ANTICIPATED CLASH IN COMMITTEE IS AVERTED

La Follette Takes Little Part in Questioning Oil Man Monday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Examination of Henry F. Sinclair was conducted by the senate oil investigating committee without revival of the clash between the witness and the committee which last week resulted in the resignation of the Hyva corporation, the Hyva corporation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Examination of Henry F. Sinclair by the senate oil investigating committee today proceeded smoothly during the first hour and it appeared that the expected clash between the witness and the committee would be averted.

Chairman La Follette, who clashed with the witness last week, took little part in the questioning of the witness, leaving the examination to the other members of the committee.

This examination had to do almost entirely with disposition through the Hyva corporation of Sinclair owned investment company, of stock of the Mammoth Oil company, the concern operating the lease to the Texas Post office naval reserve obtained from the government by Mr. Sinclair.

After Mr. Sinclair had agreed he was "here under subpoena," Mr. Roosevelt asked him to state the assets of the Mammoth Oil company. The witness said records showed he owned 1,418,419 shares of Mammoth stock, but in reality he owned only 10,750 class A and 1,800 class B shares.

Records also showed, he added, that he owned 114,000 shares of the Hyva corporation at the time of exchange of the Mammoth stock for $20,000,000.

Mr. Roosevelt reviewed the testimony showing the membership of Mammoth stock at present and pointed out that although the Hyva corporation and the Sinclair Oil Company were separate corporations, Mr. Sinclair, to all intents and purposes all the dividends went directly to Mr. Sinclair.

"Did you ever figure out how the income tax payments if this stock were held by you personally instead of through other persons?" asked Mr. Roosevelt.

Mr. Sinclair said he had never figured it out.

"It would make a difference, wouldn't it?"

"A great difference, yes, sir," said Mr. Sinclair.

Wait Daniel, J. L. Daniel, T. F. Richard, W. C. Andrews, Tom Bell and a man by the name of Hicks, were the other players.

"After I left the game I went to a restaurant," said Wagdale, "after which I went to my home. On my way I heard two shots. I did not pay any attention to it. I was going away that night, so I left my home and went to a restaurant again to wait for the train. I joined Wait Daniel, Richard, W. C. By Associated Press. AUSTIN, Jan. 22.—Whether or not the state text book commission acted within the state law and whether the governor should be a member of the text book commission were among 11 questions submitted to the legislature for consideration by Governor Neff in a message today on the present text book controversy. No specific recommendations were made by the governor who expressed complete confidence in the present commission.

The governor explained at length the state text book law and reviewed the activities of the present commission. He also set forth the reasons, as he understood them, for the recent changes in text books which have attracted the attention of the legislature and resulted in a resolution calling for an investigation and two proposals which would prevent carrying out the new contracts.

Seven of the eight members of the text commission voted for the change in agricultural text books, Governor Neff pointed out. The new contracts on arithmetic texts will mean a saving to the state as compared with the old contracts of $14,000. It was further stated, six members of the commission favored a change in the arithmetics, he said.

Regarding new contracts on geography texts, Governor Neff recounted a portion of the sessions of the commission which showed the body reached a deadlock on this text and the governor's vote decided which text should be adopted. The adoption of this text, the executive stated, will in the future of a compromise. MUST NOT SHRINK WHEN DUTY CALLS, PASTOR'S MESSAGE

Dr. N. F. Grafton's sermon at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday morning was taken from the first chapter of Jeremiah, 11th verse: "Jeremiah what seest thou? I see a rod of an almond tree." Dr. Grafton said:

"Jeremiah had been called by God to perform a mighty task and he was fearful he could not perform it. He was panic stricken; he cried 'I cannot, for I am but a child.'"

"Great souls are always hesitant in the face of gigantic undertakings; they are hesitant like Jeremiah because they measure their ability over against a task and feel that they will be unequal to the occasion. You find this in the case in any avenue or walk of life."

"Jeremiah had been called of Almighty God to face a king upon his throne, the priests of the church at the altar and to address the people telling them that they had better turn from their wicked ways, as God would send the king and the priests of the north and he would come as a mighty scourge. This was a gigantic task. Jeremiah understood the full importance of this call and he trembled in the face of it. His faltering modesty got the better of him and he shrank back, and God gave him a wonderful lesson, the lesson of the almond tree."

