingaling: I would like to live in another house. Farmer Brown makes me sit all day on a China egg because I'm Chinese chicken. Can you fix it? Yours, Mrs. Henrietta Cochlin Hen."

"Oh, ho, ho," laughed the fairy landlord. "I'll have to help her if it's not too late. I never believed in China eggs anyway. Thank you, kiddies, and goodbye! Come and see me again soon."

Song Great Beautifier Concert Star Declares

HELENA MARSH

Why not try singing as a beautifier? The suggestion comes from Helena Marsh, concert singer, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera company, and almost as well known for her lovely face as for her voice.

"To sing well," says Miss Marsh, "one must breathe correctly and maintain a good carriage, expand the lungs and stimulating the circulation."

"Further a singer must have poise, ease of manner, grace. To acquire poise on the platform, means its possession everywhere."

"The great singer also reflects in her face the emotions of her song, so she develops plasticity of features, and this expressiveness has its charm."

"With such attributes as these no woman ever will be considered unattractive."

MRS. ROGERS HOSTESS THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. M. F. Rogers was hostess to the members of the J. L. Downing Bible class, Thursday afternoon at her home on Fillmore, when the guests spent a specially pleasant social afternoon. Mother Hartsock gave several readings, including an original poem which was very much enjoyed.

Late in the afternoon the hostess served a salad course to Mesdames McGrath, Wiedman, T. L. Adair, S. M. Griswold, R. B. Frisold, Mary Hancock, E. H. Campbell, H. A. Jones, C. F. MISS DOROTHY DAWSON HAS A BIRTHDAY PARTY

Holman, L. C. Bruce, Raymond Holman, Leroy Zorn, Rex Murray, Clyde Cox, Oranidis Ogle, Mary Appleby, Helen Marie Northcutt, Edna McMillingham, Mary Chambers, Marjorie Gorgie, Stella Gorgie, June Forman, James and Harold Dawson and Elvett Farland.

TRAVIS MOTHERS PLAN A VALENTINE SOCIAL

The Travis Mothers' council planned a Valentine party at their Wednesday meeting, when a good attendance of mothers met for a program and business session. Miss Kate Burgess led a round table discussion of "simple things parents can do to aid the children in their school work." Mr. Clark was present and made a brief talk, after which Miss Ila Cook gave a piano interpretation of Messner's Melodie. Sandwiches and coffee were served.

Quick Quaker Oats The Quickest-Cooking Oats in the World

Quaker Oats now come in two styles—regular and Quick. Both have that super-flavor—the flavor that won the world. Both are flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, savory oats. But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small thin flakes cook quickly.

Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. It is the quickest-cooking oats in the world.

In these two ways Quaker Oats excel. Say which you want, regular or Quick. But if you love flavor, insist on the Quaker brand.

FOWLER BIBLE CLASS IS DELIGHTFULLY RECEIVED AT MRS. FOWLER'S HOME

The members of the Fowler Bible class of the First Presbyterian church were delightfully received and entertained at the home of Mrs. S. L. Fowler on Folk street Thursday afternoon.

The living room suite was decorated in potted plants and cut flowers for the party, and the guests were received by Mesdames Fowler, J. D. Robertson, L. M. Grayson, Curtis Atkinson, John Owen and L. W. Brewster, who assisted the hostess in the afternoon's hospitality. As each member of the class arrived she was presented a pretty little heart with a question or answer, and later was asked to match the questions and answers for partners. Games and contests and an informal program were enjoyed. The matching of the questions and answers causing quite a lot of fun. Miss Maeda McClure sang a solo, with Miss Thora Fors at the piano and the violin obligato by Mrs. Lee Clark. Mrs. J. Eldred Pittman sang a song and responded to the encore with "Out Where the Bells Begin" with Mrs. H. C. Evans at the piano, and Miss Bernice Martin gave two delightful readings.

A feature of the party quite interesting to the class members was the presence and talk given by Miss Willie Addington, field secretary of the Albany Presbyterian Orphanage, who is at the William Mary hotel this week and who told of the work and of the splendid Christmas at the orphanage—a Christmas party provided by the good Wichita Falls Presbyterian friends of the institution. Miss Addington told of the work for the coming year and of Wichita Falls hall now in course of construction.