"The almond tree was the first of the field. It was called the sentinel tree. The almond tree is the first to blossom. It is in flower while the other shrubs are locked in the icy embrace of a cold dead winter."

"The message that God would have Jeremiah get out of this sentinel tree was that the Jehovah was the sentinel for man; that he was the first upon the field; that he had surveyed the ground; that he understood all about the undertaking before he called upon man to undertake anything, and so he called upon this man to fill the position, and God wants him to know that he has not called him to a task with which he is unfamiliar with it."

"There has been many a man fearful and afraid because he is undertaking a task which he has never done before, and it is from that many times he goes into it with fear and trembling. Jeremiah felt the lack of experience, the lack of equipment for the task."

"When God delivered Israel from out of bondage, he called Moses for the undertaking, and Moses trembled in the face of the task and he said, 'I am a man of trembling lips' and God said to him, 'I will go before thee, God was not calling him to a task of labor in which he had not gone himself, and so there has been many a man and woman who have stood before the threshold of opportunity, who heard the voice as they rallied upon them to do some task, and who have found themselves trembling and afraid because of the task that God would have us get into that so long as we stand faltering on the threshold of a task, so long will you hesitate about entering in, but when any man or woman with faltering modesty, faces a task conscious of the eternal God is leading, then all self and the work will be performed."

"God has a plan of campaign. He always goes before. There should be no surprise in any undertaking for God. He is the one who will qualify for the performance as that performance presents itself."

"One of the most amazing things to me and it comes to me over and over again is that when God undertook the establishment of the church of Jesus Christ, he committed that great task into the hands of peasants and fishermen, men who were unlettered, men who were crude, men who recognized their own unworthiness and inability to accomplish anything and yet when the eternal God would launch the church of Jesus Christ, he put it in the hands of these men, John, of a Matthew and other men who would not qualify as far as human understanding measures qualifications. You find that men as they grow by leaps and bounds. The hour came when Peter was no longer that wavering character that he was a week before the task was first put into his hands. He became a man of poise, a thinker, a man of executive ability, a man who did tremendous things for the advancement of the church."

"When Jeremiah got the right conception of God he faced the task with the end in view of its success. He knew that success was going to be his because the Eternal God led him."

"Let me say in conclusion that before any man succeeds he must be of one heart and one mind. Jeremiah had to lay aside the fears of his mind and the trembling of his soul, and he would stand before the Priesthood and the King, and if you step across that threshold in the performance of a task that is given you, you are out having first won the victory in your own heart and mind, you are going down into defeat."

"Eight more days remain in which to pay property, school and poll taxes before a ten percent penalty will be added. Beginning on the morning of February 1st, a ten percent annual interest rate will also start."

"Poll taxes will be collected after January 31 but no receipts will be given. Voters who fail to make the $1.75 payment before that time will pay just the same, as the amount is counted in the property tax but it will give them no right to vote."

"Poll taxes can be paid without payment of property tax but the property tax cannot be paid without poll tax."

"A total of $300 poll taxes had been paid up to Monday morning out of a possible 14,000 in the county."

"Tax Collector Guy C. Raley collected $5,000 in taxes at Electric Saturday. A total of 250 poll tax receipts were issued."

EUROPE'S WAR SPARKS ANALYZED

The world's six danger points. (1) The Ruhr industrial region of Germany which is being occupied by France; (2) Memel, neutral zone city which the Lithuanians have now wrested from French hands; (3) the Rumanian-Hungarian border where clashes between nations of these countries are reported; (4) Eastern Thrace, ceded to Turkey by the Mussolini government, which Greece may try to regain by armed force; (5) Constantinople, where the Red army, said to be mobilized, and (6) the Black Sea, approximately 100 miles from Constantinople, claimed by both Turkey and Britain, in the vicinity of which British airplanes have dropped bombs.

By CHARLES STEWART NFA Staff Writer. Of all the old world's "threatening situations" of the moment, the one between France and Germany is the simplest, not in its possibilities of further trouble, but as to its immediate cause. The trouble is just this: Germany insists the allies assessed against her war damages to an amount much larger than she can possibly pay. She agreed to them in signing the Versailles treaty because she couldn't help it, but she says she hasn't the resources to meet them, so she's in default. France, believes Germany could pay if she would and has taken steps to enforce payment. Belgium is helping her, Italy is helping half-heartedly, though the French policy's wisdom. Germany's in a state of violent unrest, as any country which had been invaded by a foreign power's troops would be.

Such outbreaks as have occurred in the occupied territory have been on a small scale, but in the Memel district, in East Prussia, the trouble has been more serious. Irregulars known as the "Iron Wolves" have seized the district on behalf of the so-called "free" Lithuanian country of Lithuania. Memel was under the league of nations' protection, with a small French force in possession. This force has surrendered. However, a French warship, expected in Memel harbor, may turn the tables. Though nominally Lithuanian filibusters caused this "situation," many people think Germans are responsible, out of resentment for the Ruhr invasion. The Poles believe Russia is back of the uprising. Poland, much afraid of her big neighbor, is mobilizing certain classes of conscripts.

Hungary is Red, too. In imitation of France's example in using force to collect her war claims against Germany, Rumania and Jugoslavia, the war-enlarged former kingdom of Serbia, are threatening similar actions against Hungary. Bulgaria, jealous of Rumania, is reported massing troops on the Rumanian frontier, presumably on the theory that it will be a good time to strike a blow on her own account in case the Rumanians and Hungarians should become involved in a quarrel.

All the little countries bordering on Russia are afraid the soviets would attack them if they became involved in hostilities elsewhere. Also there's an underlying fear, rather vague but never forgotten, that Germany might get help from the Russians in an emergency. Near East Mace. The Near Eastern "threat" lapses over from Europe into Asia. When the war ended the allies made a treaty with the sultan of Turkey which included a "mandate" to England over the Turkish province of Mosul, a rich oil region. That is, England was placed in charge of this district. Still jealous of the Turks even then, the English also encouraged Greece's ambitions to extend her power over the Asia Minor coast, west of Mosul. The Turkish nationalists, however, refused to recognize this arrangement, made by the sultan. They fought the Greeks; beat them; deposed the sultan; repudiated the terms he had made; took back all the territory Greece had held in Asia Minor; demanded Greece's war-bond holdings in eastern Thrace, in Europe; insisted on the return of Mosul to them; said they proposed to resume possession of the straits connecting the Mediterranean and the Black sea, and declined to allow foreigners living in Turkey the protection of their own laws and courts, which they had enjoyed in the past.

ROBY HIGH SCHOOL, LOSES IN CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES

ROBY, TEXAS, Jan. 22.—The Roby high school lost to the Rotan high in the county championship games for this season in a second game played on the Piastero school court Saturday.

There is a great deal of sickness in this county at present, practically every family having one or more patients in it. There seems to be a general epidemic of the flu, mostly not so severe as it has been heretofore. There are a few cases of pneumonia. The attendance of the Roby school has been cut down something like one hundred from the daily attendance the past week. Light showers fell over this territory Saturday and heavy clouds are still promising us a rain.

VARIETY OF CASES IN POLICE COURT MONDAY MORNING

City court experienced the customary Monday morning rush following a busy week-end for police officers. Twenty-one charges of drunkenness, gaming, vagrancy and traffic violation were tried and disposed of at the Monday morning session.

A negro man who testified that he was reproving his wife for some unbecoming remarks she had made when he was interrupted by a neighbor who attempted to act as peace maker, was fined $10 on a plea of not guilty to disturbing the peace and contempt. The would-be pacifier paid a similar fine.

Bonds were forfeited in eight cases of drunkenness when the defendants failed to answer to the charges. Several cases of drunkenness were passed to the Tuesday morning session.

A number of cases of traffic violation, gaming and vagrancy were passed until Tuesday morning. A white youth who was arrested Sunday night on a drunkenness charge is being held in jail until further evidence can be secured. The boy in company with two other juveniles was caught Sunday night

Swelling and Pain From Rheumatism That Began in Childhood Overcome by Tanlac.

"Ever since I was a child, I have suffered almost constantly from rheumatism. And all my efforts to find relief were of no avail until I got this wonderful Tanlac," declared Mrs. Reuben Gosnell, a highly respected resident of 421 Anderson St., Greenville, R. C., recently.