Late in the afternoon the hostess served a delicious plate luncheon to the following: Mesdames J. D. Preston, S. E. Burmida, R. Hart, Haystack Edwards, J. D. Humphrey, H. E. THEY CAN "SNAP" YOU IN STONE NOW, AND CHISEL YOUR PORTRAIT OUT BETTER THAN SCULPTOR COULD

By MARGARET ROHE

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—"If you give me your photograph then I will give you mine." How obsolete this well known phrase will soon become, in time. For there's a chap invented now a process very new that takes in stone or marble, white, a cameo of you. And so the future lady fair will be to her best beau her alabaster bas-relief and get his cameo.

A metal bas-relief in chic or alabaster, rare, and for yourself in plaster I am sure you'd learn to care. For in these many mediums your likeness may be done and if you like variety try each and every one.

The process cameography is called and it combines photography developed by most secret of designs. The clever young inventor here from Brighton, England, came. A cameographer is he. H. Edmunds is his name.

His subjects sit behind a screen especially prepared. Two cameras take them through the screen while dazzling lights are flared. The sitting's very, very brief. Next comes the catchy trick, translating them the likeness into the marble thick, the metal, alabaster or what medium they choose their cameographs done in. You must henceforth disabuse your mind of thinking sculpture by an artist must be done for

Jo Davidson may soon go "best" since busts in bas-relief can be turned out by dozens by this engineering chief.

In future, family albums and framed photographs will be deleted from our dwellings and instead we're apt to see collections of stone faces on the mantels in a row or else along the plate-rails where the beer-stains used to go. And though within your watch's case you absolutely never your lady's plaster bas-relief can ever hope to wear, still when romance is shattered and you've broken with the flame, think what relief her bas-relief to shatter all the same.

Imagine how more flattering when traveling we go to have our passports furnished with a metal cameo, instead of an exhibit from a real ragged gallery as erstwhile passport photographs "most always looked to be."

I wonder if when posing for a cameograph, too, they tell you to look pleasant as photographers used to do and if they have you looking for "the birdie" and then when you've got the pose completely have a thousand things "and ten" five moving chairs to do until you slump, your amts is tied and you wish you had, too.

But then no matter how you smile, all languishing, I fear, cameographs will always make you rather hard appear.

Edmunds once of engineers, electrical, was one.

How and Praxiteles and too Mike Angelo would be could they know how their "hack" work's done by cameography.

Today's Best Clipping A MIGHTY CREDIT.

The angel turned his ledger's page and read the entries there. The maiden shook, so black it seemed; of credit marks so bare. It told of men sherd flitted with, of stories she had told; Of petty meannesses and such; of selfishness untold.

Yet on the credit side appeared a single mark alone, That showed she kept her patience when she used the telephone. The angel took a pen with speed and underscored it red; "The debts do not outweigh that—just walk right in," he said. —Harry Lee Marriner (Dallas News.)

WOOLWORTH MANAGER AT VERNON TRANSFERRED TO SAN ANGELO STORE

VERNON, TEXAS, Jan. 19.—J. J. McCarthy, manager of the F. W. Woolworth company's store in Vernon, left last night for San Angelo, Texas, where he will have charge of the Woolworth business. Mr. McCarthy has been in Vernon as manager of the store here for a year and a half and during that time has made many friends. He formerly worked for the Woolworth company in Denver, Col., and came from Denver to Vernon. He has been with the company three years and said today that he liked the line of work that he was engaged in and that his stay in Vernon had been very pleasant. He further stated that the company had done a good business since he has been with them here and that they were well pleased with the showing made by the Vernon store. Mr. McCarthy has lately employed Bert Blanton, a Vernon high school boy to assist him in his work at the Vernon store, and stated last night before leaving the store, as young Mr. Blanton was decorating a window. "Young Blanton came to me some time ago for work and I have found him very energetic and willing to work. Long after closing time he stays and works and seems to be anxious to learn all there is about the work without regard to the number of hours necessary to spend. We like to have young men like Bert, and he will make us a good manager if he continues as he has since he has been with us. Vernon loses a good business man in Mr. McCarthy, and when a town finds men holding important positions who encourage high school boys to seek honest employment where they can learn business and make a part of their expense money, it is with exceeding regret that the people learn of their leaving the town. DRAMATIC SCENE IS CLIMAX TO MARY PICKFORD'S NEW VERSION "TESS OF THE STORM COUNTRY"

MARY PICKFORD in "TESS OF THE STORM COUNTRY"

Meetings Prohibited SHAWNEE, OKLA., Jan. 19.—Enforcement of an order prohibiting striking railroad shopmen or others from holding public meetings and street gatherings for the purpose of disorder, threats or intimidations began today when federal, county and city officials and members of a citizens' committee united to prevent further acts of violence in Shawnee in connection with the shop strike. Little for Their Trouble BETHEL, Jan. 19.—After a week of France's "economic grip" in the Ruhr, it seemed here today that M. Coste and General de Goutte had recalled little more than their trouble for their pains in their attempts to enforce reprisals. A few coal barges intercepted here and there and an occasional coal train recognized were the only fruits of the occupation apparent in the capital.

Christmas—and the bigoted hill-toppers sat in their church of marble. Unmindful, unresponsive of the suffering around them. With satisfied faces and self-righteous minds they held the Christmas service. Then slowly down the aisle came a girl of the lake front bearing in her arms the form of a dying baby. There on her knees before them she appealed to the preacher to "baptize him," she pleaded, "that he may see the face of God." But the appeal was refused—while from the art glass window looked the image of Christ with underneath the inscription, "—and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Hushed was the congregation, but scowls spread over their faces. Who was this wayward waif, this common child of the gutter? How dare she desecrate this mighty church of marble. Hushed, but for a moment—then a man's voice, "Put her out!" Calmly she stepped to the altar, dipped her fingers in water, sprinkled it over the babe—and murmured, "I baptize thee." Then from the congregation came the scream of a woman, "Give me my baby!" she cried, while the congregation wondered. And then the man who had spoken turned and beheld his daughter, mother of the child, the girl this waif had shielded. Such is the climax of "Tess of the Storm Country," Mary Pickford's new 10-reel version of Grace Miller White's story which opens a four days' engagement at the Olympic theatre next Wednesday.

Shortage of Paper Marks SEEN, Jan. 19.—The shortage of paper marks is a matter of great concern to the French. Although it is announced that the economic mission has enough of this currency on hand to meet the payroll of all the Ruhr industries on Saturday, it seems certain that by next week the 50,000 workmen will have to be paid in some other currency.

popularity and gone, but through them all Wallace Reid had remained the same ever lovable, ever hard-working Wally. Daring death at the wheel of a racing auto in one picture, enacting the heartiest dramatic scenes in another, perhaps his next a character comedy part and playing each with all the humaneness and skill of the artist that he was. He has appeared on our screen more often than any other player and his patrons we have noticed have always been those whom we know appreciate the best the screen can give. He was not a player who demanded a "starring" contract with his company. He was content to work wherever he was cast. In a star part or in support of a far less popular player, he was always giving his best. Representing as he did the perfect type of American manhood his place can never be filled on our screen.

MONROE COMPANY IS STARTING TEST NEAR INGLESIDE

OLNEY, TEXAS, Jan. 19.—The Monroe Production company has made a location for a test in the Ingleside community, six miles southwest of here, and will begin hauling rig material at once.

This company secured leases late in September on two blocks of acreage of 1800 acres each, with a drilling contract on each block, and the test will be located in the southwest corner of block No. 46, 200 feet west and 400 feet north from the corner, on land owned by R. A. Kemp.

Geologists of the company believe that the broken structure found in the Miller and Andrews shallow fields east of here will be found again on the ridge running north-south between the two blocks.

Other bills introduced were: Davis, section of constitution and appropriate to public utilities; Stewart, requiring interlocking decrease in divorce suits preventing parties to remarry for six months; Stewart, chicken theft made felony; Bowers, fire insurance companies to pay losses within 30 days after demand; Floyd, changing fiscal year from September 1 to January 1.

Dr. W. S. Sutton, head of the department of education of the University of Texas, after visiting Fairview school Friday morning stated that there were few schools in the state that could compare with it.