"For two years, my feet were so swollen with rheumatism and gave me so much trouble, I was actually unable to put my shoes on. My hands were in very bad condition, too. In fact, so bad that I couldn't even close them. I was almost helpless—to say nothing of the pain and misery I suffered."

"But since taking Tanlac, the rheumatism has gone out of my feet entirely and my hands are also getting very much better. And that's all—no more pain, no more swelling, no more trouble. I now have a splendid appetite, and I sleep fine every night. I am a great believer in Tanlac. It simply hasn't an equal."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 25-million bottles sold.—adv.

Should a Bank Loan Money for Advertising? By FESTUS J. WADE. President, Mercantile Trust Company of St. Louis. WHEN we strike at advertising, meaning, of course, efficiently applied advertising we strike at salesmanship, and the heart of business. For the banker to do anything to retard business right now is suicide. When the merchant pulls down his shingle and waits for business to come to him in a buyers' market, we laugh at him, and call him a poor business man. When he is forced to cut down one of his best methods of selling because his banker considers advertising an unnecessary item of expense and refuses an otherwise deserved loan purely on that principle, it is my humble opinion that we should laugh at the banker, and feel sorry for the merchant. Don't mistake my meaning. It is a basic banking principle that a loan must be well secured, and a firm cannot borrow merely because it is a big and successful advertiser. But the fact that it is a believer in advertising and wants to use a portion of the money for that purpose should never stand in its way when it calls on the bank's credit department. Don't Pluck Eyebrows, It Spoils Your Looks, Beauty Expert Warns

By MARIAN HALE

Do you have your eyebrows plucked? If so, dear, urge Charlotte Fairchild.

Mrs. Charlotte Fairchild and two portraits (left and right) of the same girl, showing the difference in expression resulting from plucking the eyebrows.

"It's the surest way in the world to acquire the hard, inscrutable look of the mandarin," she says. Mrs. Fairchild, once a portrait painter, more recently a photographer for society and the theater, is one of the most experienced judges of faces in the country.

"I have photographed almost all the New York debutantes and matrons in recent seasons," she continues, "and since the craze for talking out the natural, graceful line of the eyebrows struck the country, it's been almost impossible to get a good likeness of a woman."

"Buds of 18 and dowagers of 80 both display a thin, penciled line above the eye, quite regardless of the contour of the face."

"Nothing reveals this ugliness quite so clearly as the camera, because it comes out and tells the truth. And there's no way to disguise the peculiar, skinned look that plucking gives."

"Sometimes I try to stimulate the Lord's work with makeup, but purple paint is nothing against the shine on the upper lid."

Operators in New York beauty shops say eyebrow plucking has become so general that practically every woman who gives much attention to her appearance has it done regularly. Older women do it because they think it makes them look youthful, they say, giving an expression, childlike expression. Their juniors do it because their seniors do.

The newest dresses for small girls are made of two colors. Usually two colors in the same material, but sometimes two materials as well.

Wool crepe and tweeds are used for heavy dresses and they are trimmed with collars and cuffs of silk crepe. Party dresses and day-time dresses are made of flat crepe, crepe de chine and canton crepe. Of the lighter materials heavy Irish linen is favored, especially in bright colors, and other thin dresses are made of imported sinclama.

Trimnings are varied and include wool embroidery, ribbons and inserts of lace and fabric. But the important thing to remember is that the dress is made of two color, no matter how simple otherwise it may be.

Collection for school and city taxes are $28,242.32 when compared with the amount collected on the same date of 1922; in the nine tax-paying days left before the property becomes delinquent an average of $65,428.67 must be collected daily if the entire amount is to be collected.

A statement from the office of A. J. Anderson, city tax collector shows that of the $292,401.84 in city and school taxes assessed for 1922 only $24,542.42 has been collected. There remains uncollected $267,859.42 in city and school taxes.

On January 20, 1923 the city and school taxes collected for the year 1922 amounted to $225,242 while for the current year only $204,542.32 in city and school taxes have been paid.

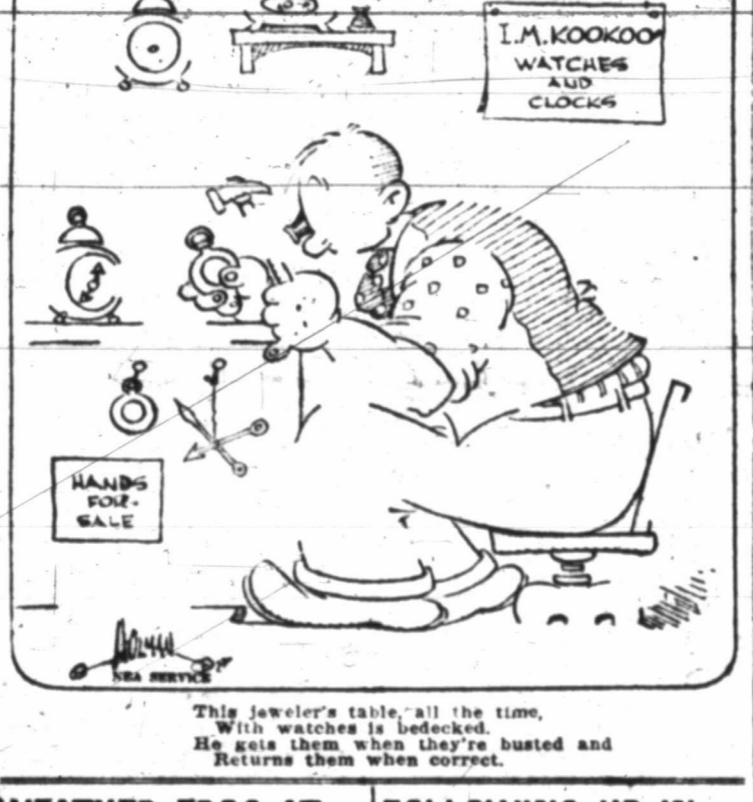

With only nine days left in which to pay taxes, the city tax collector's office is anticipating the usual year end rush. Approximately 80 percent of 1921 were paid before they became delinquent; it is expected that the delinquent taxes for 1922 will run about the same figure.

Anything less than 80 per cent of taxes for the current year will force the city to operate on borrowed money for a portion of the year at least, according to a statement from the city clerk's office. Every effort is being made by city officials to clear the tax rolls as soon as possible by the last day of January.

WEATHER FROG AT COURT HOUSE HAS NOW PASSED AWAY

After having remained silent for over a month and only making his presence known by lumbering into the basement now and then, Charles Garret's weather forecaster emerged from his hole in the wall at the court house Saturday night and gave one faint croak.

He then slowly went back to his home and went to sleep. Monday morning it was discovered that he had slept his life away and gone to the happy hunting grounds beyond where there will be eternal pools of nice clear water and where rain will fall without prophecy.

For over a year the frog had told Mr. Garret, the engineer, usually 24 hours in advance when rain would fall.

Manager Day of the Strand theater is allowing the club a percentage on the number of tickets sold by the members for "Silas Marner" at the Strand Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Kinsey, sponsor of the club, stated Tuesday afternoon that tickets taken in for the matinee last Saturday morning at the Strand theater. Plans have also been laid for a program of sales for the conference. The Girls club is endeavoring to make the coming conference one of the most successful that has ever been conducted. Delegates are coming from all parts of Texas and Oklahoma, while special speakers will come from Dallas, Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and Ardmore. Oklahoma Miss Ethel Niemyer, representative from the national board, of the Y. W. C. A. of St. Louis, will also be present at the conference.

Puff Sleeves The short puff sleeve is even on fashionable frocks, particularly those of taffeta. Blashed puffs are seen on some of the picture-que frocks that copy old costumes.

Banquet Returns Banquets are frequently joined to ruffled skirts to make fashionable frocks. Ruffles of lace, net or chiffon are effective with taffeta banquets.

Colored for Spring Everything points to the unrestrained use of color during the spring and summer season. At Palm Beach and the winter resorts, at all daytimes as well as evening affairs, brilliant reds, greens, blues and figured materials are seen. White is the fad of the hour.

Millinery From Paris comes the report that large bows are the most popular trimming for spring hats, and that they are increasing in size with alarming rapidity.