Dr. Sutton, with Superintendent Durr Bryant and Lee Clark of the city schools paid a visit to this school district Thursday morning. Dr. Sutton inspected every room that he entered and gave a talk to the pupils of the high school.

He told them that he was glad to see such a place as this one that he had never seen before. He also stated that he was enthused over the great work that was being done at this district and hoped that other places in the state would follow this example.

Monday will be the Woman's Missionary society's visitation day. The public is invited to share the inspirational part of the Wednesday night service, which begins promptly at 7:45, led by the pastor. The congregation is at large is expected to gather at this hour.

Friday night the Epworth League has its monthly social meeting in the league rooms at the church. All the young people in the church and out of it are cordially invited.

Company D, machine gun company of the Louisiana national guard, which has been on duty here in connection with the Morehouse riot, broke camp today preparatory to leaving this afternoon for New Orleans, its home station.

It is understood no more troops will be brought to Bastrop since the Morehouse riot. The company will only be on duty for a short time, while units at other points could be brought here on short notice.

Thursday was a hard day for Ford owners, coupes and roadsters were given preference over the five-passenger models, according to reports of automobile thefts from the police station Friday. A roadster was stolen from the Keim Motor company on Scott street early in the day Thursday.

Police officers in Holiday notified the local police department Friday morning that the merchandise store of F. M. Hawley of that place was burglarized Thursday night and the stock well picked over. Boots, shoes, suits of clothing, shirts, trousers, socks and other articles of wearing apparel were taken from the stock.

The national reformers themselves acknowledge this to be true. In the official organ of that association, when rejoicing over the possibilities of the "Christian nation" decision handed down by Justice Brandeis, of the United States supreme court, in 1922, the writer said: "All that this national reformer movement seeks all that this department of Christian politics works for, is to be royal truth. This is a Christian nation."

But what is the remedy for our great need in this matter of Bible instruction? How shall we meet this great need? The ancients addressed the parents, and said, "These words which I command thee this day shall be in thine heart. And thou shalt diligently teach them unto thy children, and thou shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up."

Here is the great remedy for our family and national ill. Let the parents perform their God-given work of continually keeping before their children the eternal truths of the Scriptures, and let the pastor continually keep before their people the importance of the Bible as the basis of our national life, and there will be no need of trying to hand over to the state the responsibilities that God has placed upon the parent and the pastor.—GEO. W. SPIES.

Editor of the Gulf Production company is here looking after the affairs of his company in the Wichita Falls district.

Collier-Landon Team Wins Strenuous Game For Half Season Title

Collier and Landon made good their claim to the championship in city league basketball for the first half season when they defeated the American Legion team by a score of 24 to 19 on the Legion court Thursday night.

With the decision for the first half of season at stake, both teams went on the floor in their fighting clothes and battled it out until the last whistle blew. The Legion team was weakened by the absence of Jones and Latum who were out of the game on account of illness.

Guy Rogers at forward for the Legion played a game in which he stuck throughout the game. He was high point man for his team, but repeatedly missed baskets that seemed clinched. Harrod at forward was the mainstay for the Collier and Landon crew; he was credited with 13 of the 24 points which his team scored.

Snyder Is Perfect Catcher That is Manager McGraw's Rating of Giants' Star Shortstop

Umpire Springs Something New; Vocal Interference

Bill Byron, former National league umpire, who worked in the Pacific coast last year, is nothing if not original. Byron like the late Tim Hurst, stands out as one of the characters of the game. He is different.

Byron was coaching at first base. The batter, with two out and three on, hit a high foul fly to the first baseman. Dunn kept backing away with the first baseman, who was pursuing the ball, trying to create the impression that he was making every effort to get out of his way.

FRANK SNYDER

By HILLY EVANS John McGraw calls Frank Snyder, shortstop of the New York Giants, "the perfect catcher." In discussing the great catchers the National league has produced, McGraw says:

McGraw, as manager of the Cardinals, had refused a cash offer of $10,000 from the Pittsburgh Pirates. Snyder, however, had a lame arm and likely did not want him. McGraw, always admiring the pluck and the courage of the husky Texan, played a long shot and won.

WILLYEYES OF BASEBALL

In the 26 years I have been umpiring I have seen hundreds of remarkable plays. Some of the plays have been performed by batters, although a majority of them go to the credit of the infielders. And then again I have seen the catchers—yes, even the pitchers, turn in some brilliant pieces of fielding to feature a game.