For Sport Shadow plaids and pastel stripes in hosiery and sweaters are popular materials for sport togs.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS MR. FOX'S VALENTINE

"Well, I declare," he grinned, "if there isn't a letter for me!" One day Mr. Stamps, the fairy postman, said to the Twins, "What did I tell you?" "And he held up a letter with a big red heart on it instead of a postage stamp."

"A valentine!" exclaimed Nancy, dancing around. "Oh, goody! I wonder who it's from!" "I just saw Cutie Cottontail shaking around that bush over yonder, so I wouldn't be surprised if he dropped it in the box when I wasn't looking," said Mr. Stamps. "Who's it to?" asked Nick.

"Why, it's addressed to Fleet Fox!" said Nancy, looking at the envelope through her magical glasses. "Then I'll bet you it hasn't any love in it!" declared Mr. Stamps positively. "I'll bet you it's a comical valentine. And won't Fleet be mad though! If he finds out who sent it, Mr. Cutie Q. Cottontail had better watch out."

Nick put the letter, or the valentine, into the box with Mr. Fox's name on it and then they all went on with their work. There was a great deal to do in the big city these busy days and they had no time to waste on gossip.

Bye 'n' bye Fleet Fox came along stopped. "Well, I declare," he grinned, "if there isn't a letter for me! Will you please hand it out, Miss Nancy?" "Suddenly he charged out. "Oh, oh, oh!" Just wait till I catch that fellow! Just you wait!" And he threw down his valentine and rushed away in a rage.

"Let's read it," said Nick, picking up the paper. "Oh, no wonder he got mad! Just listen!" This was the valentine: "I love your voice—when I don't hear it. I love your smile—when I'm not near it. I love your way—when I'm not in it. Now guess who wrote this—think a minute."

"Cutie! Had better hide himself well!" laughed the little fairy postman. (To be continued.) (Copyright, 1922, N.E.A. Service.)

Oats that cook in five minutes

Quaker Oats now come in two styles—the Quick and the regular. Quick Quaker, perfected by our experts, is the quickest cooking oats in the world. It cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes.

Both have that matchless flavor which has made Quaker Oats supreme. Both are flaked from green grains only—just the rich, plump, fatty oats.

But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And the small thin flakes cook quickly.

Tell your grocer which you want. If Quick Quaker, look for "Quick" on the label.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Take with you words, and turn to the Lord. -Hezekiah 4:2 That the spirit of man should entertain hopes and anticipations beyond what it actually knows and can verify, is quite natural.

WE ARE STILL NOT IN THE TROPICS.

Over at Sulphur Springs farmers are reported to be still eating fresh tomatoes from their gardens and one of them is reported to have found a good watermelon in his field.

All over Texas there has been a very mild winter and Wichita Falls and this section has known the most pleasant winter in many years.

The deepest snow since 1874 covers the ground in northern New York, according to New York newspapers. Ontario, Canada, is experiencing the coldest winter in half a century.

While we can feel ourselves more fortunate than some other sections on account of the mildness of our winter we do not want to delude ourselves into thinking that the seasons have changed entirely here.

FOR VISIBLE AND RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT.

The thing that has happened over in Louisiana is no new thing in this country. Similar things have happened hundreds of times in scores of communities throughout the country.

Permit some secret and irresponsible agency to get control of our police departments, our sheriffs, our judges and prosecutors and sooner or later murders and all kinds of outrages will result.

All this can happen and does happen in many communities where there is no masked organization to prompt and direct the police and the sheriff. It must happen where there is secret and irresponsible power.

Our fight as good citizens ought always to be for visible and responsible government. When we know the authority and can place the responsibility, we are in a position to remedy any bad situations that may arise in our government.

There are so many things wrong with the world you haven't time to worry much over any certain one. Ford says he didn't try to get rich until he was 46, which was a streak of luck for Rockefeller.

In Green Bay, Wis., Alex Enns broke his toe in church and we just wondered if Alex cussed the Lord. Perhaps Mr. Sparks of Peru, Ind., who got a box and shipped himself to Honolulu, mistook himself for a pineapple.

A new broom may sweep clean, but it always wears out. Isn't it great that this country is not run on the European plan? Sad thing about making a mistake is people expect you to do it again.

Our objection to a war in Europe is we might get the same top sergeant next time. Anything can happen now. Boston landlord gave a tenant a month's rent.

Another former chorus girl is suing her millionaire husband for a divorce and reparations. It took ten handbills to rob a hotel near Oakland, Cal. showing our great need of efficiency experts.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE EXTREMIST.

I have noted that history says very little about those who have taken middle ground. Either it tells of the one who has stood his ground against rolling forces—and stood it doggedly—or else it tells of him who ran so fast that the crowd trampled itself all out trying to keep up.

What about this fellow, this extremist, anyway? Well, he is the chap who arouses, who spurs the laggards on, who leads, who thinks whole decades ahead of his time, who has the red courage of youth, who thinks, who believes, and who feels.

And he is the one who gets criticized, who is the target of fine penned writers, and who—pays no attention whatever to all this!

As we, in ourselves, grow from the fighting opposition of our own nature, so does the extremist set the world all agog that it may right itself.

Feeling is much greater than reason, for the simple fact that it is infused. The great movements of history have had little reason back of them, whereas they have been fed and watered by the vitality that has made feeling the guide to all character.

The extremist feels. I want no one to argue me into a position of right. I want to feel it, and then I want to stand or fall by it. And all the while I know that I shall not fail!

Instead of finding fault with the extremist and making fun of him, keep your eyes on him. Watch him. For sooner or later, you will be following him. (Copyright, 1922, George Matthew Adams.)

NANSEN

FRIDTJOF NANSEN

CHRISTIANIA, Jan. 22.—Fridtjof Nansen, who has just received the Nobel prize, presents one of the most peculiar careers of modern public men in that he devoted his whole efforts to science until he was 46 years old, then suddenly turned to politics and humanitarian work and achieved a great distinction in the latter field as in his earlier life.

In 1883 he crossed the ice cap of Greenland for the first time, undergoing great peril and suffering. He described his experiences in two volumes.

In 1897 he became professor of zoology at the university here. He had long cherished the idea of drifting across the north pole on a moving ice pack. He undertook such a venture in 1903 and was forced to spend the winter in an ice hut in the arctic.

Word came back to civilization that Nansen had discovered the north pole. On his return he denied this, but admitted he had penetrated the ice packs to within 273 miles of the pole.

In 1905 a crisis arose between Norway and Sweden over their political situation. Nansen went into politics and campaigned with his pen for arbitration. The cause won.

Nansen then became Norwegian minister to Great Britain. He became an eager supporter of the League of Nations and has been active at every meeting. The league selected him to repatriate prisoners of war in Russia, a work he carried out with the greatest success.

Nansen's pleas for famine-stricken Russia more than any other thing were responsible for "large amounts of foodstuffs" and clothing being sent there by the United States and other countries.

In the recent Greco-Turkish crisis the league asked Nansen to undertake campaigning for the safety of Christian minorities in Anatolia.

"Surely we have received proof that war brings no good, even to those who win," Nansen says. "What humanity needs today is self-sacrificing active altruism which is able not only to give but also to give up."

BE THRIFTY

America Cashes in on Lessons Learned in Thrift Week.

By JAMES J. DAVIS Who, by thrifty means, worked his way up from steel mill hand to U. S. secretary of labor.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—America today is enjoying a practical demonstration of the value of thrift among our people. Hundreds of thousands of our women and children are cashing in on the lessons learned through wartime thrift which they practiced in the purchase of government securities.

They are doing this in a big way. The man who has money enough to insure plenty for him and his is the man who works steadily, spends judiciously and saves systematically. Saving is not stinginess. Thrift is not parsimony. The individual who knows when and how to spend his money is the individual who knows when and how to save his money.

Well, I'm glad to see you so sensible for once, ma' se, and pop sed. Don't mention it, and then agen on the other hand if a burglar or any way I've got a little Germin blud in me, on my grandfathers side, he sed.

And he hiked went to the telephone and called the man up and rote down the recipe, being all about raisins and sugar and 21 days.

To a kinsman of Sunderland's this was disgusting news indeed. It was followed by letters from King William, secretary of the state, informing Colonel Bishop that there was war with France, and that in view of its effect upon the colonies a governor general was coming out to the West Indies in the person of Lord Willoughby, and that with him came a squadron under the command of Admiral Sir John Jellicoe to reinforce the Jamaica fleet against eventualities.