Just before the ball was pitched I noticed the glove of the outfielder playing my position in such a position that it annoyed me and I started in to remove it from my path. As I logged in the ball was delivered to the batter, who hit a liner to center field.

DECLARES AGRICULTURE NEEDS ACCESS TO ADEQUATE FINANCING TO BE PLACED ON EQUAL BASIS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(Germany) Baruch, in an article on rural credit in the current number of the National Business, declares that agriculture needs regular and easy access to adequate financing in order to be placed upon an equality with all the other industries which it has to deal.

As the result of an investigation of the financial and merchandising aspects of farming, Mr. Baruch states that he has come to the conclusion that the development of modern, large scale business methods has been of such a nature as to put the production and distribution of farm products out of step with the rest of the economic structure.

It is unnecessary to dwell upon the necessity of credit for the more orderly marketing of crops. All by this time, I take it, well versed in the disastrous results that come from forcing upon the market products of the soil through the agency of a neutral authority would state their grade and amount, and where a certificate would be used for the amount so stored or re-housed. Honest and dependable grading and weighing are essential to the acceptability of warehouse certificates, but should be granted to the farmer as a matter of common decency and civility under any commercial or financial system. However it may now, there is no doubt that a farmer has in the past been denied by undergrading and scanty grading.

Could Obtain Credit.
The farmer, once in possession of this certificate, could obtain credit upon it from a bank in much the same way as is now done; or to a new finance corporation which should be created for the purpose of lending money to the farmer, at the lowest obtainable rate of interest, for not exceeding one year, upon his note secured by this certificate representing marketable commodities. The new institution, intended to be independent of the present banking system, would place the farmer's note, secured by his products, in its treasury, and issue its own obligations, as is now done by the Federal Land bank in their field. The paper so issued should be discountable in the Federal Reserve system when having not more than nine months to maturity.

"Paper issued by a federally regulated institution of this kind would have the widest kind of a market and would place the farmer who deserves credit in a position where he can obtain it at the lowest rate of interest in the credit markets of the world.

"The basis of the issuance to the raiser would be, of course, the cattle, which would have to be properly inspected, with restrictions that would be applicable in the circumstances. Debentures for this purpose should run for as long as three years, but only notes or debentures having nine months or less before maturity should be discountable in the Federal Reserve banks.

"In the matter of credit for production, because here we do not have 'contingent' or 'questionable' value and marketability as in the other two instances, we must consider the character and individuality of the farmer himself—what bankers call the moral risk. Heretofore, the country banks and merchants have furnished this sort of credit. But, mind you, we are now endeavoring to give the farmer as free access to the credit markets of the world as other producers enjoy, so that he shall not be confined, necessarily, to local markets.

Difficult System.
"The Raiffeisen banks in Germany and the Credit Agricole in France have as their basis the sound principle of mutual individual endorsement; but I can see very grave difficulties in the way of that system in this country. These could be overcome by the formation of financial associations or corporations in localities so desiring, whose purpose would be to provide the necessary guarantee to the note of the farmer who wants and is entitled to obtain credit for the purchase of machinery or other necessities, or anything necessary to the productivity of his farm. The procedure under this plan would be somewhat as follows:

"The farmer, if he cannot borrow from the present banking facilities, goes to the local credit organization, so that he decides to lend his money, it takes his note, endorses it and passes it on to the regional institution, which, in turn, places the local body's note in its treasury and issues its own obligation against it for sale in the credit markets of the world. This latter paper ought to be discountable in the Federal Reserve bank system when its maturity is within nine months.

"There is no reason why one central organization should not be the agency for all of the three above purpose, for more orderly marketing of crops, and for productive purposes.

"However, this institution should be rigidly departmentalized and a certain percentage of its funds allocated to each branch of the organization. Its obligations for the three different purposes mentioned would thus stand on their own bottom, separate each from the other, each fund to be safeguarded. Otherwise credit for the more orderly marketing of crops, which have the warehouse product as collateral, and for live stock, would have to pay as high a rate of interest as that which was granted for productive purposes, which has no such marketable collateral.