Bishop realized that this must mean the end of his supreme authority, even though he should continue in Port Royal as deputy-governor.

Said he to Lord Julian, "This war with France removes all restrictions in the matter of foreign investments. We are free to invest in the service of the crown. A victory there and we establish ourselves in the favor of this new government."

"Ah," said Lord Julian and pulled thoughtfully at his lip. "I see that you understand," Bishop laughed coarsely. "Well, hum, the board of the king of France, and we'll take him this time, if we re-ceive word and the London pimp on that expedition they sail two days later—which would be some three months after Blood's departure—taking every ship of the fleet, and several lesser vessels as auxiliaries."

Meanwhile some three months before Colonel Bishop set out to reduce Tortuga, Captain Blood had blown into its anchorage harbor two days ahead of the frigates which Wolverstone had sailed from Port Royal a day before him.

It was that snug anchorage he found his feet making him—the four ships which had been despatched in that gale off the Lesser Antilles.

PROPAGANDA

Warnings: Take the news from Europe with a grain of salt. Your memory is good, you observe, news "feeling" coming from abroad that strikingly resemble the propaganda of the world war.

Europe's propaganda machines are being oiled up and geared into high gear on that. Each side craves American and English sympathy and support.

The propaganda papers are doing their level best to sort the fake news from the legitimate. That's why, in relaying European "news" to you, they also inform you of the source of the rumor or official announcement. As for the great crash in the German mark, that probably has nothing to do with the paper market.

INCORPORATING A LONG HAND, FOR EXAMPLE, before something interesting: The United Women's Wear League is agitating for a way to prevent incompetents from going into business. It might work in the nature of an advisory board. Such boards already exist, in effect—the rating men who determine whether or not a new business shall be granted credit.

France once had a law, by which a government officer advised all persons planning to enter business. He also passed on their competency and financial ability.

Any one with common sense will consult experts, for example, before paddling out in his own canoe. The league has others in mind.

CAREY ESTABLISHES UNIQUE RECORD, STEALS MORE BASES THAN ENTIRE PHILLY TEAM

To steal 34 bases during a playing season is considered more than an ordinary feat, especially in these days when sniping sacks is looked upon as more or less of a lost art.

And that's just what Max Carey, setting out for the Pittsburgh National league club, did in the 1922 pennant chase.

In the American league, George Sisler of the Browns showed the way with 31 steals, the same as Carey.

A notable feature in the base-stealing and of play was the low error position by Ty Cobb, who a few seasons ago was considered the greatest base runner in the game.

At the recent meeting of the football coaches in New York, Earl Nantz, who last season was in charge of the Washington and Jefferson squad, offered a unique suggestion.

BULLSEYES OF BASEBALL. The freckled game I ever saw was the 1920 world series between Brooklyn and Cleveland.

The freckled game I ever saw was the 1920 world series between Brooklyn and Cleveland. Despite the fact that Brooklyn made 38 hits, Jim Bagby, who pitched the game, deserved a shutout.

In the eighth inning on a hit-and-run play, Mitchell, who had hit the line drive that resulted in Wambag's triple play, broke up a rally by hitting into a double play.

Now for another freckly angle. In the very first inning Cleveland filled the bases with no one out, and Elmer Smith, Cleveland's home-run hitter up.

Tomorrow.—The greatest pitching I ever saw.

California Senator Most Talked Of Man For Place in Event Of a Change.

By MARK BULLIVANT (Copyright 1922, N. Y. Tribune, Inc.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Although the senate session last week in passing one farm credits bill and some appropriations, a C will spend the coming week passing an important supplementary farm credits bill.

The insurgent republicans in the senate have started a plan to pool their strength. Their device is to divide the direct primary states among the progressive presidential possibilities.

Even more impressive than this insurgent plan, is a development coming from close to the heart of the regular and official republican organization in the senate.

There is hardly anybody who should do anything now. But as the course of the administration as a whole, from the beginning there is a deluge of criticism.

As the meantime, practically the reports from the country are to the effect that the popular criticism of the administration's foreign policy is based on its failure to have done something forthwith and affirmative before the present crisis developed.