Final Arbiters.
"After all is said and done, the final arbiters of how much money can be raised will be the investing public, banks and bankers, whose ability to furnish money by buying the notes for debentures is greater even than that of the government. They are entitled to know what they are buying, so that they can properly estimate the risk and the production will each bear its just share of interest charges. Interest rates on credit for productive purposes might reasonably be slightly greater than for other purposes.

"With proper governmental control and regulation we should thus soon have a new sound financial system supplemental to the present one, but independent in its administration, which would free the farmer from many of the present credit restrictions, of which he so justly complains. Like a big business, the farmer would be able to utilize his credit from the Federal Reserve system, as at present, or by going out into the general credit markets organized as well as those with whom he has to compete.

"This proposed credit institution would not be a panacea for all the farmer's ills, and indeed in practice it may never be used as much as is now anticipated. But its potential credit-providing facilities will be there to operate powerfully as a restriction of practices of which the farmer now complains and to furnish quick relief in times of wide-spread credit stringency such as has been recently experienced.

"But in considering the farmer's problem, one must have in mind the fact that so matter what credit facilities, no matter what transportation and what distribution agencies, there must be a market. For the present, at least, a considerable share of the farmer's market must be abroad. The farmer is the real exporter of this country. In the end the price of all products is set by the price of the surplus. In the farmer's case this means that the price of his entire crop is largely set by the price he gets for the exportable surplus.

"There is nothing so important to the farmer now, nothing that so directly affects his credit, as the full reestablishment of his foreign markets, which can come only from reestablishment of the world's economic peace and balance."

DECLARES AGRICULTURE NEEDS ACCESS TO ADEQUATE FINANCING TO BE PLACED ON EQUAL BASIS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Germany's M. Baruch, in an article on rural credits in the current number of The Nation's Business, declares that agriculture needs regular and easy access to adequate financing in order to be placed upon an equality with all the other industries with which it has to deal.

As the result of an investigation into the financial and merchandising aspects of farming, Mr. Baruch states that he has come to the conclusion that the development of modern, large scale business methods has been of such a nature as to put the production and distribution of farm products out of line with the rest of the economic structure.

It is unnecessary to dwell upon the necessity of credit for the more orderly marketing of crops. All are by this time, I take it, well aware of the disastrous results that come from forcing upon the market the products of the soil through inability to obtain credit to carry them to market. It is the placing of the products in modern warehouse or elevator there a neutral authority would register their grade and amount, and where a certificate would be issued for the amount so stored or warehoused. Honest and dependable grading and weighing are essential to the acceptability of warehouse certificates, but should be entrusted to the farmer as a matter of common decency and civility under any commercial or financial system. However it may be now, there is no doubt that the farmer has in the past been degraded by undergrading and scant measuring.

Interest rates on credit for productive purposes might reasonably be slightly greater than for other purposes.

"With proper governmental control and regulation we should thus soon have a new sound financial system supplemental to the present one, but independent in its administration, which would free the farmer from many of the present credit restrictions, of which he so justly complains. Like a big business, the farmer would be able to either get his credit from the Federal Reserve system, as at present, or by going into the general credit markets organized as well as those with whom he has to compete.

"This proposed credit institution would not be a panacea for all the farmer's ills, and indeed in practice it may never be used as much as is now anticipated. But its potential credit-providing facilities will be there to operate powerfully as a restriction of practices of which the farmer now complains and to furnish quick relief in times of wide-spread credit stringency such as has been recently experienced.

"But in considering the farmer's problem, one must bear in mind the fact that no matter what credit facilities, no matter what transportation and what distribution agencies, there must be a market. For the present, at least, a considerable share of the farmer's market must be abroad. The farmers are the real exporters of this country. In the end the price of all products is set by the price of the surplus in the farmer's case this means that the price of his entire crop is largely set by the price he gets for the exportable surplus.

"There is nothing so important to the farmer now, nothing that so directly affects his credit, as the full reestablishment of his foreign markets, which can come only from reestablishment of the world's economic peace and balance."

fighting their way across a province in the interests of Sun Yat Sen, deposed president of the China Republic, was today without a government head. While there are scores of potential leaders, no one man has general control and the situation has developed into one of confusion.
